Tenuem perſcindere veſtem. Tibull.
Pictæ veſtes auro. Valer. Flac.
Picturatæ veſtes auri ſubtegmine. Virg.

Prætexuit

Præterᵘit veſtem oſtro. Sil.
Recinctas veſtes induta. Ouid. Hauyng hir clothes loose about hir.
Reſcindere veſtem. Cic.
Reſoluere cinctas veſtes. Ouid. To vndooe his clothes.
Retecta veſte nudare papillas. Catul.
Saturatæ murice veſtes. Ouid. Of diepe purple die.
Squalentes puluere veſtes. Lucan.
Purpuream veſtem aurea ſubnectit fibula. Virg.
Subſutâ talos tegit inſtita veſte. Horat.
Succincta veſtem puella. Ouid. A mayde hauynge hir garment trulled about hir.
Sumere veſtes. Seneca. Virilem veſtem ſumere. Horat.
Suſpenſæ in littore veſtes. Lucret.
Funerea veſte tegere corpus. Ouid.
Vili veſte tegi. Ouid. To haue on a poore garment.
Tincta veſtis rubro cocco. Horat.
Bibulas veſtes trahit vnda. Valer. Flac.
Variata figuris veſtis. Catull.
Niueâ velatus corpora veſte. Ouid.
Purâ cum veſte venire. Tibull.
Virgatæ veſtes auro. Sil. with longe ſtreakes of golde.
¶ Veſtis Melitenſis. Cic. Cloth made at Melita. Sic exponit Budæus. Vnde Veſtis Rotomagenſis. Roan clothe.
¶ Conſyderandum eſt, quæ cauſa dolorem excitarit. Si calor: aqua frigida multa perfundere caput expedit, &c. At ſi frigus nocuit: caput oportet perfundere aqua calida marina, vel certè ſalſa: tum caput vehementer perfricare: deinde calido oleo implere, veſte velare. Celſus lib. 4. cap. 2. De curationibus morborum qui naſcuntur à capite. Veſtem hoc loco Budæus interpretabatur Pileolum. A cappe.
¶ Veſtis, pro barba, A beарde, vnde Inueſtes pro imberbes. Lucret.
¶ Serpentis veſtis. Lucre. The ſkinne that an adder caſteth.
Vieta veſtis aranei. Lucret. A cobwebbe.

Veſtio, veſtis, veſtíui, veſtîtum, veſtîre, pen. prod. Terent. To apparayle: to adourne: to decke: to heuer.
Ali & veſtiri ab aliquo. Cic. To be kepte, and founde meate and drynke and clothe.
Ex ſuo corpore contra frigus veſtiri. Quintil.
Spolijs ferarum veſtire corpus. Lucret. To clothe, or couer the body with beaſtes ſkinnes.
Veſtiri pilo. Plin. To be couered with heare.
Parietes tabulis veſtire. Cicero. To adourne and decke the walles with peincted tables.
Agrum vineis veſtire. Columel. To adourne and decke the fielde ouer and ouer with vineyardes.
Colles veſtit vitis. Colum.
Sepulchrum vepribus veſtire. Cic. To couer with, &c.
Aether veſtit campos purpureo lumine. Virg.
Ebur atria veſtit. Lucan. The halles are adourned with Iuorie.
Hortum veſtit morus. Plin. iunior. Garniſheth.
Hyems veſtit montem gelu. Claud. Couereth.
Seges veſtit iter. Claud.

Veſtitus, pen. prod. Participium. Propert. Apparayled: adourned: cladde: couered: decked.
Candidè veſtitus, Vide CANDIDVS.
Malè veſtitus, Vide MALVS.
Mediocriter veſtitus. Terent. Meanely apparayled.
Citharœdus optimè veſtitus. Author ad Heren.
Veſtitus veſtem. Plaut. Hauyng on a garment.
Genas veſtitus. Seneca. Hauyng a beарde on his face.
Agri veſtiti meſsibus. Ouid.
Montes veſtiti ſyluis. Liu. Couered with.
Oculi veſtiti membrana. Cic. Eyes couered with a ſkinne.
Ripæ veſtitæ gramine. Colum. Adourned with.
Terra veſtita floribus, arboribus, frugibus, &c. Cic.
Tori veſtiti gramine. Ouid.
Vuæ veſtitæ ſuis frondibus. Propert.

Veſtitus, huius veſtítus, pen. prod. maſc. gen. Verbale. Cic. Apparayle: rayment. Alſo apparaylyng: trimmyng: the ornament of any thynge.
Fœditas veſtitus. Cic. Ill fauoured apparaylyng.
Victus veſtitusq; neceſſarius. Cicero. Neceſſarie meate and drynke and clothe.
Veſtitu nimio indulges, Vide INDVLGEO.
Nanciſci veſtitum. Terent. Aſper veſtitus. Cic.
¶ Orationis veſtitus. Cic. The decкynge or trimmynge of ones ſtyle or talke.
Montium veſtitus denſiſſimi. Cic. Very thicke woods couerynge mountaynes.
Riparum veſtitus viridiſſimi. Cic. The fayre greene adournyng of the bankes with graſſe.
¶ Veſtitus, pro Veſtimentis. Plin. Apparayle.
Vir muliebri indutus veſtitu. Cic.

Veſtimentum, veſtimenti, n. g. Idem quod Veſtis. Vlpian.
Aridum veſtimentum. Plaut. Funebre veſtimentum. Cic.
Pretioſa veſtimenta. Horat.
Mutare veſtimentum. Cic.

Veſtiárium, veſtiárij, n. g. Plin. A wardrobe, pꝛeſſe, or cheſte where apparayle is layed.
Veſtiarij nomine aliquando veſtitus intelligitur. Columel. The apparayle it ſelfe.
Dominus debet ſeruo veſtiarium. Seneca.

Veſtiárius, Adiectiuum. Belongyng to garmentes, or wherein garments are kepte. vt Veſtiaria arca, Cato. A cheſte wherin apparayle is kepte.

Veſtiárius, maſcu. gen. Subſtantiuum. Vlpianus. Yoman of the robes, or that keepeth the wardrobe. Alſo he that maketh or ſelleth garmentes.

Veſtiſpicus, veſtiſpici, m. g. & Veſtiſpica, veſtiſpicæ, penult. corr. Plaut. He or ſhe that keepeth their mayſters or maiſtreſſes apparayle.

Veſtitiſſimus, Adiectiuum. Colum. Beſt cladde or apparailed.

Vetans, Vetatio, Vide VETO.

Veter, véteris, pen. cor. Adiectiuum trium generum. Ennius. Olde.

Veterior, Comparatiuum. Plaut. Elder.

Vetérrimus, pen. cor. Superlatiuum. Cicero, Veterrimi poetæ.
Veterrima laurus. Virg.
Veterrimus liberorum. Tacit. The eldeſt childe.
Veterrimus author. Liu.
Veterrimus hoſtis. Liu. Our olde or auncient enemie.
Veterrima ſocietas. Liu.

Veteranus, Veterator, Veteraſco, &c. Vide VETVS.

Veterinus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. That beareth burdeins. vt Veterina animalia. Plin. Beaſtes vſed in cariage, as horſes, mules, aſſes.

Veterinárius, veterinárij, m. gen. Colum. He that letteth horſes or mules to hyre: a muletter: an horſecourſer: an hackney man.
Veterinárius. Colum. An horſe leache, or ferrour.

Veterinárius, Adiectiuum: vt Veterinaria medicina. Columel. The crafte or ſcience of an horſeleache.

Veternus, veterni, m. ge. Plaut. A drouſie diſeaſe, ingendring through idleneſſe a continuall deſire of ſleapyng.
Veternum etiam neutro genere dicitur.
Funeſto veterno arcere aliquem. Horat.
Veternus, pro Pigritia aliquando ponitur. Virg. Slouthfulneſſe: ſluggiſhneſſe: drowſineſſe.
Pelle ſoporiferi ſenium nubemq; veterni. Auſon.
Turpe veternum deponere. Sidonius. To laye aſide filthie ſluggiſhneſſe.
Torpere graui veterno. Virg.
Veterno conſeneſcere. Colum. To ſpende al his life in ſluggiſh idleneſſe.
Veternus ciuitatē occupat. Cælius ad Ciceronem. The citie is all geuen to clothe and idleneſſe.
¶ Mirum in modum veterno pingueſcunt. Plin. They wax fatte merueylouſly with longe quietneſſe and ſleape.
Veterno pigrior. Martial. Clidum veternum. Catul.
Situ & veterno macerare vites dicitur muſcus. Colum.

Veternôſus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Plin. Sluggiſh: ſlothfull: drowſie: that hath no luſt to beſtirre him, but rather to ſit ſtill, as oppreſſed with a continuall ſlumber.
Veternoſum, Eunuchum vocat Terentius.
Veternoſum, Cato hydropicum appellat.

Vetero, Vide VETVS.

Veto,vetas,vetáui,vetâtum,pen. prod. & vétui,vétitum, pen. cor.vetâre.Perſius. To forbidde:to prohibite: to commaũde a thyng be not doone. Alſo to lette.
Vetare & prohibere.Cæſar.
Vetare & Iubere,contraria.Cic.
Lex peregrinum vetat in murum aſcendere.Cic.
Eum ſaluti deſperare vetuit.Cic. He willed him not to diſpayre of,&c.
Tu me incognito aſſentiri vetas.Cic.
Bella vetare.Virg. Vetor plura loqui.Ouid.
Vetari aliquid prouerbio.Cic. By a commõ prouerbe to be willed not to doo a thyng.
-ridentem dicere verum
Quid vetat?Horat. what letteth,&c.
Vetans,vetantis,Participium.Cic. Forbiddyng.
Deo vetante agere aliquid.Propertius.
Vétitus,pen.cor.Participium.Virg. Forbidden:forfended.
Adulterium vetitum.Ouid. Aequor vetitum.Ouid.
Alea vetita legibus.Horat. Concubitus vetitus.Ouid.
Amor vetitus.Ouid. Crimen vetitum.Ouid.
Arma vetita.Virg. Libido vetita.Ouid.
Ciborum vetitorum fames. Nefas vetitum.Horat.
Ouid. Probrum vetitum.Ouid.
Vétitum,vétiti,n.g.pen.cor.Subſtantiuum.Virgil. A thynge forbidden.
Vetatûrus,pen.prod.Participium futuri temporis,non Vetiturus.Valla. That will forbidde.
Vetátio,vetatiônis, fœm. gen.Verbale, non Vetitio, authore Valla. A forbiddyng : a lettyng.
Vetonica. The hearde Betanie.
Vetus, véteris,pen.cor.om. gen. Olde:auncient.
Adagium vetus.Plaut. An olde prouerbe.
Aetas vetus.Horat.
Amicum veterem agnoſcit.Virg.
Amores veteres cantare.Ouid. To ſing ſonges of olde loue.
Auorum veterum effigies.Virg.
Calceos veteres vendere.Quintil.
Exceptio vetus & vſitata.Cic.
Fagi veteres.Virg.
Fama vetus.Horat. Hoſpita vetus.Cic.
Infamia vetus.Ouid.
Malorum veterum memor.Ouid.
Memoria vetus.Tacit.
Miles exercitatus & vetus.Cic.
Vetus neceſsitudo.Cic.
Patientia vetus.Tacit. Senes veteres.Tibul.
Querela vetus.Virg. Tuſſis vetus.Colum.
Verbum vetus.Plaut. An olde common ſaying.
Vétulus,pen.cor.Adiectiuum diminutiuum.Cicer. Somwhat olde.
Arbor vetula.Cic. Cornix vetula.Horat.
Equus vetulus,cui contrarium,Tener.Cic. An olde horſe.
Falernum vetulum.Catull. Gladiator vetulus.Cic.
Vinum vetulum.Colum.
Vétula,vétulæ,pen.cor.Subſtantiuum,fœm.g. An olde wife.
Agentes vetulæ.Martial.
Edentulæ vetulæ.Plaut. Toothleſſe olde wiues.
Turpis vetula.Iuuenal. An olde ſlutte.
Vetuſtus,Adiectiuum,Idem quod Vetus.Liu. Poſſe quidem ſe vetuſto iure agere. Accordyng to the olde & auncient law.
¶ Amicitia vetuſta puer puero iunctus.Ouidius. They were ioygned together in olde friendſhip euen of childzen.
Gens vetuſta.Virg.
Lucus vetuſtus.Ouid.
Mos vetuſtus.Ouid. An auncient facion or cuſtome.
Spatio vetuſto ætatis feſſa domus.Lucret.
Templum vetuſtum.Virg.
Vetuſtiſsimus in poetica arte.Plin.
Vetuſtiſsimum quenque militum nomine vocans.Tacit. Callyng all the oldeſt ſouldiours by name.
Vetuſtiſsimus liberorum.Tacit. The eldeſt.
Vetuſté,Aduerbium,vetuſtius,vetuſtiſsimè. Aunciently.Plin.
Vetuſtiſsimè in vſu eſt. It is in vſe, and hath been of a very longe time.
Vetuſtas,vetuſtâtis,fœm.gen.pen.prod.Plin. Auncientie:olde= neſſe:antiquitie : elder time:olde continuance.

Ad vetuſtatem,Vide A D præpoſitionem.
Vetuſtas rerum,vel authorum.Liu.
Hiſtoria nuntia vetuſtatis.Cic. Hiſtorie is the repoꝛter of antiquitie,oꝛ of thinges doone in olde time.
Vetuſtatis exempla oratori nota eſſe debent.Cic.
Vetuſtate poſſeſſionis ſe defendunt.Cic. They ley foꝛ themſelues,that they haue had longe poſſeſſion of it.
Magna vetuſtas, magna conſuetudo intercedit.Cic. There is olde friendeſhippe and greate acquaintance betweene them.
Magna eſt vis vetuſtatis & conſuetudinis.Cic. Olde friendeſhippe and acquaintance is of great foꝛce.
Alta vetuſtas.Sil.
Annoſa.Ouid. Anteacta.Lucret.
Arcana mundi vetuſtas.Stat.
Deſerta vetuſtas.Horat.
Edax vetuſtas.Ouid. Olde continuance conſumyng and wearyng out thynges.
Exacta.Claud. Olde time paſſed.
Inuidioſa.Ouid. Longæua.Martial.
Longinqua æui vetuſtas.Virg.
Nimia vetuſtas.Cic. Spatioſa.Ouid.
Obſoleta.Quintil. Tabida.Ouid.
Reuerendæ vetuſtatis liber.Gell. Antiquitie.
Tarda.Ouid. Vitioſa.Claud.
¶ Vetuſtate abijt memoria.Liu. It is ſo longe ſens, that it is foꝛgotten.
Acceptum ab omni vetuſtate,Vide A B præpoſitionem.
Adepta vetuſtatem,Vide A'DIPISCOR.
Adiuta impulſu ventorum vetuſtas.Lucan.
Cãpere vetuſtatem,Vide C A P I O.
Coaceſcit ætas vetuſtate.Cicero. Age in continuance waxeth vnpleaſant.
Delet vetuſtas famam operis. Ouid. Longe continuance of tyme aboliſheth the fame of the wooꝛke.
Euaneſcit vetuſtate vinum.Cic. wine with longe keepynge leeſeth his ſtrength.
Exoleſcere vetuſtate.Quintil.
Extruſa vetuſtas nouitate.Lucret.
Exuitur vetuſtas anguibus.Ouid. The adder caſteth hir old ſkinne.
Facit peritiores vetuſtas.Cicer. Longe continuance maketh men moꝛe experte.
Fallunt vetuſtatem vites aliquę.Plin. Some vines bꝛynge wyne,that will not continue.
Scripta ferent vetuſtatẽ.Ouid. wꝛitynges wil continew long time.
Induere vetuſtatem,Vide I N D V O.
Probatus vetuſtate.Author ad Heren.
Res ab noſtra memoria propter vetuſtatem remotæ.Cicer. Thynges ſo olde,that they be out of the compaſſe of our memoꝛie.
Ex vetuſtate ſumere verba.Quint. To vſe auncient woꝛdes.
Vétero,véteras,penul.cor.veterâre.Celſ. To make olde, oꝛ to waxe olde:to become olde.
Vetuſteſco,vetuſteſcis,vetuſtéſcere,Idem.Colum.
Veteraſco,veteraſcis,veteráſcere,Idem.Colum.
Veterâtor,pen.prod.veteratôris,m.g.Terent. A craftie beguiler : a falſe deceiuour : a ſubtile knaue, that hath longe pꝛactiſed falſhood:an olde craftie foxe.
Veterator,in omni arte & inſtituto,Budæus. He that vſeth any arte oꝛ crafte ſubtily:an olde beaten foxe.
Veterator aduocatus.Budæ. A crafty attourney, oꝛ lawyer by longe pꝛactiſe knowyng al the wyles and ſhiftes,that may be.
Veteratórius,Adiectiuum. Craftie : ſubtile : wily: deceit full: gotten by longe vſe.vt Accuratio veteratoria.Cic. Diligẽce gotten by longe vſe.
Veteratoria ratio dicendi.Cic. A craftie and ſubtile maner of pleadyng.
Veteratoria,& Perſpicua dicere opponũtur.Cicer. Thynges craftily and ſubtily handled to beguile,&c.
Veteratorię,Aduerbium.Cic. Craftily: wyly : lyke an olde beaten foxe.

Veterânus,

Veterànus,pen.prod.Adiectiuum,Idem quod Vetus. Auncíēt: olde.
Veteranus hoſtis.Liu. An auncient enemie.
Veteranum pecus.Colum. Veterana vitis.Colum.
¶ Veterani milites.Cic. Old ſouldiours, that had been.xx. yeres practiſed in warre.
¶ Veteranus. One that had ſerued an whole yere in the citie. Veterana mancipia. Bondemen that had ſerued an yere and moze in the citie.
Veteramentárius ſutor.Suet. A cobbler: a botcher.
Veuina.A longe darte.
Vexillum,vexilli,neut.gen.Cæſ.A banner, ſtanderd,enſigne, oz flagge.
Martium vexillum.Silius. Nauale vexillum.Claud.
Sub vno vexillo mitti.Cæſ. To be ſent as ſouldiours vnder one ſtanderde.
Fortunæ vexilla ſubmittere.Stat. To ſubmitte himſelfe to foztune.
Vexillárius,vexillárij,maſcu.gen.Liu.A ſtanderdebearer.
Vexillátio,vexillatiônis,fœm.gen.Sueton.A company of men of armes vnder one enſigne.
Vexo,vexas,vexâre.Cic. To vexe oz trouble: to toſſe oz tourmoyle hither and thither: to afflicte: to doo all miſchiefe that can be:to tourment greeuouſly:to cumber.
Diripere & vexare.Cic. Vexare ac ſpoliare.Cic.
Populari & vexare.Cic. Vaſtare & vexare.Cic.
Violare & vexare diuina & humana.Cic.
¶ Agros vexare.Cæſ. To deſtroy a countrey.
Contumelijs & probris vexare aliquem.Cic. To rayle foze at one with ſpitefull and repzochfull woozdes.
Annonam vexare,Vide Annona in ANNVS.
Calor vexat feſſa corpora.Tibull. The heate afflicteth the weary bodies.
Fortunas alterius vexare.Cicero. To diſturbe men in their goods and poſſeſſions.
Inſomnia me vexant.Ouid. Dzeames trouble me.
Mœnia vexantur malis.Catul.
Ventus vexat montes flabris.Lucret.
Peſtilentia vexari.Columella. To be foze afflicted with a plague.
Pœna ſuorum ſcelerū vexari.Cic. To be afflicted and tourmented with woozthy puniſhment foz his naughty actes.
Pudorem vexare.Lucret.
Querelis ingratis vitam vexare.Lucret.
Solicitudo vexat impios.Cic.
Verbis vexare aliquem.Lucretius. To rattle vp one with ſhzewde woozdes.
Vitia vexare nos dicuntur.Saluſt.
Vrbem trepidam vexat legionibus.Claud.
Vxorem alterius vexare.Cic. To trouble and diſquiete.
Vexâtus,pen.prod.Particípium.Cic. Vexed:troubled:greeued: tourmented.
Bello vexatus.Virg. Febre vexatus.Plin.iun.
Comæ vexatæ.Ouid.
Vexata domus vetuſtate.Plin.iunior. An olde houſe fallen in decay.
Vexata vindemia nimbis continuis.Martial.
Vita vexata per multa pericula.Propert.
Vnda vexata ingenti Noto.Seneca.
Vexabundus,da,dum. That troubleth oz vexeth other.
Vexátio,vexatiônis,fœm.gen.Cic. Vexation: griefe: trouble: tourment.
Impunita & libera vexatio.Cic.
Vexàtor,pen.prod.vexatôris,maſc.gen.Cic. He that vexeth oz troubleth.
Direptor & vexator vrbis.Cic. A ſpoyler and ſacker of a citie.

V I

Via,viæ,fœm.gen.A way:a iourney. A ſtreete. A cauſey. A paſſage. A maner oz meane: a cuſtome: a way, trade, oz facion.
Anguſta viarum.Virg. Narrow ſtreictes oz paſſages.
Error viarum,Vide Error in ERRO.
Flexus viarum.Lucret. Tournynges of wayes.
Ignarus viæ.Virg.
Impatiens viæ.Ouid. That can not abyde trauayle in goyng: not hable to endure goyng.
Inſidiator viæ.Cic. He that lieth in weight on the way.
Meta longarum viarum.Virg.
Opaca viarum.Virg. Darke waies, oz ſhadowed places.
Spatium viæ.Ouid.
Strata viarum.Virg. Cauſeis: pauementes in ſtreetes.
Strata viarum detrita pedibus vulgi.Lucret.
Viæ vrbis.Cic. The ſtreetes of the citie.
Lata via perpetua.Cic.
Tres viæ ſunt ad Mutinam:à ſupero mari Flaminia, ab infero Aurelia,media Caſsia,Cicer. There be three wayes to Mutina,&c.
Appia via imbuta ſanguine latronis.Cic.
Caupo de via Latina.Cic.
Inter vias,Vide INTER præpoſitionem.
¶ Maris tuta via.Ouid. A ſalfe paſſage by ſea.
¶ Viæ ab inteſtinis ad iecur ductæ ac directæ.Cic. Paſſages oz cundites goyng from the guttes to the liuer.
Vitalesq; vias, & reſpiramina clauſit mors.Ouid. Death ſtopped the winde pipes, and paſſages of liuely breath.
Vocis via.Ouid. Tenuata via vocis.Ouid.
¶ Via.Cic. Journeying: trauelyng by the way: goynge.
Quum de via languerem.Cic.when I was weary with trauelyng oz iourneying.
Video quot dierum via ſit.Cic. I ſee how many dayes iourney it is.
Aliquorum dierum viam in Macedoniam, ad Planciumq; perrexi.Cic. I wente certayne dayes iourney towarde Macedonie,&c.
¶ Via,per tranſlationem.Cic. A way,meane,oz maner:a trade oz facion.
Siqua via eſt.Virg. If there be any meane oz way.
Via ac ratio.Cic. The way and maner.
Via & arte dicere.Cic. To ſpeake oz pleade with a certayne arte and cunnyng,oz artificially.
Accedundi via.Terent.
Dicendi via.Quintil. A maner,&c.
Viam litigandi tradere.Cic. To teache one the maner how to pleade.
Morum via.Stat. A rule oz trade of good maners.
Via ad gloriam proxima.Cic. The readieſt oz next way to attayne glozie.
¶ Aequoreæ viæ.Ouid.
Aeſtuoſa & puluerulenta via.Cic. An hotte and duſtie way.
Alta via ruptis collibus.Seneca.
Anceps via,Vide ANCEPS. Anguſta.Vlpian.
Aperta via,ſimplex,& directa.Cic.
Arctæ viæ.Stat.
Ardua via.Ouid. Aſſueta.Ouid.
Aſpera.Vlpianus. Audax.Ouid.
Breuis.Virg. A ſhozte iourney oz way.
Breuior,& multò lucidior via.Subaudi,docendi.Quint. A ſhozter and much moze eaſie trade oz maner.
Cæca via.Ouid.
Celebris,Vide CELEBRIS.
Certa.Cic. Cliuoſa.Vlpian. Decliuis.Ouid.
Deteriorem viam facere.Vlpian. To empayre the way.
Deterrima via.Cic. The wozſte way that can be.
Difficilis via cliuis.Ouid.
Facilis via.Virg. An eaſie way.
Facilior & apertior via.Quintil.
Illuſtris & lata.Cic.
Siquis cloacam in publicam viam immiteret,exq; ea re minus habilis via per cloacam fieret,teneri eum Labeo ſcribit.Vlpia. And by that meanes the paſſage by the ſinke oz gutter weare not ſo handſome,&c.
Implicitæ viæ errore.Lucan. Crooked wayes,with many tourninges oz croſſe pathes.
Inepta via,Vide INEPTVS.
Inexplicabiles viæ continuis imbribus, Vide INEXPLICABILIS.
Inoffenſa via,Vide Inoffenſus.
Inuia.Virg. A way by which one can not paſſe
Irremeabiles viæ.Seneca.

Latebroſa via, Vide LATEO.
Liquidæ viæ. Lucret. Traueylyng by water.
Longa via. Martial.
Lubrica via plagæ. Stat. The holownesse of a new swoorde slipperie with blond.
Militaris via. Cic. The broede high way.
Mollis. Seneca. A easie way.
Mollior & magis trita. Quintil.
Molliſsima, Vide MOLLIS.
Paluſtris via, cui Sicca opponitur. Vlpian. A plaithie way.
Patula. Silius.
Plana, cui Cliuoſa opponitur. Vlpian. Euen.
Patentior, Vide Patens in PATEO.
Perpetua. Cic. Præcipites viæ. Ouid.
Prima via. Plautus, -dummodo nunc prima via
Inducamus, vera vt eſſe credat, quæ mentibimur. So that wee may now by and by at the firſt meetyng perſwade, &c.
Priuatæ viæ ſunt, quas agrarias quidam dicunt. Vlpianus. Bye pathes through priuate mens grounds.
Prona via. Ouid.
Publica. Vlpianus. The kynges highe way.
Recta via, Vide Rectus in REGO.
Saxoſa via. Propert. A stonie way.
Sera nunquam eſt via ad bonos mores. Seneca. It is neuer to late to come to honeſtie.
Simplex via mortis. Virg. One onely way to die.
Subita via. Ouid. A sodayne departyng away.
Sublimis. Ouid. Tecta. Lucan.
Terrena. Vlpian. A waye not paued.
Tranſuerſa. Cic. Tremenda. Claud.
Trita. Cic. A common beaten way.
Trita via humano pede. Tibul.
Tuta frequénſque via. Ouid. A ſalfe and common vſed way.
Vda. Lucan.
Velatæ viæ. Ouid. wayes strawed or couered with hearbes or other thynges.
Vicinales viæ. Paulus iuriſconſ. Common wayes that lye by villages.
Vrbica via, cui Ruſtica opponitur. Vlpian.
Vulgaris. Quintil.
¶ Accelerare viam. Valer. Flac. To make speede on his way.
Accipere viam. Quintil. To take and goe on the way that one hath shewed vs.
Adiuuare temeraria via, Vide ADIVVO.
Affectare viam, Vide AFFECTO.
Aggredi alia via. Terent. To goe aboute the mattier an other way.
Occultas vias agere. Virg. To make waies vnder the grounde.
Errore viæ actus. Virg. Brought to a place by wandryngе out of the way.
Perennes agitare vias. Seneca.
Ambulare per vias tutas. Ouid.
Anticipare viam. Stat.
Aperire viam. Vlpian. To make the way wyder, or to make that men may paſſe.
Aperit viam vis. Virgil. They make a way by force or stronge hande.
Aperire viam alicui. Virg.
Patulas vias aperire. Silius.
Calcanda omnibus via lethi. Horat. The way to death, that euery man muſt walke.
Capere viam animo, Vide CAPIO.
Carpere viam. Virg. To goe on his way.
Celerare viam. Virg.
Clamare de via. Terent. To call to one out of the strete.
Claudere vias, Vide CLAVDO.
Incendia obiecta claudunt vias. Stat.
Coarctata via. Vlpian. A waye made narow.
Commeare viam ſcrupuloſam. Plaut.
Committere ſe viæ, Cic. To enter or take a iourney.
Commonſtrare viam. Cic.
Commutare viam, retróque reuerti. Lucret.
Concinnare viam, Vide CONCINNVS.
Conficere viam. Cic. To goe his iourney to an ende.
Conſternit vias frumentum, Vide CONSTERNO.
Conſtruere vias. Lucan. To make wayes.
Corripere viam. Virg. To take his iourney, or goe on his way hastyly.
Corrumpere viam publicam. Vlpian. To appayre or hurte the high way.
Indociles vias currit lympha. Propert. The water runneth that waye as a man is not hable to tell or shew.
Decedere de via. Cic. To tourne aſyde out of his way.
Declinare ſe extra viam, Vide DECLINO.
Declinare de via ad dextram. Cic.
Regione viæ declinare. Lucret.
Deducere in viam, Vide DEDVCO.
Deerrantes via equi. Seneca. Horſes goyng out of the way.
Demonſtrare rectam viam. Quint.
Depelli recta via. Quintil. To be put out of the right way.
Deſerere viam virtutis. Horat.
Deterit pedes via longa. Tibull.
Detorquere viam ad amnem. Valer. Flac. To tourne aſyde towarde the riuer.
Dare viam alicui per fundum ſuum. Cic. To geue one licence to paſſe through his grounde.
Siqua viam dederit fortuna. Virg. If fortune geue vs any way or meanes.
Dat aura viam. Ouid. He hath a good winde: the winde is with him.
Nullas dant vias nobis ad ſignificationum ſcientiam. Cic. They geue vs no way to, &c.
In viam dare ſe, vel Committere ſe viæ. Cic. To enter on, or to take his iourney.
Via ducens ad villam. Vlpian.
Triſtis via ducit ad Manes. Seneca.
Ire viam. Virg. To goe.
Ire atq; redire viam. Virg. To goe and come.
Longam viam ire. Virg.
Fallaces vias ire. Ouid. Fœlici via ire. Ouid.
Negatâ viâ ire. Horat. To goe that way, as he is forbidden to goe.
Via qua itur Ennam. Cic. That way as they goe to Enna.
Errare viâ. Virg. To wander: to goe out of the way.
Tota via errare. Terent. To goe cleane out of the way: to be vtterly deceiued.
Euadere viam. Virg. To shape through an ill and daungerous way.
Excedere nota regione viarum. Virg. To get before his company by other wayes that he knoweth.
Exigere viam dicuntur Magiſtratus. Aſconius. To commaunde euery man to pane before his doore.
Viam facere, Vide FACIO.
Tellus iacta fecit viam in tartara. Ouid.
Facere ſibi viam. Quint. Fallit via euntes. Virg.
Hinc via Tartarei quæ fert Acherontis ad vndas. Virg. By that way they goe to, &c.
Findere vias pectore dicuntur natantes. Ouid.
Findit ſe via in ambas partes. Virg.
Fit via vi. Virg.
Flectere viam velis. Virg. To tourne with their shipperto coaſte aſyde.
Habere docendi viam. Cic. A methode or order.
Ignorare viam gloriæ. Cic. Illuminare vias igni. Stat.
Incedere via & per vias. Plaut.
Inchoare viam. Stat.
Includere viam, Vide INCLVDO.
Indagare viam inuſitatam. Cic. To searche some die or vnhaunted way.
Inducere in viam, Vide INDVCO.
Inire viam, Vide INEO, inis.
Ingredi vulgarem viam. Quintil.
Sceleris viam ingredi. Lucret.
Ingredi viam viuendi. Cic. To enter a maner of life.
Veterem & obſoletam viam ingreſsi ſunt. Liuius. That is no new way that thei tooke: they folowed the olde maner that is now gone out of vse.
Inſiſtere viam agendi aliquid. Virg. To practice or vse a way to doo a thyng.
Inſiſtere vijs, Vide INSISTO.

Inſtaurare vias. Stat. Rectam inſtas viam. Plaut.
Intercludere vias omnes ſeditionum. Cic. To preuent & ſtoppe al wayes of ſedition.
Inuadere viam, Vide INVADO.
Inuenire viam. Virg. To finde a way to eſcape.
Languere è via, Vide LANGVOR.
Laxauit viam bellis. Claud.
Leuare viam ſermone, Vide LEVIS.
Mittere è via. Cicer. Beyng on the way in iourney to ſende to one.
Moliri vias vetitas. Sil.
Moliri viam. Virg. Monſtrare viam. Cic.
Vitæ via monſtrata eſt per carmina. Horat.
Iter viæ propoſitum morari. Ouid.
Munire viam, Vide MVNIO.
Mutant vias tempeſtas & humor cæli. Virg.
Nouerunt viam. Terent.
Noſcere omnes vias pecuniæ. Cic. To know all meanes to get money.
Obfirmare viam, Vide OBFIRMO.
Obliquare vias in deuia campi. Stat.
Obſepire viam. Cic.
Obſeſſa via. Cæſ. Pandere viam. Liuius.
Panditur via ſalutis. Virg.
Patuit via in cælum. Seneca. Patefacta via. Seneca.
Patefacere viam auaritiæ. Cic.
Eam ſibi viam ipſe patefecit ad opes ſuas amplificandas, Vide PATEFACIO.
Pergere viam. Cic. To goe on his way.
Omnes vias perſequar, quibus putabo ad id, quod volumus, peruenîri poſſe. Cic. I will vſe all the meanes &c.
Præcipitare viam. Ouid. To runne on apace.
Præſtare alicui faciliorem viam. Quintil. To geue one an eaſier waye.
Procedere viam. Cic. To goe on further.
Quum tridui viam proceſsiſſet. Cæſ. when he had gone three dayes iourney on his way.
Rectâ via proficiſci. Cic.
Progredi viam. Cic. To goe on forwarde on his way.
Quum iam progreſſus eſſet multorum dierum viam. Cic.
Purgare viam. Vlpian. Quærere viam vitæ. Lucret.
Rapere viam aliquó. Sil. To runne towarde a place.
Redire in viam, per tranſlationem, Vide REDEO.
Reduci alio flexu ad rectam viâ. Quint. To be brought againe to the right way by an other tournyng.
Reficere viam. Vlpian. To repayre the way.
Scindere viam. Virg.
Secare viam. Virg. To goe on: to flitte forwarde, as a flyppe doth.
Compita ſecta in ternas vias. Ouid. Diuided.
Sequi viam aliquam in re aliqua. Cic. To folow a trade or maner of doyng in a thyng.
Strauit viam per mare Xerxes. Lucret. Xerxes made a bridge ouer the ſea.
Sternere viam lapide. Vlpian. To paue a way or cauſey.
In via eſſe. Cic. To be on the way in his iourney.
Saltu viam ſuperare. Virg. To leape ouer a way: to paſſe ouer a way by leaping.
Via per Macedoniam eſt. Cic. The way lieth through Macedonie.
Tendere vias in deuia campi. Stat.
Directis vijs tendere. Lucret.
Tenere vias omnes amoris. Plaut. To know all the tournes of loue.
Tentare viam. Virg. To aſſay the way or meane.
Illicitas tentare vias. Valer. Flac.
Tentanda via eſt. Virg.
Terere viam. Ouid. with often goeyng to weare a pathe.
Tradere viam quandam & rationem. Quintilian. A trade and maner.
Tradere viam optimarum artium alicui. Cic. To inſtructe one in honeſt artes and ſciences.
Trahere viam medendi ab experimentis. Celſ. By experience to learne a maner of curyng.
Clauſtra viarum tranſit vox. Lucret.
Veloci via vadere. Seneca.
Venire viam multorum dierum. Cic. To come on his way many dayes iourney.
Vorare viam. Catull. To diſpatch or ridde the way.
Vti via. Cic. To goe on forwarde: to vſe a way.
¶ Via peruolgata patrum. Terent. After the common facîõ and cuſtome of fathers.

Viâtor, pen. prod. viatòris, m. g. Plin. Cic. A trauayler by the way: a wayfaryng man.
Cantabit vacuus coram latrone viator. Iuuenal. A trauayler, that carieth no monei with him, wil be without feare and ſinge euen before the thiefe.
Aridus viator. Virg.
Viator exceptus à latronibus. Celſ. Taken of theeues.
Feſſus viator. Horat. Siccus. Ouid.
Laſſus. Catull. Sitiens. Ouid.
Cautus præcingitur enſe viator. Ouid. A wyſe man trauayling by the way, beareth weapon with him.
¶ Viatores. Colum. Sergeantes or other like officers that warne men to appeare, or to aſſembles: purſeuauntes.
Mittere viatorem. Cic.

Viatorius, Adiectiuum. Perteynyng to the way. vnde Viatoriũ vas. Plin. A veſſell to cary with a man.

Viârius, Adiectiuum. Perteinyng to wayes. vt Lex viaria. Cælius Ciceroni. A ſtatute for reparation of wayes.

Viâticum, viâtici, neut. gen. pen. cor. Cic. All thynge neceſſary for iourney, be it in victuals or other thinges: voyage prouiſion: coſtage.
Velim videas & quid viatici, & quid inſtrumenti ſatis ſit. Cic.
Collecta viatica multis ærumnis. Horat.
Habere viaticum. Cic.
Largum & liberale viaticum. Cic.
Viatica cœna. Plaut. A banket geuen to one, at his departyng on his iourney.

Viatículum, viatículi, n. g. pen. cor. Diminutiuum. Vlpianus.

Viâticor, pen. cor. viaticâris, viaticari, Viaticũ parare. Plaut. To prouide neceſſaries for iourneing.

Vibex, vibîcis, pen. prod. fœm. gen. Plin. Perſius. A ſpotte remaynyng in the ſkinne after beatyng: the marke or print of a ſtripe.

Vibro, vibras, vibrâre. Cic. To ſhake a thyng: to make a thing to ſhake or quauer: to brandiſh.
Sicas vibrare. Cic. To ſhake daggers threatnyngly: or, to ſtabbe in with daggers.
Bipennem vibrare. Lucan. Haſtam vibrauit. Sil.
Iaculum vibrare excuſſo lacerto. Ouid.
Spicula vibrare. Virg. Telum vibrare. Lucan.
¶ Vibrare dicitur mare. Cic. In mouynge ſoftly to glitter with a certayne brightneſſe.
Vibrant fulmina. Cic. Lightninges glitter and ſhyne with a certayne ſhakynge.
¶ Iambos truces vibrare. Catull. To wryte cruell verſes agaynſt one.

Vibror, vibrâris, Paſsiuum. Ouid. Vibrari mea membra videres. To be ſhaken: to tremble.

Vibrans, vibrantis, Participium. Brandiſhyng: tremblyng: ſhakynge. vt
Draco vibrans linguas multifidas. Valer. Flac.
Lingua vibrans. Lucret. A waggyng tongue.
Vibrans ſonus. Plin. A quauerynge ſowne or voyce pearſing the eares.
Supercilio vibrante loqui. Ouid. To wagge his browes as he talketh.
Incitata & vibrans oratio. Cic. Language earneſt and pearſynge.
Vibrantes ſententiæ. Quint. Vehement & earneſt ſentẽces.

Vibrâtus, pen. prod. Participium. Brandiſhed: ſhaken. vt Vibrata haſta. Cicero.
Fulgor vibratus ab æthere. Virg. A flaſh of lightnyng pearſyng out of the firmament.
Fulmina vibrata iactat Iuppiter. Ouid.
Membra vibrata vertigine. Claud.
Sibila vibrata per auras. Sil. Spicula vibrata per auras. Ouid.
Tela vibrata lacertis. Ouid. Dartes caſt with violence.
¶ Vibratus capillus. Plin. The heare curled or criſped.

Grines vibrati calido ferro. Virg. Crisped.
Vibrissæ. Heares in a mans nose.
Vibrisso, aui, are. To quauer or warble in singeyng.
Viburnum, viburni, n. g. Virgil. The spryngе that commeth out of the roote of a tree: a shoote.
Lenta viburna. Virg.
Vicarius, Vide VICIS.
Vicatim, &c, Vide VICVS.
Vicenarius, vicenária, vicenárium. Plaut. The twentieth.
Vicenus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Plin. Twentie.
Vicena quina millia æris. Liu.
Vicies, Aduerbium, pro Vigecies. Martial. Twenty times.
Bis & vicies. Cic.
Centies vicies duceni. Columel.
Vicesis: The weight of .xx. pounde.
Vicesimus, pen. cor. pro Vigesimus. Cic. The twentieth.
Aetas vicesima. Ouid.
Vicesima, vicesimæ. fœm. gen. Cic. A pension of the twentieth parte.
Vicesimárius, Adiectiuum. Belongyng to that pension. vt Vicesimarium aurum. Liu. Money receiued in way of that impost.
Vicennium, vicennij, neut. gen. Modest. The space of twentie yeres.
Vicia, viciæ, f. g. Plin. The pulse called a vetche.
Fœtus tenues viciæ. Virg.
Pabularis vicia, Vide PABVLVM.
Serere viciam. Virg.
Viciárius, Adiectiuum. Belongyng to vetches. vt Cribrum viciarium. Columella. A sieue to winow vetches.
Viciarium, rij, neut. gen. Substantiuum. Colum. The sowynge of vetches, or a place where they grow.
Vicinia, Vicinus, Vicinalis, &c. Vide VICVS.
Vicis, vici, vicem, vice: Pluraliter, vices, vicibus. Rarissimè autem leges vicis, vici. Course: time: steede: place.
Vicibus reticere. Plin. To holde their peace by course, or one after an other.
Belli vices. Stat. The chaunces of warre.
Colloquij vices. Ouid. Course in talke one after an other.
Nihil est in opere naturæ, quod non aliquas vices feriarum velit. Plinius. whiche will not somtime haue a course or tourne to rest.
Annus & inuersas duxerit antè vices. Propert. The yere shall first chaunge his order and course, that naturally it hath.
Benigna vice. Horat. with a good chaunge.
Grata vice. Horatius. with an acceptable course & chaunge.
Stata vice Oceanus exæstuans inuehi cœpit. Curt. At certain ordinarie times of course, the sea &c.
Sua vice. Curt. In his course or tourne.
Suam cuiusque vicem. Liu. Euery one his course or tourne.
¶ Alternare vices. Ouid. To chaunge course one after an other.
Disponerè varias vices operum. Tibullus. To apoynte to euery man his tourne or course, what he shall doo.
Diuidere vices professionum. Quint.
Exercere vices. Virgilius. In his course to doo, that is appointed.
Expleta vice officij sui. Curtius.
Féritque refértque vices incerta fors. Lucan. wauerynge fortune chaungeth now to prosperitie, now to aduersitie.
Implere destinatas vices. Curtius. To fulfill in our course that is apoynted vs to doo.
Mutat terra vices. Horat. The earth is not alway after one forte.
Peragit vicem nox. Ouid.
Permutatis vicibus stationum. Curtius.
Reuocare vicem. Seneca.
Seruare vices. Virg. To keepe theyr tournes or courses.
Sortiri vices. Virg. To apoynte to euery man what he shall doo.
Collaudati quòd etiam alijs tradita vice, tamen excubare perseueraſſent. Curtius. They weare prayſed, for that they continued to watche, although other weare apoynted in that office.
Variare vices. Virgilius. To chaunge tournes or courses: to doo thynges with other by course: as to watche while they sleape, and agayne to sleape while they watche.
-sic fata deûm rex
Sortitur, voluitq; vices. Virg. And disposeth the mutation & chaunge of thynges.
¶ Alterna vice, Vide Alternus in ALTER.
Alternis vicibus. Seneca. By course, one after an other.
Per vices, Vide præpositionem PER.
Vicibus. Plin. By course.
Vice versa. Vlpianus. And contrarywyse.
Hac sermonum vice. Virg. In the time of this talke.
Vicibus annorum. Colum. Euery seconde yere by course.
Annua vice, Vide ANNVS.
¶ Sacra regiæ vicis. Liu. Sacrifices perteynyng to the kynges office.
¶ Vtar vice cotis. Horatius. I will vse it in steede of a whetstone.
Vituli marini pinnis quibus in mari vtuntur, humi quoq; vice pedum serpunt. Plin. They creepe with them also on the groũde in steede of feete.
Bos in Aegypto etiam numinis vice colitur. Plinius. An oxe is worshipped in Aegypte in place of a god.
Nulla est persona quæ ad vicem eius, qui è vita emigrarit, propius accedat, quàm hæres. Cic.
In vicem viuiradicis conseri. Columella. In place of a quicksette &c.
Demandare vicem suam alteri, Vide DEMANDO.
Efficere vicem alicuius rei. Plin. To serue in steede of a thynge.
Exhibere vicem alicuius rei, Idem. Plin.
Explere vicem olei, Idem. Plin. To serue in steede of oyle.
Fungi aliena vice. Liu. To doo an other mans duitie.
Fungi vicibus alicuius. Propert. To doo that an other shoulde haue doone.
Habere vicem obsonij. Plin. To be in steede of.
Implere vicem alterius, Vide IMPLEO.
Sæpe etiam quod falsò creditum est, veri vicem obtinuit. Curt. Often times that whiche hath been falsely beleeued, hath been taken as true.
Pensare vicem, Vide PENSO.
Præstare vicem alterius. Ouid. To serue to doo that an other should doo.
Recito vicem præsentis officij. Cic.
Reddere vicem lunæ. Plin. To shine or giue light as the moone doth.
Eum remittat huc nostrûm amborum vicem. Plaut. Let him sende him hither agayne in place of vs bothe.
Vos respondetote istarum vicem. Plaut. Answere you for thẽ, or in their behalfe.
Repræsentare vicem olei. Plin. To serue for oyle.
Vice alicuius solicitus. Curt. Carefull for the miserie that one is in.
Meam vicem solicitus videbatur. Liu. He seemed to be careful for mee.
Sumere ptisanam in vicem vini. Cels. In steede of.
Vicem solis supplet. Plin. iunior. It serueth in steede of the sunne.
Nostram vicem vltus est ipse per sese. Cicero. He hath taken reuengement on himselfe, in steede of that punishment that wee would haue vsed.
¶ Vices vitare. Virg. To steppe backe somtimes in fightynge, and eschew strokes.
¶ Vice, id est, in similitudinem, vt, Sardanapali vice, in suo lectulo mori. Cicero. To die in his bedde, as Sardanapalus did.
Carinæ vice inuersæ. Plin. Crooked like the keele of a shippe.
Teli vice sæuit nuda manus. Iuuenal.
Fingere nomina vice poetæ. Cic. Lyke a poete.
Vice mundi circũagi. Sueton. To be tourned rounde, euen as the worlde is.
¶ Vices, pro fortuna. Misfortune: mischaunce: discommoditie: displeasure: aduersitie. vt, Menedemi vicem miseret me. Terentius. I am sory for Menedemus his case or misfortune.
Stupentes Tribunos & suam iam vicem magis anxios, quàm ius cui auxilium ab ſe petebatur, liberauit. Liu. He delined the Tribunes being actonied, & as then more careſull for their owne parte &c.

Vicem ſuam conqueritur. Sueton. He lamenteth his owne caſe or miſfortune: he ſayth he is vnhappie.

Ipſius vicem minimè dolemus. Cic. wee be nothynge at all ſorie for his miſfortune, or inconuenience.

Reipub. vicem dolebo. Cic. I will be ſory for the common weales miſfortune.

Vicem noſtram dolere. Cic. To be ſory for our caſe or miſfortune.

Iraſci vicem alterius, Vide IRA.

Ne vicem noſtram iraſcaris. Liuius. Be not angry for our miſfortune.

Mœſtus ſuam vicem. Curtius. Beyng ſory, or heauy for his owne miſfortune.

Mihi neceſſe erit, & meam & aliorũ vicem pertimeſcere? Cic. Wyne one diſcommoditie and other mens?

Valde & meam & veſtram vicem timeam neceſſe eſt. Brutus Ciceroni.

¶ Vices. Horat. Punishmentes that a miſdoer hath for his offence. vt Viceſq; ſuperbæ te maneant ipſum. Horat.

¶ Reddam vicem, ſi repoſces. Plin. iun. I will doo as muche agayne for you &c.

Reddere vicem meritis. Ouid. To requite &c.

Multarum miſeras exigit vna vices. Propert. One woman wondereth thee that grieſe or diſpleaſure, that thou haſte wrought to many.

Plus ſimplici vice. Horat. Double ſo muche.

Vicárius, Adiectiuum. Liu. That is in ſtede or place of an other: that doth the office of an other.

Vicariam ei operam impendi. Quint. I haue doone for him, that he ſhould haue doone.

Quibus in rebus ipſi intereſſe non poſſumus, in his operæ noſtræ vicaria fides amicorum ſupponitur. Cic. In thoſe wee chooſe our friendes, that wee truſte, to take paynes for vs.

Corpus vicarium opponere. Quintil. To put his body in daunger for an other mans.

Manus vicarias polliceri. Quintil. To promiſſe his labour and healpe for an other.

Vicaria mors. Quintil. Death ſuffered for an other man.

Pœna vicaria. Quintil. Punishment ſuſtayned for an other man. Seruitus vicaria. Quint.

¶ Vicarius. Cic. An vnder ſeruaunt, that doth an other ſeruauntes woorke.

Si ſeruus tuus nauem exercuerit: eiuſque vicarius & idem nauta in eadem naui damnum dederit. Paulus iuriſconſ.

Vicarius alieni iuris. Cic. Keepyng the place or right of an other.

Alienæ dominationis vicarius Brutus Ciceroni.

¶ Dare vicarium. Cicer. To put one in his place to doe his duitie. Inuenire vicarium. Cic.

Succedere vicarium muneri alterius. Cic. To come in place of an other, and doo that he did.

Succedere vicarium diligentiæ alterius. Colum. To ſucceede one in like diligence.

Nolite mihi ſubtrahere vicarium meę diligentiæ. Cic. Take not from me him, that ſupplieth my roome, and taketh payne for mee.

Tu ſis illi vicarius meus. Quintil. Doe thou healpe him in my ſteede.

Viciſsim, Aduerbium. Terent. By tourne: by courſe: interchãgeably, now one, now an other. On the other parte: agayne for his parte.

Nunc mihi viciſsim ſupplicabunt. Plaut. They ſhall againe make intreatie to me, as I haue doone to them.

Fari viciſsim. Virg.

¶ Ego admiratione quadam virtutis eius, ille viciſsim opinione fortaſſe nonnulla, quam de moribus meis habebat, me dilexit. Cic. And he agayne on the other parte &c.

Expecto quid ille tecũ, quid tu viciſsim. Cic. And what you agayne on the other parte.

Mutuari ab aliquo, & ei viciſsim reddere aliud quippiã. Cic.

Viciſsitûdo, pen. prod. viciſsitúdinis, fœm. ge. Cic. Chaungeing or ſuccedyng by courſe: the tourne or courſe, in alteryng now one now an other.

Omnium rerum viciſsitudo eſt. Terent. The woorlde changeth euery day: euery thyng hath his courſe: thynges doo alter deyly.

Viciſsitudo & mutatio ex alio in aliud. Cic.

Dierum ac noctium viciſsitudines. Cic. The ſuccedynge by courſe of day and night.

Diurnæ nocturnæq; viciſsitudines. Cic. Idem.

Laboris ac voluptatis viciſsitudo. Cic. The interchangeable courſe of payne and pleaſure.

Ad actionis ſuauitatem, quid eſt viciſsitudine, & varietate, & commutatione aptius? Cic.

Tædium aufert viciſsitudo. Cic. Varietie and chaunge by courſe maketh, that one feeleth not werineſſe.

Victima, victimæ, fœm. gen. pen. cor. Ouid. The beaſt killed in ſacrifice for victorie.

Deuota victima. Horat. Opima. Seneca.

Maxima victima taurus. Virg. Sacra victima. Iuuen.

¶ Niuea victima cadet ante aras. Seneca.

Pingues victimas cædere. Seneca.

Litare victimas. Tranquill. Mactata victima. Seneca.

Mactare victimam gratiorem. Cic.

Præbere ſe victimam alicui. Cic. To offer himſelfe to death for one.

Victimárius, rij, m. g. Subſtantiuum. Plin. He that ſelleth beaſtes for ſacrifice.

Victimarius. Valer. Max. The miniſter that ſerueth to the ſacrifice.

Victito, Vide VIVO.

Victor, Victoria, Victoriatus, Victorioſus, Victrix, Victus, Participium, Vide VINCO.

Victus, victus, victui, maſcu. gen. Vide VIVO.

Vicus, vici, maſcu. gen. Cic. A ſtreete in a towne.

Aedificare vicos. Cæſ.

Omnibus vicis ſtatuæ factæ ſunt. Cic. Images weare ſet vp in euery ſtreete.

¶ Vicus ruri, ſiue ruſticus vicus. Cic. A village.

Magiſter vici. Martial. The chiefe officer in a village.

Vicánus, vicáni, m. g. pen. prod. Cic. One that dwelleth in a village: vnnoble: baſe.

Vículus, viculi, pen. cor. m. g. Diminutiuum. A little ſtreete or village.

Vicînus, viçíni, m. g. & Vicîna, vicînæ, pen. prod. Cic. A neyghbour: he or ſhe that dwelleth by ones houſe.

Anniuerſarij vicini. Varro. Finitimus ac vicinus. Cic.

Bonus vicinus. Horat. Vicinus proximus. Cic.

Vicinus interior. Cic. A narre neighbour.

Vicînus, pen. prod. Adiect. Nere: next to: hard by: not farre of. vt Vicinum malum. Plaut.

Vicina & finitima rhetoricæ dialectica. Cic. Logike nigh in facion and much like to rhetorike.

Iurgia vicina. Horat. Mala ſunt vicina bonis. Ouid.

Oppidum vicinum. Horat. Partus vicinus. Stat.

Pecoris vicini contagia. Virg.

Terra vicina mihi. Ouid. Villa vicina. Horat.

Vrbes vicinæ. Virg. Cities nigh aboute vs.

Vicina ad pariendum. Cic. Neare hir time of trauayle:

Vicinus illi. Plin. Very lyke to him.

Vicinior, Comparatiuus. Ouid.

In vicino ſunt terræ, Vide IN præpoſitionem.

Vicínitas, pen. cor. vicinitâtis, f. g. Cic. The company of neighbours dwellyng nigh one. Vicinitas & confinium. Cic.

Vicinitas perſonat quotidiano cantu vocum, Vide PERSONO.

¶ Vicinitas. Cic. Neighbourhoode. nighneſſe: likeneſſe.

Verſari in vicinitate. Cic. To be very neare a thyng.

Syluæ vicinitas. Plin. The nighneſſe.

Nominis vicinitas. Plin. Great lykeneſſe of one name to an other.

Virtutibus ac vitijs vicinitas quædam eſt. Quint. Vertues & vices haue a certayne likeneſſe one with an other.

Artium ſtudiorũmque quaſi finitima vicinitas. Cic.

Nares non ſine cauſa vicinitatem oris ſecutæ ſunt. Cic. Not without good cauſe the noſe is placed nighe to the mouth. Cum ciuibus vicinitas. Cic.

Amicitiæ,conſuetudines,vicinitates.Cic.
Mihi cum eo vicinitas & magnus vſus eſt.Cic. He and I be neighbours and great familiars.
Meretricia vicinitas. Cic. Nighneſſe to a ſtrumpet.
Vicínia,vicíniæ,fœm.gen.Cicero. Neighbourhodde:the place nexte to vs.
Penè manu quod amo , tanta eſt vicinia , tango.Ouid. So nigh wee be one to an other &c.
Diues vicinia.Ouid.
Hic viciniæ,& Huc viciniæ.Terent. Here in this ſtreete by vs. In vicinia vrbis.Columel. Nigh to the citie.
Si eſt vicinia maris, ad litus deducta merſatur.Columel. If the ſea be nigh &c.
Solis vicinia mollit ceras.Ouid. The nighneſſe of the ſunne maketh waxe ſafte.
Eſt tamen diuerſarum rerum quædam vicinia.Quintil. Yet there is a certayne lyhenelle,between thynges that are diuers.
Eſt huic tropo cum ſynecdoche quædam vicinia.Quintil. It is somwhat like Synecdoche.
Ad lactis viciniam accedens aqua.Plin. water somwhat lyke to milke. Virtutum,vitiorúmque vicinia.Quint.
Vicínium,vicínij,neut.gen.Subſtantiuum,Idem quod Vicínia, viciniæ.Seneca.
Vicinâlis,& hoc vicinâle,pen.prod. Belonging to neighbours. vt Vicinales viæ,Vide V I A.
Ad vicinalem vſum paratæ naues.Liu. Boates, bargeis, or ſhippes prepared for cariage of thinges nigh the citie.
Vicâtim,penult.prod.Aduerbium.Plin.Horat. In villages or ſtreetes : ſtreete by ſtreete:village by village.
Conſcribere homines vicatim.Cic.
Videlicet, pen.cor. Aduerbium confirmandi. As who ſaieth: that is to witte:that is to ſay : and it is often vſed in deriſion and ſcorne.
Quidam magnus videlicet vir & ſapiens.Cic.
Huic tu moleſtus eſſe videlicet noluiſti,quem nunc reſpirare liberè non ſinis?Cicer. wouldeſt thou not by likelyhodde trouble him,or be very earneſt on him &c.ſpoken ſcornfully.
At te videlicet inuentorem rerum optimarum ac principem imitabuntur omnes.Cic.
Videlicet,pro certe.Videlicet eſt ille Cliniæ ſeruus tardiuſculus.Terent. Indeede that ſeruaunt of Clinia is somwhat dull headed.
Caſtè iubet lex adire ad deos,animo videlicet.Cic. That is to ſay,in minde.
Videlicet , cum relatiuo.Cicero , Hæc natura videlicet vult ſaluam eſſe ſe.
Quum ille alterum,videlicet qui nummos haberet,&c.Cic. That is to witte &c.
Vt metus videlicet ad omnes,pœna ad paucos perueniret. Cic. That is to witte,to thende that the feare,&c.
Nihil videlicet eſt eorum.Cic. Surely or indeede it is none of theſe thynges.
¶ Qui eorum?quorum ? videlicet qui ſuprà ſcripti ſunt.Cic. Forſooth of them, that are mencioned before.
Videlicet non Turpioni lucrum datum,ſed Petrinis pecunię creptæ.Cic.
Video, vides,vidi,viſum,vidêre. To ſee : to perceiue.
Liberæ ſunt cogitationes noſtræ:& quæ volunt ſic intuentur, vt ea cernimus quæ videmus.Cic.
Abſens abſentem audítque,vidétque.Virg.
Magis vidi. Plaut.
Video paucies.Titinnius Gemina. I ſee him ſeldome.
¶ Videre oculis.Terent.
Hiſce oculis egomet vidi.Terent.
Vt eos penè oculis videre poſſemus.Cic. That wee myght almoſt ſee them with our eyes.
Vultu placido videre aliquem Tibul.
Somnum ego hac nocte oculis non vidi meis.Terentius. I ſlepte not one winke all this night longe.
Suo toto Conſulatu ſomnum non vidit.Cic. He ſlept not all the time of his Conſulſhip.
Quem ego diem ſi videro,& ſi in veſtrum complexum venero,&c.Cic.

Aliquid animo videre.Cicer. To ſee or perceiue a thing in his minde.
Somnia videre.Ouid. To dreame:to haue dreames.
¶ Video,de viſu per inſomnium.Tacit. I ſee in my ſleape or dreame.
Cauſas videre.Lucret. To vnderſtande the cauſes.
Inſidias alicuius videre.Ouid. To forſee &c.
Plus ſpei video,quàm volo.Terẽt. I ſee more hope in the mattier,then I woulde haue. Vitium videre in aliquo.Ouid.
Videre quippiam ingratum.Ouid. To ſee a thyng, that pleaſeth vs not.
¶ Ego (vt ſpero ) propediem te videbo.Cicero. I ſhall ſee you ſhortly,as I truſt.
Te exopto quamprimum videre. Cic.
Celeriter,vt ſpero,vos videbo.Cic. I will be with you ſhortely and ſee you,as I truſt.
¶ Auaritia vide quid facit.Terent. See what couetouſneſſe is hable to doo.
Vide vt incedit.Plau. ſee how he treadeth it,or how he ietteth.
¶ Fient,me vide.Terentius. They ſhalbe doone,truſt to me, I warrant you.
¶ Videre,pro præuidere.Omnia credo vidiſti, nihil te fefellit. Cic. Thou by likelyhodde diddeſt forſee & perceiue al &c.
Videre animo.Cic. To forſee in his minde.
Videre futura & diuinare.Cic. To forſee &c.
Ventura videre.Vigil. Videre in futurum.Liu.
¶ Videre.Terent. To regarde:to conſyder : to ſee to : to paſſe for : to prouide for.
Nihil vident,niſi quod lubet.Terent. They care or paſſe for nothyng,but that pleaſeth themſelfe.
Rectè ego mihi vidiſſem.Terent. I woulde haue prouided well enough for my ſelfe.
In clamando video eum eſſe bene robuſtum atque exercitatũ. Cic. I perceiue &c.
Tu pro tua prudentia,quid optimum factu ſit,videbis.Cicero. You according to your wiſedome,ſhal forſee & cõſider &c.
Tu iſta omnia vide & guberna.Cic.
Valebis,meáque negotia videbis.Cic. And ſee to my affayres.
Sed id quoque videbimus.Cic. But wee wil regarde and ſee to that alſo.
Poſterius iſta videbimus.Cic. wee will conſyder and take aduiſement of this hereafter.
Videre & conſyderare.Cic. Videre & intelligere.Cic.
De ſummo bono mox videbimus.Cic.
¶ Videre alicui prandium.Cic. To prouide and ſee that ones dinner be ready.
¶ Vide pro caue.Hoc videtin mea vita tu tibi laudem is quæſitum ſcelus.Terent. Take heede of this &c.
Vide ne à malis dici verius poſsit.Cicero. See or take heede, that &c.
Vide quæſo etiam atque etiam,ne illarum minuatur authoritas.Cic. Take heede I pray you moſt earneſtly,that &c.
Vide quantum fallâre.Cic.
Videat quid de illis reſpondeat.Cic. Let him take good heede, what &c.
Vide quid agas.Terent. Take good heede what thou doeſt.
Vide, vt ſatis modò contemplata ſis.Terentius. Take heede & conſyder,that &c.
¶ Ego iſtuc videro.Terent. I will prouide for,or ſee to this mattier. Ego iſtæc rectè vt fiant,videro.Terent.
Poſtea videro.Cic. I wil take aduiſement of this hereafter.
De reliquo videro.Cic. I will prouide for that whiche remayneth.
Viderit Epicurus de hac re.Cic. Let Epicure anſwere for this if he will ; I referre you to Epicure for this.
Viderint iſta officia viri boni:de me iſta conſyderent.Cic.
De Capitone pòſt viderimus.Cic. As touchyng Capito,we will take aduiſement hereafter.
Quid concupiſcas tu videris.Cic. Take you good heede &c.
¶ Videbitur,Impersonale.Plaut. They will ſee vnto it, or prouide for it.
Videndum eſt ne obſit benignitas.Cicer. wee muſt take good heede &c.
Omnes videntur ſcire.Plautus. It ſeemeth all men doo know.
Vidêre verum dicere.Terent. You ſeeme to ſay true.

Bene meritus mihi videris de tuis ciuibus. Cic. We thynketh you shall doo a great pleasure to &c.

¶ Meminisse videor fieri. Plaut. We thinketh I remẽber suche a thyng to be doone.

In rege Ariobarzane ea mihi signa videor virtutis, ingenij, fidei, beneuolentiæq; erga vos perspexisse. Cic. We thinketh I see in kyng Ariobarzanes &c.

Tum denique mihi videbor restitutus, si illa erit nobis restituta. Cic. Then at the length and neuer before I shall seeme to my selfe to be restored &c.

Videre videor iam diem illum, quum hinc egens
Profugiet aliquò militatum. Terent. We thinketh I foresee the day, when he &c.

Videre mihi videor tantam dimicationem, &c. Cic.

Videor vultus mente videre tuos. Ouid.

Videor mihi perspicere ipsius animum propensum ad salutem tuam. Cic.

Videtur ita mihi. Plaut. So me thinketh: so it seemth to me.

-mihi Sic hoc videtur, quod te absente hic filius
Egit, &c. Terent. My opinion or iudgement in the mattier is this &c.

Tibi ita videtur: at ego non posse arbitror. Terent. You thinke so &c.

Facies me, si tibi videtur, certiorem. Cic. If you thinke good, you shall certifie mee.

Quibus tibi videbitur, velim des literas nomine meo. Cicero. I woulde you should sende letters in my name to such as you shall thinke good.

Ad hæc præsidia disponerent, quibus locis videretur. Liuius. In suche places as they thought meete.

Magnopere videtur. Cic. I am earnestly of this opinion.

¶ Audire vocem visa sum ante ædes modó. Plaut. We thought I hearde &c.

Id mihi visus est dicere, Abi citò, & suspende te. Terent. It seemed to me he sayed &c.

Visus sum mihi cum Galba ambulare. Cic. We thought I walked with &c.

¶ Commodissimum mihi, Plancóq; visum est, vti eo. Cic. Plancus and I thought it very good &c.

Facies tamen quod tibi visum fuerit. Brutus ad Ciceronem. Yet you shall doo as you shall thinke good.

Cælitibus non ita visum est. Ouidius. It pleased not god so to haue it.

Dis aliter visum. Virg.

Visum est faciendum quoquomodo res se haberet, certiorem vos facere. Seruius ad Ciceronem. I thought it good, or I thought it my parte to aduertice you, how so euer the mattier wente.

Visum est vt te facerem certiorem. Cælius ad Ciceronem. I thought good to certifie you.

¶ Pyrrhoni omnino visa sunt pro nihilo. Cic. Pyrrho esteemed them as nothyng, or made no accompte of them.

¶ Penè videre est, Propemodum videri potest. Horat. A man may almost see.

Videre licet plerosq; non tam natura liberales, quàm quadam gloria ductos. Cic. A man may the most parte &c.

¶ Vidén', pro Vidésne. Terent. Doest thou not see?

¶ Vide sis, pro Vide si vis. Pers.

¶ Videndi, videndo, videndum, Gerundia. Virg.

Sed hæc fors viderit. Cic. But let fortune rule these thinges, or let these thynges fall out nó fortune will. quod etiam idem Cicero dixit, Sed hæc fortuna viderit. Et alibi, Sed hæc casus gubernabit.

Nos aliquid videremus. Plaut. wee wyll prouide or deuise some meanes.

Ego aliquid videro. Plaut. I will fynde some meanes.

Auidus videndi. Ouid. Desyrous to see.

¶ Videndo, Gerundij modus à passiuo. Virgilius,
-uritq; videndo
Fœmina. And a woman, when she is seen, inceseth a man with lone.

¶ Visu, Supinum: vt Deformia visu. Ouid. Ill fauoured to beholde.

Facilis visu. Virg. Ferum visu, dictuq;. Sil.

Miserabile visu. Virg.

Terribiles visu formæ. Virg. Terrible to beholde.

Videndus, Participium: vt Cuncta videnda sunt animo. Ouid.
Probra videnda meis oculis. Ouid.

Visus, visa, visum, Participium. Terent. Seene.
Non magnopere visus, Vide MAGNVS.
Oculis meis visa est. Ouid.
Imago visa mihi ante oculos. Virg.
Iam pedum visa est via. Terent. Now I see whiche way he wente.
Sensibus visa. Lucret. Perceyued by the senses.
Viso est opus. Plaut. wee must see.

Visûrus, pen. prod. Participium futuri temporis. Virgil. That shall see.
Abies casus visura marinos. Virg.
Dies belli visura tumultus. Lucan.

Visum, visi, n. g. Ouid. A thyng that one hath seene: a sight.
Turpia visa. Propert. Vnhoneste sightes.
¶ Visum, visi. Virg A vision: a dreame: a phantasie.
Visum est tale obiectum dormienti. Cicero. In his sleape he had this dreame. Somniorum visa. Cic.

Visus, huius visus, mascu. gen. Plin. Syght: the sense of syght. Also the thynge seene.
Acer visus, Vide A CER adiectiuum.
Connexus visus, Vide CONNECTO.
Hebes visus. Seneca. Dull sight.
Inocciduis visibus stellatus Argus. Stat. Argus hauynge in his head an hundred eyes, as it were sterres, that neuer did sleape.
Inoffensi visus. Claud. Eyes that haue no lette.
Torui visus. Stat. A crooked looke on tone side.
¶ Abducere visum, Vide ABDVCO.
Decipere visus alicuius. Seneca.
Deprendere aliquid visu. Valer. Flac. By sight to discerne.
Dirigere visus aliquó. Claud. To looke towarde a place.
Ducere visus per omnia. Stat. To looke rounde aboute.
Effugere visus alicuius. Ouid.
Fallere visum. Plin. To be so little, or so sodaynly & quickely doone, that it is not seene.
Imago dubia fallit visus meos. Seneca.
Ferre visus per mẽbra alicuius. Stat. To view or looke vpon ones limmes. Flectere visus aliquó. Stat.
Fugere visus alicuius. Ouid. Not to be seene of one.
Habere visum illustrem. Cic.
Immoto visu hęrere. Stat. To stare on a thyng, not mouyng his eyes.
Hebetat visus mœror. Seneca. Sorow hurteth or dulleth ones sight.
Intercludere visus prospectu. Statius. To set a thyng before one, that he can not see.
Lassari inani visu. Valer. Flac.
Marcens visus. Seneca Ones sight decaying.
Metiri aliquid visu. Stat. To ouerlooke a thyng.
Mouere visum dicitur res aliqua. Lucret.
Obliquare superbos visus. Stat. to cast a proude looke aside.
Perstringere visum. Quint. To dasill the sight.
Prælibare vultus alicuius visu. Stat. To cast his eye alittell vpon ones face.
Premere visus alicuius. Stat. To close ones eyes.
Prendere aliquid visibus. Sil. To discerne by sight: to see.
Satiare lumina longo visu. Stat. To fill his eyes with longe lookyng on.
Sparsus visus per omnia. Stat. A lookynge rounde on euery thyng.
Vmbratus visus. Sil. Ones sight shadowed with his hande holden ouer his eyes, as men doo in the sunne.
¶ Auferre visus agris. Stat. To bryngé darkenesse on the earth: to make men can not see the grounde.
¶ Visus. Virg. The thyng seene: a sight.
Acerbo visu defixus. Valer. Flac.
Obstupuit visu Aeneas. Virg. Aeneas was astonied with the sight.
Tremefactus visu. Virg. Afrayed by reason of that he had seen.
Subito turbatur Scipio visu. Sil. Scipio was troubled with the vision or sight sodaynly appearyng.

Immundo ſomnia viſu. Horat. Vnchaſte dreames.
Nocturnus viſus. Tacit. A viſion by night.
Viſio, viſiônis, fœm. gen. Verbale. Cic. A ſeeyng.
Aduentitia viſio. Cic.
¶ Viſio. Quintil. A viſion: an apparition.
Inanes viſiones, Vide INANIS.
Viſor, viſôris, verbale, maſcu. gen. Tacit. A meſſanger ſente to viewe and ſpie a thyng: a ſpie.
Viſo, viſis, viſi, viſum, viſere, pen. cor. Terent. To goe or come to ſee: to ſee: to viſite.
Velim aliquando, quum erit tuum commodum, Lentulum puerum viſas. Cic.
Orbem peregrinum viſere. Ouid.
Regiam viſere. Horat.
Ego viſam ad forum. Plaut. I wyll goe ſee, what is doone at the common place.
Viſe ad portum. Plaut. Goe looke at the hauen.
Viſo ecquid eum ad virtutem, aut ad frugem opera ſua cõpulerit. Plaut.
Viſam ſi domi eſt. Terent.
Viſe redierítne iam, an nondum domum. Terent.
¶ Id viſo, túne, an illi inſaniant. Terent. For that cauſe I come now to ſee, wheather thou or they be madde.
¶ Viſo, iũctum cum Venio, aut Eo is, ſignificat Video. Plaut.
Nunc huc ad Veneris fanum venio viſere. I come to ſee.
-noſtra ilico
It viſere ad eam: admiſit nemo. Terent. By and by our mayſtreſſe goeth to hir houſe to ſee, &c.
Idem ſignificat iunctum cum Gratia, Cauſa, Studio, & huiuſmodi. Terentius, Ne mittas viſendi cauſa quenquam. To ſee.
Vndique viſendi ſtudio Troiana iuuentus
Circunfuſa ruit. Virg. The yonge men of Troye come runnyng about on euery ſide, of great deſire to ſee.
¶ Viſitur, pen. cor. Paſsiuum. Cic. Domus Cn. Octauij vulgo viſebatur. The people went commonly to ſee Cne. Octauius his houſe.
Viſendus, Participium. Cic. wooꝛthy to be ſeene: to be wondꝛed and meruey̆ed at.
¶ Viſendus, Nomen ex participio: vt Viſendæ magnitudinis arbor. Plin. A tree of wonderfull greatneſſe.
Viſito, víſitas, pen. cor. viſitâre, Frequentatiuum à viſere. Cic. To viſite: to come oft to ſe.
Viſitátio, viſitatiônis, fœm. gen. Verbale. A viſityng, or commyng to ſee.
Viſíbilis, & hoc viſibile, pen. cor. Plin. That may be ſeen.
Vidua, viduæ, fœm. gen. Cic. A widow.
Auaras viduas venari. Horat.
Víduo, víduas, viduâre. Columel. To diuide or take away: to leaue alone: to ſeperate: to depꝛiue.
Dexteram viduare enſe. Seneca. To take a ſwoꝛde out of ones hande.
Orni viduantur folijs. Horat. The Oꝛnell trees haue theyꝛ leaues ſhaken of, oꝛ leeſe their leaues.
Vrbem viduare ciuibus. Virg. To kill all the inhabitance of a citie.
Viduâtus, pen. prod. Participium. Depꝛyued: lefte alone: bereſte.
Manuum viduata portenta. Lucretius. Monſters without handes.
Coniux viduata tedis. Seneca. A widow: a wife that hath loſt hir huſbande.
Leges viduatæ iudice. Claud. Deſtitute of a iudge.
Regna viduata lumine. Sil. Hell: the darke kyngedome of Hell.
Víduus, vídua, víduum. Horat. Bereſte: depꝛiued: alone: voyde.
Ager viduus pecudibus. Colum. A fielde without beaſtes.
Anni vidui. Stat. Yeres that one paſſeth in widowhedde.
Arbor vidua. Plin. A tree that hath no vyne ioygned to it.
Cubile viduum. Ouid. A lone bedde.
Domus vidua. Ouid. An houſe whereof the mayſter or gouernour is dead.
Lectus viduus. Lucan. A lone bedde, in whiche one lieth without a companion.
Lecto viduo diſcedere. Ouid. To mary agayne.

Nomen viduum ſua fama. Plin. A bare name without any pꝛayſe added.
Noctes viduas exigere. Ouid. To lie alone in the nightes.
Noctes viduas iacêre. Catul. Idem.
Pectus viduum amoris. Ouid. An harte voyde of loue.
Puellæ viduæ. Ouid. Maydens not maried.
Solum arboribus viduum. Columel. A grounde voyde of trees.
Thalami vidui. Valer. Flac.
Toro viduo iacêre. Ouid. To lie alone without hir huſbãd, oꝛ without ones wife.
Viduus vir. Ouid.
Virgines viduæ. Seneca. Maydens vnmaried.
Vitis vidua. Catull. A vyne that is not ioygned to a tree to reſt on.
Vidúitas, pen. cor. viduitâtis, fœm. gen. Cic. widowhedde.
Viduitas. Plaut. Lacke of thynges.
Vidulum, víduli, neut. gen. pen. cor. Plaut. That wherein any thynge is kepte: a bouget: a bagge.
Vico, vies, viéui, viétum, viêre, pen. prod. Varro. To binde with oſiers or twigges, as they doo veſſels.
Viere. Varro. To bende.
Viêtus, penult. prod. Adiectiuum. Varro. Softe: weake: bendyng: lanche: limber oꝛ lither of bodie: feynte: without any ſtrength: lackyng naturall ſtrength.
Vietus homo. Terent. weake and feeble.
Mala vieta. Varro. wꝛinkled oꝛ withered apples.
Vieta veſtis aranei. Lucret. A limber cobwebbe.
Vieta membra. Horat. Faynte and lither limmes.
Vietus locus. Cato. A ſofte place.
Exiguum & vietum cor. Cic.
Ficus vieta. Colum. An olde withered figge.
Viêtor, pen. prod. vietôris, maſcu. gen. Vlpian. A cooper that with hopes bindeth veſſell.
Vietus. An hoope, oꝛ a ſtreake of a carte.
Vigeo, viges, vígui, vigêre, penult. prod. Cic. To lyue: to be ſtronge: to be luſtie: to be of ſtrength oꝛ power: to be in chiefe ſtrength and foꝛce: to flouriſh: to be eſteemed.
Florere & vigere. Cic.
Viguit vſque ad noſtram ætatem hæc ratio. Cic. This reaſon hath dured oꝛ continued euen to &c.
Summo in honore vigere. Lucret. To flouriſh in &c.
Domus illa immenſum viguit. Tacit.
Viuere & vigere. Cic. To liue and be luſtie.
Apud quos venandi & equitandi laus viget. Cic. whiche doo pꝛayſe greatly huntyng and ridyng.
Apud illum vigebant ſtudia rei militaris. Cic. The exerciſe of warrefare was greatly eſteemed of him.
Vigere animo. Cicero. To haue a liuelye and quicke witte.
Miles vigeat aſsiduo certamine. Tibull.
Vigere corporibus. Liu. To haue luſtie and ſtrong bodies: to be ſtronge of bodie.
Libertate vigere. Claud.
Memoria vigere. Cic. To haue a ſure and good memoꝛy.
¶ Animus poſt mortem ſentit & viget. Cic. The ſoule hath ſenſe and ſtrength after this life.
Animus viget lætitiâ. Lucret.
Curæ tibi vigent, animíque viriles. Valer. Flac.
Vt eorum & in bellicis & in ciuilibus vigeat induſtria. Cic. That their induſtrie may flouriſh bothe in martiall and ciuill affayꝛes.
Inuidia & crimina vigent. Horat. Reigneth much.
Leges vigent Lycurgi. Cicer. The lawes of Lycurgus be of foꝛce and ſtrength.
Nomen viget Pythagoræorum. Cic. Flouriſheth &c.
Purpura vigebat eo tempore. Plin. At that time purple was muche vſed oꝛ ſet by.
Regnum viget conſilijs. Virg. A kyngdome flouriſheth and continueth in power by good counſayle.
Vires vigent. Lucret.
Vrbes vigent populis. Stat.
Vigens, vigentis, Participium. Cic. Beyng luſtie and ſtronge: in the chiefe ſtrength: beyng liuely and freſh.
Animus vigens. Stat. Herbæ vigentes rore. Lucret.

Mens vigens. Lucret.
Vigeſco, vigeſcis, vigéſcere. Catul. To waxe of ſtrength & foyce: to beginne to flouriſh or waxe luſtie.
Vigor, vigôris, pen. prod. Plin. Strength: foyce: vigour: luſtineſſe: liuelineſſe.
Eundem vigorem in vultu, vimque in oculis intueri. Liuius. Liuelineſſe.
Quin ſi vigor iuuentæ ineſt, conſcendimus equos? Liu. If we haue the luſtineſſe of youth in vs, &c.
-tarda ſenectus
Debilitat vires animi, mutatq; vigorem. Virg.
Conſtat vigor membris. Lucan. Their limmes be yet luſtie and ſtronge.
Habilis vigor venit membris. Virg.
Crudo vigore aſper equus. Sil. An horſe rough to handle, by reaſon of couragionſnes not yet broken.
Viuus vigor. Ouid. Liuely courage and ſtrength.
Animi vigor. Ouid. Ingenij vigor. Ouid.
Gratus in ore vigor. Ouid. A pleaſaunt liuelineſſe in counteraunce.
Agilis vigor. Sil. Alacer vigor. Auſon.
Igneus vigor. Virgil.
Vigeſimus, penul. corr. Adiectiuum, Quod & Viceſimus dicitur. Cic. The twentith.
Annus vigeſimus. Propert.
Vigeſima, vigeſimæ. Plin. iunior. The twentith parte: a hynde of tribute or penſion.
Vigeſimarium aurum. Liu. The money receyued of that tribute or payement.
Vigeſſis, huius vigeſſis, com. g. Martial. Of twentie pounde.
Vigil, vígilis, pen. corr. com. gen. watchfull: that watcheth: vigilant.
Animus vigil. Stat. watchfull.
Auris vigil. Stat. An eare harkeninge diligently.
Aurora vigil. Ouid.
Canum vigilum excubiæ. Horat.
Curæ vigiles. Ouid. Cares cauſinge men to watch.
Cuſtos vigil. Ouid. A diligent keeper.
Cuſtodia vigil. Ouid. A night watche.
Flamma vigil. Ouid.
Ignis vigil. Virgil. Fier that neuer goeth out, as the Veſtales vſed.
Lucernæ vigiles. Horat. watchyng lampes or candelles.
Oculi vigiles. Virgil. watchfull or vigilant eyes diligently markynge.
Senſus vigiles angit dolor. Stat.
¶ Vigil. Cic. A watchman.
Caſtrorum vigiles. Lucan. The watchmen in a campe.
Sol & luna vigiles mundi. Lucret.
Excubijs vigilum obſidere portas. Virg. To keepe the gates with watchmen.
Cædere vigiles. Virgil.
Vígilo, vígilas, pen. corr. vigilâre. Terent. To wake or watche: to be vigilant or very diligent. To take payne.
Vigilare vſque ad lucem. Terent.
Vigilare ad multam noctem. Cic. To wake vntill it be late in the night.
Vigilare de multa nocte, Idem. Cic.
Noctes vigilare ad ipſum mane. Horat.
Dolores mei vigilant ſine fine. Ouidius. My ſorowes neuer ceaſe or reſte.
¶ Vigilare. Virg. To watch to doo a thynge: to be diligent: to take payne.
Vigilare pro re alterius. Cic. To be diligent or take payne for an other mans profite or matter.
In ſcelus aliquod vigilare. Stat. To take payne or watch to bryng a miſchiefe to paſſe.
Studijs vigilare ſeueris. Propert.
Vígilor, pen. corr. vigilâris. Paſſiuum. To be watched.
Noctes vigilantur amaræ. Ouid. I watche and paſſe nightes with much ſorow.
¶ Vigilâtur, pen. prod. Imperſonale. Martial. Men wake.
Vígilans, penul. corr. vigilantis, Participium. Terent. wakynge: watchefull.
Amor vigilans. Ouid.
Curis vigilâtibus excita. Ouid. Stirred with watchful cares.
Sertis vigilans. Lucr. Thou rowteſt and snorteſt wakyng.
¶ Vigilans. Plin. iun. Diligent: vigilant: circumſpect.
Nemo vnquam vigilantior. Cic.
Vigilans & acutus. Cic.
Oculi vigilantes. Virg. Vigilant eyes.
Vigilandus, Aliud participium: vt Nox vigilanda cum fletu. Tibull. A night to be paſſed in wakyng and weepynge.
Vigilandæ noctes. Quint. They muſt watch in the nightes.
Vigilâtus, pen. prod. Similiter participiũ. That one watcheth in, vt Nox vigilata. Ouid. A night paſſed wakyng.
Carmen vigilatum. Ouid. A ſonge or meter made by night.
Labores vigilati. Ouid. Paynes taken by night, or late.
Nox conuiuio vigilata. Tacit. A night paſſed in a feaſte frõ the beginnyng to the ende.
Vigilántia, vigilántiæ, f. g. Cic. Vigilancie: diligence: watchefulneſſe.
Nihil eo Conſule mali factum eſt: fuit enim mirifica vigilantia. Cic.
Qui ſua vigilantia pacem in Sicilia dicit fuiſſe. Cic.
Vigilantia & ſolicitudo animi. Hermogenianus iuriſconſ.
Vigilanter, Aduerbium. Cic. watchfully: diligently: vigilantly: circumſpectly: with great diligence: without cleapynge.
Vt vigilanter ſe tueretur. Cic.
Vígilax, pen. corr. vigilâcis, pen. prod. Adiectiuum, pro Vigilãte. Colum. Vigilant: watchfull.
Vigilia, vigiliæ, f. g. Cic. watchyng: abſteynyng from ſleape.
Agendi aliquid diſcendique cauſa, vigilias ſuſcipere ſolemus. Cic. we are wõt to watch, or to take paines to watch, &c.
Affecta labore ac vigilijs corpora. Liu.
Agere, ſiue agitare vigilias, Vide AGO.
Certare vigilijs ac labore, Vide CERTO.
¶ Vigilia, & frequentius Vigiliæ, vigiliârum. Cæſ. A watche by night, whiche they vſed diuidinge the night in fowre partes, whereof commeth Prima, ſecunda, tertia, & quarta vigilia.
De tertia vigilia cum legionibus tribus è caſtris profectus. Cæſar. In the time of the thyrde watch, &c.
Vigilias agere. Cic. To keepe watch by night.
Puer tuus ad me ſecunda ferè vigilia venit. Cic. Thy ſeruaũt came to me in the time of the ſeconde watch, that is betwene. x. and. xii. of the cloche, for in fower watches the night was diuided in fower equall partes.
Inire vigilias. Tacit. Incurioſæ vigiliæ. Tacit.
¶ Vigiliæ. Cic. The watchmen.
Circumire vigilias. Saluſt.
Deducere vigilias. Saluſt. To bryng foorth the watchmen.
¶ Manere in vigilia vrbis, aut alterius rei, per tranſlationem. Cic. To be in watch in the citie, or to be very circũſpecte and vigilant in matters pertaynyng to the gouernment of the citie.
Manendum mihi ſtatuebam quaſi in vigilia quadam Conſulari ac Senatoria. Cic. I thought it my parte ſtill circũſpectely to ſee to the gouernment of the citie, as a Conſull and Senatour ſhould doo.
Vigilia ſua reddere aliquem vacuum metu. Cic. By his vigilancie and diligence &c.
Tradere ſuam vigiliam alteri. Cic.
¶ Vigilia. Plaut. The vigile before any ſolemne feaſte.
Vigiliárius, vigiliárij, m. g. Seneca. A watche man.
Viginti, Nomen numerale, indeclinabile. Cic. Twentie.
Vigintíuiri, pen. cor. Cic. Officers in Rome, wheare. xx. weare of lyke authoritie.
Vigintiuirâtus, huius vigintiuirâtus, m. g. pen. prod. Cicer. The office of thoſe men.
Vigor, vigôris, Vide VIGEO.
Vilis, & hoc vile. Plaut. Vile: of no value: little wourth: Good cheape: of little pryce.
Vilis & Pretioſus, contraria. Cic.
Vile & vulgare. Cic.
Vile habere aliquid. Saluſt. To eſteeme a thing little worth: to ſette little by it: to make ſmall accompte of it.
Alimenta vilia. Ouid.
Vilius argentum eſt auro, virtutibus aurum. Horat. Siluer is of leſſe value then golde, and golde leſſe wourth then bertue and honestie.

Pars vilissima rerũ, opes. Lucan. Riches, of all other thinges the baseste.
Seruulus vilis. Cic. Supellex vilis. Virg.
Vestis vilisque vetusq;. Ouid.
Vilis vobis honor meus. Cic. You make no accõpte of mine honour, or set little by it.
Vilis oratio, cui opponitur Accurata. Quintil.
¶ Vile. Cic. That is solde good cheape: at a low prycc.
Frumentum quoniam vilius erat, ne emisses. Cic.
Vilis amicorum est annona, bonis vbi quid deest. Horatius. Friendes are good cheape, or may soone be procured in tyme of neede or pouertie: when men are in neede, one may easily procure friendes.
Aqua rerum vilissima. Horat.
Oua vilia. Horat. Good cheape egges.
Vile pretium. Plin. A low prycc.
Pretium non vile laboris. Ouid. No small reward of ones labour.
Proiecta vilior algâ. Virg. Of lesse value: more vile then &c.
Vili vendere, vel emere. Plaut. Martial. To sell or by good cheape.
¶ Istoc vilius. Terent. Not this much wooth, pointyng to a straw, or other like thinge of small value.
Vílius, vilissimè, Aduerbia. Plin. Better cheape.
Vilissimè constat. Colum. It coste very little.
Vílitas, pen. corr. vilitátis, fœ. gen. cui opponitur Caritas. Good cheape. vt Vilitas annonæ. Cic. Low prycc and good cheape of victualles.
Subitò illo ipso die carissimam annonam nec opinata vilitas consecuta est. Cic.
Sæpe tædio laboris ad vilitatem sui cõpelluntur ignaui. Curtius. Cowardes through werinesse of labour are often compelled to make small accompte of their lyfe, and not to regarde it.
Vilesco, vilescis, vilescere, Vile fieri. Hinc Euilesco, apud Suetoniũ. To become vile or of small prycc, value, or estimatiõ.
Villa, villæ, fœm. gen. Plin. A manour or house out of a citie or towne.
Villa rustica. Varro. That parte of the house wherein the former dwelleth that keepeth the house, with all maner of thinges pertainynge to husbandrie, as corne, cartes, yokes, ploughes &c. A ferme to occupie husbandrie in.
Villa vrbana, quæ & Prætorium dicitur. Varro. That parte of a manour wheare the lorde himselfe did lye, and was in all thynges as trimmely and well apointed or fournished as an house in a citie.
Frumenta aut in agris, aut in villis sunt. Pollio Ciceroni.
Anser erat minimæ custodia villæ. Ouid.
Culmina villarum fumant. Virg.
Aperta villa. Cic. Parua. Cic.
Minuscula. Cic. Pleniſſima. Horat.
Optima. Cic. Suburbana. Catull.
Víllula, víllulæ, penult. corr. Diminutiuum. Cic. Horat. A little ferme or manour place.
Villáticus, pen. corr. Adiectiuum. Of a ferme in the countrey. vt Canis villaticus. Columel. A mastife to keepe an house in the countrey.
Alites villaticæ. Plin. Foules bredde at a ferme in the coũtrey: poultrie, hennes, duckes, geese, &c.
Grex villaticus. Varro.
Víllicus, víllici, m. g. pen. corr. Varro. A baylife of husbandrie: he that keepeth a ferme.
Syluarum & agelli villicus. Horat.
Bonum in arationibus, fructibusq; suis custodem ac villicum habere. Cic.
Quum Piliæ nostræ villam ad Lucrinum, villicosque procuratores tradidissent. Cic.
Víllica, víllicæ, pen. corr. Colum. A ferme or husbande mans wife: a womã that keepeth a bayzie or house in the coũtrey.
Víllico, víllicas, pen. corr. villicâre: & Víllicor, villicáris, villicári, Deponens. Plin. To be occupied about husbandrye: to haue the rule of husbandrie. To goe to abide in the countrey.
Villicátio, villicatiônis, f. g. Columel. The rule of husbandrie vnder the owner or maister of a manour.

Villâris, & hoc villâre, penult. prod. Idem quod Villaticus: vt Villares gallinæ. Plin. Poultrie bredde at ones ferme.
Villico, conis, m. g. idem quod villicus.
Villum, Vide V I N V M.
Villus, villi, m. g. Martial. An heare: a bigge heare.
Animantium aliæ corijs tectæ sunt, aliæ villis vestitæ, aliæ spinis hirsutæ. Cic.
Albentes villi. Ouid. Atri villi. Ouid.
Cani villi arborum, Vide C A N V S.
Mollibus villis albi greges. Virg. white flockes of sheepe hauyng softe wooll.
Nigris villis brachia cœperunt horrescere. Ouid. His armes beganne to be rough with blacke heares.
Niuei villi. Ouid. Fayre white wooll, or heare.
Solutis villis mantile. Ouid.
Tonsis villis mantilia. Virg.
Vdis villis mersatur aries. Virg.
Conficere & contexere villos ouium. Cic. To worthe wooll and make cloth of it.
Villôsus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Full of heares: hearie.
Cauda villosa. Plin. Pectus villosum. Colum.
Genua villosa. Plin. Pelles villosæ. Ouid.
Radice villosa arbor, quæ & Capillaris dicitur. Plin.
Terga villosa leonis. Sil.
Veste villosa tegere corpus. Tibull.
Vrsa villosa. Ouid.
Vimen, víminis, n. g. Columel. A rodde: a wicker: an osier or twigge whiche windeth and is pliant to make thinges of.
Corpus nauium viminibus contextum corijs integebatur. Cæsar. The bodie of the boates was made with twigges couered with leather.
Fœcundæ viminibus salices. Virg.
Si viminibus salicis aut vlmi ligaueris. Colum.
Viminibus factæ fenestræ. Varro. windowes made with lettices of osyars.
Aspera rusci vimina. Virg.
Breue vimen. Martial. A shorte twigge.
Fruticosa vimina. Ouid.
Lentum vimen. Virg. A pliant twigge.
Lento vimine texta aluearia. Virg.
Querno vimine texunt crates. Virg. They make herdils of oken twigges.
Spisso vimine quali. Virg. Baskettes made of osyars.
Tenue vimen. Virg.
Detexere aliquid viminibus. Virg.
Vimíneus, Adiectiuũ. Of wickers, windinge roddes, or osyars. vt Vasa viminea. Baskettes and paniers made of osyars.
Viminei fasces virgarum. Plaut.
Viminei quali. Colum. Paniers of osyars.
Viminea tegumenta galeis imposita. Cæs.
Crates viminææ. Virg.
Viminális, & hoc viminâle, penult. prod. Plin. Apte to winde or binde: pertayninge to osyars or twigges.
Salices viminales. Colum.
Viminalis collis. Plinius. An hill whereon greate store of osyars did grow.
Vinaceus, Vinarius, Vinalis, Vinalia, &c. Vide V I N V M.
Vinago, pen. prod. vináginis, f. gen. Auis. Theodorus Gaza. A kynde of stocke doues.
Vinca. Plin. The hearbe that Dioscorides calleth Chamædaphne, in englishe Laureoll.
Vinca peruinca. Plin. The hearbe called Perwinkle.
Vincio, vincis, vinxi, vinctum, vincire. Virg. To binde: to tie.
Vincire & constringere. Cic.
Catenis vincire aliquem. Ouid. To tie one with chaynes.
Dolia vincire plumbo. Cato. To hoope with leade.
Guttura alicuius vincire. Ouid.
Lacertos vincire auro. Tibull.
Manus vinxerat post terga. Virg.
Tempora vincire floribus. Horat. To put on a garlande of flowers.
Vitta vinxit comas. Propert. Tyed vp.
Vincire præsidijs locum. Colum. To fortifie and make sure a place vnto him with a garrison.
Mentem vincire multo Lyæo. Propert. To drowne and dull his his witte with much drinkynge.

V I N

Vinciri & conſtringi amicorum cuſtodijs. Cic.
Fœdere certo vinciri. Propert. To be ſurely and firmely aſtyed to one.
Legibus vincire. Cic. To wrappe in lawes.
Vincire numeris mẽbra orationis. Cic. To make the partes of a ſentence renne in a certayne meaſure of feete.
Vinctus, Participium. Bounden: harde laſed: ſtreictly girded: a pryſoner.
Vinctus & aſtrictus. Cic.
Tradere alicui aliquem vinctum. Cic.
Nodis aheneis vinctus poſt tergum. Virg.
Compede vinctus foſſor. Ouid. Beyng in fetters.
Præcordia vincta ferro, Vide PRAECORDIA.
Lauro vinctus caput. Ouid. Hauyng a garlande of Laurell on his head.
Vincti inter ſe orbes. Cic.
Vincto pectore virgo. Terent. A mayde ſtreictly laſed in.
Vinctum & Diſſolutum, cõtraria. Cic. In meaſure of feete, and diſſolute without feate compoſition.
Nexu vincti, Vide NECTO.
Fides vincta teſte numine. Ouid. Troth promiſed and aſſured with an othe taken.
Vincta amicitia inter aliquos. Plaut.
¶ Vinctus. Horat. Conſtrayned.
Vinctus, huius vinctus, m.g. Varr. A bonde: a bindyng: a girth.
Vinctûra, vinctúræ, f.g. pen. prod. Plin. A bindynge.
Vínculum, vínculi, penul. corr. n.g. Dicimus & Vinclum, vincli, per ſyncopam. Colum. A bonde.
-digitorum vincula collo Inijcit. Ouid. He thrattleth me about the necke with his handes.
Arcta vincula. Virg.
Fabrilia. Ouid. Chaynes. Ferrea. Tibull.
Immania. Valer. Flac. Irreſoluta. Ouid.
Juncea. Ouid. Bondes of bullruſhes.
Linea. Virg. Spinea. Ouid.
Stuppea. Stat. Tenacia. Virg.
¶ Abducere vincula ab aliquo loco. Valer. Flac. To take the bondes from &c.
Abrũpere vincula alicui. Horat. To breake of ones bondes.
Addere manus alicuius in vincla. Ouid. To binde ones hãds.
Adhibere vincula captis. Ouid. To binde pryſoners that are taken.
Adimere vincula canib⁹. Ouid. To vnbind or vntie dogges.
Aptare vincula collo. Ouid.
Arcebant vincula palmas. Virgil. They had their handes bounde.
Aſtringere vincula. Ouid. To tye bandes harde.
Capere aliquem vinclis. Virg.
Circundare vincula collo. Ouid.
Corpora conſtricta vinculis. Cic.
Contendere vincla, Vide CONTENDO.
Copulare vinculo. Liu. To tye together &c.
Demere vincla pedibus. Ouid. To vnbinde or vnfetter ones feete.
Dilaniare vincula. Ouid.
Effugere vincula. Horat. Euadere vincla. Sil.
Excidere vinclis. Virg. To ſcape out of pryſon or bondes.
Exuta pedem vinclis. Virg.
Exutæ vinclis palmæ. Virg. Handes vnbounde.
Vincula frangere. Stat. Gerere vincla. Ouid.
Firma vincula impediunt manus. Ouid.
Impediri vinculis. Cic.
Imponere vincla, & Soluere vincla, contraria. Propert.
Impoſita capiti vincla. Seneca. A garlande was ſet on his head.
Indere vincula. Tacit.
Inijcere vincula, Vide INJICIO.
Innectere vincla gutturi. Horat.
Intendere vincula collo, Vide INTENDO.
Irretiri vinculis inextricabilibus. Lactant. To be intangled with ſuch bondes, as he can not ridde himſelfe of.
Leuare vincla alicui. Virg. To vndoe ones bandes.
Ligare vincla. Sil.
Minacia vincla collo ligabantur. Ouid.
Nectere vincula alicui. Virg. To binde.
Secantibus vinclis præſtricta manus. Seneca.
Recuſantes vincla leones. Virg.
Sæua vincula remittere. Ouid.
Retineri vinclis firmis. Ouid.
Rumpere vincula. Virg. Soluere vincula. Ouid.
Tendere vincula alicui. Virg.
Tenêre vinclis aliquem. Virg.
Grauibus vinclis teneor coercita. Ouid.
Víncula, vinculôrum, per tranſlationem. Venuleius. Chaynes: fetters: giues: bandes: impryſonment.
In vincla coniectus eſt. Cic. He was caſt in pryſon.
Abſolutus vinculis, Vide ABSOLVO.
Coerceri vinculis. Calliſtratus. To be in pryſon.
Dicere cauſam ex vinculis. Cæſ. To pleade his cauſe in pryſon, or beyng in giues.
Mandare æternis vinculis, Vide MANDO, mandas.
Aliquem vinculis & verberibus, atque omni ſupplicio excruciatum necare. Cic.
In vinclis eſſe. Plin. To be in pryſon.
¶ Amicitiæ vincula rumpere. Lucret. To breake the bõdes of friendſhippe, Vinculis amoris eſſe cum aliquo coniunctum. Cic.
Vincula concordiæ. Cic. The bondes of concorde.
Vincula coniunctionis cum aliquo. Cic.
Connubialia vincla. Stat. wedlocke: the bondes of mariage.
Iugalia vincla, Idem. Virgil.
Iugali vinclo ſociare ſe alicui. Virg. To mary hirſelf to one.
Vincula iuris. Cic.
Reuellere vincula iudiciorum. Cic. To breake the bondes of iuſte puniſhment by law, whereby the common weale is preſerued.
Legum certa vincula. Quintil.
Quæſtionis vinculum. Quintil.
Arctiſſimum ſocietatis vinculum. Cic.
¶ Nullum vinculum ad aſtringendam fidẽ iureiurando maiores arctius eſſe voluerunt. Cic.
Aſtrictus certis legum vinculis. Quintil.
Aſtringere Gallıam vinclis, Vide ASTRINGO.
In vinculis habere. Quintil. To keepe one in pryſon.
¶ Vincla. Horat. Obligations wherewith one is bonde. Bondes.

Vinco, vincis, vici, victũ, víncere. Cic. To winne: to ouercome: to banquiſh: to get victorie: to paſſe: to excelle: to proue or convince by reaſon.
Vinci & expugnari. Cic. Vinci à voluptate. Cic.
¶ Vince virum bonum fuiſſe Oppianicum. Cicer. Convince and proue &c.
¶ Vincere aciem ferri. Plin. To paſſe in harpneſſe, or to be harper then any toole.
Amor vincitur donis. Ouid.
Amor omnia vincit. Virg.
Animum vincere. Plaut. To ouercome ones minde.
Bello vincere. Lucan. To banquiſh in warre.
Carminibus vincere aliquem. Virg. To paſſe.
Victa cauſa. Cic. A cauſe or ſute that is caſt or ouercome.
Certamine pedum vicerat omnes. Ouid. He paſſed all in rẽnyng or ſwifteneſſe of foote.
Cibum vincere. Plin. To concocte or digeſte.
Clementia vincitur lachrymis. Ouid.
Vicerat antiquæ ſceleratus crimina famæ. Martial. The naughtie felow cõmitted ſo heynous an offence, as hath not been hearde of before time.
Curſu vincere ceruum, vel cochleam tarditudine. Plaut. To be ſwifter then an harte, or ſlower then a ſnayle.
Difficultates locorum vincere. Cæſar. with trauayle to paſſe harde and troublous places.
Dolor vicit virum inuictum. Ouid.
Eloquio vincere Neſtora. Ouid. To paſſe Neſtor in eloquẽce.
Expectationẽ vincere. Cic. To doo more then mẽ tooke for.
Falſa vincere veris. Lucret. Fame vinci. Ouid.
Viuendo vici mea fata, ſuperſtes. Virg. I haue liued longer then by courſe of nature I ſhould, haunge my childre dead before me.
Furorem vincere ratione. Ouid. To ouercome.

Gloria vincere aliquem,& similibus.Cic. To passe in &c.
Miles vicit hostem.Ouid.
Iudicio aliquid vincere.Cic. To conuince by sentence of the iudge.
-labor omnia vincit Improbus.Virg. Impoztunate labour ouercometh all thinges.
Licitatione vincere.Paul. In cheapenyng to bidde moze : to ouerbidde.Budæus legit,licitationē : quomodo dicimus, Olympia vincere.Vicit igitur licitationem,hoc est, He is admitted as the partie that biddeth most.
Magnitudinem alterius rei vincere.Cic. To be bigger &c.
Si vita istius memoriam vicerit.Cic. If there be none,that remembzeth,how he hath liued befoze tyme.
Montes vincere ascensu.Claud. with paynes to get vp,to the toppes of hilles.
Moribus vincere aliquem.Propert.
Funalia vincunt noctem flāmis.Virg. The light of tozches ouercome the darkenesse of night.
Numero vincere.Cic. To be moze in number.
Officio vincet omnes spes.Cic. He will doo moze,than men can hope.
Opinionem omnium vincere.Cic. To passe the opinion of all men.
Pectora dura vincuntur molli prece.Tibull. Harde hertes are ouercome with humble sute.
Nulla vinci ratione,Cic.
Seipsum vincere.Cassius Ciceroni. To passe himselfe.
Vicit sententia lenior,vt vnde culpa esset orta,ibi pœna consisteret.Liuius. The gentler sentence tooke place &c.
Sponsione vincere.Cic. To ouercome in layinge a wager.
Viribus vincere aliquid.Virgil.
Voo te vicimus.Cic. In one thyng we passe thee.
¶ Vicimus.Cic. we haue the victozie: we haue wōne the wager:we haue that we woulde haue.
Vnum ostende in tabulis aut tuis, aut patris tui emptū esse, vicisti.Cic. I will geue thee the victozie.
Vince & vale.Cic. God sende thee the victozie,and longe to liue in health.
Viceris.Terent. Goe thy way,thou haste the victozie:I will confesse thou hast ouercome.

Victus,Participium. Vanquished:ouercome:conuinced.vt Victi & subacti populi.Cic.
Galli victi silere solent,canere victores.Cic. Cockes beaten holde theyr peace, but they that ouercome are wonte to crow.
Bellis victi.Stat. Somno victus.Liu.
Natura victus Cic. Viribus victa virgo.Ouid.
Prece victus.Horat. Voluptate victus.Cic.
Vulnere ingenti victus.Virg.
¶ Clementia illius victa est nostro vitio.Ouid.
Corpora victa sopore.Ouid.
Fœmina victa dolo.Virg.
Hostis victus terra marique.Horat.
Ira victa per preces.Ouid.
Opes victæ.Cic. Puissance oz might ouercome.
Patientia victa vitijs.Ouidius. Patience ouercome with ill doeynges.
Pietas victa furore.Horat. Pudor victus amore.Ouid.
Reus victus.Cic. A defendaunt cast and ouercome.
Terga victa dare.Ouid. To tourne backe and flee.
Vrbes victæ.Horat.
¶ Victus.Virgil. Let of his purpose,and leauyng it of:that hath not done that he woulde. Hic vero victus genitor se tollit ad auras.Virg.

Victor,victōris,m.g.pen.prod.Cæs. A victour : a conquerour: he that vanquisheth oz ouercommeth.
Belli victor.Stat.
Omnium gentium victor.Cic. Hostium victor.Horat.
Ille externorum bellorum hostiumque victor.Cic.
Cruentus victor.Lucan. Ferus.Horat.
Violens.Horat.
Currus victor.Ouid. The triumphant chariote of a conquerour.

Victrix,victrícis.pen.prod.f.g.Cic. She that vanquisheth.
Libidinis victrix.Cic. Arma victricia.Virg.
Athenæ victrices.Cic.
Cateruæ victrices.Horat. Dextra victrix.Ouid.
Lauri victrices.Virgil. Of whiche garlandes are made foz conquerours.
Libido victrix.Seneca.
Literæ victrices.Cic. Letters declaryng victozie.
Manus victrix.Cic. Palmæ victrices.Ouid.
¶ Victrix.Virgil. She that hath hir purpose, oz that she woulde haue.

Victória,victóriæ,f.g.Cic. Victozie : conquest : vanquishynge.
Victoria natura insolens & superba est.Cic.
Facies victoriæ.Tacit. The foyme of the victozie.
Agilis victoria,Vide AGILIS.
Cruenta victoria,Vide CRVENTVS.
Facilis victoria de madidis,atque mero titubantibus.Iuuen. It is easie to get the victozie of &c.
Læta victoria.Horat.
Pulchra & spectabilis victoria.Tacit.
Velox victoria.Horat.
¶ Adipisci victoriam.Cæs. To get the victozie.
Amplecti victoriam.Liu.
Cessit illi victoria,Vide CEDO.
Cohonestare victoriam.Liu. To adourne &c.
Concedere victoriam.Tacit.
Concelebrare victoriam,Vide CONCELEBRO.
Conclamare victoriam.Cæsar.
Consequi victoriam.Cic. To attayne victozie.
Consistit victoria,Vide CONSISTO.
Constituere victoriam,Vide CONSTITVO.
Constat victoria multorum virorum fortium morte.Cæsar. The victozie cost many a valiaunt man his life.
Corrupta toties victoria.Tacit.
Victoriam vltrò detulimus.Liu. we willyngly gaue him the victozie.
Differre victoriam.Liu.
Fuga & pauor Numidarum Romanis victoriam dedit.Liu.
Edere victoriam.Tacit. To get the victozie.
Iam parta victoria ex manibus eripitur.Salust.
Excidit victoria è manibus,Vide EXCIDO.
Vterque victoriam crudeliter exercebant.Salust.
Victoriam hosti extorqueamus.Liu.
Habere victoriam.Liu.
Habere victoriam in manibus.Liu.
Inquietare victoriam.Tacit. To disturbe &c.
Interpellare victoriam.Cæsar. To let oz hinder &c.
Morari victoriam.Liu. To hinder &c.
Initium victoriæ natum est ab ea parte.Cæsar. That parte beganne first to ouercome.
Neque Cæsarem fefellit, quin ab his cohortibus initium victoriæ oriretur.Cæsar.
Párere victoriam.Cæsar. To pzocure oz get &c.
Patrare victoriam,Idem,Tacit.
Portendere victoriam.Liu.
Reportare victoriam.Cic. To haue oz winne the victozie.
Propè iam adeptam victoriam retinere.Salust.
Spectare victoriam.Quintil.
Multorum sanguine ac vulneribus ea Pœnis victoria stetit.Liu. That victozie coste the Carthaginians much bloudshedde and many woundes,oz the life and hurte of many a man.
Victoria in manibus nobis est.Salust. we are sure of &c.
Tradere victoriam.Quintil.
Fortuna sæpe ad vtrunque transferente victoriam.Cæs. Foztune oftentimes geuyng the vpperhāde,now to the tone parte,now to the tother.
Cui dij immortales victoriam tribuissent.Cæs.

Victoriātus,victoriáti,m.g.pen.prod.Plin. A certayne coyne hauynge the Image of victozie.

Victoriōsus,pen.prod.Adiectiuum.Cato. Victozious: that hath often conquered and gotte many victozies.

Vincibilis,& hoc vincíbile,pen.corr.Terent. Easie to be vanquished and ouercome.
Terra grauis,& vix vlla cultura vincibilis.Columella.

Vindemia,vindémiæ,f.g.Virg. The gatherynge of grapes to make wine:sometime gatherynge of other thynges.

Mitis

Mitis in apricis coquitur vindemia ſaxis, Virg.
Vindemia mellis. Plin. The gatheryng of honie.
Vindemia oliuarum. Plin. The gatherynge of olines to make oyle.
Cogere vindemias. Vlpian. To laye together grapes, that are gathered in harueſt.
Modicas vindemias colligere. Plin. iunior.
Pendentem vindemiam emere. Iulianus. To bie grapes vpõ a pryce, as they hange.
Spumat plenis vindemia labris. Virg.
Adminiſtrare vindemias, Vide ADMINISTRO.

Vindemíola, vindemíolæ, f. g. pen. corr. Diminutiuum. Cic. A litle harueſt of grapes.

Vindémio, vindémias, vindemiâre, Plin. To gather grapes or ripe fruite in harueſt.

Vindemiâtor, pen. prod. vindemiatôris, fœ. g. Columel. He that in harueſt gathereth grapes to make wine.

Vindemâtor, pen prod. toris, per ſyncopen, Idem.
Durus vindemator. Horat.

Vindémitor, pen. corr. Idem. Ouid.

Vindemiatórius, Adiectiuum. Pertayninge to gatherynge of grapes or ripe fruite in harueſt. vt Vaſa vindemiatoria. Varro. Veſſels ſeruyng to grape gatherynge.
Quali vindemiatorij. Vlpian. Backettes to gather grapes for vinetage in harueſt.

Vindex, víndicis, penult. corr. com. gen. Cicer. A reuenger of wronges: a puniſher: a redreſſer of thynges. A defendour: he that ſetteth at libertie, or out of daunger. A proctour or atturney proſecutyng an other mans matter. One that deliuereth himſelfe out of bondage. A keeper of poſſeſſion.
Vindex temeritatis & moderatrix officij, Curia. Cicer. The puniſher of rathneſſe, and &c.
Peccatorum vindex. Cicer. The puniſher of thynges done amiſſe.
Vindex & oppreſſor coniurationis. Cic.
Vindex & vltor. Columel.
Facinorum & ſceleris vindex. Cic.
Fraudis auaræ vindex. Horat.
Linguæ magnę vindex. Hor. The puniſher of a proude tõge.
Iuſtiſſimus vindex. Ouid. Carcer, nefariorum vindex. Cic.
¶ Vindex. Cic. He that defendeth and ſetteth at libertie.
Extitiſti tu vindex noſtræ libertatis. Cic. Thou waſte the reſtorer of our libertie.
¶ Pœna vindex. Catull. Vires vindices. Ouid.

Vindíciæ, vindiciârum, f. g. pluraliter. Liu. The aſſertion of libertie or freedome: ſentences by prouiſion deliuerynge.
Vindicias poſtulare ſecundum libertatem. Liu. To require to be deliuered out of the handes of his aduerſarie, that he may bryng proofe of his freedome.
Vindicijs ac ſacramentis petere. Cic. To put in his anſwere, and require a tyme to bryng in proofes, that he is not bonde.
Vindicias ſecundum libertatem dare. To graunte that one maye be at his libertie to bryng ſureties and proofes, that he is not bonde.
Decernere vindicias ſecũdum ſeruitutem. To geue ſentence, that one is bonde.
Lis vindiciarum. A ſuite or contention for a thynge that is not certainely knowen whoſe it is: In which plee the demaundant was bounde in a certayne ſumme of money to be forfeyted, if the thinge weare not his, and the defendant was bounde not to impayre the thynge that he had in his poſſeſſion.

Víndico, víndicas, pen. corr. vindicâre. Cic. To reuẽge or puniſh: to defende or deliuer from daunger or wronge: to reſtore to libertie.
Improborum conſenſio omni ſupplicio vindicanda eſt. Cic.
Dolus malus legibus erat vindicatus. Cic.
Acerrimè maleficia vindicare. Cicer. Very harpely to puniſhe &c.
Mortem vindicare alicuius. Plin. To reuenge ones death.
Necem alicuius vindicare. Ouid.
Offenſas ſuas vindicare enſe. Ouid.
Peccata moribus & iudicijs vindicare. Cic. To puniſh offẽces accordyng to order and lawe.
Peccatum in altero vindicare. Cic. To puniſh &c.
Seditionem vindicare. Cic.
In aliquem ſcelera alterius vindicare. Cic. To puniſhe one for an other mans offences.
Is ſua lẽge in fures dupli pœna vindicandũ exiſtimauit. Gell.
Vindicare ſe ab aliquo. Sen. To reuenge himſelfe vpõ one.
Vindicare ſe de aliquo, Idem. Cic.
¶ Vindicari, Paſſiuè. Cic. To be reuenged on: alſo, to be ſette at libertie.
In poſterum diem vindicari. Liu. To be ſette at libertie vntill the nexte daye vpon ſureties.
Vindicatum eſt, Imperſonale. Cic. In ciues noſtros perſæpe eſt ſeuerè ac vehementer vindicatum. Our citizens haue ben often times ſharpely puniſhed &c.
¶ Vindicare. Cicero, Pecunia quæ nos à tributis poſſet vindicare. Money that might deliuer vs frõ charge of tributes.
Ab interitu vindicare. Plin. iunior. To ſaue from death.
A labore vindicare. Cic. To exempte and ſet at libertie frõ labour.
Aliquem à magnitudine doloris vindicare. Cic. To deliuer from &c.
A moleſtia, ſupplicio, & impetu libidinum vindicari: pro Liberari. Cic.
Ab obliuione & ſilentio hominum vindicare. Cic. To make that one be not forgotten of men, but alway ſpoken of.
Senectutem à ſolitudine vindicari iuris Ciuilis ſcientia. Cic.
Aliquem à vitijs omnibus vindicare. Cic. To auouche one to be without all faute.
In libertatem vindicare. Cic. To ſet at libertie.
Solui terroribus, & in libertatem vindicari. Cic.
Vindicare libertatem. Cæſ. To defende their libertie from daunger of tyrannes.
Vindicare ſe ad ſuos. Cic. To reſtore themſelfe ſafe to their owne houſes agayne.
Vindicare ſe exiſtimationi hominum. Cicer. To maintayne their good reputation amonge men.
Vindica te tibi. Seneca. Take leyſure to thynke on thy buſineſſes.

Vindicátio, vindicatiônis, f. g. Verbale. Cic. A reuengement: a takyng of puniſhment: a deliuerynge out of daunger.

Vindicta, vindictæ, f. g. Paulus. Vengeance: reuengement: puniſhment.
Suſcipere vindictam legis. Ouidius. To vndertake to puniſh one accordyng to the law.
¶ Vindicta. Liuius. A rodde that the lorde deliuered to his bonde man, when he ſet him at libertie: Alſo ſuch a maner of infraunchiſyng.
Si neque cenſu, neque vindicta, nec teſtamento liber factus eſt, non eſt liber. Cic.
Vindicta liberatus. Liu. Made free by his lord, or by the Pretour touchyng him with a rodde.

Vinea, víneæ. Cic. A vine, or a vineyarde.
Brachiata vinea, Vide BRACHIVM.
Caluata, Vide CALVA.
Capitata, Vide CAPVT.
Compluuiata, Vide COMPLVVIVM.
Culta. Tibull.
Fertilis vuæ generoſæ vinea. Ouid.
Imputata. Horat. A vine not cutte and dreſſed.
Macerrimæ vineæ. Columel.
¶ Tenera vinea modico adminiculo melius acquieſcit. Columella.
Floret vinea. Ouid.
Induunt ſe vuis vineæ. Columella. Vines beginne to haue grapes.
Iugare vineas, Vide IVGVM.
Ordinare vineã paribus interuallis, Vide Ordino in ORDO.
Pubeſcit vinea. Virgil.
Purgare vineam. Catull.
Verberatæ grandine vineæ. Horat. Vines beaten with haile.
¶ Vinea. Cic. An ordinance of warre made of tymber and hurdels, vnder which in aſſautes men came ſafely vnder the walles of a towne.

Vineárius, Adiectiuum. Pertaynyng to a vine. vt Collis vinea-rius. Colum. That beareth vines.

Vineáticus, pen. corr. Aliud adiectiuũ. Pertainyng to vines, vt
Falces vineaticæ. Varro. Hookes to cutte vines.
Fructus vineaticus. Colum. The fruyte of a vineyarde.
Semina vineatica. Columel.
Vineâlis, & hoc vineâle, pen. prod. Of a vine. vt Terra vinealis. Columel. Apte for vines.
Vinetum, Vinitor, Vinosus, Vinolentia, &c. Vide VINVM.
Vinum, vini, n. g. Martial. wine.
Vinum cui nihil ætatis accessit. Cels. New wine.
Vinum nullarum virium, & Ingentiũ virium, cõtraria. Cels.
Vina, Pluraliter. Cic. wines.
Languidus vino, Vide LANGVOR.
Media ætas vini. Plin. when wine is in his best strength and hynde.
Certamen mite vini. Tibull. The pleasaunt contention of quaffynge.
Pernicies vini, lymphæ. Catull. water is the destruction of wine.
Plenus vini. Cic. Dronke.
Infirmi saporis vinum. Columel. A weake wine.
Vini sapores quatuor, Dulce, acutum, lene, & austerum. Sweete, sharpe, milde, and rough.
Violentia vehemens vini. Lucret.
Ad vinum, Vide AD præpositionem.
Ad vinum disertus, Vide Ibidem.
¶ Album vinum. Plaut.
Asperum, Vide ASPER. Atrum, Vide ATER.
Austerum, Vide AVSTERVS. A greene wine.
Calidum. Ouid.
Cibarium, Vide CIBVS.
Circuncidaneũ, & Circuncisitium, Vide CIRCVNCIDO.
Collina vina, Vide COLLIS.
Doliare vinum. Vlpianus. wine in the tunne or vessell.
Vinum vetustate edentulum. Plaut. Olde dead wine, that hath lost the strength.
Firmissimum vinum. Virg. Hornum. Horat.
Heluolum, Vide HELVOLVS.
Indigena, Vide INDIGENA.
Ignitius, Vide IGNIS.
Larga, aut libera vina. Horat.
Lene vinum. Cic.
Lixiuum vinum, Vide LIX.
Marathrites vinum, Vide MARATHRVM.
Marcida vina. Stat. Merum vinum, Vide MERVS.
Molle. Virg. A milde gentill wine.
Myrtites, Vide MYRTVS.
Mucidum, Vide MVCOR.
Nouitium. Plin.
Nouum & Vetus vinum, contraria. Cic.
Peculiare. Vlpianus.
Pendens, Vide PENDEO. Purum. Ouid.
Protropum, Vide PROTROPVS.
Rubens. Ouid.
Spurcum, Vide SPVRCVS.
¶ Abstinere vino. Plin. To forbeare wine.
Absumere vinum. Terent. To spende &c.
Acere vinum dicitur. Cato. To waxe sower.
Adhibere vinum ægrotis, Vide ADHIBEO.
Carere vino, Vide CAREO.
Castrare vina saccis. Plin. To straine wine through bagges to make it somewhat weaker.
Circuncidere vinum, Vide CIRCVNCIDO.
Coacescit vetustate vinum. Cic. wine with longe continuance waxeth sower.
Collectum vinũ. Plin. Grapes gathered in harueste to make wine.
Concinnare vinum, Vide CONCINNVS.
Corrigere vina. Plin. To amende wines.
Diffusum vinum ex œnophoro. Cic. wine poured out of &c.
Dant animos vina. Ouid. wine maketh one haue courage.
Euanescunt vetustate vina. Cic. wine in continuance waxeth dead.
Feruida vina exurdant subtile palatum, Vide EXVRDO.
Vinum facit ingenium. Ouid.

Vinum facit somnum. Ouid.
Ferre vetustatem dicuntur vina, Vide FERO. Cic. To abyde or continue longe in their strength.
Fugiens vinum. Cic. wine that will not continew.
Fundere vina pateris. Virg. To powre out &c.
Liquentia vina fundere. Virg.
Graues vino somnóque iacebant. Ouid. They after muche drinkynge lay heauie asleape.
Impulsus vino. Quintil. Incalescere vino. Liu.
Infuscare vinum, Vide INFVSCO.
Inuergere vina. Virgil.
Dulci mala vino lauere. Horat. To washe away sorowe and care by drynkinge pleasaunt wine.
Leuare vino curásque sitímque. Ouid. with drynkynge both to ease his care, and quench his thirste.
Madent membra vino. Plaut.
Nimio marcescere vino. Ouid. with ouermuch drinkynge.
Medicata suffitione vina, Vide MEDICO.
Mersus vino & madens. Seneca. Very drunken, and hauynge his senses drowned with wine.
Miscere vinum aqua, Vide MISCEO.
Nutrire vinum, Vide NVTRIO.
Olere vina. Horat.
Vina parant animos. Ouid.
Pellere curas vino. Horat.
Pressa vina. Horat. wine prested out of grapes.
Languidiora vina promere. Horat.
Reponere vina mensis. Virgil.
Sepulti vino conticuêre. Virg. They beyng ouerwhelmed with drunkennesse helde their peace.
Sepulta vrbs somno vinóque. Virgil. The whole citie ouerwhelmed with sleape and drunkennesse.
Quies sequitur vina. Ouid. After drinkyng foloweth sleape and reste. Soluti somno vinóque procubuêre. Virg.
Subtrahere vinum. Cels. To withdraw wine from one.
Sumere vinum meracius. Cic. To drynke wine alone without water.
Transire ad vinum, Vide AD præpositionem.
Vti largiore vino, Vide LARGIOR, largíris.
Villum, villi, n. g. Diminutiuum. Terent. A small wine.
Vinácea, vinaceôrum: vel per i, Vinacia, Substantiuum plurale neutrum. Colum. The kernelles that are in grapes.
Vinacia quæ de lora eximuntur. Columel.
Vináceus, m. g. pro eodem. Cato. Varro.
Vineácea, vineáceæ: vel Vinácea potius, Idem. Colum. Plin.
Vináceus, Adiectiuum. Of wine or grapes. vt Acinus vinaceus. Cic. The kernell of a reason.
Vinale, lis, n. g. Vintage.
Vinárius, vinárij, m. g. Plaut. Suet. A vintner: a tauerner: one that selleth wine.
Vinarius. Vlpian. A dronkarde: a great drinker of wine.
Vinárius, Adiectiuum. Pertaynynge to wine. vt Taberna vinaria. A wine tauerne.
Cella vinaria. Plin.
Vinarij lacus. Colum. Vas vinarium. Cic.
Crimen vinarium. Cic. The accusation of one that hath set imposte on wine.
Vinêtum, vinéti, pen. prod. Cic. Quintil. A vineyarde.
Blanda vineta. Stat.
Cultum & verax vinetum. Colum.
Læta vineta. Lucret. Madentia vineta. Stat.
Infestantur vineta Austris & Euris. Colum.
Vinipôtor, pen. prod. vinipotôris, m. g. Plin. A drinker of wine.
Vinitor, pen. corr. vinitôris, m. g. Colum. Cic. He that dresseth and keepeth a vineyarde: a maker of wine.
Maturæ vinitor vuæ. Virg. A gatherer of ripe grapes.
Vinitorius, Adiectiuum. Belongyng to the keepyng of a vineyarde. vt Vinitoria falx. Colum. An hooke to cut vines.
Vinolentus, Aliud adiectiuum. Cic. A dronkarde: geuẽ to drinkynge of much wine.
Incidere in violentiam vinolentorum. Cic.
Vinolentus furor. Cic.
Medicamina vinolenta. Cic. Made with much wine.
Bacchatur vinolentus. Cic.
Vinoléntia, vinoléntiæ, f. gen. Cicer. Dronkennesse: ouermuch drinkynge dyinkinge of wine.

Vinolentia ſubiecta eſt ægrotationi. Cic.
Furioſa vinolentia. Cic.
Vinôſus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Ouid. That loueth to drynke wine: hauinge a ſmacke or ſauour of wine.
Vinoſus. Plaut. Dronken.
Conuiuia vinoſa. Ouid. Senex vinoſus. Ouid.
Vinoſus ſuccus. Plin. A ſwete hauyng the taſte of wine.
Vinoſus ſapor. Plin. Vinoſus fructus. Colum.
Vinoſa mordacitas ad linguam. Plin. A bitynge of the tõge like wine.
Viola, víolæ, pen. corr. Plin. A violette.
Viola alba. Plin. idem quod Leucoia.
Flammea. Plin. Luteæ. Plin.
Fuſcæ violæ. Claud. Mollis viola. Virg.
Nigræ violæ. Virg. The purple violette.
Pallentes violas carpere. Virgil.
Purpurea viola, Idem. Plin.
Tinctus viola pallor amantium. Horat. The wanneſſe of louers in colour like a violette.
Tondere violas manu. Propert. To gather violettes.
Violárium, violárij, n. g. Virg. A banke or bedde of violettes.
Mollia purpureum pingunt violaria campum. Lactant.
Violáceus, Adiectiuum. Plin. Of violet colour.
Violaris, Idem.
Violárius, violárij, m. g. Plaut. He that dieth violette colour.
Violo, víolas, pen. corr. violáre. To violate: to corrupte: to defile: to deflowre: to breake, as a man doth a lawe.
Violare amicitiam. Cic. To doo agaynſt friendſhippe.
Amores alicuius violare. Tibull.
Aras cælicolûm violauit mea dextera. Sil.
Aurum cibis violare. Stat. To make veſſell of golde foule with puttyng meate in them.
Bello violari. Cic.
Corpus vulnere violare. Virg. To wounde.
Cubile alicuius violáre. Catul. To committe aduoutrie with ones wife.
Dignitatem violare. Cic. To doo agaynſt ones honour.
Ebur oſtro violare. Virg. To mixe Iuorie with purple.
Exiſtimationem alicuius violare. Cic. To deminiſh ones eſtimation or reputation.
Apud exteras nationes imperij noſtri famã tuis probris violaſti. Cic. Thou haſt diſtayned the fame of our empire in forayne countreys, by thy naughtie dooynges.
Fidem violare. Ouid. To breake promiſſe.
Fidem coniugij violare. Plin. Not to be faithfull and true in wedlocke: to breake wedlocke.
Fœdus violare. Liu. To breake aliance.
Fœdera communia pacis violare. Lucret.
Hoſpites violare. Cæſar. To miſuſe, or doe iniurie to ſtrãgers comminge into our countrey.
Iura violare. Cic. Loca religioſa violare. Cic.
Numina verbo violare. Tibull. To ſpeake ill of the gods.
Parentes violare. Cic. To miſuſe his parentes: to doo vnnaturally to his parentes.
Puellam violare. Tibull. To deflowre.
Rempublicam violare. Cic. To hurte the common weale.
Sacra violare. Cic. To diſtayne.
Nubes violant ſerenam ſpeciem mundi. Lucret. The clowdes ouercaſte the fayre weather.
Venas violare. Celſ. To hurte the veynes.
Suſpicione violata virtus. Liuius. An honeſt man vniuſtly ſuſpected.
Syluam violare ſecuri. Ouid. To cutte doune trees: to felle.
Verbo ius legationis violare. Cicer. In woordes to miſuſe an ambaſſadour, in ſome matter touchyng his meſſage.
Virginitatem violare. Cic. Vitam patris violare. Cic.
Voce aliquem violare. Cic. To raile, or ſpeake outragiouſly agaynſt one.
Violâtus, penult. prod. Participium. Liu. Broken: violated: deflowred: hurte.
Ab arcu violatus. Ouid. Hurte with a bow.
Fletu genas violata Diana. Stat. Diane hauyng hir eyes blemiſhed with weepyng.
Corpus violatum nullo crimine. Sil. Iura violata mariti. Ouid. Leges violatæ. Claud.
Poteſtas violata. Lucan.
Violandus, Aliud particip. vt Fœdera clàm violanda. Tibull. To be broken.
Violátio, violatiônis, f. g. Verbale. Liu. A violatynge: a breakynge: a diſtayninge.
Violâtor, pen. prod. violatôris, Verbale maſculinum. Liu. One that violateth, corrupteth, or ſuſpendeth.
Templi violator. Ouid.
Violábilis, & hoc violábile, penult. corr. Adiectiuum. Stat. That may be violated.
Cor violabile leuibus telis. Ouid.
Numen non violabile. Virg.
Violentus, Aliud adiectiuũ. Cic. Violent: forcible: behement.
Violentus & furens. Cic.
Tranquillus, & Violentus, contraria. Claud.
Aer violentior incubuit puppibus. Lucan. A more behement winde did beate on the ſhippes.
Amnis violentior influit in mare. Virg.
Aper violentus. Ouid. Aura cæli violentior. Stat.
Enſe violento fortiter vti. Ouid.
Homo vehemens & violentus. Cic.
Impetus alicuius furentes & violenti. Cic. Ones furious and violent aſſautes.
Ira violenta. Ouid.
Ira violentior ſurgit. Sil. Anger beginneth agayne more fierſe, than it was before.
Lues violenta. Valer. Flac.
Mors violenta. Tibull. Opes violentæ. Cic.
Pectora violenta. Virg. Fierſe hartes.
Tela violenta ſumere. Ouid.
Tempeſtates violentiſſimæ. Cic.
Venti violenti. Lucret. Vis violenta leonum. Lucret.
Vires violentæ æris. Lucr. The vehemẽt hardneſſe of braſſe.
Víolens, pen. corr. pro Violentus. Horat. Violent: forcible.
Violenter, Aduerbium. Liu. Violently: perforce: maugre his head: cruelly: vnpacyently.
Violenter gerere Conſulatum. Plin. iunior. To vſe himſelfe in his Conſulſhippe fiercely and cruelly.
Inuadere violenter. Columel. with violence to ſette vpon.
Tolerare violenter. Terent. To ſuffer agaynſt his will, and maugre his heade.
Violéntia, violéntiæ, f. g. Plin. Violence: force: behemencie.
Cæli violentia. Plin. Tempeſtuous and troublous weather.
Vinolentorum violentia. Cic. The violente rage of ꝛc.
Vultus violentia. Ouid. Acris violentia. Lucret.
Effrænata violentia. Cic. Vnrulie fierſeneſſe.
Vehemẽs violentia vini. Lucret.
Gliſcit violentia. Virg.
Opprimi impetu violentiæ. Cic.
Proſpicere violentiam inimicorum. Cic.
Vipera, víperæ, f. g. pen. corr. Plin. A viper: a kinde of adders.
Atræ viperæ. Horat. Mala vipera. Virg.
Scelerata. Martial.
Parua necat morſu ſpatioſum vipera taurum. Ouid.
Vipera venenata ac peſtifera. Cic.
Vipéreus, Adiectiuum. Of vipers, or adders. vt Carnes vipereas edere. Ouidius.
Felle vipereo linere ſpicula. Ouid.
Cruore vipereo madent tela. Ouid.
Dentes viperei. Ouid.
Viperînus, penult. prod. Aliud adiectiuum, Idem. Plin. Of an adder.
Cruor viperinus. Horat.
Vipiones, pen. prod. Plin. Yonge crayues.
Vir, viri, maſc. gen. Plin. A man: a valiaunt man of good courage: An huſbande.
Inuicta vis viri. Stat.
Ingentis ſpiritus vir, Vide INGENS.
Roboris magni vir. Seneca.
Ingenij iucundi & elegantis vir. Quintil.
Magnæ famæ vir. Ouid.
¶ Abſurdus vir, Vide ABSVRDVS.
Acres viri. Virg. Agreſtes. Horat.
Ampliſſimus & ornatiſſimus vir, Vide AMPLVS.

Audax.Sil.
Bellatores viri.Sil.warlike men.
Bonus vir & prudens.Horat.
Bonus vir & ſapiens.Horat.
Cæleſtis,Vide CAELVM. Clari viri.Quintil.
Ciuilis.Quintil. Clariſſimus vir.Cic.
Comis & bonus vir.Quintil.
Conſularis,Vide CONSVL.
Egregius ſanctuſq; vir.Iuuenal.
Excellens.Cic. Fortis.Ouid.
Externus.Ouid. Fortis vir ad arma.Ouid.
Ferox.Sil. Grauis.Quintil.
Ignoti noua forma viri.Virg.
Illuſtris vir,Vide ILLVSTRIS.
Iniuſtus.Ouid. Inſignis vir pietate.Virg.
Inſtructiſſimus,Vide INSTRVO.
Intemperans.Cic.
Inuictum virum vicit dolor.Ouid.
Iuriſperiti,an militaris viri laus maior.Quintil. Of a warriour. Iuſtus vir & tenax propoſiti.Horat.
Lectiſſimi viri atque ornatiſſimi,Vide LEGO,legis.
Literati viri.Cic. Magnus vir.Ouid.
Maximus,Vide MAGNVS.
Memor,gratus,& bonus vir.Cic.
Mendax.Virg. Sanctus.Seneca.
Molles viri.Horat. Solers.Ouid.
Nefandus vir.Virg. Subtilis.Quintil.
Princeps.Ouid. Veloces viri.Ouid.
¶ Cadere in virum,Vide CADO.
Compellare virum blande.Plaut.
Congelare virum,Vide CONGELO.
Diuidere in viros,Vide IN præpoſitionem.
¶ Vir.Terent. A valiaunt man of good courage & ſtomake.
Si viri volumus eſſe.Cic. If we will ſhew our ſelfes ſtoute men.
Tulit dolorem vt vir: & vt homo, maiorem ferre ſine cauſa neceſſaria noluit.Cicer. As a ſtoute man he abode that payne,and as a man of common nature &c.
¶ Vir.Terent.An huſbande.
Matura viro filia.Virg. A daughter mariable.
Durus vir.Ouid. An huſbande rough & harde to his wife.
Viduus.Ouidius. One leadyng a ſole lyfe.
¶ O digno cõiuncta viro.Virg. O womã wourthily maried.
Dare nuptum viro,Vide NVBO.
Expertæ virum puellæ.Horat. Maydens maried.
Meruit illa virum dote,Vide MEREO.
Nupta viro puella.Ouid. Sæuo nupta viro.Horat.
¶ Vir,de brutis etiam dicitur. The male.Virgil.Vir gregis ipſe caper. The bucke gote cheefe leader of the flocke.
¶ Vt relicta ſẽſit ſibi mẽbra ſine viro,&c.Catul. As ſoone as Atys perceyued he was gelded,& his genitoȝies cut of.
Virâgo,pen.prod.viráginis,pen.corr.fœm.gen.Plaut. A womã of ſtoute and manly courage.
Bello metuenda virago,Pallas.Ouid.
Viríporens,pen.corr.viripotentis,f.g.Plaut. Marihable.
Virílis,& hoc víríle,pen.prod.Opus virile.Cic. Of a man: manly: valiaunt: ſtoute.
¶ Virilis animus.Terẽt.Cic. A ſtoute and valiaũt courage: a manly herte.
Magis virilis.Quintil.
Parum víríle eſt.Cic. It is no manly parte: it is not comely for a ſtoute man.
Cura virilis.Virg. The care of a man at full age.
Videremur aliquid doloris virilis habuiſſe.Cic.
Forma virilis.Ouid.
Habitus orationis virilis.Quintil. A pithie and ſubſtantiall maner of ſtile.
Igniculus virilis.Cic. An inſtinction or token of manlineſſe appearyng in a childe.
Fortis ac virilis laterum inflexio.Cic.
Oculi viriles.Ouid.
Officium virile.Horat. A charge meete for a man.
Oratio fortis & virilis.Cic. Pithie and graue talke, or maner of ſtyle meete for a man.
Pars virilis.Cic. That poȝtion or parte that one man hath.
Eſt aliqua mea pars virilis,quòd eius ciuitatis ſum,quam ille amplam,illuſtrem,claramque reddidit.Cicer. I haue my poȝtion or parte &c.
Partes viriles mandare puero.Horat. To cõmitte to a childe that,which is the parte of a man to doo.
Pro virili parte.Cic. So much as I can: as much as lieth in me: to the vttermoſt of my parte.
Pro virili portione.Tacit. For his parte or poȝtion:ſo much as lieth in him to doo.
Proles virilis.Virg. Iſſue male.
Ratio fortis & virilis.Cic.
Sexus virilis,aut ſtirps.Plin. The male kinde:iſſue male.
Studia virilia.Ouid. Manly exerciſes.
Tela virilia.Ouid.
Toga virilis,Vide TOGA.
Vox virilis.Cic. Veſtis virilis.Horat.
Vultus.Ouid. A manly countenance.
¶ Vocare aliquos ad virilia.Saluſt. To call men to manly & valiant aſſaȝes.
Virílitas,pen.corr.virilitâtis,f.g.Martial. Manlineſſe. The priuie parte of a man. A mans genitoȝies. The yarde.
Fouetur vino calido virilitas iumentis.Plin.
Ademptæ virilitatis homo,Vide ADIMO.
Exciſa virilitas.Quintil. Gelded.
Virília, virílium, pluraliter tantum,Idem.Plin. The priuie members.
Viríliter,pen.corr.Aduerbium.Cic. Manly:valiauntly: with a manly ſtomake:like a ſtoute man.
Viriliter & magno animo.Cic.
Defendere viriliter.Quintil. Facere viriliter.Horat.
Fortuna ferenda viriliter.Ouid.
Virîtim,penult.prod.Aduerbium.Liu. Man by man: of euery man:man after man:particularly.
Viritim diuidere.Cic. Pecus viritim diſtribuit.Cæſ.
Rumor viritim percrebuit.Curtius. The rumour, goeyng from man to man,increaſed.
Viritim dimicare.Curtius. To fight man for man.
¶ In vniuerſum de ventis diximus, nunc viritim incipiemus illos excutere.Sen. We haue ſpoken generally of windes, now we will beginne to diſcuſſe them particularly.
Virôſus,Adiectiuum à Vir,primam corripit. Deſirous of man: luſtyng after man. vt Viroſæ mulieres, dicuntur virorũ appetentes,vel luxurioſæ.Lucil. Note women, luſtinge muche after the companie of man.
Viro,aui,are. To make ſtronge.
Viroſus,à Virus,primam producit,Vide VIRVS.
Virectum,& Vireo,Vide VIRIDIS.
Vireo,virecônis,pen.prod.m.g.Auis.Plin. The birde called a witwall.
Vires,vírium,&c.Vide VIS.
Vireſco,Viretum,Vide VIRIDIS.
Virga,virgæ.Cic. A rodde:a yarde.
Signatus tenui media inter cornua virga.Ouid. Hauynge a ſmall blacke ſtrieke alonge betwene the hoȝnes, all the reſidue beyng white.
Lentior virgis ſalicis.Ouid. Then wirgen twigges.
Arbuteis virgis texunt feretrum.Virg.
Aurea virga.Virg.
Cornea virga,Vide Corneus in CORNVS.
Fraxina virga.Ouid. Medicata virga.Ouid.
Raſæ haſtilia virgæ.Virg.
Teneras adhuc & graciles virgas complicare. Columel. To wȝappe tegether yonge and ſmall twigges.
Viſcata virga fallere volucres.Ouid. with lime roddes.
Cædere virgis.Cic. To beate with roddes.
Cædere aliquem virgis ad necem.Cic.
Lacerare aliquem virgis.Liu.
Morientur in tergo virgæ,Vide MORIOR.
Multari virgis,Vide MVLTA.
Virga paſtoris. The hearbe called Tafell.
¶ Virga thuris.Plin. A twigge of a frankenſence tree.
Virga Cenſoria.Quintil.Vide CENSORIVS.
Vírgula,virgulæ,pen.corr.Diminutiuum.Cic. A little rodde or yarde.
Virgâtus,pen.prod.Adiectiuum. That hath roddes,or longe rayes rayes or ſtrikes in it like roddes. vt Virgatum ſagulū. Virg. That hath rayes or ſtrikes in it as we ſee in buckian.

Calathiſci virgati. Catull. Little paniers made of twigges.
Corpore virgato tigris. Sil. A tigre hanynge his bodie full of longe ſtrykes of diuers colours.
Tigres virgatæ. Seneca.
Veſtes virgatæ auro. Sil. Garmentes made with rayes or ſtrypes of golde in it.
Vbera virgata. Seneca.

Virgulâtus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum, Idem. Plin.

Virgâtor, penult. prod. virgatôris, m. g. Plaut. He that beateth with roddes.

Virgeus, Adiectiuum. Virg. Of roddes.
Virgeam ſepem interponere. Colum.
Area virgea. Colum. A little platte incloſed with rayles, roddes or twigges.
Pabula virgea. Virg. Bzouſinge of twigges geuen to beaſtes to feede on.
Flamma virgea. Virg. A fier made of twigges.

Virgêtum, virgéti, penult. prod. Cic. A place wheare ofyars, twigges, or roddes be ſette to binde vines.

Virgultum, virgulti, n. g. Plin. A yonge ſhoote or ſpzynge riſinge out of the grounde.
Cornea virgulta. Virgil.
Sonantia ſyluis virgulta. Virg.
Sylueſtria virgulta. Virgil.
Tenera attondent ſimæ virgulta capellæ. Virgil. The gotes bzouſe vpon the yonge ſhootes of trees.
Noua virgulta in terram defodere. Lucret.
Reſonant auibus virgulta canoris. Virg.
Virgindemia. A gatherynge of ofyars to make bondes & other thinges.

Virgo, vírginis, penult. corr. com. gen. Quintil. A virgine or mayde.
Adulta virgo. Cic.
Animoſa. Ouid. Aſpera. Virg.
Armata. Feſt. Bellica virgo, Pallas. Sil.
Caſſa virgo dote, Vide c A s s v s.
Corrupta virgo. Ouid. Non frigida virgo. Ouid.
Iugatæ nondum thalamis virgines. Senec. Maydens not yet maried.
Iuncea virgo, Vide I v N c v s.
Laudatiſſima virgo dote formæ. Ouid. A maydens moſte worthie bowſie is hir fauour, or a mayde excellētly ſet foorth with fauour.
Matura virgo. Horat. A mayden mariable.
Matura viro virgo, Vide M A T v R v s.
Nitidæ virgines. Horat.
Nobilis virgo in omne æuum. Horat.
Pulcherrima virgo. Ouid. Regia. Ouid.
Sanctæ virgines. Horat. Religious maydens: nunnes.
Teneræ virgines. Horat.
¶ Abſtinere virgine. Terent.
Comprimere virginem, Vide c o M P R I M o.
Rapere ad virum virginem, Catull.
¶ Virgo, pro Muliere. Horat. A maried woman.
¶ Virgo equa. Plin. A mare neuer horſed.
Virgineꝰ carnes, Plin.

Virguncula. A little mayde.

Virginâlis, & hoc virginâle, pen. prod. Pertaynynge to a virgine: maydenly.
Virginalis modeſtia. Cic. Maydenly modeſtie.
Virginalis habitus atque veſtitus. Cic.
Ploratus virginalis. Cic. weepyng like a mayde.
Virginali verecundia homo. Cicer. A man of maydenly modeſtie.

Virginárius, Adiectiuum, Idem. Plaut.

Virgíneus, Aliud adiectiuum, Idem. Plin.
Aetas virginea. Plin. Youth: maydens age: time of virginitie.
Agmen virgineum. Claud. A companie of maydens.
Artus virginei. Ouid. Chorus virgineus. Ouid.
Facies virgineæ. Virg. Pudor virgineus. Tibul.
Forma virginea puer. Ouid. Rubor. Virg.
Habitus virginei. Ouid. Timor. Ouid.
Luſus virginei. Ouid.
Vultus virginei. Ouid. Maydenly lookes.

Virgínitas, pen. corr. virginitâtis, f. g. Cic. Virginitie: chaſtitie: maydenhoode: puſillage.
Ille meæ ſpoliū virginitatis habet. Ouid. He hath my maydenheade: he hath defloured me.
Matura toris virginitas. Stat. Mariable ſtate of maydens.
Perpetua virginitas. Ouid. Seuera virginitas. Ouid.
Carens virginitate. Ouid. That is defloured.
Erepta virginitas. Virg Deflouryng.
Libata virginitas. Ouid. Maydenheade ſomwhat diſtained.
Patet virginitas mea Phœbo. Ouidius. My virginitie is at Phœbus his commaundement.
Raptæ virginitatis præmia. Ouid.
Reſoluta virginitas. Plinius. Virginitie lette goe.

Viria, viriæ: vel Viríola, viríolæ, f. g. pen. corr. Paulus. An ornament with greene pzetious ſtones in it, to weare about the necke.
Lineas duas ex margaritis, & viriolas ex ſmaragdis. Iabolenꝰ.

Viriculum, virículi, n. g. pen. corr. Plin. A certayne kynde of dartes.

Viridis, & hoc víride, pen. corr. Virg. Greene: luſtie: freſh: new: liuely: ſtronge.
Aetas viridis. Colum. Luſtie youth.
Aeuum viride. Ouid. Idem.
Animi virides auſis. Silius. Luſtie hartes courageous to attempte enterpzices.
Flore viridiſſimo puella. Catull. A mayden in the chiefe floure of hir beautie.
Iuuenta viridis. Virg. Liuely youth.
Cruda ac viridis ſenectus. Virgil. Luſtie & ſtronge olde age.
¶ Viride. Cic. Greene of colour.
Aquæ virides. Ouid. Cæſpes viridis. Virg.
Color viridis. Ouid.
Creta viridis. Vitruuius. Greene earth.
Gemma ingratè viridis. Plin. Mauyng an vnpleaſant greene colour.
Gemmæ acriter virides. Plin. Of a bzight greene colour.
Gramen viride. Virg. Herba viridis. Virg.
Humus viridis. Ouid.
Lapilli virides. Horat. Smaragdes: emmeraudes.
Lentiſcus ſemper viridis. Cic.
Ligna viridia atque humida. Cic.
Pratum viride. Ouid.
Ripa viridiſſima gramine. Virg.
Smaragdi virides. Ouid. Greene emeraudes.
Lux viridis ſmaragdi. Lucret.
Veſtitus riparum viridiſſimi. Cic.
Vmbra viridis. Virg. The ſhadow of greene trees.

Viridè, Aduerbiū. Greenely: ſomwhat with a greene colour. vt Gemma viridè pallens. Plin. Hauynge a pale greene colour.
Viridius virere. Plin.

Víridans, pen. corr. viridantis, om. g. Virg. That is greene.
Gramína viridantia. Stat. Lux viridans fluuij. Plin.
Toro viridante cōſederat. Virg. He ſatte downe on a greene banke.

Víreo, vires, vírui, virêre, penult. prod. Virg. To be greene: to bè luſtie and flouriſhynge.
Nemus omne viret. Virg. Is greene.
Genua virent. Horat. His knees are ſtronge.
Pectora felle virent. Ouid.

Virens, Participium. Beynge greene or flouriſhynge. vt Aeui flore virens. Sil. Beyng luſtie in the flower of his youth.
Maligne virens, Vide M A L v s.
Agelli virentis cultor. Horat. Of the greene fielde.
Perpetuò virens buxus. Ouid.
Campi virentes. Horat. Edera virens. Horat.
Herbæ virentes. Ouid.
Stagna virentia muſco. Virgil.
Syluæ virentes. Catull.

Virido, aui, are. To make greene.

Vireſco, vireſcis, viréſcere. Plin. To waxe greene: to beginne to flouriſhe.
Prima quum parte vireſceret æui. Claud. when he beganne to come to the floure of his age.
Gramina vireſcunt. Virg.

Viríditas,pen.corr.viriditâtis,f.g.Cic. Greeneſſe.
Amittere viriditatem.Cic. To leeſe the greeneneſſe.
¶ Viriditas.Cic. Luſtineſſe:ſtrength:manlineſſe.
Viridarium,viridarij,neut.g.Sueton. A greene place incloſed, wherein beaſtes and foules are kepte. Alſo a garden of pleaſure.
Viridárius,Adiectiuum. Belongynge to a gardeine or greene place.vnde Viridarij ſerui Vlpiano. Seruantes keepyng an orcharde or gardeine.
Virêtum,ſiue Virectum,n.g.Virg. A greene place.
Viridicâtus,pen.prod.Adiectiuum.Cic. Made greene.
Virilis,Viripotens,Viritim,&c.Vide VIR.
Viroſa mulier,Vide VIR.
Viroſus,Vide VIRVS.
Virtus,virtûtis,f.g.pen.prod.Cic. Vertue:ſtrēgth: puyſance: valiantneſſe:mālineſſe:māhoode:proweſſe:power. Healpe. Merite or deſerte.
Bellandi virtus in perfecto Imperatore quærenda eſt. Cicer. Manlineſſe in warrefare &c.
Actuoſa virtus,Vide Actuoſa vita in AGO.
Animoſa.Silius. Stoute manhoode.
Ardua.Stat. Atrox.Sil.
Arguta.Plaut. Bellica.Cic.
Aſpera.Sil. Crudelis.Stat.
Damnoſa alicui virtus.Ouid. Waliauntneſſe prouyng hurteſull to one. Effera virtus.Valer.Flac.
Expertæ virtutis homo.Tacit. A man of tryed vertue.
Ferox virtus.Virg.
Feruida.Catul. Ignea.Lucan.
Horrida.Stat. Indomita.Seneca.
Maior poſt otia virtus.Stat.
Spectata virtus belli domique.Horat. Vertue and manhoode tryed both in peace and warre.
Temeraria virtus nocet.Ouid. Velox virtus.Sil.
Viuida bello virtus.Virg.
¶ Affirmare armis virtutem.Tacit.
Conniti virtute,Vide CONNITOR.
Defendere terram patriam armis ac virtute. Lucretius. with power of warre and manhoode.
Egreſſa modum virtus.Stat. Manhoode paſſyng meaſure.
Fracta virtus.Horat. Courage abated.
Frænata iuuenum virtus quieuit.Stat.
Mira manuum pedumq; virtute fretus.Lucret. Truſtyng to his meruelous ſwifteneſſe of foote,& ſtrength of hande.
Bona virtus exilio punita.Sil.
Præſtans virtute.Virg.
Seneſcit virtus euicta veneno deſidiæ.Sil. Courage and manhoode poyſoned with idlenes,decayeth.
Locum virtute ſecundum tenere.Virg.
¶ Virtute tua.Plaut. By thy ayde and healpe.
¶ Arboris vel equi virtus.Cic. The ſtrength &c.
Virtute formæ id euenit,te vt deceat quicquid habeas.Plaut. By the grace of thy fauour and beautie it commeth to paſſe &c.
Mercis virtus.Plaut. The value of the ware.
Verbi vel dictionis virtus.Cic. The ſtrēgth & ſignificatiō &c.
Vis & virtus dicendi.Cic. The ſtrength and grace of &c.
Orationum virtutes.Quintil. The graces of a ſtyle.
Diſputatrix virtus.Quintil.
¶ Virtus.Cic. Perfection.In ſenſibus eſt ſua cuiuſque virtus. Cicero.
¶ Virtus.Cic. Authoritie.
¶ Virtus.Cic. Vertue.
Omnia ſumma conſequutus es virtute duce, comite fortuna.Cic.
Virtus eſt per ſe ipſa laudabilis, & ſine qua nihil laudari poteſt.Cic. Virtus animi.Cic.
Vir ſingulari virtute præditus.Cic.
Singularis & præſtantiſsima virtus P.Lentuli.Cic.
L.Piſo qui tanta virtute atque integritate fuit: vt,&c. Cic. which was of ſo great vertue and integritie,that &c.
Pro tuis maximis,clariſſimiſque virtutibus.Cic.
Ornatus virtutibus.Cic.
Virtutibus dignum Conſulatu iudicare alterum,Cic.
Macte virtute,Vide MACTO.

Inuia virtuti nulla eſt via.Oui. Vertue will paſſe euery way.
Aditus virtutis.Stat.
Præmium virtutis eſt gloria.Cic.
Seculum virtutum ſterile.Tacit.
¶ Acris animi virtus.Lucret.
Aeterna virtus,Vide AETERNVS.
Ardua virtus.Virg. Earneſt vertue.
Ardēs virtus.Horat. Ciuiles virtutes.Quintil.
Clara & inſignis virtus alicuius poſteris,Vide INSIGNIS.
Egregia virtus.Cic.
Glorioſa & memorabilis virtus.Cic.
Non eſt immunis virtus,Vide IMMVNIS.
Inexplebilis virtutis veræq; laudis homo.Liu. A mā that can not be ſatiſfied with vertue and noble prayſe.
Ingens virtus.Horat. Iugatæ virtutes.Cic.
Semper ſola libera eſt virtus.Cic.
Manca virtus.Cic.
Durior eſt conditio ſpectatæ virtutis,quàm incogitatæ.Brutus Ciceroni.
Veræ virtutis cuſtos.Horat.
¶ Accedere virtuti,Vide ACCEDO.
Adhibere virtutem,Vide ADHIBEO.
Adoleuit virtus,Vide ADOLEO.
Amittere virtutem.Cic. Amplexari virtutem.Cic.
Amplificare virtutem laudibus.Cic.
Capere virtutem.Plaut.
Certare virtute Virgiliana.Plin.
Confidere virtuti.Cic. To haue a confidence in his vertue.
Conteſtata virtus,Vide CONTESTOR.
Viam virtutis deſerere. Horat. To forſake the trade of vertue.
Eminere virtutibus.Quintil.
Extendere virtutē factis.Virgil. To increaſe his glorie by noble actes.
Exuere virtutem.Tacit. To caſte of vertue.
Præ ſe virtutem ferre.Quintil.
Fingere virtutes.Tacit.
Habere & perdere virtutem.Cic.
Iacent virtutes,Vide IACEO.
Imminuta virtus.Cic. Inchoare virtutem.Cic.
Inuoluere ſe ſua virtute.Horat. To arme himſelfe with his owne vertue and holde himſelfe contente therewith, not lookynge for fortunes ayde.
Nulla vi labefactari poteſt virtus.Cic.
Laborare virtute ac ſtudijs.Quintil. To indeuour &c.
Locare virtutem,Vide Loco,locas,in LOCVS.
Studium virtutis monſtrare alicui.Stat.
Multare virtutem morte.Quintil. To put one to death for a vertuous acte.
Obſoleſcit virtus,Vide Obſoleſco in OBSOLEO.
Ornatus ex ſuis virtutibus.Terent. Dreſſed in his colours.
Præſtare virtute.Cic.
Repræſentare virtutem alicuius.Horat.
Retinere virtutem.Tacit. To keepe his vertue.
Parem eſſe alicui virtute.Ouid.
Superare virtute dolores.Ouid.
Virtus virtute ſuperatur.Cic.
¶ Virtutes pro vitijs,per ironiā aliquando ponuntur. Terēt.
¶ Virtus.Quintil. A propertie.
Virus,priore prod.Indeclinabile,n.g.Plin. A vehement rāke, and rammiſhe ſauour, as vnder ones armepittes: poyſon: venime. Viro,Ablatiuus.Lucret.
Ingluuie natum virus extinguere vnguento.Plin. with ſome ſweete perfume to take awaye the ill ſauour of a ſtinkyng breath ingendred of gluttonie.
Virus paludis.Columel. The ſtinkyng ſauour of &c.
Amatorium virus.Plin. A drynke or medicine geuen to make one in lone.
Dirum virus.Lucan. Furiale virus.Claud.
Edax virus.Ouid. Graue virus.Horat.
Ingenitum corpori virus,Vide INGIGNO.
Ingratum virus.Plin. Lethale virus.Sil.
Lunare virus.Lucan. A womans termes commynge euery moneth.
Malum virus.Virg. Venime: poyſon.

Mortiferum virus. Cic. Deadly poyſon.
Nigrum. Virg. Nocens virus. Ouid.
Noxiũ virus eructare. Colu. To belche out hurtfull poyſon.
Peſtiferum. Ouid. Peſtilens. Colum.
Rutilum. Lucan.
Tetrum. Lucret. Vipereum. Martial.
Adijcere virus. Ouid.
Aſpergere virus alicui. Virg. To poyſon one.
¶ Virus, per metaphoram. Plin. Euell ſens or taſte: bitterneſſe: a ſtinkynge ſmacke.
Virus aquæ marinæ. The bitter taſte of &c.
Stannum illitum æreis vaſis, ſaporem gratiorem facit, & cõpeſcit æruginis virus. Plin. The ſtinkynge ſmacke &c.
Anquirat aliquẽ, apud quẽ euomat virus acerbitatis ſuæ. Cic. To whom he may beter the diſpleſãtneſſe of his grief.
¶ Virus. Plin. Colour. vt, Tum ſuperadditum decoquitur virus. Plin. Then the colour and iuyce of the purple &c.
¶ Virus. Plin. The humour of generatiõ in beaſts: the ſeede.
Lentum diſtillat ab inguine virus. Virg.
Virulentus, Adiectiuum. Gell. Venemous: full of poyſon: ſtinkynge: of an euill taſte.
Virôſus, pen. prod. Aliud adiectiuũ. Virg. Of ill fauour or taſte: full of poyſon.
Vis, huius, vis, productè, hanc vim: Pluraliter nominatiuo vis, accuſatiuo vis, vocatiuo vis, apud veteres: nunc ab antiquo ſingulari dicimus hæ vires, viriũ, viribus, &c. Virg. Strẽgth: might: power: puiſance: poſſibilitie: vertue: efficacie: effecte. Violence: compulſion. Abundance: multitude.
Noſtra omnis vis in animo & corpore ſita eſt. Saluſt.
Vis & copia. Cic.
Vis & effectus radicum. Cic. The vertue or ſtrength and efficacie of rootes.
Vis & facultas oratoris. Cic. The whoſle profeſſion and arte of an orator, that he vndertaketh to meddle with.
Vis & natura rei. Cic. The ſtrength and nature.
Vi ac neceſſitate coacti, inuiti. Cic.
Qui vim tantam in me, & poteſtatem habeam tantæ aſtutiæ. Terent. Whiche haue in me ſo great ſtrength of witte, & am ſo well hable to wooꝛke this craftie deuiſe.
¶ Vis amicitiæ eſt in animorũ conſenſione. Cic. The wholle efficacie of friendſhippe is in the conſent of mindes.
Ni vis boni in ipſa ineſſet forma. Terent. If there weare not a good naturall grace in the beautie it ſelfe.
Cantharidis vis. Cic. Magna vis eſt conſcientiæ. Cic.
Eloquentiæ vires. Quintil.
Frigoris vis. Cic. The koꝛce and vehemencie of colde.
Ingenij vis. Cic. The ſtrength and liuelineſſe of witte.
Magiſtratus vis. Cic. The power of the magiſtrate.
Morborum vis. Tacit. Morbi vis excita. Lucret.
Impetus & vis orationis. Cic.
Quod oſtentum habuit hanc vim, vt Dionyſius paucis pòſt diebus regnare cœperit. Cic. Which miraculous ſignification was of ſuch koꝛce and effecte, that &c.
Poteſtatis vis. Cic. Veneni vis. Cic.
Verborum vis. Cic. The ſtrength & ſignificatiõ of wooꝛdes.
Vis magna in fortuna ad res ſecundas vel aduerſas. Cic. Foꝛtune may doo much, oꝛ is of great koꝛce &c.
Vis in verbis. Cic. The pithie ſignification in wooꝛdes.
Vis in manibus. Cic. Dicendi vis. Quintil.
Loquendi vis & norma. Horat.
Percipiendi vis. Quintil.
Infirmitas virium, Vide INFIRMVS.
Ad portionem virium. Plin. Accoꝛdyng to the ſtrength that he hath.
Audax viribus, Vide AVDAX.
Editior viribus. Horat. Stronger.
Inferior viribus. Ouid. Not ſo ſtronge.
Inuicti viribus. Virg. Prædurus viribus. Virg.
Omnibus opibus viribuſq; elaborandum eſt. Cic.
Omnibus viribus atque opibus repugnandum eſt. Cic.
¶ Agreſtes & horridæ vires. Cic.
Ardens vis fulminis. Lucret.
Auxiliaris vis, vide Auxiliaris in AVXILIOR.
Blanda vis dei noctiuagi. Stat. Pleaſaunt ſteape.
Cæleſtis vis. Cic. Diuine koꝛce.

Concalefactoria vis, Vide Concalefactorius in CONCALEFACIO.
Coruſca vis. Cic.
Dura. Virg. Horrida vis lethi. Lucret.
Exeſa vis luminis. Tacit. Humana vis. Virg.
Exiguæ vires ingenij. Ouid. Ignea vis cæli. Ouid.
Eximia vis. Cic. Imperioſiſſima vis. Quintil.
Firmæ vires. Ouid. Incita vis ventis. Lucret.
Furiatæ vires. Sil. Ingens vis rerum. Quintil.
Inimica vis Parcarum propinquat. Virg.
Inualidæ vires. Ouid.
Magna vis nocendi. Ouid. Morbida, Vide MORBVS.
Maiores vires. Plin. Mordax. Plin.
Maximis viribus vir. Cic. Mortifera. Lucret.
Malefica vis. Plin. Occulta. Quintil.
Occultis viribus egregius fons. Iuuenal. A fountayne excellent koꝛ come priuie and vnknowen operation.
Præduræ vires. Claud.
Solida ac virilis ingenij vis. Quintil.
Summa vi. Plaut. With all might and power: to the vttermoſte that one can.
Summa vi hanc defendam. Terent. I will defende this woman with all that euer I can.
Tacita vis. Quintil. Veſanæ vires. Ouid.
Temperata. Horat. Violentæ. Lucret.
Vaſtæ vires. Virg. Violenta vis leonum. Lucret.
Vera vis. Quintil. Viuida vis animi. Lucret.
¶ Abolere vires. Tacit.
Abrogare vires beneficijs, Vide ABROGO.
Abſcedunt vires. Stat.
Abſtinere vim ab aliquo. Horat. To koꝛbeare to vſe any violence towarde one: not to lay violent handes on one.
Abſtulerat vires corporis ipſe timor. Ouid.
Ira abſumit vires morã. Ouid. Anger by delaye leeſeth his koꝛce, oꝛ deminiſheth.
Abuti viribus corporis. Cic.
Accipere vim, & vires. To take ſtrength. Vide ACCIPIO.
Acquirere vires. Virgil.
Nouas vires acquirere. Lucan.
Adijcere vires, Vide ADIICIO.
Adimit dolor vires, Vide ADIMO.
Admouere vim, Vide ADMOVEO.
Summis adnixus viribus. Virg. Indeuouryng with al his koꝛce, oꝛ all that euer he coulde.
Robuſtis viribus adoleuit ætas. Lucret.
Natura atque ingenium ad dicendum vim afferunt maximam. Cic. Nature and witte be of great efficacie, oꝛ healpe very much to eloquence.
Agere pro viribus. Cicer. To doe koꝛ his power, oꝛ ſo much as he can.
Alere vires. Cæſ. Ventus amittit vires. Lucan.
Aſſumpſit vires flamma. Ouid. Augentur vires. Ouid.
Augere vires eloquentiæ. Quintil.
Capere vires, Vide CAPIO.
Carpere vires, Vide CARPO.
Aegra animo vis, ac fiducia ceſſit. Stat.
Colligere vires, Vide COLLIGO. To gather ſtrength: to waxe ſtronge: to increaſe.
Colligit vires ſibi amor vſu. Ouid. Increaſeth.
Concipere vires, Vide CONCIPIO.
Flumina concipiunt vires. Ouid.
Occultas vires concipiunt terræ. Virgil. Conceyue priuie operations.
Conferre vires in vnum, Vide CONFERO.
Confiſus viribus. Iuuenal.
Fortuna vires ipſa conſumpſit ſuas. Seneca.
Contendere viribus inter ſe. Lucret.
Validis viribus contorſit haſtam. Virg. He ſlange the Jauelin mightily, oꝛ with great ſtrength.
Conuulſus vi dominationis. Tacit. With the koꝛce of &c.
Decedunt vires, Vide DECEDO.
Deficiunt vires. Cic. His ſtrength fayleth him.
Quum me vires deficere cœpiſſent. Cic. When my ſtrength beganne to fayle me.
Defici viribus. Quintil. To become weake and fainte.
Inſanis viribus Auſtri deiecta trabs. Ouid. With the outragious blusteryng e.

Demittere ad vnum auditorem vim dicendi. Quintil.
Desiderare vires adolescentis. Cic.
Distracta vis animæ per artus. Lucret. The strength and efficacie of the soule deuided through all the bodie.
Dare vim, vel vires. Cic.
Dare vires alicui in rem aliquam. Ouid. To geue one strength to doo a thinge.
Domare vires alicuius. Seneca.
Effundere vires suas in aliquo. Ouid. To vtter and bestowe all his strength vpon.
Effundere vires in ventum. Virg. To geue a greate stroke, and misse of that he striketh at.
Eneruare vires alicuius. Horat. Eniti viribus. Virg.
Excellere aliquem viribus. Cic. To be stronger.
Exercere vires. Cic. Experiri vires alicuius. Ouid.
Explorare vires alicuius. Stat. Firmare vires. Virg.
Fracte vires Danaûm. Virg. The power of the Grecias abated.
Frangere vim alicuius. Quintil.
Effœtæ frigent in corpore vires. Virg.
Fundare vires alicuius. Seneca.
Gerere res viribus. Cic.
Habere vires alicuius. Cicer. To be as stronge as one: to haue his strength.
Habere vim dicendi. Cic. To haue good eloquence.
Si habeant hanc vim, vt si digitis cõcrepuerint, &c. Cic. If they haue this power.
Maiorem vim ad deterrendum habuit, quàm ad cohortãdum. Cic. It was of more efficacie.
Has literas velim existimes fœderis habituras esse vim. Cic.
Impendere vim suam in rem aliquam. Quintil.
Incutere vim, Vide INCVTIO.
Infringere magnas vires alicuius. Propert.
Infringere vim militum. Cæs.
Instigat & alit vires quies tempestiua. Stat.
Intendere vim. Tacit. To increase or augment strength.
Intendere vim rebus. Quintil. To increase the strength of thinges.
Laborare vitio virium. Quintil.
Langueſcit vis. Quintil.
Metiatur ac diligẽter æstimet vires suas actor. Quint. Let the pleader measure & diligẽtly põder, what he is hable to doe.
Ministrare vires alicui. Virg To geue strength.
Minuuntur vires amoris. Ouid.
Propria vi niti. Virgil.
Obtusis ceciderunt viribus artus. Lucret.
Occupare orbem viribus. Virgil.
Superbas vires ostentare. Stat.
Vindicibus pacatus viribus orbis. Ouid.
Parare vim, Vide PARO.
Indomitas vires posuere incendia. Virgil. The rage of the fier assuaged.
Progredi viribus suis sine adminiculo. Quintil. To proceede of his owne strength without any healpe.
Prosterni suis viribus. Quintil.
Viribus ac lacertis pugnare. Cic. To be borne downe with his owne violence.
Validis viribus æui quassatum est corpus. Lucret.
Recipere suas vires. Cels. To recouer his strength.
Recreat vires cibus. Lucret.
Recuperatis cibo somnóque viribus. Tacit. After thei had with meate and sleape refreashed themselfe.
Reparat vires alterna requies. Seneca.
Resoluere vires. Lucret.
Restituere vires per vinum. Cels. To restore strength agayne with wine.
Retinere omni vi. Cælius Ciceroni. To holde or stay with all his force.
Reuocare vires victu. Virg. To refreshe and strengthen agayne himselfe with meate and drynke.
Seruare vim suam. Quintil.
Solidæ vires suo stant robore. Virg.
Subducere vires alicui. Ouid. To weaken one, or take awaye his strength.
Suggerere vim occultam. Quintil. To geue a priuie strength or efficacie.
Bonis viribus esse, Vide BONVS.
Sumunt vires incẽdia. Horat. The fier increaseth, or waxeth more behement.
Superare viribus aprum. Horat. To be stronger &c.
Suscitare vim ira. Virg. To make more stronge by anger.
Sustinere omnibus viribus. Cic.
Temperare vires suas. Quintil.
Torpent infractæ ad prælia vires. Virg.
Torquere lacertis & viribus. Cic.
Tueri vires. Cels. To preserue and maintayne strength.
Valere viribus. Virg. Vigent vires. Lucret.
Vti viribus per cliuos. Horat.
Armorum viribus vsus. Ouid.
Vti orandi viribus. Quintil.
¶ Odora canum vis, Vide ODOR.
¶ Vis. Virg. Violence: force: compulsion.
Expers consilij vis. Horat. Armatorum vis. Cic.
Vis & violentia. Cic. Ingens vis pelagi. Lucan.
Vis maior. Plin. A greater tempest: more tempestuous and blusteryng weather.
Si cæli maior vis incessit. Colum. If there followed more tẽpestuous weather.
Vis diuina, Idem. Vlpianus. A great tempeste.
Abducere vi aliquem. Cic. Adacta vis mortis. Lucret.
Adhibere vim. Cic. To vse violence or cõpulsion: to enforce.
Adhibere vim pactionis. Cic.
Afferre vim mulieri. Cic. To rauishe a woman.
Agere vi, Vide AGO.
Auellere vi. Cic. To pull away by stronge hande.
Auferre per vim, Vide AVFERO.
Cogere vi & minis. Cic. Decutere vi. Plin.
Defendere vim, Vide DEFENDO.
Defendere vim vi. Cic. By violence to put away violence: by force to defende himselfe against force.
Denuntiare vim alicui. Cic. To manace to beate one.
Deponũt vim suam æquora. Ouid. The seas waxe cauime.
Per vim datus. Cic.
Facere vim alicui. Cic. To vse violence towarde one.
Vi facere imperium, & Amicitia adiungere, cõtraria. Terent.
Ferre vim alicui. Virg. To vse violence towarde one: to lay violent handes on.
Fracta vis & debilitata. Cic.
Imponere alicui vim, Vide IMPONO.
Inferre alicui vim. Quintil. To vse violence towarde: to kyll: to beate.
Inferre vim & manus alicui, Vide INFERO.
Paratus ad vim. Ouid.
Perferre aliquid vi eadem. Quintil.
Vi superum. By the inforcement, compulsion, or power of the gods.
Fit via vi. They make a way by stronge hande.
Auro vi potitur. Virg. Acrior vis rapit me, Horat.
Vim vi repellere. Cic. To resiste force by force.
Per vim stuprare. Cic.
Vim suscipere contra Rempub. Cic. To attempte violence and force against the common weale.
Victus vi. Virgil.
¶ Vis. Cic. Multitude: abundance.
Vis frumenti. Cæs. A great abundance or substãce of corne.
Vis seminum magna. Cic.
Vis militum. Cic. A multitude of souldiours.
Magna vis auri & argenti. Cic. A great substance, or a great summe of &c.
Equorum vis. Cic. Lachrymarum infinita vis. Cic.
Maxima vis ranunculorum. Cic. A great companie or multitude of frogges.
Continet mens vim maximam optimarum rerum. Cic.
Vis negotij. Plaut. Great busines.
Visceratio, Visceror, &c. Vide VISCVS, visceris.
Viscus, visci, m. g. & Viscum, visci. Plin. Birdelime.
Visco tactus sum vehementer. Plaut. I am greatly entãgled or glewed.
In visco inhærescere. Cic. To hãge or be fast in the birdlime.
Sequaci visco correpta auis. Valer. Flac.

Oblinere ſe viſco. Varro. To ſmere it ſelfe with birdelime.
Viſcum. Virg. Miſteldenne.
Viſcatus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Varro. Dyſſed with birdlime: limed: taken with birdelime.
Alæ viſcatæ. Ouid. Byrdes wynges limed.
Virga viſcata fallere volucres. Ouid. with lime twygges.
Viſcata munera, & Hamata, pro eodem. Plin. iunior. Limed giftes and preſentes geuen to bane greater profit.
Viſcus, viſceris, pen. cor. neut. gen. Virg. All the fleaſh that is betweene the ſhinne and the bone. Alſo the chiefe intralles of a man or beaſt, as the hearte, ſplene, longes, liuer, &c.
Tetra viſcera. Lucret.
Diripiunt auidæ viſcera noſtra feræ. Ouid. Our fleaſh.
Inhæret in viſceribus id malum. Cic.
Liquefacta viſcera. Virg. Rotten fleaſh, or bowels.
Mandere viſcus. Sueton.
-de putri viſcere paſsim Florilegæ naſcuntur apes. Ouid.
Nudare viſcera. Virg. To flea the ſhinne from the fleaſh.
Patefacta viſcera per vulnus. Celſ. The bowels.
Salientia viſcera. Ouid. Soluere viſcera cultro. Seneca.
Spumantibus viſceribus ardens. Iuuen. Weyng ſo angry or in ſuche a chaufe, that he fometh with all.
Torrere viſcera. Virgil. To roaſte fleaſh.
Traiecit viſcera ferro. Ouid.
Periculum incluſum in venis, atque in viſceribus alicuius. Cicero.
¶ Viſcera montis. Virg.
Terræ viſcera. Ouidius. The bowels or inner partes of the earth.
Viſcerátio, viſceratiônis, fœm. gen. Liu. A doale or diſtribution of raw fleaſh at the death of a rich mã. Alſo the garbage, that hunters geue their dogges.
Viſceror, aris, ari. To diſtribute raw meate.
Viſibilis, Viſio, Viſito, Viſo, &c. Vide VIDEO.
Viſum, viſi, Viſus, &c. Vide VIDEO.
Vita, vitæ, fœm. gen. Cic. Lyfe.
Abſurdum atque alienum à vita. Terent.
Blandimenta vitæ. Tacit. Color vitæ, Vide COLOR.
Exiguum curriculum vitæ. Cic. Vide CVRRICVLVM.
Debito vitæ liberari. Curt. To die: to ende his lyfe.
Delinimenta vitæ. Tacit. Vide DELINIMENTA.
Exemplar vitæ, morúmque. Horat.
Expes vitæ. Tacit. That hath no hope of life.
Integer vitæ ſceleríſque purus. Horatius. Of intire life and without vice.
Integritas vitæ anteactæ. Quintil.
Labes vitæ. Ouid. A ſpotte or blemiſh of ones lyfe.
Manifeſtus vitæ. Tacit. whom one ſeeth manifeſtly to be a lyue.
Perpetuitas vitæ. Cic. Continuall courſe of life.
Plenus vitæ. Lucret. Securus vitæ. Stat.
Series atra tuæ vitæ. Ouid. The foule courſe of thy lyfe.
Solatia dulcia vitæ. Lucret.
Spatium vitæ. Quintil. Summa breuis vitæ. Horat.
Spes vitæ. Tacit. Tædia vitæ. Ouid.
¶ Acerba vita, Vide ACERBVS.
Actuoſa, Vide AGO.
Amara. Cic. Attenta, Vide ATTENDO.
Arida, Vide ARIDVS. Beata. Horat.
Breuis eſt vita, curſus gloriæ ſempiternus. Cic.
Cæcæ vitæ lubrica. Stat. Cælebs vita, Vide CAELEBS.
Conſtans & probata. Cic.
Crudelis. Virg. Fœdiſsima ac miſerrima. Cic.
Deformis. Stat. Fortunata. Horat.
Defidis otia vitæ. Stat. Honeſta. Cic.
Dubia vita. Columel. Illuſtris. Quintil.
Dulcis, ſtabiliſq;. Lucret.
Infeſta alicui, Vide INFESTVS.
Inculta & horrida. Cic. Iniurioſa. Cic.
Innoxia. Cato. Inuiſa. Ouid.
Iucunda. Horat. Licentior, Vide LICET.
Longa. Cic. Longinqua. Plaut.
Malefica. Tacit. Maritima, Vide MARE.
Mea vita, Blandientis vox. Cic. My owne deere life.
Menſtrua. Cic.
Miſeræ vitæ breuiſsima portio. Iuuenal.
Mœſta vita. Virg.
Mortalis. Virg. Pigræ vitæ obliuio. Stat.
Nitidior. Plin.
Precaria vita. Tacit. Vide precaria.
Rapida. Perſ. Lyfe ſwiftly paſſyng away.
Rudis. Stat. Ruſtica. Quintil.
Sanctiſsimè & honeſtiſsimè acta vita. Cic.
Seuera. Ouid. Similis feris. Ouid.
Solitaria. Quintil.
Solicitæ iucunda obliuia vitæ. Horat.
Turpis vita. Cic.
Turpis & nocens. Cic. Vitalis. Cic.
Vitioſa & flagitioſa. Cic. Vmbratilis & delicata. Cic.
Vmbratilis. Quintil. Vrbana. Quintil.
¶ Abire è vita, Vide ABEO.
Abrumpere vitam. Virg. Accipere vitam. Virg.
Addicere vitam. Vide ADDICO.
Addicta præmijs vita alicuius, Vide ADDICO.
Adducere ad vitam communem. Cic. To bring to the facion of common life.
Adimere vitam. Cic. To take ones life from him: to kill.
Afferre vitam. Terent. To geue life.
Agere vel agitare vitam. To leade his life. Vide AGO.
Agere vitam ſub dio, & trepidis in rebus. Horat.
Agere vitam puriter. Catull.
Amittere vitam. Author ad Heren.
Per ſummum dedecus vitam amittere. Cic. To dye.
Amittere vitam in vndis. Horat.
Aſsignare vitam hominum rebus. Quint.
Limina vitæ attingere. Virg. To come into the wooylde: to be borne.
Auferre vitam, Vide AVFERO.
Relliquias vitæ aufert ex membris. Lucret. It taketh away the reſidew of life that remayneth.
Carere vita. Cic. To be without life.
Cedere vita, & è vita, Vide CEDO.
Collocare ſe in vita meretricia, Vide COLLOCO.
Colere vitam. Plaut. To liue.
Committere vitam ventis, dicuntur nauigantes. Virgil. To hazarde their life to the daunger of the wyndes.
Commorari in tam turpi vita. Cic.
Commutare vitam cum morte, Vide COMMVTO.
Comprobare vita & moribus. Cic. with his facion of life and behauiour to alow.
Concedere vitam, Vide CONCEDO.
Conceſsit vita per auras ad Manes. Virgil. His lyfe vaniſhed away.
Conferta vita voluptatum varietate, Vide CONFERCIO.
Conſtituere vitam. Cic. To chooſe and determine vpon ſome maner of life.
Conterere vitam in quærendo, Vide CONTERO.
Continetur vita corpore & ſpiritu. Cic. Life conſiſteth &c.
Spatium vitæ decurrere. Ouid. To paſſe ouer the raſe of his life.
Lumen vitæ decurſum. Lucret.
Defuncta corpora vitâ. Virg.
Degere vitam expertam thalami. Virgil. To leade a lone life without an huſbande.
Placidam ac pacatam degere vitam. Lucret. To leade a quiete and peaſible life.
Depactus vitæ terminus. Lucretius. A certayne ende of life appoynted.
Deſerere vitam. Cic.
Deſeruit vita miſerum. Ouid. The wretched man died.
Dirigere vitam ad normam. Cic. To frame his life &c.
Diſcedere è vita. Cic. To die: to departe out of life.
Diſpergere vitam in auras. Virg.
Dare vitam. Cic. Aeternam vitam dare. Virg.
Dare vitam alicui. Virg.
Ducere vitam. Virg. To liue: to leade his life.
Ducere vitam longius. Ouid. To liue longer.
Ducere vitam per omnia extrema. Virg.
Dulcem vitam ducere. Lucret.
Ingrata miſero ducenda eſt vita. Horat.

Edere vitam. Lucret. To dye.
Effluit vita cum ſanguine, Vide EFFLVO.
Extulit vitam ictus ſagittis. Seneca. He beynge clayne with arowes, ended his life.
Effundere vitam alicui. Ouid.
Eripere vitam homini. Seneca. To kill.
Excolere vitam per artes. Virg.
Exhalare vitam ſub acerbo vulnere. Ouidius. with a greeuous wounde to yelde vp the ghoſte.
Exigere vitam. Terent. To paſſe ouer his life time.
Expellere aliquem vita. Cicero. To kill one: to ridde him out of lyfe.
Expetere vitam. Cic.
Fructibus vitæ nunquam explemur. Lucret.
Extorquere vitam membris. Lucret.
Facere finem vitæ. Lucret. To ende his lyfe.
Incommoda vitæ ferre. Iuuen.
Feſſus vita. Plin. Finire vitam enſe. Ouid.
Finire vitam. Tacit. Frui vita. Cic.
Fudit vitam cum multo ſanguine. Virg. He bledde ſo muche, that he yelded vp the ghoſt withall.
Senſus gubernant vitam. Lucret. Rule.
Gubernare vitam vera ratione. Lucret.
Guſtare amorem vitæ. Lucret.
Habere vitam ab aliquo. Cic.
Iacebat vita in tenebris ac mœrore. Lucret.
Impéndere vitam famæ. Stat. To beſtow his life to gette reſowme.
Impéndere vitam patriæ. Lucan. To beſtow and geue his lyfe for his countrey.
Implere finem vitæ. Tacit. To finiſh his lyfe.
Incolere vitam, Vide INCOLO.
Limen vitæ inire. Lucretius. To enter into life: to beginne to lyue.
Ingredi in vitam, Vide INGREDIOR.
Inſtituere vitam ſapienter, Vide INSTITVO.
Interficere aliquem vita, Vide INTERFICIO.
Interminari alicui vitam, Vide INTERMINOR.
Introire in vitam, Vide INTROEO.
Iterare vitam à morte, Vide ITER.
Labefactare vitas hominum, Vide LABES.
Lacerare reliquias vitæ alicuius, atque diſtrahere, Vide lacer,
Largiri vitam. Plautus.
Lugere vitam hominum. Cic.
Mandare vitam fugæ, ſolitudiníque, Vide MANDO.
Manere in vita, Vide MANEO.
Manet vita. Virg. Mentiri ſibi vitam. Plin.
Metuo de vita, Vide METVO.
Migrare de vel ex vita, Vide MIGRO.
Via vitæ monſtrata eſt per carmina. Horat.
Moratur vita in membris. Lucret.
Nuncupata vita. Liu.
Obiectare vitam procellis. Claud. To hafarde his life on the ſea.
Paciſci vitam pro laude, Vide PACISCOR.
Paciſci vitam ab hoſte, Vide PACISCOR.
Palantis vitæ viam quærere. Lucret.
Palleſcere ſolitaria & velut vmbratili vita. Quintil. To ware pale with liuyng ſolitarily and idlely alway in the houſe.
Parcere vitæ, Vide PARCO.
Tranquillæ vitæ ſemita per virtutem patet. Iuuenal. Vertue is the high way to attayne a quiet lyfe.
Pati à vita, Vide PATIOR.
Penetrare alicuius vitam ac famam. Tacit.
Perdere vitam, Vide PERDO.
Perducere vitam. Plaut.
Diſcrimine vitæ coniugium petere. Ouidius. with daunger of life &c.
Ponere ſibi finem vitæ. Tacit.
Priuare vita aliquem. Lucret. To bereſte one of his lyfe.
Prodere vitam, Vide PRODO.
Producere vitam, Vide PRODVCO.
Producere ſpem vitæ. Tacit. To liue in hope of lyfe.
Profundere vitam pro re aliqua. Cic. To geue his lyfe for a thynge.

Prolatare vitam. Tacit.
Propagare vitam, Vide PROPAGO, propaginis.
Propoſita vita telis, Vide PROPONO.
Redire ad vitam. Celſ. Relinquere vitam. Tacit.
Reliquit eum vita. Lucret.
Relinquit vita artus. Ouid. Lyfe departeth.
Retinere vitam, Vide RETINEO.
Rumpere vitam. Sil.
Serenare vitam. Lucret. To make lyfe more pleaſant and quiet.
Breuis vitæ ſpatium ſortitus. Ouid.
Spoliare vita aliquem. Virg.
Sic vita eſt hominum. Cic. Suche is the facion, lyfe, or nature of men.
Liberioris vitæ iter ſumere. Ouidius. To enter a more free courſe of lyfe.
Tenere vitam, & Vita tenetur, Vide TENEO.
Tolerare vitam ſimplici victu & agreſtibus pomis, profluentéque aqua. Tacit. To nourith and maynteyne his lyfe: to finde himſelfe with &c.
Tractare vitam. Lucret. To lyue.
Traducere vitam. Brutus Ciceroni. To paſſe ouer his life.
Trahere vitam in luctu. Virg. To leade his life in ſorow.
Trahere vitam in ſyluis. Virg. To lyue in the wooddes.
Trahere vitam in tenebris. Virg.
Tueri vitam, famámque. Horat.
Humanam vitam turbare ab imo. Lucret.
Viuere vitam. Cic. Viuere vita. Plaut.
¶ In vita mea. Cic. All my lyfe time.
Integerrimè vitam agere. Cic. To leade a moſt entire life.
Ab ineunte vita, Vide INEO, initis.
¶ Vitæ, in plurali, pro Moribus. Terent. Facions: maners.
¶ Tenues ſine corpore vitæ. Virg. Soules.

Vitâlis, & hoc vitâle, pen. prod. That liueth: that hath or that geueth life: lively: perteynyng to the maynteinance of life: vitalle.
Vitale, cui opponitur Mortiferum. Liu. That geueth life.
¶ Aeuum vitale. Plaut.
Aura vitalis. Virg. The ayer whereby wee liue.
Auxilium vitale. Lucret. Calor vitalis. Curtius.
Salutaris & vitalis calor. Cic.
Fœtus vitalis, Vide FOETVS. That hath life.
Halitus vitalis. Plin. Vitall breath.
Vitalis homo haud vnquam eſt ante ſeptimũ menſem. Plin. A childe before the ſeuenth moneth, is neuer borne aliue.
Lumina vitalia. Cic. Motus vitalis. Plin.
Partus vitales edere. Plin. To bringe foorth yonge aliue, & not egges as ſome thinges doo.
Ros vitalis. Cic. The nourſes milke.
Sanguis vitalis. Plin. wherein life conſiſteth.
Seculum vitale. Lucret.
Senſum vitalem reddere. Lucret.
Venæ vitales. Lucret.
Viæ vitales. Ouidius. The cundites by whiche liuely breath paſſeth.
Vincula vitalia. Valer. Flac.
Caloris natura vim habet in ſe vitalem. Cic. Hath a certein ſtrength to geue lyfe.
Vitalis vita. Cic. A liuely lyfe: a very life in deede.
¶ Vitalia capitis. Plin. The brayne.
Vitalia. Lucan. The harte, lunges, liuer and brayne: the vitalle partes.
Nuda vitalia. Lucan.
Euerberata lamentationibus aſsiduis vitalia. Quintil.
Ferire ac tueri vitalia. Quint. The vitalle partes.
Artus vacui vitalibus. Lucan.

Vitalitas, pen. cor. vitalitâtis, f. g. pro Vita & vitali motu. Plin. Lyfe: liuelineſſe.
Vitâliter, pen. cor. Aduerbium: vt, Vitaliter animari. Lucretius. To haue liuely or vitalle motion.

Vitellus, huius vitelli, m. g. Horat. The yoke of an egge.
Crocei vitelli. Martial.
Mas vitellus. Horat. The yoke wherof a coche is ingẽdred.

Vitellinus, na, num. Of, or like a yoke.

Vitex,viticis,pen.cor.fœ gen.Plin.Idem quod Agnus caſtus.
Vitiarium,Viticula,&c. Vide VITIS.
Vitiator,&c. Vide VITIO.
Vitilitigator,pen.prod.vitilitigatôris,maſc.g. Plin. An hakter : a wrangler : a cauillour.
Vitilítigo,vitilítigas,pen.cor.vitilitigáre.Plin. To backebite : to detracte:to hakte.
Vitiligo,pen.prod.vitilíginis,fœm.gen.Gell. A foulenesse of the body with ſpottes of diuers colours.
Vitilis,& hoc vitile,pen.cor.Plin. Pliaunt:flexible: meete to binde with:that may be wounden.
Vitio,vitias,Vitioſus,Vitioſitas,&c. Vide VITIVM.
Vitis,huius vitis,fœm.gen.Cic. A vyne.
Propagatio vitium.Cicero. The prouynge or ſpreadyng of vines.
Putatio vitium.Cic. The cuttyng of &c.
Putator vitis.Ouid. A cutter of a vyne.
Vitis alba,quæ & Bryonia alba dicitur.Plin. The weede called wylde vine runnyng vp in hedges, and windynge about ſtakes,hauynge a leafe lyke a vine.
Almæ vites.Virgil.
Arbuſtiua vitis,Vide ARBVSTVM.
Cicatricoſa,Vide CICATRIX.
Fœcunda.Iuuenal.
Inerticula,Vide INERS.
Inſana,Vide INSANVS.
Lanatæ vites,Vide LANA.
Lenta vitis.Virg.
Luxurioſa,Vide LVXVS. Macrior.Colum.
Miſcellæ vites,Vide MISCEO.
Moroſa vitis,Vide MOS. Nequam,Vide NEQVAM.
Vitis nigra.Plin. A weede commonly growynge amonge hearbes and bindyng them together, hauyng a leafe in facion like an Iuie.
Nodoſa.Iuuen. Obliqua.Columell.
Obnoxia vitis procellis.Columel.
Ordinaria,Vide Ordinarius in ORDO.
Pampineæ vites.Ouid. Perexilis vitis.Colum.
Pergulana,Vide Pergulanus in PERGVLA.
Prævalidæ vites.Virg.
Purpureis de vitibus collectæ vuæ.Ouid.
Semiputata vitis.Virg. Vidua.Catull.
¶ Adaperire vites,Vide ADAPERIO.
Adiugare vitem,Vide ADIVGO.
Vlmis adiungere vites.Virg.
Aemulatur vitem vlmus.Plin.
Grauidæ munera vitis amans.Ouid.
Amicta vitibus vlmus.Horat.
Applicitæ vites arboribus.Quint.
Attondêre vitem curuo dente Saturni.Virg.
Carbunculant vites.Plin.Vide CARBVNCVLO.
Caſtrare vites.Cato. To cut a branche from a vyne.
Colere vitem.Cicero.
Committere vitem ſulco.Virg. To plant vynes in forowes.
Compeſcere vitem,Vide COMPESCO.
Componere vitem in brachia,Vide COMPONO.
Grando contundit vites.Horat.
Curare vites.Virg. To dreſſe &c.
Diſponere vites certo ſydere.Claud. To plante vines at a certayne tyme.
Vitis educat vuam.Catull. Enodare vitem.Cato.
Fluentes vites multo Baccho.Virg.
Immittere vitem ad vuas parieudas,Vide IMMITTO.
Nouellas vites incidere.Virg.
Inſerere vitem.Colum.
Inſtituere vitem,Vide INSTITVO.
Lætis intexere vitibus vlmos.Virg.
Nodare vitem.Cato.
Ponere vites.Virg. To plante vynes.
Vitis ſerpens multiplici lapſu & erratico.Cic.
Sociata palmite vitis.Stat. Vinctæ vites.Virg.
Viticula,vitículæ,fœm.gen.pen.cor.Diminutiuum.Cic. A litle vyne.
Viticulum,viticuli, neut.gen.pen.corr.Plin. The ſhoote of a vyne. A branche of a vine.
Vitiárium,vitiarij,n.g.Columel. A place wherin yonge vynes are ſette.
Facere vitiarium.Columel.
Víteus,Adiectiuum. Of a vyne tree.vt Pocula vitea.Virg. vines cuppes of wine.
Vitigíneus,Adiectiuum. Of a vyne.vt Folia vitiginea.Colum.
Pulmo vulturinus vitigíneis lignis combuſtus.Plin.
Surculi vitiginei.Cato.
Vitígenus,pen.cor.Adiectiuum.Lucret. That commeth of a vyne.
Liquor vitigenus.Lucret. wyne.
Latices vitigeni.Lucret. wyne.
Vítifer,pen.cor.vitífera,vitíferum,penult.corr. That beareth vynes. vt Regio vitifera.Plin.
Arua vitefera.Sil. Montis vitiferi vertex.Sil.
Vitíſator,pen.cor.vitiſatôris,maſc.gen.Virgil. He that ſetteth vines.
Vitium,vitij,neut.gen.Cic. Vice,contrarie to vertue:naughtineſſe.
Caueamus vt nequod in nobis inſigne vitium fuiſſe dicatur. Cicero. Any notable vice.
Qui ea vitia quæ à natura habeat, etiam ſtudio, atque artificio quodam malitiæ condiuiſſet.Cic.
Vitiorum officina.Columel.
¶ Vitium.Vlpian. A ſickeneſſe,diſeaſe,or impediment in al the body or in any parte.
Intercutia vitia.Gellius. Diſeases betweene the ſkinne and the fleaſh.
¶ Vitium.Cic. A ſore or diſeaſe vncurable, as a canker or ſuch lyke.
Opportunus vitio,Vide OPPORTVNVS.
¶ Vitium.Plaut. An imperfection,or corruption : an impedimente : a faute : a blemiſh.
Si nihil eſt in parietibus,aut in tecto vitij.Cic. If the walles or roufe of the houſe be not out of reparations,or be not broken or rautie.
Vitium in libris.Plin. A faute in bookes: an errour.
Deliciarum vitia.Quint.
Oris & linguæ vitia.Quintil. Impedimentes.
Ebrietatis vitia.Quintil.
Deforme vitium emendare.Martial.
¶ Vitia in dicente videre.Cicer. To ſee ſome fautes or imperfections in &c.
Detractis omnibus vitijs.Cic.
¶ Vitium.Cic. Blame.vt,In vitio ponere. To blame.
¶ Vitium.Cic. Faute,or offence.
Vitio vini fecit.Plautus. The wine was in faute that he did it,or dronkenneſſe cauſed him to doo it.
Affinis vitio.Cic. In faute:or that may be iuſtly ſuſpected to be in faute.
Pinguis vitijs.Horat. Fatte with idleneſſe and ſenſualitie.
Purum vitio cor.Horat. Seruum vitijs pectus.Ouid.
Meum vitium fuerit. It ſhall be my faute.
Alimenta vitiorum.Ouid.
¶ Adulta vitia.Tacit.
Commune vitium.Cic. Immane vitium.Horat.
Iners vitium,liuor.Ouid. Enuie is an idle vice, or a vyce of them that are of no liuely courage and actiuitie.
Ingens vitium.Horat.
Magnum.Horat. Mediocria vitia.Horat.
Prævalida & adulta vitia.Tacit.
Recens vitium.Celſ. A diſeaſe lately begunne.
Solenne vitium ſecundis rebus,ſuperbia.Claudian. Pryde in proſperitie is an ordinarie faute.
Valens vitium,cui Lene vitium opponitur.Celſ. A vehemēt corruption or faute in the body.
Vetus vitium.Celſus. An olde diſeaſe or impediment.
¶ Abſterrere animum vitijs.Horat.
Abſtinere à vitijs.Cic. To forbeare &c.
Abeſſe à vitijs,Vide ABSVM.
Abundare vitijs.Quintil. To haue many vices or fautes.
Accendere & irritare vitia.Ouid.
Addere vitium pudicitiæ,Vide ADDO.
Aegrotare vitio animi.Horat. To be minde ſicke.
Affectus vitijs,Vide AFFICIO.

Alitur vitium, viuitq; tegendo. Virg.
Apponere modum vitijs, Vide APPONO.
Auocari à vitijs. Cic.
Capere vitium, Vide CAPIO.
Carere vitio. Cic. Not to be in faute: to be without faute.
Coarguere apertè vitia. Quint.
Colligere vitia in aliquem. Cic. To gather fautes against one.
Concipere vitium, Vide CONCIPIO.
Condire vitia ſtudio, Vide CONDIO.
Conferre vitia in ſenectutem, Vide CONFERO.
Conſequi vitium, Vide CONSEQVOR.
Contaminare vitijs. Cic.
Conuertit natura vitium alicui in bonum. Cic. Nature turned a faute in one to his commoditie and commendation.
Corripi vitio comitiali. Plin. To be attached with the falling ſickeneſſe.
Corrupta bona vitijs. Quint.
Cumulari vitijs. Cic. To abounde in vices or fautes: to haue whole heapes of vices.
Declinare vitia. Cic. To eſchew vices.
Delabi in vitium, Vide DELABOR.
Deprehendere in aliquo vitia. Quint.
Dare ſummam laudem vitio. Cic.
Vitio mihi dant, quòd mortem hominis neceſſarij grauiter fero. Martius ad Ciceronem. They blame or rebuke me, that I am greeued with the death of my nigh friende.
Ducere vitia. Quintilian. To eſteeme or iudge to be vices or fautes.
Effingere vitia ebrietatis. Quint.
Eluere vitia Quintil. To purge or waſh away.
Excidit libertas in vitium. Horat.
Excuſare vitia. Quintil.
Exprobrare vitia alicui. Ouid. Exuere vitia. Tacit.
Expugnare vitium. Valer. Max. To ouercome a faute, imperfection, or impediment of nature.
Vitium facere dicuntur ædificia, Vide FACIO.
Flecti in vitium. Horat.
Virtus eſt vitium fugere. Horat. To eſchue vice is vertue.
Imbuere aliquem vitijs. Quint. To infecte with vyces.
Incidere in vitium. Cic.
Inclinare in vitium, Vide INCLINO.
Inquirere vitia in ciuitatem. Cic. To make inquiſition of fautes agaynſt a citie.
Irritare vitia vetando. Ouid. Woꝛe to egge and ſtyrre men to fautes by forbiddyng them.
Labi in vitium. Horat. Laborare vitio. Quint.
Leuatur vitium. Celſ. The diſeaſe is somwhat aſſwaged.
Leuare vitijs atque erroribus, Vide LEVIS.
Mederi vitijs atque erroribus. Plin. iunior. To cure.
Aeris vitio moriens herba. Virgil. Graſſe dieyng through coꝛruption and infection of the ayer.
Sua vitia noſſe. Cic. To know his owne fautes.
Notare vitium aliquod, Vide NOTA.
Obuoluere vitium, Vide OBVOLVO.
Obuênit hoc vitium, Vide OBVENIO.
Occurrere vitio. Celſ. To preuent a maladie or diſeaſe.
Offenſus vitijs. Ouid. Penſare vitia. Quint.
Perſecare vitium aliquod ne ſerpat. Liu.
Ponere vitium, Vide PONO pro Depono.
Ponere in vitio verbum aliquod. Cic. To take a wooꝛde in an ill ſenſe, or ill parte.
Reciſa vitia à ſtirpe. Claud. Rooted out.
Remotus ab omni vitio. Horat.
Submouere vitium ſimplicibus & promptis remedijs. Celſ. To put away a diſeaſe &c.
Eodem vitio eſt effuſio animi in lætitia, quo in dolore contractio. Cic. It is as greate a faute to exceede immoderately in ioy, as it is to be ouermuch wꝛunge with ſoꝛow.
Qui nec defendit, nec obſiſtit ſi poteſt iniuriæ, tam eſt in vitio, quàm ſi parentes deſerat. Cic. Is as much to be blamed, as if &c.
Hoc quidem eſt in vitio, diſſolutionem naturæ tam valde perhorreſcere. Cic. This is in very deede a great faute &c.
Suppreſſa vitijs pectora. Ouid.
Surrepunt vitia. Seneca. Vices creepe on.

Mediocribus vitijs teneri. Horat. To haue meane fautes.
Vacare vitio. Cic. To be without faute.
Vertere vitio. Cic. To diſpꝛayſe: to blame: to repꝛoue: to lay as a faute.
Vertere in bonum vitia. Quintil.
¶ Offerre vitium virgini. Terent. To deflour a mayde.
Pudicitiæ afferre vitium, Idem. Plaut.
Vitiôſitas, pen. cor. vitioſitâtis, fœ. ge. Cic. Vice: coꝛruption: an vnconſtante affection in all maner of behauiour.
Vitiôſus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Cic. Vitious: full of vices.
Vitioſa ac flagitioſa vita. Cic. Vicious and wicked &c.
¶ Vitioſum. Virg. Fautie: coꝛrupte: full of errours: ſicke.
Carmina vitioſa. Ouid. Falſe verſes.
In hoc vel maximè vitioſa eſt ciuitas, quòd largitione, &c. Cic. The citie in this is in great faute &c.
Corpus vitioſum, cui Integrum opponitur. Cic. A coꝛrupte body: not ſounde.
Cura vitioſa. Horat.
Humanitas vitioſiſsima. Quint.
Libido vitioſa. Horat.
Magiſtratus vitioſi, dicuntur vitio creati. Cic. Officers not rightly or oꝛderly made.
Materia vitioſa. Plin. Tymber ſhaken, rotten, or not ſounde.
Nux vitioſa. Plaut. A wooꝛme eaten nutte.
Opus vitioſum. Cic.
Oues vitioſæ. Columel. Sicke, or rotten ſheepe.
Progenies vitioſior. Horat.
Suffragium vitioſum. Cic. A voyce or conſente pꝛocured by money or bꝛibes.
Vita vitioſa, cui opponitur Pura. Cic. A naughty lyfe.
Vitióſe, pen. prod. Aduerbium. Quintil. Ill: coꝛruptly: naughtily: amyſſe: fautily: bitiouſly.
Vitioſè in ſcholis facimus, quòd, &c. wee do amyſſe in ſchooles &c.
Concludere vitioſè, cui Rectè concludere opponitur. Cicero. To make a falſe concluſion.
Vitioſè ſe habet membrum. Cic. The limme is coꝛrupted, & not ſounde.
Vſurpare vitioſè. Colum. To doo a thyng naughtily oftentimes.
Vítio, vítias, vitiâre. Plin. To coꝛrupte: to bitiate: to deflowre: to deſtroy: to deſoꝛme: to marre.
Virginem vitiare. Plaut. To deflowre a mayde.
Vitiare & corrumpere. Cic.
Auræ vitiantur odoribus. Ouid. The ayer is infected or coꝛrupted with ſtinkyng ſauours.
Contagia mentis ægræ vitiant artus. Ouid. The griefe and ſoꝛow of minde hurteth my body, and maketh me ſicke.
Facies longis vitiabitur annis. Ouidius. Beautie and fauour with age will be coꝛrupted.
Herbæ vitiatæ. Ouid.
Ventris vitiati tumeſcebant pondera. Ouid.
Vitiatur oleum in amurcam. Plin. Oyle coꝛrupteth, and turneth into lies.
Vitiatus, ta, tum. Coꝛrupted: deflowred.
Vitiâtor, vitiatôris, m. g. Verbale. Sen. A coꝛrupter: a rauiſher.
Vitiátio, vitiatiônis, fœ. gen. Aliud verbale. Seneca. Rauiſhynge: coꝛruption: deflouryng.
Vito, vitas, vitâre. Cic. To eſchew: to auoyde: to beware of.
Cauendo vitare. Cic.
Aeſtum vitare ſub frondibus. Ouid. To ſtande vnder trees out of the heate.
Amorem vitare. Lucret. Culpam vitaui. Horat.
Contagia vitare. Ouid. Frigus vitare. Cic.
Inſidias, dolúmque vitare. Lucret.
Malum aliquod vitare. Propert.
Mortem fuga vitare. Cæſ. To flee and ſaue his life.
Iuuenca vitans onus iugi. Catul.
Patriam vitare. Ouid. Suſpiciones vitare. Cæſ.
Pericula vitare. Virg. Vitium vitare. Horat.
Periuria vitare. Ouid. Vituperationem vitare. Cic.
Vitátio, vitatiônis, fœm. gen. Cic. An eſchewyng, voydyng, or ſhunnyng.
Vitationes dolorum. Cic.
Periculi vitatio. Author ad Heren.

Vitabundus, Adiectiuum. Saluſt. That eſcheweth a thyng.
Vitricus, vítrici, m. gen. pen. cor. Cic. Ouid. A father in law, or a ſteppe father.
Vitrum, vitri, neut. gen. Plin. Glaſſe.
Perlucidus magis vitro amnis. Ouid.
Splendidior vitro fons. Horat.
Clarum vitrum. Ouid. Purum vitrum. Martial.
Vítreus, Adiectiuum. Of glaſſe: cleare like graſſe: brickle. Vitreæ ampullæ. Plin. Bottles or flagons of glaſſe.
Vaſa vitrea. Columel.
¶ Frons exit purus & vitreus. Plin. iunior. Cleare as glaſſe.
Vitreus color. Plin. Glaſſe colour: colour like glaſſe.
Vndæ vitreæ. Ouid.
Fama vitrea. Horat. Fame fraile and brickle as glaſſe.
¶ Bilis vitrea. Perſ. Choler that maketh one chew or vtter his whole ſtomache, that one may ſee his affection as it weare through a glaſſe.
Vítrea, vitreôrum, plur. num. neut. gen. Subſtantiuum. Plin. Veſſels of glaſſe.
Vitreámina, vitreáminum, pen. cor. neut. gen. Idem. Paulus iuriſconſul.
Vitriárius, vitriárij, maſcu. g. Seneca. A glaſſer: a glaſſe maker.
Vitrinus, na, num. Of glaſſe.
Vitriolum: diminut. Little glaſſe.
Vitroſus, ſa, ſum. Full of glaſſe.
Vitta, vittæ, fœm. gen. Virg. A fillet or headbonde: a ribbãd: a garlande.
Lanea vitta. Ouid. Tenues vittæ. Ouid.
Spicea corona quæ vitta alba colligaretur. Plin.
Præſignis vittis victima. Ouid. A beaſt to be ſacrificed adourned or trimmed with garlandes on his head.
Cæruleis vittis ſtant mœſtæ aræ. Virg. The mourning aulters ſtande couered with blew clothes, as at a funerall wee vſe with blacke.
Leues vittæ. Ouid. Smooth head bondes, or ſwathes.
¶ Molli cinge hæc altaria vitta. Virg.
Niuea circundatur inſula vitta. Virg.
Alba vitta coercet capillos. Ouid. Hir heare is tyed vp with a white fillet.
Euinctus vittis coronisq;. Tacit.
Exuta comam vittis. Stat. Hauing hir heare lewſe, or vndoone.
Purpurea vittâ ligat mœſta capita. Seneca.
Redimitus tempora vittis. Virg.
Crinales ſoluere vittas. Ouid. To vndoo or lewſe hir heare that was tied vp.
Torta vitta ſtringit comas. Lucan.
Ferales ſumere vittas. Ouid. To take ſuch bondes or laces, as they vſe in ſacrifiſing about beaſtes heades that ſhal be killed.
Pia vitta tegere tempora. Virg. To put on his head ſuche a bande as they vſed in deuoute ſacrifice.
Albenti velatus tempora vitta. Ouid. Hauyng his temples couered with a white bande or fillet.
Velatus auro vittiſq; iuuencus. Virgil. A ſtiere hauynge his hornes gilted, and garlandes faſtened with ribbandes on his head.
Vittâtus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Plin. Bounde with a fillet or bande.
Capilli vittati. Ouid. Heare tied vp in a lace or fillet.
Honos vittatus. Stat. A garlande of Laurell dreſſed with ribbandes.
Comam vittata fœmina. Stat.
Sacerdos vittata. Lucan.
Vitula, vitulæ, fœm. gen. pen. cor. Virg. An heighfer or yonge cow.
Cæſa vitula. Virg.
Vítulus, vítuli, pen. cor. maſcu. gen. Cic. A calfe, as well of a cow as certayne other beaſtes.
Ferox vitulus. Iuuenal. Mactatus vitulus. Lucret.
Imbelles vituli. Stat. Tener. Horat.
Lactentes. Ouid. Tueri vitulos. Virg.
¶ Vitulus etiam elephantorum & piſcium dicitur. Plin.
¶ Vitulus. Plin. A fiſh called a ſeale.
Vitulînus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Of a calfe. vt Vitulina caro. Cic. Weale.
Aſſum vitulinum. Cic. Roſte weale.
Vítulor, pen. cor. vitulâris, vitulári, veteres vſurpãt pro Voce lætari. Plaut. To reioyſe.
Vitulatiô. A reioyſyng lyke a wanton.
Vitupero, vitúperas, pen. cor. vituperâre. Cic. To blame: to rebuke: to diſcommende: to diſpraiſe.
Dolabella valde vituperatur ab hominibus non inſulſis, quòd tibi tam citò ſuccederet. Cic.
Improbum notari & vituperari. Cic.
Voluptas à Platone grauiter vituperatur. Cic. Is diſpraiſed.
Artem, ſcientiam, & ſtudium vituperare. Author ad Heren.
Conſilium alicuius vituperare. Cic.
Vituperátio, vituperatiônis, fœm. gen. Verbale. Quintil. A blamyng and diſpraiſyng: a rebukyng.
Laudatio & vituperatio, contraria. Cic.
Hæc iſtius vituperatio atque infamia confirmabatur eorum ſermone, qui, &c. Cic. This his rebuke and infamie &c.
Se autem lætari, quòd effugiſſem duas maximas vituperationes, vnam, &c. Cic.
Et laudes & vituperationes ſcribebantur. Quintil.
Vitare vituparationem. Cic.
¶ Venire in vituperationẽ. Cic. To be blamed or rebuked.
Mihi ita perſuadeo, eam rem laudi tibi potius, quàm vituperationi fore. Cic. That you ſhall be rather commended then blamed for that thyng.
Cadere in vituperationem, Vide C A D O.
Vituperâtor, pen. prod. vituperatôris, m. g. Aliud verbale. Cic. A rebuker, or blamer: a reprehender: a diſpraiſer or diſcõmender: a reprouer.
Philoſophiæ vituperatoribus reſpondimus. Cic.
Vt haberes quid diceres, ſiquando in vituperatores meos incidiſſes. Cic. If you happened in cõpany with thoſe that reprehende mee.
Vituperábilis, & hoc vituperábile, pen. cor. Cic. Woorthi blamed: that may be blamed.
Vituperium, rij, n. g. Rebuke: diſcommendation.
Vituperônes. Rebukers.
Viuarium, viuárij, n. gen. Plin. A place where wylde beaſtes, birdes, or fiſhes be kepte. A parke: a conniger: a walke for birdes: a ponde.
Viuarium etiam de piſcibus dicitur. Plin. Iuuenal. A ponde or poole.
Viuax, Viuacitas, &c. Vide V I V O.
Viuerra, viuerræ, fœm. gen. Plin. A ferret.
Viuidus, Vide V I V O.
Viuiradix, pen. prod. viuiradîcis, pen. prod. fœm. gen. Plin. A yonge byne ſet with the roote. Any plant wherof the roote is quicke: a quicke ſette.
Viuiſco, viuiſcis, viuíſcere, Vide V I V O.
Viuo, viuis, vixi, victum, víuere. Quint. To liue: to haue lyfe: to haue a merry life.
Bene valete, & viuite. Plaut. Fare you well, and god ſende you merily to liue.
Viuere caſeo, lacte, rapto, & ſimilibus. Plinius. To liue with cheeſe &c.
Viuere ad naturam, Vide A D præpoſitionem.
Aetatem viuere. Plaut.
Aeuo extento viuere. Horat. To liue longe.
Annis, vel annos centum viuere. Plin.
Viue beatus in rebus iucundis. Horat.
Bene & fortunatè viuere. Plaut.
Conſilio nullo viuere. Propert. To liue without rule or reaſon.
Conuenienter naturæ viuere. Horat. To lyue accordyng to nature.
Cum labore viuere. Plaut.
Cum iſto Næuio familiariter viuit. Cic.
Cum aliquo coniunctiſsimè viuere. Cic.
Multum viuere cum aliquo, Vide M V L T V S.
Maximis in laboribus vſque ad ſummam ſenectutem ſumma cum gloria vixit. Cic.
Cum perditiſsimis latronibus non ſolùm de die, ſed etiam in diem viuere. Cic. To liue in the company of moſt wicked thieues, and that not only in open day before all mẽ, but also frō day to day desperately, not passing for the morow.

V I V

De lucro viuere. Cic. To liue of the gayne.
Delicatè & molliter, Parcè, continenter, seuerè, sobriè viuere, contraria Cic. To leade a wanton and delicate life, &c.
Diu viximus. Virg. Satis diu viuere. Cic.
E natura viuere. Cic. To liue accordyng to nature.
Viuere ex more alterius. Terent. To liue after an other mans facion, or as an other man will haue him.
Viuitur exiguo melius. Claud.
Viuite fœlices. Virg. Viuite fortes. Horat.
Gloria & laude viuere ob virtutem. Cic. To liue in glory and prayse, &c.
Armenta viuunt gramine. Ouid.
Honestè viuit. Terent.
Immoderatè & intemperatè viuere. Cic.
In amore iocisq; viuere. Horat. To leade his life in loue and dalyaunce.
In caupona viuere. Horat.
In diem, vel In horam viuere, Vide IN præpositionem.
In maxima celebritate, & in media Reipublicæ luce viuere. Quintil.
In literis viuere. Cic. To spende his time in learnyng.
In laude viuere. Cic.
In oculis ciuium viuere. Cic. To liue among his countreymē, that they may beholde and see his dooynges.
Inculte atque horridè viuere, Vide INCOLO.
Instituto bonorum viuere. Cicer. To liue as good and honest men doo.
Inter prælia viuere. Ouid.
Iucundissimè viuere, Vide IVCVNDVS.
Vacuo lecto viuere. Propert. To leade a sole lyfe, without the company of a wyfe.
Libenter viuere, Vide LIBET.
Liberaliter, vel liberè viuere, Vide LIBER, liberi.
Magnificè viuere. Cic.
Malè viuere, Vide MALVS.
Viue memor nostri. Ouid.
Molliter viuere. Ouid. To liue at his ease.
Moribus antiquis viuere. Plaut. To liue after the maner of men of olde time.
Negligentius viuere. Plin. iunior. To leade a negligent and careleſſe lyfe.
Obsequenter & obsequentissimè viuere, Vide OBSEQVOR.
Odia improba viuunt. Stat. wicked hatred contineweth.
Parcè ac frugaliter viuere. Horat. To leade a thriftie and sparyng lyfe.
Parcius viuere. Horat. Placidè viuere. Ouid.
Quietè & liberè viuere. Cic.
Radices arboris viuunt. Vlpian.
Rapto viuere. Ouid. To lyue by rauyne and robbery.
Rectè viuere. Horat.
Sanctissimè viuere. Cic. To leade a verie vpright and intire life.
Secum viuere. Cic.
Siliquis viuere & pane secundo. Horat.
Spiritu & laude virtutis viuere. Cicer. To liue by the prayse & commendation of his vertue.
Studijs viuere. Cicer. To liue by studie, and set all his delight in it.
Suauius victurus, quàm si, &c. Horat.
Temerè inconsulteq; viuere. Seneca.
Turpiter viuere. Quintil. Vitam viuere. Plaut.
Ego vitam duram vixi vsque adhuc. Terent.
Vitium alitur, viuitq; tegendo. Virg. Vyce, by clokyng of it, is nourished and increased.
Prorsus vnà viuere. Cic.
¶ Viuere alicui. Plaut. To be ones friende, and liue to doo him pleasure.
Viuit sibi. Cicero. He mindeth nothyng but himselfe, and his owne profitte.
Viue tibi. Ouid. Meddle with no mās matters but thy owne.
¶ Ita viuam. Cic. So god healpe mee.
Ne viuam si scio. Cic. I pray god I dye if I know.
¶ Viuitur, pen. cor. Impersonale. Terent.
Paruo bene viuitur. Horat. A man liueth well with a little: a poore lyfe is best.
Viuitur ex rapto. Ouid. They liue by robberie.
¶ Viuitur, Personale. Ouid. -uixi
Annos bis centum: nunc tertia viuitur ætas. Now I am in the thirde hundred yere of my lyfe.
¶ Conditio viuendi. Horat.
Tenet me voluptas viuendi. Virg.
Finis viuendi mihi adest. Ouid.
Viuendo vincere aliquem. Plaut. To ouer lyue one.
Ad viuendum firmus, Vide AD præpositionem.
Mihi viuendum est semper in Barbaria. Ouid.
Viuens, Participium: vt
In vrbe viuens. Horat. Rure viuens. Horat.
Pectore viuenti eripiunt fibras. Ouid.
Fauilla viuens. Ouid. A quicke sparkle.
Fluuius viuens. Stat. A riuer that alway runneth.
Victito, victitas, pen. cor. victitâre. Plaut. To liue by eatynge.
Bene libenter victitas. Terent. Thou louest well to make good cheare.
Parcè victitare, Vide Parcè in PARCVS.
Victus, huius victus, mascu. gen. Vlpian. Sustinãce or feeding: A kynde or forme of lyuyng.
Ad victum & valetudinem necessaria. Cic. Thinges necessary to liue by, and maynteyne his health.
Victus & vestitus, siue Cultus & victus. Cic. Meate, drinke and cloth.
Victus ex rapina. Plin.
Parsimonia aliquorum in victu. Cic.
Penuria victus. Horat. Scarcitie of meate and drinke to lyue by.
¶ Annuis victibus sufficiens prædium. Plin. A ferme sufficient to fynde him for a yere, or to finde him meate and drinke for the whole yere.
Aridus victus, Vide ARIDVS.
Asper, Vide ASPER. Basilicus. Plaut.
Facilis. Virg. Meate and prouision easie to be gotten, not costly.
Fœdus. Horat. Frugi. Quint.
Infœlix. Virg. An hard liuing, or feeding on poore meates.
Inops. Ouid. Luxuriosus. Quintil.
Malignus. Silius. Ill sauouryng meates.
Mundus. Horatius.
Parcus & parabilis. Curtius. Thriftie liuing on such meates as are good cheape, and easie to be gotten.
Sordidus. Quintil. Tenuis. Cic.
¶ Alitur corpus victu. Lucret. with meate and drynke.
Attenuans victus, Vide ATTENVO.
Carere omni cultu & victu humano. Cic.
Nec ego victum, nec vitam illam colere possum. Cic. I can not so feede, nor leade that maner of lyfe.
Hominum vita multum distat à cultu & victu bestiarum. Cicero.
Ministrare victum, Vide MINISTRO.
Mutare aliquid ex consuetudine victus. Celsus. To chaunge somwhat of his wonted maner of feedyng.
Seges ægra negabat victum. Virg. Corne not prouynge well was not able to finde men.
Tolerare victum lacte. Colum. To liue by milke.
Salubri & moderato cultu atque victu, quieti se tradidit. Cic. He betooke himselfe to quietnesse, and was contented with meane and holsome prouision for his meate, drinke, and apparayle.
Vita victusq; communis in amicitijs vigent maximè. Cic.
Viuus, Adiectiuum à Viuo, quod mortuo contrarium est. Cic. That liueth: quicke: natural: stronge: vehement or great.
Exturbari ex numero viuorum. Cic. To be killed.
Viuus & videns cũ victu ac vestitu suo publicatus. Cic. He liuyng & seeyng, with all that he hath, is made common.
¶ Viui peruenimus illuc. Virg. wee haue liued to see this.
¶ Viuus amor. Virg. Vehement loue and earnest.
¶ Animus viuus & naturalis. Plin. iunior.
Aqua viua. Varro. Runnyng water: water springynge out of a place.
Cæspes viuus. Horat. A greene turfe.
Calor viuus. Ouid. A liuely and naturall heate.

Cato

Caro malè viua. Ouid. A yonge beare whelpe without shape or fourme.
Cutis viua. Plaut. The quicke shinne.
Flumen viuum. Liu. A runnyng riuer, the water wherof neuer standeth.
Lacus viui. Virg. Naturall pooles not made by hande.
Lucernæ viuæ. Horat. Candels light and burnyng.
Plantaria viua. Virg. Quicke plantes or settes.
Sanguis viuus. Ouid. A liue mans blond: fresh blond.
Saxum viuum. Virg. A naturall rocke.
Sepes viua. Colum. A quickset or greene hedge.
Sulfura viua. Virg. Naturall brimstone.
Vigor viuus. Ouid. Vnda viua. Sil.
Voluptas viua prati. Claud. The pleasant greenesse of a meade.
Vultus viuos ducere de marmore. Virg. Vide DVCO.
¶ Ad viuum resecare. Cic. To cutte to the quicke: to touche or discusse exactely.
¶ Detrahere, vel resecare aliquid de viuo. Cic. To pull or cut vp by the quicke, or that the bludde foloweth. Vide DETRAHO.

Viuax, viuâcis, pen. prod. om. gen. Virg. Liuely: stronge of nature: that liueth longe.
Viuax in pœnam senecta. Plin.
Aconita viuacia. Ouid. Anima viuax. Ouid.
Anus viuax. Ouid.
Apium viuax. Horat. That continueth longe greene.
Ceruus viuax. Virg. Of longe lyfe.
Dextra viuax. Ouid. A valiant and lusty hande.
Fata viuacia senectæ. Lucan.
Gramen viuax. Ouid. Greene grasse.
Gratia sermonum viuax. Horat.
Verba viuacia. Ouid. Lyuely.
Virtus viuax, expersq; sepulchri. Ouid.
Viuacior. Horat.

Viuácitas, pen. cor. viuacitâtis, fœm. gen. Columella. Naturall strength or liuelinesse.
Viuacitatem suam vsq; in annos decem prorogat. Colum.
Viuacitas. Quintil. Longe lyfe.

Viuesco, siue Viuisco, viuiscis, viuíscere. Plin. To beginne to sprynge or take lyfe.
Vlcus viuescit, & inueterascit alendo. Lucret.
Verbum affixum cordi viuescit. Lucret. The woorde fastened in his heart is not forgotten, but alway thought of.

Viuidus, pen. cor. Adiectiuum. Plin. iunior. Liuely: quicke: full of strength or liuelynesse.
Animus viuidus. Tacit.
Imago viuida Martis. Claud.
Impetus viuidus. Horat.
Ingenium viuidum. Liu. A very lyuely witte.
Membra viuida. Sil. Odia viuida. Tacit.
Virtus viuida bello. Virg. Lusty courage in warre.

Vix, Aduerbium. Cic. Scantly: vneth: hardely.
In dicendo excellentes vix paucos proferre possumus. Cic.
¶ Vix ægrè amatorculos inuenimus. Plaut. Wee scantly and with great payne finde any to loue vs.
Mihi verò cum his ipsis vix: his autem detractis, ne vix quidem. Cic. To my selfe with these thynges, scantly and hardely: without them, not at all.
Aut vix, aut nullo modo corrumpi. Cic.
Vixdum dimidium dixeram, intellexerat. Terentius. I had scantly tolde halfe, and by and by he vnderstoode the mattier.
Vixdum epistolam tuam legeram, quum ad me Curtius venit. Cic. I had as yet scantly redde thy epistle, but that Curtius came to me.
Vix tandē sensi stolidus. Terent. Scantly at the lengthe &c.
Illud vix saltem præcipiendum videtur. Quintil.
Vix vt dignosci possit à mastice vera. Plin.
¶ Vix è conspectu Siculæ telluris in altum
Vela dabant læti. Virg. They weare scantly sayled out of the sight of Sicilie.
¶ Vix ita tamen viuimus. Plaut. And yet with muche adoo wee liue so.
¶ Vix est, vt, &c. Africanus. It can hardely be, that &c.

Vlceratio, Vlcero, Vlcerosus, &c. Vide VLCVS.

Vlciscor, vlcísceris, pen. cor. vltus sum, vlcisci. Cic. To be reuenged: to auenge: to take reuengement: to punish.
Vlcisci & persequi aliquem. Cic. To punish &c.
Quos quidem ego non tam vlcisci studeo, quàm sanare. Cic. whom indeede I desyre not so muche to punish, as to amende.
Vlciscentur illum mores sui. Cicer. His owne maners will bryng him to be punished for his ill dooyng.
Vlcisci aliquod factum. Plaut. To be reuenged on a certain acte.
Vltus est huius victoriæ crudelitatem Sylla. Cic.
Fratres cæsos vlcisci. Ouid. To reuenge the death of &c.
Gentis delectæ vlcisci funera. Lucan.
Vlcisci iniurias. Cæsar.
Mortem alicuius vlcisci. Cic. To reuenge ones death.
Necem alicuius vlcisi armis. Ouid.
Nefas fortiter est vlta laqueo. Ouid. She hunge hir selfe in punishment of hir naughty acte.
Patriam cadentem vlcisci. Virg.
¶ Vltum ire. Curtius. To reuenge.

Vltio, vltiônis, fœm. gen. pen. prod. Verbale. Plin. Reuengemēt: takyng of punishment: vengeance.
Voluptas vltionis. Quint. Audere vltionem. Tacit.
Mactare aliquem vltioni. Tacit. In reuengement to kil one.

Vltor, vltôris, pen. prod. Cic. A reuenger: he that taketh vengeance.
Dolorum alicuius vltor. Virg.
Inimicorum vltor. Cic. A punisher of &c.
Mortis alicuius vltor. Ouid. A reuenger of ones death.
Scelerum vltores. Lucan. Punishers of, &c.
Fortissimus vltor. Ouid. Dij vltores. Propert.

Vltrix, vltrîcis, pen. prod. fœm. gen. Cic. She that reuengeth, or taketh vengeance.
Anima vltrix. Stat. Dextra vltrix. Seneca.
Flamma vltrix. Virg.

Vlcus, úlceris, pen. cor. n. gen. Virg. A boyle: a sore: a botche or corrupt mattier perishyng the skynne, and couered with a scabbe.
Crustas vlceris à viuo resoluere. Cels. To pull of the scabbe of a sore euen to the quicke.
Crustulas vlcerum rumpit lens. Plin.
Duritias in alto vlcerum persequitur multipeda trita. Plin. The woorme called a Cheselip brewsed, is good against the coares that are in the botome of sores and vlcers.
Eruptiones vlcerum manantes. Plin. Runnyng sores: matteryng sores.
Impetus vlcerum incipientes serpere coercet calx. Plin.
Inflammationes vlcerum. Plin. Labra vlcerum. Plin.
Margines vlcerum duriores absumit cinis. Plin. The brims.
Margines vlcerum erodit anonis. Plin.
Oræ vlceris excidendæ. Cels. Os vlceris. Celsus.
Sinus vlcerum explere. Plin. To fill vp the holownesse of vlcers and sores.
Sinus vlcerum chelidonia siccantur. Plin.
¶ Acre vlcus. Martial.
Altum & angustum vlcus. Cels. A depe and narrow sore.
Atra vlcera ad viuum corpus redigunt lupini syluestes. Plin. Hcale blache sores, and make thē quicke fleash againe.
Callosa vlcera, Vide CALLVS.
Caua vlcera commodissimè implet sphærion. Celsus. Doeth very medicinably fill vp holow sores with fleash.
Corruptius vlcus. Cels.
Deplorata vlcera. Plin. Vncurable sores.
Desperantia iam vlcera cicatrice includit mel. Plin. Hony maketh desperate sores to close vp with a scarre.
Difficilia vlcera. Plin. Harde to cure.
Durum & rotundum vlcus. Cels.
Humidum & inæquale vlcus. Cels.
Incurata vlcera. Horat. Mala vlcera. Cels.
Nigrum vlcus. Cels. Periculosissima vlcera Cels.
Pura, & parum pura vlcera. Cels. Putrefacta. Ausonius.
Putria vlcera & tetri odoris. Plin. Rotten and stinkyng.

Recentia vlcera. Celſ. Sores newly riſen.
Senilia vlcera ſiccant impoſitæ ſpongiæ. Plin. Olde ſores.
Sordida vlcera melius mulſo eluuntur. Celſ. Wattrie ſores.
Squalens vlcus. Sidonius. A drie ſore.
Tetra vlcera. Plin.
Vetus vlcus incidendum eſt. Celſ.
Vetuſta vlcera. Celſ.
¶ Adapertum vlcus. Celſ. A ſore or boyle broken.
Rubor ambit vlcus. Celſ. The ſore is redde aboute.
Aperire vlcera. Plin. To open, or to breake boyles or ſores.
Aſtringit & explet vlcera ſil. Plin.
Coercent vlcera quæ ſerpunt, lactucæ. Plin. Sores that runne or ſpredde, as tetters, ryngewormes, &c.
Cohibet ſeuum vlcera quæ ſerpunt. Plin.
Compeſcit vlcera alumen. Plin.
Comprimuntur vlcera aceto. Celſ. Are ſtayed with &c.
Continuatur vlcus ruptis puſtulis. Celſ. The wheales breake and grow to one great ſcabbe, as in a tetter beginnyng.
Curare vlcera. Celſ.
Negligenter curatum vlcus. Celſ.
Deſcendere interdum ſolet vlcus ad neruos. Celſus. The ſore is wonte to eate inwarde to the ſinews.
Durant diutiſsimæ vlcera linguæ. Celſ.
Efferentia ſeſe vlcera. Plin.
Eluuntur vlcera mulſo. Celſ.
Emendat butyrum vlcera. Plin. Healpeth.
Erodere vlcera excreſcentia. Plin. To eate into &c.
Erumpentia per ſe vlcera. Plin.
Excidere totum vlcus vſque ad ſanam carnem. Celſ.
Excreſcentia vlcera. Plin.
Exeſt putria vlcera ariſtolochia. Plinius. Eateth away rotten ſores.
Exeſum vlcus. Celſ.
Explet caua vlcera ariſtolochia. Plin. Filleth vp with fleſh.
Vlcera purgantur & explentur butyro. Plin. Sores are cleanſed and filled vp with butter.
Expurgat vlcera ſordida ariſtolochia. Plin. Cleanſeth.
Vlcus facit ſeptica vi hæc herba. Plin. Maketh a ſcabbe by perythyng the ſkinne.
Facta calceamento vlcera. Plin. Ballynge or freatynge of the ſkinne with ones ſhooe.
Fiunt etiam ex frigore hyberno vlcera. Celſ.
Fouere vlcera aliquo ſucco. Plin. To ſoke and ſouble with &c.
Illinitur gentiana vlceribus, quæ ſerpunt. Plin.
Illinitur beta contra vlcera quæ ſerpunt. Plin.
Implere vlcus. Celſ. To fill vp ſores with fleſh.
Imponere aliquid vlceribus. Plin. To laye any thynge vpon ſores.
Incidere vlcus ſcalpello. Celſ. To launce a ſore &c.
Mel cicatrici includit vlcera. Plin. Hony healeth vp &c.
Increſcentia vlcera. Plin.
Inducitur interdum callus vlceri. Celſ. An harde dead ſkynne ſometime groweth ouer a ſore.
Inducere cruſtas vlceribus. Celſ. To make ſores haue a ſcabbe.
Inhibet infantium vlcera alumen. Plin.
Inſpergitur vlceribus farina. Plin.
Inueterata vlcera. Plin.
Inuſtis vlceribus rubet corpus. Lucret.
Latet vlcus in ore. Perſ. Linere vlcus melle. Celſ.
Manantia vlcera. Plin. Sores runnyng with matter.
Manantia capitis vlcera diſcutere. Plin.
Vlcera quæ in capite manant. Plin.
Vlcera non matureſcentia. Plin. Sores not waxinge ripe.
Medetur omnium generum vlceribus plantago. Plin.
Naſcuntur vlcera in latere linguæ. Celſ.
Nutrire vlcus lenibus medicamentis. Celſ.
Occupat interdum vetuſtas vlcus. Celſ.
Oriuntur vlcera plerunque in gingiuis. Celſ. Sores riſe &c.
Percurat ſeuum vlcera quæ ſerpunt. Plin. Tallow throughly healeth ſpreadyng ſores.
Perducere vlcera ad ſanitatem. Celſ. To heale.
Perichtantur vermibus quædam vlcera. Plin.
Perpurgare repleregq; vlcera. Celſ.
Perſanare vlcera. Plin.
Procedit ac ſerpit vlcus. Celſ.

Vlceribus ex ambuſto mirè prodeſt toſtum hordeum. Plin. Toſted barley is meruelous holſome agaynſt ſores, that come of burnyng.
Purgare vlcus melle. Celſ. To cleanſe with hony.
Putreſcentia vlcera. Plin.
Lupini redigunt vlcera ad viuũ corpus. Plin. Lupines bryng corrupte ſores to quicke fleſh agayne.
Renouare vlcera. Celſ. Renouatur vlcus. Celſ.
Reprimuntur optimè collyrio vlcera ſupercreſcentia. Celſ.
Repugnantia cicatrici vlcera. Plin. Sores, that will hardely be cloſed.
Repurgatum vlcus. Celſ.
Reſcindere os ſummum vlceris. Virg.
Serpentia vlcera. Plin.
Vlcera ſi mediocriter ſerpunt, aqua calida: ſi vehementius, vino calido fouenda ſunt. Celſ.
Siccat vlcera per ſe farina lupinorum. Plin.
Siſtit vlcera quæ ſerpunt, gramen. Plin. Stayeth runnynge or ſpreadinge ſores.
Succurrunt medicamenta vlceribus. Celſ.
Supercreſcentia vlcera. Celſ.
Tendit ad ſanitatem vlcus. Celſ. The ſore waxeth hole.
Tollit vlcera humida cinis ex oſsibus ſepiarum. Plin.
Oua tollunt vlcera humida in capite. Plin.
Vlcera difficile cicatricem trahentia. Plin.
Vlcera quæ cicatricem non trahunt. Plin.
Vlceribus vix ad cicatricem venientibus optimè ſuccurit ſphærion. Celſ.
Viueſcit vlcus & inueteraſcit alendo. Lucret.
¶ Vlcus tangere. Terent. To touche the ſore: to rubbe on the galle: to ſpeake of a thing that nippeth or greeueth.
¶ Vlcus, à nonnullis ſcribitur cum h, quòd Græcè ἕλκος dicatur.

Vlcúſculum, vlcúſculi, pen. corr. Diminutiuum. Plin. A lyttle ſore or ſcabbe.

Vlcero, úlceras, pen. cor. vlcerâre. Plin. Cicero. To make full of ſores or ſcabbes: to exaſperate or make to greeue: to exulcerate: to reyſe a blyſter.
Iecur alicuius vlcerare. Horat. To wounde ones harte with loue.

Vlcerátio, vlceratiônis, fœm. gen. Verbale. Celſ. Vlceration: breakyng out into a ſcabbe or ſore.

Vlcerôſus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Full of ſores or ſcabbes. vt Iecur vlceroſum. Horat. A lyuer exulcerated or hauynge a ſore in it.
Vlceroſum, ad arbores tranſlatum. Plin.
Vlcerariæ herbæ. Herbes that make blyſters.

Vlex, licis. An herbe lyke Roſemarie, that draweth golde vnto it.

Vligo, pen. prod. vlíginis, pen. cor. fœm. gen. Varro. Naturall moyſture of the earth.
Pinguis humus, dulciq; vligine læta. Virg.
Peſtifera vligo campi. Sil.
Salſam & amaram vliginem nonnunquã vomit terra. Colu.

Vliginôſus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Varro. Soked with longe abode of water: alway moyſte.
Vliginoſi campi. Colum. Vliginoſa terra. Plin.

Vllus, vlla, vllum. Cic. Any. Ponitur vel negatiuè. vt, Non eſt vllus qui currat. Vel interrogatiuè: vt, Eſtne vllus qui currat? Vel ſubiunctiuè: vt, Si vllus me vocabit, ſtatim veniam.
Si vllo modo eſt vt poſsit, quod ſpero fore. Terent. If it may be by any meanes &c.
Sine vlla particula iuſtitiæ. Cic.
Negat prodeſſe vllam ſcientiam alicui. Cic.
Omnino vllius rei nemo fuit emptor. Cicer. There was no man, that bought any thinge at all.
Obijcit mihi, quòd vllum de liberis meis potuerim facere diſcrimen. Quintil.

Vlmus, ulmi, f. g. Arbor. Plin. A tree called an elme.
Aëria vlmus. Virg. Alta vlmus. Virg.
Denſa. Ouid. Exeſa. Ouid.
Fœcundæ frondibus vlmi. Virg.
Fortes vlmi. Virg. Frondoſa vlmus. Virg. Patula. Perſius.
Specioſa vlmus nitentibus vuis. Ouidius. An elme trimly adourned with grapes of a vine ſtaying on it.

Viduæ

Viduæ vlmi. Iuuen. Elmes that haue no vines set to them.
¶ Adiungere vites vlmis. Virg.
Amictæ vitibus vlmi. Ouid. Degrauat vlmum vitis. Ouid.
Intexere vlmos vitibus. Virg.
Vincitur vitibus vlmus. Ouid.

Vlmeus, Adiectiuum. vt Virgæ vlmeæ. Plaut. Of an elme.
Vlmea frons. Colum.

Vlmitriba, pen. cor. Plaut. One beaten with elme rodds.

Vlmárium, vlmárij, n. g. Plin. A grone of elmes.

Vlna, vlnæ, fœm. gen. Plin. The greate bone of an arme: an arme.
¶ Vlna. Virg. A fathom: an elle: the length of two armes stretched out.
¶ Vlna. Budæus. A mans arme. Plinius, Arboris eius crassitudo quatuor hominum vlnas cõplectentium implebat. The body of that tree was as bigge as foure mẽ could compasse with their armes.
¶ Vlna. Sueton. A cubite: an elbow.
Nix septem assurgit in vlnas. Virg. The snow is seuen cubites, or seuen elles high.
Toga bis ter vlnarum. Horat. A gowne of twoo or three els length.
¶ Læues vlnæ. Claud. Smooth armes without heare.
Teneræ vlnæ. Ouid. Tender and soft armes.
Tremula vlna. Catul.
Cupidis vlnis aliquem amplecti. Ouid. Gladly to embrace.
Mollibus vlnis attollere aliquem. Ouidius. To lifte vp one softly.
Circundare aliquem vlnis. Stat. To clippe or imbrace.
Auidis vlnis circunligat matrem. Stat. He embraceth his mother very gladly.
Niueis reducem complectitur vlnis. Claud.
Blandisq; virum complectitur vlnis. Stat.

Vlpicum, úlpici, n. gen. pen. cor. Colum. Great garlyke.

Vlterior, Vltimus, &c. Vide VLTRA.

Vltio, Vltor, &c. Vide VLCISCOR.

Vltra, Præpositio, accusatiuo casui seruiens. Sallust. Beyonde: more: moreouer.
Vagari vltra terminum. Horat. To wander beyonde his boundes.
Vltra pueriles annos. Quint.
Vltra placitum laudare. Virgil. To prayse more then one lyketh.
Vltrà modum progredi. Cic. To passe measure.
Vltra famam ablegare, vel amandare. To sende so farre, that one shall heare no more tydynges of it. Bud. ex Plinio.
Vltra famam exactus est. He was neuer more heard of. Bud. ex Plinio.
¶ Vltrà, Aduerbium est, quum sine casu ponitur. Plaut.
Resectæ inolescunt, nec vltrà obsunt vitibus. Columel. And hurte vines no more.
Intendamus vltrà animum. Quint.
Vltrà citráue peruolare. Plin. To flee either on this side, or beyonde.
Vt nihil possit vltrà. Cic. As nothyng can be more.
Nequid vltrà requiratis. Cic. Require you no more.
Vt sustineri vltrà non possent. Liu. No longer.
Vltrà quò progrediar, quàm vt verisimilia videam, non habeo. Cic. I haue not to proceede any further than, &c.
Vltrà nobis, quàm oportebat, indulsimus. Quint.
Non vltrà quàm, Vide NON.

Vlterior, ab Vltra comparatiuum. Furthermore: more beyond.
Terentius, Sed eccum ipsum, quis est vlterior? who is the further of the two?
Sit modò silentium acre, & cupidum vlteriora audiendi. Plin. iunior. To heare that is behinde.
Vlterior Gallia. Cic. The countrey of Fraunce, that from Italy is beyonde the Alpes.
Ripa vlterior. Liu. The further banke.
Vlteriora mirari, præsentia sequi. Tacit. To wonder at thinges passed &c.
Loqui vlteriora. Ouid. To speake more yet.

Vlterius, Aduerbium. Ouid. Further: more beyonde.
Vlterius quærere. Seneca.
Vlterius iusto rogare. Ouid. To aske more than reason.

Vltimus, pen. cor. Ab Vltra superlatiuum. Cic. Laste: extreme, first.
Cælum ipsum extremum atque vltimum mundi est. Cic.
Vltimis in ædibus. Terent. In the hindermoste or furthermost parte of all the house.
Dies vltima expectanda homini. Ouidius. The day of ones death. Mors, vltima linea rerum. Horat.
Luna vltima. Cic. The moone beyng nigheste to vs, and furtheste from the first planet of Saturne.
Memoria vltima. Cic. The furtheste that one can remẽber.
Tempus proximum, medium, vltimum. Cic.
Platea vltima. Plaut. The furthermoste ende of a streete.
Terra vltima. Cic.
Ad vltimum, Vide AD præpositionem.
¶ Vltimum ac maximum telum necessitas. Liu. Necessitie the extreame and greatest cause to force one, that can bee.
Vltima inopia. Liu. Extreame pouertie and neede.
¶ Denuntiare necessitatẽ vltimã. Tacit. To menace death.
Vltima pœna. Liu. Punishment by death.
¶ Vltimum bonum. Cic. The chiefe felicitie or goodnesse.
Vltima experiri. Liu. To vse the extreame remedie: to try extremitie.
¶ Vltima pati. Liu. To suffer extreame punishment: to suffer the greatest mischiefe that can be.
Hæc Ciceroni vltima esse in malis. Cic. That these thynges are reputed of Cicero the greatest euils, that cã chaũce to man.
¶ Vltimum periculi. Curt. Daunger of death.
¶ Vltimus, pro Primus aliquando ponitur. Virg. The first.
Varijs ab vltima antiquitate repetitis. Cic. Frõ the furtheste tyme of our auncetours.
Vltimum in amicitia. Cic.
Vltimum principium. Cic. The first beginnyng.
Initium vltimum. Author ad Heren.

Vltimùm, Aduerbium. Liu. The last time.
Vltimùm illum visurus. Curt.

Vltimò, pen. cor. Aliud aduerbium. Sueton. At the last.

Vltrò, Aduerbium. Virgil. Willyngly: without delyce or compulsion: of the owne accorde, or voluntary will.
¶ Vltro. Virg. Moreouer: Et miserescimus vltro. Virg.
Etiam me vltro accusatum aduenit. Terent. Yea and he commeth of his owne motion to accuse me.
Dare animam vltro. Virgil.
Compellare aliquem vltro. Virg. To speake first vnto one.
Vltro offerre se alicui. Cic. Vltro polliceri. Cic.
Vltro citróque. Cic. Hither and thither: on the tone parte, & on the tother.
Cursare vltro & citro non desiterunt. Cic. To runne in and out, or vp and downe from one to an other.
Qui vltro citróque nauigarent. Cic.
Sursum deorsum, vltro citroque commeantes. Cic. Goynge vp and downe, to and fro.
Vltro citróque versari. Cic.
Quum sæpe vltro citroq; legati inter eos mitterentur. Cæs. From the tone parte to the tother oftentimes.

Vltróneus, Adiect. Seneca. willyngly: with a free wyll.

Vlua, vluæ, f. g. Virg. Reke or weedes of the sea.
Fluminea vlua. Ouid. Limosa vlua. Lucan.
Glauca vlua. Virg. Molles vluæ. Ouid.
Grata paludibus vlua. Ouid. Palustris. Virg.
Leues vluæ. Ouid. Steriles vluæ. Ouid.
Viridi vlua tectus Rhenus. Ouid.

Vlula, vlulæ, fœm. gen. pen. cor. Virg. Plin. A hyrche owle.

Vlulo, vlulas, pen. cor. vlulâre. Virgil. To howle as a dogge or woulfe doth.
Lætis vlulare triumphis. Lucan.
Canes vlulant. Virg.
Aedes vlulant plangoribus fœmineis. Virg. The house rimeth with the pitifull lamentyng and cryyng of women.
Flebile vlularunt ripæ. Sil. The bankes did ryng with a lamentable noyse.
Tristia vlularunt Galli. Lucan.

Vlulans, pen. cor. Participium. Cic. Howlyng.
Quum vlulanti voce canere cœpisset. Cic.

Tumultus vlulans. Virg.
Vlulâtus, pen. prod. Aliud participium. That hath howled. vt Prælia vlulata. Stat. Battayles full of pitifull cryinge.
Vlulâtus, huius vlulâtus, m. gen. pen. prod. Virg. An howlyng, lamentyng, or cryng out.
Acutus vlulatus. Catull.
Attoniti vlulatus. Sil.
Clamoſi vlulatus. Apul.
Flebilis vlulatus. Stat.
Fœmineus vlulatus. Virg.
Horriſoni vlulatus. Sil.
Inſani vlulatus. Claud. Great and horrible cryynges.
Mœſtus vlulatus. Lucan.
Querulis vlulatibus impleui Idam. Ouid.
Terrificus vlulatus. Claud.
Tremuli vlulatus. Stat. The crying of a childe.
¶ Complere auras vlulatibus. Ouid.
Crebris vlulatibus feriunt aures. Lucan.
Implere montes vlulatibus. Ouid. To make all the hylles ryng with cryng and yellyng.
Inerrat auribus vlulatus. Stat.
Terribilem vlulatum ſpargere in auras. Stat.

V M

Vmbella, Vide VMBRA.

Vmbilicus, vmbilici, m. g. pen. prod. Plin. A nauill.
Vmbilicus. Cic. The middle of any thyng.
Qui vmbilicum Græciæ incolerent. Liu.
Certus terrarum vmbilicus. Cic.
Dies ad vmbilicum iam eſt. Plaut. It is iuſt noone.
¶ Vmbilicus. A litle cirkle made like a nauil in the groũd, to diſcerne the coaſtes of the windes. Plin.
¶ Vmbilici. Horat. Bullions, or bolles, ſuche as are ſet on the out ſydes of bookes.
Ad vmbilicum ducere. Horat. To bryng to a poynte: to make an ende of.
Peruenimus vſq; ad vmbilicos. Martial. wee are now come to ſet on the bullions: wee are nowe at an ende.
Binis vmbilicis decoratus liber. Stat.
¶ Vmbilici. Cic. Small ſtones rounde and ſmoothe.

Vmbilicâtus, pen. prod. Adiect. Plin. That hath a nauill, or any thynke like a nauill.
Vmbilicatim. In the facion of a nauill.

Vmbo, vmbônis, pen. prod. maſcu. gen. Liu. The bolle of a buckler or ſhielde.
¶ Vmbo in gemma. Plin. A rounde ryſynge in a pretious ſtone lyke a bolle: a knobbe.
¶ Vmbo. Virgil. A buckler or targate.
Aereus vmbo. Virg.
Curuatus. Stat.
Minax. Claud.
Fortis vmbo. Lucan.

Vmbra, vmbræ, f. g. Cic. A ſhadow. A goſte of a man beyng dead. An vnbidden gueſte accompanyinge one to a feaſt.
Nemorum vmbræ. Virg.
Aemula vmbra, Vide AEMVLOR.
Apta vmbra paſtoribus. Ouid.
Arborea vmbra. Ouid.
Caua. Virg.
Denſæ vmbræ in montibus. Virg.
Dulcis vmbra. Virg.
Gelida vmbra. Virg.
Frigida noctis vmbra. Virg.
Grauis. Virg.
Horrenti vmbra atrum nemus. Virgil. An horrible darke woodde, with a thicke ſhadow.
Ingens vmbra. Virg.
Largæ vmbræ opulenta ſylua. Stat.
Leuis vmbra nemoris. Ouid.
Longæ vmbræ. Plin.
Matutinæ. Plin.
Nigræ. Lucret.
Nemorales. Ouid.
Nocturnæ. Ouid.
Nutrix aut nouerca vmbra, Vide NOVERCA.
Obſcura. Virg.
Opaca vmbra. Martial.
Pampinea, Vide PAMPINVS.
Piceæ noctis vmbræ. Stat.
Silentes vmbræ. Lucan.
Soporiferæ. Stat.
Spiſſæ vmbræ noctis. Virg.
Squallentes vmbræ picearum. Sil.
Subluſtris vmbra noctis. Virg.
Tremulæ vmbræ. Stat.
Vacua vmbra tonſoris. Horat. The boothe or ſhoppe of a barbour idle or vnoccupied.

Viridis vmbra. Virg. Greene trees that ſhadow.
¶ Nigras vmbras ſibi abluit terra. Lucret. The earth putteth away the darkeneſſe of the night.
Sacra nemus accubat vmbra. Virg.
Blanditur populus vmbrâ. Ouid. Populus pro arbore.
Cadunt vmbræ, Vide CADO.
Captare vmbras & frigora. Virg.
Minax vmbra coit. Valer. Flac. A darke cloude gathereth together, and threateneth rayne.
Cæcis ſe condidit vmbris. Virg.
Contrahit vmbras dies medius. Ouid. Noonetide maketh ſhort ſhadowes.
Humentem vmbram polo dimouerat Aurora. Virg. The mornyng came in place, and put away the darkeneſſe of the moyſte night.
Nigras vmbras diſcutit aer lucidus. Lucret.
Pallentes vmbras diſcutit ſol. Virgil. The pale cloudes.
Creſcentes vmbras decedens ſol duplicat. Virg.
Efficere vmbram. Celſ.
Per vmbras ire ſub nocte. Virg.
Vmbra exuberat luxuria foliorum. Virg. The ſhadow maketh great abundance of leaues.
Facere vmbram. Quintil.
Exiguas vmbras fecerat ſol altiſsimus. Ouidius. The ſunne at noone beyng highest had made ſhorte ſhadowes.
Minimas fecerat vmbras ſol, Idem. Ouid.
Incurrere in vmbram. Cic.
Inducere vmbras fontibus. Virg. To plant trees by welles, to the ende to ſhadow them.
Inducit vmbras terris nox. Horat.
Ingruit vmbra vitibus. Virg.
Nox inuoluit cælum magna vmbra. Virg. The night wrappeth the firmament in great darkeneſſe.
Miniſtrans vmbram potantibus platanus. Virg.
Nocent frugibus vmbræ. Virg.
Roriferis vmbris nox terram obruit. Lucret.
Obtexitur cælum vmbra. Virg.
Ingentes vmbras murorum porrigit campus. Stat.
Requieſcere ſub vmbra. Virg.
Salices vmbram ſufficiunt paſtoribus. Virg.
¶ Vmbras arborum amputare. Virgil. To cutte away the ſhadowynge braunches of trees.
¶ Vmbræ. Horat. Gueſtes vnbidden accompanyng other, that be bidden.
¶ Suam ipſius vmbram metuere. Cic. To be very timorous: to feare his owne ſhadow.
¶ Vmbra & imago, cui opponitur Solida & expreſſa effigies. Cicero.
Vmbras falſæ gloriæ conſectari. Cic. To indevour to get a ſhadow or colour of falſe glorie.
Vmbra honoris. Tacit.
Vmbra luxuriæ. Cic.
Habent quaſdam veritatis vmbras. Plin. They haue ſome ſemblance, apparance, or colour of trueth.
Sub vmbra Tribunitia delitere. Liu.
¶ Vmbræ pictorum. Cic. Shadows caſt in peyndyng.
¶ Vmbra & imago alicuius. Cicero. A lykeneſſe or image of a thynge.
¶ Vmbræ. Virg. The goſtes or ſpirites of deade men.
Vmbrarum terrores. Quintilian. The feare of goblines and ſpirites.
Dominus vmbrarum, Pluto. Ouid.
Rector vmbrarum. Seneca.
Rex vmbrarum. Ouid. Kyng of the infernall ſoules.
Crudelibus occubat vmbris. Virg. He is dead.
Exangues umbræ. Stat.
Gelidæ vmbræ. Ouid.
Gracilis vmbra. Ouid.
Imas Erebi deſcendit ad vmbras. Virg.
Infernæ vmbræ. Martial. Infernall ſpirites, or ſoules.
Inhumata vmbra. Sil. The ſoule or ſpirite of one vnburied.
Pallentes vmbræ. Virg. The wanne goſtes.
Parentales vmbræ. Ouid. The ſoules of our father & mother.
Sæuæ. Stat.
Stygiæ. Ouid.
Senilis vmbra. Ouid
Tenues Erebi vmbræ. Virg.
Silentes vmbræ. Virg.
Triſtes. Virg.
Vltricis vmbræ vanis exagitari terroribus. Quintil.

Volan-

Volantes nocte vmbræ. Ouid.

¶ Adigere aliquem ad vmbras infernas. Virg.

Vmbella, vmbellæ, fœm. gen. Diminutiuum. A little shadow: a little rounde thynge that gentill women bore in theyr handes to shadow them.

Viridis vmbella. Iuuenalis. A thyng of leaues worne on the head to keepe of the sunne.

¶ Vmbella, In plantis quibusdã. Ruellius. The rounde tufte or head of Fenell, or other hearbes, wherin the seede is.

Vmbro, vmbras, vmbrâre. Colum. To shadow.

Montes vmbrantur opaci. Virgil. Hilles be shadowed with trees.

Rosis vmbratus dux. Claud.

Tempora vmbrata quercu. Virg.

Vmbráticus, pen. cor. Adiectiuum. Plaut. Like, or of a shadow.

Scholasticæ & vmbraticæ literæ. Plin. iunior. Partes of learning touchyng schoole matters, and suche as are onely disputed in priuate conference.

Delicata & vmbratica turba Epicureorum, in conuiuio suo philosophantium. Seneca.

Vmbrátilis, & hoc vmbrátile, penult. cor. Adiectiuum. That is doone in the shadow, and at ease without sweate or payne.

vt Vita vmbratilis & delicata. Cic. A delicate life of one that neuer goeth foorth of his doores to take paynes.

Vmbratilis pugna. Exercise of feates of warre priuatly at home.

Vmbratilis exercitatio. Cic. Exercise within doores.

Segnis mora & vmbratilis. Colum.

Oratio philosophorum mollis & vmbratilis. Cic.

Vmbráculum, vmbráculi, neut. gen. pen. cor. Varro. A place to shadow one in: an herber: a bowre.

Opaca præbent arbores vmbracula. Virg.

Lentæ texunt vmbracula vites. Virg.

Tegmen & vmbraculum. Columel.

¶ Vmbraculum. Ouid. A thyng to keepe of the sunne: any thyng that one weareth on the heade to shadow the face, as a boone grace or fearfe.

Vincta vmbracula sertis. Tibull.

Vmbrifer, pen. cor. vmbrífera, vmbríferum, pen. cor. Cic. Makyng shadow.

Nemus vmbriferum. Virg.

Vmbrôsus, pen. prod. vmbrosior, vmbrosissimus. Cic. Hauynge muche shadow: castyng a great shadow.

Arbos vmbrosa. Virg. — Ripa vmbrosa. Horat.
Cacumina vmbrosa. Virg. — Sylua vmbrosa. Ouid.
Collis vmbrosus. Ouid. — Tecta vmbrosa. Tibull.
Nemus vmbrosum. Ouid. — Vallis vmbrosus. Virg.

Vmbrina & Vmbra. By the description of Ionins seemeth to me to be the fish called an Hallibutte.

V N

Vná, Aduerbium, acuitur in fine, vná, ad differentiam ablatiui nominis Vnus. Cic. Together.

Ambos vná necare. Cic.

Amantes vná inter se. Plaut. Louyng one an other.

Vná mecum ad matrem virginis eas. Terent.

Vná cum prætexta toga. Cic. Together with.

Philosophari vná cum aliquo. Cic.

¶ Vná, geminatum aliquando in oratione ponitur. Cicero, Vná & id quod facio probabit, vná & in hac causa profectò neminem mihi esse præponendum actorem putabit. He will both alow that I doo, and therewithall thinke also &c.

Duc vná pariter vsque dum coeant. Cato.

Vnanimis, & hoc vnánime: & Vnánimus, pen. cor. Adiectiuũ. Virg. Of one minde, hearte, and will: of one consent.

Sodales vnanimi. Catul. — Fratres vnanimes. Catull.

Vnanímitas, pen. cor. vnanimitátis, fœm. gen. Plaut. Concorde of minde: vnanimitie: consent of heartes.

Fraterna vnanimitas. Liu.

Vncia, vnciæ, fœm. gen. Cic. An ounce: an inche: the twelfth parte of the whole.

Vncia agri, Duodecima pars iugeri. Varr. The twelfth parte of Iugerũ: that is. 40. foote breadth and. 60. length.

Vncia in mensuris vocatur duodecima pars pedis: nos pollicem dicimus. Frontinus. An inche.

Vnciola, vnciolæ, fœm. gen. pen. cor. Diminutiuum. Iuuenal. A little ounce or inche.

Vnciâtim, pen. prod. Aduerbium. Terent. Inche by inche: inchmeale.

Vnciárius, Adiectiuum. Of or perteynynge to ounces. vt Lex vnciaria. Festus. A law wherby creditours are forbidde to take aboue one in the hundred of money lent.

Vnciarium fœnus. Liu. Vsury of one in the hundred for the yeres lone, as. xx. shillynges for. 100. poundes.

Vnciaria stips. Plin. The twelfe parte of a pounde.

Vnciariæ vites. Colum. Vynes so planted, that one is from an other the. 12. parte of Iugerum.

Vnciális, & hoc vnciále, pen. prod. Of or belonging to an ounce or inche.

Vncialis assis. Plin. That weigheth but an ounce.

Vncialis altitudo. Plin. An inche length.

Literæ vnciales. Hieronymus. Letters an inche longe.

Vnctum, Vnctio, Vnctor, &c. Vide VNGO.

Vncus, vnci, m. g. Cic. A crooke, or hooke.

Ferreus vncus. Liu. — Rapidus. Lucan.
Naualis. Valer. Flac. — Seuerus. Horat.

¶ Vncus, pro Anchora. Valer. Flac. An anker.

Vncus, Adiectiuum. Colum. Crooked.

Aera vnca. Ouid. Hookes: angelyng hookes.

Cauda vnca minatur scorpius. Ouid.

Cornibus vncis ferit taurus. Propert.

Dente vnco recluditur tellus. Virgil. The earth is caste vp with the crooked plough share.

Hami vnci. Ouid. — Labrum vncum. Lucret.

Morsu vnco naues alligat anchora. Virg.

Ora vnca. Stat. Crooked beakes or billes.

Pedes vnci. Virg.

Retinacula vnca. Stat. Crooked ankers.

Vnguibus vncis timendæ volucres. Lucret.

Vomer vncus. Virg.

Vncinâtus, pen. prod. Aliud adiectiuum. Cic. Hooked: crooked: armed with hookes.

Vnda, vndæ, fœm. gen. Cic. water: a waue: a sourge: stirring or businesse. A great multitude of men.

Vnda ponitur pro aqua. Ouid.

Aeriæ vndæ. Lucret. Cloudes in the ayer.

Cæcis erramus in vndis. Virg.

Canæ vndæ. Virg. — Flauæ. Claud.
Decliues vndæ. Lucan. — Fluctiuaga vnda. Stat.
Dulces vndæ. Virg. — Formosæ vndæ. Propert.

Gelida vnda perluor. Horat.

Glaucæ vndæ. Lucret. — Grata vnda siti. Ouid.

Humilis vnda. Seneca. The low water.

Inertes vndæ. Lucan. Standyng waters.

Innabilis vnda. Ouid.

Innatare vndam, Vide INNATO.

Lapidosæ vndæ. Ouid.

Limosæ. Sil. — Liquidæ. Virg.

Mendax vnda scrupeis vadis. Seneca. The water deceitefull and daungerous with stones in the botome.

Minax vnda. Horat.

Molles vndæ. Lucret. — Nigræ. Lucret.

Nitidis vndis argenteus fons. Ouid.

Opaca vnda. Ouid.

Præceps. Stat. — Salsæ. Lucret.
Putealis. Columel. — Salubris vnda. Ouid.
Rapax. Ouid. — Sequaces vndæ. Virg.
Rapida. Ouid. — Silens vnda. Valer. Flac. A stylle water.
Rauca. Ouid. — Spumea. Virg.
Recuruatæ vndæ. Ouid. — Spumosa. Virg.
Refluentes vndæ. Virg. — Tacita. Virg.
Sæuæ. Lucret.

Tardâ vndâ innabilis palus. Virg.

Tenui vnda pellucidus fons. Ouid.

Tepidæ vndæ. Ouid.

Torrentem vndam leuis innatat alnus. Virg.

Tremulæ vndæ. Claud.

Tristi vnda inamabilis palus. Virg.

Vaga vnda. Ouid. Vitreæ. Ouid.
Veloces vndæ. Lucan. Volucris vnda. Valer. Flac.
¶ Agitata ventis vnda. Seneca.
Albeſcentes vndæ. Sil. Alludentes. Ouid.
Hyems aſperat vndas Aquilonib⁹. Virg. The winter windes make troublous and rough ſeas.
Tumidas oceani vndas remo compeſcere. Lucan.
Committere ſe rapacibus vndis. Ouid.
Conticuere vndæ. Ouid.
Curuata in montis faciem circunſtetit vnda. Virg.
Decreſcentes vndæ. Ouid. The waters fallyng.
Dehiſcens vnda terram inter fluctus aperit. Virgil. The water ſo parteth aſunder in waues, that the earth may be ſeen between.
Deſilire in vndas. Ouid.
Deſpumare vndam tepidi aheni. Virg.
Diuulſa remis ſonat vnda. Ouid. The water beaten with owers flaſheth, or maketh a noyſe.
Dare vela per vndas. Virg.
Concuſſas Triton exaſperat vndas. Ouid. Troubleth.
Indomitas vndas exercet Auſter. Horat.
Exultantes vndæ. Ouid.
Velocibus vndis Rhodanus fert Ararim in mare. Lucan.
Feruentes æſtibus vndæ. Ouid.
Crepitantibus vndis fremunt ripæ. Virg. The bankes roare with the waues daſhyng agaynſt them.
Haurire vndam ab amnibus. Stat.
Vnda impellitur vndâ. Ouid. One waue is dziuen forwarde with an other.
Incaneſcit vnda ſpumis. Catull.
Inhorruit vnda tenebris. Virgil. A terrible darkeneſſe was on the ſea. Inſilire vndis. Ouid.
Inſonuit vnda. Ouid. Intremuere vndæ. Virg.
Labentes vndæ. Ouid.
Latrantes vndæ. Sil. The waues with daſhyng, make a noiſe lyke barkyng of dogges.
Ludunt per vndas delphines. Virg.
Mergitur vnda delphinus. Cic.
Placidis vndis natare. Ouid.
Roriferis terram nox obruit vndis. Lucret.
Proijcere aliquem in vndas. Virg.
Rapere currus ſuſpenſos per vndas. Cic.
Multifidas reuocat piger alueus vndas. Lucan.
Ridentes vndæ. Lucret. Calme and pleaſant waters.
Satiare ora vndâ. Stat. Dzynke thy fill of water.
Incurſu vndarum ſonat vnda. Ouid.
Spumans vnda. Virgil Subſidunt vndæ. Virg.
Stridentes vndæ. Lucan. Surgentes vndæ. Virg.
¶ Vnda prima preli. Plin. That commeth of the firſt preſſyng, in makyng wyne or oyle.
¶ Vndæ comitiorum, per tranſlationem. Cic. The turre, bzoyle, and trouble that is at aſſembles for election of officers.
Bellorum vndæ. Claud. The troubles of warre.
¶ Vnda. Virg. A company or multitude. Salutantum vnda. Virgil.

Vndo, vndas, vndâre. Cic. To ryſe in ſourges and waues: to make waues.
Fretum vndans. Cic. The ſea ryſyng in ſurges.
Galea vndãs fletu. Stat. The healmet, or head peece on ones head waſhed with the teares of his eyes in weepynge, or hauynge the teares trickling downe on it.
Vndans bello Nilus. Virg. Aegypt flowyng in warre.
Vndans curis. Valer. Fla. Ouerwhelmed with cares. Hauing his heart troubled with the ſurges of greeuous cares.
Vndans Aetna. Virg. Caſting out flames, as it were waues.
Fumus vndãs miſto puluere. Virgil. A ſmoke ryſynge with duſt, as it weare a great waue.
Vndantia lora. Virgil. The raynes of the bzidle hangynge flaggyng and looſe.
Habenæ vndantes. Virg. Idem.
Vndantem chlamydem facere. Plaut. To mooue ones clothe wauyngly lyke water.
Vndãti perfundit vulnere ſomnũ. Stat. He al to beraied him lying a ſleape with bloud ſpoutyng out of the wounde.

¶ Vndare campos ſanguine. Statius. To make the fieldes ſwimme with bludde.
Vndabundum mare, apud Gellium. The ſea caſting vp ſurges and waues.
Vndãtus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Plin. Made lyke waues.
Vndatim, pen. prod. Aduerb. Lyke waues: in facion of waues.
Vndatim criſpæ menſæ. Plin. Tables hauynge grayne lyke waues of water.
Vndôſus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Full of waues or ſurges. vt, Vndoſum mare. Virg.
Vndíſonus, pen. cor. Adiectiuũ. Makyng a noyſe lyke waues: roaryng with waues. vt Aequor vndiſonum. Virg.
Dij vndiſoni. Propert. Gods of the ſea.
Rupes vndiſonæ. Statius. Rockes roaring, with the ſea beatyng agaynſt them.
Vndulátus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Made like waues of water. vt Vndulata veſtis. Plin. Chamlet: or a garment wrought as it weare with riuers.
Vnde, Aduerbium, interrogatiuè & infinitè accipitur. Plautus. From whens: wherof: from which thyng: of whom: how: by what means: what to doo: wherto: wherby.
Vnde aduenis? Plaut. Whens commeſt thou?
Tot res repentè circunuallant, vnde emergi non poteſt. Terent. Out of the whiche one can not eſcape.
Vnde eiectus eſt Cecinna? ex vrbe. Cic.
Vnde deiecti Galli? à Capitolio. Cic.
Vnde hoc natum? Cic. Wherof came, or ſprang this firſt?
Inde incipiemus narrare, vnde neceſſe erit. Author ad Heren.
Eloquentia, vnde longè abſum. Cic.
¶ Puer hic vnde eſt? Terent. From whoſe houſe came this chylde?
¶ Eſt vnde hæc fiant. Terent. I haue wherwith to doo theſe thynges.
Si habuerit vnde tibi ſoluat. Cic. If he ſhall haue wherwith to pay you.
¶ Vnde haſce ædes emeram. Plaut. Of whom I bought &c.
Is vnde te audiſſe dicis. Cicero. He of whom you ſay you hearde it.
¶ Vide quod ſcriptum vnde villicus eſt. Plaut. See what is writen on that ſyde, wheron the bailyfes name is.
¶ Vnde tantum virium cæco? Quintil. Wherto had a blynde man ſo much ſtrength?
¶ Vnde gentium, Idem quod Vnde. Plautus, Nam obſecro vnde hæc gentium? For I pray you from whens cometh this woman?
¶ Vnde id ſcis? D. audiui, & credo. Terent. How or whereby knoweſt thou that?
Vnde iſte amor tam improuiſus, ac tam repentinus? Cic.
¶ Vnde domo? Virg. Of what citie?

Vndecunque, Aduerbium. Liu. From what ſo euer place.
Vulnerum ſanguinem & vndecunque fluentem fiſtit. Plin.
Vndélibet, pen. cor. Aduerbium. Author ad Heren. Whens thou wylte.
Vndecentum. Plin. An hundzed ſauyng one.
Vndecéni, penul. prod. vndecenôrum, Adiectiuum, Idem quod Vndecim. Plin. Aleuen.
Vndécies, Aduerbium. Cic. A leuentimes.
Vndécimus, pen. cor. Adiectiuum. Plin. The leuenth.
Vndecirêmis, huius vndecirêmis, fœm. gen. pen. prod. Plin. A galey, hauyng a leuen owers in euery ſeate.
Vndêni, pen. prod. vndenôrum, Adiectiuum. Plin. Horat. The leuenth.
Vndeoctoginta natus annos. Horat. Foureſcore yeres olde ſauyng one.
Vndequadraginta, Adiect. indeclinabile. Liu. Nine & thirtie.
Vndequadrágies, Aduerbium. Plin. Nine & thirty times.
Vundequinquaginta. Adiectiuum indeclinabile. Liu. Nine and foztie.
Vndequinquagéſimus, pen. cor. Adiectiuum. Cic. The nyne and foztieth.
Vndeſexaginta, Adiectiuũ indeclinabile. Plin. Nyne & fiftie.
Vndetrigéſimus, pen. cor. Adiect. Liu. The nine & twenteth.
Vndeuicéſimus, pen. cor. Adiectiuum. Liu. The nynetenth.
Vndeuiginti, Adiectiuum indeclinabile. Liu. Nyneteen.
Vndeuiginti annos natus erat. Cic.

Vndique, pen.corr. Aduerbium. Cic. On euery ſide: from all places.
Quum vndique homines nequiſſimos conquiſiſſet, &c. Cic. when he had out of all corners gotten together &c.
Locus ſeptus vndique. Cic. Rounde about &c.
Cogunt auxilia vndique. Virg. They aſſemble ayde out of all partes.
Vndique aliquem proripere. Cic.
Honeſtas vndique perfecta atque abſoluta. Cic.
Mundus perfectus vndique eſt. Cic.
¶ Vita vndique referta bonis eſt. Cicero. Mans lyfe is full of good thinges on all partes.
Vndiquéſecus, pen. cor. Aduerbiũ, Idem quod Vndique. Solinus.
Vndiqueuerſum, Aliud aduerbiũ, Idem. Solinus. On euery ſide: rounde about.
Vnedo, pen. corr. vnedònis, pen. prod. fœ. gen. Plin. A kinde of fruite like an apple, bitter, and noyſome bothe to the head and ſtomake, ſo that a man can not eate paſſynge one at a time. Some vſe it for a crabbe.
Vngo, vngis, vnxi, vnctum, vngere: & Vnguo, vnguis, vngui, vnctum, vnguere, ſecundum Priſcianum. Cicer. To anoynte: to greaſe: to ſmere.
Vngi oliuo. Horat. To be anoynted with oyle.
Vngere vnguentis. Cic.
Vngi ex ceruſſa. Celſus. To be anoynted with &c.
Vngi & accumbere. Cic.
Vnctus, Participium, ſiue Nomen ex participio. Horat. Anoynted or greaſed: fattie: oyly.
Capillis vnctis puer. Horat.
Puer vnctis tractauit calicem manibus. Horat. with greaſe handes.
Oluſcula vncta pingui lardo. Horat.
Vnctus Squallido opponitur. Martialis. Moyſte.
Vnctior loquendi conſuetudo. Cicer. A more pleaſaunt and poliſhed maner of ſtyle.
Vnctito, vnctitas, pen. corr. vnctitâre, Frequẽtatiuum. Plaut. To anoynte often.
Vnctiúſculus, pen. corr. Diminut. ab Vnctus adiectiuo. Plautus. Fattie: oylie: greaſie.
Vnctio, vnctiônis, f. g. pen. prod. Verbale. Cic. A noyntinge.
Vnctor, vnctôris, penult. prod. Aliud verbale. Martialis. Cic. A noynter.
Vnctûra, vnctúræ, f. g. penult. prod. Idem qnod Vnctio. Cic. A noyntinge.
Vnctórius, Adiectiuum. Belongyng to anoyntinge. vt Vnctorium hypocauſton. Plinius iunior. A place nighe the hote houſe where men be anoynted.
Vnguentum, ti, n. g. quod & Vnguentum dicitur. An ointmẽt: a ſweete oyle or ointment.
Compoſitio vnguentorum. Cic. The makynge of &c.
Aderant vnguenta, coronæ, incendebantur odores. Cic.
Craſſum vnguentum. Horat. Lepidum. Plautus.
Nardinum, Vide NARDVS.
Moritur ſuis horis vnguentum. Plin.
Nitere vnguentis. Martial. To be trimmed with ſweete oyles and perfumes.
Perfricare caput ſuum vnguento. Cic.
Stillant vnguenta capillo. Tibull.
Vnguentâtus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Catull. Anoynted with ſweete oyle.
Vnguen, únguinis, pen. corr. n. g. Idem quod Vnguentum. Plinius. An ointment: any fatte thinge: fatte iuyce.
Pingues vnguine ceræ. Virgil.
Craſſo vitiarunt vnguine pultes. Perſ.
Pingui fluit vnguine tellus. Valer. Flac.
Vnguinôſus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Vnctious: that one maye anointe with. vt Vnguinoſum medicamentum. Plin.
Vnguentárius, vnguentárij, m. g. vel Vnguentaria, vnguẽtariæ. Cicero. He or the that maketh ſweete oyles.
Vnguentária, vnguentáriæ, f. g. Plautus. The craffte of makyng ſweete oyles.
Vnguentárius, Adiectiuum. Belongynge to ointmentes and ſweete oyles. vt Vnguentaria vaſa. Plinius.
Vnguis, huius vnguis, m. g. Ablatiuum habet vngue & vngui. Plinius. A nayle of the fingers or toes in man, birde, or beaſte: a claw: a talone: the houfe of an oxe or cow. A litle branche of a yonge ſhoote of a vine. A diſeaſe in the eye called an haw.
Vt ego vnguibus illi in oculos inuolem venefico. Terent.
Cibum partim vnguium tenacitate arripiunt, partim aduncitate roſtrorum. Cic.
Acuti vngues. Iuuenal.
Adunci. Plin. Crooked clawes or talons.
Formoſi. Propertius. Imbricati, Vide IMBREX.
Lati. Plin. Quini. Ouid.
Recuruus vnguis. Stat. Rigidus, Ouid.
Scaber. Ouid. Validi vngues. Val. Flac.
¶ Tenui vngui carptus flos. Catull.
Demere vngues, Vide DEMO.
Vngui tenero pueriliter florem decerpere. Propert.
Inſanis vnguibus diripere artus. Ouid.
Ire vnguibus in vultus alicui. Ouid. To ſteppe to one and ſcratch him by the face with hir nayles.
Aduncis vnguibus iras exercent volucres. Ouid. Birdes in their anger fight together with their talons or cleas.
Fœdans ora vnguibus. Virgil.
Lacerare vnguibus. Cic.
Hamatis vnguibus laniare ora alicuius. Ouid.
Notare genas vngue. Ouid. To ſcratch ones cheekes.
Curuis vnguibus petere vultus alicuius. Horat.
Ponere vngues. Horat. To pare his nayles.
Purgare vngues cultello. Horat. To trimme and pare his nayles.
Nigris vnguibus rapit hydrum coruus. Ouid.
Vngue rigente genas ſecare. Ouid.
Prauè ſectus vnguis. Horat. A nayle ill cutte.
Subſecare vngues docta manu. Tibull.
Vncis vnguibus timendæ volucres. Lucret.
¶ Vnguis pro Vngula. Colum. An houfe.
¶ Vngues. Colum. Litle branches of vine ſhootes.
Vnguis roſæ. Plin. The thicke white parte of a roſe leafe nexte the ſtalke.
Vnguis in Bdellio. Plin. A white flake in the gumme Bdellium.
¶ Vngues ferrei. Colum. Certayne yron hookes to gather grapes.
¶ Vnguem latum non diſcedere, aut Tranſuerſum digitum à re aliqua. Cic. Not to goe a nayles breadth from: Not to diſſent from, the leaſt thinge in the worlde.
¶ Ad vnguem, Vide A D præpoſitionem.
Ad vnguem factus homo, Vide A D præpoſitionem.
Ab imis vnguibus, Vide A B præpoſitionem.
Incipere ab vnguibus. Ex Baſilio.
De tenero vngui. Horat. From his infancie.
In vnguem commiſſæ futuræ, Vide I N præpoſitionem.
Vnguículus, vnguículi, m. g. pen. corr. Diminutiuum. Cicer. A tender ſofte nayle.
Mihi à teneris vnguiculis es cognitus. Cic. From my youth or infancie: euer ſens I was a litle one.
Vngula, úngulæ, f. g. pen. corr. Plin. The houfe of an horſe or other beaſte.
Veſtigium vngulæ equi. Cic. Caua vngula. Ouid.
Cornea. Lucan.
Dura. Ouid. Leuis. Ouid.
Vngula equi perculſa. Columel. The horſe houfe aſtonied.
Subtrita equi vngula. The horſe houfe worne. Cato.
Equus ſit duris vngulis, & altis, & concauis, rotundísque. Columella.
Fiſſa ferarum vngula. Lucret.
Soiida vngula. Plin. Magnæ bouis vngulæ. Colum.
Modicis vngulis vacca. Colum.
Quatit vngula campum quadrupedante ſonitu. Virg.
Cornu ſolido grauiter ſonat vngula. Virg.
Toto corpore atque omnibus vngulis, vt dicitur, contentioni vocis aſſeruiunt. Cicero. with the wholle bodie, & with all their force &c.
Vngulatus, ta, tum. That hath foule greate nayles.
Vngulum, li, n. g. A ringe or thimble to ſow with.
Vnicalamus, Vnicaulis, Vnicolor, Vnicornis, Vnicus, Vnigenitus, Vnijugæ, Vnimanus, &c. Vide V N V S.

Vnio, vniônis, pen. prod. m. g. Plin. A perle.
¶ Vnio. Colum. An oynion.
Vnioculus, Vniſtirpis, Vnitas, Vniter, Vniuerſus, &c. Vniuocus, Vniuſmodi, &c. Vide V N V S.
Vnoculus, Vide Vnioculus in V N V S.
Vnquam, Aduerbium. Terent. Any time: euer.
Vnquam hodie. Any time to daye: or all this day. Plautus, Neque ego hunc hominem hodie ad ædes has ſinam vnquam accedere.
Vnquam gentium. Cicero, Quis homo te exuperauit vnquã gentiũ impudentia? what man did euer in all the worlde paſſe the in impudencie?
Rarò vnquam poſſunt ante iudicium ſcire, quid teſtis dicturus ſit. Quintil.
Semel vnquam. Plin. Neuer but once.
Ita ſim afflictus, vt nemo vnquam. Cicer. As neuer man was in the worlde.
Non vnquam grauis ære domum mihi dextra redibat. Hoc eſt, nunquam. Virg.
Vnus, vna, vnum, vnius genitiuum facit pen. prod. ſed quum opus eſt, corripitur. Ouid. One: alone.
¶ Illum curo vnum. Terent. I paſſe or care for him alone.
Mihi vni commodus. Horat. To me only.
Vnus, pro Solus, genitiuo aliquando iungitur, & ferè cum adiectiuo Omnis. Cicero, Diceres vnum omnium loquaciſſimum. Thou wouldeſt ſaye he weare the greateſt babbler of them all.
Nigidio vni omnium doctiſſimo, &c. Cicer. Of all the other beſt learned.
Vnus multorum. Horat.
Ab vnis hoſtium copijs bellum geri. Cic.
Ad vnum, Vide A D præpoſitionem.
Aderit vnà in vnis ædibus. Terent. In one houſe.
Quaſi vna ætas erat. Plaut. They weare all, as it weare, of one age.
Vtilitati hominum plus quàm vnius alicuius, aut ſuæ cõſulit. Cic. He regardeth more the generall commoditie of men, then of any one man, or of himſelfe.
Confugere ad vnum aliquem virtute præſtantem. Cic.
Dicit vnus & alter breuiter. Cicero. One or two ſayeth briefely &c.
In vno aut altero die. Cic. In a day or two.
Vnus & item alter. Terent. Firſt one and then an other.
Vnus, alter, plures dies. Cic. A day, two, many dayes.
Vnum, alterum menſem, propè annum. Cic. A moneth, two monethes, almoſt an wholle yere.
Vnus, alter, tertius. Quint. The firſt, the ſecõde, the thirde.
Vna, de vita & moribus: altera, de natura & rebus occultis: tertia, de diſſerendo. Cic.
Vnus, pro Alter. Cic. The one of the two.
Vnum exuta pedem vinclis. Virg.
-vna iniuria eſt Tecum, altera eſt tecum Chreme. Terent. I haue one quarel with thee, and an other with thee Chremes.
Vno animo omnes ſocrus oderunt nurus. Terent. with one minde and affection &c.
Vna atque eadẽ nox erat. Cic. It was the very ſame night.
Eiuſdem vnius aut plurium verborum iteratio. Author ad Herennium.
Vnus nullus. Cicero, Niſi Virginius interueniſſet, vnum ſignum Byzantij ex maximo numero nullũ haberent. The citizens of Byzance of a great number of tables ſhould not haue one.
Vno cantharo potare. Plaut. To drynke in one tankarde.
Cum vno forti viro loquor. Cic. I talke with one valiaunt man.
Vnus de multis. Cic. One of the common ſorte.
Vnus de illis. Cic. One of them.
Sapiens vnus de ſeptem. Colum. One of the ſeuen ſages.
Rure dum ſum ego vnos ſex dies. Plautus. while I am only ſixe dayes in the countrey.
Vna è multis. Virg. Vnus è populo. Seneca.
Vnus è vulgo. Quintil. One of the common people.
Vnus ex multis. Plaut.
Te vnum ex omnibus amat. Plaut. He loueth you only of all other.
Vnus erat timendus ex omnibus. Cicer. He was only of all other to be feared.
Efficere penè vnum ex duobus. Cicer. To make almoſte one of two.
Vno exemplo omnes viuunt. Plaut. They liue all after one ſorte.
Quum ego pro his vnis petam. Cic. when as I deſire only for them.
Omnibus hic erit vnus honos. Virgil. They all ſhall haue this only honour.
Vno ictu. Plaut. At one ſtroke.
Coire in vnum. Virgil.
Colligere & conferre omnia in vnum. Author ad Heren.
Simplex & vnius modi. Cic. Single, and of one ſorte.
Vnis moribus. Cicer. They keepe one facion of maners ſtil, and chaunge not.
Vna opera. Plaut. All at ones: with one labour.
Omnibus vna quies operũ, labor omnibus vnus. Virg. They had all one like reſt &c.
Vna harum quæuis cauſa me vt faciam, monet. Terent. Any one of all theſe cauſes &c.
Si tu ſolus, aut quiuis vnus. Cic.
Vno quoque gradu. Cic. At euery ſteppe.
Pergo ad alios, venio ad alios, deinde ad alios: vna res. Plaut. The matter is all one.
Vna hæc ſpes, vbi vbi eſt, diu celari non poteſt. Terent. This is my only hope.
Vno tempore. Cic. At one time.
Vno verbo eloquere. Plaut. Tell me at one worde.
Vnus, vllus. Cicero, Ratũ ſit quod finitor vni vlli, à quo miſſus erit, renuntiarit. To any one.
Vna voce Senatus frequens retinendum me in vrbe cenſuit. Cic. with one voyce or conſent.
¶ Vnum, in neutro genere. Terentius, Hoc ego ſcio vnum, neminem peperiſſe hîc. This one thynge I know &c.
Vnum hoc ſcio, hanc meritã eſſe, vt memor eſſes ſui. Terent.
Vnum venit in mentem modó. Plaut.
Vnum quicquid, quod quidem erit belliſſimum, carpam. Terent. I will take a morſell of euery thinge, that is beſte and moſt pleaſaunt.
Vnum aliquid inſigniter facere. Plin. iunior.
Vnuſquiſque, vnaquæque, vnumquodque, & vnumquidque. Cic. Euery one.
Eadem ſit vtilitas vniuſcuiuſque & vniuerſorum. Cic.
Sigillatim vnicuique calamitati fore ſe denuntiabat. Cic.
Vnicálamus, pen. corr. Adiectiuum. That hath but one ſtemme or ſtraw growyng out of the roote. vt Frumentum vnicalamum. Plin.
Vnicaulis, & hoc vnicaule. Plin. That hath but one ſtalke without braunches.
Vnícolor, pen. corr, vnicolôris, pen. prod. om. gen. Plin. Ouid. Of one colour.
Vnicornis, huius vnicornis, maſc. gen. ſiue Vnicornius, vnicornij, vel Vnicornium, vnicornij. Plin. The beaſte called an Vnicorne.
Vnicornis, & hoc vnicorne. Plin. That hath but one horne.
Vnicus, pen. corr. Adiectiuum. Cic. One alone: ſingular.
Marito vnico gaudens mulier. Horat.
Nequitia & malitia vnica. Author ad Heren. Singuler wickednelle and naughtineſſe.
Attribuere aliquibus turpitudinem vnicam. Author ad Herennium.
Vnicè, pen. corr. Aduerbium. Plaut. Onely: eſpecially: ſingularly.
Quem vnicè diligo. Cic.
Qui te vnicè laudarent. Cic.
Amauit vnicè patriam. Cic.
Vnigénitus, vnigéniti, pen. corr. maſc. gen. The only begotten: one childe without moe.
Vnígena, vnígenæ, pen. corr. com. gen. Catull. Begotten of one only, as Pallas.
Vnijugæ, pen. corr. vineæ. Plin. Vines, in the whiche vpon the proppes beyng ſet vp, ſundrie rayles are layed on the one ſide only.

Vníma-

Vnímanus,pen.corr. Adiectiuũ. Liu. That hath but one hãde.
Vnióculus,vnióculi,pen.cor. m.gen. Plaut. That hath but one eye.
Legitur & Vnoculus. Gellius, Cyclops vnoculus fuit.
Vniſtirpis,& hoc vniſtirpe. Plin. That hath but one ſtemme.
Vnitas,pen.corr. vnitâtis,f.g. Colum. Vnitie: vnityng or ioyg=nyng of two thinges or moe together.
Vnitas aluei. Plin. when a riuer hath but one chanell, and is not deuided into many branches.
Latæ ſolitudinis indiſcreta vnitas facta eſt. Quintil. There is nowe made one wide ſolitarie fielde, where before many inhabited.
Vnitas foliorum permanet. Plin. The ſame leaues cõtinew ſtill, and chaunge not.
Vnitas facta eſt. Celſus. The brimmes of the wounde are growen cloſe together ageyne.
Vnitas fit. Plin. Two notches are made as one.
Vnitatem lapidis variare. Plin. To make a ſtone of diuers colours, that was before but of one.
In vnitatem venire. Plin. To be vnited: to come to vnitie: to be no more at variance.
¶ Vnitas. Seneca. Concorde: vnitie.
¶ Vnitas, Indiſcreta ſimilitudo. Plin. The likeneſſe of two thinges, of which one can not be diſcerned frõ an other.
Vnio,iui,ire. To ioyne together: to vnite.
Vnio,onis, f.g. Concorde.
Vnipes,pedis. That hath but one foote.
Vnitio,onis,f.g. A ioyninge together.
Vnîtus,ta,tum. Joygned: vnited.
Vniter,pen.corr. Aduerbium. Lucret. Together in one.
Vniuerſus,Adiectiuum. Cic. Vniuerſall: all without exception.
Vniuerſi. Cic. All together.
Eadem ſit vtilitas vniuſcuiuſque & vniuerſorum. Cic. Lette the profite of euery particular man, and of all ingenerall be all one.
Excipere vnum pro vniuerſis. Cic.
Familia vniuerſa. Cic. The wholle familie.
Mare vniuerſum. Cic. All the wholle ſea.
Contra naturam vniuerſam nihil eſt contendendum. Cic.
Cõmunis rerum natura, vniuerſa atq; omnia continens. Cic.
Vniuerſa vita. Cic.
Pars & Vniuerſum, contraria. Cic.
Vniuerſum in partes diuidere. Cic.
Separatim,& Cum vniuerſis, contraria. Cic.
Singula & Vniuerſa, contraria. Cic.
Singulatim collecta, vniuerſa perdere. Cic. To leeſe that all together, whiche one hath gotte by little and little, one after an other.
In vniuerſum, Vide IN præpoſitionem.
Vniuerſẽ, Aduerbium, Vniuerſally: generally: all together, cui Sigillatim opponitur. Cic.
De ciuium Romanorum ſupplicijs ſigillatim potius quàm generatim atque vniuerſẽ loquar. Cic.
Vniuerſâlis,& hoc vniuerſâle, pen. prod. Author ad Heren. Vniuerſall: belongyng to all.
Vniuérſitas,pen.corr. vniuerſitâtis,f.g. Cic. Vniuerſitie: generalitie: the whole ſtate: all ingenerall.
De ruſticationis vniuerſitate nihil attinet nunc plura dicere. Columel. To ſpeake generally of huſbandrie.
Si quando in partibus laborabimus, vniuerſitate pugnandũ eſt. Quintil.
Rerum vniuerſitas. Cic. The whole frame of the worlde cõteyninge all thinges.
De vniuerſitate libri pronuntiare. Plin. iunior. To tell his iudgement of the whole booke ingenerall.
Corpus vniuerſitatis. Cic. The whole worlde.
Vniuerſipotentia,æ,f.g. Power ouer all.
Vniúſmodi, penult. corr. Nomen indeclinabile. Terent. Of one ſorte or facion: like.
Materia ſemper eſt vniuſmodi, ſuíque ſimilis. Cic.
Principes ſunt vniuſmodi,& ſimplices. Cic.

V O

Vocabulum, Vocalis, Vocamen, Vocatiuus, Vocator, Vociferor, Vocito, Voco, &c. Vide V O X.

Voconia, Genera ſunt pyrorum apud Plinium. A kinde of peares.
Vocula, Diminutiuum à vox, Vide V O X.
Volgiuagus, Vide V V L G V S.
Vola, volæ, fœ. ge. Plin. The palme of the hande, or ſole of the foote.
Volatile, Volaticus, &c. Vide V O L O, volas.
Volema, pen. prod. volemôrum, n. gen. Virg. Great peares: wardens.
Volgiolum, volgíoli, n.g. pen. corr. Inſtrumentum eſt ruſticũ apud Plinium. A certaine inſtrument of huſbãdrie to make the grounde ſmooth: a rollar.
Volo, volas, volâre. Virgil. To flee: to renne or goe quickely, or faſt.
Volare membranis dicuntur cicadæ & veſpertiliones. Plin. To flee with thinne winges.
Altè volare, Demiſſius volare, contraria. Ouid.
Cateruatim volare. Plin. Gregatim volare. Quintil.
¶ Nauis volat. The ſhippe flitteth, or ſayleth ſwiftely.
Ne me fruſtrà illic expectet, vola. Terent. Renne apace: high the &c.
Paſſu volat alite virgo. Ouid.
Volat ætas. Cic. Our age paſſeth apace.
Volat vi feruidus axis. Virg.
Dicta magna volant ſuperbo. Valer. Flac.
Faces & ſaxa volant. Virg. Fama volat. Virg.
Volant literæ. Cic. Letters be caried with great ſpeede.
Spiritus volat altus in auras. Ouid.
Tela volãt. Ouid. Dartes flee or are hurled one at an other.
Volat telorum vis. Liu.
Volans, Participium. Fleeyng: goeyng or rennyng ſwiftely. vt,
Curru volans. Virg. Currus agitare volantes. Ouid.
Inhibere equos volantes. Ouid. Fumi volantes. Lucret.
Haſta volans. Sil. Sagitta volans. Ouid.
Nubes volantes. Lucret. Vmbræ volantes. Ouid.
¶ Volantes, loco ſubſtantiui, pro auibus. Virg. Fowle.
Vólito, vólitas, penult. corr. volitâre, Frequentatiuum. Plin. To flee often.
Paſſim ac liberè volitare. Cic.
Super carpentum volitare. Liu.
Fauillæ volitant. Ouid.
Vmbræ volitant inter viuos. Lucret.
Voces volitant per aures. Lucret.
Circum latè volitans fama. Virg.
Animus vacuus cura atque labore volitat. Cic.
¶ Volitare, per tranſlationem. Tacit. To renne in and out, to and fro often.
Cupiditate gloriæ volitare. Cic. To enaunte himſelfe greatly through the deſire of glorie.
Ante oculos alicuius volitare. Cic.
In armis volitare. Cic.
Vt volitaretis interea per gentes, per regna omnia. Cic.
Per forum volitare. Cicer. To be often or ordinarily in the common place goeyng to and fro.
Toto foro volitare. Liu.
Tota vrbe volitare. Cic. To ſette to and fro in all the citie.
Per ora virorũ dicitur aliquis volitare. Cic. To be famous, and much ſpoken of.
Per auras volitare. Martial.
Volâtus, huius volâtus, m.g. pen. prod. Cic. A fleeyng.
Celer volatus. Claud.
Leuis. Ouid. Sublimis. Stat.
Pegaſeo volatu ferri. Catul. Suſpenſus. Stat.
Præceps. Martial. Vagus. Claudian.
In volatu, Vide IN præpoſitionem.
Volatûra, volatúræ, pen. prod. Idem. Varro.
A volatura, ita vt capitur, farturæ deſtinatur. Columel. Euen by and by ſo ſoone as he is taken after his fleeyng &c.
Volucer, cris, cre. Any thynge that fleeth: ſwifte: light. Vide ſuo loco.
Voláticus, pen. corr. Adiectiuum. Cicer. That fleeth, or goeth away ſodainely: flittyng: vnconſtant.
Illius furentes ac volaticos impetus, &c. Cic.
Volátilis,& hoc volátile, pen. corr. Cic. That fleeth, or cã flee.
Aetas volatilis. Ouid. Age paſſynge ſwiftely.

Ferrum volatile. Virg. A darte fleeyng in the ayer.
Pecus volatile. Colum. A flocke of birdes.
Telum volatile mittere. Ouid.
Volo, vis, vult, vólui, velle. Virg. I will or am willynge: my will or minde is: to wishe.
Volo te, Subaudi, alloqui: &, Volo te paucis, aut tribus verbis. Plaut. I will speake a woorde or two with you.
Te tribus verbis volo. Plautus. I would speake euen three woordes with you.
Velint nolint. Plin. iun. will they, nill they: wheather they will or noe.
Velit nolit, scire difficile est. Cic. It is harde to know, wheather he will or noe.
Volo Arpinum. Sub. proficisci. Cic.
Id volumus, id contendimus, vt officij fructus sit ipsum officium. Cicer. This is our minde, this we earnestly indeuour &c.
¶ Quem locũ volo tibi esse notum. Brutus ad Ciceronem. which place I woulde haue you to know.
Clementer volo, Vide CLEMENS.
Leuiter bene velle alicui, Vide LEVIS.
Magis vellem, Vide MAGIS.
Minimè vellem, Vide MAGIS.
Minimè volo, Vide PARVVS.
Nimis vellem, Vide NIMIS. Nimiũ volo, Vide NIMIS.
Volo omnia tua causa. Cic. I will doo all for your sake, that I can possibly: I desire to doe you any pleasure, that I can possibly.
Volo valde eius causa. Cic. I desire greatly to doo him pleasure.
Volo tua causa, absoluté. Cic. I desire or couette to doo you pleasure: I beare you hartie good will.
Quid vultis amplius? Cic. what woulde you haue more?
Volo tibi hunc honorem Deum fortunare. Cic. I pray god prosper you in that honour or dignitie.
Volo tuam gratiam. Plaut. I desire to be in your fauour.
Rem volo defensam: id est, cupio defendi. Cic.
Volo me excusatum istis. Cic. I woulde desire them to holde me excused.
Volo vos oratos esse. Plaut. I would desire you.
Ea te cura liberatum volo. Cic.
Volo honoris causa eum nominatum. Cicer. I would haue him named for honours sake.
Vt veniret miles, velim. Plaut. I would gladly haue the souldiour come.
Est paucis vos quod monitos voluerim, Plautus. I haue a woorde or two to aduertice you.
Rempub. velle saluam. Mattius ad Ciceronem.
¶ Quatuor naturas ex quo omnia constare censet, diuinas esse vult. Cic. He is of this minde or opinion &c.
¶ Quid sibi vult istud? Cic. what meaneth this?
Nec satis intellexi quid sibi verba ista vellent. Cic.
Volens, Participium. Liu. willinge: readie: glaode.
Volenti animo. Salust. with a good will.
Voluntas, voluntâtis. Cic. will: affection: minde.
Nihil tam flexibile, quàm voluntas. Cic.
Nihil obscurius voluntate hominum. Cic.
Quantam voluntatem habent ad hunc opprimendum. Cic.
De sua voluntate erga Cæsarem. Cicer. Of his good will that he had to doo pleasure or seruice to Cæsar.
¶ Voluntate, ablatiuus. Cic. Of my owne good will, without constrainte.
Sua voluntate, nulla vi coactus. Cic.
Voluntate omnium. Cic. By the consent and good will &c.
Frater meus summa illorum voluntate diuertit. Cic.
De mea voluntate, Vide DE præpositionem.
Ex voluntate alicuius aliquid facere. Cic. To doo a thyng according as one woulo haue him.
Legis voluntas. Quintil. The meanyng of the law.
¶ Abdita voluntas ac retrusa, Vide Abditus in ABDO.
Animosa. Ouid. Auersa. Virg. Dubia, Tacit.
Grata voluntas in parentes. Cic.
Malefica. Plin. Mutua. Cic.
Non pauper. Ouid. Occulta. Cic.
Officiosa. Ouid. Perpetua & constans. Cic.

Propensa. Sil. Singularis. Cic.
¶ Abalienare voluntatem, Vide ABALIENO.
Abhorret voluntas eius à me. Cicer. He can not abide me in his hearte.
Abijcere voluntatẽ discẽdi. Cic. To cast of desire to learne.
Accidit voluntas, Vide ACCIDO.
Accipere parem voluntatem, Vide ACCIPIO.
Accommodare voluntatem. Vlpianus. To geue his will and consent.
Adducere in voluntatem, Vide ADDVCO.
Adiuuare voluntatem. Cic.
Alienare à se voluntates suorum. Cæs. Cic.
Auferre voluntatem, Vide AVFERO.
Conciliare sibi voluntatem, Vide CONCILIO.
Conformare se ad alicuius voluntatem. Vide CONFORMO.
Conglutinare voluntates consuetudine. Cic. By familiaritie to ioygne men in good will and frendshippe.
Facere voluntatem. Quintil.
Ita fert corde voluntas. Virg. Such is my will.
Habere voluntatem nocendi. Cic.
Immutare voluntatem. Cic.
Impetrare aliquid voluntate, Vide IMPETRO.
Incitata aduersa ratione voluntas. Cic.
Introspicere voluntates hominum. Tacit.
Loqui ad voluntatem, Vide LOQVOR.
Manet voluntas. Cic.
Nuncupata voluntas, Vide NVNCVPO.
Remittere aliquid voluntate. Liu.
Scrutari alicuius voluntatem. Quintil.
Spectata voluntas amicitiæ. Lucret.
Stare voluntate. Quintil. To stay or rest vpon ones will.
Diuersa voluntas est mihi. Ouid. I am of a contrarie, or of an other minde.
Temeraria est nostra voluntas. Ouid.
¶ Voluntas vestra si ad poetam accesserit. Terent. If you doo fauour our poete.
Offensa voluntas populi, Vide OFFENDO.
Voluntârius, Adiectiuum. Cic. Voluntarie: willynge: that is of ones owne accorde.
Ferocissimus quisque iuuenum cum armis voluntarius adest. Liu. The fiercest yonge men weare in armure readie of their owne good will.
Amicus voluntarius. Cic. Auxilia voluntaria. Cic.
Casus voluntarius. Cic.
Exitus voluntarius. Tacit. A voluntarie death.
Herba voluntaria: cui opponitur Satiua. Plinius. An hearbe growyng naturally without sowynge.
Inimicus voluntarius. Cic. An enemie without any occasion geuen.
Interitus voluntarius. Cic. Laudator voluntarius. Cic.
Maleficium voluntarium. Cic.
Mors voluntaria. Cic. A voluntarie death.
Motus animi voluntarius. Cic.
Obliuione voluntaria aliquid conterere. Cicer. willingely to forget and treade vnder foote.
Oratio necessaria & Voluntaria, contraria. Cic.
Societas voluntaria. Cic.
Testes voluntarij. Quintil. witnesses commynge of themselues without procuryng.
Virtutes voluntariæ. Cic.
Voluntariè, siue Voluntariò, Aduerbium. Cæsar. Readily: willingly: promptely: with a readie good minde.
Volones, m. g. Liu. They that offer thẽselue willingly to goe to the warres.
Volsella, volsellæ, siue Vulsella, vulsellæ, f. g. Celsus. An instrument to pluche heares from the bodie or face: a pincers.
Volua, voluæ, Vide VVLVA. Plin.
Volubilis, Volubilitas, &c. Vide VOLVO.
Volucer, hæc vólucris, hoc vólucre, pen. corr. Virg. Any thyng that fleeth: swifte: light.
Alæ volucres. Stat. Currus volucer. Horat.
Aquæ volucres. Ouid. Swifte rennyng waters.
Auræ volucres. Virg. Cursus volucer. Ouid.
Columba volucris. Virg.
Dies volucris. Horat. Passyng quickely away.

Equi

Equi volucres. Ouid. Swifte.
Fortuna volucris. Cic. Flittyng and vnconstant fortune.
Fuga volucris. Sil.
Fumi volucres. Virg.
Leuitas volucris. Lucret.
Nuntius volucer. Cic.
Procellæ volucres. Ouid.
Rotæ volucres. Claud.
Sagitta volucris. Virg. A swifte arow light of flight.
Saltus volucer. Stat.
Somnus volucer. Virg.
Vox volucris. Plaut.

Vólucris, huius vólucris, pen. corr. fœm. gen. All thynge that doth flee: a fowle: a birde: a flie: a waspe.
Nidus volucrum. Ouid.
¶ Aduenæ volucres, Vide ADVENIO.
Aeriæ. Lucret.
Auidæ. Ouid.
Canoræ. Ouid.
Flumineæ. Ouid. Birdes of the riuer: water fowle.
Fœda volucris. Ouid.
Garrulæ. Seneca.
Importunæ volucres. Virg.
Infandæ. Stat.
Vaga. Ouidius.
Obscœnæ. Virg.
Peregrinæ. Ouid.
Pictæ. Virgil. Of diuers colours.
Picturatæ. Claud.
Rapidissima volucris, miluius. Ouid.
Raucarum volucrum nubes. Virgil. Thicke flockes &c.
Variæ volucres. Virg. Birdes of diuers colours.
¶ Conflictatæ volucres sæuissima hyeme. Cic.
Fallere volucres viscata virga. Ouid.
Lacerant corpus volucres. Lucret.
Linguas volucrum sentire. Virgil. To vnderstande birdes language.

Volucra, volúcræ, s. g. pen. prod. Colum. A vermine that eateth tender vines.
Volucrum. The after birthe of a woman.
Volumen, &c. Vide VOLVO.
Voluntas, Voluntarius, &c. Vide VOLO.

Voluo, voluis, volui, volûtũ, pen. prod. vóluere. Plin. To folde: to wrappe: to tourne: to tumble: To caste or thinke in the minde.
Quàm citatissimè voluere. Quintil.
In caput volui. Virg. To tumble with the head forwarde.
In præceps volui. Ouid. To tumble or be cast downe headlonge.
Ante pedes alicuius volui. Propert. To lie prostrate at ones feete.
Amnis præceps voluitur per deuia. Sil. The riuer renneth swiftely or violently downe &c.
Annus voluitur in se. Virg. The yere goeth rounde, and retourneth to the beginnyng agayne.
Flammæ voluuntur per culmina. Virgil. The flames of fier renneth on the toppes of the houses, frõ one to an other.
Collectumque premens voluit sub naribus ignem. Virgilius. The horse with knowyng foorth hote breath sheweth his fierce courage.
Ignis voluitur summa ad fastigia. Virg.
Aestus incendia voluunt. Virg. The fiers caste great flashes of heate.
Lachrymæ voluuntur inanes. Virg. Teares tumble downe in vayne.
Libros voluere. Cicer. To tourne bookes: to reade bookes diligently.
Venti voluunt mare. Virgil. The windes make the sea to tumble with waues.
Oculos per singula voluit. Virg. He casteth his eyes or looketh rounde about.
Orbem voluere. Liu. To tumble or goe rounde.
Puluis voluitur ad muros. Virg.
Saxum ingens voluunt alij. Virgil.
Semianimes voluuntur equi. Virg. Fall downe.
¶ Facilè soluteque verbis voluere sententias. Cic.
Complexio verborum, quæ volui vno spiritu potest. Cicero. That may be roundly pronounced with one breath.
¶ Voluere. Virg. To caste and reuolue in the minde.
Casus voluere. Virg.
Curas multiplices animo voluebat. Catull.
Fluctus curarum voluere in pectore. Lucret. To haue his minde tossed and troubled with care: to reuolue and cast to and fro many carefull thoughtes in his minde.
Cogitationes voluere. Liu. To thinke or cast many thinges in his minde.
Secum aliquid voluere. Liu. To caste and reuolue a thinge in his minde.
Iras in pectore voluere. Liu. To frette, and to tosse in his herte diuers angrie panges.
Voluere cum animo. Salust. To thinke with himselfe.

Voluens, voluentis, Participium, siue Nomẽ ex participio. Virg. Tourninge: wrappynge: rennyng rounde: thinkinge in the minde.
Oculos huc illuc voluens. Virg. Castynge or tournynge his eyes now this way, now that way.
Sensus varios voluens. Valer. Flac. Castinge diuers thinges in his minde.
Celeriter sanè verba voluens. Cic.
Plaustra voluentia. Virg. Rollynge wagens.

Voluendus, Aliud participium. Virg. To be rolled or tumbled.

Volûtus, pen. prod. Item participium. Tumbled. rolled. vt
Fluctus volutus ad terras. Virg. A waue rollynge towarde the bankes.
Amnis per saxa volutus. Virg. Rennyng by &c.

Volûto, volútas, pen. prod. volutâre, Frequentatiuum. Columel. To tourne lynge: to walowe: to tumble: to reuolue and tosse in the minde.
In puluere volutari. Varro. To walowe in the duste: to be tumbled in the duste.
Herinacei volutati supra iacentia poma. Plin.
Circum terram volutari. Cic. To tumble rounde about the earth.
In luto volutari. Cic. To walow and tumble in the moyer.
Genibus volutans. Virg. Fallynge on his knees.
¶ In stupris volutatur, per trãslationẽ. Cic. He walowreth in.
In omni genere & scelerum & flagitiorum volutari. Cic. To walow, or line continually &c.
Liberè cum scortis volutari. Cic. At his pleasure to liue cõtinually in horedome.
In omni dedecore volutari. Author ad Heren.
¶ In veteribus scriptis studiosè volutari. Cicer. To be alway diligently conuersant in readinge auncient writers.
Animũ cogitationibus volutare. Liu. To cast diuers thinges with himselfe: to reuolue diuers thinges in his minde.
¶ Secum volutare aliquid. Virgil. To thynke of a thynge by himselfe.
In animo volutare, Idem. Liu.
Secum animo aliquid volutare, Idem. Liu.
Cum tristi corde volutat hæc. Virg.
Dolos dirumque volutat corde nefas. Valer. Flac.
Mente quædam volutat. Lucret.
Vocem volutant per atria. Virg. They shoute for ioye, that all the palayce ringeth with it.
In secreto cum amicis aliquid volutare. Liu. To talke or cõmon of a thinge secretely with his frendes.

Volutâtus, pen. prod. Participium. That hath rolled or tũbled in a place. Cicero. In quibus te video volutatum.

Volutâtus, huius volutátus, m. g. pen. prod. Plin. A rollyng or tumblynge: a walowynge.

Volutátio, volutatiõnis, f. g. Verbale, Idem. Plin.
Volutationes corporis. Cic.

Volutâtim, pen. prod. Aduerbium. Plaut. with tumblynge and tossynge: rollingely.

Volutâbrum, volutábri, pen. prod. n. g. Virgil. A place wheare swine doo walow.

Volúbilis, & hoc volúbile penult. corr. Plin. That is or may be easely tumbled or rolled: vnconstant: mutable.
Amnis volubilis. Horat. A rennynge ruer.
Cælum volubile. Cic. Alway turnynge.
Fortuna volubilis. Cic. Vnconstant and mutable fortune.
Homo volubilis quadam præcipiti celeritate dicendi. Cic. A man that hath a rounde and flowynge vtterance &c.
Malum volubile. Ouid. A rounde apple.
Nexus volubiles. Ouid. The crooked windinges of a serpent gatheringe himselfe together.
Canorus orator & volubilis. Cic. An oratour hauing a stille voyce and rounde pronuntiation.

Volubilis, lis, f. g. A weede rennyng vp by trees and herbes hauyng redde branches, and the leaues bitinge the tonge.

Volubílitas, pen. corr. volubilitátis, f. g. Cic. The tournyng of a thinge: volubilitie: inconstancie.

Volubilitas mundi. Cic.

Qui protruſit cylindrum, dedit ei principium motionis, volubilitatem autem non dedit. Cicer. But the facilitie to tourne rounde, or the apteneſſe to rolle he gaue not.

Deus cælum ad volubilitatem rotundauit. Cic.

Fracta volubilitas capitis latiſſima. Ouid. The roundneſſe of the heade was broken.

Volubilitas fortunæ. Cicer. The mutabilitie and continuall chaungeyng of fortune.

Volubilitas linguæ. Cic. Rounde or quicke ſpeakyng, without impediment or staggerynge.

Volubilitas verborum. Cic. The fallyng and rounde goeyng of woordes by measure of feete in a ſtyle.

Volubíliter, pen. corr. Aduerbium. Cic. Rollingely: roundely: with a certaine measure in fallynge.

Volûmen, pen. prod. volúminis, neut. gen. Ouid. A booke: a volume. A foldinge or windinge.

Volumen epiſtolarum. Cic.

° Referre epiſtolas in volumina. Cic. To gather epiſtles into bookes.

Annoſa volumina vatum. Horat. The olde bookes &c.

Lintea volumina. Plin.

Plenum volumen querelæ iniquiſſimæ. Cic.

¶ Conficere volumina. Cic. To make or wryte bookes.

Creſcit magnitudo voluminis. Author ad Heren.

Explicare volumen. Cic. To opẽ a booke: to vnfolde a rolle.

Impendere tota volumina in diſputationem, Vide IMPENDO.

Implere volumen oraculis falſis. Cic.

Peragere volumina, Vide PERAGO.

¶ Immenſa vinclorum volumina. Virg. The great knottes and windinges about &c.

Celeri volumine cælum torquet ſydera. Ouid. The ſkie turneth the sterres ſwiftely about.

Sinuare volumina crurum. Virgil. To lifte vp the legges rounde, as a good horſe doth.

Sinuant terga volumine angues. Virgil. Snakes crooke and winde themſelues into rundels.

Trahere volumina dicuntur angues. Virgil. To winde and crooke themſelues in creepyng.

Curuata volumina. Sil. Glomerata. Sil.

Tortuoſa. Gellius.

Sinuoſa volumina verſat ſerpens. Virg.

Volumina nigri fumi infecere diem. Ouid. The clowdes of ſmoke tourninge in the ayer darkened the day.

¶ Volumina ſortis humanæ. Plin. The tournyng and mutabilitie of mans state.

Voluox, voluócis, pen. prod. m. gen. Vermis qui & Connoluolus dicitur, & Inuoluolus, & Volucra. Plin. A little wourme with many legges eatinge the leaues of vines or other trees: a catterpillar.

Voluptas, voluptâtis, pen. prod. Voluptie: pleaſure: delite: ſenſualitie: inordinate delectation in worldly thinges.

Voluptatem magnam nuntias. Terent. Thou tellest me verie good tidinges.

Omne id quo gaudemus, voluptas eſt: vt omne quo offendimur, dolor. Cic.

Lætitia & voluptas. Cic.

Sapientium voluptates remiſſæ & modeſtæ, ac penè languidæ ſunt, compreſſæq; , & vix notabiles: vt quæ neque accerſitæ veniant, nec quanuis per ſe acceſſerint, in honore ſint, neque vllo gaudio percipientiũ exceptæ. Miſcent enim illas & interponũt vitæ, vt ludũ iocúmq; inter feria. Seneca.

Dicendi voluptates. Quintil.

Voluptas abdominis. Cic. Pleaſure of bealie cheere.

Voluptas in bibendo. Cic.

Voluptas mea. Blandientis vox. Plaut. My ſweete harte: my delite and ſolace.

Amœniſſima voluptas. Cic. Blanda voluptas. Lucret.

Communis. Quintil. Dia voluptas. Lucret.

Veneris damnoſa voluptas. Ouid.

Diuina voluptas. Lucret. Pleaſure in contemplation of heauenly thinges.

Egregia. Iuuenal. Grata. Ouid.

Ignara curarum voluptas. Stat.

Inanis. Gellius. Incredibilis. Cic.

Ineruditæ voluptates. Quintil.

Inimica virtuti voluptas. Sil.

Inſatiabilis voluptas. Cic. Iucunda. Lucret.

Liquida & libera, Vide LIQVOR, liquoris.

Liquida & pura. Lucret. Meere pleaſure not mixed with any ſorow or griefe.

Mediocris. Cic. Perpetua. Cic.

Miſeranda. Stat. Pura. Lucret.

Pura voluptas literarum. Quintil.

Poeticæ voluptates. Quiotil.

Reſupina voluptas. Quintil. Slothfull ſenſualitie.

Sobria ac ſicca. Seneca.

Nulla eſt ſyncera voluptas. Ouid. There is no pleaſure without ſome griefe.

Torua voluptas frontis. Claud.

Turpis atque improba voluptas. Gell.

Vera voluptas. Lucret.

Viua voluptas prati. Claud. The liuely delectation in beholdinge a pleaſant meade garniſhed with flowers.

¶ Accipere voluptatem, Vide ACCIPIO.

Adiungere voluptatem ad virtutem, Vide ADIVNGO.

Afferre voluptatem. Plin.

Architectari voluptatem, Vide ARCHITECTOR.

Aſſumere voluptatem, Vide ASSVMO.

Bacchari in voluptate. Cic.

Voluptatem eius capio. Plin. iun. I take great pleaſure in him.

Capitur mihi mente voluptas. Ouid.

Capi voluptate. Cic. To be delighted.

Captare voluptatem, Vide Capto in CAPIO.

Carere voluptatibus, Vide CAREO.

Quóque quid natura magis aſperum, hoc pluribus condiendum eſt voluptatibus. Quintil.

Conquirere & comparare voluptates. Cic.

Contrectare varias voluptates mente, Vide CONTRAHO.

Corrupta voluptas multo dolore. Horat.

Creare voluptatem inimicis. Cic. To woorke pleaſure to our enemies.

Cumulatus voluptatibus. Cic. That hath abundance of pleaſures.

Deliniri voluptate quadam praua. Quintil.

Duci ad fidem voluptate. Quintil. with pleaſauntneſſe to be induced to beleeue.

Excluſa animo voluptas. Stat.

Expleta voluptas flendi. Stat. Great deſire to weepe ſatiſfied.

Inclinare ad voluptatem audientium debemus. Quintil.

Indulgere voluptati. Quintil. Vide INDVLGEO.

Inijcere voluptatem, Vide INIICIO.

Cum voluptate legere. Cic. To take pleaſure in readynge.

Locupletata voluptas perfectione vitæ, Vide LOCVS.

Loqui ad voluptatem, Vide LOQVOR.

Percipienda voluptas oculis. Ouid.

Perfundi voluptate. Cic. To be much delighted.

Permulcere aures aſſiſtentium prauis voluptatibus. Quintil.

Permulceri voluptate lætiſſima. Columel. To be pleaſed and much delighted.

Petere voluptatem audientium. Quintil. To ſeeke meanes to delight the hearers.

Satiata voluptas. Stat.

Spero nobis hanc coniunctionem voluptati fore. Cic. I truſte this alliance in friendſhippe ſhall be to our great comforte.

Hæc ipſa mihi ſunt voluptati. Cicer. Euen theſe ſame thinges delight me.

Semper eſt in voluptate. Cicer. He is or liueth in perpetuall pleaſure.

Dolere, & In voluptate eſſe, contraria. Cic.

¶ Voluptas. Cic. Senſuall and worldly pleaſure.

Voluptas maximè eſt inimica virtuti. Cic. There is no greater enemie to vertue, then ſenſuall pleaſure.

Omnis voluptas honeſtati eſt contraria. Cic.

Capitalis peſtis eſt voluptas. Cic.

Omnium malorum mater, voluptas. Cicer. Senſuall pleaſure mother of all miſchiefe.

In voluptatis regno virtus non poteſt conſiſtere. Cic. There is no place for vertue to remaine, where ſenſuall pleaſure beareth rule.
A voluptatibus, Vide A vel AB præpoſitiones.
Aſſuetudo voluptatum. Tacit.
Condimentum voluptatis. Cic.
Miniſtræ voluptatum. Cic.
Deditus voluptatibus. Cic. Furtiua voluptas. Ouid.
Indigna homine docto voluptas. Cic.
Libidinoſa voluptas. Cic. Lucroſa. Ouid.
Mutua. Lucret.
¶ Amplexari voluptatem. Cic.
Auolat voluptas, Vide AVOLO.
Dedere ſe voluptatibus, Vide DEDO.
Inhærere voluptatibus, Vide INHAEREO.
Inuenire nouam voluptatem. Cic. To finde or inuent a new pleaſure.
Irritata voluptas. Ouid.
Liqueſcere voluptate, Vide LIQVOR, liquôris.
Blanda voluptas truces mollit animos. Ouid.
Nocet empta dolore voluptas. Horat. Pleaſure purchaſed with payne is hurtefull.
Perfluere voluptatibus, Vide PERFLVO.
Placet inconceſſa voluptas. Ouid. Vnlawfull pleaſure delighteth.
Properata voluptas. Ouid. Sperata. Ouid.
Spernere voluptates. Horat.

Voluptárius, Adiectiuum. Cic. Pleaſaunt: byngynge pleaſure: delightinge in pleaſure: ſenſuall.
Mollis & voluptarius. Cicer. Effeminate and geuen to ſenſuall pleaſure.
Diſciplina voluptaria, delicata, mollis. Cic.
Diſputatio voluptaria. Cicer. A diſcourſe or diſputation of pleaſure.
Homo voluptarius. Cic. A ſenſuall mã, or geuẽ to pleaſure.
Locus voluptarius. Plaut. A place of pleaſure.
Poſſeſſio voluptaria. Cic.
Voluptarius ſenſus, guſtatus. Cicer. The taſt is a ſenſe, that taketh great pleaſure in thoſe things that are vſed: the taſte is a voluptuous ſenſe.

Voluptuôſus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Voluptuous: vnſaciable in ſenſuall pleaſure. vt Voluptuoſus homo. A voluptuous and ſenſuall man.
Voluptuoſa res. Plin. iun. A very pleaſaunt thinge.

Voluptuarius, idem quod Voluptarius.

Volup, vel vólupe, pen. cor. Id eſt, delectabile. Delectable: pleaſaunt. Terentius, Venire ſaluũ volupe eſt. I am very gladde, or it is a pleaſant thing to me, that you are come in health.

Voluta, volútæ, fœ. g. pen. prod. Vitruuius. That kerners and painters call draperie or cilerie wrought like clothe, or leaues tourned diuers wayes.

Volutabrum, Volutatim, Voluto, Volutatio, &c. Vide VOLVO.

Vomer, vómeris, maſc. gen. Vide VOMO.

Vomica, vómicæ, f. g. pen. corr. A rottẽ empoſtume, out whereof matter renneth.
Putres vomicæ. Iuuen. Erumpit vomica. Celſ.
Excitat vomicas dolor. Celſ.
Laborare vomica. Celſ. Oritur vomica. Celſ.
Rumpere vomicam. Celſ. To breake an empoſtume.
¶ Vomicam Plautus vocat crumenam plenam argenti. A purſe full of money.

Vomo, vomis, vómui, vómitum, vómere, pen. corr. Cic. To vomite: to parbrake: to ſpew: to caſt vp.
Vomere in menſam. Cic. To vomite on the table.
In gremio ſuo vomere. Cic.
In conſpectu alicuius vomere. Cic.
Fluctus vomit ac reſorbet Scylla. Ouid. The goulfe Scylla caſteth vp wawes of water, & ſwaloweth the ſame againe.
Flammas ore vomit Cacus. Ouid. Cacus caſteth fier out of his mouth.
Purpureã vomit ille animam. Virg. He caſteth out blonde wherein life cõſiſteth: he dieth with caſtinge vp blonde.
Vitam vomere. Lucret.
¶ Vomor, vómeris, pen. corr. Paſſiuũ. Plin. To be vomited.
¶ Vómitur, pen. corr. Imperſonale. Cicero, Ab hora tertia bibebatur, ludebatur, vomebatur. They did nothynge but quaffe, playe, and ſpue &c.

Vómito, vómitas, pen. corr. vomitâre, Frequentatiuum. Colum. To vomite often.

Vómitus, huius vómitus, m. g. pen. corr. Vomitinge: caſtynge: perbrakinge: ſpueyng. Alſo that whiche is vomited.
Araneoſus vomitus, Vide ARANEA.
Varius & multorum colorum vomitus. Celſ. Matter of diuers colours vomited.
Extrahere vomitus. Plin. To prouoke vomite.
Facere vomitus. Plin. To cauſe to vomite.
Inhibere vomitus. Plin. To ſtay vomitinge.
Inuitare vomitus. Plin. Mouere vomitus. Plin.
Repetit vomitus. Celſ. Vomitinge beginneth agayne.
Siſtere vomitum. Plin. To ſtaye.
Supprimere vomitum, Idem. Celſ.

Vomitio, vomitiônis, f. g. Idem. Plin.
Concitare vomitiones. Plin.
Inimicæ oculis vomitiones, Vide INIMICVS.

Vómitor, pen. corr. vomitôris, m. g. Plin. A vomiter.

Vomitórius, Adiectiuũ. Plin. That hath the nature or ſtrẽgth to make to vomite.

Vomer, vel vomis, vómeris, pen. corr. m. g. Colum. The coulter of a plough.
Saucia vomeribus tellus. Ouid. Lared.
Aduncus vomer. Ouid. Curuus. Ouid.
Attritus ſulco vomer ſplendeſcit. Virg.
Duro fumans ſub vomere taurus. Virgil.
Ferreus vomer. Lucret.
Impreſſus vomer. Sil. Laureatus. Plin.
Obtuſi vomeris dentem procudere. Virgil.
Obuncus vomer. Claudian.
Prono vomere glebam conuellit taurus. Catull.
Rigidi vomeris ictu verſatur tellus. Claud.
Vnci vomeris patiens tellus. Virgil.
Perſtringere aliquid vomere. Ci. To touch with the plough.

Vopiſcus, vopiſci, m. g. Plin. Of two twinnes or yonge children in a womans bodie, that whiche commeth to perfite birth and proueth is called Vopiſcus.

Voro, voras, voráre. Plin. To ſwalowe downe meate before it be chewed: to deuoure: to eate greedyly.
Plaga vorat medullas. Seneca.
Hamum vorat. Plaut. He ſwaloweth the hooke.
Vorare literas. Cicero. To deuoure learnynge: to learne greedily. Viam vorare. Catull. Vide VIA.

Vorátio, voratiônis, f. g. Verbale. Catullus. A deuourynge.

Vorâgo, pen. prod. voráginis, pen. corr. fœ. g. Cic. A ſwalow or goulfe: a whirle poole: a quaue myre that ſucheth vp or ſwalloweth.
Atra vorago. Virgil. Ima vorago. Cic.
Ingens vorago faucibus vaſtis patet. Seneca.
Liuidiſſima, maximéque profunda vorago. Catull.
Pigra vorago. Sil. A quaue myre ſuckynge in ſlowly.
Sinuoſa vorago. Stat. Stagnans vorago. Sil.
Tenebroſa vorago. Stat. Tenax. Catull.
¶ Graues & propemodum immobiles currus illuuie & voragine hærebant. Curt. The heauie loden cartes coulde not paſſe by reaſon of durte and quaue myres.
¶ Vorago patrimonij. Cic. A glutton and conſumer of his heritage.

Voraginôſus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Hirt. Full of goulfes and ſwalowynge pittes.

Vorax, vorâcis, pen. prod. om. gen. Cic. A glutton: a rauenour: a great eater or deuourer: rauenous. Conſumynge.
Ventris voracis placare ieiunia. Ouid.
Vſura vorax. Lucan.

Vorſura, vorſuræ, Vide Verſura in VERTO.

Vortex, Vide Vertex in VERTO.

Vorto, vortis, Vide VERTO.

Vos, veſtrum vel veſtri, Pronomen plur. num. à TV. You.

Voſmetipſi, pro Voſipſi. Cic. Your ſelfe.

Votum, Votiuus, &c. Vide VOVEO.

Voueo, voues, voui, votum, vouêre, pen. prod. Liu. To vowe, or to make a vow.

Vouet ſe daturum Deo vuam. Cic.
Vouere votum. Liu. To make a vow.
Vouere caput pro ſalute patriæ. Cic. To bequeath and geue himſelfe to death for the ſaifegarde of his countrey.
Vouere in eadem verba. Liu. To make a vowe in the ſame forme of woordes.
Vouere templum Deo. Liu.
¶ Vouere, Optare. Ouid. To wiſh.
Elige quid voueas. Ouid. Chooſe what thou wouldeſt deſire or wiſhe.
Quid voueat dulci nutricula maius alumno? Horat. what greater thinge can the nourſe wiſhe for the childe ſhe bringeth vp?

Votus, Participium. Cic. Vowed.
Delubra vota. Ouid.

Votum, voti, n. g. Cic. A vowe or promiſſe made to god: A deſire: a prayer. Voti reus, Vide REVS.
Preces & vota. Cic. Votum & promiſſum. Cic.
Votum pro bubus, vt valeant, ſic facito. Cato.
¶ Votum. Ouid. A thinge obtayned of god by prayers: a thinge much deſired.
¶ Amarum votum. Claud. A vow or deſire hurtfull or greuous to him, that obtaineth it.
Audax votum. Stat.
Furialia vota. Sil. Greedie and outragious affections of couetouſneſſe.
Furioſa. Ouid. Outragious appetites of couetouſnes.
Futile votum. Sil. A vayne and vnprofitable deſire.
Ignauum. Claud. An idle wiſhe without takynge paynes to attaine the thinge. Modeſta parũ vota. Ouid.
Sceleratas eius preces, & nefaria vota cognouimus. Cic.
Pauidum votum. Claud.
Pia vota. Ouid. Holie prayers.
Publica. Ouid. Common prayers, as are in the churche.
Temeraria vota. Tibull.
Triſtia. Ouid. The prayers of a ſorowfull man.
¶ Annuit votis noſtris Deus. Claudian. God graunteth oure prayers. Aſſueſcere votis. Virg.
Canere vota diuis. Virg. To ſinge hymnes and prayers.
Ceſſare in vota, Vide CESSO.
Concipere vota. Ouid. To make vowes or prayers.
Concepta vota. Sil. Vowes or prayers made in certayne fourme of woordes. Confugere ad vota. Plin. iun.
Corrigere vota ſua. Ouid. To correcte his owne deſires and luſtes.
Damnari votorum, vel votis, Vide DAMNO.
Diſſoluere vota. Cic. To fulfill his vowes and promiſſes.
Ducere vota ad bonos exitus. Horat.
Duplicare vota metu. Virgil.
In vota effundi. Tacit. To fall earneſtly to prayer: to praye with all his herte.
Exequi annua vota. Virg. To keepe an anniuerſarie or yeres minde, in prayinge for one that is dead.
Facere vota. Cic. To deſire: to wiſhe: to praye.
Facere vota parci⁹. Sen. De aliquo ægroto vota facere. Cic.
Luſtralia vota ferre. Valer. Flac.
Inhibere vota alicuius rogando. Ouid. By deſirynge, to ſtay one from doeyng that he hath an appetite to doo.
Liberari voti, pro voto. Liu. To be diſcharged or quitte of his vowe.
Votis vota nectere. Lucr. To make vowes vpon vowes.
Nuncupare vota, Vide NVNCVPO.
Obligare votis caput. Horat. To binde himſelfe with a vow or promiſe.
Onerare votis æthera. Virgil. To lode heauen with vowes & prayers: to wery god with many vowes and promiſes.
Perfecta vota ordine. Virgil.
Perſoluere votum, Vide PERSOLVO.
Poſcere opem votis. Ouid. To deſire healpe by prayer.
Reddere vota, Vide REDDO. Repetere vota. Quintil.
Immortale votum ſacrabat dijs. Virgil.
Feralia vota ſancire dijs Stygijs contra aliquẽ. Stat. To bequeath & geue one to the Diuell: to make ſolẽne courſes agaynſt one, and betake him to the Diuell.
Soluere vota, Vide SOLVO.

Fidẽ voti ſoluere. Ouid. To perfourme his vow & promiſſe.
Supplicibus votis ſuperare iram numinis. Virgil.
Suſcipere vota. Ouid.
Tacito ſuſpendit vota labello. Catull. He voweth or prayeth ſpeakyng faftely, or without woordes at all.
Erecto voto timere aliquid. Stat.
Vocare aliquem in vota. Virgil. To deſire one or bidde him praye for vs.
Vocare diuos in vota. Virgil. To call for healpe of the gods in our prayer.
Vocare imbrem votis. Virgil. To praye for raine.
Vocari votis. Virgil. To be called on by prayers.
¶ Votum. Plin. iunior. A deſire: a wiſhe.
Ego te quamprimum mea vota cupio videre. Cic.
Ad votum, Vide AD præpoſitionem.
Cõpos voti. Seneca. He that hath that he wiſhed or deſired.
Auarum votum. Claudian.
Matura vota coloni. Ouidius. Ripe corne that the huſbande man much wiſheth for.
Deplorata vota colonorũ. Ouid. when huſbandmen bewayle the loſſe of their corne, for which they haue often prayed to god. Expoſcere pacem votis. Virgil.
Melior fingi ne voto quidem poſſet. Plin. iun. A man coulde not wiſhe a better. Frui votis. Valer. Flac.
Implere votũ alicuius. Curt. To accompliſhe ones deſire.
Potiri voto. Ouid. To haue that he wiſhed.
Reſpondere votis alicuius. Virgil. To ſatisfie ones deſire.
Succedere in vota alicuius. Ouidius. To deſire that an other hath ceaſed to deſire.
Superant modũ tua vota. Stat. Thy deſires are exceedyng.
Fouere ſua vota animo. Ouid.
Eſt in voto ſcire quid ferat, &c. Perſ. I deſire greatly to know &c.

Votiuus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Horat. That is vowed.
Aures votiuæ. Plaut. Eares deſirous to heare.
Votiuum. Apul. That is or hath ben greatly deſired.
Legatio votiua, Vide Legatio in LEGO, legas.
Ludi votiui. Cic. Playes promiſed by vowes.
Tabella votiua, Vide TABVLA.
Thura votiua. Ouid.
Voces votiuæ. Tibull. Voyces that vow.

Vox, vocis, f. g. Cic. A voyce. A ſowne. A woorde.
In lingua etiam explanata vocum impreſſio. Cic.
Vocis genera permulta: canorum, fuſcum: lene, aſperũ: graue, acutum: flexibile, durum. Cic.
¶ Abſonus voce, Vide ABSONVS.
Plenior voce. Cic.
Aſperitas vocis. Lucret. The roughnes of ones voyce.
Bona vocis. Quintil. The good qualitie of the voyce.
Cantus vocis. Quintil. The tunyng of the voyce.
Contentio vocis, & Remiſſio, contraria. Cic. Streygnyng of the voyce.
Inoffenſa copulatio vocum. Quintil. An apte ioygnynge of woordes.
Diſcrimina vocum. Quintil. Flexus vocis. Quintil.
Intentio vocis. Quintil. Strayninge of the voyce, or lowde ſpeakynge.
Iter vocis. Ouid. The winde pipe.
Iucunditas, claritáſque vocis. Quintil.
Modeſtia vocis. Quint. A modeſt & comly tune of the voice.
Remiſſio vocis. Quintil. A lower and ſafter ſpeakinge.
Simulans vocum ales. Ouidius. A birde counterfaytinge to ſpeake like a man.
Sonitus vocis. Virg. The ſowne or tune.
Splendorem voci affert porrum. Plin. Leekes maketh the voyce cleere.
Suauitas vocum. Quintil. Varietas vocum. Cic.
¶ Hæc vox, Ciuis, &c. This woorde &c.
¶ Abſona vox, Vide ABSONVS.
Abſurda, Vide ABSVRDVS.
Acerba. Quintil. Acrior. Quintil.
Acuta, Vide ACVO.
Aequiſſima vox & Turpiſſima, opponuntur. Seneca. A very reaſonable ſayinge, and a very diſhoneſt ſayinge.
Ambigua vox. Seneca. Anguſta vox. Iuuen.

Amœnæ voces. Ouid.
Anhela. Claud.
Animoſa vox. Seneca. A ſtoute ſayinge.
Aſſidua. Virgil.
Atrox. Quintil.
Clariſona. Catull.
Blanda. Virgil.
Concitata. Quintil.
Boans. Ouid.
Confuſa. Lucret.
Bona, Vide BONVS.
Conſona. Sil.
Candida. Quintil. A honourable ſayinge.
Canora, Vide CANO.
Conſtans. Ouid.
Clara & ſuauis. Cic.
Contracta. Quintil.
Contumelioſæ voces. Cæſ. Reprochfull woordes.
Cygnêa vox, Vide Cygneus in CYGNVS.
Denſa. Quintil.
Feſſa loquendo. Ouid.
Dira. Virgil.
Ficta. Lucan.
Diſſona. Stat.
Flebilis. Seneca.
Docta. Quintil.
Fœminea. Quintil.
Dulcis & clara. Cic.
Furialis. Cic.
Dura. Quintil.
Fuſca. Quint. A dimme voyce.
Durabilis. Quintil.
Grandis. Quintil.
Efferatæ voces. Seneca.
Grauis, cui opponitur Exilis. Plin. A voice of bigge tune.
Erecta vox. Quintil.
Exigua. Virg.
Hilaris. Stat.
Exilis. Plin. Small.
Horrenda. Virgil.
Extrema. Virgil.
Incerta. Quintil.
Facilis. Quintil.
Inceſta. Ouid.
Facunda. Ouid.
Inclinata. Cic.
Falſa. Horat.
Incorrupta vox bene iudicantiũ. Cicer. The vncorrupte ſentence of them that iudge truely.
Ferox. Claud.
Ferrea. Virgil.
Infandæ vocis ſonus. Seneca.
Infragilis vox. Ouid. A ſtronge voyce, that will not be weried with loude ſpeakynge.
Ingenioſa vox mutandis ſonis. Ouidius. A voyce very apte to chaunge into diuers tunes.
Ingens. Virgil.
Ingloria. Stat.
Inhumana & ſcelerata. Cic.
Inimica alicui, Vide INIMICVS.
Inſana. Ouidius.
Interruptæ atque morientes voces. Cic. woordes vttered in weepinge with ſtoppinge or ſobbinge, that they can not well be heard.
Iracunda vox. Ouid.
Legitima. Ouid.
Lenis. Quintil.
Libera. Liu.
Liberalis. Quintil.
Limpida & canora. Plin. Cleere and ſhrill.
Sine contentione vox, nec languẽs, nec canora. Cic. Ones voyce vttered without ſtrayninge, neither deade in ſowne, nor ouer ſhrill.
Liquidæ voces auium. Lucret. The cleere voyces of &c.
Liquidæ voces corui. Virg.
Plena vox. Cic.
Lugubris vox. Lucret.
Præpinguis. Quintil.
Magna. Cic.
Pura. Perſius.
Minax. Horatius.
Puſilla. Quintil.
Mœſta. Catull.
Rara. Virg.
Mollis. Cic. Effeminate.
Rauca. Ouid.
Moribunda. Stat.
Recta. Quintil.
Mutæ voces murmure. Stat.
Reſona. Ouid.
Nitida vox. Quintil.
Rigida. Quintil.
Nuptialis. Liu.
Ruſtica. Cic.
Obſcœna. Iuuen.
Sacra. Ouid.
Obſcura. Quintil.
Salutaris. Seneca.
Obtuſa. Quintil.
Sana. Quintil.
Paruæ vocis murmura. Ouid.
Serena. Perſius.
Simplices voces. Quintil. woordes ſimple and not compounde.
Sollicita vox. Ouid.
Suauis & canora. Cic.
Teres. Quintil.
Suauiſſima. Cic.
Tinnula. Catull.
Subſurda. Quintil.
Tremulæ voces hœdorum. Lucret.
Summiſſa. Ouid.
Triſtis vox. Ouid.
Superba. Lucret.
Truculenta. Plin.
Supplex. Liu.
Trux. Sil.
Tacita. Ouid.
Veneranda. Lucan.
Tenera. Quintil.
Vigil. Ouid.
Tenuata. Ouid.
Virilis. Ouid.
Tenuis. Pomponius apud Macrobium.
Viua. Quintil.
Vlulans. Cicero.
Atque hæc vna vox omnium eſt. Cic. This is the generall voice and ſayinge of all men: all the worlde agreeth in this.
Vna voce. Cic. with one accorde and conſente.
Votiuæ voces. Tibull. Vowes.
¶ Aboritur vox, Vide ABORIOR.
Accipere voces, Vide ACCIPIO.
Accommodare vocem, Vide ACCOMMODO.
Addere voces lachrymis. Ouid. Beſide his weeping to ſpeake alſo.
Aequiparare aliquem voce. Virgil.
Viua vox alit plenius. Quintil. The voyce of one inſtructynge feedeth the vnderſtandyng more perfitely.
Alloqui patriam voce mœſta. Catull.
Attollere & Submittere vocẽ, ſunt oppoſita. Quintil. To ryſe & to fall in ſpeakynge: to ſpeake lowder and ſafter.
Annuere vocibus alicuius. Horat.
Audire & reddere voces notas. Virgil. To heare one ſpeake that he knoweth and talke to him agayne: to talke familiarly with one.
Canere inclinata vlulantique voce. Cic.
Captare voces auribus. Ouid. To harken what one ſayeth.
Dulcedine vocis captus. Ouid.
Citat vox præconis. Quintil.
Claudere vocem alicuius. Liu. To ſtoppe ones mouth: to make one holde his peace.
Compellare aliquem voce. Virg. To ſpeake to one.
Timenda voce complere nemus. Horat.
Compeſcere voces. Seneca.
Compoſitæ voces. Quintil. woordes compounde.
Comprimere vocem, Vide COMPRIMO.
Concipere mente vocem alicuius. Quintil.
Condere vocem alicuius memori aure. Ouidius. To remember ones woordes that he heareth him ſpeake.
Conferre vocem in quæſtum, Vide CONFERO.
Confirmatur vox hoc modo. Quintilian. The voyce is made ſtronger.
Confiteri magna voce. Cic. with a lowde voyce.
Conſequi vocem gradu, Vide CONSEQVOR.
Contendere voce, Vide CONTENDO.
Continere vocem, Vide CONTINEO.
Conturbatur vox. Lucret.
Curata vox. Quintil.
Currit vox. Plin. The voyce renneth, as it doth in a trunke or hollow baute.
Cuſtodire vocem. Quintil.
Deducere vocem, Vide DEDVCO.
Demiſſa voce loqui. Virg. To ſpeake ſoftely in a low voyce.
Deplorare voce lamentabili. Cic.
Deſcendit vox. Quintil. The voyce falleth.
Deuorat vocem dolor. Ouid. Sorowe will not ſuffer him to ſpeake: he can not ſpeake for ſorow.
Dicere aliquid acuta voce. Horat.
Tacita voce dicere aliquid. Ouid. To ſay a thinge ſaftely.
Diſtinguere vocem lingua. Sil. with the tonge to deuide the voyce into certaine woordes diſtinctly.
Dat voces lingua. Ouid.
Dare vocem alienæ perſonæ. Quintil. To imagine an other mã to ſpeake.
Longas in fletum ducere voces. Virgil.
Effundere voces ad æthera. Virgil.
Vox elicit vocem. Ouid. A queſtion prouoketh an anſwere.
Eliſa vox, in illum ſonum erumpit, cui Græci κλωσμὸν nomẽ ab immaturo gallorum cãtu dederunt. Quintil. The voyce vttered in the throte maketh that we call a clockynge in hennes, or a crowyng in yonge cockrelles, which doo it, as they weare halfe throttled.
Eliſa voce canere, vel loqui. Bud. To ſayne in ſingyng: to ſpeake in a ſmall ſaynynge voyce: alſo to ſpeake or ſinge as one coulde hardely vtter his voyce.
Eluctata furorem vox. Statius. After his rage and furie had ſtayed his voyce for a time, at the laſt he burſte out in this wiſe.
Emittere vocem. Tibull. To ſpeake.
Erecta & concitata voce aliquid dicere. Quintilian. To ſpeake with a lowde and earneſt voyce.

Eripere vocem ab ore loquentis. Virgil. To interrupte ones talke, and take his tale out of his mouth,
Exasperatur vox. Quintil.
Exasperant vocem fauces raucæ. Quintil. An hoarse throte maketh a rough voice.
Excidit vox ore. Virgil.
Excipere vocem alicuius. Seneca.
Excitare vocem. Cic. To rise in speakyng by little & little: to speake louder: by little and little to speake higher.
Exercere vocem pronuntiatione. Quintil.
Trucem vocem expauere. Sil.
Exprimere voces. Lucret. To expresse woordes.
Anhelam vocem expromere. Claud.
Mœstas voces expromere. Virg. To vtter sorowfull woordes.
Ferre voces ad aliquem. Ouid.
Fertur vox ad aures. Virg. A voyce is heard.
Fingere optimè sibi voces. Quintil. Best to facion themselues tunes or voyces.
Flectere vocem. Ouid. To bende the voyce to some chaunge of tune in pronuntiation.
Fractæ voces ad littora. Virgil.
Frangitur vox vitio faucium. Quintil.
Legitima voce fraudare literam. Ouid. Not to geue a letter his full sounde.
Obscœnis vocibus frui. Iuuenal.
Fundere voces. Catull.
Voces inanes fundere. Cic. To babble vainely: to chatte like a birde in a cage.
Extremam vocem cum sanguine fundo. Virgil. I speake this, yeldyng vp my life withall.
Fusa vox. Quintil.
Glutire vocem. Plin. To make a noise in the throte, as an hēne in clockynge.
Habere voces. Cic. To make a noyse or cryynge.
Habere contemptam supplicis vocem. Catullus. To contemne ones humble intreatie.
Hęsit vox faucibus. Virg. I could not speake or vtter a woorde.
Haurire vocem auribus. Virgil. To heare.
Raris turbatus vocibus hisco. Virgil.
Clara voce hortari aliquem. Stat.
Iácere vocē. Tacit. To spreade a rumour: to cast out a woorde.
Iactare voces inertes. Virgil. To speake &c.
Iactare voces ad sydera. Virgil.
Impedire vocem loquentis. Ouid.
Inclamare aliquem magna voce. Liuius. To call vpon one by name alowde.
Includit vocē dolor. Cic. Sorow doth not suffer him to speake.
Incurrere in voces maleuolorum, Vide INCVRRO.
Inducere voces dolentū. Tacit. To speake like men that weare sorowfull and heauie.
Inflectere voces cantu. Tibull.
Inflexa vox ad miserabilem sonum. Cicer. The voyce tuned or bent to a pitifull sowne.
Ingeminare voces. Virgil. To repete woordes often.
Sollicita voce inuocare aliquem. Ouid.
Iterare voces. Horat.
Resonis vocibus iterare aliquid. Ouidius. To repeate a thinge with an echoe.
Iungere vocem fidibus. Quintil. To synge to an instrument.
Lacessere aliquem voce. Virg. With woordes to egge one.
Locare vocem. Iuuenalis. To haue wages for vsing his voyce, as criers haue. Loqui Latina voce. Ouid.
Loqui primùm incerta voce tentauit. Quintil. He begāne first to speake so, that a man coulde not discerne his woordes.
Tristi voce loqui. Ouid.
Mittere vocem. Lucret. To speake.
Mittere vocem contra aliquem. Cic. To speake against one.
Vox de quæstura nulla missa est. Cicero. They spake neuer a woorde of the Questurehippe.
Mittere vocem pro se aut pro aliquo. Cic. To speake for himselfe, or for an other.
Mittere voces funales, Vide MITTO.
Mittere liberam vocem. Liu. To speake without feare.
Superbas voces mittere. Lucret. To speake proudely.
Modulari vocem, Vide MODVLOR.

Moneri voce alicuius. Virgil.
Blandis vocibus morari aliquem. Virg. With fayre woordes to cause one to stay.
Mouere numina voce. Virgil.
Multiplicare voces acceptas. Plin. To cause the voyces, that be made in it, to seeme many.
Constanti voce negare aliquid. Ouid.
Obscurant vocem fauces obtusæ. Quintil.
Obscuratur vox vitio fauciū. Quintil. By some impediment in the throte the voyce is dead, & may scante be heard.
Obtundere vocem, Vide OBTVNDO.
Parcere voci. Quintil. Penetrat vox ad aures. Ouid.
Persequi voce, Vide PERSEQVOR.
Præterradit vox fauces. Lucret.
Premere vocem. Virgil. To holde his peace.
Magna voce proclamare. Virg.
Profundere vocem. Catull.
Profusæ voces abiere domos ætherias. Sil.
Immoderatè profusa vox, Vide IMMODERATVS.
Reddere voces. Virg. To speake to one agayne.
Referre voces pectore. Virgil.
Natura ita resonans theatrum, vt vsque Romam significationes, vocesq; referantur. Cic. That the woordes maye be heard and vnderstanded euen to Roome.
Voce referre. Virg. To answere.
Remittūt vocem nemora. Virg. The woodes caste an Echo agayne.
Replere littora voce. Ouid. To make all the sea side ringe with his cryynge.
Resoluere vocem atque ora. Virgil. To breake out after silence, and speake.
Resorbent vocem corui. Plin. Rauens make a noyse in the throte, as it weare by drawynge in breath.
Nescit vox missa reuerti. Horat. A woorde spoken can not be vnsayde.
Roboratur vox à tredecim annis. Plin. The voyce waxeth stronge &c.
Summissa voce rogare opem alicuius. Ouid.
Rumpere vocē. Virgil. After silence to burst out, & speake.
Rupit hanc pectore vocem. Virgil. He brust out, and spake this.
Scinditur vox vitio faucium. Quintil.
Sequi voce fugientem. Virgil. To renne after one cryinge on him.
Simulare fictas voces læto tumultu. Lucan.
Spargere voces ambiguas in vulgum. Virgilius. To spreade doubtfull rumours abroade amonge the people.
Strangulare vocem. Quintil. To make that one can not speake, but as he weare almost throttled.
Suffocata vox maiore risu min⁹ clara est. Quint. The voyce, beyng drowned with greater laughynge, is not so cleere or audible.
Esse bona voce, Vide BONVS.
Vox erat in cursu. Ouidius. His talke continued on: he was speakynge on.
Supprimere vocem alicui. Ouid.
Inceptis temerantur vocibus aures. Ouid.
Temperata vox. Quintil.
Tenuatur vox. Quintil. Ones voyce is made smaller.
Minaci voce terrere aliquem. Horat.
Tollere vocem. Horat. To speake higher or lowder.
Exiguam vocem tollere. Virgil.
Lugubri voce querelam tollere. Lucret.
Trahere vocem ab imo pectore. Virg. To beginne to speake with a great sighe.
Trahere aliquid pura voce. Pers.
Tundi assiduis vocibus hinc atque hinc. Virg.
Venit vox ad aures vulgi. Virg. Vocare voce aliquē. Virg.
Plena voce vocare aliquem. Virg.
Volutant vocem per atria. Virg. Vide VOLVTO.
Vrgenda vox non est vltra vires. Quintil. We must not straine the voyce, more then it is hable to abide.
Falsis vocibus vti. Horat.
Vócula, vóculæ, pen. corr. Diminutiuum. Cic. A little voyce, or woorde: also, obloquie.

Maleuolo-

Maleuolorum voculæ. Cic. The obloquie & ill talke of &c.
Falsæ voculæ. Cic. Falſe bytutes or reportes.
Vocâlis, & hoc vocâle, pen. prod. Cic. That hath a voice: loude.
Ranæ vltra ſolitum vocales, ſunt ſigna tempeſtatis. Plinius. Frogges crokynge or makinge a noyſe more then they weare wonte &c.
Vocali quodam ſono. Plin.
Vocaliſſimus homo. Plin. iunior. A very greate talker or lowde ſpeaker.
Carmine vocali clarus Philamon. Ouid.
Chordas vocales impellere pollice. Tibull. To play on a lute or harpe.
Ora vocalia. Ouid.
¶ Vocales interdum in vim conſonantiũ tranſeunt. Quintil. Wowels &c.
Vocales frequentiſſimè coeunt. Quintil.
Concurſus vocalium. Cic.
Vocálitas, pen. corr. vocalitâtis, fœ. g. quam Græci euphoniam vocant. Quintil. A tune or ſounde of a voyce.
Vociferor, pen. corr. vociferâris, vociferâri. Virg. To crye out, or lowde: to braye.
Liberè vociferari. Cic.
Quid vociferabare decem millia talentûm Gabinio eſſe promiſſa? Cic.
Res ipſa vociferatur. Lucret.
¶ Vociferare, actiuum protulit Cicero.
Vociferans, pen. corr. Participium. Virg. Cryng out alowde: brayinge.
Talia vociferans, &c. Sil. Graue vociferans. Val. Flac.
Vociferátio, vociferatiônis, f. g. Verbale. Cic. A cryinge out: a brayinge.
Muliebris vociferatio. Author ad Heren.
Vociferatione accuſatores vti conſueuerunt. Cic.
Furioſa vociferátio. Quintil.
Vociferâtus, huius vociferátus, pen. prod. Idem quod Vociferatio. Plin.
Voco, vocas, vocâre. To call: to bidde: to aſke: to name.
Vocare ad cœnam. Cic. To bidde to ſupper.
Ad cœnam per famulum vocare. Martial.
Eſum & comeſtatum vocare. Plaut.
Conuiuam vocare, Idem. Plaut.
Ad nuptias vocare. Terent. To bidde one to come to a mariage.
Domum ſuam iſtum non ferè quiſquam vocabat. Cic.
Intra tecta vocare aliquem. Virg.
¶ Vín' vocem huc ad te? Plaut. Will you haue me to call him out vnto you?
Voca illum verbis meis. Plaut. Call him in my name: ſaye that I bidde him come.
Vocaueras me in hunc diem. Plaut. You ſent me woorde, that I ſhould come as this day.
Vocare clamore ſuos. Virg. To hoope or crie to his cõpanie.
¶ Vocare clamoribus hoſtem. Virg. with lowde voyce to defie his enemie, and bidde him come fight.
¶ Vocare clamore Deum. Virgil. To call vpon god: to crie to god.
Nomine aliquem vocare. Virg. To call by name.
Voce vocare aliquem. Virg.
Magnâ voce vocauit Aeneam. Virg.
Votis vocari. Virg. To be called on with vowes & prayers.
Auxilia vocans fruſtrá. Virg.
Deos vocare auxilio. Virgil. To crie to the gods to healpe him. Concilium vocare. Ouid.
Vocat pluuiam cornix. Virg. The crow crieth after rayne: or by his cryinge ſignifieth it will rayne.
¶ Vocari aliquó. Lucan.
Me ad Democritum vocas. Cic. Thou alleagest Democritus, and wouldest haue me beliene him.
Ad altercationes vocari. Quintil.
Fata nos vocant ad bella. Virg.
Ad calculos aliquem vocare. Liu. To call one to an accõpte. Vide CALCVLVS.
In certamina vocare. Virg.
Ad computationem vocare. Plin. iunior. To demaunde an accompte or reckeninge of one.
In deorum concilium vocare. Cic. To accõpte one as a god.
In concionem vocare. Cic. To warne the people to come to an aſſembly before him.
Cur autẽ per te inimicum paternum, in conſilium vocauit? Cic.
In contemplationem vocari. Plin. To be conſidered diligently: to be weighed and mused vpon.
Reliqui tẽporis ſpatium in contentionẽ vocatur. Cic. The controuerſie is about the reaſon of the tyme, that folowed.
In crimen vocare. Cic. To blame: to accuſe: to laye to ones charge.
In culpã vocari. Quint. To be blamed: to be charged as fautie.
In diſceptationem & controuerſiam vocari. Cic. To be brought in controuerſie.
In diſcrimen vocare. Cic. To bringe in daunger.
In diſcrimen vocari de vita & gloria. Cicer. To be brought in daunger to leeſe both his life and honour.
Alij de beneuolentia ciuium in diſcrimen vocantur. Cic.
In dubium vocare. Cic. To doubte of: to bringe in doubte.
Ad exemplar alterius vocare aliquem. Plin. iun. To exhorte and bidde one folow an other mans exãple, & to doo as he doth.
Ad exitium & vaſtitatem vocare. Cic. To bring to vtter ſpoyle and deſtruction.
In ſimulationem probrorum vocare. Cic. To laye certaine reprochfull thinges to ones charge.
In inuidiam aliquid vocare. Cicer. To bringe a thinge in hatred: to endeuour to make a thinge be ſpited or hated.
Ad iudicem vocare. Quintil.
Ex ea die ad hanc diem, quæ feciſti, in iudiciũ voco. Cic. I make my plainte of thoſe thinges, that thou haſte done ſens that day to this.
Auaritiam in crimen & in iudiciũ voco. Cic. I lay to thy charge and accuſe thee for thy couetouſneſſe.
In ius vocare. Cic. To ſue in the lawe: to commence an action agaynſt one.
Ad libertatem ſeruos vocare. Liu. To proclaime thoſe bondemẽ to be free, that will come and folow him.
Ad literas alias vocare. Cic.
In diſquiſitionem vocare rem aliquam. Sueton. To bringe a thinge to be tried by commiſſion or otherwiſe.
In locum mortui vocare. Cicer. To put in place of one that is deade.
In lucem è tenebris vocare obſcuram familiam. Cic.
In luctum vocare. Cic. To cauſe to mourne: to make ſorowful.
In medium vocare. Cic. To ſette a thinge open before men: to make it to be knowen.
In odium vocare. Cic. To bring in hatred.
Extra ordinem vocare. Cic.
In partem vocare. Cic. To will one to be partaker of a thinge.
Se in partem curarum ab illo vocatum. Tacitus. That he was willed of him to take parte of the charge.
In periculum vocare. Plin. iunior. To bring in daunger.
In periculum ac diſcrimen vocare. Cic.
Ad pileum vocare, Vide PILEVS.
Ad probationem vocare. Quintil.
Ad procurationẽ rei alicuius vocari ſermone plebis. Cic. To be willed & inuited of the people, to take the charge of a thing.
In longum ſermonem vocare. Cic.
In ſpem vocare. Cic. To put in hope: to make to hope.
In ſuſpicionem coniurationis vocari. Cic. To be ſuſpected as partaker of the conſpiracie.
Ad teſtimonium vocare. Varro. To call one to depoſe or beare witneſſe.
Tu me ad verbum vocas, non antè venio quàm recuſaro. Cicer. Thou wouldeſt haue me come to the rigour of the letter or literall ſenſe, I will firſte refuſe it, as not beyng bounde ſo to doo.
Ad vitam vocare aliquem. Cic. To exhorte one to liue.
In vota vocare. Virg. To deſire one to healpe him.
Ad vtilitatem vocare. Cic.
¶ Vocare aliquem. Plaut. To name one: to geue one a name.
Septem fuiſſe dicuntur vno tempore, qui ſapientes & haberentur & vocarentur. Cicer. Whiche weare both coumpted and called wiſe men.
¶ Tanti vocat ille pudicã. Iuuenal. So much money he taketh of hir to call hir a chaſte and honeſt woman.

Vocâtus,pen.prod. Participium. Horat. Called : bidden.
Tenuit mora nulla vocatos. Ouid. They, that weare called, taried not.
Venit ad exiguas turba vocata dapes. Ouid. A companie bidden &c.
Ad pocula vocatus. Ouid.
Vocata eſt opera. Plaut. I can not, for one hath already deſired me to doo a thinge for him.
Vocâtus,huius vocátus,m.g pen.prod. Virg. Prayinge : deſiringe : requeſt.
Senatus frequens vocatu Druſi in Curiam venit. Cicer. The Senatours, at Drusus his biddinge or requeſt, came in great number to the counſayle houſe.
Cœnaui apud Cæſarem vocatu ipſius. Sueton. At Cæsars requeſt or biddyng I ſupped with him.
Vocatio,onis,f.g. A callinge.
Vocâtor,pen.prod. vocatôris,m,g. Plin. A bidder.
Vocatîuus,pen.prod. Adiectiuum. Priſcianus. Pertayninge to callinge.
Vocatiuè, Aduerbium. Gell. By callynge.
Vocábulum,vocábuli,n.g.pen.corr. Terent. The denominatiõ of any thinge: a worde: a name.
Vocabula oppidorum. Plin. The names of townes.
Chaldæi non ex artis, ſed ex gentis vocabulo nominati. Cic.
Si res ſuum nomen & proprium vocabulum non habet, &c. Cicero. And proper terme.
Magiſtratuum vocabula. Tacit.
Cognata vocabula. Horat. Like names.
Incognita nobis vocabula. Cic.
Media vocabula, Vide MEDIVS.
Speciosa vocabula rerum. Horat.
Vulgaria, & forte occurrentia vocabula. Quintil. Common wordes, and ſuch as come lightly to minde.
Conſtruere rerum vocabula, Vide CONSTRVO.
Dare vocabula terris. Sil. To ſet names on countreys.
Rebus non commutatis immutare vocabula. Cic.
Imponere vocabulum alicui, Vide IMPONO.
Tribuere vocabula monti. Ouid.
¶ Vocabulũ, Pro nomine Subſtantiuo accipit Gell. lib. 1. c. 16.
Vocâmen,penult. prod. vocáminis,n.g. Lucret. The name of a thinge.
Dare vocamen alicui rei. Solin. To geue a name to a thing.
Vocamen trahere de re aliqua. Solinus. To take name of a thinge.
Vócito,vócitas,pen.corr. vocitâre, Frequentatiuum. Cicer. To call often.

V P

Vpilio,vpiliônis,m.gen. poſitum eſt à Virgilio, pro Opilione. A sheapeheарde.
Vpupa,úpupæ,f.gen.pen.corr. Auis. Plin. A birde no bigger then a thrush, and hath a creste from his bill to the vttermoſt parte of his heade, which he strouteth vp, or holdeth downe accordynge to his affection. wherefore it can not be our lapwynge, as it hath ben taken for. It is rather to be called an Houpe.
¶ Vpupa. Plaut. An harlotte, as some take it : but the place in Plautus seemeth to meane a beetle, mattocke, or like toole to digge stones with in a quarrey. vide Plaut. ſcena vltima Captiu.

V R

Vranoſcopos. A certaine fish, hauinge one eye in his heade.
Vrbane, Vrbanitas, Vrbanus, &c. Vide VRBS.
Vrbina, vrbínæ, f.g pen. prod. Teli genus. Plaut. A certayne weapon.
Vrbs, vrbis, f.g A walled towne: a citie.
Genitor vrbis, Quirinus. Ouid. The first founder of the citie of Rome.
Vrbs, pro Ciuitate ipſa aliquando ponitur, id eſt, pro ciuibus qui in vrbe degunt. Virg.
Caſus vrbis. Virg. The ruine, fall, & destruction of the citie.
Conditores vrbium. Quintil. The builders: the founders.
Incrementum vrbis. Liu. Intima pars vrbis. Cic.
Ad vrbem, Vide AD præpoſitionem.
Acceſſus ad vrbem. Cic.
¶ Ampliſſima atque ornatiſſima vrbs. Cic.

Ancipiti diſcordes vrbe Tribuni. Lucan.
Antiqua vrbs. Virg. A noble citie.
Arcta ciuibus vrbs. Stat. A citie so greatly peopled, as it hath scantly roome for the inhabitantes.
Beatæ vrbes. Catull. Riche and wealthie cities.
Caducæ vrbes. Virgil.
Celſa vrbs. Virg. A citie of great maiestie in buildynge.
Clara, Catull. Famoſa. Tacit.
Egregia. Virg. Florentiſſima. Cic.
Frequens populis vrbs. Lucan. A citie greatly peopled.
Grauis vrbs armis, opibusque, Stat. A citie full of armure and riches.
Infeſtæ vrbes imperio. Cic.
Infima vrbs. Liu. The lowest parte of the sitie.
Vrbs lymphata horroribus. Stat. A citie amased or astonied with feare.
Magna. Virg. Miſera. Horat.
Magnifica. Ouid. Mœſta, attonitaque. Iuuenal.
Nobilis vrbs ſitu, Vide NOBILIS.
Nuda vrbs præſidio. Cic.
Opportuniſſima vrbs portu, Vide OPPORTVNVS.
Opulentiſſima. Catul. Pauida. Virg.
Pulcherrima, florentiſſima, potentiſſima vrbs. Cic.
In ſummis vrbibus. Catull.
Trepida vrbs. Lucan. Turbida. Valer. Flac.
Vacua. Valer. Flac.
¶ Abire vrbe, vel domo, Vide ABEO.
Abeſſe vrbe, vel domo. Cic. To be absent from &c.
Accipere vrbem, Vide ACCIPIO.
Adiungere vrbem aliquam in ſocietatem. Liu.
Aequare vrbes ſolo, Vide Aequo, æquas in AEQVVS.
Afflicta vrbs peſtilentia. Liu. A citie sore afflicted &c.
Perdomitas vrbes agitare. Lucan.
Armata vrbs. Lucan. Concuſſæ cadunt vrbes. Lucret.
Capeſſere vrbem, Vide Capeſſo in CAPIO.
Capere vrbem. Virg. Cedere vrbe, Vide CEDO.
Cingere vrbem muris. Cic. Seneca. To walle about.
Cingitur vrbs obſidione. Virg. The citie is beseged rounde.
Circunuaſit vrbem terror, Vide CIRCVNVADO.
Colere vrbem, Vide COLO.
Componere vrbem, Vide COMPONO.
Concuſſa vrbs. Virg. Shaken or troubled.
Nouam vrbem condere. Virg. To builde a new citie.
Conuenire in vrbem aliquam. Plaut.
Defendere vrbem à vaſtatione, Vide DEFENDO.
Domitæ vrbes. Virgil.
Emendare vrbes iudicijs. Quintil.
Euertere vrbes. Quintil. Feras vrbes excire. Lucan.
Exedere vrbem nefandis odijs. Virg.
Pulchram vrbem extruere. Virg.
Vicinæ vrbes inter ſe arma ferunt. Virg. Cities nigh borderyng are at warre one with an other.
Vrbes lætæ florent pueris. Lucret.
Fũdare vrbẽ legibus. Virg. with good lawes to stablish a citie.
Implere vrbem nomine alicuius. Horat. To spredde ones name ouer all the citie.
Incedere ad vrbem. Liu. To goe to.
Incenſa vrbs. Virgil.
Intercurrũt, cingúntq; has vrbes tetrarchiæ, Vide INTERCVRRO.
Interſcpire vrbem vallo. Liu. To caste a trenche betweene one and a citie.
Introire in vrbem. Cicer.
Inuadere vrbẽ ſomno & vino ſepultã. Virgil. To assaute a citie, the people wherof are ouerwhelmed with sleape and drunkennesse.
Inuadere in vrbes vi, Vide INVADO.
Inuiſere vrbes. Virgil.
Securas vrbes irrumpere. Claud.
Lacerare vrbes. Lucan.
Luſtrare vrbem, Vide LVSTRVM.
Mittere in ſeruitutem vrbes. Liu.
Penetrare ad vrbem. Ouid. Petere vrbem excidijs. Virg.
Ponere vrbem. Virgil. To builde a citie.
Premere vrbem ingenti obſidione. Virg. Streictly and hardly to bellege a citie.

Aegris vrbibus vitus redit calor. Claud.
Placidas vrbes in pace regebat. Virg.
Regere consilijs vrbes. Quintil.
Referare vrbem, & pandere portas. Virg.
Sepulta vrbs. Tacit. A citie vtterly destroyed.
Spoliare vrbes populis. Stat.
Præclaram vrbem statuere. Virg. To builde a noble citie.
Sternere vrbes admotis machinis. Seneca. To beate downe cities &c.
Transcribunt vrbi matres. Virg.
Viduare vrbem ciuibus. Virg. Victæ vrbes. Horat.

Vrbícula, vrbículæ, fœm. gen. pen. cor. Diminutiuum. A little citie or towne.

Vrbicus, pen. cor. Adiectiuum. Sueton. Of or perteynynge to a towne.
Magistratus vrbici. Sueton.
Occupationes vrbicæ. Martial.

Vrbânus, pen. prod. Aliud adiectiuum: cui Rusticus opponitur. Cic. Of a citie: dwellyng in a citie: Ciuile: curteise: gentill in speache and gesture.
Arbor vrbana, cui Syluestris opponitur. Plinius. A tree cherished and kepte in a gardeine.
Excubiæ vrbanæ. Tacit. Familia vrbana. Pompon.
Mus vrbanus. A towne mouse.
Otium vrbanum. Cic.
Prædia vrbana. Vlpian. Gentilmens houses either in the citie or countrey. Quia vrbanum prædium non locus facit, sed materia, inquit Vlpianus.
Rebus vrbanis abstinere. Plin. Not to meddle with ciuile affayres.
Serui vrbani. Paul. That serue in the towne or citie.
Vita vrbana, cui opponitur Rustica. Terent. A ciuile lyfe in the towne, not medlyng with husbandrie.
Vitæ vrbanæ commoda. Ouid.
¶ Vrbanus. Cic. Ciuile: courteyse: of gentill and pleasant behauiour: pleasant & courteyse in woordes & gesture.
Comis & vrbanus. Horat.
Homo lautus & vrbanus. Cic.
Frons vrbana. Horat.
Homo vrbanæ frontis. Bud. ex Horat. A comely citizen: one of a seemely porte: a man of courteis behauiour and countenance.

Vrbánicus, pen. cor. Adiectiuum. Paulus iurisconsul. Of a citie or towne.

Vrbánitas, pen. cor. vrbanitâtis, fœm. gen. Quintil. Courteisie: ciuilitie: good maner: gentilnesse in speach and behauiour: pleasant iesting.
Vrbanitas opportuna reficit animos. Quint. Pleasãt talke, in season vsed, recreateth the minde.
Oratoria vrbanitas. Quintil. The pleasant grace in iesting vsed of an orator.
Vir nostrorum hominum vrbanitate limatus. Cic.
Incurrere in hominum facetosam vrbanitatem, Vide INCVRRO.
Desideria vrbis & vrbanitatis depone. Cic. And of ciuile life.

Vrbáne, pen. prod. Aduerbium. Cic. Pleasantly: with a good grace: courteysely.

Vrbanatim: Lyke a gentilman: like a citizen.

Vrbanicani milites. Souldiours of the citie.

Vrceus, cei, pen. cor. m. gen. Plaut. A pitcher potte for water.
Vrceus æneus. Cato. Vrcei aquarij. Cato.
Vrcei fictiles, vrnales. Cato.

Vrcéolus, vrcéoli, m. g. pen. cor. Diminutiuum. Colum. A little water pitcher.

Vrceolâris, pen. prod. Adiectiuũ. That perteineth to pitchers.
vnde Vrceolaris herba, quæ aliàs Perdicium dicitur, & Herba muralis, & Helxine. Plin. Pellitory of the walle.

Vredo, pen. prod. vrédinis, fœm. gen. Cic. The faute of blastyng in corne, trees, or hearbes.
¶ Vredo. Plin. An itche, or burnyng in the skinne.

Vreteres, pen. prod. Cels. The water pipes or cundites, by whiche the vryne passeth from the raynes to the bladder.

Vrgeo, vrges, vrsi, vrsum, vrgêre, pen. prod. Virg. To prouoke: to haste forth: to streine: to enforce: to presse on: to vrge: to be streicte or earnest vpon.

¶ Vrgere. Cels. To vex, infest, or molest: to oppresse.
Illud neque vrsi, neque leuaui. Cic. I did neither earnestly pursue that thyng, nor yet qualifie it.
Iusto atque vrgeo, insector, posco, atque adeò flagito. Cic.
¶ Angustijs vrgeri. Cic. To be in great streicte or difficulty: to be hardely streygned.
Assultibus varijs vrgere aliquem. Virg.
Conuitio aliquorum vrgeri. Cic.
Cululis vrgere aliquem. Horat. To presse one often with the cuppe: to moue him often to drynke: to apply him with the cuppe.
Curis multis vndique vrgeri. Lucret. To be hardely vexed with care on euery syde.
Dolore graui vrgentur. Cels. Exilio vrgeri. Cic.
Fame, ferróque vrgeri. Liu. To be sore streyned and inforced with famine and violence of swoorde.
Febres magnæ vrgent. Cels. Great feuers vexe &c.
Fortuna vrget miseros tenaciter. Ouid.
Hortatibus vrgere aliquem. Valer. Flac. Earnestly to incourage, or to lie earnestly vpon one in perswadyng.
Ab hoste magno vrgeri. Valer. Flac.
Iussis ingentibus vrgere. Virg. To straine on with &c.
Laboribus vrgere famulas. Ouid. To charge, & to folow his seruauntes with woorke earnestly.
Literis vrgeri. Asinius Pollio ad Ciceronem. To be earnestly called on &c.
Malis omnibus vrgeri. Cic. To be vexed or greeued &c.
Dominus non leuis vrget mentem. Horat.
Mœrore vrgeri. Cic. To be in great sorow.
Mole vrgetur corpus. Virg. Morbo vrgeri. Cic.
Nox vrget diem, & dies noctẽ. Horat. I haue no rest either day or night.
Onus vrget. Ouid. Periculum vrget. Plin.
Solicitudine vrgeri. Cic. To be in great care.
Somnus vrget. Cic. He hath much adoo to forbeare sleape.
Tempus vrget moriendi. Cic.
¶ Illud vrgeam, non intelligere eum quid sibi dicendum, quam dolorem summum malum esse dixerit. Cic. I may be earnest with him to answer mee in this poynte, that he vnderstandeth not &c.
In aliquo opere noctes & dies vrgeri. Cic. To be earnestly occupied in a woorke both day and night.
Diutius vrgere. Cic. To pursue a matter further.
Acrius vrgere. Horat.
Ius Crassus, æquitatem Antonius vrgebat. Cic. Crassus earnestly alleaged the rigour of the law, Antonius æquitie.
Occasionem vrgere. Cic. Earnestly to pursue and folow &c.
De ædificatione tua Cyrum vrgere non cesso. Cicero. I cease not to solicite and call earnestly vpon Cyrus &c.
Si tibi id minus libebit, non te vrgebo. Cic. I wil not straine you, or be earnest on you.
Iratis precibus vrgere aliquem. Horat.
Male administratæ prouinciæ vrgeri. Tacit. To be earnestly charged with the ill gouernment of the prouince.
Vrgere aliquem ad solutionem. Vlpian. To constrayne or enforce one to pay.
¶ Vrgeo, cũ infinitiuo. Hor. Vrges summouere littora, &c. Thou trauaylest or labourest earnestly to remoue &c.
¶ Vrgere. Virg. To hasten forth or forwarde.
Iter vrgere. Ouid. To hasten forwarde &c.

Vrgens, vrgentis, Participium. Virg. Forcyng: straynyng: calying earnestly vpon.
Duris vrgens in rebus egestas. Virg. Sore pressyng &c.
Vrgente hostium manu. Plin. The armie of their enemies pressyng them hardely.
Onus aut iam vrgentis, aut certè aduentantis senectutis. Cic.
Fato vrgenti incumbere. Virg.

Vri, vrorum, m. gen. Plin. Wylde beastes lyke oxen: bugles or buffes.

Vrica, úricæ, pen. cor. Plin. An hurte commyng to all maner of grayne by ouermuche moysture. Vitium commune omnium satorum, etiam ciceris, cum salsilaginem eius abluendo imber dulcius id facit. Plin. lib. 18. cap. 17. Videtur autem ex verbis Theophrasti de Causis plant. lib. 6. cap. 14. non intellectus hunc locum perperam transtulisse, & vricam eundem falſilagini morbum facere: qui quidem ciceri vtilis eſt, & ſalis loco ad conſeruationem: quòd ſi in flore & fructu ciceris proueniente hæc falſilago imbribus abluat, mox herba radicibus arefactis emoritur.

Vrigo, pen. prod. vríginis, fœm. gen. Plin. Burnynge in ſores by occaſion of any hotte medicine.

Vrina, vrínæ, fœm. gen. pen. prod. Colum. Wyne: water of mã or beaſt: pyſſe: ſtale.

¶ Genitalis vrina. Plin. The ſeede of man or beaſte.

Anguſtijs vrinæ vtile abrotonum. Plin. Is holſome agaynſt payne and difficultie in makyng water.

Vrinæ crebra cupiditas, ſed magna difficultas eſt. Celſus. He hath often deſyre to make water, but alway great pain.

Vrinæ difficultates ſuccus emendat. Plin. The iuice healeth difficultie, or payne in makyng water.

Vrinæ difficultatibus medetur hæc herba. Plin.

Incontinentia vrinæ, Vide INCONTINENS.

Iter vrinæ. Celſ. The cundite or way by whiche wyne paſſeth.

Profluuium vrinæ cohibere. Plin. To ſtay the diſeaſe of the fluxe of wyne.

Vrinæ tormina diſcutit cichorium. Plin.

¶ Alba vrina. Celſus.

Arenoſa. Plinius. Wyne full of grauell.

Bullans. Plin. Wyne hauyng great fome.

| | |
|---|---|
| Candida. Plin. | Cruenta. Plin. |
| Craſſa. Plin. | Deterrima. Celſ. |

Difficilis vrina. Celſ. Payne in pyſſyng or makyng wyne.

Diluta. Celſus. Thinne watrie wyne.

| | |
|---|---|
| Parum liquida. Celſ. | Rubens. Plin. |
| Mala, deterior, peſsima. | Rubra. Celſ. |
| Celſus. | Ruſa. Plin. |
| Mortifera Plin. | Tenuis. Celſ. |
| Nigra. Plin. | Tortuoſior. Plin. |
| Pallida. Plin. | Viridis. Plin. |
| Pura. Celſ. | Vitioſa. Plin. |

¶ Ciere vrinam, Vide CIEO.

Citare vrinam & Tardare, contraria. Celſ. To prouoke.

Auribus atque oculis concepta vrina. Iuuenal. Smartynge wyne taken into ones eares and eyes: to heare and ſee that pleaſeth him, as well as ſalte in his eyes.

Concitare vrinam, Vide CONCITO.

Dens defricatus vrina. Catull.

Deſcendit pura vrina. Celſ.

Deſtillat paulatim ſine voluntate vrina. Celſ.

Excalefacere vrinas. Plin.

Vrina non excedit. Celſ. Wyne cometh not foorth.

Excitare vrinam. Plin. To prouoke wyne.

Exinanita prius vrina. Plin. Hauyng firſt made water.

Expellere vrinam. Plin. To piſſe: to cauſe to piſſe.

Facere vrinam. Colum. To piſſe: to make water.

Impellere vrinam. Plin. To prouoke wyne: to cauſe to piſſe.

Inhibere vrinam. Plin.

Inſtillare vrinam. Plin.

Mordet aliquos acriore vi vrina. Plin. Some mens wyne by the ſharpeneſſe of it, maketh a burnyng or ſmartyng.

Mouere vrinam. Plin.

Mouetur vrina. Iuuenal.

Nocet vrinæ galbanum. Plin.

Pellere vrinam. Plin. To cauſe to piſſe.

Pellit vrinam celerrimè, &c. Plin.

Prodeſt vrinæ pota radix. Plin. The roote dronke is good to prouoke wine.

Profluit naturaliter vrina. Celſ.

Reddere vrinam. Plin. To make water.

Soluere vrinam. Plin. To prouoke wyne.

Tardare vrinam. Celſus.

Trahit vrinas hæc herba. Plin. This herbe prouoketh wine.

Tranſfluens vrina. Celſus.

Vrinare, vel vrinari, Deponens. Plin. To dyue or ſwimme vnder the water.

Vrinâtor, pen. prod. vrinatôris, m. g. Calliſtratus. One that dyueth or ſwimmeth vnder the water.

Vrinum ouum. Plin. An egge that proueth not but er an hen or other birde: a rotten egge: an egge that the henne hath ſitten on.

Vrina oua fiunt incubatione derelicta, quæ alij cynoſura dixere. Plin.

Vrion, & Vrium, rij, n. gen. A certayne kynde of earth.

Vrito, Vide VRO.

Vrna, vrnæ, fœm. gen. Colum. A meaſure of liquide thynges conteynyng. xxiii. Sextarios, and is the halfe of Amphora, of our meaſure fower gawnes & an halfe. Alſo the general name of a water pitcher or potte.

| | |
|---|---|
| Aquæ vrna. Horat. | Argenti vrna. Horat. |

Arcta vrna. Ouid.

Capacibus vrnis excipere & fundere laticem. Ouid.

Demiſſa vrna in vndas. Ouid.

Vndantem vrnam declinare. Claud.

¶ Vrna. Cic. a pot wherinto the Prætour did put the names of the iudges, when they ſhould be choſen.

Vt pateremur nomina noſtra in vrnam conijci. Plin. iun.

Educit ex vrna tres. Cic.

| | |
|---|---|
| Feralis vrna. Tacit. | Delere vrnas. Cic. |

Mouere vrnam. Virg.

Quatere vrnam. Stat. To ſhake the potte.

¶ Vrna imaginis mortui. Cic. The potte wherin the aſhes of a dead man was kepte.

Vrnâlis, & hoc vrnâle, penult. prod. Belongyng to a pitcher or potte: or that conteyneth the meaſure Vrna. vt

Vrnales caliculi, vel vrcei. Plin. Cato.

Vrnárium, vrnárij, n. gen. Varro. A bourde in a kitchen, wherin pottes or veſſels be ſet full of water.

Vrnula, úrnulæ, fœm. gen. pen. cor. Diminutiuum. A litle water pitcher or potte. vnde Vrnula aqualis. Varro.

Fictiles vrnulæ. Cic.

Vro, vris, vſi, vſtum, úrere, pen. cor. Plin. To burne: to tourmẽt vexe, or greeue.

Flammis ſubiectis vrere aliquid. Virg.

Sol grauis vrit arua. Ouid. The hotte ſunne parcheth &c.

Sitis vſſerat herbas. Ouid. Wyenelle and heate burned vp the graſſe.

| | |
|---|---|
| Vrit calore. Cic. | Calor vrit artus. Lucret. |

Vrere, de frigore etiam dicitur. Lucanus, Vrebant montana niues. The ſnow did burne, or bite &c.

Pernoctant venatores in niue, in montibus vri ſe patiuntur. Cic. They ſuffer themſelfe to be bitten or parched in the colde hilles.

Vri virgis. Horat. To be ſore beaten with roddes.

Loris vri. Horat. To be whipped or ſcourged.

Calceus anguſtior dicitur vrere pedem. Horat. To wryng or greene the foote.

¶ Vro hominem, per tranſlationem. Terent. I vexe him: I nettle him, or ſtynge him: I nippe him by the ſtomache: I gene him a corroſe.

Vrebant anxiam mentem varia vndiq; conuitia. Sueton. Did vexe his carefull minde.

-quàm magis id repeto,
Tam magis vror. Plaut. The more I am tourmented or greeued with it.

Quos & Machanidas tyrannus Lacedæmoniorum finitimo bello vrebat. Liuius. whom Machanidas did plague and tourment &c.

Vrit atrox Iuno. Virg. Angry Juno freateth and is greatly moued, or in a great chauſe.

¶ Vri. Virg. To bourne in loue.

Impenſius vri. Catull.

Pectore intimo vri. Catul. To be in loue euen at the botem of his hearte.

Violenter me vſit amor. Ouid.

Pectore toto vri. Ouid.

| | |
|---|---|
| Amor me vrit. Virg. | Dolor vrit amantes. Ouid. |

Doloribus tacitis vri. Ouid.

Ignibus vri. Horat. To haue his hearte on fier with loue.

Vrens, Participium. Burnyng. vt

Caminus vrens ramos. Horat.

Capellæ vrentes culta. Virg. Goates with their bronſing hillyng bynes and other trees.

Vrendus, Aliud participium: vt Filix vrenda. Horat.

Vſtrigo, ginis, fœm. gen. Blaſtyng of corne.

Vſtus, Similiter participium. Plin. Burned.
Ignibus vſtus crudeliter. Ouid.
Aer ſiccis feruoribus vſtus. Ouid.
Capillus vſtus. Tibull.

Vſtio, vſtiônis, fœm. gen. Verbale. Cato. A burnyng: a fearyng.
Vſtio. Plin. A marbyng with an hotte yron.

Vſtor, vſtôris, pen. prod. Verbale maſcu. gen. Martial. A burner: one that burneth dead bodies.

Vſtulo, úſtulas, pen. cor. vſtulâre. Pacuuius. To burne or feare a thyng.

Vſtulandus, Participium. Catull. To be burned.

Vſtulâtus, pen. prod. Aliud participium: vt Pali vſtulati. Vitru. Stakes bourned at the ende to harden them.

Vſtrîna, vſtrínæ, fœm. gen. pen. prod. Plin. A meltyng houſe for metall: a place where dead bodies are burned.

Vropygium, & oropygium, neut. gen. Martial. The narowest and lowest parte of the chine: the rumpe.

Vrpix, vrpîcis, pen. prod. maſcu. gen. Inſtrumentum ruſticũ. Cato. An inſtrument of huſbandrie.

Vrruncum, vrrunci, n. g. Varro. The lowest parte of the eare of corne next the ſtraw.

Vrſus, vrſi, m. g. Plin. The male beare.
Armati vnguibus vrſi. Ouid. Auidi vrſi. Ouid.
Informes vrſi. Virg. Rauci. Stat.
Sæuis inter ſe conuenit vrſis. Iuuenal.
Truces vrſi. Valer. Flac. Turpes. Ouid.
Veſpertinus circumgemit vrſus ouile. Horat. The beare in the euening ſeeking for his pray roreth about the ſheepe houſes.

Vrſulus, úrſuli, m. g. pen. cor. Diminutiuum. A little beare, or beare whelpe.

Vrſa, vrſæ, fœmininum. Plin. The ſhe beare.
Villoſæ vrſæ catuli. Ouid.
Squallida vrſa errabat per montes incultos. Ouid.
Libyſtis vrſa. Virg. A beare of Lybia.
¶ Vrſa. The ſygne of ſterres in the norih, called Charles wayne.

Vrſînus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Of a beare. vt Vrſinus ſanguis. Colum.

Vrtica, vrtícæ, f. g. pen. prod. Plin. A nettle.
Mordax vrtica. Ouid. A ſtyngyng nettle.
Mortifera contactu vrtica. Plin.
¶ Vrtica, pro pruritu libidinis. Iuuen. The tickling of leacherie.
¶ Vrtica. Plin. A kynde of fiſh, as Iouius ſayeth, of the bignelle of a walnutte, couered with an harde pille: Ariſtotle ſayeth it is without ſhell, and is of doubtfull nature between a plante and a liuyng creature.

Vruum, vrui, Aratri curuatura. Feſtus. The crooked ploughe tayle.

V S

Vſia, Latinè eſſentia, ſiue ſubſtantia dicitur.

Vſio, Vſitatus, Vſitatio, Vſitor, &c. Vide VTOR.

Vſpiam, Aduerbiũ in loco. Terent. Any where: in any place: in any thyng.
Vtrum conſiſtere vſpiam velit, an mare tranſire, neſcitur. Cicero.
Si ſcieris aſpidem occultè latére vſpiam. Cic. Any wheare.
¶ Num me expertus vſpiam? Plaut. Haſte thou tried me in any thyng?

Vſquam, Aduerbium in loco. Cic. Any where: in any place: in any thyng or mattier: in any wiſe or maner.
Neque vſquam exul eſſe poſſum. Brutus Ciceroni.
Nec verò vſquam diſcedebam. Cic. I neuer went from him, where ſo euer he weare.
¶ Neque iſtic, neque alibi tibi vſquam erit in me mora. Terentius. Neither in this mattier, nor in any thynge elſ, what ſo euer it be, &c.
¶ Vide, num eius color, pudoris ſignum vſquam indicat? Terent. Se wheather his colour ſhew any tokẽ of ſhame at all?
¶ Vſquam gentium, De loco & ad locum. Plaut. Any where, or to any place.

Si ea quidem deducta eſt vſquam gentium. Terent. To any place, what ſo euer it be.
An quiſquam vſquam gentium eſt æquè miſer? Terent.

Vſque, Præpoſitio. Cic. Vntill: welnigh: continually: alway: ſo longe.
Vſque ad pridie Calend. Maias. Cic. Euen vntill the laſte of Apryll.
Vſque ad ſummam ſenectutem. Cic.
Aſſenſerunt Conſules omnes, etiam Conſulares vſque ad Põpeium. Plin. iunior. Yea all that had been Cõſulles, ſauyng or excepte Pompei, or vntill they came to Põpei.
Vſque ſub extremum brumæ. Virg. Vntil the latter ende of wynter: aboute the ende of &c.
Vſque Romam, vel Romam vſque. Terent. Cicero. Euen to Rome.
Aſpera arteria ad pulmones vſque pertinet. Cic.
Ab ouo vſque ad mala. Horat. From the beginnynge to the ende: from the firſt to the laſt.
Achemenidas vſque illò tenuiſſe. Plin. Euen to that place.
¶ Vſque, aliquando eſt aduerbium: vt
Vſque à cunabulis. Plautus. Euen from my cradel, or frõ my infancie.
Vſque à mane ad veſperum. Plautus. Euen from morynge to nyght.
Vſque à pueris. Terent. Euen from theyr childehodde.
Vſque à Romulo. Cic. Euen from Romulus his tyme.
Planitiem omnem à Cyro vſque, Albanorũ gens tenet. Plin. Euen from the ryuer Cyrus.
Vſque à capite arceſſere. Cic.
Vſque ab ſtirpe. Plaut. Euen from the roote.
Siculo proſpexit ab vſque Pachyno. Virg.
Vſque ad iactum teli. Tacit. Vntil they came within ſhotte, or caſt of a darte.
Ad ſerum vſque diem. Tacit. Euen vntill euenyng.
Celatum eſt atque occultatum vſque adhuc. Plaut. Yet, or to this preſent time.
Vſque adhuc quæſiui. Plautus. Hitherto, or to this preſente tyme.
Vſque adoleſcentiam meam. Cic. Euen to my youth.
Vſque ante diem quintum Calendas Maias. Liu. Vntill the day before the fifte Calendes of May.
Vt animus in ſpe atque in timore vſque antehac attentus fuit. Terent. Euer before time.
Attuliſti mihi vſque è Perſia. Plaut. Euen out of Perſia.
Ex Aethiopia eſt vſque hæc. Terent. This wenche came euẽ as farre as Aethiope.
Vſque extra ſolitudines deductus. Plin. Vntill he was out of the wilderneſſes.
¶ Vſqueadeò turbatur agris. Virg. He is ſo much troubled.
Ipſos tempeſtas vehementius iactare cœpit, vſqueadeò vt gubernator in ſcapham confugeret. Cic.
Suadere, orare, vſqueadeò donec perpulit. Terent. So longe vntill he forced me to doo it.
Igni coquito vſqueadeò, dum fiat tã craſſa quàm mel. Cato. So longe, vntill &c.
Bibas, edas quantum velis vſque affatim. Plautus. As muche as thou wilt, euen to thy fill.
¶ Vſquedum inueniretur. Cic. Vntill it was founde.
Id faciunt vſquedum dolium alterius furfuribus & vuis cõpleant. Columel.
¶ Vſque eò dum. Cicero, Multa facimus vſque eò, dum aſpectus ipſe fidem faciat ſui iudicij. So longe, vntill &c.
Vſque eò, ne cum bonis, Nœuij crudelitati dedatur. Cic. So farre, that he may not with al his goods be cõmitted &c.
Vſquo eò eſt cõmotus, vt ſine vlla dubitatione inſanire omnibus ac furere videretur. Cic. He was ſo much moued, that &c.
Eos vſque iſtinc exauditos puto. Cicero. I thinke they weare hearde euen from thens.
Trans Alpes vſque transfertur. Cic. It is brought as farre as from beyonde the Alpes.
¶ Ego vapulando, ille verberando vſque ambo defeſi ſumus. Terent. So longe vntill both he with beatyng, and I with beyng beaten was weary.
Me pugnis miſerum vſque occidit. Terent. He hath almoſt killed me with beatyng and thumpynge with his fistes wretch that I am.

Opus faciam vt defatiger vsque, ingratus vt dormiam. Terent. I will labour euen vntill I be weary &c.

¶ Mihi vsque curæ erit quid agas. Cicero. I shall alway be carefull, what you doo.

Vsque & vsque, geminatum. Martialis, Et quicquid petit, vsq; & vsque donas. Continually and alway.

Vsque valuisti? Plaut. Weare you alway in good health?

Vsque opperiar. Plaut. I will still tary for you.

Perreptaui vsque omne oppidum. Terent. I haue gone ouer all the towne.

Vsquequaque, pen. prod. Aduerbium. Cic. All aboute: euery where: on euery syde: alway: continually.

Nolite vsquequaque eadem quærere. Cic. Doo you not demaunde alway one thyng.

Nusquam & Vsquequaque, contraria. Cic.

¶ Vsquequaque sapere oportet. Cic. A man must alway be wyse.

Vsquequaque se Domitij malè habent. Cælius ad Ciceronẽ. The Domitians be still in ill case.

Aut vndique religionem tolle, aut vsquequaque conserua. Cic. Either take away religion cleane, or preserue it in all poyntes whole and sounde.

Mihi vsquequaque loquitur. Plaut. He speaketh to me alwayes.

Vsquequo, pen. cor. Aduerbium. Varro. Vntill.

Iubet ranam conijcere in aquam, vsquequo ad tertiam partẽ decoxeris. Varro. So long vntill &c.

Vsquequo magnarum nauium capacem esse diximus. Plin. Vntill the place where I sayde it woulde receiue great shippes.

Quo te spectabimus vsque? Martial. How long shall we &c.

Legata, vsquequo Falcidia permittit, suam habent potestatẽ. Vlpian. Legacies, so farre as the law Falcidia permitteth, &c.

Vstio, Vstrina, Vstrigo, Vstulo, Vstus, &c. Vide V R O.

Vsualis, Vsuarius, Vsucapio, Vsura, Vsurpo, Vsurpatio, Vsus, Vsusfructus, Vide V T O R, vteris.

Vt, Coniunctio causatiua. Cic. As: that: affoone: how: lyke as: woulde to god: how much: all be it: lest not.

Syracusana ciuitas (vt eam potissimumm nominem) dedit ipsi statuam. Cicer. The citie Syracuse (to name that especially) &c.

Quàm sis audax (vt alia obliuiscar) hinc omnes intelligere potuerunt. Cic. (That I may forgette, or not recite other thynges) &c.

Et (verè vt dicam) de te futurum est. Cic. And (to say the trueth) it will come to passe of thee.

¶ Vt ad pauca redeam, vxorem deduxi domum. Terent. To make a shorte tale, or, to be shorte &c.

¶ Vt ita dicam. Quintil. As I may say.

¶ Mihi suasit, vt ad te irẽ. Plaut. He perswaded me to come to you.

¶ Vt, elegantiæ causa aliquãdo ponitur. Cicero, Inuitus feci, vt L. Flaminium è Senatu eijcerem. It was agaynst my will to cast Flaminius out of the Senate.

¶ Impuratus me ille vt etiam irrideat? Terentius. How that naughtie and vyle knaue doth mocke or scorne me?

¶ Vt non, pro Quin. Cicero, Fieri nullo pacto potest, vt non dicas quid non probes eius à quo dissentias. It can not be by any meanes, but that you must needes tell, what you doo not alow &c.

¶ Vt, pro postquam:

-vt abij abs te, fit forte obuiam
Mihi Phormio. Terent. After I departed from you &c.

Est annus vt repulsam tulit. Cic. It is an yere sens that &c.

Vt illos de Republica libros edidisti, nihil à te sanè postea accepimus. Cic. After that, or sens that you did set foorth your bookes &c.

¶ Vt regem æquæuum vidi. Virg. As soone as I saw &c.

-omnes profectò mulieres Te amant, vt quæque aspexit.

Plaut. Euen by and by as soone as any of them doo looke vpon you.

-ut quisque venerat,
Accedebam, Adolescens dicdum quæso, &c. Terent. As soone as any of them came, or, to euery one that came, I went to him &c.

Vt & confestim. Liuius, Vt Hostius cecidit, confestim Romana inclinatur acies. As soone as, or after that Hostius was slayne, by and by the Romaine armie &c.

Vt hæc audiuit, sic exarsit ad id, &c. Cicer. By and by, as soone as he hearde this, he was in suche a chaufe at it &c.

Vt primùm fletu represso loqui posse cœpi. Cic. As soone as.

Vt primùm cessit furor. Virg.

Misi cum Tirone plures, quibus singulis, vt quidque accidisset, dares literas. Hirt. To eache of which, so soone as any thing had happened, you might deliuer letters.

Vt quisque me viderat. Cic. As soone as any saw me.

¶ Vt tute es, item censes omnes esse. Plautus. Thou thynkest euery man is lyke thy selfe.

Vt illud incredibile est mortem oblatam esse patri à filio, sic hoc verisimile non est, &c. Cic. As that is a thynge incredible &c, so &c.

Vt operum fastigia spectantur, latent fundamenta. Quintil. As the toppes of houses are seen, so the fundations &c. Ita, subintelligitur.

¶ Vt & Ita, cum superlatiuo, pro Tantò & Quantó. Cicero, Vt quisque optimè dicit, ita maximè dicendi difficultatem pertimescit. The more eloquent that any man is, the more he feareth &c.

¶ Vt voles esse me, ita ero. Plaut. I will be, euen as you wyll haue mee.

¶ Ita sunt deinde dulces, vt non legantur modò, sed etiam edisscantur. Cic. That they be not only redde, but also cunned by hearte.

Vt res dant sese, ita magni atque humiles sumus. Terent.

¶ Pro quam, aut quantum. Vt optimè possumus. Quintil. Euen as well as wee can possibly.

Vt honorificentissimis verbis ipse consequi potero. Cic. with as honourable woordes as possibly I can.

Ei te commendaui, vt diligẽtissime potui. Cic. I wrate in your behalfe to him, as diligently as possibly I coulde.

¶ Nec vtique damno, vt qui dixerim esse in omnibus vtilitatis aliquid. Quintil. Neither doo I condemne it, for so muche as I haue sayde, that &c.

¶ Vt cum verbis, Metuo, vereor, & timeo iunctũ, pro N E N O N sumitur, Metuo vt subsset hospes. Terent. I feare least my straunger will haue neuer a woorde to say.

Firmæ hæ vereor vt sint nuptiæ. Terentius. I feare this mariage will not holde longe.

Timeo vt sustineas. Cic. I feare you can not sustaine it.

¶ Scis mea consilia vt tibi credam omnia. Terentius. You know how I doo trust you with all my secreate counsayles.

Credo te audisse vt me circunsteterint. Cic. I thinke you haue hearde how they stoode about mee.

Vt apparet. Cic. As it appeareth.

Multum (vt dixi) & diu cogitauit. Cic. (As I sayd.)

Eludensq; artem (vt ferunt) Agedum, inquit, &c. Liu. (As they say.)

Pecunia (vt fama est) ab rege accepta. Liu. (As the reporte is.)

Vt est consuetudo. Cic.

Verùm (vt fit) multa sæpe imprudentibus imperatoribus vis belli, ac turba molitur. Cic. (As it happeneth often.)

Vt sæpe venit. Colum. As it often commeth to passe.

Vt è Platone intelligi potest. Cic.

Vt perhibent. Virg. As men say.

¶ Horum authoritate finitimi adducti (vt sunt Gallorum subita & repentina consilia) eadem de causa, &c. Cæsar. (As the nature of the Frenche men is to doo thynges vpon the sodayne.)

Vt nunc sunt mores. Terentius. As the facion of the worlde now is.

Vt mihi rem narras Callicles, nullo modo potest fieri. Plaut. If it be as thou tellest me Callicles &c.

Vt est hominum genus nimis acutum & suspicioſum. Cic. As indeede they are a kynde of men very quiche witted, and lightly lightly ſuſpectyng thynges.

Vt par eſt. Cic. As it is meete.

Vt poteſt. Cic. So much as may be.

¶ Vt, pro ſecundum, vel pro. Multæ etiam, vt in homine Romano, literæ. Cic. And, for a Romayne, well learned alſo.

Erat cum literis Latinis, tum etiam Græcis, vt temporibus illis, ſatis eruditus. Cic. He was, as that time ſerued, well learned, both in Latin and Greeke.

Orationem ſalutarem, vt in tali tempore, habuit. Liu. He made vnto them, as that time ſerued, or, as might be in ſuche a time, an fruitefull and profitable oration.

Vt populi Romani ætas eſt, ſenes: vt Athenienſium ſecula numerantur, adoleſcentes debent videri. Cic. In reſpecte or regarde of the continuãce of the people of Rome, they ſhould ſeeme olde men, &c.

Nonnihil, vt in tantis malis, eſt profectum. Cic. They preuayled, conſyderyng the great miſchiefes that then weare, not a little.

Vt in licentia hac temporum. Plin. iun. Conſyderynge the licentiouſneſſe of this time.

Vt nunc eſt, manſuræ videtur. Cic. As the mattier now goeth, it may ſeeme they will tarie.

Non vt olim ſolebat, Atellanum: ſed, vt nunc fit, mimum introduxiſti. Cic.

¶ Eius negotium ſic velim ſuſcipias, vt ſi eſſet res mea. Cic. In ſuche ſorte, as if it weare my owne mattier.

Vt quidem ſe nunc cauſa habet. Cic.

Vt diei tempus eſt. Terent. Conſyderyng the time of the day.

¶-rus vt ibat, vt multum fortè pluerat,
Ingreſſum fluuium rapidum, Plaut. (Much raine by chaũce hauyng fallen before) &c.

¶ Vt numerabatur fortè argentum. Terent. As one, happyly, was paying mee money.

¶ Vt, pro ſecundum quod. Vt mea memoria eſt. Cic. So farre as I remember.

Vt Dicæarcho viſum eſt. Cic. After the opiniõ of Dicæarchus.

Vt in quoque erat authoritatis plurimum. Cic. Euery one, as he was in greateſt authoritie or reputation &c.

¶ Vt vales? Plaut. How fare you?

¶ Vt, pro Quàm, vel O quàm, admiratiué. Cic. Vt ille tum humilis, vt demiſſus erat, vt ipſe etiam ſibi, non ijs ſolùm qui aderant, diſplicebat? O how humble was he then &c.

Vt præter ſpem euenit? Terentius. O lorde god how this hath happened, more then any man would haue hoped?

Vt falſus animi eſt? Terentius. O how he is deceiued in his opinion?

¶ Vt, pro quamuis. Vt omnia contra opinionem acciderent, tamen multo ſe plurimum nauibus poſſe proſpiciebant. Cæſ. Imagyne, or be it that all thynges did happen &c.

Sine quo, vt reliqua ex ſententia ſuccedant, vix ſatis liberi videmur fore. Cic.

Vt enim quæras omnia, quomodo Græci ineptum appellent, non reperies. Cic. Although thou ſeeke all places, or be it that thou ſeeke all, yet ſhalt thou not finde &c.

Verùm vt ita ſit, tamen, &c. Cicero. But put the caſe it be ſo, yet &c.

Vt alia non ſint, certè ne laſſeſcat fortuna, metus eſt. Plin. Admitte or put the caſe other thynges be not &c.

¶ Vt pro Vtinam. Terentius, Vt te omnes equidem di, deæque perdiunt. I pray god and all the ſayntes in heauen, ſome miſchiefe come to thee.

¶ Iam vt in limine, iam vt intra limen auditur. Plin. iun. Somtime as it weare at the dooze, somtime as it weare within the entrie.

¶ Tum illa, vt conſuetum facilè amorem cerneres,
Reiecit ſe in eum flens, quàm familiariter? Terent. In ſuche ſorte, as a man might eaſily perceiue &c.

¶ Eſt autem oratio ſcripta elegantiſimè ſententijs, verbis, vt nihil poſsit vltra. Cicer. In ſuch ſorte, as can not be more excellent.

¶ Operam vt det. P A. dabit. Plaut. Prouide that he may helpe mee.

Verùm, vt omnes dij adiuuent, cum decimo. Cicero. Id eſt, quamuis.

¶ Vt maximé. Columel. At the moſt: at the vttermoſt.

Domus celebratur ita vt quum maximé. Cic. His houſe is haunted as much as euer it was.

Vt multum. Martial. At the moſt.

Tribus vt plurimum bonitatibus diſtat. Plin. At the moſt, it differeth &c.

¶ Vt qui. As whiche &c. Columel. Concepta diutius in partum adoleſcunt, vt quę peracto anno menſe tertiodecimo vix eduntur.

¶ Vt ne addam, quòd ſine ſumptu ingenuam, liberalem nactus es. Terentius. That I maye not ſaye more ouer, that &c.

Vt ne, pro, ne. Plaut.

Vt ne ſuccenſeat, id eſt, ne ſuccenſeat.

Licet laudem fortunam, tamen vt ne Salutem culpem. Plaut. Although I prayſe fortune, yet I doo it not ſo, that I blame &c.

Vt ne id videam, miſera huc effugi foras. Terent. To thende that I may not ſee it.

Ita velim, vt nequid properes. Cic. I woulde haue you ſo to doo it, that you make not ouermuch haſte.

Vt ne longius abeam, declarat iſta aſcriptio eſſe aliquid. Cic. without goyng any further, euen this &c.

¶ Vt quid? Liu. Cic. wherfore? why?

¶ Vtut. Plaut. How ſo euer it be.

-iam iſtuc gaudeo,
Vtut erga me merita. Plautus. How ſo euer ſhe hath deſerued at my handes: or, what ſo euer diſpleaſure ſhe hath doone to me.

Vtut eſt, non ibo tamen. Plautus. How ſo euer the mattier be &c.

Vtut erat, manſum tamen oportuit. Terent. How ſo euer the mattier was &c.

Vtut erant alia, illi certè, quæ nunc domi tuæ eſt, conſuleres. Terent. How ſo euer other thynges went &c.

Rem patri, vtut erat geſta, indicauit. Terent. He declared to his father euen the whole order of the mattier, as it was doone.

¶ Vtputa. Vide P V T O, putas.

Vtcunque, Aduerbium. In what maner or facion ſo euer: how ſo euer: accordyng as: euen as: ſoſe: after a ſorte: metely ſo. Plaut. Vtcunque animo collubitum eſt meo. Euen as it liked my owne phantaſie.

¶ Vtcunque eſt ventus, exin velum vortitur. Plaut. How ſo euer the wynde is, accordyng therto the ſhipman tourneth his ſayle.

¶-tu vt ſubſeruias
Orationi, vtcunque opus ſit verbis, vide. Terent. See that thou anſwer my talke in euery poynde, accordynge as the mattier ſhall require.

¶ Vtcunque eſſet igitur, illo ipſo tam iniquo loco aggredi hoſtem placuit. Liuius. Therfore how ſo euer the mattier wente &c.

Tamen vtcunque ſit, etiam nunc, &c. Liu.

Vtcunque erit, iuuabit tamen rerum geſtarum memoriæ principis terrarum populi meipſum cõſoluiſſe. Liu. How ſo euer the mattier ſhall happen &c.

¶ Vtcunque rabiem & ipſi ſentiunt, id eſt, aliquo modo. Plin. They themſelues alſo after a ſorte &c.

Vtenſile, Vide V T O R.

Vter, vtra, vtrum. Cic which, or wheather of the twoo.

Videte vtrum ſit æquius, hominem honeſtiſsimum dedi inimiciſsimis nationibus, an reddi amicis. Cic. Conſider you wheather of theſe twoo is more reaſonable &c.

Vtra lex iubeat aliquid, vtra permittat. Cic.

¶ Si vter volet, recuperatores dabo. Cic. If the tone of them wyll: if either of them will.

Vter alteri dixerit, neſcio. Plin. which of them tolde it to the other, or wheather tolde either &c.

Dijudicari non poterat, vter vtri anteferendus virtute videretur. Cæſ. A man coulde not diſcerne, which was in vertue to be preferred before the other.

Neuter vtri inuidet. Plaut. Neither doth hate other.

Vtercunque, Adiectiuum. Cic. wheather of them ye will.

Vtérlibet, pen. cor. Aliud adiectiuum, Idem. Plin.
Accenſis vtriſlibet, odore ſerpentes fugantur. Plin.

Vtrumlibet elige:alterum incredibile eſt:alterum nefarium. Cicero.
Vternam?Horat. which of the twoo?
Vterque,vtraque,vtrunque,vtriuſque.Terent. Both: bothe the one and the other.
Vterque inſaniunt.Plaut. They are both madde.
Neque Cæſari imperari poteſt,nec Cæſar ſuo exercitui:quod vtrunque,peſsimum eſt.Brutus ad Ciceronẽ. Both which thynges be very ill.
In vtranque partem,Vide IN præpoſitionem.
Horum vterque cecidit victus.Cic.
Palmas vtraſque tetendit.Virgil. He helde vp bothe his handes.
Vtraque lingua.Plin. Both tongues.
Vterque vtrique eſt cordi.Terentius. Each of them loueth, or liketh other well.
Vterque vtrique eſt exercitus in conſpectu.Cæſ. Eache army may well ſee other.
Vterque alterum verberauit.Cic. Eache of them did beate other.
Vterque alteri obijcit.Quintil. Each obiecteth to other.
¶ Qui vtrique.Cic. which both.
Hoc beneficio vtrique ab vtriſque vero deuincimini.Terent. By the good healpe of this thyng,you are each bounde to other.
Vtrunque inuicem adiumento fuit.Plin.iunior. Theſe two thynges did one healpe an other.
Vteruis,vtrauis,vtrumuis.Cic. which of the two thou wilte.
Minus habeo virium,quàm veſtrum vteruis.Cic.
Vtrinque,Aduerbium.Cæſ. On the one part and on the other: on bothe ſydes.
Magnæ vtrinque copiæ paratæ ad depugnandum eſſe dicuntur.Cic.
Vtrinſecus,pen.cor.Aduerbium.Lucret. On both ſydes.
Vtrò,Aliud aduerbium.Plin. Towardes which parte.
Vtrobi:Vide paulo póſt,Vtrubi.
Vtrobîque,pen.prod. Similiter aduerbiũ.Liuius. On the tone place,and on the tother:on bothes partes.
Præda opulenta vtrobique eſt parta.Liu.
Vtrobiq; magnos inimicos habebam. Pollio ad Ciceronem.
Vtrôque, pen. prod.Aduerbium loci. To both places.Liu.Vtroque exercitus miſsi.
Vtroque verſum.Plaut. Towarde both parties:both toward the one parte,and the other.
Ambigua ſint,& vtroque verſum dicantur.Gell.
Vtrubi,ſiue(vt alij leguot) Vtrobi.Vlpia. In poſſeſſion of whether of the twoo perſons.
Vtrum,Interrogandi aduerbium, idem quod Num ſignificans, & ſequentem ferè ſemper habet particulam An. whether.
Vtrum ea veſtra,an noſtra culpa eſt? Cic. Is that your faute or ours?
Multum intereſt vtrum laus imminuatur, an ſalus deſeratur.Cic.
Quid tu curas vtrum crudum,an coctum edam?Plaut.
¶ Vtrum tibi accumbo?Plaut. Shall I ſitte downe by you?
Vtrum grauius aliquid in quempiam dici poteſt?Cic.
¶ Dubitate,ſi poteſtis, vtrum tantum numerum tritici Venerius apparitor iſtius ſibi acceperit, an huic exegerit. Cicero.
Vtrúmne,Idem.Horat.
Vter, vteri,m.gen.vel Vterus,vteri,pen.cor.Plin. A wombe.
¶ Vterus,pro Ventre.Virg. A bealy or paunche.
Vtero grauis.Plin. Great with chylde,or with yonge.
Ignoratus vterus.Plin.
Implerat vterum generoſo ſemine.Ouid.
Rugis vterum Lucina notauit.Ouidius. She had hir bealy wrinkled with bearyng childzen.
Grauitas tendebat mihi vterum.Ouid.
Tumens vterus.Stat. Mollis vterus.Stat.
Vti faciliore vtero.Plin. To be moze eaſely delinered: or, to be at moze eaſe while ſhe goeth with childe.
¶ Vterus.Tacitus. The childe in the mothers wombe.
Vtérculus, vtérculi,m.g.ſiue Vtrículus,pen.corr. Diminutiuũ. Plin. A little wombe.
¶ Vtriculus.Plin. The huſke or hull of all ſeedes. Alſo a coate or hull wherin yonge flowers are befoze they ſpread.
Vterînus,pen.prod.Iuſtinianus. Bozne of the ſame mother or damme.
Vter,vtris,maſc.gen.Plin. A bottle:a bagge of leather made lyke a bottle:a bouge of leather.
Inflatis vtribus innixus Cæſar flumina traijciebat.Sueton.
Vtres vinarij.Apul.
Vtres vncti.Virgil.
Vtrárius,vtrárij,maſcu.gen.Liu. He that fetcheth water in a bouge:a water lagger.
Vtriculárius,vtriculárij,m.g.Sueton. A baggepiper.
Vtercunque,Vterlibet,Vternam,Vterque,Vteruis,&c. Vide VTER adiectiuum.
Vterus,Vide VTER,vteri.
Vti,Particula idem ſignificat atque VT.Cic. That: as: to the ende that &c.
Vti eadem deditionis conditione vteretur.Cæſar. To thend that he ſhould vſe &c.
Nihil aliud,niſi vti nequid per vim agi poſſet.Cic.
¶ Senatui placere C.Caſsium prouinciam Syriam obtinere, vti qui optimo iure eam prouinciam obtinuerit.Cic. The Senates pleaſure is, that Caſſius haue the gouernement of the prouince of Syria, and that with as ample preeminence and good title, as any man hath had it befoze time.
Vtilis,Vtilitas,Vtiliter,Vide VTOR.
Vtinam, pen.cor.Aduerbium optantis.Terentius. Would to god.
Vtinam Deus ita faxit.Terent. God graunt it may be ſo.
Vtinam ſaluti noſtræ conſulere poſsimus.Cicero. I would to God wee might &c.
O vtinam tunc,quum Lacedæmona claſſe petebat,&c.Ouid.
Heri dicebas te in Tuſculanum venturum: quod vtinam, iterum vtinam,tuo tamen commodo.Cic.
Vtique, pen.corr.Aduerbium affirmandi.Quintil. Lyke as: verily.
Tertiam,ſi vtique bellum placeat,diem, locúmque conſtituant,vbi ſecum armis decernant.Liu.
¶ Si continentia virtus,vtique & abſtinentia.Quintil. If cõtinencie be a vertue,abſtinence is ſo lykewyſe.
Sol colorat: non vtique qui eſt coloratus,à ſole eſt.Quintil. The Sunne maketh one haue a taunie colour, and yet euery one that hath a tauny colour, is not ſo made by the Sunne.
Annum quidem vtique teneto.Cic.
Illud vero vtique ſcire cupio.Cic. And this truly I am deſyrous to knowe.
Vtique ad me tabellarios mittas.Cic.
Quod cenſeas mihi faciendum vtique ſcribito.Cic.
Quo die venies,vtique cum tuis apud me ſis.Cic. Be you & your company with me at my houſe, that day that you ſhall come.
Vtor, vteris,pen.cor.vſus ſum,vti.Cic. To vſe: to be conuerſant or familiar with one: to occupie: to take profit of.
Quibus ego nunc non vtor.Cic.
Vtor,accuſatiuo iunctum.Plaut. Cætera quæ volumus vti, Græca mercamur fide.
Nihil te vtor.Plaut. I wyll haue nothyng to doo with thee.
Nunquam te æquo vſus ſum.Cic. I coulde neuer yet fynde thee indifferent, or reaſonable towarde mee.
¶ Vti aliqua arbore carboni.Plinius. To vſe a tree to make coles.
¶ Vti aliquo familiariter.Cic. To haue great familiaritie & aquaintãce with one: to vſe one as his familiar friende.
Vti aliquo plurimum.Cicero. To vſe ones familiaritie, or healpe and ſeruice in thinges very much.
¶ Mihi docere videbaris iſtius generis humanitatem, qua quidem nihil vtor abs te.Cic. You ſeemed to teache that kynde of gentilneſſe,whiche I finde not in you, when I haue any thyng to doo.
Aliqua re ad faciendum aliquid vti.Cic.
Vti aliqua re contra ſe.Seneca.
¶ Familiariter amicitia alicuius vti.Quin.
Vti bene vel malè amicitia alicuius.Plaut.
Nimis ſtultè amicis vtere.Plautus. You doo to fondly abuſe your your friendes.

V T O

Noſtra vtere amicitia,vt vóles. Terent.
Mage amico vtuntur gnato & benevolo. Plaut. Thy ſonne loueth and fauoureth them the better.
Mihi ſi vnquam filius erit, næ ille facili me vtetur patre. Terent. Truely he ſhall finde me a very gentill and gratious father to him.
Placatis his vtor. Cic. They be now my friendes: they be now at one with me.
Eo velim tam facili vti poſſem, & tam bono in me, quàm Curio. Cic. I would I could finde him ſo gentill, & ſo friendly towarde me as Curio dothe.
Dementer amoribus vſa. Ouid.
Amore vti ſurreptitio. Plaut. To loue ſecretly.
Aquis frigidis vti. Celſus.
Aura vti dicuntur naues. Cæſar. To haue a good winde.
Baineo vti. Celſus. Bene vti re aliqua. Quintil.
Benignis vti aliquibus. Cic. To finde men courteys and liberall towarde him.
Beſtijs vti immanioribus. Cicer. To haue wilde beaſtes more cruell towarde vs.
Malè vti bonis eloquentiæ. Quintil. To abuſe &c.
Hoc Cicero atque Aſinius certatim ſunt vſi. Quintil. Cicero & Aſinius vſed this in ſuche ſorte, as they mighte ſeeme to contende, who might vſe it moſt or beſte.
Commodis vti. Cic.
Conſilio vti. Cæſ. To folow a counſayle.
Criminatione in aliquem vti. Cic.
Defenſore aliquo vti. Cicero. To haue one as his defendour.
Diſciplina vti. Plaut. To be of any ſchoole or learninge.
Vix equo propter ætatem poterat vti. Cæſar. He was ſcante hable to ride for age.
Exemplis grandibus vti in paruis. Ouid.
Vti fide lenonia. Plaut. To be of as true dealynge, as baudes are wonte to be.
Fide & præſidio alicuius vti. Cic. To vſe ones faithfulneſſe and healpe.
Fortunâ vti. Virg. To take fortune, when ſhe fauoureth.
Vti foro. Terent. To behaue himſelfe accordyng to the time.
Homine aliquo ad furta vti. Cicer. To vſe ones healpe in ſtealynge and robbinge.
Homine æquo vti. Cic. To finde one a reaſonable and friendly man, in that he hath to doe with him.
Honeſtè re aliqua vti. Quintil.
Vir ampliſſimis vſus honoribus. Cic. That hath ben in &c.
Horis ſuis vti. Cic. To beſtowe the whoile time, that by order is apointed to him to pleade.
Hortatione vti. Cic. To exhorte.
Vtar illis vt meis. Plin. iun. Thoſe ſhall ſerue me as my owne.
Ingenio vti iuueniliter. Ouid.
Inuidia minore vti. Plaut. Not to be ſo much enuied or hated.
De rebus ipſis vtere tuo iudicio. Cic. As touchinge the matter, iudge as you thinke good your ſelfe.
Ad liberalitatem vectigalibus vti. Cic.
Libertate modicè vti. Liu.
Modeſtè vti re aliqua. Ouid.
Multum vti aliquo, Vide MVLTVS.
Sapienter vti muneribus deorum. Horat.
Neceſſitate vti. Tacitus. Deſperately to kill himſelfe to auoide punishment: to doo that neceſſitie forceth him.
Oculis vti. Plaut. To ſee perfitely and well.
Hoc ego oculo vtor minimé. Plaut. I ſee nothynge with this eye.
Odio ciuiliter vſus eſt. Ouidius.
Officio improbi viri vti. Plaut. To play the parte of a naughtie felow.
Opera alterius vti. Plautus. To vſe an other mans healpe or ſeruice.
Vti opera alterius ad rem aliquam. Cic.
Vt Apollinis oraculo vteretur. Tacit. To the ende he might haue counſayle of the oracle, what to doo.
Parciſſimè re aliqua vti. Quintil. To vſe a thyng very ſeldome and little.
Paruo vti. Horat. To contente himſelfe, and liue with little.
Incredibili patientia vti. Cic.
Perfugio vti, Vide PERFVGIVM.
Permiſſo vti. Horat.
Vtar ea porta, quam primùm videro. Cic. I will renne in at that dooze, that I ſhall firſt ſee open.
Progreſſionibus vti. Cic. To proceede or goe forwarde.
Poteſtate vti ad quæſtum. Cicer. To turne his power to his owne gayne.
Ratione vti. Plaut. To vſe reaſon.
Regibus vti. Horat. To vſe familiaritie of princes to the aduauncement of his owne profite.
Senſibus vti. Lucret.
Sermonibus morologis vti. Plaut.
Simulatione itineris vti. Cæſ. To make as though he would goe to a place.
Solatio aliquo vti. Brutus ad Ciceronem. To vſe a cõforte.
Sorte ſua vti. Virg. To vſe his good fortune.
Spe duplici vti. Terent. To haue two wayes to the wooddes to haue two meanes to bring his purpoſe to paſſe.
Ad ſpeciem vti re aliqua. Cæſ. To vſe a thinge for a ſhew.
Teſte aliquo vti. Cic. To vſe one as a witneſſe.
Viſitatis tutius vtimur. Quintil.
Valetudine vti minus commoda. Cæſar. To be craſed or ſickely.
Vti valetudine firma. Plin. To be in good health & ſtronge.
Aduerſis ventis vti. Cic. To haue the winde againſt him.
Verbis mollibus vti ad aliquem. Ouid. To ſpeake gẽtly to.
Via vti. Cic. To goe the way, that other doo.
Vicinis, aliiſque mulieribus quàm minimum vtatur. Cato.
Vino modicè vti. Celſ. To drynke wine moderately.
Viribus vti. Horat.
Vti ætatis vitio. Cic. To vſe that fante, that men of his age are wonte to haue.
Si vniuerſa prouincia loqui poſſet, hac voce vteretur. Cic. It would vſe theſe wooꝛdes, or ſay in this wiſe.
Vocibus vti ad aliquem. Virg. To ſpeake to one.

Vtens, Participium. Dũnge. vt Ratione vtens, & Rationis expers, contraria. Cic.

Vtendus, Adiectiuum. Cic. That is to be vſed.
Illa ætas magis ad hæc vtenda idonea eſt. Terent. Is more meete to vſe this maner of thinges.
Vtenda vaſa rogare. Plautus. To deſire one to lende him veſſell or plate.
Reddere quod vtendum acceperis. Cic. To reſtore that thou borowedſt for a time to vſe.
Dare aliquid vtendum. Cato. To lende a thinge.
Vtenda & poſſidenda tradere bona alicui. Cic.

Vſũrus, pen. prod. Participium. That will vſe.

Vſus, huius vſus, maſc. gen. Cic. Vſe: the occupation or exercise of a thynge: Profite: fruite: practice: experience.
Vſus & Abuſus, contraria. Cic.
Genitor vocabulorum, vſus. Horat. Vſe, the inuentour of wooꝛdes.
Dicendi vſus. Quintil. Practice of eloquence.
Bellicus vſus. Quintil. Practise of warre.
Laborum vſus. Lucan. Vſe or experience of labour & paine.
Ad medicinæ tantùm vſum. Plin. Onely to the practice of Phiſike.
Vſus oculorum ceſſat. Curtius. Men can ſee no more with their eyes.
Sermonis vſus. Plin. Longe vſe of talke.
Veneris vſus. Plin. Virtutis vſus. Cic.
Tractatio atque vſus vocis. Cic.
¶ Vſus eſt magiſter optimus. Cic. Experiẽce or lõge vſe &c.
Peritus vſu, Vide PERITVS.
Vſu bellorum exercitus. Cic. well practiſed, and of good experience in warrefare.
Aptus in vſum aliquem. Ouid.
Tres biremes adpulêre ad vſus cõmeantium illo mari. Tacit.
¶ Aſſiduus vſus. Cic. Communis & vulgaris. Cic.
Humanis vſibus apta Ceres. Ouidius. Corne ſeruynge to mans vſe.
Hæc ſunt in vſu medico. Plinius. Theſe thinges be vſed in phiſike.
Mirificus vſus in re aliqua. Cic.
Operarius vſus: Vide OPERA.

Peruius vſus tectorum. Virg. A paſſage thꝛough houſen.
Quotidianus vſus. Cic.
Rariſsimus. Quintil. Temperatus. Horat.
¶ Accipit vſus aliquas vocales pro conſonantibus. Quint.
Adhibere vſum, Vide ADHIBEO.
Antecedere vſu rerum. Cic. To haue moꝛe experience oꝛ pꝛactice in thynges.
Colligere vſum patiendi. Ouid. To accuſtome oꝛ inure himſelf to ſuffer.
Concedere alicui vſum loquendi. Cic.
Confirmatum vſu. Quintil.
Conuertere pecuniam publicam in ſuos vſus. Papinianus. To tourne the common treaſure to his owne pꝛiuate pꝛofit oꝛ affayꝛes.
Cuius diſciplinæ vſus in noſtram vſque ætatẽ deſcendit. Quint. The pꝛactyſe and vſe of which learnyng &c.
Diſponere vſum diuitiarum. Quintil. To apoynte how his riches ſhall be vſed.
Phœbe pater, ſi das vſum mihi nominis huius, &c. Ouidius. If thou permitte me to vſe this name.
Doceri vſu. Quintil. Ediſcere vſum rei alicuius. Ouid.
Explorare aliquid vſu. Celſ.
-nulli geſtanda dabantur
Signa ducis: niſi qui ſcelerum iam fecerat vſum. Lucan. But to ſuche a one as was nowe paſte the vſe and cuſtome of lewde doeynge.
Formare vitulos ad vſum agreſtem. Virg.
Haberi vſui. Tacit. To be, oꝛ be compted pꝛofitable.
Vſus indiget horum. Virgil. Wee haue neceſſarie vſe of thoſe thinges.
Quædam mancipat vſus. Horat. Longe poſſeſſion geueth ſome thinges by pꝛeſcꝛiptiõ.
Quæ primo dura viſa ſunt, vſu molliuntur. Quintil.
Perdere vſum. Quintil.
Neſcis quò valeat nummus, quem pꝛæbeat vſum. Horat. Thou knoweſt not wheꝛfoꝛe money is good, and to what ende it ſeꝛueth.
Præcludere alicui vſum vocis. Ouid. To ſtoppe ones thꝛoate that he can not ſpeake.
Promouere membrum à luxatione curatum ad ſuos vſus. Celſ.
Reducere membrum luxatum ad antiquos vſus. Celſ.
In vſu eſſe. Plin. To be in vſe.
Amor dum temperat vſum. Ouid. while longe vſe maketh loue moꝛe temperate.
Vigere vſu. Quintil.
Vſus, vel vſu venit. Cic. It happeneth ofte.
Mihi vſu venit hoc, ſcio. Terent. This chaunceth to me &c.
Non venit idem vſu mihi quod tu tibi ſcribis. Cic. It hath not ſo happened to me, as you wꝛite it hath doone to you.
Accidere, vel euenire, & vſu venire. Cic.
Eadem mihi vſu venirent omnia. Cic.
Hoc illud his vſu venire ſolet, vt quicquid dixerint à, &c. Cic. The ſelfe ſame thynge is wonte ofte to happen to thẽ &c.
¶ Vſus. Cic. Pꝛofitte: vtilitie.
Ad vilem vſum, & ſordidum lucrum accingimur. Quintil.
Vſui eſſe. Plaut. To ſeꝛue: to ayde: to healpe: to be pꝛofitable.
Fuit mihi magno vſui in noſtris petitionibus. Cicero. It did greatly healpe mee &c.
Non ſine vſu fuerit, introſpicere illa primo aſpectu leuia. Tacit. It will not be vnpꝛofitable &c.
Ex vſu noſtro eſt. Terent. It is foꝛ our pꝛofit.
Deos curam rerum humanarum agere credi, ex vſu vitæ eſt. Plin. It is pꝛofitable foꝛ mans lyfe &c.
Ex ſuo vſu. Tacit. Foꝛ his owne pꝛofitte.
Ex vſu temporis huc illuc meabant. Tacit. As the time requiꝛed, they went too and fꝛo.
¶ Nunc viribus vſus. Virg. Now the mattier requireth to ſhew youꝛ ſtꝛength: now it is needefull to ſhew ſtꝛength.
Non vſus facto eſt mihi. Terent. I haue no neede ſo to doo.
De cæteris ſtudijs alio loco dicemus, ſi vſus fuerit. Cic. If neede ſhall be.
Mihi ſic eſt vſus: tibi vt opus eſt facto, face. Terent. It is behouable foꝛ me ſo to doo &c.
Ad eam rem vſus eſt tua mihi opera. Plaut. To that purpoſe I haue neede of youꝛ healpe.
-ſiquid vſus venerit,
Meminiſſe ego hanc rem vos volo. Plautus. If any neede ſhall be, I woulde haue you &c.
Non vſus veniet, ſpero. Terent. It ſhall not neede, oꝛ it ſhall not come to paſſe, I truſt.
¶ Vſus. Cic. Conuerſation: vſe: familiaritie.
Non idcirco eorum vſum dimiſeram, quòd ijs ſuccenſerem. Cic. I did not leaue theyꝛ familiaritie &c.
Quotidianus vſus. Saluſt. Dayly conuerſation and vſe.
Domeſticus vſus & conſuetudo. Cic.
Mutuus vſus. Curtius. Mutuall familiaritie and conuerſation.
Cum M. Fabio mihi ſummus eſt vſus. Cic.
Vſus mihi magnus cum eo. Cic. I am of greate familiaritie with him.
Longo vſu cognitus. Ouid.
Coniungi vſu, Vide CONIVNGO.
Longo nobis iunctiſsimus vſu. Ouid.
Inſinuare ſe in quammaximè familiarem vſum, Vide INSINVO.
Inter noſmetipſos vetus vſus intercedit. Cic. There is olde acquaintance and familiaritie between vs.
Vſuâlis, & hoc vſuâle, pen. prod. Martianus. Vſual: that ſeꝛueth foꝛ our vſe.
Vſuárius, Adiectiuum, Idem. Gell.
Res vſuaria. Paulus iuriſconſ. A thynge that wee haue the vſe of, but not the pꝛopꝛietie.
Vſuárius, vſuárij, m. g. Subſtant. Pomponius. He that hath the vſe of a thyng, but neither the fꝛuite noꝛ the pꝛopꝛietie: the occupier of it.
Vſusfructus, huius vſusfructus, maſcu. g. Cic. The vſe & pꝛofite of an other mans goods, with the conſente of the owner, the ſtocke oꝛ ſubſtance beyng ſaued.
Amittere vſumfructum. Cic.
Vſufructuárius, vſufructuárij, maſcu. gen. Pomponius. He that hath the vſe and fꝛuite of a thyng, but not the pꝛopꝛietie.
Vſucápio, vſúcapis, pen. cor. vſucépi, pen. prod. vſucaptum, vſucápere. Cic. To attayne to be maiſter and owner of a thing by pꝛeſcꝛiption, oꝛ poſſeſſion of longe time by the law apoynted.
Nihil mortales à dijs immortalibus vſucapere poſſunt. Cic.
Vſu etiam capere dicitur, ſine compoſitione, Pomponius, Vſu eas capere non poſsis.
Vſu non capiet ſciens alienum. Papinianus.
Priſcus ait, vſu me eum non capturum. Paulus iuriſconſ.
¶ Capere vſu, Idem quod Vſucapere. Papinianus.
Non capies vſu, quia iuris error nulli prodeſt. Paulus iuriſ.
Si rem ſcienti mihi alienam eſſe vendideris, non capiam vſu. Paulus iuriſcon.
¶ Capere vtilitatis cauſa, Idem. Paulus iuriſcon.
Vſu ſuum facere, Idem. Pomponius.
¶ Diutius poſſidendo capere, Idem. Iabolenus.
Diutina poſſeſſione capere, Idem. Modeſt.
Longa poſſeſsione capere, Idem. Pompon.
Longo tempore capere, Idem. Vlpian.
Per longum tempus capere, Idem. Scæuola.
Vſucápio, vſucapiônis, pen. prod. fœm. gen. Cic. The attayning of a thyng by pꝛeſcꝛiption, oꝛ longe poſſeſſion of a ferme by the law apoynted.
Cápio, capiônis, fœm. gen. Idem quod Vſucapio. Iabolenus, An durare nihilominus capionem eius fundi putes?
Vſu quoque capio ceſſabit. Vlpian.
Longa poſſeſsione capio, Idem. Iabolenus, Cæterarum partium non impedietur longa poſſeſsione capio.
¶ Currit vſucapio. Vlpia. The vſe of pꝛeſcꝛiption goeth on.
Implere vſucapionem. Papinianus. To poſſeſſe a thynge the whole terme by the law apoynted foꝛ pꝛeſcꝛiption.
Impleta vſucapio. Paulus iuriſcon.
In pendenti eſt vſucapio. Paulus iuriſcon.
Interpellare vſucapionem. Paulus iuriſc. To interrupt ones vſe of poſſeſſion by claymyng the thyng.
Interpellatur vſucapio. Pompon.
Interrumpere vſucapionem. Pompon. To interrupte oꝛ diſturbe pꝛeſcꝛiption by takyng ſometime poſſeſſion.
Interrumpitur vſucapio. Paulus iuriſcon.

Procedit

Procedit hæredi tuo vſucapio. Paulus iuriſcon.
Aduerſus fiſcum non procedit vſucapio. Modeſt.
Vacuum tempus, &c. ad vſucapionem hæredi procedit. Paulus iuriſcon.
Vſio, vſiônis, pen. prod. fœm. gen. Idem quod Vſus. Gellius.
Vſitor, pen. cor. vſitâris, vſitari, Frequentatiuum ab Vtor. Gell. To vſe often.
Vſitâtus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Cicero. Vſuche vſed, or accuſtomed.
Vſitata conſuetudo. Celſ. A wonted maner: a common cuſtome: an accuſtomed facion.
Vetus atque vſitata exceptio. Cic. Olde and wonted.
Genus literarum vſitatum. Cic.
Honos vſitatus. Cicero. A dignitie or honour accuſtomably geuen.
Vſitatus & peruulgatus honos. Cic.
Iudicium vſitatum. Cic. Mos vſitatus. Cic.
Potiones non vſitatæ. Horat.
Scelus vſitatum. Seneca.
Tempus vſitatum ad aliquid faciendum. Cic. The accuſtomed time for a thyng to be doone in.
Vocabula vſitata. Cic.
Vſitatum eſt. Cic. It is a common cuſtome: it is a thyng often vſed.
Vſitatum in multis rebus. Cic. Accuſtomed to be doone in many thynges.
Vſitatum malitia. Cic.
Vſitâte, pen. prod. Aduerbium. Cic. After the accuſtomed facion: as they vſe commonly.
Si homines eſſent, vſitatè loquerentur. Cicer. They woulde ſpeake after the accuſtomed maner.
Vſitatio, onis, fœm. gen. Vſage.
Vſûra, vſúræ, fœm. gen. pen. prod. Plin. iunior. Vſe or occupyinge of a thynge: Alſo money geuen aboue the principall ſumme for the lone of it: vſurie: intereſt.
Frui vſura. Quintil. To inioy the vſe.
Vſura falſi gaudij frui. Cicero. To reioyſe or be gladde in vayne.
Dare alicui diuturnam lucis vſuram. Cic. To ſuffer one to lyue, or to inioy this lyfe longe.
Dare alicui vſuram vnius horæ ad viuendum. Cic. To ſuffer a man to lyue one howre.
Lucis vſuram eripere alicui. Cic. To kill one, and not to ſuffer him to lyue.
Vſura temporis. Cic.
Paruam exigui temporis vſuram bonæ de me opinionis poſtulo. Cic. I require for a little time to enioy the fruite of the good reputation that I am in.
¶ Vſura. Cic. Vſurie: intereſt.
Modus vſurarum. Modeſt.
Penſio vſurarum. Paulus iuriſcon.
Præſtatio vſurarum. Modeſtinus.
Vſurarum vſuræ. Martianus.
¶ Centeſimæ vſuræ, Vide Centeſimus in CENTVM. Vſurie of one in the hundred for a moneth, that is. xii. in the yere, ſo that in an hundred monethes it riſeth to the ſum of the principall.
Grauiores infligere vſuras. Paulus iuriſcon.
Illicitæ vſuræ. Paulus iuriſcon.
Legitimæ. Papinianus. Maiores. Paulus iuriſcon.
Leuiores. Paulus iuriſcon. Maritimæ. Paulus iuriſc.
Menſtrua vſura. Cic. Vſury payed euery moneth.
Minores ſemiſsibus vſuræ. Scæuola.
Placitæ inter nos vſuræ. Modeſt.
Quincunces vſuræ. Scæuola. Intereſt of. v. in the hundred.
Semiſſes vſuræ, vel, Semiſſales, Vide SEMISSIS. Vſury of ſixe in the hundred for an yere.
Vſura dextentaria. Of tenne in the hundred: dodrantalis, nine in the hundred: beſſalis, eight in the hundred: quincuncialis, fiue: trientaria, fower: quandrantalis, three: ſextantarius, two: vncialis, one in the hundred.
Solitæ vſuræ. Caius. Vorax vſura. Lucan.
¶ Accipere vſuram. Quintil.
Certare cum vſuris & fructibus prædiorum. Cic.
Creſcunt vſuræ. Scæuola. Dare vſuras. Scæuola.

Exigere vſuras ab aliquo. Paulus iuriſcon.
Exoluere vſuras. Scæuola.
Inferre vſuras. Paulus iuriſcon. To yelde or pay vſurie.
Infligere vſuras. Scæuola. To conſtrayne one to pay intereſt for that he boroweth of him.
Pecuniæ, ſi pariunt vſuras, non debent, &c. Vlpian.
Peondere vſuram. Cic.
Præſtare vſuras. Scæuola. To yelde or pay vſurie.
Reddere per aliquot annos vſuras. Scæuola.
Reddere ſine vſura. Cic.
Remittere alicui vſuram. Scæuola.
Soluere vſuras. Paulus iuriſcon.
Teneri in maiores vſuras. Paulus iuriſcon.
Vſurárius, Adiect. Plaut. That is ſet out to vſurie or to hyre.
Pecunia vſuraria, Vide PECVNIA.
Vſurpo, vſurpas, vſurpâre. Colum. To vſurpe: to vſe often and much, be it in woorde or deede: to take agaynſt right and reaſon.
Vſurpare aliquid & Dicere, pro eodem. Cic.
Vſurpare ac retinere. Cic. To vſurpe and keepe.
¶ Vſurpare. Cic. To haue often and much in his mouth: to name often.
Apud Platonem vſurpata oratio. Cicer. Woordes that Plato often maketh mention of or vſeth.
Crebris ſermonibus vſurpare. Cic. To mention or ſpeake of often in talke.
Vſurpare dictum alterius. Cic. Often to vſe an other mans ſaying.
Vſurpare memoriâ alicuius. Cic. Often to make mẽtion of.
Vſurpare nomen ciuitatis. Cic. To ſay and auaunte that he is a citizen.
Nomen tantum virtutis vſurpas: quid ipſa valeat, ignoras. Cic. Thou haſt the name of vertue onely in thy mouth, but what it ſelfe is, thou knoweſt not.
Oculis vſurpare aliquid. Lucret. To ſee a thyng.
Ratione vſurpatum. Quintil.
Senſibus vſurpare rem aliquam. Luer. To conceyue a thing, or imagine it in his minde.
Officium aliquod vſurpare, Vide OFFICIVM.
Vſurpare otium poſt labores. Tacit.
Vſurpare ius. Liu. To enter or take poſſeſſion.
Hoc genus pœnæ ſæpe in improbos eſt vſurpatũ. Cic. They haue often vſed to puniſh wicked perſõs with this kinde of payne.
Multis officijs vſurpata & comprobata cognatio. Cic.
Regiones quas ego neque oculis, neque pedibus vnquam vſurpaui. Plaut. Countreys that I neuer ſaw, nor neuer ſet my foote in.
¶ Vſurpare. Gell. To diſturbe præſcription by takyng poſſeſſyon.
¶ Vſurpare aliquid ex alterius bonis. Cicero. Liu. To vſurpe that is an others mans, and take it agaynſt right.
Vſurpátio, vſurpatiônis, fœm. gen. Verbale. Cic. Ofte vſynge: vſurpyng.
Vſurpatione & renouatione doctrinæ. Cic. By practyſynge and renewyng &c.
Mentio & vſurpatio ciuitatis. Cicer. The ſayeng and affyrmyng that he is a citizen.
Ad vſurpationem vetuſtatis. Cic. After the auncient vſe and facion.
Vſurpatione vocis abſtinere. Liuius. Not to ſpeake; to forbeare to ſpeake.
Superba vſurpatio nominum. Plin.
¶ Vſurpatio. Paulus iuriſconſul. Interruption or diſturbing of preſcription.
Vténſile, vténſilis, pen. cor. neut. gen. Columel. Any thyng neceſſarie for our vſe or occupying.
Exutus omnibus vtenſilibus miles. Liu.
Vtilis, & hoc útile, pen. corr. Terent. Profitable: expediente: conuenient: good: neceſſarie.
Vehementer mihi vtile eſſe putabas. Cic.
Lignum non aliò penè quàm ad radios rotarum vtile. Plin.
Fel ad multa medicamẽta vtile. Plin. Gall holſome for many medicines.
Homo ad nullam rem vtilis. Cic.

Neutro pede ſatis vtilis. Plin. That hath neuer a good foote to healpe him.
Bis vtilis arbos pomis. Virgilius. A tree that beareth fruite twiſe in the yere.
Cibus vtilis ægro. Ouid.
Res vtiles & ſalutares. Cic.
Ventis vtilibus intrat vrbem. Ouid. He entreth into the citie with a proſperous wynde.
Magnificè vtile, Vide MAGNVS.
Maximè vtile, Vide MAGIS.
Modicè vtile. Cic. Miſcere vtile dulci. Horat.
Nunquam eſt vtile peccare, quia ſemper eſt turpe. Cic.
Tibi vtiliſsimum erit. Dolabella Ciceroni.

Vtíbilis, & hoc vtibile, pen. cor. Idem. Plaut.
Quid minus vtibile fuit, quàm hoc vlcus tangere? Terent.
Vtibile illi. Plaut.
Magis ad rem non poteſt eſſe vtibile. Plaut.

Vtílitas, pen. cor. vtilitâtis, fœm. gen. Terent. Profit: vtilitie.
Si nulla ſit vtilitas ex amicitia. Cic.
Communis vtilitas. Quintil.
Non mediocris vtilitas. Quintil.
Multæ vtilitates & magnæ, Vide MVLTVS.
Publicæ vtilitates. Tacit.
¶ Aberrare à communi vtilitate, Vide ABERRO.
Non abhorrebit ab vtilitate eorum qui audient, oratio mea. Cic. My talke ſhall not be vnprofitable &c.
Adducere ad vtilitatem rem aliquam, Vide ADDVCO.
Afferre vtilitatem, Vide AFFERO.
Capere vtilitates, Vide CAPIO.
Conuelli vtilitate, Vide CONVELLO.
Duci vtilitate. Quintil.
Fugit hæc vtilitas neminem. Quintil.
Habere vtilitatem dicitur res aliqua. Ouidius. To be profitable.
Omittere ſuas vtilitates: cui opponitur Seruire ſuis vtilitatibus. Cic. Not to regarde his owne profit.
Parêre vtilitatibus alicuius. Cic. To doo that is for the furtherance of ones profit: to further &c.
Aequor vtilitatem præbet ſitientibus nautis. Lucret.
Fructum vtilitatis præbere. Cic. To bringe profit, or to be profitable.
Quærere vtilitatem in re aliqua. Cic. To ſeeke to get profit by a thyng.
Seruire vtilitati alicuius. Cic. To haue a regarde or reſpecte to ones profit: to doo that is for the furtherance of ones profitte.
¶ Vtilitatibus tuis poſſum carere. Cicero. I can lacke your ſeruice, or be without ſuch pleaſure as you doo me.

Vtiliter, pen. cor. Aduerbium. Cic. Profitably.
Facere aliquid vtiliter. Ouid.
Seruire vtiliter. Horat. Vtilius. Ouid.

Vtpote, pen. cor. Aduerbium cõfirmantis. Saluſt. Because as: for ſo much as.
Romanis auxit animum, & turbauit Volſcos: vtpote capta vrbe, cui ad ferendam opem venerant. Liu. And no merueyle, or, and not without cauſe, conſyderynge the citie was taken &c.
Lucius frater eius, vtpote qui peregrè depugnauit, familiam ducit. Cicero. Lucius his brother, as a man that hadde fought abroade in warre &c.

Vtputa, pen. cor. Vide PVTO, putas.

Vtricularius, Vtriculus, Vide VTER, vtris.

Vtrinque, Vtro, Vtrobique, Vtroque, Vtrum, Vide VTER adiectiuum.

Vtut, Vide VT.

V V

Vua, uæ, f. gen. Colum. A grape: a vine: a bearie. A ſwarme of bees hangyng rounde. The parte in the mouthe called Vuula.
Vua Apiana, Græcis Stica dicitur. Sunt qui Muſcatelã vulgò appellant, ab apibus quas Galli Muſcas vulgò dicũt: quod huiuſcemodi vuarum genere plurimum delectẽtur apes. Carolus Stephanus.
Vua mirabili magnitudine. Cic.
Terra ferax vuis. Ouid.

Commẽtor vuæ, Bacchus. Ouid. The inuentour of grapes, or of wyne.
¶ Cibaria vua. Plin. Grapes ſeruyng to eate.
Coloratæ vuæ. Colum. Cultæ. Ouid.
Vuæ duracinæ, præcoques, purpureæ, bumaſti, dactyli, Rhodiæ, Libycæ, Ceraunіæ, Stephanitæ, Tripedaneæ, vnciariæ, Venuculæ, Numiſianæ, Amineæ, Gemellæ, Lanatæ, Nomentanæ, Albidæ, &c. Colum.
Vuæ ollares. Columel.
Eſcaria vua. Plin. A grape that is to be eaten.
Flaua vua. Stat. Generoſæ vuæ fertilis vinea. Ouid.
Genialis conſitor vuæ. Ouid. Grauidæ vuæ. Claud.
Immitis vua. Horat. A grape not rype.
Madentes vuæ. Claud. Maturæ. Virg.
Mitis vua. Virg. A rype grape.
Nigerrimæ vuæ. Catull.
Nitentibus vuis ſpecioſa vlmus. Ouid.
Peracerba guſtatu vua. Cic.
Purpureæ vuæ. Ouid. Racemiferæ. Ouid.
Auro ſimiles vuæ. Ouid.
¶ Augeſcunt vuæ, Vide Augeſco in AVGEO.
Calcare vuas. Ouid.
Decerpere vuam, Vide DECERPO.
Deſecare vuam à vite. Colum.
Ducit colorem vua. Virgil. The grape beginneth to waxe ruddie.
Pendentes vuæ plenis vitibus. Ouid.
Penſilis vua ſecundas ornat menſas. Horat.
Teneras mora perçoquit vuas. Ouid. Continuance maketh grapes ripe. Pubeſcens vua. Plin.
Rubens vua incultis pendet ſentibus. Virg.
Turgentes vuæ. Virgil.
Variari incipit vua. Colum. The grape begynneth to chãge colour, and waxe ripe.
Varia fieri incipit vua, Idem. Plin.
Varians ſe vua. Plin.
Veniunt illic vuæ fœliciter. Virg. Wynes proſper wel there.
Veſtitæ frondibus vuæ. Propert.
¶ Amomi vua. Plin. The beary &c.
¶ Vua, pro Vite aliquando ponitur. Virg. A vyne.
¶ Vua. Columella. A ſwarme of bees hangyng rounde on a bough.
Lentis vuam demittere ramis. Virg.
¶ Vua in homine. Plin. The Wuula.
Vua iacens. Plin. The Wuula fallen.

Vuifer, pen. cor. Adiectiuum. Sil. That beareth grapes.

Vuidus, pen. cor. Adiectiuum. Virg. Moyſte: wette.
Cæli ſtatus vuidus. Colum.
Gemma vuida in tenero palmite. Ouid.
Vuida veſtis. Plaut. A moyſt or wette garment or cloth.

Vulga, vulgæ, ſiue bulga, Vide BVLGA. A ſcrippe or ſatchel. A womans bealy.

Vulgus, vulgi, maſcu. gen. & hoc Vulgus, vulgi, neutri. Cicer. The common people.
Commendatio in vulgus. Cic. Prayſe amonge the common people.
Fames in vulgus. Tacit.
Gratus in vulgus. Tacit. Acceptable to the cõmon people.
Retinere nomen in vulgus. Cic. To keepe his name amõg the common people.
Quod vulgus ſeruorum ſolet. Terent. As the common ſort of ſeruauntes is wonte to doo.
Nihil eſt incertius vulgo. Cic. Nothyng more wauering &c.
¶ Ancipitis pugnat ſententia vulgi. Stat. The common people are of contrarie opinions.
Demens vulgus. Sil. Fœmineum vulgus. Lucan.
Fallax. Virg. Humile. Plin.
Ignobile. Virg. Imperitum. Plin. Incautum. Virg.
Incertum vulgus ſcinditur in contraria ſtudia. Virgil. The wauerynge people is diuided into contrarie affections.
Indoctum vulgus. Ouid. Iners. Claud.
Infidum. Horat. Inutile. Iuuenal.
Leue. Ouid Vnconſtant and mutable.
Malignum. Horat. Miſerabile. Virg.
Mobile. Stat. Mutabile. Valer. Flac.

Præceps. Seneca. Profanum. Horat.
Rude vulgus & expers artis. Ouid.
Segne. Lucan. Stolidi mendacia vulgi. Virg.
Vile vulgus. Seneca.
¶ Acceptum in vulgus, Vide ACCIPIO.
Attonitum pauet vulgus. Ouid.
Spolia in vulgus cedet ãt. Tacit. The people had the ſpoyle.
Celebrata in vulgus Celſi laus. Tacit. Celſus is much prayſed and ſpoken of amonge the common people.
Digitis vulgi deſignari. Ouid.
Hoc exire, atq; in vulgus emanare non poterit. Cicer. This can not come abrode to the knowlege of the people, and be talked of.
Indicare aliquid in vulgus. Cic.
Mobile mutatur ſemper cum principe vulgus. Claud. The waueringe people chaungeth alway, as the prince doth.
Probari in vulgus, Vide PROBO.
Spargere voces in vulgum. Virg. To talke abroade amonge the people.
Malignum ſpernere vulgus. Horat.
In vulgus aduerſo rumore fuit. Tacit. He had an yll name amonge the people.
Tribuere in vulgus. Cic. To applie himſelfe to the affection of the people.
Vox venit ad aures vulgi. Virg.
¶ Cæteri omnes vulgus fuimus, ſine gratia, ſine authoritate. Saluſt.
¶ Vulgus, de quibus dixit Virgilius.

Vulgò, Aduerbialiter poſitum. Virg. Commonly: abrode: in euery place: amonge all men: in heapes or companies.
Vulgò & paſsim. Cic.
Vulgò dicitur, vel dici ſolet. Terent. It is commonly ſayde.
Vulgò audieram. Cic. I hearde it commonly ſpoken of &c.
Vox vulgò exaudita per lucos. Virg.
Saturnum vulgò maximè ad Occidentem colunt. Cicero. Commonly.
Vulgò loquũtur ſuppoſitum in eius locum. Cic. The common ſayynge is, that &c.
Vulgò appellare aliquem ſuperbum. Liu. Openly before all men to call one prowde.
Vulgò homines illud requirunt. Liu. The moſte parte of men demaunde that.
Vulgò hominum opinio ſocium me aſcribit tuis laudibus. Cic. Moſte parte compte me &c.
Vulgò occidi. Cic. To be kylled openly before all men.
Vulgò occupare regnum. Cæſar. Commonly.
Vulgò oſtendere. Cic. To ſhewe openly, or commonly.
Vulgò quæſitus, pro Spurio. Vlpian. Baſe begotten: whoſe father is not knowen.
Vulgò conceptus, Idem. Modeſtinus.

Vulgâris, & hoc vulgâre, pen. prod. Cic. Vulgar: cõmon: much vſed: belongyng to the common people: vile: baſe.
Singularia, an vulgaria. Cic. Rare, or common.
Viam vulgarem ingredi. Quintil. To doo as they are commonly wonte to doo.
Vulgare & obſoletum, cui Nouum & inauditum opponitur. Cicero.
Vile & vulgare. Cic.
Vulgare eſt. Plin. It is a common thyng.
Vulgares artes, Quæ vulgò mechanicæ dicuntur. Cic. Handie crafftes.
Commendatio non vulgaris. Cic. No ſmall prayſe or commendation.
Conſuetudo vulgaris. Cic.
Declamatio vulgaris & peruagata. Cic.
Fabula vulgaris. Ouid.
Vulgaris forma. Plin. Fauour of the common ſorte.
Generatio vulgaris. Plin.
Minimè vulgare genus dicendi. Cic. A rare &c.
Hæc à vulgari intelligentia remotiora ſunt. Cic.
Notitia vulgaris. Plin.
Opinio vulgaris. Cic.
Vulgaris & Excellens orator, contraria. Cic.
Prudentia communis & vulgaris. Cic.
Puellæ vulgares. Ouid. Common hoores.
Oratio ad vulgarem, populareméque ſenſum accommodata. Cic.
Sermo vulgaris. Cic. A common faſhion of language wythout great ornament.
Via vulgaris. Quintil.

Vulgáriter, pen. cor. Aduerbium. Plin. Commonly: vulgarly: after the common ſorte.
Vulgariter ſcribere. Cic.

Vulgo, vulgas, vulgâre. Virg. To publiſh: to make common: to ſet abroade: to noyſe: to bruite.
Vulgari facinus per omnes velim. Liu.
In maius aliquid vulgare. Tacitus. In talke, to publiſh the thing to be greater, than it is.
Famam vulgare. Liu. To ſpread abroade a fame.
Laudem vulgare. Liu.
Librum vulgare. Quintil. To publiſh or ſet foorth a booke.
Miniſteriáq; inuicem ac contagio ipſa vulgabant morbos. Liu. The ſeruing one of an other, and the infectiouſneſſe dyd ſpreade and multiply diſeaſes.
Contagium morbi étiam in alios vulgatum eſt. Curtius. The contagiouſneſſe of the diſeaſe infected other.
Rem non vulgabat P. Virginius. Liu.
Vulgatur deinde rumor duas deeſſe tabulas. Liu. There is a rumour ſpread.
Nónne hoc veſtra voce vulgatum eſt? Cic. Was not this publiſhed by you?
¶ Vulgare corpus ſuum dicitur meretrix. Plaut. To abandõ himſelfe to the filthy embracinges of all men.
Vulgato corpore mulier. Liu. A common ſtrumpet.
¶ Vulgare concubitus plebis & Patrum. Liu. To mixe noble blood and commoners together in mariage.
Vulgari cum priuatis dicitur Magiſtratus. Liu. When he debaſeth himſelf to the familiaritie of the inferiour ſorte.

Vulgâtus, pen. prod. Participium, ſiue Nomen ex participio. Publiſhed abroade: commonly knowen and vſed.
Bella vulgata per orbem famâ. Virgil. By reporte publiſhed ouer all the worlde.
Cibus vulgatus. Plin. Commonly vſed.
Vulgatior fama eſt, ludibrio fratris Remum nouos tranſiliſſe muros. Liu. The more common reporte is &c.
Vulgata verba. Plaut.
Vulgatiſsimus. Plin.
Nauis in flumine publico vulgata omnibus. Cic.
Senſus vulgatiſsimi. Quintil.

Vulgatûrus, pen. prod. Participium. That wyll publiſh.
Littera vulgatura nefas. Claud.

Vulgâtor, pen. prod. toris, maſc. gen. Verbale: vt Taciti vulgator. Ouid. A publiſher of a ſecrete counſayle: a ſpreader abroade.

Vulgíuagus, pen. cor. Adiectiuum. Lucret. Idem quod Plebeius.

Vulnus, vúlneris, pen. cor. neut. gen. Liu. A wounde. A griefe or diſpleaſure.
Color vulneris ſi liuidus, aút pallidus, aut varius, aut niger eſt, ſcire licet malum vulnus eſſe. Celſ.
Glutinátio vulneris. Celſ. The cloſinge vp &c.
Inflammatio vulneris. Celſ.
Impatiens vulneris. Virg.
Impetus vulnerum. Plin. The rage or vehement griefe of.
Vulnerum recentium impetus lenire. Plin.
Oræ vulneris. Celſ. The brimmes of a wounde.
Oras vulneris leniter diducere manibus. Celſus. To open the wounde ſaftely &c.
Clauda vulnere pars corporis. Virg.
Inualidus vulnere. Tacit.
Onuſtus vulneribus. Tacit. Hauynge as many woundes, as one can goe away with.
Saucius vulneribus. Ouid.
Tardus vulnere. Virgil. Not hable to goe faſt, by reaſon of his wounde.
¶ Acerbum vulnus, Vide ACERBVS.
Altum vulnus. Celſ. A diepe wounde.
Anguſtum vulnus incidendum eſt, donec ſatis pateat. Celſ.
Calidum vulnus. Ouid.
Cruda vulnera. Iuuenal. Greene woundes.
Crudele vulnus. Virg.

Cruenta.Celſ.
Deterius vulnus.Celſ.
Fatale.Valer.Flac.
Grauia vulnera.Celſ.
Immania.Stat.
Immitia.Ouidius.
Ingenti vulneri ingens quoque vulnus adijcere.Celſ.
Inhoneſto vulnere truncæ nares.Virg. Hauyng his nose cutte of,to his great disfiguryng.
Latum vulnus.Celſ.
Lethale.Virg.
Lethiferum,Idem.Sil.
Magnum.Celſ.
Melius.Celſ. A wounde lesse daungerous.
Mortiferum.Liu.
Peius eſt vulnus quod etiam colliſum , quàm quod tantùm diſciſſum eſt.Celſ. A wounde bruised is woorse , than that is onely cutte.
Periculoſa vulnera.Celſ.
Purum vulnus.Celſ. Thoroughly cleinsed.
Recentia vulnera.Plin. Fresh or greene woundes.
Sæua.Sil.
Sanabile vulnus.Iuuenal. Curable.
Senilia vulnera.Celſ. woundes in olde persons.
Subiecta oculis vulnera.Celſ. That one may see.
Tenue vulnus.Celſ.
Triſtia vulnera.Ouid.
Tutiſsimum omnium vulnus quod in carne eſt.Celſ. The least daungerous,&c.
Vehemens vulnus.Celſ.
Vetuſta vulnera.Ouid.
¶ Alto nefandum ferrum vulnere abdidit.Seneca.
Abluere vulnera lymphis.Virg.
Accenditur vulnus,ſi parum bibitur.Celſ. Is inflamed.
Accipere vulnera.Varro. To receiue woundes:to be wounded.
Accipere vulnera tergo.Virgil. To be wounded behynde,or on the backe.
Exiguum ſtimulando vulnus acerbat.Claud. A small wounde, by prickyng of it,greeueth sore.
Venenum vulneri adfuſum.Tacit.
Medicas adhibere manus ad vulnera.Virgil. To goe about to dresse or cure.
Adigere vulnus,Vide ADIGO.
Adactum vulnus altè.Virg. A wounde thrust diepe in.
Adurere vulnus.Celſ. To seare a wounde.
Affectus vulneribus,Vide AFFICIO.
Aggrauantur vulnera introitu eorum,&c.Celſ. woundes waxe more greeuous &c.
Agere humorem in vulnus.Celſ. To conneigh or put an humour into a wounde.
Ali vulnus non poteſt.Celſ.
Alleuantia fomenta malum vulnus.Horat.
Alligare vulnus,Vide ALLIGO.
Ambeſum corpus multo vulnere.Seneca.
Ampliare vulnus.Celſ. To make the wounde bigger.
Aperire vulnus.Celſ.
Aſtringit & cohibet vulnera polium, prohibétque ſerpere. Plinius.
Sicca rigens aſtrinxit vulnera ſanguis.Lucan.
Cadere per mutua vulnera.Ouid. To kill each other.
Circumactus in vulnus.Plin.
Claudicare ex vulnere accepto ob aliquem.Cic. To halte of a wounde,that he hath taken in ones behalfe.
Coaleſcit vulnus,Vide COALEO.
Concidere mutuis vulneribus,Vide MVTVVM.
Vulneribus confectus.Liuius. Slayne : sore wounded in many places.
Colligat vulnera bitumen cum farina hordeacea.Plin. Closeth or healeth vp.
Confodere aliquem vulneribus,Vide CONFODIO.
Vulnera conglutinat holoſteon.Plin. Closeth or healeth vp.
Conglutinantur vulnera decocto graminis.Plin. Are closed or healed vp.
Conſumptus vulneribus.Sil. Dying of woundes.
Continet vulnus faſcia,neque aſtringit.Celſ.
Flebile.Stat.
Fœdum.Ouid.
Grande.Celſ.
Immedicabile.Ouid.
Laxum.Celſ.
Leue.Ouid.
Malum.Celſ.
Nigra vulnera.Ouid.
Tolerabilius vulnus.Celſ.

Conturbare prima vulnera nouis plagis.Lucret.
Duro crepitant ſub vulnere malæ.Virgil. His cheekes ryng with the harde blowes.
Curare vulnus.Quintil.
Deligare vulnus.Quintil. To bynde vp.
Deſcendit vulnus magno hiatu.Stat.
Detegere vulnus.Celſus. To open or vndoo a wounde.
Dirigere vulnera.Virg.
Cæcum vulnus iacta dare cuſpide.Virg.
Certa vulnera dare.Ouid.
Dare inania vulnera.Ouid.
Durare humeros ad vulnera.Virg.
Edere vulnera.Stat.
Emendantur vulnera capitis lacte muliebri.Plin.
Euicta vulneribus ornus.Virgilius. Cutte downe with many strokes.
Exanimari graui vulnere.Cic.
Excipere vulnera,Vide EXCIPIO.
Crudeli vulnere vitam exhalans.Virg.
Explet vulnera creta Eretria.Plin. Filleth vp woundes with good fleash.
Exugere vulnus.Celſ. To sucke a wounde.
Miſerando vulnere extinctus.Stat. Pitifully slayne.
Facere vulnera.Quint. To wounde.
Vulnus in vulnere fecit.Ouid.
Facere vulnera alicui in tergo.Ouid.
Raſtrorum vulnera ferre.Ouid. To abyde persynge with rakes : to abyde rakyng.
Feruens vulnus.Ouid.
Fiunt vulnera morſu ſerpentis.Celſ.
Fouere vulnus aqua calida.Celſ. To couple or soke &c.
Inconſolabile vulnus mente gerere.Ouid. To be so wounded with sorow,as he can not be comforted.
Glutinantur vulnera candido oui.Celſ.
Graue vulnus habere.Ouid.
Hiat vulnus.Celſ.
Illinunt vulneribus polium.Plin.
Illinitur ad vulnus Teucria.Plin.
Immolare aliquem vulnere.Virg.
Impingere vulnus,Vide IMPINGO.
Implere vulnus.Celſ.
Imponere vulnus.Cic. To wounde: to gene a wounde.
Imponere ſtercus caprinum ſuper vulnus.Celſ.
Imponuntur vulneribus folia lilij.Plin.
Imprimere vulnus,Vide IMPRIMO.
Incidere vulnus.Celſ. To launce or cutte.
Incidere circa vulnus ſcalpello.Celſ. To scarifie rounde about.
Inducere cicatricem vulneribus.Celſ. To heale vp woundes.
Inferre vulnera alicui,Vide INFERO.
Vulnera quæ per tela inferuntur.Celſus. woundes made with weapons.
Infeſtant vulnera & nimius calor,& nimium frigus.Celſ. Both to muche heate, and to muche colde doth hurte or anoye woundes.
Inflammantur vulnera ſuperuentu eorum, qui pedibus iter cõfecerint.Plin.
Infligere vulnus, Vide INFLIGO.
Infligere alicui vulnus.Cic.
Infoſſa cerebro vulnera.Stat. woundes persing into the braine.
Infundere vulneri acetum.Celſ.
Ingeſtis vulneribus,concidit.Tacit.
Inſequi aliquem infeſto vulnere.Virg.
Integrare vulnera.Stat.
Intumeſcit vulnus.Celſ.
Lædunt vulnere dracones.Ouid.
Paruo cor vulnere læſum.Ouid.
Lenire vulnera.Sil. To aswage the grieke of woundes.
Mederi vulneribus.Cic. To cure.
Minitans vulnera curuata cuſpide.Ouid. Meanasyng to strike with &c.
Crebris vulneribus miſcent prælia.Virg.
Geminato vulnere miſit eum ad vmbras Tartareas.Ouid.
Mouere aliquem in vulnera alicuius.Claud. To incite one to cut,strike,or wounde a man.
Mulcere vulnera.Sil. To aswage the payne of.
Repetitum vulnus nouat ſtipite.Ouidius. He woundeth him a fresh,with &c.

Obligare vulnus. Cic. Occidi vulnere. Quintil.
Minimo vulnere occidit. Ouid.
Patens vulnus in pectore. Virg.
Patet vulnus. Celſ. The wounde is open.
Mille vulnera patiens. Ouid.
Alterna vulnera paſſi. Lucan. Beyng wounded each of other.
Martia vulnera paſſi pugnando. Virgil.
Penetrauit penitus vulnus. Celſ. The wounde went cleane through.
Perducere vulnera ad cicatricem. Plin. To heale vp.
Perire vulnere. Horat.
Petere mortem per vulnera. Virgil.
Medicinam vulnera poſcunt. Sil.
Proſunt vulneribus folia lactucæ Plin.
Pulſus pudendis vulneribus. Virgil.
Purgare vulnera. Plin. To mundifie and clenge.
Immedicabile vulnus enſe recidendum eſt. Ouid.
Refricare vulnus. Cic. To make a wounde bleede agayne: to rubbe vp an olde ſore: to renewe a greefe almoſt forgotten.
Repetitum vulnus. Quintil. A wounde made agayne.
Replere vulnera. Plin. Repurgare vulnera. Plin.
Reſoluere vulnera. Quintil. To vnbinde woundes.
Cæca vulnera reſoluere. Statius.
Sanare vulnera. Quintil.
Sanare vulnus iniuriæ. Cic. To heale the griefe of an iniurie done.
Sanare vulnus Reipub. Ouid.
Largo ſatiatur vulnere conus. Claud. Is filled with blondde commynge abundantly out of the wounde.
Nouatum vulnus ſcinditur. Ouid.
Odoro vulnere ſcinditur pinus. Stat. The pine tree ſmelleth pleaſauntly, when it is cutte.
Sedare vulnera. Stat.
Vaſta vulnera ſerebant. Lucret.
Siccare vulnera. Ouid.
Infixum ſtridet ſub pectore vulnus. Virgil.
Tardatus vulnere. Ouid.
Tendit vulnus ad cicatricem. Celſus. The wounde waxeth whole.
Triſti turbatus vulnere mentis. Virgil.
Valet mel in eo vulnere quod ceraſtes fecit. Celſ.
Ingenti vulnere victus. Virg.
Sæuo vulnere vlciſci aliquem. Seneca.
Vrere vulnus, & Vſtum vulnus. Celſ. To ſeare an wounde.
Vtuntur galbano ad vulnera. Plin. They vſe Galbanum to heale woundes.
¶ Orbitatis vulnus. Quintil. An wounde or pinchyng griefe for the loſſe of ones children.
Amoris vulnus. Lucret.
At regina graui iandudum ſaucia cura
Vulnus alit venis. Virg. But the Queene löge ſens wöded with the darte of loue kepeth it bioylinge ſtill in hir herte.
Mutua vulnera. Ouid. Mutuall loue.
Inconſolabile vulnus mente gerit tacita. Ouid.
Aeternum ſeruans ſub pectore vulnus. Virgil. Keepyng perpetuall grudge in hir harte.
Cæco vulnere tabeſcere. Lucret. To pine away with inwarde and ſecreate loue.
Tacitum viuit ſub pectore vulnus. Virg. The ſecreate ſore is ſtill freſh in hir herte.
¶ Vulnera tabularum recentia, pro Lituris. Cic. Newe blottes or raſinges.

Vulnúſculum, vulnúſculi, n. g. pen. corr. Diminutiuum. Vlpian. A little wounde.

Vúlnero, vúlneras, penult. corr. vulnerâre. Cæſar. To wounde: to hurte.
Enſe ſæuo vulnerat caput. Ouid.
Corpora vulnerare ferro. Tibull.
Viribus ferri vulnerari. Cic.
Fortuoæ continuo ictu vulneror. Ouid.
Bono proprio vulnerari. Ouid.
Vulnerare aliquem voce. Cic. Spitefully or repꝛochfully to nippe one: to hurte one with his wooꝛdes.

Grauior nuntius aures vulnerat. Virgil. Woꝛſe ſoꝛowfull tidinge greeueth me.
Vulneratus humerum. Plin. Wounded in his ſhoulder.
Vulneratus mortiferé. Vlpian. Hauinge a deadely wounde.

Vulnerátio, vulneratiônis, f. g. Verbale. Cicero. A woundynge: an hurtynge.

Vulnerárius, vulnerárij, m. g. Plin. A ſurgean.

Vulnerárius, Adiectiuum. Plin. Belongynge to woundes.

Vulnificus, pen. corr. Aliud adiectiuum. Virg. That woundeth oꝛ maketh woundes.
Dentes vulnifici. Seneca. Enſis vulnificus. Stat.
Plumbum vulnificum. Valer. Flac.
Sus vulnificus. Ouid.

Vulpes, vulpis, & volpes, fœm. gen. Plin. A foxe.
Aſtuta vulpes. Perſ. Cauta. Horat.
Fœta. Horat. Olida. Martial.

Vulpécula, vulpéculæ, f. g. penul. corr. Diminutiuum. Horatius. A little foxe.
Fallax vulpecula gannit. Ouid.

Vulpînus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Sueton. Of a foxe.
¶ Vulpinus. Plaut. Craftie: wilie: ſubtile.

Vulſella, Vide VOLSELLA.

Vulſura, vulſúræ, pen. prod. Vulſus, Vide VELLO, vellis.

Vulticulus, Vultuoſus, &c. Vide VVLTVS.

Vultur, vúlturis, pen. corr. maſc. gen. & Vulturis, huius vulturis, & Vulturius, vulturij. Liuius. A rauenous birde called a boulter oꝛ geyre: of this are two kindes, one leſſe and whitiſhe: the other bigger & of colour blackiſh oꝛ darke graye. Although it be a feeder on carraine, it wil not meddle with any deade birde.
Dirus vultur. Valer. Flac. Edax vultur. Ouid.
Immanis vultur obunco roſtro. Virgil.
Obſcœnus vultur exanima conſumit corpora. Sil.

Vultúrius homo, per tranſlationem, pro Rapace. Cic. A rauenous felow: an extoꝛtionour.

Vulturînus, pen. prod. Adiectiuũ. Plin. Of a boulter, oꝛ geyre.
Vulturinum fel. Plin.

Vulturnus. The noꝛth eaſte winde.

Vultus, huius vultus, vúltui, maſc. g. Plin. A countenaunce oꝛ cheere: a looke: a viſage.
Imago animi vultus eſt. Cic. The countenance is the Image and figure of the minde.
Quidam vultu motúque corporis vaſti atque agreſtes. Cic.
Mutabilis vultu. Horat. Simulachra vultus. Tacit.
Violentia vultus. Ouid.
Salis placidi vultus. Virgil. The caulme and quiete ſtate of the ſea.
¶ Acer vultus in hoſtem. Horat. A fierce looke.
Agreſtes vultus. Ouid. Ambiguus vultus. Horat.
Benignus, Vide BENIGNVS.
Boni vultus. Ouid. Merie lookes: good countenaunce oꝛ cheere.
Compti vultus. Claud. Faces trimmed.
Confuſi. Lucanus. Diſmayed oꝛ troubled lookes.
Conſceleratus vultus. Cic.
Coruſcus vultus. Claud. Diſtortus. Quintil.
Decorus. Claud.
Durus. Ouid. A ſower looke.
Dilectus. Stat. Exanimes vultus. Lucan.
Ferini. Ouid. Grimme lookes.
Ferax vultus. Seneca.
Formoſi vultus. Ouid. Igneus. Seneca.
Grauis vultus. Iuuenalis. Importunus. Cic.
Hilaris. Ouid. Infeſtus. Lucan.
Ingenui vultus puer. Iuuenal. A childe hauynge a good honeſt face.
Inimicus vultus. Plaut. Iratus. Claud.
Iuniorem vultum præſtat aniſum. Plin. Anice maketh one looke yonger.
Iuueniles vultus. Ouid. Læti. Ouid.
Loquax vultus. Ouid.
Lubricus vultus aſpici. Horat. A face dãgerous to beholde, foꝛ that it allureth one to loue.
Lucidi vultus Lunæ. Seneca.
Lugubres vultus. Ouid.

Minaci vultu grauis. Valer, Flac.
Modeſtus vultus, Iuuenal. Mœſtus Seneca.
Mœrens. Ouid. Nitidus. Ouid.
Omnifer vultus Telluris. Ouid. The face of the earth bringynge foorth all thinges.
Præclarus vultus. Lucret.
Proiectus & degener. Tacit. An vnmanly looke, & without life or courage.
Purpureus vultus Lunæ. Ouid. The Moone lookyng redde.
Ridiculus. Quintil.
Rigidus & trux vultus. Ouid.
Serenus. Horat. Toruus. Quintil.
Seuerus & triſtis. Cic. Toruo vultu ferus. Horat.
Supinus. Quintil. Trepidi vultus. Ouid.
Sydereus. Seneca. Triſtis vultus. Ouid.
Terribilis. Ouid. Trux. Tacit.
Tumidi & truces vultus. Seneca. Virginei. Virgil.
Virgineus vultus in ore puerili. Ouid.
Virilis vultus. Horat. Vitalis. Lucret.
¶ Abdere vultus ſuos tenebris. Ouid.
Addere vultū verbis. Ouid. with his fayre & courteyſe woordes to ſhew a good countenance alſo.
Adhibere aliquò vultum, Vide ADHIBEO.
Aduertere vultus ſuos ſacris. Ouid. To tourne towarde &c.
Affulſit vultus tuus populo. Horat.
Appellare vultu, Vide APPELLO.
Ruga ſenilis arat iam meos vultus. Ouid. Age maketh foorowes or wrinkles in my face.
Alterno vultu & hunc & illum aſpectans. Ouid. Lookyng now on thone, now on the other.
Aſpice vultus meos. Ouid.
Aſpicere aliquem molli vultu. Ouid.
Auertere vultus ab aliquo. Ouid.
Comparare vultum è vultu, Vide COMPARO.
Feros componere vultus. Ouid. To facion his fierce lookes to a more pleſauntneſſe.
Compoſitus vultus. Tacit. A countenaunce ſet and facioned.
Condere vultus. Ouidius.
Confundere vultum Lunæ carminibus. Ouid.
Coniectare aliquid vultu. Tacit. To geſſe by &c.
Conſentit vultus cum oratione, Vide CONSENTIO.
Conuertere vultus ſuos in aliquem. Ouid. To looke towarde.
Silenti vultu defixus. Valer. Flac. Lookinge ſtedfaſtly, & ſayeng nothinge.
Mœſto defixus lumina vultu Virgil.
Deformat vultum macies. Virgil. Leaneneſſe diſfigureth ones looke.
Deiecit vultum, & demiſſa voce locuta eſt. Virg. She bashfully caſt hir countenaunce downewarde, and &c.
Deiectus vultus. Virgil.
Deiectus in humum vultus. Ouid.
Depoſuit vultum ſuum in gremio. Ouid.
Detinere vultus alicuius. Ouid. To make one ſtare longe on it.
Diſcere vultum alicuius. Virgil.
Diſſimulare vultum. Stat. Modeſto vultu ire. Ouid.
Amato vultu non exatiatur. Stat. He can not ſatiſfie himſelfe with lookyng on the face, that he loueth.
Excidit illi vultus. Ouid. His merie cheere is chaūged & gone.
Pacato vultu excipere aliquid. Ouid.
Expreſſi vultus per ahenea ſigna. Horat. Faces liuely wrought in braſſe.
Exprimebat omnes vultus. Cicer. He counterfayted all theyr countenances.
Quos ſpiritus geſſiſſet, vultu ferebat. Tacitus. He ſhewed in his countenaunce &c.
Figere vultus in aliquo. Virg. To looke ſtedfaſtly on.
Fingere vultum. Ouid.
Fictus & ſimulatus vultus. Cic.
Flagrantes Dei vultus. Virgil.
Flectere vultum ad aliquem. Ouid. To looke towarde.
Serenos vultus fœdare. Virg. To diſgrace and marre &c.
Fœdati vultus. Ouid.
Prono fuſus ſuper oſcula vultu. Stat.
Deiectos gerit vultus pudore Sen. For ſhame ſhe caſteth doune hir countenance, and loketh to the grounde.

Incertos vultus gerere. Seneca.
Habet pacem vultus. Ouid. His countenance is peaſible and quiete.
Infixi pectore hærent vultus. Virg. His lookes and countenaunce doth ſticke depely in hir minde.
Humectare vultū largo flumine. Virg. To weepe abūdātly.
Immutat vultum. Terent. He chaungeth countenance.
Induere vultus ſeueros, Vide INDVO.
Niueos infecit purpura vultus. Claud. Hir fayre face waxed redde with bluſhynge.
Durus vultus malis lachrymare neſcit. Seneca.
Lauare vultum profuſis lachrymis. Ouid.
Madentes ſudore vultus. Sil. Ones face droppynge downe with ſweate.
Mutare vultum, Vide MVTO. Notare vultus. Tacit.
Obducti vultus ægro luctu. Ouid. His countenance ouercaſte with ſorowfull heauineſſe.
Blandos offers mihi vultus. Tibull.
Intrepidos vultus pertulit ad fata nouiſſima. Ouid. He loosked with a ſtoute countenaunce euen to death.
Prætendere vultum. Quintil.
Toto vultu in terram procumbere. Ouid.
Promittere aliquid vultu. Quintil.
Amico vultu promittere aliquid. Ouid. with a friendly looke to ſignifie or promiſſe a thynge.
Placidi radiant in caſſide vultus. Claudian.
Referre vultū alicuius. Ouid. To be like one in coūtenance.
Alto vultu reijcere dona alicuius. Horatius. with a prowde looke &c.
Renidens falſum vultu. Tacit. Counterfaytyng a ſmilyng or merie looke.
Renidenti cohibens ſuſpiria vultu. Valer. Flac.
Placido vultu reſpice mea munera. Ouid.
Reſpicere meliore vultu, Vide BONVS.
Ficto ridere vultu. Stat. To counterfaite a laughynge.
Inuito vultu ridere. Horat. To laugh agaynſt his will.
Rigabat vultum atque ora lachrymis. Virgil.
Supplice vultu rogare aliquid. Claud.
Benignū vultum ſeruat fortuna. Horat. Fortune yet looketh fauourably on vs.
Soluto vultu galeas intrare. Stat. with a cheerefull countenaunce to put his head in the healmette.
Sparſi vultus ſanguine. Ouid.
Iniquo vultu ſpectare aliquem. Ouid. To looke diſpleaſantly on one.
Boni vultus eſſe. Ouid. To haue a good countenance.
Caſtos vultus tegere. Ouid.
Conſilium vultu tegit. Virgil. He pretendeth in countenāce to minde no ſuch thinge.
Tendens ad ſydera vultus. Ouid.
Immotos vultus tenere. Ouid.
Rectos tenere vultus in aliquem. Stat. To looke ſtraite on one.
Tenuare vultum macie. Propert.
Terrere aliquem vultu. Horat.
Pauido vultu territa. Seneca.
Trahere vultum, & rugas cogere. Ouid. To make the face wrytheled and wrinkled.
Demiſſos velare vultus. Lucan.

Vultículus, vultículi, pen. corr. Diminutiuum. Cicer. A prety countenance: a little viſage.

Vultuôſus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Quintil. Of a graue and ſolemne countenance: making many countenances.

Vulua, vuluæ, f g. Plin. The matrice, wombe, or mother: the place of conception in any female. Alſo the entrāce or way vnto the ſame: the wombe porte, or wombe paſſage: the priuie paſſage. Alſo a meate made of the mother of a ſow, that had newly farowed.
Articuli vuluarum. Plin.
Callum vuluarum emollit fel capræ. Plin.
Contractio vuluæ. Plin.
Conuerſione vuluarum ſuffocatas excitat odore ſinapi. Plin. Thoſe that be in a ſounde by reaſon of the mother ſeemynge to moue and riſe to the herte.
Cruciatus vuluæ. Plin. Paines in the priuie paſſage.

Dolores

Dolores vuluæ ſedat chamæſyce. Plin.
Doloribus vuluarum imponitur lac muliebre. Plin.
Dolores vuluarum tollit melitites lapis. Plin.
Duritias & conuerſiones vuluæ emendat pix. Plin.
Duritiam vuluarum emollit ſanguis aſininum. Plin.
Exanimationes vuluarum. Plin. Suffocatiõs, or ſowninges proceedyng of diſeaſe in the mother riſinge vpwarde.
Exulcerationes vuluarum ſanat ſeuum aſininum. Plin.
Exulcerationibus vuluarum prodeſt medulla vituli. Plin.
Fluxionem vuluæ ſiſtit decoctum palmæ. Plin. The white flowers.
Inflammationes vuluæ. Celſ.
Inflationi vuluę, fimum aprinũ cum oleo illini prodeſt. Plin. Boores dunge with oyle is annoynted, as medicinable againſt the diſeaſe commonly called the mother.
Morbo vuluæ ſtrangulatas aiunt reſpirare capillorum muliebrium odore ſi crementur. Plin. Women that be ſuffocated and ſoũde by riſinge or aſcendinge of the mother vp towarde the herte &c.
Onera vuluæ extrahit reſina. Plin.
Os vuluæ. Celſus. The mother poyte.
Procidentia vuluæ. Plin. The fallinge of the matrice out of his place downewarde.
Sinus vuluæ gemini in muliere. Plin.
Strangulationes vuluæ cuminũ potum in vino aperit. Plin. The ſtiflinges or ſuffocations of the mother cauſinge women to ſounde is holpen by drinkyng of Cumine.
Strangulationes vuluæ ſedat aniſum. Plin.
Strangulationes vuluarum diſcutit bitumen olfactum. Plin.
Strangulationes vuluæ recreat gagates lapis. Plin.
Strangulationibus vuluæ ſuccurrit crethmos. Plin.
Strangulatus vuluarum diſcutit crocum. Plin.
Strangulatus vuluæ peucedanum vſtum recreat nidore. Plin.
Strangulatum à vuluis emendat agaricum. Plin.
Torméta vuluæ. Plin. Paines & wringynges of the mother.
Vitia vuluæ emendat ampelos agria. Plin. Diſeaſes of &c.
¶ Adiuuat vuluam pulmo léporis aridus potus. Plin.
Concitatæ vuluæ apponitur ſuccus foliorum Cypri. Plin. Agaynſt the immoderate fluxe of the wombe.
Confert vuluis ſcolimos, vt mares gignantur. Plin.
Contineri vuluas adalligato ſamio lapide tradunt. Plin. To be hepte in their place, and not to fall &c.
Contractas vuluas aperit porri ſuccus. Plin.
Conuerſas vuluas corrigit ruta illita in melle. Plin.
Diluitur in vino circæa, bibiturque ad dolorem vuluæ. Plin.
Emollire vuluas. Plin. Expurgare vuluas. Plin.
Exulceratæ vuluæ medetur oleum myrteum. Plin.
Induratam vuluam aperit fel bubalum. Plin.
Inflammatis contractiſque vuluis admouentur ſtrigmenta athletarum. Plin.
Iuuantur vuluæ lacte equino collutæ. Plin.
Vulua laborans duritie. Plin.
Laborantes vuluas adiuuat cornu ceruini cinis. Plin.
Laborãtes vulua ſuffiri felle crocodili ſalutare tradunt. Plin.
Mollire vuluam. Celſ.
Præcluſa vulua. Plin.
Procidẽtes vuluas inhibet Ariſtolochia. Plin. Fallyng doune out of theyr naturall places.
Procidẽtes vuluæ reprimũtur ſuffitu ſimi è mare boue. Plin.
Procidentes vuluas reſilire cogit vrtica. Plin.
Procidentes vuluas ſiſtere. Plin.
Prodeſt vuluis oleum cycinum. Plin.
Strangulante vulua ſubuenit cedridis odor. Plin. In ſtiflyng or ſuffocation of the mother &c.
Suffire vuluas pilo ceruino. Plin.
Verſa vulua, ſpiritum ſi incluſit, funebris eſt. Plin.

Vuula, læ, fœ. gen. A little piece of fleſh in the roufe of the mouth, whiche ſometime ſwelleth and greeueth ſore.

V X

Vxor, vxôris, pen. prod. f. g. Terent. A wife.
Gratum mihi feceris, ſi vxori tuæ meis verbis eris gratulatus. Cicer.
Beata vxor creandis pueris. Horat.
Capaciſſima vxor omnis ſecreti. Plin. iun. A wife to whome any ſecreate may be committed.
Deuiæ vxores olentis mariti. Horat. She gotes.
Fœta vxor. Iuuenal. Formoſa. Iuuenal.
Incommoda & importuna. Plaut.
Iuſta vxore nati, Vide IVSTVS & NASCOR.
Legitima vxor, Vide LEX.
Liberalis vxor, Vide LIBER adiectiuum.
Optima. Lucret. Placens. Horat.
¶ Abducere vxorem à viro. Cic. To cauſe a woman to goe with him, and forſake hir huſbande.
Abhorrere à ducenda vxore. Cicero. To haue no minde to marie.
Accerſere vxorem. Terent.
Adiungere ſibi vxorem, Vide ADIVNGO.
Aſſumere vxorem. Plin. iunior.
Commutare vxorem, Vide COMMVTO.
Ducere vxorem. Cic. To marie a wife.
Tibi ducitur vxor. Virgil.
Habere vxorem. Cic. To be maried.
Miſſam facere vxorem, Vide MITTO.
Alienas permolere vxores. Horat. To haue to do with other mens wyues.
Prægnans vxor. Cicer.
Recuſare vxorem grandi cum dote. Horat.
Grauidas reddere vxores. Lucret. To begette theyr wiues with childe.

Vxórcula, vxórculæ, f. g. penult. corr. Diminutiuum. Plautus. A pretie wife.

Vxorius, Adiectiuum. Cic. Of a mans wife.
Dos eſt vxoria lites. Ouid. Strife and debate is the dowerie that a man hath with a wife.
Leuamentum vxorium. Tacit.

Vxórius, vxórij, m. g. Virg. One that doteth on his wife, or one that is in his wiues ſubiection.
Bibere vxoria. Quintil. De eo cui meretrix potionem odij dederat.

X.

XAnthium, thij, neut. gen. An hearbe bearyng a little butte.
Xanthos. A pretious ſtone of a bryghte yalowe colour.
Xanthus, a, um. Yalowe.

X E

Xenium, xenij, neut. gen. Martial. A preſent ſente by one to a man.
Xeniolum, li, n. g. A ſmall preſente.
Xerampelinæ veſtes. Garmentes, as I thinke, of murrey colour. Other ſuppoſe it to be blacke garmentes.
Xeria. Drie playſters.
Xerophagia. Eatynge of drie meates.
Xerophthalmia. Sorenelle of the eyes without droppynge or ſwellyng.
Xeſta. The weight of a pounde and an halfe, or a meaſure contayninge that weight.

X I

Xiphion. Sedges or gladen.
Xiphium. Plin. Sedges or gladen. quod etiã Xyris dicitur.
Xiphia, xiphiæ, f. g. nomen piſcis. Plin. A fiſh called a ſwordefiſh, hauynge a beake like a ſworde.
Xiphones, Vide CHONDROS.

X Y

Xylinus, Vide XYLON.
Xyloaloes. A ſweete and precious woodde called Lignum aloës: women hauyng beades of it, call it Acellula.
Xylobalſamum, xylobálſami, pen. corr. Colum. The woodde whereof baulme naturall cometh.
Xylocinnamomum, zylocinnamómi, pen. prod. n. gen. Plin. The woodde of the Cinnamome tree.
Xylon, neut. gen. Plin. Cotton: alſo a ſhrubbe of whiche cotten commeth.
Xylinum, xylini, n. g. pen. corr. Plin. Bumbaſinge, or any thing made of Cotton.
Xylinus, a, um. Of Cotton.

Xylinæ veſtes. Garmentes of Cotton.
Xylophagus. A wourme breedyng in olde timber, white and great headed, with a blache heade.
Xylotropos, idem quod Chryſalis.
Xyphiæ. Certayne blaſinge ſterres, hauinge beames like a ſwoorde.
Xyphius, Vide XIPHIA.
Xyris, huius xyris, Vide XIPHION.
Xyſtus, xyſti, m.gen. Vitruuius. A place wherein men vſed wꝛaſtlinge oꝛ other exerciſes vnder couerte in the winter: It may be taken foꝛ a galerie, oꝛ like place to walke in out of the rayne.
Xyſtum, neut.ge. Vitruuius. A knotte garden: an open walke.
Xyſticus, xyſtici, m.g.penult.corr. Sueton. He that exerciſeth himſelfe in a galerie oꝛ place couered out of the ſunne oꝛ rayne.
Xyſtus, ta, tum. Gorgious: trimme: gay: gallant.

Z.

ZAphirus. A ſiſhe of the kinde of gilte heades, but that he is somewhat blue in colour.
Zathene. A ſtone like to Aumbꝛe, now blache, nowe yalowe.

Z E

Zea. Dioſcorides. After ſome beerebarley: ſpelte.
Zelo, zelas: & Zelor, zelâris, zelâri. To haue ȝeale oꝛ great deſyre to doo a thinge. To be iealous: to loue with iealouſly, ſo that he will ſuffer none to be partaker with him. Alſo to enuie.
Zelôtes, zelôtis, pen.prod.maſc.gen. One that is in iealouſie, and feareth the thinge he loueth is common to other. Alſo he that hath enuie at one, oꝛ aſſayeth to folowe an other in liuynge.
Zelótypus, zelótypi, pen.corr. Iuuenal. A iealous man: one in a iealouſie.
Zelotypia, zelotypiæ, f.g. Plin. Iealouſie.
Zelus, maſc.gen. Zeale: loue: enuie: emulation.
Zenith. A wooꝛde of Coſmographie ſignifiyng the poynte of the firmamente directly ouer ones heade, wheare ſo euer he be.
Zephiria oua. Egges conceyued with the winde.
Zephirus, zephiri, m.g. The weſte winde.
Zereth. An Hebꝛew meaſure of .ix. inches.
Zeros. A kinde of Chriſtall, whiche hath ſpottes white and blache.
Zeta, vel zetula. A little chãber foꝛ one bedde & two ſtooles, ioygned to an other chamber with courtaines: ſo that the courtaines beyng dꝛawen, it is made but one chamber.
Zeugma. A figure wheare many clauſes are ioygned with one verbe oꝛ adiectiue.
Zeus, zei, maſc.g. Plin. A fiſh taken about Calez in Spayne, blache of colour, and very delicate.

Z I

Zingiber, pen.corr. zingíberis, pen.corr.neut.gen. Dioſcorides. The ſpice called ginger.
Zizania, zizániæ: vel Zizánium, zizánij. Cockle, oꝛ any other coꝛrupte and naughtie weede growyng amonge coꝛne.
Zizipha, pen.corr. A fruyte called of Apothecaries Iuiuba.

Z O

Zodiacus, penult.corr. Cic. The circle in heauen wherein are xii. ſignes. The ȝodiake. Looke in the pꝛoper names.
Zœlicum. A kinde of flaxe to make thꝛeade, to take birdes with.
Zographia. The picture of beaſtes.
Zomos. Gruell: potage.
Zona, zonæ. Martial. A girdle.
Tereti zona cinctus. Ouid.
Breuis zona conſtringit ſinus. Seneca.
Ligatam diu zonam ſoluere. Catull.
Retinens veſtem zona. Seneca. Solutæ zonæ. Horat.
¶ Zonam perdidit. Horat. He hath loſte all his money: he hath not a kardynge lefte.
Zonæ cœli. Plin. Circles imagined in the firmament.
Zonárius, zonárij, m.g. Cic. A girdell maker.
Zonárius, Adiectiuũ: vt Sector zonarius. Plaut. A purſe cutter.
Zónula, pen.corr. zónulæ, Diminutiuũ. Catull. A little girdle.
Zoophthalmon. Plin. Sengreene, oꝛ houſleeke.
Zophita. That are in parte liuynge creatures, in parte plantes, as ſponges, oyſters &c.
Zopiſſa, zopiſſæ. Plinius. Pitche taken from ſhippes and tempered with waxe and ſalte.
Zopyron, pen.corr. Herba quæ & Clinopodium dicitur. Plin. Some call it Pulyoll mountayne.

Z V

Zura. A bearſe of white thoꝛne.

Z Y

Zygia. A pipe whereon men played at weddinges.
Zygos. A yoke oꝛ couple.
Zygoſtates, zygóſtatæ, penult.corr. maſc.gen. Libripens in vrbe conſtitutus, qui ponderibus præfectus appellatur. A clerke of the market to ſee to weightes.
Zyme. Leauen.
Zymes. Leauened bꝛeade.
Zythum, zythi, n.g. Plin. Dꝛinke made of barley ſodden, and may be taken foꝛ ale oꝛ beere.

FINIS.

DICTIONARIVM HISTORI-
cum & Poeticum propria locorum & Per-
ſonarum vocabula breuiter complectens.

AAron, Was ſonne to Amram, and brother to Moyſes: the worde ſignifieth the mountaine of fortitude or a ſtrong hill. He was of the tribe of Leui, the fourth from him in linial deſcent: in his proper tongue very eloquent, elected of God to be the firſt byſhop of the Iewes. He liued .123. yeres, and died before theincarnation of Chriſt .1471. yeres.

A B.

Aba, A town in Arabie, and a citie of Phocis. Alſo an hill of Armenia, out of the whiche the ryuer Euphrates ſpringeth.

Abæ, arum, A towne of Phocis.

Abacena, A citie of Mede, and alſo of Sicily.

Abacuk, A Prophete of the tribe of Simeon: he prophecied and lamented the taking of Hieruſalem by Nabugodonoſor. Afterwarde, as he caried meate and drinke to his harueſt men, an angell toke him vp by the heare of the head, and caried him to Babylon, into the doungeon, where Daniell the Prophete was among lyons. Who being fedde and relieued by him, was caried home the ſame daie. He died two yeres before the retourne of the Iewes from Babylon. 600. yeres before the incarnation of Chriſt.

Abala, A towne in Afrike.

Abali, A people of India.

Abalites, A boſome or goulfe in the ſea, called Trogoniticum.

Abalus, An Ile of the Ocean ſea.

Abantes, A people of Iones, among the Achiues.

Abantias, or abantis, An Ile in the ſea called Mediterraneum.

Abaortæ, A people about the ryuer of Indus.

Abarea, The inſtitution of Dionyſius.

Abarimon, A coũtrey in Tartary, where men haue fete tourned backwarde, and bee wounderfull ſwifte and wilde.

Abaris, ris, The proper name of a man. It is alſo he that dwelleth onely in the maine lande.

Abas, antis, The ſonne of Liceus and Hipermeſtra, the .xij. kyng of Argiues, father of Pretus and Acriſius, and grandfather to Perſeus. of hym the kings of Argiues, were called Abantiadæ. An other Abas, was a noble Troiane, companion to Aeneas.

Abaſes, A deſert countrey of Egypt.

Abaſter, or abaſtus, One of the horſes of Pluto kyng of hell.

Abaton, That whiche a man can not come vnto: wherupon the place at Rhodes made to defende the image of Artemiſia, is called by that name.

Abenos. i. fœ .g. An yle of Egipt, in the mariſhe of Memphis.

Abeucas, The proper name of a man.

Abdera, æ, or abdera, orum, A citie in Spaine, nowe called Almeria. It is alſo an yle, nigh vnto Samothrace, and a citie of Thrace, builded by Abdera, ſiſter to Diomedes: or as ſome write by Hercules, in remembraunce of his minion Abderitus, there eaten by the horſes of Diomedes. In this citee were borne Democritus the great philoſophier, and Prothagoras the famouſe rhetorician. This citie was afterward called Clazomene.

Abderita, or abderites, æ, maſ. g. A citeſen of Abdera.

Abderitanus, vel Abderiticus, a, um, Apperteining vnto that citie.

Abdias, one of the .xij. Prophetes, and is interpreted the ſeruaunt of the lorde.

Abea, A town of the Pelleniãs, and one of the .vij. cities that Homere feigneth Agamemnõ to promiſe vnto Achilles.

Abeacus, A king of Siraces.

Abeatæ, A people of Acaia.

Abedecos, A citie in Egypt, wherin was the palaice of Memnon, and the temple of Oſiris.

Abel, The ſeconde ſonne of Adam, is interpreted breath, vapour, or vanitie. He was borne together with his ſiſter Delbora .xv. yeres after Cain. He is reputed to be the firſt martyr, ſlayne by his fayd brother of enuy, for that God accepted his offering, and reiected Cains, whan the ſaide Abel was .100. yeres olde. he was from his childhode of great vertue and faith. He was ſlaine before the incarnacion of Chriſt yeres.

Abella, or Anella, A towne of Campania in Italy.

Abellinates, A people of Italie, called before tyme Protropi.

Abellinum, A towne in Italy now called Troye.

Aberdonia, the citie Aberdeine in Scotlande.

Abeſſa, The name of a iudge of Iſraell.

Abeſamis, A town in Syria, builded by Semiramis.

Abeſte, A towne nigh to the ryuer Hermandrus.

Abeſton, A ſtone of yron colour, founde in Arabia, which hath growing about it, a thyng like vnto wull, called the downe of Salamander. This ſtoue made hotte can neuer be cooled.

Abi, A great riuer in Englande, called Humber.

Abii, A people of Scythia.

Abila, A towne in Decapoliton. It is alſo an hill in Afrike. loke Abyla.

Abilatæ, Men of the citie of Abila.

Abis, A riuer that renneth into the ryuer Danubie.

Abiſari, Otherwiſe Biaſari, A countrey of Indie.

Abiſontes, A people of the Alpes.

Abiſſa and Abiſſama, A citee of Arabia.

Ablacus, A ryuer renning into Danubius.

Ableti, A people ſubiect to the Myſiens.

Abnoba, æ, A mountaine in Germany, out of the whiche ſpringeth the ryuer Danubie.

Abobrica, A famous towne in Spayne.

Aboeciſis, A towne of Ethiope.

Abolani, A people of Latium.

Aborienſe, A towne in Affrike, belonging to the citeſens of Rome.

Aborigines, or Aborigenes, People whiche firſt helde the countrey about Rome, & liued abroade, hauing no houſe. They may alſo be taken for any other people, whoſe beginning is not knowen.

Aborras, A riuer in Aſia, whiche renneth by the citie Arthemuſia.

Abraces, One of Artaxerres chiefe capitaines.

Abradatas, A king of the people called Ciriens, who accompanied Cyrus, whan he fought againſt the Egipcians.

Abrahami, An holy patriarke, ſonne to Thare, borne in Caldei, is interpreted the father of many nacions, or of people ſeeing. This man, as well in vertue and perfect faith, as in ſundry and miſticall doctrines, was moſt excellent. He taught the Aegiptians aſtronomie, and geometrie. He died before the incarnacion of Chriſt. 1838. yeres.

Abrettini, People of Myſia.

Abrocomas, One of Artaxerres capitaines.

Abron, onis, The name of a man, whoſe ſenſualitie and delicate life is growen to a prouerbe.

Abroni mœnia, A citie of Galatia.

Abroconion, or Abrotonium, The name of a woman.

Abrotonum, A towne of Affrike. It is alſo the name of an harlotte, whiche, as ſome ſaie, was Themiſtocles mother.

Abſarus, A ryuer of Iberia, whiche incloſeth the leſſe Armenie.

Abſilæ, Certaine people.

Abſorus, An yle in the ſea Adriaticum, or after Herodian, a citie in Illiria.

Abſyrtides, be Ilandes in the Venecian ſea.

Abſyrtus, The brother of Medea, whom ſhe did cut in peces, and caſt into the ſea, whan ſhe fledde from hir father with Jaſon.

Abupus, A riuer in England called Humber.

Abydeni, A people in Aſia, whiche hauing their citie diſtreſſed with a long ſiege, fell into a fury or madneſſe, and ſlue all theyr wyues, their chyldren, and afterwarde them ſelues.

Abydenus, A man borne in the yle of Abydus.

Abydus, A citie in Aſia, vpon the ſea ſide called Propontis, whiche diuided Europa from Aſia, where the paſſage ouer exceedeth not muche .rrr. furlonges. Ouer againſt that ſtandeth an other towne, called Seſtus.

Abyla, An hyll in the occean ſea againſt Spayne, whiche is called one of Hercules pillars.

A C.

Aca, The name of a citie in Phenicia, afterwarde called Ptholomais.

Acabene, A mountaine in Aegipte.

Acabis, A village of Lybia.

Acabo, A beaſte in the deſerte of Arabie.

Acacoſum, A citie of Arcadie, ſo called of Acacus, the ſonne of Lycaon.

Acadinus, A well in Sicilia, wherin (as Ariſtotle ſaieth) tables, conteyning the othe of one that hath ſworne truely, will ſwym: but if the othe be falſe, they wyll ſinke.

Acadra, A towne of Arabie.

Acallis, lidis, The daughter of Minois, and mother of Dares.

Acamantium, A towne in Phrygia, builded by Acamantis, to whom Theſeus after the battaile of Troie, gaue that place, becauſe he ayded him againſt the people called Solines.

Acamarchis, A nimphe, the daughter of Oceanus.

Acamas, An elbawe of land in the yle of Cypres, towards the eaſte. Alſo a prince of Thrace, which came to aide the Troians. Alſo one of the ſame name was ſonne to Anthenor.

Acanthide, The olde name of the yle of Cipres.

Acanthus, A boye, whiche (as poetes feigne) was tranſformed into a floure of his name. It is alſo (as Seruius ſaieth) a tré growyng in Aegipte, hauing alwayes grene leaues. Alſo a citie in Egipte, nyghe vnto Memphis: an other of Macedonia, and of Aetholia.

Acapis, A ryuer in Aſia.

Acara, A towne in the middle of Hungarie.

Acarnan, anis, or Acarnas, A ſtonie hyll in the countrey of Athens.

Acarnania, A part of the realme of Greece, named Epirus. It is alſo a litle coūtrey in Egipt. Alſo a citie by Syracuſis in the realme of Sicilie.

Arcananes, The people of that countrey.

Arcananius, or Acarnanicus, a, um, Of Acarnania.

Acaſta, A nymph or mayden of the fayry.

Acaſtus, A kyng of Magneſia, of whom Peleus was pourged, whan he had murthered his brother.

Accalaurentia, The name of hir that nouriſhed Romulus and Remus, the firſt builders of Rome.

Accaron, A citie of Paleſtine.

Acci, A citie in Spaine, ſometyme called Aci, now Guaſix.

Accius Pirauenſis, A famous oratour.

Accius Nœuius, The Augurian or ſothſayer, whiche (at the commaundement of Tarquinius) did cutte a whetſtone in two peces with a raſoure.

Accius, The name of a poete, a writer of tragedies, who (as Cicero ſaith) had a harde & crabbed ſtile.

Acco, cus, A woman whiche was ſo fooliſhe, that ſhe would ſpeake and talke to hir owne image in a glaſſe, whereof commeth Acciſſare, to playe the idiote: and ſuche fooles be called Acci. This woman alſo woulde refuſe earneſtly that ſhe moſte deſyred. Wherfore ſuche feigned refuſall, is called Acciſmus.

Acelum, A towne in Lumbardie.

Acephali, or acephaliteæ, Were heretikes, whiche denied to be two natures in Chriſt, affirmyng the nature diuine to be in hym onely. This hereſie was condemned in the counſayle of Chalcedon.

Acerræ, A citie by Naples.

Acerrani, People of that citie.

Aceſeus, A cunning artificer.

Aceſines, A great ryuer in Perſia, whiche renneth into the ryuer Indus, wherein doe growe canes of ſuche of ſuche greatnes, that they make thereof betwene euery knot or ioynte, boates to rowe in.

Aceſſæus, A ſhipmans name, whiche being an vnluſtie lubber, would deferre his viage and ſaye, he taried for a better mone.

Aceſta, A citie in Sicilie.

Aceſtes, æ, The ſonne of the ryuer Crimiſus, in Sicilie, and the Troiane lady Segeſta, whiche receiued Aeneas, and Anchiſes, whan they ſayled towarde Italy.

Aceſtium, tii, ſ. g. The name of Xenoclis daughter.

Aceſtis, A great riuer in India.

Aceum, A citie in Colchis, on the banke of the ryuer called Phaſis.

Achæi, People in Grece: ſometime they be taken for Grekes generally.

Achæmenes, Was the firſt kyng of the Perſians, or Parthians, of whom diuers kinges of the Perſians were called Achæmenes, and the people Achæmenii.

Achæmenia, A countrey in Perſia.

Achæmenides, One of Ulilles companions.

Achaia, A parte of Grece, cõteining theſe countries, Attica, Boeotia, Megaris, Aetholia, and Phocis. It hath on the weſte, Epyre, on the eaſte, the ſea Aegeum, on the northe, Macedonia, on the ſouthe, the ſea Creticum. There is an other Achaia, in Peloponneſus, nowe called Morea, where was the citie of Patras, in whiche ſaint Andrewe the Apoſtle was martyred.

Achais, idis, & idos, Of Grece.

Achar, A citie in Syria, nowe called Niſibis.

Achedorus, A ryuer of Macedonia, whiche diuideth Apollonia, and Theſſalonica.

Acheloides, or Acheloïades, The mere maides, and daughters of Achelous.

Acheloius, a, um, Of that ryuer: ſometyme it is put for aqueus, watrie or mixed with water.

Achelous, A famous ryuer in Grece, whiche renneth out of Pindus, wherein is founde the ſtone Gagatides, whiche is blacke: but beynge broken, it yeldeth lyeoure as whyte as mylke, hauing alſo the taſte thereof.

Achelous, Was the ſonne of Oceanus and Tethis, of whom the forſayde ryuer (after the poetes) was named Achelous. In olde tyme it did ſignifie all maner water.

Achelous, A mans name.

Acherois, idis, and idos, An epitheton of the white popler tree, whiche the poetes feigne to growe on the bankes of Acheron, the ryuer of hell.

Acherontia, A citie of Poele, ioyning to Lucania.

Acheron, or Acherons, rontis, and Acheruns, runtis, Is of poetes taken for the ryuer of hell: in deede it is a ryuer in a parte of Italy, whereof the people be called Brutii. It is ſo inuironed with hills, that the ſunne cometh not to it, but onely in the middes of the daye. It is lykewyſe a ryuer of Lucania, of Epire, and alſo of Pontus, nyghe to Heraclia.

Acherontini, People ſo called of the riuer Acheron.

Acherontinus, & acheronticus, a, um, Of the ryuer Acheron.

Acheruſia, A fenne in the royalme of Naples. It is alſo a pole or mere of Theſprotia in Epyre, out of whiche iſſueth the ryuer Acheron, whiche renneth into the ſea called Ambracium. Acheruſia, is alſo an hole or caue, whiche the poetes ſuppoſe to be a waye into hell. Out of this hole Hercules drewe Cerberus, the dogge of hell. The painyms beleued, that all ſoules went that waye into the fennes or meres called Stygiæ paludes, where Charon receyued them into his boate.

Acheruſis, idis, & idos, fœmin. gene. idem quod Acheruſia.

Acheruſius, a, um, Of hell.

Achilleides, maſcu. gen. The ſonne of Achilles.

Achilleon, A towne of Troie, buylded by the tombe of Achilles.

Achilleus, lei, or Achilles, lis, and li, One of the moſte valiaunt capitaynes of the Grekes agaynſte Troie. He was ſonne vnto Peleus. In his chyldehode he was inſtructed of Chiron in deedes of armes and ſurgery. After he ſlewe the noble Hector, and Troylus his brother, the one ſodaynly, the other cruelly. Wherefore afterwarde, he by the ſleight of quéene Hecuba, was brought into the loue of Polixena, and vnder the colour of mariage was ſlayne by Paris. He was in heyghte, (as Lycophron wryteth) ſeuen cubites.

Achilleus, a, um, Of Achilles.

Achilleus curſus, A countrey nere to Boryſthenes, whither Achilles purſued Iphigenia, whom Diana had taken away, and lefte an harte in hir ſtéede.

Achiſarmi, A people of Afrike.

Achne, The name of an Iſlande.

Achola, A citie of Afrike.

Acholius, The name of an authour.

Achrua, A citie in Arabie.

Acibi, orum, A people of Sarmatia in Europe.

Acidalia, The ſurname of Uenus, of a fountaine in a citie of Boeotia called Orchomenũ.

Acidalius, A well in Orchomenum, dedicated vnto Uenus, and the Graces.

Acienſes, A people in Italy nere to the Albanoys.

Acila, æ, A marte towne, from whence men ſayle into India.

Acilius Buta, A gentleman at Rome, whiche dyd ryottouſly conſume all his goodes.

Acimbro, or Acinipo, A citie of Spayne.

Acina, æ, A towne in Arabia.

Acintani, A people in Spayne, that worſhypped the image of Mars.

Aciris, A ryuer in Italy.

Acis, A ryuer in Sicilie, whiche renneth from the hill Aethna, as ſwifte as an arrowe cut of a bow. Acis, is alſo a fayre childe the ſonne of Faunus, & of the daughter of Simethus. It is more ouer one of the yles called Cyclades.

Acitauones, A people of the Alpes.

Acithius, A ryuer in Sicilie, called also Acis, and Acilius.
Acitia, An Ilande, called also Melos and Siphnus, in the sea by Candie.
Aciton, An Ilande neare to Candie.
Acmodes, An Ilande in the Britayne sea.
Acmonenses, A people so called of Acmonia, a citie of Phrigia.
Acmonides, One of the Cyclops.
Acoetes, The name of a pooze man.
Acone, nes, fœm. gen. A pozt of Bithinia, whiche hath suche plentie of naughtie sedes, that all hurtfull herbes be called Aconita.
Aconteus, The name of a famouse hunter.
Acontius, A mountayne of Boeotia.
Acra iapygia, An elbowe of lande in Italy.
Acradina, The citie of Siracusis.
Acræa, The surname of Juno and Foztune.
Acragas, A citie of Sicilie, called also Agrigentum.
Acragas mons, loke Agragas.
Acragantinus, a, um, Of Acragas.
Acridophagi, The blacke Mozes nyghe vnto the desertes of Aethiope.
Acrio, onis, A philosophier of Pythagozas sect.
Acris, A ryuer in Italy.
Acrisius, A kyng of Argiues, the father of Danae, on whom Jupiter begatte Perseus.
Acrisioneis, eidis, fœm. gen, Danae, The daughter of Acrisius.
Acrisioneus, a, um, Of Acrisius.
Acritas, An elbowe of lande in Peloponnesus, nere vnto Malea and Tenarum.
Acroathon, A towne in Thracia.
Acroceraunia, Mountaines of wounderfull heighte, betwene Armenia, and Hiberia, and also in Epyze and other places.
Acroconia, Certaine Thracians, hauing their heare ouer their fozeheades womanlyke.
Acrocorinthus, An highe mountaine in Mozea, betwene the two seas Egeum and Jonium.
Acrolochias, A mountaine in Egypt, lying into the sea.
Acron, onis, A kyng of the Ceninenses, whome Romulus slue hande to hande. There was also in Agrigentine a Phisicion of the same name, and a grãmarian, whiche made commentaries vpon Hozace.
Acropolis, ólios, fœm. gen. A castell set on an hyll in Athens.
Actæa, æ, oz Actæ, tes, The countrey about Athens.
Acteon, The name of a man, whome Diana tourned into an hart, because he sawe hyz naked: and therby he was tozne & slain of his own houndes.
Actæus, The first kyng of Athens.
Actæa, The daughter of Oceanus and Tethis.
Actisanes, A kinge of Egipte, who expulsed Amasis, and reigned there with great iustice.
Actium, A towne in Epyze, and an elbowe of lande lyinge into the sea, where Augustus ouercame Antonius and Cleopatra.
Actorides, dæ, masc. g. The sonne of Actoz.
Acyphantes, A citie in Thessaly, whiche is also called Pindus.

Ada, æ, The daughter of Hecatomnus, kynge of Caria, who beyng dziuen out of hir kyngdome by hir bzother Pyrodoz, was restored by great Alexander.
Adad, oz Adadus, The great God of the Assirians, whome they interpzetate to bee the sunne: the wozde signifieth one oz onely.
Adæ, arum, A citie of Asia.
Adæi, Arabians nere to Aegypt.
Adam, The first man that was created, and doeth signifie man, oz redde earth, oz a dweller. He lyued. 930. peres. In the Bible is mencion made but of thzee sonnes & one daughter, that he begat, Cayn, Abell, Seth, and Delboza: whome Philo calleth Noaba. And the same Philo reherseth. xij. sonnes, and. viij. daughters bozne after Seth.
Adamantius, The surname of Didimus, the grammarian, whiche was afterwarde attributed vnto Dzigen.
Adamastor, A gygant, whiche was of incredible greatnesse.
Adamitæ, vel Adamiani, Were heretykes, whiche toke their beginninge of a Picarde, who came into the lande of Bohemia, and sayed, that he was the sonne of God, and named hym selfe Adam. And he commaunded all men and women to goe naked. And that who so euer desyzed to companye carnally with any woman, shoulde take hyz by the hande, and bzynge hyz to hym, and saye, that he feruently desyzed hir companye. And than would Adam saye: Goe together, and increase and multiplie. This heresie was begunne the yere of our lozde. 1412. in the tyme of Sigismundus the Emperour. And men suppose, that it indureth yet, not onely in Boemia, but in other places also.
Adani, Two cities in Arabia.
Addua, æ, A ryuer renning into the pole oz meere called Larius.
Ader, A place by Bethleem, where aungelles dyd synge at the byzthe of Chzist, and Jacob kepte there his sheepe.
Adiabaræ, A people of Ethiopia.
Adiabene, A countrey beyonde Armenia.
Adimanthus, The bzother of Plato.
Admete, tes, Oceanus and Tethis daughter.
* Admeti nænia, A pzouerbe, whiche signifieth an heuy oz sozowefull songe, oz a lamentable complainte.
Admetus, Was kynge of a people called Pherei, vnto whom Apollo, being exiled out of heauen by Jupiter, came foz relefe, and kept his cattel, and by his crafte caused euery cowe to bzynge fozth two calues: which thing Admetus thankfully taking, entertained him honozably. That being well considered of Apollo, he obteined of the the deſtenies, called Parcæ, that whan the daye of the death of Admetus ſhoulde be wounde vpon their ſpyndels, if he coulde fynde any other, that would willingly die for hym, he hym ſelfe ſhould eſcape death at that tyme. Whan the day was come, that Admetus ſhould finiſhe his life, all men and women, yea father and mother, refuſed to die: onely Alceſte his wyfe, preferred the lyfe of hir huſbande before her owne: who beyng dead, there was in the palayce of Admetus, continuall waylyng and heauyneſſe, vntyll Proſerpina, meued with compaſſion, ſent Alceſte againe out of helle vnto hir huſbande. Of this fable came the prouerbe, Admeti nænia.

Adonis, the name of a childe, whiche was ſonne of Cynare kyng of Cypres, whome Venus had for hir derlinge, whiche was ſlayne with a bore: whome the poetes feigned, that Venus turned into a purple floure: ſome ſaye into a roſe.

Adra, æ, A citie in Arabea petrea. Alſo a towne of Surie, and a towne of Liburnia.

Adramelech, An Idoll of Siria, whome the Samaritans honoured.

Adramittium, tii, A towne of Aeolis.

Adramittis, An Iſlande in Lycia.

Adrana, æ, A ryuer in Germanie.

Adrapſa, orum, neut. gen. A citie of Bactria.

Adraſteus, a, um, Of Adraſtus.

Adraſtia, æ, A countrey not farre from Troye. Alſo the name of a citie there. It was alſo called a goddeſſe, whiche toke from man both memorie and wytte.

Adraſtus, A kynge of Argiues, whoſe daughter Argia, was wedded to Polynices, the ſecond ſonne of Oedipus. And his other daughter called Deiphile, was wedded to Tydeus, ſonne to the kynge of Aetolia. This Adraſtus rayſed all the Grekes againſt the citie of Thebes, for to reſtore againe his ſonne in lawe Polynices to the kyngdome. But after that Polynices and Etheocles, (beyng brothers) had ſlayne one the other, after many conflictes, the Thebans ſlewe downe right the Argiues, and did put to flyght Adraſtus, and ſlewe his people. After that the Argiues had neuer victory in any battail: where of came this prouerbe:

* Adraſtia nemeſis, The euill lucke of Adraſtus: whiche maye be vſed where proude menne bee beaten, and as we ſaye in Engliſhe, Pryde wyl haue a fall.

Adrianus, A noble Emperour of Rome, aboute the yere of our Lorde. 119. He was Traianus ſyſters ſonne: a man of excellent wytte, and dyuers in maners, meruayloſe in learnyng, ſpecially in Mathematicalles. Alſo in Muſicke, keruing, and grauing. In dedes of armes, cunnyng and valiaunt. A great fauourer of learned men, and liberall towardes theim. He was ſo greate a trauayler, that there were fewe countreys, but that he went through theim. He lyued. 62. yeres, and reigned. 20. And died with tourment of the bowelles.

Adriaticum, Adriacum, and Adrianum mare, The ſea that diuideth Italie from Dalmatia, wherein ſtandeth the noble citie of Venetia. Some doe call it the goulfe of Venice.

Adrinus, An hyll that diuideth Dalmatia.

Adrobicum, A citie of Spayne.

Adrumetum, or Adrumetium, A citie of Nyſia.

Adrumes, etis, A citie in Afrike.

Aduallas, antis, A mountayne, from whiche the great ryuer called Rene, renneth northwarde.

Aduatici People of the countrey of Fraunce called Bolleduck.

Adubanus, The famouſe ryuer called alſo Danubius and Iſter.

Adulas, antis, An hyll called ſaint Gotharde, entring into Lumbardie.

Adyas, The hyll called alſo Adulas.

A E.

Aea, The name of a mayden, whiche (as the poetes feigne) flyng from the ryuer Phaſis, was turned into an Iſlande of the ſame name. It is alſo a citie in Colchis, an other of Theſſalia.

Aeacides, ácidæ, maſ. gen. The ſonne or neuewe of Aeacus.

Aeacideius, a, um, of Aeacus.

Aeacus, The ſonne of Iupiter & Europa, or Aegina. Painyms ſuppoſed him to bee of ſuche iuſtice, that he was appointed by Pluto God of hell, to bee one of the iudges there with Minoes and Radamanthus, to diſcuſſe the tranſgreſſions of dead men: and to aſſigne to theim puniſhment accordyng to their merites.

Aeæe, es, or Aeæa, æ, An Iſlande, in whiche Ulyſſes arriued, whan he retourned from hell.

Aeæus, a, um, Of that Iſlande.

Aeanum, A citie of Macedonie.

Aeantium, A towne in the promontorie or hyll of Troye called Sigeum. It is alſo a promontory of Magneſia, and a towne of Macedonie.

Aeas, antis, A ryuer of a countrey called Epyrus, whiche renneth out of Macedonia, and falleth into the ſea Ionium.

Aeca, æ, A citie in Italie, whereof the people bee called Aecani.

Aedepſum, A towne in Locris.

Aedon, An hyll of Thrace.

Aedonis, idis, fœm. gen. A woman of Thrace.

Aedonus, and Aedonius, a, um, One of Thrace.

Aeeta, æ, or Aeetes, æ, A kyng of Colchis, whiche begat Medea and Calciope vpon Idyia.

Aeeteus, or Aeetius, a, um, Perteining to Aeeta.

Aeetias, and Aeetis, Medea the daughter of Aeeta.

Aega, æ, or Aex, ægos, An hyl of Aeolis leaning into the ſea Aegeum.

Aegæ, arum, A citie in Cilicia. Alſo a towne in Macedonia, in Aeolis, and Euboea.

Aegæa, æ, A citie of Emathia.

AE G

Aegæon: An huge and moſte cruell and terrible Gygante, ſonne of Titan and Terra. Whiche is feigned at ones to haue ſlunge at Jupiter an hundred rockes: and afterwarde when he was ouercomme, to haue been bounden with an hundred chaynes to the rockes of the ſea Aegæum. He was in deede a notable and cruell Pirate of great power, and therefore called Centumgeminus becauſe he had an hundred menne ſeruyng him in his ſhyppes. Statius. Ouid. Among men he was called Aegæon, amonge the Goddes Briareus.

Aegaleos, An hylle, vnder whiche ſtoode Pylos a citie of Helleni, whiche is a region in Achaia.

Aegates, idem quod Aega.

Aegas, A towne of Peloponeſus.

Aegemon, A certaine poete.

Aegeria, A nymphe or goddeſſe, with whom Numa Pompilius, the ſeconde kynge of the Romaynes, feigned, that he had familiar company and communication, concerning religion and worſhipping of the goddes: to the intent he mought therby withdrawe the people from the appetite of warres, where with they were inflamed.

Aegiſtami, A people of Sicilie, of ſome called Segeſtami.

Aegeum mare, The ſea, whiche is from the mouth of the Greeke ſea, vp in Syria, and Arabia: wherein be many Ilandes, beſydes Creta nowe called Candy, Rhodes, and Cypres.

Aegeum ſcaphula tranſmittere*, A prouerbe ſpoken of theim that attempte a daungerous enterpryſe, with ſmall labour and diligence.

Aegeum navigat, He ſayleth the Aegiptian ſea. A prouerbe applied to theim that refuſe no peryll for muche lucre or profitte, for as much as the ſaied ſea is full of daungers.

Aegeus, Neptunes ſonne, was kynge of Athens, and hadde twoo wyues, Aethra, and Media. Vppon Aethra he begotte Theſeus, on Medea Medus, who after gaue name to Media.

In this mannes reigne kynge Minos of Crete, in reuengemente of his ſonne Androgeus hys death, hadde made moſte cruell warre on the Atheniens, and hadde ſette vppon theim this penaltie, that yerely they ſhould ſende into Crete, ſeuen noble mennes chyldren to bee deuoured of the monſter Minotaurus. This penaltie had ben executed three yeres, and the fourth by lotte it fell amonge other to Theſeus kynge Aegeus his eldeſt ſonne: who beyng of noble herte and courage, did put theim in great hope to kyll the monſter, & with muche honour to ſcape the daũger. At his departure therefore he had in charge of his father, if the ſhippe he went in, retourned proſperouſly & with good ſucceſſe, that he ſhould ſette vp a whyte ſayle in token of victory, and pull downe the blacke that they went forth with as mourners. But when Theſeus, by the counſayle of Ariadne kynge Minos his daughter, hadde ouercomme the monſter, and with a clewe of threade eſcaped the Labyrinth, ſayling homewarde agayne with great loue towarde his countrey, he forgotte his fathers commaundement touching the whyte ſayle. Wherefore the olde prynce paſſingly deſyrous of his ſonnes ſaſe retourne, and very carefull of his daunger, was daylie on the toppe of an hyghe rocke, to ſee wheather he coulde eſpie the ſhyppe retournynge with the tooken of his ſonnes victorie. But at the lengthe ſeyng the ſhyppe flittynge homewarde as it went forth with a blacke ſayle, thynkynge his ſonne and the reſidue to haue been ſlayne, for ſorowe did caſt him ſelfe into the ſea, that afterwarde of his name was called Aegeum. After his death to the comfort of his ſonne Theſeus, he was by the Atheniens conſecrated to be a god of the ſea.

Aegiale, The wyfe of Diomedes, kyng of Aetolia, who vnderſtandinge that ſhe had committed adultrie with Cyllabarus the ſonne of Sthelenus, being therof aſhamed, woulde not returne home to her. It was alſo a citie, in olde tyme buylded by Aegialeus. Some wryte that Peloponneſus was ſometyme called by this name.

Aegialeus, The ſonne of Adraſtus: he was ſlayne in the ſeconde warres, that the Argiues made againſt the Thebans. There was an other of the ſame name, the brother of Apis, and ſonne of the firſt Jupiter.

Aegialia, an Ilande nere to Aetolia.

Aegialos, A countrey in Greece, called alſo Achaia.

Aegialus, The brother of Medea. Alſo an hylle in Athenes, and a promontory of Paphlagonia.

Aegida, æ, A towne of Iſtria.

Aegides, Of Aegeus patronimicum.

Aegia, æ, An Ilande, fiftene myles from Cythera.

Aegilades, A goulfe of Laconia.

Aegilips, lipis, A citie of Cypre, neere to Crocylea.

Aegilos, An Ilande called alſo Capraria.

Aegimius, The name of a man that lyued two hundred yeres.

Aegimurus, An Ile betwene Sicilie and Affrike. xx. myles from Carthage.

Aegina, æ, The daughter of Aſopus kynge of Boeotia, on whome Jupiter (in the lykeneſſe of fyre) begatte Aeacus, and Radamanthus. It is alſo one of the chiefe Iles called Cyclades, whiche contended with the Athenienſes, who ſhoulde be chiefe, whan the Perſians inuaded Greece.

Aeginenſes, People of Aegina.

Aeginitæ, arum, People of the citie Aegina.

Aegineticus, and Aegineus, a, um, Of Aegina.

Aeginium, A towne of Macedonie.

Aegiochus, A name of Jupiter.

Aegion, A citie betwéene the Aetolians, and the Peloponenſes.

Aegira, An Ilande: alſo a towne in Achaia.

Aegiſthalos, The name of a byrde.

Aegiſthus, vide Aegyſthus.

Aegium, A towne in Peloponneſo, now called Morea, where they feigned, that Iupiter was nouriſhed with a goate.

Aegle, gles, A Nymph.

Aegles, The name of a wreſtler, who haupnge wronge at a common game, ſpake ſodeynely, not withſtandynge he had bene dumbe all his life before.

Aegonenſis, A gate in Rome, called alſo Quirinalis.

Aegophagos, The ſurname of Iuno Amonge the Lacedemonians.

Aegos, A ryuer in Thrace.

Aegoſthenenſes, A people of Grece.

Aegypſos, A citie on the ryuers ſyde called Iſter.

Aegyptii, People of Aegypte, not thoſe vagabunde Magicians, whiche doe nowe renne into all countreis, callyng them ſelues Aegyptians, wheare as they be of an yle farre from Aegypt. Reade the commentaries of Volaterranus.

Aegyptini, People of Aethiope, marchynge on Aegypt.

Aegyptius, & Aegyptiacus, a, um, Of or perteininge to Aegypt.

Aegyptus, ti, A countrey called Aegypt: on the weſt it is bounded with Lybia, and the countrey called Cyrenaica: on the north with the ſea Mediterraneum, and parte of Iudea: on the eaſt with Arabia, and the Arabian ſea: on the ſouth with Aethiopia. This countrey although it rayne there but ſeldome or neuer, yet by the ouerflowing of the ryuer of Nilus, it is made ſo fertile, that it hath aboundaunce of all thinges ſaupng bynes, and bryngeth forth ſtraunge beaſtes. Of the great cities and other meruailous thinges in it, ſhall be remembred, where their names ſhall be rehearſed. This countrey toke his name of Aegyptus, ſonne to Belus kynge of Babilon.

* Aegypti nuptiæ. A prouerbe, ſpoken by vnlucky mariage, becauſe the fyftie ſonnes of Aegiptus, maried to the fyftie daughters of his brother Danaus, were the fyrſt night, all ſaupng one, ſlayne of theyr wyues, by the counſaile of theyr father.

Aegyſſus, The ſonne of Thyeſtes, by his daughter Pelopeia.

Aelana, orum, neut. gen. A citie of Arabia.

Aelia, A countreye of Aſia, betwene Mysia and Ionia. Alſo a towne of Calabre.

Aelianus, A learned Romaine, whoſe workes are extant, written in Greke in an elegant ſtyle.

Aelima, vide Aelemon.

Aelius, The prope name of a Romaine.

Aello, Aellus, One of the three monſters and rauenous byrdes called Harpiæ.

Aemathia, A countrey in Grece, after called Macedonia: The people whereof were fyrſte called Pelaſgi. Reade more hereof in Macedonia.

Aemathius, a, um, Of Macedonie.

Aemilia, A countrey in Italy called alſo Flaminia & Romandiola.

Aemilius, m. g. The prope name of a Romaine.

Aemilius, or Aemilianus, a, um, Pertaining to the familie of Aemilius.

Aeminium, A towne in Spayne.

Aeminius, A ryuer in Spayne.

Aemocbares, The ſurname of Mars.

Aemon, A man that for the vnlaufull loue towarde his daughter, was turned into an hyll.

Aemonia, A region of Grece, called alſo Theſſalia.

Aemonides, The prope name of a man.

Aemonius, a, um, Of Theſſalia.

Aemus, or Hæmus, A king of Thrace, whom for his pryde Iupiter tourned into an hyll. It is alſo a great mountain in Thrace, in height. vi. miles.

Aenaria, An Ile in the goulfe called Puteolanus.

Aenarius, A wodde dedicate to Iupiter.

Aenea, A citie called after, Ianiculum. Alſo an other nere to Theſſalonica, builded by Aeneas.

Aeneaticus, a, um, Of that citie.

Aeneades, People of that citie.

Aeneadæ, Troyans: ſometyme Romaynes, taking their beginning of Aeneas.

Aenēas, æ, A noble man of Troye, ſonne to Anchiſes and Uenus: who after that Troye was deſtroied, ſayled into Italy, where Latinus was kyng, whoſe daughter Lauinia, he maried, and reigned in Italy after the death of Latinus.

Aeneobarbus, The name of a Romayne, ſo called, becauſe he had a bearde as redde as braſſe.

Aenna, or Enna, A citie in the middes of Cilicia.

Aenos, A towne of Thrace.

Aeolia, Is a region of the Grekes in Aſia, betwene Ionia and Troade. It is alſo a region conteyning. xv. Iles, betweene Italy and Sicile.

Aeolicus, a, um, of Aeolia.

Aeolides, The ſurname of Ulliſſes.

Aeolis, idis. The daughter or nece of Aeolus. Alſo a countrey nere vnto Helleſpont, called ſometime Mysia.

Aeolium mare, The ſea toyning to Aſia.

Aeolius, a, um, Of Aeolis.

Aeolus, li, The kyng of the wyndes.

Aequeſtrici, A people of Spayne.

Aequi, A people of Italy.

Aequiculani, A people of Italy.

Aequimelium, A place in Rome, where the houſe of Sp. Melius was ouerthrowen.

Aera, Was alſo a citie of Macedonia, an other of Ionia, and alſo of Helleſponte.

Aeria, rie, A citie in Fraunce.

Aeropa, vel Aeropis, The wife of Atreꝰ, with whom Thieſtes committed aduoutrie.

Aeſacus, ci, maſ. gen. The ſonne of Priamus by the nymph Alyrothoë. He was by Thetis tourned into a birde called a didoper. It was alſo a ryuer by Troye.

Aeſopus, pi, A Troyane. Alſo a ryuer in Troye.

Aeſar, æſaris. A ryuer in Sicilie.

Aeſareus, a, um, Of Aeſar.

Aeſcernia, æ, A citie in Italy.
Aeſchilus Gnidius, Ciceros maiſter.
Aeſchylus, li, A tragicall poete of Athenes.
Aeſchines, is, An oratour, enemy to Demoſthenes. Diogenes Laertius reherſeth. vii. other notable perſons of the ſame name.
Aeſculanus deus, A god that had power to make mē ryche.
Aeſculapius, pii, The ſonne of Apollo and Coronis and was called the god of Phiſicke, and honoured in the fourme of a ſerpent.
Aeſis, A ryuer of Umbria, in Italy.
Aeſium, A citie of Umbria.
Aeſon, Was the father of the valiaunt Jaſon.
Aeſonides, Jaſon the ſonne of Aeſon.
Aeſonius, a, um. Of Aeſon.
Aeſopus, pi, An auncient wryter of fables. Alſo the name of a famouſe plaier in tragedies.
Aeſymnus, A citie of Thrace.
Aeta, A kynge of Colcis, the father of Medea and Abſyrtus.
Aēta, An hill in Theſſaly.
Aetalia, An yle in the ſea of Geane.
Aethalia, An yſande nēere to Corſica and Sardinia, and an other in the ſea of Geane.
Aethalis, vel Aethalides, Preco, The ſonne of Mercurie.
Aetherea, The countrey of Aethiope.
Aethices, A people of Macedonie.
Aethici, A people of Theſſaly.
Aethiope, An yland of the Occean ſea, called before Macaria.
Aethiopia, A great countrey in Affrike, conteyning two regions: the hyther and the further Aethiope. The hither that is aboue Aegypt, hath on the north Aegypt, Marmarike, & Libya: on the weaſt, the inner Libia: on the ſouth, the further Aethiope: on the eaſt the redde ſea. In this coūtrey is the Ile Meroe, where S. Mathewe is reported to haue preached the goſpell. The further Aethiope hath on the north, the inner Lybia, and the hither Aethiope: on the weaſt and ſouth the Occean ſea: on the eaſt, the goulfe called Barbaricum. In this countrey be the mountaynes out of the whiche Nilus iſſueth.
Aethiopicus, a, um, Of Aethiope.
Aethiopiſſa, A woman of Aethiope.
Aethiops, The ſonne of Vulcane, of whom Aethiopia was named.
Aethiops, pis, & Aethiopicus, ci, & Aethiopus, pi, A Moren.
* Aethiopem lauas, Thou waſheſt a Moren or More. A prouerbe applied to him that praiſeth a thing that is naught, or teacheth a foole wiſedome. This prouerbe grewe of one that bought a Moren, and thinking that the blackneſſe of his ſkin happened by the negligence of his fyrſt maiſter: he ceaſſed not to waſhe the Moren continually with ſuche thinges as he thought woulde make him white. By which labour & waſhinge, he ſo vexed the poore ſlaue, that he broughte him into a great ſickeneſſe, his ſkinne remaynynge ſtill as blacke as it was before.
Aethlius, The ſonne of Jupiter, and father of Endimion.
Aethon, One of the horſes of Phœbus.
Aethra, æ, The daughter of Pitheus, and mother of Theſeus.
Aethræa, æ, An yle now called Rhodes.
Aethria, æ, An yle in the ſea Aegeum. Alſo a citie, called after Atria.
Aethruſci, The olde inhabitauntes of the countrey in Italy, called now Tuſcan.
Aethuſa, An yle in the ſea of Sicilie, of ſome called Aeguſa.
Aētius, The name of one of Alexādria, which was both a great oratour, and a noble philition. Alſo of an heretike, which affirmed, that no ſinne, were it neuer ſo great, ſhould be reputed to him that had faithe. He ſucceded immediately after Arius, the yere after the incarnation of Chriſt. 358.
Aetna, Is a meruaiſouſe hyll in Sicilie, at the foote wherof is a little towne of the ſame name, and woddes and trées of dyuers kindes planted. On the toppe therof is a barraine grounde, myxte with aſhes, in the winter tyme couered with ſnow. This conteineth in circuite. 20. furlongs, and is enuironned with a banke of aſhes of the height of a walle. In the middle is alſo a rounde hyl of the ſame colour and mattier, wherin be. ij. great holes, facioned like vnto. ij. cuppes, which be called Crateres. Out of theſe do riſe ſometime ſundry great flames of fyre: ſometyme horrible ſmoke: ſometyme are blowen out burnyng ſtones in infinite numbres. Moreouer, before that the ſayde fyre appéereth, there is heard within the grounde, terrible noyſe and roarynge. And alſo (which is more meruaile) whan the ſmoke and fyre is moſte abundant, and feruente, yet rounde about the toppe of the ſaide hill, are alwaies ſéene ſnowe and hoare froſtes. Plinie writeth, that the fire appéereth alway at night. This hyll is now called Gibello monte.
* Aetna athon. A prouerbe, ſpoken of a thinge verye peinfull and gréuouſe.
Aetus, ti, m. g. A kynde of Egles.
Aetolia, A region in Gréece betwéene Acarnania, and Phocis.
Aetolus, vel Aetolius, A man of Aetolia.
Aetolicus, a, um, Of Aetolia.
Aeſanus, The ſonne of Tantalus.
Aex, ægos, A rocke, whereof the ſea Aegeum was named.
Aexſones, A people of Attica, notable for theyr raylynge and foule language.

A F

Afer, A man borne in Afrike.
Affranius, A poete.
Affrica, æ, The thirde parte of the worlde, wherein is Carthage, Numidie, & all the countreis now called Barbarie: and alſo the great countrey called called Aethiopia.

* Affrica semper aliquid noui apportat. A prouerbe, applied to inconstant and wauerynge persons, neuer cõtent with one state, but alwaies desirous of nouelties.

Affricanæ, alone is taken for Panthers.

Affricanus, i, A man of Affrike. Also the moste noble capitaine Scipio was called Affricanus, because he subdued that countrey to the Romaynes.

Affricus, & Affer, a, um, Of Affrike, or of the southern wynde.

* Affra auis, A byrde of Affrike. A prouerbe spoken eyther of theim, whiche be notable for theyr straunge apparaile, or els be verey fearfull and of fainte courage.

A G

Aga, An hyll, out of which issueth the riuers Araris and Euphrates.

Agag, Is a worde of Hebrue, and may be interpreted a soler in the vppermoste parte of the house. Of that name was a kynge of Amalech, the fattest of all men, whom Saule kynge of Iewes, toke in battaile and slewe him not. For which cause god was greuously displeased with him.

Agamantes, people about Mœtis.

Agamemnon, Sonne of Atreus kynge of Mycene, in the preparation of the Grækes againste the Troianes, for his wisedome and magnanimitie was by the consent of all the Grækes, chosen to be their generall capitaine. And accordinge to their expectation, he moste nobly gouerned him selfe, and that moste puisaunte armie, durynge the siege of Troye, by the space of tenne yeres. But beynge returned to his owne royalme, and haueynge with him Cassandra, daughter to Priamus kynge of Troy: his wife Clitemnestra, conspiring with Aegistus, with whom she had lyued in aduoutrie, caused hir layde noble husbande to put on a garment, whiche had no issue out for his head: and while he was struggling therwith, Aegistꝰ strake him thorough with his sworde, & so slewe him. Thus that noble prince was shamefully murdered. He was before the incarnation about. 1194. yeres.

* Agamemnonis hostia. The sacrifice of Agamemnon. A prouerbe applied to them that be hardly perswaded to a thinge, or els forced by violence.

Agamete, es, A towne of the Ile Lesbos.

Agamneſter, A kynge of Athenes.

Agamqua, A towne of Mede.

Agamippe, es, A fountayne in the countrey of Græce, called Aonia, which was dedicate vnto the Muses, wherof they be called Aganippides.

Agapius, A phisition of Alexandrie, and a philosophier of Athenes.

Agar, The maiden of Sara, on whom Abraham begatte Ismaell.

Agareni, A people, whiche were all destroyed by Saule kynge of Iewes. Also a people of Affrike nowe called Saracens.

Agarus, A ryuer of Sarmatia. Also a promontorie, and a citie of the same countrey.

Agasicles, A kyng of Lacedemon.

Agasus, An hauen in Puell.

Agathyrtus, The surname of Pittacus the philosopher.

Agatha, A citie in Prouance, belonging sometyme to the Massilienses.

Agathaneus, Father to the layze Polyrenus.

Agatharchides, The name of an historiographer, and a philosopher.

Agathirnum, A towne of Sicilie.

Agatho, The name of one of the sonnes of Priamus. Also a boy, whom Plato loued. Also a philosopher of Pythagoras secte.

Agathocles, The sonne of a potter, whiche by subtile witte and boldnesse of courage, grew by sundry dignities, at the last to be kynge of Sicilie. And than became suche a tyranne, that he slewe all the nobles, the counsailours, and learned men of Sicile, and despoyled al the rych men. Finally, beyng attached in all the partes of his bodie with incredible tourmentes, and a pestilentiall humour freattyng all his sinewes, he continuyng long tyme in such paines, at the last dyed.

Agathocles, Is also the name of a Græke capitayne, the sonne of Lysimachus.

Agathon, A certain minstrel, which with his swéete songes excédingly delited mens eares.

Agathopolis, A citie in Fraunce called Montpellier.

Agathusa, An Ilande.

Agathyrsum, A towne in Sicile.

Agathyrsus, One of Hercules sonnes, dwellynge in a parte of Scythia, who called the people after his name Agathyrsi: whiche in such wise peynted them selues, that the colour might not by any meanes be washed or put away. And therfore they were called Picti Agathyrsi. Some men suppose that the auncient inhabitaũtes of the south parte of Scotlande, ioygnynge to the marches of England, called Picti, were of the said people Agathyrsi.

Agáue, es, The daughter of Cadmus, whiche slewe hir sonne Pentheus, because he contemned the drunken feastes called Bacchanalia.

Agauni, A people of the north partes of the worlde.

Agaus, One of the sonnes of Priamus.

Agbatana. The citie commonly called Egbatana or Ecbatana.

Agdistis, The Grækes feigned to be a diuel, coomen of the sæde of Iupiter, which fell from him whẽ he slept, who had the membres both of man and woman: of whom other diuels beyng afeard, did cut of the mans instrument, and thrue it away. Wherof did springe an almond træ, & brought forth almondes whãtime serued. It is also an hill, at the foote wherof stãdeth the citie Pessinus.

Agesidamus, A famouse wrestler.

Agedicum, Otherwise called Agendicum, the citie of Sens in Fraunce.

A G

Agenor, oris, A kynge of Phœnicia, sonne of Belus, and father of Europa (whom Iupiter rauished) & of Cadmus, who builded the citie of Thebes. Also the sonne of Antenor.

Agenoreus, a, um, of Agenor.

Agenorides, Cadmus the sonne of Agenor.

Agerochus, The sonne of Peleus.

Agerona, The goddesse of industry and diligence.

Agesias Cyrenaicus, A Philosopher, whom Ptolomeus forbadde to teache in any schoole, because that in perswading the immortalitie of the soule he caused many to slea them selues.

Agesilaus, kynge of Lacedemonie, from his childhod was of excellent vertues, as in trouth, iustice, temperance, noble courage, liberalitie, and continencie. Wherfore he was so much honoured, and prospered so wel, that he subdued to the Lacedemonians innumerable cities and countreis in Asia, and Grœce. Whan one demaunded a thinge of him, which was vniust, saiynge, that he had promised it: he answered: If it were iust, I promised: if it were vniuste, I spake, but I promised it not. Whan the Lacedemonians had geuen vnto him the treasour of Agis, whiche was kynge before him, he incontinente dyd distribute it to them, whom he knew poorest. Whã it was demaunded, why he lay no richlier than a pryuate person, he aunswered: a prince ought to excell all other men in temperance, and moderate liuynge, and not in delicacie. He spake with no woman, except his wife, but eyther in the tẽple, or elles before al men, thinking those two places to be voide of suspition: the one for holinesse, the other for witnesses.

Agesinates, A people of Aquitaine.

Agesipholis. A capitaine of Lacedemonie.

Aggeus, A worde of hebrue, in englishe merye, solemne, or compassynge. It was the name of a Prophete, one of the .xii. that prophecied in the tyme of Zorobabell, kynge of the Iewes, about 550. yeres before the incarnacion of Christe.

Agimnum, The towne of Angolesme in Fraunce.

Agis, The sonne of Eurystenes, and kynge of Lacedemonians: whom they slew because he would haue restored againe the lawes of Lycurgus.

Agla, A towne in Portugale.

Aglaia, One of the three graces, which is interpreted bryghtnesse, clærenesse, beautie, pleasure, or maiestie.

Aglais, idis, The daughter of Megaclis, notable for hir gluttonie.

Aglaonice, A womans name, the daughter of Aemon, a sorceresse.

Aglaope, One of the three mermaidens.

Aglaophron, A famouse paynter.

Aglauros, Was daughter to Erichtheus, king of Athens, whom Ouide feigneth to be tourned (by Mercurie) into a stone.

Aglaus Psophidius, A man, which by the Oracle of Apollo was iudged more happie than the great kyng Gyges.

Agni cornu, A promontorie nére to the mouth of Nylus, called Bolbiticum.

Agnicis, A ryuer rennyng into Tigris.

Agnites, The surname of Aesculapius.

Agno, One of Iupiters nources.

Agoce, ces, The name of a citie.

Agonax, The maister of Sorroaster.

Agonensis porta, A gate at Rome, called also Collina.

Agonis, idis, A woman of Lilybeta.

Agonius, Was named a God, whiche had prehemminence ouer thinges to be done.

Agoracritus, A famous caruar, or image maker.

Agorœus, An image of Mercurie, whiche was in Pharis a citie of Achaia, set in the middle of the market place, out of which idole the dyuell gaue aunsweres in fourme folowing. Before the fête of the idole was an aulter of stone, whereunto were bounden with leade, certaine lampes of brasse. He that came for an aunswere, bourned frankencense on the aulter, and made his praiers, and after poured oyle vpon the lampes, and dyd put into the idolles hande a péce of brasse money of that countrey, and then secreatly whispered in the images eare, what so euer he wold demaund, and forthwith, stoppynge his owne eares, wente out of the market place, and then opened his eares, and what voyce so euer he heard first, he toke it for a sure counsaile in all thinges that he would doe.

Agragatus, A kyng of Persia, called after Cyrus.

Agræ, A place without the citie of Athenes, dedicate to Ceres. Also a kynde of souldiours, and a towne of Arcadie.

Agragas, An hyll in Sicilie compassed with a wall, in the toppe whereof standeth a towne called also Agrigentum.

Agragantinus, a, um, Of Agragas.

Agrani, A great citie of Mesopotamia, destroyed by the Persians.

Agrigentinus, a, um, Of the towne of Agrigentine.

Agrigentum, ti, A citie in Sicilie, which the Grékes doe call Acragantẽ, and the countrey Acragen. The people there builded sumptuously, & fedde delicately. And therefore Plato sayde of them in bourde: The Agrigentines dyd builde as they shoulde lyue euer, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway dye. Of this citie was prince Phalaris, the moste cruel tyranne. Of whom shall be spoken in the letter P.

Agrii, A people called also Cynamolgi.

Agriophagi, A people in the weast part of Ethiope, whiche lyue onely by the flesshe of Panthers and Lyons.

Agripenses, A people of Bythinia.

Agrippa, pæ, The name of sundry kynges: of whom one moste excellente, the sonne of Aristobolus, was by Tiberius the emperour, caste in prysson, and afterwarde deliuered by Caligula, who made him kynge of Iewes, settynge a crowne of golde on his head, and for his chaine of yron, gaue

gaue him a chaine of golde of the ſame weight. And beynge retourned into his countrey, at the firſt he lyued honorably, & dyd many good deedes: But at the laſte, beynge eleuate in pryde, and ſufferynge him ſelfe to be honoured and wondered at, as a God, he was ſodeinly ſtriken by an angel, in the preſence of an infinite numbre of people: wherewith his body ſwelled, and woormes iſſued out therof, with intollerable paynes and horrible ſtenche. In the whyche tourmentes he loked vpon his flatteryng counſaylours and ſeruauntes, and ſayde: Lo, I, whom you called a God, am now in the paines of death. And in this wyſe he dyed, beyng of age. lvii. yeres.

Agrippias, adis. A citie, called before Anthedon.

Agrippina, Daughter of noble Germanicus, ſiſter to Caligula (and by him abuſed) was firſt maried to Domitius, by whom ſhe had Nero. After the death of Domiti⁹, ſhe was maryed to Claudius, whom, with his ſonne Britannicus, ſhe poyſoned, to the intent to make hir ſonne Nero emperour. But hir falſehode, abhomination, and crueltie, was not vnpuniſhed. For ſone after, hir owne ſonne Nero, notwithſtandyng that he loygned hir with him in equal authorite, & (as ſom men ſuppoſed) abuſed hir carnally, hauyng hir in moſte mortall hate, cauſed hir to be moſt cruelly ſlayne.

Agrippina, Mother to the ſayde Agrippina, was daughter of M. Agrippa, and wife to Germanicus, whom Tiberius, by the commaũdement of Octauian, had declared to be his heyre apparant to the empyre. And notwithſtãding, was after poyſoned by cõſẽt of Tiberius. For whoſe death the ſayd Agrippina toke ſuche heauineſſe, that ſhe determined to dye, by abſteyning frõ meate. And although the emperour cauſed meate to be put into hir throte, ſhe would not receiue it, but in that voluntary abſtinence finally died.

Agrippina Colonia, The citie of Coleyne in Germany.

Agrius, The nephewe of Mars. Alſo the ſonne of Ulliſſes by Circe.

Agron, A kynge of Illiria. Alſo a famous phiſition of Athens.

Agutiſi, People of Aguntum.

Agutum, A towne in Sicile.

Agurium, looke Agyrini.

Agyeus, The ſurname of Apollo.

Agylla, A towne of Tuſcane, called after Cære.

Agyllæus, A wreſtlar, exceadyng great of body.

Agyrini, ſeu Agyrinenſes. People of the citie in Sicille called Agurium, ſeu Agyrium.

A H

Aherne, A citie of Hetruria.

A I

Aiax, (The ſone of Thelamon by Heſione, daughter of Laomedon kyng of Troy) was the ſtrongeſt man of all the Grekes nexte to Achilles: but after Achilles was ſlayne, Aiax contending with Ulliſſes for Achilles armour, and Ulliſſes by force of eloquence, obteyninge ſentence on his parte, became madde. And in his fury ſlewe many beaſtes, ſuppoſing them to be Ulliſſes and his company. There was alſo an other Aiax, ſonne of Oileus, kynge of Locrenſes in Græce, wonderfull ſwifte and expert in handlyng a ſpeare. This man whan Troy was facked, did violate the noble virgin Caſſãdra, in the tẽple of Pallas. Wherfore, as he retourned homewarde, on the ſea, he and his ſhippes were bourned with lyghtenynge. He was before the incarnation. 1190. yeres.

Aioth, Was a citie in Judea, builded by Ozias, kynge of Jewes.

Aioth, The ſecond Judge of the Hebrues: A bigge man, and valiaunt of courage, and had equall ſtrength and aptneſſe in both handes: of this man reade in the booke of kynges.

A L

Alaba, bæ, A citie of Spayne.

Alabanda, dæ, A citie in Græce, in the countrey of Jonia.

Alabandes, & Alabandici, People of Alabanda.

Alabandicus, & Alabandiacus, a, um, of the citie Alabanda.

Alabenſes, vel Alabonenſes, People of the citie of Alaba.

Alabys, One of the chiefeſt riuers of Sicilie.

Alachroæ, A people called alſo Lotophagi.

Alaci. A towne of Affrike.

Alæ, arum, A citie of Cilicia.

Alæſa, A towne of Sicilie.

Alalcomenium, A towne of Bœotia.

Alalia, A citie of the yſande of Cyrnus.

Alaniticus, A goulfe of the redde ſea.

Alana, A citie of Ethiope.

Alani, People of Scithia, nygh to the riuer Iſter or Danubius.

Alania, A regiõ of Scythia in Europe, which ſtretcheth to the great fennes of Meotis.

Alante, A citie of Archadie, an other of Macedonie.

Alanus, The Riuer of Scythia, whereof the people called Alani, toke their name.

Alapeni, A people of Arabie.

Alaricus, Kyng of Gothes, beſieged Rome, and burned it, in the yere of our lorde. 408. In whiche ſiege ſuche famine was in the citie, that the mothers were conſtreigned with hunger to eate their owne childzen. There was alſo an other Alaricus, whiche was vanquiſhed by Clodoneus kynge of Fraunce, the yere of our lorde. 510. In whoſe time the parte of Fraunce, called Gallia Narbonenſis, and all Spayne, were in the poſſeſſion of the Gothes.

Alaſtor, One of the horſes of Pluto. Alſo the name of a companion of Sarpedon, kynge of Lycia, whom Ulliſſes ſlewe at the ſiege of Troy.

Alata, tæ, A citie of Arabie.

Alatiũ, A towne of Hierapolis, called alſo Elatium.

Alatrium, A citie of Campayne.

Alatrinates, A people of Campaine.

Alâta caſtra, A citie in Scotlande, called Edenburgh, or the caſtell of maydens.

Alauna, A towne in Britayne.

Alauni, Two riuers in Britayne.

Alauni, A people in Scythia.

Alauorſi, People of the vttermoſt part of the northe.

Alazon, onis, A riuer that diuideth Albania from Iberia, and renneth into the ryuer Cyrus.

Alba, bæ, A citie nigh to Rome, whiche was builded by Aſcanius, ſonne of Aeneas. There was an other citie in Lumbardie called Alba. In Spayne an other called Virgao. Alba is alſo a ryuer in Spayne.

Alba Aemilius, A mans name.

Alba Heluorum, A citie of Narbon in Fraunce.

Albana, A citie in Arabie.

Albanenſes, Were certaine heretikes, in the yere of our lorde. 1120. This ſecte helde ſundrie hereſies. One was, that the ſoule of man after his death, was put into an other body. An other, that baptiſme was of none efficacie. The thirde, that there were two goddis, one good, and an other euill. And that of the good God proceded good thinges, and of the euill God, euill thinges. The fowerth, that in hell were none other peynes than be in this worlde. The fifte, that the generall iudgement is paſte. The ſixte, that it is not lefull for any man to ſweare. The ſeuenth, that man hath no frée wil, called in latine Liberum arbitrium. The eight, that the mater, whereof the worlde was made, was not made of God, but is coeternal with God. The ninth, that there is no originall ſinne, and that childzen be not borne in originall ſinne. Alſo that ſinne commeth not of frée will, but of the diuell. The tenthe, they denied, that the body ſhould eftſones aryſe at the daye of iudgement. The leuenth, they abiected al the olde teſtament as a vaine thing, and of none authoritie.

Albani, People of Alba in Italy.

Albania, is a countrey in Aſia, hauinge on the eaſt the ſea Caſpium: on the weſte Iberia: on the northe the hilles Caucaſus. The people there were firſt poore and ſimple, and as ſhepeherdes: not hauing knowledge of money, nor of any nombre aboue one hundred, liuing by exchaūge, not knowing weight, meaſure nor huſbandrie, and yet readie in warres. They honoured for goddis the Sunne & the Moone, hauing among theim (as Strabo writeth) xxvi. languages, and as many kynges. Of theſe people are ſuppoſed to come the Albanoiſes, that dwell in Morea, ſometime called Peloponeſus, whiche be nowe vnder the Turkes, or vnder the great Cane.

Albanus, A ryuer, and hill not farre from the citie of Rome. Alſo the name of two cities, one in Macedonia, the other in Armenia.

Albanus, a, um, Of Albanie in Italy.

Albani partes, The ſenatours of Alba.

Alba Pompeia, A citie in Italy.

Albatenius, A learned man, that tranſlated Galene into the Arabian tongue.

Albenſes, People of Alba in Lumbardy.

Albi montes, A place in the yle of Candie, where it neuer rayneth.

Albia, A ryuer that paſſeth through the realme of Boemia.

Albici, A people nere to Maſſilia.

Albigenſes, Were heretikes, whiche began by Toloſe in Fraunce, the yere of our Lorde, a hundred and .xx. whiche helde the hereſies of the Albanenſes, touching the ſoule, Baptiſme, God, and the generall reſurrection. Moreouer, that it was not lefull for Chriſtian men to eate fleſhe.

Albiminiū, A citie of Liguria, called now Vintimia.

Albinga, A towne in Liguria, called in olde time Albigaunum.

Albinus, The name of an Emperour. Alſo the ſurname of diuers Romaines.

Albion, and Bergion, Two gigantes the ſonnes of Neptune, ſlaine by Hercules.

Albion, (The moſte auncient name of this Ile) conteineth Englande and Scotlande: of the beginning of which name haue bēn ſundrie opiniōs: One late feigned by him, whiche firſt printed the Engliſhe chronicle, wherein is neither ſimilitude of trouth, reaſone, nor honeſtie: I meane the fable of the fiftie doughters of one Dioclesian kyng of Syria, where neuer any other hiſtorie maketh mencion of a kyng of Syria, ſo named. Alſo that name is Greke, and no parte of the language of Syria. Moreouer the coming of theim from Syria in a ſhippe or boate without any marynours thorowe the ſea called Mediterraneum, into the occean, and ſo finally to finde this Ile, and to inhabite it, and haue generation by diuels, is both impoſſible, and much reproche for this noble Realme, to aſcribe hir firſt name and habitation, to ſuche inuentours. An other opinion is (whiche hath a more honeſte ſimilitude) that it was named Albion, ab albis rupibus, of white rockes, becauſe that vnto them, that come by ſea, from the eaſt or ſouthe, the bankes and rockes of this Ile doe appeare whyte. Of this opinion haue I moſte meruayle, becauſe it is written of great learned men. Firſt Albion is no latin worde, nor hath the analogie, that is to ſaie, the proporcion or ſimilitude of latine. For who hath founde this ſyllable, on, at the ende of a latin worde. And if it ſhould haue bēn ſo called for the whyte colour of the rockes, men would haue called called it Alba, or Albus, or Album. In Italy were townes called Alba, and in Aſia a countrey called Albania, and neither of them toke their beginning of white rockes or walles, as ye may reade in bookes of Geographie: nor the water of the ryuer called Albis, ſemeth any whiter than other water. But if where auncient remembraunce of the beginning of thinges lacketh, it may be lefull for men to vſe their coniectures, than may myne be as well accepted as

Plinies

Plinies (although he incomparably excelled me in wisedome & doctrine) specially if it may appere, that my cõiecture shal approch more nere to the similitude of trouth. Wherfore I will also sette forth mine opinion, onely to the intent to exclude fables, lacking eyther honestie or reasonable similitudes. When the Greekes began firste to prosper, and their cities became populous, & wared puissaunt, they which trauailed on the seas, and also the yles in the seas, called Hellespontus, Aegeum, and Creticũ, after that thei knewe perfectly the course of sailynge, and had founden therby profyte, they by little and little attempted to serche & finde out the commodities of outwarde countrees: and like as Spaniardes & Portugalles haue late done, they experienced to sẽke out countreis before vnknowen. And at laste passyng the streictes of Marrocke, they entred into the great Occean sea, where they foũd dyuers and many Iles. Among which they perceiuing this Ile to be not onely the greatteste in circuite, but also moste plentuouse of euery thing necessary to man, the ayre most holsome and tẽperate, the earth moste apte to bringe forth all thinges that male sustein, the flesshe of beoffes and muttons most sweete and delicate, the wull moste fine, not lacking any kinde of mettal, hauyng abundance of woodde and timber to builde with, also great & fayre riuers, with great lakes or mẽres of freshe water, and as well in them as in the sea, wherwith the countrey is enuyroned, was great plentie of fishes, of diuers sortes moste apt to be eaten: they wonderynge & reioysinge at their good and fortunate arriuall, named this yle in grẽke Albion, which in englishe signifieth happy, in latine Fœlix, like as part of Arabia, which is most fertile, is called Arabia fœlix. But in procesle of time, by resort of sundrie people hauing diuers languages, no meruayle though one letter were chaunged, & the firste letter, O, turned into A. And so for Albion, it was at the laste called Albion, which worde hath no maner of signification. This chaunging of letters is not vnlikely, sence at this presente time the northern men of this realme do vse A, in word, where southern men vse O, as a bane, a stane, a bare, a band: for a bone, a stone, a bore, a bond. And among the Grẽkes were like alterations of letters. And it may be more easily borne, ỹ one vowel may be chaunged in a word, especially A, into O, whiche in somme mans mouth, sowneth often times like, thã that a syllable impertinent to the proporcion of latine, should be vnaptly added to. Not withstandynge Pomponius Mela maketh mention of a gyaunt called Albion, whom Hercules slewe in Gallia, which was sonne of Neptunus, who moughte with more reaso be demed the first gyaunt of this name to this yle, than that the other surmises should be likely. If any man can finde mattier more certaine, concerning the beginning of this Ile, I wyll not be offended, but congratulate with him his good fortune and diligence.

Albis, A ryuer in Boemia, whiche commeth to the citie of Prage. It is also a ryuer in Germanie.

Albium, A towne of Lumbardy.

Albius Tibullus, A poete.

Albocilla, A womans name.

Albula, The olde name of the Ryuer Tyber. Also a water in the fielde Tiburtinus, which was medicinable for sore eyes.

Album, A promontory of Phœnicia, and an other of Affrike.

Albunea, A wodde and fountayne by the ryuer called Anio, in Italy. It is also the name of the tenth Sibyll.

Alcæus, A famous poete, of them, whiche are called Lyrici, (because they made soges to the harp) He was before the incarnation of Christe. 646. yeres. In Athẽs was an other poete of the same name. Alcæus was also the name of Alcmenas sonne, called after, Hercules. Also the father of Amphytrio. And furthermore the sonne of Omphale and Hercules.

Alcamenes, A famouse caruer, or image maker.

Alcander, One of the compaignions of Sarpedon kings of Lycia, slayne by Ulisses at the siege of Troie.

Alcanor, A mans name in Virgile.

Alcathoe, The citie called also Megara.

Alcathous, The sonne of Pelops, who beyng suspected of the murther of his brother, fled to Megara

Alce, Is the name of a citie in Spayne, of an harlot, and of one of the houndes of Acteon.

Alcenor, A certayne Grecian.

Alces, Is a riuer in Bithinia.

Alceste, seu Alcestis, vide Admetus.

Alcetas, The sonne of Tharipus.

Alcetes, The sonne of Arymba, and kyng of Epyre, which for his tyrannie was slayne, with all his children.

Alchidas, One of the Rhodes, whiche was enamoured on the picture of Cupido, that was made by Prariteles.

Alchione, An hyll of Macedonie.

Alchippe, A towne of the Persiens.

Alcibiades, vide Alcybiades.

Alcida, Was a terrible monster, which was slayne by Pallas.

Alcidamas, A famouse wrestler. Also a philosopher which wrate of musike.

Alcidamus, An auncient oratour of the Grekes.

Alcides, idem quod Hercules, So called of his graundfather Alcæus.

Alcimachus, A famouse peincter.

Alcimedi, the daughter of Phyisichus. Also the wife of Iason, and mother of Iason.

Alcimedas, A tragicall poete of Megaris.

Alcimedon, A cunnynge grauer.

Alcinus, A famous oratour of Grece. Also a king of Lydia, for his mekenes & iustice gretly renoumed

Alcinous, A kynge of a people called Phæaces, excellent in iuſtice, whiche had a fayre and magnifyke pallayce, with orchyardes that bare moſte plẽtuouſly fruites twiſe in the yere. There was an other of the ſame name, diſciple of Plato.

* Alcinoi apologus, A prouerbe, applied to longe folyſhe tales, worthy no beliefe or credence.

Alcion, A phiſition.

Alcipbron, A philoſopher.

Alcippe, The daughter of Mars. Alſo an other woman that brought forth an Oliphant. Alſo a woman mentioned in Theocritus.

Alcippus, A noble man of Sparta, whiche thorough enuie of lewde perſons was baniſhed the citie.

Alciſthene, A woman very cunnyng in peintyng.

Alcithoë, A woman of Thebes, whiche for contemnynge the feaſtes of Bacchus, with hir ſiſters and other maydens, was tourned into Battes or reremiſe.

Alcman. A famouſe Poete.

Alcmenes, A cunnynge grauer, or a maker of Images.

Alcmena, The daughter of Electrio, and wyfe to Amphytrio, on whom Jupiter begat Hercules.

Alcmeon, A philoſopher, ſcholer to Pythagoras, that fyrſt wrate of the nature of thinges. Alſo the ſonne of Amphiaraus, & Eriphile, whiche ſlewe his mother, and therefore was vexed with furies.

Alcon, Was a good archer of Creta, whiche beholdyng a dragon ready to deuoure his ſonne, dyd ſhote ſo craftily, that as the dragon was imbracing the childe, the arrow paſſed into his heart, & hurted not the child, ſo that the dragõ immediatly died. It was alſo the name of a goldeſmith.

Alcybiades, (A noble man of Athenes, commen of the bloud of Aiax Telamonius) in beautie, goodly perſonage, actiuitæ, proweſſe, eloquẽce, & ſharpneſſe of witte, excelled al men of his tyme. In ſo much, that into what countrey ſo euer he came, he ſo adapted him ſelfe to the maners thereof, that he was euery where wonderfully beloued and honoured, ſpecially of the wiſe man Socrates, who moſte entierly loued him. But with thoſe moſt excellent qualities were ioygned ſundry vices: That is to ſaie, vntemperate and diſſolute liuyng in lechery and ryote, deceite & incõſtancy: ſo that all men meruailed, that in one man mought be ſuch diuers natures. He atchieued many great enterpriſes, as well for his coũtrey, as againſt it. Finally, he was baniſhed by the meane of Lyſander kynge of Lacedemonia. And beyng in Phrigia, the houſe wherin he lay, was of purpoſe ſette on fyre, which he eſcaped: and beyng halfe naked, valiauntly defendynge him ſelfe againſt his ennemies, at the laſt was ſlayne, and his head brought to Pharnabazus, capitayne of the Perſians. He flouriſhed before the incarnation of Chriſt. 428. yeres.

Alcyone, The name of two ladies, the one was wife to Ceyx, who ſeynge the bodie of hir husbande caſt on lande, threw hir ſelfe into the ſea, whõ the poetes feygne to be tourned into a byrde of that name. The other was daughter to Euene, called alſo Marpeſia.

Alcyoneus, The name of a gygant.

Aldara, A citie in Spayne now called Almeria.

Aldiaſdubis, A countrei in Fraunce called Leodour.

Alea, Is a citie of Arcadie.

Alebas, A kynge of Larilla in Theſſalie, which for his tyrannie was ſlayne of the people.

Alebecerii, People of Narbone in Fraunce.

Alectryon, A capitayne of kynge Philips.

Alegenor, one of the fowre ſonnes of Boethus.

Alele, A citie of the Phazanians.

Alemanni, People of Germany, called Almaines.

Alemannia, The countrey of Almaine.

Alemannus, ni, A ryuer in Germany.

Alemuſii, People of Attica.

Aleon, A ryuer.

Aleopetra, An yle in Meotis.

Aleſium, A towne in Mozea, builded by Aleſius. It is alſo a fielde in Cypre, and a ſea, a ryuer, and a promontorie.

Aleſius, An hill of Arcadie.

Aletes, A man of Corinth.

Alethes, The name of a Troiane.

Aletini, The Salantines.

Aletrinates, A people of Italy.

Aletum, ti, A towne of the Salantines in Italy.

Aleus, The ſonne of Aphidas, whiche builded the temple of Minerua at Tegea in Archadie.

Aleus, a, um, The adiectiue.

Alexamenus, The ſleaer of Tabis the Tyraunt of Lacedemonia.

Alexander, The name of many noble princes, but among other one moſte excellent, the ſonne of Philip kynge of Macedonie, who in his childehode was brought vp by Ariſtotle in learninge, wherin he profited wonderfully, & was of ſuche courage, that after the death of Philip his father, beyng but. xx. yeres olde, he enterpriſed to conquere all the worlde. And firſt gat Illyria, now called Slauonia: And after ſubuerted the citie of Thebes, brought in ſubiection al Greece, entred into Aſia, and vanquiſhed the great and puiſſaunt Darius king of Perſia, & had his mother, his wife, and daughter priſoners, and neuer would company with any of them, notwithſtandyng they were exceding fayre and beautifull. Finally he conquered India, & all the eaſte parte of the worlde. And all this did he in little more then. xii. yeres. But when he had pacified the worlde from all rebellions, he fell into ſuche crueltie & pryde (ſeing his moſt truſty counſaylours in his fury, & commaunding him ſelfe to be called a god) that he became odious to his owne people: who deſiring his deſtruction, at the laſte whã he was in his moſt glory at the citie of Babylon (where he abode the ambaſſadours frõ al realmes) at ſupper with one of his phiſitions, was poiſoned by drinkyng out of a cup, whiche was ſuppoſed to be made of an horſes hoofe, and was thought to be done by the deuice of Aristotle, sometyme his maister, and Antipater his lieutenaunt in Macedonia, whom a little before he had grieuously threatned. Thus Alexander, aboūding in excellents vertues & notable vices, after moste happie fortune, by his outragious pride & crueltie, shortned his lyfe, beynge at his death little aboue .xxxiii. yeres olde, which was afore the incarnation of Christ. 322. yeres.

and

Alexander Seuerus, Was emperour of Rome, the yere of our lorde. 224. A man from his childhood of wonderful grauitée and prudence. For where the citie of Rome was before brought, by his cosyn the monstruous emperour Heliogabalus, into all abhomination of liuynge and dissolution of maners: he by his vertue, prudence, & iustice, reduced it vnto a perfecte publike weale, reformed the order of his armie, established lawes, restored honestie, expelled vicious persons & bribours, auaunced men of vertue & learninge to great offices & dignities, renued the senate, prepared also a great and noble counsayle about his persō, & so hated corrupted iudges, that he did not onely put them to tourmentes, but whē any came in his presence, was ready with his two fingers to put out their eyes. And yet this noble & gentle prince, by the false treason of one Mariminus, whō of a mulettour he had made a great capitaine, was in a sodeyne commotion slaine of his owne people at Maguntia in Germany, with his mother Mammea, a wise lady & a vertuous. Some suppose it was, because that by hir counsaile, he became auaritious, & was not so liberall as he & other emperours had bēn before.

Alexandra, Called also Cassandra, the daughter of Priamus. Also the wife of Alexander a kyng of the Jewes.

Alexandria, The name of diuers cities, one in Aegypt, builded by the great Alexander. 320. yeres before the incarnation of Christ, in the space of xxii. daies, although it cōteined within the walles fiue miles in length. It was made in the forme of a mantell, diuided with two broade waies, one crossynge ouer the other for easie cōueynge of cariage euery way, beyng in bredthe. 100. fote. Which waies lay in such wyse, that the holsome windes blewe abundantly in the citie. This citie was set betwéene the fennes of Nilus, & the sea, nigh vnto the noble haué Pharus. In this citie euery kyng of Aegypt after Alexander, builded a royall palace, wherby it shewed so beautifull and magnificent, that the like was not in the worlde. Many excellent & learned men were borne, & brought vp in that citie, as Philo the Jewe, Origenes, Clemens, Antonius, Didimus, Marimus. Theophilus, & Athanasi⁹ were there bishops. S. Marke the Euangelist preached there, & was ordeyned bishop by the Apostles. It was destroyed by the Romaynes, & reedified by Traianus the emperour. Afterwards the yere of our lorde. 1230. Peter, kyng ther to the kyng of Cyprus, with certaine Frenchemen and Catalones, eftsones destroyed and robbed it, so that to this day it was neuer reduced vnto the first estate. Now is it in subiection to the Turkes. There is an other citie called Alexandria in Lumbardie, an other in Asia, and an other in Scythia.

Alexandrinus, a, um. Of Alexandria.

Alexandrium, A citée in Jurie.

Alexandropolis, A citie of Parthia, builded by great Alexander.

Alexia, A citie in Fraunce, nowe called Lausois in Burgoyn. Also the towne called Arras in the countrey of Artoys.

Alexis, A comicall poete. Also a famous caruer. It was the name of Pollios seruaunte, of whome Uergile speaketh.

Alexius, The name of. ii. emperours of Constantinople. Also there was one Alexius, the sonne of Ephimianus, a noble senatour of Rome, who, hauyng a wife of excellent beautie, for the loue of god lefte hir, and secreatly went sundry pylgrimages in the habite of a pore man. And after muche pacience and long pouertée, returned to his fathers house, beynge there vnknowen til after his death, that he was disclosed by a letter which was founde in his hande. At his buriyng God shewed many wonderfull miracles, than beynge present Honorius, and Arcadius, emperours of Rome, the yere of our lorde. 410.

Algarbe, A parte of the kyngdome of Portugal, and is called Caput. S. Vincentii, or Finister sterne, the vttermost parte of al the lande: it was once called Colimbrica.

Algidensis, se, Of the citie called Algidum.

Algidum, A citie in Italie situate on an hie hyll.

Algidus, A mountayne. xii. myles from Rome.

Algida silua, A wodde at the fote of that mountayne.

Alia, vel Allia, A ryuer not farre frō Rome, where the hoste of the Romaines was vtterly destroyed by Brennus, who (we say) was a Bryton, sonne to Molmitius, king of this Realme.

Alien, Iles in the sea of Aethiope.

Aliartum, A towne of Bœotia.

Alidra, A towne called also Alindra.

Alifa, A citie of the Samnites.

Aliphani, vel Alitani, People of Aliphe.

Aliphe, es, A citie of Campania, and also of Acerra, which the riuer Clanius ofte endomageth.

Aliphirei, people of Arcadia.

Alista, A citie of the Ilande Corsica, called at this day Amassa.

Allante, tes, vel Allas, lantis, A towne of Macedonie & of Arcadie, called also Allentium & Allanteum, and the people Allantenses.

Allobroges, People of Sauoy, and Daulphiny.

Allotriges, A people of Spayne.

Almedessos, A towne of Thrace.

Almo, almonis, masc. generis. A ryuer nére to Rome, where the prestes of Cybele vsed to washe theim, whan they had doen their bloudy sacrifice. It is also the name of a man, and of a town in Thessaly.

Almopia, Part of Macedonie.

Almops, opis, A gyaunt, the sonne of Neptune and Adamantis: of whom the countrey of Almopia was named.

Almus, mi, The sonne of Sisyphus.

Aloeus, Was the name of a gigant, sonne of Titan, on whose wyfe Neptune begat two sonnes Otus and Ephialtes, whiche were called also Aloidæ, and were great gygantes.

Alogiani, Were heretikes, whiche denied, that the sonne of God was Logos, which some doe interpretate into latine Verbum, some Sermo. And therfore they reiected the gospell of saint John, and his Apocalipsis, saiyng, that they were not his warkes.

Alonæ, A citie of Spayne, called commonly Alicante.

Alone, An yland.

Aloneſus, The name of a citie, and of an yland.

Aloni, A people of Asia, nere to whome the ryuer Tigris, renneth into Tigris.

Alontigiceli, A people of Spayne.

Alontium, or Aluntium, A towne of Sicilie.

Alope, The daughter of Cercion, after whom a citie in Thessalie was so called.

Alopece, An yland in Pontus Euxinus.

Alopeconeſus, A citie in Asia, and after some, an Iland and a citie of Hellespont.

Aloros, A citie of Macedonie.

Alostigi, A people of Spayne.

Alpes, pium, pibus, fœ. gen. The mountaynes, whiche departe Italy and Fraunce.

Alpeſa, A towne in Spayne.

Alphenus, A coblers name in Horace.

Alpheias, The name of Arethusa, daughter of Alpheus.

Alphesibæa, The daughter of the ryuer Phlægeus, whome Alcmeon toke to wyfe.

Alpheus, A ryuer of Achaia, by the citie of Pisa. Also the name of a mountaine.

Alpheus, a, um, Of that ryuer.

Alphion, A lake or meere in Pyrrhea.

Alphioniæ, The temple of Diana, and a woodde at the mouthe of the ryuer Alpheus.

Alphito, A womans name.

Altellus, The surname of Romulus, the first foũder of Rome.

Althæa, Is the daughter of Thestius, and wyfe to Oeneus, king of Calydonia, whiche repentyng the slaughter of her sõne Meleager, slew her sef.

Altilia, A towne in Lumbardie, called at this daye Alteiola.

Altinates, People of Altinum.

Altinum, An olde citie by the ryuer of Uenice, called nowe Tozzello.

Aluerni, A certaine people of Aquitane, hauinge their beginning of the Troianes.

Alyacmon, A ryuer of Macedonie.

Alyattes, The father of kyng Cresus.

Alyba, A countrey not farre from Mysia, where (as Homerus doeth wryte) were mynes of siluer.

Alysius, The name of Bacchus.

Alysonii, A people of Scythia.

Alyssos, or Alyssus, A wel of Arcadie, ỹ water wher of healeth them that be bittẽ with mad dogges.

Alyxathoe, The daughter of Dymas.

Alyzia, A citie of Acarnania. xv. furlonges from the sea.

A M

Amadoca, A citie of Sarmatia in Europe.

Amadoci, Certaine hylles. Also people of the same countrey.

Amæa, A name of Ceres.

Amalchium, A parte of the occean sea towarde the nozth.

Amalec, A woozde of hebzue, whiche may be interpzeted, a people lyckyng oz stryking. It was the name of a kyng of Siria, which resisted the people of Israell, whan they came out of Egypte, and slewe many of theim. Wherfoze he was afterwarde slayne by the cõmaundement of God. It is sometime taken foz the countrey, where of Amalec was kyng.

Amalecitæ, The people of Amalec, whome God cõmaunded Saule to destroie vtterly. And because he did not, he was reiected of God.

Amalthea, A woman, whiche with her sister called Melissa, nourysshed Iupiter with the milke of a goate. It is also the name of pzopheteſſe.

Aman, A name of hebzue, whiche signifieth troublyng oz murmuring. Of that nãme was one, of the house of Agag, whome Assuerus kyng of Persia, and Media, exalted aboue all his lozdes and counsaylours, and wylled all thynges to be doen as he woulde commaunde. Of whose pzide and punyshement, ye may reads in the booke of Hester.

Amanicæ pilæ, The streictes oz entries of the moũtaine Amanus.

Amanoides, A pzomontozie in Cilicia.

Amantes, A people of Hungarie.

Amanthes, After Calepine, but moze veraply Hammanienſes, People of Aphzike, in the furthermoſt part of Aethiope, who haue such plentie of pzecious stones & salte, that therof they make great houses. Among them is founde the Carbuncle.

Amantia, A citie of Macedonie.

Amanum, An hauen in the hyther Spayne.

Amanus, A mans name. Also one of the Persians goddis, and a part of the mountayne Taurus, nere to Cilicia.

Amara, a citie in Arabia fœlix.

Amaracus, Was the name of a young man, whiche (as poetes feigne) was tourned into that herbe.

Amaramis, The father of Moyses.

Amaranthi, People of the coũtrey of Colchos, wherin was a shẽpe that bare the golden fliece.

Amarbi, People in the occean sea by Scythia.

Amardi, People of Hircania.

Amardus, A riuer of Mede.

Amariacæ, A people nere to Hircania.

Amariſpus, A riuer. reade Ariſpus.

Amarni, People nere to the Hircans.

Amarusia, æ, fœ. g. The name of Diana amonge the Athenienſes.

Amarynthus, thi, m. ge. A riuer that boundeth vpon Arcadie. Alſo a towne in Eubœa.

Amaſa, A name of hebrue, ſignifieth the people that ſpareth, or liftynge vp the people. It was the name of a noble man, ſonne of Abigael, ſiſter to Dauid. Alſo a Capitayne, whome Joab ſlewe, in kiſſinge and ſalutyng him, vnder the colour of friendſhippe.

Amaſenus, ni, maſc. gen. A riuer in Italy. An other in Sicilie.

Amaſia, A citie in Germany called Marburge. Alſo a riuer betwéene Rheine and Albis.

Amaſias, (A name of hebrue) ſignifieth the ſtrength of the lorde. Of that name was one kyng of Iudea, ſonne of Joas. 853. yeres before the incarnation of Chriſt, he reigned. 29. yeres. A man very eloquent, and at the beginnyng of his reigne, of much humanitie towarde all men, and obſerued competently the commaundementes of god. But yet he did not vtterly take away idolatrie. He was longe time fortunate, and wared riche: but at laſt he forgatte God, and became proude: and not contented with his eſtate, he wrote vnto Joas, kyng of the Iſraelites, cõmaundinge him and his people to bée vnder his ſubiection. But Joas after defiance, gathered an armie, and went againſte Amaſias, among whoſe men fell ſuche a ſodeine feare, that, all tremblynge they fledde ere euer they came to ſtrokes. Amaſias was taken and brought to Joas, who threatened to kill him, excepte he cauſed the gates of Ieruſalẽ to be opened againſt him, which was done. Not withſtandinge Joas cauſed. 400. cubites of the walle to be beatẽ downe, & entred into the citie that way in a chariot, leadinge Amaſias with him as a priſoner, and toke all the treaſure of the temple, and of the kinges houſe, and cauſed it to be brought into Samaria. Afterwarde, beyng deliuered, his owne people ſlew him.

Amaſis, A noble kinge of Egypt: he made a lawe, that euery yere eche man ſhoulde make a reckeninge to the head officers of his royalme, howe and by what occupatiõ he liued, and he that did not ſo, ſhould be put to death.

Amaſius, or Amiſius, The riuer in Germany commonly called Emis.

Amaſii, People about Mæotis.

Amaſtris, The principall citie of Paphlagonia. Alſo an other in Bithynia, called commonly Soyaſtro.

Amata, The wife of a kinge of Latines, and ſiſter of the goddeſſe Uenilia. Alſo the name of a virgine Veſtale, whan they were firſt admitted.

Amatæ, People of Indie.

Amatæi, People of Arabie.

Amath, The ſonne of Chanaan.

Amathuntæus, and Amathuſiacus, a, um, Of or pertaynyng to the citie Amathus.

Amathus, untis, A citie in Cyprus dedicate to Uenus, of the which that ylande was called Amathuſia.

Amathus, thi, A ryuer rennynge by the citie Pylos, where Neſtor was borne. It is alſo the father of Aerias, whiche builded the temple of Uenus in Cyprus.

Amathuſia, The yle of Cyprus.

Amaxia, A citie of Cilicia.

Amaxitos, A citie of Dozis.

Amaxitus, A citie of Phrygia.

Amaxobii, People of Sarmatia, ſo called of waines, whiche they vſed in ſteede of houſes.

Amazones, Women of Scythia, whiche wanne a great parte of Aſia. They ſlew all the men children, and kepte the women children, of whome they bourned the right pappe, becauſe it ſhoulde not let thẽ to throw their Iauelins, or to ſhote. For their beginning and facions reade Iuſtine.

Amazones, bée ſometime taken for poore people that lyue barely.

Amazonicus, a, um, Perteininge to the Amazones.

Amazonicus, ci, A countrey called after, Ceſaria. It is alſo the name of the mountayne Taurus.

Amazonides, idem quod Amazones.

Amazonius, a, um, idem quod Amazonicus.

Amazonius, nii, An hill in Cappadocia, whereby renneth the riuer Thermodon.

Ambantæ, People of Aſia.

Ambarri, People of the countrey of Lyons in Fraunce.

Ambeſtæ, A people of Aſia.

Amboſtum, A riuer in Aſia.

Ambe, es, A citie in Arabie.

Ambieni, ſeu Ambienſes, People in Fraunce aboute Languedok called Amboiſe, ſome ſuppoſe it to be Amiens.

Ambigatus, A kynge of the Galles, whiche ſente his two neuewes, Belloueſus, and Sigoueſus, to ſéeke aduentures in ſtraunge countreys.

Ambilates, People in littell Brytayne, called Darenches.

Ambracia, A citie in Epyre, in a countrey, whereof ỹ people be called Theſproti. This citie was firſt called Epontia, and Paralia. Of this citie was named a goulfe or boſome called Sinus Ambracienſis, whiche is, as well by nature as by arte, made wonderfull ſtronge, hauinge a double walle, and incloſed on both ſides with fennes, hauyng none entrée, but one narrow way.

Ambracienſes, and Ambraciotæ, People of Ambracia.

Ambratus, a, um, Of Ambracia.

Ambroſius, ſii, m. g. The name of diuers men: of which one moſt excellẽt, was biſhop of Millain, the yere of our lorde. 373. a Romaine borne of a noble and auncient houſe, and had ben Conſul. As this man (beynge ſente by Valentinianus the emperour to Millaine, to pacifie a ſedition) perſwaded the people ſo cõcordeably ỹ boithe of an infant was heard of all men, which cried: Ambrosius is worthy to be byshop: which voice so feruently styred the people, that they all condescended to make him their byshop, notwithstandinge he was not yet baptised, but newly instructed in the fayth. And though he instantly refused, they compelled him to take it vpon him. And forthwith all the people of Lumbardy agreed in one opinion of the faith. He was of suche holynesse, such gentilnesse, suche excellent wisedome & learning, that not onely in his life, but also after his death, he was thorowout the worlde, had in honour & reuerence. A rare forme of election, and as rare a thinge it is to finde a bisshoppe or priest of Ambrosius qualitées, although he were halfe a paynime, and a temporall man whan he was chosen byshop: where at they may be ashamed, that be christened in their infancie, and .xx. yeres or more priestes ere they be bisshops, and yet some not worthy to occupie that reuerende office.

Ambrysus, The name of two cities, the one in Phocis, the other in Bœotia.

Ambuariti, A people of a parte of Brabande.

Ambulatri, A people of Guian in Fraunce.

Amelas, A towne of Lycia.

Amelius, A philosophier, the disciple of Plotine, and maister to Porphyrius.

Ameria, An olde citie in Italy.

America, A countrey late founde in the weste parte of the worlde by Americus Uespatius, the yere of our lorde. 1477.

Amerinus, a, um, Of Ameria.

Ameriola, A citie in Italy.

Amestratini, People of Sicilie.

Amicena, A countrey of Cappadocia.

Amilcar, The name of two noble capitaines of Carthage, one in great Alexanders time, the other Annibals father.

Aminæum, Called also Salernum, a towne of Campaine in Italy.

Amipsias, A comicall poete of Athens.

Amisus, A towne of Galatia.

Amiternini, The Sabines.

Amiternum, ni, A towne in Campania, where Salust was borne, now called Aquila.

Amiternus, a, um, Of that towne.

Amithaon, The father of Melampus.

Amithoscuta, A countrey in Arabie.

Amitinenses, A people of Italy.

Ammanethus, An ylande of Arabie.

Amminienses, People of Spayne.

Ammon, An hebrue name, signifyng, ỹ son of my people. The sonne of Lot (whome he begatte on his yonge daughter, whan he was dronke) was so called. Of this Ammon came the people in Syria, Ammonitæ, whome Josephus doeth call Ammanitæ. By this name was Jupiter also worshipped in Egypt.

Ammonius, The name of a philosophier, who was maister to Origene.

Amnus, A riuer in the ylande Dolica in Arabie.

Amor, The firste sonne of Herebus & Nox, whome the poetes feygne to be a god.

Amorgos, An ylande.

Amorrhæi, A worde of hebrue, signifyng, cruell rebelles or great bablars. Of that name was a people, whiche were neighbours to the Jewes, & oftentimes subdued by them, and at the laste kyng Salomon made them tributaries to him.

Amos, Father of the prophet Esaie, it signifieth stronge or puissant.

Amos, One of the .xij. prophetes, it signifieth burdened or charged. The first hath in the beginning the letter Aleph. The other hath the letter Ain. This man (borne in the towne called Thieme) was a shepeherd, and sente by god into Samaria. And whan he had there prophecied against .x. tribes, and somewhat spake of the other two, Amasias caused him oftentimes to bee beaten: but whan he coulde not resiste the holy ghoste, Ochozias, sonne of kinge Amasias, caused a great nayle to be thrust into his temples: And beyng halfe dead, was caried into his owne coūtrey, where he soone after died.

Ampeliotæ, A certaine nation in Afrike.

Ampeloesba, A towne nere to Syria.

Ampelos, A citie of Candie, and a towne of Macedonie. also a childe, whom Bacchus loued, and after his death tourned into a sterre. also in Greke it signifieth a vine.

Ampelus, An yland, or promontory in Samos.

Ampelusia, An yle called nowe Tinge. Also a promontorie of Affrike.

Amphiaraus, Sonne of Oileus, an Argiue borne, was a sothsaier, whome Adrastus, kinge of Argiues, wold haue taken with him, whā he made warre agaynste the Thebanes: but knowynge that he should not retourne, he hid him selfe. At the laste beyng discouered by his wyfe, he was compelled to goe with the kinge. And the firste day that he came to Thebes, the earth opened, and swalowed him.

Amphictiones, A noble counsell in Grece, assembled at a place called Thermopylæ, wherein were the xij. sondry people of Grece, Jones, Dores, Perrhebi, Bœotii, Magnetes, Achæi, Phthiotæ, Melienses, Dolopes, Aenianes, Delphi, and Phocenses. Of this counsayle wrate Suidas, Strabo, lib. 9. Dionysius. 14.

Amphigenia, A citie.

Amphilochus, A philosophier.

Amphymedon, One of the Centaures.

Amphinome, A nymph.

Amphion, A man whiche with naturall eloquence, brought rude & wild people to a ciuile forme of liuyng. And (as some suppose) foūd first harmonie.

Amphionius, a, um, Of Amphion.

Amphipolis, A citie nighe to Macedonie.

Amphiroe, A nymph or mayden of the riuers.

Amphisa, A riuer in Phocis, a countrey of Gréece.

Amphissa, A citee of Locris in Gréece.

Amphiſtratus, A certaine grauer or Image maker.
Amphitrde, es, f. g. A nymph or mayden.
Amphitrio, onis, The huſbande of Alcmena, mother of Hercules.
Amphitryte, tes, f. g. Was daughter to Nereus, and wyfe to Neptunus, God of the ſea. And ſome tyme it is taken for the ſea.
Amphitus, Caſtor and Pollux chareot man.
Amphryſus, A ryuer in Theſſaly, by whiche Apollo kept the ſhepe of Admetus. Alſo a citie.
Ampycides, æ, Mopſus, the ſonne of Ampycus.
Amſanctus, A welle in Italy, whiche after ſome iſſueth out of hell.
Amulius, kynge of the Latynes, ſonne of Procas, great vncle of Romulus and Remus.
Amxynus, quaſi ſine raſura, The ſurname of Iupiter among the Campaynes.
Amycla, One of Niobes daughters.
Amyclas, The ſonne of Lacedemon.
Amyclæ, A citie in Lacedemonia, where Caſtor and Pollux were borne: an other in Italy.
Amyclæus, a, um, Of that citie.
Amycus, The ſonne of Neptune, and kynge of the Bebrytians, that was ſlayne of Pollux.
Amydon, A citie of Peonia.
Amymone, The daughter of kynge Danaus, on whome Neptune begat Nauplius. Alſo a well in Argos, whiche hath the name of that womã.
Amyntas, A ſheepeherdes name in Virgill.
Amynthas, Was the .xv. kyng of Macedonie.
Amyntor, A gouernour of the people called Dolopes.
Amyſon, A citie in the roialme of Pontus.
Amythaon, The father of Melampus.

Ana, A ryuer in Spayne, whiche diuideth the royalme of Granato, from Portugall. It ſpryngeth in the hithermoſt parte of Spayne called Amitanus ager. And ſometime ſpreadeth it ſelfe into great pondes or meeres. Sometime ſcante appearing in little brokes, or els hidden vnder the grounde. At the laſt it falleth into the Spanyſhe ſea. It is called Guadiana.
Anabaptiſtæ, A ſecte of heretikes, whiche beganne in Germany, about the yere of our Lorde. 1524. wherof the firſt authour was Balthaſar, which taught, that baptiſme did nothing profite chyldren, but that they ought eftſoones to be baptiſed, whan they come to yeres of diſcretion. Wherefore they bee called Anabaptiſtæ, whiche doeth ſignifie rebaptiſours.
Anacharſis, A philoſopher of great wyſedome, all be it he was borne in the barbarous countrey of Scythia: he (as Plinie ſuppoſeth) found firſt the potters whéele. And being in the tyme that Solon made lawes to the Athenienſes, ſaied: The lawes were lyke to cobwebbes, whiche tied faſt little flies, and the great brake, and went cleane thorough them: In like wyſe the poore & meane men, are faſt wounden in the penalties & daungers of lawes, but lordes and men of great authoritie, daily breake thē, and are not corrected.
Anacreon, An olde poete, whiche ſong to the harpe: he was borne in the towne of Ionia, called Teum. This man beynge aged, was ſtrangled with the kernell of a reyſin, and ſo died.
Anadyomene, A name of Uenus.
Anæa, A citie in Caria. Alſo one of the Amazones, after whome it was named.
Anaetis, idis, A goddeſſe that was worſhipped in Lydia, and of the Armenians.
Anagnia, A citie, wherein Antonie cauſed money to be coyned.
Anaitæ, The inhabitauntes of Anaitis.
Anaitis, A countrey of Armenie.
Anandatus, One of the Perſians goddis.
Ananias, The cloude or diuination of the Lorde. It was the name of one of the thrée hebrewe chyldren, whiche by the commaundement of Nabugodonoſor, were put in the fornayſe of fyre, and came forth without damage. Alſo it was the name of one of the capitaines of kynge Ozias. Alſo of one of the diſciples of ỹ apoſtles, which with Sapphira his wyfe ſolde his lande, and brought a portion thereof to the Apoſtles, and kepte backe the reſydue. Wherefore beyng rebuked of ſaynte Peter, they both fell downe dead, for that they would haue deceiued the holy goſt. Of that name was an other diſciple of Chriſte, whiche baptiſed ſaint Paule. Alſo a byſhop that commaunded ſaynt Paule to be ſtryken on the mouthe, whan he preached.
Anaphe, An ylande.
Anapias, A mans name.
Anâpis, A ryuer in Sicilie, ten furlonges from the citie of Siracuſis.
Anatiborum, Prouance in Fraunce.
Anatolius, Was byſhop of Laodicea, the yere of our lorde. 278. A very holy man, & of great learning.
Anauros, A ryuer in Theſſalia.
Anauſis, One of Medeas wooers. Alſo the father of Aeetes.
Anax, The ſonne of Cæſum and Terra.
Anaxagoras, A famous philoſophier, noble of bloud, but more noble in vertue and wyſdome: whiche abandoning all his poſſeſſions, gaue him wholy to the ſtudie of naturall phyloſophie. And whan one ſaied to him: Haſt thou no care for thy countrey: he anſwered, yes verily: I haue exceading care for my countrey, pointing vp his fynger to heauen. Alſo whan he had ben longe out of his countrey, and was eftſones returned, and beheldе his poſſeſſions deſtroied, he ſaied: I had not ben ſafe, excepte theſe thynges had ben loſt.
Anaxarchus, A philoſopher, fallyng, in the indignation of a tyran, called Nicocreon, kynge of Cypres, was by him apprehended, and put into a great morter of ſtone, where he was beaten or pounde with yron peſtilles: whiche tourment taking pacientlу, he doubled theſe wordes worthy of remembraunce: Beate on, beate on Anaxarchus wynde bag: for Anaxarchus thou beateſt not: accomptinge his body but a bagge full of wynde.

Anaxilaus, King of the Rhegines, which buylded the citie of Messana in Sicilie.

Anaximander, a philosopher, whiche first founde the description of the compasse of the sea and lande, and made first the sphere.

Anaximenes, a philosopher, disciple of Anaximander, who saied, that the beginninge of all thinges was the ayre. And that the sterres did moue infinitly, not ouer the earth, but about it.

Anaxylides, A philosophier, whiche saied, that Platos mother conceiued onely by a vision of Apollo, without carnall copulation.

Anazarba, A towne in Cilicia, wheare Dioscorides the noble phisicion was borne.

Ancæus, Neptunus sonne, and (as Hyginus saieth) a cõpanion of ỹ voyage to attain ỹ golden fleece. This man being greatly geuen to husbandrie in plãting a vineyarde, much ouercharged his seruauntes with labour. Wherefore one of theim, as an vnlucky prophete, saied, he shoulde neuer liue to drinke of the fruite of that vineyarde. When the grapes weare rype, Ancæus with muche ioye gathered the fruite, and causing it to be pressed, badde some of the wyne forthwith to be brought vnto him. Then vpbrayding his stubborne seruaunt with his false prophecie, he lifted the cuppe towarde his mouth. To whome the seruaunt aunswered, Muche mishappe may chaunce vpon a sodaine betwéne the cuppe and the lippe before a man can drinke. With those woordes, one commeth running in and cryyng, that a wylde boare was gottẽ into the vineyarde and spoyled it. Ancæus casting aside the cuppe before he had dronke, made spéede to chase away the boare, of whiche immediatly after he was slayne, and fulfilled his seruauntes prophecie.

Ancæus, The sonne of Neptune and Astypalæa.

Anchaces, The name of a capitaine in the hoste of Perseus against his brother Acætes kynge of Colchis.

Anchemolus, The sonne of Retus kynge of the Marrubiens.

Anchesmus, An hyll in the countrey of Athens, wheron stode an Image of Iupiter.

Anchiale, A citie in Cilicia, buylded by Sardanapalus, where also was his sepulchre.

Anchisæus, a, um, Of Anchises.

Anchises, The father of Aeneas.

Anchisiades, patronymicum, The sonne of Anchises.

Anchurus, The sonne of Midas, kynge of Phrygia, whiche willingly cast him selfe into a gaping of the earth, for the safegarde of his countrey, as Curtius did afterwarde amonge the Romains.

Anco, A place at Sardis, appointed for the ministers of voluptie, as vitailers, common harlottes, and suche like. Anco is also a deepe darke prison at Athenes. The Lydians called their brothel houses Ancones.

Ancon, Is a parte of the ryuer of Nilus. Also a noble citie and haue in Italy, in the countrey Picenum, whiche standeth vpon the sea Adriaticũ: and was so called, because the sea bankes there, doe bende in fourme like to an arme with the elbowe. It was first builded by people of Syracusis, afore the incarnation of Christ. 179. yeres. And the hauen was augmented by the noble Traianus emperour of Rome. After it was destroyed by Sarasins, and eftsones buylded & inhabited, and is nowe a famous citie.

Ancus Martius, The fourth kinge of Rome, sonne to the daughter of Numa Pompilius, and succeded Tullus Hostilius, afore the incarnation of Christ. 642. yeres. He as well in ciuile policie, as martiall prowesse, was equall to any before him. Also he enlarged the citie, & made a bridge ouer Tiberis, and a prison in the middes of the citie, to the terrour of offendours, whiche dyd than dayly increase.

Ancyra, The name of two cities, the one in Phrygia, the other in Galatia.

Ancyrus, a, um, Of Ancyra.

Andegeui, The people of Angewe.

Andegauia, A countrey in Fraunce called Angewe.

Andera, ræ, The citie of Berwike.

Andes, The saied people of Angew in Fraunce. It was also a village by Mantua in Italy, where Virgill the poete was borne. Wherfore he is sometime called Andinus vates.

Andreas, One of the. xij. Apostles, brother to Peter, preaching at a citie called Patras, in the countrey of Achaia, was imprisoned, beaten, and at last hanged on a crosse, whereon he preached two dayes, and than died.

Andricus, An hyll in Cilicia.

Androclides, A man of base condicions.

Androclus, di, The man that the lion saued, for pluckyng the stubbe out of his foote.

Androgeoncus, a, um, Of Androgeus.

Androgeus, The sonne of Minos, kynge of Crete, whiche by enuie was slayne by the Athenienses. For the which certain yeres after, the sonnes of the Athenienses were sent to Crete, to be deliuered to the monster Minotaurus, whiche was afterwarde destroyed by Theseus. It was also the name of a noble Briton, whan Julius Cæsar came into this realme of Britaine.

Androgynæ, arum, masc. gen. People in Affrike, beyng of both kyndes in one person, man and woman.

Andromache, ches, fœ. gen. The wife of the valiaunt Hector.

Andromede, des, fœ. gen. The wyfe of Perses, whom he saued from a monster of the sea, and was after (by Minerua) turned into a starre.

Andromon, He that buylded the citie Colophon.

Andros, An Ile betwene Grèece and Asia, directlye against the citie Ephesus. Also a towne.

Anedius, An Emperour.

Angerona, or Angeronia, æ, fœ. gen. The goddesse of sylence: the mouthe of hyr image was stopped and sealed.

Angilæ,

Angilæ, People of Affrike, of whom the women, the firſt night they be maried, doe accompany with all men that come to the weddyng, but euer after they be chaſt.

Angleria, Is nowe a caſtell in Lumbardy, whiche ſometyme was a citie fourty myles from Mylayne, ſet on a very hyghe mountayne.

Anglia, The roialme of Englande, parte of the yle called Britannia: the people are called Angli, of a people of Saxonie, whiche weare at that tyme moſte of reputation, and therefore their name longeſt continued, as wel in the people as in the countrey: reade more thereof in Britannia.

Angnitia, The daughter of Aeeta, and ſyſter of Circe and Medea: ſhe inuented remedies agaynſt poyſon.

Ania, A Romaine woman, whiche beyng fayre and younge, after her huſbande was dead, was coũſayled to take an other: but ſhe woulde not conſent therto. for if (ſaied ſhe) I ſhal happe to haue as good as I haue had, I will not be in feare to loſe him: if I ſhall haue an euill huſbande, what ſhal I neede after a good man to ſuffer a ſhrew?

Anien, enis, or Anio, vel Aniénus, ni, maſ. gen. A ryuer in Italy, in the fielde called Tiburtinum.

Anienus, a, um, of Anio.

Anigrus, A ryuer in Theſſaly, wherein the Centaures waſhed them, whan Hercules had woũded them.

Anius, A kyng of Delos.

Anna, A name of Hebrue, whiche ſignifieth gracious, pitifull, reſting or geuing. Of this name haue ben many noble women. One was a Iew, wyfe to Elcana, whiche beyng a long tyme barayne, by continuall prayer, at laſt obteyned of God to be fruitefull, and brought forth by hyr huſbande, the good and holy prophete Samuel, who afterwarde was the chiefe prieſte and byſhop of Iſraell. An other was an olde wydowe and prophetelſe in Hieruſalem, at the tyme whan Chriſt was preſented in the temple. This woman ſerued God daye and nyght in prayer & faſting: and beholding Chriſt, declared all that was prophecied of him. An other Anna, was daughter to Iſachar, of the tribe of Leui, or, as Damaſcene ſaieth, of the tribe of Iuda, and was maried to Ioachim of the ſame tribe, which beyng long barrayne, at laſt brought forth the bleſſed virgyn Mary. And after the death of Ioachim, ſhe was maried to Cleophas, and after his death, to Solome.

Anna, Alſo the name of a goddeſſe, the daughter of Belus, and ſiſter of Dido, quéene of Carthage.

Annas, Was byſhop amonge the Iewes, whan Chriſt began to preache.

Annibal, Loke Hannibal.

Annus, Is the propre name of an Aegyptian, that firſt enuented the ouen to bake bread in.

Anſer, The name of a Poete.

Antacites, A ryuer in the ſyde of Aſia, nere to the towne Tyrambis.

Antæus, Loke Antheus.

Antalcides, A Lacedemonian.

Antemne, A citie in Italy.

Antênor, tenoris, maſ. gen. Was of alyance to Priamus: and after the deſtruction of Troye, he remayned there with the Troians, whiche were lefte on liue: and beynge dryuen thenſe by the ſonnes of Hector, fledde with. 2000. Troians, into the countrey called Venetia, wheare he builded the noble citie Patauium, called commonly Padua, and there reigned duryng his lyfe.

Antenorius, a, um, of Antênor.

Anteros, otis, The ſonne of Uenus and Mars.

Antevorta, tæ, fæ. gen. A goddeſſe of the Romaynes, whiche foreſawe thynges to come.

Anthemion, A Troiane, the father of Simoeſſus.

Anthenodorus, A ſtoike philoſopher: he floryſhed. xv. yeres before the incarnatiõ of Chriſt. Of whom this wyſe ſentence proceaded: Thou maieſt thinke thou art frée from all couetouſneſſe, whã thou art come to that poynt, that thou wilt deſire nothyng of God, but that thou maieſt openly craue.

Antheus, (the ſonne of Neptunus and Terra) a man in Mauritania, of meruailous ſtrengthe, before the incarnatiõ of Chriſt. 1588. yeres, with whom Hercules wraſtled: who perceiuing, that as often as he threwe him to the earth, he eftſoones recouered his ſtrengthe: he at the laſt tooke him in his armes, & lyfted him aboue the ground and ſo helde him, till the ſoule wente out of his body. Sabellicus writeth, that Sertorius found the ſepulchre of Antheus, in a citie called Tigena, in Barbary, which was in lẽgth. xl. cubites.

Anthos, One of Neſtors ſonnes.

Anthyſſa, A citie of Egypt.

Antia, The daughter of Amphianaſſa, and wyfe of Pretus kyng of Argiues.

Antiates, People of Antium.

Anticlea, Uliſſes mother.

Anticlus, One of the Greekes, whiche weare encloſed in the braſen horſe, wherby the citie of Troy was betrayed. And whan the fayre Helene, miſtruſting that engyne, came vnto it, and (feigninge the voyces of the ladies of Greece) did ſpeake as euery of them hadde ſpoken to their huſbandes, none of them regarded hir: onely Anticlus, thynkyng he herde the voyce of his wyfe Laodomia, would haue anſwered, had not Uliſſes with his hande ſtopped his mouthe, vntyll Helene, commaunded by Pallas, was departed: by occaſion whereof Anticlus was ſtrangled.

Anticyra, An yle ouer agaynſt the mountayne Oeta of Theſſalie, where the herbe Elleborus groweth, which purgeth melancholy: there it may be taken without any daunger. Wherof grew this prouerbe, ſpokẽ to men in their melãcholy.

*Nauiga ad Anticyras, Goe ſayle to Anticyra, as who ſaieth, purge your melancholy.

Anticyra, Is alſo a citie of Phocis.

Antidalei, A certayne people in Pli.li.6.cap.28.

Anticicomaritæ, A ſecte of heretikes, whiche affirmed, that the bleſſed virgin Mary (after ſhe had brought forth Chriſt) was carnally knowen of Joſeph, and had other children by him. The authour of this hereſie was Heluidius, about the yere of our lorde.406.

Antigenides, The name of a certaine boye.

Antigenidas, A mynſtrell of Thebes, the ſcholar of Philoxenus. Pli.li.16.ca.36. Valer.lib.3.ca.7.

Antigone, es, The daughter of Laomedõ and Priamus ſiſter, who being proude of hir beautie was of Juno tourned into a ſtorke. Alſo a daughter of Oedipus kyng of Thebes.

Antigonia, A citie of Epire, of Arcadie, of Macedonie, and of Bithinia.

Antigonus, King of Macedonie, and brother to great Alexãder. Alſo a kyng of Aſia, an other of Jury.

Antigoneſes, Certaine people.

Antigragus, A certayne mountaine.

Antilochus, Neſtors ſonne.

Antimachus, A greeke poete: of this name were diuers other.

Antinous, A younge ſtrypelyng of meruaylous beautie, whom Adrianus the Emperour loued.

Antiochia, A noble citie in Syria, called firſt Epiphane or Bebſata: it was augmented by Seleuchus, ſonne to Antiochus, one of the companions of great Alexander.330.yeres before the comming of Chriſt. He called it by his fathers name Antiochia. Thorough this citie renneth the ryuer Orontes. Of this city was ſaint Peter the Apoſtle byſhop.vij.yeres. And after him ſaint Luke the euangeliſte, other.vij.yeres. There was the firſt counſayle celebrate, where the name of Chriſten men firſt began. This citie was in the handes of chriſten men.1000.yeres. And there hath ben in ſucceſſiõ.153.byſhops. It had within it.366.churches. Antiochia is alſo a part of Syria, and an yle in the ſea Mediterraneũ. There is an other Antioch in the ſea coaſte of Perſia, an other in Lybia, in Piſidea, in Cilicia, in Pieria, an other by Taurus, and in diuerſe other places. Vide Pli.

Antiochis, chidis, A woman of Antioch.

Antiochus, A king of Syria, the fourth of that name was called the great Antiochus, afore the commyng of Chriſt.212.yeres. He was alſo called Hierax (whiche ſignifieth a faulcon) for the rauenye he vſed in takyng from euery man his poſſeſſions and goodes. To this kyng came Anniball, after Carthage was deliuered: to whom Antiochus ſhewed his armie gathered againſte the Romaines, meruailous rychely armed with golde and ſyluer. And he (reioyſing therein) demãded of Annibal, if he thought it not enough for the Romaines, meaninge the puiſſaunce of the armie. Annibal little eſtæmyng the richeſſe, anſwered in ſcorne: yes, although the Romains of all other were moſt couetous. Finally ỹ Romaines vanquiſhed both Antiochus and Annibal, who fledde to Pruſias kynge of Bithinia. Antiochus was conſtreined to deſire peace, to relynquyſhe to the Romaines all his intereſt in Europa and Aſia, to leaue his ſonne Antiochus in hoſtage, he him ſelfe to departe to the hyll Taurus, and to be contente with the countrey thereabout. At laſt, beinge eftſones ſtirred with a couetous mynde, to haue a great treaſure ſuppoſed to bee in Perſide, the chiefe citie of Perſia, in the temple Nanea or Fortuna, he was deceiued by the prieſtes of the temple, and cut in ſmall pieces, and caſt out to be deuoured of byrdes. This was the ende of that rauenous and couetous prynce, whan he had moſte gloriouſly reigned.36.yeres.

Antiochus illuſtris, The noble Antiochus, ſonne to great Antiochus (left in hoſtage in Rome by his father) gaue his ſiſter in mariage to Ptolomeus king of Aegipt, that by pretence of familiaritie, he might take his realme from him, whiche he did. For commyng vnto him vnder the colour of aliaunce, he ſlewe Ptholome ſitting at ſupper. He alſo ſubdued the Jewes in Hieruſalem, and robbed the temple and citie, & did ſet vp Idols, & with ſundrye tourmentes compelled the Jewes to breake the lawes of God, and committe Idolatrie. But he eſcaped not vnpuniſhed. For whẽ he had raigned aleuen yeres, he fel into an horrible ſickneſſe and tourmente, ſo that wormes iſſued aboundauntly out of his body, whiche ſo corrupted his fleſſhe, that no man aboute hym myght ſuſteine the ſauour thereof. At laſt he retourning to the knowledge of God, died very cõtrite. Diuers other haue ben of that name, ſome kynges, ſome philoſophers.

Antiopa, The daughter of Nycteus, and wyfe of Lycus kyng of Thebes in Aegipt.

Antipater, The name of diuers kynges, as well of Macedonia, as of Judea. Alſo a noble capitaine, whom great Alexander made his lieutenaunt of Macedonia, whiles he was in his conqueſt: who did many valiaunt actes in the abſence of Alexander, and kepte the realmes and dominions of his maiſter in good ſtate thorough his wiſdome and proweſſe. But beinge at diſſention with queene Olympias, ſhe wrate many great complaintes to hir ſonne againſt him. Finally (dreading the crueltie, as well of Alexãder as of his mother) it is ſuppoſed, he conſented to the poyſonyng of his maiſter.

Antipater, A philoſopher, and poete of Sidone, inſtructour to Cato Uticenſis. This man what daie he was borne, the ſame daye yerely had he an ague ſo longe as he liued, and in the ende the ſame day in courſe died of ỹ ſame diſeaſe. There was a famouſe poete, diuers philoſophers, and a ſophiſter of this name.

Antiphates, A kynge of the Laſtrigones, Melampus ſonne.

Antiphates, The baſterd ſonne of Sarpedon.

Antiphellus, A portion of Lycia.

Antiphon, An auncient poete of Ramnuse.

Antiphonus, & Antiphus, The sonnes of Priamus by Hecuba.

Antiphus, Of this name were diuers.

Antipodes, A people, the whiche doe inhabite the parte of the woorld, in respect of the roundnesse therof vndernethe vs, that their féete séeme to bee against ours.

Antipolis, A citie of Narbon in Fraunce, called cōmonly Ragni.

Antipyrgus, A citie of Marmarica, called commonly Luco.

Antissa, A towne in Lesbos. Also an ylande ioyned to Lesbos.

Antisthenes, A philosopher ẏ taught Rhetorike, who, after that on a tyme by chaunce he hadde hearde Socrates reade, sayed vnto his disciples: Syrs goe your way and séeke you an other maister, for I haue founde one for my selfe. Foorthwith he solde all that euer he had, and gaue it to the common weale, kéepyng nothynge to him selfe but a simple garment. He went daily to Athens to heare Socrates, out of the hauen towne Piræus, whiche was. 40. furlonges of. He was rather sharpe of wytte then diepely learned, a great louer of hardnesse and pacience, Diogenes his maister, and chiefe of the Cynikes secte.

Antitaurus, An hyl fore right against the mountain Taurus.

Antium, A citie in the part of Italy called Latium, by the sea syde, the chiefe citie of the Volsciens.

Antœci, People that dwel in the Zone, contrary to Antichthones.

Antoninus, The Emperours sonne Seuerus.

Antonius, The name of an auncient familie in Rome, of whiche was Antonius the oratour, & Antonius triumuir, whiche caused Cicero to bee slayne. Of this name were diuers Emperours, and one specially, called Antonius Pius, whiche succededed Hadriane, the yere of our lorde. 1041. and reigned. xxij. yeres, & thrée monethes, with Aurelius, and Lucius. His progenitours were Spanyardes, as Capitolinus saieth. He was a meruaylous good man, for he gouerned with suche moderation and gentylnesse, that he was therefore called Pius, and father of the coūtrey. He was neuer cruell for any priuate or common cause. He vsed often this saiyng: He had liffer saue one subiect, than destroye a thousande enemies. For his deuout liuyng, swéetenesse of maners, mercie, iustice, and temperaunce, he was compared to Numa. Wherefore many kynges and princes of dyuers nacions, laiyng warre aparte, by his commaundement, committed all their contentions vnto his iudgement, and held theim therwith contented. Yet was he not so desyrous of glory or rychesse, that he would attain thereunto by other mens domage. He died at the age of. 70. yeres.

Antonius Musa, phisician to Octauian the Emperour, delyuered him of a daungerous sicknesse, and therefore the Emperour caused his Image made of brasse to be set vp by the Image of Esculapius. There is nowe lyuing a phisicion of that name in Ferrare, who is ryght lykely to sette foorth a wonderfull knowledge in phisike, if ambicion or auarice lette him not, as it dooth other men of great learning.

Antor, One of the Centaures.

Antronia, A certayne citie in the countrey Peloponnesus.

Anthropomorphitæ, A secte of Heretikes, who affyrmed, that God had a body and membres as a mā had. This secte began in Aegipt about the yere of our lorde. 380.

Anubis, anubis, vel anubidis, Was a god of the Aegiptians, whom they honoured for Mercurius, in fygure of a dogge.

Anulus, A ryuer of Mauritania.

Anxius, A ryuer in Asia, rennyng out of the mountayne Armenius into Mesopotamia.

Anxur, tam, mas. quam neut. ge. A citie called also Tarasina.

Anxurus, The surname of Iupiter, because he was neuer shauen.

Anydrus, An Ilande.

Anysis, A kyng of Aegipt.

Anytus, One of Athens, enemy to Socrates.

A O

Aon, The sonne of Neptune.

Aonia, A part of the countrey of Boeotia.

Aonius, a, um, Of that countrey.

Aones, An auncient people of Boeotia.

Aoris, The sonne of Aras, a great hunter and warriour.

Aorus, A citie of Crete.

Acus, A ryuer.

Aornos, A citie of Epyre.

Aornus, A ryuer that rēneth through the citie Pheneum, wherein is a fysshe, called Pœcilus, that hath a voyce lyke a thrusshe.

Aorsi, People of Asia.

A P

Apæi, People of Ethiope.

Apamea, An yle in the ryuer Tygris. Also a towne in Bithinia.

Apamia, Was a citie in the lesse Asia, thorough the myddell whereof ranne the ryuer Marsia. It was also the name of a citie in Parthia, an other in Phrygia.

Apathes, Philosophers, whiche helde opynion, that a wyse man had none affections or passions.

Apauortene, A countrey of Scithia, wherein is the prouince of Hircania.

Apella, læ, mas. gen. A name whereby the Iewes were called in derision, as it were sine pelle, because the skynne of their yard was cut of, whan they were circumcised.

Apelles, An heretyke in Greece, the yere of our lord 174. whose heresy was, that he knewe not the God, which he worshypped, & that Christ was not God in very deede, but a fantasy appearyng to men as a man.

Apelles, An excellent peinter in the tyme of great Alexãder, borne in the yle of Cos, of whom only Alexander would be peynted. Whan he died, he left an Image of Uenus vnperformed, whiche no man after hym durst enterpryse to fynyshe, for the incomparable beautie thereof.

Apelleus, a, um, Of Apelles.

Apeneste, A citie of Puell, commonly called Manfredonia.

Apesus, untis, A mountaine in Grece.

Aphareus, The father of Lynceus.

Aphæsas, idem quod Apesus.

Aphecõtes, People of Epyre.

Aphidnæ, arum, A place in the countrey of Athens.

Aphrica maior, The thirde parte of the worlde, which is seuered from Asia, on the east by the riuer Nylus, on the west from Europe, by the pyllars of Hercules. The hyther part is nowe called Barbarie, the people Moores: The inner part is called Libya, and Ethiopia.

Aphrica minor, Is in this wyse boũded, on the weast with Mauritane and the riuer Ampsaga, on the north with the sea Aphrican, on the easte with Cyrenaica, on the south with the desertes of Libya. In this ar the cities Cartage, Utica, Cirtha and the prouince of Numidie. This countrey & Mauritania, is nowe called Barbaria.

Aphricanus, A name geuen to two noble Romaines, called Scipiones, because the one banquished Anniball, and subdued Carthage: the other afterwarde vtterly subuerted and destroyed it.

Aphrodisium, An Image of Uenus. Also a promontory of Caria: an other of Spayne, called Labo de cruz, and a citie of Affrike.

Aphrodisius, A prelate, the disciple of saint Peter.

Aphrodite, es, The surname of Uenus.

Aphthonius, A sophister, whiche wrote exercises for children.

Apidanus, A ryuer in Thessaly.

Apina, næ, or Apinæ, arum, A citie of Puell, the name wherof is vsed as a prouerbe.

Apis, otherwyse called Osiris, kyng of Argiues, and Jupiters sonne. He leauing the kyngdome of Achaia to his brother Aegialeus, passed into Aegypte, wheare, when he had brought the rude people to a more ciuile lyfe, & taught theim the maner of planting vines to their great commoditie, with full consent of all, he was chosen to be their kynge. When he had a long tyme gouerned that countrey with great wysedome and clemencie, and had wrought many excellent benefites to his subiectes: In the ende, after his death, he was worshipped as a God amonge theim vnder the forme of an Ore, hauinge this shape folowyng: All the bodie blacke, the forehead whyte, a whyte marke on the backe, double heared in the tayle, and a knotte vnder the tongue. This Ore might not lyue aboue a certaine number of yeres, whiche beinge finyshed, they drowned him in an holy well, whiche they kept for that purpose. Then proclaymyng vacation from all workes, they tare their clothes, rent their heare, and pitifully bewayled the losse of their God: and when with great sekyng they had found an other of the same shape, they meruaylously reioyced. This dumme God gaue signification of prophecie, not by oracles of mouth as other dyd, but by takyng or refusing of his meat. For the takyng signified good successe in that was demaked, the refusing, cõtrariwyse.

Apitius, A Romayne, whiche deliced in delicate meates, so muche, that he professed cokery, and infected Rome with gluttonie, whiche before was the myrrour of temperaũce. And whan he had cõsumed in gourmandise, Millies sestertium, whiche amounteth (after the computation of Senalis) to two millions, and. 500000. crownes: whiche is after our rate. 583054. li. whan he grew in debt, and made his rekening, there was left but Centies sestertium, whiche amounteth to this rate in our money. 59505. li. 8. shillinges, fearing in that substaunce to lyue in penury, he willyngly dranke poyson, and died.

Apœninus, An hil that diuideth all Italy into two partes. Vnde Apœnicola & Apœninigena.

Apollinaris, re, Of Apollo.

Apollinaris, The name of diuers men, one was bysshop of Hierapolis, a citie in Asia, the yere of our lorde. 1045. a great learned man. He wrate a booke of the fayth of Christe: an other worke against the gentiles, dedicate vnto Antonius the Emperour. Also against the heretiks called Cataphrigæ. An other of the same name was bysshop of Laodicea, whiche also was a noble learned man, and wrate. xxx. bookes for our fayth against Porphyrius: not withstanding he fel in to heresy, saiyng, that Christe receiued not flesh of the virgyn Mary: but that in the acte of hys incarnation, some part of the worde was conuerted into flesshe. He saied that Christes soule was not of that parte, which kepte the body lyuing, and therefore in his incarnation, he toke onely the body, and not the soule.

Apollinea, A citie in Lumbardie, nowe called Vercellæ.

Apollineus, a, um, Of Apollo.

Apollo, called also Phœbus, and Sol, The sõne of Jupiter and Latona, borne at one byrth with his sister Diana. When he came to age, he killed with his bowe the serpent Pytho, and afterwarde the Cyclops, for that they had made the lightening wherewith his sonne Aesculapius was cast into hell. For whiche acte he beinge for a time by Jupiter depriued of his deitie, kept the beastes of Admetus kynge of Thessalie, by the ryuer Amphrysus. He first inuẽted the vse of physike, and therby deserued the name of a God. He ouercame ỹ cũning minstrell Marsyas that prouoked him in cõtention of Musike: and when he had gotten the victory, fleaed him, and for his proude attempte pulled of his skinne. He is counted God of Muſick, phiſike, poetrie, and ſhoting: and hath by poetes geuen hym a triple name and power. In heauen he is called Sol, in earth Liber pater, in hell Apollo. He flouriſheth alway with perpetual youth, and therfore is deſcribed without a beарde.

counted

Apollónia, A virgin, borne in Alexandria, who, for confeſſing the faith of Chriſt, the yere of our lord 265. had all her teeth pulled out of hir head. And after, whan the tyran menaced hir, excepte ſhe would blaſpheme Chriſt, ſhe ſhould be burned in a great fyre therfore prepared: after ſhe had adviſed hir ſelfe, ſhe brake from the miniſters, and willingly lepte into the fire.

Apollonia, Is alſo the name of a citie in Epyre, now called Valonia. An other in Creta. An other in Syria. Alſo a towne in Thracia.

Apollóniatæ, People of Apollonia.

Apollonienſis, ſe, Of Apollonia.

Apollonius, The name of dyuers learned men, one borne in Græce, about the yere of our lorde. 90. in his infancie ſo profited in learnyng, that being but a childe, he was a great philoſopher, and folowed the ſecte of Pythagoras, goyng alwaye in lynnen, and neuer eatyng any thing that had lyfe. And notwithſtandynge he was excellently learned in the miſticall knowledge of philoſophie & natural magike, yet to haue more knowledge, he went into Aegipt, Perſia, Ethiope, and India, to learne of the Bragmanes, and Gymnoſophiſtes, and retourned into Græce & Rome, where he was had in great admiration, for the meruayles that he ſhewed. And at laſt, beynge aboue the age of. 80. yeres, in a great aſſemblye of people, was ſodeinly conueyghed awaye, no man knoweth howe nor whither, as Philoſtratus, who wryteth his lyfe, ſayeth. Alſo ſainct Hierome maketh aboundauntly mencion of him in his prologue to the old teſtamēt. There were of this name thræ great phiſicions: One called Apollonius Memphites, the diſciple of Eraſiſtratus: he firſt of any phiſition wrate of the partes of mans body. The other two were of Antioche, the father and the ſonne.

Aponus, A place in Italy, nere to Pauy, wheare be hoate bathes, holſome for many diſeaſes.

Apoxyómenus, ni, maſ. gen. The name of a picture or table in Rome.

Appias, appiadis, patronymicum, fœ. g. Of Appius.

Appiades, Were amōg the paintms theſe goddeſſes, Venus, Pallas, Pax, Concordia, Veſta, Of theſe dooe make mention, Ouidius de arte amandi. 2. & de remedio amoris, Et Tullius. 3. fami. epiſtolarum.

Appia via, The name of an hyghe waye or cauſey, from Rome to Campayne.

Appianus, A noble hiſtorian, borne in Alexandria, wrate moſte excellent woorkes of the Romains ciuile warres, whiche bookes I counſayle all theim that bee ſtudious in Tullius woorkes, t reade diligently, whereby they ſhall underſtand many thynges, that els they can not well underſtande.

Appion, A famous grammarian, borne in Aegypt, againſt whom Joſephus wrate his warke De antiquitate Judæorum.

Appius Claudius Cæcus, An oratour of Rome.

Appœninus, The parte of the mountaynes of Alpes, which begyn at Geane, & diuide Italy, & extendeth vnto the ſea betwæne Naples & Sicilie.

Appulia, loke Apulia.

Appulus, Loke Apulus.

Aprutium, A parte of Italy, the people wherof were ſometime called Samnites, againſt whom the auncient Romaines had warres long tyme. In it be theſe cities, Aquileia, Adria, Sulmo, Ortona, Arpinum, Aquinum, and other.

Apſorus, An yle in the Venetian ſea, and a citie in Ponte, nowe called Archani.

Aptera, orum, A citie in the countrey of Lycia, and a towne in Crete.

Apuani, People of Liguria.

Apuchi, A temple in the countrey Cyrenaica.

Apuleius, A philoſopher borne in Afrike, flouriſhed in Athens, and wrate in latyne dyuers woorkes, as De vita & moribus Platonis, & de deo Socratis, in a ryght eloquent and temperate ſtyle. In his booke called Floridorum, & de Aſino aureo, he wrate ſo affectately and flourythyngly, that he is more to be mocked than preyſed. He made alſo a right commendable booke of the names and vertues of herbes. He was about the yeare of our lorde. 300.

Apulia, Puel, a parte of Italy, borderynge on the ſea Adriaticum, a countrey populouſe, and hath in it many townes and caſtelles, aboundance of corne, wyne, oyle, & good courſers for the warre. The chiefe citie thereof is Brunduſium. There is alſo the mount of ſainct Mychaell, called Garganus. This countrey is called by other names, as, Iapygia, Meſſapia, Calabria, and Salentina. The people are called Apuli.

Apulus, a, um, Of that countrey.

A Q

Aquæ Auguſtæ, A towne in Gaſcoyne, called Baſiona.

Aquæ calidæ, A citie in Englande called Bathe. An other in Spayne called Aich.

Aquæ Sextiæ, A towne in Prouance, nowe called Aquenſis.

Aquila, The name of one borne in the countrey of Ponte, of a Gentile becomen a Jewe, which tranſlated the olde teſtament the ſecond tyme out of Hebrue into Græke.

Aquila, A citie of the Brutians, buylded by the Lumbardes.

Aquileia, vel Aquilegia, An auncient citie in the part of Italy called Forum Julii, or Friſi: ſometyme of ſuche eſtimatiō, that therin was kept the great marte of all Europe: And the Emperour Octauian, delyted principally to repayre thither often. Afterwarde it was deſtroyed by the Hunnes, and the inhabitantes fledde thenſe, and were the firſt that began to build the citie of Venice. But nowe it is ſo ſimple, that none dwell there but fyſhers, and a fewe ſhépeherdes, and is called Algar.

Aquinum, ni, A towne in Italy.

Aquiſgranum, A towne in Germany, called Aquiſgrane, or Aix.

Aquitania, Guyan, accoumpted to be the third parte of Fraunce, hath on the weſt the occean ſea: on the north the ryuer of Loyre, or (as Cæſar wryteth) the ryuer of Gerond: On the eaſt, ỹ part of Fraũce called Lugdunenſis: on the ſouth, the moũtaynes Pyrenei, whiche diuide Fraunce from Spayne. Al be it a part therof conteineth Gaſcoyne, Foix, Bygor, and a few countreis more.

Aquitanus, or Aquitanicus, a, um, Of Guyan.

Aquites, The name of a prieſt.

Aquula, A towne in Hetruria.

A R

Arabarches, A lorde in Arabie.

Arabia, In hebrue Saba, is a countrey in Aſia, deuided into thrée regiõs, Petrea, Deſerta, and Fælix. Petrea, (ſignifiyng ſtony) marcheth on Aegipte, and Judea. Plinie calleth it Nabathea, the chiefe citie thereof is Petra, nowe calleth Arach: In holy ſcripture it is called Petra deſerti. By this coũtrey the children of Iſraell paſſed out of Aegipt. It is (as Strabo wryteth) playne, enuironed wyth rockes of a greate heyght, wherein bee many ſprynges of freſhe water. Without that circuite, towarde Judea, the more parte of the countrey is deſert without water. There is the great mountaine Sina, called of Ptholome Melanes, where the olde lawe was geuen to Moyſes, and where the body of the holy virgyn Catherine is buried. Alſo an other moũtayn called Caſius, where the great Pompeỹ is buried. Arabia deſerta, of Strabo called Scenetis, hath on the ſouth, the mountaynes of Arabia fælix: on the north, Meſopotamia: on the weſt Petrea. The people of this countrey haue no certayne habitation, but dwell in tentes. Arabia fælix, on the ſouthe, lieth betweene the two ſeas Arabicum and Perſicum, whiche is ſo plentiful, that it bryngeth forth corne and fruites twyſe in the yere. They haue plentie of all fruite and cattell, except horſes, mules, and ſwyne: Of all foules, excepte geeſe, cockes, and hennes. Alſo there groweth all kynde of ſpyces and ſweete gummes. The townes are vnwalled, becauſe the people doe lyue alway in peace.

Arabicus, and Arabius, a, um, Of Arabie.

Arabis, or, Arbis, A ryuer.

Arábrica, A towne in Portugall.

Arabs, bis, One that dwelleth in Araby.

Aráchne, The name of a woman, which firſt inuented ſpynning of lynnen, and makyng of nettes.

Arachoſia, A countrey in Aſia.

Arachthus, A great ryuer in the vttermoſte borders of Epyre.

Aracynthus, A mountayne in Boeotia in Gréece, or after other, in Athẽs, in Arcadie, or Acarnanie, where Minerua was ſpecially honoured.

Araduca, A cytie in Spayne, called commonly Arzua.

Aradus, A citie in the yle Tripolis, towarde Syria, where (as Poſſidonius wryteth), was ſeene a ſerpent lyng dead, in length. 125. paces, and of ſuche greatneſſe, that he mought deuoure a man on horſeback, and euery ſcale of his ſkynne was greater than any ſhielde.

Aræ, Certayne rockes in the ſea betweene Afrike and Sardinia, where the Africanes and the Romaines made a league.

Aræ flauiæ, A ryuer in Germany called Nordlingen.

Aragus, A ryuer neare to the Maſſagetæ.

Aram, Was brother to Abraham.

Aramæi, The Scythians.

Arar, or Araris, A ryuer in Fraunce called nowe Sagona, whiche is ſo quiete, that vnneth it may be perceiued whiche way it renneth. Not far frõ Lyõs, it falleth into the riuer Rhone. Ouer this ryuer Julius Cæſar made a brydge in one daye.

Araxus, A ryuer in Scythia, whiche renneth thorough the roialme of Armenie.

Arath, A countrey in Armenie, wounderful fertile.

Arâtus, A poete in Aſia, before the incarnation. 246. yeres, among diuers other warkes, wrate certayn verſes of Aſtrologie, whiche were tranſlated by Tullie, and alſo by Germanicus, the ſonne adoptiue of Tiberius the emperour.

Araurius, A ryuer of Fraunce called alſo Rauraris.

Arauſio, A citie called commonly Aurenge.

Araxes, A ryuer in Armenia, ouer whiche great Alexander made a bridge: and lykewyſe did Auguſtus the emperour.

Arba, A citie and an yſlande of Illiria.

Arbea. A citie in Judea, wheare Adam and other three patriarkes were buried.

Arbela, A countrey in Perſia. Q. Curtius ſayeth, it is a citie of Meſopotamie, wheare great Alexander vanquiſhed the power of Darius kynge of Perſia.

Arbies, A people of Indie.

Arbúſcula, læ, The proper name of a woman.

Arca, A citie in Syria.

Arcadia, A countrey in Gréece, ſet in the myddle of Peloponneſus, or Morea, ſo called of Arcas, the ſonne of Jupiter, who reigned there. It was alſo called Pelaſgia, Parrhaſia, & Lycaonia. There was the bagpype fyrſt inuented. Alſo the great fenne Lernea, where Hercules ſlewe the monſter Hydra, is there, with the ryuer Erymanthus, and a mountaine of the ſame name. There is alſo founde the ſtone Aſbeſton, whiche beyng once hotte, may neuer be quenched, and is of the colour of yron.

Archadicus, or, Archadius, a, um, Of Arcadie.

Archas, adis, or chados, One of Arcadie.

Archas, The ſonne of Jupiter and Caliſtho, daughdaughter of Lycaon, (before the incarnation. 1470. yeres) hearyng that his mother (beynge a vyrgin consecrate) was defloured by Jupiter, whan he was begotten, and therefore expelled of the other virgins, would haue slaine hir: who beyng afearde of hym, fledde into wylderneſſe, and hid hir, tyll she and hir sonne were reconciled by Jupiter. Afterwarde, they bothe beynge dead, the Painyms feigned, that thei were translated among the sterres, set nigh to the pole artike, and the mother called Vrſa minor, and the sonne Vrſa maior.

Arceſilas, A philosopher, the scholar of Polæmon. There was also of that name a cunning keruer of Images, specially the image of Diana.

Arceſilãus, One of the fiue capitaines of Bœotia, that came to Troy. Also a philosopher of the sect of the Academikes, and scholar to Crantor.

Archander Danaus wyues father.

Archédicus, A comicall poete.

Archelaus, The name of dyuers famous men. One a philosopher, the disciple of Anaxagoras, borne at Miletum, maister to Socrates, brought first naturall philosophy out of Jonia to Athens. Of this name were dyuers kynges: One of Macedonia (whom Plato called a tyranne) slayne by Cratena his minion. Whã he hyred the famous peinter Zeuſis to peinte his palaice: Socrates saied merply, he did it to prouoke men to resorte vnto hym: though they would not come for his sake, yet at least they shoulde gladly come to beholde his fayre house. Also whan he had with hym at supper diuers learned men, a poete desyred of him a summe of money, whiche he caused to be brought, and forthwith gaue it to Euripides, who did not aske it, saiynge, thou arte wourthy to haue it, and he to desire it.

Archemorus, Sonne of Lycurgus kyng of Nemæa, was slayne by an adder, as his nourse laied him in ỹ grasse by a riuers side. For whose sake were made certaine playes called Nemẽi. He was also called Opheltes.

Archeptólemus, Was charyotte manne to Hector of Troye.

Archias, Called also A. Licinius, A poete of Antioche, muche fauoured and honoured of the noble menne of Rome, specially of Lucullus and Tullie, who defended hym in a noble oration, wherein he speaketh muche to the commendation of poetrie. It was also ỹ name of him that buylded Syracuſis.

Archibius, A grammarian of Alexandria.

Archidamus, (A noble man of Sparta) beynge demaunded, howe muche money woulde serue to the warre of Peloponneſus, aunswered, that warre sought for no certayntie.

Archidemus, A mans name. Ariſtoph. in ranis.

Archigenes, The name of a famous phisition.

Archilochus, A poete of Lacedemonia, that wrate in the kynde of verſes, Jambici, wherein he was so vehement, that where Licambes, his wyues father, tooke from hym his wyfe, and maried hir to an other man, he so rated hym with verſes, that he compelled hym for sorowe and indignation, to hange him selfe. He was before the incarnation. 650. yeres.

Archimedes, A famous Geometrician of Syracuſis, in Sicilie, who by his arte dyd long tyme reſiſte Marcellus, Capitaine of the Romaynes, that beſieged the citie. Finally the citie beyng won, he, sent for by Marcellus, was founde drawyng fygures of Geometrie in the grounde, whereunto he was so attentiue, that whan he was boden to come to Marcellus, he answered: whan he had finiſhed the figure, he would come. At whiche answere the messenger disdaining, slew him. For which deede Marcellus was exceading sory. Some suppose, he firſt inuẽted the making of materiall spheres & globes. He made a doue of woodde, whiche had in it suche equall poyse, that it would hange in the ayre by a long space. He made also an horologe, wherein myght bee seene the true course of the heauẽs and spheres. He was afore the incarnation. 192. yeres.

Architas, A noble philosopher of Tarentũ, the disciple of Pythagoras, and capitaine of the inuincible armie of the Tarentines. He was maiſter to Plato in geometrie, whome he also deliuered from Dionyſius the tyran of Sicilie. He was afore the incarnation of Chriſt about. 370. yeres. There was a cunnynge carpenter of the same name.

Arcitenens, éntis, The surname of Apollo, whiche is alway peincted with a bowe in his hande.

Arcalides, The surname of the Muſes, after Arcalus the sonne of Vulcan.

Arcea, árcęæ, A citie in Latio, being from Rome about. xviij. myles. In it was the palaice of Turnus, whom Aeneas vanquiſhed: and the people there were called Rutili.

Arcas, atis, and Arcęatinus, a, um, Of the citie Arcea.

Arcis, The sonne of Gyges kyng of Lidia.

Arciſcos, A ryuer of Scythia.

Arduenna, A great woodde in Gallia Belgica, whiche was in lengthe. 500. myles, commynge from the ryuer of Rhene, through the lande of Luke, vnto the citie of Tourney.

Arecomici, People of Narbone in Fraunce.

Areſcte, A citie in Fraunce, called Orleance. Also an other in Norica, called Lynze.

Aremórica, The countrey of Aquitaine in Fraunce.

Arẽna, A citie in Peloponneſus.

Areopagitæ, Judges, whiche sat in a place by Athẽs, to iudge cauſes of murder, & weyghty thynges, concerning the commune weale. It is vſed some time for other seuere and vncorrupted iudges.

Areopagus, The village of Mars, where ỹ saied iudges did sitte in iudgement.

Areopolis, A citie in Arabie, called also Aloab.

Areopolitæ, The inhabitauntes of Areopolis.

Areta, The daughter of Ariſtippus, the philoſopher, whiche ſucceded hym in his ſchoole. She taught, that the pleaſure, whiche moſte delyted the body, was the chiefe goodneſſe.

Arete, in latine, Virtus, in Englyſhe vertue. It was alſo the name of the wyfe of Alcinous, kinge of Phæacis, of whom Homere writeth in Odyſſea.

Arethûſa, The companion of Diana. It is alſo the name of a fountaine in Sicilie, and of an other in Aetia. Alſo a towne in Grèece, a citie in Euboea, and an other in Syria.

Arethuſis, The name of the citie Syracuſis, nere to the fountayne Arethuſa.

Arethyſſa, & Arethuſa, A ryuer in ỹ great Armenie.

Aretinus, a, um, Of the citie Aretium.

Arétium, A citie in Tuſcan, called Arezo. 50. myles from Peruſe.

Aretus, The ſonne of Nektor and Euridices.

Arganthonius, An hyll nyghe to Bithynia, by the citie of Bruſias: nyghe therunto is a well, where Hilas the companion of Hercules was ſodeynly taken away by the Nymphes, whan he was at that well to fetche water.

Arganthonius, A kyng of a citie in Boeotia. Alſo an other in Spayne, whiche lyued. 120. yeres, or after ſome. 300. yeres.

Argentina, A fayre citie in Germany, on the weaſt ſyde of the ryuer of Reine, called Straſburough. It was alſo called Argentoratum.

Argæa, Places in Rome, where certaine auncient Grèekes were buried.

Argæus, A very hygh hyll, on the toppe whereof is alway ſnowe.

Argeus, a, um, Of the citie of Argos.

Argi, Greetians.

Argi, A citie of Italy buylded by Diomedes, called after Argiripa.

Argia, daughter to Adraſtus kynge of Argiues, & wyfe of Polynices. This woman was of ſo louing affection towarde hir huſband, that, when he together with his brother Eteocles was ſlain in battaile, ſhe douted not euẽ in the night time among great heapes of dead mẽ, to ſèeke out hir huſbãdes body to bury it, being accõpanied only with hir huſbands ſiſter Antigone: who of like affectiõ toward hir brothren, ſtole priuely in the night out of Thebes, to bring their dead bodies to interrement, contrary to the cruel cõmaundement of the tyran Creon. For whiche acte, not long after, both of them were put to death of the ſayd Creon. Wherefore in reuengement of hys wycked crueltie, Theſeus made ſharpe warre vpon the Thebans, and puniſhed Creon with iuſt and worthy death for his impietie.

Argiæ, plu. A citie in Laconia.

Argiphontes, The name of Mercurius, becauſe he ſlewe Argus.

Argilêtum, The ſepulchre of Argus. It is alſo a ſtreate in Rome, where booke ſellers dwelled.

Argilus, A citie of Emathia, neare to the mouthe of the ryuer Strymon.

Arginuſæ, Thrée litle yles in Aſia, by the yles of Mitele and Leſbos.

Argiripa, Lowke Argi.

Argis, aduer. At the citie of Argos.

Argiſſa, A citie of Theſſaly, neare to Peneum.

Arginus, A Grèecian.

Argólicus, a, um, Of Argos.

Argonautæ, Were the compaignyons of Jaſon, whiche ſayled with him vnto Colchos, as Caſtor, Pollux, Hercules, Telamon, Orpheus, Zetus, Calais, and many other noble men, as well of bloud, as in proweſſe. This voyage was before the incarnation. 1254. yeres.

Argopelaſgus, One of Theſſaly.

Argos, A countrey and citie in Theſſalia, where Inachus reigned. In this coũtrey be the famous mountaines of Olympus and Oſſa. Alſo Argos was a citie not far from Athens, an other in Achaia. It was alſo the name of Ulliſſes dogge.

Argulus, The ſonne of Amyclas.

Argûra, A citie of Theſſalia.

Argus, The ſonne of Ariſtor, the. v. king of Argiues whiche made the ſhippe, wherein Jaſon and other ſailed to Colchos. The poetes feigne, that he had an hũdred eies, ſignifiyng therby his wiſdome and circumſpection. Moreouer, that Juno appointed him to kèepe Jo, whom ſhe had tranſformed into a cowe. But Mercurius (being ſent by Jupiter) with his ſwèete harmony brought Argus on ſleape, ſlewe him, toke Jo from him, & brought her into Egypt. Thã Juno toke Argꝰ eyes, and ſet theim in the Pecockes tayle, wherfore the pecocke is called Auis Junonia.

Argyra, A citie in Sicilie, where Diodorus Siculus was borne.

Argyraſpidæ, maſ. ge. Men bearing ſhieldes of ſyluer. Theſe were great Alexãders ſouldiours, whiche were after his death, reteined of diuers princes, as the launce knightes be.

Argyrini, A certaine people in Epyre.

Argyrippa, A citie of Puell, buylded by Diomedes.

Argiróndes, A ryuer in Etolia, in colour lyke ſyluer.

Aria, A countrey in Aſia, boũded on the north with Margiana, and a part of Bactria. Thrace was once called by this name.

Ariabignes, The ſonne of Darius by the daughter of Gobrias, one of the admiralles of Xerxes nauy.

Ariadne, nes, fœm. gen. A lady the wyfe of Theſeus whom he forſoke, not withſtandinge ſhe had ſaued his lyfe.

Ariadneus, a, um, Of Ariadne.

Ariannes, A famous citie in Armenie.

Ariapythes, A kyng of Scythia.

Ariarathes, A king of Capadocia, vnder whom that countrey was firſt allied with the Romaynes.

Ariathes, A mans name.

Aricandos, A ryuer of Lycia, whereof a citie there is called Aricanda.

Aricia, A citie in Italy, tenne myles from Rome, called called nowe Ricia castellum. Also the wyfe of Hippolytus.

Aricinus, a, um, Of Aricia.

Aricinum nemus, A wooode by the sayed citie, where Numa, the king of Romayns, feigned to speake with Egeria the sayry.

Aricinus lacus, A brooke by Aricia, called Speculum Dianæ.

Aricomisi, A people of Fraunce, neere to the ryuer Rhone, called also Arecomici, and Volcæ.

Arii, A people of Scythia.

Arimaspi, People of Scythia, whiche haue but one ele, & ỹ in their forehead. They fyght cõtinually with Gryphons or Gripes. Herodotus sayeth, they haue two eyes, but they vse to wynke with the one, that they may haue the other more stedfast, whan they shote.

Ariminensis, One of Ariminum.

Ariminum, An olde citie in Flaminia, a countrey of Italy by the ryuer of Rubicion, called nowe Rimino.

Arimpæi, People vnder the dominion of Moscouites, whiche lyue alway in wooddes, and be gentyll and iust in maners. They eate nothing but beartes and maste.

Arimus, A kyng of Mysia, or Meonia.

Ariobarzanes, A kynge of Cappadocia, who ayded Pompei in his last battayll against Cæsar.

Arion, A famous harper, whom ỹ mariners would haue cast into the sea to haue his money: but he desiring them, to lette hym playe a songe on his harpe er he died, afterwarde leapte into the water, and a Dolphyne receiuing hym on his back, brought hym to lande alyue. It is also one of Adrastus chariot horses.

Arionius, a, um, Of Arion.

Arisbe, or after some Arisba, A citie in the countrey of Troy, and also in Lesbos..

Aristarchus, A grammarian vnder Ptolomie, surnamed Philometer, whose sonne he instructed. He wrate aboue. 1000. workes, and died, beyng of the age of. 72. yeres, kylling hym selfe with ouer much abstinẽce to cure the dropsie. Of him Aelianus writeth, that he was of so exacte iudgemẽt, that no verse was estemed to be Homeres, but that he had alowed.

Aristæus, Apollos sonne by Cyrene the nymph. He first inuented the vse of bées, honie, rennette to make chéese with, pasturing, hunting and many other thynges, as Iustine wryteth. The poetes deuised that fable: That Aristæus was in loue with Eurydice Orpheus his daughter, who rennyng from him, chaunsed to bee slaine of a serpent: in reuengement wherof the Nymphes killed all Aristæus bees. He therefore called to his mother for healpe to recouer his great losse, and by hir was brought to Proteus his oracle, who tolde hym the cause of hys great myshappe, and willed hym by sacrifice to please and pacifie Eurydice. Whiche thynge when he did, kyllyng fower Bulles, and as many heighfers, out of the sacrifices brake forth a great number of bees, and so Aristæus recouered his swarmes agayne. Virg.

Aristeas, A poete in the tyme of Cyrus of Persia.

Aristides, A noble man of Athens, in wysedome, iustice, and temperance, excellent. He in the gouernaũce of the common weale of Athens, was ioygned with Themistocles, a mã of great prowesse and ryches, who sayed in the counsayle, he knew a thyng, whiche was expedient to the common weale, but not necessary to be openly knowen, and desyred to haue one appoynted, to whom he should disclose it. The counsayle appoynted Aristides: to whome he shewed, that the nauye of the Lacedemonians mought bee shortly sette on fyre, and so should theyr puyssaunce bee abated. This hearde, Aristides returned to the counsayle, and sayed: The attitle of Themistocles is profitable, but not honest. The Athenienses hearinge it was not honest, iudged, it mought not bee profitable, and woulde not haue it than disclosed. Suche credence hadde they in Aristides. Also not withstanding the Athenienses had exiled hym, onely because he excelled in iustice, yet at his departing he prayed to God, that what so euer thei desired, mought come to good effecte and conclusion. And called agayne from exyle, he neuer remembred anye olde displeasure, in so muche that he alwaye honoured Themistocles, with whom he euer contended in the weale publyke. Of hys temperance this is a great token, that though he had ben in the greatest dignitie and offices in the commune weale, ye died he so poore, that he left not to bury him worshipfully. And his daughters were maried at the charge of the citie. And to his sonne Lisymachus was giuen by the people one hundred Minæ, which amounteth of our money to. 239. pounde. xi. s. viij. d. Oh, howe may chrisien men be ashamed, when they reade this story, beholding in his temperaunce, iustice and charitie, a more resemblance of Christes doctrine, than is in them that wyll dooe nothynge vnhyred, and measure iustice by their affections? Of this name were foure other. He was afore the incarnation. 474. yeres.

Aristides, A Christian philosopher in Athenes, the yere of our lorde. 132. made an elegant defence for Christes religion, and deliuered it to Adrian the Emperour, wherwith he was so perswaded that he gaue cõmaundemẽt to the proconsull of Asia, that he should put no christen mã to death, except he were conuicte of some notable crime.

Aristippus, Disciple to Socrates, put the chiefe goodnes in voluptie or pleasure: wherfore Diogenes calleth him the royall dogge, because he alwaye folowed them that were tyche, & taught for money. On a tyme, being on the sea in a storme, and the shyppe in peryll, he was sore afeard. After the perill was past, mẽ asked of him, why he feared so muche, sens he was a philosopher,

The peril ſaid he, in loſſe of an ignoraũt knaue, and of a noble philoſopher is not of like eſtimation. His ſolowers were called Cirenaici. His ſect by other diſciples of Socrates, and noble philoſophers, was vtterly exterminate. He had a daughter called Arete, excellently learned. He was afore Chriſt. 366. yeres.

Ariſto, onis, Platos father. Alſo a philoſopher, diſciple of Zeno.

Ariſtóbolus, Sonne of Hircanus, capitaine and chiefe byſhop of the Iewes, was. 92. yeres afore the commyng of Chriſte. This man attempted to tranſlate the dignitie of a byſhoppe into the dignitie of a kyng: and he firſt, after the retourning from the captiuitie of Babylon, toke on him to weare a crowne. He ſubdued the people called Iturei in Syria, and compelled them to be circumciſed: But by the ill counſayle of his brother Antigonus, he put his mother and yonger brethren in pryſon, and after ſlewe his ſaied brother Antigonꝰ, in famiſhing him. For which crueltie God ſo ſtrake him, that his bowelles were rent in his bealy, and he vomited vp all the bloud in his body, and ſo died. Alſo Ariſtobolus was one of the ſeuentie, that tranſlated the Byble into Græke. An other was an hiſtoriographer, in the tyme of Great Alexander.

Ariſtocles, The name of diuers philoſophers.

Ariſtoclides, A tyrranne of Orchomenon. Alſo a famous peynter.

Ariſtodemus, The name of ſundry learned men: of whiche one inſtructed Pompeys chyldren.

Ariſtogenes, A phiſition of Thrace. Alſo an other of the ſame ſcience, ſeruaunte to Chryſyppus, the philoſopher.

Ariſtogiton, An oratour of Athens, whiche for his lewde behauiour was called dogge. Alſo one of the ſlears of Piſiſtratus.

Ariſtolaus, A certain peinter, ſcholar to Pauſias.

Ariſtómache, es, The wyfe of Dioniſius, the tyran. Alſo the wyfe of Dion.

Ariſtómachus, A man that was all his lyfe time in loue with bees. An other of that name wrate of the makyng of wyne.

Ariſtomenes, A moſte iuſt capitaine of Athens. He (as Hierome wryteth) on a tyme eſpiynge the Lacedemonians his ennemies celebrating a ſolemne feaſte or wake in the nyght, by force toke away. xij. beautifull maydens as a pray, with al haſt that night making ſpede out of the Lacedemonians boundes. In the way, when certayn of his companie, would haue rauiſhed the maydens, he firſt, ſo muche as he coulde, aduertiſed them not to wourke that villanie: but whã their rage would not bee ſtaied by any counſayle, he kylled certayne of them, and by that terrour repreſſed the other. Not longe after, when the maydens weare rauſommed and ſent for home, they perceiuyng Ariſtomenes to bee accuſed for the death of thoſe, that in their defence he hadde ſlayne, would not in any wyſe retourne to their countrey, but continually laye proſtrate at the iudges fæte, vntyll they hadde obteined pardon for the defendour and preſeruour of their chaſtitie. This Ariſtomenes was of wytte ſo ſubtile and craftie, that ſundry tymes he entred as a ſpie into the citie of Lacedemon, and beynge once or twyſe taken and caſt in pryſon, eſcaped the daunger. At the laſt beyng put to death, and his body opened, his hearte was founde to bee hearie.

Ariſton, onis, A certaine grauer of Images. Alſo a famous lawier.

Ariſtonicus, A grammarian of Alexandria, and an Eunuke of Ptholomeus, which was a valiaunt capitayne.

Ariſtónimus, A comicall poete, ouerſeer of Phyladelphus librarie.

Ariſtôphanes, A poete moſte eloquent in the tongue of the Atheniens, although he was borne at the Rhodes. He wrate. 54. comedies, wherin he ſpared not them, whiche than lyued. He was in diſpleaſure with Socrates, and therfore he reprehendeth him in hys comedy called the Cloudes. It was alſo a grammarian of Byzance.

Ariſtophon, A peynters name.

Ariſtorides, Argus the ſonne of Ariſtor.

Ariſtóteles, Sonne of Nicomachus the phiſition, borne in Stragera, in Greece, conſumed hys youthe riottouſly. He was after ſcholar to the noble Plato. xx. yeres continually. He excelled all men in ſharpeneſſe of witte and knowledge in diuers ſciences: wherfore kyng Philip of Macedonie ſent him his ſonne Alexander to teache, ſaiyng: He thanked God, that he had a ſonne borne in his tyme. This man began a ſecte, the ſolowers whereof were called Peripatetici. He taught after Platos death. xxiiij. yeres. He was banyſhed out of Athenes, becauſe it was ſuppoſed, he deemed not well of theyr goddes. It is wrytten that he died by this occaſion. As he went by the ſea ſyde, he perceiued fiſſhermen ſitting and dooynge of ſomewhat. And whan he aſked what they dyd, they tolde hym a ryddell, which whan by long ſtudy, he could not aſſoyle: for ſhame and ſorowe he died. Of hym Quintilian wryteth thus. What ſay you by Ariſtotle, whom I wote not whether I may iudge more excellent in knowledge of thynges, in aboundaunce of wryting, in ſweteneſſe of eloquence, in ſharpnes of wit, or els in diuerſitie of wourks. He was little of perſonage, crokebacked, il ſhapen and ſtutting. He was. 345. yeres before Chriſtes incarnation.

Ariſtotelicus, and Ariſtoteſius, a, um, Of Ariſtotle.

Ariſtoxenus, A famous philoſopher and phiſition, the ſcholar of Ariſtotle, and dyuers other learned mẽ. An other of that name was in Cyrena, ſo curious in gardeynyng, that euery nyght he vſed to caſte mulſe on his leatuſe, to make them ſauour more pleaſauntly.

Ari-

Aritiſſa, A lake in Armenia the greatter.
Arius, A ryuer in Aria, nére to Bactria.
Arnaſcer, The ryuer Euphrates.
Arménia, The name of two regions: Maior, and Minor. Arménia maior, hath on the north Colchis, Iberia, and Albania: on the weaſt, parte of Cappadocia: on the eaſt, parte of the Hircane ſea: on the ſouthe, Meſopotamia, and the mountaine Taurus. Arménia minor, hath on the northe and weaſt part Cappadocia: on the eaſt the noble riuer Euphrates, and Armenia maior: on the ſouth parte, the mountaine Taurus.
Armeni, People of Armenia, whiche were chriſtened of late yeres, but now they be ſubiectes to the Turkes. They in ſome thinges varied from the church of the Latines and Grékes. They haue one great byſhop, whom they call Catholicum. They kéepe holie neyther the natiuitie of Chriſt, nor his baptiſme, ſaynge. Ye neded not to be pourged or clenſed of ſinne. Alſo they take from al ſacramentȝ the vertue to conferre grace. They eftſones baptiſe thoſe that come from the churche of the latines to them, ſaynge, that they bée not of the catholyke faithe. They ſaye that no man may be chriſtened, oneleſſe he receiue the ſacrament of the aultare: and that infãtes néede not to be baptyſed, affirminge that in them is no originall ſinne. That the holy ghoſt procédeth of the father and not of the ſonne. That the ſacrament of the aultare may not be conſecrate of bread cleane without leauen. Alſo in the cõſecratiõ thei put no water to the wine. Moreouer they ſay, that the receyuyng of the ſacrament profyteth onely to the body. That whã Chriſt deſcended into hell, he ledde with him all the ſoules that were there. That matrimony is no ſacrament, and may be diſſolued at the wyll of the man or woman. That Chriſt did riſe the Saterday after good fryday. Al theſe are ſayd to bee their opinions, and are condemned as errours by ſundry councelles.
Amon, A ryuer that commeth from the hylles of Arabie, and diuideth Moabitide, frõ Amonitide, after Calepine.
Armorica, The auncient name of Brytayne in Fraunce.
Amates, A people of Italy.
Arna, A countrey where the Boeotians inhabited.
Arne, A citie nére to the goulfe called Maliacum.
Arnobius, A noble Rhetorician of Affrike, maiſter to Lactantius. He wrate againſt the gentiles, the yere of our lorde. 305. whoſe expoſition we haue vpon the pſalter.
Arnus, A ſwyfte ryuer in Italy, whiche renneth by the citie of Florence, called vulgarely Arno.
Aroma, The name of a citie.
Arpandes, A lieutenant of Aegypt vnder Cambyſes.
Arpinas, ãtis, A man or woman of Arpinum.
Arpinum, An auncient towne in Italy, famous and noble by the byrth of Plautus, Tullius, and Marius.

Arrianus, A poete in the time of Tiberius. Alſo an hiſtoriographer, whiche wrate the geſtes of Alexander the great.
Ariminenſis ſynodus, A generall counſayle kepte at Ariminum in Italy, the yere of our lorde. 360. the 22. yere of the reigne of the emperour Conſtantius: where the Grékes aſſaied by theyr ſubtyll wittes to condemne the noble counſayle of Nice: but by the wiſedome of the Latines that diſputation was deferred, and at a generall counſaile at Rome, the opinions of the Arrians were condemned.
Arrius, An heretike, a prieſte in the church of Alexandria, the yere of our lorde. 320. He was a faire perſonage, had a very ſharpe witte, and was greatly eſtéemed. But fallynge into pryde and ambition of honour, he purpoſed and helde this hereſy, that the ſonne was not equall to the father in deitie, nor of the ſame ſubſtance, but was a méere creature. Unto this errour he induced a great part of the worlde than chriſtened, as wel noble clerkes as other. For the whiche was called the great counſaile of Nice, the Emperour Conſtantinus magnus beyng preſent, with 318. byſhops: where it was (after long diſputacion) determined, that the ſonne is equall, & of one ſubſtance with the father, as touching the diuinitée. Whiche decrée was approued by the emperour. And Arri⁹, with. vi. biſhoppes, which obſtinately perſeuered in their hereſy, were banyſhed. Afterward Arri⁹ finiſhed his lyfe with an horrible death. For as he was diſputyng, being prouoked to the ſtoole, in eroneratinge nature, he poured out all his bowelles, and ſo dyed.
Arrius, or rather Arrianus, an hiſtorian, borne in Nicomedia: amonge other workes he wrate in greéke the lyfe of great Alexander. This man for his learnyng and vertue obteyned great honours at Rome of the emperours Hadrian and Antonine, in ſo much that he was once Conſul. There was one Arrius a philoſopher in Alexandria, in the tyme of Auguſtus: and an other very familier with Cicero.
Arſaces, Was the generall name of the kynges of Parthia.
Arſácia, The name of a citie of Mede.
Arſanca, A citie of Germanie, called Cleppern.
Arſenária, A citie of Mauritania, called Arze.
Arſichina, A citie in Germanie, now called Bromp.
Arſichoras, A kinge of Sardis in the tyme of Anniball.
Arſinoẽ, The wyfe of Lyſimachus, kynge of Macedonie. Alſo a citie in Cyrene, called commonly Trochara.
Arſonium, A citie of Germany called Prinſintza.
Artabanus, A kyng of Parthia, the laſt of Arſaces ſtocke, whom Artaxerxes ſlewe, & reſtored the kyngdome to the Perſians. 538. yeres, after Darius was ſubdued by Alexander.
Artabazes, vel Artabaſdes, A kynge of Armenie, ſon of Mithridates, a man excellently learned.

Artabicia, One of the yles of Propontis.
Artabri, A people by the promontory called Artabrum.
Artabrum, A promontory in Spayne.
Artace, A citie of the Milesians in Asia. Also a towne of Bithynia, called Carpi.
Artacena, A countrey of Syria.
Artacha, An hyll full of trees, in the yle of the Cyziceniens.
Artachæas, A capitayne in the armie of Xerxes.
Artanes, A kynge of Armenie, surnamed Sophenus. Also a ryuer rennyng into Ister.
Artaphernes, One of Darius capitaines, vanquished of the Grekes nere to Marathon.
Artanum, A citie of Germany, called Herbipolis, Wirtzbourg.
Artaxa, A kynge of Armenie, of whom Tigranes descended.
Artaxata, orum, n.g. The chiefe citie of Armenie the great, at the ryuer Araxis.
Artaxerxes, A name, wherby many kinges of Persia were called: Of whom one is named in the byble Assuerus: An other, which was his sonne by Hester, called also Ochus: An other called Longimanus, because his armes and handes were so long, that standing vpright, he mought touch his knées with his handes. He was benigne and loued peace, and therefore was he well beloued of all his people. He was before the incarnation 485. yeres, and had to surname Memnon.
Artaxiasata, A citie of Armenie.
Arteatæ, People of Persia.
Artembares, A noble man of the Medes.
Artemidorus, A learned man, very familiar with Brutus, which deliuered a boke to Cæsar, of the conspiracy against him, the same day that he was slayne, willyng him to reade it forthwith: but he neglected it, to his owne confusion.
Artemis, idis, Is a name of Diana.
Artemisia, The name of a noble princesse, wyfe to Maulolus, kyng of Caria, of a notable chastitée, and excelled so in loue toward hir husband, that whan he was dead, she caused his herte to bée dryed in a vessell of golde into poulder, and by little and little she dranke it vp, saiynge: Their two hertes shoulde neuer departe asonder, and that she thought there mighte bée no worthy sepulchre made for it, but hir owne bodie. Not withstandyng she made for his bodie such a sepulchre, that for the excellent workmanshippe, beautie, and costlinesse, it was taken for one of the meruailes of the worlde: and for the notable fame therof, al sumptuous and great sepulchres, were afterwarde called Mausolæa. She founde also the herbe Artemisia, called in latine Damasonium, of great vertue in womens diseases.
Artemisium, A promötory of Euboea, and an Image of Diana.
Artemisius, The moneth of Maie among the Macedonians. Also an hyll in Arcadie.
Artemita, A famouse citie, 500. furlonges from Seleucia.
Artemius, A mountaine of Achaia in Argo.
Artemon, The proper name of diuers men.
Artemon, An heretike, which affirmed, that Christ was but pure man, takynge his begynnynge in the virgin Mary. This heresie, beynge once condemned, was eftsones reuiued, by Paulus Samosatenus.
Arthurus, A kyng of England, whan it was called Britannia, a man of excellent prowesse, who, in xv. great battailes against the Sarons, vanquished them, and finally draue the most parte of them out of this realme. He subdued Scotlande and Ireland, at that tyme being wel inhabited, & in culture. And after kept an honourable house of valiant and noble personages, wherein mas such magnificence, that it gaue occasiõ to Frẽch men and Spaniardes, to exercise their wittes in auaunsyng of Arthurs maiestie with incredible fables: whiche is no more to be meruailed at, than the semblabe inuentions and fantasies of the Grékes. All be it this Arthur was a verey noble and famouse prince, yet of them, whiche wrate hystories about his time, he was vnremẽbred. He flourished about the yere of our lorde. 510.
Artigis, A citie in Spayne called also Alhama.
Artomici, People of a countrey in Fraunce called Arminake.
Artotyritæ, People, whiche did offer to theyr God, breadde and chéese.
Aruales fratres, Were supposed to bée the foster bretherne of Romulus, to whom he gaue the dygnitie of priesthoodde, to make sacrifice for growyng and increase of corne, and preseruation of the corne fieldes.
Aruerni, People of Fraunce nére to the ryuer of Leyre.
Arusium, An hill on the sea coaste of the yle called Chium, where growe the wines called Arusia vina, now Marusia vina, Malueseye.
Arunca, A towne in Italy.
Arupenum, A towne in Fraunce.
Arupinus, A citie in Pannonie.
Arxata, A citie of Armenie.

A S

Asa, In the language of Syria, signifieth a physition, or a healer of sickenesses. Of that name was the fifth kyng of Juda, the sonne of Abia, who reigned. 41. yeres. He honoured god, destroyed ydolles, and was fortunate in battaile, so that he is compared to kynge Dauid, for his personage and vertuouse qualities. He slewe the kynge of Aethyope, with an infinite numbre of his people. He was before the incarnation. 973. yeres.
Asachæ, A people in the mountaines of Aethiope. v. dayes iourney from the sea, who lyue onely by huntynge of Elephantes.
Asachus, A ryuer in Macedonie, rennynge by Heraclia, at the foote of the mountaine Oete.

Asc,

Aſæ, A towne or people of Peloponneſus.
Aſæa, A certaine hyll.
Aſæus, A Greke that was ſlayne of Hercules.
Aſaph, An hebrue worde, ſignifyng gatherynge or finiſhing. Of this name was a ſingyng man in the houſe of god, to whom kyng Dauid aſſigned certaine tytles of hys pſalmes.
Aſbeſtæ. A people of Lybia, where was an oracle of Ammon.
Aſbolus, The name of an hounde in Ouide.
Aſbotus, A citie of Theſſaly.
Aſca, alias Aſeu, A citie in Sicilie, builded by Elymus, a prince of Troy.
Aſcalaphus, The ſonne of Mars and Aſtiocles. Alſo the ſonne of Acheron, & the nymph Orphnes, which was tourned into an Oule.
Aſcalingium, The citie of Hilderhem.
Aſcalon, An hebrue worde ſignifiinge, a poyſynge or a bălăce, or fyre of infamy. And it is the name of a citie in the higher Idumea, frō Hieruſalem 90. miles, as Egeſippus ſaieth. The people of this citie were called Aſcalonitæ.
Aſcalus, The brother of Tantalus, and ſonne of Hymenæus.
Aſcancalis, The citie of Swetz in Germanie.
Aſcania, One of the yles called Cyclades. Alſo a cōtrey in Aſia, and a citie, and a mēre or mariſhe in Troas.
Aſcanius, The ſonne of Aeneas the Troian, and Creuſa his wife, daughter to kynge Priamus of Troy: who comming into Italy with his father, ſuſteigned ſundry labours: And fynallye after his father, reigned ouer the Latines, with Syluius Poſthumus, his brother in lawe, and builded the citie of Alba Longa. He was alſo called Julus: he reigned. xviii. yeres. Of this name was a ryuer in Phrygia, of the whiche Aſcanius was named.
Aſciburgium, The citie of Emeriche in Germanie.
Aſcytæ, Arabyans.
Aſclepiades. A famouſe philition. Alſo a philoſopher, which beyng blynde, was demaunded in ſcorne, what his blindeneſſe profyted him: he aunſwered, that he had the more company by one boye that ledde him. It is alſo the name of an hiſtoriographer of Cypres, and diuers other men.
Aſclepiodorus, A peinter in the tyme of Apelles. Alſo one of Alexandria, whiche was excellente in the mathematicalles, & knowlage of herbes and ſtones.
Aſconius Pedianus, The excellente expoſitour of the orations of Tullie, whan he was. 73. yeres old, became blinde, and lyued afterwarde. 12. yeres in great eſtimation and honour. He flouriſhed about the tyme of Nero the emperour.
Aſcra, A towne in Boeotia, by the mountayne Helicon. In this towne was borne Heſiodus the famouſe poete: and therfore he is ſome time called Aſcræus.
Aſcrium, Called alſo Aſcriuium, a citie in Libutnia.
Aſculum, A citie in Apuell in Italy, where Curius & Fabritius diſcomfited Pyrrhus.
Aſdrubal, A name of diuers noble mē in Carthage, of whiche one maried the ſiſter of Anniball: he ruled the citie of Carthage, and ſente Annibal into Spayne, and there exerciſed him in contil nuall labours. At the laſte in the middell of his friendes & ſeruauntes, he was ſlaine by a Moraine ſlaue, whoſe maiſter he had ſlayne a little before. This ſlaue feared death ſo little, that whan he was put vnto moſt horrible tourmēts, he beyng in them, ſhewed alway a laughynge countenaunce.
Aſellius Sempronius, An hiſtoriographer in the time of Scipio Aemilianus.
Aſia, æ, fœ. gen. The thirde parte of the worlde, deuided from Europa by the ſea called Boſphorus Thracius, and the great riuer of Tanais: And from Affrike by the famous ryuer Nylus: and is in quantitie ſuppoſed to be as great, as bothe Europa and Affrike. Aſia minor, is a parte of the other Aſia, whiche is nowe called Turkay, and conteyneth in it theſe realmes, Pontus, Bithynia, Phrigia, Caria, Lycia, Lidia, and Lycaonia. Aſia is alſo a mēre, fen, or mariſhe nēre to the ryuer Cayſtrus.
Aſiáticus, Aſiacus, Aſiânus, & Aſius, a, um, Of or perteyning to Aſia.
Aſiáticus, A ſurname geuen to one of the Scipions, becauſe he ſubdued the leſſe Aſia.
Aſine, vel Aſina: A citie of Peloponneſus, nēre to Meſſenia. Aſine, Is alſo one of the yles called Sporades, in the ſea Adriaticum.
Aſinius Pollio, A noble ſenatour and oratour Romaine, whom the emperour Octauian ſpecially fauoured: He was veray eloquent, but noted of to much affectation, which toke away the grace of his orations. He was in iudgement veray exquiſite, and vſed to reproue other, muche better learned then him ſelfe: as Tullie, Cæſar, Saluſt, and Liuie. He made the firſt common lybrarie, wherin he ſette the image of Varro, and had victorie ouer the people of Dalmatia. To his honour, the poete Virgile made one of his Egloges. He lyued. 80. yeres.
Aſinius Callus, Sonne to Pollio, a mā of great learnynge: he wrate a booke, wherein he compared & preferred his father to Tullie: This booke was afterwarde anſwered by Claudius the emperour. Tiberius the emperour cōmaunded him to be ſlaine, for what cauſe it doeth not appēre.
Aſis. A mountayne in Umbria.
Aſis terra, Is vſed for Aſia.
Aſiſium, A towne, whereof the people be called Aſiſinates.
Aſius, The ſonne of Dymas. Alſo a ryuer in Italy called Eſino.
Aſmodeus, The name of a diuell, & ſignifieth a deſtroier, or abundaunce of ſinne, or meaſurynge eyre.
Aſophis, A countrey in the prouince of Achaia.
Aſopis, idis, The daughter of Aſopus.

Aſopus, A ryuer in Sicyonia, that renneth out of Phrygia. An other in Peloponnelus, nere to Corinthe.

Aſonus, A ryuer rennyng by the citie Heraclea.

Aſpaſia, A woman of Miletum in Greece, notably learned in Rhetorike: ſhe loued and taught the eloquent Pericles duke of Athenes. Wherfore, notwithſtanding, ſhe was a captiue, he toke hir to his wyfe. It is written, that ſhe was one of the concubines of Cyrus kynge of Perſia. And afterwarde by hir procurement, for diſpleaſure that ſhe bare to theim, ſhe cauſed the Athenienſes to make warre againſt the Peloponnenſes.

Aſpaſius, The name of dyuers learned men.

Aſpendius, A certaine harper.

Aſpendus, A citie of Pamphilia.

Aſphaltites, or Aſphaltum, A lake of Syria, called Mare mortuum: therein is the lyme myrt with brymſtone, called Bitumen, or Aſphaltum, wherein no lyuely thing can drowne. Some ſuppoſe, that in that place ſtode the cities of Sodoma and Gomorrha.

Aſplendon, A citie of Phocis.

Aſporenus, An hyll in Aſia, nere to Pergamus.

Aſſabinus, A God among the Aethiopians.

Aſſacani, A countrey of India, wherein is the citie Magoſa.

Aſſaracus, The ſonne of Tros, kyng of Troyans.

Aſſiſia, One of the names of Pallas and Minerua.

Aſſuerus, A kynge of Perſians, who is alſo called Artaxerres and Memnon.

Aſſur, A citie in Iudea, buylded by kyng Salomon.

Aſſyria, A region in Aſia, called nowe Syria, in Engliſhe Surry, whiche marcheth on the eaſte vpon India: on the weſt, vpon the noble ryuer of Tigris: on the ſouth, it hath the countrey Media: on the north, the hyll Caucaſus.

Aſſyrius, a, um, Of Aſſyria.

Aſta, A towne in Spayne. Alſo an olde towne in Liguria.

Aſtaboras, A ryuer in Aegipt.

Aſtaces, A ryuer renning into Ponte.

Aſtacœni, People of India.

Aſtacus, A citie of Aſia, ſo named of Aſtacus, the ſonne of Neptunus and Dibia. Alſo a towne of Megaris, and a citie in Acarnania.

Aſtapus, A ryuer in Aſia, by whiche the people Rhizophagi dwellen.

Aſtaroth, A name of hebrue, whiche ſignifieth rycheſſe or flockes. Alſo makyng ſearche, or the mouthe of the lawe. It was the name of an idoll, whiche the Iewes honoured. Alſo the name of a citie in Syria, whiche was geuen to the chyldren of Gerſon, of the kynred of Manaſſes. Alſo of a countrey, wherof mencion is made Geneſeos. 14.

Aſtarte, A goddeſſe of the Aſſyrians, whiche (after Cicero) was the fourth Uenus, that was maried to Adonis, to whom Salomon, to pleaſe his concubine, rayſed an aultar.

Aſter, aſtri, maſ. g. Platos ſeruaunt.

Aſteria, æ, fœ. gen. The name of the yles of Delos & Rhodes.

Aſterie, Was daughter to Cœus, and ſyſter to Latona, on whom Iupiter in likeneſſe of an Eagle begat Hercules: ſhe was tourned into a quaile, and after into a ſtone.

Aſterion, A citie of Theſſalie: an other of Surry. Alſo a ryuer of Achaia, rennyng into the wood Nemæa. It was alſo the ſonne of Cometa, that folowed Iaſon into Colchos.

Aſteris, or Aſteria, An yle betwene Samos and Ithaca. It is alſo a citie in Spaine, and the name of Titans daughter, the ſyſter of Latona.

Aſteruſia, An hyll in the ſouth parte of Crete.

Aſtice, A countrey of Thrace.

Aſticla, idem quod Aſtypalea.

Aſtigi, A citie of Spayne.

Aſtinome, The daughter of Chryſes, which Homere calleth Chryſeis.

Aſtiochia, The mother of Tlepolemus.

Aſtomi, People in the furthermoſte partes of Indie towarde the eaſt, whiche haue no mouthes, all their bodie hearie, and are arraied with cotten gathered on the leaues of trees. They eate no meate, but liue onely with ſweete ſauours of rootes, hearbes, and fruites, and are quickely killed with any ill ſauour. Plin.

Aſtræa, The daughter of Aſtræus and Aurora, or after ſome, of Iupiter and Themis. It is taken for iuſtice, as the worde doth ſignifie. She deteſting the naughtie and vniuſt liuinge of men, flewe to heauen, and was tourned into the ſigne called Libra.

Aſtræus, One of the gygantes that rebelled againſt the Goddes.

Aſtrophe, One of the ſterres called Pleiades.

Aſtur, ris, A noune poſſeſſiue, and ſignifieth, of Aſturia: as Aſtur homo, a man of Aſturia.

Aſtura, A towne and ryuer in Italy.

Aſturia, A countrey in Spayne betweene Galicia & Portugall, whiche ſometyme was famous for mynes of golde, and amblyng hackeneys called Aſturcones.

Aſturica Auguſta, A citie in Spayne called Aſtorga.

Aſturicus, a, um, Of Aſturia.

Aſtyages, The laſt kyng of Medes, father to Mandana, the mother of noble kynge Cyrus, who was. 597. yeres before the incarnation, reigned 38. yeres, and at laſt was depoſed by Cyrus. An other Aſtyages was by the Gorgons head of Perſeus tourned into a marble ſtone.

Aſtyalus, A Troian ſlayne by Neoptolemus.

Aſtyanax, actis, Was ſonne of Hector, by Andromache, whom after the wynnynge of Troie, the Grekes cruelly threwe downe from a towre, ſo that his braynes cleaued to the walles.

Aſtycratia, The daughter of Eolus.

Aſtydamas, The name of two tragicall poetes of Athens, the father and ſonne.

Aſtynous, A Troian ſlayne by Diomedes.

Aſtyochia, The daughter of Actor, whiche was rauyſhed upſhed by Mars.

Aſtypalea, An yle in the ſea Aegeum. It is alſo a mountayne in Creta, an other by Athens.

Aſtypaleus, a, um, Of that yle.

Aſychis, A kyng of Aegipt.

Aſylas, The name of a ſoothelayer.

Aſylus, An Image, wherunto men were wonte to renne for ſuccour, as to a ſainctuary.

A T

Ata, tæ, or Ate, tes, in latine Noxa, detrimentum, the name of a hurtefull ſpirite, alwaye wooꝛkynge ill to men.

Atabyria, The auncient name of the Rhodes.

Arabyris, A very highe mountayne in Rhodes.

Ataceni, People of Arabia.

Atacini, People of Narbone in Fraunce.

Atalánta, A mayden (daughter to Jaſius a pꝛince of Arcadia) came with diuers noble men of Gréece into Etolia, to ſlea the great boare whiche deſtroied that coũtrey: the ſame boare did ſhe firſt ſtrieke and wounde. But afterwarde he was ſlayne by Meleager, ſonne of the kyng of Aetolia, who loued Atalanta, and tooke hir to his wife, and had by hir a ſonne called Parthenopæus, whiche was ſlaine at the battayle of Thebes. An other Atalanta, daughter of Cæncus, kyng of the yle Scyꝛus, contended in rennynge with them that came to wooe hir. Whan ſhe hadde vãquiſhed and put many to death (for that was the wager, or els to haue hir) at laſt a noble yõg man called Hippomenes, (whyles they weare rennyng) thꝛewe at ſundꝛy tymes thꝛée appuls of golde from hym, in takyng vp whereof, ſhee was taried, and ſo ouerronne. Ouid wꝛiteth, that as they two medled togethꝛer in the temple of Cybele, the goddeſſe hauing therat indignation, tranſſourmed them both into lyons.

Atalantæus, a, um, Of Atalanta.

Atargata, called alſo Atergatis, A goddeſſe of the Syrians.

Atarna, A citie of Myſia in Aſia.

Atarnes, The bꝛother of kyng Darius.

Atax, A famous ryuer in Narbone. Alſo one that inhabiteth about that ryuer.

Atella, looke Attella.

Atergaris, called alſo Athara, Derceto, and Dagon, A monſtrous goddeſſe of the Sidoniens, whoſe Image in the vpper parte repꝛeſented a womã, in the nether part lyke a fyſhe. This was the mother of Quéene Semiramis, who tooke the loſſe of hir chaſtitie ſo greuouſly, that ſhe caſte her ſelfe headlong into a poole. And becauſe hir body coulde not be founde, they beleued that ſhe was tranſſourmed into a fyſhe. Wherfoꝛe the people of that coũtrey would not eate any fiſh.

Aternus, A ryuer in Italy.

Ateſis, idem quod Atheſis.

Ateſte, A citie in the countrey of Uenece.

Athalia, Daughter of curſed quéene Jeſabell, and mother to kynge Acab, beinge alſo miſcheuous, hearing that hir ſonne Ochoꝛias was ſlayne, and Joꝛam (with al his houſholde) deſtroyed, ſhe beyng inflamed with deſyꝛe to reigne, layinge aparte all womãly pytie, determined to deſtroy vtterly, all the poſteritie of Dauid. But thꝛough the goodneſſe of God, Joas, the ſonne of Ochoꝛias, an infant, was vnwares to hir conueighed away by Joſabeth his aunt, and hid in the houſe of Joiades the byſhop, and there kept ſire yeres. After this curſed woman Athalia, had reigned ouer Hieruſalem. vij. yeres, Joas (whiche was ſuppoſed to bee ſlayne) was by Joiades made kyng: whereof ſhe beyng aduertyſed, and cryyng to the people to ſlea Joas, was taken of the men of warre, and ſhamefully dꝛawen vnto the gate of the citie, called Mularia, and there ſlayne. She was befoꝛe the incarnation. 900. yeres.

Athamanes, People of Aetolia.

Athamas, Aeolus his ſonne, and kynge of Thebes, maried Nepheles, and on hir begat Helles and Phꝛyxus. But when Nepheles was by Liber pater caſt in furie, and ranne into the wooddes, Athamas maried Ino the daughter of Cadmus: Who as a cruell ſteppemother with ſo many & greuous cõplaints bꝛought Helles and Phꝛixus in hatred of their father, that foꝛ ſalfegardeof them ſelues, thei toke the ramme with the golden fléeſe. And ſitting on his backe, ſwamme ouer the ſea at Helleſponte, where Helles was dꝛowned, and gaue name vnto the ſea. Wherfoꝛe Juno beyng angry with Ino the ſteppemother, caſte Athamas into a furie or madneſſe: who in his rage ſeyng Ino his wyfe commynge towarde hym with hir two chyldꝛen, thought it had been a lyoneſſe and hir whelpes, and therfoꝛe caught fierſely Learchus one of the chyldꝛẽ, and daſhed him againſt the ſtones: which thing Ino ſeyng, fledde away with Melicertus hir other ſonne, and caſte her ſelfe downe of an huge rocke. And ſo the cruell ſteppemother ended hir lyfe.

Athamanteus, a, um, Of Athamas.

Athamanticus, a, um, idem.

Athamantis, idos, fœ. gen. Ino, or Leucothea, wyfe of Athamas.

Athanaſius, The byſhop of Alexandꝛia, the yere of our loꝛde. 348. a mã of holy lyfe and great learning, ſuſteined many and great perſecutions of the Arrians. Foꝛ whan in the counſaile (holden at Laodicea) he had confounded them with moſt puiſſaunt argumentes, he ſtirred almoſte al the wooꝛlde againſt hym, wherfoꝛe he fled. And. vi. yeres cõtinually he abode hyd in a dꝛye ceſterne, where he neuer ſawe the ſunne ſhyne. Than was he diſcouered by a mayden, and fledde eftſones by the healpe of God, wandꝛyng about the wooꝛlde, notwithſtandinge pꝛynces, their people and hoſtes, did cõtinually perſecute him, ſo that he myght ſcace finde any place to abyde in. Alſo a common harlot was bꝛought againſt him, whiche affirmed, that he had accompanied with hir. But he alway ſuſteyning all thinges with a wonderful pacience, at last died, the yere of our lorde. 379.

Athara, loke Atergatis.

Athenæ, The famous citie of Athes, betweene Macedonia and Achaia in the sea coaste, that once was called Actæ, and after Attica. This (as Hyginus saieth) was first builded by Cecrops, and called Cecropia, afterwarde by Mopsus, Mopsopia, & last of all, Athenes of Minerua, whom the Grekes call Athenam. For they reporte, when Neptune and Minerua contended for the name, that it was agreed betweene theim, that he should haue the name, that gaue vnto mankynde the wourthiest and moste profitable gift. Whereupon Neptune brought forth an horse, and Minerua an Oliue tree. The matter beynge put to voyces, whiche was the more profitable, Neptune was cast by one voyce, and gaue place vnto Minerua. This vniuersitie was the inuentour and deuisour of all liberall artes and sciences, and the mother or nourse of all auncient philosophers, oratours, and poetes, and therfore was called, as it weare, the marte towne of all good learning, whether they resorted to studie out of all partes of the worlde.

Athenæon, A famous peinter, that learned of Glaucion of Corinthe.

Athenæum, A place in Rome, wheare all sciences were redde.

Athenæus, A learned philosopher in the time of Augustus, borne at Seleucia in Cilicia. An other was a grammarian vnder M. Antonius, which wrate a boke de Dipnosophistis.

Athene, nes, The name of Minerua.

Athenodôrus, A philosopher, whiche lefte with Octauian the emperour this lesson, whan he toke his leaue of hym: Noble prynce, whan you bee wroth, neither saye nor doe any thynge, vntyll you haue perused the. xxiiij. greke letters, and remembred the order of their places, where they stande: that the passion of yre, by withdrawing your mynde to an other thyng, may languyshe and vanishe away.

Athenopolis, A towne of the Massilians.

Athesinus, A ryuer renninge out of the lake Apennium, and falling into Ister.

Athesis, A ryuer in the countrey of Uenice, renning by the citie of Trent, and thorough Verona, and so passeth into the sea Adriaticum.

Athlochari, People of Scythia in Asia.

Athos, or Athon, An hyll in Thrace, of a wounderfull height.

Athrax, The father of Hippodamia: also a ryuer of Etolia, and a citie in Thessalia.

Atina, A towne of the Lucans in Italy, the people wherof be called Atinates.

Atlantes, Pores dwelling about the hyll Atlas.

Atlanteus, and Atlanticus, a, um, Of Atlas.

Atlanticæ insulæ, Two ylandes in the borders of Lybia, whiche they call the fortunate ples. Seldome rayne is in them, and very temperate, swéete wyndes, and byngynge pleasaunt and holsome dewes: the grounde battle and fertle of it selfe without mans trauayle, bryngeth forth sweete and delectable fruites vnto the idle people. The ayre holsome and temperate without very great chaunge in the times of the yere. For the Northen wyndes passinge through the desertes of Lybia, before they come to those Iles, are muche brooken and abated in their sharpenesse. Those wyndes that come from the sea coaste, are seldome, & bring temperate showers.

Atlantides, The. vij. daughters of Atlas. Also certayne sterres.

Atlantis, An ylande. v. dayes saylyng from the hill Atlas, after whiche it is named.

Atlas, antis, Of this name were three. One kyng of Italy, and father of Electra. An other of Arcadia, father of Maia. The thirde of Mauritania, called the greatest, the brother of Prometheus, who, as the Grekes suppose, did first kynde out the course of the sterres, by an excellent imagination. Wherefore the poetes feigned, that he sustein ed the firmament with his shoulders. It is supposed he was about. 1599. yeres afore the incarnation. It is also the name of an hill in Barbaria, highe and small, whiche pearceth the cloudes. Atlas is also a great ryuer in the northpart of the worlde, rennyng into Ister.

Atlantis nepos, Mercurie.

Atlantiades, idem.

Atossa, The daughter of kyng Cyrus.

Atracius, a, um, The adiective of Atrax.

Atrocia ars, Arte magike.

Atramitæ, People of Arabia fœlix.

Atrani, People of Italy, mencioned of Plato.

Atrax, acis, A ryuer of Aetolia, whereof a certaine people are called Atraces.

Atrebates, A people of a countrey in Fraunce called Artois.

Atreus, The sonne of Pelops and Hippodamia, kyng of Mycene, founde fyrst the Eclyps of the sunne: and because his brother Thiestes hadde lyen with his wyfe, he slewe and rosted his said brothers children, and made him to eate them: who knowing it, and askynge therfore vengeaunce, had aunswere made by the God Apollo, that if he did carnally knowe his owne daughter Pelopia, he should get on hir a sonne, which should reuenge hym. So begat he Egisthus, who afterwarde slewe his vncle Atreus, and in like wyse his eldest sonne Agamemnon. This was before the incarnation. 1258. yeres.

Atreus, a, um, The adiective of Atreus.

Atria, A towne in the countrey of Uenece, called also Adria, whereof the sea Adriaticum was named.

Atridæ, In the plurall numbre, Agamemnon and Menelaus.

Atrides, æ, patronymicum, Of Atreus.

Atropatus, A capitaine of the Medes, after whom a part of the countrey was called Atropatia.

Atropos, One of the fatall ladies, which is feigned to breake the threade of life.
Atta, A poete. Also a citie in Arabia fœlix.
Attacum, A towne of Spayne.
Attalia, A citie of Pamphilia.
Attalus, A kyng in the lesse Asia, meruailous riche, of whom all magnifike and stately thinges are called Attalica.
Atteius Philologus, A learned man, very familiar first with Salustie, and after with Pollio.
Attella, or Atella, A towne in Italye, where was a great and famous theatre.
Attellanus, a, um, and Attellanius, of Atella.
Atthis, idis, fœ. g. Was daughter of Craneus, whom somme suppose to haue geuen the name to the countrey called Attica.
Attica, A countrey in Grèece, wherein stoode the famous citie of Athens, the nource of all sciences.
Atticè, An aduerbe signifiyng in the eloquence of speche of Athens.
Atticismos, A peculiar phrase or elegancy of the Athens tongue.
Atticisso, To speake in the Athens tongue.
Atticus, attica, um, Of Athens.
Attila, lyke Attyla.
Attilius Regulus, A noble Consull of Rome, banquished oftentimes the Carthaginenses, was at last taken by a sleyght, and beyng bounden was sent to Rome, that for him thei might exchaũge a great number of prysoners of their people. But at his comming, he exhorted the Romaynes, not to make suche exchaunge, considering his age & debilitie. And so with a glad will he retourned to his enemies, knowyng that he should be cruelly put to death. So much loued he his coũtrey. Wherfore at his retourne, the Carthaginenses caused his eye liddes to be cut of, that he mought neuer slepe, and than to be put in an holow tree, beyng stycked full of nayles, the poinctes inwarde, where he continued tyll he died.
Attis, lyke, Atthis.
Attrebates, lyke Atrebates.
Attropatia, or Atropatia, A parte of the countrey of Media.
Attyla, of some called Athyla, A valiaunt Scythian prynce, after he had subdued Pãnonia, entred into Italy, destroyed the citie Aquilea, and came toward Rome. Wherof the Emperour Valentinianus being afrayde, sent vnto him Leo the bysshop of Rome, with the Consuls and certain senatours, who submitted theim selues vnto him. And whã his hoste supposed, he would haue thẽ in contempt, and cõtinue his iourney to destroy Rome, he pardoning them, departed: whereat all men meruayled. But he, being demaunded why he had so done, aunswered, that whiles the bysshop and senatours spake vnto him, he beheld standing on either hand of him, a man of armes of excellent personage, euery of them holding a naked sweard ouer him, manacing to slea him, if he spake any vnfitting worde, or did make any further attemptate. Wherefore he discharged the Romaynes with gentill language, perswadyng his hoste to holde them contente. Afterwarde he entred into Germany, wastynge the countrey: and in his retourne towarde Hungary, he maried a wyfe. In whiche mariage he so excessiuely fylled hymselfe with meates and wynes, that thereby he fell in a bleadyng, and so dyed, after the incarnation. 401. yeres. And at the beginnynge he called himselfe the scourge of God.
Atuacutum, The towne of Antwerpe in Brabant.
Atura, A towne of Aquitayne.
Aturius, A ryuer in Fraunce, called vulgarly, Le Dou.
Atys, A chylde of wounderfull beautie, beloued of Cybele the mother of goddis, and was tourned into a pyne tree. It was also a kynge of Lydia, descendyng lynially from Hercules, and Omphale. Also a ryuer of Sicilie.

A V

Auantici, A people of Fraunce.
Auaricum, Bierron in Berrey, in the royalme of Fraunce.
Auctolycus, A thiefe that transformed hymselfe into dyuers shapes.
Auctonus, The sonne of Apollo and Cyrene.
Aucula, or Aquilæ, A towne in Thuscane, called Aquapendens.
Auella, or Auellinum, A towne of Campayne in Italy.
Auentinus, An hyll at Rome.
Auentinus, a, um, Of that hyll.
Auenniorum colonia, or Auenio, Auinion, a citie in Prouaunce.
Auerni, People of the countrey in Fraunce called Auergne.
Auernus, ni, masc. gen. and in the plurall number, Auerna, orum, neut. generis. A lake in Campayne, whiche was dedicate vnto Pluto kynge of helle, wheare men suppose to bee an entrye or passage to helle.
Auernus, a, um, and Auernalis, le, Of Auernus: sometyme of hell.
Auerrois, A great Philosopher, and phisition, ennemy to Auicen, and also to Christe. And for his great commentes wrytten vpon Aristotle, he is named Commentator. He was aboute the yere of our lorde. 1145.
Ausidena, æ, A towne of Italy.
Ausidius, A mans name.
Ausidus, A ryuer in the countrey of Naples in Italy.
Auga, vel Auge, es, The mother of Telephꝰ by Hercules. She, when hir father vnderstode that she was with childe, was geuen to a shipman to be cast into ỹ sea. But before it was done, ỹ was deliuered of a childe, which was hidde in the bushes, and afterward founde by shæpeheardes & brought to Corithus, who kept it as his own, & named it Telephus, because it was founde sucking an hinde. Auga her selfe was geuen to certaine merchauntes that brought hir into Caria, and presented hir to kynge Theuthras, whiche had hir in great estimation and toke hir to his wyfe.

Augea, A citie of Locris: an other in Laconia.

Augea, Kyng of Elis, one of Jasons companions to attaine the golden flice. He had an ore stalle that would receiue. 3000. oxen, and had not been clensed or ridde in. 30. yeres. Wherfore, he thinking it a matter vnpossible, hyred Hercules to clense it: who conueighing into it the ryuer Alpheus, with the water therof did easely ridde away the dunge gathered by so many oxen. 30. yeres space, whiche otherwyse vneth with any labour he could haue atchieued. In the end, whē he required the rewarde that was couenaunted, Augea begā to hakt & finde quarels, taking Phile⁹ his own son to be arbiter or vmpier betwene thē. Phileus gaue iudgement with Hercules against his father: for which doing he chased him out of his realme into Dulychiū. Hercules therat sore displeased, gathering a power, spoiled & sacked ẏ citie Elis, killed Augea, & bringing Phyleus out of banishmēt, made him king in his fathers roume.

Augias, the son of Phorbas, or after some of Nycteus or Epochus: out of his eies appeared as it were sun beames. Other affirme, ẏ this Augias was kyng of Epites, or Elidenses, and that Euristeus caused Hercules to make cleane his stable, wherein was an huge heape of dounge.

Augusta Cæsarea, A cytie in Spaine, vpon the ryuer Iberus.

Augusta Emerita, A citie in Portugall.

Augusta Taurinorum, Turine.

Augusta Treuirorū, The citie of Trier, or Treues.

Augusta Rauricum, A citie in Almaine, called Basile, or Basilea.

Augusta Vindelicorum, A goodly and beautifull citie in Germany, called Ausbourgh.

Augusta Vestonum, Soysson in Campayn.

Augusta Gemella, A citie in Spayn.

Augustæ, the surname of diuers empresses of Rome

Augustinus, The famous doctour in Christes church, borne in Afrike, in a town called Gathensis, was of such excellent wit, ẏ in his childhode he learned al the. 7. liberal sciences wout an instructor. He was wonderfully learned, specially in ẏ doctrine of Plato: wherby he was ẏ rather induced to imbrace the christian faith. He fauoured ẏ errours of ẏ Manichees: but by the cōtinual praier of his good mother Monica, & the perswasiō of S. Ambrose, he was at last cōuerted to ẏ true faith. They both replenished with ẏ holy gost, did sing together ẏ psalme Te deū, answering mutually the one to thother. Afterward in praier, writig, and preaching, he so much profited, that he was had in great reuerence of all menne, and wrate mo bookes than euer did any in the church of the Latyns. He liued. 76. yeres, & was bysshop xxxix yeres, and died in the yere of our lorde. 437.

Augustodunum, The citie of Auston in Fraunce.

Augustonemetum, Neuers in Fraunce.

Augustoritum, The citie of Poicters.

Augustus, The seconde emperour of Rome, sonne of Octaui⁹ a Senatour, & nephew to Julius Cæsar whom he succeded. This mā was wise, courteise, liberall, and of much moderation & clemencie. When he had ouercomme Alexandria, and the citesens, for that thei had stubbornly rebelled, did loke for nothing but extremitie, he, taking with him his frende Arius of the same citie, went vp into an highe place and saied vnto them: frindes I pardon your offence and spare your citie, first, for the greatnesse and noblenesse of it: secondly for Alexanders sake that founded it, and thirdly at the contemplatiō of this my frinde Arius your countreyman. Wherby he both shewed a singular example of clemencie, and to his frinde gotte great loue and estimation. Hearing on a tyme that great Alexander (after that he had conquered the moste part of the worlde, before he was xxxiii. yeres of age) did doubte with himself what he might doe all the residue of his life: he greatly merualed that so noble a prince did not compt it a farre harder matter well to gouerne ẏ he had gotten, then by myght and force still to increase his dominion. In the. 42. yere of this emperours reigne our Sauiour Christ was borne, whē that Augustus had confirmed suche a generall peace in the worlde, as neuer was but once before, frō the beginning of the Romaine empyre.

Auia, or rather Liuia, A citie in Spayne, called Villalon.

Auicenna or Abicena, A famous physition, whome some suppose to be of a citie in Spayne called Hispalis, or Ciuile. Some name him prynce of Aboalim. Some say he was kynge of Bithynia. He was excellently learned, and wrate in the Arabike tongue many noble workes of philosophie naturall and metaphisike. He comprehended phisike in fiue volumes, wherein he calleth himselfe the interpretour of Galene. He was about the yere of our lorde. 1151. And was (as some suppose) poysoned by Auerrois, whom he slewe before he died.

Auidienus, A mans name in Horace, whiche was riche, and yet a very nygarde.

Aulerci, People of a citie in Normandy, called Roane.

Aulercii, People of Orlyaunce in Fraunce.

Aulis, lis, or lidis, A litteli countrey or shyre in Bœotia, in Grēce. It was also a great citie and hauen, where the princes of Grēce assembled together, and conspired the destruction of Troy.

Aulocrene, nes, A countrey wherein was the plaine tree, on whiche Marsya, beinge vainquished of Apollo,

Apollo, was hanged.

Auſon, The name of a mountayne and citie in Calabria, where groweth excellent good wynes. Also of two other cities, the one in Macedonia, the other in Cilicia.

Auſus, A name vſed among the Romaines.

Auo, or Auus, A ryuer in the hither Spayne.

Auras, A great ryuer in Europe, falling into Iſter.

Aurélia, A family in Rome.

Auríga, æ, A ſigne in the firmament vpon the hornes of the bull, that hath ioyned to it one clære ſterre. In the hande of Auriga be two ſterres called Hædi, whoſe ryſing and goyng downe doeth oftentimes cauſe great tempeſtes.

Aurigda, A citie of Cyrene, called Zodra.

Aurora, The daughter of Titan, and Terra.

Auruínca, A citie buylded by Auſon.

Auruunci, or Aruunci, An auncient people in Italy.

Auſa, A citie of Spayne.

Auſci, people of the citie Aux, in Gayan.

Auſelii, idem quod Aurelii.

Auſer, or Auſeris, A riuer in Italy, nere ỹ city Luca.

Auſitis, itidis, The countrey called Hus, where Job dwelled.

Auſones, Were the auncient kynges of Italy.

Auſónia, The parte of Italy, wherein ſtandeth Beneuent, and Cales, ſo called of Auſon, the ſonne of Ulliſſes & Calypſo. Afterwarde all Italy was called Auſonia, and the people Auſonii.

Auſonius, a, um, and Auſon, Of Auſonia.

Auſonius, A ſophiſter. Also a poete of Burdeux in Gaſcoygne.

Auſtrânia, An yle in the occean ſea, towarde the northy parte of the worlde, called Gleſſaria.

Auſtria, Is a great countrey, on the vttermoſte eaſt part of Germanie, ſometyme called Pannonia ſuperior. It boundeth eaſtwarde vpon the royalme of Hungary: weſtwarde vpon the countrey called Noricum, and Tauriſium: ſouthwarde vpon Italy: northwarde, it is incloſed with the great ryuer Danubius or Iſter, in duche, Donow. In it is the noble citie Uienna, ſet vpon the ſayed riuer. There is also a famous vniuerſitie, where eſpecially the mathematicall ſciences are moſte eracely taught.

Authe, one of the ſeuen daughters of the gyaunt Alcyoneus, whom Hercules ſlewe.

Autini, or rather Auteri, The Iryſhe men.

Autóchthones, People whiche began in the countrey where they inhabite: whiche name was geuen to theim of Athens.

Autoſoles, A people of Mauritania.

Autólycus, The ſõne of Mercurie or Deucalion, and graundfather to Ulliſſes by the mothers ſide, famous for his theſte. There was one Autolycus felow to Jaſõ, an other was a notable wreſtler.

Automala, vel Automalax, A citie of Cyrene, called alſo Pentapolis.

Automedon, ontis, Achilles Chariot man.

Autômolæ, A people, which came out of Egipt into Ethiope. Among the Greekes it dooeth ſignifie renegates or renneawayes.

Autonoë, es, The daughter of Cadmus and Hermione, wyfe of Ariſteus, & mother of Acteon, whiche after hir is called Autonoëius.

Autricum, The citie of Charters in Fraunce.

Auximum, A citie of Picenum in Italy, called commonly Oſimum. A X

Axantos, An yle in the occean ſea benethe Englãde and Irelande. Plin. lib. 4. cap. 16.

Axiaces, A ryuer called alſo Hypanis.

Axiocus, A philoſopher, to whome Plato wrate a booke of death.

Axion, The brother of Aſphefibœa.

Axium, A citie of Myſia, called cõmonly Chilia.

Axius, A ryuer in Macedonia.

Axon, A ryuer of the Iones in Aſia.

Axona, A ryuer in Fraunce, in the borders of Reynes, called Deſne.

Axones, People of Fraunce.

Axos, A citie in Thrace.

Axus, idem quod Axius.

Axyſus, A mã of Phrygia, very happy in al things perteyning to the life of man, who vſed great humanitie toward ſtraungers.

A Z

Azan, An hyll in Arcadie, where Cybele the mother of the goddes was honoured.

Azana, A countrey of Ethyope toward ỹ red ſea.

Azanes, People of Archadie.

Azanæa, A region of Achadie, barreins & vnable to be tilled: lyke the prouerbe, Azanea maſa.

Azania, Azanium, or Aezanũ, A citie of the leſſe Aſia.

Azanium, A well, the water whereof being dronke, cauſeth men to hate the ſauour & taſte of wyne.

Azeſia, A name of Proſerpina.

Azíris, A citie in the leſſe Armenie, nére to Euphrates.

Azotus, A citie in Syria. Also an other of Achaia.

B A

Baal, In the tounge of Syria, ſignifieth Lorde, and is attributed to Iupiter. After ſome interpretation it ſignifieth, hauing dominions, ſubiection, or poſſeſſion. It was an Idole, that the Samaritanes and Moabites worſhipped.

Babba, A town of Mauritania, called Iulia Cãpeſtris.

Bacchæ, One of the names of Bacchus.

Babel, Signifieth confuſion or mixture. It was the name of a towre builded by Nemroth, before the incarnation. 274. yeres. At the building hereof was ỹ firſt cõfuſion of tounges. This was doen in the land of Sennaar, in ỹ coũtrey of Chaldea.

Babylas, A famous Byſhop of Antioche.

Babylon, A great citie in Chaldie, and ſignifieth cõfuſion or tranſlatiõ, where was a towre builded by Nẽroth, in height. v. miles. 170. paces. Afterward being enlarged by Semiramis, it cõteined in cõpaſſe. 60. miles. The walles were in height 300. fæte, in thickeneſſe or breadth. 75. fæte, & had. 100. gates of braſſe. There ran through the midle of it, the famous ryuer Euphrates. It is alſo a towne, or rather a great citie in Aegypt.

lon stode: On the north it is bounded with Mesopotamia: on the west with Arabie the deserte: on the east with Susian: onthe southe with the redde sea. In this countrey is Chaldea.

Babylónicus, and Babylonius, a, um, Of or perteining to Babylon.

Babyrsa, A strong towne of Asia, in the countrey Atropatia, nére to the citie Artaxata.

Babys, A foolishe mynstrell, Marsyas brother.

Bacales, People in the sea coastes of Lybia.

Bacchæ, arum, women which sacrificed to Bacchus.

Bacchæmon, The sonne of Perseus & Andromede.

Bacchánal, or Bacchanále, lis, neu. ge. The place where the solemnitie of Bacchus was kept.

Baccheis, idis, A woman belonging to Bacchus.

Bacchiadæ, People whiche came out of Corinth into Sicilie, and had their first beginninge of Bacchia, the daughter of Dionisyus.

Bácchicus, or Bacchéius, a, um, Of Bacchus.

Bácchides, A capitaine that betraied the citie Sinopis to Lucullus.

Bacchius, A swoorde player. Also a Corinthian, who maried the daughter of Clythius, the kynge of Megarence.

Bacchius, a, um, Of Bacchus.

Bacchus, chi, called also, Liber, Dionysius, Osiris, Priapus, Leneeus, Bromius, and Brotinus, The sonne of Jupiter, by Semele. The poetes feigne, that after Jupiter had gotten Semele with chylde, she desired hym to companie with hir, lyke as he dyd with Juno, in his diuine maiestie: wherefore he brynging with hym his thunder and lightning, came to hir, but she not able to sustaine his presence, fell in trauayle, was deliuered long before hir tyme, and died. Jupiter tooke and delyuered the childe to Mercurius, who by his cómaundement caried it vnto Nysa, where it was nourished vp by the Nymphes. Lyke foolishely other imagined, that Jupiter made an hole in his thigh to put in the childe, where it remained vntill the full time of his birth. This man among the Grékes dyd sette vynes and make wyne. Also he first yoked oxen in the plough, and gatheringe vnto him a great numbre of people, went a great part of the world, destroyng mósters and tyrannes, and conquered the countrey of India: but his people deliting in wyne, and drinkyng superfluously thereof, fell to fightynge among them selues. Wherfore he prouided, that whan they dranke, they shoulde haue in their handes nothing but canes or other light sticks.

Bactes, A name of Bacchus.

Báctra, ôrum, A citie in the furthest part of Persia, the people whereof are called Bactri & Bactriani: in whom is suche inhumanitie, that whan their parentes be very sicke or olde, they throwe them vnto fierce dogges, whiche dooe rent theim in pieces, and deuoure theim. The women of that countrey vse passinge gorgeous apparell, with swéete ointmentes and other ryche attire, and are of the seruauntes farre more obeied and reuerenced then the men are. They neuer come abrode but on horse backe, with riche ornamétes of prectious stones and Jewelles. Chastitie they regarde not, but make them selues cómon, both to their seruauntes and to straúgers, their husbandes finding no faute thereat, ouer whom they seeme to haue dominion.

Bactriani, The people of that countrey.

Bactriána, A coútrey, wherin were sometime a thousande cities. It is bounded on ỳ west, with Margiane: on the north, with Sogdione, diuided frō it with the ryuer Oro: on the south with Aria and Parspanisade.

Báctros, A ryuer of the Bactrians, whereof a citie is called Bactrum.

Badacum, A citie of Norice, or of Bauarie, named at this date Salizaburgensis, Of the riuer Saliza.

Badas, A ryuer of Surry, neere wherunto Memnon was buried.

Bælon, A citie of Spaine, nowe called Tarissa.

Bænacus, lake Benacus.

Bænis, A great ryuer in Portugall.

Bætica, A countrey in Spayne, whiche taketh his name of the ryuer Bætis, renning through it. It was also called Turdetania, & is the southe parte of Spayne, where be nowe the cities of Cybile & Cordoba, and the roialme of Granado, and extendeth to the pyllers of Hercules. It hath on the north, Portugall, being diuided from it with the ryuer Guadiana: on the west, the maine occean sea: on the south the streightes of Marroke, and the middle sea: on the east, as it were a line drawen from the citie Balearia, vnto Ana.

Bæticola, A dweller by the ryuer Bætis.

Bætiræ, A citie of Narbon in Fraunce, called Besiers, some wryte Bæterræ, some Blitterræ, other Blitera.

Bætis, A ryuer in Spayne by Granado, called nowe Guadalquenir.

Bætulon, A ryuer in Spayne called also Bethalon, commonly Beson.

Baganum, The citie of Turney.

Bagoas, An Eunuche, whom great Alexander fylthily loued.

Bagrada, Bagrades, or Bengrada, A ryuer in Afrike, by the citie called Utica, where Attilius Regulus, & the hoste of the Romains, slewe a serpēt, which was in length. 120. feete.

Babal, & Baal The ydoll of Tyre.

Baiæ, árum, A towne in Campania, on the sea side, betwene Puteolus and Misenum, for temperateneste of ayre, & fairenes of building, much haunted of the auncient Romaines. There are hotte waters naturall, both pleasaunt and holsome. Therefore it is supposed, all other hotte bathes naturall, were called Baiæ.

Bairon, An historiographer, whiche wrote an abrigement of the gestes of great Alexander.

Baius, The companiō of Ulisses, buried in Campania: after whom the towne Baiæ, was named.

Bal, idem quod Baal.

Balaam,

Balaam, Signifieth the age of the people, the deuouring or destruction of theim. It was the name of a sothsaier, whom Balac the kyng of Moabites, desired to curse the Israelites, who by the way was let by an aungell, that the asse, whereon he rode, did beholde, and asked why he did beate him. And than he him selfe perceyued the aungell, who bad him goe to Balac, and speake nothing, but that he commaunded him. And so kynally, he blessed the Israelites, contrary to the expectation of Balac.

Balancea, A towne not farre from Laodicea.

Balbina, A vyrgine in Rome, martyred vnder Traiane.

Baldraca, A poore mayde, that would in no wyse be corrupt by Otho the emperour, notwithstanding all his great offers and promisses.

Baleardus, A christen philosopher in Fraunce, disagreeyng in some poyntes from the churche of the Latins.

Baleares, Two yslandes in the Spanyshe sea, thirty myles distante one from the other: the one called Maiorica, towarde the east, tenne myles in length: the other, named Minorica, onely sire myles. Florus wryteth, that the custome is in those yslandes, that when the chyldren are hungry, their mothers set vp their breakefast on the ende of an hyghe beame or pole, so that they can not comme vnto it vntill they stryke it downe with their slynges: by whiche practise the people of those countreys becomme very cunnynge in that feate. There was in those yslandes so great store of cunnies, that, as Plinie wryteth, they weare fayne to desire aide of menne of Augustus the emperour to destroy them, for feare thei would haue vtterly vndermined their lãds.

Baleāris, re, and Baleāricus, a, um, Of or belongyng to those yles.

Balesium, A town on the sea coast in Italy, not farre from Bryndyse.

Balienses, People of Latium, called also Trebulani.

Ballio, onis, The name of a baude in Plautus, of whom other baudes be called Balliones.

Ballienus, Catilines vncle.

Ballonoti, or Bellonoti, people of Scythia in Europe

Balsa, A citie in Portugal, called also Tauila.

Baltia, An yle in the Germayn sea.

Bambotym, A ryuer of Mauritania.

Bambyca, A citie of Mesopotamia, called also Edessa and Sacra.

Bambyce, A citie in Syria.

Banasa, A towne in Afrike, called also Valentia.

Bannomanna, An yle a daies iourney from Scythia.

Banuri, Inhabitauntes of the countrey called Tingitana.

Bara, An yle not farre from Brundise.

Barachum, A towne in Cyrene.

Baracura, a port town in India, called also Bangella.

Baragasa, A towne in Ethiope.

Baramalacum, A towne of the people called Nabathei, in Afrike.

Barathrum, thri, A place in hell. Also a dungeon in Athens, where prysoners were kept.

Barbaria, A countrey, where dwelleth people rude and beastely: sometyme euery countrey, except Græce and Italy.

Barbesula, A towne in Spayne called Barbesul. Also a ryuer that renneth by that town.

Barcei, People nere to Carthage.

Barce, A citie in Afrike called also Ptolomais. It was the name of Sichæus nurse, and a quene of Lybia. Also a promontorie.

Barcenis, A woodde in Germanie, beyonde the ryuer Rhene, called Sylua nigra, whiche diuideth the Swaues from the Cheruscians.

Barcha, The surname of Amilcar, Anniballes father.

Barcino, A citie in Spayne, called commonly Barcelona.

Bardasanes, A bysshop of Mesopotamia, which wrate against Marcion in the Syrian tongue.

Barderate, A citie in Fraunce.

Bardesanes, An excellent Astronomer.

Bardi, were certain witches or prophetes in Gallia.

Barduli, People of Biscaie in Spayne, called also Turduli, and Tapari.

Barea, A towne in Spayne.

Bargeni, People of Afrike.

Bargus, A ryuer of Thrace.

Bargylia, orum, A citie in Caria.

Bargylus, An hyll in Asia.

Baria, A place among the Sabines.

Bariona, Johnson, or the sonne of John, as, Barptholomeus, Ptholomeus sonne, whereby it semeth, that Bar in the tounge of Syria or Hebrue, signifieth a sonne.

Barium, A towne of Puell in Italy, called commonly Barry.

Barnichius, A ryuer in Peloponnesus.

Barnus, untis, A towne in Macedonia, nere to Heraclea.

Barra, A towne of the Drobians in Italy.

Barrus, A mans name in Horace, whiche was an exceading great detractour.

Barum, A certayne citie.

Barutis, or Barutum, loke Beritos.

Basabocates. People of Aquitayne in Fraunce.

Basan, A countrey beyonde the ryuer of Jordan in Judea, whiche was diuided to two of the tribes. It may be interpreted, moste fertile and fatte.

Bascropeda, A countrey of the Pœdes, nere Parmonia.

Basilea, A citie in Germanie, called Basyle.

Basilei, People of Sarmatia, surnamed Jazyges, and Vrgi.

Basilia, An yle in the north ocean sea.

Basilicus sinus, A bosome of the sea, nere Jonia.

Basilidæ, A people of Scythia in Europe, hauinge their beginning of Hercules and Echidna.

Basilides, An heretyke, whiche affyrmed, that Christ was not crucified, but Symõ Cyrenens: who (as the euangelistes wryte) was constreigned to beare the crosse, whan our sauiour waxed faynt through effusion of bloud by his scourgyng. He saied, it was none offence to denie Christ in the tyme of persecution. He denied the last resurrection. Against whose heresies a learned man, named Agrippa Castor wroote certaine bookes, whiche were after in greate price amonge the Christians. He was about the yere of our lorde. 110.

Basilidiani, The folowers of Basilides.

Basilius, A man of incomparable vertue and learning, borne in Capadocia, of a noble house. His parētes (as Gregorius Nazianzenus wryteth) were christians: and his father was named Basilius Magnus, by whiche name he was also called. His father taught him as well grammer, as other learninges called Quadriuiales. After he wēt to Cesaria, and from thence to Constantinople, wheare he learned Rhetorike, Logike, and philosophie more perfectly. From thence he came to Athens, wheare he disputing with diuers great learned men, fynally vanquished theim. But whyles he exactely studied in philosophie, Gregory Nazianzene, beynge than wholly dedicate to the studie of scripture, and seruice of God, louinge Basile intierly, came into the schoole wheare he radde in a chayre, and takyng him by the hande, brought him to a monastery, wheare laiyng aparte all bookes of philosophie, he onely intended to the readyng of holy scripture. At the last, beyng ledde by the spirite of God, they diuided theim selues. Basyle goynge about the countrey Pontus, taught the people the trewe fayth. After he was byshop of Cæsaria, and exiled by Ualens the Emperour, who fauoured the Arrians heresy. He was of suche a reuerent grauitie, with humblenesse, that the people loued him, the emperour and mē in authoritie feared him, so that he was eftsoones reuoked from exile. Whan other of the true faithe weare put out of the countrey, Basyle onely for feare was reserued. He was about the yere of our lord. 367. There weare twoo other byshops of the same name, one of Ancyra, in the tyme of Cōstantine: he wrate against Marcellus: An other of Cilicia, vnder Anastasius.

Basilius, Is also a ryuer in Asia.

Basilus, One of the slears of Cæsar. Also a notable pyrate.

Basistani, People of Spayne, called also Bastuli.

Bassareus, A name of Bacchus.

Bassaricus, a, um, Of Bacchus.

Bassaris, idis, A priest of Bacchus.

Bassianus, A byshop in the tyme of Ambrose, borne at Syracusa.

Bassus, The name of diuers learned men.

Basternæ, or, Bastarnæ, People on the north syde of Thrace, about the ryuer of Ister or Danubius.

Bastuli, People of Spayne, néere to the Turdulians.

Bata, A towne, and an hauen in Asia.

Batala, An auncient citie in Italy.

Batalus, A certayne effeminate persone. The name of a rybaude poete. Also the surname of Demosthenes, geuen to hym of his foes, whan he was a childe.

Batauia, A countrey in lowe Germany, called Hollande.

Batauus, a, um, Of Hollande.

Batea, The daughter of Teucrus, and wyfe of Dardanus.

Bathyllus, A young man of Samos, beloued of Anacreon the poete. Also a famous scoffer and daunser.

Batia, The tumbe of Ilus in Troie.

Batina, after some Bantina, A towne of Puell in Italy.

Battalus, The name of an effeminate and wanton mynstrell.

Batton, A comicall poete.

Battus, His name that buylded Cyrene, of whom the women of Cyrene be called Battiadæ. Herodotus wryteth, that the Lybians call a kynge Battus.

Battus, The name of a certaine heardeman, that Mercury tourned into a touche stone, called Index. For, when Apollo kepte kyng Admetus his cattayle, Mercurie stole awaye certaine of them, that wandred somewhat farre from the residue of the hearde, no man espiyng him but onely this Battus, that then was in the fielde. Wherfore Mercury willed him to kéepe his cōusayle, and, the sooner to dooe it, gaue hym a fayre cowe. But after he was departed, mistrustinge that he would bewray hym, Mercurie to trie & proue hym chaunged his shape, & retourning to Battus, inquired for suche cattayle, promisinge to his rewarde, if he could tell, a fayre bull and a cowe. He for couetousnesse of the doubled reward tolde hym, and pointed with his finger wheare they weare. Wherfore Mercurie, to punyshe his vnfaythfulnesse in bewraiyng, tourned hym in to the stone Index.

Batulus, A towne in Campayne.

Bauaria, called also Baioaria, in duche Berne, in frēch Bauiere, a countrey in hyghe Germanie, liyng in the easte: on the southe it boundeth on the mountaynes of Alpes, whiche diuide Germany from Italy: On the west, lieth the countrey called Sueuia, in duche Swaue: On the east Austria, called in duche Owstrike: On the north, the roialme of Boheme.

Bauari, vel Baioarii, People of Bauier.

Baucis, An olde poore woman, wyfe to Philemon, who only, when Iupiter and Mercurie trauayled through the countrey of Phrygia, did vouchsalue to intertaine them in their house. Wherefore because Iupiter for the vncourteisie of that lande, had determined to destroie it, and let it be swallowed by an earth quake, he aduertised Philemon and Baucis, if they would saue them selues, to folowe hym. They folowyng Iupiters aduise aduiſe, when they came to the toppe of an hyll not farre of, loked backe and ſawe all the countrey drowned in a marrice, ſauinge their owne cottage: whiche in their ſeyng was tourned in to a temple. Then they beyng willed by Jupiter, in rewarde of their courteiſie in intertainement, to deſyre what rewarde they woulde, requeſted onely to be made miniſters in that new erected temple, and that the one of them myght not die before the other, but bothe to ende theyr lyues together. Whiche thynge he grauntinge, ſent them to their countrey agayne, wheare, after they had paſſed the reſidue of their lyues a good tyme, in the ende they weare tourned into two trees. Ouid.

Bauius, and Meuius, Two ſoliſhe poetes which enuied Virgile.

Bauli, A towne in Italy betwéene Baiæ, and Meſſenum.

B E

Bebeus, A notable bachiter, or tale bearer.

Bebryces, People of Aſia, whiche toke their beginninge of one of the daughters of Danaus.

Bebrycium or Bebryacum, A town in Italy, betwene Cremona and Verona.

Bebrytia, A coũtrey called the great Phrygia.

Bebrytius, a, um, & Bebryx, icis, Of the countrey of great Phrygia.

Bebryx, An auncient kyng of the mountaines called Pyrenæi.

Becber, A countrey of Scythia, after Caleppne.

Beda, A famous learned man of this royalme: for his modeſtie, vertuous lyfe, and learning, surnamed worſhipfull Bede.

Beduini, Certaine heretikes among the Saraſins, whiche worſhippe the ſunne at his ryſing, and they affirme all thynges to chaunce by deſtinie. Wherefore they vſe to fighte in battayle vnarmed, ſayeng, that death can not be eſchewed.

Beelphegor, A gapyng ydoll.

Beelſabub, An ydole called, God of flies.

Beelſephon, Lorde of the north, an ydole ſet vp in the places of eſpiall.

Beemoth, The dyuell, and ſignifieth a beaſte.

Beergios, One of the ſonnes of Neptunus, whome Hercules vanquyſhed.

Bela, A kyng of Hungary.

Belbina, An yle in the goulfe, called Argolicum.

Belerium, or Bolorium promontorium, Is a place in Cornewall, called ſaynt Burien.

Belga, One of the countrey Belgica.

Belgæ, The people that inhabite the countreis and townes, incloſed with the occean ſea, and the ryuers of Rhene, Marne, and Seyne, wherein bee the cities of Tryre, Coleyne, Maguncе, and Reynes. Alſo the countreis of Flaunders, Hollande, Gelder, Juliers, Cleues, Hennawe, parte of Fryſelande, Picardie, the greateſt parte of Campayne, and all the foreſte of Arderne. It was ſometime called Gallia Belgica.

Belgicus, a, um, Of that countrey.

Belgium, The towne of Beauuoiſine.

Belial, The diuell, whiche is interpreted Apoſtata, without yoke.

Belides, patronymicum, fœmin The néeces of Belus, the daughters of Danaus, beinge fiftie in numbre, whiche Aegyptus Danaus his brother, required to be maried to his fiftie ſonnes. But Danaus refuſed it, becauſe he vnderſtode by oracle, that he ſhoulde be ſlayne of his daughters huſbande. Afterwarde beynge conſtrayned by his brother, he condeſcended to his requeſt. And the very nyght that they weare maried counſayled his daughters, that they ſhould arme them ſelues pryuily with knyues, and euery one of them in the night kyll their newe maried huſbandes. The maydens eſpiyng cõuenient tyme, folowed their fathers counſayle, ſauyng onely Hypermneſtra, that ſaued and let ſcape hir huſbande Lynceus. This Lynceus (not long after) to reuẽge his brethrens death, kylled Danaus, and in his place reigned kyng of Argiues. In punyſhment of this cruell murder, the poetes feigne that the daughters of Danaus weare put to this continuall labour, to fill with water a great tunne full of holes, ſo that it ranne out faſter then they coulde powre it in. Whereof ryſeth this prouerbe, Danaidum dolium, ſpoken of an vnſatiable man, whoſe gredie deſyre is neuer ſatiſfied.

Beliſarius, A famous and noble capitaine vnder the Emperour Juſtinian. He ouerthrewe the Perſians in the eaſt, vanquiſhed the Vandalles in Afrike, ſubdued the Gothes in Italie, and the ſeconde tyme, in Afrike repreſſed the Vandalles killing their kyng Guntarith. This manne for the great ſucceſſe of his noble proweſſe, beynge ſuſpected of Juſtinian to affecte the Empyre, was cruelly bereſte of both his eyes. Wherfore when he coulde not any way reuenge the emperours crueltie and vnkyndneſſe, he buylded hym ſelfe a little cotage without the citie, wheare euer after he begged his lyuinge of wayfaringe men that paſſed by: oftentimes ſaiyng, O gẽtle frinde geue one halfe penie to poore Beliſarius, whom cruell enuie and not iuſt deſert hath bereſte of his ſight.

Bella, A towne in Campayne.

Bellerophontes, ſeu, Bellerophon, The ſonne of Glaucus kyng of Ephyra, a man of muche beautie & proweſſe, was ardently beloued of Sthenobœa, the wyfe of Prœtus kyng of Ephyra, nert after Glaucus. Whan ſhe deſired hym to commit adultrie with hir, he fearing the vengeaunce of Jupiter, God of hoſpitalitie, and remembrynge the friendſhip hir huſbande had ſhewed hym, refuſed, and put hir away from him: whiche ſhe diſdeining, and beynge in a wood rage, accuſed hym to hir huſbande, that he had rauiſhed hir: but he lyke a ſobre man woulde not ſlea hym in his owne houſe, but deliuerynge hym letters to his wyues father, ſent him into Lycia. Whe perceiuyng the mynde of Prœtus, encouraged and ſent Bellerophon to deſtroy the two monſters, Solymos and Chymæra, that he mought be ſlayne vnder the colour of a valiaũt enterpriſe. But he, atchieuing it nobly, retourned with honour.

*Bellerophontis literas affert, A prouerbe, whan one bryngeth letters againſt him ſelfe.

Bellerophonteus, a, um, Of Bellerophon.

Bellica, A pyllour in the temple of Bellona, called goddeſſe of battayle, whereat they vſed, whan warres weare proclaymed, to caſte a iauelyn.

Bello, A citie in Spayne.

Bellocaſſii, A countrey in Fraunce, nowe called Bayeux.

Bellõna, The goddeſſe of battayle.

Bellonárii, The prieſtes of Bellona.

Bellõnacum, A citie in Fraunce, now named Beauuoys, the people whereof be called Bellonáci.

Bellon, A towne, and a ryuer in Spayne.

Belides, The ſonne or neuewe of Belus.

Belis, bélidis, The daughter or néece of Belus.

Belunum, A towne in the countrey of Uenece in Italy.

Belus, An auncient kynge of Aſſyria, to whom the fyrſt ymage or ydole to be honoured, was made. There was an other Belus of Aegypt: An other the father of Dido. It is alſo a ryuer in Syria, whiche hath ſande of the nature of glaſſe, and turneth all other mettal that commeth into it, into glaſſe.

Bemarchius, A learned man of Cappadocia, whiche wrate the geſtes of Conſtantine.

Bembina, A towne of Neméa.

Bembinadia, The countrey called Neméa.

Bembinus, a, um, Of Neméa.

Benacus lacus, A lake in Italy called Garde.

Berecynthia, The mother of the goddes, called alſo Cybele.

Berecynthius, a, ium, Of Phrygia, or of Cybele.

Berecynthium cornu, An horne wherewith the prieſts of Cybele were ſtirred to a rage or furie.

Berecynthia tibia, A pype vſed in the ſacrifice of Cybele.

Berecynthus, A mountayne and towne in Phrygia, whearo Cybele was worſhipped, whereof ſhe was named Berecynthia.

Berengarius, A frenche man, whiche affirmed, that in the ſacrament of the aultare was not the verie bodie of Chriſt in the ſubſtaunce of fleſhe and bloud. Afterward he was forced to recante. And in the councell of Laterane, his opinion, as an errour was condemned, the yere of our lorde .1082.

Berenice, or Beronice, es, A woman of excellent beautie, wyfe to Ptolomeus Lagus. Of that name were diuers other women. It is alſo a towne of Afrike.

Berenices crines, Seuen ſterres lyke a triangle, at the tayle of the Lyon.

Bergidum, A citie of Spayne called Uzgell.

Bergion, A gygant, the ſonne of Neptune, ſlayne by Hercules.

Bergomum, The citie Bergomo in Italy.

Berillus, A byſhop of Boſterna in Afrike, whiche erred in certaine poyntes, and was reduced to the churche by Origene.

Beritos, A famous citie of Phœnicia, called nowe Barutus.

Bernaba, A citie in Spayne called Benauarie.

Beroa, A citie in Theſſalie.

Beroë, The nourſe of Semele, the mother of Bacchus.

Beronice, looke Berenicé.

Beroſus, A cunning aſtronomer of Chaldee.

Berſabe, A citie in Judea, called alſo Puteus iuramenti, the pitte of the othe, wheare Abraham dwelled. It is the confines of the lande of beheſte.

Beſſa, A citie in Phocis, an other in Peloponneſus.

Beſſara, A citie of Aſſyria.

Beſſi, People of Thrace, famous for their theft and robbery.

Beſſippo, An hauen in Spayne.

Beſſyga, An hauen or marte towne in India, wherof the people are called Beſſygitæ. There is alſo a uer called Beſſygas.

Bethania, A towne, two myles from Hieruſalem, on the ſyde of the mount Diuete.

Bethaſii, People dwellyng about the towne of Maſtreight within the dioceſſe of Luke in Germanie.

Bethdagon, The temple of Dagon.

Bethel, A citie in Samaria, where the people dwelled, whiche were called Jebuſæi.

Bethleem, The citie where Dauid the prophet was borne and died. Our Sauiour alſo was borne there. There died Rachell the wyfe of Jacob the patriarche. It was aſſigned to the tribe of Juda being diſtaunt from Hieruſalem fyre miles, and was firſt called Euphrata, and ſignifieth in the Hebrue tongue, the houſe of breade.

Bethſaida, or Bethesda, A great ponde in Hieruſalẽ, wherein the prieſtes waſhed the theepe whiche ſhould be ſacrificed, and may be interpreted, the houſe of cattel. Alſo the name of a towne, where Peter and Phylip, the apoſtles were borne.

Bethſamis, A citie in Galilée, where Chriſt did many myracles.

Bethſamitæ, People of Bethſamis.

Bethſura, & Bethſuræ, A ſtronge fortreſſe of the Iewes.

Betica, Betis, Beticus, Beticula, looke Bætica.

Betica, The thirde parte of Spayne, called nowe Granate, looke Bætica.

Bethphage, A town in Judea, and may be interpreted the houſe of a mouth or a lawe.

Betere, A towne called Beſies in Guyen.

Betulo, A towne in Spayne called Beſon. Alſo a ryuer.

B f

Bianor, oris, A man ſurnamed Oenus, who buylded Mantua.

Bias Prienæus, One of the ſeuen wyſe mẽ of Grece, behol-beholdyng his countrey taken by enemies, fled: other men carryng with them, ſuche gooddes as they mought beare, he was demaunded why he tooke nothyng with him: whereto he anſwered, Truely I carie all my gooddes with me: meanyng vertue and doarynе, reputing the gooddes of foꝛtune none of his.

Biatia, A citie in Spayne, called nowe Baeſa.

Bibaga, An yle in India, where is great plentie of oyſters and muſcles.

Biblia, The wyfe of Duillius the Romayne, which was of ſuch chaſtitie, that ſhe was at that time an example, whan it was a thynge monſtrouſe to heare of vnchaſtitie.

Bibractæ, People of the countrey called Beuraye Dautume.

Bibracte, A towne in Fraunce, called Beaulme.

Bibrax, acis, A towne in Fraunce, in the countie of Rochel, called Braie.

Bibulus, A Romaine, that was Conſul with Cæſar.

Bicurgium, A citie in Almayne, called Herfoꝛde.

Bidéntal, A place wheare they vſed to ſacrifice a ſheepe, whan any houſe was burned with lightenyng.

Biducenſes, People of Noꝛmandie.

Biendium, An hauen in Spayne.

Bigargitani, People of Spayne.

Bigerones, People of Guyan in Fraunce.

Bigerra, A citie in Spayne, called cõmonly Belar.

Bilbilis, A towne in Spayne.

Bilia, A noble woman in Rome, and wyfe of one Hiero. When an enemie of hir huſbandes falling out with him, vpbꝛayded him ẏ his bꝛeath ſtanke & had an ill ſauour: he beynge therewith abaſhed, becauſe he neuer perceyued it him ſelf, when he came home, quarrelled & chydde with his wife, foꝛ that ſhe neuer tolde him therof. Syꝛ ſayed ſhe, I had thought all mens bꝛeathes had ſo ſauoured. Thereby geuinge hym to vnderſtande, that ſhe neuer came ſo nigh to any other man, as to diſcerne wheather his bꝛeath weare otherwyſe then hir huſbandes was.

Billis, A ryuer in Aſia, not farre from Heraclea.

Bimembres, Subſtantiuely, is taken foꝛ the Centaures.

Bion, The name of a Philoſopher.

Bipedimni, People of Guyan in Fraunce.

Biſaltæ, A people in Scythia.

Biſaltis, oꝛ Biſalpis, The mayden, whom Neptune rauiſhed, tournyng himſelfe into a Ramme.

Biſcargis. A citie in Spayne.

Biſton, The ſonne of Mars, whiche builded Biſtonia, a citie in Thꝛace, whereof the Thꝛacians were called Biſtonii, oꝛ Biſtones, and their countrey Biſtonia.

Biſtonis, A citie, and alſo a great mẽre oꝛ poole in the countrey of Thꝛace.

Biſtónius, a, um, Of Thꝛace.

Biſultor, The ſurname of Mars, becauſe he taketh double reuengement.

Biſurgis, A ryuer in Germany.

Bithus, The name of a ſwoꝛde player.

Bithynia, A realme in Aſia, which nowe the Turke hath. On the noꝛth, it hath the ſea called Ponticum: on the ſouth, Myſia and Phrygia: it was called alſo Bebrytia, and Mygdonia.

Bithynicus, and Bithynus, a, um, Of Bithynia.

Bithynium, A citie in Bithynia.

Biton, Bꝛother to Cleobis, & ſonne of Argia. Of theſe two bꝛothꝛen, this hiſtoꝛie is tolde: when their mother beinge miniſtreſſe in the temple of a goddeſſe, ſhould with great ſpeede goe to the tẽple in a chariote (as the maner was) and hir hoꝛſes coulde not be founde, hir two ſonnes of childely pitie vouched ſalfe them ſelues to annointe their bodies and dꝛawe their mother to the temple. Foꝛ which gentle affection, the mother deſyred of the goddeſſe whiche ſhe ſerued, to geue hir childꝛẽ the greateſt benefite that God might geue to man. After the feaſt when the mother with her childꝛẽ in the night did take their reſt, in the moꝛning ẏ two ſonnes were found dead. Whereby it was gathered that the greateſt benefite that man could haue, was, in the myddes of his gloꝛie and pꝛayſe to ende this fraple lyfe: that the vncõſtancie of fickle foꝛtune might not diſdaine any part of that beſoꝛe he had gotten.

Bituitus, was a kynge of the Aluernes in Fraunce.

Biturges, Bourges in Fraunce.

Bitúrgia, A citie of the Thuſcanes, called nowe Maſſayum.

Bizia, A ſtrong holde oꝛ foꝛtreſſe of the kynges of Thꝛace.

Bizon, A citie of Thꝛace.

B L

Blanda, A citie in Italy.

Blandæ, A towne in Spayn called Blanes.

Blandutia, A countrey in Italy, where Hoꝛace the poete had lande.

Blaſgon, An yle in the mouthe of the ryuer Rhone.

Blemmiæ, oꝛ Blemmyes, Monſtrous people in Ethiope towarde the ſouthe, whiche haue no head, but their eies and mouthe be in their bꝛeaſtes.

Bleptæ, A people in Afrike, whiche haue their vyſages in their bꝛeaſtes.

Blerani, A people in Italy.

Bliteræ, A citie of Narbone, called ſometyme Septimanorum colonia.

B O

Boa, æ, A ſerpent in Italy, ſo great and large, that on a tyme whan one was kylled, a chylde was founde whole in his bealy, as Plinie wꝛyteth.

Boágrius, A ryuer of Locris.

Bobium, A towne on the cliffe of the mountaine Appœninus.

Bocalium, A towne of Arcadie.

Bocatius, A learned man.

Boccbus, A kynge of Mauritania & Getulia, whiche deliuered Jugurtha bounde, to Sylla.

Boccbori, called alſo Concordienſes, People of Poꝛtugall.

Boecbyris, A kynges name of Egypt, famous foꝛ his iustice.

Bocenses, People of Sardinia.
Bochiana, A towne of the Troglodites.
Boderia, called of Tacitus Bodotria, A creeke of the Brytaine sea.
Bodin comagum, A towne in Italy, called also Industria.
Bodincas, The ryuer Poo in Italy.
Boca, A towne of Peloponnesus, in the goulfe Argolicum.
Bœbe, es, A citie and lake of Thessaly.
Bœbêis, éidos, A lake of Thessaly, and a place by it named after Bœbus, the sonne of Glaphyrus.
Boëmia, A royalme called Beame, inclosed with the boundes of Germany, hauinge on the easte Hungary: on the south Bauier: on the west, the countrey Noricum: on the north east Polonia. It is equall in length and breadth, eche of theim being about thrée daies iourney. It is enuironned with the famous forest sylua Hercynia. Through the middell therof passeth the greate ryuer Albis, and the riuer Multania. Upon the ryuage whereof is sette the chiefe citie Braga or Praga. The language there is the Slauoyne tungue. Notwithstandinge in the churches the people are taught in the duche tounge, in the churche yardes they are taught in the beame toungue. They vary from the Romayne church in sundry opinions, and dooe scorne all ceremonies. In some places it is sayed, they pryuily obserue the secte of the Adamites and Waldenses in the acte of lechery: whereof it is wrytten in the woorde Adamitæ.
Boeodurum, A citie in Almayne, nowe called Patauia, or Passawe.
Bœótia, Is a countrey in Greece, wherein was the citie of Thebes: now it is called Vandalia. It was sometime called Aonia, Mesapia, Ogygia, Cadmeis, and Hyantis.
Bœôtus, or Bœótius, a, um, Of Bœotia.
Boëtius, A learned man and Senatour of Rome, in the tyme of Theodoricus.
Boetus, A ryuer in Spayne.
Bogadium, A citie in Germany, called vulgarly Forstleysz.
Boges, A Persian, whiche being besieged of the Athenienses, slewe first his wyfe and children, & after himselfe.
Bogudiana, A parte of the prouince in Afrike, called Tingitana.
Bogus, A kyng of the Mauritaynes, whiche was with Antony at the battayle of Actium.
Bohemia, looke Boëmia.
Bohilla, A towne in Italy.
Boianum, A citie of the Samnites in Italy, called nowe Bouianum.
Boii, People of Burbon in Fraunce, and Bauer in Almayne.
Boin, A towne in Cyrene.
Boion, A towne of Doris in Greece.
Bola, A towne of Campayne in Italy.
Bolbitinum, One of the mouthes of Nylus.
Bolbulæ, A towne, and an ylande in the sea Mediterraneum.
Bolentium, A towne in Hungary, called Rachell spurge.
Bolingæ, People of Asia.
Bomarei, Also people of Asia.
Bombos, A countrey of Cilicia.
Bombus, i. m. gen. The name of a certain diuinour.
Bomilcar, The sonne of Amilcar, a duke of Carthage, whiche was hanged on a gibbet in the middes of Carthage.
Bona dea, Was she that some called Batua, Fauna or Senta, of whom Varro wryteth, that neuer man did see her, nor heare her named, but onely her husbande.
Bonni, Certayne hylles in Aetolia.
Bonónia, A towne of Hetruria.
Bononiénsis, se, Of Bononia.
Bonosus, An Emperour of Rome, & sonne of a scholemaister. He was so great a drynker and quaffer, as neuer any was knowen but he. Of hym Aurelius wryteth, that he was borne not to leade a lyfe, but to lifte a potte. When straunge ambassadours came vnto him, of purpose he would drynke and quaffe vnto them, to make them drunke: to the ende that then he myght the sooner cause them to vtter secreates. Whē he was ouercome by Probus his successour, he hāged him selfe, wherat men scoffed and sayed, it was a tankerde and no man that hunge there.
Booscœte, A citie of Hellesponte.
Boosura, A cytie of Cypres.
Boôtes, tis, and tæ, also Boôtus, ti, A sterre that foloweth Charles wayne.
Borama, A citie of Phenicia.
Borbetomagus, or Vormatia, A towne in Almayne, called Wormes.
Borcani, People of Italy.
Borcobe, A citie of Thrace.
Boreostoma, matis, One of the mouthes of Danubius.
Borion, A promontory of Afrike.
Boron, A towne of the Troglodites.
Borsippa, A towne of Babylon, where is muche woull wrought.
Borysthenes, A great ryuer in the countrey of Scythia. Also a towne.
Borysthenides, People dwellyng by Borysthenes.
Bosphoranus, or Bosphorius, a, um, Of Bosphorus.
Bosphorus, The name of a parte of the sea, whiche lieth in two sundrie coastes, One by Constantinople, an other more northwarde.
Bosra, Botzra, or Bozra, A citie of Idumea.
Botrys, A towne of Syria.
Bottiæi, People of Thrace.
Bouianum, An olde towne in Italy.
Bouillæ, arum, A towne not farre from Rome.

B R

Brabasthenes, An hyll, tenne myles from Lacedemonia.
Brachara, A citie in Spayne, nowe called Bracha.

Bra

Brachata Gallia, Narbone in Fraunce.
Brachodes, A citie in Afrike, called Monexi.
Brachmanes, Philoſophers of India.
Bractia, An yle of Illyricum.
Bragada, A ryuer nere to Utica in Afrike.
Bragæ, Certayne deſerte landes.
Brana, A towne of the Turdulians in Spayne.
Branchidæ, Certaine prieſtes of Apollo, in Poſideum a towne in Ionia.
Branchoſi, People of Aſia.
Brannouites, People of a countrey in Fraunce, called Le vale de Moziane.
Braſidas, A capitaine of Lacedemonia.
Brettia, An yle in the prouince of Meſſa.
Brauron, or Brauion, A towne in the countrey of Athens, where was a chapell of Diana.
Brauum, The citie of Burgus in Spayne.
Breges, Briges, and Phryges, idem.
Bregmenteni, People of Troas.
Brenda, The towne of Bzundule in Italy.
Brennus, A capitaine of the Galles, that buylded the citie Bzennon by Uenice, whiche afterwarde was called Uerone. This manne bzeakynge into Italy with a mightie armie, ouerthzew the Romaines at the ryuer Allia, and afterwarde pzeſſing on to the citie, toke it and burned it all ſauing the capitoll or caſtell, whether the youth of the nobilitie fledde foz ſuccour. When they aſſaulted that alſo, the Romaines agréd with them, that foz a certaine number of talentes in golde, they ſhould rayſe their ſége and departe. Therefoze whyle the golde was weighing, the capitaine Bzennus pulled out his ſwourde, and commaunded them to counterpoyſe that with golde alſo. But when the Romaines refuſed it as a matter vniuſt, and the Galles ſtode in altercation with them, in the meane time Camillus a banyſhed man, that in his abſence was made Dictatour, had gathered a companie of thē that fledde out of the citie, and ſodainly ſetteth vpon the Galles. They vpon the ſodayne beyng much abaſhed, to ſalfe themſelues, left the gold, and with great loſſe of men betoke them ſelues to flight. Camillus, eagrely purſuing thē, dzaue them cleane out of Italie. Bzennus not long after entringe into the temple of Apollo at Delphos to ſpoyle it, by the diſpleaſure and reuengement of the God, killed himſelfe.
Brepium, A pzomontozie of Achaia.
Bretena, called now Brintū, the citie Brindes in Italy.
Bretoſcum, A towne of Poztugall, nowe called Britum.
Bruci, A people of Hungarie, by the ryuer Sauſe.
Brenni, People of the Alpes.
Briareus, A gygant, whiche was of an exceadinge greatneſſe, and had an hundzed armes. He was alſo called Aegæon.
Brias, adis, A citie of the countrey Piſidia, in Aſia.
Brigantes, Were auncient people in the Nozth part of Englande.
Brigantium, A citie in Galicia, called Compoſtelle,
Brigetium, A citie of Spayne, now called Oniodo.
Brigiani, People of the Alpes.
Briſeſſus, An hill in the countrey of Athens.
Briſetum, A mountaine in Athens.
Briſabritæ, People of Aſia.
Briſeis, eidis, A fayze damoſell that was geuen to Achilles, and taken from him by Agamemnon: wherupon grewe great trouble in the Greckes hoſte at the ſiege of Troye.
Briſſeus, a, um, Of Bzila the ſurname of Bacchus.
Britannia, The moſte noble Ile of the wozld, wherin be conteined Englande and Scotlande. It lieth from Germany weſte: from Fraunce and Spayne, weſt nozthweſte. The fourme thereof is like a triangle, and (as ſome haue wzittē) like the blade of a gleyue. The lengthe is extended into the Nozth to the furthermoſt part of Scotlande, called Caſidonia, which Plinius, Solinus, and Martianus, doe agrée to be. 800. miles. The bzedth of it (after Martianus) is. 300. Italyan myles. The nazoweſt dyſtaunce betwene this yle and Caleys landes (called of Plinie Geſſoriacum in Gallia) is. 50. Italyan myles. It is nowe geſſed to be. 30. englyſhe myles. Of the firſte naming of this yle is yet no certain determinatiō, foz almuch as there remayneth no auncient hiſtozy, making thereof remembzaunce, the olde Bzytons bookes (ſuche as weare) beynge all deſtroyed by the Saxons: who indeuoured them ſelfe to extinct vtterly the honozable renoume wō the name of Bzytons, lyke as the Gothes delte with the Romains. Alſo the part of Titus Liuius, where the conqueſt of Bzytayne is remembzed, with the hiſtozies of Julius Ruſticus, and diuers other noble wzyters, that wzate ſpecially of this countrey, are vtterly peryſhed. Suche as remaine, as the commentaries of Julius Cæſar, Cozuelius Tacitus, Diodozus Siculus, and thei that wzate of Coſmographie, haue omitted the oziginall beginning of the name. The hiſtozy of Gyldas the Bzyton can not be founde, who was after the Saxons had inuaded this roialme: and therfoze mought lacke ſuche bookes, as ſhoulde beſte inſtructe hym. As foz Beda ſemeth to haue ſéen nothing wzitten of that matter. Foz where he ſayeth, that this yle toke the name Britannia, of the inhabitauntes of Bzitayne in Fraunce, it is nothing lyke to be true. Foz that countrey was (not long befoze the tyme of Beda) named Armorica & Armoricus tractus, whan this yle was called of moſte auncient wzyters Britannia, and (as Solinus wzyteth) ſéemed to bee an other wozlde, foz as muche as the weſt part of Gallia was thought to be the vttermoſte parte of this wozlde. Alſo Julius Cæſar wzyteth, that the places of this yle were vnknowen to Frēchmen ſauinge to a fewe marchauntes: and yet they knewe no farther, then the ſea coaſte towarde Fraunce. Mozeouer the ſame Bzytons affirme, that it was left among them in remembzaunce, that the innermoſte parte of the countrey, was inhabited of them, which had their fyrſt beginning in the ſame yle. This well conſidered, with the auctoritee of the wryter, both an excellent prince, and alſo a great learned man, and was himſelfe in this yle, it is not to be doubted, but that he moſt diligently ſearched for the true knowledge of the auncientee thereof. And if he mought haue founden, that the inhabitauntes had come of the ſtocke of Eneas, of whoſe progenie he him ſelfe came, he would haue reioyſed muche, for the proweſſe and valiaunt courage, which he commended in them. Moreouer, that the name came of Brutus (whom our wryters imagined to deſcende of Eneas the Troyane) is no more likely, than that this yle was called Albion of Dioclesians daughter, or of whyte rockes. Al the olde Latine hiſtorians agree, that the ſonne of Syluius, the ſeconde in ſucceſſion from Eneas, & of them named the ſonne of Aſcanius, was Eneas, called alſo Syluius. whereunto the Grekes do alſo accorde: but they name Syluius to be brother to Aſcanius, & borne after the death of Eneas, and was therfore called Poſthumus. But neyther the Romaines nor the Grekes doe wryte of any man called Brutus, before Julius Brutus, which expelled Tarquinius out of Rome. Whiche name was alſo geuē to him (by the ſonnes of Tarquine) in deriſion, becauſe they toke him to be fooliſhe and dul witted. Moreouer, there is ſo muche diuerſitee betwene Britannia and Brutus, that it ſeemeth againſt reaſon, that the one ſhould procede of the other. For if Brutus had bene the geuer of the firſt name to this yle, he woulde haue called it Brutia, or Brutica, rather then Britannia, whiche hath no maner proportiō or analogie with Brutus. But now wil I (as I haue done in the word Albion) declare a reaſonable cauſe of conjecture, why this yle was named Britannia. About. 30. yeres ſence, it hapned in wilſhire, at Juy church aboute two myles from Sariſbury, as men digged to make a foundation, they founde an holow ſtone couered with an other ſtone, wherin they founde a booke, hauinge in it little aboue. xx. leaues (as they ſaide) of very thicke volume, wherin was ſome thinge wryten. But when it was ſhewed to preeſtes and chanons, whiche were there, they could not reade it. Wherfore after they had tolled it from one to an other (by the meanes wherof it was torne) they did neglecte and caſt it aſide. Long after a peece therof happened to come to my handes: whiche not withſtandynge it was all to rente and defaced, I ſhewed to maiſter Richard Pace, than chiefe ſecretary to the kynges moſte royal maieſtie, wherof he exceedingly reioyſed. But becauſe it was partely rent, partely defaced and blourred with weate whiche had fallen on it, he could not finde any one ſentence perfecte. Notwithſtandynge after longe beholdynge, he ſhewed me, it ſeemed that the ſaid booke conteined ſome auncient monument of this yle, and that he perceiued this worde Prytania, to be put for Brytannia. But at that tyme he ſayde no more to me. Afterwarde, I geuyng much ſtudy and diligence to the readynge of hyſtories, conſyderynge whereof this worde Britannia firſt came, fyndyng that all the yles in this parte of the Occean, were called Britanniæ, after my firſt conjecture of Albion, remēbringe the ſayde wryterynge, and by chaunce fyndynge in Suidas, that Prytania in greke, with a circumflexed aſpiratiō, doeth ſignifie metalles, fayres and markettes, alſo reuenues belonging to the commune treaſure: I than conceyued this opinion, that the Grekes flouriſhynge in wiſdome, proweſſe, and experience of ſaylynge, beynge entred into the Occean ſea, founde in the yles great plenty of tyn, leade, yron, braſſe, and in diuers places golde and ſyluer in great quantitie, they called all thoſe yles by this generall name Prytania, ſignifiyng the place, by ỳ whiche came out of it, as one would ſay, he wēt to market, when he goeth to Antwerpe, or Barrow: or to the fayre, whan he goeth to Sturbridge: or to his reuenues, whan he goeth to any place, from whence his reuenues dooe come. And yet, becauſe this yle excelled all the other in euery condicion, it was of ſome priuately called Albion, that is to ſay, more happy or rycher. This conjecture approcheth more nigh the true ſimilitude, then the other inuentions, except there be any auncient hiſtory before the tyme of Geffrey of Monmouth or Beda, which may more probably confute that I haue declared. To ſuche wyll I gladly geue place. Finally I thought it alwaies more honourable, to haue receyued the firſt name by ſuche occaſion as I haue reherſed, and the generation of the inhabitaūtes of this lande, to be eyther equall with the moſte auncient, or myxed with the moſt wyſe and valiaunt people of Greece, vanquiſhers and ſubduers of Troianes, than to take the name and firſt generation of a fayne fable, or of a man, if any ſuch were, which after he had ſlayne his father, wandred about the worlde, uncertayne where to dwel. Alſo to aduaunt vs to come of the Troyanes, cauſers of their owne countreis deſtruction, by fauourynge the aduoutry of Paris and Helena, of whom neuer procéded any other notable monument, but that they were alſo breakers of theyr othe and promeſſe. Yet this folye is founde almoſte in all people, which contende to haue their progenitours come fyrſt from Troy. Whiche fantaſie may wel be laughed at, amōge wyſe men. The fayth of Chriſte was fyrſt receiued in this royalme, after the incarnation. 156. yeres.

Britannicus, a, um, Of Bretayne.

Britannus, ni, & Brito, onis, A man of that countrey: an Engliſhe man.

Britona, A nimph of Crete, which fearing to be rauiſhed of Minos, caſte hir ſelfe into the water.

Brixellum,

Brixellum, A towne in Italie, betwéne Mantua & Cremona.
Brixia, or Breſſa, a citie in Italy. also a riuer in Asia.
Brixillum, A towne by Mutina.
Bromius, mii, One of the names of Bacchus.
Bromus, One of the Centaures.
Brontes, A Cyclop, one of Vulcanes seruaunts, and is interpreted thunder.
Bronteus, The surname of Iupiter.
Broteas, One of the Lapithes.
Brotheus, The sonne of Vulcane, who beynge mocked for his vnfauouredneſſe, burned himselfe in the fyre.
Brusitæ, People of Ephesus.
Brundusium, An hauen of the ryuer Atesis.
Brundusium, A citie in the realme of Naples.
Brusa, A citie of Bythinia, builded by Anniball.
Brutii, A people in the extreame borders of Italie. They once were the sheapheardes and heardmen of the Lucanes, whose yoke of bõdage they shoke of, and toke their place of habitation on the further syde of the ryuer Laus. These people were therfore called of the Romaines Bruti, because they weare of brutishe and beastly herte and courage. Whiche name was geuen them in tyme of the second warre of Carthage, when they forsoke the Romaines, and submitted themselues to Anniball. For this their traiterous and vnfaithfull dealynge, they were neuer after in estimation and dignitie, but alway forced to such toyle as was méete for slaues and drugges.
Brutius, a, um, Of the Brutians.
Brutii, People of the realme of Naples toygnynge to Sicilie.
Brutus, The name of a familie in Rome, whereof were diuers very notable men.
Bryazon, A ryuer in Bythynia.
Brygion, A citie of Macedonie.
Bryse, People of Thrace.
Brysani, People of Scythia.
Brysea, A citie of Laconia.
Bryseus, A name of Bacchus.

B V

Bubalus, A peincter of Clazomene.
Bubastis, A citie in Aegypt, wherein was a temple of Diana.
Bubasus, A countrey of Caria.
Bubeium, A countrey of Cyrene.
Bubessus, A goulfe of the sea in Caria.
Bubetani, A people of Campayne.
Bubinda, A ryuer in Irelande.
Bubo, A citie in Lycia.
Bubõna, or Bubónia, The Goddesse of oxen.
Buca, A towne in Italy.
Bucellarii, orum, Weare certayne souldiours of the Romaynes in the east partes, which after they were dimissed, lyued by robbyng and stealynge.
Bucellarius, rii, m. g. One of Gallograecia.
Bucephalus, cephali, m. gen. An horse, whiche woulde suffre no man to come on his backe but onely great kyng Alexander: who syttyng on him did meruailous battayles, and escaped wonderfull daungers. Finally beyng xxx. yeres olde, he died, not of any wounde, but onely by extréme labours and sundry bruises. Ouer whom Alexander builded the citie called Bucephala, after the horses name. This citie is in India, where Alexander vanquished Porus.
Buchia, A place of Ionia.
Bucia, A citie in Sicilie called now Buteria.
Bucinna, A little yle in the Sicilian sea.
Bucolion, the sonne of Laomedon.
Buda, A notable citie in Hungarie, now called Offen, whiche vnder the walles of it toward the northweast syde hath two fountaines or springes, rennyng out of a meane hyll: the one of the which is passing colde & sauoureth of Brimstone, the other so hoate that one can not suffer his finger in it. In the hoate bath are great store of fishes an handfull long, which when they are sodde haue no taste at all.
Budéa, A citie in Magnesia, an other in Phrygia.
Budoræ, Two yslandes by Candie.
Budorgis, The citie Brexlan in Germanie.
Budoris, A citie in Almaine called Heidelbergh, belõging to the Palsgraue or Counte Palatine.
Buges, A ryuer of Scythia in Europe.
Bulgari, A people in the countrey of Moesia, toward Danubius.
Bulis, The name of a citie.
Bulla regia. A towne in Affrike.
Bullenses, A towne and people of Locris.
Bullẽum, A towne in Englande called Witlan.
Bullidensis, A towne of Macedonie.
Bulua, A citie of Liburnia, now called Budua.
Bunitium, A towne in Germanie, called Sund.
Bura, A citie in the goulfe by Corinthe, which was swallowed of the sea.
Burchana, A famouse yle in Pontus.
Burdegala, vel Burdigala, Burdeur in Gascoyne.
Burgundia, Burgoyne.
Burgundiones, Burgonions.
Buris, A citie of Achaia.
Buris, loke Bura.
Bursaonenses, People of Spayne.
Burtina, A towne of Spayne called also Burbastro.
Busiris, A citie of Aegypt, in the dominion of Busiris: the Aegyptians call it Solis vrbs, the Grækes call it Thebæ.
Busiris, siris, or siridis, The sonne of Neptunus, whiche he begotte on Libye the daughter of Epaphus, who fedde his horses with mens fleshe, and was slaine at last by Hercules, as he would haue slayne him.
Butes, The sonne of Amycus kynge of Bebrycia, who for the cruelte of his father, beyng expelled out of the royalme, came into Sicilie, and was with great fauour interteyned of the famous strumpet Lycaste. By hir afterwarde he hadde a sonne called Eryx. This Lycaste for hir passinge beautie and fauour was called Venus:

whereof rose the opinion and fable, that Butes on Uenus begatte the famous champion Eryx. Butes, is also the sonne of Cecrops, and a ryuer in Scythia.

Buthos, A towne of Aegypte.

Buthrotum. or Buthrotium, A towne in Epyre.

Buthus, A certaine wrestler.

Butra, An yle néere to Candie.

Butua, A citie in Liburnia.

Butuntinenses, People of Calabre in Italy.

Buxentum, A towne that the Gréekes call Pyxonta.

Buzæ, People of Indie.

Buzeri, People of the countrey Themiscyra in Asia.

Buzigêus, An hyll of Thessalie.

B Y

Byblesia, A citie of Asia.

Byblis. A little rounde yle in the sea Mediterraneum. Also the daughter of Miletus, who beynge enamoured on hir owne brother Caunus, and of him neglected, died for sorowe.

Byblus, A citie of Phœnicia, called now Caeta.

Bycus, A ryuer of Sarmatia, called now Buges.

Byrsa, A castell in the middes of the citie of Carthage, in the toppe whereof was Aesculapius his temple. Of the begynnynge of this castell it is thus written. Dido arriuynge fyrst on the coastes of Lybia, was forbidden there to rest by Hyarbas kynge of that countrey, fearynge lest she with hir company would occupy some great parte of his dominion. She therefore craftely desyred to bye of him onely so muche grounde as myghte be compassed with a beastes hyde. Whiche thinge when she had obteyned, she dyd cutte the beastes hyde into small thonges, and therwithall compassed. xxii. furlonges called Stadia, on the whiche she builded the citie after named Carthage. The castell she called, after the beastes hyde, Byrsa.

Byzacium, A countrey of Affrike.

Byzantium, A citie of Thrace, nowe called Constãtinople, sometyme builded by Pausanias duke of Spartanes, the inhabitauntes whereof were called Byzantii. Afterwarde it was augmented by Constantine the emperour, & was the chiefe & head of all the empyre orientall. It is now vnder the Turke, who wanne it in the yere. 1453.

Byzenus, The sonne of Neptunus, who vsed suche a libertie in spéeche, that therof grew this prouerbe Byzeni libertas.

Byzeri, or Byzeres, looke Buzeri.

C A

Cabala, A tradition of the Jewes, left amonge them by Moyses without writyng, but from the father to the sonne, & so continually in their generations, wherin is cõcluded the vnderstanding as wel of the secretes of nature, as ẏ mistical sense included in ẏ woordes of holy scripture.

Cabalaca, A towne of Albania in Asia.

Cabalia, A countrey of the lesse Asia, the people wherof be called Cabalii.

Cabalinus fons, The well called also Helicon, aboute whiche was the most haunt of the nyne muses.

Cabellio, The towne of Cauaillon in Narbon.

Cabera, The daughter of Protheus, whiche had. iij. sonnes by Uulcane, called Caberi, or Cabiri, and as many daughters, called Caberidæ.

Caberon, A ryuer in Asia.

Cabiri, The sonnes of Cabera.

Cabullinum, A citie in Fraunce.

Cabyle, A citie in Thrace.

Cabyria, A citie in the lower Asia, although Cabyrii be people in India.

Cacidini, People of Scythia.

Cacirini, People of Sicilie.

Cacus, A famous sheaphearde of great and mightie strength, who, beside other notable robberies, stole some of the Oxen that Hercules broughte in his herde out of Spayne, after he had slaine the cruell tyranne Geryon. At which tyme, that the track of the beastes might not be espied, this Cacus drue the oxen backewarde by the tayles into his caue. Hercules therfore missynge some of the number of his beastes, went towarde the nexte denne to séeke them. But, because he sawe all the steppes fromwarde, he mistrusted not the place. Afterwarde passynge by the same denne with his droue of beastes, those that Cacus had stollen wantynge theyr company, as the nature of them is, did below: whiche thinge Hercules perceiuynge made towarde the caue, and, when Cacus woulde haue stopped him from entrance, with his clubbe slue him. This Cacus of Poetes is imagined to be Uulcanes sonne, and to cast fyre and smoke out of his mouth, of personage bygge, and of strength mightie and terrible, which happily they feigned, because he was dreadfull to the countrey where he abode, and spoyled all places with swoorde and fyre.

Cadducii, People of Media.

Cadi, A citie of Phrygia.

Cadiscus, An hill in Candie.

Cadmea, The citie of Thebes.

Cadmeides, patronimicum.

Cadmeius, a, um, & Cadmeus, a, um, of Cadmus.

* Cadmea victoria, A prouerbe applied to that victorie wherof commeth more harme then good, or that it were better to lose then get. Reade hereof in Chil. Erasmi.

Cadmus, A prynce, the sonne of Agenor, and brother to Europa: who builded Thebes, and brought out of Phœnicia into Greece, sixtene letters, and founde out the fusynge and casting of metalles. This man (as poetes feygne) was sent by his father Agenor to séeke his sister Europa, whom Jupiter vnder the fourme of a whyte bull, had stolen away and caryed into Crete. When he coulde not fynde his sister, nor durste for feare of his fathers displeasure retourne home into his countreye, he stayed in

Bœotia,

Bœotia, not farre from the mountayne Parnasus. In that place certaine of his companie, that he sente for water, weare slayne of a serpente: whiche serpente Cadmus afterwarde dyd slea, & sowed his téeth in the earth, whereof sodainly rose vp a number of armed men. They all immediately fyghtynge one with an other, kylled themselues, sauynge fyue that accompanied Cadmus in buildynge his newe citie of Thebes. In the ende Cadmus beynge dryuen out of his kyngdome by Amphion and Zethus, fledde to the Illyrians: where, by the power of the gods, he was tourned into a serpent. There was an other Cadmus, the first that euer wrate in prose. Also an hill in Asia.

Cadueni, People in Caria.

Cadurci, Cahors in Fraunce.

Cadytis, A greate citie in Syria.

Cæa, or Cæos, & after some Cea, An yle in the sea called Aegeum, where sylke woormes were fyrste founde. It is the countrey of Hippocrates, the prince of phisitions.

Cæcilius, The name of dyuers notable men: one was so ryche, that notwithstandynge a greatte parte of his goodes was destroyed with ciuyle warre, yet he had lefte. 4116. seruauntes. 360. yoke of oxen: of other cattell. 257000. in money 600. HS

Cæcinos, An hyll in Sicilie.

Cæcubum, A towne of Campayne in Italy, where is made good wyne.

Cæcubus, a, um, The adiectiue.

Cæculus, Was coũted Vulcanes son. As his mother satte by the fyer, a sparke happened to lyght into hir lappe: by which (she sayed) she was conceyued with childe. When hir full tyme was come, she was delyuered of a sonne: whom, because he hadde verye small eyes, she called Cæculus. Of him the family of Cæcilians in Rome, woulde séeme to haue theyr begynnynge.

Cædicus, The name of an excéedynge ryche man.

Cæditiæ, Certayne houses or tauernes, builded by one Cæditius.

Cæix, vide Cæyx.

Cælestini, People of Umbria.

Cælifer, The surname of Atlas, whom poetes feigne to beare vp heauen.

Cæliculum, A place where was a temple of Diana.

Cælimontanus, a, um, Of the hyll Cælius.

Cælius, The name of diuers notable men: of which one was an Oratour, an other a Pretor of Rome.

Cælius mons, One of the. vii. hylles that Romulus enclosed.

Cælos, An hauen in Thrace.

Cælus, The father of Saturnus and Titan.

Cæne, A citie aboute the goulfe of Laconia, and a a little yle in the Sicilian sea.

Cæneus, A very experte warriour of Thessalie.

Cænica, A countrey of Thrace.

Cænina, A towne of Latium.

Cænis, A promontory of Italy.

Cænis, The daughter of Elatheus, one of the Lapithes, who beynge rauyshed of Neptune, obteyned to be tourned into a man, and had the gyfte, that no weapon could wound hir.

Cænites, An hauen of Achaia.

Cæpori, People of Spayne.

Cære, vndeclined, and Cærête, tis, n. g. was an aunciente citie of Tuscia.

Cæretanus amnis, A ryuer that ranne by the citie called Cære.

Cæretum, A towne of Umbria.

Cærites, People of the citie Cære.

Cæsar, The surname of the house of the Julians in Rome, eyther because the fyrste of that stocke was cutte out of his mothers wombe, or for that he had Cæsios oculos, terrible glisterynge eyes, or (as some wyll) gray eyes. Of this name moste notable was Julius Cæsar, Consull and companion in office with Bibulus, in the. 695. yere after Rome was builded. In ninetéene yeres space this man conquered and subdued to the Romayne empyre all the countrey of Fraunce, bounded within the mountaynes Pyrenei, and the Alpes, with the ryuers Rhodanus and Rhyne. Firste of all the Romaines, he makynge a brydge ouer Rhyne, assauted the Germaines, and put them to muche scathe. He entred this countrey of Brytayne also, and made a parte of it tributary. In the ende, when he could not obteyne of the Senate, in consyderation of his valiaunt actes, to be chosen Consull in his absence, he tourned his power against his countrey, by force intendynge to wynne that, which by fayre meanes he could not obtayne: therefore he commynge vppon a suddayne without resistance, gotte into his handes Lumbardie, Pice, Umbria, and Tuskane, and caused Pompey to flée out of Italie into Gréee. Then, he strikynge backe into Spayne, ouercame there the greate armie that Pompey had lefte in the guydynge of thrée capitaines, Petreius, Afranius, and Varro. This thynge beynge atchiued with such prosperous successe, he wente into Gréece against Pompei, whom in a great battaile in the fieldes of Pharsalia he ouerthrewe. Afterwarde he vanquished kyng Ptolomie in Aegypt, Scipio and Juba in Affrike, and Pompeies sonne in Spayne, and for his victories triumphed. v. tymes. Of this man and Pompei it was saide, that they weare of so haute courages, that the one could not abyde an equall, the other a superiour: whiche their immoderate affections and desyre of superioritée, brake out in the ende, to a most dreadfull ciuile warre, wherwith al the world almost was vered and troubled, not onely with the losse of many thousande souldiours, but also of a greatte number of woorthy & noble men of great fame and renoume.

Cæſar Auguſta, A citie in the roialme of Arragon, called alſo Sarragoſſa. It was fyrſt called Numantia. Ptholomeus and Strabo call it Auguſta Cæſarea.

Cæſarea, A citie of the countrey of Paleſtina. Alſo of Mauritania. An other of Cappadocia, an other of Apamia.

Cæſareus, a, um, and Cæſariânus, a, um, Perteynynge to Cæſar.

Cæſarienſes, People of Jonia. Plinius lib. 5. cap. 25.

Cæſarium, A marte towne in Aegypt.

Cæſarobricenſes. People of Portugall.

Cæſenna, A citie in Italy, the people whereof bée called Cæſennâtes.

Cætobrix, A citie of Portugall, called alſo Cæzimbra.

Cæus, a, um, Of the yle called Cæa.

Cæyx, cæycis, A kynge of Thrace. vide Halcyon.

Caffrani, Ydolatours dwellynge in Indie the more, whiche worſhippe diuelles in moſte terrible fygure, beléeuyng, that they are permitted of god, to puniſhe or ſpare mē at theyr pleaſure, wherfore vnto them they ſacrifyce their children, and ſometyme themſelues. They haue many wyues, but they company not with them, vntyll they be defloured by other hyred for that purpoſe. Alſo they ſuffre their prieſtes to haue carnall company with their wyues in their abſēce. They haue bulles and kyne in great reuerence, but they neuer eate fleſhe, their ſuſtinaunce is ryce, ſuger, and diuers ſwéte rootes, thei drinke the licour that commeth of rype dates.

Caiani, Heretykes that worſhippe Cayn, ſaiynge that he was made of the one vertue or power, that is, of the dyuel, and Abel of the other, and that the vertue of Cayn preuayled ſo, that he ſlewe Abell. They ſay Judas was a godly man, and his acte a benefyte to mankynde: for he perceiuinge howe muche the paſſion of Chriſte ſhoulde preuayle, delyuered him to the Iewes, that by his death man might be redéemed. They affirme that the olde lawe was naught, and deny the generall reſurrection.

Caianus, a, um, Of Caius.

Caici, People of Germanie, dwellynge by the Rheyne.

Caicus, a ryuer of Phrygia, whiche renneth out of Mylia. Alſo one of the companions of Aeneas.

Caieta, A citie and hauen in Campayne, Seruius in 10. Aenēidos.

Cain, The firſte ſonne of Adam, who had to wyfe his owne ſiſter, whiche of Philo is named Themech: he firſt builded cities. And for enuy he ſlewe his brother Abell: wherefore beynge in deſperation, he continually wandred, and his bodye trembled. Finally he was ſlayne by Lamech, whan he was of the age of. 730. yeres, after Philo.

Cainas, A ryuer in Scythia, whiche renneth into Ganges.

Caius, A proper name of a man.

Caius Cæſar Octauianus, looke in Auguſtus.

Cálaber, a, um, Of Calabre.

* Calabri hoſpitis xenia, A prouerbe ſpoken of ſmall tryfelynge gyftes, more troubleſome then pleaſaunte.

Calabra, A conuocation place, where mattiers concernyng deuotion were treated.

Calabria, A countrey ioygninge to Naples, called before Magna Græcia. The inhabitauntes of this countrey are reported to haue ſo great plentie of fruites, that they can not well tell what to dwe with them. Wherefore when theyr friendes and ſtraungers comme to theyr houſes, vnder coulour of gentleneſſe they wyll preaſſe vpon them very earneſtly to take ſome with them. Hereof ryſeth the prouerbe, Calabri hoſpitis munera, For tryfelynge preſentes or gyftes, and ſuche as be rather a bourden then a pleaſure to him that taketh them. Alſo an yſlande called before Meſſapia.

Calabris, calabre, vel Calabricus, ca, cum, Of Calaber.

Calæ, arum, A citie in India.

Calenum, vide Calenum.

Calagurium, A towne in Biſkay.

Caligurtani, People of Calagurium.

Calais, The ſonne of Boreas by his wyfe Orithya, whom Poetes feygne to haue wynges. He, together with his brother Zethus, that in lyke manner hadde wynges, accompanyed the Argonautes to attayne the golden flice. In this voyage, for ſo muche as they were verye courteyſly intertayned of kynge Phineus: in recompence of his bountie and gentyneſſe, they appoynted to dryue out of his countreye the rauenous and monſtruous foules called Harpyes, whiche meruayloully dyd annoye him in ſpoylynge of his vitayles and prouiſion. Wherefore by the helpe of their wynges, and cunnynge in ſhootynge, they chaſed thoſe foule byrdes into the Ilandes called Plotæ, and there were admoniſhed by Iris the goddeſſe, that they ſhoulde no farther chaſe Jupiters dogges. In the ende the two wynged brothers weare ſlayne of Hercules, and tourned into wyndes, whiche commonly begynne to blowe eyght dayes before the Canicular ſterre dooeth ryſe in ſommer, and therefore are called Præcurſores, and Prodromi.

Calamis, idis, A famous ingrauer. Plinius libro. 34. cap. 7. But Ouide calleth him Calais.

Calamiſus, A towne in Locris.

Calamos, A towne in Aſia, by the hyll Lybanus, Plin. lib. 5. cap. 20.

Calanus, A philoſopher of Indie, who beynge of the age of. 71. yeres, dyd in the preſence of great Alexander, make a great bonefyre, and fælynge him ſelfe ſicke, went into the toppe thereof, and burned him ſelfe. Quint. Curtius lib. 10. Strabo libro. 15.

Calapis,

Calapis, A notable ryuer in Hungary.
Calaris, A citie in Sardinia.
Cálathis, The name of a citie.
Calathusa, An yle betweene Cherſonnelus and Samothrace.
Calatiæ, A citie of Italy.
Calatis, A citie of Thrace.
Calatus, The ſonne of Iupiter and Antiope.
Calaurea, or Calauria, An yſande in the ſea Mediterraneum, where Demoſthenes poyſoned himſelfe.
Calbis, A ryuer of Caria.
Calchas, A greeke ſouthſaier, the ſonne of Theſtor, who wente to Troye with the Grecians, and taughte them by his connynge many thinges to come. When their naue at the fyrſte was ſtayed in Aulis, he inſtructed Agamemnon how Diana hir wrath mighte be appeaſed. And afterwarde by ſeeynge a ſerpente clyme into a tree, and eate twelue yonge ſparowes together with their damme, he declared that Troye ſhoulde be ten yeres in takynge. When Troye was deſtroyed, as he retourned homewarde by lande with Amphilochus, at the citie Colophon he happened into the company of the excellente ſouthſaier Mopſus. Of whom becauſe he was paſſed in his ſcience, he dyed for ſorowe.
Calce, A citie of Campayne.
Calciope, The ſiſter of Abſyrtus, and daughter of Aëta kyng of Colchos.
Cale, es, A citie in Campayne.
Calecut, A famouſe citie in Indie the moſte, ſoyngynge to the Indian ſea, where is the greatteſt marte and recourſe of marchaũtes in all Indie, not onely from the countreies adioynynge, but alſo out of Arabie, Syria, Ethiope, Lybia, and Egypte, for to ſell and bye all maner of ſpyces, ſweete gummes, muſke, ambregrice, and myrobalanes. The kinge of that countrey his ryches is ineſtimable: and although he weareth no garmentes, yet his necke, armes, and legges bee adorned with diamondes, ſaphires, rubies, emeraudes, and balayſes, wonderfull greate and fayre. The kynge and people be Idolatours, called Caffrani, loke there.
Caledon, vide Calydon.
Calegia, The citie Wittenberg in Germanie.
Calena, næ, fœm. gen. A towne in Englande called Oxforde: wherein is the fyrſte and chiefe vniuerſitee of chriſtendome, flouriſhyng in all kinde of learnynge.
Calendaris, The ſurname of Juno, to whom all Calendes were dedicated.
Caleni, People of Campayne.
Calenum, A citie in the countrey of Naples.
Cales, A towne or people in Campayne, where is very good wyne, called Calenum vinum.
Caleſtra, A citee in the ſea coaſt of Italie.
Caletæ, The towne of Calice. Alſo an yſande by Samothrace.
Caletranus ager, A place in Italy.

Calicadnus, A ryuer of Cilicia.
Calicula, A towne in Spayne.
Caligula, An emperour called alſo Caius, who ſucceded Tyberius, and was ſonne of the noble Germanicus, and hadde the name Caligula geuen to him by the men of warre whiche were with his father, becauſe he beynge a child in the cãpe, did weare little greaues, or harneſſe bootes, called Caligæ. For his lyfe looke Suetonius & Sabellicus.
Calingæ, m. gen. A people in India, where women bryng forth children at .v. yeres of age, and liue not paſte .viii. yeres.
Calingii, People of Aſia.
Calingon, n. g. A promontory of India.
Calinipaxa, f. g. A citie in Scythia.
Calinus, m. g, A certayne ymage maker.
Caliphus, phi, maſ. gen. Was the name of dygnitie of the kynge of Aegypte, from the yere of our lorde. 704. vntyll the yere. 1050. that Almericus kynge of Hieruſalem, made warre on Aegypt: and the Calife ſente to the ſouldan of Babylon for ſuccoure, whiche ſente an army with one Sarraco, who fyrſt expelled the Chriſten men, and afterwarde dyd caſte the Calife in priſon, and takynge on him the rule, cauſed himſelfe to be called the ſouldan of Aegypt. Caliphus is alſo the dignitie of him, that is the chiefe biſhop of Machometes lawe.
Calipolis, or Callipolis, A citie in Thrace by Helleſponte: an other in Macedonie. Alſo one of the yles called Aeolidæ.
Calirhoë, or rather Callirhoë, The name of two fountaynes: the one by Hieruſalẽ, the water whereof is medicinable, and healeth many ſickneſſes; the other is by Athens, and hath .ix. heades. Alſo the name of a citie, & the daughter of Lycus.
Caliſthenes, or rather Calliſthenes, A philoſopher, diſciple to Ariſtotle, whom great Alexander toke with him in his conqueſt, for his excellent learnynge and wyſedome, and had him in greatte honour. But afterwarde Alexander imbraſynge the pryde of the Perſians, and commaundynge the Macedons to honour him proſtrate, (after the maner of the Perſians) and to call him the ſonne of Jupiter, Caliſthenes rebuked and diſſwaded him from that folye. Wherefore Alexander commaunded his armes and legges to be cutte of, and lykewyſe his eares, noſe, and lyppes, and to be throwen into a dungeon: whoſe greeuous paynes and deformitee, one Lyſimachus, a noble man, pitiynge, gaue to him poyſon, whereof he dyed.
Caliſto, The daughter of Lycaon, and mother of Archas, whiche gaue the name to the countrey of Archadia, who poetes feigned to be tranſformed into a beare by Juno, after that Jupiter had defloured hir.
Calithoë, The name of a fountayne.
Callaici, People of Portugall.
Callaicus, a, um, Of that people.

Callet, A towne in Spayne.
Callias, A poete of Athens, the ſonne of Lyſimachus, whiche made ropes to get his lyuynge. It was alſo a noble capitayne of the Atheniens ſente againſt Artaxerxes.
Callicles, A certayne ymage maker.
Callicrates, m.g A kerner, whiche in yuorie kerued Emotes, and other ſmall beaſtes ſo finely, that the partes might ſcantly be ſéene. Alſo the name of a great rych man, and of a iudge of Athens.
Callidromus, A mountayne in Créece.
Callimachus, The name of a poete of Cyrene, the ſonne of Battus, one of the ouerſeers of Ptolomeus library. Alſo the name of a cunning grauer.
Callinicus, A ſophiſter of Syria, whiche wrote the geſtes of Alexander.
Calliope, pes, f.g. One of the nyne Muſes, which excelled all the other in ſwéetneſſe of voyce. Of ſome ſhe is taken for the goddeſſe of Rhetorike: of other for the goddeſſe of Poetrie.
Callipidæ, People of Scythia in Europe, by the ryuer Hypanis.
Callipo, A philoſopher, whiche in his teachynge ioygned doluptie with honeſtie.
Callipolis, vide Calipolis.
Callippus, One of Athens, whiche was ſlayne of the Syracuſans in Sicilie, becauſe he attempted tyranny after Dionyſius.
Callirhoë, The daughter of Lycus, a cruell tyrranne, that vſed to ſacrifice his gueſtes. Loke more in Calirhoë.
Calliſthenes, vide Caliſtenes.
Calliſtratus, A certayne ymage maker.
Callon, An other ymage maker.
Caloſtoma, One of the mouthes of the ryuer Danubius.
Calpas, An hauen in Bythinia, or after Strabo, a ryuer.
Calpe, One of the mountaines called Hercules pillers, by which is the paſſage out of the Spanyſh ſea, into the ſea Mediterraneum. Alſo the name of a citie in Granado.
Calphurnia, A ſtoute & bolde gentlewoman of Rome. She, ſo farre paſſed the boundes of womanly moderation and modeſtie, that ſhe came into the open courtes of iudgement, and there in pleadynge hir owne cauſe, was ſo importune and vnreaſonable vpon the iudges, as ſhe gaue therby occaſion of a lawe to be made, that neuer woman after ſhoulde openly pleade cauſe in courtes of iudgement.
Calpurni, People that had theyr begynnyng of Calpo the ſonne of Numa.
Caluaria, æ, f.g. A common place of buryall. Some men ſuppoſe it was the place, where Adam the firſte man was buried.
Caluiſius Sabinus, A very rych man in Rome, which had ſo ſmall remembraunce, that ſometyme he forgatte the name of Ulliſſes, ſometime of Achilles, ſometyme of Priamus, whiche before he knew as perfectly as children doe their tutours. And becauſe he woulde be ſéene to be learned, he found this ready way. He bought diuers ſlaues, of which one had the workes of Homer by hert: an other, Heſiodus: lykewiſe to euery of the .ix. poetes called Lyrici, he appoynted a ſeruaunt to learne by herte. Whan he had gotten this company, at ſupper they ſhould ſit vnder the bourde at his feete. Of whō he receiuyng verſes, would appoſe them that ſatte with him. yet ſometime he forgat the middell of the verſe. Notwithſtandyng he thought he knew as much as any in his houſe. A mery felow, called Satellius, perceyuynge his foly, exhorted him to wraſtle, beynge leane, ſicke, and' pale. Then ſayde Caluiſius, how ſhoulde I wraſtle, ſence vnneth I may liue for féblenelle? Oh ſay not ſo (quoth Satellius) I pray you, ſée you not what a ſorte of tall fellowes you haue to your ſeruauntes?
Calvus, An auncient poete.
Calyba, A citie of Thrace.
Calycadnus, vide Calicadnus.
Calydiū, A towne in Italy, in the way called Appia.
Calydne, or Calydna, A towne of Caria. Alſo one of the yles called Sporades.
Cálydon, A citie of Aetolia in Créece.
Calydonia ſylua, A greate forelt in Scotlande, wherin were whyte bulles and kyne, which had manes lyke to lyons.
Calypſo, The daughter of Atlas, or after ſome of Oceanus and Tethys, a nymph or woman of the ſea, whiche reigned in the yle Ogygia, and receiued Ulliſſes when he eſcaped drowynynge.
Camacæ, A people of Scythia.
Camæ, An other people of Scythia.
Camalodunum, A citie of Brytaine.
Camara, A citie of Candie.
Camarica, A towne of Spayne, called alſo Victoria.
Camarina, A marrice or fenne in Sicilie, by a citie of the ſame name, the ſtinkyng waters wherof, when they ingendred a plague, the inhabitauntes conſulted with Apollo, whether it ſhould be profitable for them to dry that marrice or no: to whom the Oracle aunſwered, that it woulde not be good for them. Notwithſtanding the coūſayle of the Oracle, they by trenches founde meanes to drye the marrice, by which place not longe after theyr ennemies entred and ſpoyled their citie. Wherof roſe this prouerbe. Camarinam ne moueas, that is, Be not cauſe of more miſchiefe to thy ſelfe.
Cambala, orum, A place in Aſia, wheare bee golde mynes.
Cambalidus mons, A parte of the mountayne Caucaſus.
Cambalu, A great citie in the countrey of Cathay, whiche is in circuite .xl. myles ſtrongly walled, and hath .xij. gates. In the myddell therof is the palaice of the great Cham or Cane of Cathay, called the palaice of iuſtice, which conteineth in circuite.

circuite.liij.myles: and in it be fowre great pillers of fyne golde.

Cambodunum, A citie in Weſtphalia, called Monachum, and Munchen, whiche late was deſtroied becauſe the people maynteined the hereſie of the Anabaptiſtes.

Cambolectri, People of Narbon in Fraunce.

Cambuſis, A citie of Ethiope.

Cambyſes, A kynge of Perſia, the ſonne of Cyrus. It is alſo the name of a ryuer in the countrey of Hircania.

Camelani, People of Italy.

Camerina, idem quod Camarina.

Camerinum, A towne of Italy, in the countrey of Picenum.

Camers, An adiectiue of Camerinum.

Camertes, The inhabitauntes of Camerinum.

Camertinus, a, um, idem quod Camers.

Cameſes, The companion of Janus.

Camilla, A woman of the Volſcians, whiche ayded Turnus againſt Eneas and the Latins.

Camillus, The ſurname of a noble Romayn, which was Dictatour fiue times, and triumphed foure tymes, who was of ſo gentyll a courage toward his countrey, that notwithſtandinge the people of Rome had expelled hym, yet whan the Galles hadde taken the citie of Rome, and compelled the Romaynes to redeme their heades with golde, he perſwading the people, called Ardeates, with whom he lyued in exyle, to ſuccour the citie, entred with them er any man was ware of his comyng, and ſlewe and diſcomfited the Galles, and ſaued or rather reſtored the citie from bondage. He was before the incarnation. 350. yeres. of his actes reade Val. Max. lib. i. c. 5. li. 2. c. 4. li. 5. ca. 3. Liuium, Decad. 1. li. 5. 6. et. 7.

Caminus, A citie in Rhodes.

Camœna, næ, fœ. ge. One of the. ix. Muſes.

Camœnæ, arum, fœ. gen. The. ix. Muſes.

Campania, A countrey in the royalme of Naples: Whiche was accompted the moſt fertile & pleaſaunt countrey of all the worlde.

Campanus, a, um, Of Campania.

Camponi, People of Aquitaine.

Campſiani, People of Germany.

Campus Martius, A fielde nyghe Rome, and ioyning to the ryuer of Tyber, where the Romaines not only exercyſed themſelues in rennyng, leapyng, wraſtlyng, and ſwymming, but alſo had their aſſemblies for the election of great officers in the common weale.

Cana, A certayne promontorie.

Canaan, The ſonne of Cam, the ſonne of Noe, of whom cometh Cananæus.

Canace, The daughter of Aeolus, and ſyſter of Macareus. When hir father vnderſtode that ſhe was delyuered of a childe, begotten by inceſte of hir owne brother, he caſte the babe to be deuoured of dogges, and by his garde ſent his daughter a ſwourde to kyll hir ſelfe: what ſhe dyd, it is not written. But fearing extremitie, Macha-reus fledde to Delphos, and there became Apollos prieſte.

Canaius, A ryuer of Aeolis.

Canan, The countrey called Arabia.

Cananæa, A parte of Syria, nowe called Judea.

Cananitis regio, idem.

Canariæ inſulæ, Iles in the great Ocean. 400. miles from Spayne, whiche ſome ſuppoſe to be thoſe that of the olde wryters are called Inſulæ fortunatæ: the newe names of theim be theſe, Lanzelota, Fortis ventura, Magna canaria, Tenerife, Gomera, Palma, and Ferrea. In theſe yles of late yeres grewe great numbre of canes, wherein was ſuger: but either by diſtemperaunce of weather, or by conies, whiche ſome men ſuppoſe weare brought thither, that commoditie is almoſte deſtroyed.

Canarii, People of Afrike.

Canas, A towne of Lycia.

Canaſtræum, A promontorie of Macedonie, by the gouife Thermaicus.

Canatha, A towne in the region of Decapolis, in Syria.

Cancer, One of the twelue ſignes, ſo called becauſe in June when the ſunne is in that ſigne, it beginneth by little and little to goe backeward frō vs, in maner of the crabbe fiſh. This (ſaieth Hyginus) was the terrible Crabbe that Juno ſette vpon Hercules as he was fighting with the mōſter Hydra. Whiche, for ſo muche as it did byte hym by the foote, Hercules killed, and Juno after placed it among the ſignes.

Canchlei, People of Arabie.

Candace, ces, and Candax, acis, A queene of Aethiope.

Candaria, A promontory in the yle of Cos.

Candauiæ, Mountaines in Macedonie.

Candaules, A tyran of Sardis, whiche by foolyſhe dottage, thynkyng his wyfe the fayreſt woman in the worlde, ſhewed hir naked to his familiar friende Gyges: for whiche cauſe he was after murdered by the ſame Gyges, through the counſell of his wyfe.

Candebœa, A fenne at the foote of the mountayne Carmelus.

Candei, People of Arabie, whiche vſe to eate ſerpentes: and therfore be called Ophiophagi.

Candidum, A promontory of the countrey Zeugitana in Afrike.

Candyba, A citie in Lycia.

Cane, A towne of Aeolis.

Caniculæ, læ, fœ. gen. A ſterre whereof the canicular and dogge dayes be named Dies caniculares.

Canidia, A woman of Naples, whom Horace rateth as a witche or ſorcereſſe.

Caninius, One that was Conſull of Rome onely ſeuen houres.

Canis, A ſterre in the firmament, ryſinge the. xvij. Calendes of Auguſt, and going downe within 40. daies after. In whych tyme, being called the dogge daies, this ſterre ioyning wᵗ the ſunne in ỹ myddes of the firmament, doubleth the heate.

Whereof it taketh the name, because the heate so parcheth as it may seme, as a dogge to byte. Poetes feigne that this was the dogge that Iupiter apointed to watche Europa, and afterwarde for his diligent ministery set him in heauen as a sterre.

Cannacas, A kyng of Phrygia, who foreseynge the deluge, made great lamentation.

Cannæ, arum, A towne in the countrey of Apulia in Italy, wheare a great hoste of the Romaynes was slayne by Anniball.

Cannenses, Men of the saide towne.

Cannius, A poete in the tyme of Martiall, whiche was so mery of nature, that he laughed alway.

Canobus, The maister of Menelaus shyppe. Looke Canopus.

Canópus, A meruailous bright sterre. Also his name that was maister of Menelaus shyppes, whiche beyng dead in an yle, at the entre of Nilus, caused that yle to be called by his name, and was there honoured for a God. Of whom this prette historie is remembred of Suidas. The people of dyuers countreis contendynge for the preeminence of their goodis, agreed, that those ydols, whiche were vanquyshed by any notable experience, shoulde giue place to the vanquysher. A priest of Canopus, a wittie felowe, gat a water potte full of small holes, and stopping the holes with ware, fylled it full of water, peynted it, made it in fourme of an ydoll, and did craftyly set it on the olde ymage, knowynge that the Chaldeies, honouryng the fyre for god, did cary it about into all countreis, and consumed therewith all other ydols, made of metall and other mattier. But whan they came to Canopus, and did sette the fyre aboute hym, the ware melted quickly, and the water distillyng in to the fyre, quenched it. Wherefore Canopus was demed vanquisher and chiefe of the goddis.

Cantabri, People of a countrey in Spayne called nowe Biscay.

Cantábricus, a, um, Of Biskay.

Cantarus, A comicall poete of Athens.

Cántharus, A signe in the firmament, cõteynyng. iij. sterres.

Canthus, The sonne of Abas, and companion of Iason.

Cantiobis, The citie Amberg in Germany.

Cantium, The countrey of Kent.

Canuleius, A tribune of the Romaynes.

Canusinátus, a, um, Arayed with the cloth made of the wull of Canusium.

Canusinus, a, um, Of Canusium.

Canusium, A towne in the coũtrey of Apulia, where is very fine woulle, called Canusina lana, and is ruddy of colour.

Capaneus, Thre syllables, the housband of Euadne, and one of the seuen capitaines that besieged Thebes, where he first inuented scalynge with ladders, and was there slayne with stones caste from the walle.

Capaneus, and Capanéius, The adiectiue.

Capara, A towne of Portugall, called commonly Caparea.

Capélla, læ, fœ. ge. A certaine sterre.

Capêna, A towne by Rome, by the fountayne Aegeria. Also a gate in Rome, otherwyse called Appia porta, where is a water consecrated to Percury, vsed in diuers ceremonies.

Capenâtes, People of Capena.

Caper, and Caprus, pri, mas. gen. The name of an olde grammariã. Also a ryuer rennyng by Laodicea.

Capetus, The name of a kyng of Alba.

Caphareus, Thre syllables, a mountayne in Grece, by whiche the grekes nauy was sore afflicted for the death of Palamedes.

Caphareus, a, um, Of Caphareus.

Capharnaum, The chiefe citie in Galilé.

Capheris, An yle by Samothrace.

Capillati, People of the Alpes.

Capissenæ, People of Asia, dwellyng in the citie Capissa.

Capitália, An highe hyll in Indie.

Cápito, ónis, mas. gen. A learned man that translated the epitome of Liuie & Eutropius into greke.

Capitolinus, The surname of hym that founde the head, whan the Capitoll shoulde be buylded.

Capitolínus, a, um, Of ỹ palaice of the citie of Rome.

Capitólium, lii, n. ge. The palaice of the citie of Rome, called the Capitoll.

Capitulum, A towne in Italy.

Capnobatæ, People called Mysi.

Capote, A mountayne in Asia.

Cappadocia, A countrey in Asia, hauynge on the south Cilicia, and the mountaine Taurus: On the easte, Armeny, and dyuers other nations: On the north, the sea Euxinum: On the weast, Galatia: and is diuided from Armeny the more with the famous ryuer Euphrates. In this coũtrey are bredde plentie of excellent good horses. It was sometyme called Alba Syria, because the people there be whiter than in the other Syria. The people thereof are called Cappádoces, whose conditions were reputed so yll, that among the common people, if one had been sene to be of yll facion, they woulde saye he was of Cappadocia. In that countrey were borne, Basilius magnus, and Gregorius Nazianzenus, twoo holy bysshops and excellent doctours.

Cappagum, A towne in Spayne.

Cáppadox, ocis, and Cappadocus, A man of the countrey of Cappadocia.

Capparus, A dogges name, notable, because he bewrayed the thiefe, that robbed Aesculapi tẽple.

Capra, æ, fœ. ge. A signe in the firmament.

Capraria, An yle in the sea, called Ligusticum.

Caprasia, The mouthe of the ryuer Po.

Capreæ. Certayne plandes by Naples.

Capria, A fenne in Pamphilia.

Capricórnus, ni, mas. gen. A signe in heauen, conteignyng. xx. sterres.

Caprotína, The surname of Juno, vpon occasion of this this ſtorie. After the citie of Rome had been taken and ſpoyled by the Galles, and their power, thereby muche broken, their neighbours and borderers, thinkyng themſelues to haue a good occaſion to repreſſe that new riſen citie, choſe to their capitaine one Liuius Poſtliminius Dictatour of the citie Fidenæ. He, gathering a mightie armie, ſent an harrald to the ſenate of Rome, charging theim (if they woulde not haue the reſidue of their citie deſtroied) to deliuer into their handes all their wyues and daughters. Whyle this matter was doubtfully debated of the counſaylours, an handmayde named Philotis with all the reſidue of the bonde maydens of the citie arayenge themſelues in their maiſtreſſes apparaile, tooke vpon them to goe to their enemies in place and perſon of their ladies and maiſtreſſes, if it might be, that way to ſaue their wourſhip, and the good eſtate of their countrey.

Caprullon, An hauen by the mountayne Athos.

Capſitani, People of Tingitana in Afrike.

Capua, A citie in the roialme of Naples.

Caput viride, A place in Aethiope, called there Mandanga.

Capys, A mans name that buylded Capua.

Carabis, A ryuer of Scythia.

Caracta, A citie in Spayne, called Guadalayra.

Caralitanum, A promontorie of Sardinia.

Carambis, A great promontorie towarde the north part in the ſea Euxinus.

Carambuſis, A ryuer of Scythia, by the mountaynes called Riphæi.

Carana, A towne of Ponte.

Caranus, A kyng of Macedonie. Alſo an hauen in Phœnicia.

Caraſeni, People of the countrey Taurica.

Caraxus, The brother of Sappho.

Carbánia, A little ylande by Italy.

Carbileſi, People of Thrace.

Carbilius, A man that amonge the Romaynes dyd fyrſt repudiate his wyfe for barrenneſſe. An other of the ſame name, whiche had ben his ſeruaunt, was the firſte that did teache grammer openly in Rome.

Carbo, ônis, ma. ge. The name of a Romaine.

Carbulo, A towne in Spayne.

Carcaſum, A towne of Narbon in Fraunce.

Carcathiocherta, A towne of the greater Armeny.

Carchêdon, The citie of Carthage, and Carchedonii, the people thereof.

Carcina, A certaine citie.

Carcinites, A goulfe in Scythia of Europe.

Cárcinus, ni, maſ. gen. A ſigne in the firmament. Alſo the name of a poete.

Cardamyla, A citie in Argos, nere to Pylos.

Cárdia, A towne of Thrace.

Cardinea dea, idem quod Carna.

Carenſes, People of Spayne.

Carentani, People of Italy.

Ceres, The name of a keruer, the ſcholar of Lyſippus.

Cares, People of Phrygia, of barbarous and ſeruile maners and facion.

Caréſus, A ryuer of Troye. Homer. 12. Iliados.

Caretha, An yle, called alſo Dionyſia.

Caria, A region in Aſia, hauinge on the north ſide the great riuer Meander: On the weſt, the great ſea Icarium: on the eaſt Licia, and diuers other countreys: Towarde the ſouthe, the mountayne Taurus. The people therof called Cares, were good men of warre, and therfore euery where reteyned for ſouldiours, as Suizars, or Suyche-ners be nowe.

Cariatis, idis, A woman of Caria. Alſo the name of a citie of Peloponneſus.

Caricus, or Carius, a, um, Of the countrey of Caria.

Carillæ, A towne of Picenum, deſtroyed by Annibal.

Carînæ, arum, Certeyne houſes within the temple of Tellus, made lyke the bottoms of ſhyppes.

Carînæ, arum, A ſtreete in Rome, wherein Pompeie dwelled.

Carini, People of Germany.

Carinthia, A countrey by Duſtryke, ſoyngninge on the ſouthe to the mountaynes Alpes and Italy: On the eaſt and north to Stiria. The election of a newe prynce or gouernour there, is verye ſtraunge. Pius wryteth in his coſmographie, that in the towne called Sancti Viti, is a greate balley, wheare, in a medowe is ſette a ſtone of marble, of a good height, whereupon aſcendeth an huſbande man, vnto whom that office by inheritance belongeth: On his ryght hande ſtandeth a blacke cowe: on his left hande an yll fauoured mare. About him ſtandeth a great multitude of carles. On the other ſyde of the medowe cometh the duke, accompanied with hys noble men in their robes of eſtate. Before hym goeth the Earle of Goritia, the great maiſter of his houſe, betweene. xij. banners, bearynge the prynces ſtanderde. The other noble men folowe with the prynce, cladde lyke an huſband man, with a ſheepecroke in his hande, as he weare a ſhepeherde. As ſone as the carle, on the marble ſtone, perceiueth him coming, he aſketh alowde in the Slauoyn tounge, who is this, that commeth with ſo proude a gate? They that ſtande about, aunſwere: It is the prynce of this countrey. Than ſayeth he eſteſoones: Is he a ryghtuouſe iudge, ſeekyng for the weale of the countrey, a free man borne, and worthy to haue honour? Is he a true chriſten man, and defender of Chriſtes faithe? They all aunſwere, yea, he is and ſhall be. Than ſaieth the carle, By what ryght may he putte me from this place? Than aunſwereth the Earle of Goritia: Thou ſhalte haue for thy place. lx. grotes, theſe twoo beaſtes (the cow and the mare) & the prynces apparaile, which he did late put of. Alſo thi family or kinne ſhalbe free from all maner of tribute. Than the carle, geuinge the prynce a little blowe on his cheeke, byddeth hym be a good iudge, and commyng downe from the ſtone geueth him place, and ſo departeth, taking with him the cow and the mare. Than the prince goeth vp on ỹ ſtone, and holding a naked ſwerde in his hande, brandyſhing it, turneth to euery parte of the ſtone, promyſyng equall iudgement to all the people. Than is there brought hym colde water in an houſebandmans cappe, whiche he dryncketh, ſignifyng that he condēneth drinking of wyne. Than goeth he to a churche thereby: where, after he hath hearde diuine ſeruice, he putteth of his ruſticall rayment, and putteth on apparaile of honour. And dynynge with his nobilitie ſumptuouſely, he commeth eftſoones to the medowe, where he heareth mattiers, and miniſtreth iuſtice. The Duke of this countrey, is as it were chiefe maiſter of the game to the imperiall maieſtie.

Cariosuelites, People of the countrey of Lyons in Fraunce.

Cariſa, A towne in Spayne called alſo Aurelia.

Carius, The ſonne of Iupiter and Danaë.

Carmacæ, People of Aſia, nere Mæotis.

Carmani, People of Carmania.

Carmánia, A countrey in India, whiche is after Ptolome, diuided in two partes: One is veray fertile, the other is veray barayne. Carmánia the deſert, hath on the weſte, Perſis: on the eaſte, Aria: on the north, Parthia: on the ſouth, the other Carmania. The fertile Carmania, hath on the north, the deſert: on the eaſt, Gedroſia: on the weſt, Perſis: on the ſouth, the Indian ſea. Of this countrey I fynde one thyng worthy of remembraunce: who ſo euer will mary, muſt firſt bryng to the kyng there, the head of an enemy: whiche he ſetteth vp in his palaice, but firſt he taketh out the tongue, and cauſeth it to be cut in péeces, and mingled with bread, and geueth part therof to him that brought the head. And if ther be many heades, he diuideth the tounges among his gentlemen, as moſte delicate meate.

Carmêlus, or Carmêlum, The name of two ſundry hilles in Iudea.

Carmenta, & Carmentis, The name of a lady, whiche had the ſpirite of prophecy, and gaue aunſwere in verſes. She was alſo called Nicoſtrata, & was mother of Euander.

Carmon, A place in Meſſenia: the temple of Apollo in Laconia: a ryuer in Achaia: and a mountain in Peloponneſus.

Carna, æ, fœ. gen. Was ſuppoſed to be the goddeſſe of mans lyfe: of hir they deſired the herte, lyuer, and intrayles to be preſerued.

Carnapæ, People about Mœotis.

Carne, A towne of Phœnicia.

Carneades, A philoſopher, the folower of Chriſipp⁹, & chiefe of the ſect called Noui Academici. Of him Plinie and other wryte, that, when he went about to confute Zenoes bookes, he purged hys body with Helleborus, that the corrupte humours ſhould not aſcende vnto his head to trouble his witte and memorie. So carefully did this wyſe philoſopher prepare himſelfe to confounde the wrytinges of that ſecte, that in his opinion he iudged erronious. He on a tyme was ſent with other as ambaſſadour to Rome, and for his ſubtiltie and eloquence made the whole meſſage ſuſpected: for M. Cato, openly in the Senate aduertiſed men to take hēde of him, who was of ſo excellent eloquence and ſkylle in reaſoninge, that he was hable to perſwade, what ſo euer he toke in hande.

Carni, The people of the countrey in Almayne called Carinthia, belonging to the Duke of Auſtrike. It is alſo the name of an other people in Italy, in the countrey called Marca Tarviſia.

Carnotum, The myddell region of all Fraunce.

Carnutum, A towne in the border of Germany.

Carnutes, People of a countrey in Fraunce, called Charters.

Carnuti, People of Germany.

Carodunum, The citie Cracau in Polonia, called alſo Cracouia.

Carolus, Surnamed the great, ſonne of king Pipine of Fraunce, and afterward emperour of Rome. In ſundrie great battailes he ouerthrewe the Hunnes, Sarones, Lumbardes, and Bauarias. He ſubdued Britaine, Gaſcoyne, and Guyan. He ſpoyled and waſted Pannonie, & in Spayne fought many notable battayles. Finally bothe in peace and warre a very noble prynce, had not the admiration of the ſée of Rome ouermuche amaſed hym.

Caronium, A citie in Spayne, called Cheroga.

Carpanetum, A place of Athens.

Carpaſium, A towne of the yſlande Cypres.

Carpathium mare, The ſea ioynyng to Aegypt, wherin be the yles called Sporades.

Cárpathos, or Cárpathus, An yle againſt Aegypte, the middes betwéene Rhodes and Candie.

Carpatus, A mountayne of Sarmatia, called commonly Crapaſz.

Carpentoracte, The citie of Carpentias in Narbone.

Carpetani, A people of Spayne.

Carpi, A people of Zeugitana in Afrike.

Carpis, A ryuer in Scythia.

Carpócrates, An heretyke, whiche denied Chriſte to be God, affyrming that he was pure man, whoſe ſecte were named Carpocratitæ, or Carpocratiani. They affirmed the worlde to bee made by aungels. They reiected the olde teſtamente, and denied the general reſurrection. They denyed that Chriſt was borne of the virgin Mary, ſaynge, that he was gotten of the ſéede of Ioſeph. Alſo that his body ſuffered, and that his ſoule onely was receyued into heauen. He lyued about the yere of our lorde. 142.

Carra, ræ, A citie in Arabia.

Carraca, A citie in Italy, vnder the dominion of Venice, called commonly Caranas.

Carræ, arum, A citie of Meſopotamia, where Craſſus the ſenatour and Caracalla the emperoure were ſlayne.

Carrodunum, Loke Carodunum.

Carſeolanus, a, um, Of the towne or people called Carſeoli.

Carſeoli, That towne and people.

Carteia, A towne in Spayne.

Cartenna, A towne in the prouince Tingitana.

Carthæa, or Carthæia, A citie in the yle Ceos.

Carthaginenſis, or after Priſciã, Carthaginienſis, ſe, Of, or perteining to Carthage.

Carthâgo, thâginis, fœ. gen. A famous citie in Afrike called Carthage, almoſte enuyroned with the ſea: which citie was in cõpaſſe about the walles 360. furlonges, whiche are. 45. Italyan myles: wherof. bij. myles and an halfe ran in length on the rydge of an hill, which went from ſea to ſea, where weare ſette the ſtables of olyphantes, a veray large place. Almoſte in the middell of the citie was a caſtell or toure called Byrſa, on the top whereof ſtoode Aeſculapius temple: vnderneth were hauens or keyes of the caſtell, & a litle rounde yle called Cothon, ſtanding as it weare in a great ponde, about which were ſet the houſes that ſerued for the nauy of Carthage. This citie continued warres with the Romaynes. xl. yeres, and had many excellent men of warre, of whom Anniball was the moſte noble and famous. That citie had in ſubiection a great part of Afrike, Sicilie, the more parte of Spayne, & the yles of the myddell ſea. It was at laſte deſtroied by Scipio, before the incarnatiõ of Chriſt 144. yeres. The coũtrey where it ſtode, is now called Tunyſe.

Carthæus, and Carthæius, a, um, The adiective of Carthæa.

Carthumãdua, A quéne in this Brytaine, of the people called Brigantes.

Cartris, A place of the Cymbrians.

Caruſii, People of Afrike by Ethiope.

Carya, The name of a citie in Gréece.

Caryanda, A fenne and yle in Caria.

Caryſtæus, and Caryſtius, a, um, Of the yle Caryſte.

Caryſte, tes. and Caryſtos, ti, An yle in the ſea called Euboicum, Wherein is plentie of marble of dyuers colours. There groweth alſo a kinde of ſtones, wherof they make fyne cloth, whiche being foule is purged by fyre.

Caſandra, An yle ouer againſt Perſis.

Caſcandus, An yle by India.

Caſcatenſes, People of Spayne.

Caſilini, A people, which being beſieged of the Carthaginenſes, ſuſteined their hũger a great ſpace with ſmall nuttes.

Caſilinum, A citie of Campayne in Italy.

Caſina, A Comedie of Plautus.

Caſinum, A towne in Italy.

Caſius, An hyll in the borders of Aegypt: an other in Seleucia.

Caſmonates, People of Liguria.

Caſos, An yle by the ſea Carpathium. Alſo one of thoſe yles that be called Cyclades.

Caſperia, A citie in Italy. Alſo a womans name.

Caſperula, A towne of the Sabines.

Caſpii, A people nowe in Tartaria, ioynyng to the ſea Caſpium, ſo inhumaine (as Strabo wryteth) that whan their parentes excede the age of lxx. yeres, they in a cloſe place, kampſhe them; and then they lay them in a deſerte, beholdynge theim afarre of. If byrdes plucke theim out of their clothes, and deuoure theim, they accompte theim bleſſed. If dogges or wylde beaſtes doe it, they accompt it not ſo happy. But if both doe it, they eſteme thoſe men vnhappy. Other wryte that they nouryſhe dogges of purpoſe to deuour theim.

Caſpius, A parte of the mountayne Taurus.

Caſpius, and Caſpiacus, a, um, Of Caſpius.

Caſpiæ portæ, Are broken places in the rockes of the mountaynes of Caucaſus, towarde Hyrcania and Perſia, in length, as Plinius wryteth. bij. miles, as Solin⁹ writeth. biij. myles: In breadth ſo narow, that a carte may hardly paſſe through theim. Martianus wryteth, that thoſe gates were faſt ſhutte with great yron beames, that no man ſhould paſſe. In the ſpryng tyme and ſommer, all ſerpentes doe repayre thither from all countreis about, wherefore the paſſage that waye is perillous.

Caſſandane, The daughter of Pharnaſpis, and mother of Cambyſes, Aſtyages ſonne in lawe.

Caſſandra, Daughter of kyng Priamus and Hecuba: who for hir excellent fauour and beauty, was beloued of Apollo, and wylled by him, in recompenſe of hir virginitie, if ſhe would e yelde vnto his pleaſure, to wyſhe what ſo euer ſhe woulde deſyre. She therfore requeſted the gifte of prophecie: whiche when Apollo had geuen hir, ſhe reuolted from hir promyſſe, and woulde not condeſcende to his deſire. Wherfore Apollo, for ſo muche as he could not fordoe that he had geuen, annexed to hir this propertie, that, ſaide ſhe in prophecie neuer ſo truly, yet no man ſhould beleue hir. Wherefore when ſhe diſcloſed the treaſon of the tymber horſe at the ſiege of Troye, and cried that the receiuyng of it woulde be the deſtruction of the citie, yet hir countrey men dyd not credite hir, vntyll the euent of their owne myſerie proued hir ſaiynges true. In the ende of the Troiane warre, ſhe was taken by Aiax and rauiſhed in the temple of Minerua. In the parting of the pray, ſhe fell by lotte to Agamemnon, whom ſundrie tymes ſhe aduertyſed before hande to take hède of the treaſon of his wyfe Clytemneſtra: but he eſteemed hir wourdes as triflinge fantaſies of a dotinge woman, vntyll both he and Caſſandra alſo, was ſlayne by the conſpiracie of Clytemneſtra and the aduouterer Aegiſthus.

Caſſera, A towne of Macedonie.

Caſſia via, A waye or cauſey made by Caſſius the Romayne.

Caſſina, loke Caſina.

Caſſinum, A towne of the Sabines. Alſo an olde market place in that towne.

Caßiódorus, A learned man, teacher of Theodozicus kyng of Gothes.

Caßiopa, An hauen on the south part of Sicilie.

Caßiope, Called also Caßiopeia, The wyfe of Cepheius, and mother of Andromacha, which cõtended in beautie with the Nymphes of the sea, called Nereides,, and was therefore tourned into a signe in heauen, that hath.xij. sterres, and is figured lyke a woman sitting in a chayre.

Caßitérides, Be ten yles in the Spanyshe sea, wherin was digged muche tynne, & they be not farre from the west part of Spayne.

Caßius, The proper name of dyuers men. It is also the name of a mountaine, and of a citie in Aegypt nere to Pelusium. Loke the prouerbe Caßiotícus nodus.

Caßalides, The surname of the Muses.

Caßalius, A fountaine in the foote of the hyll of Parnassus, dedicated to the Muses.

Caßéllum, li, The name of a countrey called Juliers or Gulike.

Caßenes, A gulfe in the sea by Constantinople.

Caßiánira, One of Priamus wyues.

Caßelogi, People of Fraunce.

Caßor and Pollux, Two twynnes begotten on Leda by Jupiter (as poetes feigne) in the fourme of a swanne. And therefore those children weare hatched in egges. When they came to age, they deliuered the seas from pyrates and rouers, and therfore being counted gods of the sea, were called on by maryners in tyme of daunger and tempeste. Afterwarde they went with Jason to Colchos to wynne the golden fliese: in whiche viage Pollux killed Amycus kynge of Bebritia, that in the nyght traiterously would haue slaine him. At their returne besieging the citie Aphidna in the absence of Hercules, they wanne agayne their syster Helena that in tyme of their voyage he had stollen away, beyng then a very younge mayden. In the ende when Castor (who is sayde to be mortall, because he was not hatched of the same egge that Pollux was) ended his lyfe and died: Pollux beyng immortall, desyred of his father Jupiter that he might parte his immortall state with his brother Castor. Whiche thinge Jupiter graunted, and the two brothers lyued and died by course. Occasion of this fable was take of the sterres called Gemini, into the whiche it is feigned, those two brothers weare tourned. For the nature of them is, that when the one ryseth, the other goeth downe.

Caßor, A phisition, who taught, that the herbe Piperitis, was good to drynke for the fallyng sickneße.

Caßrimonienßes, People of Italy.

Caßrítius, A noble man in the tyme of Sylla. And an oratour vnder Adrian the Emperour.

Caßrum nouum, A towne in Italy, by the mouthe of Tyber.

Caßulonenßes, People of the town Caßulõ in Spaine, called commonly Caßona.

Caßuentillani, People of Italy.

Caßuentum, A riuer nere to the bosome of the sea called Tarentinum.

Caßurgis, A citie in Boeme, nowe called Praga.

Catabanes, People of Arabia deserta.

Catabathmus, A place in Afrike ioyning to Aegipt, so named of the stipenelle or descendyng.

Catadupa, A place by Nilus.

Catadupi, A place in Ethyope.

Catana, A towne of Sicilie, the people wherof were called Catanei.

Cataphryges, Heretykes, whiche tooke that name of one Montanus of Phrygia, an archeheretyke. Who affirmed, that the holy goste was geuen to them, and not to the Apostles. They baptysed not in the name of the trinitie, and vsed to baptyse men after they were dead. They condemned the seconde mariage. This secte beganne in the yere of our lorde. 170.

Catari, People of Hungary.

Catarnia, A countrey of Asia.

Catarrhactes, A ryuer of Pamphilia.

Cathalaunum, A towne in Fraunce called Chalon.

Cathari, Were heretykes, whiche affirmed, that it was not lefull for a christian man to swere, for any cause, or at any tyme. They did also denye all the sacramentes of the churche.

Cathay, A great regiõ in the east part of the worlde, extending to the east ocean sea: on the south, to the ouer India: and is also called Sinarum regio. It is dyuided into nyne royalmes: all be vnder the great Cham. This countrey is wounderfull ryche in golde and sylke, aboundyng in grayne, wynes, and all other thynges necessarye for mannes sustenaunce. The people for the more parte, honour Christe as God, but they are not baptysed. They are courteyse and reasonable, and verey cunnyng artificers.

Cathi, looke Chetti.

Catholícus, A name whereby the bishop of the Armenians was called.

Cathon, One of the yles called Cyclades.

Cati, A well in Italy, by Tyber.

Catilina, A Romaine, notable for his conspiracy.

Catillus, The sonne of Amphiaraus, and brother of Tyburtus, in memory of whom he buylded the citie of Tybur.

Catina, æ, or Catine, es, A citie of Sicilie. Some called it Catana.

Catizi, The people called Pygmæi.

Cato, onis, Was not fyrste a surname, but a name of merite. For the auncient Romaynes called him Cato, that was wyse by muche experience. Of this name, two were moste excellent: Marcus Cato Censorius, because he alwayes vsed the grauitie and rygour that was wont to be in the correctours of maners, called Censores. Also he hymselfe beyng Censor, was aboue all other moste sharpe and rigorous. Valerius Max. wryteth, that he was almost an olde man er he learned learned latine letters, and thã it ſeemeth he was olde er he learned græke. Yet notwithſtanding by gathering abridgementes out of Thucydides and Demoſthenes workes, he became the greateſt orator of his time, and was called the Romayne Demoſthenes. He beyng made Conſull, wanne moe cities in Spayne, than he had abo-den dayes in that countrey. In whiche iourney he reteyned to himſelfe, nothing of all that was founde there, but meate and drynke onely. He made his ſouldiours ryche, geuinge to euery of theim a pounde weight of ſyluer, ſaiyng: Better it were, that many Romaynes retourned to Rome with ſyluer, than a fewe with golde. He taught his owne ſonne grammer, not withſtãding he had a ſeruaunt called Chylo, an excellẽt grammarian, and taught a great ſchole, ſaiyng: It is not cõuenient, if my ſonne be ſlow of learning, he ſhould be rebuked or pulled by the eares of hym, that is of a ſeruile condicion. He alſo taught him the ciuile lawes, the exerciſe of all weapons, to ryde well, to fighte with the fiſtes, to ſuſteine bothe colde and heate, to leape into waters, and ſwymme againſt ſwifte ſtreames. Being Cenſor, he ſpared none eſtate, whoſe maners he founde corrupted, or ſuperfluous in liuing, wherby he brought into the citie a meruetlous ymage of vertue. His ſentences reherſed by Plutarke be wounderfull: of whiche I wyll remembre three. Lyke as the diers, ſaied he, dooe die moſt often that colour, whiche they doe perceiue moſt men delite in: ſo young men do moſt ſtudiouſely haunte and imbrace that, which thei ſee olde men and counſaylours haue in moſte eſtimation. He blamed the people of Rome, for that they committed authorities and offices ofte tymes to one perſone, ſaiyng: They ſeemed not to eſteme rule and authoritie, or els they ſuppoſed there were but fewe worthy of promotion. The one was a ſigne of contempt, the other diſcourage to good wittes, and rebuke to their cõtrey. Whan the ambaſſadours were choſen to be ſent into Bithynia, of whõ one had ỹ goute, an other peyne in his head, and the thirde tymorus, Cato laughing ſayd in the ſenate: The people of Rome ſendeth an ambaſſade, whiche hath neither fẽte, head, nor herte. The life of this ỹ of the other Cato, are worthy to be often tymes read, ſpecially of counſailours ỹ men in authoritie. He was before the incarnation. 182. yeres.

Cato Vticenſis (ſo called becauſe he ſlewe hymſelfe in the towne Utica, to whom the other Cato Cẽſorius was great graundfather) ſhewed a wonderfull cõſtaunce and grauitie, euen in his childhode. Seldome mery or ſeene to laughe, and if he did, it was a very little ſmylinge: not lyghtly angry, but if he were, he was not ſone appeſed. He was very ſtudious in all moral philoſophie, practiſing in his actes and liuing, that which he radde of vertue and honeſtie: and ſtudied eloquence only to the intent, that in counſailing ỹ reaſonig, he mought adde vnto philoſophy more force and ornament, ỹ yet would he not practiſe it openly. Whan one ſaied to him, men diſpraiſe thine obſtinate ſilence, he anſwered: I force not, ſo thei diſpraiſe not my liuing: but I wil breake out of this ſilẽce, whã I can ſpeake that is worthy to be ſpoken. Being Tribunus militum, he was ſent into Macedonie, wheare with his meruayloſe grauitie, prudence, ỹ peinfulneſſe, he made al that were vnder him fierce and hardy againſt their ennemies, gentyll to their felowes, fearfull to doe iniurie, prompt to get prayſes, and hymſelfe labouring with theim, vſing his apparayle, feedyng and goyng lyke vnto theim: he contrary to mennes expectations (not withſtãding his ſeueritie) wan the hertes of them, going on fote and talkyng with euery man. He was of ſuch conſtancie, ỹ ſo farre from ambition ỹ flatterie, that neither Pompey nor Cæſar, in theyr chiefe pryde, whã all men, either for dread or fauour, inclined to their deſires, coulde perſwade him to agree to their mindes, in caſes where it ſeemed to be againſt the weale publike: nother mought any maner menacing or dreadful tokẽs moue him from that cõſtancie. In ſo much, that whã he hearde that Cæſar had vanquiſhed Põpey, ỹ that his frendes would haue ſent to Cæſar to deſire his fauour, he anſwered: thei which are vanquiſhed, or haue any wyſe treſpaſed, ought to make ſuite, but he in al his life was neuer vãquiſhed, ỹ in innocencie ſurmounted Cæſar, who in making warre againſt his own cõtrey, had condemned himſelfe to haue doone that thinge, which he had often denied. Finally not for malice of Cæſar, but becauſe he would not beholde ỹ weale publike deſtroyed, he ſlew himſelfe at Utica, hauinge with him at ſupper, the eueninge before, the greateſt officers of that citie, ỹ many of his friendes. Alſo this ſentence being ſpoken amongeſt other: onely a good man is a free man, all ill men are bonde: whã one happened to reaſon againſt it, Cato being therwith chauſed, diſputed with the other ſo vehemently and longe, that al men ſuſpected ỹ he would not long lyue. He died before the incarnation. 44. yeres.

Catoni, People of Scythia about Mæotis.

Catti, Lake Chatti.

Catuſaria, æ. fœ. gen. One of the gates of Rome.

Catullus The name of a poete.

Catulus. A Romayne capitaine in the firſte warres of Carthage. Alſo an oratour that was Conſull with Marius.

Caturactorum, A citie called Carlyle in Englande.

Caturiges. People of Italy.

Catus. The name of a noble and wyſe familie in Rome.

Cauceres. People of Narbon in Fraunce.

Cauca, A citie in Spayne, called commonlye Quenca.

Caucaſus, An hyll, one of the hyghеſt in all Aſia, ſituate aboue Iberia and Albania on the noꝛth parte, and is a part of the mountayne Taurus: one of the partes of this hill dyuydynge India and Media, ſtretcheth towarde the redde ſea. Philoſtratus.

Cauchæ, Certaine fieldes by the ryuer Tygris.

Cauſinus, a, um, Of Cauſis.

Caudinæ furcæ, A place in Italy, wheare the Romaines weare diſcomfited by the Samnites.

Caudis, oꝛ Caudium, A towne of the Samnites.

Caulum, oꝛ Caulon, A towne, which (as Plinie wꝛiteth) is ſituate in the firſt region of Italy.

Caunias, A Centaure, the ſonne of Irion.

Caunus, A citie in Caria, by the ryuer Calbis. This citie is very queiſie and daungerous to dwell in, both at other times of the yere and eſpecially in ſummer and autumne, as well foꝛ the vntemperate heate of ỹ ayꝛe, as foꝛ the great aboundance of fruites. Therfoꝛe it is repoꝛted that the ſituation is very vnholſome, and the aire cõtagious. When Stratonicus a pleaſaunt muſitian and mery conceited man behelde the inhabitauntes therof ſo wane and ill coloured, he ſcoffed at thẽ with this ſentẽce of Homere, Tale quidem genus eſt hominũ, quale eſt foliorũ. The mẽ & the leaues of thꝫ countrey loke very like: that is, bothe wanne & pale without lyuely colour. Foꝛ whiche ſcoffe when the people weare much gꝛeued & bitterly tayled at hym: why (ſaieth he) may I not iuſtly call this a ſickely and queiſie citie wheare dead men walke? with whiche aunſwere he farre moꝛe ſharpely nipped their deadly colours and wearithe lokes than he had done befoꝛe.

Caurium, A towne of Poꝛtugall, called alſo Caura, commonly Corra.

Cauros, an yle, which was afterward called Andꝛos

Caycus, A ryuer in Phꝛygia.

Cayſter, oꝛ Cayſtrus, A ryuer of Aſia.

Cayſtrius, a, um, Of Cayſter.

Cayſtros, A famous ryuer of Ionia, by the citie Epheſus.

C E

Cea, Loke Cæa.

Ceadus, A Thꝛacian, whiche aided the Troyanes.

Cêbes, êtis, A philoſopher of Thebes.

Cebrenia, A place of Troye, called of ſome Cebꝛinia.

Cebrenii, People of that countrey, and alſo of Aſia.

Cebrenis, idis, patronymicum fœmininum.

Cebriones, The baſterde ſonne of kyng Pꝛyamus.

Cecinna, A ryuer by Volaterie. Alſo the name of a Romayne whiche fauoured the quarell of Pompeie in the ciuile warre.

Cecropia, A towne that Cecrops buylded, whiche was after the caſtell of Athens.

Cecropidæ, Men of Athens.

Cecropis, idis, A woman comyng of Cecrops.

Cecropius, a, um, Of Cecrops.

Cecrops, opis, maſ. gen. An auncient kyng of Athens, whoſe ymage was made hauynge two heades. Ye firſte in thoſe partes bꝛoughte in the bonde and knotte of mariage, inuented images, buylded aulters, and offred ſacrifices: which thinges befoꝛe him weare neuer knowen in Gꝛeece. Ye was befoꝛe the incarnation. 1589. yeres.

Cecryphalea, A pꝛomontoꝛie of Peloponneſus.

Cedar, A region in Arabia.

Cedítiæ tabernæ, Loke Cæditiæ.

Cedras, A towne of Caria.

Cedrópolis, An other towne in Caria.

Cedros, An ylande in the coaſtes of Germany.

Celadon, One of theim that was ſlayne at the mariage of Perſeus and Andꝛomeda. Alſo a ryuer.

Celaduſa, A little yle in the ſea Adꝛiaticum.

Celæno, One of the rauenynge bꝛydes, called Harpyiæ.

Celeia, A towne of Noꝛice, called commonly Cilia.

Celẽna, æ, A place in Campayne, dedicate to Juno.

Celenæ, arum, Sometyme the chiefe citie of Phꝛygia.

Celendris, A towne in Cilicia.

Celer, A mans name.

Celerini, People in the hygher Spayne.

Celeũs, Two ſyllables, a mans name.

Celmus, A man that nouriſhed vp Jupiter, whom he tourned afterwarde into a diamonde, becauſe he affirmed hym to be moꝛtall.

Celoni, Rauenyng people.

Celſenſes, People of Spayne.

Celſus, A noble Romayne, whiche wꝛate of phyſike and huſbandꝛie, in moſt eloquent latine.

Celtæ, Frenchemen.

Celtiaca, A citie in Spayne, in the countrey of Hiſpalis.

Celtíberi, People of that parte of Spayne, whiche is called Biſkaie.

Celtiberia. Biſkaie.

Celtiberius, and Celtibericus, a, um, Of Biſkaie.

Celtica, The countrey of Lyons in Fraunce.

Celtici, People of Spayne, whiche toke their begynnyng of the Frenchemen called Celtæ.

Celticum, A pꝛomontoꝛie of Spayne.

Celtogallia, Is that parte of Fraunce, whiche conteyneth Aquitayne, Lyons, Belgica, and Narbon: wherof the Frenche kyng hath thꝛee partes whole. Belgica, foꝛ the moꝛe parte is in the handes of the emperour that nowe is. Reade of euerythe of theim in their letters.

Cemelleo, A towne in Liguria.

Cemeneleum, A citie in the Alpes.

Cenchreæ, A towne of Peloponneſus by Coꝛinthe.

Cénchris, idis, fœ. gen. The name of a towne oꝛ countrey of Gꝛeece.

Cenchrius, A ryuer in Ionia, by the woodde Dꝛtygia, where the poetes feygne that Latona was waſhed of hir nourſe Dꝛtygia, after ſhe hadde trauayled with chylde.

Ceneia, Called alſo Ataſanta, the daughter of Cæneus.

Ceneum, A pꝛomontoꝛie in Eubœa, where Hercules erected an aultar to Jupiter.

Ceneus, Lyke Cæneus.

Cenina, A citie of Italy, néere to Rome.

Cenites, His name that buylded Cenina.

Cenomani, People of Lumbardie. Also a people in Fraunce of a countrey called Maine.

Centâurus, ꝛ Centáuricus, a, um, Of the Centaures.

Centauri, People of Theſſalie by the mounte Pelion, whiche firſte deuiſed to breake horſes and make them for warre and other vſes: whereof it came to paſſe that they bryngе ſéne on horſebacke by their horderers, weare thought to haue the vpper partes of their bodies lyke men and the nether lyke horſes, and therefore of their beginnyng poetes fable in this wyſe. Irion by the fauour of Iupiter being admitted to be at a banket in the preſence of the gods, was enamoured on Iuno and moued hir to aduoutrie. She diſcloſed the thyng to hir husbande: who cauſinge the tyme to be appointed, in place of Iuno ſubourned a clowde factioned to hir fauoure and fygure. Irion accompanyng with that clowde, on it begatte the Centaures: whiche thereof were after called Nubigenæ. The moſte notable of of the Centaures weare theſe, Chiron, Eurytus, Amycus, Grynens, Rhætus, Arneus, Lycidas, Medon, Piſenor, &c. Also certayne greate ſhips are called Centauri.

Centáurus, ri, A ryuer firſt called Euenus.

Centinum, A towne of Umbria in Italy.

Centrones, Mounte Sineis, goyng into Lúbardie.

Centum peranea inſula, A little towne in Italy.

Centuripe, or Centumpe, Sicilie.

Centuripini, People of Sicilie.

Ceos, Lyke Cœa.

Cephalatòmi, People of Colchis.

Cephalenia, An yle beyonde Corcyra, in the middell ſea, whiche is alſo called Ulliſſes yle, commonly Cephalonie.

Cephalœdis, A ryuer of Sicilie.

Cephalus, Aeolus ſon, that maried Procris Erechtheus daughter. The goddeſſe Auroza beynge rauiſhed with the loue of this younge mannes beautie, when ſhe coulde not eyther by fayre meanes or violence withdrawe hym from the loue of his wyfe to folowe hir appetite, ſhe ſent hym home agayne to hir wyfe in the fourme of a marchaunt, aſſurynge hym that he ſhould not fynde hir in lyke maner faithfull and true to hym. Wherfore at his comminge he beganne to tryc hir, and with great giftes and lyberall promiſſes, aſſauted hir chaſtitie. Procris beynge ouercomme with ryche rewardes condeſcended vnto his requeſte. Then Cephalus takynge againe his owne ſhape and figure, greatly blamed hir lyghtneſſe and vnfaithfulneſſe. Wherwith ſhe beyng muche aſhamed and not able to cleare hir ſelfe, forſooke hir husbande and lyued ſolitarie in the wooddes. At the length ſhe beyng reconciled to hir husbande, gaue to hym the dogge Lælaps, and a darte that ſhoulde neuer miſſe thynge that it was hurled at. Cephalus hauing thoſe ſo fitte inſtrumentes, beganne to haunte the wooddes, and gaue hymſelfe muche to huntynge more then he was wonte: In ſo muche that very early in the mornyng he would leaue hys wyues company and goe into the wooddes. This vnwonted exercyſe Procris muche beganne to ſuſpecte, and thought hir husbande to be in loue with ſome Nymphe, whoſe company to attayne, he pretended that great delyghte of hunting. Wherefore to trye this matter ſhe folowed hym into the wooddes. And Cephalus as fortune was, for heate and labour, lay vnder a tré to refreſhe hymſelfe. She therefore thinking to eſpie hym in his embraſinges, moued hirſelfe behynde a buſhe where ſhe was. Whom Cephalus fearinge to bee ſome wylde beaſte, caſt his vnreuitable darte and killed hys dearely beloued wife. Whiche after turned hym to great ſorowe and heauineſſe of mynde.

Cephalus, An oratour of Athens.

Cephênes, num, Was ſometime the name of Perſeans, as Herodotus wryteth.

Cepheus, Two ſyllables, the name of a kyng of Aethiope, the ſonne of Phœnix, and father to Andromeda.

Cephis, A famous ymage maker.

Cephiſia, A fountaine in the region Attica.

Cephiſis, A lake nere to the ſea Atlanticum.

Cephiſodôrus, A tragical poete of Athens. Also a peinter. An other an ymage maker, the ſonne of Praxiteles.

Cephiſus, A ryuer of Bœotia, wheare the temple of Themis ſtode, to whiche Deucalion & Pyrrha came to conſulte how to reſtore mankynde.

Cepio, A Conſul of Rome, who toke by aſſault a citie in Fraunce called Tolouſe, where was found in the temple great plentie of gold: which being taken away, both he and all other that had any part therof, died miſerably. Wherof grewe this prouerbe, Aurum Toloſanum habet, ſpoken whan any man had finiſhed his life in great miſery.

Cepœ, A towne of Boſphorus.

Ceraboroa, A countrey late founde by the Spaniardes in the weſt ocean, where al the men go naked, & haue their bodies peinted with diuers figures, wearing only garlãdes made of ſundry flowers, mixt with the cleies of lions and tygres. In that countrey hath bẽn founde plentie of golde.

Ceramicus, A place in Athens, where menne beinge ſlaine in battaile, were buried. Also an other place, where common women dwelled: and a goulfe in the ſea, not farre from Halicarnaſſus.

Ceramium, A place in Rome, where Cicero and Milo had houſes.

Ceraſtæ, Certayne yles by Aethiope.

Ceraſtis, The auncyent name of the yle of Cyprus.

Ceraſus, untis, A towne of Cappadocia, called commonly Zephano.

Ceratus, A citie in Candie.

Cerauii, and Ceraunia, Hylles in Epyre, by the citie Ambracia. Also hilles in Armenie about Pœotis

Ceraunus, The ſurname of one of the Ptolomees. Alſo a ryuer in Cappadocia.
Cérbalus, A ryuer of Apulia.
Cerbereus, a, um, Of Cerberus.
Cérberus, A dogge with thꝛée heades, whiche (as poetes feygne) was poꝛter of hell, whom Hercules dꝛew out from thence.
Cercaphus, A mans name.
Cercaſorum, A towne in Aegipt.
Cerceis, The name of a nymphe, daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.
Cercetæ, People of the leſſe Aſia, called of Pomponius Cercetici.
Cerceti, Hylles of Theſſaly.
Cercina, An yle in the myddell ſea, and a citie of the ſame name.
Cercinitis, A very lyttle yle by Carthage.
Cercion, A kyng of Theſſaly.
Cercius, idem quod Circius.
Cercopeni, A certaine people.
Cercyon, A famous robber and thief in the countrey of Athens, of ſuche myght and ſtrengthe of bodie, that he woulde bende downe great bygge trees, and to the ſame byndyng wayfaring men that he robbed, with extreame tourmente rente them in péeces. He had a daughter named Alope who being raviſhed by Neptune, bꝛought fꝛth a ſonne called Hippoochus. Whiche thing when hir father Cercyon vnderſtode by the tellynge of the nourſe, he toke the matter ſo greuouſly, that he lefte the chylde in the woddes to be deuoured of wylde beaſtes, & ſampſhed his daughter to death in pꝛyſon. This cruell Cercyon in the ende was ouercomme by Theſeus, who tied him to two trees which weare bended, and rented him in péeces, as he was wont to vſe other.
Cercyræi, People ofte greeued with ſeditions: of whom grewe this pꝛouerbe, Cercyræa ſcutica.
Cerdo, onis, An heretyke, whiche affyꝛmed, that Chꝛiſt was neuer boꝛne of a woman, and that he had no fleſhe, noꝛ ſuffered any paſſion, but feygned to ſuffer. Alſo he taught, that the god, whiche was declared by the lawe and pꝛophetes to be God, was not the father of our ſauioure Chꝛiſte: foꝛ he was knowen, the other was vnknowen: the one was iuſt, the other was good. Alſo he ſaied the olde Teſtament was naughte: that ſome creatures are yl of themſelfe, and that they weare not made by that God, that was the chiefe goodneſſe, but of an other, the beginning of all yll, whome he named the pꝛyncipall myſchiefe. He was about the yere of our loꝛde. 144. whoſe hereſies be all condemned by the generall conſent of all chꝛiſtendome.
Cerdonia, A citie in Italy.
Cerealis, A towne in Spayne called alſo Ebura.
Cereális, le, Perteining to Ceres the goddeſſe.
Cerealia, orum, n. gen. Solemne feaſtes and ſacrifices dedicated to Ceres by Triptolemus.
Ceres, cereris, The daughter of Saturnus, and Ops, called alſo Iſis, was wyfe of Oſyꝛis kynge of Aegypte, who (as the Gréekes ſuppoſe) dyd fyꝛſt inuent the ſowyng of wheate and barley, which befoꝛe did growe wylde amonge other herbes. Alſo that ſhe dyd fyꝛſte make lawes, whereby iuſtice ſhould bee equally miniſtred to all men, violence and wꝛong being by feare taken away. Herodotus wꝛiteth, that the Aegiptiãs affirme Ceres and Bacchus to beare the chiefe rule in hell. This Ceres, as poetes feigne, had a daughter by Jupiter named Pꝛoſerpina, whom Pluto god of hell caried away by ſtelthe as ſhe was walkyng. Wherefoꝛe Ceres in great ſoꝛowe lighting toꝛches at the mounte Aetna, trauayled ouer all the woꝛlde almoſte to ſéeke hir daughter. At the length ſhe was tolde by Arethuſa the Nimph, that hir daughter was in hell and ſtollen away by Pluto: She therfoꝛe goynge to Jupiter complained of the vniuſt dealynge of his bꝛother Pluto, and at the length obtained that hir daughter ſhould retourne againe on this cõdition, that whyle ſhe was in helle ſhe taſted of no fruite. In the ende when Ceres hoped wel to recouer hir daughter, one Aſcalaphus bewꝛayed that whyle Pꝛoſerpina walked in Plutoes oꝛcharde, ſhe plucked a pome granate and taſted one grayne of it, vpon whiche detection it could not be ý Pꝛoſerpina ſhould retourne. Wherfoꝛe Ceres in reuengement of his blabbiſhe tongue, tourned Aſcalaphus into an owle. But Jupiter to quiete his ſiſters mynde, graunted that hir daughter halfe the yeres ſpace ſhould be in heauen with the gods, the other halfe yere in helle with hir huſbands.
Ceretani, and Cerretani, A people in Spayne.
Cerinthus, thi, A towne in the ylande Cubæa. Alſo an heretyke, whiche lyued in the Apoſtles time: Looke Cherinthus.
Certes, A people, whiche the Romaynes vaynquyſhed, and oꝛdeigned, that they ſhould make no lawes among them.
Cermonum, A towne of Macedonie.
Cerna, oꝛ Cerne, An yle in the ſea of Aethiope.
Cernetani, A people of Italy, called alſo Marrani.
Cernuria, A place in Aquitaine.
Ceſcus, A citie in Pamphilia, oꝛ in Cilicia.
Ceſena, A towne in Italy.
Ceſſero, The citie Caſtres in Narbon.
Ceſſa, A towne in Iberia.
Ceſtria, A towne of Epyꝛe.
Ceſtrus, A ryuer of Pamphilia.
Cethegus, A name of certayne Romaynes, whereof one conſpyꝛed with Catiline to deſtroye his countrey.
Cetii, People in Aſia.
Cetius, A mountayne in Noricum, called commonly Kalenberge, oꝛ Calembꝛig.

C H

Chaa, A citie of Peloponneſus, by the fielde called Ephaſius.
Chaam, Called alſo Gog Chaam, is the name of dig-of dignitie of the greate Emperoure of Tartarians, called the greate Chane of Cathay, or Cambalu, whose dominion extendeth from the furtheſt parte of the eaſte, vnto the countrey of Ruſſy northweſte, and ſo vnto the northe ſea: on the ſoutheaſte, vnto the ſouth or Indian ſea: on the ſouthweſt, vnto Perſia: So that by ỹ charte appeareth, there is vnder hym as muche mayne lande within little, as is the reſidue of al Aſia, Europa, and Africa.

Chabrias, A noble capitaine and philoſopher of the Athenienſes.

Chæremon, A Græke poete.

Chærephon, A philoſopher of Athens, the diſciple of Socrates.

Chæris, A folyſhe mynſtrell.

Chæronea, A towne of Bœotia.

Chaſa, A towne of Aegypte.

Chalæon, An hauen of Locris.

Chalame, A citie of Perſie, whiche nowe is called Aetiſiphon.

Chalaſtra, A citie by the boſome of the ſea called Termenum.

Chalce, An yle and a towne by Rhodes.

Chalcedon, A citie in Aſia, againſte Conſtantinople.

Chalceritis, An yle in Pontus.

Chalcia, One of the ylandes called Cyclades.

Chalcidicus, a, um, Of Chalcis.

Chalciope, The wyfe of Phyrrus, and ſyſter to Medea.

Chalcis, idis, fœ. gen. The name of a citie in Græce. Alſo of an yle.

Chalcitis, is, fæ. g. An ylande by the mouth of the ryuer Rhyndacus in Aſia.

Chaldæa, A countrey, whiche (as Strabo wryteth) ioygneth to Arabia, and to the ſea Perſicum. Solinus and Plinius name that coutrey Chaldea, wheare the greate citie of Babylon ſtoode. In the new chartes, it is ſette in this wyſe: On the weſte, it ioygneth on Meſopotamia: on the northe, vpon Aſſyria, and Media: on the eaſt vpõ Perſia: on the ſouthe vpon Arabia deſerta, and ſo it is farre from Judea. They haue a propre language, ſomewhat lyke to Hebrue, but theyr letters are vnlyke to any other. Strabo nameth the countrey, where the people Chalybes dwell, Chaldæa.

Chaldæi, Be taken for greate aſtronomers of the countrey of Aſſyria.

Chaleſtra, A citie in Theſſaly, on the ſea coaſte.

Chalybes, A people in the leſſe Aſia, in the countrey called Pontus, whiche digge great plentie of yron, & goe naked. It is alſo the name of a ryuer in Spayne.

Chaones, People of the countrey of Epire in Græce: the countrey is called Chaonia.

Chaos, ne. ge. Undeclined, a confuſe matter without forme, made firſt of nothyng, whereof poetes ſuppoſed al other thinges to procede. Sometime it is taken for hell.

Charadrus, A mœre or pole by Cilicia, nere the ryuer Charadrus.

Charax, âcis, maſ. gen. A place where the Carthaginenſes kepte their marte.

Charaxes, The brother of Sappho.

Chares, retis, A capitaine in Athens. Alſo a caruer, the ſcholar of Lyſippus.

Charetes, A duke of Athens, whiche would promiſe euery thyng, and naught perfourme.

Charillus, A capitaine of Lacedemonia.

Chariſius, An oratour of Athens.

Charites, The graces, whiche were ſuppoſed to bee the daughters of Jupiter, three in nũber, whoſe names were Aglaia, Thalia, and Euphroſyne. And where in ſpeaking or writing appeared to be a meruaylous delectatiõ or ſweetneſſe, it was ſaide, that therin was a grace, in Græke Charis. Some mẽ ſuppoſe that there were three Graces deuiſed to ſignifie that men ought to be both bountifull and gracious to other, and ſecõdly to take benefites at other mẽs handes, and thirdly thãkefully to requite benefites receiued: whiche are three ſundrie actes in the vſe of liberalitie. Other ſay they imagined three graces to ſignifie liberall thankefulneſſe, and that we ſhoulde plentifully requite benefite with vantage more then we receiued. Wherfore they painte the Graces in this maner, that the ones backe ſhould be towarde vs, and hir face fromward, as proceding from vs, the other two towarde vs: noting double thanke to bee due for the benefite we haue done. They weare alſo painted naked, to doo men to witte, that pleaſures ſhould be done vnfeinedly without cloke or diſſimulation: they weare made yonge, to note that the memory of a benefite ſhould in no tyme weare awaye and decaye: they weare deſcriued laughing, becauſe pleaſures ought to be donne with a chereful and glad minde: finally their armes weare painted as it weare linked one within an other, to teach that kyndneſſe ſhould be vndiſſoluble, and one benefite ſo to prouoke an other, as it may make the league of loue and frendſhip ſure & perpetual.

Charmione, The handmayde of Cleopatra, that willingly died with hir maiſtreſſe.

Charmonia, A citie of Spayne.

Charon, tis, Was named of the Paynims, the ferieman that caried ſoules ouer the three ryuers of hell, Acheron, Styx, and Cocytus. It is alſo the name of three hiſtoriographers.

Charonia, A countrey by Hierapolis.

Charoniũ, A certain den, cõſecrate to Pluto & Juno.

Charopes, A Troyane, the ſonne of Hippaſus.

Charundas, The name of a man, whiche gaue lawes to the Athenians.

Charybdis, A goulfe of the ſea by Sicilie, wherein is dãgerous ſayling, by reaſon of ſtreames flowyng contrary eache againſt other, wherby ſhips be therin deuoured.

Chatti, called alſo Cathi, & Catti, People of Germany.

Chelidoniæ, Twoo ylandes ouer againſt the mountaine Taurus.

Chelidonium, nii. neut. g. An elbowe of the mountaine Taurus, lyyng into the sea.

Chelonates, A promontorie of Achaia.

Chelonóphagi, A people of Carmania, whiche lyue by eatynge Torteyses, where are founde so greate, that they couer theyr caues wyth the shelles.

Chemmis, An ylande in Aegypt, whiche swymmeth and is dryuen hyther and thither with the wyndes, notwithstãding that in it are woddes and an huge temple of Apollo. Pomponius Mela. lib. 2. Herodotus calleth it Echemmis.

Cheops, A kyng of Aegypt, whiche made the greate steeple at Memphis, wheron were so many men worckyng, that he spent onely in persely, onyons and garlyke. 1060. talentes, whiche (if it were the great talent) amounted of our money to. 250550. poundes.

Chephren, The brother of Cheops, and reygned after hym.

Cherilus, An vnlearned poete, that wrate the Atheniẽs victory agaĩst Xerres, & the gestes of great Alexander. And of all his greate woorke there were but. vij. verses alowed. For the whiche he was rewarded with. vij. pieces of golde: and for eache other verse he had a good buffette. He died in prison for hunger.

Cherinthus, An heretyke, whiche affirmed, that Christe shoulde come and reygne in the worlde the space of. 1000. yeres, and durynge that tyme men should liue in all carnall delites, and afterwarde come vp to heauen, where they should euer liue in the pleasures of gluttony, and leacherie. He denied Christe to be any other than pure man. He receyued onely the gospel of sainct Mathew, and reiected the other euangelistes, and the actes of the Apostles. He was about the yere of our lorde. 88.

Chernitus, A chylde of excellente fauoure, who abandoned hymselfe to the fylthy imbracynge of men.

Cherronêsus, idem quod Peninsula, The parte of Grẽce nowe called Morea. It is sometyme taken for the north parte of the great Asia. It is also called Chersonnêsus.

Chersidamas, A Troyane.

Cherubin, One of the holy orders of angelles, wherin is the science diuine and mistical.

Cheruſci, A people of Germany.

Chia, A maydens name in Horace, and a certayne ylande.

Chidnæi, People about Pontus.

Chidorus, A ryuer of Macedonie.

Chiliastæ, Were christen men, which helde this opinion, that Christe shoulde come personally and reigne as a kynge in this worlde, a thousande yeres: of whiche opinion was Lactantius.

Chilo, ónis, masc. gen. One of the. vij. wyse men of Grẽce. He liued in Lacedœmon, and died for ioy: for whose death all Grẽce mourned.

Chimæra, ræ, fœ. gen. A mountayne in Lycia, oute of the whiche issueth fyre. It is also a monster hauing three heades, one like a lyon, an other like a goat, the thirde like a dragon. After Homere, it is a beast inuincible.

Chimærii, A people borderyng on the Amazons: and all people dwellyng in colde countreys are called Chimærii.

Chimerium, An hill in Thessaly.

Chione, es, A famous harlotte.

Chios, looke Chius.

Chirocrates, The name of a famous Carpenter.

Chirogylum, An ylande.

Chiron, ônis, The name of a man, who did firste finde the vertues of herbes: He taught Aesculapi⁹ phisicke, Apollo to harpe, & Hercules astronomie. He was maister to Achilles, and excelled all other men in his tyme in vertue and iustice.

Chius, An yle by Grœce in the sea Aegeum, whiche (as Strabo wryteth) is in compasse. 900. furlonges, whiche is an hundred Italyan myles. In this yle dooe growe very good malmeseys, and other hotte wynes. Some Grœke autours wryte, that it can not be remembred, that within that countrey, was any auoutrie committed, or vnlawfull companynge of women amonge themselues.

*Chius ad Coum, A prouerbe, noting a very vnequall comparyson, as an ase to a syse.

Chius, (after some) is a citie of Caria, an other of Eubœa, an other of Rhodes by Tropia.

Chius, a, um, Of Chius.

Chloris, Chlóridis, fœ. gen. The daughter of Amphion, wyfe of Neleus, and mother of Nestor. Also the goddesse of flowers, otherwyse called Flora.

Choaspes, A famous ryuer in Asia, whiche renneth into the great ryuer Tygris.

Choatræ, A people about Mæotis.

Chobar, Signifieth all the greate fludes that are in the region of Chaldea.

Choerilus, looke Cherilus.

Choraliſtria Phyllis, A womã that Propertius loued, whiche daunced kynely.

Chorannei, Certayne menne that lyue in woddes in Persia, which are so swyfte that they take hartes with rennyng.

Chorinêus, A mans name which was a good archer.

Chorœbus, Was one of Athens, whiche dyd fyrste inuente the makyng of earthen vessell. Also the name of a young man mencioned of Virgill.

Chosroes, A kynge of the Persians, excellently well learned.

Chrestus, The name of a noble sophyster of Byzance.

Christodórus, A poete of Aegipte, in the tyme of Anastasius the emperour: an other of Thebes.

Chromis, The sonne of Hercules. Also a boye mencioned of Virgil.

Chromius, One of Argos, of whome Herodotus wryteth.

Chryſa, A citie of Phrygia, and an ylande of Indie.

die. Also a riuer in the countrey of Syracuse.

Chrysaor, The sonne of Neptune, begotten of the head of Medusa.

Chrysas, A ryuer, that the Paganes worshipped for a god.

Chryse, An yle, whiche Plinie and Solinus doe set out in the mouthe of the famous riuer Indus, where (as Martianus writeth) is suche abundaunce of fyne golde, that thereof the yle tooke his name. For Chrysos, is in englishe golde. It is also a citie by Lemnus.

Chryses, A prophete amonge the Gentiles. Also a mayden geuen by the Grekes to Agamemnon at the battayle of Troy.

Chrysippus, A noble philosopher, borne in Cilicia, in the towne Solæ, as Solinus writeth, but Laertius wryteth, that he was borne in Tarsus: he was of the secte called Stoici.

Chrysoceras, A promõtory of Thrace by Byzaunce.

Chrysógonus, One whom Sylla the Romayne of a bondemã made frée. Also a gentleman of Rome martyred vnder the emperour Diocletian.

Chrysopolis, A citie of Bithynia.

Chrysorrhoas, A ryuer that renneth by Damascus in Syria.

Chrysothemis, The daughter of Agamemnon and Clytemnestra.

Chrysostomus, The name of a famous byshop of Cõstantinople, and also of an hystoriã, which were so called for theyr eloquence. For Chrysostomus is in englishe, a golden mouth.

Chryxus, The neuew of Brennus, vnder whom the the Gallies inuaded Rome.

Cibarci, People of Spayne.

Cibéle, or rather Cybéle, es, and after some Cybelle, The daughter of Minos, king of Creta: she was cast out into the deserte, nourished with beastes, and founde by a woman that kepte shéepe, and by hir nourished: after she became meruaylous fayre and wyse. she found fyrst the pype and tabour, and cimbals amonge the grékes: moreouer the education of chyldren, all whiche she so tenderly loued, that for the death of a childe, called Atis, she became madde. She was wyfe to Saturne, and named of Paynims the mother of the goddes, and after hir death was honoured for a goddesse. She was also called Rhea, Vesta, Pessinuntia, Berecynthia, Ops, & Terra. Hir ymage beyng specially honoured in a citie of Phrygia called Pessinus, was by the counsayle of Sybilla, fetched thence by Scipio Nasica, and brought to Rome, and had there in great reuerence.

Cibotus, A citie of Asia, called also Apamia.

Cibyra, A citie of Phrygia.

Cibyratæ, People of that citie.

Cicero, ônis, m.g. The surname of Marcus Tullius: whose diuine eloquence, abundante learnynge, sharpenesse of wyt, derteritie in actes, and moste ardent loue to the common weale of his countrey, can not be sufficiently expressed by a mortall mans tounge or pen. He lineally descended from the auncient kynges of the Volscians: all be it tyme and occasion wearynge out dignities in bloud, his name continued longe in the place of worshyp. His auncestours were called Ciceriones, because Tullius Appius, a noble kynge of the Volscians, had on his nose, a marke lyke a chiche peáse, called Cicer. In his childehode, he so excelled all other children in wytte, that their fathers meued with his fame, went purposely to the schole to beholde and here him. He so profited in the eloquẽce of grécke and latine, that not onely his companions were in a meruailous admiration of him, but also Apollonius (the moste excellẽt oratour at that time) hearing him, & not speaking a great space, saied at last: Truly Cicero, I praise thée, and meruayle at thée: but I lament the fortune of the Grekes, whan I consider, that by thée, learnynge and eloquence, which were left vnto vs onely, are euen now translated vnto the Romaines: which saiyng was afterwarde founde true. For lohe what subtiltée was in Logike, what commoditée in moral philosophie, what secreate knowlage in philosophie natural, he knew it (as Tacitus writeth) and declared it in latine most eloquently. And he beynge but a very ponge man, came to practise in Rome, studied abundantly the ciuile lawes, was meruailously occupied in great weighty causes. And after he was Senatour, was continually (as it seemed) most busy about the weale publyke. Yet he that exactly readeth his workes, shall thinke he neuer byd any thynge but reade great authours, and write bookes. For there was no philosopher, no oratour, no poete before his tyme that escaped him, as doeth in his bookes sufficiently appeare. And yet how many bookes made he? sence we haue not the thirde part of them, yet such as we haue, if any man now did wryte so much, and so well, we shoulde thinke him to haue spente the more parte of his time in wrytynge. And noble Cicero, lorde god how many thinges did he exploite by his wisedome and diligence, in most weighty affayres, as well in warre as peace? how dyd he by his derteritée and prudence saue the citie & people of Rome from the moste pernicious confederacie and rebellion of Catiline, and other of the nobilitée, whiche went about to destroy the weale publike, and robbe the citie? how preserued he the same citie and people, after the death of Cæsar, that they weare not oppressed by Marcus Antonius? For his incomparable actes, the whole Senate and people gaue to him, fyrst before any, the name of father of the countrey. What trouble and misery sustayned he, beynge eryled by the procurement of Clodius, cruelly for the puttynge of the saide rebelles to death? Such is the rewarde of people vnstable. Likewise for dryuynge Antonius out of Rome, and by his sharpe orations, causynge him to be pro-clayned enemy to the weale publike: he made Antonie so much his ennemie, that in the treaty of peace betweene him and Octauius, he demaũded Cicero, to doe with him his pleasure. Which thing graunted of the vnkinde Octauius (whom Cicero had brought vp, and by his meanes caused to be made chiefe gouernour of Rome) Antonie sente one Herennius (whom Cicero had saued from death by his eloquence) to pursue him as he fled. Which thinge whan Cicero perceyued, he abode his commynge. And lynge in an horse lytter for weakenesse, he did with constãt eyes prepare his throate to Herennius: who did (all other men abhorryng) strike of his head, & handes, and brought them to Antonie: who retoysyng therat, caused the head and handes to be set ouer the place of ciuile iudgements of Rome, whiche dayly beholden of the Senate and people of Rome, was lamẽted. He flourished about. xl. yeres before the incarnation. For his life and actes reade Plutarch. de vitis. Corn. Nepos, Appian. Sabel. Apoph. Erasmi.

C I

Ciceroniânus, a, um, Of Cicero, or that studieth to folowe Cicero.

Cicheus, A ryuer.

Cicimeni, People about Mœotis.

Cicones, A people of Thrace, dwelling by the ryuer Hebrus.

Ciconius, The name of him that builded Brixia.

Cicuta, The name of a notable vsurer.

Cilicia, A countrey in Asia, partely inclosed with the highest part of the mountaine Taurus, and hardest to passe by. Strabo diuideth Cilicia into two partes, one called Tracher, that is to saye, roughe or rockie: the other Campestris, that is to say, playne. Iosephus writeth, that it was of olde tyme called Tarsus, of Tarsis one of the sonnes of Japhet, the yongest sonne of Noe. Herodotus saieth, the people were called Cilices of Cilix, the sonne of Agenor king of Phœnicia, where before it was called Hyppateus. S. Hierome interpreteth Cilicia a congregation, a lamentation, an assumptiõ, a lamentable calling, or vomite. The people were by nature inclyned to lyeng & stealing, wherof grew this prouerbe,

* Cilix non facile verum dicit, The Cicilia not lightly saieth truth. A prouerbe applied to a couetous man, whiche alway lieth for his particular aduauntage, as nowe adaies most men doe which lyue onely by sellyng.

Cilicensis, se, Of Cilicia.

Cilissus, a, um, Idem.

Cilix, icis, An inhabitaunt of Cilicia. Also the sonne of Phœnix.

Cilla, A citie nere to Thebes.

Cillicon, contis, A traytours name.

Cimas, An yle by the ryuer Ister.

Cimbri, People that inhabited Denmarke, & Norwaie, who had a meruailous custome: Their wiues folowed them in warres, women cunninge in diuination, whose heares were whyte, and lykewise their gownes, vnder the whiche they had launde clothes, made faste with pynnes and taches, beynge gyrte with gyrdelles of brasse, and wente bare foted. Alwaies as prisoners were taken, they with naked swordes beatte them to the grounde, and drewe them to a brasen cauldron, whiche conteyned fyfty amphoras, and hauinge an haulte place made for the purpose, wente vp quickely, and liftyng vp on high the men that were taken, dyd cutte their throates ouer the cauldron, and by the dropping of the bloud declared their prophecies. Some other opening mens belies, serched their bowelles, and prophecied victory vnto the people.

Cimbria, The countrey now called Denmarke.

Cimbricus, a, um, Of Cimbria.

Cimmerii, People inhabityng the furthest parte of Europe, not farre from the fennes called Paludes Mæotidis, about the sea Bosphorus Cimmerius, northeast from Græcia. Plinie and other affyrme, that by the farre distance of the sonne frõ it, that countrey is alway very darke: whereof hapned this prouerbe,

* Cimmeriis tenebris atrior, Blacker then the darkenesse of Cimmeria: applied to much darkenesse, dulnesse of witte, or lacke of wisedome.

Cimmerii, Were also people of Italy, in the countrey betweene Baiæ, and Cumæ, whiche was so enuyroned with hylles, that the sonne came not to it, neyther in the morynge, nor at nyght. There was supposed to be a descence into hell. And the people dwelled onely in caues.

Cimmeris, A citie of the countrey of Troy.

Cimolis, A citie of Paphlagonia. Also of Galatia, called commonly Quinoli.

Cimolius, a, um, Of the citie Cimolis.

Cimon, A noble man of Athens, Miltiades sonne.

Cincia, A place in Rome.

Cincinnâtus, The name of a Senatour in Rome, which beynge called from the plough, was made Dictatour.

Cincius, the name of certaine Senatours of Rome.

Cineas, A man of Thessaly, whom Pyrrhus entierly loued.

Cinesias, A learned man of Thebes.

Cinga, A ryuer that renneth out of the mountaynes Pirenei.

Cingulum, A citie of Picene in Italy, from whence the moyles come, which are called Cingulani.

Cinna, A citie of Spayne. Also the name of a Romayne, whiche excœded in crueltie, and was in the ciuile warre ioyned with Marius.

Cinxia, A surname of Juno.

Cinyphius, a, um, Of or by the ryuer called Cinyps.

Cinyps, nyphis, A ryuer of Lybia.

Cinyras, A kynge of Phœnicia: an other of Cypres which vnwares had to doe with his daughter Myrrha, which is called after him Cinyrẽia.

Cios, An hauen or porte towne of Phrygia, and a ryuer of the same name.

Cirannus, A man of Lycia, the compaignion of Sarpedon.

Sarpedon.

Circe, The daughter of Sol, by Perſis the daughter of Oceanus: She knewe the meruailous operations of ſundry herbes, and howe to cure all poyſons. At the laſte ſhe ſlewe hir huſbande, kynge of Scythes, with poyſon, and vexed the people with much tyranny: wherefore ſhe was expelled the countrey, and fled into a deſerte yle in the Occean ſea. Homere nameth hir the ſiſter of Aeta, and ſheweth how diuers of Ulliſſes compaignions, arryuyng in the yle where Circe dwelled, were by hir trāſformed into ſwyne. And after by the interceſſion of Ulliſſes, ſhe reſtored them to their priſtinate fourme, more beautifull and yonge in ſyght, than they weare before.

Circes domus, A towne of Campayne, called alſo Circeum.

Circenſes, The inhabitauntes of Circeum.

Circeium ſignum, A mountaine of Campayne.

Circèus, a, um, Of Circe.

Circius, cii, An yſlande in Myſia.

Circumpadanus, a, um, That dwelleth about the ryuer Poo in Italy.

Circus, i, m. g. A place in Rome walled about, wherin was ſightynge with the fyſtes, and renning with horſes. About it were ſundry galleries, where the ſenatours and gentlemen beheld the paſtyme. The plaies vſed there, were called Circenſes ludi, as it weare amonge ſwordes, for as much as before there were ani ſuch places made as Circus was, the homely antiquitée vſed thoſe games in the open fielde, enuyronned with ryuers and ſwordes, the poyntes vpwarde, that on euery parte a cowarde was in daunger.

Ciris, ris, f. g. The name of Scylla, the daughter of kynge Niſus.

Cirrha, A citie of Phocis.

Cirrhæus, The ſurname of Apollo, ſo named after that citie.

Cirta, A citie of Numidia.

Cirtiſcus, A famouſe ryuer of Scythia.

Ciſalpina Gallia, called alſo Gallia Togata, & Citerior Gallia, Was ſometyme that countrey, which is from the mountaines Alpes, vnto the ryuer Rubicon: now called Lumbardy.

Ciſamus, A citie of Candie, called now Ephitiſa.

Ciſapennina, A parte of Italy.

Ciſianthi, A people of Scythia.

Ciſpius, A mountayne in Rome.

Ciſſa, A ryuer of Pontus, called Quiſa.

Ciſſeus, A kyng of Thrace, father of Hecuba quéne of Troie, of whom ſhe is called Ciſſéis.

Ciſſena, A citie of Acolis.

Citenos, One of the yles called Cyclades.

Citani, People of Sicilie.

Citariſta, or Citariſtes, lyke Cithariſta.

Citerior Gallia, lyke Ciſalpina Gallia.

Citheron, onis, A kynge of Platæa in Grécce, who aduiſed Iupiter (whan Juno in an anger was gone from him into Boeotia) to make an image of woodde, and cladde rychely in the apparayle of a bryde, to be ſette in a charlotte, and to publiſhe amonge the people, that Iupiter was determined to mary Platea, the daughter of Aſopus. As this ymage was ſolemnely caryed, Juno inflamed with ielouſy, met the chariot, & entryng thereinto, dyd rent the clothes and apparayle about the ymage, and fyndinge an ymage of tree, and no bryde, delyted at the inuention wherwith ſhe was begupyled. And tournyng hir anger into laughyng, was forthwith reconciled vnto Iupiter.

Cithæron, Is alſo an hyll in Theſſaly, dedicated to Bacchus.

Cithariſta, tæ, An angle of Narbon in Fraunce by Marſiles, lyynge out into the ſea.

Citium. A towne of Cypres.

Citorus, A mountaine of Paphlagonia, where groweth plentie of bore trées.

Cittium, A towne of Cypres.

Cius, A ryuer in Thrace. Alſo a citie of the ſame name.

Cizicus, A citie in Aſia the leſſe.

C L

Cl

Claeon, A ryuer in Phrygia.

Clampetiæ, A place in Italy.

Clanius, A ryuer of Campayne, nére to a citie called Acerræ.

Clariæ, People of Thrace.

Clarium, A towne in Gréece, where Apollo was honoured, and thereof called Clarius. There was an hole in the grounde, out of whiche ranne a little broke, wherof he that dranke, gaue meruailous aunſweres, but he lyued not long after.

Claros, A citie in Gréece, where was an Oracle of Apollo.

Clarus, ri, maſ. gen. A ryuer which renneth from the mountaines Alpes into the ryuer Danubius.

Claterna, A citie in Italy.

Claudia, A gentylwoman of Rome, whiche for hir curioule apparaile, was infamed to be vnchaſte. But whan the ymage of Cybéle, called mother of the goddes, was broughte oute of Phrygia to Rome, in a barge by the ryuer of Tyber, it hapned to ſticke ſo faſt in a ſhalow place, that it mought not be remoued with any force. This mayden, knelynge downe, deſyred the goddeſſe, that as ſhe beynge a cleane virgin and falſely ſclaundered, the ſaide ymage would vouchſafe to folowe hir to the citie. And than, ſhe onely tyinge hir gyrdell to the barge, eaſily drew it to the lande, which all the youth of the citie were not able to doe.

Claudia, is alſo a town of Noricum, called alſo Claudiuium.

Claudianus. A famous poete.

Claudiópolis, A citie of Cappadocia.

Claudiuium, A citie in Norice, called commōly Cloſternewburge.

Claudius, The prayre name of diuers Romaynes, & alſo the ſurname of a noble family in Rome, which were euer repugnant to the actes of the common people.

Clauena, The duchie of Cleues.

Clazomenæ, A citie of Ionie, whiche Paralus builded, called before Grynia.

Clazomenia, An yllande, which is called Marathusa.

Cleanthes, The name of a noble philosopher: which was so poore, that in the night tyme he gatte his lyuing by cariyng of water, & in the daie studied philosophie. He succeded Zeno in his schole.

Clearchus, The name of a philosopher. There was a noble capitaine of the same name, of whom Xenophon writeth in the expedition of Cyrus the lesse: he wrote those thinges, which he learned of Zeno, in ore bones and tyle shardes, for lacke of money to bye paper.

Cleobis, and Biton, The sonnes of Argia, whiche drew theyr mother to the temple in a wayne.

Cleobulus, One of the seuen sages of Grece, whose daughter called Cleobulina, was an excellent poetrice, & made a boke of ryddelles, conteyned in three thousande verses.

Cleódamas, The name of a Geometricia in the time of Plato, and of an other of Thessaly, whiche wrote of horsekeepynge.

Cleombrotus, The sonne of Pausanias, capitayne of the Lacedemonians. Also a yonge man whiche after he had readde Plato his workes, conceyued suche an hope of immortalitee of the soule, that he lepte into the sea, notwithstandynge he had no misfortune in all his lyfe.

Cleomédes, A wrastler of excédynge strength and greatnesse of body, who, beynge put beside the pryse at the games of Olympus, fell madde. Afterwarde, commynge into a schole where children weare, he plucked downe a pyller that staied vp the house, and killed the children. And when men sought for him to be punished, he fled into a sepulchre, & on the inside healde a thinge so strongly against the mouth of it, that a great number weare not hable by force to breake it open: wherefore they dygged the place aboute, and when they came on the inside, Cleomedes was vanished away, and neuer after coulde be seene, either aliue or deade.

Cleomenes, A capitayne of the Lacedemonians, and a riottous personne in the tyme of Cicero and Verres.

Cleon, A capitaine of the Atheniens, ennemy to Phidias. Also a poete & orator of the same name.

Cleonæ, arum, plu. & Cleone, es, fœ. ge. sing. A towne in Grece, betwéne Argos and Corynthe, where Hercules slue a lyon.

Cleonæus, a, um, Of Cleonæ.

Cleopátra, The name of diuers great ladies, specially quéenes of Aegypte. Of whom one excelling in pleasantnesse and sharpnesse of wit, fyrst allured vnto hir Julius Cæsar, afterwarde Marcus Antonius, companion in the empyre with Augustus, whom she brought into such dotage, that in folowinge hir appetite, he aspyred vnto the whole empyre: wherfore he was afterward destroyed by Augustus. This woman so excéeded in sumptuous gluttony, that she puttyng an excellent pearle into tarte vineger (wherein beynge resolued) receyued it into hir body, beynge estéemed at Centies HS, whiche is of our money, 50000. li. This ladie after the death of Antonie inclosed hir selfe in a tombe, and hauynge two serpentes suckyng at hir pappes, so dyed.

Cleopatrus, A capitaine of Corynthe.

Cleophantus, A famous philition. Also a cunnynge peynter of Corynthe.

Cleophon, A tragicall poete of Athens.

Cleostratus, An auncient philosopher, whiche was the fyrst that wrate of the celestiall sygures.

Clepsydra, æ, The name of a fountayne in Athens.

Clima, atis, n. g. Is a portion of the worlde betwéne southe and northe, wherein is variation of time in length of the day the space of halfe an houre, whiche is set out in the tables and chartes of cosmographie.

Clinias, A certaine philosopher of Pithagoras secte. Also a Musician.

Clio, The name of one of the Muses.

Clipea, A towne in the lesse Affrike, called also Clupea, and Clypea, commonly Quipia.

Clitarchus, an historiographer, that was with great Alexander, and wrote his actes.

Clitellæ, arum, f. g. pl. The name of a place in Rome.

Cliternia, or Cliternũ, A towne in Italy, by the moũtayne Garganus, called commonly Celano.

Clitomachus, A philosopher borne at Carthage, and disciple of Carneades. Also a notable wrastler, which was so chaste that if he hearde in company any fylthy worde spoken, he would forthwith ryse from the table and departe.

Clitoris, vel Clitorium, A citie of Arcadie, by the whiche is a denne, from whence springeth out a water, of the which who so drinketh, doeth euer after hate wyne.

Clitumnus, ni, A ryuer in Italy, of whiche if beastes drynke, the yonge that they bryng forth are whyte.

Cloanthus, A Troyan, the compaignion of Aeneas.

Clodia, A noble woman of Rome.

Clodii forum, A towne in Italy.

Clodius, The name of diuers Romaines, whereof two by theyr yll actes gat speciall remembrãce. One was sonne to Esopus the plaier in tragedies, vnto whom his father lefte meruaylouse great rychesse, whiche he shortly consumed in banketting, wherin he was so sumptuous, that vnto them which supped with him, he woulde geue pearles of great value, resolued in vyneger to eate. An other Clodius, of a noble house of the Romaines so hated Tullie, for bearing witnes against him, whan he was accused for committynge adulterie with Pompeia the wife of Julius Cæsar, that afterward, beynge Tribune of the people, he neuer ceassed to styrre the people against Tullie, vntill he compelled him to go

goe into exile.

Cloelia, A mayden of Rome, whiche beynge in hoſtage with other to the kynge Porſena, deceyued hir kepers, and ſwamme ouer the riuer Tyber to the citie.

Cloniꝰ, A capitaine of the Bœotians, whiche came to ayde the Troyanes.

Cloris, or Chloris, A mayden or nymph, which was maryed to Zephyrus, vnto whom was aſſygned for hir dowrie, to haue the rule ouer flowers.

Clota, A creke in the Britayne ſea.

Clotho, One of the fatall ladies, hauyng power ouer mans life, in diſſoluyng therof. An other the daughter of Nereus, and goddeſſe of the ſea.

Cluentius, A Romaine, whom Cicero defended in an eloquent oration.

Clunia, A towne in Spayne.

Clunienſis, A county in Spayne.

Clupea, æ, f.g. or Clypea, A citie of Affrike, neere to Carthage.

Cluſini, People of Hetruria.

Cluſinus, The ſurname of Janus, becauſe that in the tyme of peace, the gates of his temple were ſhutte.

Cluſiolum, Was an olde towne of Umbria.

Cluſium, A citie in the myddle of Tuſcia, in the which Porſena was buryed.

Clymene, The mother of Prometheus, daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.

Clymenëides, The ſiſters of Phaeton, named after their mother Clymene.

Clypea, vide Clipea.

Clytemneſtra, The wyfe of Agamemnon, the daughter of Tyndarus and Leda.

Clytia, vel Clytie, A mayden, which Apollo loued.

Clytus, A ponge man loued of Sydon. Alſo the ſonne of Laomedon, and brother to Priamus.

C N

Cn. vel Cneus, The ſurname of dyuers Romaines.

Cnemides, A place in Thrace.

Cnidos, or Gnidos, A citie of Caria, where Uenus was worſhipped. Alſo a promontorie in the ſame place.

C O

Coa, A towne in Arabia fœlix.

Coaſpis, A ryuer of the Medes, whiche renneth into Tygris.

Coaſtræ, People of India, where be trées ſo hyghe that a man can not ſhote to the toppe.

Cocalus, A kyng of Sicilie, to whom Dedalus fled out of Creta, whan Minos purſued him.

Cocanicus, A ryuer in Sicilie, whereof a certayne kynde of ſalte is called Cocanicus.

Cocles, A Romaine, whiche at the ſiege of Rome, kepte backe Porſena and all his armie, tyll the bryege was broken behind him. Liu. Decad. 1. li. 2.

Cocinthum, A great promontory in Italy.

Coctiæ, A parte of the mountaines Alpes.

Cocytia, Sacrifices that weare done in honour of Proſerpina queene of hell.

Cocytus, A ryuer of hell.

Codanonia, An yle of Germany.

Codanus, A goulfe in Germany, aboue the ryuer Albis, hauyng many yslandes in it.

Codera, A fielde by Tyber.

Codrus, dri, The propre name of a kyng of Athens, who to ſaue his countrey, willingly loſt his life. Alſo a very poore man, whoſe name is growen to a prouerbe.

* Codro pauperior, Poorer then Codrus.

Cœa, Of Politian is vſed for Coa, Of the yle of Cos.

Cœle, A name of Syria.

Cœlos, An hauen in Thracia.

Cœmba, A citie of Gedroſia, called now Cambata.

Cœnoeum, The citie of Lubembergh in Germany.

Cœnôſus, The name of an hauen.

Cœos, vide Cæa.

Cœus, The name of a gygant, ſonne of Titan and Terra.

Colaicum, A promontory of the yslande Taprobana.

Colapiani, People of Pannonie.

Colaſſis, The ſcholar of Lyſippus, whiche made the ymage called Colloſſus at Rhodes. 70. cubites high.

Colaxes, The ſonne of Jupiter and Oza, whiche was ſlayne by Jaſon.

Colchi, People in Aſia, whereof the countrey is of Strabo called Colchis, by the ſea ſyde called Pontus, where the toppe of the hyll Caucaſus tourneth to the mountaines Riphei, the one ſyde bedyng to the ſea Euxinum, and the fenne called Mæotis, the other ſyde towarde the ſea Caſpium. In this countrey is the famouſe ryuer Phaſis. And it was the countrey of Medea wife to Jaſon.

Colchis, Is ſometyme a woman borne in that countrey.

Colchiacus, & Colchicus, a, um, Of Colchis.

Colchus, a, um, idem quod Colchiacus.

Colidos, An yslande in the Ocean of Indie, conſecrate to Uenus, whiche was ſo highe, that no byrde flewe vp to it.

Collatia, A towne by Rome, whereof one of the gates of the citie was called Collatina.

Collatina dea, Was ſuppoſed to be the goddeſſe ouer ſmall hylles.

Collatina porta, The name of a gate in Rome.

Collatinus, The name of a noble Romaine, whiche was huſbande to the chaſte Lucrece.

Collina porta, A gate at Rome.

Colonæus, A place where Sophocles the poete was borne.

Colônus, ni, m. gen. An high place in Athens, where Neptune was worſhipped.

Cólophon, ônis, A citie of Ionia in Græce, where was the temple of Apollo called Clarius, and Homere the famous poete was borne.

Colophonii, People of Colophon.

Colórbaſus, The name of an heretike, which taught that all mans lyfe was gouerned by the ſeuen planettes.

Coloſſe, A citie of Phrygia, whiche in the tyme of Nero was ouerthrowen with an earthquake.

Colotes, The name of a peincter.

Colpe, A citie in Ionia.

Colube, A citie of India.

Colubraria, An yle in the middle ſea.

Columella, The name of one that wrate of huſbanbandry moſte eloquently, in the daies of the emperour Claudius.

Columna, æ, A citie in Bzutium.

Columnæ Herculis, Two moutaines, one at the vttermoſt parte of Spayne, the other in the vttermoſt weſt parte of Affrike, where now are the ſtreictes of Cyuill or Marrocke. Some holde opinió, that they are two yles in the ſaid ſtreictes, one of them in Europe, & the other in Affrike. Some (as Strabo ſaieth) affirme them to be in dede two pyllours of brazle, in the yle of Gades, belongyng to Spayne, ſet in the temple of Hercules, in the honour of him, where they that trauayled by the myddle ſea, and were come to the vttermoſt parte thereof, and entrynge into the Ocean ſea, came and dyd ſacrifice to Hercules: which opinió Poſſidoni⁹ thought to be moſt tru.

Coluri, Are two great circles in the Sphere, which dwe declare the time called Aequinoctia, & Solſtitia, that is to ſay, whan the day and night be equall in length: alſo whan the day is longeſt, and the night at moſt length.

Comagene, A parte of Syzia.

Comana, A citie in the greatter Cappadocia, an other in Pontus. The people are called Comani.

Comari, A people of Aſia, beyonde the Scythes.

Comata, A ſhæpheardes name in Theocrite.

Combe, A mayden that inuented the armour of Aeneas.

Comenſes, People of Comum in Fraunce.

Cométes, The father of Alterion, one of the Argonautes.

Commorientes, The name of a comedie in Plautus.

Comum, mi, n.g. A citie of Fraunce on this ſyde the mountaynes, the inhabitauntes whereof are called Comenſes.

Comus, The god of banketting or rere ſuppers.

Concana, A citie in Spayne, the people whereof be called Concani.

Concilium Antiochenum, The generall councell holden at Antioche in Syzia, in the yere of our lozde. 346.

Concilium Ariminenſe, A generall councell holden at Ariminum in Italy, the yere of our lozde. 361. In the which, the articles of the councell of Nice were confyrmed.

Concilium Areſatenſe, A generall councell holden at Dzleance, the yere of our lozde. 814.

Concilium Baſilienſe, A generall councell holden at Baſile, the yere of our lozde. 1345.

Concilium Calcedonenſe, A generall councell holden at Calcedon in Fithynia, the yere of our lozde. 453. In the which coũcell the hereſies of Neſtorius and Eutiches, were condemned, and all the bookes of the Manichées hereſies were burned.

Concilium Carthaginenſe, A generall councell holden at Carthage in Affrike, the yere of our lozde. 419.

Concilium Conſtantiæ, A generall councell holden at Conſtance in Heluetia, the yere of our lozde. 1414. and endured. iij. yeres and moze.

Concilium Conſtantinopolitanum, A councell holden at Conſtantinople, the yere of our lozde. 869.

Concilium Ferrarienſe, A generall councell holden at the citie of Ferraria in Italy, where the churches of the Latines and Grækes became one churche, in the yere of our lozde. 1438.

Concilium Lateranenſe, A generall councell holden at Rome, in the palaice of the biſhoppe of Rome, called Lateranum, the yere of our lozde. 1215.

Concilium Lugdunenſe, A generall councell holden at Lyons in Fraunce, in the yere of our lozd. 1273. where the Grækes accozded with the Latines, in prozcédyng of the holy ghoſte, from the father and the ſonne in diuinitæ.

Concilium Nicenum, The fyrſte generall councell, whiche was holden at Nicea, a citie in Bithynia, the yere of our lozde. 327.

Concordia, A citie in Italy, an other in Spayne. Alſo a goddeſſe of the Romaines.

Condalus, A Lieutenant of kynge Mauſolus of Caria, was a merualous deuiſour to wreaſte money from men by craftie meanes. Foz he perceiuynge that the people of Lyſia (where he was lieutenant) dyd much delyght in keppnge theyr heare & trimme buſhes, on a time feygned that he had receiued letters from kynge Mauſolus, that al ỹ people of Lyſia ſhould cut of their heare and ſende it to him. wherwith, perceiuyng that they were aſtonied, he ſaid, if thei would charge themſelues with a pẽce of money, that he wold finde meanes, that mens heare ſhould be bought in Græce, and ſente to the kynge to ſatiſfie his minde, and they ſhoulde kæpe and weare ſtyll theyr trimme buſhes. By this meanes he wreſted from them a merualous ſumme of money, whiche they were content to pay, rather then to polle their heades.

Condatæ, The citie of Renes in Britayne.

Condigramma, A towne of Carmania.

Condiuincum, Nauntes in Fraunce.

Congedus, A ryuer in Spayne, nére to the towne called Bilbilis.

Connas, A dzunken minſtrell, that after was a great dwer in the plaies at Olympus in Græce: he was ofte victour, and yet very poze.

Connus, Socrates maiſter in muſike.

Conon, onis, A famouſe capitayne of Athens.

Cononienſes, People of Narbone in Fraunce.

Conſaburenſes, People of Spayne.

Conſentia, A citie of the Bzutians.

Conſentini, People of that citie.

Conſilinum, A towne of Italy nére to Tarentum.

Conſoranni, People of Aquitaine in Fraunce.

Conſtantinópolis, A citie in Thzace, ſometyme called Byzantium,

Byzantium, and afore that Lygos. It ſoygneth to the ſea Pontus Euxinus, on the narowest parte betwéne Europa and Asia. It was sometyme the chiefe palayce of the moste chriſten Emperour Constantine, & is now the pompous denne of the great Turke, ennemy to Chriſtes fayth. It was take of the Turkes the yere of our lord. 1452. Mahumetes beyng great turke, and Constantine Emperour of Grece.

Conſtantinus, The name of diuers Emperours: The moste excellent was sonne of Constantius, (a noble and valiaunt prince, felow in the empyre with Maximinus) & of Helene, a woman borne in Englande, than called Brytayne. After he had atteyned the monarchie, he dayly moste studiously laboured to augment the faith of Chriſt: notwithſtandinge in his tyme were dyuers hereſies, and horrible contentions among the byſhoppes, whiche he dyd eyther diſſolue, or at the leaſt way reuerently moderate with a wonderful temperance. He reigned. xxx. yeres, and was buryed in Constantinople. He dyed in the yere of our lorde. 330.

Conſuália, ôrum, n. g. Places dedicated to Conſus the god of counſayle.

Conſuanetes, People of the Alpes.

Conſus, i, m. g. The god of counſayle.

Coon, The eldeſt ſonne of Antenor.

Coos, vel Cos, vel Co, vel Coum, The name of an yle nygh to the Rhodes.

Copæ, crum, A citie of the Bœotians.

Cophantus, An hyl of Bactria, in India, whiche euer burneth.

Cophes, A ryuer in India.

Cora, A citie that Dardanus builded, of the whiche the inhabitauntes are called Corani.

Coraceſius, A parte of the hill Taurus.

Coraſini, People of Aſia.

Corax, A learned man of Sicilie, who wrate fyrſte of Rhetorike. He couenaunted with Lyſias to teach him his ſcience, vnder this condition, to haue halfe his money before hande, and the reſidue, when he fyrſt by pleadyng ouercame and obteyned any cauſe in iudgement. Lyſias in proceſſe of tyme profyted muche in eloquence, and yet would not take vpō him any cauſe to pleade. whiche thinge when he was thought to dooe of purpoſe to defeate his maiſter of the reſydue of his money, Corax ſued him in the lawe, and concluded the ſumme of his accuſation in this ſubtile argumēt: Learne thou, foliſhe yong mā that thou arte, that which way ſo euer the matter now falleth out in iudgemente, thou muſt pay me my money: For if thou ouercome and caſt me, then is my money due, by the bargaine that was betwæne vs: If I ouercome, and the iudges condemne the to pay it, then is it due by lawe. To this anſwered Lyſias: Pay yr not ſo (ſaith he) but vnderſtande you (beynge ſo wyſe a man as you are) that you can haue the money of me by neyther meanes. For if you ouercome in iudgement, then by the agrémente betwéne vs, can you requyre no money: for our bargayne was, you ſhoulde haue it when I dyd fyrſte ouercome in iudgemente: but if I caſt you, how can you lawfully aſke money at my handes, beynge quyted and diſcharged by the ſentence of the iudges. Whiche when the iudges hearde, beyng in admiration of the yong mans wit, ſaid: Κακοῦ κορακὸς κακὸν ὠόν, that is Mali corui malum ouum: A curſte crowe hath hatched a shrewde egge: a crafty maiſter hath bred as crafty a ſcholer: alludyng in the Greke prouerbe to ỹ name of Corax. Alſo Corax is an hyl in Sarmatia, and a ryuer rennyngs out of the hyll Caucaſus.

Coraxi, People of Colchis.

Coraxicus, A parte of the hyll Taurus.

Corcyra, ræ, f. g. An yle in Grece.

Corcyreus, a, um, One of that yle.

Cordíco, A ſtoyke philoſopher, ſo ſeuere, that he contemned the acqueintaunce and friendſhippe of kynges and great princes.

Cordiſtæ, A certaine nation, that abhorreth golde, neyther wyll they bryng it into theyr region, nor ſuffer other to be ſpoyled of it.

Corduba, A citie in Spayne, whcare Lucan the poete, and bothe the Senecaes were borne.

Cordus, One of the maiſters of Alexander Seuerus: Alſo an hiſtoriographer.

Coreſa, An yland in Grece.

Coricæ, Two ylandes by Peloponneſus.

Corinium, A towne of Dalmatia, called nowe Corinium. Alſo a towne in Englande, otherwyſe called Claudiana caſtra, & Claudioceſtria, Gloceſter.

Corinnus, A poete, whiche wrote of Troye before Homere.

Corinthius, and Corinthiacus, a, um, That whiche is of the citie of Corinthe.

Corinthus, A famous, riche and greate citie in Achaia, ſytuate in the narrowe ſtreicte entrynge into Peloponneſus nowe called Morea. By reaſon of the commodious ſytuation for reſorte of marchaundice out of all countreys, it was the greatteſt marte towne in all the worlde, and thereby roſe to ſo great wealth and power, that the Romaines began to ſuſpecte and feare them. Wherefore on a tyme, when with proude wordes they abuſed the Romaine ambaſſadours, or (as Strabo writeth) caſt dryne on theyr heades as they paſſed thorough the citie, the Romaines takinge therwith greate diſpleaſure, ſent theyr capitaine Mūnius againſt them, who beſieged the citie, and within ſhorte ſpace ſo deſtroyed it, that ſcantly any token of ſo noble a citie within fewe yeres remayned. In the burnynge of it, ſo many ryche & coſtly ymages, of ſundry ſortes of metall were melted, that thereof after was founde a kynde of precious brace called Aes Corinthium, whiche longe tyme after was had in great eſtimation.

Coriolanus, A noble man of Rome.

Corioli, A towne of Latium.

Corítus, An hyll of Theſſaly: & a kynge, on whoſe wyfe Iupiter begat Dardanus.

Corna, næ, The name of two cities.

Cornelia, The proper name of dyuers noble women: of whiche one was ſyſter to Scipio, mother to Tyberius Gracchus, and Caius Gracchus, who beynge men of excellent eloquence in the latine tounge, were taught onely of theyr ſaied mother. This woman was of a meruaylous temperaunce. For on a tyme beynge in cõpany with other ladies of Rome, (beholdynge hir meane apparaile) was demaunded, if ſhe had no better rayment: She, pointynge to hir two ſonnes, whiche then wente before hir, anſwered: Lo here is my freſhe apparaile, wherein I delyte.

Cornelius, The propre name of diuers noble Romaines, of whom mention ſhalbe made in their ſurnames.

Cornículum, Was ſometyme a towne in Italy.

Cornificius, A learned man in the tyme of Saluſt.

Cornucopiæ, A horne that Hercules plucked from Achelous, which horne the nymphes or immortal ladies filled with ſwéete flowers and fruites. There is an other opinion therof, which is this: It was the horne of a goate, with whoſe mylke Iupiter was nouriſhed in Creta of two maidẽs, Adraſtea, and Ida, otherwiſe called Amalthea & Melíſſa, daughters of Melíſſus kynge of Creta: whiche horne Iupiter gaue to his nurſes for a reward, hauing therwith this commoditie, that whatſoeuer thing they wiſhed for, it ſhoulde abundantly come out of that horne: wherof came a prouerbe, when men woulde declare plenty of any thinge, they ſignifie it in theſe two wordes Copiæ cornu.

Cornûtus, The name of a learned man in the tyme of Nero, of whom, together with Muſonius the philoſopher, he was flayne.

Coræbus, loke Choræbus.

Corôna, The ſygne of Ariadne in the fyrmamente, whiche hath. ix. ſterres in forme of a crowne.

Corone, A towne in Grécce in the partes now named Morea.

Coronea, A citie in Bœotia, where no moles brécde, if any be brought thyther, he dyeth.

Corônis, The daughter of Leucippus, on whom Apollo begatte Aeſculapius.

Corſica, An yle in the myddle ſea, betwéene Gean and the yle of Sardinia called Cors: It is nowe vnder the citie of Gean.

Corſicum mare, The ſea about the yle of Cors.

Cortina, A citie of Creta.

Cortona, A citie in Tuſcane.

Cortyna, or Gortyna, A citie in the yle of Candy.

Coruncanus, A Romayne, which fyrſte of any of the common people was made their hygh byſhop.

Coruínus, The name of a noble orator. Reade more of him in Meſſala.

Cosmis, A place in Theſſaly, into the whiche tranſgreſſours were hurled downe headlong.

Corybantes, The prieſtes of the ydole Cybéle, whiche as madde men, waggyng their heades and daũſynge, playynge on Cimballes, ranne about the ſtreates, prouokyng other to doe the lyke. They fyrſt inhabited the mounte Ida in Phrygia, and afterwarde paſſynge into Crete, toke for theyr abydynge an hyll, whiche of their olde habitation they called alſo Ida: where (as poetes feigne) they priuily nouriſhed Iupiter, when his father Saturne commaũded him to be ſlaine, and coatinually played on tymbrelles and drũſlades, that the noiſe of the childe cryynge might not be heard.

Coribántius, a, um, Perteynynge to the ſacrifices of thoſe prieſtes.

Corybas, antis, The ſonne of Iaſon and Cybele.

Corycia, A promontory in Crete, and an hauen in Aethiope.

Corycides, The ſurname of the Muſes, of an hyll or denne in Parnaſſus by Delphi, called Corycius.

Córicon, A promontory or elbow of Pamphilia, vnder the which, the citie Atalea is ſituate.

Corycos, or Corycus, The name of a mountayne and citie in Sicilie, by the whiche is a caue called Corycius.

Corycus, A mountayne and hauen of Pamphilia, of the whiche certayne rouers on the ſea, were named Corycæi, whoſe falſehode in beguylynge the marchauntes reſortynge thyther, is growen to a prouerbe: and of them, all crafty and wyly ſpies, and ſearchers out of mattiers are called Corycæi.

* Corycæus auſcultauit, A prouerbe, ſpoken whan a thynge greately diſſembled and kepte ſecrete, is by ſome ſpie diſcloſed.

Corydon, A ſheepeheardes name in Theocrite and Virgile.

Corydus, The name of a Paraſite.

Corythus, A towne in Tuſcane, nére to Aretium.

Cos, loke Coos.

Coſmus, mi, A propre name.

Coſſa, A towne of Umbria.

Coſſus, The name of a certaine Romaine.

Coſyra, or Coſura, An yle of the middle ſea by Affrike.

Cotiæ, The Alpes.

Cotiſo, A kynge of the Danes.

Coton, An hauen made with ſtone. Alſo a towne in Syria, of the which a certaine kynde of ſmall fygges are called plurally, Cotona, Coctona, or Cottona.

Cotta, An orator of Rome, greately commended of Cicero.

Cotylum, A place in the mountayne of Ida, out of the whiche renne thrée great ryuers, Scamander, Granicus, and Aeſopus.

Cotys, A kynge of Thrace, which in the ciuile war fauoured the parte of Pompey.

Couinum, A towne in Dorſet ſhyre, called Dorchester.

Connos,

Cosnos, The yle of Shepey in Kent.
Cous, a, um, Of the yle of Cos.

C R

Cragus, A mountayne of Lycia dedicate to Apollo.
Cranaus, A kynge of Athens, who succéded Cecrops.
Craneum, A place of exercise at Cozynthe.
Crancus, The fyrste kynge of Macedon: betwéne him and Alexander Magnus reygned. xxvii. kynges, aboute the space of. 500. yeres.
Crantor, oris, The name of a philosopher.
Crassus, The surname of diuers noble Romaines. One, named Lucius Crassus (next to Tully) was the mocke excellent oratour amonge the Romaines: of whom, and Quintus Scæuola, Tully writeth in this wise: Thinke not (I say) Brutus, that in this citie were euer two moze excellent persons. Foz where it is wel knowen, that of all coũsailours, the one (Scæuola) was most eloquent: the other (Crassus) was in coũsailing mocke excellent. Likewise in all other thinges they were vnlyke one to an other: but so as ye coulde not tell, vnto whiche of them ye woulde wishe to be lyke. Foz Crassus of all delicate and ioly, was the most sobze: Scæuola of all that were sobze, was most freshe & pleasant. Crassus with gentleneſſe had sufficient seueritee, in the great seueritée of Scæuola lacked no gentlenes.
Crassus, called Marcus, was the rycheſt pzyuate
He gatte infinite substaunce by men attempted in the tyme of Sylla. He was exceadynge couetouse and vnstable, but vsynge much lyberalitée and affabilitæ towarde the people: he was alway in greate estimation amonge them: he was eloquent, and woulde pleade in euery common cause. Finally, beynge stered with couetoulneſſe and enuy, at the greate honours that Cæsar and Pompei had obteyned, he pzocured warre against the Parthians, by whom both he and his sonne with. 30000. Romaynes were slayne, many also were taken, whiche as Plutarche wzyteth, hapned by his negligence, beynge moze industrious aboute the gatherynge of money, then in gouerninge his army. He oyed befoze the incarnation of Chzist. 51. yeres.
Cratêra, ræ, oz Crater, teris. A great hole on the top of the meruaylous hyl Aetna in Sicilie, out of the which issue flames of fyze.
Craterus, One of great Alexanders compainions.
Crates, A philosopher, which to the intent he might moze quietly study philosophye, thzewe all his goodes into the sea, saiyng: Hense with a mischiefe, ye vngratious appetites, I had liefter dzowne you, then you should dzowne me: suppoſynge he mought not haue vertue and rycheſſe together. Suidas and Laertius wzite that he made money of all the substance that he had, and put it in the handes of a banker, willynge him, if his childzen pzoued to be philosophers, to geue the money to his powze countreymē: saiynge, that philosophers hauing witte and learninge dyd næde no riches: but if they pzoued vnlearned, then to delyuer thē the stocke of money that he lefte behinde him, foz their relieſe.
Cratbis, the name of two riuers, the one in Créece, the other in Calaber.
Cratilus, The name of a philosopher, to whom Plato wzate a bocke.
Cratinas, A ryuer in Affrike.
Cratînus, A poete, whiche wzote comedies.
Cratippus, The name of a philosopher.
Cremera, A ryuer of Tuscia.
Cremôna, A towne of Italy.
Creon, The sonne of Menætius, & father to Iocasta, who, after that Oedipus had vnwittingly killed his father, dyd take vpon him the kyngedome of Thebes. But foz so muche as the monster Spinx dyd with great cruelte spoyle all the countrey about, noz any other remedy could be foũd of that great misery, but that one must dissolue the doubtfull riddle that Sphinx pzoposed, This Creon caused pzoclamation to be made ouer all Grece, that who so euer coulde doo it, should haue the olde quéne Iocasta to his wife, and that he woulde willingly also yelde vp the kyngdome of Thebes vnto him. This large offer caused many to attempte the thynge, but whē they could not rightly do it, they weare cruelly slayne by the monster. At the laste Oedippus the vnknowen sonne of Iocasta, moued with the fame hereof, commeth from Corinthe thyther, and by his wiſedome diſſolued the riddle. whiche thinge Spinx toke ſo greeuouſly, that he caſt himſelfe downe an hyll, and brake his necke. By this meanes Oedipus got the kingdome of Thebes, and vnwittingly maryed his owne mother Iocaſta, whereas he had not long before alſo ignorantly kylled his father Laius. Which thinges when he dyd afterwarde vnderſtande, he conceyued ſo great ſorow that he pulled out his owne eyes, and would alſo oftentimes haue ſlayne himſelfe, had not his daughter Antigone kepte him. Wherefore he willingly wente in baniſhmente to Athens, leauynge his kyngedome to Eteocles and Polynices his two ſonnes, to occupie the ſame by courſe. But when Eteocles beynge the elder, after the firſt yere would not admitte his brother Polynices to reigne, vppon that occaſion great and cruell warre was rayſed betweene the Thebanes and the Argiues. In whiche, when it happened both the brothers, meetynge in the battayle, to be ſlayne eache of other, Creon toke on him the kyngedome agayne. Finally for his outragious crueltee, as well in other thynges, as in murderynge Antigone and Argia, Theſeus of Athens made warre vpon him and ſlue him. An other of the ſame name was kynge of Corynth, whoſe daughter Creuſa Jaſon maryed whan he forſoke Medea. Alſo a mountayne of the yle of Leſbos.

Creontiades, The ſonne of Hercules, by Megara the daughter of Creon of Thebes.

Creophilus, The name of a poete, whō ſome affirme to be maiſter to Homere.

Crepſa, A citie of Liburnia, called alſo Crexa.

Cres, cretis, One of Creta.

Creſſëis, A nymph of the ſea.

Creſſa, A woman of Creta. Alſo an hauen of Caria, ouer againſt Rhodes.

Creta, æ, f. g. and Crete, tes, An yle lyinge betweene Peloponneſus & the Rhodes. It hath on the north, parte of the ſea Aegeum & Cretenſe: one the ſouth, the ſea of Aegypt and Affrike. It is now called Candy. In this yle was Jupiter nouriſhed, whō the painyms named their chiefe god. There Minos reigned, and Rhadamanthus gouerned vnder him with moſt exquiſite iuſtice: of whoſe lawes other countreis toke their fyrſte paterne: yet notwithſtandynge the people of that countrey weare noted to be vicious, & ſhameful liers, as Epimenides wrote in a verſe, recited by S. Paule, in his epyſtle to Titus, ſayyng: Cretes alway bene lyers, vngracious beaſtes, & ſlouthfull panches. This is now vnder the Turke.

Cretëus, Creßius, & Créticus, a, um, Of Creta.

Crëtheus, The ſonne of Aeolus, which begat Aeſon, Alcimedon & Amythaon, on Tyros the daughter of his brother Salmoneus.

Crethon, The ſonne of Diocles.

* Cretizare cum Cretenſibus, A prouerbe vſed where a crafty man will deceiue him that is craftie, a thēefe ſteale from a thēefe, or a lyer lye before them that vſe to make leaſynges.

Creuſa, The daughter of Creon kyng of Corinthe, whom Jaſō maried. She was afterward burned in hir palaice by the wylde fyre that Medea in maner of a preſent did ſend hir incloſed in a caſket, becauſe Jaſon had forſakē hir, to mary this Creuſa. It is alſo the wyfe of Aeneas, daughter of Priamus & Hecuba, whom (as Virgile ſaith) Aeneas loſt in the ſtreates of Troye as he ſcaped with his father and his ſonne. Other write that he kylled hir by couenaunt made with the Greacians, that none of Priamus his ſtocke might remaine alyue.

Creuſis, A towne of Bœotia.

Crimiſſa, A citie, mentioned of Strabo.

Crimiſſus, A ryuer of Grēce.

Criſſa, A towne builded by Criſſus the ſonne of Phocus.

Criſpus, The name of Saluſt.

Critheis, The daughter of Atkellis, and mother of Homer.

Critias, One of the thyrtie tyrannes of Athens.

Crito, A philoſopher of Athens, familier with Socrates.

Critobulus, A phiſition, of whom Plinie ſpeaketh libro. 7.

Critolaus, A philoſopher of Athens, and a cappytayn of Achaia, which deſtroyed the citie of Corynthe.

Crobialon, A towne in Paphlagonia, whereby renneth the ryuer Parthenius.

Crobylus, A ruffian baude, ſo naughtie, that of him grewe a prouerbe, Crobyli ingum.

Crocodilon, A towne of Phœnicia.

Crocodilus, An hyll of Cilicia.

Crocus, The ſonne of Eumenes, the nourſe of the Muſes, who was tourned by Jupiter into the ſigne called Sagittarius. Some write his name Crotus, or Croton.

Crœſus. A kynge of Lydia, ſonne of Halyattes, who ſubdued many great countreis in Aſia & Grēce, and gathered innumerable richeſſe. he on a time demaunded of Solon, who was the happieſt man that euer he did ſee. He ſayd, Tellus, a man of Athens, who had honeſte and good ſonnes: & they alſo had likewiſe good children: all which he ſaw in his lyfe: and when he had lyued a good tyme honeſtly, at the laſt, fightyng againſt and vanquiſhyng the ennemies of his countrey, he dyed a fayre deathe, and was in the ſame place honourably buryed of the Athenians. Whan Crœſus aſked, who was moſt happie next Tellus, he ſaied, Cleobis and Bitō, which were Argiues, and had a competent lyuynge, and in all games, in prouinge of ſtrength, they obteyned the pryce. Crœſus, being abaſhed, ſaid vnto Solon: My friend of Athens, ſetteſt thou ſo little by our felicitē, that thou preferreſt before vs theſe priuate perſons? Solon aunſwered: Truely

Crœſus,

Cræſus, in proceſſe of tyme, many thinges are ſæne, which men would not ſee: and many thinges be ſuffered, that men would not ſuffre. And ſpeakyng much of mans calamitée, at the laſt he concluded, ſaiyng: The ende of euery thynge is to be loked on, whereto it ſhall come. for god plucketh vp by ỹ rootes many men, vnto whom he gaue all fortune at pleaſure. Cræſus made hereto no cõtenaunce, but eſtéming Solon for a fole, conſidering he paſſed ſo light vpon thinges which appéred good, let him departe. A good ſpace after, Cræſus by the comforte of Apolloes anſwere at Delphos, attempting warre againſt Cyrus kynge of Perſia, was at the laſt taken of him: who cauſed a great pyle of wood to be made ready, and Cræſus gyued to be ſette on the toppe thereof: Than forthwith Cræſus remembryng the wordes of Solon, that no mã lyuynge was bleſſed, or on all partes happy, lamentynge, cryed: O Solon, Solon, Solon. whiche Cyrus hearynge, cauſed to be demaunded of him, who it was that he named. Cræſus with muche difficultée tolde what he was, and declared all that before is reherſed. Which whã Cyrus had hearde, recogniſynge himſelfe to be alſo a man, ſore repented, that he went about to burne him, which was equall to him ſelfe in honour and rycheſſe: and commaunded him to be taken from the fyre, whiche than began to flame: and ſo with great difficultie he was deliuered. Afterwarde Cyrus enterteyned him honourably, and vſed his counſaile, which in many thinges he founde very profytable.

Cromis, He to whom Hercules gaue the horſes of Diomedes, whiche woulde eate men.

Cromna, A citie of Paphlagonia.

Cronciades, One of Hercules ſonnes, by Megara the daughter of Creon.

Cronia, orum, neu. gen. plu. nu. The feaſtes dedicate to Saturnus, whiche were alſo called Saturnalia, in the which lyttle preſentes and gyftes were ſent from one to an other.

Crónium, Is the northe ſea, called Mare concretum, or Glaciale, the froſen ſea.

Cronius, One of the Centaures.

Cronos, Saturnus.

Croto, or Croton, fœm. gen. An auncient citie in Italy, in the goulfe called Tarentinum, the countrey of Milo the famouſe wraſtler.

Crotus, lyke Crocus.

Cruos, An hauen of Thrace.

Cruſtumînum, A towne in Italy.

C T

Cteatus, The father of Amphimach⁹, one of the capitaines of the Grékes at the ſiege of Troye.

Cteſias, An oratour of Sicilie.

Cteſiphon, The name of a workeman, which made the great temple of Diana at Epheſus, a worke wonderfull and renoumed through the worlde, whiche was after bourned by one Herostratus, onely becauſe he woulde for ſome déede be ſpoken of. It is alſo the name of him that perſwaded the Athenians to crowne Demoſthenes in the Theater.

Cteſiphon, Is alſo a towne in Parthia.

Cteſippus, The ſonne of Chabrias.

C V

Cuma, or Come, es, A towne of Ionia, in the leſſe Aſia, wherof Sybilla Cumæa was named.

Cumæ, arum, A citie in Campania.

Cumani, Are alſo a people in Aeolis, about Leſbos, of whom the prouerbe goeth, sero ſapiunt Cumani.

Cumanus, or Cumæus, A man of that citie.

Cumueni, Bygore in Fraunce.

Cunctâtor, ôris, m. gen. The ſurname of the worthy Romayne capitaine Fabius Maximus, geuen to him becauſe that by long delaies, & ſkyrmiſhing onely now & then, he greatly miniſhed the puiſſaunce and ſtrength of Anniball, againſt whom he was ſente, and made him more eaſie to be ouercome.

Cuneus ager, A promontory of Portugall.

Cuniculariæ, Lyttle yles in the middle ſea.

Cunina, The goddeſſe of infantes.

Cupra, A towne in Italy.

Curcura, An plande in the ſea Adryatike.

Cures, curium, plu. A citie of the Sabynes.

Curêtes, The prieſtes of Cybele, whiche fyrſte inhabited Italy. They were alſo called Coryſantes. There were other people ſo called, which were nexte to Aetolia: Alſo other in Dalmatia, now called Sclauonia. Curêtes called alſo Idei dactili, were .vi. brethern in Creta, vnto whom Rhea cauſed hir ſonne Iupiter to be brought, fearynge the yre of Saturne hir huſbande: theyr names were theſe, Hercules, Joſæus, Pæonius, Epimedes, Jeſius, and Idas.

Curetis, Was the olde name of the yle called Creta.

Curia hoſtilia, Was a place builded by Tullus Hoſtilius, kynge of Romaines, where the Senate did ſytte aboute the affayres of the citie of Rome.

Curiâlis, le, Of that courte or counſayle houſe.

Curiâtus, a, um, The Adiectiue.

Curio, ônis, Of Varro, is taken for the place where prieſtes conſulted concernynge diuine ceremonies. Alſo it was the ſurname of a familie in Rome, whereof were many excellent oratours.

Curius, the ſurname of diuers noble Romaines: one was called Marcus Curius, a man of meruaylous honeſtie, conſtancie and grauitée. He, after many great victories (beyng capitayne) againſt the Samnites, Sabynes, and the noble kynge Pyrrhus, diuided among the people the fyeldes, appoyntynge to euery man. xl. acres, and receyued by their conſentes, as muche to himſelfe. And whan they would haue geuen to him more, he refuſed it, ſaiyng: He was an yll citizen, that thought it not enough for him, that was enough for other. Whan the ambassadours of the Samnites brought him a greatte summe of golde, he sytteyge by the fyre, boylyng of rapes, saied vnto them: I had rather eate in myne earthen dishe, and to haue dominion ouer them that haue so muche golde, than to be ryche my selfe. Whan he was accused of withholdynge of money, he brought forth a trén barrell, whiche he occupied whan he dyd sacrifice, and toke a solemne othe, that of all the praie that was gotten of them, whom he vanquished, he kepte no more but that barrell to his owne vse.

Curtius, A famouse Romayne, which, for the weale of his countrey, caste him selfe into a gappynge quaue of the earth.

C Y

Cyane, es, A mayden of Syracusa, who beynge rauished of hir owne father, drewe him afterwarde by the heare to be sacrificed: and was hir selfe kylled vpon his bodye, to cease the pestilence that Bacchus had sent for that abhominable acte.

Cyaneæ, Ilandes or rather rockes vnder Bosphorus Thracius.

Cyanee, or Cyanea, A nymphe, the daughter of the ryuer Meandre.

Cyanippus, One of Syracuse, who, because he contemned the ceremonies of Bacchus, was caste into such a drunkennesse, that in the darke by violence he rauished his owne daughter Cyane. She, by a rynge that (in struglynge with him) she pulled of his fynger, vnderstandynge the authour of that déede to be hir owne father, for the tyme dissimuled hir griefe. But after, when in a great plague, the people of the citie asked Apollo whiche way that terrible plague might be staied, he aunswered, if they dyd take punishment on so foule a vylany, as not longe before was amonge them committed. All men meruaylyng who or what thing that might be, then Cyane vnderstandynge onely what the god dyd meane, first layed hand on hir father Cyanippus, and by the heare drewe him to the aultare to be sacrificed, and afterward also in theyr presence kylled hir selfe.

Cyaraxes, The sonne of Phraortes, kynge of Persia and Media, and father to Astyages.

Cybéle, les, or Cybéles, lis, or after some, Cybelle, loke Cibéle.

Cyclades, The fyftie yles in the sea called Aegeum.

Cycloborus, A ryuer of Attica, swifte and vyolente.

Cyclops, ôpis, m.g A Cyclop. These Cyclopes were an auncient people inhabityng the yle of Sycilie, whiche were lyke gygantes, hauynge but one eye in theyr foreheades.

Cyclus, cli, m.g. A rounde place in Athens, where thinges were solde.

Cycnus, A capitayne of the Lygurians, who bewaylynge the death of Phaeton, was tourned into a swanne.

Cydias, A peynter, whiche peynted the Argonautes.

Cydippe, A mayden whom a yonge man called Acōtius loued, and signified the same vnto hir by writyng on a fayre apple, which he sent to hir.

Cydnus, A ryuer in Cilicia, whiche renneth from the great mountayne Taurus, and palleth thorough the citie Tharsos: which ryuer is so cold, that whan the great Alexander in his tourneye against Darius went into it to refreshe him, he was so mortified with cold in al his body, that he should haue dyed, had not that excellent & faithfull phisicion Philip recouered him.

Cydon, One of the notable townes of Candie. Also a man of Corinthe, whiche kepte so great hospitalitie, that therof grewe a prouerbe.

Cydonea, An yle by Lesbos.

Cyleno, The daughter of Atlas, and mother of Mycteus.

Cylicrani, A people of Spayne.

Cyllarus, The horse of Castor.

Cylleborus, The sonne of Sthelenus.

Cyllene, An hyll of Archadie, where they say Mercurius was nourished.

Cyllenius, One of the names of Mercurie.

Cymbrica Chersonesus, The countrey of Denmarke.

Cyme, A citie of Aeolis.

Cymes, Sybille, called Cumæa.

Cyminus, A lake in Italy.

Cymodoce, The daughter of Oceanus and Tethis.

Cymothoe, The daughter of Nereus, and wyfe to Neptune.

Cynæthium, A citie in Archadie.

Cyneas, An excellent wyse man, who beynge sente from kynge Pyrrhus ambassadour to Rome, the nexte day after he came thyther, he saluted the whole Senate and gentylmen by their names. Seneca in prologo libri. 1. Decla. saieth, that he saluted the Senate, and all the people standynge aboute to beholde him, by theyr names.

Cynegirus, A capitaine of Athens.

Cynice, es, fœm. gen. The secte of philosophers called Cynici.

Cynici, Were a secte of philosophers, whiche signifieth doggishe, for the similitude of their conditions. For they barked at all men, and occupyed women openly, and lyued without any prouision. The first authour thereof was Antisthenes, and nexte him folowed Diogenes.

Cyniphis, or Cyniphos, A ryuer of Affrike, by the which are bredde great goates.

Cyniphius, a, um, Of that ryuer.

Cynocéphali, People vnder ỹ great Chane, hauing heades lyke dogges.

Cynopolis, A citie, where Anubis was honoured.

Cynos, A citie in Locris.

Cynosarges, A place in Athens, where children which were bastardes were exercised.

Cynthia, One of the names of Diana.

Cynthus, An hyll of the plande Delos, where Apollo lo and Diana were borne.

Cyparissa, A citie of Achaia.

Cyparissus, The sonne of Telephus, whiche bewayling the death of a tame hynde, slayne by his louer Syluanus, was tourned into a Cypres tree.

Cypria, was one of the names of Uenus.

Cyprius, a, um, Of the yle of Cypres.

Cyprus, An yle in the sea called Carpathium, against the countrey called Syria: on the northe it hath Cilicia: on the south and the east, Aegipt. It is in lengthe, after the description of Strabo. 175. myles, after. viij. furlonges to the myle: Some suppose it was at the fyrste a portion of Syria, diuyded by earthquakes. This countrey aboundeth in wyne, oyle, mettall, vitriole, and canes, whereof suger is made. Also Uenus was there had in great reuerence, in so muche that men before they did sette foorthe their daughters in mariage, offered theim to such straūgers as came into the countrey, to be by them deflowred, & afterwarde maried theim to husbandes.

Cypsella, A towne of Thrace.

Cypselus, A kynge of Corinthes, father of Periander, one of the seuen sages of Greece.

Cyptasia, A citie in Galatia, called Caroſa.

Cyrcilus, A manne of Athens, who was stoned to death, for perswadynge theim to yelde the citie to Xerxes.

Cyrenaice, A countrey in Afrike called also Pentapolitana. It hath on the weste the great Sirtis, and the lesse Afrike: on the north, the parte of the middle sea called Lybicum: on the east, Marmarike: on the southe the desertes of Lybia. In this were the notable cities, Beronice, Arsinoe, Ptolomais, &c.

Cyrenaica secta, A secte of philosophers, who affirmed the chiefe felicitie to be in carnall delectatiō, of whom Aristippus was chiefe.

Cyrene, es, or Cyrenæ, arum, A famouse citie in Libia. Also a citie in the yle of Cypres.

Cyreneus, A man of that citie.

Cyrillus, The name of diuers learned bysshops, of the whiche one wrate agaynst Nestorius.

Cyrnus, The yle, whiche is called Corsica, or Corse, the people whereof are called Cyrnii.

Cyrrestis, A goddesse, wourshipped in the countrey called Cyrrestica.

Cyrrha, A towne of Phocis, by the whiche be the fieldes called Cyrrhæi campi.

Cyrrhea, A citee in the mountaine of Helicon.

Cyrus, The name of two riuers, the one in Armenia, the other in Media.

Cyrus, A noble kinge of Persia, the sonne of Cambyses and Mandanes, the daughter of Astyages, kinge of Media. This man excelled all men of his time in goodly personage, gentilnesse, prowesse, liberalitee, wisedome and memorie. Solinus writeth, that of the exceding multitude of men whiche were in his hoste, he so reteyned the names, that he called euery man by his proper name, whan he spake vnto theim. The residue of his wonderfull vertues be written by Xenophon most eloquently in Greke. At the laste beyng insaciable in couetyng countreis, he was slayne by Tomyris, queene of Scythia, with 200000. Persianes: of him read Justine, lib. 1. Herod. lib. 1. and Solin. Valer. Max. lib. 8. cap. 7.

Cyssus, vel Cyssibus, The name of a ryuer.

Cyte, es, A towne of Colchis.

Cyteus, or, Cyteius, a, um, Of Colchis, or of Medea.

Cyteorum, A towne of Cappadocia.

Cythēra, ōrum, neut. gen. An yle against Candie, and a citie in the same, dedicate to Uenus.

Cythēre, es, and Cytherea, æ, One of the names of Uenus.

Cytheris, An harlotte, loued of Cornelius Gallus the poete.

Cythæron, A forest or woodde in Bœotia, consecrated to the muses.

Cythnos, One of the yles called Cyclades.

Cytorus, Looke Citorus.

Cyzicenus, A philosophier of Athens, excellent in geometrie.

Cyzicum, A famous citie of Bithinia, so named of the kynge Cyzicus.

Cyzicus, The name of an yle by Grece, also a citie of Propontis.

D A

DAæ, arum, People of Scithia.

Dacia, A countrey beyonde Hongary, it hath on the north Sarmatia of Europe: on the west ỹ Jazigians of Metanest: on the south, Mysiam superiorem, & Dunaw: on the east, the lower Mysiam, & Dunaw: they call it now Transyluaniā: they doe not well, which call Denmarke by this name, whiche is Dania.

Dācicus, a, um, Perteyninge to the countrey called Dacia.

Dacus, ci, One of the countrey of Dacia.

Dacus, and Dacius, a, um, idem quod Dacicus.

Dædala, n. ge. Were feastes celebrated yerely in the honour of the reconcylinge of Juno to Jupiter: Reade before in Cithæron. Also Dædala, was the generall denominacion of images wroughte, of whome it seemeth to some, that Dædalus tooke his name. Also it is a town of Lycia, where Dædalus was buried.

Dædalus, The name of an excellente carpenter of Athens, whiche first foūde the saw, the twibille, and the augoure, and made the place in Crete, called Labyrinthus.

Dædalus, la, lum, and Dædalcus, a, um, of Dædalus.

Dædicæ, A certaine people of Scithia, on the parte of Asia.

Demogorgon, onis, Whome paynyms called the god of the earth, first creatour of the earth.

Dæmon, monis, Is one of the names of Saturne.

Dæton, A Troyane mencioned in Homere.

Dai, People of Persia, which were all shepeheards and grasiers.

Daliæ, People of Scythia, valiaunt and cruell in battayle.

Dalida, vel Dalila, An harlot dwellynge in Gaza in the countrey of the Philistians, which deceiued the strong Samson.

Dalmatia, A part of the great countrey called Illiria or Sclauonia. it hath on the weste Croatia: on the east Bossina: on the nozth, the great mountayne Albanus mons, and the countrey called Sernia: on the southe, the sea Adriaticum, or the gouike of Uenice.

Dalmata, æ, A man of that countrey.

Dalmaticus, a, um, Of Dalmatia.

Damascene, A parte of Syzia, called also Mesopotamia.

Damascenus, a, um, Of Damascus.

Damascius, An historiographer, whiche in the tyme of Herodotus wzote of thynges doen befoze the warre of Peloponnesus.

Damascus, A famouse citie in Syzia, supposed to be the first that euer was inhabited.

Damasithymus, One of Xerres capitaines.

Damatris, The pzieste of the temple of the goddesse Damia.

Damia, One of the names of the goddesse Cybele.

Damianus, A sophister of Ephesus.

Damocles, One of the flatterers of Dionysius.

Damœtas, A shepeherdes name in Uirgile.

Damocrates, A physition.

Damocrita, A matrone of Rome, wyfe to a noble citizen called Alcippus. This woman, when hir husbande was expelled the citie by certayne of the contrary faction, was not onely fozbidden to folowe hym into banyshement whom she loued moste intirely: but hir daughters also weare restrayned from mariage, that no issue might descende of them to reuenge the crueltie shewed to Alcippus. Wherfoze Damocrita thinkyng some waye to be reuenged, on a tyme when al the noble women accozding to their custome, shoulde come together into an house to solemnise a sacrifice, Damocrita with hir daughters, minding to burne al that weare within, locked the dooze, and with the woodde pzepared foz the sacrifice, beganne to sette the house on fyze. But when a multitude of men came to quenche the fyze, Damocrita to pzeuente the crueltie of hir enemies, first kylled hir daughters, and afterwarde hyz selfe.

Damon and Pythias, Two philosophers of Pythagozas his secte, in the league of frendshyppe beyng eche to other moste faythfull. Foz when Dionyse the tyzanne of Syzacuse, had condemned the one of them to death, and he had required certayne dayes respite to goe home and dispose suche thynges as he had: the other became suertie foz him on this cõdition, that if his frinde retourned not, he would be cõtent to suffer death foz him. But when he at the daye appointed accozding to his pzomyse did retourne: the tyzãne wondzyng at their faythfulnesse, pardoned the offender, and requested that he might be receiued as thirde into their knotte and league of amitie.

Damophila, A woman of Greece, excellently well learned.

Damostratus, A philosopher that wzote of fishes.

Damoxenus, A poete of Athens.

Dan, A towne, whiche is in the boundes of Judea, on the nozth parte.

Danaë, The daughter of Acrisius, king of Argiues, vnto whom (beynge closed in a stronge towze) Jupiter came in the fozme of a shoure of golden rayne in at the house toppe, and gatte on hir Perseus, who was afterward a valiant knight. He gaue that name fyzste to the countrey and people of Persia. By this fable is signified, that Jupiter sent treasure pzyuilye vnto Danae, and also to them that had the keppynge of hir, wherewith they being cozrupted, suffered Jupiter to enter into the towze, and accomplyshe his pleasure. The fable declareth the fozce of money and giftes in assauting of chastitie.

Danaides, The daughters of Danaus.

Danaus, Kynge of Argiues, of whom the countrey of Achaia was after named Danaa, and all the Grecians Danai. He begatte fifftie daughters: whiche of their graundfathers name weare called Belides, and of their father Danaides. They all in one nyght kylled their husbandes, the sonnes of their vncle Aegiptus, sauyng onely Hypermnestra, which saued hir husband Lynceus. Vide Belides.

Dandarica, The countrey of the people called Dandaridæ.

Dani, People of Germany, called now Daci.

Daniel, elis, An holy pzophete of the tribe of Juda, a noble man bozne, beynge a younge chylde, was bzought to Babylon, and became a man of such temperaunce, that among the Jewes, he was taken to be Eunuchus, or a man gelded. He continually bewayled Hierusalem, and in fastynges refrayned all maner concupiscence. In fourme of body, he was dzye and leane, but in the fauour of God he was beautifull. By his pzaier he restozed Nabuchodonosoz to his firste figure, where he was transfourmed of God into a monstruous beaste, not withstandinge, that a little befoze, he by the same Nabuchodonosoz kyng of Babylon, was thzowē into a deungeon among hungry Lyons, whiche neuer would touche him to hurte hym. He beyng afterwarde delyuered, pzophecied both of the commyng of Chziste, and of the Empyzes of Babylon, Media, Persia, Grece, and Romaines: And finally dyed at Babylon, and there was buried: he lyued befoze the incarnation of Chziste, 619. yeres.

Dantes, A poete of Flozence.

Dantiscum, A towne of Polonia.

Danubius, A famous ryuer called Dunowe (after the description of Plinie) hath his beginning in Germanie, out of an hyll called Arnoba, and passing by countreis innumerable, reteyneth his name:

name: but as soone as he entreth into Illiria, he is called Ister, and receiueth into hym. lx. other ryuers, wel nygh the halfe of the being nauigable. Finally, being in sure wounderful great armes, he falleth into the sea called Pontus. The same is affirmed by Tacitus, saynge that he calleth the hyll, where Dunow springeth, Arbona, and not Arnosa.

Daphnis, idis, The sonne of Mercurie. Also a delectable place without the citie of Antioche: and the name of a portion of Lycia by the sea syde.

Daphnites, One of the names of Apollo.

Daradus, A ryuer of Lybia, now called Darat.

Dardania, The countrey where Troye stode, or the towne of Troye.

Dardánides, dæ, One of the stocke of Dardanus.

Dardénis, idis, A woman of Troye.

Dardanius, a, um, Of Troye.

Dárdanus, The name of a prynce, reignyng in that parte of Phrygia, where Troie stoode, whiche was of hym called Dardania.

Dares, An historiographer of Phrygia, which wrote of the battayle of Troye.

Daridæus, The name of a king of Persia, in the time of Tyberius, Caius, and Claudius, the emperours.

Dariorigum, Vannes in Britayne.

Darius, The name of diuers kynges of Persia.

Darnernum, Douer.

Darus, A ryuer of Hungarie, called Mora.

Daschylos, A towne in Bithynia.

Dassaretæ, People of Thrace.

Dastylus, The father of king Gyges.

Datarius, a, um, An officer in Rome, whiche subscribed the date of letters.

Dates, One of Darius capitaines.

Dathus, A place in Thessalie, neare to Strymon, where plentie of golde is founde.

Datylus, A rycht honorable man of Athens.

Daulia, or Daulis, A towne of Phocis, vnder the dominion of kyng Tereus.

Dauna, A parte of Italy, nowe called Apulia.

Dauni, A people of Italy.

Daunifer, A capitaine of Darius.

D E

Debæ, People of Arabia fœlix.

Delis, A towne in Aethiopia, where are the people called Garamantes, in the whiche towne is a well, whereof the water is in the daye tyme as colde as yce, and in the nyght boylinge hotte, the countrey beinge the hottest parte of all Aethiope.

Decápolis, A countrey in Iudea, beyonde the ryuer of Flome Iordane, conteigning tenne cities.

Decelia, One of the twelue cities ordeigned and dispoled by Cecrops.

Decii, Were mē of a noble house of the Romaines, of whom two died wyllingly for their countrey.

Decontes, The sonne of Hercules, by Megara the daughter of Creon.

Deianira, Daughter of Oeneus, kynge of Aetolia, and wyfe to Hercules. On a tyme when Hercules should passe the ryuer Euenus in Aetolia, whiche at that tyme was exceedingly rysen, Nessus the Centaure being in companie vndertoke falsely to conueighe ouer Deianira. Wherefore Hercules committing his wyfe to Nessus, stoutely aduentured himselfe to swymme ouer the ryuer: but when he was on the other syde, perceiuyng that the false Centaure woulde haue rauyshed his wyfe, he shotte at hym one of his arrowes that weare poysoned with the bloude of Hydra. Then Nessus, beyng wounded to death, and desyrynge to be reuenged on Hercules, gaue to Deianira his garment imbrued with his owne bloude, falsely perswading hir, that it had the strengthe to allure one to loue: and if hir husbande should giue himselfe to the loue of any other woman, that it would withdrawe him from hir. The woman ouer lyght of credite receiued the gyfte, and afterwarde when she heard that hir husbande being in Eubœa, was intangled in the loue of Iole daughter of Eurytus, she sent to hym the garmēt imbrewed with the bloude of Nessus by hir seruaunte Lycha. Hercules thynkinge no ill, intendynge to doo sacrifice, put on the garment: but shortely after he was so extremely tourmented, that he fell madde, and in the mountaine Oeta, in a great fyre burned hymselfe. Whiche when Deianira did heare to haue happened so much contrary to hir expectation, conceiuinge extreame sorowe, shee kylled hirselfe with Hercules his clubbe.

Deidamia, The concubyne of Achilles, on whom he begat Pyrrhus.

Deioces, A kynge of the Medes, the sonne of Phraortes.

Deiopeia, A nymph mentioned of Virgil.

Deiotarus, A kyng of Galatia.

Deiphobe, A nymph, the daughter of Glaucus a god of the sea.

Deiphobus, The sonne of Priamus and Hecuba.

Deiphyle, The mother of Diomedes, wife of Tydeus, and daughter of Adrastus.

Deiphylus, The sonne of Polymnestor, a kynge of Thrace. Also the sonne of Sthenelus.

Delia, One of the names of Diana.

Deliacus, a, um, Of the yle of Delos.

Delius, a, um, Idem.

* Delius natator, Was one perfecte in swymmyng. Wherof came a prouerbe, that whan a thynge was spoken or written, harde to be vnderstand, and requyred a cunnyng exposytour, they would saie, Delio natatore eget, it requyreth a cunnynge or subtill expositour.

Delminium, A towne of Dalmatia, now called Demna.

Delos, An yle by Grece, where Apollo and Diana were borne, & is one of the yles called Cyclades.

Delphi, A citie and people in Grece, where was the oracle of Apollo.

Delphicus, a, um, Of that citie, or of Apollo.

Delphicum oraculum, The aunswere made at the tẽple of ple of Apollo in Delphos.

Delphos, A citie in the countrey called Phocis, on a mountayne in Grece called Parnassus: there was the great & famous temple of Apollo called Delphicus, where the diuell gaue aunsweres by women, whiche there serued for the purpose.

Delta, Is the letter D in Greke. It also signifieth the numbre of foure, as in the letters it signifieth .v. hundred. Also at Memphis, the moste famous citie of Aegipt, the ryuer called Nilus, maketh a place in ẏ fourme of this letter, which is this Δ. wherefore that place is called Delta.

Demades, A great orator in Athes, which in sodayn orations without any studie, excelled Demosthenes: in so muche (as Plutarche writeth) whan Demosthenes was constreyned to speake to the people vnprouided, being tymorous, sometyme stayed in the myddell of his oration, Demades would aryse out of his place and finisshe that oration, whiche Demosthenes had begunne. He was of so corrupt maners, that Antipater was wonte to saie of him, whan he was olde and decrepite, he was lyke to beastes offered in sacrifice, of whom remayned but their tounges and bealies. Finally the ende of his auarice, prodigalitie, flatterie, and falsehode was this: commyng vnder colour of frendship into Macedonie, wheare in deede he had secretly conspired with Antigonus, ennemy to Antipater kyng of that countrey, he & his sonne were taken by Calsander (chiefe capitaine of Antipaters armie,) and first his sonne Demea was slaine in his armes, that the bloude sprange into his face, and than himselfe (after many reprooches, touchynge his treason and vnkyndnesse) was cruelly kilde.

Demaratus, A capitaine of the Lacedemonians. Also the father of Tarquine the proude.

Demeter, The name of Ceres.

Demetrias, A towne of Thessalie.

Demetrius, The proper name of diuers Grekes: one a kyng of Macedonie, was of so goodly stature, excellent fauoure and beautie, that no peincter or karuer mought truely counterfeyte him. For it semed, there were in his visage both terriblenesse & mercy, grauitie and gentilnesse, wherewith was ioygned a princely maiestie. He was in tyme of recreation of all kynges moste pleasaunt: whan great affayres were in hande, he surmounted all other in studie, diligence, and wysdome. He had his father and mother in wonderfull reuerence. Notwithstanding he was muche noted of incontinencie, he was ful of prowesse and valiaunt: he deliuered Grece from Ptholomeus tyranny, and vanquyshed him on the sea. He also subdued Athens, and all the countrey of Boetia, with the city of Thebes. He had warre at one tyme with Ptholomeus kynge of Aegypte, Lysimachus kynge of Asia, Seleuchus kyng of Syria, and Pyrrhus the kynge of Epyrus, and oftentymes vainquished their armies: But in conclusion, being vainquished by Seleuchus, he was also by him comitted to an honourable pryson, that is to saye, kept in a towne of Syria, called Cheronesus, where he had appointed vnto him fayre palaices, pleasaunt orchardes, and gardeyns, and the company of suche as he lysted: where, with ydelnes and excesse of voluptuous pleasure, he fell sicke and died, of the age of .lxiiij. yeres.

Demetrius Phalareus, A noble philosopher and orator, disciple to Theophrastus, of whom Tullie saieth: he was a subtyle disputer, but no vehement orator, yet was he swéete and delectable. For his excellēt vertues he gouerned the Atheniens tenne yeres. And because he had greatly enriched the citie of Athens in yerely reuenues, and adorned it with commodious buyldyng, the people in the honour of him did set vp .300. & .60. of his ymages, made in metall. But afterwarde being absent, by the meanes of certaine enuious persons, the people condemned him to die, and also pulled downe his ymages, some they brake, some they solde, onely one was kepte whole in the castell, whereof Demetrius hearing, sayde: yet haue they not plucked downe the vertue, for whiche they did sette vp these ymages. This mā caused Ptholomeus kyng of Aegipt, to make his great librarie, and to sende to the Iewes to haue their lawes & prophecies trāslated into Greke, who sent vnto him of euery trybe, twelue great learned men, who did accomplyshe his desyre, and are called Septuaginta interpretes, although there were of them .lxxij. persons. He was afore the incarnation of Christ .277. yeres.

Democedes, A notable phisition, in the time of kyng Darius.

Demochares, An orator of Athens, neuewe to Demosthenes. He beinge sent to kyng Philippe in ambassade, after he had declared his message, & the kynge had asked, wherein they thought he might moste pleasure the Atheniens, forsouth sir saieth he, if it wyll please you to hange yourself. This vncourteis aunswere, when other weare muche grieued with it, the wyse prynce toke in good parte, and wylled them to retourne to the Atheniens, and to aske of them, wheather they thoughte more noble those that vsed so vncourteise & vnsemely language, or those, that patiētly could heare it, and let the speakers return without punishement.

Democides, A phisition, belongyng to Polycrates, the tyranne of Samiens. He wrate a booke of phisicke.

Democles, A notable flatterer, in the time of Dionysius the tyranne. This flatterer when he would oftentimes extolle beyonde measure the kynges felicitie, Dyonise willinge to geue him a triall and proofe of it, caused him to be araied in princeli robes, and so did set him at a table to be serued lyke a kyng. But iust ouer his heade in the place wheare he should sitte, he caused a swoorde to be hanged by a small threade: whiche when Demo-

Democles perceiued he could not for feare either taſt of his pleaſaunt meates, or take any comfort in his roiall ſeruice. Wherby Dionyſius did him to witte, that the life of a tyranne in middes of all pryncely pompe and royaltie is continually in feare and daunger of death and extremitie.

Democoon, The baſterde ſonne of Priamus.

Democrates, The name of a carpenter, of a notable wreſtlar, and of a phiſition.

Democritus, An excellent philoſopher, being a childe, learned of the wyſe men of Chaldea aſtronomie and their diuinitie: afterwarde he wente into Perſia, to learne geometrie. After he returned to Athens, where he gaue his poſſeſſions and ryches innumerable vnto the weale publique, reſeruing a litle gardeyne, wherein he mought at more lyberte ſearche out the ſecreates of nature. He wrate many wonderfull workes in naturall philoſophie and phiſicke. Whan he beheld the citie of Athens, he cõtinually laughed at their folyſhe diligence, whiche ſpared no peines to get authoritie and ryches, that they were not ſure to kepe: whiche laboured to gette their children great poſſeſſions, who either died before the fathers, or els ouerluinge theim, ſhortely ſpent away all that their fathers lefte theim. But the Atheniens not perceiuinge the cauſe of his laughter, thinkyng him madde, cauſed Hipocrates the phiſition to goe vnto him. Who perceiuing the occaſion of his laughter, ſayed: Democritus is not madde, but the Atheniens bee madde, at whom he doeth laughe. He was before the incarnation of Chriſt. 492. yeres.

Demodocus, The name of an harper, of whom Homere maketh mention.

Demogorgus, An inchanter, whiche was ſuppoſed to be of ſuche excellencie, that he had authoritie ouer all ſpirites that made men afearde.

Demoleõus, A poete of Syracuſæ.

Demonax, A philoſopher in the tyme of Adrian the emperour. He contrary to all other philoſophers eſchewed ſolitarineſſe, and deſyred the cõpany and frendſhip of men.

Demonica, A woman, whiche for money betrayed Epheſus to Brennus.

Demópolis, The ſonne of Themiſtocles.

Démophon, or Demophoon, The ſonne of Theſeus & Phedra, kyng of Athens.

Demoſthenes, The moſte excellent oratour of the Grekes, was fyrſte diſciple of Plato, after he folowed Eubulides an orator: and vſed ſuche wonderfull diligence and labour, to attayne to the perfection of eloquence, that where he hadde an impediment in his pronunciation, he by puttinge ſmall ſtones in his mouthe, and enforcynge to ſpeake treatably, at laſte attayned to moſte perfecte forme of ſpeakyng. Whan kyng Philip beſieged Athens, and ſore diſtreſſed it, vpon certayne treaties offered them, he requyred to haue delyuered vnto hym. x. orãtours, of whome Demoſthenes was one, and than woulde he rayſe his ſiege. Demoſthenes hearynge thys, and commynge into the common counſayle, reherſed this fable: On a tyme the wolues exhorted the ſhepeherdes to be in leage with them, wherevnto the ſhepeherdes accorded: than the woulues required to haue deliuered vnto theim their maſtyues, whiche were the cauſe of debate betwene them. The ſhepeherdes graunted thervnto, and delyuered vnto the woulues theyr dogges, the moſte vigilant kepars of their flockes. Afterwarde the woulues beynge without any feare, did not onely nowe and than eate a ſhepe, to alaye their hunger, but dyd alſo for theyr pleaſure rente and teare other in pieces. In lyke wyſe (ſayed Demoſthenes) kynge Philip, after he hath taken from you your oratours, which by theyr wyſe aduertyſementes haue hytherto preſerued you from his tyrannie, he wyll dooe the ſemblable. Whiche the Atheniens hearynge, agreed to his counſayle, and valiauntly defended the citie. He was afore the incarnation of Chriſte, 345. yeres.

Deo, The name of Ceres.

Derbices, People of Aſia, about the ſea called Mare Caſpium, whiche haue this cuſtome, that whan their friendes come to the age of. lxx. yeres, they ſlea them, and eate them, calling al their neighbours to the feaſte. Olde women they ſlea not, but doe onely ſtrangle them, and afterward bury theim. Semblably, if men die before the ſayed age, they alſo doe burie them. Thei puniſh euery offence, (be it neuer ſo little) with death.

Derce, A wel, moſte colde in ſommer, betwéene Biſbiſis, and Sepobriga.

Derceto, A goddeſſe name of the Aſſyrians.

Dercyllus, One of the capitaines of Pyrrhus.

Derſæi, People of Gréece in the borders of Thrace.

Deua, A ryuer in Scotlande called Dee: and the towne called Dondée, is alſo Deua.

Deuana, Called alſo Duana caſtra, a towne in the north parte of Englande, called Dancaſter.

Deucalion, The ſonne of Prometheus, a manne of great wyſdome and vertue, who ſaued muche of the people of Gréece in the time of an vniuerſall floudde, whereby the more part of Gréece was drowned. The poetes feigne, that after the floud he aſked counſayle of the goddeſſe Themis, how mankynde might be reſtored: and it was aunſwered, if he and his wyfe Pyrrha, dyd caſt the bones of their mother behynde theim. Deucalion (being very wittie) perceiued, that the earth was mother of all thynges, and the ſtones the bones therof. Therfore he threwe ſtones behind hym, and they became men: and his wyfe dyd likewyſe, and they became women. But in déede he ſaued the people by bringing them to the hille called Parnaſus. He was before the commynge of Chriſte. 1534. yeres.

Deuona, A towne in Almayne called Newmarke, betwéene Nuremburg and Rentzburg.

Dexamene, A nymph of the ſea.
Dexippus, A philition, the ſcholar of Hippocrates.

D J

Dia, An yle by Greece called Naxus.
Diagoras, A philoſopher of Miletus, who had three ſonnes notable in ſundrie feates of actiuitie, all whiche in one day at the ſolemne games of Olympus with great glorie wanne their prices. And when they embraced their father there preſent ſettinge their garlandes on his heade, and the people with ioyfull acclamations caſt flowers on hym, as the maner was, for exceadynge ioye that he conceiued, euē in his ſonnes armes he ended his lyfe. An other of the ſame name was a famous poete.
Diāna, The daughter of Jupiter, whiche fleeing the company of menne, to the intent that ſhe would not be meued with carnall luſtes, did continually exercyſe hirſelfe in huntinge wylde beaſtes, & for hir chaſte life was honoured of the Paynims for a goddeſſe: ſhe is alſo taken for the mone.
Diáponi, Certaine dogges in Crete.
Dias, A philoſopher of Epheſus in the tyme of Philip kyng of Macedonie.
Dianla, One of the foure notable porches in Rome.
Dibutades, A potter of Corinthe, which taught firſt to make veſſelles of chalke.
Dicæa, A citie in the goulfe called Thermaicus.
Dicæarchia, æ, fœ. gen. The citie called Puteoli.
Dichæárchus, chi, maſ. ge. The name of a philoſopher.
Dicæogenes, A certayne poete.
Dicæus, A mans name.
Dicte, es, An hill in the yle of Candie, where Jupiter was nouryſhed.
Dictynna, One of the names of Diana. Alſo a citie of Greece.
Dictynneus, An hyll wherein the temple of Diana was ſituate.
Dictys, One of the Centaures. Alſo an hiſtoriographer of Candie, whiche wrote the battayle of Troye.
Dictys, Is alſo a fyſher, whiche nouryſhed Perſeus.
Dido, or Eliſa, Daughter of Belus, king of Tyre, ſhe was firſt maried to Sichæus Hercules his prieſte, whom, for couetouſneſſe of his great ryches, when hir brother Pygmalion had cruelly ſlaine, ſhe, with certaine that ſhe knewe to hate the couetous tyranne, fledde out of hir owne countrey into Afrike. Wheare to buyl de hir a caſtle, ſhe bought as muche lande as ſhe coulde compaſſe with an oxe hyde, as is before declared in Byrſa. Afterwarde when Jarbas kynge of Getulia, profered hir mariage, and ſhe for tender loue of hir firſt huſbande refuſed to mary any other, the barbarous prynce with force and warre woulde haue conſtrayned hir vnto it. But the noble gētilwoman, rather chooſing valiaunly to die, thē to appeare to forget the loue of hir firſt huſbād, kylled hirſelfe. Yet Virgil and other poetes feigne that ſhe was enamoured on Aeneas, fleeing out of his countrey, and by aduenture arriuynge at hir citie of Carthage, and afterwarde when ſhe perceiued, that he would forſake hir and departe into Italie, that for ſorowe thereof ſhe killed hir ſelfe. But by the credite of moſte certaine hiſtories that is conuinced to be falſe. For Carthage beganne to be buylded by Dido. 70. yeres after Rome, and Aeneas came into Italie before Rome was buylded. 300. yeres and aboue, where his poſteritie reigned in Alba.
Didymæ, arum, Ilandes of Afrike, that bounded vpō Aegypte.
Didymaon, A famous maker of harneis.
Didyme, es, An yle in the Sicilian ſea.
Didymeus, One of the names of Apollo.
Didymi, Certaine hylles in Arabia fœlix.
Didymus, a, um, Is in latin Geminus, in hebrue Thomas, in Engliſhe, a twynne in byrthe, or double a man. it is alſo the name of dyuers learned mē, of whiche one being a grāmarian, wrote. 3500. bookes.
Diéſpiter, One of the names of Jupiter, quaſi diei pater.
Diiouis, Jupiter.
Dindymene, & Dindyme, One of the names of Cybele, called the mother of the goddes.
Dindymus, The ridge of the hill of Ida in Phrygia.
Dinocrates, A phyloſopher.
Diocles, A poete of Athens. Alſo a philition in the tyme of Darius Hiſtaſpis.
Diocleus, The ſonne of Orſilochus.
Diodorus, A philoſopher of Socrates ſecte, and Diodorus Siculus a ſtory writer, & an other Diodor⁹ a ſtoike philoſopher, of whom Cicero writeth.
Diogenes, A famous philoſopher of their ſecte, that for their vncourteiſe demeanour weare called Cynike or doggiſh. He liued without any maner of prouiſion, from day to daie begging his meate and drynke. In the nyghtes he laye in the common porches and galleries of the city, in the day tyme he vſed for his houſe a tunne, whiche he continually tate in. And when he turned his tunne whiche waye his pleaſure was, he merily made his aduaunte, that his houſe would turne with euery tyme. For in the wynter he did ſette the mouthe towarde the ſouthe, in the ſummer towarde the north, and whiche way ſoeuer the ſunne did bende, Diogenes his tumbling palaice did tourne it ſelfe. Great kyng Alexander on a tyme moued with the fame of this philoſopher, came to him as he was ſittynge in his tunne, & beinge in admiration of that contempte of the worlde, that in him appeared, like a noble prince bad him aſke at his hande what ſoeuer he would deſire. Sir quoth he, then I praye you ſtande aſyde and take not frō me, that you can not geue: meaning the warmeneſſe of the ſunne, towarde whiche at that tyme he had tourned his tunne. Alexander was not onely nothynge diſpleaſed with the vncourteiſe aunſwere of this curriſhe philoſopher, but alſo ſaid openly, that if he were not Alexander, he could finde in his hearte to be

Dioge-

Diogenes. He died beynge. 90. yeres of age, and beyng at the poynte of death, wylled his body to bee leste vnburied: and when his frendes asked hym whether he would lye aboue the groūde to be deuoured of birdes and beastes, no frendes, sayeth he, but lay you by me a little staffe, that I may fearé them awaye: therein deriding their curiositie, that séemed to be so carefull for buriyng the dead carkasse, as though there had ben great difference, whether it were deuoured of beastes, or eaten and consumed of wourmes in the grounde.

Diogenianus, A grammartan of Heraclea.

Diognetus, A learned man, whiche wrate the expedition of Alexander.

Dioneda, The daughter of Phorbas.

Dionedea, An yle, wherin Diomedes was buried.

Diomedes, Kyng of Aetolia, Tydeus his sonne, who with the residue of the Greciās went to Troye, and there so mānfully behaued himselfe, that next to Achilles and Aiax he was compted the moste valiaunt. For beside that he slew in battaile sūdrie famous kynges, and fought hande to hande with Hector, and with Aeneas, he wounded the God Mars, and the goddesse Venus, comming to reskew hir sonne, wherewith she takinge great displeasure, incensed his wife Aegiala with so outragious lecherie, that she made hirself cōmon to all ponge mē that would offer hir dishonestie. For shame whereof Diomedes after the warre ended would not retourne home into his countrey, but sailed into the parte of Italy called Apulia, where one Daunus gaue him the one half of his kingdome. An other Diomedes was king of Thrace, whiche fēding his horses with mens flesh, was afterwarde by Hercules cast to them to be deuoured.

Dion Syracusanus, A noble mās sonne of Sicilie, called Hipparinus, brother to Aristomacha wyfe to the elder Dionyse. Wherfore he was long tyme in fauour with him, in so much that Dionyse cōmaunded his officers, that they shoulde geue to Dion all that he would aske. Reade this Dions lyfe and actes in Plutarke.

Dion Prusieus, A philosopher surnamed Chrysostomus, who vsed to go abroade being cladde with a lyōs skyn. Traian the emperour vsed him familiarly with whom he most cōmonly aboade. He wrote in defence of Homere against Plato. iiij. bookes, and other thinges besides.

Dionæus, næa, næum, Perteining vnto Venus.

Dione, A goddesse of the sea, the mother of Venus.

Dionysiópolis, A citie of Thrace.

Dionysius, Reade in Bacchus. It is also the name of two kynges of Sicilie, which for their cruelties & auarice were called tyrānes: the first was sonne to Hermocrates, a riche man of Sicilie, whom for his valiauntnesse in armes, the Sicilians ordeined to be their capitaine against the Carthaginiens, which inuaded theim, & menaced to destroy their countrey, and take from theim their libertie. But after the enemies were vāquished, Dionyse, which preserued his countrey from bōdage, of a benefactour became a cruel tyran. The other Dionyse was sonne vnto this, like in conditions, but better learned. He also made meanes to haue Plato come vnto him, & a good space had him in muche reuerēce, and heard his lessōs in philosophie. Finally, suspectinge that he conspired against him with Dion and other, whom he had expelled, vnneth at the desire of Architas prince of Tarentum, and other, he suffred hym to returne to Athēs. Of both these ye may reade in Plutarke in the life of Dion, also in Just. li. 21. and many thinges notable in Erasmi Apoph.

Dionysius Areopagita, A famous philosopher of Athens, disciple to saint Paule. He only of all the philosophers beleued Paule preaching of Christ. And before, when he was in Aegipt, whither he went for learninges sake, & there together with Apollophanes his instructour, beyond all cōpasse of reason, did see the eclipse, that was at the death of Christ: Either, saied he, the god of nature sufereth violence, or els the frame of this wourlde will be nowe dissolued. He wrate to Timotheus bishop of Ephesus. 12. bookes, De diuinis nominibus, of the heauenly Hierarchie, and many other wourkes, as Suidas witnesseth.

Diophanes, A rhetorītian, the maister of Gracchus.

Dires, A mans name in Virgile.

Dioscorides, called also Pedacius, and Phacas, a worshypfull knyghte of Aegypte: who ioygnynge learnynge with chyualrye, beynge in the Romaynes hoste in dyuerse countreys, in tymes vacant from battayle, made dylygent searche for the kygures and vertues of dyuers herbes and other thynges necessary for medicine, and wrate moste truely of theym in Greeke, as Galene testifieth. He lyued vnder Cleopatra and Antonius.

Dioscoron, An ylande within the borders of Italy.

Dioscorus, A notable wrestlar. Also a souldiour of Alexander the great.

Dioscurias, A citie of Colchis, in the whiche weare sometime people of. iij. hundred diuers nations.

Diospolis, A citie of Aegypte. There be. iiij. other of the same name in Aegypte, but very smal cities in comparyson of this.

Dipœnus, The brother of Scyllys, which two were the first inuentours of graueng in marble.

Dirce, A womans name, the wyfe of Lycus kynge of Thebans. Also an other of Babylon, which for speakynge against Pallas, was tourned into a fythe.

Diris, An highe hylle of Mauritania, nowe called Atlas.

D O

Doclea, A citie of Liburnia.

Dodona, A citie in Grēce, wherby was a woodde, in the whiche men thought that trees spake.

Dodone, The daughter of Iupiter and Europa.

Dodonēus, a, um, Of Dodona.
Dodonis, idis, One of Dodona.
Dodonides, Certayne Nymphes, the nourſes of Liber pater.
Doſabella. A Romayne, Ciceros ſonne in lawe.
Doliche, An ylande called before Icaris.
Dolichiſte, An other ylande.
Dolon, The propre name of a man of Troye, that was very ſwifte on foote.
Dolopēus, a, um, Of the people called Dolopes.
Dolopes, People of Theſſalie.
Domitianus, An emperour of Rome, by nature brother vnto the gentyll prince Titus, but in conditions and manners farre vnlyke. When he was fyrſt admitted to the empyre, he vſed much to be in a ſecrete place alone, and there dyd nothynge but take flies, and pricke them throughe with a nedle. Wherefore, when it was demaunded of one Criſpus, who was with the emperour, he prettily aunſwered, not ſo muche as a flie. At the begynning he ſeemed ſo muche to abhorre murder, that he myght ſcantly ſuffer an ore to be kylled for ſacrifice: but in the ende, folowynge the ſteppes of Nero and Caligula, he became a moſte deteſtable and cruell tyranne, as well towarde all other, as toward them that profeſſed the name of Chriſte.
Domitius, The name of dyuers Romaynes.
Domnonii, A people of the countrey in Englande called Deuonſhyre.
Donatiſtæ, Heretykes that affirmed the congregatiō of Chriſtian people to be no wheare but with theim, and that they onely perteyned to the churche. Wherfore thoſe that came from the catholyke parte to theim, they dyd eftſones baptiſe. Alſo they affirmed, that in the churche were no ill people, but onely good. The authour of this hereſie was Donatus, a Numidian, about the yere of our lorde. 353.
Donātus, i, maſ. gene. A grammarian, maiſter to ſainct Hierom.
Donyſa, An yle in the ſea Aegeum.
Doria, & Dorica, Names of the countreis ioygninge to Athens.
Doricus, a, um, Of Doria, or Dorica: as,
Dorica lingua, The language of the people called Dores, the. v. tongue of the Grekes.
Dorii, Dorienſes, or Dores, A people in Grece, ſo called of a people inhabitinge by the mountayne Oeta, whiche wandring lyke to the Gothes, by force wan certaine countreis, & finally ſubdued the olde inhabitauntes.
Dorion, A towne of Achaia.
Doris, idis, The countrey by the hyll Oeta.
Doris, A nymph of the ſea, and is interpreted byterneſſe.
Doriſcus, A place in Thrace, whiche conteyneth iuſt 120000. men, by the whiche Xerxes numbred his great armie.
Dorius. A ryuer of Portugall.
Darius, a, um, idem quod Doricus, a, um.

Dorpia, Weare certayne dayes, whiche the Athenians kepte ſolemne, in open faſtinge and bankettyng.
Dorticum, A citie in Myſia, by the ryuer Danubie.
Dorus, The ſonne of Neptune, whiche reigned in a parte of Grēce.
Doryclus, The baſtarde ſonne of Priamus.
Doryſcæum, or Doryſaum, A great citie of Phrygia.
Dorylus, One of the Centaures.

D R

Dracus, A capitaine of Achaia, vanquiſhed by Lucius Mummius the Romayne.
Draco, ōnis, maſ. ge. One that firſt gaue lawes to the Athenians, wherein he appoynted death for euery ſmall faulte. Wherefore it was ſayed, he wrate his lawes with the bloud of men.
Draconigena, Of poetes was called the citie of Boeotia, becauſe it was buylded by Cadmus, and the fyue men that ſprange of the dragons teethe.
Drangiana, A prouince in Aſia the more.
Drauſi, A people of Thrace, whiche at the byrthe of chyldren make greate lamentation, and at the death make great ioye.
Drepanum, A citie in Italy, called nowe Trapani.
Driſon, A ryuer of Dalmatia, called commonly Drino.
Druides, dum, or Druidæ, arum, Weare ſometyme in Fraunce called Gallia, one of the two eſtates, of lyke condition as the ſpiritualtie is nowe among vs. They had in great eſtimation woodes of great okes, and in meruaylous reuerence all thynges that grew on okes, ſpecially miſſelden, affirmyng that it was ſent from heauen. Their ſacrifice was in this fourme: Under an oke, wheron grew miſſelden, they cauſed meate to be prepared and ſet, and two whyte bulles to be brought forth, whoſe hornes were than firſt bounden, that is to ſaye, were ſette firſte in the ploughe or wayne. Than the prieſte (beynge cladde in whyte) clambe vp to the tree, and hauyng a byll of golde in his hande, did ſhredde or cutte of the miſſelden: than offered they the ſacrifice, prayng, that the gifte that ſhould be geuen, might be to them that ſhould receiue it proſperous and fortunate, ſuppoſing that the beaſt whiche was barrein, if he dranke of the miſſelden, ſhoulde be fruitfull, and that it was a ſure remedy againſt all poyſon. It is ſuppoſed, that theyr ſuperſtition came firſt out of this yle called Bryttaine.
Druſomagus, A citie of Rhetia, called commonly Kempten.
Druſus, The name of a Romayne, of ryght noble lynage and eloquence, but he was proude and ambitious.
Dryas, The propre name of a man of Theſſaly, friende of Neſtor.
Dryades, Were fayries of wooddes.
Dryidæ, idem quod Druidæ.
Dryſon, Looke Driſon.

Drymo-

Drymodis, Afterwarde Pelasgus, is nowe called Archadie.

Dryopes, People of Epirus.

D V

Dubis, A ryuer in Fraunce, called Le doux.

Ducona, The citie of Caors in Fraunce.

Duellona, æ, fœ.ge. In olde tyme called Bellona.

Duillius, A nobie man of Rome that first in that citie triumphed for a victorie gotten in a battayle on the sea. When he was an olde man, in chyding with his ennemy it was casse in his teeth that he had an ill sauouring breath. Wherewith he beyng somewhat abashed, went home to his wyfe & chidde with hir that she neuer tolde hym of it. Sir saied she, so would I haue done, had I not thought that all mens breathes had sauoured in like maner. So farre were honest matrõs in those daies from clipping, kissing, and wanton daliance with straungers.

Dulichium, An yle in the sea Maliake, or (as some saye) Jonium.

Dusopolis, A citie of Aethiope, called by an other name Acanthus.

Dunium, The towne of Dorchester.

Dunum, A countrey in Englande called Durham.

Duram, Some thinke to be the name of a riuer neere vnto whiche the gygantes made the toure Babel. Some will it to be a fielde, as in Daniel.

Durias, or Turia, The name of a ryuer neere to Valentia, called commonly Duero.

Durocottorum, The citie of Reynes in Fraunce.

D Y

Dymanene, A certayne nymph.

Dyrrhachium, A citie in Sicilie, which was first called Epidamnus. It is now called Durazo.

E A

EAnus, The God of the yere, whom the Phœnicians peincted, a serpent with his tayle in his mouthe.

Eantes, The name of a story writer that was in ỹ age that Pigmalion reigned in the east parte.

Easo, The citie called saincte Sebastian, in Spayne.

E B

Ebionitæ, Heretikes, whiche denied Christe to bee God, and affirmed, that all partes of the olde lawe, oughte to bee kepte with the newe lawe. They receyued onely the gospell of saincte Mathew, & reiected the other, and also all the epistles of saint Paule. The authour of that sect was one Ebion, about the yere of our lorde. 88.

Ebona, a citie in Irelãd, called Dublyn or Deuillin.

Eboracum, or Eburacum, ci, A citie in England called Yorke.

Eboſus, An yle betwene Sardinia and Afrike, the earth wherof, will suffer no venemous thyng to lyue: where is suche brede of conies, that they destroye the yles nert adioyning.

Ebron, A mountayne in Palestina.

Ebrus, or Hebrus, A ryuer of Thrace, renning from the mountayne Rhodope, in the grauell whereof are founde little rates or pieces of golde.

Ebudes, Iles in the sea about Englande, I suppose nyghe Wales and the west countrey, where the people lyue by whyte meate and fishe.

Ebulcus, The sonne of Iupiter and Proserpina.

Ebura, A citie of Portugall, nowe called Ebora.

Eburini, People of Lucania.

Eburones, People of the countrey called Liege or Luke, beyonde Brabant.

Eburonices, A people of Fraunce.

Eburum, A citie of Germany, called commonly Olmuntz.

E C

Ecameda, The daughter of the valyaunt Arsinous, whiche at the battayle of Troye was geuen to Nestor.

Ecbatana, The chiefe citie of the roialme of Media. There is a citie in Syria of the same name, sometyme called Epiphania, and may be wrytten Egbatana.

Echemon, Priamus sonne, slayne by Diomedes.

Echeneus, A veray courteyse and gentyll person, of the people called Phæaces.

Echinades, Beene ylandes in a ryuer in Grece, called Achelous, whiche diuydeth Aetolia from Acarnania.

Echineis, An yle in the sea Aegeum.

Echinon, A citie of Thrace.

Echioni, Thebans so called of Echion, one of the fiue that holpe Cadmus to buylde Thebes.

E D

Edessa, A citie beyonde the ryuer of Euphrates.

Edom, Esaw was so called, and the countrey where he reigned.

Edomus, An hylle nerte vnto Pangeum, in the borders of Thessalie.

Edon, onis, masc. g. A mountaine of Thrace.

Edones, A people of Scythia.

Edoni, or Edonii, People of Thrace, or in the borders of Macedonie, nere to Thrace.

Edonides, Were wome, which being stirred w̃ a diuine furour, did celebrate ỹ misteries of Bacchꝰ.

Edonis, idis, A citie of Aeolis, & a coũtrey of Thrace.

Edonius, a, um, Of Edonis.

Edonus, idem quod Edon.

Edonus, a, um, Of Thrace.

Edri, An yle on the east part of Ireland which Plinie calleth Andros.

Edyia, A nymph, ỹ daughter of Oceanus & Tethys.

Eetion, Andromaches father, that reigned at Thebes in Cilicia.

E G

Egelaste, A towne in the higher Spayne.

Egeria, An ydoll, to whome women with chylde did offer, supposynge that thereby they shoulde trauayle easily.

Egesinus, A philosopher, the scholer of Euander.

Egesta, A citie in Sicilie, whiche Aeneas builded. Also the daughter of Hippotes the Troian, mother of Aceste.

Bioneus, One of the princes of Grèece, whiche came to Troye: an other of Thrace, whiche aided the Troyanes.

E L

Elæa, A citie of Asia, an other of Italie: the people wherof be called Eleatæ, or Elitæ. It is also a citie of Phœnicia, an other of Bithynia.

Elamitæ, Be called the princes of the Persians, of Elam the sonne of Sem, as Iosephus sayeth.

Elcebus, A citie in Fraunce, called commonly Schelestade.

Eldana, A citie in Spayne, called Duennes.

Elea, A citie in the countrey of Lucania.

Eleates, A man of that citie.

Electra, The daughter of Oceanꝰ and Tethys. She had a daughter of the same name, on whom Iupiter begat Dardanus.

Electrion, The father of Amphytrio, and sonne of Alceus.

Electrites, Certaine yles in the sea Adriaticum.

Electrius, a, um, Of Electra.

Elei, People in Grèece, in the countrey sometyme called Peloponnesus, nowe Morea.

Eleleus, One of the names of Bacchus.

Elephántina, A citie of Aegypte.

Elephantis, An yland in the ryuer Nilus.

Eleus, untis, A citie of Thrace.

Eleus, One of the names of Bacchus.

Eleusinus, a, um, Of the citie Eleusis.

Mater Eleusina, Ceres.

Eleusina sacra, Ceremonies of Ceres the goddesse.

Eleusis, A citie in Grèece, not farre from Athens, where Eleusius reigned.

Eleutherius, The name of a man. It signifieth, frée, gentill.

Eleutheros, A ryuer by the towne of Orthosia.

Elicius, a, um, That draweth or alloureth out, the surname of Iupiter.

Elis, A citie of Peloponnesus: an other of Achaia.

Elisa, One of the names of Dido.

Elops, One of the Centaures.

Elorus, A citie of Sicilie.

Elpenor, A companion of Ulisses, which with other, Circe tourned into hogges.

Elpes, The wyfe of Boetius.

Elusa, An yle agaynst Cypres.

Elusis & Elusin, A citie in the prouince of Attica, not farre from Athens.

Elymais, A countrey neare Persia.

Elysii campi, The same place that is called Elysium.

Elysium, A place of pleasure, where poetes did suppose the soules of good men to dwell.

Elysius, a, um, The adiectiue.

E M

Emath. A citie that is nowe called Antioche.

Emathia, A parte of the roialme of Macedonie.

Emathius, a, um, Of Emathia.

Emeus, A noble citie of Palestine, whiche is nowe called Nicopolis.

Emerita Augusta, A citie of Portugall, called nowe Merida.

Emmanuel, An hebrew name, & is interpreted, God is with vs.

Emmaus, Luke Emaus.

Emodus, An hyll, whiche about the borders of Indie, is diuided into boughtes.

Empedocles, A poete of Agrigentum, that wrate of naturall philosophie in verses. He was of that minde and opinion, that no liuing thinge ought to be eaten: that all thinges had their beginning of amitie and discorde: that the soule was not in the head or harte, but dispersed throughout all the bloud: and that men weare most sensible in those partes, where the soule was most. The reporte is that, to thende he might be compted by his sodaine departure a god immortall, he stole priuily in the night from his companie, and cast himselfe into the burning mouthe of the mountaine Aetna, but his yron patennes or pantofles being cast vp againe by vehemēcie of the flame, bewrayed whiche way he was become.

Empanda, A goddesse that hadde tuition of those thinges that are abroade.

Emporiæ, A citie of Spayne, called commonly Castellon Dempurias.

Empusa, A certaine goast, which in variable formes appeared. Demosthenes saieth, that Aeschines mother was called Empusa.

E N

Encænia, Was among the Iewes, the feaste of dedication of their temple.

Enceladus, A gygaūt, the sonne of Terra, which was stryken with the lightening of Iupiter, and buried vnder the hill Aetna.

Endymion, The name of a man, whiche founde the course of the mone: wherfore the poetes feigned that the mone loued hym, and descended downe to kisse him while he slepte.

Engaddi, A citie in Iudea, from whēce the precious baulme commeth.

Eniochi, or Heniochi, A fierse & wylde people of Sarmatia, nére to Pontus, which had their begynning of Rhecas and Amphistratus the chariot men of Castor and Pollux.

Eniopeus, Hectors chariot man, whom Diomedes slewe.

Enipeus, A ryuer of Thessaly, nére to the whiche the battayle was foughte betwéene Cæsar and Pompeie.

Enna, A citie of Sicily, situate in an high place, and is compted to be the veray middel of ỹ countrey.

Enneacrunos, A fountayne in Athens, made by Pisistratus.

Ennius, An olde Latine poete, borne at Tarentum, a citie nowe in the royalme of Naples, as some suppose, in a towne called Rudiæ in Italy, and was brought to the citie of Rome by Cato ỹ Censour. For his learning & most honest conditions, he was entierly beloued of Scipio Affrican: wherfore he caused his ymage to be sette on his sepulchre. He made many bookes in sundrye kyndes of verses, but the style that he vsed was veray auncient and homely, but they conteyned graue

graue and ſubſtantiall ſentences of great wiſdome. He died at the age of. lxx. yeres.

Ennoſigæus, The ſurname of Neptunus.

Enoch, A mans name in holy ſcripture.

Enoma, or Ennona, A citie of Dalmatia.

Enope, A citie nere to Pylos.

Enos, A great citie, nyghe to the mountayne Lybanus, before Noes flouddc, wherin dwelled gygantes, which had dominion ouer all the worlde, from the ſunne goynge downe, to the ſunne ryſing. Thei truſting in the greatneſſe of their bodies, and ſtrength, inuented armour and weapons, oppreſſed all men, and geuing theimſelues to all bodily luſtes; founde pauiliõs, inſtrumẽtes of muſike, and all wanton pleaſures. They did alſo eate men, procured deliueraunce of childzen before the time, and prepared thẽ vnto delicate meates. They companied carnally with their owne mothers, ſiſters, daughters, men & beaſts: and all miſchiefe they did committe, deſpyſers of God and all religion.

Enyo, enyus, The name of Bellona.

Enyalius, The ſonne of Bellona.

Eon, onis, The trẽ whereof the ſhyppe Argo was made for Jaſon.

Eõus, i, m. g. One of the horſes of the ſunne. It is vſed for the day ſterre. E P

Epagris, One of the yles called Cyclades.

Epaminondas, A Theban borne, (ſonne of an honeſt gentyll manne called Polymnus) in ſundrie qualities excellent, as wel of the bodie as of the mynde, in all kyndes of muſyke perfectly inſtructed, and danced exceadingly well. He wraſtled, and ranne no man better. In armes ſtronge, hardye and valiaunt. In martiall policie, equal to any than lyuinge: wounderfull well learned in philoſophie, eſpecially in that Pythagoras taughte, the moſt diffuſe and pure doctrine, conteining moſt ſecreate & diuine miſteries, whervnto he added moſte noble vertues. For he was temperate, wyſe, of great grauitie, vſyng tyme wyſely, of courage inuincible, ſo diligent in obſeruyng trouth, that he woulde at no tyme lye, neyther in earneſt nor in game. He was continent, mercyfull, wonderfull patient, ſuffering wronges both of the people, and of his friendes. He was ſecreate and truſty, ſo faythfull and louynge to his friendes, that whan any of theim were take in warres, or any of their daughters ready to bee maried, and they not able to ſette them forth, accordyng to their degrees: he would aſſemble the reſidue of his friendes, and exhorte theim to geue vnto hym that lacked, accordyng to their powers. He himſelfe woulde liberally geue to the quantitie of his ſubſtaunce, whiche was but little, although he were in great authoritie (for he refuſed all rewardes, ſauynge thankes onely) & whan he hadde made a good ſumme of that, whiche was graunted, before he receyued it, he broughte hym that ſhoulde haue it, vnto the geuers, that he moughte receiue it of theim, and knowe how much he was bounde vnto euery of theim. He oftentymes refuſed great ſummes of money and ryche preſentes ſente to him by princes (although he were poore) ſaiyng: If the thing were honeſt which he was required to doe, he would doue it becauſe it was good, without any rewarde: If it were yll, or not honeſt, all the gooddes of the worlde ſhould not make hym doue it: If it weare profitable to his countrey, he was bounden and ready to doue it freely: If it weare otherwyſe, all the rycheſſe in the worlde moughte not counteruayle the loue that he bare to his commune weale. In eloquence no Thebane mought be compared vnto hym, and his ſentences weare graue, and veray compendious, wherby in counſayles he vanquiſhed and put to rebuke greate and famous oratours. In battayle he ouercame the Atheniens and the Lacedemonians, and in one day had the victory of all Grẽce. At the laſt, in the battayle at Mantinea, betwẽne the Thebans and the Lacedemonians, he was ſtriken & wounded to death with a longe ſpeare, the head remayning ſtyll in his bodye: yet reteyned he lyfe, vntyll it was tolde hym that his hoſte had the victorie. Than ſayde he, I haue lyued longe enough, for I dye vnvanquyſhed. The yron being drawen out of his bodie, he died, before the incarnation of Chriſt. 372. yere. This one thing is well to be conſidered (as Probus ſayeth) the citee of Thebes, before Epaminondas was borne, and alſo after he was dead, was vnder the rule and inſubiection of other people. But durynge the tyme that he was a gouernour in the weale publyque, the citie was head and gouernour of al Grẽce: wherby it may be wel perceiued, that one ſuche noble man is more than a whole citie.

Epaphus, The ſonne of Jupiter and Jo, or Iſis, that builded Memphis in Aegypt.

Epeirus, A countrey, whiche hath on the north Macedonie: on the weaſt and ſouth, the Adriatike and Ionike ſea: on the eaſt Achaia. In this reigned the famous Pyrrhus. It hath lyng to it the Iles Corfun, Ithaca, and Zacynthus, &c. This countrey is nowe vnder the Turke.

Epeus, The ſonne of Endymion, whiche made the horſe that was conueighed into Troie.

Epheſtiades, Certaine yles, called of the Latins Vulcaniæ, and Aeoliæ.

Epheſus, ephefi, A noble auncient citie in Aſia the leſſe. It is interpreted by ſaynct Hierome, my will. There renneth by it a great ryuer called Cayſtros, out of whiche bee deryued manye other ryuers. In this citie was the famous temple of Diana, numbred among the. vij. wonders of the worlde, edified by all Aſia in an. C. x. xx. yeres, and was ſet in a fenne or marſhe grounde, the foundation beynge firſte layed with coles, troden or rammed harde, than fleeces of woull layed theron: and all this was to ſaue it from earthquakes. The temple was in length. 425. foote, in breadth. 220. In it were. 127. pyllours, euery of them. lx. foote high, made by kinges: the roufe was of ceder trées, and the doores of Cypres. A lewde perſõ, of purpoſe to get a renoume in hiſtories (being couetous of glory, and hauing none excellent qualitie to atteyne therbnto) putting wylde fire into the roufe, did burne this tẽple. His name was Herofirat⁹ (as Strabo wryteth) wherof proceded a prouerbe,

*Herofirati gloria, Applied vnto them that ſéeke for a renoume or prayſe of a miſchieuous acte.

Ephialtes, and Oetus, Twoo ſonnes of Neptune, whiche as poetes dooe feigne, did growe euery moneth. ix. ynches, and trufting to their length, intended to ouerthrowe heauen.

Ephorus, The name of a wryter of hiſtories, ſcholar to Ariſtotle.

Ephyra, æ, or Ephire, es, A towne of Achaia, whiche nowe is called Corinthus. Alſo a nymph, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.

Ephyreias, adis, A woman of Corinthe.

Ephyris, A citie of Laconia.

Epia, æ, A town of Achaia, the people wherof were called Epii.

Epicharmus, The name of an excellent philoſopher of Syracuſe.

Epicletus, The name of a Stoike philoſopher.

Epicuréus, and Epicúrius, a, um, Perteynynge to the Epicures.

Epicurus, The chiefe of that ſecte, that of his name weare called Epicurei. He eſtemed the chiefe felicitie and ende of al perfitneſſe to cõſiſte in pleaſure, not of the body as Ariſtippus did, but of the ſoule and minde. Lucretius affirmeth that as the ſunne in bryghtneſſe palleth all other ſterres, ſo did Epicurus in worthyneſſe excelle all other philoſophers. His life is reported to be of meruellous ſobrietie and continencie: but that name of pleaſure, wherein he placed felicitie, cauſed all voluptuous and ſenſuall philoſophers of him to be called Epicureos.

Epidamnus, A towne in the ſouthweſte parte of Gréece on ỹ ſea ſyde, called afterward Dyrrachiũ.

Epidaurus, or Epidaurium, A citie in Gréece in the coũtrey called Achaia, wherin was a famous tẽple dedicated vnto Aeſculapius, to the which a great multitude of ſicke people did reſorte, and ſome in their ſleape had ſhewed vnto thẽ that medicine whereby they ſhould be cured of their ſickneſſe.

Epigenes, A philoſopher of Byzance.

Epigoni, The ſurname of them that were the cauſers of the ſeconde warre of Thebes.

Epii, Certayne people called afterward Eſidenſes.

Epimachus, A mans name.

Epimenides, A noble phyloſopher in the yle of Creta: who beynge a younge man, and ſent by his father to ſéeke a ſhéepe, for werynes and heate of the daye, went into a denne or holowe place in an hyll to reſte hym: where he ſlepte continually. 47. yeres: and than beyng awaked, went forth to ſéeke his ſhéepe, and not fyndynge him, returned home. And fyndynge an other man dwellynge in the houſe, which was his fathers, and beholdynge euery thinge altered, he went into the citie, where at the laſt he founde his yonger brother, being a man of great yeres, of whom he knewe all that was happened, and after became a meruaylous philoſopher, and wrate of the nature of thinges, and of the diuine generation, and had the gyfte of prophecie, as ſome ſuppoſe. He lyued (as Laertius writeth) 179. yeres, after other mens ſaynges. 194. yeres. And was before the incarnation of Chriſte. 147. yeres.

Epimetheus, The ſonne of Japetus, and brother of Prometheus.

Epiphanes, Notable or famous: It was the ſurname of Antiochus the moſt cruell tyranne.

Epirôta, æ, One of Epyre.

Epiróticus, a, um, Of the countrey called Epirus.

Epîrus, A region in the ſouthweſt parte of Gréece, lyke Epeirus.

Epiſtrophus, A kyng of Phocis.

Epopos, The name of a mountayne.

Eporedia, A citie of the Salatiens.

E Q

Equeſtris, Newecaſtell in Fraunce.

Equitius, The propre name of a man, and ſurname of a familie in Rome.

E R

Eraſinus, The name of a ryuer in Achaia.

Eraſiſtratus, A noble phiſition of the houſe of Ariſtotle: who for healing kyng Antiochus, receiued of Ptolomeus his ſonne. 100. talẽtes, whiche doe amount of our money, to. 14000.375. li. He was before the incarnation of Chriſt. 243. yeres.

Erate, es, A nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.

Erato, The name of one of the Muſes, whiche had prœminence ouer louers. It is ſometyme taken for Calliope.

Eratoſthenes, The name of a philoſopher.

Ercinia, or Hercynia, A wounderfull great woodde in Germany, lyke Hercinia.

Ercius, One of the names of Jupiter.

Erebeus, a, um, Of Erebus.

Erebus, bi, ma. g. A parte of hel, or one of the ryuers of hell.

Erechtheus, A kyng of Athens.

Erembi, People in Arabia, whiche goe naked.

Ereſichthon, One of Theſſaly, whiche for contemning Ceres, was made ſo hungry, that he dyd eate the partes of his owne body.

Eretria, A famous citie of the yle Eubœa.

Eretum, ti, A ſtrete in the Sabines towne.

Erenthalion, A man of huge greatneſſe, whiche was ſlaine by Neſtor.

Ergacylus, The propre name of a man.

Erganica, A towne of Spayne.

Erginus, A tyranne, whom Hercules ſubdued and ſlewe. Alſo a ryuer of Thrace.

Eri=

Eriſœa, Juno the ſtepmother of Mercurie. Alſo a citie of Macedonie.

Ericates, A mans name.

Ericis portus, A towne of Lyguria, called alſo Delphini portus.

Erictho, A woman of Theſſaly.

Erichthonius, & Erichthus, The fyrſt kynge of Athens, whiche inuented a chariot.

Eridanus, ni, A ryuer in Italy, now called Padus, in Italyan Po, nyghe to the citie called Patauium, ſo named of Eridanus, called alſo Phaëton, whiche was drowned in the ſame.

Erigone, The daughter of Icarus, ſiſter of Penelope, whiche was tourned by the goddes into the ſigne called Virgo.

Erimanthus, Loke Erymanthus.

Erineon, A citie in Doris.

Erinnys, nyos, or nyis, fœ. ge. The name of one of the furies of hell.

Eriphia, æ, fœ. gen. A certaine witche.

Eriphyle, The wyfe of Amphiaraus, and ſiſter of Adraſtus, which betraied hir huſband for an ouche of golde, at the ſiege of Thebes.

Eriphyſa, The name of an ylande.

Erifichthon, Loke Erefichthon.

Ero, A mayd of Seſtus, who ſeing Leāder of Abydus hir louer drowned, in ſwimming ouer the ſea of Helleſponte to come to hir, caſt hir ſelfe downe from an hygh towre into the ſame water, and ſo dyed the ſame death.

Eropia, One of the yles Cyclades, called alſo Aſis, and afterwarde Syphnus.

Eros, otis, A mans name.

Erycus, A mountayne in Sicilie, where was a temple of Venus, of the whiche ſhe was called Erycina.

Erymantheus, and Erymanthius, a, um, Of Erymanthus.

Erymanthis, idos, Arcadie.

Erymanthis urſa, The daughter of Lycaon, whiche was tourned into a beare.

Erymenthus, A mountayne in Arcadie, where Hercules ouercame a boare ỹ deſtroyed the fieldes. There are alſo a wodde and a ryuer of the ſame name.

Erythea, An yle in the ſea Gaditanum, where is ſuch temperatenеſſe of ayre, that men lyue exceādingly longe.

Erytheus, A kynge of Athens.

Erythra, A citie of Aſia.

Erythrea, One of the Sybylles. Alſo the countrey out of the whiche Hercules droue his heарde of beaſtes.

Erythræum mare, The redde ſea, ſo called of the king Erythra, whiche in Engliſhe ſygnifieth redde. For in dæde the water of that ſea is of the colour of water, as diuers greate authours, and alſo experience doeth affirme.

Erythrys, A riuer, the water wherof maketh heare to growe.

Eryx, cis, The name of a mountaine in Sicilie, and of a citie thereon builded, wherein was edyfied a temple to Venus, whereof Venus is called Erycina.

Eryx, Was alſo the ſonne of Butes and Venus: or after ſome, of Neptunus and Venus, whiche was ſlayne by Hercules, and gaue name to the aforeſayde hyll, in the whiche he was buryed.

Eſaias, A prophete of the Tribe of Juda, in whom was ſuche abundance of the ſpyrite of prophecie, that he prophecied ſo muche of Chriſt, that he ſæmed rather to be an euangeliſt, then a prophete. He was of ſuche holyneſſe, that (in the tyme of kynge Ezechias, whan a citie was beſieged) by his prayer he obteyned of god, that water ſprang vp in lyttle quantitie, ſo that the people dyd not peryſhe for lacke of water. And whā the ennemies had wonne the citie, and beſieged Jeſoum, as often as the Jewes came for water, the water ranne out of the caue abundantly, and they toke water: but the ſtraungers, whan they came, coulde not fynde it. This holy man, for his lybertie of ſpæche in rebukyng the ſynne of the princes and the people, and prophecyinge of the vengeance of god vpon that countrey & people, was cutte in two partes with a ſawe, and buryed vnder an oke: but afterwarde he was tranſlated and layde by the ſepulchre of kynges. He was before the incarnation of Chriſte. 800. yeres.

Eſau, The ſonne of Iſaac, and brother of Jacob.

Eſis, A ryuer in Italy, not farre from Rauenna.

Eſquiliæ, loke Exquiliæ.

Eſſedones, A people, which dwe eate theyr friendes when they be dead, and drynke in the ſkulles of theyr heades.

Eſſeni, or Eſſei, People inhabytynge in Judea towarde the weſte, whiche doe lyue without women, and contemne golde, ſyluer, and all other ryches. They lyue by eatynge of dates. There reſorte continually vnto them, by the prouydēce of god, men from diuers partes, ſo that theyr company neuer fayleth. But none is receyued, oneleſſe the merits of his vertue and chaſtitē do auaunce him.

Etearchus, A kynge of Darus, a citie of Crete.

Eteocles, The elder ſonne of Oedipus, by his owne mother Jocaſta. Betwæne whom and his brother Polynices this agrement was made, that after the departure of their father, they ſhoulde reigne yerely by courſe. But Eteocles, after his yere was ended, would not ſuffer his brother to ſuccēde. Wherefore Polynices, beynge ayded of Tydeus, and his wyues father Adraſtus, made cruell warre vpon his brother, in whiche, they bothe mætynge in the fielde, weare ſlayne of other ſlayne. Afterward, when both their bodies weare burned in the fyre, the reporte goeth, that the flame parted it ſelfe, and wente aſunder, as a ſigne of ſuche deadly hatred betwæne the two brothers, that as their myndes beynge alyue, ſo their bodies beynge deade, coulde neuer agrée. Of this hatred ſuche ſteppes remayned in the poſteritée, that the warre was after continued moſt deadly by the childzen of them, whiche at this fyrſte warre were ſlayne. A notable example was this of ſuch miſchiefe, as commonly by diuine prouidence foloweth them that are begotten in inceſte, agaynſt the courſe of nature.

Etéſiæ, árum, ſ.g. Wyndes, whiche dwe commonly blowe in ſommer, about the canicular dates.

Etéſius, á, um, Perteynynge to thoſe wyndes.

Ethalia, An yle in the ſea called Mare Ligúſticum, which is by Geane.

Ethálion, A mans name, whiche was tourned into a Dolphin.

Etheocles, looke Eteocles.

Ethruria, looke Hetruria.

Ethruſcus, looke Hetruſcus.

Euadne, The daughter of Thebe, and the wyfe of Capaneus: whiche loued hir huſbande ſo feruently, that when ſhe hearde that he was take at Thebes, ſhe fell nére dead in a ſowne, and after whã his funeral was celebrated, ſhe leapt into the fyre.

Euæmon, The father of Eurypylus, whiche came with the Gréekes to Troy.

Euænetus, looke Euenetus.

Euan, The name of Bacchus.

Euander, or Euandrus, The proper name of Carmẽtis ſonne, who by his mothers coũſaile ſlew his father, and leauynge his owne countrey Archadia, came into Italye, and entrynge into the mouthe of Tyber, and erpellynge the inhabitantes, reſted on the hyl Palatine, where he beganne to builde the towne Palantêum.

Euandrius, a, um, Of Euander.

Euarchus, A ryuer of Scythia in Europe.

Euboea, An yle in the Gréeke ſea, and the name of the citie ſituated in the ſame. It is nowe called Nigro pont: in that is the citie Chalcis, where Ariſtotle dyed.

Euboeus, and Euboicus, a, um, Of Euboea.

Eubulus, The name of an hiſtory wryter, and is interpreted prudente. Alſo a citizen of Athens, who was ennemie to Demoſthenes.

Eucarpia, A citie of Phrygia, where growe greate plentie of very fayre grapes.

Euchion, The name of Bacchus.

Euclides, The name of a famous geometriciã, ſcholar to Socrates.

Eucrates, A wyly milners name.

Eudæmon, The countrey of Arabia fœlix.

Eudamidas, The ſonne of Archidamus, and brother of Alces.

Eudora, A nymph, Oceanus and Tethys daughter.

Eudorus, The ſonne of Mercurie and Polymela.

Eudoxus, The ſonne of Aeſchines, an excellent geometrician, aſtronomer, and phiſition, ſcholar to Socrates and Plato.

Euemenius, A mans name, who was very familiar with Phylip, and his ſonne greate Alexander.

Euenetus, or Euænetus, A capitain of the Lacedemonians, which with Themiſtocles kept the paſſages of Theſſaly againſt Xerxes.

Euênus, A ryuer deſcendyng from Thrace, and diuidyng Calydon. Alſo a philoſopher, which affirmed fyre to be the beſt ſauce for all meates.

Euergêtes, The ſurname of one of the Ptholomées.

Euganei, People ſometyme of Uenice.

Euganei montes, Mountaines in Italy by Padowe.

Euganeus, á, um, Of thoſe hylles.

Euhyas, ádis, ſ.g. A woman prieſt of Bacchus.

Euhyus, The name of Bacchus.

Euilæ, or Heuilath, A countrey in the orient, aboute the which the ryuer Phiſon, which we call Gãges, that cometh out of Paradiſe, doth renne.

Eumæus, The ſwyneheard whiche conducted Ulyſſes to his houſe, whan he retourned into his countrey.

Eumelis, A notable Augurian or ſoothſayer.

Eumelus, The ſonne of Admetus kynge of Theſſaly, gotten on Alceſte his wyfe. Alſo the name of a Troian.

Eumenides, Furies of hell.

Eumilus, A capitayne of the Gréekes that wente to the ſiege of Troy.

Eumolpidæ, Were certayne prieſtes or magiſtrates of Athens, ordeyned in the honour of kynge Eumolpus.

Eumolpus, A man of Athens, whom Suidas wryteth to be the ſonne of Muſæus the poete.

Eumónides, A mans name of Thebes.

Euneus, The ſonne of Jaſon by Hypſypyle.

Eunica, A maydens name in Theocritus.

Eunómius, A greate heretyke, of Arrius ſecte, wherunto he added of his own malice, that the ſonne was in euery thing vnlyke vnto ỹ father, & that the holy ghoſte had no medlinge with the father nor the ſonne. Moreouer he affyrmed, that all that kepte the faythe that he taughte, ſhoulde be ſaued, had they cõmitted neuer ſo great a ſinne, and continued therein. He was aboute the yere of our lorde. 353.

Euonymos, One of the yles called Aeoliæ.

Eupalia, A towne in Locris, whiche ſome call Eupalion, and ſome Eupolion.

Euphorbus, A Troian, the ſonne of Panthus, which wounded Patroclus, and was ſlayne by Achilles. Alſo a ſhépeheardes name.

Euphorion, A poetes name of Chalcedon, whõ Gallus dyd tranſlate.

Euphrátes, One of the ryuers that come out of Paradyſe, whiche paſſeth thorough the citie of Babylon. Alſo a philoſophers name.

Euphróſyne, The proper name of a woman. Alſo the name of one of ỹ thrée Graces called Charites

Eupilis, A lake in Lumbardie.

Eupolis, An auncient poete, which in his comedies ſharpely tared the vices of the people.

Eupompus, A very cunnynge man in arithmetyke and geometrie. Alſo a famous peynter, whiche taught taught Pamphilus Apelles maiſter.

Euporus, Caius Gracchus ſeruaunte, which at his bydeynge dydde ſlea him, and after kylled himſelfe.

Euprosopon, A promontory in Phœnicia.

Euripides, A famous poete, that lyued in the tyme of Archelaus kinge of Macedonie, who had him in paſſynge great eſtimation. He wrate. 75. comedies, and was of ſo chaſte lyfe, and ſo muche abhorryng the company of women, that he was of that occaſion ſurnamed Myſogynes, that is, ennemy to womãkynde. He was by misfortune ſlayne of Archelaus his dogges: for whiche thynge the kynge was very ſory, and commaũded his bones to be gathered together, and honorably to be interred in the citie Pella, repellyng the ambaſſadours of the Atheniens, which (for honours ſake) made great ſute to haue his bones tranſlated to his natiue citie of Athens.

Euripus, A parte of the ſea, betweene Aulis, an hauen of Bœotia, and the Ile of Eubœa, whiche ebbeth and floweth. 7. tymes in a daye, with ſo ſwifte a ſtreame, that it carieth with it ſhippes with full ſayle againſt the wynde: and yet. xv. daies euery moneth ſtode ſtill, and moued not.

Euronotus, A northeaſt wynde.

Europa, The thyrde parte of the worlde, diuided frõ Aſia with the great ſeas, Helleſpontus, Propontis, Boſphorus Thracius, and Pontus Euxinus, and hath the vttermoſte boundes in the northeaſt, the ryuer Tanais. And from Affrike it is diuided by the myddell ſea. It was alſo the name of a faire mayden, daughter of Agenor, kynge of Phœnicia, whom Iupiter (tranſformyng himſelfe into the forme of a bull) did rauiſhe, as poetes write: whiche of ſome is interpreted, that Iupiter caryed hir away by force in a ſhyppe, in the decke or maſte whereof was a banner or ſtreamer, wherein was peincted a bull.

Eurotas, A ryuer that renneth before the towne of Lacedemonia.

Eurus, The eaſte wynde.

Euryale, The daughter of kynge Minos. There was an other of that name, the daughter of Prætus kynge of Argiues. An other was one of the Gorgons.

Eurycles, The name of one of the prynces of Peloponneſus. Virgile feigneth a Troiane to bee ſo called.

Eurybates, A man of Ithaca, Agamemnons ſeruaunte.

Eurycatus, The name of dyuers men: one was a famous robber and theefe, of whom cometh this worde Eurybatizare, to ſteale away priuyly frõ them that haue him in keppynge.

Eurybia, A nymphe.

Eurylides, One of Xerxes capitaines.

Eurycles, A ſothſaier or dyuinour.

Euryclea, A mayden, the daughter of Piſenoris.

Eurycratides, One of the Lacedemonians.

Erycyon, A certaine goldeſmythes name.

Eurydamas, A Troyan, an interpretour of dreames.

Eurydame, Was the wyfe of Leutychides kynge of Spartanes.

Eurydemus, The father of Perictœa.

Eurydice, The wyfe of Orpheus.

Eurynome, A nymphe of the ſea.

Eurylochus, The kynge of Phlegya, which deſtroyed Thebes before Cadmus builded it.

Eurymachus, One of Penelopes wooers.

Eurymedon, The ſonne of Faunus. Alſo a ryuer of Pamphylia.

Eurymides, A ſothſaier amõg the Cycloppes, which tolde to Polyphemus all that to him happened afterwardes by Ulliſſes.

Eurynome, The wyfe of Orchamus, and alſo the daughter of Apollo.

Eurynomus, A dyuell, who (as the auncient Grekes ſuppoſed) dyd eate and conſume the fleſhe of dead men, leauynge the bones bare: whom they peinted in a terrible fygure, hauyng longe teeth or tuſkes, ſyttynge in the ſkynne of a vulture, of colour betweene blacke and blewe.

Eurypon, The daughter of Amyntas kynge of Macedonie.

Eurypylus, One of the ſonnes of Hercules, that reigned in the yle of Cous, an other the ſonne of Euæmon, whiche both weare at the ſiege of Troy.

Euryſtheus, A kynge of Greece, ennemie to Hercules, which commaunded him to doe many of his enterpriſes.

Erythus, A kynge of Oechalia, which denyed to geue his daughter to Hercules.

Eurytion, One of the Argonautes: an other was the ſonne of Lycaon.

Euſtachius, A martyr, famous in the tyme of Traiane the emperour, and one of his courte. As he was paſſinge the tyme in huntynge and chaſing of an harte, he ſawe betweene the hartes hornes, the ſigne of the croſſe, & hearde the voyce of ỹ beaſt cryng vnto him, Cur me perſequeris, which thing he commyng home declared to his wyfe & children, & tourned them to the faith of Chriſte. Both he and his wyfe Theophila weare burned in a braſen bull, in the reygne of Adriane the emperour.

Euſtathius, A learned man whiche wrate a Chronicle from the tyme of Aeneas, to Anaſtaſius the emperour. An other was a learned biſhoppe of Antioche, whiche wrate againſt Arrius. An other of the ſame name wrate cõmentaries on Homere and Dionyſius.

Euſtephius, A ſophiſter of Aphrodiſia.

Euſtratius, A philoſopher, whiche wrate commentaries vpon Ariſtotles Ethikes.

Euterpe, One of the Muſes, and is interpreted iocunde or pleaſant.

Euthydemus, A philoſopher of Maſſilia, Apollonius maiſter.

Euthymus, A famous cappitayne, or myghty champion.

Eutices, or Eutyches, An heretyke, an abbot of a monastery in Constantinople, about the yere of our lorde. 450. He affirmed, that Christ had but one onely nature, that is to saye, diuine, or of god, lyke as he was one person. This heresye was condemned in the councell of Ephesus, & Eutices sente into exyle.

Eutichydes, A famous ymage maker.

Eutrápelus, A mans name, and is interpreted gentyl and pleasant.

Eutropius, A mans name, who perswaded Cæsar to make a lawe, whereby he him selfe perished. Eccles. histor. There was an other Eutropius S. Augustines scholer.

Eutyches, lyke Eutices.

Euxinus pontus, A parte of the sea, whiche diuydeth Europa from Asia.

E X

Exampæus, A fountayne in Scythia.

Excétra, æ, f.g. A serpente, of whom the head being cutte of, there came vp for it. It was also called Hydra.

Exceestides, One, of whom for his immoderate goynge on pylgrimage, grewe a prouerbe.

Excubiæ, quibiarum, A mountayne in Rome, where watche was kepte.

Excubius, or Excubinus mons, Idem.

Excubius, or Excubinus, a, um, Of the hyll Excubiæ.

E Z

Ezechiel, (A prophete of the countrey sarera in Syria, of the lyne of byshoppes) had meruaylous reuelations and visions, and by him god shewed many greatte myracles. For in the tyme of a great scarcitée, he by prayer obteyned of god aboundaunce of fyshe, whereby the people were sufficiently refreshed. Also whã the people were oppressed, he stode and made their ennemies so abashed with myracles and wonderful sightes, that they ceassed of their enterprise. Beynge in the countrey of Chaldeie, he tolde the people of many thinges done in the temple of Hierusalem. He brought the people out of Chaldeie to Hierusalem, to the reproche of the infidelles. He beyng in Babylon, iudged the tribe of Dan and Gad, for that they had wickedly done against the lorde, in persecutynge them, whiche beleued in the lawe. And he shewed vnto thẽ a terryble token: For adders deuoured theyr children, and al theyr cattall. At the last he was slayne at Bábylon by the duke of the people, because he reproued him of Idolatrie. He was buryed in the fielde Maur, in the monumẽt of Sem and Arpharad, progenitours of Abraham. He prophecied of the retourne of the children of Israell, and also of the commyng of Christ. He lyued before the incarnation of Christ. 617. yeres.

F A

Fabaris, A ryuer in Italy, rennynge by the Sabynes.

Fabianus, The proper name of a man.

Fabius, The surname of a noble house of the Romaines, whiche had firste that name of sowyng or sellyng of beanes, as Cicero of the grayne called Cicer, Piso, of pease, Porcius, of swyne. Of this name were diuers valiant capitaynes, and wise counsailours: of whom, one was called Fabius Maximus, who, in his youthe exercised both eloquence and prowesse: and therfore he after became, as well in armes as in counsayle, a capytaine moste excellente: and subduynge many countreis to the Romaines, he triumphed. v. tymes. Beyng made Dictatour againste Annibal, he so tempred prudence with manhoode or prowesse, that by detractynge of battayle, and trainynge Anniball from place to place, and at sundry aduauntages skyrmyshynge with him, he minished his puissaunce, and preserued the publyke weale of his countrey, where Minutius (enuiynge him) in fyghtyng with Anniball, was vanquished, and had bene slayne with all his armie, had not Fabius come to his succour and rescous, who deliuered his aduersarie and all his trayne, and caused Anniball to retyre: who sayde then to his hoste: Dyd I not tell you before, that this cloude would at the last bryng vs a storme? callyng Fabius a cloude, because of his houeryng on the hylles. This man was before the incarnation of Christ. 200. yeres, and somewhat more.

Fabius Quintilianus, Reade after in Quintilianus.

Fabrateria, A towne of Campayne.

Fabritianus, A mans name.

Fabritius, A noble Romaine, who beyng wonderful poore, refused a great summe of money sente to him by kynge Pyrrhus, touchyng with his handes all his membres, and saiyng vnto the kinges messengers: As long as he mought rule all that, which he touched, he coulde lacke nothing. This man was a paterne and example of notable pouertée, in thẽ that in Rome were of greatteste authoritie and estimation. He had but one dishe and a salteselar of syluer, that to the honour of the goddes, he vsed in sacrifyce, and yet the dyshe had a fote made of horne. His daughters for pouertie of their father, had theyr dowrie of the common treasure: and so wente they to maryage, bearynge with them the honour of their pryuate family, but the ryches of the common weale.

Fabulinus, Was supposed of the paynyms to be a god, whiche had the rule ouer children whan they began to speake.

Fagutal, A chappell in Rome, wherein was a bæche trée consecrated to Iupiter.

Falacrium, A promontory of Sicilie, called now Pelazo.

Falernus, A countreye in Campayne, nowe in the realme of Naples, wherein grewe the best wynes of Italy, called Falernum, Mountflascon.

Falisci, An auncient people of Hetruria, whiche when when they weare once beſieged of Camillus the Romaine, a ſchoolemaiſter that had ỹ inſtruction of the noble mens children, vnder pretẽce of walkynge, wente out of the citie, & by lyttle & lyttle trained the yonge gentlemen into the Romayne campe, and there yelded them to the captayne Camillus, thinkyng thereby to haue gotten both great thanke, and a large reward: But the noble Camillus, deteſtynge the mans falſehode and vntrouth towarde the nobilitie of his countrey, cauſed him to be ſtripped naked, and with roddes to be beaten home into the citie by his owne ſcholers, that he woulde haue betrayed and deliuered as captiues. With which example of iuſtice and honour, he eaſily wrought that, whiche with force of armes he coulde not bryng to paſſe. For the Faliſcians moued with the admiration of that noble acte, forthwith dyd yelde themſelues, and became ſubiecte to the Romaines.

Fanenſes, and Faneſtres, People of a towne called Fana, in a countrey of Italy called Marca Anchonitana, in latine Picenum.

Faneſii, People in the northe parte of the worlde, whoſe eares be ſo great, that with them they couer all their bodies.

Faneſtris, A towne, not farre from the ryuer Metaneus.

Fannius, The name of dyuers orators and noble men of Rome.

Fanum fortunæ, A citie of Italy.

Farfarus, or Farfar, A ryuer of Syria.

Faſcelis, A name of Diana.

Fatua dea, called alſo Bona dea, The name of the earthe, ſo called, becauſe children whan they be borne, dwe not vtter any voyce, before they haue touched the earth.

Fauentia, A citie in Italy, called commonly Faenza. an other of Spayne.

Fauentinus, A man of Fauentia.

Fauiani, A certayne people.

Fauii, People whiche deſcende of Hercules.

Fauiſcæ, Certayne cellers in the courte of the Capitoll at Rome, where weare wonte to be layed the bãners of the Romaines, which were borne in warres. Alſo therin was layed the treaſure and money, which the prieſtes of the temples in the Capitoll dyd employ about thynges neceſſary to their ſuperſtition end ceremonies.

Fauna, idem quod Fatua.

Fauni, Were named of the poetes, ruſticall goddes, and monſtrouſe beaſtes lyke vnto men.

Faunus, An auncient kynge of the olde Latines, ſonne of Picus. He was alſo called Fatuelus, and was father of Latinus, which reigned in Latium, whoſe wyfe was called Fatua or Fauna.

Fauorinus, A notable philoſopher in the tyme of Adriane ỹ emperour, who did hate him extremly. Wherefore he was wonte to ſay of himſelfe, there were in him three great wonders: One, that he beynge a frencheman borne, ſpake the Greeke tounge well: the ſeconde, that beyng an Eunuke or geloyng, he was ſuſpected of aduoutrie: and thyrdely that he dyd lyue, beynge the empereus extreame ennemie.

Fauſtulus, A ſhepeheарde, whiche was the fosterfather of Romulus and Remus.

Fauſtus, The ſonne of Sylla.

F E

Februus, A name of Pluto called god of hell.

Felſina, æ, A citie in Italie, nowe called Bononiã.

Feltrum. A towne in Italy in the countrey called Marchia Tarniſina.

Feneſtella, læ, m.g. The prope name of a ſtory writer, which flouriſhed in the daies of Tiberius Cæſar: But Euſebius affirmeth, that he dyed in the tyme of Auguſtus.

Feralia, ôrum, neut.gen. plur. A daye dedicate to the infernall goddes, to pacifie them towarde the ſoules departed. They were alſo ſacrifices made for ſoules.

Ferentinum, A citie, whiche (after Plinie) ſtandeth in the firſte region of Italy.

Ferentum, A citie in Apulia.

Feretrius, The name of Jupiter, geuen by Romulus for caryynge of ſpoyles. For when he had ouercome his ennemies the Ceninenſes, he toke their ſpoyles, and in a ſolemne pageãte caryed them vp to the Capitoll, where he dedicated thẽ to Jupiter Feretrius, and afterwarde builded a temple in the ſame place.

Feretrus, A mountayne, of the whiche the houſe of Pheretre was named.

Feronia, The goddeſſe of woodes. It was alſo the goddeſſe of ſeruauntes, in whoſe temple (the head beyng ſhauen) they were wonte to receiue a copped cappe, in token that they were infranchiſed. It is alſo a citie vnder the hyll Soracte.

Ferraria, Ferrer, a citie in Italy. Alſo a promontory in Spayne.

Feſcenninum, A towne of Campayne, where verſes ſonge at mariages were fyrſt inuented.

Feſtus, A mans name, familiar with Domitian.

Feſulæ. arum, f.g. plu. An olde citie in Tuſcane, not farre from Florence.

F I

Fidena, æ, or Fidenæ, arum, A towne of the Sabines in Italy.

Fidenates, People of that towne.

Fidiculanus, A noble ſenatour of Rome.

Fidius deus, A god amonge the Romaines, ſonne of Jupiter.

Piliſtim, A countrey that is now called Aſcalon.

Fimbria, The name of a Romayne, which was verey proude and ſeditious.

Firmum caſteſſum, A citie of Italy.

Fiſcellus, li, A lyttle hyll in Italye, not farre from Tyber.

F L

Flaminia, A countrey in Italy, called alſo Aemilia, and commonly Romandiola: in whiche are the cities of Bononia, Fauentia, Imola, Rauenna, and Ariminum.

Flaminia via, The high way from the citie of Rome vnto the citie of Ariminum.

Flaminius, the name of dyuers Romaines, of which one beynge Consull, was ouerthrowen by Annibal at Trasimenus.

Flandria, A countrey called Flaunders.

Flauinium, A place in Italy.

Flauius, uii, The name of a family in Rome, of the whiche were, Vespasianus, Titus, & Domitian.

Fleuo, vel Fleusus, One of the mouthes of the ryuer Rhine. Also a towne by the same ryuer.

Flora, A notable harlotte, whiche with the abuse of hir bodie hauinge gotten exceeding great riches, at hir death lefte the people of Rome hir heire, and apointed a great summe of money to lye in a stocke, with the vsurie whereof yerely to hir remembraunce should be kepte certaine playes called Floralia. This because in processe of tyme it seemed to the Senate a foule matter, they cloked it with this deuise, feigning that Flora was a goddesse that had the tuition of flowers, and that she with such games must be worshipped for the better prose of flowers, fruites & hearbes. These playes weare set forth with all tokens of dishonestie both in woordes and gestures by cõmõ harlottes goeyng in the streate, in such sorte as they might wourthily seeme to be kepte in remembraunce of hir that they had their firste beginnynge of.

Florentia, A citie in Italie called Florence, Sometime called Fluentia.

Florianus, An emperour of Rome.

Florus, A riuer in Spayne.

Fluentia, The auncient name of the citie called Florence in Italy.

Fluonia, The name of Juno.

F O

Fobii, idem quod Fabii, verbum obsoletum.

Focunates, People of the Alpes.

Fons solis, A fountayne in Cyrenaica, whiche in the day tyme is colde, and in the night hotte.

Fonteia, A virgin vestall, sister of Fonteius the Romaine.

Forcus, The proper name of a man.

Fori, ôrum, m.g. plur. Stages or galeries, frõ whens the noble men of Rome behelde the plaies called Circenses.

Foriculus, A god amonge the Romaines.

Formiæ, A towne in Campayne, now called Nola.

Formio, A riuer of Istria, called commonly Cesano.

Fornices, Arches in Rome, made in the memory of any noble victorie or tryumph.

Fortunatæ insulæ, The fortunate yles, whiche were in the great Ocean sea, and of Plinie are named to be. vi. of Solin⁹. iii. of Ptolome. ii. which he calleth also the yles of the goddes, for the holsomnesse of the ayre, & wyndes blowyng there: also the plentie of good fruites & fertilitie of the grounde. It is thought of some men to be those yles whiche are now called Canaria, distaunte from Spayne, towarde the weste. 1200. myles, after the accoumpt of Petrus Martyr. Of these yles are founden to be. vii. in numbre. Fyrste aboute the yere of our lorde. 1405. a French man called Betanhor, at the commaũdement of Catheryne, then qnéene of Castell, founde two of them, and called the one Launcelotte, and the other Forte ventum. Soone after one Fernandus Peraria and his wyfe founde other two, and called the one Ferream, and the other Gomeram. After that the great Canaria was founde by Petrus de vera, and Michael de Moxica. Last of all, by cõmaundement of Fernando, and Elizabeth late kynge and quéene of Spayne, Teneriphe and Palma, were founde by Alphonsus Lugo: So that now all the. vii. yles be vnder the dominion of the kynge of Spayne. Notwithstandynge some suppose, that these be not the yles which weare called Fortunatæ, but rather those more southe, called now of the Portugalles, Insulæ capitis viridis.

Forule, A citie of Italy.

Forum Linii, A citie of Italy called Forli.

Forum Cornelii, A towne in Italy called Imola.

Forum Julii, A region or countrey of Italy, whiche was sometyme called Lapidea, nowe it is called Frioll.

Forum Claudii, Tarentasia in Italy.

Fossæ Marianæ, A citie in the prouince of Narbon.

Fossæ Papyrianæ, A citie in Italie called Fosso nouum.

Fossum Sempronii, A towne in Italie called Fossenbrone. Also Fauentia.

F R.

Francones, People of Germany.

Fratres Aruales, Reade before in Aruales.

Fregellæ, A little towne in Italy, sometyme a noble citie.

Frentani, People of Italy.

Fretum Herculeum, A narrow sea betweene Spayne and the countrey of Moores, called the straytes of Marrocke.

Frisii, People of Hollande, whereof the countrey is called Friselande.

Fronto, A learned man, instructour of M. Antonius.

Frusino, A citie of Campayne.

Frusinum, A citie of Campayne called Frusinona.

Frutinal, A temple of Venus.

F V

Fucinus, A lake in Italy.

Fugalia, orum, n.g. plur. A feaste amonge the Romaynes, in remembraunce of dryuynge out of the kynges, and expellynge of Tarquinius, solemnised in the moneth of February.

Fulco, A duke of Angew, the fyfth kyng of Hierusalem.

Fulginates, A people of Italy.

Fulsinates, People of Illyria.

Fuluiaster, He that imitateth the maners of Fulutus.

Fuluius, The name of a Romaine.

Furiæ, Goddesses of furie, & the daughters of Nox and Acheron. There weare of them three: Alecto, Tisiphone, & Megæra. Poetes feigned that these furies dwelled in hell: but the meaning of olde writers was, that they weare nothinge but the wringinges, tourmentes, and gnawinges of yll consciences that vexed naughty men.

Furiâlis, le, Of, or perteynynge to the furies.

Furnianus, a, um, Of Furnius.

Furnius, One that inuented certayne vessels, which were therefore called Furniana vasa.

Fusidius, The name of an oratour.

G A

GAba, A towne in Galilee.

Gabaa, A citie of Syria.

Gabales, A people of Aquitaine in Fraunce.

Gabalum, A towne in Fraunce nigh to Narbone, where very good chéese was made.

Gabalus, The name of Heliogabalus, before he was emperour.

Gabaon, A citie in the holy lande, nyghe to Rama, where Salomon doynge sacrifice, spake with god.

Gabaonitæ, Men of that citie.

Gabba, A citie in Syria.

Gabii, orum, A citie in Italy, whiche the Romaynes destroyed.

Gabinensis, & Gabinus, a, um, Of the people called Gabii.

Gabinius, A Romaine ambassadour, whiche restored Ptolome to his kingdome.

Gabriel, The name of an angell: It signifieth the puissaunce or myght of God.

Gaddir, A citie of Spaine.

Gades, dium. f. g. pl. nu. Two Iles in the further part of Spaine beyonde Granate, whiche in worthynesse of men, before tyme haue excelled. For at one time there were in Rome. 500. men of this countrey citizens of the order and state of gentlemen. In the lesse of those two plandes, it is reported that grasse is so battle, as the milke of the beastes doth cast no whey, nor can haue any chéese made of it, onlesse it be myxed with much water. It is written moreouer, that onlesse the beastes there fédyng be often lette bloud, they wyl within. xxx. daies be stifled & dye with fatte. Which fertilitée may séeme to geue occasion of the fable of Geryõs beastes that Hercules droue away.

Gaderes, A citie of Syria, not farre from Ascalon.

Gadira, A place nére to the vttermoste boundes of Spaine: to which whan Hercules came, & could passe no further, he set vp there his pyllours.

Gaditânus, a, um, Of or belonging to the yles Gades.

Gaditanum fretum, The entrée out of the Ocean sea, into the sea called Mediterraneũ, hauing Spaine on the north side, and the Moores on the southe.

Gaon, or Gihon, A great ryuer, which renneth thorough Aethiope & Aegypt, & is now called Nilus.

Gagates, or Gages, A ryuer in Lycia, where the stone Jeate was fyrst founde.

Galanthis, The handemayde of Alcmena, by whose crafte she brought forth Hercules, whã she was let by Juno & Lucina: in despite wherof, she was tourned into a wéesyll, called in Gréeke Gale.

Galata, An yle not farre from Melita.

Galatæ, or Gallograeci, People of Galatia.

Galatæa, A nymphe or mayden of the sea, and was daughter of Nereus and Doris.

Galatia, or Gallogrécia, A countrey in the lesse Asia, ioygnyng to Phrygia and Lidia.

Galba, A Romaine, whiche in his tyme was very eloquent.

Galenus, The sonne of Nicon a famous Geometrician. In physike he was so excellent, as he may iustly séeme to be rayled by diuine prouidence, at that time to make perfecte that noble arte, and to confounde the manyfolde sectes and errours, with whiche as then it was defaced. Until he was. xv. yeres of age, he was brought vp by his father in grammer, logike, and arithmetike. Afterwarde he gaue himselfe to more graue studies of philosophy, & therein meruailously profited. So sone as he was. xvii. yeres olde, his father was by a dreame admonished to set his son to the study of physike: in which arte within few yeres he so notably preuailed, that he not onely passed all his equalles in learning, but, with the admiration of all men, his maisters also that taught him. When that in Gréece none could be founde at whose hande he might farther learne, he trauailed ouer many countreyes to learne & vnderstand the nature of simples & other matters perteyning to the science that he professed. After his sundry trauailes, by that he was. 28. yeres of age, beynge well furnished with many profitable simples, he returned to his countrey Pergamus, alway indeuouryng to make other partakers of those thinges, that by his great labours he himselfe had learned. By occasion of a sedition raised in his countrey, after few yeres he went to Rome, where, by his great learning & meruailous cures that he wrought, he procured fauour & loue of good men, spite & enuie of the malicious, but the admiration of all that knewe him, both good & euil. Until he was. 28. yeres olde he was of body much in daunger to sickneße. All the residue of his lyfe, by good order and diete, he continued in most perfãte health, onlesse it were sometime the grudgeyng of a feuer for a dayes space. In wytte and reasonynge he was sharpe, earnest, and subtile. In maners so courteis, milde, and gentill, that he neuer corrected his seruauntes, otherwyse then with modeste chastisynge in wordes. Towarde his pacients comfortable, pleasaunt, and pitifull. Of such constancie and grauitie, that he with lyke staye and moderation of myndc dyd alway susteyne aduersytie and prosperitie, honour and reproch, loue & displeasure. So little he estéemed vaine glory, ẏ he would not haue set his owne name to ẏ most famous work ẏ he wrate of all partes of phisike. In teachinge his arte and science, beside his notable eloquence and learning, he vseth so excellente order and methode, that his workes are wonderously estæmed of al that know what learning meaneth. So much he tendred his owne natiue countrey, that he chose rather in his later time to liue there in meane estate, thē with the emperours of Rome in great estimation and dignitie. In fine he dyed, beynge of age. 70. yeres, or as some wryte. 140. and florished especially in the tyme of Marcus Antonius, Commodus, and Pertinar the emperours, about the yere of our lorde. 160.

Galesus, A ryuer of Calaber, by the citie Tarentum.

Galilæa, A countrey which marcheth on Syria, Arabia, and Aegypt.

Gallecia, A region in Spayne.

Gallia, A noble region, sette betwéene Spayne and Germany, & on the east bordereth on the mountaines Alpes. That which ioygneth to Germanie, was called Belgica, and was conteyned betwéene the ryuers Scalde and Sequana, or Seyne. That parte, whiche marcheth to the mountaynes, was called Celtica, or Lugdunensis, and was conteyned betwéene the riuers Seyne and Garumna, or Geronde. That whiche bordereth on Spayne, called Aquitania, was bounded with the mountaines Pyrenæi. Cæsar boundeth the parte called Celtica, with the ryuers Rhene, and Geronde: and Aquitania, with the hylles Pyrenæi, and the ryuer of Geronde. Agrippa describeth Gallia betwéene the ryuer Rhene, the mountaynes Pyrenæi, the Ocean sea, and the mountaynes Gebenna and Jura. Moreouer, that whiche is nowe called Lumbardy, was called Gallia Cisalpina.

Gallicánus, a, um, Gállicus, a, um, and Gallus, a, um, Of Fraunce.

Gallogræcia, A countrey in Asia, called also Galatia, the people thereof be called Gallogræci.

Gallonius, A sumptuous and a voluptuous persone, of whom Cicero maketh mention.

Gallus, li, m.g. A Frencheman. A priest of Cybele. Also a ryuer in Phrygia, the water whereof if it be dronke vnmoderately, maketh one madde.

Gallus, a. um, Of Fraunce.

Gamale, A towne in Judæa.

Gamphasantes. A wylde people of Aethiope, whiche can handle no maner of weapon.

Gandari, People in the easte parte of Asia, by the ryuer Indus.

Gangabæ, Slaues and porters that carie burdeynes amonge the Persians.

Gangaridæ, People betwéene Assyria and India, not farre from the ryuer Ganges.

Ganges, A great ryuer that diuideth India, called in holy scripture Phison, one of the fowre ryuers whiche come out of Paradise. Josephus doeth interprete it Inundation. The breadth thereof (as Solinus writeth) is in the narowest place. viii. myles, in the broadest. xx. myles. Arrianus writeth, that where it is narrowest, it is in breadth. 100. furlonges, whiche is. viii. myles. In many places it spreadeth so wide, that where the grounde is moste playne, nor any high place appéareth, no man may descerne any thinge on the other syde. In the shalowest place it is. 100. foote déepe. There renneth into it. xvii. great ryuers, euery of them able to beare a shyppe. In this ryuer of Ganges is an yle, and therein a great citie, called Palybotra, the countrey is named Phrasia, the kynge whereof, as Plinie writeth. lib. 6. cap. 19. hath alway in wages. 600000. foote men. 30000. horsemen, and 9000. Olyphantes.

Gangéticus, a, um, Of that ryuer.

Gangética tellus, India.

Ganyctor, A mans name.

Ganymédes, A Troiane childe, whiche was feigned to bée rauished of Jupiter, and made his butler.

Garamantes, People of Affrike, in the myddle of Libya, whiche are blacke Moores.

Garamanticus, a, um, Of the people Garamantes.

Garamantes, A certaine kyng, whose daughter Garamantis Jupiter rauyshed, and on hir begotte Hiarbas.

Gargánus. An hylle in Apulia, called nowe Mons sancti Angeli.

Gárgarus, ri, m. g., and Gargara, orum, neut. gen The top of the mountayne Ida. Also a lake of Phrygia, out of the whiche issuen the ryuers Scamander and Simois.

Gargittius, The dogge, which kepte the oxen of Geryon, whom Hercules slew, whan he stole them.

Garumna, æ, fœm. gen, A ryuer in Fraunce called Geronde.

Caurus, An hylle in Campania.

Gaza, æ, f. g. A citie in Palestine.

G E

Gebbanitæ, A people dwellynge in Arabia deserta, by the redde sea.

Gebenna, A citie in Sauoy, called also Geneua, where amonge the women specially, reygneth a disease called Bronchocæle, whiche is a bolnyng or swellyng vnder their chinnes. Also Solinus nameth the parte of Alpes, ioygnynge to Sauoy, Gebenna.

Gebusæus, The sonne of Canaan, of whom the olde inhabitauntes of Hierusalem weare called Gebusei.

Gedanum, A towne of Germany in the mouth of the ryuer Visula, called nowe Dantz.

Gedeon, The name of a iudge in Israell.

Gedrosia, A countrey in Asia.

Gehenna, A name in the scripture geuen to hell, vpō this occasiō. At the rote of the mountaine Moza by Hierusalem, is a valley & small playne fielde, fertile and pleasaunt, and in it a groue dedicated to the ydoll Bahal. In this groue or wood, the people of Israel falle to Idolatry, became so foolishe that they burned theyr children, or dedicated and consecrated them to the dyuell. The place it selfe was called Gehennon, that is, the valey of Hennon, and for the wickednesse therein vsed, god threatned that he woulde fylle the place with deade mens carkasses, so that it shoulde no more be called Tophet and Baal, but Polyandrium. Wherfore the euerlastyng punishmentes appoincted for euyll men, are noted by the name of that place.

Gela, A citie in Sicilie.

Gellius, A learned man, whose woorkes remayne at this day.

Gello, A maydens name.

Geloi, or Gelones, A people nowe called Tartariãs.

Gelon, One that attempted to poyson kynge Pyrrhus.

Gelos, A porte or hauen of Caria.

Gemellipera The name of Latona.

Geminus, The name of a man, whiche in Hebrue and englishe is Thomas.

Gemini, A signe in the firmament, of Castor and Pollux.

Gemoniæ scalæ, A place, from whens the bodies of persones condemned were throwen downe at Rome.

Genetum, ti, A promontory, wherein is a temple dedicated vnto Jupiter.

Geneua, Looke Gebenna.

Genezareth, A great meere or ponde in the lande of promission, called also Mare Tyberiadis.

Gens Aelia, A kinred compacte of many families.

Gentis, idis, A king of Illyria, called now Slauony, whiche was the first fiender of the hearbe called Gentian.

Genua, A great citie called Geane.

Georgi, People of Asia, hauyng that name of tilling the earth.

Geræa, A citie of Portugall, called Caceres.

Gergonia, A towne in Guyen, standyng on an high hyll.

Germania, A countrey called of some Ducheland, of some Almayne. It is described by Ptolome the xi. chapter, to be bounded on the weste with the ryuer of Rhene: on the northe with the sea Germanicus oceanus: the south west parte with the ryuer Donowe: the easte side is bounded with the bendyng of Donowe, vnto the hylles of Sarmatia. The name of Germanie extendeth nowe further, for therein are conteyned many greate countries and cities, whiche sometyme were parte of Gallia Belgica, that is to saye, from the ryuer of Rhene westwarde, vnto our sea Mare Britannicum.

Germâni, People of Germany, or Germaines.

Germanicus, ci, m. g. A noble man of Rome, father to Caligula the emperour.

Germánicus, a, um, Of Germany.

Gerra, æ, fœm. gen. The name of. iii. cities: One in Syria, an other nere to Trachonitis, the thyrde in Arabia fœlix.

Gerrus, A ryuer of Scythia.

Gerunda, A citie in Spayne called Girona.

Gerusa, A citie of Sarmatia, called nowe saynde Georges.

Gerúsia, æ, fœm. gen. A place where the councell was assembled at Lacedemonia, lyke as the Senate house was at Rome.

Geryon, or Geryones, A kynge of Spayne, whome Hercules did slea, and toke from hym certayne bulles and kyen of notable greatnes.

Gesodumum, A citie of Norrice, called Saltzbourg.

Gessoriacum, As some suppose, was the towne, whiche is nowe named Calais: Layland saieth Boloigne.

Gessus, A ryuer of Jonia.

Getæ, People whiche some suppose to bee those, whiche are in Norwaie and Gothia. Some saye that they be more in the northeast in Scythia pertayninge to Europa: some thinke that it is the people of the countreyes Valachia and Transyluania.

Getûli, A people of Afrike.

Getûlus, a, um, and Getúlicus, a, um, Of the people Getûli.

G J

Giarus, A little yle in the sea Jonium, wherunto mẽ condemned were exiled.

Giganteus, a, um, Of, or belongyng to gigantes.

Gigantomachia, A battayle whiche gigantes prepared agaynst the Goddes, as Poetes feigned.

Giges, antis, mascul. gener. A gyaunt, a man or woman farre exceedynge the common stature of men, of whome as well holye scripture, as other credible writers doo make mention. Plutarchus wryteth, that Sertorius, a Romayne capitaine, beynge in Mauritania, brake downe the sepulchre of Antheus, and therin was found the body of a man, of suche monstruous greatnesse, that the same capytayne mœued with a reuerente feare, caused the monument to be reedified. Plinie wryteth, that in Creta, an hill fell downe, & there was founde the bodie of a man, in length. xlvi. cubites, whiche was supposed of some to be the bodie of Orion, of some the bodie of Etion. Sabellicus affirmeth, it was reported to him of a credible person, that in the south parte of Cãdie, was founde vnder a great trée, the head of a man as great as a wyne vessell called Dolium. How great that vessell is at Uenice, where Sabellicus wrate, I can not tel, with vs it is takẽ to be the greatest vessell, whiche was sometime a tunne. But he saith, one of the téeth of that head remayneth at Uenice, of wonderful greatnesse, by the which they ẏ see it may make some gesse to ẏ greatnesse of the head. Solinus remẽbreth, that in the warres, whiche the Romayns hadde in Candie, in a great rage of water, the grounde beyng broken vp. there was found the body of a man, in length. xxxiii. cubites: whiche Flaccus and Metellus (than capitaynes of the Romaines hoſte) beholdynge, wondered, which they before woulde not beleue, whan they onely hearde it reported. And here in Englande at a monaſtery of regular chanõs, called Iuy church two myles from the citie of Sarisbury, weare ſéene the bones of a dead man, founde déepe in the grounde where they dygged ſtone, whiche beynge ioygned together, was in length. xiii. foote and. x. ynches. wherof one of the téeth, was in quantitie of a great walnutte.

Giſo, A citie, the people whereof be called Giſonites.

Gillus, A certayne man of Tarentum.

Gion, A great ryuer in Aegypte, otherwyſe called Niſus.

G L

Glacialis Polus, The Northerne pole in the fyrmament.

Glandomyrum, A citie in Spayne, called now Mondauedo.

Glaucus, The ſonne of Hippolochus, which came to Troy to ayde kynge Priamus. He was ſo fooliſhe that he made chaunge with Diomedes, and for his brazē harneiſe, gaue to him his harneiſe of golde. wherof ryſeth this prouerbe, Glauci & Diomedis permutatio: wherby we note paſſynge great odds in exchaunge. It is alſo the name of a fiſher, who takyng fiſhe and caſtinge them downe on the banke, perceyued that ſo ſone as they had taſted of a certaine hearbe that there dyd growe, they leapt from him agayne into the ſea: wherat he greatly meruailynge, taſted him ſelfe of the ſaid hearbe, & forthwith leapte alſo into the ſea, where, as poetes feygne, he became one of the ſea goddes.

Gleſſatia, An yle in the north ſea called Mare Germanicum.

Glycerium, rii, f. g. A womans name in Terence.

Glycon, A mans name in Horace. Alſo the phiſition of Panſa the Romaine, which was ſuſpected to haue poyſoned his maiſter.

G N

Gneus, The name of certaine noble Romaines.

Gnidius, a, um, Of the citie Gnidus.

Gnidus, A citie of Lycia.

Gnoſis, gnoſidos, A woman of the citie Gnoſos.

Gnoſius, Gnoſus, & Gnoſiacus, a, um, Of the citie Gnoſos.

Gnoſos, A citie in Candie.

Gnoſtici, Deteſtable heretykes, who on good fryday, about the ſunne ſette, aſſembled men & younge women together, not ſparing daughters nor ſiſters. After nyne monethes paſſed, they mette againe in the ſame place, & thã they plucked the children newly borne from theyr mothers, and cuttyng them in péces, and receiuynge theyr blouddе in pottes and cuppes, they burned the body into aſhes, which they dyd myxe with the bloud, and preſerued it to put into theyr meates and drinkes. They alſo affirmed, that neither the lawe of nature, nor lawes made by men, were good, and that the vertues were nothyng.

Gobeum, A towne in Fraunce, called Le four.

Gobrias, A noble Perſian in the tyme of Darius.

Golias, A puiſſaunte kynge of the Philiſtians, whom Dauyd, beynge yet a childe, ſlewe, whan the Iewes were afrayde to fyght with him man for man. His ſtature was (as the Byble reherſeth) vi. cubites, and a ſpanne, whiche was v. fóte, lackyng. iii. ynches, accomptyng it with the fóte of men lyuynge at that tyme, whiche vndoubtedly were more then they be nowe. His habergeon weyghed fyue thouſand ſycles, which is. 2000. and 500. ounces. And the yron of his ſpeare, weyghed. 600. ſycles, whiche is. 300. ounces: whereby his greatneſſe and ſtrength may bée conſidered, to excéde any man lyuyng in this tyme.

Gomorrha, & Gomorrhum, A citie in Judæa, whiche was conſumed for horrible ſynne agaynſt nature.

Gonnus, A citie in the vpper parte of Theſſaly.

Gordianus, the name of thrée emperours, the father, the ſonne, and the nephewe.

Gordium, The principall citie of Phrigia.

Gordius, A poore huſbandman of Phrygia, (hauinge but two yoke of oxen) in the tyme of a ſedition in the countrey, was by aunſwere made of an Idolle, choſen kynge there. Whan he came with his wayne, where the counſayle was kepte, and beynge made kynge, and cauſynge the ſedition to ceaſſe: he made his yokes to be hanged vp in the temple of Iupiter, the cordes thereof beynge made in ſuche knottes, that it ſéemed impoſſible to be vndone.

Gorgias, A famous Rhetorician in the tyme of Socrates, who inuented the craftе to diſpute and aunſwere ſodeynely to euery queſtion or matter that was propoſed in a continuall oration: And by teachinge Rhetorike, became ſo ryche, that he was the fyrſte that dyd ſette an ymage of golde in the temple of Apollo at Delphos. He beynge of age. 108. yeres, ſurmounted almoſte all men of his time in bodily ſtrengthe, perfectneſſe of ſenſes, quickeneſſe of wytte, and ſtableneſſe of memory.

Gorgones, Monſtruous women, whiche were vanquiſhed by Perſeus.

Gorgóneus, a, um, Perteyninge to Gorgones.

Gorgónius, The name of a neaſty felow in Horace.

Gorgóphorus, a, um, That beareth the Gorgons: the ſurname of Pallas, becauſe ſhe had the head of Meduſa peynted in hir ſhielde.

Gorgythion, A Troiane, ſonne of Priamus and Caſtianira.

Gortyna, or Gortys, A citie of Candie.

Gortynius, a, um, Of that citie.

Gothia, or Gotthia, An yle by Dẽmarke called Gutlande, not farre from Norwaye.

Gothi, & Gotthi, People, of whom the fyrſt came out of Gutland, vnto whom reſorted a great multitude of other people, as wel out of the countreis nowe called Pruſſia, Liuonia, Ruſſia, & Tartaria,

as

as dyuers other partes, called sometyme Scythia: and makynge sundry kynges, dyd depopulate and brynge in subiection the more parte of Europa, and finally destroied Rome, and inhabited the parte of Italy nowe called Lumbardie: and lykewise subdued the realmes of Castill and Arragon.

G R

Gracchanus, a, um, Of Gracchus.
Gracchuris, A citie of Italy.
Gracchus Sempronius, The father of Caius and Tiberius, who beynge sente as Proconsull into Spaine, subdued the Celtiberians, and to the remembraunce of his noble acte, repayred againe their towne Iliturgis, and called it of his name Gracchuris. His wife was the noble woman Cornelia, for hir chastitée, learnynge, and sobre womanheade famous through all the worlde. On whom he begatte Tyberius and Caius, yonge gentlemen of excellent wytte and passynge eloquence, but in their tyme so much geuẽ to mainteine the cõmons of Rome against the nobles, that, to the great vnquietnes of all the empire, they published the seditious lawes of distributyng of landes from the nobles portionmeale among the commoners: whereby they rayled the nobilitie against them, & wrought in the ende their owne confusion. For Tiberius was fyrste slayne in a commotion within the citie, by the noble man Publius Nasica, and his brother Caius two yeres after him, by the commaundment of the Consull Opimius. These two gentlemen, were brought vp and instructed in learning and eloquence by their owne mother Cornelia, and therein became so excellente, that in that age was none lyke to them.
Gradiuicola, One that worshippeth Mars.
Gradiuus, One of the names of Mars.
Græcanicus, a, um, Come out of Grécce.
Græcia, æ. fœ. gen. (The fountaine of prowesse and doctrine, and nourse of eloquence) a great and famous countrey, conteynyng these noble regions, Epirus, Acarnania, Aetolia, Phocis, Locris, Achaia, Messenia, Laconia, Argos, Megaris, Attica, Bœotia, Doris, Phthiotis, Thessalia, Magnesia, Macedonia, and Thracia: All the whiche of late yeres were vnder the yoke of Christes religion, and now alas, to the great discomfort of al perfecte Christen men, are vnder the mosse cruell subiection and seruitude of the great tyranne the Turke, and become barbarouse, lyuynge in the beastly superstitiõ of the false prophete Mahomete.
Græcienſis, ciense, Of Grécce, or commynge out of Grécce.
Græculus, a, um, a diminutiue of Græcus.
Græcus, ci, m. g. A man borne in Grécce.
Græcus, a, um, Of Grécce.
Graiúgena, æ, com. gen. A Grécke.

Granata, A royalme and citie in Spayne, loygnyng to the sea called Mare Mediterraneum, whiche was vnder the subiection of the Mores eyghte hundred yeres. At the laste, by the greatte wysedome, polycie, and prowesse of Fernando, and Elyzabeth, of famous memorye, late kynge and quéne of Spayne, was ekefsoones restored vnto Chriſtendome, and the Mores expelled.
Granicus, ci, m, g. A ryuer of Bithynia, at the which great Alexander querthrewe and put to flighte the power of Darius.
Gratiæ, The Graces: loke Charites.
Gratidia, The name of a womã of Naples in Horace, whom he calleth Canidia.
Gravionarium, A citie in Almaine, called Banbergh.
Grauiscæ, A castell of the Tuscanes.
Gronii, People of Spayne.
Gryllus, li, m. g. Xenophons sonne.
Gryneus, a, um, Of Grynia.
Grynia, A towne of Aetolia, in the borders of Ionia.

G Y

Gyarus, i, or Gyra, æ, loke Giarus.
Gyas, The name of a Troiane.
Gygeus, A lake of Lydia.
Gygémorus, A little hill not farre from Thessaly.
Gyges, The sonne of Dascylus, one of the seruaũtes of Candaules, kynge of Lydia (as Herodotus writeth) or his compaignion (as Trogus rehearseth) was also kynge of Lydia, by this meanes: Candaules had a wife, whom for the inordinate loue he bare to hir, he supposed to be the fayrest woman lyuynge. On a tyme he praysed his wyues beautie vnto Gyges, addynge thereto, that he mought the better beléue him, he woulde cause him to sée hir naked. But Gyges refused, dissuadynge as muche as he could Candaules frõ that folye, with right wise exhortations. But Candaules obstinately persistinge in his foolishe fantasye, dyd set Gyges in a secrete place, where he beheld his wyfe naked, goynge to bedde. And as Gyges departed, the ladye beheld him. And finally the mattier disclosed vnto hir by hir husbande, she intended to be reuenged. For in that countrey it was an intollerable reproche to a man or woman, to be séene naked. Wherefore callyng vnto hir suche of hir seruauntes, as she spetially trusted, she sent for Gyges: who beynge come, she proposed vnto him this election, eyther he himselfe to be slayne, or elles to promise to slea Candaules: and take hir to his wyfe, and the realme with hir: whiche he abhorrynge, and a good whyle resistynge with sundry perswasions, at the last he chose, rather then to dye himselfe, to slea Candaules, as he dyd lyyng in his bedde, by the meanes of the quéne, whom he tooke to his wyfe, and was kynge of Lydia. Plato libro. 2. de iusto, telleth, that Gyges had a ryngc, of suche vertue, that whan the broder parte therof was tourned to the palme of his hande, he was seene of no man, but he might see all thinges: And whan he tourned the ringe on the cõtrary part, he was himselfe seene openly: by meanes wherof he slewe Candaules, and committed adultrie with his wyfe. There was also an other Gyges, a greate gyaunt, and brother of Briareus.

Gymnosophistæ, Philosophers of Indie, which went alwaies naked.

Gyndes, A great riuer of Assyria, which Cyrus caused to be diuided into .xlvi. chanelles or streames.

Gytheum, A towne, whiche Hercules and Apollo builded together, and the inhabitauntes of the same towne be called Gytheates.

H A

HAbessus, A citie of Lycia.

Habraham, A noble Patriarke, and is interpreted father of many nations.

Hadramitani, People of Sicilie.

Hadria, æ, f.g. A citie of Italy on the sea syde, by the which the sea betweene Italy and Slauonie, was named Mare Hadriaticum.

Hadria, æ, m.g. A bosome or goulfe of the sea, or the sea it selfe, called Hadriaticum.

Hadrianopolis, A citie of Thrace.

Hadrianus, A noble emperour, in all sciences excellently learned. He was after Christes incarnation. 109. yeres, and reigned .xxi. yeres.

Hæbudes, Are fyue yles beyonde Scotlande. ii. daies saylynge.

Hædui, People of Fraunce, whiche be nowe called Burgonions, and Burgenoises.

Hædi, Certaine sterres.

Hæmodes, An hyll of Lycia.

Hæmon, A Thebane, which loued Antigone.

Hæmonia, The countrey called Thessalie.

Hæmus, loke Aemus.

Halalcómene, or Halalcomenæ, A towne of Bœotia.

Halcyon græce, and (as Varro saieth) Halcedo latinè, The daughter of Neptunus, and wyfe of Ceyx, whom she beholdyng to be drowned, for sorowe drowned hir selfe. Wherefore the poetes wryte, that they were both transfourmed into byrdes, and called Halcyones.

Halcyóneus, a, um, Of Halcyon.

Halesina, A citie of Sicilie.

Halesina regio, A countrey, wherein is a well, the water whereof beynge alwaies quiete & plaine, if one standynge by it dwe playe on a shaulme, or other lyke pype, the water in the well wyll ryse as it daunced, in so muche, that at the last it wyll mounte and renne ouer the brymme of the well: and the pype ceassynge, the water wil forthwith fall and become quiete.

Halesus, A ryuer and hyll not farre from Aetna.

Halia, A nymphe of the sea.

Haliacmon, A ryuer of Macedonie.

Halicarnassus, A citie of Caria, whiche was sometyme chiefe of all the countrey.

Halizones, People of Paphlagonie, so called because they are enuyronned about with the sea.

Halonesos, an yle in the sea Aegeũ, nere to Thrace.

Halycarnasus, loke Halicarnassus.

Halys, A great ryuer of Paphlagonia.

Hamadriades, Nymphes or fayries of the wooddes.

Hamaxa, æ, f.g. A planet called the seuen sterres.

Hamaxampeus, Parte of the ryuer Hypànis.

Hamaxobii, or Hamaxobitæ, A people of Sarmatia, so called, for that they vse cartes in the steede of houses.

Hamilcar, loke Amilcar.

Hammon, monis, masc.gen. Jupiter in the Aegyptian tounge.

Hanapis, A ryuer of Scythia.

Hannibal, The sonne of Hamilcar, the moste noble and valiant capitaine of the Carthaginenses, who, makynge warre with the Romaines. xvi. yeres, contended with them in prowesse and policie, wynnynge from them their dominions in Spayne and Italy. Finally, beyng vanquished by Scipio, he fled to Antiochus kynge of Asia, afterwarde to Prusias kynge of Bythinia, of whom, vnder the colour of amitie, he was betrayed, and should haue bene deliuered to Flaminius, that tyme ambassadour to Prusias: but Hannibal perceyuynge it, chosynge rather to die, than to come into the handes of the Romaines, toke poyson, whiche he kepte for that purpose, saiynge, let vs delyuer the Romaines from the care and feare whiche they haue of vs, with a fewe more wordes of indignation, and so dyed, before he mought be deliuered. Some wryte this name without H.

Hanno, A noble man of Carthage, whiche perswaded them to make peace with the Romaines, but he coulde not be hearde.

Harma, A village in Bœotia vnfrequented: the worde signifieth a carte or chariotte. Loke the prouerbe, Vbi per Harma fulgurauit.

Harmodius, and Aristogiton, Two noble citizens of Athens.

Harmodotus, The name of a poete.

Harmonides, A Troiane carpenter, which made the shyppes that brought Paris into Grèece.

Harmosini, Certaine magistrates in Sparta, which chastised the frowardnesse of women towarde theyr husbandes.

Harpagium, The towne, where (as the Grèekes feigne) Ganymedes was taken away.

Harpalice, A womans name, the daughter of Harpalus kynge of Thrace, and quèene of Amazones.

Harpalus, A traytour, whiche forsoke Alexander, and fled to Athens.

Harpasa, A towne of Asia.

Harpocrates, The god of silence.

Harpyiæ, Monstruous byrdes, hauing maidens visages, & talons of a meruailous capacitèe. wherfore men that be rauenous and great gatherers of goodes, be named sometyme Harpyiæ.

Hasdrubal,

Haſdrubal, A noble capitaine of Carthage.

H E

Heautontimorúmenos, The name of one of the comedies of Terence, whiche is as muche to ſaye, as tourmenting himſelfe.

Hebe, hebes, The daughter of Juno, who was butlar to Jupiter before ỹ rauiſhing of Ganymêdes, and ſhe was called of the Painims the goddeſſe of youth. Of hir beginninge poetes diuiſen this fable. Apollo on a tyme bade his ſtepmother Juno to a banket, where among other meates ſhe was ſerued with wilde lettuce: of whiche after ſhe had eaten very greedily, (wheare before ſhe was euer barraine) ſodainly ſhe became fertile, and brought foorth to hir huſband a daughter called Hebe, Whom Jupiter for hir excellent fauour and beautie, made his cuppe bearer. But on a tyme when he was at a feaſt in Aethyope, and Hebe bringing his cuppe in a ſlippery place chaunſed to fall, and diſcloſed further of hir neather partes, then comlineſſe woulde haue to be ſhewen, Jupiter, to the great diſpleaſure of his wyfe Juno, remoued hir from that office, and appointed Ganymedes to ſerue hym at his cuppe.

Hebræi, Iewes whiche came of Abraham.

Hebráicus, a, um, An Hebrician, or of hebrue.

Hebron, A village by Hieruſalem.

Hebrus, A ryuer in Thrace, into the whiche Orpheus head was caſt: It is now called Mariza.

Hecale, The name of a very poore woman.

Hecameda, The daughter of Arſinous, whiche was ſgeuen to Nestor by the Grékes.

Hecate, A name of Diana, Juno, or Proſerpina. It is alſo the name of the daughter of Perſes, a woman of notable cruelneſſe, whiche poyſoned hir owne father. An other Hecate, was daughter to Perſeus and Aſteria.

Hecatompylos, The chiefe citie of Parthia, whiche had an hundred gates.

Hector, kynge Priamus his ſonne by Hecuba, the moſt valiaunt of all the Troianes, and the terrour of the Grecians beſieging his countrey. For ſo long as he lyued, Troy could neuer be taken. In the ende he was ſlayne by Achilles, and by a chariote drawen on the grounde about the walles of the citie in the ſighte of his miſerable father and mother. After, his body, through the great wrath and diſpleaſure of Achilles, for the death of his deare friende Patroclus, was leſte vnburied. xij. dayes: at the length it was graunted to his father to be buried, but ſo ỹ he paied a great ſumme of money for the ſame.

Hecuba, The wyfe of Priamus kynge of Troie, daughter of Cyſſeus kynge of Thracia, a woman of noble courage, and moſte vnhappy fortune. For haupnge all hir ſonnes and huſbande ſlayne, hir fayre daughter Polyxena killed vpon the graue of Achilles, hir other daughter Caſſandra taken priſoner, beholdyng the noble citie of Troye burned, hir ſelfe in captiuitie, hir yongeſt ſonne Polydorus kylled: ſhe finally waxed madde, and did byte and ſtryke all men that ſhe mette, wherfore ſhe was called dogge, and at the laſte was hyr ſelfe kylled with ſtones by the Grékes.

Hecubæ ſepulchrum, A promontorie of Thrace.

Hecyra, The name of a comedie in Terence.

Hedui, People in Fraunce, nowe called Burgonions, loke Hædui.

Hegeſias, A philoſopher of the ſecte called Cyrenaica, who with his eloquence did ſo behemently ſette foorth the incommodities of mans life, that many, whiche hearde him, killed theimſelues.

Hegeſiphyle. The daughter of Oleorus king of Thrace

Hegeſippus, A ſtorie writer.

Hegeſiſtratus, One of Epheſus.

Hegetinatia, A citie of Germany called Gnitz.

Heléi, A famous people of Peloponneſus, whiche had the rule of the plaies called Olympici.

Hélena, æ, or Helene, es, (The daughter of Jupiter, and Leda wyfe to Tyndarus kynge of Lacedemonie) for hir wounderfull beautie, was twyſe rauyſhed. Firſte at the age of nyne yeres by Theſeus: afterwarde by Paris the Troyane, than beynge wyfe vnto Menelaus, whiche was the onely occaſion of the tenne yeres ſyege, and finall deſtruction of the moſte famous citie of Troye, with the death and loſſe of moſte noble prynces, and of people innumerable. Loke more in Troia.

Hélenus, The ſonne of kyng Priamus, excellent in the gifte of prophecie, whom ſomme reporte to haue bẽn ſaued of the Grecians, becauſe he tolde theem in what places they myght moſte eaſily wynne the citie. Afterwarde alſo when other Grecians departed from Troie after it was taken, this Helenus prophefyng of their ſhyppewrake perſwaded Pyrrhus not to take the ſea, wherefore he was not onely ſaued by hym, but alſo brought into Grece, and vſed very nobly. For after that Pyrrhus had taken Hermione from Oreſtes, he maried Andromache Hectors wyfe vnto this Helenus, and gaue him a part of his kingdome alſo, whiche he afterward named Chaonia.

Heliades, The ſyſters of Phaeton, and daughters of Phœbus & Clymene, that is to ſaie Phaethuſa, Lampetia, and Lampetuſa: whiche lamented ſo muche the death of their brother Phaeton, that therewith they died, and weare tranſformed (as poetes feigne) into trees, out of the whiche renneth the gumme called Electrum, in Englyſh ambre, whereof beades were made.

Helias, The prophete of Theſbis of the countrey of Arabie, a Leuite of the tribe of Aaron. He dwelt in Galiad: for Theſbis was an habitation dedicated vnto prieſtes. In the tyme of hys byrthe, his father Sobac did ſee in a viſion, that men apparayled in whyte did call the chylde, threwe hym into the fyre, and gaue to hym a flame of fyre to eate. The father ryſing vp went to Hieruſalem, & ſhewed his viſion to the prie-ſtes: and he that gaue aunſwere, ſaied vnto him: beware thou diſcloſe it not. The habitatiō of this chylde ſhalbe lyght, and his woorde a demonſtration, & ſhall iudge Iſraell in the ſworde and fyre. This is that Elias, that brought fier thryſe out of heauen, and bare rayne in his tongue, and was taken vp into heauen in a fyry ſtorme. That whiche is wrytten more of Elias in the Byble, may be there redde.

Helice, A citie of Achaia, ſwallowed vp of the ſea.

Helicon, A mountayne in Bœotia, dedicate to the Muſes.

Heliócopis, The name of a nymph.

Heliodorus, A famous Rhetoritian amonge the Grekes.

Heliogabalus, Supposed to be the baſtarde ſonne of Antonius Caracalla emperour of Rome, and (as Lampridius wryteth in his lyfe) of Semiamitra: or (as Egnatius wryteth) of Scenides, his coſen: he was made emperour after Macrinus, and Diadumenus, being but a boye of.xvi. yeres olde. He ſo muche exceaded in deteſtable leachery and promoting of vyle perſones, and rybaldes, that fynally he was hated of all men, and at laſt ſlaine and drawen throughe the city of Rome, and throwen into the ryuer of Tyber. All be it he was warned afore of aſtronomers, that he ſhould die a violent death: and therefore hadde prouided ropes of ſylke (if nede were) to hange himſelfe, ſwoordes of golde to kylle himſelfe, ſtrong poyſons in Jacinctes and Emeraudes, to poyſon himſelfe, if he were inforced. Moreouer he made a very hy ghe towre, hauing the flore of bordes kenered with plates of golde, & bordered w̄ precious ſtones, from the whiche he would throwe himſelfe downe, whan he were purſued. But al this nothinge auayled, for he was ſlayne by knaues.

Heliópolis, A citie in Grece called alſo Corinthus. An other in Aegypt: an other in Sicilie, where Chryſippus was borne.

Helis, Lyke Elis.

Heliſæus, The prophete of Abelmuth, of the lande of Rubim: whan he was borne in Galgalis, the towe of golde in Selom cried ſo loude, that ſhe was hearde at Hieruſalem. And the prieſt ſaied, that it ſignified, that a prophete was borne that daye, whiche ſhoulde diſſolue and breake in pieces ymages kerued and caſt of metall. Many meruayles almighty God ſhewed by him, which ye may reade in the Bible.

Helius, A mans name.

Hellas, adis, A ryuer and countrey of Achaia: Grece was ſo called of Hellen, Deucalions ſonne.

Helle, The daughter of Athamas king of Thebās, which was drowned with hir brother Phyrus in the ſea by Byzance.

Hellen, The ſonne of Deucalion, of whome the Grekes were named Hellenes.

Helleſpontus, Is the firſt parte of the ſea, whiche diuideth Europa from Aſia, and is in breadth but vij. furlonges, whiche lacketh one furlonge of a myle. It is now called Brachium ſancti Georgii.

Heloi, In hebrue ſignifieth God almighty.

Helôrus, A ryuer in Sicilie. Alſo the ſonne of the riuer Ister, ſlayne by Aiax.

Helvetii, People called Swicers, or Suyches, by deſyre of warres, enemies to all mankynde, ſubiectes neither to God nor to prynce, & ready for money, to ſerue as well Turkes as Chriſtian pryinces.

Helymus, and Panopes, The compaignions of Aceſtes kyng of Sicilie.

Hemereſios, A table, whiche Pamphilus, Apelles maiſter, peynted in one daye.

Hemiſphérium, ii, n. ge. Halfe the compaſſe of the viſible heauen or firmament.

Hemodes, Certayne yles in the Douche ſea.

Hemus, A great mountayne in Thrace, nygh to the ſea Propontis, whiche is.vi. myles in heyght.

Henetia, Was ſometyme vſed for Venetia.

Heniochi, Lyke Eniochi.

Heptagoniæ, The name of a place.

Heptaphônes, A certayn hauen, or rather a walking place, or place of exerciſe at Olympia.

Heptápolis, lis, was ſometyme the name of Aegypt, by reaſon of ſeuen cities that were firſt in it.

Heptáporus, A ryuer by Troie.

Hera, ræ, fœ. ge. The name of Juno.

Heraclea, A towne in the confines of Europe, an other in Italy, an other in Sicilie: an other of Pontus, called nowe Naxioportus. It is alſo a citie of Lydia, wherof the touche ſtone is called Heraclius ſapis.

Heracleo, A notable thefe or robber.

Heracleon, A grammarian of Aegypte, which wrate commentaries vpon Homere and other.

Heracleópolis, The name of thre cities, one in Aegypte, an other not farre from Peluſium, the third not farre from the mouth of Nilus.

Heracleotes, æ, One of Heraclea.

Heracleoticus, and Heraclius, a, um, Of Heraclea.

Heraeleus, The name of diuers emperours of Rome.

Heraclides, The name of a philoſopher of Pontus, a ſophiſter of Lycia, a grammarian of Sicilie, and of a famous peinter of Macedonie.

Heráclitus, A philoſopher, whiche alwayes wepte when he behelde the people, conſyderyng howe buſy they were to gather treaſure, and how negligent in the well brynging vp of their childrē: His warkes of a purpoſe were obſcure and hard to be vnderſtande. When he was olde, he fel into a dropſie, in whiche neglecting phiſitions he wrapped himſelfe in cowe dunge, and ſo lynge aſleape in the ſunne, was torne and deuoured of dogges. He had no maiſter, but by his owne nature and diligence preuayled to great knowlage: He lyued in tyme of the laſt Darius, and wrate many thynges of philoſophie in verſes. Ariſtotle doth often vſe his teſtimonie. An other of that name was an excellent renner.

Herbita, A citie of Sicilie, called ſaint Nicolas.

Hercæus,

Hercæus, a, um, One of the surnames of Jupiter.

Hercinia, A great woodde in Germanie, the whiche is in bredth nyne dayes iourney, and in lengthe fourty dayes iourney, as Cæsar wryteth. Pompon⁹ Mela affirmeth it to be fourty daies iourney in lengthe.

Herculanum, A towne of Campayne.

Herculānus, or Herculēus, a, um, Of Hercules.

Herculanus nodus, A certayne knotte harde to be vndoen, whereby a subtill question or syllogisme may be signified. Festus Pompeius wryteth, that in olde time the custome was, that whan the new maried bryde went to bedde, she should be gyrte with a woullen gyrdel, knit with Hercules knot, whiche the housbande for good lucke should vndoe in the bedde, that he myght be fortunate in getting of childzen. For Hercules is reported to haue. 72. sonnes, and one daughter, as Aristotle wryteth De natura animalium, lib. 7. cap. 6.

Herculana pars, & Herculeus quæstus, Hercules his part: It was the custome of men in old time, to auow the tenth parte of their goodes vnto Hercules, and that tenth part was called Herculana pars.

Herculeè, Lyke Hercules.

Herculeius, A Romayne, whiche fauoured the parte of Marius.

Hercules, Semeth to be a generall name geuen to men excellynge in strengthe all other of their tyme. Cicero De natura deorum wryteth, that amongest auncient writers were founde sir Hercules. Varro affirmeth, there were three and fortie. Finally there is no notable mention made but of two, the one called Hercules Aegyptius or Libycus, whiche is supposed to be Osyris, of whom is wrytten hereafter. The other (longe after hym) was sonne of Jupiter and Alcmena, called Alcides by his proper name. And for his incomparable strengthe and labours (taken for the common profitte of mankynde) he was named also Hercules. All be it Berosus affirmeth Hercules to be the sonne of Osyris, and kyng of Aegypte, and was called Hercules Libycus, because he conquered Libya. Saint Hierome on the tenth chapiter of Genesis wryteth, that this Hercules perfourmed the twelue notable labours, whiche poetes wryte of, and not Alcides, sonne of Alcmena. The first labour (as Diodorus wryteth) was the sleayng of a lyon in the woodde Nemea, that farre exceaded all other Lyons in greatnesse, whiche mought not be slayn with metall, nor stone: wherefore he was constrayned to slea him with his handes. The secõd labour was the kylling of Hydra the monster, in the fennes of Lerna, whiche had an hundred neckes with serpentine heades, and whan one was striken of, there did aryse eftsones. x. other heades. The thirde labour was the taking of the great wylde bore of Erymanthus, whiche wasted the countrey of Arcadia, and all people drad him. But finally Hercules toke hym alyue, and bearing him on his shoulders, brought him vnto kyng Eurisstheus. The fourth labour was the battaile whiche he had alone with the great nõbre of men called Centauri, that weare of great strength and swifte as horses: all theim he slew, whan they assaulted him. The fifth was the takyng of the great harte in rēning, which for his swiftenesse had his hornes gylted. The first was the destruction of the byrdes Stymphalides, which consumed the fruites and grayne of the countreis adioynyng. The seuenth was the makyng cleane of the ore stalle of Augea kyng of Elis, whiche would receiue. 3000. oren at once, and had not bẽn clensed or redde in. 30. yeres: so that it myght seme vnpossible to haue it clensed: the whiche not withstanding Hercules perfourmed by wysdome, conueighing into it the ryuer Alpheus: whiche by the swyft course of the streame, in one daye caried awaye the dounge, without any reproche vnto Hercules. The eight was the brynging of a Bull from Creta into Grece, drawyng him along the sea. The nynthe was the takyng of Diomedes kyng of Thracia, and castyng hym to his horses, who fẽding them with mans flesshe, was himselfe of them deuoured. And after Hercules breakyng those wylde horses, and makyng them gentill, brought them to Eurisstheus. The. x. labour was his voyage into Spayne, and sleaing of Geryon and his sonnes, and takyng the great kyne, whiche he gaue to a kyng in that countrey, who continually afterwarde, did yerely offer in sacrifice, to the honour of Hercules, one of the bulles, that came of those kyne. The eleuenth was his goyng into hell, & fetchynge thence Theseus and Pirithous, and brynging with him in a chayne Cerberus, the dogge of hell, hauyng thre heades. The twelfth and last labour was the takyng of the golde appulles, out of the gardeynes Hesperides, and sleayng the terryble dragon, whiche continually watchyng kepte those appuls, whiche were called golden for the beauty of theim. Some saye they weare shepe, whose fleces were of the colour of golde, and the dragon signifieth the diligence and strengthe of the shepeherde, whiche kepte theim. These were the twelue labours of Hercules, whereof grewe this prouerbe.

*Herculei labores, where the labours dooe seme impossible to be atchieued.

*Herculis cothurnos, was vsed for a prouerbe, wherein a thynge of lytle importaunce was set forth with great eloquence or other thynge solemne, more apte for a greater matter, as one should put Hercules hosen on a chyldes legges. Therwith accorded the saiyng of the wise king Agesilaus, whan one commẽded to hym a Rhetorician, whiche by his crafty eloquence made trifles & small thynges to seme great, The king answered: That sowter deserueth no praise, which putteth a great shoe on a very litle fote: meaning thereby, that the wordes shoulde as well accorde with the matter, as the garment with the person. This is so common a vice now a dayes among studentes of eloquence, that in wrytinge and speakyng, they seme to prepare the hose before they knowe the measure of the legge, wheron they wyll put it.

Hercules Gallus, As Lucianus wryteth, was in the olde tyme in Fraunce an ymage made lyke an olde man, with a balde head, and vnkempte, his heare very whyte, the skynne of his face ryuelled, and as it were burned with the sunne, wearyng on hym a Lyons skynne, and bearyng in his righthande a great clubbe, in his lefte hande a bowe, a quiuer at his backe, drawynge after hym a multitude of people, tyed by their eares with a little chayne wrought with aumbre and golde, but they weare so easyly tied, that laughyng and with good chere they willingly followed, and as it semed, woulde not be louſed: and the other end of the chayne was tied at Hercules tongue, who loked towardes theim with a laughing countenaunce. This ymage signified eloquence, whiche for the puissaunce thereof, resembled rather Hercules thã Mercurie. And his age betokened, that for the moste parte eloquẽce is substantiall and vehement. That Hercules, or rather eloquence drawyth men by the eares tied to his tõgue, signifieth the affinitie betwẽn the tongue and the eare: and their glad and voluntary folowyng, signifieth with what delectation eloquence drawyth men vnto hir perswasions and exhortations.

Herculis portus, A citie of the Massilians, called now Villa Franca.

Herculis turris, A citie of Cyrene, called Xinayra.

Hercynia, Loke Hercinia.

Herebus, The diepest place in helle. Loke Erebus.

Herillus, A philosopher of Chalcedonie, the scholar of Zeno, whiche did put the chiefe goodnesse in science and knowledge.

Herlinus, One of the Centaures.

Herma, æ, An ymage of Mercurius.

Hermæa. After Ptholomee, the vttermoſt citie of the lesse Afryke. After Pela, a promontorie of Mercurie, called Cabo de Nubia.

Hermaphroditus, The sonne of Mercury and Venus.

Hermazoras, A famous Rhetoritian of Aetolia.

Hermathena, Twoo ymages together of Mercurie & Minerua.

Hermeas, A famous capitaine vnder Antiochus magnus.

Hermenii, A people by Colchos.

Hermes, mis, or mêtis, Mercurie.

Hermes trismegistus, The name of a famous philosopher of Aegipt.

Hermiona, A towne of Grece.

Hermione, The daughter of Menelaus and Helene, beyng a chylde, was by Tyndarus, the father of Menelaus, in his absence affiaunced to Orestes, the sonne of Agamemnon: but afterwarde she was maried by hir father vnto Pyrrhus, sonne of Achilles, whom Orestes did slea, wedded Hermione, and had by hir three sonnes, Tessamenes, Corinthus, and Orestes the younger. There was an other, Hermione, daughter of Mars and Venus, and wyfe of Cadmus, whom the poetes feigned to be (wyth hir husband) tourned into a serpent.

Hermiones, People in the vttermoſt borders of Germany, called nowe Pomerani.

Hermippus, A poete of Athens. Also a philosopher in the tyme of Adryan.

Hermocrates, A famous sophister vnder the emperour Seuerus.

Hermodorus, A philosopher of Ephesus, which caused the .xij. tables to be made. Also a philosopher of Sicilie, the scholar of Plato.

Hermogenes, The propre name of a famous Rhetorician.

Hermolaus, A grammarian of Constantinople. An other of the same name, conspired agaynst Alexander.

Hermon, A little hyll that standeth on Jordan.

Hermópolis, The name of a citie that Hercules builded.

Hermus, A ryuer, whiche in the middes parteth the fieldes of Smirne, and falleth from the hyll Dorylao, and diuideth Phrygia from Caria, wherin Virgile supposed to be golden sande.

Hernici, People of Campayne.

Hero, Loke Ero.

Herodes, The sonne of Antipater, whiche in the tenth yere of Augustus, was of the Romaynes declared kyng of the Jewes: and he reigned .37. yeres. To wynne the fauour of the Jewes, he pulled downe the temple that after the captiuitie was buylded by Zorobabell, Jehosua, and Esdra, and with exceadinge great charges buylded an other to the figure and paterne of that whiche Salomon erected. That yere that Christe was borne, he both kylled all his wiues kynred, and his owne twoo sonnes Aristobulus and Alexander, and also put to death the phariseis that prophecied to hym that his kyngdome should not long continue. Of that name weare diuers other kynges, of whom Josephus wryteth abundantly.

Herodianus, A noble historian, whiche in Greke wrote moste eloquently and truly the lyues of the emperous, from Marcus Antonius philosophus, to Gordianus the ponger, whiche booke is moste eloquently translated into latine by Angelus Politianus.

Herodotus, Was a noble historian, borne in the citie of Halicarnassus in Asia. He wrate moste eloquently a generall historie of the actes dooen in Europa and Asia, by the space of twoo hundred and fourty yeres, vntill the warres among the Grekes, called Bellum Peloponnesiacum, whiche Thucidides, with an equall stile wrate and perfourmed. He flourysshed before the incarnation of Christe, two hundred yeres.

Heron, An oratour of Athens.

Herostratus, A poore folyshe man, who to haue a perpetuall fame, burned the moste famous temple of Diana at Ephesus, and after detected himself and was put to death.

Hersilia, The wyfe of Romulus the firste kynge of Romaines.

Hesichius, A learned man in the tyme of Anastasius the emperour, whiche wrate an historie, as wel of the Romayne Emperours, as of other nations.

Hesione, Was daughter of Laomedon kynge of Troye, and syster to Priamus, whome Hercules at the fyrst destruction of Troie gaue in mariage to Telamõ, a noble prynce of the Grœkes.

Hesiodus, An auncient poete of the Grœkes, whiche first wrate of husbandry, whom Virgile followed in his Georgikes.

Hesperia, Italy.

Hesperia Vltima, Spayne.

Hesperides, The thrée daughters of Atlas, whiche kepte the gardens, wherein grewe the golden appuls, that were taken away by Hercules.

Hesperi dum horti, The gardens wherein were the golden appuls, nowe called orenges.

Hésperum, A promontory in Afrike.

Hésperus, i, m. g. The west sterre, that followeth the sunne goyng downe: the euening sterre.

Hessei, called also Essei, & Essi, People of Palestine, whiche would neuer eate pigeons, and liued without the company of women.

Hestiæa, Is a parte of Thessaly, sayeth Strabo and Ptholome, and in Homere it is a towne of Euboea. Stephanus sayeth, it is a citie in Acarnania.

Hetruria, The countrey of Tuscane, wherein is the citie of Florence.

Hetburgum, gi, Edenburgh in Scotlande.

Hetruscus, a, um, Of the countrey called Hetruria: as Hetrusca disciplina, A certayne doctrine taught in Tuscan, concerning the interpretation of lightninges, tokens in the firmament, and thynges monstruous, whiche was of suche estimation among auncient Romaynes, that it was decreed by an ordinaunce of the Senate, that into syre partes of that countrey should be sent sixe sonnes of noble men, to learne that arte.

Hemiath, Loke Emilia.

H I

Hiarbas, The sonne of Iupiter, whiche was kyng of the Getulyans, and made warre against Dido quéne of Carthage.

Hiberia, and Hiberus, Loke Iberia.

Hibernia, The yle called Irelande, betwéene Englande and Spayne, in the Occean sea. On the east it hath England within one dayes sailing: on the south it hath Fraunce: Spayne on the west, distaunt thrée dayes sailing: on the north, the maine occean sea. It is not farre from Scotlande.

Hibla, Loke Hybla.

Hidruntum, A towne of Calaber, called commonly Otronto.

Hiera, An yle betwéene Sicilie and Liparis, dedicated to Vulcane. Also the name of a ware, and of a womã, the wyfe of Telephus kyng of Mysia, whiche in beautie was supposed to exceede Helena.

Hierapolis, A citie of Asia ouer against Laodicea, wheare were certayne bathes, the water wherof woulde soone harden and congeale into the stone called Tophus. There is also a certayne caue in the earth, into whiche if any liuing creature doe enter, immediatly it dieth. Before the mouth of it is a little valley of halfe an akers compasse, so darke that scarcely the ground may be seene. Strabo wryteth that for experience he did let into this caue certaine sparowes, whiche forthwith did fall downe dead. About that citie also is a water that dyeth woull of a purple colour.

Hieremias, A prophete borne (as Epiphanius wryteth) at Anathoth, and slayne by his people at Taphnas in Aegipt. But afterwarde the Aegiptians had hym in great honour, and buried him in the place wher Pharaos palace stode. For he draue thence serpentes and Crocodiles. This prophete before the alteration of the temple, toke the arke or holy coffer, and that whiche was in it, and caused a stone to swalowe it vp, saynge to the priestes and auncient men that were present, our lorde is departed from Sina to heauen, and shall retourne with an holy puysaunce, and this shall be the signe of his commyng, whan al people shall honour a trée. He said moreouer vnto theim: Neuer man shall open this arke, neyther priest nor prophete, except Moyses the elect of God. The tables within it, no man shall vnfolde, except Aaron. And at the resurrection first this arke shall ryse, and shall come out of the stone, and shall bee sette in mounte Sina, and all sayntes shall resorte thervnto, there to resceyue the Lorde, and shall flée from the enemy whiche would haue destroyed theim. And he sealed the stone, wryting thereon the name of our lorde. The signe was lyke as it were grauen in yron, and a cloude than couered the stone, but no man knoweth that place.

Hieri, People beyonde those whiche are called Sauromatæ, whiche be balde and flatte nosed, euen frõ the natiuitie. They are very iuste people, and neuer warre one on an other.

Hiero, onis, A kynge of Sicilie, whiche was lyke a priuate person, very rude and homely, and of his nature intractable and fierse. But after he became sicke, and ceassed from businesse (the feuer nowe and than takynge hym) he became a man of good maners and honourable. And in the meane tyme that he was not vexed with the feuer, he fell to learnyng. Wherfore beyng recouered, he vsed the company of Simonides, Pindarus, and Bacchides, moste excellent poetes at that tyme liuinge: who in their wrytynges broughte his name in an honourable remembraunce. An other of that name of Athens, was familiar friende and scholar with Nicias.

Hieroceps, An yle in Cypres nere to Paphus.

Hieronymus, The moste noble and famous interpretour of holy scripture. He was after the incarnation of Christe about. 387. yeres, as he hym selfe wryteth. He was borne in a towne called Strido, whiche was in the confines of Hungary, and Dalmatia. His fathers name was Eusebius. There was an historiographer, and a philosopher of Rhodes of this name. Also a tyran of Sicilie, the sonne of Hiero.

Hierosolyma, æ, and Hierosolyma, orum, Or after the Hebrues Hierusalē, the chief city of Iudæa (as Eusebius wryteth) in compas about fyre myles and an halfe. And as the same authour sayeth, lib. 9. Preparationis euangelicæ, cap. Vltimo, it was called Hieron Solomonis, that is to saye, Salomons temple. And after, by corruption of spæche, was called Hierusalem and Hierosolyma. But Lyranus, on the. xxviij. chap. of Geneſis, wryteth, that it was first builte by Melchisedech, and by hym called Salem, that is to saie peasible: For as muche as he was kyng of peace and iustice. Also that it was called Solyma, Luza, also Bethel, Hierus, Hierosolyma, & Aelia. Al be it Josephus de bello Iudaico, lib. 7. ca. 26. affirmeth, that the first builder therof was Chanaim, whiche made there a temple, and called it Hierosolyma, where before it was called Solyma. Saint Hierome De locis Actorum apostolorum, sayeth, that the citie was called Aelia of Aelius Adrianus the emperour, whiche eftsones repaired it, after that it was destroyed by Titus, & made it larger. It was fiue tymes wasted, and at the last destroyed by Titus, after the incarnation of Christ. 73. yeres.

Hierosolymarius, The surname of Pompey, for conquering of Hierusalem.

Hierotheus, The proper name of a man.

Hilaria, plur. The. viij. calendes of Aprill, whan the day and nyght haue equall houres, and the daye beginneth to increase.

Hilarius, The proper name of a man.

Hillus, The sonne of Hercules by Deianyra.

Himera, A ryuer in Sicilie, diuided into twoo partes, the one freshe water, the other salte.

Hipparchus, A notable Astronomer that wrote against Plato. Also a comicall poete. It is also the sonne of Pisistratus the tyran.

Hippasus, A philosopher, the scholar of Pythagoras.

Hippe, The daughter of Chiron the Centaure.

Hipperides, An oratour of Athens, enemie to Demosthenes.

Hippias, A Rhetorician (as Apuleius saieth Floridorum. 2.) excelled all menne in the multitude of craftes, and was equall to any man in eloquēce. He came on a tyme to Pisa, to the great triūphe called Olympicum, and euery thynge that he did weare vpon him, was of his owne makyng, his shoes, patens, and coate wrought of the fynest threde, with three threde stitches, a baudrike of baudken, with chaungeable colours and sundry pictures, a mantell of whyte ouer all, a ryng on his fynger with a stone, wherin was a signet moste perfectly wrought. All this did he worke with his owne handes. Also he caried with him a little oyle bottell, with a narrowe mouth, and the residue rounde and flat, with a little instrumente to stryke sweate from his body hangyng therat. He played excellently on euery instrument, and sange his owne verses in all kyndes, whiche no man coulde amende. In all partes of logike, rhetorike, and philosophie, he vanquyshed many, and was vanquyshed of none. He ranne, wrastled, & did other feates of actiuitie, that all men beholding hym were therewith abasshed. Finally, he seemed not to be ignorant, weake or vnable in any thyng. Not withstanding Plato in twoo dialogues bryngeth in Socrates disputing with him. In the one in searchyng what beautie is, in ỹ other what a lie is, he concludeth and prooueth Hippias to be an arrogant and ignorant fole, for as muche as prayſing beautie, he wyste not what beautie was, and boastyng that he before any other mā could discerne a lyer from a true man, he coulde not make of them a definition. By this it appeareth howe muche the common iudgement of men varieth, and is inferiour to the iudgement of a perfecte wyse man, as Socrates was.

Hippius Tyrius, Was he that firste made shippes, whiche serue onely for burdeines, called in latine Naues onerariæ.

Hippo, m. ge. The name of twoo cities in Afrike: of one of them saint Augustine was bysshop.

Hippocentauri, Were a people in Thessalia by the mounte Pelius, which were also called Centauri, the which were the first that were seen in Grece ryding vpon horses: whereof came the fable, that Centauri were halfe men and half horses.

Hippocrates, The name of a moste excellent phisitiō scholar to Democrates, and lyued in the time of Perdiccas kyng of Macedonie in his court. Artarerres kyng of Persia, wrate of this Hippocrates in this maner to Hystanes his lieutenaunt of Hellespont, as Suidas witnesseth. The great kyng Artarerres to his lieutenaunt Hystanes, sendeth greetinge. I haue hearde of the fame of the notable phisition Hippocrates. See therfore that thou geue him as much money as he wyll desyre, with all other thynges necessary, and send him to me. He shal be in as great honour with me, as the best in all Persia, &c. He died being. 104. yeres of age. There weare also of the same name and stocke fiue other, all notable and famous in phisike, but this, farre passed them all.

Hippocrene, A fountayne in Bœotia, dedicated to Apollo, and the. ix. Muses.

Hippodamia, or Hippodame, The daughter of Denomaus.

maus, kynge of Arcadia, vnto whome it was tolde by the soothsayer, that whan his daughter did marie, he should die. Therefore, whan she came to the yeres of mariage: he ordeygned a pryce of rennyng with charlottes, and caused to be proclaymed, that who so euer did vanquyshe him therin, should haue his daughter to wyfe: & he that was vanquished by him, should die. Many of these wowers were slaine. At last Pelops desiring to haue the saied mayden, promised priuily to Myrtilus, whiche draue the kynges chariot, that if he did wyn the price, Myrtilus shuld lye with Hippodamia the firste nyght: vpon the whiche couenaunt Myrtilus made the axeltree of wax, by occasiõ wherof the chariot fel downe and was broken. Wherefore Denomaus slewe himselfe, and Pelops enioyed the lady and the roialme. Whan Myrtilus asked that which was promysed him, Pelops threwe him into the sea next adioyning, whiche thereof was euer after called Mare Myrtoum. There was an other ladye called Hippodamia, whiche was wyfe to Pirithous, for whom the battayle was betwene the people called Centauri, and them which were named Lapythæ.

Hippódamus, mi, masc. gen. A learned man of Miletus, whiche wrate firste of the good state and gouernaunce of a citie.

Hippodorus, A prynce of Athens, whiche to seeme gentle to ỹ people, vsed great seueritie towards his owne children and kynsfolke.

Hippolochus, Bellerophons sonne, father of Glaucus. An other of the same name, was the sonne of Antimachus the Troiane.

Hippolyte, The wyfe of Acastus kynge of Magnesia. An other was quéne of Amazones, whom Hercules vanquished, and gaue hir to Theseus.

Hippolytus, The sonne of Theseus, who at the complaint of Phædra his stepmother, was pursued with his father, and he in a chariot, fleeing, was ouerthrowen among the sharpe stones, and rente all to pieces. Afterwarde Aeculapius reuiued and restored hym to lyfe. wherfore he would be called Virbius, that is to saie, twyse a man, for as muche as he had twyse lyued.

Hippómachus, The name of a famous minstrell.

Hippomenes, The nephew of Neptune, which ouercame Atalanta in renning. Loke Atalanta.

Hippona, A goddesse, whome horsekéepers dyd woorshippe.

Hipponax, A Grécke poete borne in Ephesus, who was deformed in visage, but in style sharpe and vehement: in so much as whan a cunnyng peincter, named Bubalus, had peincted his yll fauoured face, to make men laugh at it: Hipponax made against hym suche vengeable verses, that for anger and shame he caused him to hange him selfe in his house.

Hippopodes, People in the Scythicke Occean, which haue fete lyke horses.

Hippus, A riuer in Asia, renning into Phasis.

Hipsicratea, The wyfe of Mithridates.

Hira, A citie by the sea side, not farre from Pylos.

Hirpiæ, Certaine families not farre from Rome, whiche doing sacrifice to Apollo, went vpon the fyre, and were not hurt therewith.

Hircius, A Consull of Rome, which was vanquished in battaile by Antonie.

Hismaëlita, A Sarasin.

Hispalis, vel Hispalum, A citie in Spayne, now called Sibilia, or Siuile.

Hispánia, A countrey in the west parte of Europa, called Spayne, sometyme called Iberia, and Hesperia. It is inuironed on the southe parte with the sea Mare Mediterraneum, which diuideth Europe from Afrike: on the northe parte, with the sea Mare Cantabricum: on the weste, with the great Occean sea: on the east, with the mountaines Pyrenæi, and the parte of the roialme of Fraunce called Aquitania, & Narbonensis. This countrey is diuided by Ptholomee into three regions: Bethica, wherein is Granado, Siuil, Corduba, &c. Lusitania, wherein is Portugall, Gallecia, &c. Tarrhaconensis, wherin is Castile, Lyons, and Arragon. At this tyme it conteyneth fiue roialmes, Granado on the south parte towarde Afrike: Portugall on the weste: Gallecia and Biscaie on the north: Arragon on the east: Castile and Lyons in the middle. Muche of the west parte by reason of rockes, forestes, and for lacke of water, is not fertile nor wel inhabited. The north parte by reason of muche colde is not plentuous. The south parte is wonderful fruitfull. It is in length (as Strabo wryteth) .6000. furlonges, whiche is. 850. myles. In breadth 5000. furlonges, whiche is. 625. myles. Plinius (nert vnto Italy) extolleth it in fertilitie, aboue all other countreys. Solinus compareth it with the best countreys in plentie of grayne, wynes, oyle, syluer, golde and yron. Statius and Claudius doe no lesse commende it.

Hispanienſis, se, That was borne or bred in other countreys, and lyueth in Spayne.

Hispânus, a, um, That is borne or bred in Spayne.

Histiæa, A citie in Eubœa.

Histiæus, A tyran of Miletus. Erasmus sayeth, it was a very wily and subtile man of the yle of Samos, a friende of Darius, of whose newe inuention of letters sendyng, Au. Gell. wryteth lib. 17. cap. 9. Noct. Attic.

Histonium, A towne in Italie, not farre from the mounte Garganus.

H O

Hœtychus. A Creke, very cũning in ymage making

Holus, alias Homolus, An hyll of Thessaly.

Homericus, a, um, Of Homere.

Homeromastix, gis, masc. gen. The reprocher of Homere. Generally Homeromastices, bee taken for all reprochers and false detractours of learned men.

Homêrus, The chiefe of all poetes, whose proper name was Melesigenes. But because he was blynde, he was called Homērus, whiche in the tongue called Jonica, signifieth blynde. Cicero, Tuscul. 5. saieth, it is writtē that Homere was blynde, yet sée we his picture and not his poeme. For what countrey, what marches, what hoste, what nauie, what motions of myndes, as well of men as of beastes, are expressed in such wyse, that he maketh vs to sée that he sawe not? Plutarchus in the booke whiche he wrate of hym sayeth, that in his two warkes he cōprehendeth both the partes of manne. For in Ilias he describeth strength and valiauntnesse of the body, in Odyssea he doth set forth a perfecte paterne of the mynde. Not withstanding for his vndiscrete fablyng of goddes and goddesses, Plato excluded him out of his weale publike.

Homole, An hyll of Magnesia.

Homolium, A towne of Magnesia.

Homolotti, A certayne people.

Homonœa, The propre name of a woman.

Honoraria, Playes made at Rome to the honour of Bacchus.

Horatius, A famouse poete, borne at Venusium, a man excellēt in sharpenesse of witte, and quicknesse of sentence: he was addict to Epicures sect, somewhat wanton in maners, though he with great libertie of speche noted the vices of other men in his verses called Satyræ. In balades to singe to the harpe (whiche were in .xviij. sundry kyndes of verses) he passed all other that wrate in latine. He was in good fauour with the Emperour Augustus, by the meanes of Mecœnas the Emperours minion, who toke in hym for his mirth and witte much delectation: to whom, and to Augustus, he wrate diuerse epistles in verse, comprehendyng great wisdome in compēdious sentences: & died whan he was .57. yeres olde, as Eusebius wryteth. He was after the incarnation of Christe about tenne yeres. Of his name were diuers notable Romaynes.

Horatius Cocles, A valiaunt Romayne in that time that Porsenna in the quarell of the Tarquines besieged the citie. When the citie was almoste taken, and all other did flee away, this Horatius accompanied onely with two other, at a bridge that entred into Rome did kēpe back the whole armie of Porsenna, vntill the bridge was broken downe behynde hym: and then in spyte of his enemies, armed as he was, did swimme safe into the citie, and so preserued his countrey.

Horizon, zóntis, neu. gen. A circle diuidynge the halfe sphere or ouer parte of the firmament, from the other halfe, where to our sight, it séemeth that the heauen toucheth the earth.

Horomasdes, Among the Chaldees was named the good God.

Horontes, Lōke Orontes.

Horóscopus, pi, mas. gen. That parte of the firmament, whiche euery houre ryseth from the east: astronomers call it the ascendent.

Hortēnsia, æ, fœm. gen. The daughter of Hortensius, a woman moste eloquent.

Hortensius, An excellent orator of Rome, of a wonderfull memorie.

Horus, An Aegyptian, whiche wrate and declared the secrete maner of wryting, which Aegiptians vsed, called Hieroglyphica. Horus was also the sonne of Isis.

Hosa, A ryuer of Tuscan, called now Martha.

Hospitalis Jupiter, The God of hospitalitie or enterteinemēt, so called because straūgers or guestes when they were il intreated in their lodginges, called hym to wytnesse, desyryng hym to reuenge them.

H V

Hungaria, Reade after in Pannonia.

Hunni, People whiche came out of Scythia, and inhabited Hungarie.

H Y

Hyacinthia festa, were solemne ceremonies dooen in the nyght.

Hyacinthus, A boye that Apollo loued, whom by misfortune he slewe, wherefore he tourned hym into a flowre of his owne name.

Hyades, Are seuen sterres, whose names are Ambrosia, Eudōra, Pasithoë, Coronis, Plexaura, Pytho, & Tythe, They be troublouse, and rayse stormes and wyndes. They goe downe the fourtenthe Calendes of May. Poetes name theim the daughters of Atlas, and Aetheria, wherefore they been also called Atlantides. But because in lamenting their brother Hyas (slayne by a lyonesse) they wormed away and died, and therefore were translated by Jupiter into the firmament: They were afterwarde called Hyades, by the name of their brother. Some say, that thei were the nourices of Bacchus, and were called Dodonides Nymphæ, of a towne and forest called Dodona. The Romaynes called them Suculæ.

Hyale, A nymph, one of the companions of Diana.

Hyantius, and Hyanteus, a, um, Of Bœotia.

Hyas, antis, One that was gouernour of Bœotia, of whom they were called Hyantes.

Hyas, hyadis, Lōke Hyades.

Hyarbas, Lōke Hiarbas.

Hyberia, A region in Asia, ioygning to Armenia, enuyroned with the mountaine Caucasus. It is also the olde name of Spayne.

Hybernia, æ, fœ. g. Irelande.

Hybérnicus, a, um, Of Irelande.

Hyberus, A great ryuer in Spayne, nyghe to Tarracon.

Hyblæus, a, um, Of the mountayne or citie Hyble.

Hybla, es, or Hybla, æ, A citie in Sicilie, and a mountayne nyghe to it, whereon groweth plentie of tyme. And therefore the hony that is there, is of all other moste pleasaunt.

Hyblæas, A certaine orator of the citie Nysasis in Caria, whose father being a pore mā, at his death left him nothyng but one mule to carie woode. This man afterwarde geuinge himselfe to the gouernement of the common weale, became of great great eſtimation, and in authozitie nexte vnto Enthydamus. Whom, beyng otherwyſe a wyttie man, when he ſawe to bende himſelfe to tyrannye ouer his countrey men, he ſayde openly and ſtoutely to hym: Enthydamus, thou arte in this citie a neceſſary ill. For neyther can we lacke thée, nor very well lyue with thée.

Hydarnes, or Hyſarnus, A noble man of Perſia.

Hydaſpes, A great ryuer in Indie. Looke Idaſpes.

Hydra, dræ, fœm. gen. A monſter, with whom Hercules fought, and as ſoone as he had ſtryken of one head of the monſter, an other ſprang vp immediatly.

* Hydram ſecare, To meddle with an endeleſſe mattier, or where one miſchiefe happeneth after an other.

Hydrus, druntis, or Hydruntum, i, A citie in Calabria, by the ſea ſyde.

Hyetuſa, A citis in the countrey of Athens. Alſo an yſlande called Andros.

Hyela, A citie in the countrey of Oenotria.

Hygris, A citie of Sarmatia, called commonly Cabardy.

Hyla, æ, or Hylas, læ, The companion of Hercules, whom he loſte in the borders of Jonia. For when Hercules fledde out of Calydonia, and came with his wyfe Deianira, and his ſonne Hyllus to the Dryopians, he deſyred of Theodamas ſomme meate and drynke to refreſſhe his yonge ſonne, beyng then very hungrye. But the vncourteis manne denyed it, and woulde geue hym none. Wherefore Hercules by vyolence tooke one of his oxen, and hyllynge it cauſed the ſame to bee dreſſed. In the meane tyme Theodamas rayſed the people, and with ſuch a power came againſt hym, that Hercules was allmoſte put to the wourſte. But in the ende he gotte the victorie, ſlue Theodamas, and tooke with hym his companion Hylas, whome euer after he fauoured and loued as his owne. In ſaylynge to Colchos for the golden fleſe, when Hercules had broke his ower, he went to lande with his derlynge Hylas, in the wooddes of Mylia to gette hym an other ower. And with the great heate beynge very thirſty, he ſent Hylas to the ryuer Aſcanius thereby, to fetche hym ſome water. Where, becauſe the banke was hygher, then that he coulde well reache the water, he laye downe vpon the grounde, and with his arme and body ſtrayned ſo farre, that he fell into the ryuer, and there was drowned. Whoſe loſſe Hercules tooke ſo greuouſly, that, not knowing the miſaduenture, he lefte the Argonautes, and went ouer all Myſia ſeekyng and cryng for Hylas.

Hylæa, A countrey, after whiche a parte of the ſea is called Hylæum.

Hylæus, A Centaure, whoſe incontinence was cauſe of the warres betwéne the Lapithes and the Centaures.

Hylas, A lake of Bithynia, in the whyche (as ſome ſuppoſe) Hyla Hercules companyon was drowned.

Hyllus, The ſonne of Hercules by Deianira.

Hylonome, A woman of the Centaures, whiche after hir huſbande Cyllarus was dead, ſlewe hir ſelfe with his ſwourde.

Hymantopodes, A lame people in Aethiope, whiche haue clubbed or crooked fete.

Hymella, A certayne ryuer.

Hemenæus, æi, maſ. gen. The god of mariage.

Hymera, The name of a ryuer.

Hymettus, An hyll by Athens, where was hony of all other moſt precious.

Hymettius, a, um, Of the hyll Hymettus.

Hypacaris, A ryuer of Scythia.

Hypæpa, A citie wheare were meruaylous fayre women.

Hypanis, A ryuer in Scythia. Vitruuius ſayeth, lib. 8. cap. 3. it is in Pontus. M. Tull. Tuſc. queſt. lib. 1. ſayeth, that Hypanis, from a parte of Europe réneth into Pontus.

Hyparchus, A philoſopher that wrote of the planets and tymes of the yere.

Hypaſis, Or as ſome dooe wryte, Hypanis, Arianus calleth it Hyphaſis, a great ryuer, whiche renneth out of the mountaines of Scythia, into Indie, and cometh into the famous ryuer of Ganges: and is in breadth ſeuen furlonges, as Diodorus wryteth, lib. 17. The ſtreame thereof is ſo ſwyfte, that no man may paſſe ouer it by the ſpace of fyue dayes ſayling. The water is freſh: After that it cometh within. iiij. dayes ſaylynge of the ſea, it is wonderfull bytter, by reaſon of a bitter fountayne, which renneth into it. At this ryuer the great Alexander finyſhed his iourney, and went no further into Indie, but dyd there ſet vp twelue altars of ſtone, euery of them fifty cubites in greatneſſe.

Hypata, A citie of Theſſaly.

Hypatia, A woman of Alexandria, excellently learned in Aſtronomy, and diuers other ſciences.

Hypatos, A ryuer of Phœnicia.

Hypenor, A Troian, whom Diomedes ſlewe.

Hyperborei, People dwellynge in the furtheſt parte of the north, and, as ſome ſuppoſe, vnder the northe pole called Polus Arcticus. Pomponius Mela wryteth, that the countrey is but lyttle, hauynge the ſunne ouer theim, and is fertyle of it ſelfe, the people verey luſte, lyuynge longer and more pleaſauntly than other menne, alway without buſineſſe or laboure, knowynge neyther warre nor debate. Lyke to this dothe Plinie wryte, lib. 4. cap. 12. Solinus ſayeth, that ſome men dooe appoynte them rather to Aſie, than to Europa. Other doe ſette them meane betwéene the Sunne goynge downe with the Antipodes (whyche are people hauynge theyr feete agaynſt ours) and the ſunne ryſinge with vs. Fynallye he ſayeth they bee in Europa, where they haue. vi. monethes continually daye, and. vi. other monethes continually nighte: the wyndes there be alwayes holſome. They know neither ſickeneſſe nor vnquietneſſe. Wherefore Strabo writeth. lib.15. that ſome men affirme, that they did lyue a thouſand yeres. Feſtus Pompeius wrate, that they exceaded the life of man, liuing aboue 100. yeres. And therfore were they called Hyperborei, as it were exceadinge the common terme of mans life. And whan they be wery and tedious of their life (as Mela and Solin wryte) makynge good chere with their neighbours, and hauinge garlandes on their heades, they throwe themſelues from a certayne rocke into the deepe ſea, eſtæming that to be the beſte death and ſourme of buryyng.

Hyperecbius, A grammarian of Alexandria.

Hyperides, One of the tenne oratours of Athens, whoſe tongue was cut out by Antipater.

Hyperion, Some call the brother of Saturne, which gouerneth the courſe of the planetes, and therefore is named father of the Sunne, the Moone, and the morowe. Sometyme it is putte for Phœbus.

Hypermneſtra, One of the fyfftie daughters of Danaus, whyche ſaued hyr huſbande Linus or Lynceus.

Hypſa, A ryuer of Sicilie.

Hypſea, A blynde womans name in Horace.

Hypſenor, The ſonne of Dolopion, whiche was ſlayne by Eurypylus at the ſiege of Troye.

Hypſicratea, The wyfe of kynge Mithridates, which folowed hym in all his warres, beynge armed lyke a knyght.

Hypſipyle, The daughter of Thoas king of Lenos.

Hyrcania, A countrey in Aſia.

Hyrcanus, a, um, Of Hyrcania.

Hyrcanum mare, The ſea nowe called Mare Abacuk, or Mare de Sala.

Hyrium, A citie of Apulia, called commonly Leſina.

Hyrtacus, A Troyane, father of Niſus Aeneas companion.

I A

IA, Was the yonger daughter of Atlas.

Iacchus, One of the names of Bacchus, called god of wynes.

Iacob, A patriarke, ſonne to Iſaac.

Iacobus, A proper name, in Engliſhe James.

Iadera, A towne of Illyricum.

Ialyſos, A citie of Rhodes.

Iamblicus, A philoſopher of Pythagoras ſecte, ſcholar of Porphyrius.

Iameſa, A creke of the Britaine ſea.

Iamno, A towne of the people called Baleares.

Iana, The name of Diana.

Ianaſſa, A certaine nymphe.

Ianiculum, li, neu. gen. A parte of Rome, and a mountaine in it. Alſo a gate of the ſame name.

Janira, The daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.

Ianthe, The ſiſter of of Janira.

Ianalis, le, Of Janus.

Janus, Some ſuppoſe to be Saturne: ſome to be Japhet, one of the ſonnes of Noe. Janus was alſo a place in Rome, whither vſurers reſorted.

Iapetus, The father of Prometheus, ſonne of Cœlum and Terra.

Iapigia, A countrey in the realme of Naples, called Calabria.

Iapigium, A promontorie in Iapigia.

Iapis, The propre name of Aetolus.

Iäpix; Iapigis, The ſonne of Dedalus, kyng of Calabria, which of him was called Iäpigia. Alſo a weſterne wynde, whiche cometh out of the partes of Apulia.

Iarbas, Loke Hiarbas.

Iarchas, The chiefe of the philoſophers of Indie.

Iaſiades, The ſonne or neuewe of Jaſius.

Iaſis, Atalanta, The daughter of Jaſius.

Iäſius, The brother of Dardanus, and ſonne of Electra. Alſo Jaſius is the father of Palinurus.

Iaſonium, A promontorie of Cappadocia, called S. Thomas.

Iaſum, An yle of Caria, lyyng toward ỹ maine land.

Iava, A citie in Spayne called Lara.

Iaxamathæ, People about Mæotis.

Iaxartes, A ryuer of Scythia in Aſia.

Iaxes, A ryuer of Scythia.

Iazyges, People of Metanaſta in Europe, on the ſouth part of Germany, called now Septem caſtra, commonly Sibenburgh: it hath on the northe, Armatia: on the weſte and ſouth, Germany and Pannonie inferior: on the eaſt Dacia.

I B

Ibernia, Loke Hibernia.

Ibéria, the anciẽt name of Spain. Alſo an other coũtrey nigh to Armeny. It is of ſome written wᵭ H.

Iberi, & Ibres, Spaniardes, or men of the other Iberia.

Ibéricus, a, um, Of Iberia.

Iberus, A ryuer in Spayne.

Ibycus, A poetes name of Rhegium in Italy.

I C

Icadius, A notable robber.

Icaria, An yle in the ſea Icarium, which is alſo called Icaros.

Icaris patronymicum, Of Icarus.

Icarus, or Icarius, The father of the chaſt Penelope. There was an other Icarus, the ſon of Dædalus, who hauing winges, with his father flew out of the yle of Crete: but whan he flewe hygher than his father commaunded: the ware, wherwith the feathers of his wynges were glewed, melted wᵭ the heate of the ſunne. And the feathers fallinge of, Icarus was conſtraigned to fall into the ſea, afterward called Mare Icarium. Alſo Icarus is a mountaine in the region of Athens.

Ichthiuſa, The yle called Icaros.

Ichthiophagi, People by ſouthe Indie, whiche doo eate onelye fyſhe, and alſo their cattell is fedde therwith. They weare garmentes of fyſh ſkynnes. Alſo (as Strabo wryteth) theyr houſes bee made with whales bones & oyſter ſhelles. The ribbes of the fiſhes make the beames & rafters, of the iawes are made the dores, of the backebones are made morters, wherein the fyſhe is pounned, and dried at the ſunne, and therof thei make breadde myngled with a lyttle wheate.

Amianus

Arrianus, lib. 8. writeth, that the ribbes of whales (seen there, by the capitaines of king Alexander) were about .xxvby. fote and a halfe long, wherwith their houses were buylded.

Icthis, A promontorie in Achaia.

Iconium, A towne in the countrey of Cilicia: an other in Asia the lesse.

Icosium, A towne in Mauritania Cæsariensis, buylded by the companions of Hercules.

Iclus, A famous wrestlar of Tarētum, which to be the stronger, abstayned from women al his life.

I D

Ida, æ, f. g. A mountayne, whiche lieth nigh Troie.

Idæi dactili, People called also Corybantes.

Idæus, a, um, Of the mountayne Ida.

Idālium, A mountayne and citie in the yle of Cypres, dedicated vnto Uenus.

Idālius, a, um, Of that mountayne, or of Uenus.

Idanthyrsus, A famous kyng of Scythia, which subdued a great parte of Asia.

Idas, æ, The husbande of Marpissa, a man of excellent fauour and beautie.

Idaspes, A ryuer rennynge by Parthia and Indie, and at last falleth into the great ryuer called Indus. In this ryuer is founde much golde and precious stones.

Idicus, a, um, Of the mountaine Ida.

Idmon, A soothsayer, the sonne of Apollo and Asteria.

Idomeneus, A kynge of Candie, whiche came with the Grecians to Troye. In his returne beynge troubled with tempestes, he vowed, that if he retourned saulfe into his realme, he woulde offer what so euer he mette fyrste. Wherefore whan he woulde haue offered his sonne, who fyrst mette him at his landing: the people arose against him, and draue him out of the countrey. Than sayled he into Apulia, and buylded a citie, whiche he called Petilia, on the mountayne Salentinum in Calabre.

Idothea, The daughter of Prœtus kynge of Argyues.

Idumæa, A region in Syria toynyng to Aegypt, and borderyng vpon Palestine.

Idume, A citie in the countrey called Idumæa, about the whiche is great aboundaunce of palme or date trees.

Idyia, The wyfe of Aeta kyng of Colchis.

I E

Iēna, A ryuer of Spayne.

Ierusalē, The chiefe city of Judea, lowe Hierosolyma.

Iēs, etis, A citie of Achaia, situate vpon a promontorie of the same name.

Iēsus, The sonne of God, and of the moste pure virgine Marie. Although in the common translation of the Bible in latine, it semeth there were dyuers other Iewes so named: yet in the hebrue tonge, as Reucline writeth in his booke De Verbo mirifico, there was some diuersitie in the letters of the name of our sauiour, from them that were in the other called Iēsus. For in his glorious and wonderful name, were the vowels called Tetragrammaton, with one consonante, called Schin, whiche is one S of the hebrues, wherein was a mysticall or hyd signification of his diuinitie, although the whole name be interpreted Sauiour: who beynge equall in diuinitie with God the father, begotten of him before the world was created, and without tyme, willingly for the redemption of man descended into the body of the blessed virgine, and was conceyued in hir by the holy ghost, the thyrd person in godhead, and of hir borne the. 3962. yere after the creation of the world: and beyng God and man, lyued here. xxxij. yeres in fourme of powerfie, and than beyng betrayed by his owne disciple, was by the Iewes (his owne people) moste cruelly nayled on the crosse, the yere after the creation of the worlde. 3994.

I G

Ignatius, An holy byshop of Antioche, the thyrde after saynt Peter, disciple to saint John the Euangelist. In the time of Traian he was condemned to bee deuoured of beastes, and as he was ledde towarde Rome with tenne menne of warre, whom for their crueltie, he called Leopardos, he by the waye confyrmed all Christen men in the faythe, as well by prayers as by letters, saiyng in this wyse: So that I may finde Christ and imbrace hym, I woulde there should come vnto me fyre, gibbettes, beastes, crasshyng of bones, rentynge of all the body, and all the tourmentes of the dyuell. Whan he hearde the roaryng of Lyons, whiche shoulde deuoure him, he ioyously sayed: I am the wheate of Christe, lette me be grounde with beastes teethe, that I may be founde to be pure and fyne manchet. He was martyred after the incarnation about. 80. yeres.

Ignipotens, One of the surnames of Vulcanus.

I L

Ilba, or Ilua, An yslande in the Tuscane sea, where is great plentie of corne.

Ilerda, A citie of Spayne called Leyda, and Leryda.

Ilia, The mother of Romulus and Remus.

Iliacus, a, um, Of Troye.

Ilias, adis, The warke of Homere of the siege of Troye.

*Ilias malorum, A prouerbe vsed whan many and great mischiefes & misfortunes happen to a mā.

Illiberis, A citie in the prouince of Narbon.

Illienses, Auncient people of the yle Corsica.

Ilione, The propre name of the eldest daughter of Priamus.

Ilioneus, The propre name of a Troian.

Ilissus, The name of a ruer in ỳ prouince of Athēs.

Ilithyia, A name of Diana.

Ilium, The palaice of Priam⁹. It is take for Troy.

Ilius, a, um, Of Troye.

Illiberis, A citie of Narbon, after Pomponius: after Ptolomee, the chiefe citie of Granade in Spayne.

Illipula, An hille in Spayne, called commonly Ilipa, or Ilpa.
Illuro, A citie of Spayne.
Illyberis, A citie of Prouaunce.
Illyria, Illyris, or Illyrium, A countrey which hath on the north both the countreis Pannoniam superiorem and inferiorem: on the weste Histriam: on the east, Mysiam superiorem: on the south the sea Hadriaticum. That coūtrey is now called Sclauony, or Wendenlande.
Illyricus, a, um, Of Illyria.
Ilua, An ylande by Tuscan, loke Ilba.
Ilurco, A towne in Europe.
Ilurcis, A citie of Iberia.
Ilus, The sonne of Tros kynge of Troianes, that buylded Ilium.

I M

Imantopodes, A people of Aethiope, which haue crooked legges.
Imaus, A mountayne in India.
Imbrius, a, um, Of the towne or Ilande called Imbrus.
Imbrus, An ylande of Thrace. and a towne in the same is so called.
Imola, imolæ, A citie of Italy, sometyme called Forum Cornelii.

I N

Inaccessa, Called of the Grecians Abatos, an ylande in Aegypte, to the whiche is no comyng.
Inachia, The countrey of Peloponnesus.
Inachides, The sonne or neuewe of Inachus. Sometyme, one of Argos.
Inachis, The daughter or neece of Inachus.
Inachus, The fyrst kyng of Argiues.
Inalpini, The people that dwell vpon the Alpes.
Inarime, , an yle in the Tuscane sea. Also a mountaine.
Incensinnarium, rii, neu. gen. The name of the inner treasory in the tẽple of Saturne in Rome, where treasure was kepte against extreame necessitie and daunger. It was called also Cimeliarchium.
India, A great ryche countrey, called in Englyshe Indie, lynge on the southe easte partes of the worlde, whiche, as Ptolomeus wryteth, is diuided into .ij. partes. The one is called Indie with in the ryuer of Ganges, whiche on the weste is bounded with Aracosia & Gedrosia: on the easte with the great ryuer called Gãges: on the north with the hyll called Imaus: on the south & west, with part of the Indian sea. The other parte of Indie without Ganges, is bounded on the west with the sayd ryuer Ganges: on the north with part of Scythia and Setica: on the east with the region called Sinarum: on the southe with the Indian sea. Nearchus, great Alexanders admirall, affirmed (as Arrianus writeth) that it was foure monethes iorney by the plaines of Indie. Megasthenes saied, that the breadth of Indie frõ the east to the west, cõteineth. 16000. furlonges, whiche is. 2100. myles. The lengthe from the north to the South. 22000. furlonges, whiche is, 2850. myles. Ctesias affirmeth it to be as much as the residue of Asia. But Onesicritus, whiche wrate the actes of Alexãder, demeth it to be the thirde part of Asia. There are alway twoo sommers, and fruites and graine twyse gathered. The wyndes be alwaies temperate, the beastes and foules much greater than in other coūtreis, and of more diuers kyndes. The names of the countreys and cities there, bee nowe otherwyse than they were in the time of the auncient writers. They whiche be nowe knowen, shalbe declared in their places, with the mountaynes & ryuers, whiche are great aboue all other.
Indus, i, m. g. A noble ryuer, that cometh from the great mountaine Taurus, and inclooseth Indie on the west, & renneth into the Indian sea. Into this ryuer ren. xix. great and famous riuers, the leaste of them more than the great riuer of Dunowe, where he is broadest. Strabo sayeth, that they, whiche doe wryte moste moderatly of Indus, doe affirme, that he is in breadth fiftie furlonges, whiche is twelue myles and an halfe. The water therof causeth great fertilitie whan it ouerfloweth, & therof many sundry pleasaunt and holsome fruites doe spring without labour.
Ingeniculus, A fygure among the sterres, called now Hercules.
Inguinium, A citie in Liguria, ancient and ryche.
Initia, orum, neut. gen. plur. num. Sacrifice dooen vnto Ceres.
Initiorum dies, Daies on the whiche those sacrifices were kepte.
Ino, huius Inus, The daughter of Cadmus, wyfe of Athamas kyng of Thebes, which (hir housband being madde, and Learchus hir sonne slayne) threwe hir selfe into the sea.
Inous, a, um, Of Ino.
Insubres, Lumbardes: properly men of the duchie of Melayne.
Interamna, A citie in Italy.
Intrium, A towne in Almayne, called Insprough.
Inuus, Is the rusticall God of the Painyms, called also Pan.

I O

Io, The daughter of Inachus.
Ioannes, A propre name of Hebrewe, and signifieth the grace of God.
Ioannes Baptista, sonne of Zacharias, and Elisabeth, of the tribe of Leui, was sanctified before he was borne, and declared by an angel, that his name shoulde be Iohn. And because his father dyd not foorthwith beleue it, he was specheles vntyll the eight daie after the byrth of the child, and that he had wrytten in tables, his name is Iohn: than was his mouth opened, and he spake glorifying God, and made than the psalme: Benedictus dominus deus Israel. This Iohn was of suche perfection and holynesse, that our Sauioure Christe testifyed of hym, that he went in the spirite and trouth of Helias the prophete: but yet but yet was he more then a prophete, & the messanger promised by the prophete Malachias, that god would sende, which should prepare the way before him. Semblably Iohn testified of Christe, that he was the sonne of God. Iohn lyued in wylderneſſe, his garmente was of Camelles heares, hir gyrdell of a skynne about his loynes, his meate Locuſtæ, and hony of the woodes. He baptysed onely by water, teaching repẽtance and the approchinge of the kyngdome of heauen. But because he sayde to Herode, it was not lefull for him to haue his brothers wyfe, he was by him put in prysson, and finally at the petition of the daughter of Herodiades, who daũsed before him (by the perswasiõ of Herodiades, who was his brothers wyfe) his head was stricken of, & in a dishe brought by the mayden vnto hir mother in open banket. Ioſephus antiquitatum. lib. 18. calleth him a very good man, who commaunded the Iewes to labour to gette vertue, to kẽpe true religion towarde god, and by baptisme to ioygne together in one. Also he saieth that many men thought, that in the battaile betwéene Herode and Aretha, by the iuſt vengeance of god, for puttyng Iohn Baptiſt to death, the hoſte of Herode was vtterly deſtroyed. He was borne somewhat before the natiuitie of Christ, and was put to death before Christ suffered his paſſion, one yere.

Ioannes, Apoſtle and Euangeliſt, sonne of Zebedæus, brother of James the Apoſtle, called ỹ more, was of Christe moſte tenderly beloued, and in the time of the emperour Domitian, was exiled into Pathmos, where he wrate the Apocalypſis. After the death of Domitiã, in the time of Pertinax, he returned to Epheſus, and there remaynynge vnto the tyme of Traiane, he rayſed many churches, did set them in order, and beyng of greate age, dyed. lxviii. yeres after the paſſion of Christe, as Sophronius wryteth, and was buryed at Epheſus, Polycrates, an auncient & holy byſhop in Aſia, in his epiſtle to Victor byſhop of Rome, wryteth in this wyſe: Also Iohn which laid his head vpon our lordes breaſt, who was the chiefe prieſte, and ware the pontificall plate or table, martyr and doctour of the church, slepte at Epheſus. He wrate his goſpell laſte of all the Euangeliſtes, in the laſt ende of his life. wherein he declareth the diuinitie of our Sauiour, more than any of the other, whiche by the holy ghoſte was reſerued vnto him.

Iocaſta, Was daughter of Creon, and firſte wyfe of Laius kinge of Thebes, after whoſe death she beyng ignorante, maried Oedipus hir naturall sonne. After that hir sonnes Polynices & Etheocles, which she had by Oedipus, had one slayne the other in battaile, she also killed hir selfe.

Iochabella, The name of Moyſes mother.

Iohel, A prophete borne in Bethon, in the lande of Rubim. He prophecied much of Hieruſalem, and finall concluſion of the Gentiles.

Iol, A citie of Numidia.

Iolaus, The sonne of Iphiclus, of whome the people of Sardinia were named Iolenſes.

Iolcos, A towne of Theſſaly.

Iole, The daughter of Eurytus kynge of Aetolia, whome Hercules loued so much, that he serued hir in a womans apparaile, and spanne on a diſtaffe.

Ion, The name of a Greeke poete.

Ionas, A prophete of the countrey of Cariathaimaũ, not farre from Azotus, a citie of the Grecians, nigh to the sea in Syria, in the time of Helias, and was the sonne of the poore wydowe, & hym did Helias reſtore vnto life for the hoſpitalitie of his mother. Whan he came to full age, he was by almightie God sente to the great citie of Niniue in Aſſyria: & as he would haue fledde from the lorde, and haue turned his iourney vnto Tharſos, he was deuoured of a whale, and beyng at the laſte cast vp into the lande out of the whales mouth, whan he had ben three daies in his bealy, he went forth and preached in Niniue, in ſuche wiſe, that the people by penance reſtreigned the ſwerde of god, which was ready to ſtryke thẽ. Afterwarde Ionas, bered with heauineſſe of minde, returned to his countreye, nor there longe abidinge, takynge with him his mother, wente to the lande of Sur, and as he haunted the lande of Saar, he there died, & was buried in the graue of Cinezeus the Iudge. He prophecied, that whan men should se in Hieruſalem much people come from the weſte partes of the worlde, than should the citie be deſtroyed vnto the hard earth. Ionas, in hebrue ſignifieth a ſuluer, or a deſtroyer of people.

Ionia, A region in Créece of Aſia, wherin were the cities of Epheſus, Miletus, Priena, and other, and the people therof be called Iones, and the tungue Ionica, and the sea ioygnyng to it Mare Ionicum.

Iónicus, ca, um, & Ionius, a, um, and Ioniacus, a, um, of Ionia.

Iopas, A kyng of Afrike, one of Didos wooers.

Ioppe, es, fœ. ge. A citie of the countreye of Paleſtina, not farre from Hieruſalem, stãdyng by the sea. This is a moſte auncient citie, for it was buildded before the vniuerſall floude. Some men do ſuppoſe it to be the hauen which is called Porte Iaffe.

Iordânis, A fayre ryuer in Iudæa, whiche diuideth Galilée from the reſidue of Iudæa, and falleth into the dead sea.

Ios, An yle where Homer was buried.

Ioſeph, The sonne of Iacob the patriarke, was thorough enuie ſolde by his bretherne vnto a marchaũt, who brought hym into Aegipt, and gaue hym to Putiphar, greate mayſter of houſholde with kynge Pharao, whoſe wyfe beurnyng in concupiſcence, becauſe Ioſeph would not commit adultery with hyr, cauſed hym to be caſte into prysson, where he declaryng to the kinges cupbearer the ſignification of his dreame, was aferwarde by the same cupbearer remembred vnto king Pharao, whē he had dreamed a dreame, which he would haue expounded. And he expoū-dynge the kynges dreame, was made highe ste-warde of his realme. So that by his moſt excel-lent wiſedome, ſuch aboundance of grayne was brought into the kynges barnes, and there kept duryng the .vii. plentifull yeres, that the .vii. ye-res of ſcarcitie next enſuinge, it ſuffiſed not one-ly to relieue all the people of Aegypte, but alſo refreſhed other countreis, and made the kynge ercēdingly riche. Moreouer the bretherne of Jo-ſeph, beynge ſente by Jacob theyr father to bye corne in Aegypte, not knowynge theyr brother Joſeph, were by him ſundry times apprehēded, and compelled to fetche their younger brother Beniamyn: and at the laſte Joſeph diſcoueringe himſelfe vnto them, cauſed them to fetche his & theyr father into Aegypte, with all his family, where they weare honourably entertayned of king Pharao and Joſeph. And Joſeph had there two ſonnes, Effraim and Manaſſes, and lyued an hundred and ten yeres. Joſeph ſignifieth in-creaſe, or a great officer. He dyed before the in-carnation about .1652. yeres.

Joſephus, The ſonne of Mattathias, a prieſte, of Hi-eruſalem, wrate in Grēke the battayle of the Jewes, and deſtruction of the citie by Veſpaſian and Titus, whereat he himſelfe was preſente. He wrate alſo of the antiquitie of the Jewes. He was amonge the Romaines had in ſuch re-uerence and honour, that his ymage was ſette vp in the citie. He had the ſpyrite of prophecie, and beynge pryſoner, tolde vnto Veſpaſian, that he ſhoulde be emperour of Rome. Alſo in his booke of antiquitées, he wryteth in this wyſe: At this tyme was Jeſus, a wyſe man, if it be le-full to call him a man, he was a doer of wonder-full workes, and a teacher of thoſe men, whiche willingly doo here thinges that be true: he toyg-ned vnto him many Jewes, and alſo Gentiles: this man was Chriſt. Whan Pilate, by the en-uy of the chiefe men of our nation, had iudged him to be put on the croſſe, he forſoke not them, whom from the begynnyng he loued, but appée-red to them the thyrde day, eftesones alyue, ac-cordynge as the prophetes by diuine inſpiration ſpake before of him, and that innumerable my-racles ſhoulde be doone by him. Hitherto wrate Joſephus: wherby appéreth his excellent wiſe-dome, and ſpeciall grace, which he had receiued: and it repugneth not much, that in his heart he embraced the fayth of Chriſt. He was after the incarnation of Chriſt .lxvi. yeres.

Iotapata, A citie in Syria.

Iouianus Pontanus, A poete.

Iouiniani, Were men of armes, ſo called of Maximi-an the emperour, whiche did valiauntly in the countrey of Illyria.

I P

Iphianaſſa, The wife of Melampus, whom for hir beaultie, Juno tourned into furie or madneſſe. Alſo the daughter of Agamemnon and Clytem-neſtra.

Iphiclus, Sonne of Alcmena, borne with Hercules at one byrth, but Hercules was gotten by Jupi-ter, and Iphiclus by Amphitryo. And whan. ij. ſerpentes came to the cradell of Iphiclus, and ſlewe him, after whan they came to Hercules, he toke in euerye of his handes one, and ſlewe them. There was an other Iphiclus, the ſonne of Phylacus and Clymene, who (as Heſiodus ſaieth) was ſo light and ſwifte, that he ranne vpon the eares of wheate as they grewe, and dyd not hurte them. Alſo that he ranne on the water as well as on the land. Read Cœlium, Le-ctionum antiq. lib. 2. cap. 5.

Iphicrates, A noble man of Athens.

Iphidamas, The ſonne of Antenor.

Iphigenia, The daughter of kynge Agamemnon, whom he woulde haue offered in ſacrifice goyng to Troy: but the goddeſſe Diana bēing moued with pitie, accepted the offringe of an hynde in ſtēde of hir.

Iphimedia, The wyfe of Aloeus, and mother of the two gigantes Otus and Ephialtes.

Iphinaſſa, idem quod Iphianaſſa.

Iphinous, One of the Centaures.

Iphis, The daughter of Lycus and Telethuſa, who the daye of hir mariage was ſodeynlye become a man, whereas he had bēene a woman euer before. For when Lycus takynge a long iourney, perceiued his wife with childe, he ſtrait-ly commaunded hir, if it were a woman childe, to deſtroy it: if it were a man childe, to kēpe it, and bring it vp. She beyng deliuered of a maid, and lothe, eyther againſt nature to deſtroy hir owne childe, or on the other ſyde vtterly to diſ-obey hir huſbandes commaundement, toke an indifferent way, & fayned that ſhe had brought forth a ſonne, kēpyng it vp alway in mans ap-parayle. At the length when he came to age, his father appointed him to mary a mayde cal-led Ianthes. Then Telethuſa perceyuynge the matter coulde no lenger be hidde, and fearynge hir huſbandes diſpleaſure, called to the goddes for helpe, by whoſe power, ſhe was euen then tourned to a man, whoſe fygure to that day in apparayle ſhe had reſembled.

Iphitus, The ſonne of Praxonidis, whiche fyrſte or-deyned the ſolemne plaies called Olympia. Alſo the name of a Troyan.

I R

Iria flauia, A citie of Spayne.

Irpini, Certayne people.

Irus, ri, m. g. A begger, of whom Homere maketh mention, who was great and fēble, and bēyng in Ithaca, the countrey of Ulliſſes (he beyng ab-ſent) conſumed his vytailes with the wooers of Penelope. Wherfore Ulliſſes at his returne home, ſlewe him with his fiſte.

* Iro pauperior, As very a begger as lyueth: as poore as as Iob: in extreme necessitée.

I S

Is, A citie, eyght dayes iourney from Babylon.

Isaca. The ryuer in England called Exe.

Isæus, A famous Rhetorician, whiche inuented to make euery matter compendious.

Isagora, A mans name.

Isandrus, The sonne of Bellerophon.

Isapis, A ryuer nygh to Cesenna.

Isara, A ryuer comynge out of the ryuer of Reyne, where the hyll called Cemenus is ioygned to the Reyne, and so renneth by Druentia into the goulfe of Uenice.

Isatia, An yle against Uelia, called also Oenótris.

Isauria, A region in Asia ioygning to Cilicia. Some doe take it to be parte of Cilicia.

Iscanum, A citie in the countrey of Pamphilia.

Isca, A citie in Deuonshyre called Exeter.

Ischalis, A towne in Somersetshyre called Ilchester.

Ischomache, The name of Hippodamia.

Ischópolis, A citie of Capadocia called Tripolie.

Iscia, Idem quod Isatia.

Isiacus, ci, The priest of the goddesse Isis.

Isis, called also Io, one of the harlottes of Iupiter, whom he tourned into a cowe for feare of Iuno his wyfe.

Ismaël, Was the sonne of Abraham by Agar his wyues mayden, of whom the Sarazens be called Ismaëlitæ, as they be called also Agareni.

Ismarus, i, m.g. & plur. Ismara, orum, A mountayne in Thracia.

Ismene, The daughter of Oedipus.

Ismenias, The name of an excellent minstrel, which played on the shaulmes.

Ismenides, The women of Thebes.

Ismenus, A ryuer in the countrey of Bœotia, named of Ismenus the sonne of Pelasgus.

Isocrates, The name of a famous orator, of wonderfull eloquence: out of whose schole proceeded the most excellent orators of Grece.

Isralis, A citie in Spayne called nowe Siuile.

Ispolum, A citie of the Vlumbrians, called nowe Ispellum.

Israel, Signifieth a man seeyng god. Also the name of Iacob the patriarke: and the people of the Iewes were called by that name. Howbeit sometyme it was attributed onely to ten tribes, the tribes of Iuda and Beniamin beyng seuered from them.

Issa, An Ile in the Uenetian sea, ioygnyng to Slauonie.

Issus, A citie in Sicilie, and a ryuer of Syria.

Ister, A great ryuer called Danubius, in duche Donowe. It cometh out of an hyll in Germanye, called of Plinie Noba, of Ptolomie Arnoba, of Tacitus Arbona. It receyueth into it three seuen ryuers, whereof the more parte be nauigable, & renneth by Swaue, Bauier, Dwstrike, Hungary, Walachia, and so thorough Europe, and falleth into the sea called Pontus in seuen sundry places, as Solinus and Pela write. But Plinie and Tacitus affirme but fiue. Herodotus, Arrianus and other but fiue. While it is in Germany, it is called Danubius, & whan it commeth into a parte of Thracia called Istria, where it is broadest, it is than called Ister.

Isthmus, mi, m.g. A narrowe parte of the countrey, where two seas are but a smal distance asunder, enclosynge the lande on both sydes: in suche a place is sette the citie of Corinthus in Greece. There be diuers suche places in Grecia, and of them were certayne playes called Isthmia.

Istonium, A towne of Italy called Gnasto.

Istria, æ, A parte of Italy, marching on Illyria, called now Slauonie.

Ius, The sonne of Priamus.

I T

Italia, A noble countreye, whiche is inuironned on the weste with the mountaynes Alpes: on the northe with the sea Adriaticum: on the east and the southe with the sea Mediterraneum, and Fretum Siculum. It also conteineth these regions, Liguria, Ethruria, Vmbria, Flaminia, Latium, Apruntium, Campania, Apulia, Venetia, Picênum, Gallia Cisalpina, called Lumbardie. The lengthe thereof (after Plinie) is. 1020. myles: the breadth in som place betwene the two seas. 410. miles. It was sometime named Magna Græcia, because it was inhabyted with Grekes, as Pyrrhus writeth. Solinus resembleth ỹ fygure therof to an oken leafe, extending more in length then in breadth, towarde the ende beyng diuided, as it were into two hornes, whereof the one lyeth towarde the sea Ionium: the other loketh to the narrowe sea of Sicilie, called Fretum Siculum: in the narrowest place it passeth not in breadth. rr. miles.

Italica, A citie in Italie, whiche by an other name is called Confiniũ. There is an other in Spaine, where Silius Italicus was borne.

Italicensis, A citizen of Italica.

Italicus, a, um, Of Italy.

Italus, An Italian.

Ithaca, An yle lynge before Athalis, and was Ulisses countrey, who therof was called Ithacus.

Ithome, A towne in Peloponnesus, an other in Thessalie.

Ithonea, or Ithonia, A citie of Bœotia, of the whiche Pallas was called Ithonia.

Ithyphallus, The name of Priapus, the moste dishonest and abhominable idoll.

Ithyra, A towne in the mountayne of Taurus towarde Parthia.

Ithyreus, a, um, Of Ithyra: sometyme of Parthia: as Ithyreæ sagittæ, Arrowes of the Parthians.

Iturissa, A citie of Spayne.

Ituræa, A region in Arabia or Syria, of which the people are called Iturei.

Itymoneus, A valiaunts man, the sonne of Hyperochus.

Itys, The sonne of Tereus, and Progne, who (as poetes feigne) was tourned into a Pheasaunt.

Iuba, A kinge of Mauritania, in tyme of the ciuille warre a constant defender of Pompeys parte: who, after Pompey was ouercome, ioygned his power with Scipio, and in a great battayle resisted Cæsar. But in the ende perceiuynge himselfe to be ouercome, rather then he would come into his ennemies handes, Petreius and he valiauntly renning each at other, slue themselues. Cæsar afterward brought his sonne in triumph.

Jubar, iúbaris, n. g. A sterre, which is also called Hesperus and Lucifer.

Judæa, A countrey in Asia, which hath on the west Mare Cyprium: on the nozth Phœnicia and Syria: on the easte Arabia: on the south, the lande of Aegypt. It receiued that name of Judas the sonne of Jacob the patriarke, where befoze it was called Chananæa, of Chananæus, the sonne of Cham.

Judæi, Not onely the people of Judæa, but also they be so called, whiche doe obserue their superstition. They were expelled out of this realme of Englande in the tyme of kynge Richarde the fizst, foz theyz cruelte in sleayng of Chzistẽ childzen, lyke as they haue bene out of Fraunce & Spayne: and nowe of late out of Poztugall.

Judaicus, a, um, Of Judæa.

Juernia, Irelande. Plinie calleth it Iuuerna.

Jugantinus deus, Was amonge Painyms the God, whom they supposed to haue authozitee ouer the rydges of hylles.

Jugárius, rii, m. g. A stræte in Rome, where was an aultar of Juno, at the whiche, if any were wedded, they supposed that matrimonie to be moste surely ioygned.

Júgula, læ, f. g. A celestiall signe called Orion.

Jugum, The signe called Libra.

Jugurtha, A kynge of Numidia, which warred vpon the Romaines, and of them was ouercome.

Jugurthinus, a, um, Of Jugurthe.

Julia, A kynreade, which prozcéded from Ascanius sonne of Aeneas, called Julus. Also a towne of Calcs in the countrey of Spayne.

Juliânus, a, um, and Julius, a, um, and Júleus, a, um, Of Iulius.

Juliobona, Hountlete in Fraunce.

Juliobriga, A towne in Spaine called Logroino.

Juliomagus, Angiers in Fraunce.

Julis, A citie in the yle of Cea, the countrey of Simonides the poete.

Julium Carnicum, A citie in the dukedome of Austriche.

Julius, The moneth of July, whiche toke his name of Julius Cæsar.

Julius Cæsar, The fyzst and moste famous emperour of Rome. Vide Cæsar. His actes are briefely rehersed of Plinie lib. 7. cap. 25. The name of Julius descended of Ascanius the sonne of Aeneas. To the honour of this man, the seuenth moneth of the yere was called Julius, which befoze was named Quintilis, because it was the fifth frõ March, where the olde Romaines beganne the yere.

Julus, Otherwyse named Ascanius, the sonne of Aeneas. Also the name of a longe dedicated to Diana.

Junganni, People in the countrey of Liguria.

Junius, A pzopze name of the Romaines, as Junius Bzutus, Junius Columella. It is also a moneth called June. Foz whan Romulus had first diuided the people into olde men and younge, called in latine Maiores & Minores, he honoured them with two monethes, calling the one Maius, oz Maie: the other Junius, of young men called in latine Iuuenes.

Juno, The daughter of Saturne and Ops, sister & wyfe of Jupiter, called also Hêra.

Juno monêta: Soone after that the kynges were expelled out of Rome, there was a greate earthquake, at which tyme there was heard in the Capitoll out of the chapell of Juno, a voyce, warnynge them, that they shoulde make a full pacification of hir wzath: & so dwynge the earthquake ceassed. Of that warnynge, whiche in latine is Monitio, she was called Juno Monêta: & to the honour of hir was made one chappell in the Capitoll by Camillus, an other on the hylle called Auentinus, wherein was sette hir ydoll brought from the citie called Veiæ, destroied by the Romaines: both these chapelles weare called Aedes Iunonis Monêtæ.

Iunónius. a, um, Of Juno.

Iunonicolæ, The surname of the Phalisciãs, because they worshipped Juno.

Iunonigena, The surname of Vulcane.

Iunonia, One of the Iles called Insulæ fortunatæ.

Jupiter, Júpitris, oz Iupíteris, . After Pzisician, not Iouis, whiche commeth of the nominetiue case Iouis, The sonne of Saturnus & Ops, kyng of Creta, who dzaue his father out of his realme, & was a man valiaunt and wyse, but excẽdingly genẽ to lechery, in deflourynge as well maydens as wyues. Not withstandynge foz his pzowesse & wytte, after his death he was of all the Grékes honoured foz a god, and called father and kynge of goddes. His name was in suche estimation amonge the Gentiles oz paynims, that they gaue to him soueraintée in all thinges. In so muche as they also named him god of Hospytalitée. And therfoze whan any thinge was violated, eyther by the good man of the house, oz by his gueste, they called on Iupiter Xenius: whan truste in frendshyp was bzoken, they called to take vengeance Iupiter Fidius: whan companions betrayed one an other, Iupiter Heterius: whã kinsmen, Iupiter Homogenus: whan they whiche were in league together deceiued eche other, thã cryed they Iupiter Euborcius.

Iura, A mountayne in Fraunce, whiche diuideth high Burgoyn from Swyzerlande. Some call it Vogesus.

Iustinianus, An emperour of Rome, who valiantlye ouercame the Saracens, and fozced them to be at league with him. Leontius, beynge incited ted by Callinicus patriarke of Conſtantinople, expelled this man out of the empyre, and in reproche cuttynge of his noſe, ſent him in baniſhment to Cherſona. Not longe after by ayde of the Bulgares he was reſtored to the empyre, and euer after ſhewed extreame cruelte toward his ennemies and theyr alies. For ſo ofte as he moued his hand to wipe the filth from his noſe, remembrynge the vilanie that his aduerſaries had wrought him, he commaunded one of them to be pulled out of pryſon and put to death.

Iuſtinus, An emperour, comen of a powre kynreade (his mothers brother Juſtinus emperour before him beyng but a ſwynehearde) ſucceded his vncle at the age of.xliii. yeres in the empyre, and gouerned it nobly the ſpace of.xl.yeres, augmētyng it honourably. He cauſed the lawes ciuile, diſperſed in infinite volumes, to be reduced into.50.bokes (called the Digeſtes) and.4.bokes of Inſtitutes to be made, and likewiſe the Code, conteynynge the decrees of the emperours, although he himſelfe knew no letters. An excellent prince, if he had not bene corrupted with auarice, and the hereſie of Eutyches. He was after the incarnation of Chriſte.570.yeres.

Iuturna, The ſiſter of Turnus.

Iuuenalis, A poete, which wrate Satyres.

Iuuentas, tatis, & Iuuentus, tūtis, f.g. The goddeſſe of youth.

Iuuerna, The olde name of Irelande, called of ſome Iuernia, & Hibernia. The Grekes call it Iuernion & Ierna.

Ixion, A kyng of Theſſalie, who falſely brake promyſe with his wiues father, and threw him into a pitte of fyre. He alſo called by Jupiter vnto a feaſte, ſtyred Juno to committe adultrie, whiche Jupiter perceiuyng, made a cloude like vnto Juno, and deliuered hir to him, on whom he begatte the people called Centauri. But whan he had auaunted, that he had companied with Juno: he was driuen downe into hel, and there bounde to a whele alwaies tournynge and full of ſerpentes, as poetes feygne.

Ixioneus, a, um, Of Ixion.

Ixionides, Pirithous, the ſonne of Ixion.

L A

LAbatus, A mannes name, often mentioned of Plutarche.

Labdacus, A kyng of Thebes, father of Laius, who was father of Oedipus.

Labeo, A mans name.

Laberius, A poete, a gentleman of Rome.

Labicanum, A towne in Italy.

Labici, The inhabitauntes of that towne.

Labiēnus, A noble man of Rome, capitaine vnder Cæſar in Fraunce. Alſo an hiſtoriographer.

Labicus, Was the name of the ſon of Minos, who was named alſo Glaucus.

Labio, The ſurname of a Romaine.

Laboriæ, The name of a countrey in Italy, vulgarly called Terra laboris, the lande of labour.

Laborinus, A fielde in Campania, where the ſtubble of corne is ſo great, that the people do burne it in ſtede of wodde.

Labynetus, The ſonne of Nytocrir quēne of Babylon, where afterwarde he alſo reigned.

Labyrinthus, A place made in ſuche wyſe, that who ſo euer came into it, could not iſſue out without a very perfecte guyde, or without a threde leadynge him, whereof the bottome or clew ſhould be lefte at the entrē. Of this name weare thre principall places: One in Aegypt (by the patern wherof the other weare made) deſcribed by Herodotus (who writeth that he ſawe it) ſaynge, that it was aboue the great pole called Myrios, towarde the citie of Crocodiles. Strabo in his xvii. boke calleth the ſaide pole or mere Muris. Herodotus in Euterpe ſaieth, that fyrſt there weare .xii. halles couered, fyre towarde the Northe, and fyre towarde the Southe, all incloſed with one walle. within the walle weare houſes in two diuers ſortes: one ſorte vnder the grounde, an other aboue ground ouer them, euery ſorte being in numbre.3500. The ouermoſt (as he ſaieth) he beheld, the nethermoſte he mought not be ſuffered to ſē: but as he hearde by reporte of them which ſawe it, he wrate. The ouermoſte, whiche he did beholde, excēded all workes of mens handes: for he wente from a halle into parlours, from parlours into chambers, from chambers into other ſolars, and from parlours into other halles. The beame, whiche bare the flores was of ſtone, wroughte with ymagery, euery halle inuironed with pyllers of white ſtone. In the ende of that Labyrinthus ſtandeth a ſtone, large beneathe, and ſmalle on the toppe, called Pyramis, whiche is of length.xl.paces, in the whiche are wroughte greate ymages, and thereat is the entrie vnder grounde to the other Labyrinthus. An other Labyrinthus was in Creta, made by Dedalus, by the commaundement of Minos, for a pryſon: but it was muche leſſe then the other. But by diuers dores, entringes, and iſſuynges out, it deceiued them, whiche came into it. The thirde was in Italy by a towne called Cluſium, made by kynge Porſena: and (as Plinie and Varro wryte) was of ſquare ſtone, the ſydes. 30. fote broade. in height.50. fote. Into the whiche who ſo euer wente, without a clewe or bottome of threde, coulde neuer retourne. On this place ſtode. v. Pyramides or ſteples, one at euery corner, and one in the myddle, euerie of them. 150. fote highe: on the toppes of them great bolles of braſſe, and thereon horſes with wynges, frō whiche dyd hange chaynes, haupnge belles at them, whiche meued with the wynde, rendred a ſharpe ſounde. Alſo vpon the fowre bolles of braſſe ſtode fowre other Pyramides or ſharpe pillers, of an hundred foote highe, & on that which was in the myddle, stoode one sharpe pyllour, whose height Varro durst not rehearse, because it séemed a thinge incredible. All these thinges were made by great kynges, whiche hauynge aboundaunce of treasure, and lackyng learning, dyd set their delite in such vayne ostentation.

Lacæna, A woman of Lacedemonie.

Lacænus, a, um, Of Lacedemonie.

Laccobriga, A citie of Spayne.

Lacedæmon, A noble citie in Gréece, called also Sparta, in the region of Achaia. The countrey is called Laconia.

Lacedæmonius, a, um, Of Lacedemonie.

Lachesis, One of the thrée ladies called Parcæ, whom poetes dyd feygne to haue the rule and continuaunce of mans lyfe.

Laciburgium, A citie in Germanie, called Rostolsium.

Lacinium, An elbowe of lande, liynge betwéene the sea called Adriaticum, and the sea Jonium.

Lacinius, a, um, Of or belongynge to that Promontorie.

Lacippo, A citie in Spayne, called also Lapecia.

Lacon, ônis, A man of Lacedemonie.

Laconia, The countrey where Lacedemonie standeth.

Lacónicus, a, um, Of the countrey Laconia.

Lactucinii, The surname of certayne Romaynes.

Lacus Lemanus, Losan in Péemountayne.

Lacydes, A philosopher of Cyrene.

Ladas, A man, who ranne so swiftely, that on the sande or duste, he lefte no printe of his foote.

Ladon, A ryuer in Arcadie. Also one of Actæons dogges.

Læander, vide Leander.

Lælius, The familiar friende of Scipio Affrican.

Laërtes, A citie in Cilicia.

Laërtes, The sonne of Acrisius, and father of Ulysses.

Laërtiades, Ulysses the sonne of Laertes.

Laërtius, a, um, Of Laërtes.

Laërtius, The name of one, whiche wrate the lyues of philosophers.

Læstrygones, Weare people whiche did eate mans fleshe. Vide Lestrygones.

Lagia, One of the names of the yle of Delos.

Lagyges, People of Sarmatia.

Lagyra, A citie of Chersonesus.

Laïs, A common harlotte in Gréece, who was of suche excellent beautie, and therewith so pleasaunt, that vnto hir out of al Gréece, there came to Corinthus, where she dwelled, men noble & ryche in great numbre, to company with hir. On a time came to hir Demosthenes the greatest oratour of Gréece, and desyred to lye with hir: of whom she asked for one nighte, a thousande Dragmas, whiche amounteth to the rate of our money at this preset time, to xxiij. l. xix. s. x. d. which Demosthenes hearing, departed, saiyng in this wise, I will not repente me at that price, or, I will not bie repentãce so déere. Some write, that she demaũded. 10000. Dragmas, which in our money ryseth to aboue. 200. poundes.

Laius, A kynge of Thebes, and father of Oedipus, whom Oedipus vnwares slue in battayle, and wedded his wyfe, whiche was also Oedipus mother, called Jocasta. Reade after in Oedipus.

Laletania, A countrey in Spayne, the people wherof be called Laletani.

Lambotus, A ryuer in Affrike.

Lambrani, People dwellynge about the ryuer of Lambrus.

Lambrus, A ryuer in Lumbardie, whiche méeteth with the ryuer of Po, called Padus.

Lamia, The surname of a noble Romaine, and also of a famous harlotte.

Lamiæ, Be women, whiche beholdyng children, or geuynge to them gyftes, dooe alter the fourme of them: whiche children be afterwarde called Elfes, or taken with the fayrie. And some suche women will sucke the bloudde from children. They be also those, which be called ladies of the fayry, which doe allure yonge men to company carnally with them: and after that they be consumed in the acte of lecherye, they couete to deuoure them.

Lamirus, The sonne of Hercules and Jole.

Lampetia, The daughter of Phœbus by Neæra, whiche with hir sister Phaethusa, kepte sheepe in Sicilie.

Lampeus, An hyll in Arcadie.

Lampia, A ryuer in Arcadie.

Lampon, The name of an horse. Also of a soothsaier, that vsed to sweare by a goose: whereof grew a prouerbe, Lampon iurat per anserem. Vide Erasmum in Adagiis.

Lampsacius, The sonne of Cilix.

Lampsacium, A towne on the sea side called Hellespontus, in the syde of Asia, where Priâpus was honoured.

Lampsacênus, a, um, Of Lampsacum.

Lamyrus, vide Lamirus.

Langia, A fountayne in Nemæa, a countrey of Arcadie, where the hoste of Argiues was refreshed when they went against Thebes.

Laniuium, or Lanuuium, A citie in Italy, belongynge to the Romaynes.

Lanubium, A citie of the Latines, nowe called Lauinium.

Lanuuium, looke Laniuium.

Laocoon, The sonne of Priamus.

Laodamas, One of the sonnes of kyng Alcinous.

Laodamia, The wyfe of Protesilaus. Also the daughter of Bellerophon, on whom Jupiter begat Sarpedon.

Laodicea, A citie in Syria, at the ryuer Lycus. An other at the mountayne Lybanus.

Laódice, or after some Laodoce, One of Priamus daughters, which was maryed to the sonne of Antenor, kynge of Thrace. An other Laódice, was the daughter of Agamemnon and Clytemnestra.

nestra.

Laódocus, The sonne of Antenor the Troian.

Laómedon, ontis, The father of Priamus.

Laomedontéus, a, um, and Laomedóntius, a, um, Of Laómedon.

Lapethos, A citie in Cypres.

Lapithæ, People of Thessaly, of whom Pirithous was kynge.

Lapitheus, or Lapitheius, a, um, Of the Lapithes.

Lara, vel Larunda, A mayden, whiche shewed to Juno the wanton pastimes of Jupiter with women: for the whiche Jupiter dyd cutte out hir tounge, and commaunded Mercurius to brynge hir to hell: who begot on hir two sonnes, which were called Lares.

Laranda, A citie of Lycaonia.

Larentia, A famous harlot, which because she made the people of Rome hir heyre, they named hir a goddesse, and called hir Flora. Looke Flora.

Lares, Goddes, whiche the Paymyms dyd suppose euery person had belongynge vnto him: they weare also called Penates.

Larina, The name of a famous woman of Italy.

Larine, A fountayne in Attica.

Larise, A citie of Aetolia.

Larinna, A towne of Bœotia.

Larissa, The name of diuers cities: one in Thessalia, whereof Achilles was called Larissæus: an other in Asia, whereof Jupiter was called Larissæus, The thyrde in Italy, an other in Crete.

Larius, A brooke, or a greate poole by the citie of Comum.

Larodii, People of Scythia.

Larua, æ, f.g. and Laruæ, arum, plur. A spirite, which appéereth in the night time. Some call it an hegge, some a goblyn, some a ghoaste, or an elfe.

Larunda, vide Lara.

Laryna, vide Larina.

Lassia, An yle in the sea Aegeum. It was also called Andros.

Lasthenia, A woman, whiche was Platos scholer, commynge alwaye into the schoole in mans apparayle.

Lasus, A man in the tyme of Darius, that wrote fyrst of Musyke.

Lateranus, The name of a Cōsull of Rome, of whose house was made a churche in the citie of Rome, of saincte John, whiche is nowe called Lateranensis.

Latiâlis, le, and Latiaris, re, Of that parte of Italye, whiche was called Latium.

Latinæ, narum, Sacrifices to Jupiter, named of the Latines, who fyrst did ordeyne them.

Latiniensis, se, idem quod Latinus, a, um.

Latînus, a, um, Of the people called the Latines.

Latini, People of Latium, in Italy.

Latinus, ni, The propre name of the father in lawe to Aeneas.

Latium, tii, n. ge, A parte of Italie, betwéene the ryuers of Tyberis and Lyris, wherein standeth the citée of Rome.

Latius, a, um, Of that countrey.

Látmius, a, um, Of Latmus.

Látmus, A mountaine in Jonia, where (as poetes say) the Moone kyssed Endymion. Also a mountayne of Caria.

Latomiæ, or Latumiæ, arum, plur. Was a streicte pryson in the citie of Syracusis in Sicilia: an other in Sparta.

Latôna, The mother of Apollo and Diana.

Latonia, A goddesse, called also Diana.

Latónius, a, um, Of Latóna.

Latonigenæ dii, Apollo and Diana.

Latóus, Apollo.

Lauce, An yle in the sea called Pontus.

Lauerna, A goddesse, vnder whose protection theues were in Rome.

Lauinia, The daughter of kyng Latinus, who was first betrothed to Turnus, and after geuen in maryage to Aeneas, which thinge betwéene the two princes was cause of longe and greatte warre: in the ende wherof, Turnus was ouercome and slayne. Aeneas also within thrée yeres after dyed, leauynge his wyfe Lauinia greatte with childe: who, fearyng hir husbandes sonne Ascanius, fledde away, and in the wooddes soiourned with the shéephearde Tyarheus, and there was deliuered of a sonne, whom she called Julus Syluius Posthum⁹, because after his fathers death he was borne in the wooddes. But after a tyme Ascanius sente for his mother in lawe, and placed hir in the kyngdome, goynge himselfe to a citie that he builded, called Alba Longa.

Lauinium, or Lanubium, A citie in Italy, called also Laurentum.

Laura, Suche a place of pleasure at Samos, as Anco was at Sardis.

Laurēs, tis, or Laurētis, te, Of the citie called Laurentū.

Lauréntia, æ, f.g. The wife of Faustulus, whiche nourished Romulus and Remus, and brought them vp in hir house as hir owne children. Because this woman was a strumpet, and of very yuell lyfe, the shéepheardes of that coast called hir Lupam: Of which name was taken the occasion of that fable, that those founders of the citie of Rome, weare by miracle nourished of a she woulfe, which in latine is also Lupa.

Laurentalia, Certaine feastes dedicate to Laurentia.

Laurentum, vide Lauinium.

Laureum, A place in the countrey of Gréece called Attica.

Lauriō, A place in Attica, where siluer was digged.

Laurolauinium, A citie in Italy by Laurentum.

Lausus, The sonne of Mezentius.

L E

Leæ, An ylande by Cyrenaica, a region of Affrike.

Leæna, A common woman of Athens, who (after Harmodius and Aristogiton hadde slayne Hipparchus the tyranne) beynge tourmented in sundry facions, to the intente she shoulde dis-couer the confederates of that murder, ſpake not one woꝛd, but bytynge in ſunder hir tounge, ſhe ſpitte it in the face of Hippias the tyꝛanne, who cauſed hir to be tourmented.

Leander, A younge man of the citie Abydus in Aſia, on the ſea coaſt of Helleſponte. He was in loue with Ero, a beautifull mayde of the towne Seſtus, on the other ſyde of the ſea, ouer ryght againſt Abydus. This man, whan he had often times vſed in the night to ſwimme ouer the water to his loue Ero, at the laſt, by miſfoꝛtune of the winde ryſinge ſodeinly, the ſea was made troublous, and he dꝛowned. His carkaſſe was caſt vp at Seſtus, which his loue Ero perceiuynge out of a turret, did foꝛ ſoꝛow caſte hirſelfe into the ſea.

Learchus, The ſonne of Athamas and Ino, whō the father beyng mad, ſlewe in the ſtede of an hert.

Lebadia, A citie of Bœotia.

Lebedus, A citie of Jonia.

Lebynthos, One of the yles called Cyclades.

Lectiſternium, A ſolemnitée amonge the Paynyms, whan in the honour of theyꝛ goddes, Jupiter, Juno, and Minerua, beddes weare ſpꝛeadde in the temples, in the which fyꝛſt the ydolles were layed, in the reſidue as many as mought lie and eate.

Lection, One of the toppes of the mountayne called Ida.

Lectrum, A parte of Aſia lyinge into the ſea.

Leda, The wyfe of Tyndarus kynge of Laconia, with whom (as poetes dwe fable) Jupiter in the foꝛme of a ſwanne dyd company, & ſhe bꝛought fꝛthe two egges, of the one came Pollux and Helena, whiche was rauiſhed by Paris: of the other came Caſtoꝛ and Clytemneſtra. Pollux and Caſtoꝛ be called Ledæi.

Legæa, One of the nymphes.

Legerda, A citie in great Armenie.

Legio, ônis, f. g. A towne in Coꝛnwall, now called Leſkard.

Legion, The chiefe citie of Caſtile called Lions.

Leitus, One of the .v. capitaines of Bœotia, that went to Troye.

Leleges, oꝛ Lelegæ, People, which were alway wãdꝛing, & inhabited ſometime in Theſſaly. Some take them foꝛ the Theſſalians.

Lelaps, lélapis, One of Actæons dogges.

Lemânus, A poole into the which the ryuer of Roane renneth, called in frenche Lauſane.

Lemnius, a, um, Of Lemnos.

Lemnos, One of the Iles called Cyclades, wherein Vulcan was nouriſhed. This yle was made famous by the lady Hypſiphyle. Foꝛ the women of Lemnos beyng in a furie, that theyꝛ huſbandes were longe abſente in warres, whan they came home (conſpyꝛing together) ſlue them all in one nighte, excepte Hypſiphyle the kynges daughter, who ſaued & conueighed away hir father Thoas. After whan Jaſon goyng towarde the cõqueſt of the golden fléece, came vnto Lemnos, ſhe beyng in loue with him, conceiued by him two childꝛen twynnes: & whan they weare boꝛne, the womẽ of the coũtrey would haue put hir to death, foꝛ the ſauinge of hir father: but ſhe in fléeyng was taken by pyꝛates, & geuen to Lycurgus king of Nemea, whoſe ſonne Opheltes ſhe nouriſhed. But when the Argiues went to deſtroy Thebes, Hypſiphyle, while ſhe went to ſhew to the Argyues a fountaine, left the childe lyinge on the graſſe, who was ſlayne by a ſerpente. Wherefoꝛe when the father of the childe woulde haue put hir to death, the kinges of the Argyues defended & ſaued hir. Some other wꝛite, that Hypſiphyle (when ſhe perceiued Jaſon dyd not retourne to hir againe, accoꝛding to his pꝛomiſe) thꝛew hirſelfe into the ſea, & was dꝛowned

Lemouices, Lymoſin in Fraunce.

Lémures, mũrum, m. g. plur. Spirites, whiche dooe walke by night with hoꝛrible fygures.

Lemuria, ôrum, ne. gen. plur. Feaſtes dedicate to thoſe ſpirites.

Lenæum, The name of an holyday kept at Athens.

Lenæus, One of the names of Bacchus.

Lentulus, The name of a citizen of Rome.

Leo, A mans name of Byzaunce. Alſo a ſigne in the fyrmament.

Leochares, The name of an excellent grauer.

Leodamas, The pꝛopꝛe name of a philoſopher.

Leon, An other philoſopher.

Leonides, A kynge of the Lacedemonians, whiche did incredible feates of warre againſte Xerxes kynge of Perſia: and finally was ſlayne at the ſtreictes called Thermopylæ, in defẽdyng Grèece, with .4000. Grèekes onely, againſt .x. hundꝛed thouſande of the hoſte of Xerxes. There was alſo an other Leonides, which was tutour to king Alexander, when he was a childe.

Leontini, People of Sicilie.

Leradusa, oꝛ Lopadusa, The yle of Sicilie.

Leprium, A citie of Achaia, an other in Arcadie.

Leptenacra, A pꝛomontoꝛy of Indie.

Leptis, The name of two cities in Affrike the leſſe.

Leria, One of the yles called Sporades: the people thereof are called Lerii, of whoſe maners grewe a pꝛouerbe, Lerii mali.

Lernæus, a, um, Of Lerne, oꝛ Lerna.

Lerne, oꝛ Lerna, A lake oꝛ fenne in Achaia, aboute Argos, in the which was the ſerpẽt Hydꝛa with many heades (as poetes feigne.) In this lake the people of the cities of Argos and Micene, dyd thꝛowe all the oꝛdure and ſwéeppynges of theyꝛ ſtrætes and houſes, wherof came the pꝛouerbe,

* Lerna malorum, Whereby was ſignified an heape of miſchiefes: oꝛ, any perſon, in whom is all vice and abhomination.

Leros, An plande in the ſea called Icarium.

Lertóſa, A citie of Spayne, called now Tortoſa.

Leſbos, An yle in the ſea called Aegeum, wherein was the citie called Mytilene.

Leſbius, a, um, Of the yle of Leſbos.

Leſtorum, A region of Indie.

Leſtrygones,

Leſtrygones, A people in the extréme parte of Italy, in the confines of Campania, which dyd eate the companions of Ulisses, rosting them on broches.

Leſtrygonus, a, um, Of that people.

Lethe, A ryuer of helle, the water whereof as sone as it is dronke, causeth a man to forget al thing that is passed. It is also a ryuer in Affrike.

Letheus, a, um, Of the ryuer Lethe.

Leuca, A promontory or elbowe of lande, nyghe to Corinthus.

Leucadia, An ile by the bosome of the sea called Ambracium.

Leucæthiopes, A people of Affrike.

Leucas, cadis, f.g. A towne in the yle of Leucadia.

Leucaſpis, A Troian, which sailynge with Aeneas towarde Italy, perished in a tempest.

Leucates, A mountaine in Epire. Also an yle, in the which is a temple of Apollo, whereof he is called Leucadius.

Leuce, A towne in the borders of Ionia. Also a little plaude of Pontus, in the sea Mediterraneum.

Leucippus, A philosopher.

Leucogæi, Certayne hilles in Italy by Naples.

Leucola, An yle by Cypres. Also a promontory of Pamphilia.

Leucon, A kynge of Pontus, slayne of his brother Orylochus for aduoutry. Also an husbande man of the same name.

Leucopetra, A promontory of Sicille.

Leucoſia, An yle against Peſtanum, in the sea Tyrrhenum.

Leucoſyria, A countrey, which is now called Cappadocia.

Leucoſyrorum cubitus, A place in Cappadocia.

Leucothea, The goddesse whiche was called Matũta and Aurora.

Leucothoë, The daughter of Orchamus of Babylon, and Eurynoë, whom (beyng gotten with childe by Phœbus) hir father did burie aliue: but Phœbus (as poetes feygne) dyd transfourme hir into a trée, out of the whiche renneth frankincense.

Leuctra, plu. and Leuctrum, or Leuctra, ſing. A towne of Bœotia.

Leuctricus, a, um, Of Leuctra.

Leui, One of the sonnes of Jacob the patriarke.

Leuiathan, A dragon of the sea. It is taken in holy scripture for the diuell.

Leuphana, A citie of Germanie, called commonlie Hanofer.

Leutychides, A kynge of Lacedemonie, ennemie to Demaratus.

Lexouii, or Lexuuii, People in hyghe Fraunce about Burbon.

L J

Lia, One of the wyues of Jacob the patriarke.

Liba, An yle in the Indian sea.

Libanius, The name of a great Rhetoritian, in the tyme of Julianus Apoſtata, which wrate argumentes vpon the orations of Demosthenes.

Libanus, A mountayne betwéne Arabia and Phœnicia, whercin grow very high trées.

Libarnum, or Libarna, A citie in Liguria, called now Lauanium.

Libentina, One of the names of Uenus or Proserpina.

Liber, Liberi, The fynder of wyne, called also Bacchus and Dionyſius.

Liberalia, ôrum, n.g.plu. A solemne or festiuall date, dedicate to Bacchus: the Grékes cal it Dionyſia.

Libethra, A caue, wherein was a well called Libethros, where the Muses beyng conuersant, were therfore called Libéthrides.

Libéthrides, The Muses, or ladies of sciences.

Libethrii, A people of Perſia, vtterly rude and vnlearned.

Libethrus, A mountaine in Macedonia, where the Muses dyd dwell.

Libitina, æ, f.g. A goddes, in whose tẽple were solde all thingz pertetning to sepultures or funerals.

Libo, bonis, The name of a citizen of Rome.

Libora, A citie in Spayne, called sometyme Elbora, now commonly Taleuera.

Liburni, People of the countrey called Liburnia.

Liburnia, A parte of Dalmatia or Slauonie, nowe called Croatia.

Liburnus, a, um, Of Liburnia.

Libya, Was amonge the Grékes, the generall name of all Affrica: Not withstandynge it is of the Romaines taken onely for that parte of Affrica, whiche is from Aegypte to the west Ocean, conteyninge Cyrenaica, Affrica minor, Numidia, and Mauritania. The Spaniardes doe commonly call them all Mores.

Libya interior, Is bounded on the northe with the two countreis called Mauritania, with Affrike the lesse, and Cyrenaica: on the east with Aethiope: on the southe with Aethiope the further: on the weast with the Ocean sea. In this cõtrey are the people called Garamantes and Getulæ.

Libycinus, a, um, of Libya.

Libycis, cidis, A towne of Judæa, on the east part of the ryuer of Jordan.

Libycus, a, um, Of Libya.

Libyophænices, People of Affrica.

Libys, and Libyſſa, A man and woman of Libya.

Libyſſa, A citie of Bithynia, called commonly Polmen, where Anniball dyed.

Libyſtinus, The surname of Apollo.

Lica, Licæ, The name of one of Hercules cõpanõs.

Licambes, A citie of Lacedemonia.

Licianus, A poete in the time of Martiall.

Ligarius, The name of a Romaine.

Liger, Ligeris, m.g. A ryuer in Fraũce called Loire.

Liguria, A parte of Italy, from the hyll called Apœninus, vnto the sea called Tuſcum, also from the ryuer Varus, vnto the ryuer called Macra. In it be the cities Genua, Sauona, Naulum, and Albigena.

Ligus, ligúris, vel Ligur, guris, Of the countrey of Liguria: a Januens: of Janeway.

L 2

Ligiſticum, or after ſome Liguſtinum mare, The ſea that is by Jeane.
Liguſticus, a, um, Of Liguria.
Ligyes, Are people of Aſia, which with Xerxes warred againſt the Grekes.
Ligyſtus, The ſonne of Phaeton, of whom Liguria was named.
Lilybæū, A towne or promontorie in Sicilie, where one of the Sybilles lyeth buryed.
Limioſaſtum, A citie of Germany, called commonly Gniſna.
Limnus, An yle of the eaſt parte of Ireland. Plinie calleth it Silimnus.
Limonum, A towne of Poicters in Fraunce.
Limuici, or Limouices, Limoſin in Poicters.
Lindos, or Lindus, A citie of Rhodes.
Lindum, A citie in Englande, which ſome doe ſuppoſe to be Lincolne, ſome Linne.
Lingones. People of Fraunce, in the countrey called Langres.
Linternum, A towne in Campania, where Scipio Affricanus dyed, and is buryed.
Linternus, a, um, Of Linternum.
Linternus, A ryuer in Campania.
Linus, The moſt auncient poete, a Theban, whom Virgill calleth the ſonne of Apollo, and Urania one of the .ix. Muſes.
Lipara, ræ, fœm. gen. An yle by Grèece.
Liparis, A ryuer in Cilicia.
Liquentia, A ryuer in Lumbardie.
Lirimiris, A citie of Germanie.
Liris, A ryuer in Campayne, by the towne called Minturnæ.
Liſus, A ryuer in Thracia, whiche Herodotus writeth, was dronke vp by the armie that Xerxes kynge of Perſia ledde into Grèece.
Liſſus, A citie of Dalmatia. It is now called Alexium.
Lituania, A countrey whiche is parte of Sarmatia, called Luten, and ioygneth to Polonia on the northe, and is vnder the kynge of Poole.
Livius, The prince of Latine hiſtoriens.
Livius Andronicus, The firſte Latine poete, whiche wrate comœdies or tragedies in Latine, aboute the ſeconde warres of Carthage. Alſo he wrate xvii. bookes of the yerely actes of the Romaines, whiche were called Annales.
Livonia, A parte of Sarmatia, beyond Luten northwarde, hauyng on the weſt, the ſea called Germanicum.
Lixos, A towne and ryuer of Mauritania in Affrike.
Lixus, Idem quod Lixos.

L O

Loceritum, A citie of Germany, called now Trutonia, commonly Forchein.
Locris, cridos, A countrey in Grèece, nère vnto Phocis.
Locrenſes, and Locri, People of Locris. There is alſo a citie of the Bruttians ſo named.
Locrus, A citie in the vttermoſte parte of Italye, whiche was named Magna Græcia.
Londinum, The noble citie of London. Eraſmus vpon the prouerbe Rhodii ſacrificium, writeth, that Londinum is deducted of Lindus, a citie of Rhodes, which Stephanus calleth Lindonium.
Longa Alba, A citie in Italie, builded by Aſcanius the ſonne of Aeneas.
Longobardi, Lumbardes.
Longobardia, A region called Lumbardie, which is from the mountaynes Alpes vnto the ryuer of Rubicon. It is alſo called Gallia Ciſalpina, Citerior Gallia, and Gallia Togata.
Lotaringia, A countrey beyonde Pycardie and Normandie.
Lothoringia, A countrey called Lozaine.
Lotophagi, People in Affrike, whiche doe lyue by eatynge onely the fruite of a trée called Lotos.
Lotos, or Lotis, lotidis, A nymphe, the daughter of Neptune, whiche fleynge from Priapus, was tourned into a trée of that name.
Loxa, A ryuer in Englande called Firth.
Loxias, One of the names of Apollo.

L V

Luca, A citie in Italy, of whiche the inhabitauntes are called Lucenſes.
Lucani, People of the countrey of Lucania.
Lucania, A countrey belongynge to the realme of Naples, betwéene Puel and Calaber.
Lucanus, A famous poete, whiche wrote the battaile betwéene Cæſar and Pompei.
Lucentia, A citie of Spayne.
Lucentum, A citie of Spayne called Suſana.
Luceres, The thirde parte of the people of Rome, diſtributed by Tatius and Romulus.
Luceria, A citie of Apulia.
Lucerus, A kynge of Ardea, whiche holpe Romulus againſt Tatius.
Lucetia, One of the names of Juno.
Lucetius, A name of Jupiter.
Luciſius, The name of an olde poete.
Lucina, One of the names of Juno and Diana, called the goddeſſe of byrthe.
Lucinia, Idem quod Lucina.
Lucius, A mans name.
Lucomones, The Tuſcians.
Lucretia, A noble woman of Rome, wyfe to Tarquinius Collatinus, and a ſinguler paterne of chaſtitée, both to hir tyme, and to all ages folowinge: whom Sextus Tarquinius, when by fayre meanes he coulde not obteyne, by force & violence did rauiſh. For beynge entertayned for kinreds ſake in hir houſe, he brake into hir chãber, & with his ſworde drawen, menaced preſent death, oneleſſe ſhe would condeſcende vnto his pleaſure, addinge moreouer, that he woulde kill one of hir ſeruauntes, & lay him in bed with hir, and ſo ſpreade abroade that he toke them in aduoutry & ſlue them. For feare of which ſhamefull reproch & infamie, rather then for dreadde of death, as after appéered, ſhe ſuffered the violence of the wycked aduouterer. But, the the nexte day she sente for hir husbande, that was absent, and the residue of hir kinsfolke and frendes, and in the presence of them all, pytyfully burstynge out in wæpynge, declareth the cruell villany of the tyranne: desyrynge them earnestly to sæke reuengement of the same, and therewithall pulleth out a knyfe, that for that purpose she had hydde vnder hir clothes, and strake hirselfe vnto the herte: affyrmynge that the example of Lucrece shoulde neuer be a cloke for light women to excuse the vnfaithfull breach of wedlocke. Wyth indignation of this horible acte, hir father and kinsfolke beynge moued, raysed the people, and expelled both the proude kyng Tarquine and his whole stocke out of the citie for euer.

Lucretilis, An hyll in the countrey of the Sabines.

Lucretius, A Latine poete.

Lucrinum, A towne of Apulia.

Lucrinus, A mære or great water in Campania.

Luctatius Catulus, A citizen of Rome.

Lucullus, A famous and noble man of Rome, in ryches, learnynge, and martyall prowesse very excellente. Beynge Questor he dyd set forth excedynge sumptuous games and syghtes vnto the people. In his Prætourshyppe, he gouerned Affrike with great iustice, whē he was sent as capitaine against Mithridates into Asia, he deliuered his cpōaniō in office Cotta, ẏ was besieged in Chalcedon: he rescued the citie Cyzicon, beynge in muche daunger: he ouerthrewe Mithridates in a great battayle, and draue him out of his kyngdome: he discomfyted him the seconde tyme, when he was ayded of the mightie prince kynge Tigranes of Armenia, and woulde cleane haue fynished that warre, hadde not the fame of his couetousnesse caused him to be sente for home by the Senate. After his retourne out of Asia, he gaue himselfe all together to sumptuous and sensuall lyfe. For in his voyage agaynst Mithridates, he gat so great ryches and treasure, that he was not hable to waste the same in moste sumptuous buyldinges of gorgeous houses, lybraries, galleries, and walkes, in makynge of fyshe pondes, gardeines and other deuyses of pleasure, in so straunge facion and maner, as neuer before his tyme was sēne: whereas dayly also he vsed suche outragious fare, in feastynge and bankettynge, that his deliciousnesse and sensualitē is growen to a prouerbe. In the ende he, beynge altered in his wittes, was committed to the tuition of his brother Mar. Lucullus.

Lucumo, A mans name, of whom the Tuscians were called Lucumedi, and Lucumones.

Lucus, A citie in Spayne by Compostella, which is nowe called Lucensis. Also a promontorye of Hetruria, called commonly Petra sancta.

Lucus Augusti, A citie in Spayne called Osuca.

Lucutinum, Powes landes in Wales.

Lugdunum, ni, neut. gener. A citie in Fraunce called Lions.

Lugdunensis Gallia, The thyrde parte of Fraunce, called nowe the countrey of Lions. It hath on the north, the Englysh sea: on the weast partly the Ocean, partely the countrey Guyan: on the east, the ryuer Seyne: on the South, Narbon.

Lugodinum, called also Traiectum, A citie in Hollāde named Utriche.

Luna, A towne of the Ligurians. Also a promontory in Portugall.

Lunarium, A promontorie called nowe Mons Jouis, Scbalæ Annibalis, and Mouini.

Lupercal, A place at the foote of the mounte Palatine, dedicated to Pan the shēpeheardes god, in whiche certaine sacrifices and games weare solemnised yerely in February. In these sacrifices, Pans prestes and ministers, called Luperci, ranne vp and downe the streates of the citie naked, strikynge the heades and bealies of women with a goates skynne. By which ceremonie, they weare perswaded that barraine women were made fertyle. This maner is thought firste to haue bene ordeined by Euander comynge into Italy, to the honour of the rustical god Pan, whom the people of Arcadie in lyke maner dwe worshippe.

Lupercalia, The sacrifices and plaies made to Pan.

Luperci, Ministers of that solemnitē.

Lupfurdum, A citie in Germanie called now Misna, vulgarly Meissen.

Lupia, A ryuer in Germanie called Necchanum.

Lusitania, The realme called Portugall.

Lusius, A ryuer of Arcadie.

Luspiæ, A [illegible] of Calaber called commonly Leccio Lezo.

Lutetia, The citie of Paris in Fraunce.

L Y

Lyæus, One of the names of Bacchus, called god of wynes.

Lyæus, a, um, Of Bacchus.

Lycæum, loke Lyceum.

Lycæus, A mountayne of Arcadie dedicated to Iupiter. In that was also an aultar erected to Iupiter, on the which when Lycaon the sonne of Pelasgus did sacrifice a childe, he was for the same cruelte tourned into a woulfe.

Lycambes, A Thebane, whom Archilocus ratynge with verses, caused to hange himselfe.

Lycaon, onis, A king of Arcadie, and sonne of Pelasgus, of whom Ouide writeth thus: Iupiter, after he had heard great complainte of the wickednes of mānynde, came downe into the worlde to vnderstāde whether it were true or no. Whē he came to Arcadie to kyng Lycaons palayce, & there had geuē by myracle some tokē of his godhead, the people came in to worshyp him, & to do sacrifice vnto him. But Lycaon derided their curiositē & said, that the same night he wolde vnderstand, whether he entertayned a god or a man. Wherefore priuily in the night he came into the chamber, and wouldè haue murdered him. But when he ſawe his wicked attempte toke no place, he aſſaied an other way. The nexte day he kylled yonge gentlemen of the Moloſſians, that were with him as pledges, and ſerued the fleſhe of one of them to Iupiter ſyttynge at the table, to trye whether he weare a god or no. He therefore deteſtinge that horrible and wicked acte, with lightnynge fyred the tyrannes palaice, & tourned himſelfe into a woulfe.

Lycaones, People of Aſia the leſſe, nère to Lycia, as wryteth Ptolome.

Lycaonia, A countrey in Aſia. After ſome writers, it is a parte of Arcadia.

Lycaſte, One of the daughters of Priamus.

Lycaſtos, A citie of Candie.

Lyceum, Ariſtotles ſchole in Athens. Alſo a ſchole of Ciceros in his place at Tuſculum.

Lyceus, vide Lycæus.

Lychas, Hercules ſeruaunte.

Lycia, A countrey in Aſia the leſſe, betwéene Pamphilia and Caria, in the whiche are two great cities, Patara, and Myra. Sometyme there were 70. cities.

Lycidas, The name of a Centaure, and of a ſhéepehearde in Virgile.

Lycimnius, The brother of Aſtiochia.

Lyciſcus, A boyes name in Horace.

Lycium, Idem quod Lyceum.

Lycius, One of the names of Apollo.

Lycophron, A grammarian and wryter of Tragedies of Chalcedonie.

Lycopolis, A citie of Aegypte.

Lycorias, The name of a nymphe.

Lycormas, A ryuer rennynge out of Aetolia.

Lyctonia, A citie of Crete.

Lyctus, A citie of Crete, named of Lyctus the ſon of Lycaon.

Lycurgus, A noble man of Sparta, ſonne of Polydecta, and brother to Eumonus kynge of Lacedemon, whom he ſuccéeded in the kyngedome, not knowyng that he left his wyfe with childe. whiche thinge ſo ſone as Lycurgus underſtode, he lefte the name of a kyng, and called himſelfe gouernour or protectour. When the yong prince came to age, he faithfully reſtored the kyngedome to him. But in the meane tyme, perceyuynge the citie to be in yll fourme of gouernmente, he deuyſed newe and holſome lawes, whiche, when by the oracle of Apollo he had learned to be very profytable, he publyſhed the ſame. And after he had well inured the Lacedemonians to the obedience of them, keypynge that he had a tourney to Delphos, he cauſed all the people to ſweare that they ſhould faythfully obey and kéepe thoſe lawes vntyll ſuche tyme as he returned. Goynge therefore to Delphos, when the oracle had ſignified, that Lacedemon ſhoulde flowryſhe ſo longe as it kepte his lawes, he determined neuer to returne into his countrey, but euer after lyued in banyſhmente, and at his death commaunded his aſhes to be caſte into the ſea, that the Lacedemonians, by procurynge to haue them, mighte not thinke themſelues diſcharged of the othe, that they hadde taken, but perpetually ſhoulde be bounde to the kéepynge of thoſe lawes, whiche he had deuiſed.

Lycus, A ryuer in the countrey of Cæſarea. Alſo the name of diuers men.

Lydda, A citie of Judea, called Rhama.

Lydia, A countrey in Aſia, on the eaſt ſoyngnyng to Phrygia: on the northe to Myſia: on the ſouth vpon parte of Caria. In this region is the hylle called Tmolus, out of the whiche commeth the ryche ryuer called Pactólus. Reade of them in their owne places.

* Lydi mali, poſt hos Aegyptii, A prouerbe applyed where two euell perſonnes be compared together, and the one beynge founde verye vngracious, the other deſerueth the leſſe diſpraiſe.

Lydus, Lyda, Lydum, & Lydius, a, um, Of Lydia.

Lydus, The ſonne of Hercules. An other the ſonne of Atys, and brother of Tyrrhenus, of whom Lydia was named. An other Lydus was the ſonne of Giges.

Lygdamum, The name of a towne.

Lygdamus, A Sicilian of the citie of Syracuſis, a puiſſante wreſtlar, whoſe bones after his death were founde to haue no marowe.

Lymira, A ryuer and a citie of Lycia.

Lynceſtius, a, um, Of the water of Lynceſtus.

Lynceſtus, A water, whiche maketh men drunke lyke wyne.

Lynceus, diſſyllabum. A man, who (as Varro wryteth) coulde ſée ſhippes on the ſea, an hundred and thyrtie myles from him, and dyd numbre them. Some wryte, that he coulde ſée thorough a walle: and therefore, they that haue verye ſharpe ſyghtes, be ſayde to haue Lynceos oculos, the eyes of Lynceus.

Lynceus, A mannes name, that fyrſte founde out the metall mynes of braſſe, ſyluer, and golde.

Lyncus, A kyng of Scythia.

Lyndus, A citie in the yle of Rhodes, where they dyd ſacrifyce to Hercules with reproches and curſes.

Lyris, An ryuer of Campayne.

Lyrneſſus, One of the citie of Troy.

Lyrſeus, A well, out of the whiche iſſueth the ryuer of Inachus.

Lyſander, A kynge of Lacedemonia, Whan it was layed to him for a reproche, that he dyd more by ſubtyltie, then by proweſſe: He did aunſwere in this wyſe: Where the lyons ſkynne doeth not auayle, a man muſte ſowe or tye a fores ſkinne vnto it. Not withſtandynge that practiſe is ſeldome commended in any noble man. But this Lyſander was alway of that opinion that he eſtemed truth and plaine dealing no longer than it ſtoode with his commoditie.

And therfore he confeſſed that truthe was better than lyng, but that the wourthyneſſe of thē both was to be meaſured by profitte. When it was layde to his charge that he had broken the league that in Miletus he was ſworne vnto, Tuſhe (ſayeth he) as chyldren are to be trayned and deceiued with apples and trifles, ſo are mē to be beguyled with othes.

Lyſanias, An oratour of Grēce.

Lyſiades, A philoſopher of Athens.

Lyſias, An oratour moſt pleaſaunt, of whom Quintilian ſpeaketh.

Lyſicrates, A man whiche in his olde age dyed his whyte heares blacke, that he might ſēme yong.

Lyſimachia, A citie in Helleſponte, whiche fel down with an earthquake.

Lyſimachus, Agathocles ſonne, one of the capitaines of king Alexāder: who as he was of noble ſtock, ſo was he in vertue more famous and noble. He ſo excellently loued learnynge & thoſe that were the profeſſours of the ſame, that, when Calliſthenes was cruelly impriſoned by Alexander, he oftentymes reſorted to hym, and hearde hym diſpute of vertue and learning: and, at the requeſte of the philoſopher, brought to him a poyſoned cuppe to ende his lyfe rather than to abide the miſerie that he ſuſtained in the ſtynkynge dungeon. Whiche thinge, when Alexander dyd vnderſtande, he toke it ſo greuouſly, that he cauſed Lyſimachus to be caſt without weapon to be deuoured of a lyon. But he, as a valiaunt and ſtoute gentilman, ſoldyng his cloke together about his arme, thruſt his hande into the lyons mouthe, and ſo kylled him. For whiche acte he was after more eſtemed of Alexander then euer he was before, and therefore aduaunſed to great honour.

Lyſippe, One of the daughters of Prœtus kynge of Argyues.

Lyſippus, An excellent karuer.

Lyſiſtratus, The brother of Lyſippus.

Lyſius, A ryuer of Arcadie, called alſo Luſius.

Lyus, A ryuer of the leſſe Aſia.

M A

MAcæ, People of Arabia fœlix.

Macareus, The ſonne of Aeolus, whiche begat a chylde on his owne ſyſter Canace, & for feare of his fathers diſpleaſure, fledde his countrey & went to Delphos, where he became Apollos prieſte, Vide Canace.

Macaria, The daughter of Hercules. Alſo a fenne or marriſe in Marathon.

Macerius, The name of a man, in Latine it ſignifieth bleſſed.

Macedo, onis, A man or woman of Macedonie. Alſo the ſonne of Dlyris, of whome Macedonie was named.

Macedonia, æ, fœ. gen. A royalme in Grēce, firſte called Aemathia. On the north, it boundeth (as Ptholomeus wryteth) vpon the ſydes of Dalmatia, Myſia ſuperior, & Thracia: On the weſte, it ſtretcheth to the ſea Ionium. Plus deſcribeth it to ſoygne ſouth and weſte to Thracia, and that the ſouth ſide lyeth on the backes of Theſſalia and Magnetia: the north on Pæonia and Paphlagonia. That it hath alſo on the ſouthe Epirus: on the north Illyria: whiche varieth not much frō Solinus, who ſayeth, that it is diuided from Thracia with the ryuer Strimon. It is now vnder the Turke.

Macedónicus, ca, cum, and Macedonius, of Macedonie.

Macer Aemeſius, An olde poete, whiche was in Ouides tyme, who (as he ſaieth) wrate of birdes in verſes. Alſo of the vertue of herbes. But it was not that Macer, whoſe warkes we nowe haue, of the vertue of Herbes, but rather he, whome the yōger Plinie prouoked to wryte ſome thing lyke vnto his vncle. Finally, that little booke of herbes, is right profitable in diuers places to be conned by herte of a ponge ſcholar, which deliteth in that matter. Not withſtanding the firſt Macer, wrate more eloquently, and is commēded therfore of Quintilian. He wrate alſo of the battayle of Troie, and of venemous beaſtes.

Machabæus, The firſte of that name was Judas, the thirde ſonne of Mathathias the Iewe, a valiaunt man in his faythe, and of an inuincible courage. In ſo muche, that with three thouſande men, he vanquiſhed Lyſias, the lieutenaunt of kyng Antiochus, and his ſonne, and with thē fourty thouſande footemen, and ſeuen thouſand horſemen, and ſlew of them. 5000. Afterward in Galilæa, he ſlewe of the hoſte of Timotheus (an other of the kinges captaines) firſt. 3000. and afwarde. 8000. After that by a village called Adaſis, he with a thouſand fought with Nicanor, a capitayne of king Demetrius, and nyne thouſand with him. At the whiche battayle, Nicanor was ſlayne, and of the nyne thouſande almoſte none eſcaped. Finally, to muche truſtyng to his proſperitie in warres, in goynge againſt Bacchis (a capitaine of kyng Demetrius, who had a great hoſte) and takynge with hym but twoo thouſande, of the whiche at the laſte remayned with him but onely. viij. hundred: he fought till it was nyght, and made a wounderfull ſlaughter of enemies. But whyles he inforced himſelfe to come to Bacchis, the which was on the right wynge of the battayle, he fought ſo nobly, that he ſcattered that wynge, ſlayng many aboute hym. Finally, beynge enuyroned with the lefte wynge, and ſtryken with many woundes, was ſlayne with muche difficultie. Afore the incarnation of Chriſte about. 305. yeres.

Machaon, The ſonne of Aeſculapius, an excellent ſurgion.

Macidos, A citie of Thrace.

Macomacha, The name of a citie.

Macra, A ryuer, which renneth betwēne the moūkaynes of Liguria.

Macrobii, People in Afrike, the whiche of Pomponius be also called Meroëni. Their countrey is inuironned with the ryuer of Nilus, lyke an ylande. They lyue halfe as much longer as men dooe here, and be fayre and goodly personages, reuerende, and louers of vertue. There is more golde than in Persia, and therefore that whiche is lesse precious, they dooe more esteme, decking themselues with ornamentes of copper & bralle, and makyng gines of golde. They dooe liue cõmonly a hundred and twenty yeares, and dooe washe theimselues in a fountaine whiche causeth their bodies to smelle like violettes.

Macrobius, The name of a great learned man.

Macrocemnii, Mountaynes by the ryuer of Ister.

Macrocephali, People by Bosphorus.

Macyberna, A citie of Sithonia.

Madagastar, An yle beyonde the furtheste parte of Aethiope, on the south part, founde by the Portugalles, in the tyme of Emanuell king of Portugall. This yle is in circuitie. 4000. myles, and is very ryche. Therin be great olyphantes, lyons, panthers, and suche other beastes. The inhabitauntes be of Mahometes secte.

Madaurense, A citie in Afrike.

Madian, A citie beionde Arabia, on the south part, in the deserte of the Sarasins, against the east parte of the redde sea.

Mæander, A riuer of the coũtrey of Phrygia. Erasmus saith of Lydia: which hath many turnings and wyndynges. And hereof all crooked and subtylle tournyng wayes, meanes and diuises be called Mæandri. There is also of that name a mountaine in India.

*Mæandri more, Crookedly: wyndinge in and out: subtylly.

Mædia, A citie in the roialme of Thracia.

Mæmacterion, The moneth of September.

Mænades, furiouse women, which serued in the sacrifice of Bacchus.

Mænala, neut. g. plu. Or after some, Mænalum, sing. an hygh mountayne in Arcadie.

Mænalius, For Arcadicus: as,

Mænalius aper, A boze of Arcadia.

Mænalius, a, um, Of the mountayne Mænala.

Mænapii, Gellars, or people of Gellarlande. Also Cleues.

Mænoles, One of the names of Bacchus.

Mæonia, A countrey in Asia the lesse, called also Lydia.

Mæónius, a, um, Of Mæonia. Homer the excellent poete was called Mæonius, either because he was borne in that countrey, or els that his fathers name was Mæon.

Mæonidæ, Men of Lydia.

Mæonis, A woman of Lydia.

Mæotæ, A people of Scythia.

Mæôtis, ôtidis, or tidos, A great meere in the countrey of Scythia, whiche is alwayes frosen.

Mæotidis paludes, Fennes, wherevnto the sayd ryuer or mære renneth.

Magi, Among the Chaldees and Persians, were men of excellent knowledge in philosophie naturall and mathematicall, and knewe the hydde vertues and operations of thynges. The sonnes of the kynges of Persia, were taught by theim to gouerne and minister their publique weale, accordyng to the fourme of the vniuersall order and gouernaunce of the celestiall worlde. Suche were Magi, or ỹ thre kinges that sought Christ, and offered to him golde, myrre, and frankincense, adaptynge their present vnto the double nature of hym, vnto whom they gaue it, who was both God and man, kynge and prieste.

Magna Græcia, The parte of Italy from Laurentum to Cumæ.

Magnata, A citie of Irelande.

Magnes, A poete of Athens.

Magnesia, A parte of Macedonie.

Magnessa, Hyppolite the wyfe of Acastus kyng of Magnesia.

Magnetes, tum, Head officers amonge the Macedonians.

Magnetes, or Magnesii, People of Magnessa.

Magnus portus, The hauen called Portismouth in Englande.

Mago, The name of dyuers men: wherof one was Annibals brother.

Magog, The sonne of Japhet.

Mahumethes, or Mahumetha, Was borne in Arabia, (as the more parte dooe write) of a poore house or familie, and fyrste was a byar and seller of Camels. Afterwarde he fell acquainted with a munke called Sergius, whiche was an heretyke, by whose meanes he declared hymselfe to bee a prophete, and tooke on him to reformme as well the olde lawe as the newe, and made other lawes, the whiche for their pleasauntnesse, allured vnto theim muche people: So, gatherynge vnto hym a great hoste, fyrst he wasted Syria, and wan Damascus the chiefe citie therof. And hauyng in his ayde the Arabians called Scenitæ, a valiaunt people (who had displeasure agaynst the Emperour Heraclius, because he paied them not their wages) he wan other great royalmes, and at the age of fourty yeres, dyed (as some doe suppose) of the fallyng sickneste, whiche he long tyme did dissemble, feygninge, that the angell Gabriell was than sent vnto hym in message, whose brightnesse he myght not sustayne. He was buried at Medina, thre daies iourney from the redde sea, an hundred myles from Mecha, where is now the chiefe temple of his lawe. He was after the incarnation of Christe, fire hundred yeres.

Maia, The mother of Mercurius. Also one of the sterres called Pleiades.

Malaca, A towne in Spayne.

Malchus, An historiographer.

Malea, A promontorie or hylle lyinge into the sea by Laconia, whiche is daungerous for shyppes to passe to passe by.

Malauentum, i, neut. gen. A citie in Campania called nowe Beneuentum.

Malcus, A mounteyne in Indie.

Malicca, A citie in Spayne called nowe Malgrado.

Maliacum mare, The sea about Thessaly.

Maliea, A citie in Thessaly.

Malimnus, An hylle of Sicilie.

Mallos, A citie of Cilicia.

Maluanscus, Reade in Althea.

Mamercus, A byshop of Vienna, whiche first ordeined the rogatiō or processiō wæke. 444. yeres after Christe.

Mamers. In the Osce tongue, the name of Mars.

Mamertes, A certayne man of Corinthe.

Mamertini, People in Campania.

Mamurius, A notable smith or engrauer in the time of Numa.

Mamurra, A certayne gentlemau of Rome.

Manalis lapis, Is sayde to be a doore of helle, by the whiche soules ascende to heauen. Also a stone by the temple of Mars, which whan the Romains in a drought brought into the citie, there folowed alwaye rayne.

Manapia, A towne in Irelande called Waterford.

Mandane, Astyages daughter, mother to kynge Cyrus.

Mandanis, A famous philosopher or wyse man of India, to whome Alexander sent messengers, wylling him to come to the feaste of Iupiters sonne, meanyng hymselfe: declaringe also if he obeyed and came to hym, that he shoulde haue great rewardes, if he would not, that he should be put to death. But the philosopher stoutly answered, that he neither was Iupiters sonne, nor yet lorde of any great part of the earth. As for the giftes and rewardes of hym, that was himselfe vnsatiable, he saied he passed nothyng at all, and yet his threttes and manasinges he muche lesse regarded. For if he lyued, his owne countrey could bryng out thynges enough to furnish his life, so that he should neede nothynge, and as for death, he sayd he did not onely nothing feare it, but exceading muche desire it, whiche he was assured should deliuer him from his olde wethered carkesse, and brynge hun to a life farre more blissefull and happie.

Mandela, A byllage of the Sabynes.

Mandonius, A Spanishe capitaine.

Madrabulus, A man that founde a great treasure: on whom goeth a prouerbe.

Mandro, A poore shypman, whiche through prosperous fortune, grewe at length to bee a great capitayne.

Manes, An heretyke, whiche affirmed hymselfe sometyme to be lyke Christe, sometime to be the comforter that was promised to come.

Manethus Mendes, A priest of Aegipt.

Mania, A citie of Persia.

Mania, Was also amonge the gentils a goddesse, called the mother of theim whiche weare called Lares, or Larue, vnto the whiche goddesse they vsed a whyle to offer mens heades in sacrifice. But after by meanes of Iunius Brutus, which was Consull, they chaunged that sacrifice into garlyke heades, and the knoppes of popies.

Manichæi, A sect of heretikes, so named of an archheretyke called Manes.

Manilii, Men of a noble house amonge the Romaynes.

Maniolæ, Iles against Indie, beyonde the ryuer of Ganges, where as be rockes of Adamant stones, which doue drawe vnto theim shyppes that haue yron nayles.

Manius, The name of certayne Romaynes.

Manliana, A citie of Portugall, an other of Tuscane.

Manlius, The name of diuers noble Romaines, but especially one, whiche of the preseruynge of the Capitoll from the Galles was surnamed Capitolinus. Who before he was. xxy. yeres olde, had taken harneys and spoyle from twoo enemies in battayle: firste of all the horsemen of Rome he deserued a garlande for wynnynge the walles of a citie besieged. Sixe times he deserued an holy garlande for reskewyng and sauyng the lyfe of other citizens in battayle. Seuen and thyrty tymes he was rewarded by his capitaine with extraordinarie giftes for his other valiaūt actes: He had taken. xxxiy. woundes in the fore part of his bodie. He reskewed Pub. Seruilius, marshall of the fielde, and valiauntly fighting to saue hym, was wounded both on the shoulder and on the thyghe. In fine he preserued and kept the Capitoll and estate of the Romayne citie from the Galles. But at the same tyme beyng thought to attempte a kyngdome among the Romaynes, he was cast headlong downe from the walles of the same castell or Capitoll, that by his stoute manhoode he had defended.

Mannus, The sonne of Teuton, of whome the Almaynes descended.

Mantinea, A citie in Grēce.

Mantius, The sonne of Melampus.

Manto, The daughter of Tiresias the Theban prophet, of whom the citie Mantua receiued hir name.

Mantua, A noble citie in Lumbardie, where Vergill the excellent poete was borne.

Mantuanus, a, um, Of Mantua.

Mapeta, A citie of Sarmatia, called commonly Copa.

Marathon, A towne and a fielde in the countrey of Athens, distaunt from thence. x. myles, where Theseus slewe a terryble bull, and Miltiades vanquished the Persians.

Marathusa, An yle, wherein is aboundaunce of fenell, and is also called Clazomenia.

Marcella, A womans name.

Marcellus, A proper name of diuers Romaynes, of whom one was fiue tymes Consull.

Marchia, A countrey in base Germany.

Marchlas, or Marclylas, A notable robber in the wodde Dodonæa.

Marcomani, or Marcommanni, People in Germany, whiche are nowe supposed to be either of Bohe-me, or of Morauia.

Mardi, A people adioyning to Persia.

Mardonius, One of Xerxes capitaynes.

Mare Mediterraneum, The sea, whiche commeth from the weste occean, and entreth by the stret-ctes of Marrocke, and passeth betwene Spaine and Barbarie, diuidinge Europa from Afrike, and entreth into Asia, takinge not withstanding diuers particular names: as Balearicum, Ligusti-cum, Tirrhenum, Carpathium, Aegeum, &c.

Mare rubrum, The redde sea, betwæne Aegypte and Palestine.

Mareotis, ótidis, A pole or mere in Aegipte. Also a parte of Lybia, and a parte of Epirus.

Margea, A certayne fountayne.

Margiana, A region in Asia.

Margites, The name of a very fole, after whom al notable foles be so called.

Margus, A ryuer in Asia.

Maria, æ, fœ. gen. A proper name.

Mariaba, The chiefe citie in Saba.

Mariandini, People of Bithynia.

Mariandinum, A countrey in Asia, where Hercules ouercame Cerberus.

Marianus, A hylle in Spayne.

Marica, A certayne goddesse.

Maridunum, The towne of Caier Marthen in Wales.

Marionus, Luxemburgh in Almayne.

Maris, A ryuer rennyng into Ister.

Marius, A valiaunt man, descended of a poore stock in the citie Arpinas, and many yeres lyued an harde lyfe in the countrey. At the last comming to Rome, and geuing hymselfe to warrefare, he behaued hymselfe so valiauntly, that after other offices he ascended to be Consull, and ouercom-ming Jugurth, brought him captiue in triumphe before his chariot: and thereby inflred and plan-ted in the Romaynes hertes such opinion of his nobleneſſe & mãhodde, that for feare of the great tempeſte and trouble that was towarde of the fierse people called Cimbrians, he was chosen Consull fiue yeres together. Being Consull the firte tyme, he ouercame and vtterly vãquished the same people, and with great glorie triump-phed for it. He was afterwarde in a ciuille bat-tayle ouercomme by Sylla, and in the flyght hy-ding himselfe among the flagges in a ditch, was drawen out and cast in prylon. At whiche tyme, when a stoute and sterne Frencheman was sent into the prylon to cut of his head, with the ma-iestie of his countenaunce he did so feare hym, that he could not doe it, but rather holpe hym to scape out of prylon. Wherefore he toke a little boate, and sayling into Afrike, there prluily kept himselfe a long tyme. Afterwarde, being called home by Cinna, he was chosen the seuenth time Consull, and therein died, or as some write, kil-led himselfe. This man, hauinge the disease of swollen vaines with melancholie bloudde in the legges called Varices, helde one of his legges to the surgeaunt (as the maner of the cure is) to cut out those vaynes: and in the meane tyme neuer did either knitte the browes, or shewe any toke that he felte griefe thereat. But when the sur-geant would in lyke maner haue vsed the other legge, nay sir, saieth he, the curing of the disease is not worth so muche payne as a man must a-byde for it.

Marmarica, A coũtrey in Afrike, betwæne Cyrene, Libya, and Aegypte, hauinge on the northe, the Aegiptian sea.

Marmaridæ, People of Afrike, marcheyng to Ae-gypte.

Maro, ronis, The name of the moste excellent poete Uergyll.

Maronia, A citie of the Ciconians, where is verey good wyne, and (after some) so stronge, that if twenty tymes so muche water be put to, it kee-peth his strengthe styll.

Maronæus, a, um, Of Maronia.

Marpesius, An hylle in the yle called Parus.

Marpesius, a, um, Of the same hylle.

Marpissa, The daughter of Euenus, and wyfe of Idas.

Marrucini, People in Italie.

Mars, God of battayle, and onely Junos sonne without companie of hir husbande. For when Juno was greatly displeased with hirselfe, that Jupiter by stryking of his head, without compa-nie of woman did bryngc forth Minerua, she went towarde Oceanus to learne howe she also myght be delyuered of a childe without company of man. In the waye beyng very weary, she sat downe at the gate of the goddesse Flora, wife of Zephyrus, who asked hir the cause why she wẽt to Oceanus. Whiche when Juno had declared, she sayed that in the fieldes of Olenius was a flower, which if she did touche, she should forth-with conceiue without companie of man. Juno prouynge that, conceiued and brought forthe a sonne, whiche she called Mars. To him was the dominion of warre and battayle committed.

Marticola, A worshypper of Mars.

Martigenus, a, um, Come of the kynde of Mars.

Marsi, People in Scythia.

Marspiter, The father of Mars.

Marsia, A countrey in Italy. It is also a riuer ren-nyng by Apamea.

Marsus, and Marsicus, a, um, Of Marsia.

Marsyas, The name of a famous historiographer, and of certayn other men. Also a ryuer of Phry-gia, named of one Marsyas a minstrell.

Martia, Catos yonger daughter.

Martia, æ, fœ. ge, A water in Rome, very holsome and excellent.

Martiâlis, le, Borne vnder the planet of Mars.

Martiâlis, mas. gen. The name of a poet, who wrote Epi-

Epigrammes.

Martiānus, a, um, Of Mars.

Martius, The name of diuers Romaynes.

Martius Ancus, The fourth kyng of Rome, in religion and iuſtice very famous. He ſubdued the Latines, added the mountes Martius, and Auentinus to the compaſſe of the citie, builded walles rounde about Rome, gaue certayne wooddes to the maintenaunce of the nauie, apointed a tribute to be payed of ſalte pittes, and firſt ordeined a pryſon in the citie for punyſhmēt of offenders.

Martius, a, um, Perteyning to Mars.

Martius Cāpus, A fielde at Rome dedicate to Mars, where the yong men of Rome did exerciſe themſelfe. Alſo there were their aſſembles, for the election of their great officers.

Martius Menſis, The moneth of Marche.

Marullus, The name of a Romayne, ennemy to Cæſar. Alſo of a poete, and of a grammarian.

Maſalia, A ryuer of Creta.

Maſdoranus, A mountayne, whiche diuideth Parthia from Armenia.

Maſiniſſa, Loke Maßiniſſa.

Maſſa, æ, maſ. gen. A ryuer in Libya.

Maſſagetæ, A people in Aſia, whiche rennynge on horſebacke through deſertes, dooe drinke their horſe bloude mixte with mylke: they alſo dooe eate their parentes, if they dye for age: but if they be ſycke, they caſt theim to wylde beaſtes, to be deuoured.

Maßica, A countrey in the South parte of Spayn.

Máßicum, ci, neu. generis, Wyne of the mountayne Maßicus.

Maßicus, A mountayne in Campania, where is very good wyne.

Maßilia, A notable citie in Prouaunce called Marſiles. It was buylded. 620. yeres before ỹ incarnation of Chriſt. This citie in tyme paſt ſo flouriſhed in all kynde of good learnynge, that the Romaines, leauing Athens, went to the vniuerſitie of Marſils to learne. It was alſo both in riches and martiall prowes of great fame, and alwaye of ſounde frendſhip towarde the good ſtate of the Romayne empire.

Maßilienſis, ſe, Maßilitanus, and Maßilioticus, a, um, Of Marſiles.

Maßiniſſa, A kyng of Numidia, and great friende to the Romaynes.

Maßylia, A countrey in Afrike among the weſtern Moores.

Maſſylus, Maſſylius, and Maſſyleus, a, um, Of Maſſylia.

Maſúrius, The name of a famous lawyer, whiche wrate on the lawes ciuile.

Matinus, A hylle of Calabre.

Matrália, neu. gen. plur. The ſolemne feaſtes of Matuta.

Mattiacum, A towne in Germany.

Matúta, tæ, fœ. ge. A goddeſſe called of the Grekes Leucothea, and is often vſed for Aurora.

Mauors, ôrtis, The god Mars.

Mauortius, a, um, Perteining to Mars.

Mauri, People called Moores.

Mauritania, The countrey nowe called Moriſco, or of Moores, lyng on the weſt parte of Afrike, betweene the ſea called Mare Mediterraneum, on the northe, and Libya on the ſouthe. Martianus ſayeth, that in length it is tenne tymes eyght and thirty myles, whiche is three hundred and foure ſcore myles: and in breadth towarde the ſouth. iiij. hundred, three ſcore and. vij. myles. It is diuided into twoo countreys, Tingitana, and Cæſarenſis. Tingitana hath on the weſt, the Ocean ſea: on the north, the ſtreicte of Marroke, called Fretum Herculeum, vnto the ryuer Malna: on the eaſt, Cæſarienſis: on the ſouth, Getulia, and Libya. Cæſarienſis, hath on the weſt, Tingitana: on the north, the ſea Sardoum, vnto the ryuer Ampſagus: on the ſouth, the mountaynes of Libya, and the countrey of Getulia.

Maurus, a, um, and Maurúſius, a, um, Of Mauritania.

Mauſóleum, ſolei, neut. gene. A ſepulchre or tombe, whiche Artemiſia made for hir huſbande Mauſolus, whiche for the excellent workemanſhyppe, was accompted for one of the ſeuen meruayles of the worlde: and for the famouſneſſe thereof, euery great & notable ſepulchre is called Mauſoleum.

Mauſolus, The king of a realme called Caria. Loke Artemiſia.

Maximus, The name of a cunnyng peincter.

Mazaca, A citie in Capadocia, vnder the hyll Argeus. It is nowe called Cæſarea.

Mazax, A man of a certayne people in Afrike.

Mazeras, A ryuer, in the mouthe of the ſea called Mare Hircanum.

Mazeres, A ſouldiour of kyng Cyrus.

M E

Meander, or Mæander, A ryuer in Phrygia, which by ſundry wyndinges, at the laſte falleth into a creeke, whiche diuideth Miletus and Priena in Græce.

Means, A ryuer of Spayne.

Meciſtus, One of the companions of Aiax Telamonius.

Mecœnas, ātis, A gentleman of Rome, minyon to Auguſtus the emperour: and becauſe he was the ſupporter of great learned men, all fauourers and ſuccourers of learned men be ſo called.

Mecyberna, A towne of Macedonie.

Meda, A citie of Theſſaly.

Medea, A notable ſorcereſſe, daughter of kynge Oeta by his wife Hypſea. She intertained ỹ aduenturous Jaſon comming to Colchos to wyn the golden fleece, and beynge rauyſhed with the loue of his goodly perſonage, taught hym howe to eſcape all thoſe daungers, that of neceſſitie he muſt aduenture to wynne his purpoſed enterpryſe. After all whiche thynges atchieued, ſhe ranne awaye with Jaſon, and toke with hir Abſyrtus hir yonge brother. But Oetes ſore diſpleaſed, that he was ſo betrayed by his owne daughter, purſued them with ſuche ſpeade, that he had well nére ouertaken theim. Wherefore Medea seing that nothing could staie hir fathers haste, feazyng to be taken, kylled the yong babe hir brother, and scattered his limmes in the way as hir father should passe. With sorowe wherof and long séeking the partes of his yonge sonnes bodie the father was staied, and Iason with Medea in ỹ meane tyme escaped out of his roialme. After longe iourney she came with Iason home to Thessalie, and by hir sorcerie restored to yong yeres agayne his olde father Aeson. In the ende Iason reiected hir, and maried Creusa the kinges daughter of Corinthe. Wherewith Medea sore greued, and yet pretending frendship, did sende vnto Creusa in maner of a present a gorgious basket with wylde fyre inclosed therein. Which when Creusa did open, sodainly it burned bothe hir and the palaice where she was.

Medeis, & Medeides, patronymica, fœ. ge. Of Medea.

Medera, ræ, fœm. gen. An Ilande in the Ocean sea, situate from Spayne southwest, beynge distant from the poincte of the lande of Spayne, called Caput sancti Vincentii, almoste. 100. miles.

Medesicasles, The baskarde daughter of Priamus.

Media, A countrey in Asia, hauyng on the north, the sea called Hircanum: on the west, Armenie the more, and Assyria: on the south, Persia: on the east Hircania, and Parthia.

Medicus, a, um, Of Media.

Mediolanium, A citie or towne in England, in Leycester shyre, called Manchester.

Mediolanium, The citie of Orlyaunce in Fraunce. Also a citie in Westphalia in Almayne, called Munster: whiche (for as muche as the people thereof were infected with the heresie of the Anabaptistes, and other detestable errours) was destroyed by the princes of Almaigne, about the yere of our lorde God, a thousand, fiue hundred, thirty and nyne.

Mediolanum, The chiefe citie of Lumbardie, called Millane.

Mediolum, A towne in Spayne.

Mediomatrices, Mastright in Brabant.

Meditrina, The goddesse of phisicke.

Medon, One of the Centaures.

Medon, The baskarde sonne of Oileus. Also one of Penelopes wowers.

Medua, An hauen in Italy.

Meduacus, A ryuer about Uenice, called nowe Brent.

Medullina, A mayden of Rome, whiche beyng rauished by hir father, killed him in sacrifice.

Meduſa, A lady, of whom fables doe reporte, that by Minerua hir heares weare tourned into adders, and they, whiche behelde hir, were tourned into stones: whome Perseus afterwarde slewe. She is sometyme taken for one of the furies of hell.

Mega, A promontorie of Mauritania, called commonly Ore, or Due.

Megabyzi, or Megalobyzi, Priestes of Diana, whiche alwayes were gelded.

Megæra, A fury or tourmentour of hell, whome Paynims did suppose to prouoke and stere men to woodnesse.

Megalesia, The festiuall daye dedicate to Cybele, called the mother of goddes among Paynims.

Megalopolis, A great citie of Arcadie.

Megara, A citie belongyng to Athens. It was also the name of one of Hercules wyues. Also an hill in Sicilie, where is great plentie of Bees.

Megareus, Megareius, Megaricus, and Megarus, a, um, Of Megara.

Megaris, idis, A countrey in Achaia.

Meges, One of the prynces of Grece, that went to Troy.

Melænæ, A towne in Arcadie.

Melæne, The yle Corcyra.

Melamphillum, An yle in Asia.

Melamphyllis, An yle of Samothrace: and Samos is also called Melamphyllis.

Melampus, A mans name. Also one of Actæons dogges.

Melanes, A moūtaine in Arabia deserta, called nowe Mons Sinai, and Mons S. Catharinæ, of the Hebrues Sur desertum.

Melanthia, The daughter of Deucalion, by Pyrrha his wyfe.

Melanthius, The name of a Troian, and of diuers other men.

Melanthus, One of theim that Bacchus tourned into Delphins.

Melas, The name of dyuers ryuers.

Meleager, or Meleagrus, The sonne of Oeneus kyng of Calydon.

Meleagræa, The citie called Calydon.

Melegina, An yle in the Uenecian sea.

Meles, etis, A ryuer by Smyrna.

Melesigenes, The proper name of Homere.

Meletius, A byshop in Aegypt, of Arrius secte.

Meliboea, A citie in Thessaly.

Meliboeus, A shepardes name.

Melicerta, The sonne of Athamas and Ino, whom the Gentiles did honour for one of the goddes of the sea, called also Palæmon.

Meligene, The yle Melite.

Melissa, A woman, who with hir sister Amalthea nourysshed Iupiter.

Melissus, The name of hym whiche firſt did sacrifice vnto vdols. Also the name of an auncient philosopher.

Melita, siue Melite, An yle lyynge betwene Sicilie and Afrike. After Plinie, lib. 3. cap. vlt. it lyeth betweene Corcyra nigra, and Illyricum, wherein is plentie of hony, and is now called Malta, where at this tyme the company of the knyghtes Hospytelers doe inhabite, as they did at the Rhodes.

Melitæus, a, um, and Melitensis, se, Of that yle: as,

Melitæi canes, & Melitenses, Preaty little houndes in the whiche ladies toke pleasure and delite, whiche were brought out of the sayde yle of Melite.

Melîtus, The name of him that accused Socrates.

Melizandrus, He that wrate the story of the warres betwéene the Lapithes and the Centaures.

Mella, A ryuer of Fraunce.

Mellene, A citie in Arcadia.

Melo, A ryuer called also Gebon and Nilus.

Meloboſis, A nymph, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.

Melocabus, A citie in Germanie.

Meloeſſa, An Ile by Sicilie, in the whiche was great plentie of shéepe.

Melonia, A goddeſſe among the Romaines.

Melos, One of the yles called Cyclades.

Melpómene, One of the.ix. Muses.

Melus, A towne of Theſſalie, beſieged and wõne by Micias the Athenie capitain, namely by famine, whereof grewe the prouerbe, Meliæa fames.

Memmius, A citizin of Rome.

Memnon, The sonne of Tithon, whiche came to the ayde of the Troyans.

Memnonius, a, um, Of Memnon: as,

Memnoniæ aues, Byrdes whiche were supposed to growe of the asshes of Memnon.

Memphi, People of Memphis.

Memphites, patronymicum, maſ. gen.

Memphîtis, patronymicum, fœ. gen.

Memphis, A great and famous citie in Aegipte.

Memphiticus, a, um, Of that citie.

Memphricus, A kyng of Britayne, which slewe his brother Malyn, that he might reigne after hym.

Menæchmi, The name of a comedie in Plautus.

Menæchmus, A philosopher of Platos secte, whiche wrate vpon his booke De republica. Also an hiſtoriographer, that wrate the hiſtorie of Alexãder Magnus.

Menalcas, A shéepeherdes name.

Menalippe, The ſiſter of Antiope quéene of Amazons, whom Hercules vanquiſshed.

Menalippides, The name of two poetes.

Menalippus, He that slue Tydeus. An other of that name was brother of Tydeus.

Menander, A famous poete, a wryter of comedies. Also a notable heretike, whiche folowed Simon Magus.

Menapii. People of the countrey called Gellarlande, or Gylderlande, and Cleaue.

Menaria, An yle in the sea betwéene Carthage and Sicilie.

Mendeſicum, One of the mouthes of Nilus.

Meneceus, The sonne of Creon kyng of Thebes.

Menecina, A citie in Oenotria.

Menecis, The vttermoſte citie of Phocis, towarde the weſte.

Menécrates, Was an arrogant and proude phiſytion, who because he chaunced to heale sundrie persones, of whose health men did despayre, and therefore in commending hym, called hym Iupiter: he after that named hymselfe Menecrates Iupiter.

Menélaus, Brother to Agamemnon, and sonne of Atreus. He was kynge of Sparta, and husband of the beautifull quéene Helena. Whom, when Paris kyng Priamus his sonne in his absence had stollen awaye, he sent ambaſsadours to require hir to be restored agayne. But when they returned in vayne, this Menelaus with his brother Agamemnon incited all the prynces of Créece with cruell warre to reuenge that villanie. Wherefore they assemblyng to the number of a thousand shippes, swore neuer to retourne, vntyll they had brought Troy to confusion. After they had wasted and destroyed all the countrey of Phrygia, they beſieged Troy the royall citie the space well nére of ten yeres, and after great slaughter bothe on the one parte and the other, at the length by guyle and treaſon, rather than by force and manhoode, they wan the citie, and burnte it to the grounde: and so recouered Menelaus againe his beautifull wyfe. With whome he takynge shippynge to retourne; after eighte yeres trauayle on the seas and in straunge countreys, at the length came home to Sparta. So muche to dooe had he, ere he coulde brynge home agayne hys fayre and famous strumpet.

Meneleus, triſſyllabum, One of the Centaures. Also one of Actæons dogges.

Menes, The firſt that reigned ouer Aegypt.

Meneſtheus, Was duke of Athens, sonne of Theſeus and Phædra. Also Diomedes charyot man.

Meneſthius, The sonne of Arithous and Philomedusa.

Meneſtho, One of the Nymphes.

Meninx, An yle againſt the leſſe Afrike.

Menippus Phœnix, A philosopher. Also Menippus is the name of dyuers other learned menne, of whiche one was Ciceros maiſter.

Menius, The sonne of Lycaon, who cursyng Iupiter, was stryken with lightnyng.

Menſana, or Menſaria, A citie of Spayne, called cõmonly Marcia.

Menœtius, Patroclus father.

Menoſes, The name of Dionyſius.

Menophilus, An Eunuche, to whom Mithridates (beyng ouercome by Pompeius) committed his daughter to kéepe.

Menóſgada, A citie in Germany, called nowe Egra.

Mentercoſa, A citie of Spayne.

Mentiſa, A citie of Spayne, called commonly Jaen.

Mentoas, The famous ryuer whiche is nowe called Danubius.

Mentor, oris, An excellent grauer of veſſell.

Menus, A ryuer in Germany. Also a man of Samnium, whiche loued exceédingly ſolitarineſſe.

Menuthias, An yland in the south part of the worlde called Madagaſcar, or Inſula ſancti Georgii, the inhabitaunces whereof folowe Mahumet.

Meonia, A countrey of the leſſe Asia, called after Lydia.

Meonides, A man of Meonia.
Mercurialis, le, Of Mercurie.
Mercuriales, A colledge or company of men, instituted to the honour of Mercurie.
Mercurius, The sonne of Jupiter by Maia, whome poetes faigne to haue wynges on his head and feete, to signifie, that talke (whiche is represented by the person of Mercurie) dooeth quickely passe through the ayer. He is feigned to be messenger of the Gods, because that by speeche and woordes all thynges are declared. He was compted God of eloquence, merchaundyce, feates of actiuitie, and thefte also. He fyrste inuented the harpe, and on his syster Venus begatte Hermaphroditus that was both man and woman.
Meriones, A noble man of the Grékes.
Meritus, A mountayne in the thirde parte of Europe, beyonde Gréece.
Mero, Was in scorne the name of Tiberius Nero, because he was so great a drynker of wyne.
Meroë, An yle in the great ryuer of Nilus in Aegypte.
Merope, Pleias the wyfe of Sisyphus.
Mérops, A mountayne in Gréece by Thessaly.
Meros, An hylle in Indie, at the foote whereof is the citie called Nysa.
Mersa, A place where Moyses, by castynge in woodde, made the pestilent and bytter waters holsome.
Mérula, æ, fœmin. gene. The name of dyuers men: one in Varro de re rustica.
Mesa, i. masc. gen. An hylle in India, dedicated vnto Bacchus.
Mesa, A ryuer that renneth by Brabant, the land of Luke and Gellar, called the Mase.
Mesapia, A countrey called also Apulia.
Mesapus, The sonne of Neptune, of whom the countrey Mesapia was so named.
Mesembria, A towne belongynge to the Megarenses.
Mesia, A countrey, lopgning to Hungarie: Mysc.
Meson, Was one whiche fyrste inuented to bryng into comedies, seruauntes and cookes. Whereof it is supposed that in olde tyme, the cookes of cities and townes, were called Mesones, as straunge cookes were called Tettiges. Cælius, antiq. lect. lib. 3. Meson was also a certayne Astronomer.
Mesopotamia, A countrey in the orient, lynge betweene the twoo noble ryuers Tigris and Euphrates, and hath on the southe Babylon, and on the northe, the great mountayne called Caucasus.
Messala Corninus, A noble Senatour of Rome, of whom Tully in his booke of oratours, called Brutus, wryteth in this wyse: I may not omit to speake of the excellencie of Messala. Beware, dooe not thynke, that any is lyke vnto hym in constancie, care, and studie about the weale publyke, also in eloquence, wherein he wounderfully dooeth excell. And not withstandynge, beynge suche a man, twoo yeres before he dyed, he so lost his remembraunce, that he forgat his owne name: whiche hath happened to dyuers other men of great wysedome and learnynge. He lyued in the tyme of Julius Cæsar and Augustus emperours.
Messalina, Wyfe to the emperour Claudius, a woman of insatiable lecherie.
Messana, A citie in Sicilie.
Messapia, Loke Calabria.
Messene, A citie of Achaia in Gréece.
Messenii, The people of that citie.
Messenia, A region in Achaia, hauing. xviij. mountaines, in the which was a citie called Messene.
Messias, Christe.
Mestheles, One of the capitaynes that came to ayde the Troyanes.
Mesuium, or Messuium, A towne in Germany called Maidburg.
Metagónium, A promontorie or mountayne lynge into the sea, whiche dyuideth Africa from Numidia.
Metapontum, A citie in the realme of Naples.
Metapontini, People of that citie.
Metaurus, & Metaurum, A ryuer of Vmbria, whiche renneth in to Flaminia.
Metellus, The propre name of dyuers noble Romaynes.
Methone, A citie of Peloponnesus, called nowe Modona.
Methymna, A citie in the yle of Lesbos.
Methymnæus, a, um, Of that citie.
Metiocus, The sonne of Miltiades duke of Athens.
Metis, One of the daughters of Ocean⁹ & Tethys.
Metiscus, Turnus chariot man.
Metius, Suffetius, (A capitaine of the people called Albani,) was of Tullus Hostilius kynge of Romaynes, called to battayle agaynste the people Fidenates. He came, but abydinge whiche hoste shoulde haue the victorie, he abstreyned to fyght. Wherfore Tullus, after that he had vanquisshed his ennemies, caused Metius to be tied to sundrie horses, and to be drawen in pieces. Also Metius is the name of dyuers other.
Metona, Loke Methone.
Metra, A famous harlotte of Thessaly, the daughter of one Erisichthon.
Metrodórus, A philosophers name, folower of Epicure. Also the name of certayne other philosophers.
Mevania, A citie in the parte of Italy called Umbria, wherein Propertius the poete was borne.
Mevenia, A citie in Wales, called saint Dauids.
Mevius, A foolishe poete, enemie to Vergile and Horace.
Mezentius, Father of Lausus, a wicked person, cõtemnyng the goddes.

M J

Michale, A sorceresse among the Centaures.
Micypsa, A king of Numidia, sonne of Masinissa.

Midas,

Midas, The ryche kynge of Phrygia, who, for his fryndly intertaynement of the God Bacchus, being willed to wyshe what he woulde, with promyse presently to obteyne the same, desyred that what so euer he touched myght foorthwith becomme golde. By whiche wyshe graunted, he tourned castelles and towers into golde. But when he came to eate his meate, and sawe that it also was made golde, being almost famished, he besought Bacchus agayne to take from hym the graunt that he hadde geuen hym. Bacchus therefore wylled hym to goe washe hymselfe in the ryuer Pactolus: wherby the couetous king wasshed away his golden wyshe, and the ryuer euer after had small shardes of golde appearing in it. Afterwarde when the rusticall God Pan, chalenged to contende in musike with Apollo, and Tmolus the iudge appointed of that controuersie had geuen sentence on Apollos syde: All other that weare present dyd alowe his iudgement as good and true, onely kynge Midas reproued it, and in his estimation preferred Pan with his screakyng pypes. Wherewith Apollo beynge very wrathe, in reproche of his grosse iudgement, made him to haue long eares lyke an asse. But Midas kepte them so secreat, that neuer man knewe it, sauynge onely his barbour. Who not able to conceale so vncouthe and straunge a thing, and yet not so bolde to publyshe it for feare of the kynges displeasure, went into the fielde, and diggyng an hole in the grounde, cried out Auras asininas habet rex Midas, that is, true it is that kynge Midas hath longe eares lyke an asse. In processe of tyme reedes dyd growe in that place: whiche, when they weare blowen with the wynde, dyd yelde the same voyce that Midas his barbour hadde there vttered, and so (saye poetes) became it first knowen, that Midas had an asses eares. By this deuise poetes signifie that Midas, as a tyranne, had many harkeners and tale bearers, by whom he vnderstoode all that was donne or spoken of hym in all partes of his dominion, as if he had had longe eares to heare what euery man had sayde.

Mieza, A towne in Macedonia.

Milciades, Looke Miltiades.

Miletus, A citie in Ionia: an other in Creta: an other in the Ile of Lesbos. Miletus, is also the sonne of Sol and Pasiphae, whiche builded that citie Miletus whiche is in Ionia.

Milesius, a, um, Of Miletus.

Milêtum, A citie in the countrey of Athens.

Milliarium, rii, neut. gen. A pyllar in Rome, wherein were grauen all the wayes of Italy.

Milo, lónis, The name of one, whiche at the game of Olympus, with his bare hande slewe a bulle, and afterwarde caried hym a furlonge, and the same day eate hym euery morselle. It was also a noble Romayne, for whome Tullie made an oration, conteinynge incomparable eloquence.

Milo, Is also an hylle in India.

Miltiades, A noble man of Athens, that in ẏ fieldes of Marathon with ten thousande Grækes, discomũted and put to flight. 600000. Persians, and deliuered his countrey from great daunger. Afterward, being cast in arrearage of a certain summe of money, he was by his vnkynde countreymen condemned to cruell pryson, and dyed in fetters. Being dead, he mought not be suffred to be buried, vntill his sonne had put on him the gyues whiche his father did weare.

Miluius, uii, The name of a sterre.

Milyas, A place in Asia.

Mimalion, A yong man that loued Atalanta of Arcadia.

Mimallis, The name of an ylande.

Mimallones, or Mimallonides, dum. fœ. gen. Women seruing Bacchus.

Mimas, A mountaine in the lesse Asia, of the which the foresayed women were named.

Mimmernus, ni, mas. gen. A wryter of verses before the tyme of the. vij. wyse men.

Minas, The name of a gygant.

Minæi, People in Arabia, nyghe to the redde sea, where frankyncense chiefly groweth, and is of that place called Minæum.

Mincius, A ryuer of Italy, whiche compasseth the citie of Mantua, and renneth into the great riuer of Po, called Padus.

Mineo, An other ryuer.

Minerua, The goddesse of wisedome and all good artes & sciences, borne of Iupiters braine without any mother. For whẽ Iupiter perceiued his wife Iuno to be barraine, that he might not bee cleane without issue, he stroke his head with his hande, and thence came forth the goddesse Minerua. By whiche diuise poetes geue men to vnderstand, that the knowledge of all good artes & sciences, procedeth not of mans witte, but out of the fountaine of gods grace and wisdome. This goddesse is called also Pallas and Tritonia, and is thought first to haue inuented the craft of weauing and spinning, and the vse of oliues & oyle, and to haue obserued perpetuall virginitie.

*Sus Mineruam, Prouerbially spokẽ, where an ydiote or foole goeth about to teach a wise & learned mã.

Mineruæ, A promontory of Campaine, called commonly Capo Mineruæ.

Mineus, A Theban, whose daughters were turned into battes or reremice.

Minilus, An hylle in Thessaly, called after Orchomenus.

Minius, A ryuer in Spayne.

Minoa, A citie in Sicilie, an other in the yle called Amorgos by Sicilie.

Minos, Minôis, A kynge of Crete, that fyrste gaue theim lawes, whom Paynims for his excellent iustice, supposed to be chiefe iudge of hell. This man, for that his sonne for enuie of his excellent actiuitie, was cruelly murdered of the Athenians and citizens of Megara, made sharpe and greuous warre vpon those twoo cities. Megara he tooke by the treason of Scylla the kynges daughter that was in loue with him. The Atheniens he prested so harde that he droue them to take peace on this condition, that yerely they should geue seuen of their gentlemens sonnes to be deuoured of the monster Minotaurus. From whiche cruell tribute they weare after deliuered by Theseus, vide Aegeus.

Minóius, and Minóus, a, um, Of Minos.

Minóis, nóidis, patronymicum fœmininum, Of Minos.

Minotaurus, ri, A monster in Creta, whome the poetes feygne to bee borne of Pasiphaë, the wyfe of kyng Minos, beyng parte lyke a man, parte lyke a bulle, whiche beyng inclosed in the place called Labyrinthus, was fed with mannes fleshe. He was slayn by Theseus, with ỹ helpe of Ariadne daughter of Minos.

Mintha, An hylle, named of Mintha Plutos harlotte.

Minturnæ, A citie in Campania.

Minutia, æ, fœ. ge. The name of a virgyn Vestall.

Minyæ, People of Thessaly.

Minyeius, A ryuer rennyng out of Thessaly.

Minitus, An hylle of Thessaly.

Misanthropos, The surname of a man of Athens, called Timon, that hated the company of men.

Misenum, A promontorie by Cumæ.

Misénus, The sonne of Aeolus, Aeneas trumpettoure.

Missenus, An hyll in Campania.

Mithra, The Persians dooe call the sunne, and also the chiefe priestе of the sunne.

Mithriaca, órum, neut. gene. plura. Ceremonies of the sunne.

Mithridátes, A puissaunt kyng of Pontus in Asia, of great strengthe both of bodie and mynde, and of singular memory. He spake perfectly. xxij. sundry languages. While the Romaines & Italians weare at warre amõg themselues, he draue Nicomedes out of Bithynia, and Ariobarzanes frõ the kyngdom of Cappadocia: he wanne Grœce & all the Ilandes, sauing Rhodes: In one night he caused al ỹ Romaines in al Asia, were thei marchauntes or other, to be slaine. He cast in pryson Oppius their Proconsul, and Apuleius his lieutenaunt. This mã was firſt ouercõme by Sylla, after ouerthrowen and discomfited by Lucullus, and lastly vtterly vanquished by Pompey, and dryuen to ende his life with poyson. He is noted of great crueltie: for he killed his wyfe, hir mother, brother, and sister, thrée ponge sonnes, and as many daughters.

Miterin, An yle, fyre daies sailing out of England, wherein is great plentie of tynne.

Mitylene, es, & Mitylenæ, arum, A citie in the yle of Lesbos.

M N

Mnas, The name of a pyrate in the tyme of Pompeie.

Mnasea, A poete.

Mnemósyne, es, fœ. gen. The mother of the. ix. Muses, and is interpreted memorie.

Mnesarcus, A famous philosopher.

Mnestheus, The name of a Troiane.

M O

Moab, A citie in Arabie. Also the name of one of the sonnes of Loth, of whom the people are called Moabitæ.

Mocontiacum, or Moguntia, The citie of Mentz in Almayne.

Mœmagus, A towne of Fraunce called Nemours.

Mœnis, A ryuer in Germany that renneth into Rhene.

Mœris, A sorcerer.

Mœsia, A prouince in Athens, nyghe to Pontus.

Moga, A countrey in Asia, called nowe Cæsaria.

Moguntia, A noble citie in Germanye, called Mentz.

Molorchus, A shépeherde in the woodde Nemea, whiche receiued Hercules whan he came thither to kyll the lyon.

Molossia, A parte of Epire.

Molossus, a, um, Of Molossia.

Molus, A mans name in Homere.

Moloch, Was an ydoll of the Ammonites, signifiyng in hebrue a gouernour or counsaylour. It was also called Molchum, sometyme Milchom.

Molossa gens, People in the parte of Grœce called Epirus: they were also called Molossi.

Momus, The carpynge God of reprehension, sonne of Nox and Somnus, whose propertie it is (as poetes feygne) neuer to doe or make any thyng hymselfe, but with curious eyes to beholde the doynges of other: and if any thynge weare let passe, to carpe the same. Whereof all curious carpers of other mens doinges are called Momi.

* Momo satisfacere, To contente hym, whom almoste no man can please.

* Momo iudice decertare, To contende afore a rigorous and extreame iudge, or hym that wyl finde a faute quickely.

Mona, called of the Grékes Monna, Is an yle nygh to Britayn, puissaũt of people in the tyme of Cornelius Tacitus, where they that fledde from the Romaynes were succoured: I suppose it to be the yle nowe called Man, and not Angleſey, for as muche as that is ioygned to Brytayne. There is also an other yle of that name in the ryuer of Rhene, nyghe to Fryselande, and not onely nyghe to Britayne.

Monaæda, And also Monarina, The yle of Man, by the east parte of Irelande.

Monacris, A mountayne in Arcadia.

Monæsis, A kyng of Parthia.

Monêta, æ, fœm. ge. A name of Juno.

Monna, Looke Mona.

Monodus, The sonne of Pyrrias, who in stéde of téethe had but one bone, lyke as kynge Pyrthus rhus had.

Monœchus, An hauen of Liguria.

Monomeri, People in the eaſt part of the worlde, whiche haue but one legge, wherewith they goe by leapes more ſwyftly than any beaſt.

Monoſceli, Menne in Indie, whiche haue but one legge, ſo great, that therwith they couer them ſelfe from the ſunne.

Mons fer. tus, A countrey in Italy.

Montânus, The name of a poete.

Monycha, æ, The name of ſaincte Auguſtines mother.

Mónychus A gygant, one of the Centaures.

Monyma, The wyfe of kyng Mithrydates, whiche after that hir huſbande was vanquyſhed, kylled hirſelfe.

Monymus, A mans name.

Mopſopia, The countrey of Athens.

Mopſus, The name of a poete. It is alſo a ſhepeherdes name.

Morini, People in Fraunce, dwellynge aboute Turwane.

Morpheus, diſſyllabum, The ſonne or ſeruaunte of the god Somnus.

Morta, Lowke Nona.

Mortuum mare, A great meere in Syria, wherein no heauy thyng may ſynke.

Moruetrum, A citie in Spayne, wheare Saguntus in olde tyme did ſtande.

Moſa fluuius, A ryuer whiche is called the Maze, and renneth betwéene the duchie of Brabant, and the lande of Luke.

Moſca, A ryuer in Moſcouia.

Moſchea, æ, fœm. gen. A temple whereto the people whiche worſhipped ydolles, haue recourſe to praye in, namely the temple of the Turkes and other Mahumetanes.

Moſcouia, A great countrey in the north parte of the worlde, beyonde Polonia, which conteyneth in lengthe. 400. myles and aboue. The people thereof be called Moſcouitæ, in Engliſhe Moſcouites. They haue a great duke, who nameth hymſelfe emperour of Ruſſie. They be Chriſtened, and dooe obſerue the rites of the Grékes. Their language is the toungue of Slauonie, whiche is alſo vſed in Boheme and Pole.

Moſcua, Is the chiefe citie of that coūtrey, through the whiche the ryuer of Moſca doeth renne.

Moſcus, A region in Aſia, nyghe to the ryuer of Phaſis, diuided into three partes. In the one dooe dwell people called Colchi, in the ſeconde Hiberes, in the thyrde Armenii.

Moſes, Lowke Moyſes.

Moſinæcæ, or rather Moſinœci, people in the north part of Aſia.

Moyſes, or Moſes, Signifieth drawen vp or taken vp from the water. It was the name of a noble prophete, ſonne of Amram, of the trybe of Leui: who brought the Iſraelites from the bondage of Pharao kynge of Aegypte, with moſte wonderfull myracles, and gouerned theim with exceadynge wyſdome and patience. He died afore the incarnation of Chriſte. 1462. yeres, beyng of the age of. 120. yeres, his eyen beynge neuer dymmed, nor his teethe looſe.

M V

Mugonia, A gate at Rome, whereby cattell dyd enter into the citie. It was alſo called Trigonia.

Muſciber, ciberis, One of the names of Vulcan, called god of fyre.

Muſucha, A ryuer of Mauritania.

Munda, A citie of Spayne.

Munychia, órum, The ſolemnities of Pallas.

Munychia, An hyll towarde Cherroneſus.

Munychates, A citie in Arabea Petræa, where Mahumetes ſepulchre is, called now Medina Talnabi.

Murcea, æ, The goddeſſe of ſlouth.

Murgis, A boſome of the ſea in Spayne.

Murgitana regio, A countrey in the ſouthe partes of Spayne.

Murroela, A citie of Pannonia.

Murraſius, or Murranus, An auncient kynge of the Latines, after whom all his ſucceſſours weare ſo called.

Murtia, One of the names of Venus.

Murtius, An hyll at Rome, called alſo Auentinus.

Muſæ, arum, The Muſes: whiche were maydens, whome poetes feygned to bee the daughters of Iupiter and Memorie, and that they weare ladyes and gouernours of poetrie and Muſyke. They were in numbre nyne, or after ſome but three. Some call them geuers of eloquence, and dooe name theim goddeſſes.

Muſæum, ei, neu. gen. An houſe dedicated to the Muſes, ſuche a one was firſte made by the kynges of Aegypte, called Ptolomæi, in Alexandria.

Muſæus, a, um, Of the Muſes.

Muſæus, The name of three auncient poetes: one in the tyme of Orpheus, whiche went with Iaſon to the wynnyng of the fleeſe of golde. An other of Thebes, the ſonne of Thamyras, before the battayle of Troye. The thyrde of Epheſus, in the tyme of Eumenes and Attalus kynges of Pergamum.

Muſtela, A mannes name, whom Cicero fauoured muche.

Mutina, æ, fœm. gen. A citie in Italy, called in the vulgar tongue Moſona, whiche is nowe vnder the ſubiection of the duke of Ferrare, wheare was the greate battayle betweene Auguſtus and Brutus.

Mutinenſis, ſe, Of Mutina.

Mutinenſis color, A naturall colour, as woulle or clothe neuer died.

Mutii, Were men of a noble familie of the auncient Romains, in the whiche one was called Mutius Scæuola: who at the tyme that Porſena kynge of Tuſcanes, layed ſiege to Rome, came in a beggers apparayle into the campe of Porſena, and intending to haue ſlayne the kyng, ſlew his ſecretary. Wherfore he was taken and brought to a great fyre to be burned, into the whyche he wyllyngly thruſte his hande that had fayled to ſlea the kyng, and ſuffered it to be burned to aſhes, affyrmynge that beſydes him, there were thrée hundred that had vowed to make lyke attemptate. Wherewith the kynge beynge abaſhed, and fearing their inuincible courage, made peace with the Romaynes, takynge pledges of them: and reyſyng his ſiege, departed, without moleſtyng of them euer after.

Mutunus, An idoll who was alſo called Priapus.

M Y

Myagrus, called alſo Myodes, The god of flies.

Mycale, The name of a ſorcereſſe in Duide.

Mycénæ, arum, & Mycéna, æ, & Mycéne, enes, A citie in the parte of Grécia called Peloponneſus, and a litle region, where Agamemnon reigned, called nowe Morea.

Mycenæus, a, um, Of Mycenæ.

Mycerinus, The ſonne of Cheops kynge of Aegypte.

Mycon, The name of a famous peincter.

Mycone, es, & Myconos, ni, One of the yles called Cyclades.

Myconii, People of that yle, whiche be naturally balde, & of them balde men be called Myconii.

Mydia, An yle named alſo Delos.

Mydon, Sonne of Arymnis, ſlayne by Antilochus, at the ſiege of Troy.

Mygdonia, A parte of Macedonia, on the ſea ſyde, where Niobe was tourned into a ſtone? Ariſtotle ſaieth, that it is a part of Phrygia, ioygnyng to Lydia. Solinus ſayeth, it was called Bebrycia, and after Bithynia.

Mygdonides, The ſonne or neuewe of Mygdonus.

Mygdonis, idis, fœm. gen. The daughter or neece of Mygdonus.

Mygdonus, The brother of Otreus.

Mylæ, A certayne towne.

Mypſæi, A people of Thrace, whiche yelded to Darius.

Myra, A citie in Lycia.

Myrina, A quéene of Amazons.

Myrlea, A towne of Bithynia.

Myrmecides, A cunnyng caruer of ſmal thynges.

Myrmidones, The people called alſo Hellenes, that accompanied Achilles goyng to Troye. They weare ſo named of Myrmice the mayde of Athens, whom for hir chaſtitie, wytte, and diligence Minerua greatly fauoured. But when ſhe had diſcloſed and made commō to all, the plough that Minerua had made in deſpite of Ceres, the goddeſſe being angrie tourned hir into an Emmotte or piſmier. Strabo ſaith they were called Myrmidones, becauſe thei were painful huſbādmen, and alway occupied in digging and labouring lyke emmottes.

Myron, onis, The name of an excellent caruer.

Myrrha, The daughter of kynge Cinyras, whiche loued hir owne father fylthyly.

Myrſinus A citie in Peloponneſus.

Myrſum, A towne in the part of Grécce called Peloponneſus.

Myrſus, The father of Candaules.

Myrtilus, A chariot man of king Oenomaus. Looke Hippodamia.

Myrtóum mare, A portion of the ſea, whiche is betwéene the ſea called Aegeum & Ionium.

Mys, yos, The name of a cunnyng grauer.

Myſia, A countrey towarde Grækelande, which is diuided into two partes, the hygher and the lower. The higher hath on the northe, Dacia: on the eaſt, Dalmatia: on the ſouthe, Macedonie: on the eaſt, Thrace: this is nowe called Sernia. The lower Myſia, hath on the weaſt Dacia: on the north Sarmatia: on the eaſt, the ſea Euxine: on the ſouthe, Thrace. This is nowe called Valachia, and Bulgaria. Ptholomeus wryteth of twoo countreis called Myſia, the more and the leſſe, and bothe in Aſia beyonde Bithynia, not farre from Ida.

Myſi, Certayne people.

* Myſorum poſtremus habetur, Prouerbially, he is neglected and contemned: he is caſt at the cartes arſe.

Myſtillus, A cokes name in Martiall.

Mythridátes, Looke Mithridates.

Myxus, A prieſt of Diana, glorious, and a ſtoute talker.

N A

NAæra, The handmayde of Cleopatra, that willyngly died with hir maiſtreſſe.

Nabathæa, A parte of Arabia fœlix, lyynge betwéene the Perſian ſea, and the redde ſea.

Nabathæi, People inhabiting the cōtrey called Arabia fœlix, very cōtinent, and in preparing and keppynge their commodities, ryghte prudent, as Strabo wryteth: in whom ye may reade more abundantly of their maners, not much expediēt to be declared in this place.

Nabis, A ryuer in Spayne.

Nabriſſa, Or after ſome Nebriſſa, A citie in Spain. It is nowe called Veneria.

Nabuchodonoſor, The nynth kynge of Babylon, or the thirde kyng of Chaldeis, named of Beroſus, Nabogodroſus, of the hebrues Naluchadnezar. He by the occaſion of his great and wounderful dominions, fell into ſuche pryde, that he woulde haue his image honoured for God. Wherfore almighty God, ſodeinly tranſformed him into an horrible mōſter, hauing the head of an ore, the féete of a beare, the tayle of a lyon, and did eate hey as a beaſt. And after he had in that fourme doen penaunce, by the continuall prayers of Daniell the prophete, God being moued with mercy, reſtored him to his priſtinate fourme, and afterwarde he lined well, and commaunded that the very God of heauen ſhould be onely honoured. He was before the incarnation of Chriſte. 633. yeres. He reigned. xliii. yeres.

Næera, The proper name of a woman.

Nænia, A goddeſſe.

Nænius, The name of a poete.

Næuianus, a, um, Of Næuius.
Nagnia, called nowe Narnia, a citie in Italy.
Nagnata, A citie in Irelande.
Naides, Elfes or fayries, hauntynge ryuers and fountaynes.
Naim, A citie of Galilee.
Nais, naidis, A ryuer in the eaſte, whiche renneth out of the mountayne Taurus, into the ſea called Pontus. Alſo a nymphe of the water.
Namnitæ, People of Nauntes.
Nannetes, A towne in little Britayne, called Nauntes.
Napatæi, People in Aethiope.
Napæi, People of the yle of Leſbos.
Napeæ, Goddeſſes of floures and woodes, or rather Elfes hauntyng woodes.
Napitæ, People of Scythia.
Nar, A ryuer whiche renneth into Tyber. There is an other ryuer of that name in Germanie, whiche commeth out of the great ryuer Danubius, or Donow.
Narane, A ryuer in Dalmatia, aboute an hundreth myles from Epidaurus.
Narbaſis, A towne in Spayne.
Narbo Martius, called commonly Narbona, a citie in Fraunce.
Narbonenſis prouincia, A parte of Gallia, hauynge on the eaſte, the mountaines Alpes: on the ſouth Mare Gallicum: on the weaſt, the mountaynes Pyrenæi: on the northe, the mountayne Jura. It conteyneth the countreis called Sauoy, Dolphyny, Prouance, and Languedocke. It was in the olde tyme called Gallia Bracchata.
Narciſſinus, a, um, Of Narciſſus.
Narciſſus, The ſonne of the Ryuer Cephiſus, whiche was tourned into the floure called Narciſſus. It is alſo a certayne ryuer.
Naritia, An Ile in the ſea Aegeum.
Narius, A ryuer in Umbria.
Narna, or Narnia, A towne in Italy. Alſo a citie of Umbria.
Narnie, or Nernienſes, People of Narnia.
Narnienſis ager, The countrey aboute Narnia, where the grounde with rayne wareth duſtie, and in dry weather durtie.
Narona, A ryuer of Dalmatia, called now Narenta.
Narſes, A mans name, an Eunuch of the emperour Juſtinian, which was a valiaunt and prudent capitayne.
Nartes, People of Italie, called alſo Interamnates.
Narytium, A towne of the people called Locrenſes, where is greate plentie of excellente and good pitche.
Naſamones, People dwellyng in the myddle of the ſandes of Libya. Amonge whom is founden the precious ſtone called a Carbuncle.
Naſamonius, and Naſamoniacus, a, um, Of the people Naſamones.
Naſica, The ſurname of a noble Romayne called Scipio.
Naſium, A citie in Fraunce called Nanſe.

Naſtes, The brother of Amphimachus, which came to helpe the Troianes.
Natio, The name of a goddeſſe.
Natiſo, A ryuer in the countrey of Uenice.
Naualia, A citie in Germany.
Naucratis, A citie in Aegypte, the inhabitauntes whereof be called Naucratitæ.
Naulium, A towne in Liguria.
Naupactus, A towne of Achaia, take from the Uenetians by the Turkes, called now Lepanthum.
Nauplius, A kynge of Eubœa, and father to Palamedes, who vnderſtandyng that by Ulliſſes craftie meanes, his ſonne was falſely condemned of treaſon, and ſtoned to death of the whole army, deſirous to be reuenged on that crueltie, he went ouer all Græce allurynge the wyues of all thoſe princes that were in warrefare at Troy, to committe aduoutry with other yonge gentlemen. Thinking by that meanes to ſet them together by the eares, and make them to worke confuſion to themſelues. Afterwarde when Troy was ouercome, & the Græcians nauie on the ſea retournynge home, in a great tempeſte and darke night, on the toppe of the mount Caphareus he made ſhewe of a fyre to them, to allure them to come that waye, by which meanes he broughte a great parte of the Nauie vpon daungerous rockes, and pitifully drowned them. But when he vnderſtode that Ulliſſes and Diomedes hadde ſcaped the daunger, for whoſe cauſe he chiefely vſed that deuiſe, for ſorow he caſt himſelfe headlonge into the ſea.
Nauplíades, The ſonne or nephew of Nauplius.
Nauportus, A ryuer in Slauonie.
Nauſicaë, es, and Nauſicaä, æ, f. gen. The daughter of Alcinous kynge of Phæaces, who fyndynge Ulyſſes, after that he had eſcaped drownynge, brought him to hir fathers palaice.
Nauſithous, The ſonne of Neptunus, and father of Alcinous.
Naxius, a, um, Of Naxos.
Naxos, An yle in the ſea called Aegeum, one of the Cyclades, not farre from Paros, renoumed for the whyte marble there growynge.
Nazaræus, a, um, Of Nazareth. It ſignifieth a man dedicate onely to the ſeruice of God, or that had a ſpeciall vow for a tyme.
Nazareth, A littell towne in Galilea.
Nazara, A citie in Cappadocia, called alſo Cæſarea.

N E

Nea, An yle betwéne Lemnos and Helleſpont.
Neæra, A womans name, mother of Phaethuſa, and Lampetia.
Neæthus, A ryuer in Calaber.
Neeſces, A famous peincter.
Neápolis, A noble citie of Campania, ſet on the borders of the ſea, called Mare Mediterraneum, and was fyrſt called Parthenope. Of this citie the countreys of Campania, Apulia, and Calabria, bée now called Regnum Neapolitanum, the realme of Naples. There is alſo a citie of this name in Afrike, an other in Caria.

Nearchus, A younge man of excellente fauour and beautie.

Nebis, A ryuer in Spayne, called of Strabo Benis.

Necos, A kynge of Aegypte.

Necrópolis, A citie of Aegypt, where Cleopatra died.

Neleides, patronymicum, Of Neleus, as it were of the progenie of Neleus.

Neleus, The father of duke Nestor.

Nelêus, and Neleius, a, um, Of Neleus.

Nemansus, A citie of Narbon, called commonlye Nimes.

Nemea, A wodde in Grece, where Hercules slue thre horrible lyons.

Nemeæus, a, um, Of Nemea.

Nemertes, A fayrie of the sea.

Nemesis, The name of a goddesse, whom the Paynyms supposed to be the punisher of grieuous offenders: some call hir fortune. Erasmus saith, Nemesis is a goddesse, the reuenger of insolencie and arrogancie. She is called also Rhamnusia of Rhamnus a village where hir temple was: and Adrastia of Adrastus the kynge, that first constituted to hir a temple.

Nemeti, People of a citie in Germanye, called Spyres.

Nemetobriga, A towne in Spayne, called Valdenebro.

Neemias, A Iewe, cupbearer to Artaxerres kyng of Persia: a man of great learnyng and holynesse: who beyng in great fauour with the sayd kyng, obteyned both licence and ayde to reedifie the citie of Hierusalē, afore the incarnatiō of Christe. 447. yeres.

Nemrod, Is interpreted rebelle, or gouernour slēpynge: He was the sonne of Chus, sonne of Chā, the seconde sonne of Noe. He is of some written Nimrod, of some Nembroth. He was also called Saturnus Babylonicus, and was the first that toke on him to reigne ouer men, and attempted to build the great tower of Babylon, intendyng to haue reysed it aboue the cloudes, thinkyng thereby to haue escaped, if any floudde shoulde eftsones haue happened. He was before the incarnation of Christe. 2170. yeres, after the creation of the worlde. 1788. yeres.

Neobóle, or Neobúle, The daughter of Lycambes.

Neocles, A philosopher of Athens.

Neodunum, A citie in Fraunce, in the countrey of Lyons, called Leondull.

Neómagus, A towne in Fraunce, called Nemure. It was also a citie in Britannia, whiche some men suppose to be Chester.

Neóptolemus, mi, masc. gen. The surname of Pyrrhus, whiche was the sonne of Achilles.

Népeta, A citie in Tuscane.

Néphele, les, The name of a woman, mother of Helle, whiche gaue the name to the sea called Hellespontus.

Nepheleis, The daughter of Néphele.

Neptûnius, a, um, Of Neptune.

Neptûnus, ni, m. g. The god of the sea.

Neptunália, órum, n. g. plur. Feastes of Neptune.

Neptunine, nes, The daughter or néece of Neptune.

Nequinum, A citie in Italy, now called Narnia.

Nereides, Fayries of the sea.

Nereus, A god of the sea.

Nerine, nes, The daughter or néece of Nereus.

Nerio, nerienis, The wyfe of Mars.

Neritos, An ylande in the myddle sea. Also an hyll in the yle of Ithaca.

Neritius, a, um, Of Neritos. Ulysses was so called.

Nerium, rii, n. g. A promontory or elbow of lande in Gallecia, lyynge into the weast sea, not farre from Compostella.

Nero, called also Domitius, An emperour, sonne of Gn. Domitius Nero, adopted into the empyre by Claudius, who maried his mother Agrippina: although he were broughte vp by the reuerende and wise Seneca, yet by the ineuitable corruption of his nature, he became horribly vicious, in so muche as he caused himselfe to be gelded, and cutte in the fourme of a woman, and so to be abused, and by his cruelte caused his owne mother to bē slayne, and the citie of Rome to be bourned, he in the meane tyme playyng on an harpe, and singyngs the destruction of Troye. Finally, he beyng hated of all men, was slaine in a caue, whereinto he fled, whan he was but xxvii. yeres olde, and had reigned. xiiii. yeres, in the. lvii. yere after the incarnation of Christe.

Nemii, People inhabityng in Tourney and the countrey adioygning.

Nerulani, People nigh to Rome.

Nerulonenses, People in Campania.

Nerulum, A towne in Lucania.

Nerua, called also Cocceius (a Gentile) Was a good and noble emperour. In the beginnynge of his reigne, he sette at lybertie all Christen men, which were accused or banished. He so much exceeded in liberalitē towarde poore men, that he thereby lackinge treasure, caused his apparaile, plate, and ryche stuffe to be solde for his necessitee, and ordeyned, that the children of poore mē shoulde be kepte with the common treasure, and determined nothinge by himselfe, but onely by the consent of excellent wise men: yet notwithstandynge his synceritie and vertuous lyfe, he lacked not traitours, whō he did tollerate wonderfully, and at the last dyed, of the age of. lxxi. yeres, whan he had reigned one yere and. viii. monethes, after the incarnation of Christe. 99. yeres.

Nesa, A countrey in the yle of Sicilie, ioygnynge to Aetna.

Nesi, or Nesei, People of Scythia in Europe.

Nesia, A nymph of the sea.

Nesium, or Nesis, An yle by Campania.

Nessus, A Centaure, whiche rauished Deianira Hercules wyfe: who beynge wounded to death, gaue to Deianyra a poyson, wherwith Hercules shyrte beynge washed, and put on him, his body body did rotte with moſt horrible peynes, which he not ſuſteinynge, did enter into a great fyre, and let himſelfe be burned.

Neſor, The ſonne of Neleus and Chloris. In the tyme of the Troiane warre, beyng then almoſt thrée hundred yeres olde, he went with the other Grecians to Troy accompanied with .50. shyppes, and there by graue and wyſe counſayle, ſo muche furthered and profyted the Grecians affayres, that the prince Agamẽnon ſayde openly, he would not doubt in ſhort ſpace to take Troy, if he had fortuned to haue ten ſuche counſaylours as Nestor was. For beſyde his greatte wiſedome gathered by long experience, he was ſo eloquent, that Homere affirmeth his talke proceeded from him ſweeter then any honye.

Neſtorides, The ſonne or nephew of Nestor.

Neſtorius, A great heretyke, biſhop of Conſtantinople, the yere of our Lorde. 419. who denyed Chriſt to be god. Of him the heretikes holdyng that opinion, were called Neſtoriani.

Neſtus, A ryuer of Thrace.

Neuceria, A citie in Umbria, a parte of Italy.

Neuola, A ryuer in Umbria.

Neuri, People of Scythia, of whom it is written, that in Sommer they were tourned into wolues.

Neuſtria, Normandie.

N I

Nictos, A ryuer in Sicilie.

Nicæarchus, A famous peincter.

Nicandrus, or Nicander, A famous poete, whiche wrote of poyſons.

Nicánor, nicánoris, A grammarian of Alexandria, in the tyme of Adrian the emperour.

Nicator, nicátoris, m.g. The ſurname of Seleucus, and ſignifieth a vanquiſher.

Nicea, or Nicie, A citie in Bithynia, where was holden the holy counſayle againſt Arrius. In the whiche was preſente the noble emperoure Conſtantinus Magnus. There is an other citie of that name in Fraunce.

Nicepſus, A Greke phiſition and a great magician aboute the yere of our lorde. 650.

Nicetes, A ſophiſter in the tyme of Adrian, excellently learned.

Nicias, A noble mã of Athens. It is alſo the name of certayne other.

Nico, One of the Tarentines that conſpyred againſt Annibali.

Nicocreon, A tyrranne of Cypres.

Nicolaitæ, Were heretikes, which toke that name of Nicolas, one of the .vii. deacons in the tyme of the Apoſtles, who beyng blamed of them for ialouſy, brought his wyfe, who was fayre, amonge all the diſciples, ſayynge, that who ſo woulde, ſhoulde vſe hir, thinkynge thereby to pourge himſelfe of ialouſie: whereof other yll men takynge occaſion, beleued, that euery man mought lawfully vſe euery woman that he luſted. Whiche hereſy (as reaſon woulde) was condẽned immediatly, but it is to be feared, that it is not clerely extincte.

Nicolaus, A mans name.

Nicomachus, The name of diuers men.

Nicomedes, A kynge of Bithynia.

Nicomedia, A noble citie in Bithynia, where Conſtãtinus Magnus the emperour dyed. It is now called of the Turkes Nichor.

Nicophanes, A cunnynge peyncter.

Nicópolis, A citie in Epire, where Octauian vanquiſhed Antonie and Cleopatra.

Nicoſtrata, called alſo Carmentis, Was mother vnto Euander kyng of Latines, and a propheteſſe.

Nicoſtratus, A famous orator of Macedonie. The ſame was alſo a poete, and a mynſtrell of the ſame name. Alſo an excellent player of comedies.

Nigidius figulus, An auncient Romaine, which was a philoſopher, of the ſecte of Pythagoras, and wrate wonderful ſubtilly, about the yere of our lorde. xlviii. he dyed in exyle.

Nigir, A ryuer of Libya.

Nigrinus, A mans name in Lucian.

Nigris, A fountayne in Aethyope, which ſome ſuppoſe to be the head of the famous ryuer Nilus.

Niligenus, na, num, Engendred, or bredde in, or of Nilus.

Nilôtis, Nilótidis, f.g. Of Nilus.

Nilus, A famous and great ryuer, rennynge thorough Aethiope and Aegypte, and is ſuppoſed to be one of the ryuers of Paradyſe, called in holy ſcripture Gehon. All be it to me it ſeemeth vnlykely, for as much as in Geneſis it is wrytten, that Gehon enuironneth all Aethiopia, where is no mention made, that it paſſeth thorough Aegypte, all be it that Aegypte & the ryuer Nilus were more nigh to Moyſes, when he wrate the booke Geneſis, than Aethiope was. And alſo Nilus was famous for the vertue of the water thereof, whiche ouerflowynge the countrey of Aegypte, made the grounde wonderfull fertyle many yeres after, ſo that without labourynge, the earth brought forth abundaunce of ſundry graynes and plantes, delectable and profitable. Alſo beaſtes of ſundry kyndes, without other fourme of generation: eſpecially whan the ryuer came to the déepeneſſe of .xl. cubites. Likewyſe whan it exceéded not .viii. cubites, there ſucceded muche famine and ſcarcitie.

Niliacus, & Nilóticus, a, um, Perteynynge to the ryuer Nilus.

Nimblis, An yle in the ſea called Jonium.

Ninive, ſive Niſibis, A citie in Aſſyria, buylded by Ninus, in compaſſe thrée daies iourneye. There was an other citie of that name, in the corner of Judæa towarde Arabia.

Ninos, A citie of Aſſyria, called alſo Ninus, and Ninive.

Ninus, A kyng of Aſſyria, and ſonne of Belus, was the fyrſt that made warre. He conquered vnto Indie, and vanquiſhed Zoroaſtres kynge of Bactria, whiche fyrſt inuented arte magike, and also cauſed kyſſ money to be currant. He hadde to his wyfe Semiramis: he reigned. lii. yeres, before the incarnation of Chriſt. 2055. yeres.

Niobe, bes, Daughter of Tantalus kynge of Phrygia, wife of Amphion, a woman of muche wiſedome, who brought forth ſeuen ſonnes, and as many daughters of excellent beautie: whereof ſhe vaunted and preferred hir ſelfe before Latona, mother of Apollo and Diana. Wherefore Latona beynge angry, commaunded Apollo to ſlea all the ſonnes, and Diana al the daughters. For whiche déede Niobe (thorough diſcomforte and heauineſſe) loſt hir ſpéeche, and remayned without meuynge. Wherefore the poetes feygned, that ſhe was tranſformed into a ſtone vpō the ſepulchre of hir children.

Niphæus, A mans name in Virgile.

Niphates, A ryuer of the greate Armenie.

Nireus, diſſyllabum, The ſonne of Charopus, the moſte beautifull of all the Grékes that came to Troye.

Niſa, A womans name in Virgill.

Niſſa, A citie in Lydia. Alſo the name of dyuers men.

Niſæe, The name of a nymph or fayry.

Niſæus. A place in Media, where was a good bréede of fayre horſes.

Niſeus, a, um, Of Niſus.

Niſus, A kynge, of whom it is written, that he had one golden heare, the whiche cauſed him alwaies to be victorious. But his daughter called Scylla, ſtale away the ſaid heare, & brought it to Minos hir fathers ennemie, whom ſhe loued, thinkyng by that meanes to pleaſe him: wherby hir father was vanquiſhed and ſlayne.

Niſyros, An yle nyghe to Créece.

Nitriobriges, People of Narbon in Fraunce, nowe called Mount pellier.

Nitria, A countrey in Aegypte, and the name of. ii. cities aboue Memphis.

Nixus, i, A ſterre or planette in the fyrmament.

N O

Noctiluca, A name, whereby the Mone is called.

Nodinus, A god, whō the auncient Romaines worſhipped.

Nodus Cæleſtis, Was of auncient writers, taken for the ſigne of Piſces.

Noë, Signifieth reſt, or ceaſſynge from labour. It was the name of an holy patriarche, the ſonne of Lamech, whom onely (with his wyfe and thrée ſonnes) god elected to be preſerued from the vniuerſall floudde, whiche almightie god ſente ouer the worlde, for the horrible ſinnes of men then lyuynge. Noe (of the age of. 600. yeres) by the commaundement of God made a greatte veſſell, called in holy ſcripture an arke, whiche conteyned in lengthe. 300. cubites (as S. Auguſtine ſaieth) geometricall, euery cubite conteynynge. 6. common cubites, whiche is. 9. féete: ſo it was in length. 2700. feete, in breadth. 50. cubites, whiche was. 450. feete; in déepeneſſe 30. cubites, which was. 270. féete: wherein were alſo ſaued of all kyndes of beaſtes and foules, male and female. And after the floudde ceaſſed, the arke remained vpon an hyl in Armenia called Cordiei. Noe lyued after the floud. 350. yeres: after the creation of the worlde. 2007. yeres, and before the incarnation of Chriſt. 1855. yeres. He was of the gentiles called Janus, and ſometyme Vortumnus.

Noëmagus, a citie of Narbon in Fraunce, called Nion.

Noës, A ryuer in Thracia, which renneth into the ryuer called Danubius or Iſter.

Nola, A towne in Italy.

Nolani, People of that towne.

Nomades, People in Scythia, whiche is in Europa, whiche féedynge cattall onely, haue none other habitation, but where the cattall do tary. I ſuppoſe they be the Tartarians, nexte to Polonia and Ruſſy. They weare alſo a people of Affrike, which afterwarde were called Numidæ.

Nomentana via, The way out of Rome, leadyng to Nomentum.

Nomentum, A town in Italy, not farre from Rome.

Nomius, One of the names of Apollo.

Nona, The name of one of the thrée fatal ladies called Parcæ: the other. ii. are Decima, and Morta. The Grékes call them, Clotho, Lacheſis, and Atropos.

Nonacris, A place in Arcady, where is licour ſo cold, that nothynge can conteyne it but the houſe of a mule.

Nonácrius, a, um, and Nonacrinus, a, um, Of that place, or of Arcadie.

Norba Cæſarea, A towne in Portugall called communely Alcanta.

Noricum, A countrey in Germanie. It is bounded on the weaſt with the ryuer Aenus, and Vindelitia: on the north wō Dunow: on ỹ eaſt with Pannonia ſuperior: on the ſouth, with the Alpes. This and Vindelitia be as partes of Bauaria.

Nóricus, a, um, Of the countrey Noricum.

Nortmania, Normandy in Fraunce.

Nortmani, Normans.

Norwégia, æ, fœ. g. A countrey beyonde Denmarke, called Norway.

Notium, A towne in Aeolia. Alſo a promontory in Irelande, called commonly Cabo de Mar.

Notus, ti, The ſoutherne wynde.

Noua mœnia, A citie of Sarmatia, called commonly Weiſſenburge.

Nouantum Cherſoneſum, A place in the weaſt parte of Scotlande, called Cokermouth.

Nouatiánus. A prieſt of Rome, and ſometyme chapleyne to ſaincte Cipzian, began an hereſie called Catharon, whiche was, that they whiche had renounced the faith, ſhould not be receyued to penaunce.

Nouellus, li, A mans name in Rome, which woulde drinke vp. iii. of the meaſures called Congii, and was therefore ſurnamed Tricongius.

Nouember, bris, m.g. The moneth of Nouember.
Nouenniæ, plur. A citie in Thracia, called also Amphipolis.
Noniodunum, The name of diuers cities in Fraūce.
Nonium, A citie of Spayne, called commonly Noia.
Nonius, A ryuer in Britaine, commonly called Cloit.
Nouocomenſis, A citizen of Nouum Comum.
Nouum Comum, A citie in Lumbardy.
Noctes atticæ, The name of a booke, whiche Auſus Geſſius made, ſo called, becauſe he wrate it at Athens in wynter tyme.

N V

Nubigenæ, m. ge. The name of the Centaures, becauſe they were begottē of a cloude in the fourm of Juno.
Nuceria, A towne in Campania.
Numa, The ſeconde kyng of the Romaynes, nexte after Romulus. He was choſen by the people and Senate of Rome, of a poore gentylman, dwellyng in a towne of the Sabynes called Cures, for his excellent vertues and learning, beyng of the diſcipline of Pythagoras. He by his policie and ceremonies, brought the Romaines (who duryng the tyme of Romulus, were continually occupied in warres) in ſuche a wonderfull quietneſſe and honeſt fourme of lyuing, that the cōtreis enuironing theim, by the ſpace of .xl. yeres did neuer moue warre againſt theim. He fyrſte builded the temple of Janus, whiche being opened did declare warre, being ſhutte it ſignified peace. He ordeigned the thre highe prieſtes called Flamen dialis, Martialis, and Quirinalis. He firſt conſecrated virgines veſtals, apointed .12. Salios, inſtituted dayes of iudgemēt and vacation, and diuided the yere into .xij. monethes. All whiche thinges that the people myght haue in more eſtimatiō, he feigned that he deuiſed them by the inſtruction of the goddeſſe or nymph Aegeria.
Numana, A towne in Italy.
Numantia, A citie in Spayne about Biſkaie, which was of ſuche valiauntneſſe, that being beſieged of the Romains .xiij. yeres continually, yet they did not onely reſiſte, hauyng but foure thouſand men to defende it, but alſo vanquiſhed fourty thouſande Romaynes. At the laſt it was deſtroyed by the laſt Scipio, after he had beſieged it a long tyme. For whan they had long ſuſteined ſampyne, and might not iſſue foorth to fight in battayle, they burned theimſelues and all their goodes.
Numicius, A ryuer not farre from Lauinium.
Numicus, A ryuer in Italy, by the citie Lauinium, in the whiche Aeneas was drowned.
Numida, A man or woman of Numidia.
Numidia, A coūtrey betweene Carthage and Mauritania in Afrike, and nowe is called Barberia, where Maſiniſſa dyd ſometyme reigne. In that countrey is founde moſte excellent marble. The chiefe citie there was named Cirta, whiche was verey ſtrong, and ſo puiſſant of men, that in the tyme of Strabo, it might arme ten thouſande horſemen, and twenty thouſande footemen.
Numitor, ôris, Father vnto Rhea, whiche was the mother of Romulus: his yonger brother Amulius expelled him out of the kyngdome, kylled his ſonne Lauſus, choſe his daughter Rhea to bee virgine Veſtale, priuily in the darke rauyſhed hir, and after when ſhe was founde to be with chylde, (according to the lawe apointed to thoſe virgines) buried hir quicke, and commaunded Romulus, and Remus, that weare borne of hir, to be caſt into Tyber: but they were caſt to lande alyue, founde, and nouryſhed vp by the kynges ſhēpeheard Fauſtulus.
Nundina, æ, A goddeſſe of the Romaynes.
Nurſia, A citie of the Sabines, not farre frō Rome, ſet on the hilles of Umbria.
Nurſini, People of that citie.

N Y

Nycteis, idos, The daughter or nēece of Nycteus.
Nycteris, A name whereby Chærephon the philoſopher was called, for his exceading leānneſſe, that he gat with ouermuche ſtudie.
Nycteus, diſſyllabum, A kyng, the father of Antiope.
Nyctileia, Sacrifices by night donne to Bacchus.
Nyctileus, The ſurname of Bacchus, becauſe his ſacrifices were doone in the nyght.
Nyctimene, The daughter of Nyctæus, who after ſhe had lyen with hir father, was turned into an owle.
Nyctorix, or after ſome Nitocris, A quēne of Babylon, after Semiramis.
Nymphæ, Maidens of the ſea: elfes. Sometime the Muſes.
Nymphæum, A promontory or hylle of Proconneſus, out of the whiche alwayes iſſueth fyre.
Nymphæus, A ryuer in Italy by Velitre.
Nyſa, A citie of Arabie, where Bacchus was nouryſhed. Alſo a mountayne and a citie in India, builded by Liber pater. One Nyſa is in Boeotia, an other in Caria, and certayne other places.
Nyſæa. A citie in India, at the foote of the mountayne Meron.
Nyſeius, a, um, Of Nyſa.
Nyſeus, diſſyllab. The name of Bacchus.
Nyſias, ſiadis, A woman of Nyſa.
Nyſigena, One borne in Nyſa.
Nyſus, The frende of Euryalus, verey ſwyfte in rennyng.

O A

OAxis, A ryuer in the yle of Candie.
Oaxus, A citie in Candie.

O B

Obrion, One of the yles called fortunate.
Obris, The name of a ryuer.

O C

Ocalee, A citie of Boeotia.
Occaſio, ônis, fœm. gen. The goddeſſe of opportunitie, whoſe ymage is thus deuiſed of poetes. She ſtādeth on a tumblynge wheele, with wynges on hir fæte, tourning hirſelfe rounde hery ſwyftly, on hir head hauyng all the heare before, & cleane balde behynde. By which imagination they ſignifie, that opportunitie is a thing, that ſoone paſſeth, and is cleane loſt, onleſſe it be preſently apprehended.

*Poſt hæc occaſio calua, A prouerbe, Take occaſion when it commeth, for he that wyll not when he may, when he wyll he ſhall haue nay. The tyde tarieth no man.

*Occaſio premenda, A prouerbe, when the ſunne ſhineth make hay: The tyde muſt be taken when it commeth.

Oceanius, a, um, Of the Ocean ſea.

Oceanus, The ſonne of Cælum and Veſta, the great god of the ſea, and father of al the ryuers.

Océanus, i, ma. gen. The broade ſea, called the Occean ſea, whiche compaſſeth the worlde, and addeth to his name, the name of the coūtreys, by which it paſſeth: as,

Oceanus Britannicus, The ſea nert Englande and Scotlande.

Oceanus Indicus, The Indian ſea.

Ocellum, A citie in Spayne.

Ocheſius, A duke of the people called Aetoli.

Ochus, A ryuer whiche paſſeth through Acarnania a countrey in Gréece.

Ocnus, One in hell, whom poetes faygne to doe nothing but wynde and make cordes, and ſo faſte as he hath twiſted them, an aſſe ſtandeth and byteth it of. Whereof ryſeth this prouerbe Ocnus funiculum torquet, ſpoken of one that taketh great paine to thryue, and hath a ſhrewde houſewyfe at home, that ſpendeth as faſt as he getteth: Ocnus is alſo he that builded Mantua.

Ocrinum, Saynt Mychaels mounte in Cornewall.

Octapitarum promontorium, A place in Wales called ſainct Dauids.

Octauia, The ſiſter of Auguſtus, and wyfe of Antonius, whom he afterwarde forſoke. An other was daughter of Claudius the emperour, and wyfe to Nero, who cauſed hir to be ſlayne.

Octauianus, The name of Auguſtus, before he tooke on hym the Monarchie.

Octauius, The name of Auguſtus father, and of dyuers other Romaynes.

October, bris, m. g. The moneth of October.

Octoduri, Sein and Valeis in Fraunce.

Ocyalus, A mans name in Homere.

Ocypete, One of the Harpeys.

Ocyroë, A nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus.

Ocyron, A ryuer in Arcadie.

O D

Odites, A Centaure, one of the ſonnes of Ixion.

Odius, A mans name in Homere.

Odryſæ, People of Thrace.

Odryſius, a, um, Of that people, or of Thrace.

Odyſſea, æ, fœ. ge. A worke of Homere, conteyninge the great and perillous trauayles of Ulyſſes.

Odytes, Looke Odites.

Oea, A citie in Afrike.

Oeagrus, A ryuer in the countrey of Thracia. Alſo the father of Orpheus the poete.

Oeanthe, The name of a citie.

Oebades, Kyng Darius horſekeper, by whoſe policie he attained to the kingdome of Perſia.

Oebalia, The countrey in Gréece called alſo Laconia.

Oebalides, patronim. maſ. ge. pro gentili, A man of Laconia.

Oebalis, lidis, patronim. fœm.

Oebalius, a, um, Of Oebalia.

Oebalus, A kyng of Laconia.

Oechalia, A parte of Laconia, and a citie of the ſame name.

Oecinyres, A man of Argos.

Oedipodionides, The daughter or néece of Oedipus.

Oedipodionius, ia, um, Belonging to Oedipus.

Oedipus, Sonne of Laius and Iocaſta, whoſe father vnderſtanding by oracle that he ſhould be ſlaine of his owne ſonne, committed him being an infant, to his ſhéepehearde to kyll him. But he being moued with pitie, and yet not ſo bolde to refuſe and diſobey his maiſters commaundement, made holes through the chyldes fæte, and by a wythe hunge hym on a trée, by that meanes thynking that he would die for hūger. At which tyme happily one Phorbas kynge Polybius his heardman of Corinthe hauing occaſion to paſſe that way, hearyng the chylde crye, ſaued it, and brought hym as a great preſent to the quæne his maiſtres that had no childe. She eſtéeming it to be ſent hir of god by miracle, for that it was ſo goodly a babe, brought it vp tenderly as hir owne, and of his ſwollen fæte called him Oedipus. He commyng to age, and vnderſtandynge that he was not Polybius his ſonne, determined to goe ſéeke his father. Wherefore learnyng by oracle that at Phocis he ſhould méete with his father, he paſſed thither, and at his comminge fyndyng the people of the citie in an vprore and tumulte, as it fortuned he toke parte with certaine, and vnwares kylled his owne father Laius, who was come thither to quiete the ſeditiō. And ſo was the oracle fulfilled that ſignified he ſhuld light on his father at Phocis. Then thinkyng himſelfe to be deluded by the oracle, he wēt to Thebes. Wheare, beraule he was thought to be Polybius his ſonne, and had diſſolued the riddle of Sphinx, he was made kynge of Thebes, & vnwittingly maried the quéene Iocaſta his own mother, and had by hir foure chyldren. Finally hauing knowledge at length that by miſfortune he had murdered his father at Phocis, and by inceſte had knowen his owne mother, ſo ſore it gréeued him, that in reuengemēt therof he pulled out his owne eyes, and lyued euer after in banyſhment, hauing his daughter Antigone to leade hym, by whom he was often times preſerued, when he would haue ſlaine hymſelfe.

Oenanthia, A citie of Sarmatia, called now S. Sophia.

Oeneus,

Oeneus, diſſyllabum, The father of Meleager, and Deianira the laſte wyfe of Hercules: He was kynge of Calydonia.

Oeneus, a, um, and Oeneius, a, um, Of Oeneus.

Oenides, The ſonne or nephew of Oeneus.

Oeniſteria, Was a certayne ſacrifice at Athens, made by yonge men, newely bearded, whiche was doone before they dyd cutte the heare that was longe, whiche ſacrifice was in this wyſe: A certaine meaſure of wyne was brought into the temple of Hercules, wherof the yonge men dranke a lyttle, and gaue the reſidue to all other that were preſent.

Oenochema, A mountayne in Affrike.

Oenochônus, A ryuer renning into Theſſaly.

Oenomaus, Kynge of Elis, and father to the beautifull ladie Hippodamia. He had knowlage by oracle that he ſhoulde be ſlayne by his daughters huſbande, who, for hir excellente beautie was at that tyme ſued for by many noble men. But Oenomaus thinkynge to kéepe his daughter from maryage, and truſtynge to excédynge ſwyfte horſes that he had, propoſed this offer to the wooers whiche came to hir, that they ſhoulde contende with him in rennynge with the chariot, on this conditiõ, to haue his daughter if they ouercame him, and to léeſe theyr lyues if they by him weare ouercome. Thirtéene hadde for loue of the ladie aduentured and loſte theyr lyues. At the laſte came Pelops Tantalus his ſonne, who, with money corrupted Myrtilus the charyotte man, to leaue a whéele of Oenomaus his charlotte vnpynned, whereby in the raſe the whéele fell of, and Oenomaus with the fall of the charlotte was ſo ſore bruiſed that immediately he dyed, yeldynge both the victorie and his daughter to Pelops, whom he alſo moſt earneſtly deſired to be reuenged on his falſe ſeruaunte Myrtilus, by whoſe vntroth he was betraped. Wherefore when Myrtilus afterwarde with reprocheful wordes requyred his reward, Pelops threwe him headlonge into the ſea, as a due rewarde for him, that had beene falſe to his prince and maiſter.

Oenone, The concubine of Paris, before that he rauiſhed Helene.

Oenopia, An yle called alſo Aegina.

Oenopides, An aſtronomer of Chios.

Oenops, A mans name in Homere.

Oenotria, A countrey in Italy. Some wryte, that Italy it ſelfe was ſo called, of Oenotrus an Arcadian.

Oenotrides, Two yles nygh to Calabria.

Oenotrius, and Oenotrus, a, um, Of Oenotria.

Oeta, A mountaine betwéene Theſſalia and Macedonia, where is the ſepulchre of Hercules.

Oëta, The father of Medea, wife of Jaſon.

Oethyni, People nére to Pontus.

Oetoſcyros, In the Scythian tongue, the name of Apollo.

Oetus, The brother of Ephialtes the gyaunt.

Ogdoſapis, A ryuer, whiche commeth out of the hilles called Alpes, and renneth to Rome.

Ogdous, A kynge of Aegypte, whiche fyrſte builded the citie of Memphis.

Ogygea, An yle betweene Phœnicia and Syria, where Calypſo dwelled, which deteyned with hir Ulyſſes.

Ogyges, He that firſt builded the citie of Thebes.

Ogygidæ, Thebans.

Ogygius, a, um, Made, or founde by Ogyges.

Ogyris. An yle in Syria.

O I

Oicles, The ſonne of Antiphates.

Oileus, A kyng of Locris, father to Aiax.

Oilides, The ſonne of Oileus.

O L

Olbia, A citie of Narbon called Eres.

Olcachites, The boſome of the ſea in the prouince called Zeugitana.

Olearus. One of the yles called Cyclades.

Oleaſtrum, A towne of Spayne.

Olenus, ni. Vulcanes ſonne.

Olenus, A citie in Arcadia, where the gote, with whoſe mylke Jupiter was nouryſhed, was brought vp: and therefore the ſygne of ſterres (whiche was ſuppoſed to bee the ſame gote) is named Olenia.

Olenius, a, um, Of Olenus.

Oliba, A towne in Spayne, called commonly Olit.

Olicana, A towne in Englande, called Ryrkby.

Oſſus, A mans name, that was a great marker of other mens fautes.

Olophernes, Chiefe conſtable to the great Nabugodonoſor kynge of Aſſyrians, a valyaunte cappytayne: not withſtandynge (beynge ouercharged with wyne, and to muche truſtynge in the beautie and pleaſaunt ſpeache of the Hebrewe ladye Judith) he was by hir ſlayne in his bedde, and had his head ſtriken of, and brought to his ennemies. He was before the incarnation of Chriſte. 633. yeres.

Olympia, A citie betwéene the hylles of Oſſa and Olympus.

Olympia, ôrum, Solemne playes and games kepte in Créece, to the honour of Jupiter Olympicus, or (after ſome) in the honour of Hercules.

Olympiecus, a, um, Perteynynge to thoſe plaies, or to the citie Olympia.

Olympias, piadis, The name of Alexanders mother, and a wynde blowynge in Eubœa. Olympias is alſo the ſpace of fyue yeres, whereby the olde Créekes dyd accompte, as we dowe nowe by the yeres of our lorde: as, the fyrſte Olympias, the ſeconde, the thyrde, &c. Elareanus wryteth, that Olympias is the ſpace of fowre yeres, and that they, whiche take and wryte otherwyſe, are deceiued.

Olympicus, a, um, Of Olympus.

Olympicum certamen, Was a game or pryce kept on the hyll of Olympus, by all the princes and cities of Grécce euery fyfte yere, in the honour of Hercules, who fyrſt begánne it. In the whiche were all theſe maiſtries proued: Rennynge on foote to a golle. Alſo rennyng forthe, and backe agáyne two furlonges. Alſo wraſtlyng, fightyng with fyſtes, rennynge with horſes, and leapyng from the one to the other, courſynge with charriottes: rennynge with mares: but ſo as in the mydde of the courſe, he that dyd ryde ſhoulde leape downe, & holdynge faſt the bridle, ſhoulde make an ende of his courſe. There was alſo contention and victorie of poetes, rhetoricians, muſitians, and ſubtile diſputers. In the place dyd growe a wylde olyue trée, whereof garlandes were made, and geuen to the victours herevnto aſſembled: In the whiche tyme eyther warre was appoincted, or leagues concluded.

Olympionices, or Olympionicus, He that hath had victorye in the games at Olympus.

Olympius, a, um, Of Olympus.

Olympus, A mountaine or hylle in Grécce, betwéne Theſſalia, and Maccdonia, aboue the whiche appéereth no cloude, and therefore amonge the poetes it is vſurped for heauen. Plutarchus in Vita Aemilii ſaieth, that it is tenne furlonges in height.

Olynthus, A citie nére Athens.

Olyras. A ryuer in Grécce, by the place called Thermopylæ.

Olyſippum, A citie in Portugall, nowe called Vliſſbona, in engliſhe Lulleborne.

O M

Ombrici, People nére to Illyricum.

Omphale, A mayden, whiche was quéene of Lydia, whom Hercules dyd ſerue, and ſhe cauſed him to ſpinne on a rocke.

O N

Onchiſton, A place in the marches of Thebes.

Oneſicritus, A philoſopher, and an hiſtoriographer of Aegina.

Oneſimus, A learned man in the tyme of Conſtantinus Magnus.

Onoba, A citie of Spayne.

Onobaliſtura, An other citie of Spayne.

Onophrius, A certayne man, that ſo loued ſolitarineſſe, that in the ſpace of thrée ſcore yeres he neuer ſawe man, and by that continuall beynge in wylderneſſe, became exceédinge owglie to ſée to. For his heare and beарde couered all the vpper parte of his bodie and his preyue partes he hyd with barkes and leaues of trées. He lyued. 30. yeres, and neuer dyd eate any thynge but hearbes and bearies. Panutius when he ſawe him was afrayde of him, and thought he had bene a Satyre.

O O

Oonæ, Iles in the northe Occean, where the inhabitauntes dwe lyue with egges of foules.

Opeſſum, A towne in Englande called Cheſter.

O P

Opheltes, The ſonne of Lycurgus, ſlayne by a ſerpente. Vide Lemnos.

Ophiogenes, People of Helleſpont, whiche heale the ſtingyng of ſerpentes with touching the place.

Ophion, One of Cadmus compaignions.

Ophioneus, The name of a ſothſaier.

Ophiophagi, People in Aethiope, which dó eate ſerpentes.

Ophiucus, The name of Aeſculapius, becauſe that he is imagined to holde a ſerpente in his hande. Some wryte, that it is a ſigne in heauen, which ſome call Hercules, other Aeſculapius.

Ophiuſa, An plande, called ſometyme Rhodos.

Opigena, Juno was ſo called of women, becauſe thei ſuppoſed, that ſhe holpe them in theyr trauayle.

Opis, opis, pen. prod. A lady, compaignion to Diana. It is alſo a citie by the ryuer Tigris.

Opiterginus, a, um, Of the towne of Carniers, called Opitergium.

Opites, The name of a Grecian, which Hector ſlue.

Oppia, A virgine Veſtale, whiche beynge conuicted of whoredome, was buryed quicke.

Oppianus, A certayne poete.

Ops, opis, pen. corr. fœ. g. The ſyſter and wyfe of Saturne. Looke more in Cibéle.

Opuntius, a, um, Of the citie Opus.

Opus, untis, A citie in Locris.

O R

Orbelon, A place in Thracia, where Orpheus dyd dwell.

Orbilius, A grammarian of Beneuentum in Ciceros tyme.

Orbis obliquus, The Zodiake.

Orcas promontorium, The north ende of Scotlande.

Orcelis, A towne in Spayne called commonly origuela.

Orchades, Thirty plandes in the ſea by Scotlande.

Orchamus, A kynge of Aſſyria, whiche buryed his daughter Leucothea quicke, becauſe ſhe was rauiſhed of Apollo.

Orchoë, A citie of Babylon.

Orchomeneus, a, um, Of Orchomenus.

Orchomenus, A mountayne in Theſſaly. Alſo a citie and a riuer in Bœotia.

Orcinus, a, um, Of Orcus.

Orcus, A ryuer of hell. Alſo an other in Theſſaly. It is ſometyme taken for hell.

Ordeſſus, A ryuer of Scythia.

Ordo ſuci, Hilles that dwe diuide Scotlande and England: they be now called Cheuiet.

Ordouicū, uici, A citie in Britaine, the people whereof were called ordouices, whom Julius Agricola ſubdued.

Oreades, Nymphes of the mountaynes.

Orebatis, A citie of Perſis.

Oreſitrophus, One of Actæons dogges.

Oreſtes, The ſonne of Agamemnon and Clytemneſtra. His ſiſter Electra, whan ſhe perceiued the aduoutrer Aegiſthus & hir mother woulde haue ſlayne him with his father, conueighed him priuily out of the way, & ſét him to his vncle Strophius king of Phocis, where he was brought vp vntill he came to age: and then returnynge to

Argos

Argos, with the consent of his sister Electra, in reuengement of his fathers death, slue both his mother Clytemnestra, and the aduoutrer Aegisthus. Afterwarde also he killed Pyrrhus in the temple of Apollo, for that he had maryed the ladie Hermione that was before to him betrothed. For these murders Orestes was so cruelly tourmented with furies, that he wandred madde in many countreis, and neuer coulde be holpen, before that by sacrifice he purged his cruell dowynges at the aulter of Diana in Taurica. In all his troubles and aduersities he had a faithfull friende named Pylades, that dyd alway accompanie and helpe him, and loued him so entierly that he woulde haue geuen his lyfe for him. For when kinge Thoas doughted whiche of them was Orestes, beynge in fauour bothe very lyke, Pylades sayde he was Orestes, that he myght haue bene put to death for him, and Orestes againe for his parte affirmed earnestlye, as the trueth was, that he was Orestes, that his friende might not, for his sake without cause, lese his lyfe. Wherefore these two are noted as an example of faithfull friendeshippe.

Orestēus, a, um, Of Orestes.

Orestis, orestidis, A parte of Macedonie.

Oretæ, People of Indie.

Oretus, A riuer of Sicilie.

Oreto, or Oria, A towne of Spayne called Calatraua.

Oreus, A name of Bacchus.

Orge, A well in Narbone, wherein groweth a certayne herbe, which oxen and kyne dwe so greatly desyre, that they thrust their heades wholly vnder the water to get it.

Orgia, ôrum, n. g. plur. Ceremonies or songes perteyninge to infernall goddes, or to Bacchus.

Oribasius, A noble man, whiche was familiar with Julianus the emperour: he wrate. 72. bookes of phisike.

Oricius, a, um, Of Oricos.

Oricos, or Oricum, A citie of Epire.

Origenes, called also Adamantius, (borne at Alexandria in Aegypte) Was sonne of one Leonides the martyr, a man of moste excellente doctrine and vertue from his childehode: who beynge on slepe, his father came into the chamber, and takynge awaye the clothes softely, kissed the breast of the infant, as a temple, hauyng within it the holy ghoste, and gaue thankes to god, that he had geuen him suche a sonne. Whan his father was martyred, Origen beynge but a ponge childe, and yet desyrous of martyrdome, ranne amonge other that weare ledde to bee slayne, and by all meanes profered himselfe to die with them. But his mother (who loued him moste entierly) perceyuynge the matter, dyd firste lamentably intreate him to withdrawe him, but his desyre of martyrdome was the more encreased therby. Wherefore in the night when he was in his bed, she stale away his clothes, so that in the morynge whan he woulde haue gone forth, he might not come by them: wherefore he was constrayned to tary at home. Of the whiche deceipte of his mother, he complayned to his father in pryson, desyringe him to persiste constantlye in his good purpose. After the death of his father, he gaue himselfe continuallye to the studie of holy scrypture, whiche he had tasted before by his fathers instruction. And yet, before he was. xx. yeres olde, he excelled all men of his tyme, as well in philosophie, as all other sciences. At the age of. xviii. yeres he expounded gentile authours openlye, wherein he so enterlaced the holy scripture, that he conuerted many greate learned men to the fayth of Christe. His lyuynge was so straynte and vertuous, that he drewe many vnto him, and was amonge all men had in a woonderfull reuerence. He neuer ceassed in all persecutions to comforte and confyrme men in the embracynge of martyrdome, and dydde continually reade openlye, and also wrote innumerable bookes in the expoundynge of holy scripture. He went into dyuers countreis to preache, and for his greate fame, Mammea the mother of the noble emperour Alexander Seuerus, sente for him to Rome, and hearde him, and (as some suppose) was by him conuerted. He obserued all the preceptes of the gospell moste straytely, in continuall fastinges and watchinges, hauing but one gārmente, goynge alwaies barefoote, counsaylynge all his hearers to renounce all that they had, and to geue it in almesse. Also he gelded himselfe, not onely to be the more chaste, but also (because in the time of persecution, he taught the worde of god, as well privyly as openly to men and women) to lette the paynyms to speake dishonestē of him, and those that repayred to his sermons and lessons: whiche although he dyd secreately, yet god woulde not haue it hyd, so that it came to the eare of Demetrius the byshop of Alexandria, who, firste wonderynge at the stomacke and vertue of the man, prayslnge the feruentnesse of his faythe, sayde vnto him: Now sticke to thy doctrine and preachynge, sence thou hast lefte vnto thyne aduersaries none occasion of suspitiō. But afterward the same Demetrius styred with enuie, layed it in reproche against him openly, fyndyng nothyng elles wherewith to dispraise him. He that wyll knowe more of Origen, let him reade the vi. booke De historia Ecclesiastica, and saincte Hierome De scripto. eccles. He was after the incarnation of Christe. 204. yeres.

Orion, orionis, The sonne of Neptunus. Some feygned, that whan Oenopius had lodged Jupiter, Mercurie, and Neptune, and had killed for theim an Ore, he desyred them to graunte him a sonne. Than those three pissed in the hyde of the ore, of the whiche (beynge layed on the grownde) came Orion, as it weare Vrion. For Ouros in Grééke is vrine. Whan Orion beynge an hunter, woulde haue defloured Diana, he was slayne of a scorpion, and translated among the sterres, & there is the signe called in latine Jugula.

Orithæa, A nymph that encourageth men to ren.

Orithyia, The daughter of Erichtheus kinge of Athens, whom Boreas loued, and conueied away with him into Thrace. An other of this name was quéene of Amazons.

Orizon, ontis, m. ge. Is the furthermost parte of the fyrmament that mans eye can determine.

Ormenius, A citie of Magnesia.

Ornea, Sacrifices dedicated vnto Priapus.

Orneus, One of the Centaures.

Oroandes, An hyll by the mountayne Imaus.

Oroatis, A ryuer in the bosome of the sea called Persicum, southwarde.

Oroba, A citie of Assyria.

Orobatis, A citie of Persis.

Orodes, A kynge of Parthia, who vanquished and slew Crassus the Romaine.

Oroëtes, A Persian, whiche dyd hange Polycrates the tyranne of Samos.

Orontes, A ryuer by the citie of Antioche. Also a Troian that came from Troy with Aeneas.

Orontēus, a, um, Of Orontes.

Orosius, A woorshipfull prieste borne in Spayne, right eloquente and experte in histories. He wrate. vii. bookes against them that saied, that the decay of the common weale of Rome happened by the doctrine of Christe. He was sente by saincte Augustine, to sainct Hierom, who was then in Judea, to learne of him the reason of the state of the soule.

Orpheus, A Thracian borne, sonne of Oegrus, and Polymnia, or (as some write) of Apollo and Calliope, an auncient poete and harper moste excellent. He (as the poetes surmised) dyd with his musike delyte wylde beastes and infernall spirites, and moued stones with his swéete harmonie: wherby he recouered his wyfe Eurydice out of hel. At the last he was slayne with lightnyng, or (as some write) torne in péeces by women, because that for the sorow of his wyfe Eurydice, he did not onely himselfe refuse the loue of many women, and lyued a sole lyfe, but also disswaded other from the company of women.

Orpheus, a, um, Of Orpheus. sometime for Thracius.

Orphneus, One of Plutos horses.

Orsilochus, The sonne of the ryuer Alpheus.

Orthocorybantii, People of Scythia in Asia.

Orthosia, A citie of Syria, called now Tortosa.

Orton, A citie of the Pelignians, called commonly Pietra de pirati.

Ortona, Idem.

Ortopla, A citie in Dalmatia.

Ortygia, The name of an Ile in the sea Aegeum, called also Delos.

Dea Ortygia, Diana.

Osca, A towne in Spayne called commonly Guesca.

Oscela, A citie in the Alpes, called nowe Secusa.

Osci, People in Italy.

Osiris, siris, or siridis, The sonne of Jupiter and Niobe, fyrst kyng of Argyues: after leauynge that realme to his brother, he wente into Aegypte, and there reigned, and maried Isis. Finally he was slayne by Typhon his brother, and longe soughte for by Isis his wyfe, who at laste fynding his body, buryed it in the yle Abatos, where the Aegyptians afterwarde fyndynge an oxe, supposed that Osiris was become a god, and takynge that oxe with them to the citie of Memphis, honoured him for a god, and callynge him Apis, they ordeined to him certaine ceremonies. A lyttle whyle after, drownyng him in the ryuer, they sought for an other lyke oxe, with wailynge and wéepynge: whiche beynge founden, they cryed with muche gladnesse, and broughte him to the citie. He was before the incarnation of Christe. 2012. yeres.

Ossa, An high mountaine in Thessaly.

Ossæus, a, um, Of that mountaine.

Ossonoba, A citie of Portugall.

Ostia, A towne nigh to Rome.

Ostiensis, A little hauen at Rome.

Ostiensis, se, Of Ostia.

Ostiensis porta, A gate in Rome towarde Ostia.

Ostrogothi, Easte Gothes.

O T

Otanes, A noble man of Persia, whiche conspyred with Darius against the Magitian that vsurped the kyngedome.

Othryades, A certaine Lacedemonian.

Othrys, A mountayne of Thessaly, where dwelled the people called Lapithæ.

Othrysius, a, um, Of Othrys.

Othus, or Oetus, A certayne gyant. Looke Ephialtes.

Otreus, The brother of Hecuba.

Otryades, A valiaunt man of Sparta. When the citizens of Argos and Sparta, beynge at variaunce for a péece of lande, had agréed that. 300. of each syde should trye the matter by a cumbat, & whether parte did ouercome, that that shoulde haue the lande, so it happened, that all on bothe sydes weare slayne, sauynge this onely Otryades and two of his ennemies. The two Argiues his ennemies he chased and put to flight, and after he had spoyled all his ennemies bodies, and caryed the praie to his campe, for shame that al his felowes were slayne he would not retourne home to Sparta, but wrytynge on his tergate this woorde Vici, in the same place slue himselfe.

O V

Ouidius, surnamed Naso, Borne in Sulmo, brought vp in Rome, and dylygentlye instructed in latyne letters from his tender age, he gaue most dylygente studye to the makynge of verses, from the whiche he was withdrawen by his father, and put to learne Rhetorike, wherein a whyle while he muche profyted, and was in the numbre of the beſt oratours of that tyme, and was aduaunced to ſundrye authorities, and made a Senatour. Not withſtandynge he chiefely dedicated himſelfe to poetrie, wherein by nature he was excellent in facilitie and abundance of ſentences. He was in good fauour with the emperour Auguſtus, of whom at the laſte he was exiled into Pontus, where he ſpente the reſte of his lyfe in a towne called Tomos, among people moſte barbarous, who not withſtandynge lamented his death, for his courteſie and gentle maners. The cauſe of his exile is vncertaine, ſauynge ſome ſuppoſe it was for abuſynge Julia, daughter of the emperour Auguſtus, although the pretence of the emperour was for the makynge of the booke of the crafte of loue, wherby ponge myndes myght be ſtyred to wantonnes. He lyued at the tyme when Chriſt our ſauiour was conuerſaunt with vs here on earth.

O X

Oxeas, Hercules ſonne by Megara.

Oxellum, A citie in Englande called Cheſter.

Oxos, A ryuer in Aſia, rennynge thorough the deſertes of Scythia.

Oxyrynchus, A citie in Aegypte, ſo called of the fiſhe Oxyrynchus, foraſmuch as the Aegyptians worſhipped two fiſhes for goddes, that is to ſay Lepidotus, & Oxyrynchus. Alſo two birdes, an hauke, and the birde Ibis. Alſo three beaſtes, an ore, a dogge, and a catte, and ſome honoured a Crocodile, and ſome Ichneumon, a little beaſte that killeth the Crocodile: in the ſaide citie the fyſhe Oxyrynchus was ſpecially worſhipped.

P A

PAchiri, Certaine hilles in the leſſe Aſia.

Pachorus, A kyng of Parthia, ſlayne in Syria, after the death of Craſſus.

Pachynus, A mountayne in Sicilie, on the ſea ſyde, or an elbowe of the lande there, whiche nowe is called Cano paſſaro.

Pachyſos, A ryuer in Sicilie.

Paciſeianus, The name of a certaine ſworde player.

Pacinus, A mans name.

Pactolus. A ryuer in Lydia, hauyng golden grauel.

Pacuuius, A famous wryter of tragedies, borne at Brundiſium in Calabria, ſyſter ſonne of Ennius the poete: he is commended of Quintilian for the grauitee of his ſentences, the ponderouſneſſe of his wordes, and the authorities of the perſonages whiche are in his tragedies and comedies. That his ſtyle ſeemeth ſomewhat rude, is to be aſcribed to the tyme, and not to his faute: he lyued vntyll the age of. 90. yeres. He was before the commyng of Chriſt. 133. yeres.

Padus, A famour ryuer in Italye, whiche is there named Po. Cato in originibus ſaieth, that the Tuſcanes called it Bodincum, the Ligurians Bodincum. Plinie calleth it Bodincum, that is to ſay, hauing no bottome, the Greekes call it Eridanus. It commeth out of the hyll called Veſulus, which is the higheſt parte of the mountaines called Alpes, and renneth by the marches of Liguria, and ſo paſſeth vnder the grounde, and ryſeth eſteſones in the countrey called Vibonenſis, and carieth with him. xxx. other ryuers into the Venetian ſea, named Adriaticum.

Padua, A citie in Italy called Pauie.

Paduſa, A ryuer, whiche ſome ſay is an arme of the ryuer Po.

Pæan, pæanis, m.g. An hymne in the prayſe of Apolly. Sometyme the ſame Apollo.

Pæantius, a, um, Of Apollo.

Pædaretus, A mans name.

Pæon, onis, An excellent phiſition.

Pæonia, A countrey in Europa, and is a parte of Macedonie.

Pæſtanus, a, um, Of the citie Pæſtum.

Pæſtonium, or Pætonium, A citie of Auſtriche, called commonly Betta.

Pæſtum, A citie of Lucania, where groweth abundance of Roſes.

Pagaſa, A towne of Theſſaly, which after was called Demetrias.

Pagaſæus, and Pagaſeius, a, um, Of Pagaſa.

Pagyris, The name of a ryuer, & of a citie, of whiche the people are called Pagyritæ.

Palæmon, Palæmonis, A god of the ſea. Alſo the ſonne of Phineus, kinge of Arcadie. Alſo a grammarian in the time of Tyberius, and a ſhepheardes name in Virgill.

Palæphatus, An auncient wryter in the tyme of Artaxerxes.

* Palæphatia papyrus, A booke conteynyng nothynge but fables and tales, or thinges vncredible.

Palæpolis, A place not farre from Naples.

Paleſtina, A countrey in Syria, ioygnynge to Arabie, called in holy ſcripture Philiſtim.

Palamedes, The ſonne of Nauplius kyng of Eubœa, a great ennemie of Ulliſſes, by whom in the ende he was in falſe iudgement condemned and ſtoned to death. For when al the princes of Greece weare appointed to goe to Troy, Ulyſſes, loth to departe from his new maryed wyfe, feygned himſelfe madde, and the more to make men beleeue it, he yoked beaſtes of dyuers kyndes, and ſowed ſalte. But Palamedes to try his craftie diſſimulation, layed his ponge ſonne Telemachus in the way as the plough ſhould goe, whō when Ulyſſes perceiued, he lifted vp the plough, that he might not hurte him. Wherby his diſſimulation beynge perceiued, he was taken to Troy whether he woulde or noe. In diſpleaſure of this and certaine other matters, Ulyſſes beynge at Troy counterfaiteth letters from Priamus to Palamedes, wherein he gaue thankes for treaſon that he condeſcended vnto, and made mētion of a great ſumme of money that priuily he had ſent him. Which ſume of money, Ulyſſes coꝛruptynge the ſeruauntes of Palamedes, had cauſed to be hydde in the grounde in his tente. When theſe letters weare appꝛehended and openly redde, and Palamedes accuſed of treaſon, Ulyſſes ſæmeth to take parte with him, and earneſtly to affirme that he was gyltleſſe, and the letters counterfayted, and that the ſame might eaſyly be tryed, if they did ſearch his tente. Foꝛ if there weare founde any ſuche ſumme of moneye, as the letters ſpecified, then Palamedes woulde confeſſe himſelfe to be gyltie, if not, as he was ſure they ſhoulde not, that then it might well appére he was vniuſtly accuſed. But whē this ſearche was made, the money was there founde dygged in the grounde, and Palamedes therevpon condemned, and by the whole armie ſtoned to death. This man is repoꝛted to haue inuented certayne letters of the Créke croſſe rowe, and alſo the game of cheſſes, and maners of weightes and poyſes, and fyꝛſt to haue applyed the yere to the courſe of the ſonne, and monethes to the courſe of the mone. He fyꝛſte alſo deuiſed the arꝛay of battayle, the watchwoꝛdes and watches in the campe, eſpecially by the example of cranes, & therfoꝛe thei are called Palamedes his byꝛdes.

Palatina, A countrey by Rome.

Palatinus, a, um, Of Palatina.

Palantēum, A citie builded on the hyll called Palatinus.

Palantia, A citie in Aragonia.

Palas, The daughter of Euander.

Palatinus mons, An hyll at Rome.

Palātium, tii, n. g. An hill in Rome.

Palatuar, oꝛ Palatual, A ſacrifice doone at Rome on the hylle called Palatinus.

Palatualis, A pꝛieſte, conſecrated to the goddeſſe that had the tuition of the palaice in Rome.

Pales, The goddeſſe of ſhépeheardes and paſture.

Palene, A citie ſo called of Pallena, the daughter of Sithon, and wyfe of Cletus.

Palepaphos, A citie of Cypꝛes, dedicate to Uenus.

Paleſcamander, A ryuer in Troy.

Palſurius, An oꝛatour.

Palicenus, A fountayne in Sicilia.

Palici, Twe bꝛothers, the ſonnes of Jupiter and the nymph Thalia, who fearing the diſpleaſure of Juno, wiſhed that the earth might open & ſwalow hir, which wiſh was heard, and ſhe ſoftely receiued into the earth, not farre from the citie Cátina. When the full time of byꝛth was come, the ground opened againe, and bꝛought into the woꝛlde theſe two bꝛetherne Palici. In that place, the olde inhabitauntes of the countrey, weare wonte to ſhew two moꝛes oꝛ powles called Deſli, out of the which they came: which weare had in ſo great reuerence, that perſonnes ſuſpected, whē they ſwoꝛe to cléere thēſelfe, weare bꝛought thither. Foꝛ if any man were ſuſpected of theft, fiꝛſt he did put in ſuretie to reſtoꝛe it if he were conuicted, then was he bꝛought to the bꝛinke of thoſe powles, to take his othe foꝛ his purgation. And if he ſwoꝛe truly, he ſcaped without harme, If he ſwoꝛe falſely, he fell downe dead immediately.

Palilia, oꝛ Parilia, ôrum, n. g. plur. ſhépeheardes holy dayes, kepte in the honour of Pales.

Palinurus, The maiſter of the ſhippe wherein Aeneas came into Italie. Alſo an elbow of the lāde of Sicilie into the ſea.

Palládium, dii, n. g. The ymage of Pallas in Troy.

Palladius, A mans name whiche wꝛote of huſbandꝛy. Alſo a caryer, whiche was exceédynge ſwyfte.

Palladius, a, um, That belongeth to Pallas.

Pallantia, A towne in Spayne.

Pallas, antis, The ſonne of Euander, ſometime king of Latines. Alſo a gyaunt.

Pallas, adis, The daughter of Jupiter, called goddeſſe of battayle, and alſo of wiſedome.

Pallene, A coūtrey by Macedonie, & a citie in Achaia

Palma, A towne of Spayne.

Palmaria, An yle in the Tuſcane ſea.

Palmyra, A greate caſtell oꝛ foꝛte in the myddle of Syꝛia.

Palmyrina, A countrey in Syꝛia.

Palſum, A ryuer in Bꝛytayne.

Pamiſus, One of the fyue pꝛincipall ryuers of Theſſalia.

Pámphagi, People of Aethiope, whiche dooe eate of all maner of thinges.

Pamphilia, A region in the leſſe Aſia, lyynge on the ſouth ſide of the mountayne Taurus, and marcheth on the realmes of Phꝛygia, and Caria.

Pamphilius, a, um, Of Pamphilia.

Pámphilus, The name of Neocles ſonne, Platos ſcholer. Alſo a pꝛieſte of Cæſarea, whiche was martyꝛed.

Pampilōna, A citie in the realme of Nauerre.

Pan, panis, Called the god of ſhépeheardes. He is thought to be Demogoꝛgons ſonne, and is thus deſcribed. In his foꝛehead he hath hoꝛnes like the ſunne beames, a longe beard, his face redde like the cléere ayꝛe, in his bꝛeaſt the ſterre Nebris, the nether parte of his bodie rough, his féete like a goate, & alway is imagined to laugh. He was woꝛſhipped eſpecially in Arcadie.

Panætius, A Stoike philoſopher.

Panætolium, An hyll of Aetolia. Alſo the whole coūſaile of the countrey of Aetolia.

Panætolicus, a, um, Of Panætolium.

Panathenæa, Were among the Athenians certaine ſolemne ceremonies, wherof ſome weare great, and kept euery fyfth yere, ſome were leſſe, and they were yerely celebꝛate. They were ſomtime called Athenæa.

Panchæi, People in the deſertes of Lybia, whiche eate ſerpentes.

Panchaia, A region in Arabie, called alſo Sabæa.

Panchæus, and Panchaicus, a, um, Of Panchaia.

Panda, A citie in India, where the great Alexander builded the thyꝛde citie of his name, the vtter-vttermoſt ende of his iourney. Alſo in the ſame place were aultars buylded by Bacchus, and after by Hercules, thã by the quæne Semiramis, laſt by Cyrus.

Pandana porta, A gate of the citie of Rome, whiche was firſt opened, and laſt ſhutte, for all thinges to be brought into the citie.

Pandatória, An yle in the ſea Tyrrhenum.

Pandectæ, arum, fœ. gen. plur. The volume of the lawe ciuile, called the Digeſtes, and ſignifieth, comprehending all thynges.

Pandíon, onis, The ſonne of Erichtheus, kynge of Athens.

Pandiónia, The countrey of Athens.

Pandionius, a, um, One of the countrey of Athens.

Pandóra, A womã, vnto whom ſundry goddes gaue ſundrie giftes. Pallas gaue hir wiſdome, Venus beautie, Apollo muſike, Mercurius eloquence. And therfore ſhe was called Pandóra, which ſignifieth, hauinge all giftes. Heſiodus the poete writeth, that Iupiter ſent hir into the worlde to deceiue mankynde. Alſo Deucalions mother.

Pandoſia, A citie in Italy, an other in Epire.

Pandoſius, A pole in Arcadie.

Paneus, A town and a ryuer of Colchis.

Pangæus, An elbowe of Thrace.

Panhormus, idem quod Panormus.

Paniſcus, A god of the wooddes.

Pannonia, The countrey now called Hungaria, which tooke that name of an other Hungaria, nowe called Iulira: It lieth in the north part of the world, not farre from the ryuer Tanais, and is tributarie to the Moſcouites. The boundes of Hungarie are nowe muche larger than they were of olde tyme, and hath on the weſte, Oſtrike and Beame: on the ſouth, the part of Slauony that lieth on the ſea Adriaticum: on the eaſt, Servia: on the north, Poſonia, and Moſcouia. The countrey is ryght fertile of grayne, and ryche of golde & ſyluer: And, as the inhabitauntes doe reporte, there is a ryuer, wherein if yron be oftentymes dieped, it will be tourned into copper. This noble realme is now deſtroyed, and vnder the captiuitie of the Turkes, whiche is ſore to be feared all chriſtendome ſhall repente. For it was ſometyme reputed the puiſſaunt bulwarke of al chriſtian realmes againſt the intollerable violence of Saralyns and Turkes.

Pannonia ſuperior, The countrey called Auſtria and Stiria. In this countrey ſtandeth Vienna. Pannonia inferior hath on the northe, Dunow & Germany: on the weſt, Pannonia ſuperior: on the ſouth Liburnia: on the eaſt, Iazyges. This countrey is almoſte wholly vnder the Hungares.

Pannones, Hungarians, called alſo Pæones.

Panomphæus, a, um, A name of Iupiter, ſignifiynge that he heareth all mens voyces, or becauſe he is worſhipped of all men.

Panope, A citie in Phocis.

Panope, and Panopæa, A nymph of the ſea.

Panormita, Panormitanus, and Panormius, One of Panormus.

Panormus, and Panormum, A citie in Sicilie, nowe called in Italian Palermo.

Pantaces, A ryuer in Samos.

Pantagias, A ryuer in Sicilie.

Pantanus, A poole of Puell in Italy.

Panthea, The wyfe of Abradata, a Perſian.

Pantheon, A temple in Rome, of all the goddes.

Panthefilêa, A quæne of Amazones.

Panthoides, The name of Pythagoras, whiche ſaid, that he was once the ſonne of Panthous the Troiane.

Panthous, or Panthus, A Troian, the ſonne of Otreus brother of Hecuba.

Panticapes, A ryuer of Scythia.

Panticapeum, A towne not farre frõ the ſame place.

Pantomatrium, A towne by the ſea ſide in Candy.

Pantrepes, A ryuer of Scythia.

Paphages, A kyng of Ambracia.

Paphlago, Paphlagonis, One of Paphlagonia.

Paphius, a, um, Of Paphos.

Paphlagonia, A countrey in the leſſe Aſia, ioygning to Galatia, where dwelled the people called Veneti, of whom came the Venecians. It is bounded on the eaſt, with the ryuer called Halys, rennyng out of the ſouth betwæne Syria and Paphlagonia.

Paphos, A citie in the Ilande of Cypres, whiche was dedicate to Venus, whereof ſhe was called Paphia.

Paphus, He that builded the citie Paphos.

Papia, A citie in Lumbardie, called Pauie.

Papinianus, A famous lawier in the tyme of Seuerus the emperour.

Papinius, A poete of Naples.

Pappus, A philoſopher of Alexandria.

Papyrius, The name of a noble ponge gentilman, who beynge a chylde, (as the maner then was) came with his father into the Senate, at ſuche tyme as it happened weightie and very ſecreate matters to be talked of. When he came home, his mother was very earneſt with him, to know what matter was handled in the Senate that daye. He feyng none other ſhifte, and yet loth to vtter the truthe, ſayed: forſooth mother, they debated that it might be lawfull for one man to haue twoo wyues. She thinkyng it to be true, the nexte morynyng, when the Senate was again ſette, gathereth together the noble women, and with admiration of all men commeth into the Senate, and there with a ſolemne tale requeſteth that by the ſame lawe it might be lawfull for women alſo to haue twoo huſbandes. The Senate at the firſt wõdred much at hir wordes: but when the matter was declared by the ponge gentilman, they muche prayſed his wyſedome and towardneſſe, and with rebuke dimiſſed the women that ſhewed themſelfe ſo fooliſhe, and ſo curious to knowe that, whiche nothynge appertained to theim.

Paradiſus, i, maſ. gen. or after ſome, fœ. gen. Paradiſe.

It ſignifieth a gardein.

Paradiſus, A towne in Syria.

Paræſitaceni, People in the vttermoſte borders of Media.

Parætonium, A citie in Aegipte, with a great hauen.

Parætonius, A great hauen of Cyrenaica. Alſo a town of the ſame name.

Parallĕli, Lynes in the ſphere of the worlde, equally diſtant, whereby the ſunne paſſing, cauſeth variation in the houres of the day.

Paralus, his name that firſt inuented galyes.

Parapotamia, A countrey nere to Tigris.

Parcæ, Ladies of deſtenie. The names of them be Clotho, Lacheſis, and Atropos. The firſt of them is deuiſed to beare the diſtaffe, the ſeconde to ſpynne out the threade of mans lyfe ſo longe as it doth cõtinue, the third breaketh of the thread, and endeth the mans life. They are imagyned to be the daughters of Erebus and Nox.

Parecłonia, The mother of Plato the moſte noble philoſopher.

Parienna, A towne in Germanie called Frydeclz.

Parilia, and Palilia, orum, neut. gen. plur. Feſtiuall dayes, whiche the Romaines kepte, for preſeruation of their cattall.

Parion, A citie in Helleſpont.

Parippi, Dogges among the Athenienſ as ſwifte as horſes.

Paris, Kynge Priamus his ſonne of Troye, whoſe mother being with childe dreamed, that ſhe was deliuered of a fyre brande: whiche thynge the ſothſaiers interpreted, that the childe, ſhe went with, ſhould be the confuſion of Troy. Wherefore, when he was borne, kynge Priamus commaunded him to be deſtroied, but Hecuba of motherly pitie, procured him to be priuily brought vp of a ſhepehearde in mount Ida. This man is alwaye deſcriued of Homere as a more pleaſaunt carpet knight, then ſtoute warriour, and more delighting in inſtrumentes and daliaunce, then Martial proweſſe and chiualrie. Wherfore poetes write of hym, that, when Juno, Pallas, and Uenus, weare at controuerſie for the golden appull, that lady Diſcorde did caſte among theim to be geuen to the fayreſt, they weare appointed by Jupiter to vſe the iudgement of this Paris being then a ſhepehearde in Ida. Juno to haue the prayſe, profered him a noble kyngdom, Pallas promyſed the gifte of wyſedome, and Uenus the fayreſt ladie, that then liued in the earth. Paris not eſtéeming either in Juno pryncely regyment, or in Pallas noble wyſedome, as the dearlynge of Uenus, gaue to hir the price of greateſt beautie. After he had long tyme lyued as a ſhepehearde, he was at the laſt knowen, & receiued into his fathers fauour, and vnder pretence of ambaſſade ſayled into Gréece, where by his amarous behauour in the court of kyng Menelaus, whyle he was abſent, he allured his beutifull wyfe Helena to forſake hir huſbande, and to goe with him to Troye. Whiche vncourteous villany in ſo noble a prince as he was eſtemed to be, the Gréekes did take ſo greuouſly, that they by othe conſpired in reuengement thereof to make a voyage againſt Troye, and neuer to retourne till they had brought that noble kyngdome to confuſion.

Parium, A citie in Aſia, in the countrey of Myſia.

Parius, a, um, Of the yle Paros, frõ whence is brought marble ſtone called Parium marmor.

Parius lapis, A touche ſtone.

Parma, A citie in Italy.

Parmenides, A philoſopher, the diſciple of Anaxagoras.

Parmenio, One of Aleranders capitaines.

Pármeno, A mans name in Terence.

Parmenſes, The inhabitauntes of Parma in Italy.

Parnaſides, The nine Muſes, or ladies of ſciences.

Parnaſius, a, um, Of Parnaſus.

Parnaſus, or Parnaſſus, A mountayne in Gréece, hauyng twoo toppes, vnder the whiche the nyne Muſes did inhabite or dwell.

Parnes, nethis, maſ. gen. or fœ. ge. An hylle in the countrey of Athens.

Parnus, One that for a boate, whiche he had loſte, ſued euery body that he mette: wherof roſe this prouerbe.

*Diſceptare ob Parni ſcaphulam, To make great ſuite and buſineſſe for mattiers of ſmall value.

Paropaniſadæ, People of Aſia, by the hylle Paropaniſus.

Paropaniſus, A mountaine ioygnynge to Indie, and the countrey called Bactra. It is alſo the name of a great ryuer, that renneth through Scythia, not farre from the north Ocean, and ſome doe name it the dead ſea, or froſen ſea.

Paros, otis, An yle in the ſea called Aegeum.

Parrhaſia, A coũtrey in Gréece, called alſo Arcadia.

Parrhaſius, a, um, Of that countrey.

Párrhaſis, idis, fœm. gen. A woman of Parrhaſia. Caliſto was ſo named.

Parrhaſius, (An excellent peynter) contended with Zeuxis in cunning: Zeuxis brought forth a table, wherein he had ſo craftely peincted grapes, that byrdes flewe to theim, and picked on them. Parrhaſius brought forth an other table, wherin was peincted onely a ſhéete, ſo finely wrought that al men iudged it to be a veray ſhéete. Than Zeuxis required him to take away the ſhéete, & ſhewe forth his warke. Whereat Parrhaſius laughed, and ieſted at Zeuxis merily. Than Zeuxis perceiuing it, acknowledged his errour, and graunted the victorie vnto Parrhaſius, ſaiyng: yeſterday I deceiued byrdes, but to daye thou haſt deceiued me beyng a craftes man.

Parthaon, onis, Father of Oeneus kyng of Aetolia.

Parthenius, A ryuer in Pontus and Bithynia. Alſo the name of a poete.

Parthénius, a, um, Of that ryuer.

Parthenope, The olde name of the citie of Naples. Alſo one of the mearemaydes, whiche drowned themſelues, becauſe they coulde not allure Ulyſſes lysses to them.

Parthenopeus, a, um, Of Parthenope.

Parthenopæus, A kyng of Arcadie, the sonne of Mars and Penalippa, whiche was slayne at the siege of Troy.

Parthia, A countrey in Asia, whiche hath on the south the redde sea: on the noꝛth, the sea called Hircanum: on the east, the people called Arii: on the west, the realme called Media.

Parthi, People of that countrey.

Parthiarii, Marchauntes that bꝛynge thynges out of Parthia.

Párthicus, a, um, Of the countrey of Parthia.

Parthini, People of Macedonie.

Parthissus, A ryuer on the noꝛthe part of Germany.

Paryſatis, The daughter of king Cyꝛus, and mother of Artarerres.

Paſetes, A iugglers name.

Pasiphaë, es, oꝛ Paſiphaa, æ, The wyfe of Minos kynge of Crete, who hauing companie with a bulle, bꝛought foꝛth the monster called Minotaurus, whiche was halfe a man, and halfe a bulle. But Seruius wꝛiteth that kynge Minos secretarie named Taurus, had companie with Paſiphae in the house of one Dædalus. She thereforꝛe beyng after deliuered, had twoo sonnes, one like to Minos, and the other to Taurus the kinges secretary: and that thereupon poetes tooke occasion to deuise the fable of the monster Minotaurus begotten on Paſiphaë, being by Dædalus inclosed in a timber cow.

Paſiphaëius, a, um, Of Paſiphaë.

Paſithea, One of the Graces, called Euphroſyne.

Paſitheles, A famous grauer bꝛorne in Grëece.

Paſithoë, A nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.

Paſtóphori, Certaine pꝛiestes in Aegypt, perteyning to Isis.

Postóphoros, A name of Uenus.

Patara, A citie in the countrey of Lycia, where Apollo was chiefly honoured.

Patauium, A citie in Italy, called Padua oꝛ Pauie, nygh vnto Uenice. Also a citie in Bithynia, called nowe Polmen.

Patauini, Men of the citie of Pauie.

Patauinitas, The pꝛopertie of the language of theim that dwell at Pauie.

Paterniana, A towne of Spayne, called commonly Paſtrana.

Patizites, A Persian, whiche made hys bꝛother Smerdes kynge of Persia, after the death of Cambyses.

Patræ, trarum, A citie in Achaia.

Patriánus, a, um, Of the citie Patræ.

Patriárcha, chæ, maſ. gen. The name of dignitie of fiue chiefe Archebishoppes, as of Rome, Antioche, Alexandꝛia, Hieruſalem, and Conſtantinople.

Patriarchátus, The saide dignitie of a Patriarche.

Patrocides, A flatterers name.

Patróclus, A noble Gꝛecian, sonne of Menætius, and vnder Chiron the Centaure in his youth, bꝛought vp together with Achilles, who euer after loued hym moſt tenderly. Wherefoꝛe at the warre of Troye (when Achilles did kæpe his tent, and would not fight, in displeasure that Agamemnon had taken lady Bꝛiseis from hym) This Patroclus, the moꝛe to feare the Troiãs, bozowed the armure of Achilles, whom he knew they dꝛadde full soꝛe, and in the same fighting in the fielde, was slayne of Hectoꝛ. Foꝛ sozowe wherof Achilles (that before could by no meanes be perswaded) to reuenge his friendes death as a fierse tyger came agayne into the fielde, and there mæting with Hectoꝛ, after long fight chased him on foote round about ỹ walles of Troy, and at the last slewe hym, and in the sight of his wꝛetched father Pꝛiamus, dꝛue him by an hoꝛse tayle about the walles, and after .xij. daies space scantly with a great summe of money could bee perswaded to suffer hym to be buried.

Pattagia, A ryuer in Sicilie.

Patulcius, The name of Janus, because that in the tyme of warre the dooꝛes of his temple stoode open.

Paulus, A name of dyuers Romaynes: one was moſte excellent, named Paulus Aemilius, sonne of Lucius Paulus. He ascendyng by all dignities vnto Consull, was cappytayne of the warres in Spayne, where he fought two battayles, wherin were slayne. 30000. Spaniardes, and wonne 250. walled townes, & not withstanding returned to Rome, not one grote the rycher: foꝛ he was lyberal and sumptuous, and not very riche. Afterwarde he made warre against the Ligurians, whiche were about Jeane, where haupnge with hym but onely. 8000. he put to flyghte. 30000. and bꝛought them to subiection. Finally, he fought againſte and banquyſshed Perses kynge of Macedonia, and bꝛought hym and his chyldꝛen pꝛysoners to Rome, and tꝛyumphed in this fourme. The Senatours apparayled in whyte sylke, satte at stages about the market place, to beholde the tꝛyumphe: all the temples were set opẽ, and filled with flowers and swete perfumes: the tꝛiumphe was diuided into thꝛee dayes. The first daie vnneth suffised to the beholdyng of ymages, as wel peinted as wꝛought in stone and metal, by moſt excellent woꝛkemẽ, whiche were caried in. 250. charlottes. The seconde daye was bꝛought foꝛth the harneys and artyllary of the Macedons, and the apparayle of hoꝛses, whiche was in suche soꝛte, that it was in a maner terrible to the vãquisshers to behold. After folowed. 3000. men, whiche bare syluer coyne in. 350. vessels of syluer, euery vessell beeing in weyght thꝛee talentes, whiche was. 240. li. after. 80. li. to euery talente, euery vessell was bꝛorne of foure men. Other dyd beare great cups and pottes of syluer. The thꝛde daye the trumpettes came befoꝛe blowyng bloudy soundes. After theim came. 120. oren, their hoꝛnes gylte, and therevpon were set fillettes and garlandes, and were led with yonge men, gyrte and prepared to sacrifice them: and chyldren bare cuppes of golde and syluer, to serue to the sacrifice. After them folowed they that bare money of golde in golden vesselles, euery of theim weyghynge three talentes. Also the nombre of the vesselles were. 240. Than folowed they that caried the potte, whiche Aemilius had let make all of precious stones, weyghyng tenne talentes, whiche was. 800. li. Also they that bare all the plate of the kynges Antigonus, Seleucus, Thericius, & Perses, whiche was innumerable. After came the chariot, wherin was Perses harneys, with his diademe set therevpon. Soone after his two sonnes, and one daughter led, and wyth theim a great numbre of nourryces, maisters, and gouernours, weping and holding vp their handes to the people. Whereof many were moued to teares, so that the triumphe seemed to bee mingled with gladnes for the victorie, with heauyneste for compassion. After his chyldren and seruauntes folowed forthwith Perses in a blacke garmēt, tremblyng & troubled in spirite: whom insued a great company of his counsailours and officers, beholding him sorowfully with teares, whiche more constraygned the Romaynes to wepe, for pytie that they hadde of their misery. After him were borne foure hundred crownes of golde, whiche were gyuen to Aemilius by the cities of Grece for his vertue and prowesse. Thā folowed Aemilius himselfe, sitting in a chariot, veray rychely apparayled, hauing a robe of purple tinset, and bearyng in his hande a braunche of laurelle, as a man beside that honour woorthy to be looked on. Than after came the men of warre, whiche had been with hym, in order of suche bendes and companies as belonge to battayle, euery of theim bearynge in his hande a braunche of laurelle, and singyng verses myxte with mery tauntes: Some singyng the prayses of Aemilius, whom they behelde, and woundred at for his excellent qualities. But now beholde, Aemilius being in that state and condition, that nothing lacked in him that man coulde wysshe for: yet his lyfe was not without aduersities. He hauing fower sonnes, of the whiche he had giuen twoo in adoption to Scipio Affricanus, & Fabius Maximus: the other twoo he kepte at home with him: The one of theim died. v. daies before the triumphe, beinge sixtene yeres olde: The other beynge twelue yeres olde, dyed the thirde daye after the triumphe. The whiche crueltie of fortune all men lamented, that hadde brought so great heauineste into the house replete with suche gladneste, reioycing, and noble renoume, and had meddled teares, sorowes, and lamentation with victorie, ioye, and triumphe. But therefore Aemilius neuer abated his courage, but calling the people together, made to theim a noble oration, declaringe that he was nothyng deceyued by fortune, for as muche as whan she semed to him most fauourable, he thā more feared hir than any thyng elles: And although she had taken from hym good sonnes, whom he appointed to succede him, yet since she had shewed hir extreame malice to hym and his bloud, he had good hope nowe, that the people of Rome should remayne prosperouse without any peryll. O noble herte, O valiaunt courage, worthy to be left in remembrance. He brought so much gold & siluer into the treasorie of the Romaines, that there neded no taske to be set on the people. lxxx. yeres after and aboue: yet he left in patrimonie vnneth. 592. li. and in treasure littell or nothyng. This history I haue wrytten for the notable thynges therein conteigned, with the vnsuretie of prosperitie, wherin al men are blinded, that desyre to haue it. One thyng would be remembred. Although Aemilius were a fauourer of the nobilitie, yet was he better beloued of the people, than was Scipio, who onely studied to serue their purposes. For his humanitie equally mixte with grauitie, he was brought to the earth, not with sumptuous preparation, but with loue and fauour, not onely of his countrey men, but also of his ennemies. For as many of Liguria, Spayne, and Macedonia, as were than at Rome, they that were yonge and stronge dyd beare the corps, the olde men folowed, callynge him benefactour and conseruatour of their cities and countreis.

Paulus, The apostle of Christe, borne in Judea, in a towne called Giscalis, of the tribe of Beniamin, the towne beyng taken by the Romaynes, went with his parentes to Tarsus a citie of Cilicia, & dwelled there. But afterwarde he was sent by theim to Hierusalem to learne the lawes, and was there taught of one Gamaliel, a great learned man. He being with other at the martyrdome of saint Steuen, receiued letters of the bishop, willyng hym to goe to Damascus, there to persecute theim that beleued in Christe. And in the waye, he was by reuelation chaunged, from a persecuter to a vessell of election. Afterwarde whan he had conuerted Sergius Paulus (than beynge Proconsull at Cypres) to the faythe of Christe, by hym he was called Paulus, where before he was named Saulus. Fynally, he suffered martyrdome by beheadyng, after the passion of Christe. xxxbij. yeres, and the. xiiij. yere of the reigne of Nero. Hæc Hieronymus & Sophronius. The residue of his lyfe appeareth in the actes of the Apostles. His learning and mistical wysedom, is well shewed in his epistles, in the whiche (as saint Peter sayeth) be some thynges harde to be vnderstande, and that men vnlearned and incōstaunt doe depraue, lyke as they doe the other partes of scripture, to their owne perdition.

Paulus Samosatenus, An horrible heretyke, bysshop of Antioche, a man of excedyng pryde and intollerable vanitie, about the yere of our lorde. 267. His heresy was, that Christ began of our lady, and and toke his firſt begynnynge of the earth, and was a man onely of our cõmune nature. Which hereſie was condemned by a generall councell holden at Antioche, and Paulus excommunicate by all the councell, and an other byſhop put in his place. And he by the commaundement of the emperour Aurelianus was of the people pulled out of the churche.

Pauſanias, The generall capitaine of the Lacedemonians in the great battayle againſt Xerres, and yet afterwarde he was condemned of treaſon.

Pauſiacus, a, um, Of Pauſias.

Pauſias, A noble peincter.

Pax Julia, A towne of Portugall, called commonly Badoioz, oz Pacenſis.

P E

Pedæus, Antenors baſtarde ſonne.

Pedana, A countrey by Rome.

Pedaſus, The ſonne of Bucoliõ. Alſo a citie by Pylos. Alſo one of Achilles horſes.

Pegaſa, A towne of Theſſalia.

Pegaſea, The ſhyppe of the Argonautes was ſo called.

Pegaſeus, and Pegaſeius, Of Pegaſus.

Pegaſicus ſinus, A boſome of the ſea in Theſſaly.

Pegaſides, The Muſes.

Pegaſus, i, ma. gen. An horſe, whiche was feigned to haue wynges. It is alſo a ſygne oz numbze of ſterres in heauen.

Pelagia, A womans name of Antioche.

Pelaſgi, People whiche came out of Grèece, and inhabited Italy. They be alſo Arcadians.

Pelaſgia, A countrey in Grèece, called ſometyme Theſſalia.

Pelaſgias, adis, One of Pelaſgia.

Pelaſgicus, a, um, Of Arcadie.

Pelaſgis, A countrey in Grèece called Arcadie.

Pelethronii, The Lapithes were ſo called.

Pelethronium, A towne in Theſſaly.

Peleus, The ſonne of kynge Aeacus, and father of Achilles.

Pelias, adis, Of Achilles: vt, Pelias haſta. Achilles his ſpeare.

Pelias, æ, A kyng of Theſſalie, vncle to Jaſon.

Pelicus, A prince, of whome the people called Peligni toke their name.

Pelides, The ſurname of Achilles.

Peligni, People in Italy, whiche came out of Illyria.

Pelignus, a, um, Of that people.

Pelion, lii, neu. gen. An hylle in Theſſaly.

Pelius, and Peliacus, a, um, Of Pelion.

Pella, A citie in Macedonie.

Pellène, A very auncient citie of Achaia.

Pelopeis, idis, and Pelopeias, The daughter oz nèece of Pelops.

Pelopidæ, They that deſcended of Pelops.

Pelopidas, A noble man of Lacedemonia.

Pelopius, and Pelopeius, a, um, Of Pelops.

Peloponneſius, and Peloponneſiacus, a, um, Of Morea.

Peloponneſus, A countrey in Grèece, called nowe Morea: on the northe, it hath the gulphe of Corinthe, Iſthmos, and the ſea of Crete: on the weſte and ſouth, the ſea Adriatike: on the eaſt, the ſea of Crete: ſo that it is almoſte cleane enuironned with the ſea. In it were the famous kyngdomes of Mycenæ, of Argos, Lacedæmon, Arcadia, Sicyonia, &c. It is nowe vnder the Turke.

Pelops, pis, The ſonne of Tantalus, who vanquiſſhed on horſebacke in rennyng Oenomaus, father of Hippodamia, and wedded hir. Vide Oenomaus.

Pelõrus, ri, m. ge. oz Peloris, idis, An hylle in Sicilie on the ſea ſyde.

Peluſiotæ, The inhabitauntes of Peluſium.

Peluſium, A citie in Aegypt, and one of the mouthes of Nilus.

Penates, The Gentiles called goddes of mans lyfe. The nominatiue caſe ſingular is after ſome Penas, after other Penatis.

Peneleus, One of the fiue capitaines of Bœotia that came to Troy.

Penelope, es, oz Penelopéa, æ, The daughter of Icarus and wyfe of Ulyſſes, moſt chaſte, wyſe, and conſtant aboue all the women of hir tyme, who in the .xx. yeres that hir huſbande was abſent, being ſought vpõ by diuers wooers, which (would ſhe oz no) abode in hir houſe, myght neither by fayre meanes noz menaces be induced to mary, oz to conſent to committe any foly. When hir wooers were very earneſt to haue an aunſwere, ſhe requeſted ſo muche reſpyte vntill ſhe hadde wouen vp a cloth that ſhe was then in hande with. Which when they had graunted, craftily in the night ſhe vnweaued as muche as ſhe had wrought vp in the day, and ſo from time to time dzaue them of without either aunſwere, oz much commyng in their company. Wherof riſeth this prouerbe,

*Penelopes telam retexere, Whiche ſignifieth to doo and vndoo: to take muche labour in vayne.

Peneus, A ryuer in Grèece, that diuideth the countreis of Aeolis and Achaia.

Pentapolis, A countrey betweène Paleſtina and Arabia, wherin were the cities of Sodome and Gomoz, burned by the vengeaunce of God, foz ſinne againſt nature.

Pentelici Hermæ, Were lyttle ymages of Mercurius made of marble, called Pentelicus, which was one of the moſt fayze ſtones that ymages mought be made of.

Penthefilèa, A quéene of Amazons, which was ſlayn at the ſiege of Troy.

Pentheus, diſſyl. The ſonne of Echion.

Penthyſus, The ſonne of Demonous, whiche came to the ayde of Xerres, with .xy. ſhippes, and was taken pzyſoner by the Grèekes.

Peræa, The vttermoſte parte of Judæa, towards Arabia and Aegypte.

Percoſius, A ſoothſayer, whiche fauoured the Troyanes.

Percoſius, a, um, Of the citie Percote.

Percote, A citie of the countrey of Troas.
Percica, A parte and a pozte of Lycia.
Perdiccas, A noble man of Macedonie.
Perdix, The name of a lame vitailer in Ariſtophanes.
Perga, A towne in Pamphylia, wherof Diana was called Pergæa.
Pergama, ôrum, The toures of Troye. It is taken alſo for the citie of Troye.
Pergameus, a, um, and Pergamenus, a, um, Of Troye.
Pergamus, or Pergamum, A famous and ryche citie in Aſia the leſſe, where Galen the moſte noble phiſicion was borne.
Periander, One of the ſeuen wyſe men of Greece and kyng of Corinthe.
Pericles, A noble and valiaunt capitaine of the Athenians, excellent in witte and naturall eloquence: he was inſtructed in philoſophie by Anaxagoras, ſo that therby he atteined vnto meruaylous great knowlage, noble courage and patience, in ſo muche that whan a lewde perſon followed him to his houſe, reuiling him al the way: whã he was come to his doze (than being night) Pericles commaunded one of his ſeruauntes to take a torche, and bring him (who had rebuked him) home to his houſe. Alſo he beynge in great eſtimation and authoritie among the people of Athens, would neuer be at any feaſtes or banketting es, nor receyue of any mã, any preſentes or giftes, nor did goe to euery aſſemble or counſell, or beyng there, did ſpeake or reaſon in euery matter, but reſerued himſelfe to thinges of very great importaunce. And yet ſeemed he than to be very timorouſe. But yet his eloquence was ſo excellent, his voyce and pronunciation ſo pleaſaunt, his ſentences ſo pondorouſe & vehement, that he neuer ſpake, but that therto al men conſented. And therefore it is written of him, that he did fulminate his woordes, that is to ſaye, that they proceeded from hym as thunder, and lightnynge. He was of ſuche temperaunce, that although he ſeemed to haue all the Athenians at his commaundement, yet he neuer increaſed his owne reuenues the worthe of one farthyng, but augmented the commune treaſure exceedingly. And ſuch ſpoyle as came to his part in ỹ warres, he did employe vpon grayne and vittayle, diuidyng it among the people in the tyme of neceſſitie. He was vnfortunate onely in his owne children, his eldeſt ſonne Xantipp⁹ perſecuting him with ſundry diſpleaſures, and openly mockyng hym. Notwithſtandinge (as it was reaſon) he died miſerably before his father. Finally Pericles being ſycke vnto death, the noble men came to comfort hym, ſpeakyng ſoftely they communed of his prowes, where he had victory in nyne great battayles. He hearing what they ſpake, ſayed vnto theim: that he much merualled, that they ſo greatly extolled that thyng, whereof the more parte perteyned to fortune, and had happened to diuers other capitaynes as well as to hym, and that they ſpake nothing of that which was moſt to be praiſed. For neuer man, ſaied he (by myne occaſion) had cauſe to put mournynge garment vpon him. Plutarchus in Vitis. He was afore the incarnation of Chriſt. 441. yeres.
Periclymenes, Neſtors brother.
Periſſus, An artificer, whiche made a bull of braſſe, wherinto (beyng glowyng hotte) men ſhould be put, that in tourmentyng of theim, by their crying, a noyſe ſhould iſſue out lyke the lowynge or bellowyng of a bull. The whiche engynne whan Perillus had geuen vnto Phalaris the cruell tyranne: he cauſed him firſt to be put into it, to proue his owne experience.
Perinthius, a, um, Of Heraclea.
Perinthus, A citie of Thrace, whiche nowe is called Heraclea.
Peripatetici, Philoſophers of Ariſtotles ſecte or opinion.
Periphas, A mans name in Virgill.
Perithous, Loke Pirithous.
Permeſſus, aut Permeßis, ßidos, A ryuer in Greece, dedicate to the Muſes.
Pero, The daughter of Neleus, and ſiſter of Neſtor, a woman of excedyng great beautie.
Peroſi, A people of Aethiopia.
Perſa, A man or woman of the countrey of Perſia.
Perſeis, A Nymphe, one of the daughters of Oceanus.
Perſeis, ſeidis, fœ. gen. Of Perſia: as,
Perſeides herbæ, id eſt, magicæ.
Perſephone, The ſurname of Proſerpina.
Perſepolis, A citie in the countrey of Perſia.
Perſes, The ſonne of Perſeus and Andromeda, of whom came the Perſians. Alſo a kyng of Macedonie, vanquiſhed by Aemilius: an other was brother of Heſiodus the poete: an other, brother to Aeeta, father of Hecate.
Perſeus, ſei, and Perſes, ſis, or ſi, A noble knyght, which deliuered a fayre lady (called Andromeda) from a whale, and alſo ſlewe Medula, whiche turned men into ſtones. Of his father and mother loke Danaë. Alſo it is a ſigne among the ſterres.
Perſia, æ, Perſis, Perſidis, and Perſida, dæ, A countrey in the eaſte parte of the worlde, whiche hathe on the northe, Media: on the weſt, Suſiana: on the eaſt, Carmania: on the ſouthe, the Perſian ſea, called Sinus Perſicus: wheare nowe the Sophi reigneth.
Perſicus, a, um, Of Perſia.
* Perſici apparatus, Sumptuous and riche prouiſion.
Perſius, The name of two learned Romaynes.
Peruſia, A citie in Italy, called commonly Perugia, Perouſe.
Peruſinus, a, um, Of Perouſe.
Peſſennius, A mannes name, a great fryende of Ciceros.
Peßinuntia, Loke Cibele.
Peßinuntius, a, um, Of or belongyng to Cybele.
Péßinus, untis, A towne in Phrygia, where was a temple dedicate vnto Cybele.

Peſtanæ,

Peſtanæ, Certayne valleies in Campania, where flowers doe ſpryng twyſe in a yere: wherof the moſte perfecte roſes be called Peſtanæ roſæ.
Petalus, A mans name.
Petaſati, Were the ſurnames of Caſtor and Pollux.
Petilia, A citie in Lucania.
Petoſiris, A famouſe aſtronomer of Aegypte.
Petra, A towne in Sicilie by Hybla. Alſo a towne of Araby, whereof Arabia Petræa is named.
Petræ Sirenum, A towne of Lucania.
Petracorii, A people of a place in Fraunce called cõmonly Perigort.
Petræa, A nymphe of the ſea.
Petrõnia, æ, A little broke rennynge into the ryuer of Tyber. Alſo ỹ wyfe of Vitellius ỹ emperour.
Petuſcum, A parte of the citie of Rome.
Peuce, An yle in the ryuer Iſter.

P H

Phabiranum, A citie in Germanie called Bremen.
Phæaces, People of the yle of Corcyra, vnder the dominion of Alcinous.
Phæacus, a, um, & Phæacius, a, um, Of ỹ people Phæaces.
Phædimus, One of the ſonnes of Amphion and Niobe. Alſo a poetes name of Byzaunce.
Phædon, A noble man of Athens, ſlayne by the thyrty tyrannes. An other was a philoſopher, in whoſe name Plato made his booke of the immortalitie of the ſoule.
Phædra, The wyfe of Theſeus, and ſtepmother to Hippolytus, daughter of Minos kyng of Creta.
Phædrus, One of Platos ſcholars.
Phæniana, A citie of Rhetia, called nowe Behenburium.
Phæſtum, A citie of Crete.
Phæſtus, The ſonne of Borus, ſlayne at Troye. Alſo an hylle of Crete.
Phaëton, tontis, A woorde of thre ſyllables, the ſonne of Phœbus and Clymene, who with long deſyre, obteyned at the laſt of his father, that he mought one daie gouerne or leade the chariotte of the ſunne: but beyng vnable to that office, the horſes ouerthrewe the chariotte, and burned all the worlde. Wherof Iupiter beyng afeарde, leſt he alſo ſhoulde bee burned, ſtrykynge Phaeton with lyghtnynge, threwe him into the ryuer called Padus, and Eridanus.
Phaëtontiades, The ſiſters of Phaetõ, lyke Heliades.
Phaetóntius, or Phaëtontæus, a, um, Of Phaeton.
Phaëthuſa, The ſiſter of Lampetia and Lampetuſa: theſe thre were ſiſters of Phaeton, and daughters of Phœbus & Clymene. But Homer ſaieth that Phaethuſa and Lampetia were the daughters of Phœbus and Neæra.
Phago, A mans name, whiche was an exceadynge glutton, and did eate in one daye a whole boxe, an hundred loues of bread, a ſhepe and a pygge, and dranke thereto the veſſell of wyne called Orca, a butte or other lyke veſſell.
Phalacrus, The ſonne of Aeolus.
Phalantus, The chiefe capitaine of the baſtardes that were eryled and put out of theyr countrey Lacedemonia.
Phalara, A towne in Attica.
Phalaris, A cruell tyrranne of Agrigentine, who meruaylouſly delighted in the deuiſe of new and ſtraunge punyſhementes. Wherefore one Periſus a cunnynge woorkeman, thynkynge to haue great thankes and a large rewarde, inuented a bull of braſſe, into the whiche if one weare put, & a fyre made vnderneath, the voyce of his crying ſhould be like the belowyng of a bull. The tyranne in ſtede of rewarde, to trie this newe deuiſe, firſt burned in it Periſus himſelfe, and after hym many other. But in the ende, when his tyrãny became ſo outragiõ, as no longer might be ſuffered, his owne citizens fell vpon him, and putting him in the ſame braſen bull, with lyke tourment as he hadde vſed other, made him to ende his life.
Phalera, An hauen in Attica.
Phalereus Demetrius, A philoſopher and gouernoure of Athens.
Phalerium, A citie in Tuſcan.
Phalernus, Reade before in Falernus.
Phaliſci, A certaine people in Italy on the hyghell part of Tuſcan, called nowe Mount Falcon.
Phalora, A citie of Theſſalie.
Phanæus, An hyll of Chios, wheron vines are ſet.
Phanes, A mans name of Halicarnaſſus, whiche conducted Cambyſes into Aegypte.
Phaneta, æ, One of the names of Bacchus.
Phanus, ni, A mans name.
Phaon, The name of a fayre yonge man.
Pharæ, A citie in Crete.
Pharao, onis, The name of al kynges in Aegypt vntyll the tyme of Salomon. In the Aegiptian toungue Pharao ſignifieth a kyng.
Pharia, An yle called now Liſna. Alſo a citie, wherof the people be called Pharienſes.
Phariſæi, Were amõg the Iewes certain men which profeſſed a forme of liuig more ſtreight & deuout than other of that people, & were therfore called by that name. For Phares in the Hebrue tongue ſignifieth diuided. Thei profeſſed cõtinence, virginitie, faſting, & abſtaining from meate twyſe in the weke. They ſlepte only vpõ bourdes, ſome vpon ſtones or els on thornes, to kẽpe them frõ ſtirring of fleſhly appetite. They ware on theyr foreheades ſcrowles of parchemẽt, wherin were writtẽ the .x. cõmaundementes geuen by god to Moyſes, which thei called Phylacteria. Thei had in great reuerence their elders, in ſo much that thei would not with a worde diſpleaſe thẽ. Notwithſtanding thei beleued, that al thinges hapned by conſtellation, & yet toke they not away frẽ will from man. They affirmed, ỹ ſoules are immortal, & that god ſhall come in iudgement. Hereby they came in wounderfull credence with people, wherby they drew to them great multitudes, & of them were diuers good men, among whom was ſaincte Paule, Nicodemus & other, which afterwarde were Chriſtes diſciples, althoughe the multitude, takynge that profession onelye for vayneglory, peruerted that honest fourme of liuynge into hypocrysie, deceyuynge the people, whome Christe sharpely rebuked, and declared theyr foly. And yet with some of them (whyche by lykelyhode were good men) he dyned, and otherwyse vsed them familiarly.

Pharius, a, um, Is put for Aegyptius.

Pharius, and Phariachus, cha, chum, Of Pharos.

Pharmacusæ, Two yles by Attica.

Pharnaces, or Pharnax, Pharnacis, Kyng Mithridates sonne, whom Cæsar vanquisshed.

Pharos, A litle yle in Aegipt against the mouthe of Nilus, by the citie Alexandria. In this yle was set a very hyghe towre, wherin were great lightes all the nyghte longe, for the comforte and suretie of them, which were in voiage, either on the sea or on the lande. Wherof all other toures made for suche purpose, are called Phari.

Pharpharides, Parte of the mountaine Taurus.

Pharsalia, A countrey in Thessalia, where the battaile was betwene Cæsar and Pompeie.

Pharsalos, A citie in Thessalie, nighe to the whiche was the great and sharpe battaile betwéne Cæsar and Pompeius, where Pompeius was vanquisshed, and fledde. It is also called of Lucanus Pharsália.

Pharusii, or Pharusi, People of Libya, whiche are now excéding powre.

Phase, A worde of Hebrue, which signifieth passing ouer. It is commonly called Pascha, Easter.

Phaselis, A citie of Pamphilia, whiche was a refuge for pirates.

Phasis, sis, or sidis, A great ryuer in the countrey of Colchis, whereof (Erasmus saieth) the byrde Itys is called Phasianus. Phasis is also a citie there.

Phauorinus, Loke Fauorinus.

Phayllus, A mans name, that would leape. 55. fote.

Phegeius, a, um, Of Phegeus.

Phegeus, The father of Alphesibœa, Themon and Axion, of whome Alcmæon was purged for sleaynge his mother Eriphyle..

Phemonoë, A mayden, prophetisse of Apollo in Delphos.

Pheneum, A towne of Arcadie.

Pheneatæ, People of that towne.

Pheræ, A citie of Thessaly. Also a place and towne of Achaia, and a towne of Attica, betwéne Megara and Thebes.

Pherecides, A famous philosopher and wryter of tragedies, whiche died of the lousie sickenesse: he was Pythagoras maister. There was an other of that name before his tyme.

Pherecles, The sonne of Hermonides, whiche made the shyppes wherein Paris sayled into Grécce, whan he stale away Helen.

Pherecrates, A poete of Athens.

Pherenice, A womans name.

Pheretrius, A name of Iupiter.

Phiale, One of Dianas companions.

Phidias, An excellent workeman in makyng great ymages of golde or Iuorie.

Phidiacus, a, um, Of Phidias.

Phila, læ, f. g. An yle of the Frenche sea.

Philadelphia, A citie in Mysia, ioyning to Lydia.

Philadelphus, called Ptolomæus, Kynge of Aegypte, who made a librarie, wherin were fifty thousād bookes. He also caused the fiue bookes of Moyses to be translated into Grécke, by. lxxij. interpretours, doctours of the Iewes.

Phylæ, arum, An yle by Aegypt.

Philagrus, A philosopher of Cilicia.

Philemon, A comicall poete.

Phileni, Were two brethren of Carthage, of whom it is wrytten, that where they of Carthage and they of Cyrene did striue for their boūdes, it was agreed, that of eche citie two men should issue, & where as they met, should be the boundes: than the saied brethren being sent, went a great way into the boūdes of the other, ere they mought retourne. And when they of Cyren did sée that thei were preuented, thei toke it displeasauntly, and menaced the two brethren, that if they woulde not goe backe, they should be put quicke into the earth: but they notwithstanding would not departe. Wherfore they being buried on lyue, their countreymen made ouer theim two aulters, whiche at this daye bee called Aræ Philenorum, whiche are nowe within the realme of Tunise.

Philesia, Temples dedicate to Apollo.

Philesius, A name of Apollo.

Philetes, A grammarian in the tyme of Philip and Alexander, instructour to Ptolomæus Philadelphus.

Phileum, A citie in Fryselande called commonly Groningen.

Philippi, A citie in Thessalie.

Philippicæ, Demosthenes orations against Philip, and Ciceros against Antonie.

Philippides, A comicall poete.

Philippopolis, A citie of Macedonie.

Philippenses, Men of that citie.

Philippus, i, A kyng of Macedonie, sonne of Amyntas, father of great Alexander: A prynce from his chyldehodde of excellente wytte and power, of whom these notable thynges be remembred. After he had vanquysshed the Atheniens at Chæronea, he began to reioyce of his felicitie. But to the entente that he therefore should not be the more prone to iniuries towarde his subiectes, nor to haue indignation at theim, whom he vāquisshed: he then and euer after caused a chylde to come to his chaumbre dooze in the morninge, and to saye aloude, Philip, thou art a man mortall. Whiche he obserued so constantly, that he neuer went out of his chambre, or receyued any counsaylous or suiters, tyll the chylde hadde thryse spoken these wordes, not withstandynge that he was a Painime. Also where one named Pachætas, hadde a mattyer in variaunce before hym, Philippe takynge lyttell heede, what was spoken, and sometyme ſléeping,at the laſt gaue iudgement againſt Pachætas: who cryng out with a loude voyce,appealed. Wherwith Philip beig ſore moued,with a græuouſe loke, ſaied: to whom doeſt thou appeale? I appeale,(ſaid Pachætas) vnto your ſelf, but beynge better awaked, & taking hæde what is ſpoken. Philippe being throughly awaked, and hearing eftſones the mattier,perceiued that Pachætas had wronge, and woulde not reuerſe the iudgement,but the ſumme of money, wherin Pachætas was condemned, he payde of his owne treaſure. In this man it is notable howe ſundrie vertues were tempered with diuers vices. He was a prynce more geuen to coſtly prouiſion of warrefare,then ſumptuouſnes in banketyng: and therfore his greateſt riches was in the fourniture and habilimentes of warre. He was more cunning to get ryches, then circumſpect to kéepe theim: and therfore, not withſtãding his continual ſpoyles,he was alway néedy. Mercie and treacherie in like maner he eſtéemed. No way ſéemed to him diſhonorable, wherby he might attain victorie. Faire language he would vſe, where occaſion ſerued, and likewiſe pretend diſpleaſure,where he hated not. In talke and cõference craftie,& more would promiſe in wordes then in déede perfourme. Very ſkilfull bothe in pleaſaunt teſting, and alſo earneſt debatinge of weightie affayres. Frindſhip he meaſured more by profite,then by faithfull dealing. To pretend fauour where he hated, and to ſette hatread betwéene frindes,ſéeking for fauour on both ſides, was his common cuſtome. With theſe thinges, was ioigned ſo excellẽt language and vtterãce, as neither readineſſe of tongue wanted fine ornamentes of eloquence, neither flowyng ſpeach ſharpe inuentiõ of wittie matter. In warrefare ſubtile & guilefull, wiſe in counſayle, deſyrous to be loued, & well able to repreſſe his anger: ſomewhat to muche geuen to drinking, and vpon the heate therof diuers times in warre would fiercly ſet vpon his enemies, and offer himſelfe to more daunger thẽ néeded. Wherby he was often woũded, and in perill of his life. By theſe properties he layde the foundation of that empire of the worlde, whiche afterward was made perfite by his famous ſonne Alexander: who was both in vertues and vices more notable then euer his father was. He was afore the incarnation of Chriſte. 358. yeres.

Philiſtæ, Certaine robbers amonge the Aegyptians, whiche imbrace a man to the ende to ſtrangle hym.

Philiſtus, An hiſtoriographer.

Philo, A philoſopher of the ſecte Academicke, and a Iewe, borne at Alexandria, a man of great eloquence and wiſedome.

Philocles, A tragicall poete of Athens.

Philoctétes, The ſonne of Pæan, was Hercules cõpanion, & buried him, and had his arrowes that were poyſoned with the galle of Hydra. Wherefore when it was declared afterwarde to the Græcians by the oracle of Apollo that Troy could not be taken, onleſſe they hadde the arrowes of Hercules, this Philoctetes being founde out and aſked where Hercules was, made anſwere, that he could not tell what was become of him. But when the Græcians were earneſt on him, he cõfeſſed that he was dead. Then was he himſelfe cauſed to goe to Troye, becauſe he onely knewe the vſe of thoſe poyſoned arrowes, and by miſfortune did let fall one of ỹ arrowes on his foote. Wherwith it ſo rankled, that a great part of his life after he coulde not be cured of it: vntill at the laſt he was holpen by the phiſition Machaon Aeſculapius his ſonne.

Philódamus, A noble mã of ỹ people called Lãpſaceni.

Philolaus, One of Corinth, whiche gaue lawes to the Thebanes.

Philomêla, æ. f. g. King Pãdions daughter of Athẽs, whom Tereus kyng of Thrace, that had maried hir ſiſter Progne, did rauyſh, and that ſhe might not diſcloſe his vilanie, cut out hir tongue, & caſt hir in pryſon. But ſhe beinge very cunnynge in wourkyng and imbrodering, did in ſuch ſorte ſet out the whole matter in a garmẽt, that any mã might vnderſtãde it, and ſent the ſame by a ſeruaunt to hir ſiſter Progne, Tereus his wyfe. Who, although ſhe weare greatly moued with the matter, yet ſhe did deferre the reuẽgement, vntill the ſolẽne ſacrifices of Bacchus. At which tyme, beyng accompanied, as the maner was, with a great number of other women, ſhe taketh hir ſiſter out of pryſon, and bringeth hir into the palaice. Wheare by hir counſayle ſhe killed hyr ponge ſonne Itys, and ſerued hir huſbande with it at ſupper, and when he hadde therewith filled himſelfe, in the ende brought in the childes head in a diſhe. With ſight wherof Tereus being in a great fury, ranne after his wyfe to haue ſlayne hir: but ſhe with ſpeade eſcaped from him, and, as poetes feigne, was tourned into a ſwalowe, & he into a lapwynge, Philomela into a nightingall, and Itys into a pheaſant.

Philonides, A great bigge lubbour of Meſite, ſo vtterly vnwyſe and vnlearned, that of him grewe a prouerbe, Indoctior Philonide.

Philopœmenes, A famous capitain of ỹ people Achai, whiche vanquiſhed the Lacedemoniãs and Meſſenians in diuers battailes.

Philóſtratus, A learned man in the time of Seuerus the emperour.

Philóxenus, The name of a grammarian, of a poete, of a famous peincter, and of a paraſite whiche wiſhed himſelfe to haue a necke as longe as a crane, that he might haue more delectation in ſwéete meates and drinkes.

Philyra, æ, A nymph, on whom Saturn⁹ begat Chiron, who therfore is ſometime called Philyrides.

Phineus, A kyng of Arcadie, who by the entyſement of his ſeconde wyfe, put out the eies of his ſonnes, whiche he had by his firſt wyfe. But by ths iuſt vengeaunce of god, he was alſo made b[illegible]nd, and the foule rauenouſe byrdes called Harpyiæ, defyled and deuoured the meate that was prepared for him. But thoſe byrdes were at the laſte dryuen away by Zetus and Calais, whome he had curteyſly enterteyned. An other Phineus was brother of Cepheꝰ, that was turned into a ſtone by Perſeus. An other of that name an Athenie, was turned into a byrde.

Phiſon, One of the ryuers of paradiſe, whiche ſome call Ganges, ſome Nilus.

Phlanates, People of Illyria.

Phlégeton, ontis, A ryuer of helle, whiche alwaye burneth.

Phlegetontæus, a, um, Of Phlegeton.

Phlegias, The ſonne of Mars, a kyng in Theſſalie, and father of Ixion.

Phlegon, One of the horſes of the ſunne.

Phlegra, græ, or Phlegre, gres, A citie of Macedonie.

Phlegræus cãpus, After ſome a fielde in Theſſali, after ſome in Macedonie, after Plinie and Strabo in Campayne, by the citie Cumæ, where the gygantes were ouercome by Hercules.

Phlegyas, Lyke Phlegias.

Phlegyæ, People of Theſſalie, named of Phlegias Ixions father, whiche weare deſpyſers of God and man, and therefore deſtroyed with a deluge by Neptune.

Phlias, The ſonne of Bacchus, that ſayled into Colchis with Jaſon.

Phliaſius, a, um, Of Phlius.

Phlius, untis, A place in Créece, where Hebe was worſhypped.

Phloxenus, A Créeke poete.

Phlobétor, oris, The ſonne of Somnus.

Phocæ, phocarum, Iles nére to Crete.

Phocæa, A citie of the leſſe Phrygia, belongynge to Athens. The people thereof buylded Maſſilia in Prouance.

Phocais, caidis, patronymicum fœm. Of Phocæa.

Phoce.ees, A citie of Bœotia.

Phocides, and Phocei, They that buylded the citie of Maſſilia.

Phocenſes, People of Phocis.

Phocëus, & Phocaicus, a, um, Perteynyng to Phocæa.

Phocion, Diſciple to Plato and Xenocrates, one of the chiefe gouernours of the citie of Athens, a manne of ſuche wounderfull grauitie and conſtancie, that he was not lyghtly ſeene to chaunge his countenaunce, either to laugh or to mourne, nor to haue his handes out of his habyte, excepte in warre: and whan he was in the countrey, he went alwaye barefooted, except it were in the colde wynter, whereof there was no better token, than to ſée Phocion goe ſhodde. His ſpeche was ſhorte, graue, vehemente, and full of quicke ſentences: and therefore the moſt eloquent oratour Demoſthenes called him the hatchet that did cutte of his wordes. He was of ſuch a conſtancie, that where Apollo at Delphos made aunſwere, that one man in Athens was of a contrarie opinion to all the citie: whã that was reported, Phocion roſe vp and ſaied: Leaue countreymen to ſearche whom your god meaneth: for I am that one man, whome nothyng liketh, whiche is nowe doone in the common weale of this citie. Whan he had made an oration to the people, and they prayſinge hym conſented to hym, he turned to theim that were nert him, and ſayed: Alas what haue I doone, I feare leſt ſome foolyſhe worde hathe eſcaped me vnwares: ſignifyinge, that the people ſeldome allowed any thyng that was good, or not foolyſhe. On a tyme whan he reaſoned contrarie to the mynde of the people, wherefore they murmured, and woulde haue let hym: It is at your pleaſure countreymenne, ſaied he, to compelle me to dooe that that I woulde not, but to ſpeake otherwyſe then I thynke, that no man liuyng can cauſe me. He was ſo reuerend a perſonage, that the great kynge Alexander, in the beginnyng of his letters, after he had vanquiſhed Darius, ſaluted no man but him, and Antipater. He refuſed infinite treaſure ſente vnto hym by Alexander, and although he had bẽn the generall capitaine of the Atheniens in ſundrie warres, and honourably atchiued his enterpriſes, yet was he beſte content to lyue poorely. Finally, he was of his vnkynde countreymen condemned to death, wherto he wente with the ſame countenaunce that he hadde in auctoritie. Whan one, whiche was condemned with hym, lamented and feared to die, Phocion turnyng to hym, ſayed: why, arte thou not glad, that thou ſhalt dye with Phocion? And whan one of his frendes aſked hym, if he woulde any thynge to his ſonne: I would (ſaied he) that ſuche wronge as the Atheniens dooe to me, he ſhould not remembre. What a wounderfull worde of a Paynim was this? Who folowed Chriſtes doctrine ere Chriſte was borne. 333. yeres.

Phocuſa, One of the yles called Sporades.

Phœbas, badis, f. ge. The name of a prophetiſſe.

Phœbe, bes, f. g. The goddeſſe Diana, & is taken for the mone.

Phœbẽus, and Phœbeius, a, um, Of Apollo.

Phœbus, bi, m. ge. Apollo, the ſonne of Jupiter and Latona, and is taken for the ſonne.

Phœmon, A poole in Arcadie.

Phœmonoë, The daughter of Phœbus, whiche firſt inuented the mẽtre called Heroicum.

Phœnices, People in Syria.

Phœnicia, or Phoenice, A region in Syria, next to Judea.

Phœniceus, a, um, and Phœniſſus, a, um, Of Phœnicia.

Phœniſſa, A woman of Phœnicia.

Phœnix, nicis, A little ryuer in Créece. It was alſo the brother of Cadmus, or after ſome, Agenors father, after whome Phœnicia was named, where he reigned. Alſo one whiche was tutour to Achilles.

Pholoë, A mountayne in Arcadia, full of woodde.

Pholus, One of the Centaures, the sonne of Ixion.
Phorbas, bantis, A shæpehearde, that founde Oedipus after that he was hanged vp by the fote.
Phorcus, One of the sonnes of Neptunus, whiche was taken for a god of the sea.
Phorcys, Medusas father, of whome she was called Phorcynis.
Phorcys, phorcydos, patrony. Of Phorcys.
Phormio, A capitaine of Athens, in the warre of Peloponnesus. Also a philosopher in the time of Anniball.
Phorinus, A comicall poete of Syracuse in Sicilie.
Phoroneus, The moste auncient kyng of Grece.
Phoroneus, a, um, Of Phoroneus.
Phoronides, patrony. masc.
Phorónis, nidos, patrony. fœm. gen.
Phósphorus, ri, masc. The day starre, called Lucifer.
Phragmon, The name of an ymage maker and peincter.
Phraortes, A kynge of India, a man of great temperaunce. An other Phraortes was kyng of Persia, who slewe his owne father Herode.
Phregenia, A citie in Hetruria: an other in Latium.
Phrygia, A royalme in Asia the lesse, hauinge on the east, Cappadocia: on the southe, Lycaonia: on the west, Troas: on the north, Galatia.
Phrygius, a, um, Of Phrygia.
Phrygium melos, A melodie or tune in instrumētes, wherein semed to bee (as Lucianus sayeth) a maner of diuine furie, all be it Porphyrius calleth it barbarous. Cassiodorus sayeth, that the melody, called Dorium, geueth wysedome, and chastitie: Phrygium stirreth to battayle, and inflameth the desyre of furie: Aeolium appeaseth the tempestes of the mynde, and bryngeth in sleape. Lydium quickeneth vnderstāding in them that be dull, and induceth appetite of celestiall thynges.
Phryne, A famous harlotte at Athens.
Phryniehus, An Athenien wryter of Tragedies.
Phrynondas, A man so double, so disceitfull and vil, that of hym rose a prouerbe.
Phryx, gis, A man of Phrygia.
Phryxus, The sonne of Athamas, kyng of Thebes.
Phthia, A citie in Thessalie, Achilles countrey.
Phthiota, One that dwelleth in Phthia.
Phthiothia, One of the foure partes of Thessalie.
Phthirophagi, People dwellyng nighe to the Greke sea, whiche lyued onely by fyshe.
Phycus, untis, A promontorie of Cyrene.
Phylace, A citie of Thessalie.
Phyleus, One of the Greke capitaynes that came to Troy.
Phyllis, lidis, The daughter of Lycurgus kynge of Thrace, whiche hinge hirselfe, despeyring of the commynge of Demophoon: whome poetes feigne, to be turned into an almon tree, whereof that tree is called Phylla. Phyllis is also a ryuer of Bithynia.
Phyllus, A citie of Thessalie.
Phylodoce, A nymph.

Phytecusa, An yle in the sea Tyrrhenum.
Phython, or Phyton, Loke Python.

P J

Picenum, A countrey in Italy called Marcha Anconi-
Picenus, & Picentinus, a, um, Of Picenum. (tana.
Picentes, or Picentini, People of that countrey.
Pictones, People of Poicters in Fraunce.
Picumnus, A god among the Romaynes.
Picus, The name of an old kyng of Latines.
Pieria, A mountayne and citie of Bœotia, dedicate to the Muses.
Pieria, A mayden borne at Myos, a citie of Ionia, daughter of an honorable man, called Pythes, of whom is this historie worthy of remēbrance: There happened to be warre betwene the inhabitauntes of Miletus, and them of Myos, but in suche gentill facion, that the women of Myos might alway, on the solēne feast of Diana, come to Miletus, and doe sacrifice to Diana, whiche was there chiefly honoured. Pieria coming thither with hir mother, one Phrygius, the eldest sonne of Nebeus duke of Miletus, beholding hir beautie, began to loue hir excedingly, and after the maner of louers, desiring to doe some thyng thankefull to the mayde, demaunded what he might doe to hir most pleasaunt and acceptable. The mayden being witty, and also louing to hir countrey and friendes, answered that to hir it should be the greatest pleasure, if he would endeuour himselfe to bring to passe, that she mought oftentimes, with a great sorte of hir companiōs repaire to Miletus without any damage. Phrygius perceiuing, that nothing mought so muche content the mayden as peace, he calling the people together, exhorted them to cōclude a peace w̄ them of Myos, to be with them in alliance: whervnto they accorded, and the name of Pieria was euer after in so honorable a remembrance, that all honest women vsed for a prouerbe, to wyshe so to be loued, as Phrygius loued Pieria.
Pierides, were daughters of one Pierus, whiche cōpared in singinge with the Muses: but beynge vanquisshed, and geuing to the Muses reprochefull wordes, they were by thē turned into pies. They be sometyme taken for the Muses, of an hyll in Thessalie, called Pieris, or Pierus.
Pierides, The Muses.
Pierius, a, um, Of the Muses.
Pierus, The father of the forsayd maidens Pierides.
Pigmalion, The sonne of Belus, kyng of Tyre, and brother of Dido.
Pigmalioneus, a, um, Of Pigmalion.
Pigres, The brother of Artemisia.
Pilades, A gentillman of Phocæa, whiche was so faithful a friend to Orestes (with whom he kept companie whyles he was madde) that he would neuer forsake him, but folowed him into the coūtrey called Taurica, where strangers were sacrificed vnto Diana, where Orestes beyng apprehended, when he shuld be slaine, Pylades would needes die for hym, that he might escape.

Pilumnus, ni, ma. gen. A man whiche founde the maner to dounge land, and to grynde cozne.
Pimpla, A place by the mountayne called Parnaſus, of the whiche the Muſes be called Pimpleides.
Pimpleus, a, um, Of Pimpla.
Pinárii, An auncient houſe oz familie in Italy, of the whiche were the pzieſtes that ſacrifíced to Hercules.
Pinarius, and Potitius, Twoo olde men, to whome Hercules reueled, how he would be woꝛſhipped.
Pindarus, A Theban poete, and chiefe of theim which were called Lyrici. Wherfoze Alexander, whan he deſtroyed the citie of Thebes, cauſed the houſe of Pindarus to be pzeſerued, with all his familie. An other Pindarus was a tyzanne of Epheſus.
Pindus, A moũtayn in Theſſalia. Alſo a citie there.
Pintia, A towne in Spayne called Valladolite.
Pinton, An yle betweene Sardinia and Corſica.
Piones, People in Myſia, named of the citie Pione.
Pipleus, An hylle called alſo Pimpleus.
Piquentum, A citie of Iſtria.
Pirea, A famous citie, ſometime called Aminſus.
Pireeus, An hauen in Athens, whiche may receyue 400. ſhyppes. There is alſo an hauen of the ſame name at Cozinthe.
Pirithous, The ſonne of Irion, one of the Lapithes, and friende of Theſeus, with whom he went to hell, and was there deuoured of Cerberus.
Pirus, A pzince of Thzace, ſlayne at the ſiege of Troye.
Piſa, A citie in Greece, betweene the twoo mountaynes Olympus and Oſſa. Alſo a citie in Arcadia, from whiche came the people that inhabited Piſæ in Italy.
Piſæ, arum, A citie in Italie called Piſe.
Piſani, People of the citie of Piſe.
Piſandrus, A poete of the citie Camirus in Rhodes, befoze the tyme of Heſiodus: an other Piſandrus was in the tyme of Alexander Seuerus.
Piſaurenſis, That dwelleth in the citie Piſaurum.
Piſaurum, A citie in Italie, called Peſero.
Piſaurus, A ryuer in Italy.
Piſces, One of the twelue ſignes.
Piſei, People of the citie Piſa in Gréece.
Piſenor, A Centaure, the ſonne of Irion.
Piſeus, He that firſt inuented the bzaſen trumpet.
Piſidæ, People in Aſia, called befoze tyme Solymi, of Solymus Iupiters ſonne.
Piſidia, æ, A countrey of the leſſe Aſia.
Piſiſtratus, A noble man of Athens, whiche chaunged the common weale of that citie from the rule of the people, to the rule of one gouernour, and therfoze was called a tyzan: not withſtandynge (as he wzote vnto Solon, whiche mayntеyned the popular eſtate) he ruled by their owne lawes, and was righteous and gentyll vnto the people.
Piſones, Penne of a noble familie oz houſe in Rome.
Piſtorium, A citie in Italy.
Piſtris, tris, A ſigne oz planet, called Cetus, and Piſtrix.
Piſtrix, trícis, Idem quod Piſtris.
Pitane, A citie of Aeolis in Aſia, the people whereof be called Pitanei, oz Pitanitæ.
Pithecuſa, An yle in the ſea againſt Campania, ſo called foz the great plentie of apes there bzedde, after ſome.
Pitheus, The ſonne of Pelops, whiche builded the citie Trœzen.
Pitho, oz Pithus, The lady and pzeſident of eloquẽce to perſwade, called of Ennius Suada, of Hozace Suadéla.
Pithodemus, A famous wzaſtlar.
Pithœgia, orum, neu. gen. A certaine ſacrifice, vſed in Gréece, in the moneth of January, at the taming oz ſetting of wyne abzoche: in the whiche they gaue wyne to their ſeruauntes and ſlaues.
Pithonoſcomes, A place in Aſia, where after the Idus of Auguſt, great flockes of ſtozkes dooe aſſemble together.
Pithumnus, A god among the Romaynes, which firſt inuented to grinde cozne to make bzead.
Pittacus, One of the ſeuen ſages of Grœcia, and was of the citie Mitylene. His ſaiyng it was, That a wyſe man ſhoulde foꝛſée that miſfoztune came not: but if it came, to take it in good parte.
Pityuſa, An yle by Grœcia, called alſo Myſetus.

P L

Placentia, A citie in Liguria.
Placentini, People of the citie of Placentia.
Placia, A towne of Myſia.
Planária, An yle beyonde Cozſica.
Planaſia, An yle in the ſea Tyrrhenum.
Plancus, A noble man of Rome.
Platanodes, A pzomontozie oz hyll of Achaia.
Plateæ, A citie in Bœotia, not farre from Thebes.
Plateenſes, People of the citie of Plateæ, in Gréece.
Plato, The pzynce of all philoſophers (in wyſedom, knowledge, vertue, and eloquence, farre excédyng all other Gentyles) was bozne in Athens: his father was named Ariſton (of an auncient & honouzable houſe) his mother Parectonia, deſcẽded from Solon. Lyng in his cradell, bées were founden to bzing hony into his mouthe, without hurting the childe: whiche diuinours did interpzete, to ſignifie, that from him ſhould flowe eloquence moſte ſwéete and delectable. Socrates dzeamed, the night befoze he was bzought to him to be inſtructed, that he helde betwéene his knées a whyte cygnet, who hauinge feathers quickely growen, flewe vp towarde heauen, and filled the ayze with moſte ſwéete tunes: So the daye after, Plato being bzought by his father, Socrates beholdynge hym well, ſayed: This is the byzde, whoſe ymage I behelde the laſte nyght. His name was firſte Ariſtocles, and after called Plato, becauſe (as ſome ſuppoſe) he was bzoade in the ſhoulders: other wzyte, becauſe he had a bzoade viſage. In his youth he exerciſed wzaſtlyng and other feates of actiuitie: and tyll he was. xx. yeres olde, he gaue himselfe to make amorous verses, which, after he came to heare Socrates, he threwe into the fyre and burned, and than moste ardently and attentiuely hearde Socrates doctrine, durynge the tyme that he lyued. After that, he not onely hearde the moste famous philosophers and Geometricians in Græce, but also wente into Italy, into Affrike and Aegypt, to here the misticall sciences. And it is thought, that he hearde some of the prophetes, sence there bee founden in his workes sentences not abhorrynge from our catholike faithe. He was experte in martiall affayres, for he had fought in three great battayles. He chose a place by Athens, called Academia, where he taught: and therefore his disciples weare called Academici. There was in him a meruailous sharpenesse of witte, with an incōparable dexteritee in disputynge, and makynge of aunsweres: his constancie, temperaunce and grauitee, with courteisie in language, weare of all other incomparable: he was so desyrous of knowlage, that he was no lesse studious to learne, then he was to teache. Wherefore beynge scorned of one, whiche asked of him, howe longe he woulde be a scholer, so longe (sayde he) as I repente not to be wyser and better. He is called diuinus Plato, for his excellente doctrine, whiche conteineth many thinges (as saint Augustine saieth) whiche accorde with holy scripture: so that therein is perceyued the first parte of Genesis, vnto Spiritus domini ferebatur super aquas, and the misterie of three persons in diuinitee is there expressed. He died writing, of the age of. 81. yeres, before the incarnatiō of Christ. 342. yeres. Reade more of him in Dionysius.

tyll

Plautius, A certayne poete.

Plautus, A comicall poete, borne in Vmbria: whan he had spente all his substance on players garmentes, and thereby was brought to extreame pouertee, he was fayne for his lyuynge to serue a baker in tournynge a querne, or handemyll. Whan he was vacante from that labour, he wrate moste eloquente and pleasaunt comedies, wherin he was reputed so excellent, that Opius Stolo saied of him, he doubted not, but that the Muses woulde speake as Plautus did write, if they shoulde speake Latine. He was in the time of Cato Censorius.

Pleiades, The seuen sterres, whiche mariners vse in tryng of coastes: poetes feigne them to bee the seuen daughters of Lycurgus, or Atlas.

Pleias, pleiadis, Maia, the chiefe of the seuen sisters called Pleiades.

Pleione, The daughter of Oceanus, and wyfe of Atlas.

Plemmyrium, A ryuer in Sicilia.

Pleuron, onis, A citie of Aetolia.

Pleuronius, a, um, Of Pleuron.

Plexcura, A nymph, the daughter of Oceanus.

Plinius, The name of two noble learned men, the one wrote the moste excellente worke, called the history of Nature: the other wrate eloquente epystles, and an oration to Traiane in his commendation, whiche oration is called Panegyricus. There is also a worke of the practise of phisicke in the name of Plinius, but whether it weare of the fyrst Plinie or no, it is not very certayne: some call him Valerianus.

Plisthenes, The name of a certaine vnchaste and wanton person.

Plistónicus, The name of a certaine learned man.

Plotæ, Two yles of Aeolia, called also Strophades.

Plotina, A woman of greate vertue and courage, wyfe to Traianus the emperour.

Plotinus, A philosopher of Platos secte.

Plotius, A Rhetorician that taught Cicero.

Plotus, Looke Plautus.

Ploxemus, A mans name.

Plutarchus, A noble philosopher in the tyme of Traiane.

Pluto, The sonne of Saturnus and Ops, and brother to Iupiter and Neptune: whiche comming to the diuision of their fathers kyngedome, the weast parte towarde the lower sea fell to Pluto the yongest sonne, the easte parte to Iupiter, an the Ilandes to Neptune. Hereof beganne the poetes fable, that Iupiter was kynge and god of heauen, Pluto of hell, and Neptune of the sea.

Plutus, God of riches, whom poetes feigne to bee lame when he commeth to a man, and to haue winges when he departeth: by that deuise signifiynge, that ryches are longe in gettynge, but quickely vanishe away, if they be not well husbanded. He is also imagined to be blinde, as more often lightynge on vnworthy men, and naughtie persons, then on suche, as for their vertue are moste worthy to be enryched.

Pluuiales Hedæ, Two sterres, that the signe Amiga holdeth in his hande.

Pluuiália, æ, One of the yles called Fortunatæ.

P O

Podalirius, One of the sonnes of Aesculapius, and a great surgeon: he came to the siege of Troye with his brother Machaon.

Podárge, One of the Harpyes.

Pœan, antis, The father of Philoctetes, of whom he was called Pœantius.

Pœcilasium, A citie of Crete, called commonly Peulalo.

Pœcile, les, f. g. A place in Athens, where the Stoike philosophers did reade and teache.

Poëmenis, A dogges name in Ouide.

Pœnicus, a, um, Of Affrike, reade Punicus.

Pœnus, ni, A man of the citie of Carthage, or an Affricane.

Pœnus, a, um, Of Carthage, or of Affrike.

Pola, A citie of Istria.

Polemon, A philosopher of Athens, whiche was firste a wanton and dissolute person. An other Polemon, surnamed Helladicus, was a famous hiſtoꝛiographer.

Polemonium, A citie of Cappadocia, called commonly Leona.

Polentia, A citie of Liguria, called commonly Palanza.

Polla, The wyfe of Lucan the poete.

Pollentia, A towne in one of the yles called Baleares: an other neere the Alpes, where as is excellent good wyne.

Pollentinus, a, um, Of Pollentia.

Pollio, A noble man in Rome, in the tyme of Auguſtus.

Pollux, lūcis, Was brother to Caſtor, both beynge borne at one burthen: whiche poetes feigne to come of one egge, leyed or brought forthe of a woman, called Leda, with whom Jupiter companied in lykeneſſe of a ſwanne.

Polus Agrigentinus, A ſophiſter, the ſcholar of Gorgias.

Polyænus, A learned man in the time of Julius Ceſar: an other borne in Macedonie, which wrote of Thebes, and of the feates of warre.

Polybius, A learned man of Magalopolis in Arcadie, maiſter to Scipio Affricane: he wrote the Romaine hiſtorie in .40. bookes.

Polybotes, A gygant, whom Neptune ſlue.

Polycarpus, pi, m. g. A famous martyr.

Polycletus, A notable ymage maker, or grauer.

Polycrates, A tyranne of Samos: he was ſo fortunate, that he neuer ſuffered any aduerſitee or griefe: wherefore he at the laſte, dreadynge the chaunge of fortune, hauynge a rynge with a ſtone of an excellent value, dyd caſt the ſame into the ſea, to the intent he woulde ſuffer ſome diſpleaſure, and ſo ſatiſfie fortune: but a fyſhe deuourynge the rynge, was the ſame daye taken of a fyſher, and geuen to the kynge, for the greatneſſe of the fyſhe: whiche beynge opened, the ſayde rynge was founde, and brought to the kynge, whereat as well he, as all other aboute him, meruayled. Sone after the ſame kyng was taken of Drontes a Perſian, and hanged.

Polydamas, A Troian, one of them that betrayed the citie with Aeneas & Antēnor. Polydamas, was alſo a famous wraſtler, a mā of great ſtrength.

Polydōrus, The ſonne of kynge Priamus and Hecuba: who was by his father (in the time of the warres at Troie) ſente to Polymneſtor kynge of Thrace, with a great ſumme of golde, to bee kepte out of the peryll of warres. But the citie of Troie beynge taken, Polymneſtor, to inioye the treaſure, ſlewe the childe: wherefore afterwarde quēne Hecuba ſcratched out the eies of Polymneſtor.

Polydora, A nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus. Alſo an yle of Propontis.

Polydectes, The ſonne of Magnetes, which nouryſhed Perſeus, the ſonne of Jupiter and Danaē.

Polygnotus, The name of an auncient peincter.

Polymedia, A towne in the countrey of Troas.

Polymneſtor, oris, A kynge of Thrace, to whom kyng Priamus ſente his ſonne Polydorus, with a great ſumme of golde.

Polymnia. One of the Muſes, whiche worde ſignifieth, much memorie.

Polynices, The ſonne of Oedipus, lyke Eteocles.

Polyphēmus, A gygāte that had one eye in his foreheade, whiche was put out by Ulyſſes.

Polypœtes, The ſonne of Pirithous and Hippodamia.

Polyteba, A citie of Meſopotamia.

Polytes, One of kynge Priamus ſonnes, ſlayne by Pyrrhus, when Troye was taken.

Polyxena, The beautifull daughter of kynge Priamus, whiche after the deſtruction of Troye was ſlaine by Pyrrhus on his fathers toome. For Homere writeth, that at the ſiege of the citie, Achilles eſpiynge this ladie on the walles, was rauiſhed with hir beautie, & after meanes made requeſted to haue hir to his wife. The matter was by the parētes agreed, and the place apointed in the temple of Apollo, wheare in tyme of truce they ſhoulde meete and be maried. At that tyme traiterous Paris lādinge priuily behinde an Image, when he little minded any ſuch daūger, ſhotte at Achilles, & killed him. Wherefore when Troye was wonne, & this ladie Polyxena taken aliue, Achilles his goaſte appeared in the nightes to the nobles of Grēce, and required to haue that woman by death ſent vnto him, vnder pretēce of whoſe mariage he was ſo traiterouſly ſlaine. Of whiche crueltie his owne ſonne Pyrrhus, as before is ſhewed, was miniſter.

Polyxenus, One of the Grēcke capitaines that came to Troye.

Polyxo, polyxus, One of the Amazons and prophetelle of Apollo.

Pomona, næ, f. g. The goddeſſe of fruyte.

Pompeius, Called Magnus for his incomparable victories (whoſe father was called Pompeius Strabo) had ſo good a grace in his viſage, that from his childehoode, he meued the people of Rome moſte entirely to fauour him for his ſingular beneuolence, continencie of lyuynge, martiall experience and knowlage, pleaſantneſſe of ſpēeche, fidelitee of maners, and eaſineſſe in ſpeakynge to. He neuer requyred any thynge without ſhamefaſtnes, nor graūted any thyng but with a glad countenaunce: in his viſage appeered alwaye both nobilitie and gentleneſſe, ſo that in his floriſhynge youthe, there ſhyned in him maners both princely and reuerende. Sylla, the cruell & proude tyranne hadde him in ſuche eſtimation, that where he would not aryſe to any other mā, were he neuer ſo highe in dygnitee, he met with Pompeius commynge towarde him, and puttynge of his bonet, ſaluted him by the name of great capitayne, called in latine at that tyme Imperator. He triumphed for his victories in Affrike, beynge almoſte a childe, not yet admitted into the Senate, contrary to the auncient order of Rome: he vanquiſhed the valiante capitaine Sertorius, a man at that tyme moſte famous in prowelle, prowesse, beynge an exyle in Spayne, and before inuincible. He also banquished Mithridates, the greate kynge of Pontus: and where a greatte numbre of the concubines of Mithridates, women of excellente beautie, were taken & brought vnto him, he woulde not companie with anye of them, but sente them to their friendes. He subdued these realmes, Armenia, Cappadocia, Paphlagonia, Media, Cilicia, Mesopotamia, Iudæa, Arabia, Colchis, Iberia, Albania, and Syria: for the whiche he tryumphed, after he had twyse before tryumphed for the wynnynge of Spayne & Affrike. In this triumphe, he brought into the common treasure, of golde and syluer, in money and plate. 2000. talentes, whiche if they weare common talentes, amounted to. xx. hundred thousand pound: if they were the great talentes. xxbii. hundred and. xxvi. thousande. 600. xl. li. xiii. s. iiii. d. in our money: besydes that was geuen to the men of warre, whiche had serued him, and that was to euerye one a 1500. brasen pence, of our money. vi. li. v. s. whiche in so greate an hoste as perteyned to the cõquest of so many countreis, extended to a wonderfull summe of money, whereby may appere the rychesse of the Romaines. Afterwarde by the mediation of the friendes of bothe parties, Pompeie toke to wyfe Julia, the daughter of Julius Cæsar, whiche lyued not longe, and the amitée betwæne Pompeie and Cæsar decreased, and at the last, the vnsatiable ambition of them bothe brake out, the one not sustaynynge the others honour, whereof came the warre ciuile, wherein Cæsar with a fewer number banquished Pompeie, who priuily fledde by sea into Aegypte, where vnder the saulfe conducte of the kynge Ptolomeus, he was slayne in a bote, his head beynge stryken of, and his bodie caste on the stronde, where it was poorely buryed, when he had lyued. lx. yeres and aboue, and from his youth in moste hyghe honour, wealth, and prosperitée, on whom it dyd seme that fortune had powred all hir treasure moste prodigally.

Pompeianus, a, um, Of Pompeis parte, or a fauourer of Pompeius.

Pompeiopolis, A citie of Cilicia, called afterwarde Traianopolis.

Pompelon, The chiefe citie of Nauerre, called Pampilona.

Pompilius, The surname of Numa, the second kyng of Romaines.

Pomponia, Scipios mother.

Pomponius Atticus, An honorable Romayne, of a gentle and aunciente house, from his childehood amiable of visage, with a swæte voyce and pronunciation, and therwith hauinge a sharpe wit and apte vnto learnynge: for the diuision and partes takynge at Rome, he wente and dwelled at Athens, where the people moste tenderly loued him, as well for his honorable vertues as for his ben[illegible] towardes them: for beynge left ryche by his fathers substaunce and great reuenues, he oftentimes relieued the necessitées of the common people. wherefore he was there had in a singular reuerence: and for his abode in Athens, and excellencie in their eloquence, he was called Atticus. He dyd not onely with his treasure kæpe the people out of vsurie, but also in a tyme of scarcitie, he gaue to euery citizen. vii. measures of wheate, called Medimni, whiche was of due measure. v. bushelles and an halfe, one pecke, one gallon, and one quarte to euery one. He was beloued of euery man, and he was charitable to all men. When Cicero wente in exyle, he gaue him. 250000. Sestertios, whiche amounteth of our money to M. xli. li. xiii. s. iiii. d. Sylla, notwithstandynge his great pryde, had him in reuerence. He moste loued Hortensius & Cicero, princes of eloquence: and although he himselfe weare aswell in the Latine tounge, as in Græke, perfecte as anye man, yet woulde he neuer practise in mattiers, nor woulde aske or sue for auctoritée. He relæued with his money contrary partes, as Antonius and Brutus, one to the other mortal ennemies. He lent great summes of money without takynge of vsurie, and holpe ladies, whose husbandes weare banished, as well with money, as with his counsayle and consolation. Of Pompeie and Cæsar he was equally loued, when they weare ennemies together. Finally, his quiet lyuing was to no man anoyaunce, but to euery man thankefull. His house was pleasaunt and not magnifyke, neate, and not verye sumptuous: all his seruauntes weare very well learned, red well, and wrate very fayre, nor there was so simple a boye in the house, but he coulde dwe bothe: the residue weare artificers, suche as made thinges necessary and conuenient for his house. Whan Augustus Cæsar moste flourished, he made aliaunce with him for his excellent temperance & honestie in lyuyng, for the which all noble men fauoured him. Also he maryed his wyues sonne Tiberius (who was afterwarde emperour) to the daughter of Atticus, and no daie escaped that the emperour wrote not vnto him, semblably dyd Antonius the emperours ennemie: such grace had he to be fauoured of all men, to lyue out of the daunger of enuious authoritée, to passe his time in the most delectable paradise of knowlage, and to haue as well thereof abundauntly, as also lyuynge sufficiente for the maintenance of his estate beynge a knight, and to ayde his friendes and countreymen in their necessitie. When he had lyued. 77. yeres, he dyed of a fistula, with a wonderfull pacience, and voluntary abstinence, and was buryed at Rome, all good men folowinge the corps, & the people and all other lamẽting. He wrate diuers excellent workes in Græke & Latine, which are perished, to the inestimable detrimente of them that be studiouse.

Pontia, An yle in the ſea called Ligusticum, on the ſouth parte of Italy, wherin Pilate was borne, and thereof was called Pontius Pilatus.
Ponticus, A poetes name.
Ponticus, a, um, Of Pontus: vt,
Pontica nux, A kynde of fylbeardes, which came from the countrey called Pontus in Asia.
Pontus, ti, m. g. The ſonne of Nereus, of whom the ſea Pontus is named.
Pontus, ti, The ſea, which is betweene the fenne called Mæotis, and the yle Tenedos. It is alſo a great countrey lyeng nynge to the ſame ſea, which conteineth theſe realmes, Colchis, Cappadocia, Armenia, and diuers other countreis.
Popilii, The name of dyuers Romaynes: one of the ſiue Cicero.
Poppea, Neros ſeconde wyfe.
Poppeanus, a, um, Of Poppea, or that Poppea was wonte to vſe.
Populonia, A citie of Hetruria, called now Plumbinum.
Populonium, A promontorie of the Tuſcians.
Porcia, A noble woman of Rome.
Porcius, The ſurname of the elder Cato.
Porphyrion, A gyauntes name.
Porphyrione, An yle in Propontis.
Porphyris, An yle in the goulfe Laconicum, called after Cythera.
Porphyrius, A notable philoſopher, and ennemie to Chriſtian religion.
Porrima, The ſiſter of Carmenta Euanders mother.
Porſena, vel Porſenna, The name of a kynge that beſieged Rome, to haue brought in Tarquinius.
Porta Auguſta, A citie of Spaine called Torquemada.
Portunus, A god of the ſea, and hath tuition of the heauens. The Grekes call him Palæmon.
Porus, A kynge of India, whom Alexander vanquiſhed.
Poſidippus, A comicall poete.
Poſidium, A towne of Syria called cõmonly Paalo.
Poſidonius, The name of a philoſopher, and certaine other learned men.
Poſthumia, A virgyne veſtall.
Poſthumus, mi, The ſon of Aeneas, by Lauinia, called alſo Syluius. Alſo the name of dyuers other men.
Potamus, A towne of Attica.
Potentia, A citee in Italie called Sancta Maria de Loretto.
Potidæa, A citie of Macedonie, called before Caſſandria.
Potidius. A mans name.
Potina, A citie of Bœotia, after ſome.
Potnia, A towne of Bœotia, not farre frõ Thebes, where Glaucus the ſon of Siſyphus did dwell.
Potitii, Was an auncient familie or kinred amõge the olde Latines, whom Hercules called to his banket te, after he had ſlaine Cacus: & they were afterwarde conſtituted the prieſtes of Hercules. Reade Fenceſtella.
Potitius, Hercules prieſte. Vide Pinarius.
Præſius, A citie of Ponte.
Prægutii, People of Italy, called commonly Abruzi.
Præneſte, A citie in Italie.
Præneſtini, People of Præneſte.
Præneſtinus, a, um, Of Præneſte.
Prætutium, A towne in Italy.
Praſii, People of Indie.
Praxaſpes, A noble man of Perſia.
Praxiteles, A excellent caruer in ſtone.
Praxitelius, a, um. The Adiective.
Priamides, The ſonne or nephewe of Priamus.
Priamus, The ſonne of Laomedon, and kynge of Troye, a notable paterne and example of fortunes frowarde vnconſtancie and mutabilitee. Neuer lyued prince more adourned with proſperitie: Neuer was there man more woũded with aduerſitie. For, what beneſite kayre fleeryng fortune in wealth coulde ſhewe one, in his royall eſtate he enioyed it: what greefe and ſorowe hir frownynge lokes coulde tourne man to, in his wofull fall he felte it. Before the ſiege of Troy he flowriſhed a longe tyme in great power, glory, and ryches, with many nations ſubiecte to him, and haupnge a greate number of ſonnes & daughters, in his lyke tyme ryſen to great fame of proweſſe, chiualrie, perſonage and beautie, himſelfe a prince of great worthineſſe, and indued with ſũdry noble qualities. In body ſtrõge, and (while youth flouriſhed) of muche actiuitee, when age grewe on, reuerende and full of maieſtie. In counſayle wyſe, in maners ſobre and graue, as beſt might become his princely perſõ. When fortune beganne to chaunge hir coppe, and the Grecians had beſette his royall citie, he lyued to ſee his power debated, his honour and glory decayed, his ryches and treaſure waſted, his realmes ſpoyled, his ſubiectes pitifully kylled, all his children ſlayne and put to vylany before his face, his citie and palaice burned to the grounde, and himſelfe finally in his laſte dayes and reuerende olde age diſpyteouſly drawen by the heare of the heade, & ſlayne by Pyrrhus, on the bodie of his ponge ſon Polytes, by the aulter whither he had fledde for ſocour, and ſo ended his tragicall lyfe and wofull daies.
Priãpus, An ydole, vnto whom the paynyms committed theyr gardeynes to kẽpe. Alſo a citee of Helleſpont.
Priene, A citie of Ionia.
Priſcianus, A notable grammarian.
Priſcus, The name of dyuers men.
Priuernum, A towne in Campania.
Probus Berytius, The name of a certayne grammarian.
Prochyta, tæ, or Prochyte, tes, An yle in the ſea, in the goulfe or rode of Puteoli, whiche is a citie in Campania.
Procilius, A certaine grammarian.
Proclus, A noble philoſopher of Platos ſecte.
Proconnéſus, An yle in Propontis.
Procopius, A learned man borne in Cæſarea. Alſo a tyranne tyranne of Constãtinople, that rebelled against Valens the emperour.

Procris, The daughter of Erichtheus, and wyfe of Cephalus. Like Cephalus.

Proculeius, A gentleman of Rome, verye familiar with Augustus.

Procustes, A notable robber of Attica, slayne by Hercules, or (as other say) by Theseus.

Procyon, A sterre called the dogge sterre, which appereth in the canicular daies.

Prodicus, A rhetorician, Theramenes maister. Also a sophister.

Prœtus, A kynge of Argyues, the sonne of Abas.

Progne, The daughter of Pandion king of Athens, and wife to Tereus kynge of Thrace. Vide Philomela.

Prometheus, The sonne of Iapetus, firste inuented makynge of ymages: wherfore the paynyms supposed that he made men, and feigned that he wente vp into heauen, and there dyd steale fire to make his ymage haue lyfe, wherewith Iupiter beyng wrath, caused him to be bounden on the hill called Caucasus, and an Eagle standing by him eatynge his herte: by the whiche is signified, that he was studious, and a great astronomer.

Propertius, A poete borne in Peuania, a towne in Umbria.

Propœtides, The daughters of Amathunta.

Propontis, A sea betwene Grece and Asia.

Prosa, A certayne goddesse amonge the Romaynes.

Proseleni, The Arcadians, whiche weare supposed to be before the Mone.

Proserpina, The wyfe of Pluto, daughter to Iupiter & Ceres: she is taken sometyme for the Mone.

Prosimurium, A place without the walles of Rome, where the byshops of the Gentiles made theyr diuinations, or toke theyr significatiõs of thinges to come.

Prosopis, The name of an ylande in the mouthe of Nilus called Delta.

Prosymna, A citie, in the whiche Iuno was worshipped.

Protagoras, A notable philosopher of Grece.

Prote, An yle in the sea Ionium.

Proteruia, æ, f. g. A sacrifice, wherin the maner was, that as muche as was lefte vneaten, shoulde be consumed with fyre: whereof came this prouerbe,

* Proteruiam fecit, He hath consumed al that is left.

Protesilaus, A duke of the citie Phylace in Thessaly, who wente with other to the siege of Troye. And whan there was aunswere geuen to the Troyanes, that who so euer dyd fyrst take land in the countrey of Troy, shoulde be slayne: Protesilaus, with a valiaunte courage, aryued before any other, and was slayne by Hector: whose wyfe Laodamia wepte so muche for him (and woulde neuer be comforted) that she dyed.

Proteus, The sonne of Oceanus and Tethys, called of the Paynyms the god of the sea, whom Homere nameth to be the heardman of the fyshes called Phocæ, and also a prophete, not withstandynge he woulde not geue aunswere, but beyng constreygned by Ulysses. He also tourned himselfe into sundry fygures, sometyme beynge like a flame of fire, sometyme lyke a bull, an other tyme lyke a terrible serpente. Homerus in Odyss. Vergilius Georgicorum quar. In very deede he was kynge of Aegypte, in the tyme of Priamus king of Troy. Of him came this prouerbe, Proteo mutabilior, more chaungeable then Proteus, applyed to him that in his actes or wordes is vnstable.

Prothenor, One of the fiue capitaines of Boetia that came to Troy.

Prothous, A capitayne of the Grekes, that came frõ Magnesia to Troy.

Protogenes, The name of an excellẽt peincter, whose moste famous worke was named Ialysus, and was dedicated in the temple of peace at Rome. Whiche table when he peincted, he lyued onely with Lupines soked in water, that he might not, with the pleasantnesse of other meates, darken the quicknesse of his wittes and senses. In this table was a dog made meruailous lyuely, as which was peincted both by great chaũce, and singular cunnynge. For, when he had satisfied himselfe in all other partes, he lyked not in any wise the fome that he had made in the dogges mouth, which he had peincted ouergreat, and oftentymes puttynge it out, and alterynge his pensyll, coulde neuer doe it so exactely as he desyred, for stille it appered to be painted, and not a right fome in deede. Wherefore in greatte displeasure with himselfe, he flange his pensyll out of his hande vpon the place, with the sperklynge whereof appered so lyuely a fome, as no man woulde haue iudged to be made with mans hand. And so by chaũce made perfite his worke, that by no cunnynge he coulde bryng to passe.

Protogenia, The daughter of Deucalion and Pyrrha.

Protoplastus, i, m. g. Adam was so called, because he was firste fourmed or made.

Protocotos, Eue was so called, because she was the firste that brought forth children.

Prusa, A citie in Grece, at the fote of the mountayne Olympus.

Prusenses, The people of Prusa.

Prusias, A kynge of Bithynia, vnto whom Annibal fledde, after he was banniſhed from Carthage.

Prytis, The sonne of Mercury.

Prymnesia, A citie of Mæonia.

Prymno, A nymphe or mayden of the sea, one of the daughters of Oceanus.

Prytaneum, The counsayle house in the castell of Athens.

P S

Psamathe, A fountayne in Thebes. Also a citie and a mountayne. Also the daughter of Crotopus kynge of Argyues. An other was a nymphe daughter of Nereus.

Psammenitus, A kynge of Aegypte, vanquished by Cambyses.

Psammetichus, A kynge of Aegypte, in whose time 200008. Aegyptians forsooke theyr countrey, & wente to the Aethiopes.

Psappho, A man of Libya, who goynge aboute to be reputed a god, tooke a great maynie of such byrdes, as might be brought to resēble mans spœch, and taught them to vtter these woordes, Magnus deus Psappho, that is, the great god Psappho. And when they had this learned, he cast them of into the mountaines, where they both vsed those woordes themselues, and taught other byrdes to doe the lyke. Whiche thinge the people hearing, and not knowynge the cause, but thinkynge it to be done by diuine power, began to woorshippe Psappho, and consecrated him as a god.

Psecas, psecadis, f.g. A nymphe, one of Dianas compaignions.

Psellus, The name of an olde wryter, which wrate of diete.

Psophis, The daughter of Eryx.

Psylli, People in Libya, whose bodies are venime to serpentes, and they also doe cure the styngynge and poysonynge of serpentes, by suckyng the place which is venomed.

Psyllium, A citie of Bithynia, called commonly Picello.

Psyra, An yle not farre from Chios, wherof Homere wryteth Odisseæ. 3. Also a citie of the same name.

P T

Pteria, A citie in Cappadocia.

Pterophoros, A countrey by the mountaynes Riphæi.

Pthia, A parte of Thessalie, where Achilles reigned.

Ptolomæus, The sonne of Lagus, a common souldiour of great authoritie vnder kynge Alexander, and after his death reigned ouer Aegypte, Affrike, and a great parte of Arabia. He ruled 40. yeres, and of him many other kinges were after named Ptolomæi. He dyed in his greattest glorye, hauynge not longe before yelded vp his kyngdome to his sonne named Ptolomæus Philadelphus. This Philadelphus was a man of great learnynge, disciple to the philosopher Strato, and builded the notable lybrarie at Alexandria, furnished with all maner of woorkes, whiche, to the great losse of learnynge, was burned in the first warre that the Romaines had with Alexandria. An other Ptolomeus lyued in the tyme of Antonine the emperour, who restored out of darkenesse the mathematicall sciences, & wrate diuers woorkes, of whiche some at this daye be extante.

Ptolomais, maidis, The name of a citie in Phœnicia, firste called Acha.

P V

Publicola, The surname of Ualerius, whiche was one of the first Consulles of Rome, so called because he was a fauourer of the people.

Publipor, publiporis, Publius boy or seruaunte.

Publius, The name of a Romaine, as Marcus is.

Pucinum, A towne of Histria.

Pucinum vinum, Wine growynge nyghe to the goulfe of Uenice, by the towne Pucinum.

Punicanus, a, um, Of Affrike, or of Carthage: vt,

Punicanæ fenestræ, Suche wyndowes as they vse in Carthage.

Puniceus, a, um, Idem quod Punicus.

Punicus, a, um, Of Affrike, or of Carthage: vt,

Bellum Punicum, The warre that the Romaines had with the Carthaginiens.

Puppius, The name of a certaine poete.

Puteolanus, a, um, Of Puteoli.

Puteoli, A citie in Campania.

P Y

Pygmæi, A dwarfishe people in the vttermoste mountaines of Indie (as Plinie saieth) inhabitynge in a verye holsome, fertyle, and pleasaunt countrey. In heigth they are not passinge one cubyte, and theyr women the fyfte yere of theyr age beare children, and in the eyght they ware olde. The report is, that rydyng on weathers & gotes, armed with bowe and arrowes they goe in the sprynge tyme in great companies towarde the sea syde, to destroy the neastes, egges, and younge brēde of cranes: whiche otherwise woulde increase to suche multitudes, that they shoulde not be hable to resiste them. Theyr houses in stēde of tyle or thetch, are couered with clay and egge shelles.

Pygmalion, Looke Pigmalion.

Pylades, The sonne of Strophius, Orestes friende. Vide Pilades.

Pylæa, A place of Arcadie.

Pylæmenes, A duke of the Paphlagonians, that came to Troy, and was slayne by Menelaus.

Pylene, A citie of Aetolia.

Pylos, An aūcient citie of Achaia. Strabo wryteth, that there weare many cities called Pylos, and eache contended for Nestor.

Pylius, a, um, Of Pylos, or of Nestor.

Pympleides, Looke Pimpleides, in Pimpla.

Pyracmon, One of the Cycloppes.

Pyræchmes, A mans name in Homere.

Pyramides, Certayne outragious buildinges in Aegypte, in fourme of stēples fowre square, made vp to such excēdynge heyght, and so small vpwarde to the toppe, as it myght sēme incredible to be wrought with mans hande: In the botome were the sepulchres of the kynges. There weare in that countrey many of them, and builded by princes drowned in excēdynge wealth, onely for a vayne ostentatiō, or that they might not leaue ouermuche store of treasure to theyr successours. Authours write that in the buildynge of this kynde of monstruouse tomes in Aegypte, weare bestowed. xv. thousande talentes onely on oynions, garlyke, and chēse, for the labourers.

Pyramus, A yonge man of Babylon, betwēne whō

and

and a maiden named Thysse was passyng great loue, contrary to the wylles of theyr parentes: by whom they weare so diligently kepte, that, not withstandynge theyr houses ioygned together, they coulde not eache enioye others companie. Wherefore by an hole in a walle they agreede bothe in the nyghte to steale out of theyr fathers houses, and meete at a certayne place in the fielde. Thyther came fyrste Thysbe, who, beynge in greate feare of a Lyonesse that she espyed by the mone light, ranne into a caue therby, and for haste dyd lette falle hir vpper garmente, whiche the beaste dyd rente and teare in peeces. Not longe after (whyle Thysbe was yet in the caue) Pyramus commynge to the place appointed, and seeynge his loues garmente torne and bludde, thinkyng she had beene destroyed by some wylde beaste, for sorowe drue out his swoorde, and slue himselfe. Thysbe, when hir feare was paste, commynge from the place, where as she hydde hirselfe, and espiynge Pyramus in suche maner slayne, and the lyfe not yet cleane out of his bodie, surmysynge howe the mattier came to passe, with manye teares pytyfully bewaylynge bothe theyr fortunes, with the same swoorde ended hir lyfe, wherewith not longe before he had kylled himselfe, for whose loue she came thyther. Pyramus is also a ryuer in Cilicia.

Pyrander, A man of Athens.

Pyreicus, A famouse caruer of small ymages.

Pyrenæi montes, Mountaines, whiche dooe dyuyde Fraunce from Spaine. It is also red Pyréne in the singular number.

Pyrene, A certayne fountayne. Also the name of a mayden.

Pyréneus, trisyl. A certayne kynge of Thrace.

Pyrethi, Certayne inchaunters of Cappadocia.

Pyréthia septa, Places inclosed, whiche had in the middell of them an aulter, on the whiche was kepte fyre continually burnynge.

Pyræus, looke Piræeus.

Pyrgi, Is thought to be an olde citie of Hetruria.

Pyrgoteles, The name of a cunnynge grauer in stones.

Pyria, A citie of Lesbos.

Pyro, A nymph, the daughter of Oceanus.

Pyrodes, The name of him that fyrste strake fyre out of flinte.

Pyrous, One of the horses of the sonne.

Pyrois, pyroëntis, idem.

Pyrpile, A certayne plande, where fyre was fyrste founde.

Pyrrha, The wyfe of Deucalion. Also a citie of Caria. Erasmus saieth it is a citie in the yle of Lesbos.

Pyrrhia, A womans name in Horace.

Pyrrhidæ, Was the auncient name of the people called Molossi.

Pyrrho, The name of a philosopher, whiche was fyrst a peinter.

Pyrrhus, The sonne of Achilles by Deidamia, so named of his yalowe heare. He was also called Neoptolemus, because he was a ponge souldiour, and came with his father to the warre of Troy, when he was but a childe. When Troye was taken, he kylled Polytes ſ Priam⁹ in reuengemente of his fathers death. In the ende he was slayne by Orestes, for that he had taken from him the ladie Hermione, that was before affiaunced to him.

Pyrrhus, A kynge of Epyre, by his mothers syde descended of Achilles, by his fathers of Hercules. a stoute warriour and valiaunte capitaine. He ayded the people of Tarentum and the Samnites againste the Romaynes, and in certayne battayles ouerthrewe them, and wrought them muche trouble. When his sonnes, beynge but yet children, asked him to whiche of them he woulde leaue his kyngedome, to him (saith he) that shall haue the sharpest swoorde: geuynge them to vnderstande, that he woulde geue the succession of his principalitie to manhode, and not to age. By that spurre he incensed his children to contende whiche mought passe other in noble vertue and prowesse.

Pythágoras, A man of excellent witte, borne in an yle called Samos, whiche countrey beynge subdued by the tyrranne Polycrates, he forsooke, and wente into Aegypte and Babylonia, to learne misticall sciences, and afterwarde came into Italie, where he continued the residue of his lyfe. He was the fyrste that named himselfe a philosopher, where before men of great learnynge weare called wyse men: and because he would eschewe the note of arrogancie, when one demaunded of him what he was, he saied, Philosophus, whiche signifieth a louer of wisedome. He was in sharpenesse of wit passyng al other, and found the subtile conclusions and misteries of arithmetike, musike, and geometrie. Plato wondreth at his wisedome: his doctrine was diuine and compendious: the whiche he teachynge to other, enioygned them to keepe silence fiue yeres, ſ heare him diligently, ere they demaunded of him any question. He neuer would doe sacrifice with any bloudde, he would eate nothyng that had lyfe, and lyued in a meruailous abstinence, and continence, and was in such authoritie amonge his disciples, that when in disputation they mainteyned theyr opinion, if one demaunded of them, why it shoulde be as they spake, they woulde aunswere onely, Ipse dixit, he sayed so, meanynge Pythagoras: whiche aunswere was reputed as sufficiente, as if it hadde beene proued with an incontable reason: so muche in estimation was he for his approued trouth and incomparable learnynge. He was noted to be experte in magyke: and therefore it is written of him, that nygh to the citie of Tarentum, he beheelde an oxe bityng the toppes of beanes there growinge, ſ treading the downe w his fæte: wherefore he bade the heardeman to aduyse his ore that he shoulde abstreyne from grayne: the heardeman laughyng at him, sayed, that he neuer learned to speake as an ore: but thou (saide he) that seemest to haue experience therein, take mine office vpon thee. Forthwith Pythagoras went to the ore, and layinge his mouth to his eare, whiskered somewhat of his arte. A meruaylous thinge, the ore, as if he had béene taught, lefte eatyng of the corne, nor neuer after touched any: but many yeres after mylely walked in the citie, and toke his meate onely of them that woulde geue it him. Many lyke wonderfull thinges are written of him. Fynally his disciples, for theyr wysedome and temperance, weare alwaies had in greate estimation. He was before the incarnatiõ of Christ 522. yeres.

Pythagóricus, & Pythagoreus, One of the secte of Pythagoras.

Pythagorista, tæ, m.g. He that counterfeyteth or imitateth the lyfe of Pythagoras.

Pythenm, Was the place in the which Apollo gaue aunsweres.

Pythias, A womans name.

Pythia, pythiorum, n. g. plu. Plaies made in the honour of Apollo.

Pythius, One of the names of Apollo.

Pythius, A Lydian, dwellynge at a towne in Phrygia called Celene, who had suche aboundaunce of golde, that he receyued Xerres kynge of Persia with all his whole armie, whiche was innumerable, and that with great magnificence: and offered moreouer, to geue treasure as well for prouision, as also for wages, to haue had his sonne discharged of the warres: whiche Xerres takynge displeasantly, caused the ponge man in his fathers sight to be cutte in sũder. This man gaue also to Darius, father to Xerxes, a plane træ of golde, and a vyne of the same metall: yet he takynge thought for his sonne, inclosed himselfe in a sepulchre, whiche he let make, and there fynished his lyfe myserably, & in extreame sorowe.

Pytho, A citie in the countrey called Phocis, the people whereof were named Delphi.

Pythodorus, A famous grauer.

Python, pythônis, m. & fœ. ge. A dragon, whiche was slayne by Apollo.

Pythópolis, A citie of Asia, in that parte whiche is called Mysia: an other of Caria.

Q V

QVadi, People of Bœme, or Boemia, whiche dyd eate the fleshe of horses & woulues.

Quadratus, A byshop of Athens, disciple of the Apostles, which had the gyfte of prophecie.

Quadrurbs, A name by the which the citie of Athens was called of Actius the poete: the worde signifieth a citie, vnto the whiche dwe come or are brought all the people beyng lefte in four cities.

Quari, People of Narbon.

Quercus, A place where the Milesians slue a great numbre of the Ptienenses.

Quietalis, Was the name of Pluto called god of hell.

Quinquatria, orum, A feast dedicate to Pallas, which dured fyue dayes.

Quinquátrus, us, m.g. Idem.

Quinquatrus dies, A feaste so called, because it was after the fyfte Idus of Marche.

Quintana porta, The chiefe gate in the campe, which was called Prætorium, where the markette was wonte to be kepte.

Quintia porta, & Quintia prata, Was a gate, and medowes at Rome, which toke theyr name of one Quintius, a noble Consull of Rome.

Quintilianus, The name of a notable Rhetorician.

Quintilis, The moneth of July.

Quintilius, A mans name, familiar with Virgile and Horace.

Quintipor, quintiporis, The boye or seruaunte of Quintus.

Quintius, and Quintus, The names of dyuers Romaynes.

Quintius, a, um, Perteynynge to Quintus.

Quirinâlis, le, Of or belongynge to Romulus.

Quirinalis collis, An hyll at Rome, where the tẽple of Romulus was sette.

Quirinalis porta, The gate nerte to that hylle.

Quirinalia, orum, Dates, in the whiche men did sacrifice vnto Romulus, called Quirinus.

Quirinus, The surname of Romulus.

Quiris, quiritis, or Quirites, quiritis, or hic & hæc Quirîtis, A name whereby the Romaynes weare called, of their firste kynge Romulus, called Quirinus, as it weare Quirinus people.

R A

RAbirius, A gentleman of Rome. Also a poete in Ouids tyme.

Radagasus, A certaine kynge of the Gothes.

Rage, A towne and castell in Englande called Notingham.

Ramnetes, The thyrde parte of the people of Rome in Romulus time. Raminenses, Idem.

Randuscula porta, looke Raudusc̃ula.

Ratiastum, Limogeis in Poito.

Ratispona, A citie in Almaine, called Reutzburgh.

Ratumenna, The name of a certayne chariot man.

Raudusc̃ula, A brasen gate in Rome.

Rauenna, A citie in Italy.

Rauennas, âtis, omnis generis, That dwelleth, or is in Raucnna.

R E

Reate, tis, n.g. A citie in Italie.

Rediculi, A temple at Rome, without the gate called Capena, where Annibal beyng afearde retyred backe.

Regillus, The name of a ryuer in Italy.

Regium, A citie beyonde the mountayne towarde Italy called Rezo.

Regulus,

Regulus, The name of a Conſull of Rome, loke Attilius. Alſo a great Rhetorician in the tyme of Plinie.

Remona, The dwellynge houſe of Remus.

Remoria, A place on the toppe of the hylle called Auentinus, where Remus ſtode, & by the flighte of byrdes aduyſed the buildynge of Rome.

Remulinus ager, Remus fielde.

Remus, The brother of Romulus by whom he was put to death, for that in ſcorne he leaped ouer the walles of the newe builded citie: And ſo beganne Rome with blouddeſhedde and heynous murder by him committed, that was the fyrſte founder of the citie. After the death of Remus, the citie was (in puniſhment thereof) ſore vexed with a greeuous plague: and Apollo beynge aſked howe it myghte be ſtayed, dyd geue anſwere, that the ghoſte of Remus muſt by ſome ſolemne ceremonie be pacifyed. Wherefore Romulus deuyſed, that, when ſo euer he dyd ſitte in royall throne to make any lawe or ordinaunce, there ſhoulde be ſette by him an other chayre of eſtate, with a ſceptre, dyademe, & other roial enſignes in it, that his brother being dead, myghte ſeme in a ſorte to reigne with him, whom beynge alyue he woulde not abyde to be partaker of his kyngedome: and ſo with a ſhadowe woulde ſeme to ſatiſfie that, whiche in deede he coulde not ſuffer.

Renumtiata, An yle by Aethyope, ſo ryche, that the inhabitantes dwe geue for an horſe by exchange a talent of golde.

Rha, A ryuer of Sarmatia, called alſo Volga or Voltia.

Rhadamãthus, a king of Lycia, which was a ſtraite executer of Iuſtice, and therefore was ſuppoſed of the Paynyms, to be afterwarde one of the iudges in hell.

Rhaguſium, A citie in Dalmatia.

Rhamnes, and Rhamnetes, Certayne gentlemen of Rome.

Rhamnus, nuntis, A famous village by Athens.

Rhamnuſia, The goddeſſe of vengeaunce. Loke Nemeſis.

Rhamnuſis, ſidis, Of Rhamnuſia.

Rhamnuſius, ſia, ſium, A man of the village called Rhamnus by Athens.

Rhamſinitus, The name of a certayne kynge of Aegypte, as Herodotus wryteth.

Rhaphia, A citie of Paleſtine, called of the Iewes Rhama.

Rhea, Loke Cibele.

Rhea Syluia, The mother of Romulus and Remus, called alſo Ilia.

Rhebanus, A ryuer in the mouthe of Boſphorus, in Thrace.

Rhebas, An other ryuer there.

Rhedones, Men of the citie of Reynes in Fraunce.

Rhegium, A citie in the borders of Italie towarde Sicilie. Alſo an other citie not farre from Parma.

Rhegius, A man of the citie Rhegium in Calabre.

Rhegius, a, um, Of Rhegium.

Rhemi, People in Fraunce, called alſo Rhemenſes.

Rhene, One of the yles called Cycſades.

Rheni, ôrum, People dwellynge by the Rheyne.

Rhenenſes, People dwellynge on the ryuer of Rheyne.

Rhenenſe vinum, Rhenyſhe wyne.

Rhenus, A notable ryuer in Germanie, called the Rheyne.

Rheſus, A kynge of Thrace, whiche came to the ayde of the Troyanes, and was ſlayne of Diomedes: of whom a ryuer about Troye was called Rheſus.

Rheti, A people in Italie nere to the Alpes.

Rhetia, A countrey in Germanie, hauynge on the weaſte the Heluetians: on the northe it marcheth vpon Danubius: on the eaſte vpon the ryuer called Lycus: on the ſouthe it lieth vpon the mountaynes called Alpes.

Rhetico, rheticonis, maſ. gen. A certayne mountayne by Rhetia.

Rheticus, a, um, Of Rhetia.

Rhetus, A gyaunt, whom Dionyſe beyng tourned into a lyon, ſlue.

Rhexenor, The ſonne of Nauſithous.

Rhion, A promontorie of Aetolia.

Rhitimna, A citie of Crete, called commonlye Aretina.

Rhodanus, A ryuer in Fraunce called the Rone.

Rhodia, A nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus.

Rhodius, a, um, & Rhodinus, Of the Rhodes.

Rhodogune, The daughter of kynge Darius, whiche kylled hir nurſe, for perſwadynge hir to marie after hir fyrſt huſbandes death.

Rhodophone, That parte of Syria that goeth ouer the mountayne Taurus.

Rhodope, A mountayne in Thracia.

Rhodopeius, a, um, Perteynynge to that mountaine of Rhodope: or of Thrace.

Rhodopis, A famous harlotte of Thrace, of excellent beautie, and wonderfull ryche.

Rhodos, A famous yle in the ſea called Carpathium, lyyng beyonde Candy, hauyng on the north the countrey called Lycia: on the ſouth Aegypt. In this yle weare borne manye excellente philoſophers and Rhetoricians: it was ſometyme puiſſant and ryche.

Rhoeteus, & Rhoeteius, a, um, For Troianus.

Rhoetus, A mountaine of Troy, where Aiax Telamonius was buryed.

Rhoxia, A countrey by Polonia.

Rhoxolani, People on the northe parte of the ryuer of Danubius or Donow.

Rhuteni, A people in Fraunce called Rhoders.

Rhymnus, A certayne ryuer.

Rhyndacus, A ryuer whiche renneth into the ſea called Pontus.

Rhynitalchus, A man of Thrace.
Rhynton, A certayne comicall poete.

R J

Ricina, An yle by Irelande.
Rigiacum, A certaine citie.
Ripæ, seu Ripæi, Mountaines in Arcadie.
Riphæi, Mountaines in Scythia, where as is continuall wynter, and snow with huge wyndes.
Ripheus, One of the Centaures.
Risinum, A citie of Lyburnia.
Rittus, A citie of Crete.

R O

Robigália, The ceremonies perteynynge to Robigus, the preseruatour of corne.
Robigo, ginis. f. g. Was honoured of the Romaynes for a goddesse, whom they supposed mought preserue their corne from blastinge.
Robigus, The olde Romaines named the god that preserued corne from blastynge.
Roma, The citie of Rome.
Romanensis, He that commeth from an other coũtrey, and dwelleth at Rome.
Romania, A countrey called also Thracia.
Romanus, A Romayne.
Romanus, a, um, Of Rome.
Romandues, called nowe Veromandi, Vermandois.
Rómula, A trée, vnder the whiche Romulus and Remus were founde.
Romuleus, a, um, Of Romulus.
Romulidæ. The Romaynes.
Rómulus, As the Romayne stories affyrme, the son of Mars, by Ilia the daughter of Numitor, but more verily the sonne of Amulius his great vncle, who, of purpose rauished Ilia in the darke, beynge a virgine Vestale, to haue a quarell to put hir to death. For kynge Numitor had a brother named Amulius, of nature wicked, fierse, and cruell, who, not beynge contente to take the kyngdome from his elder brother, and cast him in prison, dyd also murder his sonne Lausus, and vnder coulour of honour made his daughter Ilia a virgine Vestale vnder the bond of perpetuall chastitée, that she might not haue any issue. But she beynge afterwarde founde with childe by Mars, (as the Romaynes would haue men beléeue) was deliuered of two sonnes: whiche Amulius commaunded to be caste into Tyber, and theyr mother, accordynge to the lawe of the Vestales, to be buryed quicke.
As it happened at that tyme, the ryuer of Tyber was swollen ouer the bankes, so that men coulde not come to the dépe of the chanell. Wherefore they that had the charge of drownynge the children, caste them into the lande fludde, where the water sodeynly fallynge, lefte them alyue, and so weare they founde by Faustulus the kynges shépehearde, who brought them home to be kept and nourished of his wife Laurentia, whiche, because she was a strumpette, was named of the shépeheardes Lupa. Whereof rose the fable, that the founders of the Romaine citie weare nourysshed of a shee woulfe. When these children came after to age, beynge instructed by Faustulus of theyr stocke and begynnynge, they gathered together a bande of shépeheardes, kylled Amulius, restored Numitor to his kyngedome, and on the mounte Palatine, where they weare brought vp, beganne to builde them a new citie. And because they weare twynnes bothe of one age, there fell controuersie betwéene them, whiche shoulde géeue name to theyr newe citie. This contention so grewe, from woordes to tumulte and strokes, that in the bickeryng Remus was slayne. Althoughe the more common opinion be, that he was put to death, because scornefully he leapte ouer the newe walles of the citie. Romulus, beynge then kynge alone, peopled his citie, by erectynge a sainctuarie for saulfegarde of all trangressours that would come thither: ordeyned an hundred Senatours called fathers: procured wyues for his people, by rape of all the maydens of the countrey, resortynge thyther to solemne games and playes: ouercame the people of Cenina, and slue theyr kynge: banquyshed the Sabynes, and people of Atemna, and receyued theim into his citie, with other dyuers valiaunte actes. Whiche, when he hadde done, on a tyme callynge an assemblie at the marrice named Caprea, in a greatte tempeste sodaynely was gone, no man coulde tell howe: as it was thoughte, for his sterne gouernemente murdered priuyly of the Senatours, who, to please the people fayned, that he was a god, and named him Quirinus. Vnder whiche name the Romaines euer after worshipped him.
Rómulus, a, um, Of Romulus.
Roscius, A Romayne, and a player in comedies, whom for his excellencie in pronuntiation and gesture, the noble Cicero called his iewell, and so muche delyted in him, that he contended with him, whether Roscius coulde sette foorthe one sentence in mo facions of gesture and countinaunce, or he expresse the same sentence in a more diuersitée of eloquente woordes. The excellencie of this man in his arte, howe it was esteemed and fauoured of all the Romaynes, it appéereth well, in that they gaue to him for a continuall stipende, one thousande of theyr grotes for euery daye: whiche amounteth of our money to syxtéene pounde, thyrteene shyllynges and foure pence. And Lucius Sylla beynge Dictatoure, gaue to him a rynge of golde, whiche was the token of a knyghte at that tyme, as a coller or chayne of golde is at this tyme.

Rothó-

Rothómagus, The citie of Roan in Normandy.
Roxana, The daughter of Darius, and concubine of Alexander, whiche beynge great with childe, was drowned by hir sister Satyra.
Roxicum, A citie of the yle Corsica, called commõly Rogela.

R V

Rubi, rubôrum, A towne in Campania.
Rúbicon, conis, A ryuer in Italie, whiche diuideth Gallia from the parte of Italy nowe called Romandiola, and in olde tyme Flaminea.
Rubigália, ôrum, Feastes ordeyned for the preseruation of corne from blastynge.
Rubricatus, A ryuer in Spayne called Robregat.
Rudiæ, rudiarum, An olde towne in Apulia, where the poete Ennius was borne.
Rufinus, The name of certayne Romaines.
Rufrimaceriæ, A towne of Campayne.
Rufus, The name and surname of diuers Romaynes.
Rullus, A Romaine, whiche brought fyrst a whole bore to the table in seruice.
Rumia, A goddesse, whom the Paynyms supposed to be beneficiall to womens breastes, and to suckynge children.
Ruminalis ficus, A rygge trée, vnder the whiche it is supposed, that a woulfe gaue sucke to Romulus and Remus.
Runcina, The goddesse of wéedynge.
Runsor, ôris, One of the names of Pluto, called god of hell.
Ruscinum, Rossilion or Perpignan in Fraunce.
Rusticus, The proper name of a man.
Rutheni, People beyond Liuonia, of whom the coũtrey is now called Russia. There be also people in Fraunce about Towres so called.
Rutilius, The name of dyuers Romaynes.
Rutuba, A ryuer in Liguria, rennynge from the mountayne called Apenninus.
Rutuli, An auncient people in Italye, of whom Turnus was king, whom Aeneas vanquished.
Rútulus, a, um, Of the people Rutuli.
Rutûlus, A mans name.
Rutupiæ. An hauen in Kente called Sandwich.
Rutupinus, a, um, Of that hauen.
Rutupinum promontorium, A gore or elbowe of land in Englande, lynge into the sea aboute Sandwiche.

S A

SAba, or Sabe, A great citie in Aethiope. Also the chiefe citie of the people called Sabæi in Arabie: the worde Saba signifieth a misterie.
Sabæa, or Saba, A countrey in the middle of Arabia towarde the east, inuironned about with great rockes, wherein is a greate wodde of precious trées, some of Cynamome and Cassia, some bringynge forth frankensence & myrre. The length of that wodde is twentie of their myles called Schœni, which comprehendeth of Italian myles, one hundred and fiftie. Pli. li. 12. Theophrastus li. 9. de hist. plant. Solynus wryteth, that the region bryngynge forth frankensence, is from a towne there named Atramitæ. viii. mansions, whiche in dede conteyneth. 224. myles, Mansio or Stathmos beynge of. 28. Italyan myles. The chiefe citie of that realme is called Sabota.
Sabæi, People of the realme of Sabæa.
Sabæus, a, um, Of the people Sabæi.
Sabacus, The name of a certaine kyng of Aethiope.
Sabata, Sabatia, or Sabatium, A citie of Liguria, commonly called Sauona.
Sabatæ, A certaine pole.
Sabath, A proper name, whereof commeth Sabathæi, the name of a people.
Sabe, In the Syrian tongue, is the moneth of February.
Sabelli, People dwellynge in the mountaynes betwéene the Sabines and Marsy in Italy.
Sabellus, and Sabellicus, a, um, Of the people Sabini in Italy.
Sabidius, A Romayne, which was a notable glutto.
Sabim, Amonge the Arabians doeth signifie god.
Sabini, People in Italie, betwéene Latini & Vmbri.
Sabinus, a, um, Of the Sabines.
Sabinsa, A gate at Rome, out at the whiche men wente to the Sabines.
Sabota, or Sabora, A citie of Arabie.
Sabriana, A créeke in the Brytayne sea.
Sabrina, A greatte ryuer in Englande called Séuerne, whiche renneth into the sea by Bristow. Ptolomæus calleth it Sabriana.
Sabura, ræ, A mans name.
Sabyllus, A tyran of a citie in Sicilie called Gela.
Sacæ, People of Scythia.
Sacarum, A countrey of Asia, beyonde the sea called Caspium, the people whereof haue no houses, but dwell in caues.
Sacer mons, An hyll dedicate to Jupiter. iij. myles from Rome, beyonde the ryuer called Anio: an other by Galatia, wherein golde is founde.
Sacra via, A streéte in Rome, where peace was made betwéene Romulus and Tatius, and thorough the whiche the vanquishers passed with theyr triumph to the Capitoll.
Saciani, Certayne people of Italye.
Sacrum promontorium, A great mountayne or rocke in the southweast parte of Spayne, lynge on the sea, called nowe Cape sainct Vincent.
Sadducæi, Were men of a certayne secte amonge the Iewes, who helde opinion, that the soule was mortall, and that it dyed with the bodye: they were diuers in maners, & cruell to straungers.
Sadyattes, The sonne of Ardys, whiche reigned after his father in Lydia.
Sæpinum, A citie of the Samnites.
Sagaris, or Sagrus. A certayne ryuer.
Sagittárius, sagittarii, masc. gen. One of the. xii. signes in the fyrmamente.
Sagra, A ryuer in Italy.
Sagona, A ryuer in Fraunce called the Sone.

Saguntia, A citie of Spayne.

Sāguntus, vel Saguntum, A citie in Spayne, beyonde the ryuer of Iberus, aboute one myle from the ſea: the people thereof, beynge in amitée with the Romaynes, weare of ſuch faithfulneſſe, that whan Annyball had longe beſieged them, and brought them at the poynte to be famiſhed: the chiefe of the citie made great fyers, and let caſt into it theyr treaſure, and many of them entred into the fyre, and were wylfully burned, all the reſidue fought and weare ſlayne, ſo that none eſcaped: whereof came this prouerbe, Saguntina fames, applyed to a great and horrible famine. In the place where this citie ſtode, is nowe the towne called Moruetrum.

Saii, A people of Thrace.

Sais, A citie in Aegypte, where is one of the entries into the ryuer of Nylus: the entrye or porte is called Saiticum.

Sala, A towne and ryuer in Mauritania. Alſo a towne of Phrygia, Pannonia, and Armenia, and a ryuer of Germanie.

Salacia, The goddeſſe of water.

Salambria, A citie of Cappadocia.

Salamin, Salamis, or Salamina, An yle by Athens.

Salaminius, Salaminiacus, and Salaminus, a, um, Of that yle: vt,

Salaminia nauis, A ſhippe of Salamin.

Salanga, A promontorie of Irelande.

Salanga, A very hyghe hyll betwéene greatte Brytayne and Irelande, now called our ladies hyll.

Salapia, A towne in Apulia.

Salapuſius, A name geuen to Caluus an oratour, whiche beynge of a childes perſonage, vſed much teſtynge and tauntynge myrily.

Salaria via, An hyghe way, by the which ſalte was caryed to Rome.

Salaſſii, People by the Inſubriens.

Salentia, The citie of the Meſſapians.

Salentinum, A countrey in Italy.

Salentini, A people in Italy.

Salernum, A towne in Italy.

Salia, A ryuer in Spayne.

Saliaris, re, Perteynyng to the prieſtes of Mars. vt, Saliaris cœna, A bankette or ſupper, made by the prieſtes of Mars.

Saliares virgines, Maydens, whiche were with the prieſtes of Mars, and dyd ſacrifice with the byſhoppes, wearyng on them cote armours, and byſhoppes myters on theyr heades.

Salii, The prieſtes of Mars in Rome, whiche daunced about the citie, bearinge tergates called Anciliа. Salii, bee alſo people of Germanie, called Franci, and their countrey Franconia.

Salinæ, narum, A citie in Sicilie.

Salinator, The name of a noble man of Rome.

Saliocanus, An hauen in Fraunce, called Saincte Paulus.

Saliſi, People of the Alpes, confynes to the Sequeters, and the people called Boii.

Salmácidus, a, um, Of the fountayne Salmacis.

Salmacis, A fountayne in Caria, where a nymphe fyndinge Hermaphroditus, the ſonne of Mercurie and Venus naked, ſhe embracynge him, deſyred of the goddes, that of them two mighte be made one body, and ſo it happened. Alſo the people of Caria, be ſometyme called Salmatii.

Salmantica, A towne of Portugall.

Salmóneus, triſyllabum, A kynge of Elis, whiche takynge foliſhly vpon him to haue diuine honours done vnto him, and woulde ſéeme to caſt lightninges like vnto Iupiter, beyng ouerthrowen with lyghtnynge, was caſt into hell.

Salmonis, nidis, Patronymicum fœminínum.

Salo, A ryuer called alſo Bilbilis, wherewith yron is tempred and made ſtronger.

Salomon, & Solomon, onis, Is interpreted peacible: The name of a kynge of the Iewes, the ſonne of kynge Dauid, who excéeded all men in wiſedome and knowledge, and neuertheleſſe was by dotage on women, brought vnto ydolatry.

Salomonius, a, um, Of Salomon.

Salon, A countrey of Bithynia, very commodious for the fédynge of cattayle.

Salonæ, A citie in Liburnia, betwéene Dalmatia & Illyria.

Salonius, The ſonne of Pollio.

Salopia, A towne and countrey in Englande called Shrewſbury.

Salpiæ, A towne of Apulia.

Salſuſe, A fountayne of ſalte water, of Narbon in Fraunce.

Saltiæ, people ioygning to the ſea called Pōtus Euxinus.

Saluſtius, A notable hiſtoriographer, whiche wrate of the conſpiracie of Catiline, and of the warre againſt Jugurthe.

Samara, An hyll in the eaſt Occean ſea, at the further ende of the mountayne Caucaſus.

Samaria, A countrey and citie in Syria, ioygnynge to Judæa, whiche was the chiefe citie of the .x. trybes of Iſraell, who beynge taken priſoners by the kynge of Syria, and led away captiues, thither weare ſente Paynyms for them to inhabite the countrey, which were after called Samaritani, & they mixt the lawe of Moyſes with ydolatrie: the citie was afterwarde called Sebaſte.

Samarobrini, People in Fraunce aboute Cambrie.

Sambicus, A mans name, whiche was, for ſpoyling of Diana hir temple, tourmented a whole yere moſte grieuouſly, and ſo dyed.

Same, An yle in the ſea Ionium.

Samius, a, um, Of the yle of Samos.

Samnites, People of Samnium, a countrey in Italie called now Apruciuм.

Samonium, A promontorie of Creete, ouer agaynſte the Rhodes.

Samos, The name of two yles in the ſea called Aegeum, One by Thracia, and therefore it is called Samothracia, the other lyeth againſt Epheſus.

Samoſata, A citie of Aſia by Euphrates.

Sanates, People dwellynge about Rome.

Sancus, One of the names of Hercules.
Sandalarius, A name of Apollo.
Sandaliôtis, An yle called nowe Sardinia.
Sanga, A ryuer in Portugall.
Sangaris, A ryuer of Galatia, which renning through Phrygia, falleth into the sea Propontis. It is cõmonly called Zagarie.
Sangarius puer, Ganymêdes.
Sannous, A ryuer or poole in Asia.
Santones, and Santoni, People of a countrey in Fraunce called Xantongue.
Santonum portus, Rochell in Fraunce.
Santonum promontorium, A promontorie in Fraunce called Blaye.
Sapiri, People by Pontus.
Sapis, A ryuer of Italy.
Sáppbicus, a, um, Of Sappho.
Sappho, A woman of the yle of Lesbos, a great poetresse, who made verses called Lyrici: at the last she was taken with the loue of a ponge man called Phaon, who rẽnyng away from hir, she not susteinyng the anguishe of loue, threwe hirselfe downe from an hill into the sea.
Saraca, A towne of Media.
Sarace, A citie in Colchis.
Sarcárius, A ryuer of Phrygia.
Sardanapalus, An emperour of Assyria, so exceadingly geuen to effeminate wantonnesse and folie, as he may seeme to haue chaunged his sexe or kinde, and by nature being framed a man, in conditiõs to be a very woman. For he was wont continually in somme innar parte of his palaice, to sitte in the companie of light women, arayed in womans apparayle, spinning and cardynge as they did, and in lightnesse of countenaunce and wanton gestures farre passinge the moste shameless strumpets. Whiche light behauiour although he long cloked and hydde, vnder pretence of maiestie, not sufferynge any to come to him, yet at the lengthe it was spyed by one Arbaces his lieutenaunt of Media, vpon speciall fauour beyng lette in vnto hym. Whereat this Arbaces a man of stoute courage, conceiued so great indignation, that shortly after he incẽsed the people to rebellion: saynge that it was a foule rebuke for martiall people vsed to handle armure and weapon to be subiecte to one that did spende his tyme in tosyng of woull among harlottes & light women. Wherfore they gathering a power, made warre against Sardanapalus. Who being ouercomme fledde to his palayce, and makyng a great fyre, after he had cast into it his Iewelles and moste precious ornamẽtes, lepte himselfe also into it and so perished: in this only folowynge a man, that he seemed valiauntly to dye.
Sardanis, A man of Lydia, whiche moued Crœsus to make warre against the Persians.
Sardemisos, A promontorie of the mountayne Taurus.
Sardi, People of Sardinia.

Sardinia, An yle in the sea called Ligusticũ by Geane, not passyng. vij. myles from Corsica.
Sardinensis, se, Sardus, and Sardôus, a, um, Of Sardinia.
Sardis, A citie in Lydia.
Sardonici, Certaine hilles of Liburnia, called Maranai.
Sarepta, A towne in Syria, where Hely the prophete was borne.
Sareptánus, a, um, Of Sarepta.
Sargacæ, People in the northe parte of the worlde, ioyning to the great mere of Mæotis.
Sargapises, The sonne of Tomyris, taken by kynge Cyrus.
Sarmata, A man of Sarmatia.
Sarmatia, A countrey of Europe, whiche bordereth on the north, vpon the sea called Sarmaticum: on the weste, vpon the ryuer Vistula, and Germanie: on the southe vpon Sibenburgh, Dacia, and Mysia inferior: on the easte vpon that Sarmatia whiche is in Asia, the ryuer Tanais, and the marishe Mæotis: vnder this be many countreis conteined, Polonia, Rhussia, Prussia, Lituania, Liuonia, Moscouia, &c. the greater part of this countrey is nowe vnder the kynge of Pole.
Sarmáticus, a, um, Of Sarmatia.
Sarmátice, Lyke one borne in Sarmatia.
Sarmatis, tidis, f. g. Of Sarmatia.
Sarmantus, A gentilman of Rome, in the tyme of Augustus, whiche was a great scoffer.
Sarnus, A ryuer in Campania.
Saronicus, A bosome of the sea against Isthmus.
Sarpedon, The kynge of Lycia, whiche came to the ayde of the Troianes against the Grækes. Also a promontorie of Cilicia.
Sarracœni, A people of Arabia.
Sarra, A citie in Phœnicia, called sometime Tyrus.
Sarrânus, a, um, Of that citie.
Sarraca, The name of twoo cities, whereof the one is in Media, the other in Arabia fœlici, or the ryche Arabie.
Sarsstes, People in Campania.
Sersina, An olde citie in Italie, where Plautus the writer of comedies was borne.
Sertícum, An entrie into the ryuer of Nilus.
Sason, An yle fiue myles from the citie of Brundusiũ, in the realme of Naples.
Satagitæ, People in the countrey nowe called Tartarie.
Satan, The name of the deuill. The worde signifieth an aduersarie.
Satarchæ, People in Scythia, whiche excluded from them the vse of golde and syluer.
Sataspes, A Persian, the sonne of Teaspes.
Satnois, A ryuer in Phrygia.
Satræ, People of Grœce, by the sea syde of Thrace.
Saturnália, órum, neu. g. plu. Fiue daies assigned to Saturne in December, wherein men vsed to feaste one an other, & to sende mutual presentes.
Saturnalítius, a, um, Perteining to the feaste of Saturne.
Saturnia, Was the name of a towne.

Saturniana colonia, A towne of Tuscan.

Saturniniani, Were heretikes, whiche affirmed, that onely seuen aungels made the worlde against the conscience of God the father.

Saturnius, a, um, Of Saturnus.

Saturnius, A mountayne at Rome, whiche was afterwarde called Tarpeius.

Saturnus, The sonne of Cœlum and Vesta, who maried Ops his owne sister. His eldest brother named Titan, perceiuing his mother and sisters more bente to haue Saturne his yonger brother to succede in ỹ kingdom, yelded his ryght therin to him for his owne life tyme, on this conditiõ, that he should not bryng vp any issue male, but the heritage should come agayne to his childrẽ. Wherfore Saturne vpon this couenaunt made with his brother, vsed to kyll and deuoure all the men children, and brought vp onely the daughters. Ops therfore his wife hauinge brought forth at one tyme Jupiter and Juno, shewed Juno to hir husbande, but Jupiter she conueyghed priuily to the Corybantes to be kepte and brought vp. Likewyse afterwarde being deliuered of Neptune, she conueighed him also secretly to be nourysshed, and lastly saued by like meanes hir thirde sonne Pluto. But when this was knowen by Titan, that his brother had kept vp men children, and thereby the kingdome should goe from his line, his sonnes & he joyntly made warre vpon Saturne, in the ende whereof Saturne and Ops his wyfe were taken and kepte in prysons, vntill suche time as Jupiter comming to age ouercame the Titanes, and deliuered his father and mother. But for so much as Saturne vnderstode by oracle, that he should be dryuen out of his kyngdome by his sonnes, he layde waight to destroye Jupiter. Wherefore Jupiter made warre on his father, and chased him out of his kyngdome into Italy: where he hidde hymselfe a long time in that countrey, whiche therof was after called Latium.

Saturcianus, a, um, Of Saturnus.

Saturum, and Satyrum, A citie of Calabria, not farre from Tarentum.

Satyriacum, An image of Priapus.

Satyri, Gods of the wooddes: they were monsters hauing the head of a man, the body of a goate.

Satyrorum insulæ, Three iles by India, the inhabitauntes whereof haue tayles lyke to the monsters called Satyri.

Sauo, A ryuer in Campayne.

Sauona, A ryuer of Liguria called Sauone.

Sauromatæ, People called also Sarmatæ, Russes, Tartariens, Moscouites, &c.

Saurus, A notable image maker.

Saxoforátum, A towne in the confines of Umbria and Picene.

Saxones, The people of Saxonie.

Saxonia, Saxonie.

S C

Scæa, An hauen at Troie, where as was the sepulchre of Laomedon.

Scæi, People in Thracia.

Scænitæ, People of Arabie, whiche dwell alwaye in tentes, couered with the heares of goates: amonge whom if a swyne or hogge be brought, it dieth immediately.

Scænopegia, orum, neut. gen. The feaste of the tabernacles, wherin the Jewes did sette vp tabernacles or tentes, in similitude of theim wherein they dwelled whan they came out of Aegypte.

Scæuola, A noble man of Rome.

Scalabiscus, A citie of Portugall, called commonly Trugillo.

Scalde, A ryuer in Fraunce.

Scamander, dri, A ryuer of Troye, descendynge from the mountayne Ida.

Scamandria, A towne by the hauen of Ilium, not farre from Troye.

Scamandrus, The sonne of Hector and Andromache.

Scandinauia, or Scandia, An yle in the northe Ocean sea, the quantitie wherof was neuer founde.

Scaptẽsula, A place in Macedonia, where syluer was digged.

Scaptia, An olde citie in Italie, whereof came the tribe called Scaptia tribus.

Scardona, A citie of Liburnia, called nowe Scardo.

Scauri, Men of an honorable house amonge the Romaynes.

Sceleratus campus, A fielde at Rome, where the nunnes of Vesta were buried quicke, if they weare founde to lyue incontinently.

Scenitæ, People of Arabia fœlix, Lowke Scænitæ.

Scenopégia, orum, plu. Lowke Scænopegia.

Scepsis, A citie in Phrygia.

Sceptici, Were a secte of philosophers, whiche affirmed nothyng: the chiefe of that secte were Pyrrho and Herillus.

Scéptica, cæ, fœ. ge. The secte of those philosophers.

Schinis, The name of a notable and cruell robber, that was slayne by Theseus.

Schinusa, One of the yles called Sporades.

Schœneus, called also Jasius, A kyng of Arcadie, father of Atalanta.

Schœneius, a, um, Of Schœneus.

Schœneis, idis, patronymicum fœm.

Scœnus, nuntis, A ryuer by Athens: also an other in Arcadia.

Sciathos, A certayne yle.

Scione, A towne of Macedonie.

Sciopodes, People, whiche lyng vpright, doce shadowe themselues with their fête: all be it euery one man hath but one legge, yet bee they wonderfull swyfte.

Scipiadæ, and Scipionidæ, They whiche were of Scipiones progenie, the noble capitaynes of Romaynes.

Scipio, The surname of diuers noble Romaynes, of the whiche foure were moste excellent, as well in martiall prowesse, as in other moste notable vertues. The one called Scipio Nasica, sonne of Gneius Scipio, who hadde been bothe Consull and trium-triumphed: and being a very yonge man, was demed of all the people of Rome to be the beste man in that citie. Two other were brethren, the sonnes of Publius Scipio. The one of them, L. Scipio, for the subdupnge of Asia, was called Scipio Asiaticus: the other, P. Cor. Scipio, for vanquishing Anniball, and the people of Africa, was named Scipio Africanus Maior. This Publius Cor. Scipio, from his chyldehode was of a wonderfull towardenesse: for beynge but. xvij. yeres olde, in a great battayle by Pauie in Lumbardie, he rescued his father beyng enuyroned with ennemies, and in daunger to be slayne. Also after the discōfiture at Cannæ, where the more parte of the floure of chiualrie was slayne, because the residue of the yonge men concluded to haue forsaken Italy, this Scipio drewe out his swoorde, and compelled them to sweare, that they should not leaue the citie, but defende it. After that his father and vncle were slayne, all men fearyng to be capitaines in so daungerous warres, he stept forth with a noble courage, profferyng himself to take that charge in hande: whervnto the Senate and people consented, he beynge then but xxij. yeres olde, they beholdyng in his personage and visage a beautie incomparable, his countenaunce merry and gentill, and in his gesture and pase to be a wonderfull maiestie, which was had in suche admiration throughout all the worlde, that after he had dryuen Annibal out of Afrike, subdued the citie of Carthage, and constreyned the great kyng Antiochus to desire peace of the Romaines, the warres beyng ceassed, men came out of all countreys to Rome, onely to see and honour hym, as one exceadyng the state of mortalitie: whereby suche enuie was stirred towarde hym, that he was accused for deteinynge of certaine treasure, whiche should haue bēn brought into the common treasourie: but he with a noble and valiant courage came before the people, and remembrynge what he hadde doone for the weale publike, required them to goe with him to the Capitoll to geue thankes to God for his victory: and so departing, all the people folowed hym, and lefte the iudges alone. But not withstanding he so grieuously tooke the ingratitude of the Senate and people, that he abandoned all common affayres, and went out of the citie of Rome to a manour place, whiche he had at Linternum, and there ended his lyfe, when he had liued. liiij. yeres. A notable remembraunce to thē that doe truste in fortune, or fauour of the people. The fourth was Scipio Africanus Minor, sonne of Paulus Aemilius: he subuerted Carthage and Numantia.

Sciron, Loke Scyron.

Scironia saxa, Rockes in the sea by Athens.

Scitæ, People in the northe parte of Asia, whiche were cruell, and harde to be vanquysshed: they be nowe called Russians, Moscouites, and Tartarians.

Scodra, A citie in Liburnia, called nowe Scutara.

Scolus, A village in Aſopia, vnder the mountayne Cytheron, a place vnpleasaunt, vnfruitefull, vntilled and rough: Stephanus boundeth it in Bœotia.

Scopas, The name of a notable grauer.

Scordona, An yle lyyng towarde Dalmatia, called commonly Malconseglio.

Scórpio, ônis, m. ge. or Scorpius, pii, m. ge. A signe in the firmament.

Scotia, Scotlande, the parte of Britannia from the ryuer of Twéede to Catanes.

Scoti, Scottes, or Scottishe men, of whom saincte Hierome wryteth in this wyse: Quid loquar de cæteris nationibus, quum ipse adoleſcentulus in Gallia viderim Scotos, gentem Britannicam humanis veſci carnibus, & quum per ſylvas porcorum greges & armentorum, pecudumq; reperiant, paſtorum nates, & fœminarum papillas ſolere abſcindere, & has ſolas ciborum delitias arbitrari? What shall I speake of other nations, since that when I was a boye, I sawe in Fraunce Scottes, a people of Britayne, eate mens fleshe, and when they founde in the forestes hierdes of swyne, beastes, and cattell, they would cut of the buttockes of the boyes, whiche kepte them, and also the womens pappes, and tooke that to bee the moste dentie and delicate meate.

Scotusa, A citie of Thessalie.

Scurgum, A citie of Germanie.

Scyathos, An yle and a towne in the sea Aegeum.

Scylace, A citie in Grécce.

Scylaceum, A towne in the furthermoste parte of Italie, firste buylded and inhabited by menne of Athens.

Scylatium, A citie of the Brutians, called comonly Schilazo.

Scylax, A musician of Caria.

Scylla, A lady, daughter of Nisus king of the Megarenses, whiche for loue of Minos, hir fathers ennemy, stale a purple heer from hir fathers head, whiche caused him to be vanquisshed. But she being forsaken of Minos, threwe hir selfe into the sea, & was transformed into a byrde of hir name. Scylla is also a daungerous rocke in the sea by Sicilie, whereof came this bywoorde,

* Decidit in Scyllam cupiens vitare Charybdim, prouerbially, to fall into one daunger, whyle he coueteth to eschewe an other.

Scyllæus, a, um, Of Scylla.

Scyllæum, A promontorie or hylle in the parte of Græcia, nowe called Morea. Also a towne of the Brutians in Italy.

Scyllias, or Scyllis, The name of a Grécke, whiche swymming vnder water, did cutte in sunder the cables of the Persians shippes.

Scyllus, untis, A towne in Achaia.

Scythinus, The name of a man that had. lxxx. sonnes, who, whan he died, called them afore him, and deliuered to everyche of thē a sheffe of arrowes, commaunding them to breake the sheffe incontinent: whiche when they mought not dooe, he tooke out of the sheffes one arrowe after an other, and brake them all lightly: declaring therby vnto his soones, that if they continued and agreed wel together, they should be puissant: and if they varied and were disseuered, they shoulde be feble, and shortly destroyed.

Scymnus, ni, m.g. A mans name.

Scyriades, Women of the yle Scyros.

Scyritæ, People in India, whiche haue no noses, but in the stede of a nose, they haue twoo holes in their visage.

Scyricus, and Scyrius, a, um, Of Scyros.

Scyron, A notable robber in the countrey of Attica, who would sitte on an highe rocke, and compell theim that came by to washe his feete, or els to honour him: and when they hadde so doone, he threwe them down into the sea. Finally he was slayne by Theseus, and it was surmised, that his bones being cast into the sea, were turned into great rockes, whiche of hym were named Scyronia: and they be betweene Attica and Megaris, wherby the passage is harde.

Scyron, A certayne wynde, whose hurtfull blast, is of all Greece knowen onely to them of Athens.

Scyros, An yle in the sea called Aegeum, stony & vnfruitefull, where Achilles was hyd by his mother in a womans apparayle, to the intent that he should not goe with the Grekes against Troy.

Scytha, A man or woman of Scythia. Also Hercules sonne.

Scythes, One of Scythia. Also Iupiters sone, which first inuented bowe and arrowes.

Scythia, A great countrey, whiche is diuided with the ryuer Tanais, and stretcheth into the east, so that one part thereof is in Europa, the other in Asia, and hath on the south part, Sacas & Sogdianos, people vnder the kyng of Persia: and on the north part, be countreis vnknowen and desert: and is nowe vnder the dominion of the great cane of Cathaie. The people of this countrey are described to be cruell, sauage, and wilde. They vsed no boundes of their grounde. For they neyther husbanded their lande, nor occupied any priuate house. Settled place of abyding they had none: but with their wyues and chyldren wandred from place to place through wyldernesses, driuing droues of beastes before them, by which especially they lyued. Their wagons, wherein they carted their wyues and children, being couered with leather, in wynter and tempestuous weathering serued theim for houses. Iustice naturally and not by lawe they muche esteemed and vsed. For no offence was so greuous amonge them as theefte. Golde and syluer they as muche despised, as other countreis gredily desyred. They fedde moste on mylke and hony, and as for woul and clothe or the vse of apparayle they knewe not. They weare called Scythæ of Scythes one of Hercules sonnes.

Scythicus, and Scythius, a, um, Of Scythia.

Scythis, patronymicum fœm.

Scython, A mans name, whiche whan he listed was man or woman.

Scythópolis, A citie of Decapolitana in Syria.

Scythotauri, People of Scythia, whiche sacrifice straungers that come thither.

S E

Sebaste, A citie in Syria, called before Samaria.

Sebastópolis, A citie in Pontus, called sainct Gregories.

Sebennytum, A citie in Aegypte.

Sebethis, béthidis, fœ.g. Of Sebethos.

Sebéthos, A fountayne at Naples, whiche serueth the citie, rennyng throughout the citie.

Sebinus, A poole, that the ryuer Lollius maketh.

Sebritæ, A people sometyme called Sembritæ.

Secundus, A philosopher of Athens.

Sedigitus, The name of Volcatius, a noble poete, whiche had. vi. fingers on one hande.

Segesta, An olde towne in Sicilie. Also the name of a goddesse.

Segestanus, a, um, That dwelleth in Segesta.

Segestia, The goddesse called also Segesta.

Segmenta, Be certaine lines imagined, by the which Cosmographers dooe diuide the worlde into portions, whiche be called also Paralleli, wherby the distaunce of places is founde.

Segodunum, Rhodes in Fraunce.

Segodunum, Is also a noble citie in Almayne, nowe called Nurenberge.

Segobrida, A towne in the parte of Spayne whiche is nowe called Byscay.

Segor, A citie, whiche was preserued by the prayer of Lothe, whan Sodome was destroyed by the vengeaunce of God.

Segusiani, or Segutiati, Bresse in Fraunce.

Segusium, The parte of the Alpes called mounte Sion.

Seia, The goddesse called Segesta.

Seianus, A mans name.

Seir, A mountayne in the countrey of Edom, where Esau, the brother of Jacob the patriarke dwelled.

Seius, A mans name.

Seleucia, The principall citie of Syria, whiche is. 30. furlonges from Babylonia.

Seleucus, A kyng of Syria, next after Alexander the great.

Sélinis, The name of thre ryuers in Grece.

Selinis, A ryuer by Lilybæum.

Selymbria, A citie in Propontis, nere to Bizaunce.

Semele, The daughter of Cadmus, and mother of Bacchus.

Semeléius, a, um, Of Semele.

Semiramis, A famous quene of Assyria, wyfe to king Ninus, who, after the death of hir husbande, being loth on the tone part to committe the charge of so great an empire to the gouernement of hir ponge sonne, and on the tother fearyng that the fyerse people would be loth to be gouerned by a woman, altered hir apparayle somewhat to the facion facion of men, and toke on hir the perſon of hir ſonne, to whom ſhe was both in ſtature and fauour very like. But when by many noble enterprices and valiaunt actes ſhe had ſo muche confirmed and inlarged hir empire, as ſhe myght ſéeme to haue paſſed the compaſſe of enuie, ſhe diſcloſed what ſhe was, and why ſhe hadde ſo dooen. Whiche thyng knowen did not onely nothyng appaire hir authozitie, but ſtirred greater admiration towarde hir. As ſhe was on a tyme attyring hirſelfe, woꝛde was haſtely brought to hir, that the city of Babylon rebelled. She being in a rage therewith, ranne forthe with the one ſyde of hir heare not dreſſed vp, and with a power that ſhe had in a readineſſe aſſayled ỹ citie, and neuer gaue ouer, noꝛ dreſſed vp hir head tyll ſhe had brought the citie in ſubiection. At the laſt falling from nobleneſſe to ſenſuall luſte, ſhe deſired the compante of hir owne ſonne, and of him was ſlayne.

Sempronius, A Senatour of Rome.

Sena, A citie in Tuſcane, called Senes, whiche is an hundred myles frō Rome. Sometyme it is written Senæ, in the plural numbꝛe.

Séneca, æ, The name of twoo great learned men.

Sennaar, The fielde, where the tower of Babylon was builded.

Senogallia, A citie in Italie.

Senones, People in Fraunce.

Senta, was called Fauna oꝛ Bona dea, The good goddeſſe.

Sentica, A towne of Sayne called Simancas.

Sentinaria, A countrey in Italy.

Sentinum, A towne in Italy called now Saxoferratum.

Sepinus, pinntis, Sipus, puntis, & Sipontum, A citie in the realme of Naples.

Sepſaſium, oꝛ Sepſaſia, A ſtréte in the citie of Capua, wherein were diuerſe delicate ointmentes.

September, bris, m.g. The moneth of September. It is ſometime vſed adiectiuely.

Septempeda, A place in Italy called ſainct Seuerine.

Septéntrio, ónis, The noꝛth Pole.

Septentrionâlis, le, Of the noꝛth Pole.

Septentriones, The ſeuen ſterres, whiche are ſéene by Charles wayne, oꝛ Vrſa maior.

Septius, The name of a man, who firſte graffed a kynde of rounde apples, called of his name Septiana mala.

Septicollis, By that name Rome was called, becauſe of the ſeuen hilles, whiche were in it, Palatinus, Quirinalis, Auentinus, Cælius, Viminalis, Exquilium, and Janiculum.

Septimatrus, Was an holy daye, kepte the daye folowyng the ſixte Idus of euery moneth.

Septimius, A Romayne, of whom Catullus writeth.

Sequana, A ryuer in Fraunce called Sein.

Sequáni, Burgonions of hyghe Burgoyne.

Sera, A citie of Aſia.

Seranus, The ſurname of a noble Romayne, whiche was fet from the plough and made Dictatour.

serapion, An oꝛatour of Alexandꝛia, whiche wꝛote to Adꝛian the emperour: an other was biſhop of Antioche, in the tyme of Commodus: an other was a notable peincter.

Serapis, oꝛ Seraphis, idis, A ſerpent whiche the Aegiptians wourſhipped foꝛ a god.

Seres, A people in Aſia, hauinge greatte plentie of ſylke.

Séricus, a, um, Of the people Seres.

Sergeſtus, One of Aeneas ſhipmen.

Seria, A citie of Spayne.

Seriphius, a, um, Of Seriphos.

* Rana ſeriphia, Spoken pꝛouerbially of theim that be as they were dumme, oꝛ can ſaye nothyng in any mattier.

Seriphos, An yle by Græcia, in the ſea called Aegeum, where the frogges that therein brꝛede are dumme.

Serius, A ryuer of Fraunce.

Sermyſa, A citie of Macedonie.

Seropta, A citie in Phœnicia.

Serra, ræ, fœ.ge. A name of the ryuer Tyber.

Sertorius, A Romayne whiche rebelled againſt his countrey.

Seruius, A ſurname among the Romayns.

Seſamus, A citie of Paphlagonia.

Seſoſtris, A kynge of Aegypte, whiche intended to make a ryuer betwéene the redde ſea and the ryuer of Nilus.

Seſtiæ aquæ, A certayne water of the pꝛouynce of Narbon.

Seſtius, The name of a mā, of whom a certayn kinde of appuls, called Seſtiana mala, tooke their name.

Seſtos, A citie in Thꝛace.

Setabis, A ryuer in Spayne.

Setia, A citie in Campania.

Setinum vinum, Wine made about the citie of Setia.

Setubia, A towne of Spayne.

Seuerus, The name of dyuers men. Alſo an hylle in Italie, after Seruius.

Sextilis, The moneth nowe called Auguſte.

Sextius Caballus, The name of a notable ſcoffer oꝛ rayler.

Sextus, A philoſopher, Plutarchus nephewe, and inſtructour of Marcus Antonius the Emperour.

S I

Siambis, An yle in the Brittiſhe occean ſea, on the noꝛth parte.

Sibaris, oꝛ rather Sybaris, An olde towne, twelue miles from Rome. Alſo a citie in Calabꝛia.

Sibariticus, oꝛ rather Sybariticus, a, um, The adiectiue.

Sibyllinus, a, um, Of Sibylla.

Sibylla, læ, fœm.gen. A generall name of all women, whiche had the ſpiritie of pꝛopheſie: of theim (as Varro and Lactantius doo wꝛite) were tenne: the firſte called Perſica, the ſeconde Libyca, the thyꝛde Delphica, the fourth Cumæa, the fifte Erythrea, the ſixte Samia, the ſeuēth Cumana, the eight Helleſpontia, the nynth Phrygia, the tenth Tyburtina: euery one of theſe (as Lactantius ſaieth) pꝛopheſied of the incarnation of Chꝛiſte.

Sicambri, The people of Naſſau and Heſſen in Germany.

Sicâni, People of Sicily, which came out of Spaine.

Sicania, The yle of Sicilie.

Sicanius, and Sicânus, a, um, Of Sicilie.

Sicelis, sicelidis, Of Sicilie: vt,

Sicelides musæ, The Muses of Sicilie.

Sicendus, A lake in Thessalie, where the frogges bee dumme.

Sichæus, Didos housbande.

Sicilia, A noble yle first called Trinacria, afterwarde Sicânia, and at the laste Sicilia: It is in fourme thræe cornarde, and therfore had the name of Trinacria. The one corner, called Pachynus, extendeth towarde the parte of Grécce, whiche was called Peloponnêsus, nowe Morea: The seconde corner, called Pelorus, lyeth towarde Italie: The thyrde called Lilybeus, is extended towarde Africa: of the whiche Pelorus excédeth in the temperaunce of the earth, for with no weate there may be any myre, nor by any drythe, dust. This yle conteyneth in circuite (as Solinus writeth) thræe thousande furlonges, which is of Italian myles. 375. as Diodorus Siculus wryteth. 4360. But Plinius saieth, that the thræe corners be distaunt, from Pelorus to Pachynus by lande. 166. myles: from thence to Lilybæum. 200. myles: frō thence to Pelorus. 170. myles: and saieth also, that Agrippa affirmed it to be in circuite. 618. myles, whiche doce not agrée with Solinus nor Diodorus, whiche may happen to be by the diuersitie of furlonges, called in latin Stadia. The fertilitie of this yle in all grayne, beautie of medowes, delicateneſſe of waters colde and hote, mountaynes and caues miraculous, and other things there excédinge notable, many authours haue wrytten & wondred at, both Gréckes & Latines.

Sicilienſes, People dwellyng in Sicilie, which were borne els where.

Siciliensis, e, That is in Sicilie.

Siciliſſo, aui, are, To speake ỹ language of Sicily.

Sicinius dentatus, A valiaunt warriour of Rome.

Sicoris, A ryuer in Spayne.

Siculi, Men of Sicilie.

Siculus, a, um, Of or belóging to Sicilie, or that dwelleth in Sicilie.

Siculum mare, The sea by Sicilie.

Sicyus, One of the yles called Sporades.

Sicyon, ônis, or Sicyonia, fœ. ge. A citie in Achaia, not farre from Corinth, called now Clarentia, where is great aboundaunce of metall.

Sicyonis, or Sicyonia, An yle in the sea Aegeum.

Sicyonii, The inhabitauntes of Sicyon.

Sida, A towne of Pamphilia.

Sidicînum, ni, neut. ge. A towne of Italy.

Sidicînus, a, um, of Sidicinum.

Sidon, A citie in Phœnicia, vpon the sea syde, so called for the plentie of fishe there beyng taken: there was glasse first made.

Sidones, People of Thrace by Hebrus. Also people of Scythia.

Sidonii, People of Sidon.

Sidonis, is, fœ. ge. A woman of Sidon.

Sidonius, a, um, Of the citie Sidon.

Sidrona, or stridon, A citie of Dalmatia, where saint Hierome was borne, called commenly Sdrigna.

Siga, A citie of Mauritania Cæsariensis.

Sigæum, A great mountayne in the sea by Troye.

Sigæus, and Sigæius, a, um, Of Sigæum.

Sigillária, ôrum, plu. Certayn streates in Rome. Also certayne daies added to the feaste called Saturnalia, on the which men did sende little images for giftes one to an other.

Sigillaria opera, Wworkes, wherin were sette smal images.

Signia, A citie in Campania: after some an hyll, at the foote whereof standeth Apamia.

Signini, People of Italy.

Signînus, a, um, The adiectiue.

Signinum vinum, Wine made by the people Signini.

Signinum opus, A worke made with shelles and morter, or tiles and morter.

Silarius, An high hyll in Irelande.

Silerus, or Silaris, A ryuer of Lucania, whiche tourneth boughes, twygges and leaues into stones, and yet is the water holsome to be drunke.

Silenus, The foster father of Bacchus.

Siler, or Silerus, A ryuer in the royalme of Naples: Some write it Silerus.

Silia, A riuer in Asia, in the whiche (after some authours) nothyng doeth swymme, but synke to the bottome.

Silis, A ryuer by Venice.

Silla, idem quod Silia.

Sillura, An ile in the Britaine sea.

Silon, An yle of Indie, where the trées neuer lose their leaues.

Siloſon, The brother of Polycrates, ỹ tyran of Samos.

*Siloſontis chlamis, Is spoken in a prouerbe, of hym that boasteth hymselfe of ryche garmentes.

Silphii, People of Libya.

Simæthis, idis, A nymphe, the mother of Acis.

Simethius, a, um, Of Simethis.

Simichida, The name of a shépeherde in Theocrit⁹.

Simmias, A philosopher of Thebes.

Simoesius, A Troiane.

Simois, moëntos, A ryuer by Troye.

Simon, The name of diuers learned men, and also of a notable heretike, surnamed Magus, who was worshipped in Rome for a God.

Simonides, A poete of Grécce, borne in the yle called Cæa, who was the first that inuented the verses called Lyrici, and was excellent in prouokyng of teares, and in that kynde of wryting, there was in him a wonderfull grace. It is written, that Pausanias kyng of Lacedemonians, at a banket, desyred instantly of him, that he wouldе than speake some thing notable, and that sauoured of wysedome. Simonides therat smylinge, Remembre (sayd he) that thou art a man. Pausanias toke that scornefully, and estéemed it nothyng. Afterwarde Pausanias being put in prison in Chalcicco, and there being famyshed ere he died, he died, remembred the saying of Simonides: & with a lowde & lamentable voyce, sayde: O my friende of Ceos, thy wordes were of great importaunce, but I for madde pride esteemed theim nothinge.

Sina, or Sinai, A mountaine in the deserte of Arabia, called also Oreb. It is of Solinus called Casius: Justinus calleth it Synæus. On that hyll god appeared to Moyses, & deliuered to him the tables of the lawe: reade hereof aboundantly in the old testament. It is also a citie of Mesopotamia.

Sinada, A citie of Asia, neere to Caria.

Sinopodes, People in Afrike, whiche dooe goe as they crepte.

Sinarũ Regio, A coũtrey beyond the equinoctial line.

Sinon, A mans name in Virgill.

Sinonia, An ile of Corsica.

Sinope, pes, A citie in the countrey of Pontus. It is also the name of an harlot, of whom grewe a prouerbe, lyke Sinopiſſas. Sinope is also the name of a mayden, to whome nothynge was so dere as virginitie.

Sinopeus, One of Sinope.

Sinueſſa, A citie in Campaine.

Sinueſſânus, a, um, Of Sinueſſa.

Sinus magnus, A bosom or goulfe of the sea in India, called nowe Mare de Sur.

Siphnus, An yle in the sea Aegeum, wherein was founde sometyme plentie of golde and syluer.

Sipus, puntis, or Sipontum, A citie in Apulia, by the mountayne called Garganus.

Sipontinus, or Sipiuntinus, a, um, Of that citie.

Sir, A citie in Illyria or Slauonie.

Siraces, People toward the south part of the worlde.

Sirênes, Were three daughters of Achelous & Calliope, which dwelled in an ile betwéne Italie & Sicilie, who with their swéete syngynge drewe suche vnto theim, as passed that sea, and than slewe theim. As it happened Vlysses to sayle that waye, he stopped the eares of all his company, to the entent they shoulde not heare the songes of the Sirenes, and caused himselfe to be bounde to the masse of the shyp, and so escaped. wherfore ỹ Sirenes sorowed so much, ỹ thei wer disapointed, that they threw thẽselues into the sea, whom poetes feigned to be mermaydens.

Siris, The name of the ryuer Nilus among the Aethiopians.

Sirius, A sterre in the myddle of the firmament, vnto the whiche whan the sunne commeth, the feruentnesse of heate is doubled, whereby the bodies of men become sicke with heate. This sterre is also called Canicula: and the dayes wherein it appeareth, be called Caniculares, whiche dooe beginne the seuenth daie of Julie.

Sirmion, A citie of Pannonia inferior.

Siſamus, A citie of Paphlagonia.

Siſapo, A towne of Spayne.

Siſenna, A mans name in Horace, whiche was a great detracter.

Siſcia, A citie of Pannonia, called now Lubiana.

Siſigambis, Lyke syſigambis.

Siſyphius, a, um, Of, or belonging to Siſyphus.

Siſyphus, A great theefe, which was slayne by Theseus, of whom it is feygned, that in hell he turneth a stone vp to a great hyll toppe: but whan it is at the toppe, it falleth downe againe, and reneweth his labour.

Sithonis, nidis, fœ.ge. She that is of Sithonia.

Sithonia, A coũtrey in Macedonie, vpon the sea side.

Sithonius, a, um, Of Sithonia.

S M

Smerdis, The brother of Cambyses kyng of Persia.

Smilax, ſmilacis, A wenche, which dyed for the loue of a younge man called Crocus, was transformed into an herbe of the same name.

Smyntheus, One of the names of Apollo.

Smyrna, A citie of Ionia in the lesse Asia, which was supposed of some to be the countrey of Homer.

Smyrneus, a, um, Of Smyrna.

S O

Soana, A ryuer in the yle Taprobane.

Soanes, People of Asia, dwelling about the extrãme part of the mountayne called Caucasus.

Socrates, An excellent philosopher, sonne of Sophroniscus the mason, and Phænareta a mydwyfe: who beynge fyrst studious in naturall philosophie, finally gaue hymselfe to morall philosophie, teachyng openly vertue, and so diligently ensewed it in his liuynge, and in disputynge was so sharpe & so sure against them that were called Sophiſtæ, that Apollo beynge demaunded who was the wyſest man lyuynge, aunswered, Socrates. He was maister to Plato, Xenophon, Xenocrates, and other the greatest philosophers at that tyme lyuynge. Beſydes his excellency in vertue and knowledge, he was of a rare and meruaylous nature. For he moughte sustayne colde, labour, honger, and thyrst, aboue any man at that tyme, as Alcibiades declareth in Plato. He affirmed that there was alwayes with hym a spirite or spirituall power called Dæmonium, the whiche as often as he was moued to dooe any thynge not conuenient or necessarie, that spirite touched hym, and dyd prohibite hym to dooe it. Under sharpe and mery tauntes in the fourme of argument called Inductio, he caused men to perceyue their ignorannce, wheare before they thoughte themselues to be wyse. Finally, beynge enuyed of theim whiche dyd then beare chiefe rule in Athens, he was accused of Anytus, Melitus the poete, and Lycon the oratour, that he spake agaynste theyr goddes, and corrupted their chyldren with peruerse doctrine: but he contemning death, would suffer no man to speake for hym, and so drinkyng poyson with a ioyouse countenaunce, and saiyng to Anytus, I bryngе the good lucke, died incontinent. But sone after, the people weare so sorie for his death, that of his accusers, some they slewe, and some they exiled, and did set vp openly the image of Socrates made of copper. He was before the incarnation of Chriſt.367.yeres.

Socraticus,a,um, That followeth the doctrine of Socrates: of or belonging to Socrates.

Socus, A Troiane, the ſonne of Hippaſus.

Sodoma,mæ,fœ.ge, and Sodomum,mi,n.g. or Sodoma, orum, A citie in Judæa, whiche for ſynne doone againſt nature, was by almighty god conſumed by celeſtiall fyre.

Sogdiana, A countrey in Aſia, extending to the north parte of Scythia.

Solidurii, or rather Soldurii, Were men of warre in Fraunce in the tyme of Julius Cæſar, whiche beyng once retayned with any people or capitayne, were ſo addicted vnto them, that in their quarelles they would die: or if victorie inclined on the other parte, they would ſlea themſelues: they are called of the Latines Devoti.

Solis inſula, An yle in the Indian ſea.

Solis oſtia, Places in Indie, where Alexander was in great daungier by reaſon of great heate.

Solis menſa, A place in Aethiope, where the tables be alwayes full of good meate, and readie for them that will come and eate it.

Solæ, A citie of Cilicia, the people whereof be called Solenſes.

Solon, A noble man of Athens, whiche by his mother lineally deſcẽded from Codrus the laſt kyng of Athens: he was a man of excellent witte, and called one of the ſeuen wyſe men of Grẽce, and was in ſuche authoritie in that citie, that he made and gaue to theim lawes, whiche weare neuer repelled: not withſtanding, whan Piſiſtratus his kinſman went about to chaũge the fourme of that common weale, whiche was popular, into a monarchie, he willyngly went in exile, and ſo died: Reade of hym in Cræſus. Whan he was writing of his lawes, Anacharſis the philoſopher ſaied, that Solons lawes ſhoulde be lyke to cobwebbes, and little flies entangled in them, but great flies ſhould make holes and breake through them.

Solymæ, plu. The citie of Hieruſalem: an other citie in Cilicia.

Solymi, People by Lycia.

Sophaci, People of Afrike.

Sophenæ, People of Armenia.

Sophilus, A Theban poete.

Sóphocles, A writer of tragedies. Alſo the name of diuers other learned men.

Sophocleus,a,um, Of Sophocles.

Sophronia, A matrone of Rome, in the tyme of Decius the emperour.

Sora, A towne of the Volſcians in Campaine.

Sorani, People called alſo Hirpini.

Soranus, A phiſician of Epheſus, whiche liued at Alexandria.

Soracte,tis,neu.ge. Sorax,ractis, and Soractes,tis, fœm. ge. An hylle twenty myles from Rome.

Soritæ, People which are diuided from India by the ryuer called Arabis.

Soſia, A mans name.

Soſii, Certaine bookeſellers.

Soſipatra, A propheteſſe of Libya, the wyfe of Aedeſius the ſophiſter.

Soſtratus, A mans name, whiche buylded the towre in the yle Pharos.

Sotades, The name of a laſciuious & wanton poete.

Sotericus, A poete whiche wrote Dioclesians prayſes.

Soticena, One of the names of Juno.

S P

Spaco, Kyng Cyrus nurſe, and ſignifieth in the tongue of Medes a dogge.

Spargapiſes, The ſonne of Thomyris, the quẽne of Maſſagetes.

Sparta,tæ, or Sparte,tes, The chiefe citie of Lacedemonia: It was alſo called Lacedæmon & Theramne.

*Spartam nactus es,hanc orna, A prouerbe, ſignifyng, the eſtate or office whiche thou haſte, order or applie it well.

Spartacus, Was a famouſe ſworde player, whiche gathered an hoſte of ſlaues, and made warre againſt the Romaynes, and was vanquiſhed by Craſſus.

Spartiãta,tæ, and Spartanus, One of Sparta.

Sperchias,adis,fœm.gen. Patronymicum fœmininum, Of Sperchius.

Sperchionides, Patronymicum maſculinum.

Sperchius, A ryuer of Theſſalie.

Speuſippus, A noble philoſopher couſen to Plato.

Sphinx,gis, or Sphingos,fœ.ge. A monſter which had the head and handes of a mayden, the bodie of a dogge, wynges lyke a byrde, nayles like a lyon, a tayle like a dragon, the voyce of a man, whiche propoſed to men ſubtil queſtions. It propoſed to Oedipus this riddle: what lyuinge creature is that, whiche in the morning had fowre feete, at noone two, at nyght three. Whiche Oedipus in this maner diſſolued, that it was man: who being a ponge infante crepte on all fowre, as it were a beaſte with fowre feete: commynge to ſtrengthe, all the myddle of his age he went on two legges: and, when he was olde in his latter time, vſed a ſtaffe to ſtaye hym, ſo that he might ſeeme to haue three legges. Whiche interpretation, beyng accordyng to the truthe of hir meaning, Sphinx toke ſo grieuouſly, that ſhe flang hirſelfe downe a rocke, and brake hir necke, loke Creon.

Spica,æ,f.g. A ſigne of ſterres.

Spicifera, the ſurname of Ceres, called goddes of corn.

Spintharus, A notable carpenter, whiche builded the temple of Delphos.

Spio, onis, A nymphe, the daughter of Nereus.

Spoletium, A citie in Italie.

Spoletini, People of the citie Spoletium.

Sporades, Iles in the ſea called Aegeum.

Spurinã, A capitaine of the Parthians, which ſlewe Craſſus the Romaine.

Spurius,rii,m.g. The ſurname of diuers Romaines.

S Q

Squintii, People in Italy, called alſo Sabelli & Sãnites.

Staphy-

Staphylus, He that dyd fyrſte myngle water wyth wyne.

Starchaterus, A kyng of the Danes.

Statanus, A god, whiche the Paynims ſuppoſed to haue the gouernaunce of childzen.

Statilinus, Was called a pzyuate god, which men ſuppoſed to be alway with them.

Statius, A noble poete.

Stator, A name geuen to Jupiter by Romulus, becauſe he ſuppoſed, that he made the Romaynes to ſtay, when they fledde, the Samnites purſuing them.

Statæ matris ſimulachrum, An image ſette vp by the people in euery ſtrẽte at Rome.

Statyelli, A people of Liguria.

Stechades, Thzée little yles by Marſiles.

Stella, The name of a poete.

Stenio, The daughter of Phozcys, and ſyſter to Medula.

Stenobœa, The wyfe of Pzœtus kynge of Ephirie, who loued Bellerophon, that vanquiſhed the monſter Chimæra.

Stentor, oris, A Grẽke, whiche had a voyce as loude as fiftie men.

Sterentius, The ſonne of Faunus, he firſte founde & vſed doungyng of the grounde.

Steſibrotus, The ſonne of Epaminondas duke of Thebes.

Steſichorus, A famous poete, of whom it is wzytten, that, when he was an infante in his cradell, a nyghtingale ſat on his mouthe, and dyd ſynge, ſignifiyng that he ſhoulde be the ſwẽteſt poete that euer was afoze him: he found firſt ſinging of ſonges in a daunce.

Steſilæa, A woman of excellent beautie, whom Ariſtides and Themiſtocles loued.

Steſimbrotus, An hiſtoziographer.

Sthenelus, The ſonne of Capaneus and Euadne: Another, the ſonne of Perſeus.

Sthenelæus, a, um, Of Sthenelus.

Sthenobœa, The wyfe of Pzœtus.

Stilbo, A philoſopher, vide Stilpo.

Stilbon, bontis, The ſterre of Mercurie.

Stilico, A noble man in the tyme of Honozius the emperour.

Stilpo, ponis, A philoſopher, bozne in the citie of Megara in Grẽce, whiche (his countrey beyng burned, and his wyfe and chyldzen loſte in the fire) eſcaped onely, and departynge alone, the kyng Demetrius aſked of hym, if he hadde loſte any thyng, he aunſwered: I haue loſte nothyng, foz al that is myne I cary with me: meanyng therby, that vertue (whiche is onely the pzopze goodes of a wyſe man, and can not be taken from hym) he toke away with hym.

Stimicon, A ſhepeherdes name in Vergill.

Stiphelus, One of the Lapithes.

Stiria, A countrey ioyninge to Auſtria and Carinthia in the eaſt parte of Germanie, ful of mountaynes, ſauyng a little parte bozdering on Hungarie: the people be rude, and the women haue ſo great thzotes by the cozruption of the water and ayze, that not onely their ſpeche is let therby, but (as ſome dooe wzite) whẽ they geue ſucke to their childzen, ſome be fayne to take the bagges, whiche doe hange vnder their chynne, ouer their ſhoulders. In that countrey is plentie of Iron and ſyluer, if the neglygence of people did not let the finding thereof.

Stœchades, Thzee yles in the Frenche ſea agaynſte Languedocke.

Stoici, A ſecte of philoſophers, whiche affirmed, that no grieke might happen to a wiſe man, and that felicitie was onely in vertue.

Stoicus, ca, cum, Of the Stoikes.

Stoicè, lyke a Stoike.

Stolo, A citizen of Rome.

Stomaca, cæ, fœm. gen. A well in Germanie, the dzinkynge of the water whereof bzeedeth a certaine diſeaſe.

Strabo, A learned man, whiche wzote of Geographie.

Stragona, A citie of Germanie.

Statius, The name of one of Neſtoz ſonnes.

Stratiphocles, The name of a man.

Strato, A kyng of Sidon, who beyng ouercomme of the Perſians, toke his ſwoozde in his hand, mindyng to kyll himſelfe, rather then to comme into their handes. But whyle he houered tymorouſly lokyng vpon his ſwoozde, his wyfe, perceiuing the enemies to be at hande to take him, wzeſted it out of his hande, and quickely thzuſt hym thzough. And after ſhe had ſtretched out his body, and layde it commely to be buried, with the ſame weapon ſhe ſlewe hirſelfe alſo, that ſhe myght not abyde the villanie of hir barbarous enemies.

Stridon, A towne in Dalmatia, wheare ſaincte Hierome was bozne.

Strimon, onis, vide Strymon.

Strongyle, les, and Strongylos, An yle in the ſea Aegeũ, nowe called Axos: ſometime it was called Dia.

Strophades, Two yles in the Grẽke ſea.

Strophius, A kyng of Phocis, father to Pylades.

Struma, A mans name in Catullus.

Strupearia, Holy dayes among the people called Phaſiſci, on the whiche the people did goe with garlandes on their heades.

Struppum, Is a lyke holy daye among the people called Tuſculani.

Strymon, ſtrymonis, A ryuer of Thzace.

Strymónius, a, um, Of that ryuer.

Stultorum feriæ, Was a tyme in the moneth of Febzuarie, that fooles kept holy: fooles holy daye.

Stura, An yle againſt the mouth of Tyber.

Styga, A fenne in Aegypte, not farre from the citie of Memphis.

Stygius, a, um, Perteyning to Styx, the great fenne.

Stymphalides aues, Byzdes ſuppoſed to be ſo bygge, that they ſhadowed all the ſunne beames, and waſted the countrey of Arcadie.

Stymphalus, a, um, Of Stymphalus.

Stymphálus, A ryuer or poole of Arcadie.
Stymphálum, A towne by the said poole of Arcadie.
Styx, Poetes doe feigne, that it is a fenne or ryuer in hell, by the whiche the goddes vsed to sweare: in deede it is a well of Arcadie, the water wherof is a very strong poyson, so extreme colde, that nothyng can cõteyne it, but the houfe of a mule.

S V

Suada, dæ, fœm. ge. Called in Greeke Pitho, was called the goddesse of eloquence or delectable speche.
Subalpini, People vnder the mountaynes Alpes, called Pëemountaines.
Sublicius pons, A bridge at Rome, made on piles.
Subur, A town in Spayn, called cõmonly Cubelles.
Subura, ræ, fœ. g. A streete in Rome.
Suburrana regio, The streete in Rome, where the brothell houses were.
Suessa, A towne of Campaine.
Sueßiones, people of Fraunce.
Sueni, People in hyghe Germanie.
Suenia, The chiefe countrey of Germanie in fertylitie, holsomenesse, and beautifull personages. It hath on the east, Bauiere: on the west, Halsate, and the ryuer of Rhene: on the southe, the mountaines Alpes: on the north, Frankelande. It was sometyme called Alemania, whereof all Germanie was called Almayne. In dutche it is nowe called Swaue.
Suffenus, A poetes name in Catullus, of all other most folyshe.
Sullanus, a, um, For Syllanus.
Sullaturire, For Syllaturire.
Sulmo, monis, A towne in the countrey of Peligna, where Ouide the poete was borne.
Sulmonensis, One of the citie of Sulmo.
Sulpitius Galba, The name of a Romayne.
Sultanus, A Soudan, whiche was the name of dignitie of the kyng of Aegypt and Syria.
Summanus, A God, whome the paynims thought to haue prehemynence in the nyght, some take it for Pluto.
Sunium, A promontorie or elbowe of the countrey of Attica: also a village there.
Superum mare, The sea whiche is called Adriaticum, wherein standeth the citie of Uenice.
Surrentum, A towne in Campaine.
Surrentinus, a, um, Of that towne.
Susa, æ, & Susa, ôrum, The chiefe citie of Perfis.
Susiana, næ, or Susiane, nes, A prouince of Asia.
Sutrium, A very auncient towne of Hetruria. xxiij. myles from Rome.

S Y

Syades, Sterres called also Hyades, seuen in numbre.
Sybaris, A towne. xij. myles from Rome: an other in Grëce. Also a ryuer in Calaber.
Sybarita, æ, A man of Sybaris.
Sybaritæ, The people of the citie Sybaris, in al kynde of sensuall deliciousnes, farre passing all other. They vsed commonly to bydde their guesse an whole yere before, that neither the bydder might lacke tyme to prepare all maner of delicious fare and costely furniture, nor yet the guesse sumptuously to adourne, & trymme vp theirselues in golde and prettous stones. At the last they makyng warre against the citie of Crotõ, although they were in fielde with. 300000. men, yet weare they with great shame discomfited, and put to flight to their vtter confusiõ, as men more trayned in delicious fare and daliance, then in handlyng armure and abiding the strokes of valiant enemies.

Sybaritanus, a, um, Of Sybaris.
Sybariticus, a, um, Idem.
*Sybaritica mensa, A prouerbe, applied to feastes and bankettes, whiche doe exceede in delicatenesse.
Syboti, People in the north part of the worlde.
Sychæus, Didoes husbande.
Sycion, He that first founde garlandes.
Syderis, A ryuer, where the sea Hircanum taketh his name first.
Syene, A citie in the cõfines of Aegypt & Aethiope.
Sygæum, A promontorie of Troye.
Syla, A mountayne in Lucania, and a wodde in it.
Sylla, A Romayne, of the noble house and familie of the Scipions, in Greeke and Latine well learned, eloquent, quicke witted, craftie and subtile, desirous of glorie, of haught courage, & of great successe in all his doinges: so that Salust writeth, it was to be doubted, whether valiantcie in hym weare greater, or els felicitie. Of his behauiour Plutarke writeth, that it was so repugnant, as he might seeme in conditions to be contrarie to himselfe. From many he pulled theyr goodes by extortion and violence: to other he gaue liberally and bountifully. Diuers vnworthy persons he greatly aduaũced: toward many other he shewed muche rebuke. Those whose helpe he would vse, he meruaylously reuerenced: suche as weare sutes to him, he exceedingly disdained. Some for light and trifling causes he put to most grëuous tourment: the great iniuries & rebukes of some other, he toke very patiently. In heynous and grëuous offences very easy to be pacified: in small matters of no importance, exceeding harde to be intreated. Not withstanding, he did dyuers thinges in the commõ weale valiantly. Beyng sent into Affrike, he broughte Jugurth captiue. In Asia, he quayled the rage & furie of Mithridates. In Italy, he alaied the blustering trouble of the social warre. He repressed the cruell dominion of Cinna, and forced Mari⁹ for his safegarde to flée into that prouince, in the which before tyme he disdayned to haue Sylla to his vnder officer. Beinge Dictatour, he so oppressed the cõmõ weale, that no mã but by his fauour, could inioye goodes, life, or countrey. At the last he gaue ouer his office, & went as a priuate person to Puteolæ, where he died of ỹ louse sickneffe.
Syllanion, A famouse maker of images, which was neuer taught.
Syllanus, a, um, Of Sylla.

Syllaturio, syllaturis, rire, To haue an appetite or desyre to followe Sylla, that is, to haue a desyre to proscripte, banishe, and murder men.
Syloson, Looke Siloson.
Syluanus, ni, mas. ge. The god of wooddes.
Syluia, The name of Ilia, Romulus mother.
Syluius, The name of Aeneas sonne, of whom al the kynges of Alba longa were called Syluii.
Syma, A citie in Asia.
Syme, An yle betwéene Rhodes and Cnidus.
Symethus, A ryuer of Sicilie, not farre from Aetna.
Symmachus, A mans name.
Symplegades, Two yles in the Gréekyshe sea, called also Cyneæ.
Synada, A citie in Asia.
Synesius, A Christian philosopher of the city Pentapolis in Afrike.
Syphax, acis, A kyng of Numidia.
Syracusæ, arum, A citie in Sicilie, nowe called Sarrogosa, in the olde tyme of a meruailous renowme in strength and rychesse. Moreouer it is situate, that all the daye longe the sunne is neuer out of syght by no cloude that couereth it.
Syracusius, Syracusanus, or Syracosius, a, um, Of that citie.
Syria, A great realme in Asia, whiche hath on the east, the ryuer of Euphrates: on the weste, the middell sea, and the realme of Aegypte: on the north, Cilicia and Cappadocia: on the southe, Arabia.
Syria, Called also Assyria, A great countrey in the easte, hauynge on the north parte Armenia: on the weste, Mesopotamia: on the south, Susiana: on the east, Media. It also conteineth Phœnicia, Palæstina, and Babylonia.
Syriacus, a, um, Of Syria.
Syrianus, A philosopher of Platoes secte.
Syrictæ, People, whiche receiue their meate in oten réedes.
Syricus, Syrus, and Syrius, a, um, Of Syria.
Syrica mala, Certayne appuls, whiche at the first came out of Syria.
Syrinx, A nymphe of Arcadie, whiche was turned into a réede or cane.
Syrissus, a, um, Of Syria.
Syritha, The daughter of Sylualdus kynge of Danes.
Syrius, a, um, Of Syria: as, Syria pyra, peares of Syria.
Syrius, A sterre in the mouthe of the signe Canis, whiche whan he ryseth, causeth most commonly pestilence.
Syrophœnix, One that dwelleth on the sea coaste of Syria.
Syrtes, Quicke sandes or shelfes in the water, made by the drifte of sande or grauell: they bée proprely places in the borders of Afrike towarde Aegypt.
Syrticus, a, um, Of the places called Syrtes.
Syrus, a, um, Of Syria.
Syrus, An ylande belongyng to Gréece.
Sysigambis, Kyng Darius mother.

T A

Tabæ, arum, A citie of Caria.
Tabereni, People by Chalybes.
Tabor, A mounteyne in the countrey of Galilée, where Christ was transfigurated.
Tabraca, A towne of the lesse Afrike.
Taburnus, An hylle in Campania, wherin doe grow many oliue trees.
Tacapa, A citie in Afrike, called commonly Capis.
Tachoniso, An ylande in the ryuer Nilus.
Tacitus Cornelius, A notable historiographer.
Tacola, A marte towne in India.
Tælemeneus, One that came to ayde the Troyans.
Tænarus, A darke place at the foote of the hylle called Malea, by the citie of Sparta, which was supposed to be an entrie into hell.
Tænarius, a, um, Of that place.
Tænaris, ris, fœ. g. Of Tænarus.
Tænia, æ, fœ. ge. Looke Tenea.
Tænon, A citie in Laconia, an other in Achaia.
Tagasta, A citie in Afrike.
Tages, He that taught first the Thuscans the craft of diuination, called Aruspicium.
Tagrus, An hill in Portugall, where mares doe conceiue of the wynde.
Tagus, A ryuer in Spayne, whiche diuideth Castile from Portugall, wherein hath béen founde grauell of golde.
Taigete, One of the seuen sterres, whiche so appeareth, as it may scantly be perceiued. It is also called Maia, and Electra.
Talaon, The sonne of Iasius, kyng of Argos.
Tallus, Was vsed of the Sabines for a surname.
Talthybius, Agamēnons crier or publisher of thinges in the Gréeke armie at Troye.
Tamaris, A ryuer of Spayne, of whiche the people there be called Tamarici.
Tamaritæ, People in Asia, not farre from the sea called Caspium..
Tamesis. The noble ryuer of Tampse in England.
Tanager, A ryuer in Lucania, betwéene Campania and Calabria.
Tanagra, A towne in Bœotia.
Tanagræus, a, um, Of Tanager.
Tanais, A great riuer in the north part of the world whiche diuideth Europa from Asia.
Tanas, A towne not farre frō Tana, vnder the Uenetians dominion.
Tanaquil, the wife of Tarquinius Priscus the king of Romaines.
Tanaus, A kyng of Syria.
Tanes, A Persian, one of kyng Darius capitaines.
Tanis, The principal citie of Aegypt, where Moyses did shewe meruailes.
Tantaleus, and Tantalius, a, um, Of Tantalus.
Tantalides, The progenie of Tantalus.
Tātalis, Tātalidis, The daughter or néece of Tātal⁹.
Tantalus, The sonne of Iupiter and Plota, kynge of Phrygia, of whome the poetes dooe wryte, that because he disclosed the counsayle of the gods, he is in hell tormented in this wyse: He standeth by a fayre ryuer, haupnge before hym a tree laden with pleasant appuls, and yet he is alwayes thursty and hungry: for as often as he stoupeth to drynke, or holdeth vp his handes to gather the appuls, bothe the water and the tree dooe withdrawe them so from hym, that he can not touche theim.

* Tantali horti, A prouerbe, signifyng good thinges to be at hande, whiche notwithstandinge a man may not vse.

Taphiæ, Certayne yles by Grece.

Taphiusa, A place by Leucas.

Taphnis, A citie in Aegipte, the people wherof were called Taphnei.

Taposiris, A citie in Aegypte.

Taprobane, An yle in the Indian sea, and was of some olde writers supposed to be in the contrary parte of the worlde against vs, and therfore they called it an other worlde. It lieth in the poince betwene easte and weste, the quantitie therof is diuersly descrybed by sundry authours. For Strabo wryteth, that it is in lengthe. viij. thousand furlonges, whiche is a thousande myles. Plinius, Martianus and Solinus, dooe affirme it to be in lengthe. viij. thousande furlonges, whiche is. viij. C. lxxv. myles, in breadth 5000. furlonges, whiche is. 625. myles: parte of it extendeth beyonde the equinoctiall lyne more south, and hath on the northeast, the lesse Indie. It is nowe called Samotra, and is vnder the dominion of the great Cam, and is gouerned by. 4. kynges in an exquisite fourme of iustice, notwithstandynge that the people bee idolatours. They hunt Tygers, Oliphātes, and Panthers, of the whiche there is great plentie. Also, there be founde Carbuncles, Sapphyres, Jacinctes, Topaces, Rubies, and Granates, in great numbres. There groweth Cinamome, Canell, Bentoime and other swete trees in great abundāce, and they haue money of golde, syluer, & brasse, of the same weyght and value, that the ancient coine of the Romaines was. There is also founden great plentie of orient pearles.

Tapsagum, A towne in the countrey Cyrenaica.

Tapsus, An yle by Sicilie, not farre from Syracuse.

Tapyri, People in Parthia, which vse to geue their wyues in mariage to other men, after that they haue had foure or fyue children by them.

Taraconia, The thyrde parte of Spayne. On the north, it hath the sea called Cantabricum: on the weste, Portugall and Granate: on the southe, the sea Ibericum: on the easte the mountaynes Pyrenæi. It doeth nowe conteyne these kyngedomes, Castyle, Gallecia, Nauarre, Arragon.

Taracon, The chiefe citie thereof.

Taras, The sonne of Neptunus, who buylded Tarentum.

Tarbesi, The citie of Tarbes in Gascoine.

Tarchesius, A mischeuous kynge of the people called Albanens.

Tarchon, A duke in Hetruria, which was also a great diuiner or southsaier.

Tarracina, A towne in Campania, called also Anrur.

Tarentinus, a, um, Of the citie Tarento in Calabria.

Tarentum, and Tarentus, A noble citie in Calabria, called Tarento.

Tarna, The citie of Sardis.

Tarpeia, The daughter of Tarpeius, which betrayed the Capitoll to the Sabines.

Tarpeius, An hyll at Rome.

Tarquinii, orum, An olde towne of Campayne.

Tarquiniense, The lande of Tarquines.

Tarquinius priscus, A Tuscane borne. He perceiuynge that he was not estemed in his coūtrey because his father was a straunger, by the counsayle of his wyfe Tanaquill, came to Rome. Wheare by his great ryches and dexteritie of witte, getting into the fauour of kyng Ancus, at his death he was made ouerseer of his children. But he estēming more his own cōmoditie thē theirs, whose gouernement he had, in short space he brought to passe that the Romains made him their king. Wherfore to make sure vnto hym that kingdom whiche vniustly he had gotten, he increased the numbre of Senatours, and added an hundred whiche were called Patres minorum gentium, thynkyng they should take parte with hym, whiche had the beginning of their honour by him. Whē he had reigned. xxxviij. yeres, he was murdered in the Senate by the meanes of Ancus his children which vniustly he had put beside ỹ kingdom.

Tarquinius, For his proud and sterne behauiour surnamed superbus, was the seuenth and last king of Rome. He maried Tulla the daughter of Seruius Tullus, a woman of a naughtie and cruell nature: by whose meanes he killed hir owne father, and by that horrible murder wickedly attained that kyngdome, whiche after cruelly he gouerned. Yet was he valiaunt in warre, and stoutly repressed his enemies. When his sonne craftely had gottē into the citie of the Gabiens, and sent a messenger to him to know his minde what he should further dooe, he walked vp and down his garden (where the matter was declared to hym) and gaue the messenger no aunswer at all, but only with a wande, that he had in his hand, did strike of the toppes of the highest poppies that grewe by the aley: and so without any worde spoken caused the messenger to be dimissed. The partie meruailing thereat, retourned to his sonne, and declared howe his father had vsed him. But he, by his fathers gesture vnderstandyng his meaning, did behead and put to death the chiefe and hyghest of the citie. This kynge was afterwarde expelled out of Rome with all that were of his stock or line, because his sonne Sextus had wickedly rauished the noble & chaste matrone Lucrece. vide Lucretia.

Tarraco, A citie of Spayne, of the whiche that parte is called Tarraconia.

Tarſenſis, ſe, Of Tarſus.

Tarſis, A region in Judea, to the whiche Jonas ſayde he woulde goe.

Tarſus, The chiefe citie in Cilicia, where ſaincte Paule was borne.

Tartareus, a, um, Of Tartarus, or Hell.

Tartaria, Is a countrey of incõparable greatneſſe. It boundeth on the weaſt vpon Ruſſia, and extendeth into the eaſte (after the deſcription of the laſte charte) aboue. 1600. douche myles: whiche is of Italian myles. 6400. and more: the breadth from the ſouthe into the northe, is more vncertayne: it marcheth on the ſouth vpon Perſia, and India. The northe is muche parte deſerte, for the coldeneſſe and barenneſſe thereof. The people haue no cities or townes, or els very fewe, but they lye in pauilions, and vnder theyr cartes, whiche they dwe remoue into ſundry partes, as the time of the yere doth require, driuynge their cattayle with thẽ, of whom they dwe eate the fleſhe muche parte rawe, and dwe drinke the milke and bloudde of them. The people be fierce and cruell, and therewith vyle and beaſtly in their lyuynge. They be all vnder the dominion of the great Cane, yet haue they many puiſſant prynces, whiche dwe vſe a wonderfull obedience towarde theyr emperour. They beleue in one god, creatour of all thinges, but they be not Chriſtened. They are ſo populous, hardie and fierce, that the great kynges, which doe marche vpon them, haue muche to doe to reſiſt them, as the great kynge of Kuſſy, and the Sophi of Perſia. Alſo one of theyr prynces toke in plaine battayle Bazagetes the great Turke, whom beynge bounden with chaynes and giues of golde, and encloſed in a cage of yron, he caried about with him till he dyed: and there were ſlayne in that battayle. 200000. Turkes, the capitayne of the Tartarians was named Tamberlane. Their emperour Chaam, beſides Tartaria, hath alſo ſubiect vnto him the leſſe India, and al the realmes and yles in the eaſt and ſouth eaſt parte of the worlde: and he nameth himſelfe in his ſtile, the ſonne of god. Reade more in Chram. Muche of Tartaria was that countrey whiche was ſometyme called Scythia.

Tartari, People of Tartaria.

Tartarus, & plur. Tartara, ôrum, A dẽpe place in hell.

Tarteſſii, People in Iberia, among whom be cattes of excẽdynge greatneſſe.

Tarteſſiacus, & Tarteſſius, a, um, Of Tarteſſus.

Tarteſſus, A citie in the vttermoſt parte of Spaine, on the ſea ſyde by Gades, nowe called Cales, where Columella (the moſte eloquent and perfect huſbandman was borne: it was called Gadir and Carteia.

Taruanna, Terouenne in Fraunce.

Taruedum, A promontorie in Scotlande.

Taruntius, The name of an excellente philoſopher & aſtronomer.

Taruſcon, A towne in Fraunce, called Taraſcon.

Taſimenes ſeu Taſmenes, One of the ſonnes of duke Nestor.

Tatius, A duke of the Sabynes.

Tatianus, A mans name.

Tatta, A water of naturall ſalte in Cappadocia.

Taua, Tynmouth in Englande.

Tauchira, A citie of the Barcæans.

Taulantii, People of Illyria.

Taurani, People of Scythia.

Taurea, A man of notable ſtrength, in the armie of Anniball.

Taureus, One of the names of Neptune.

Taurica Cherſoneſus, A countrey in the northe parte of Europa, whiche is almoſte compaſſed with the mẽres of Mæotis, Cimmerius Boſphorus, and the ſea Euxinum: it is now called of ſome the leſſe Tartaria.

Tauri, People of cruell maners, in the northe parte of Europe, that offred ſtraungers in ſacrifice to Diana.

Tauri, and Taurilia, Plaies made in the honour of infernall goddes.

Tauricus, a, um, Of the people Tauri.

Taurianum, A towne in Italie.

Taurini, People at the foote of the Alpes towarde Italie.

Taurinus, a, um, Of the people Taurini.

Tauromínium, nii, n. g. A towne in Sicilie, ſo called for the plentie of neate, which fedde thereabout. Alſo there was by it a citie of the ſame name.

Tauromínitanus, a, um, Of the citie Tauromínium.

Tauroſcythæ, People of Scythia, dwellynge by the mountayne Taurus.

Taurubulæ, An yle by Naples.

Taurunum, or Tauruinum, A citie of Hungarie, called Alba Græca.

Taurus, ri, m. g. One of the. xii. celeſtiall ſignes.

Taurus Berytius, A philoſophers name.

Taurus, A great and famous mountayne, whiche beginneth at the Indian ſea, and ryſynge into the northe, paſſeth by Aſia vnto the fenne or mẽre called Mæotis, and bordereth vpon a great numbre of realmes. Alſo the hill called Caucaſus is parte thereof.

Taxilla, A great towne in India.

Taygeta, or Taygetus, An hyll, vnder which be ſette the cities Sparta and Amycle.

Taygete, One of the ſiſters called Pleiades.

T E

Teanum, The name of two cities in Italie.

Tearco, A famouſe kynge of Aethyope.

Tearus, A ryuer of Thracia, at the head whereof Darius kynge of Perſia, whan he wente into Scythia, pyght his pauilions, and there abode three daies. And delitynge in the moſte pleaſant water of that ryuer, he ſette in the ſame place a pyllour grauẽ with letters of Creke, declaring his beynge there, with commendation of the water.

Teatea, A citie in Italy, called commonly Tieti.

Techynes, Were they, whiche also were called Corybantes, and were feigned to be the sonnes of Minerua and Sol.
Tectosage, Tolouse in Fraunce.
Tectosagi, People of Tolouse.
Tectosages, Languedocke in Fraunce.
Tedifera dea, Ceres, whose sacrifyces were done in the night by torche light.
Tegea, A citie in Arcadie.
Tegeæus, & Tegeaticus, a, um, Of Tegea.
Tegeaticus deus, Pan.
Tegeæus, & Tegeaticus volucer, Mercurie.
Tegeates, Men of Tegea.
Teium, A citie in Paphlagonia, where Anacreon the poete was borne.
Tei, The people of Teium.
Teius, a, um, Of Teium.
Telamon, The sonne of Aeacus, the father of Aiax.
Telamonides, The sonne or nephewe of Telamon.
Telchius, and Amphius, The charioteemen of Castor and Pollux.
Teleboæ, People of Greece.
Teleboas, One of the Centaures.
Telegonus, The sonne of Ulysses by Circe the witch, who folowinge his father into Ithaca, slewe him unwittynge.
Telemachus, The sonne of Ulysses and Penelope.
Telemus, The sonne of Eurymus, a southsaier amõg the Cycloppes.
Telephus, A kynge of Mysia, Hercules sonne by Auge. He indeuourynge to stay the Grecians goynge to Troy, that they might not passe thorough his countrey, was wounded of Achilles. Whiche wounde, when by no meanes he coulde get cured, he learned by Oracle that he muste haue remedie by the same speare wherwith he was hurte. Wherefore he, beynge reconcyled to Achilles, obteined to haue a plaster made of the ruste of his speare, wherewith shortly after he was healed.
Telesco, A nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.
Telesilla, A woman excellent in poetrie.
Telethusa, The wyfe of Lictus, mother of Iphis.
Tellen, tellinis, A folishe poete and minstrell.
Tellias, A sothsaier amonge the people called Phocenses.
Tellus, li, A mans name, whom the wyse Solon iudged to be more fortunate, then the riche king Crœsus.
Tellus, lûris, f. g. A goddesse called also Cibele.
Telos, The name of an yle, where the oynamente called Telinum is made.
Telphusa, A citie in Arcadie.
Telphusium, A towne in Bœotia.
Tembrius, A ryuer by Pontus.
Temesa, A towne of the Bruttians, some wryte it Temessa.
Temeseus, a, um, Of Temesa.
Tempe, A place in Thessalia wonderfull pleasant, hauynge trees and medowes meruaylous delectable, wherein byrdes of diuers kyndes do singe continually with excellent melodie: thereof all pleasant wooddes haue the name of Tempe.
Tempsa, A citie of the Bruttians.
Tenea, A certayne village nere to Corinth full of woodde, and delectable.
Tenedius, A certayne kynge, who made a lawe, that the man and woman, taken in aduoutrie shoulde be cutte asunder with an axe: whiche lawe he executed on his owne sonne.
Tenedius, a, um, Of Tenedos.
*Tenedia bipennis, aut securis, A quicke or sharpe axe: A prouerbe applyed to iudges, whiche be hasty and cruell in their sentences.
Tenedos. An yle in the sea Aegeum, betweene Mytilene and Hellespont, not farre from Troy.
Tenia, A village betweene Mycenæ and Corinthus.
Tenitæ, Weare called goddesses of lottes.
Tennis, vel Tennum, A citie in Aeolia.
Tennites, or Temnites, One of Tennis.
Tenos, An yle in the Greeke sea, one of them which are called Cyclades.
Tentyra, orum, A citie in Aegypte.
Tentynitæ, A people dwellynge in an plande within the ryuer of Nilus, whom the Crocodyll so much feareth, that he can not abyde their voice.
Teos, A citie of Ionia: an other of Scythia, by the whiche is a ponde of kythe, which in fayre weather make so muche oyle, that it may be scommed of the water.
Terapne, nes, or Terapnæ, arum, plu. A countrey in Lacedemonia, where the fayre Helaine was borne. Also an plande nowe called Corsica.
Terapneus, a, um, Of Terapne.
Terebris, A ryuer of Spayne.
Terentia, Ciceros wyfe.
Terentianus, a, um, Of Terence.
Terentinus, a, um, Of Terentus.
Terentini ludi, Playes kepte euery hundreth yere, three daies and three nightes continually together.
Terentius, The moste eloquent writer of comædies.
Terentum, A place in the fielde by Rome, called Campus Martius, wherin was an aulter of Pluto and Proserpina.
Tereus, A kynge of Thrace, the husbande of Progne. vide Progne.
Tergeste, A citie in Italy.
Tergestum, A towne in Slauonye, nowe called Trieste.
Termera, A citie in Lycia, so called of Termero.
Termerium, A place in Caria, betweene Mesus and Halicarnassus, whiche tyrannes vsed for a prison.
*Termeria mala, Extreame yuels. vide Adag. Eras.
Termes, A mountayne in Asia. It is also a towne in Spayne.
Termilæ, A people in Lycia.
Terminus deus, An ydole, whiche was supposed to haue the preeminence ouer boundes of lande: whose temple had euer an hole in the rouse, for as muche as they thought it vnlawfull, that boundes boundes of landes ſhould be couered or hyd.

Terpandrus, dri, An olde muſician, who added. vii. ſtringes to the harpe.
Terpnus, An harper in the tyme of Nero.
Terpſichore, One of the nine Muſes.
Terra, æ, f.g. loke Cibele.
Tertullianus, A great learned man of Carthage, the ſon of a capitayne of the Romaynes. He was in his tyme a very excellēt man in witte and learnynge, and wrate many fayre workes in defence of Chriſtendome. But beynge in his myddell age made a prieſt, vexed with ſundry wronges and diſpleaſures, by the enuie of the clergie of Rome, he (as it weare enforced) at the laſte fell into the hereſie of Montanus: which hereſie he dyd enterlace with his bookes, that he wrate, and lyued tyll he came to extreame age. He flouriſhed aboute the yere of our lorde. 210. Saynct Cyprian, whan he lufted to reade Tertullians workes, woulde byd his ſeruauntes bringe him his maiſter.
Tetartemorion, rii, n.g. The fourth parte of the Zodiake circle, wherein are the. xii. ſignes. It is alſo that, which aſtronomers call the quadrate aſpecte of the planettes.
Tethys, thys, vel thyos, The wyfe of Neptune, called goddeſſe of the ſea.
Tetragrammaton, The name of God, whiche the Iewes dwe call Ineffabile, that is to ſaie, vnſpeakeable, and is Iehous.
Tetrápolis, The countrey of Antioche, wherein be fowre notable cities.
Tétricus, or Tétrica, A rough hyll in Italye, full of rockes, and harde to goe vpon.
Tettius Caballus, A ſcoffer in the tyme of Veſpaſian.
Teuca, A quēne of Illyria, whiche lyued euer chaſt, and vanquiſhed many noble capitaynes, and diuers hoſtes of the Romaynes.
Teucer, or Teucrus, cri, The name of a kyng of Troianes. Alſo of the ſonne of Telamon the valiaunt Grēke.
Teucer, cra, crum, Idem quod Troianus, Of Troie.
Teudamedus, The father of Pelaſgus.
Teuderium, A citie of Germanie, called commonly Badborne.
Teumeſus, A lyttle hyll in Bœotia.
Teumeſius leo, A lyon, whiche Hercules didde ſlea, whan he was a childe, and of his ſkinne made him a coate.
Teutates, Was in olde tyme amonge the Frenchemen taken for Mercurius.
Teutha, idem quod Teuca.
Teuthania, A pēce of the countrey of Troie.
Teuthis, A noble man, which went with the Grēkes towarde Troie.
Teuthrania, The fartheſt parte of Myſia.
Teuthras, thrantis, A kynge of Myſia, the ſonne of Pandion.
Teuthrantius, a, um, Of Teuthras.
Teutonicus, a, um, Of the Almaynes.
Teutones, Teutoni, or Teutonici, People called Almains.
Thabis, A mountayne in Scythia.
Thais, The name of an harlotte.
Thales, A philoſopher, one of the. vii. wyſe men of Grēece. Alſo a poete of Candy.
Thaleſtria, A quēne of Amazons, the which came to kynge Alexander with. 300. women with hir, to the intente to haue iſſue by him and his men: and whan ſhe perceyued, that ſhe and hir ladies weare ſpedde, they departed home agayne.
Thalia, One of the Graces, which the auncient poetes dyd ſuppoſe to be one of the daughters of Iupiter, and geuers of delectable ſpēche and pleaſant pronuntiation.
Thalus, A man of excēdynge ſwyftenēſſe, whom poetes feygne that Iupiter made with braſen fēte.
Thamyras, Was he, which firſt plaied on an harpe, without ſyngynge thereto.
Tharſus, A citie in Cilicia.
Thaſii, People dwellynge in the yle Thaſus.
Thaſus, A towne. Alſo an yle in the ſea Aegeum.
Thaſſus, ſaith Eraſ. Is an yle nēre to Thrace, noble and fertyle.
* Thaſſus bonorum, A prouerbe, applyed to them that promyſe great thinges, as a man woulde ſaye, a worlde, a countrey of wealth. In Cambridgeſhyre the vulgare worde is, a myne of golde.
Thaumantias Iris, The daughter of Thaumas and Electra.
Thaumantis, idis, Idem.
Thea, A nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.
Theagenes, The name of thre dyuers men of Athens.
Theano, A woman of the ſecte of Pythagoras, excellently learned in philoſophie and poetrie.
Theanum, A towne in Apulia.
Thebæi, People of the citie of Thebes in Aegypte.
Thebæ, arum, Theba, bæ, or Thebe, bes, The name of dyuers cities, whereof one was in Aegypt, builded by Buſiris: an other in Bœotia, builded by Cadmus: an other in Cilicia, where Andromache the wyfe of Hector was borne.
Thebe, A maydens name, out of whoſe boſome flue two culuers: one to the fountayne of Hammon, the other to the wodde Dodonæa, where they gaue anſweres.
Thebais, idis, & idos, A countrey in Aegypte. It is alſo the name of a booke made by Statius the poete.
Thebānus, a, um, Of Thebes.
Thelbencane, A citie in the countreye of Babylon, called nowe Maraga.
Theleboæ, People of an yle called Capreæ, which lyeth agaynſt Naples.
Thelebon, Idem.
Thelephus, A kynge that came in the ayde of the Troianes, and was ſlayne by Achilles.
Thelphuſia, A citie in Arcadie.
Thelphuſium, or Thelphoſion, A citie in Bœotia.

where Pyndarus preysed Bacchus.

Thembinachia, A countrey called also Nemea.

Themes, An olde towne in the yle of Cypres, where brasse was fyrste founde.

Themillas, læ, A mans name in Virgile.

Themis, mis, midis, or mistis, A goddesse, one of the sisters of Jupiter, on whom he begatte Minerua, the which commaunded men to aske that which was lefull: some take hir for Justice. There was an other woman called Themis, named also Carmentis.

Themiscyra, A citie in Cappadocia, called afterwarde Cæsarea.

Themisones, People of Lycia.

Themista, Idem quod Themis.

Themistius, A philosopher whiche wrate commentaries on Aristotles workes.

Themistocles, A famous capitayne of Athens: In his youth geuen to riotte, sensualitie, and wantonnesse, delightynge neyther in learnynge, nor other commendable exercise. But afterwarde he was so incesed with the desyre of fame and glory, by the example of Miltiades, which ouercame Darius in the fieldes of Marathon, that in the night he could not reste in his bedde, but would ryse and say, that the tryumphe and victorye of Miltiades would not suffer him to sleape. wherupon he gaue himself to martiall prowesse, & affayres of his countrey, & therin behaued himself so nobly, and became so wise & politike, as within fewe yeres he dyd not onely matche, but farre surmounte that man, whose example fyrst excited him to noble doynge. For by his manhode and policie, he deliuered not onely his owne citie, but all Grece from the great power and innumerable armie of Xerxes, wherewith he ouerflowed that countrey: & caused that prince, with one small vessell dishonourably to flee for safegarde of his lyfe, whose huge multitude of shippes, not long before semed to ouerlode the seas. Neuertheless he was after by his vnkynde citizens expelled his countrey, and fledde to kynge Xerxes his ennemie: who feynge him, and vnderstandynge his case, dyd both very honourably interteyne him, & desyred god euer to kepe his ennemies in that mynde, to sende from the suche men as he was. Xerxes, haupnge him in greate truste and credite, sent him with a mighty armie against the Atheniens: but, when he perceiued his countrey in peryll to be destroyed, he poysoned himselfe by drinkynge of bulles bloudde, and chose rather so to dye, then eyther vnfaithfully to betray that prince that trusted him, or vnnaturally to destroy that countrey that bredde him.

Themistogenes, An historiographer of Syracuse.

Theoclymenus, A sothsayer, whiche tolde Penelope of hir husbande Ulysses retourne.

Theocritus, A poete of Syracuse, whiche wrate Bucolica, or the contention of the hierde men.

Theodomas, The father of Hyla.

Theodomanteus, a, um, Of Theodomas.

Theodectes, An orator of Cilicia, scholer to Plato.

Theodorus, A famous philosopher. Also a notable caruer.

Theodosia, A citie in Chersonesus, called nowe Capha.

Theodosius, A worthy emperour of Rome, who muche fauoured and furthered Christian religion, and was besyde indued with many excellent vertues. In fauour of bodie comely, of mynde gentill, mylde, and mercifull: so humble and curteyse of behauiour, as he might seme onely in princely apparayle to differ from other: honourably bountifull to all, but excedingly liberall to good men. Simple natures he loued well: learned and honest wittes he hadde in passynge greatte admiration. His olde frendes, at whose handes he had founde pleasure, he rewarded excedingly with honourable promotions, money, and other benefytes. By expresse lawe he decreed that daunsyng and wanton daliaunce should not be vsed in bankettes. In learnyng (if we regarde those that be excellente) but meanely instructed, but very wittie, and dyligente also to haue the knowlage of histories, wherein he alway detested the actes of them that weare cruell, prowde, and enemies to libertie, as Marius, Sylla, and Cinna. His feastynge was princely and pleasaut, but without excesse or great sumptuousnesse: his feedinge temperate, respectynge more his health, the sensuall delyght. Towarde his children, a mylde and gentill father: toward his wyfe, a louynge and quiete husbande. He dyed at Millaine, beynge .50. yeres of age, aboute the yere of Christe. 397.

Theodotus, The instructour of the lasse Ptholomeus.

Theognis, A certayne poete of Crete.

Theon, The name of diuers learned men.

Theoninus, a, um, Of or lyke Theon, whiche was an horrible rayler, and carper of other mennes doynges.

* Theonino dente rodere, To rebuke a man shamefully.

Theophilus, The name of dyuers bysshoppes. It signifieth deuoute, louyng god.

Theophrastus, A noble philosopher, and of excellente eloquente.

Theopompus, An historiographer after the tyme of Herodotus and Thucydides. Also an auncient poete, and a kyng of Lacedemonia.

Theopolis, The chiefe citie of Syria, called also Antiochia.

Theotocos, The mother of god.

Thera, A citie by Athens. Also one of the yles called Cyclades.

Theramenes, A philosopher of Athens.

Theramne, A towne of the Sabines.

Theramneus, a, um, Idem quod Sabinus.

Therasia, An yle by Eubœa.

Thericlamas, antis, A dogges name in Ouide.

Therimachus,

Thermachus, A famous peincter.
Theromachus, One of Hercules sonnes.
Thermæ, arum, f. g. plur. A towne of Sicilie.
Thermodoon, or Thermódon, A ryuer of Thrace.
Thermodóntius, Thermodontæus, & Thermodontiacus, a, um, Pertaynynge to that ryuer.
Thermopylæ, A mountayne whiche passeth thorough Grèece, haynge a narowe entrie or passage, where 4000. Lacedemonians, with their capitayne Leonides, fought against. x. hundred thousande Persians, & resisted them two daies, vntill the sayde Lacedemonians were all slaine.
Thero, A mans name in Pindarus.
Therodamas, or Therodamon, A kynge of Scythia, which fed lyons with mennes bloudde.
Therpsichore, loke Terpsichore.
Thersander, The sonne of Polynices.
Thersilochus, A mans name in Virgile.
Thersites, A prince that came with the Grèekes to the siege of Troie, whiche in person and condicions was of all other moste deformed.
Theseus, The sonne of Aegeus kynge of Athens, a stronge and valiaunte man, the companion of Hercules, and in famous actes nerte vnto him, who was muche defaced by breakynge his feith, whiche he had promysed to Ariadne the daughter of Minos kynge of Creta, whom he lefte in a deserte yle called Naxus: for the whiche (as Virgile wryteth) he is perpetually tourmented on a whéele in hell.
Thesêus, a, um, Of Theseus.
Thesides, The sonne or nephewe of Theseus.
Thesiphon, tis, A citie in Parthia, not farre from Seleucia the great citie of Assyria.
Thesmophoria, The ceremonies of Ceres the goddesse of grayne.
Thesmophoros, A name of Ceres.
Thespiæ, A frée towne in Bœotia.
Thespius, & Thespiacus, a, um, Of Thespiæ.
Thespiades, The Muses, abydynge aboute Thespiæ.
Thestis, A towne in Bœotia, by the hyll called Helicon. Also the name of an auncient poete, and certayne other men.
Thesproti, People of Epire.
Thessalia, A region in Créece, called also Aemonia, sometyme Pandora, sometyme Pyrrhea, of some Pelasgia, of Homere Argopelasgicon. It is inuironed with fowre greate and famous hylles, on the east with the mountaines of Pelion & Ossa: on the nozth with Olympus: on the weast with Pindus: on the southe with Othrys. It marcheth on Macedonia on the east. The people weare valiaunt men on horsebacke, and inuincible in battayle, as Polybius writeth, but very vniust of their promise: the women there, beynge wonderfull witches, transfourmed men into the fygure of beastes.
Thessálicus, a, um, & Thessalus, a, um, Of Thessalia.
Thessalónica, A citie in Macedonia.
Thesselis, lidis, A woman or mayden of Thessalie.
Thessalonicenses, People of Thessalonica.
Thestius, The sonne of Parthaon.
Thestor, thestoris, The father of Chalcas the southsaier.
Thestorides, dis, m. g. The sonne or nephewe of Thestor.
Thestilis, A womans name in Virgile.
Thetis, thétidis, The mother of Achilles.
Theutones, or Theutonici, People in Germany called Duchemen.
Thideus, vide Tydeus.
Thimissa, The citie of Tunise in Affrike.
Thiodamas, The sonne of Melampus.
Thiriomachus, One of the sonnes of Hercules by Megara.
Thisbe, A mayden of Babylon, Vide Pyramus.
Thisbêus, a, um, Of Thisbe.
Thisias, An auncient writer of Sicilie.
Thoantêus, a, um, Of Thoas.
Thoas, antis, The name of two kinges, one of Taurica, and an other of Lemnos.
Thoë, One of the nymphes.
Thon, nis, He that fyrste brought physicke into the fourme of a science amonge the Aegyptians. An other was kynge of Canopus.
Thonis, A citie nére to Zephyrium.
Thonius, One of the Centaures.
Thoon, A Troiane slayne by Ulysses.
Thoota, The daughter of Phorcus, on whom Neptunus begatte Polyphemus.
Thootes, A mans name in Homere.
Thorax, A mountayne by the citie Magnesia, where Daphita the grammarian was hanged on a gibbet, for makynge verses against kinges: wherof cómeth this prouerbe, Cane à Thorace. Stephanus saieth Thorax is a citie of Aetolia, and also of Magnesia.
Thous, A duke of Troie.
Thoxeus, The sonne of Eurytus and brother of Iole. Also the sonne of Thestius.
Thrace, es, Thraca, cæ, & Thracia, æ, A region in Europe. On the northe it is bounded with the lower Mysia, on the easte with the higher: on the south with the sea Aegeum: on the weast with Bosphorus Thracius, and Propontis. Therein is the citie of Constantinople, sometyme called Byzantium.
Thraceas, vel Thracias, A northy weast wynde.
Thracius, Thraicus, & Thraicius, a, um, Of Thrace.
Thraessa, or Thraissa, A woman of Thrace.
Thrasillus, or Thrasius: He that taught Busiris to offer his guestes to Jupiter, to the entent to obteyne rayne, and was fyrst himselfe kylled in sacrifyce.
Thraso, A souldiours name in Terèce. Also a peinter that Strabo mentioneth.
Thrasymenus, loke Trasimenus.
Thrasybulus, A duke of Athens, whiche delyuered the citie from the thyrtie tyrannes.
Thrasymachus, The scholer of Isocrates.
Thrasymedes, The sonne of Nestor.
Thrax, acis, A man of Thrace.

Threicius, Of Thrace.
Threſſa, or Threiſſa, A woman of Thrace.
Thriæ, The three nurces of Apollo.
Thryus, A ryuer of Elis, whiche renneth into Alpheus.
Thucydides, A noble hiſtoriographer.
Thucydidius, a, um, That foloweth Thucydides, or of Thucydides.
Thule, les, The name of two yles: one beyonde Scotlande, an other ouer againſt Carthage.
Thurii, Thuria, or Thurion, A citie of Calabre.
Thuringia, Thurin in Fraunce.
Thurini, People of Italie.
Thurinus, a, um, Of Thurii.
Thurium, A towne in Italie, where Herodotus dyed, and was buryed in the high ſtreate.
Thuſcana, A citie in Italie.
Thuſculani, A certaine people by Rome.
Thuſculanum, A place not farre from Rome, where Tullie, Cato, Varro, and diuers other noble Senatours of Rome, had manour places.
Thuſculum, li, n.g. A citie in Latium.
Thyamis, A ryuer that diuideth Theſprotis from Ceſtrina.
Thyamon, An hyll in Thrace.
Thyas, thyadis, A woman that offereth ſacrifice to Bacchus.
Thyaſus, ſi, A daunce dedicate to Bacchus.
Thybris, One of Aeneas companions.
Thyeſtes, The ſonne of Pelops and Hyppodamia, who, aſpyrynge to the kyngedome of Micenæ, committed aduoutrie with the wyfe of his elder brother Atreus, who therefore ſlue the children of Thyeſtes, and cauſynge them to be roſted, made his brother to eate them vnwares.
Thyeſtēus, a, um, Of Thyeſtes.
Thyle, The yle called Iſelande.
Thymbria, A place nere Troy, where muche Sauery groweth.
Thymbræus, The name of Apollo.
Thymele, les, A woman, whiche fyrſte taught daũſynge in open places.
Thynia, An yle by Bithynia.
Thynius, a, um, Of Thynia.
Thynos, A towne of Cilicia.
Thyóneus, triſyllabum, A name of Bacchus.
Thyre, A citie of the Meſſenians.
Thyrea, An yle of Peloponneſus.
Thyros, A citie vnder Neſtors dominion.
Thyrſagetæ, People of Scythia, whiche lyue onely by huntynge.

T I

Tiatira, A citie in the countrey of Myſia.
Tibareni, People of Scythia beynge in Aſia.
Tiberias, tiberiadis, A citie of Galilee.
Tiberis, or rather, Tyberis, A ryuer in Italy called Tyber, which commynge from the mountayne Apenninus, diuideth Etruria from Vmbria.
Tiberius, The thyrde emperour of Rome, a man of righte good learnynge and eloquence, but of a very naughtie nature and diſpoſition, cruell, couetous, craftie, deceiptefull: pretendyng himſelfe deſyrous of that he moſte eſchewed, and not to be wyllynge to haue, that he moſte deſyred. Bearynge a coulour of diſpleaſure to thoſe, that he greatly fauoured: and ſhewynge a fayre face of friendſhippe to thoſe, that he extreamely hated. In ſodayne aunſweres much better, then in thoſe he muſed for. So much geuen to drunkenſhipe, that, for Claudius Tiberius Nero, he was of his ſouldiours by reproche termed Caldius Biberius Mero. He woulde bankette two whole daies and a night together. He had by priuie canuaſſynge procured the imperiall eſtate to be offred him by the Senatours, and openly with craftie diſſimulacion pretended himſelfe excēdyng loth to take the charge of it on him: by that meanes thinkynge to perceyue the inwarde affections of men towarde him: whiche afterwarde in deede tourned manie of the nobilitie to confuſion. For ſome ſayde openly vnto him: Sir, other perſons be longe ere they performe that they promiſe, and you are longe ere you promiſe that you will be ſure to performe: notynge his feyned refuſynge of that, whiche he was alreadie ſure of. After he had a longe tyme reiected the care of the common weale, and lyued onely in ſenſualitie & ryotte, he dyed, as it was thought by the procurement of Caligula, that folowed him, as well in the ſucceſſion of the empyre, as in his naughty nature and wicked conditions.
Tibiſcus, A ryuer of Dacia.
Tibiſis, A ryuer in Scythia.
Tibullus, A poetes name.
Tibur, loke Tybur.
Tiburtes, People in Italy, nyghe to Rome.
Ticinum, A citie in Lumbardie, called Pauia.
Tifernus, A ryuer of Italy.
Tigillinus, A Romayn, in the tyme of Nero, of his lyuynge moſte fylthy and corrupte.
Tigrana, A towne in the countrey of Media.
Tigranes, The propre name of a kynge of Armenie the greatter, who ayded Mithridates.
Tigris, One of the fowre ryuers whiche come out of Paradiſe called Gion: it palleth thorough Armenie and Media.
Tigullia. A citie of Liguria.
Tigurini, People of Germanie, whiche doe inhabite the fowrth parte of Heluetia or Swyzerlande: the people of Strawſborow.
Tile, loke Thule.
Tilium, A citie in the weaſt parte of Sardinia, on the ſea ſyde, called now S. Repara.
Tilos, An ile in ỹ red ſea, wherin is plenty of pearle and trées of dyuers fruites, and the leaues of trees there growynge doe neuer fall. Alſo woul groweth on trées there, whiche doe beare gourdes of the greatneſſe of quinces, and beynge ripe doe open, in the whiche doeth appéere the woul, whereof be made fyne and precious clothes. Aboute that place doeth begyn the mountayne of Caucaſus, whiche doeth paſſe thzough a greatte parte parte of the woꝛlde.

Tiſphoſa, A well at the foote of the mountaine Tiſphoſium.

Timæus, A noble philoſopher of Pythagoꝛas ſecte.

Timagines, A famous wꝛyter.

Timagoras, A noble man of Athens.

Timantes, A famous peynter.

Timarchides, A notable grauer.

Timauus, A ryuer in Italie beſydes Aquileia.

Timocles, A poete of Athens.

Timolaus, A learned man of Lariſſa, who wꝛate of the warre of Troy.

Timoleon, A duke of Cozinth.

Timon, A man of Athens, notable foꝛ his inhumanitee, and hatynge of the company and ſocietie of men.

Timótheus, The name of a noble capitayne of the Atheniens, who foꝛ the good foꝛtune that he had in battayle, was painted lynge aſleape, and haynge by him a nette pitched, wherein foꝛtune was taken. Alſo a cunning muſitian, whiche vſed to take of his ſcholers, which had learned befoꝛe, double ſalarie, that he toke of other which neuer learned: ſaiyng, that he toke with them double labours, that is to ſay, to make thē to foꝛget that, whiche they had learned befoꝛe, and then to teache them perfectly.

Tina, A ryuer in Englande called Tine.

Tinge, A pꝛomontoꝛie oꝛ elbowe of Affrike.

Tingitana, A parte of Mauritania oꝛ Barbarie ouer againſt Spayne.

Tinia, Idem quod Tina.

Tipaſa, A citie in Mauritania, called now Teneſe.

Tiphernum, A towne in Italie.

Tiphys, An excellent carpenter, whiche found fyꝛſt the meane to gouerne a ſhippe.

Tireſias, A poete of Thebes, who foꝛ ſtrikynge two adders, which he founde ingendꝛinge together, was foꝛthwith turned into the foꝛme of a woman. Seuen yeres after, he likewiſe fyndynge two ſerpentes together, ſtrake alſo them, and became eftſones a man. Jupiter and Juno contending together, whether man oꝛ womā were moꝛe pꝛone vnto leacherie, choſe Tireſias arbiter, whiche had experience in both kyndes, who gaue ſentence on Jupiters part: wherwith Juno beynge angrie, toke his ſight from him. But Jupiter, to comfoꝛt him in his blindeneſſe, gaue to him that parte of diuinitee, to know all that was done, oꝛ ſhould happē: by reaſon wherof he was had in great honour, and his aunſweres were eſtéemed equall to them of Apollo.

Tirinthis, A famous olde citie in Gréece.

Tiriſcum, A citie of Dacia, now called Groſcoma.

Tiryns, ryntis, m. g. A ryuer in Gréece. Tyrins, ryntis, f. g. The countrey where Hercules was boꝛne in Peloponneſus, now called Morea.

Tirynthius, Was a ſurname of Hercules.

Tiſſamenus, A ryuer of Scythia.

Tiſias, The name of Cezar ſcholer.

Tiſiphone, One of the furies of hell, which was ſuppoſed to tourment homicides, oꝛ ſlears of men.

Tiſſa, A citie of Sicilie, called Tis.

Titanis, nidos, The daughter of Titan, called alſo Latona, and is taken foꝛ the Mone.

Titan, & Titanus, The bꝛother of Saturne, and is taken foꝛ the Sunne. loke Saturnus.

Titanus, A ryuer of Aeolis, and a citie of the ſame name.

Titareſus, A ryuer rennyng into the ryuer Peneus, & yet is not the water myred with it, but renneth like oyle in the myddes of the other ſtreame.

Tithonus, The bꝛother of Laomedon, which begat Memnon vpon Aurꝛa: an other of that name was ſonne to Laomedon.

Titianus, An oꝛatour of Gréece.

Titii, Weare pꝛieſtes of Apollo.

Titornus, An heardeman, whiche contended with Milo the wꝛeſtler, and ouercame him.

Titus; The ſonne of Veſpaſian emperour of Rome, was from his youth earneſtly bente to the ſtudie of honeſtie, learnynge, and noble pꝛowes, ſo that in his tender yeres he gaue euidente token wherto in the ende he woulde pꝛoue. And yet, euen then he did ſome thinges, by the ſlipperneſſe of youth and yll company, that cauſed many to feare that he would haue pꝛoued both cruell, ſenſuall, and couetous. But, when he was aduaūced to the empyꝛe, he dyd not onely ſhake of thoſe lighte companions, by whome he was miſledde, but alſo dyd ſo farre paſſe all other in liberalitée, pꝛincely bountie, contempte of money, mercie, clemencie, courteiſie & ſweete behauiour, that he was commonly called the delyte and derlynge of mankynde. Of his clemencie this is notable. When two of the noblemen had conſpired againſt him, and the matter was ſo euidently pꝛoued, as they could not deny it, firſt he admoniſhed them, and then had them with him to a common ſight oꝛ ſhew, and there made them ſitte the one on thons ſide, the other on thother. And, becauſe they beheld ſwourde players, he called foꝛ one of their ſwoꝛds, which vnder pꝛetence of feeling how ſharpe it was, he gaue firſt to the one, and then to the other. In ſo muche that euen they that purpoſed his death, ſhewed themſelues aſtonied at his manly conſtancie. Why (ſaieth he) doe you not ſee, that royall power and imperiall authoritie is geuen by deſtenie and the will of god, ſo that it is in vayne for any man either to hope to attaine it, oꝛ to feare to leeſe it? After ſupper on a time remembꝛing, that on that daye he had not done any pleaſure oꝛ benefit to any mā, with a loude voyce he ſayed to theim pꝛeſent: Friendes, I haue loſt a daie. When he had reigned almoſt thꝛée yere, he died of an ague.

Titus Liuius, The moſte excellent hiſtoꝛien oꝛ wꝛyter of ſtoꝛies, in whom was the fountaine of the mylke of pure eloquence.

Tityrus, A ſhéepheardes name in Virgile.

Tityus, The ſonne of the Earthe, whom portes feigned to be ſlayne by Apollo, becauſe he wolde haue rauished Latona his sister: and therefore lieth in hell, haunge an eagle alway eatynge his lyuer. And it is also sayd, that his bodie was in length nyne furlongs: witnesse Tibul, which was a poete, and also a great louer, and therefore coulde not lye.

Tlepolemus, Hercules sonne, a kynge of Rhodes, whiche came to the siege of Troy with nyne shyppes.

Tmolus, A mountaine in Lydia, whereon did growe great plentie of saffron and vynes.

T O

Togata Gallia, Idem quod Cisalpina Gallia.

Tolentum, A citie of Italie, the people whereof be called Tolentinates.

Tolētum, A citie in Spayne called Toledo.

Toliapis, The yle of Tenet by Kent.

Tolosa, A citie in Fraunce called Tolouse: wherof grewe a prouerbe, Tolossanum aurum. Looke Cepio.

Tolumnius, A certayne diuinour.

Tomarus, A mountayne of Aetolia.

Tomitanus, a, um, Of Tomos.

Tomos, A citie of Pontus.

Tomyris, A noble quéene of the Massagetes in Scythia: againste whom when Cyrus the greatte kynge of Persia came, and had slayne hir sonne, she by hir policy trayned him into suche streictes, that she slue him and all his hoste: and causynge a greatte vessell to be fylled with the bloude of Cyrus and of the other Persians, did caste his head therinto, saiynge: Bloudde thou hast thirsted, and now drinke thereof thy fyll.

Tongri, People of the duchie of Brabant.

Topazos, or Topazios, An yle in the redde sea.

Tornacum, A towne called Tourney.

Torquātus, A noble man of Rome.

T R

Trachalus, An orator in the tyme of Domitian.

Trachina, A towne of Campayne.

Trachyna, A citie of Thessalie, whiche was of Hercules called Heraclea.

Trachynius, or Trachynius, a, um, Of Trachyna.

Trachontis, A countrey in Syria, toygnynge vnto Arabia.

Tragia, One of the yles called Sporades.

Tragurium, An yle in the sea called Adriaticum.

Traiana, A citie in Picenum, called now Potentia.

Traianus, A Spaniarde borne and emperour of Rome, who was in warfare diligente, in ciuile gouernment politike, in easynge his subiectes of immoderate charges lyberall, a great obseruer of iustice, and fauourer of learned wittes. When he ordayned any Prætour, in deliuerynge him the swoorde, he woulde say in this wyse: Vse the swoorde against mine enemies in iust causes, and if I my selfe dooe otherwyse then iustice, vse thy power on me also. But many worthy ciuile vertues in him weare defaced with his extreame crueltie toward the Christians. For he raysed the thyrde persecution of the church, wherin many weare cruelly murdered.

Tralli, A people of Illyria.

Trallis, A citie of Lydia: an other in Phrygia.

Trallianus, a, um, Of that citie.

Tranio, A seruauntes name in Plautus.

Transalpina Gallia, Gallia on the other syde of the mountaynes from Rome, whiche is nowe the realme of Fraunce.

Transyluania, A countrey beyonde Hungarie, whereof the people were sometyme called Getæ.

Trapezephoros, ri, A certaine priest of Minerua.

Trapezus, zuntis, A citie in the countrey of Pontus.

Trapezuntius, A man of that citie.

Trasibulus, looke Thrasybulus.

Trasimenus, A ryuer by Perusia, in Italie, where Annibal slewe Flaminius the Consul of Rome, and .xxiii. thousande Romaynes, and toke .6000. prisoners.

Trasimenus, a, um, Of that pole or ryuer.

Transi, People adioynynge to Thrace.

Trebatius, A lawier very familiar with Cicero.

Trebia, A ryuer in Italy by Placentia. Also a citie in Spayne.

Trebellicum vinum, or Trebulanum vinum, wyne growynge aboute the citie Trebia, in Spayne.

Trebonius, A Romayne that conspyred with Brutus and Cassius in Asia.

Trebula, An olde towne nigh to Rome.

Trebulani, Men of that towne.

Trecæ, trecarum, A citie in Campaygne.

Treua, A citie in Almaine called Hamburgh.

Treueris, A citie in Germanie called Trire.

Treueri, People called Treues.

Triarius, rii, m. g. A famous orator.

Triatrus, A festiuall daie, kepte after the thyrde Idus of euery moneth.

Triballi, People of the countrey beyonde Hungary, nowe called Seruia.

Triboci, People of the countrey of Alsate.

Tribunianus, A mans name in the time of Iustinian, a contemner of god and al religion, and specially of Christianitée.

Trica, after Plini lib. 3. cap. 11. was somtime a towne of Apulia. Stephanus saieth, it was a towne of Thessalie, so named of Trica, Peneus daughter.

Tricastini, People of Fraunce, nére the ryuer Druentia.

Tricongius, The surname of Nouellius, which drāke thrée measures of wyne, called Congii, whiche was (as I suppose) thrée gallōs and .iij. pintes of our measure: wherefore Tiberius the emperour promoted him to honour, and at the laste made him Consull of Rome.

Tridentifer, or Tridentiger, The surname of Neptunus, because of his thréeforked mace.

Tridentum, A citie in Italie called Trent.

Trieterica, The sacrifices of Bacchus, which weare done euery thyrde yere.

Trigarium, rii, n. g. A place at Rome by Campus Martius, where they exercised rennynge with cartes drawen with .iii. horses, called Trigæ.

Trigemina

Trigemina porta, A gate in Rome, out at the whiche the thꝛee bꝛetherne called Horatii, wente to fight their chalenge.

Trinacria, The yle of Sicilie.

Trinacris, cre, Of Trinacria.

Trinacrius, a, um, Of Sicilie.

Triones, The seuen sterres, beynge in the nꝛthe.

Tripolis. A countrey in Affrike, an other in Syꝛia, the thꝛyde in Phœnicia.

Tripolitana regio, Idem quod Tripolis.

Tripontium, A towne of Umbꝛia in Italie, so called because it hath thꝛee bꝛidges.

Triptólemus, A man, which founde the vse of graine in the countrey of Athens.

Tripodes, Weare tables of Golde in the temple of Apollo.

Triquetra, A name of the yle of Sicilie.

Tritanus, A notable wꝛestlar oꝛ swꝛydeplayer.

Tritees, A people of Græce.

Tritium Metallum, A citie of Spayne, called nowe Tafalla.

Triton, onis, One called god of the sea, the sonne of Neptunus. It is also a ryuer in Affrica.

Tritonia, A name of Minerua.

Tritoniacus, a, um, Of Minerua.

Tritonis, nidos, f. g. patronymicum.

Tritonice, A towne of Pontus.

Trueri, Trier in Almayne, whiche nowe is vnder a bysshoppe.

Trivia, A name of Diana.

Troas, adis, The countrey aboute Troie, called the lesse Phꝛygia.

Trœzen, zenis, oꝛ Trœzene, nes, A citie in the parte of Græce called Peloponnesus. It is also a countrey in the lesse Asia, whereof the people are called Trœzenii.

Trœzenius, a, um, Of Trœzen.

Troglodytæ, People in the furtheste part of Affrike, beyonde Aethiope, whiche dwell in caues, and dꝛe eate the flesshe of serpentes.

Troia, The citie of Troie. Also the countrey wherin Troie stode.

Troianus, a, um, Of Troie.

Troianus ludus, A plate of childꝛen on hoꝛsebacke.

Troicus, a, um, Of Troy.

Troilus, The sonne of Pꝛiamus and Hecuba.

Troius, a, um, Of Troie.

Troiugena, One bꝛne at Troie.

Tros, troos, oꝛ trois, A Troian. Also the name of a kynge of the Troians, sonne of Erichthonius.

Trossulum, A citie in Italy.

Truentum, A citie in Italy called Tronto.

Tryphiodorus, A poete of Aegypte.

Tryphon. A grammarian of Alexandꝛia.

T V

Tuæsis, The ryuer of Twide in Scotlande.

Tubero, The name of a Romayne.

Tuberum, A ryuer in India.

Tucia, A virgine vestale, that boꝛe water in a sieue.

Tucris, A citie of Spayne.

Tuder, A towne of Umbꝛia.

Tuditanus, The name of a man, so called because he had a hedde as bygge as a bꝛtyll.

Tuesis, The ryuer of Twede, which diuideth Englande from Scotlande. It is also the town called Berwyke.

Tulipburdum, A towne in Germanie called Gottingen.

Tulisurgium, Bꝛunelwyke, a citie in Almayne.

Tullianum, A doungeon within the common pꝛison of Rome.

Tullius, The name of a noble Romayne, of excellent wisedome, learninge, and eloquence. Reade in Cicero.

Tullus Hostilius, The thꝛyde kynge of Rome.

Tunetum, A citie in Affrike, called now Tunise.

Turarius, A stꝛete in Rome.

Turcæ, People called Turkes, whiche inhabited the countrey toygning to the sea Caspium, and the hyll Caucasus: some of them weare accoumpted among the people of Scythia, of whom Pomponius Mela maketh mention: whiche aboute .750. yeres passed, wandꝛynge abouke as vacabounde robbers, wasted and destroied diuers countreis: but afterwarde by the valiant pꝛowesse of Chꝛistiã pꝛinces, in the time of Godfray of Boloigne, and after, their puissance was abated. After, in the yere of our lꝛde. 1300. one Othomannus, the tenthe from Solymannus, not many yeres sens, the greate tyran of the Turkes, a plough mans sonne, valiaunte and subtile of witte, gatherynge a greatte armie of vacabundes, wanne a greate countrey in Asia the lesse: and so succesiuely euery one sence hath encreased their dominion, haunynge now vnder theyꝛ subiection all Asia the lesse, Syꝛia, Medía, Mesopotamia, Aegypt, Gꝛæcia, Illyꝛia, eueriche of these conteynyng many great and famous royalmes: besydes Hungarie, the yle of the Rhodes, and many other yles sometyme chꝛistened. They doe now call Turchia, pꝛopꝛely that which was named Asia minor: and some dooe name it Natolia.

Turde, A citie in Italie now called Tudertum.

Turdetania, A countrey now called Granado.

Turdetani & Turduli, People of that countrey.

Turia, Idem quod Durias.

Turiasso, A citie in Spayne.

Turnus, A kynge of the Rutulians, whiche was slayne of Aeneas.

Turones, People in Fraunce by the ryuer Leir.

Turonica, Tours in Fraunce.

Turris Bissonis, A citie of Sardinia, nowe called Sardos.

Turulis, A ryuer of Spayne.

Tuscania, A towne of Tuscia.

Tuscia, A countrey in Italy, wherein be the cities of Flozence, Sene, Luca, and Pise.

Tusci, People of Tuscane.

Tusculanensis, se, Of Tusculum.

Tusculum, The name of a citie nꝛere vnto Rome, set vpon an hyll.

Tuſculánus, a, um, Of that citie.
Tuſculánum, Was the territorie aboute Tuſculum, where Cicero, Varro, and diuers other noble men dwelled.
Tuſculus, a, um, Of Tuſculum.
Tuſcus, a, um, Of the countrey of Tuſcia.
Tuſcus, A ſtréete in Rome.
Tutanus, Was ſuppoſed to be a god, whiche had the cuſtodie and defence of men.
Tutilina, A goddeſſe, vnder whoſe cuſtodie was corne in barnes and ſtackes.

T Y

Tyana, A citie of Cappadocia.
Tyaneus, a, um, Of that citie.
Tyber, bris, A great ryuer by Rome.
Tyberinis, nidis, patronymicum fœminin. Of Tyber.
Tyberinus, a, um, Idem.
Tyberinus, The god of the ryuer Tyber.
Tyberius, lowke Tiberius.
Tybur, buris, n. g. A citie by Rome.
Tyburinus, a, um, Of the citie Tybur.
Tyburs, burtis, om. ge. & hic & hæc Tyburtis, & hoc Tyburte, Of Tybur.
Tycha, A nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus.
Tyche, ches, A citie in Sicilie.
Tychius, A mans name in Homere.
Tydeus, Biſſyl. A noble man, whoſe ſonne Diomedes wounded Uenus and Mars at the battayle of Troy.
Tydides, The ſonne or nephewe of Tydeus.
Tyle, called alſo Thule, An yle within one dayes iourney of the froſen ſea.
Tymber, A mans name. Alſo a ryuer.
Tymbra, A great fielde in the countrey of Troye, through which the ryuer of Tymber renneth into the ryuer of Scamander.
Tymœtes, One of the ſonnes of kynge Priamus.
Tymolus, Idem quod Tmolus.
Tymphæi, People in Aetolia, which is in Créece.
Tyndareus, a, um, Of Tyndarus.
Tyndaridæ, Caſtor and Pollux.
Tyndaris, daridis, The daughter or néece of Tyndarus. Tyndaris was alſo a citie of Sicilie.
Tyndarus, The father of the fayre Helene (for whō Troye was deſtroyed) and alſo of Caſtor and Pollux.
Typhis, lowke Tiphys.
Typhóeus, triſſyll. A great gyaunt, the ſonne of Titan. Typhon, idem. Alſo a great puiſſant wynde: a whirlwynde.
Typhoëus, or Typhoius, a um, Of Typhóeus.
Typhon, The brother of Oſiris.
Tyra, A ryuer néere Iſter.
Tyrambe, A citie of Sarmatia.
Tyrannion, A learned man in the tyme of Pompey.
Tyrannus, The name of a ſophiſter.
Tyras, A ryuer of Sarmatia.
Tyres, A citie of Scythia.
Tyridates, A kynge of Armenie.
Tyrinthia, A citie by Argos, where Hercules was nouriſhed.
Tyrinthius, a, um, Of Tyrinthia.
Tyrius, a, um, Of the yle called Tyros. Vt, Veſtes Tyriæ, Garmentes of purple colour.
Tyro, A mans name, by whom Cicero did ſet much ſtore.
Tyros, A citie of Phœnicia. Alſo an yle, where the purple colour was fyrſt founde.
Tyrrheni, The people of Tuſcane.
Tyrrhenus, a, um, Of, or by Tuſcane.
Tyrrhus, The ſhépeheardes name in whoſe houſe Lauinia was brought a bedde.
Tyrtæus, A Créeke poete.
Tyrus, A citie by the mountayne Libanus.
Tyſias, æ, He that fyrſte inuented Rhetorike.
Tyttygias, The name of a notable thefe & robber, whiche thereby grew ryche.

V A

Vacca, æ, f. g. A citie in Numidia. Alſo a ryuer in Portugall.
Vaccei, A people of Spayne.
Vaccus, A capitayne of the people called Fundani.
Vacorium, A citie in Norice called Villacum.
Vacuna, A goddeſſe, vnto whom huſbandmen, after harueſt was cleane done, did ſacrifice, as to the goddeſſe of quietneſſe after labour.
Vadimonis lacus, A certayne poole, wherein be Ilandes that ſwymme and moue with the water.
Vageni, A people dwellynge amonge the mountaynes called Alpes.
Vaiedabber, An Hebrue worde, whiche in Latine is Numeri, one of the fyue bokes of Moyſes.
Valaſca, A quéene of the Boemes, whiche conſpyred with certayne other women, to haue driuen out the men, & to haue had a gouernaūce of women lyke the Amazons.
Valentia, The fyrſte name of Rome. Alſo a citie in Spayne called Valence.
Valeria, The ſiſter of Meſſala, wyfe to a noble man called Seruius, who beyng dead, whan ſhe was aſked, why ſhe dyd not mary agayne, ſhe anſwered, that Seruius hir huſbande was ſtyll a lyue with hir.
Valeria, A towne in Spayne, the people whereof be called Valerienſes. It is alſo a countrey by Hungary, now called Styria.
Valerius, The name of diuers Romaines.
Valeſius, for Valerius.
Vallonia, Was called the goddeſſe of valleis.
Vandali, People of Vandalia.
Vandalia, A countrey in the northe parte of the worlde.
Vangiones, People of Germanie, of a citie called Woormes.
Varar, Dunbar in Scotlande.
Varduli, A people of Spayne.
Varro, onis, A noble Romayne, of al other moſte excellently learned.
Varus, A ryuer, which diuideth the part of Fraunce called Narbon, from Italye. Alſo it was the name name of a poete.

Vaſcones, People in the parte of Spayne called Taraconenſis.
Vaticanus collis, An hyll in Rome, where now is the churche of ſaincte Peter.
Vatinius, A Romayne ſo greatly hated of the people, that thereof grewe a prouerbe, Odium Vatinianum.
Vaunia, A citie in Italy nére vnto Uenice, called commonly Louino.

V B V C

Vbii, People in Germanie, dwellynge in Colayne and the partes adioynynge.
Vcalegon, A certayne Troyans name.
Vcia, A citie in Spayne: ſome write it Vria.

V E

Vectis, The name of an yle by England, called the the yle of Wight.
Vectones, People of Spayne.
Vedra, The ryuer of Were in Wales.
Vegeti, People of Aſia.
Vegetius, A noble man that wrote of martiall doctrine.
Veia, A certayne ſorcereſſe.
Veiens, entis, Of Veios.
Veientanus, a, um, Of the citie Veios.
Veientes, People with whom the Romaynes had longe tyme warres.
Veii, The people of Veios.
Veios, A citie in Hetruria.
Veiouis, A god, whiche had no power to dooe good, but onely harme.
Velabrum, bri, n. g. A certayne place in Rome.
Velauni, Uelay in Fraunce.
Velia, A fen in Italie, in the countrey of Calabzia.
Veliates, People of Liguria.
Velina, A ſtreete in Rome, by the hylle called Mons Palatinus.
Velitræ, arum, plu. A citie in Italie. xx. myles from Rome.
Velliocaſſes, A people of the countrey of Lions in Fraunce.
Venafrum, A citie of Campanie, where is greatte plentie of olyues.
Venafránus, a, um, Of that citie.
Venaria, An yle wherin be many veynes of metall.
Veneris portus, A towne, in the mountaynes Pirenæi.
Venetiæ, arum, The citie of Uenice.
Véneti, Uanes in Bzytayne: alſo the people of Uenice.
Vénetus, a, um, Of Uenice. as,
Venetus color, the colour of light blew or blunket.
Venta, An hauen in Englande called Bzikkowe.
Venulus, The ambaſſadour that Turnus ſente to Diomedes.
Vénus, veneris, The goddeſſe of loue.
Venuſia, A towne in Apulia.
Vercellæ, A citie in Liguria, nigh to the mountaines called Alpes.
Vergiliæ, The ſeuen ſterres, called alſo Pleiades.
Vergobretus, ti, A magiſtrate amonge the people called Hedui in Fraunce.
Vermis, The name of a fyſhe in the ryuer of Ganges, whiche is in lengthe. lx. cubites, and is blue in colour, whiche hath ſuche ſtrength, that whē Olyphantes come to the water to dzynke, he will take one of them by the noſe, and plucke him in to him.
Vero, A ryuer in Byſkay.
Veromandui, Uermandoiſe in Fraunce.
Verona, A noble citie in Italie, in the countrey called Marchia Tarviſina, not farre from the mountaynes, where Catullus the poete, and Plinie were bozne.
Verones, People dwellynge nyghe to the ryuer of Uero.
Veronenſis, ſe, & Veroneus, a, um, Of Verona.
Verpi, The Iewes.
Verra, An aulter at Rome, whereat they prayed that children ſhoulde not be wronge bozne.
Verrea, orum, neut. gener. plur. Feaſtes ordeygned by Uerres.
Verres, A Romayne whom Cicero accuſed.
Vertobrige, A towne of Spayne.
Vertumnalia, The ſolemnitie of Vertumnus, whiche was kepte in Octobze.
Vertumnus, A god, ſuppoſed of the Paynims to haue the gouernaunce of mens minds, or, after ſome, of bynge and ſellyng.
*Iniquo Vertumno natus, He that knoweth not howe to gouerne or rule himſelfe.
Verulani, A people of Italie.
Veſeuus, An hyll by Naples, out of the whiche iſſueth alwaies fyze and ſmoke lyke Aetna.
Veſpaſianus, An emperour of Rome deſcended but of a baſe ſtocke, but in valiaunte prowes and knightly courage to be compared to the beſte: for his honeſtie and wiſedome highly commended. He neuer bare grudge ne malice to any mā, weare he neuer ſo much his enemie. For onely auarice he was euill ſpoken of amonge his ſubiectes. It is ſayde he aduaunced to high promotions diuers in couetouſneſſe moſte notable, to the ende that, when they had well gathered, he might vſe them as ſpunges, and by makynge ſome pretenſed quarell againſt them, to wzyng from them that whiche by extoztion they hadde gotten. He ordeyned a tribute to be gathered on the quantitie of bryne made in euery houſe. For which, becauſe he was euyll ſpoken of, his ſonne came to him and perſwaded him to leaue it, as a thynge very vyle and dishonozable vnto him. Ueſpaſian at that preſent ſayde nothynge, but, when the money of that tare was nert brought in, he takyng his handfull of it, and, callyng his ſonne to him, helte it to his noſe, and aſked him, whether the money ſauoured well or no: he anſwered, it ſauozeth well: why (ſayd he) and this commeth of bryne, wherefore thou maiſte ſée,
The ſauour of gayn is ſweete, whereof ſoeuer it cōmeth.
Veſperies, A towne in Spayne.
Veſſones, People of Campaine in Fraunce.

Veſta, The mother of Saturnus: alſo his daughter, whiche for hir chaſtitée was honoured for a goddeſſe.
Veſtális, le, Perteynynge to Veſta.
Veſtáles, Were birgines that miniſtred to Veſta, whiche were choſen betwéene the age of.vi. and x. yeres, and. xxx. yeres they remayned byrgins, afterwarde it was leafull for theim to marie.
Veſtini, People in Italy.
Veſulus, A mountayne in Liguria by the Alpes, at the rote whereof the ryuer called Padus, or Po, ſpryngeth out.
Veſuuius, ſeu Veſeuus, An hyll in Campania, foure myles from the citie of Naples, whereon groweth plentie of vines and olyues: but the toppe thereof was barrayne, by reaſon of fyre, which ſometyme ryſeth out of the earth. It is alſo called Veſuius.
Vetones, People in Spayne, which fyrſt founde the herbe called Betonica.
Vetuſonia. A place in Tuſcia, called alſo Viterbo.
Vfens, vfentis, A ryuer in Pontus.

V J

Via, A ryuer of Spayne.
Vibon, A towne in the countrey of the Bruttians.
Vicentia, A citie in Venetia, betwéene Verona and Padua.
Vienna, A citie in Auſtria: an other in Dolpheny.
Vigiſonus, A bryke by the citie of Padua.
Viminalis collis, A little hyll at Rome.
Vinalia, vinaliórum, neut. gener. plur. A certayne feaſt the tenthe calendes of May, made for taſtynge of wynes.
Vindelici, People called Vandales.
Vindelitia, A countrey, wherein is the citie of Auguſta called Auſburgh. On the weſt it hath the ryuer Lycus, and Rhætia: on the north the ryuer Dunawe: on the eaſt, the ryuer Aenus, and Noricum: on the north it hath the Alpes.
Vindemiator, A ſigne of ſterres, that appéereth the thyrde Nonas of March.
Vindenii fluuii oſtia, A towne in Irelande commonly called Drodagh.
Vindius, An hyll in Spayne.
Vintium, A citie by the Alpes called Mounte Viſol.
Vion Valentia, A citie in Apulia.
Virbius, virbii, maſc. ge. Twyſe a man: which name was geuen to Hippolytus, the ſonne of Theſeus, after that Aeſculapius hadde brought him agayne to lyfe.
Virgi, A towne of Spayne.
Virgilius, The moſte famous poete of Mantua.
Viriplaca, A goddeſſe, in whoſe temple womẽ were reconciled to their huſbandes.
Viritium, A citie in Germanie.
Viruefta, A citie of Spayne called commonly Britiſeſca.
Viſontium, A citie in Spayne called commonly Viſcum or Viſeo.

Viſula, A ryuer of Sarmatia.
Viſurgis, A ryuer of Germanie.
Vitunnus, A God, whom the Painyms ſuppoſed to geue lyfe.

V L

Vlius, A name of Apollo.
Vlpianus, A famous lawier.
Vlubræ, A village or ſmall towne in Italie, where Auguſtus was nouriſhed.
Vlyſſes, The ſonne of Laertes and Autolia, kynge of the yles of Ithaca and Duſichium, a man excellynge all other Grékes, whiche came againſte Troy, in eloquence and ſubtiltie of wytte: who, after the ſubuercion of Troye, whan he hadde wandred tenne yeres on the ſeas and marches thereof, and had ſéene many countreis, finallye retourned home: and there a good ſpace of time remayned vnknowne, and ſuffered manye diſpleaſures of the wooers of his wyfe the chaſte Penelope, whō by the helpe of Telemachus his ſonne and his ſwyneheardes, he at the laſt ſlue. notwithſtandynge afterwarde, he himſelfe was ſlayne by Telegonus his baſtarde ſonne, with an arrowe, not beinge knowen of the ſame Telegonus.
Vlyſſipona, The chiefe citie of Portugall called Liſpone.

V M

Vmber, a, um, Perteynynge to the countrey Vmbria.
Vmbri, People of Italie, nowe called Spoletani.
Vmbria, A part of Italie, where thoſe people dwel.
Vmbro, vmbronis, A ryuer in Lumbardie, called alſo Lamber.

V N

Vni, Hungarians.

V O

Voberca, A towne by Bylbo in Spayne.
Vocontii, People of Narbon in Fraunce.
Vogeſus, An hylle in the marches of Langres in Fraunce.
Volaterræ, A towne in Hetruria.
Volcæ, Languedocke in Fraunce.
Volcatius, The name of dyuers Romaines.
Voliba, A towne in Cornewalle called Bodwin.
Voloues, Weare bondemen at Rome, whiche in the warres of Carthage, whan there lacked Romaines, offered themſelues to fyghte for theyr maiſters: and becauſe they dyd it wyllyngly without conſtreincte, they weare called Voſones.
Volſci, An auncient people of Italie.
Volſinium, A towne of Tuſcan, called now Baſſena.
Voluptia, The goddeſſe of voluptee, or pleaſure.
Voluſius, A poete of Paule.
Vopiſcus, The name of one that wrate the lyues of emperours.
Vortumnalia, lyke Vertumnalia.

V R

Vrania, æ, f. g. ſiue Vranie, es, f. g. One of the Muſes, which is preſident of Aſtronomie.
Vranus, The father of Saturnus, called alſo Cælum.

Vrbinum, A towne in Umbria, the people whereof be called Vrbinâtes.
Vrce, A towne of Spaine, called nowe Aquile.
Vrium, A citie of Spayne.
Vrolanium, A towne in Englande, called sayncte Albans.
Vrſa, ſæ, Two figures of ſterres, the one called Vrſa maior, and the other Vrſa minor.
Vrſa Baſuia, A citie of Picenum.

V S

Vſtica, An hyll in Italy.

V T

Vtica, A citie in Afrike, wheare Cato did ſlea hymſelfe, and therefore was afterwarde called Cato Uticenſis.
Vtinum, A towne in Italy.

W A

Wainfletus, A worthy byſhop of Wyncheſter, and in his tyme Chauncelour of Englande, of counſayle wyſe, graue, politike, well learned himſelfe, and bothe in his tyme and after a great mayntainer of learnyng. He lyued in the troublous tymes of kyng Henry the firte, and Edwarde the fourth, in great eſtimation with the one, and in great diſpleaſure with the other: and therfore felte both the ſweete of proſperitie, and the ſower panges of aduerſitie. In his latter time, when he had attained quietneſſe, as a good byſhop, more myndyng the increaſe of learnyng then his owne priuate wealth, to the great furtheraunce thereof, he builded the notable houſe of Marie Magdalene colledge in Oxforde. Out of the whiche, as a ſingular nourſerie of goodde letters, within fewe yeres haue been ſent into the churche, beſyde a great numbre of other wel learned, aleuen byſhops: and at this daye hath trauelling in the vineyarde of Chriſte, and plãting of his wourde, twoo godly byſhops, and diuers other zelous and very well learned. In this houſe becauſe I alſo was broughte vp in my youth, and by the benefite of the founder therof, attayned the ſmall portion of learnyng that god hath ſent me, I ought and doe acknowledge my ſelfe muche to be bounden to hym.
Wallia, The countrey of Wayles on the weſt ſyde of Englande, ſo lyyng out into the ſea, that it is compaſſed about with the ſame, ſauyng onely on the eaſt part: where, about Herefourde it is ioyned to this royalme, as a portion or member of the ſame, differing only in name and language. They be the remaynes of the olde Britones, that firſt inhabited this Ilande, and by the Saxones, when they grewe here of great power, weare conſtrayned to take that parte, as the moſt ſalfe from the inuaſion and diſquieting of their enemies. This haue I here put, not becauſe I thynke it is vnknowen to any Engliſh man, but to take an occaſion to clere my ſelfe of an vniuſt and falſe ſuſpicion, that by malicious and naughtie tongues hath been ſpredde of me, as though I ſhould not beare good mynde vnto that countrey, and that I haue wrytten againſt it in a Chronicle, that before tyme I haue ſette foorth. If this vntrue ſurmyſe had ſtayed within the compaſſe of the common ſorte, I would not ſo muche haue paſſed for it (although I haue been manaſed dainger by them that neuer ſawe me): but for ſo muche as I heare it is crepte to thoſe that are both ryght honeſt and very wourſhipfull, I am conſtrayned in this place ſomewhat to touche it. What the thynge is, that particularly thei are greeued with, or how this matter firſte beganne, I knowe not. If any ſhall declare it vnto me, I will be gladde to ſatiſfie him. In the meane time I proteſte, I neuer had cauſe to hate them, and indeede doe ſo fauour theim, as my countrey men and faithfull ſubiectes vnder one prynce with me. If I haue vſed any terme, that to them may ſeeme vnpleaſaunt (as in notyng the actes of Edwarde the firſte, I remẽber I call them vnſtable) I truſt ſobre and wyſe men wyll take that, as the truthe is, to be ſpoken vpon occaſion of thinges doone at that time onely, and not as a propertie adnexed to the people. And yet is that not my terme, but Fabians alſo, whom in ſome parte I folowed, vſeth the ſame. Not withſtanding, I thinke he ment none otherwyſe then I dyd, that is, ſo to call them there, becauſe in that one kynges reigne they ſundrie tymes moleſted hym. But that is aboue 250. yeres ſens.
Vulcanalia, orum, neut. gen. plural. Feaſtes dedicate to Vulcan.
Vulcanus, Iupiters ſmith, and is taken for fyre.
Vulcanius, a, um, Of Vulcane.
Vulſinii, A towne in Tuſcane deſtroied with lightnynge.
Vulſinienſis, ſe, Of Vulſinii.
Vulſinus, A ryuer in Italy.
Vulſinienſes, People dwellynge about the ryuer of Vulſinus.
Vultur, An hyll of Apulia.
Vulturnum, A towne in Campania.

V X

Vxama, A towne of Spayne.
Vxella, Crokernewell in Deuonſhyre.
Vxellum, A citie in Englande called Weſtcheſter.

X A

Xantha, A nymphe.
Xanthi, A people in Aſia, whoſe citie beynge beſieged of Harpagus the capitaine of Cyrus, they brought into the caſtels their wyues, ſeruauntes, and gooddes, and puttyng therunto fire, burned all together: and afterward iſſuing out of the citie, fought tyll they were all ſlayne.
Xanthippe, A paſſing ſhrewde, curſte, & a waywarde woman, wyfe to the pacient and wyſe philoſopher Socrates. On a tyme ſhe folowed hir huſbande from place to place ſcoldyng, in ſuche ſort, as he could not quietly abyde the houſe. Wher-foꝛe he went and ſate downe without the dooꝛe, knowyng that ſhe would not be ſo impudent, to rayle at him in the ſtreate. Xanthippe, ſeing that went vp into a chamber, and out at the wyndow dyd caſt a water potte on hir huſbandes heade: whereat, whe other folkes paſſing by did laugh: Oh (quod Socrates) I thought the terrible thunder, that went beforе, would at the length burſt out to a ſtoꝛme and ſhowꝛe of rayne.

Xanthippus, A capitaine of the Lacedemonians, whyche fought againſt Lucatius the Romaine.

Xanticus, Amonge the Iewes was the moneth of Apꝛyll.

Xantho, A nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus.

Xanthus, A ryuer of Troye, whereof if ſhéepe dyd dꝛynke, the fleeſe became yelow. It was alſo the name of Achilles hoꝛſe.

X E

Xenarchus, A comical poete. Alſo a philoſopher borne in Seleucia.

Xeniæ balneæ, A certayne bathe.

Xenius Jupiter, The god of hoſpitalitie.

Xenocrates, A notable philoſopher, Platos ſcholer, & maiſter to Polemon. King Alexander on a time, as a bountifull pꝛince, ſent vnto hym thirty talentes of golde as a pꝛeſent: but Xenocrates ſent it backe againe vnto him, ſaiynge, that kynges and pꝛinces haue néede of money, and not philoſophers.

Xenodorus, A famous caruer oꝛ image maker.

Xenophanes, A philoſopher that wꝛote againſt Heſiodus and Homere, foꝛ their opinion concernyng the gods.

Xenophilus, A muſician of Chalcis, whyche lyued 107. yeres in great felicitie and quietneſſe.

Xenophon, A philoſopher of Athens, diſciple of Socrates, and was alſo a noble and politike capitaine, who foꝛ his moſte delectable ſtyle in wꝛytinge, was named the Muſe of Athens. He made moſte excellent warkes, replenyſhed with ſuche kynde of wyſedome and doctrine, that to the inſtruction of a pꝛince, none may be compared vnto hym. Wherefoꝛe I would exhoꝛte all noble mẽ to reade his warkes ſtudiouſly. I would god that he mought fynde a tranſlatour either in Latin oꝛ Engliſh, whyche coulde expꝛeſſe ſufficiently the moſt delectable ſentences cõteined in Gréeke.

Xenophontius, a, um, Of Xenophon.

Xerxes, A great and famous emperour of Perſia, ſonne of Darius, in ryches and power of men farre paſſing all other, but in noble pꝛowes and vertue muche inferiour to his pꝛedeceſſours. Fiue yeres continually he made pꝛouiſion foꝛ a voyage into Gréece, to reuẽge that great repꝛoch and ouerthꝛowe, that his father, not many yeres beforе, had taken of Miſtiades in the fieldes of Marathon. Wherefoꝛe, hauinge gathered togeather an armie, as ſome wꝛyte, of ſeuentéene hũdꝛed thouſand, oꝛ, as other moꝛe credibly affirme, of 1000000. He conueyghed it ouer into Europe by making a bꝛidge ouer the ſea at Helleſpont with his great multitude of ſhippes. Thꝛough this his huge and mightie power he bare himſelfe ſo pꝛoudely, that he did not onely thynke al men ought to obey hym, but commaunded the ſeas alſo to bee quiet, and mountaynes to geue place vnto hym. The multitude of his armie & cattayle dꝛanke certayne ryuers dꝛie, & at their pꝛinces commaundement did cutte downe the mountayne Athos in Thꝛace, that they myght that way haue paſſage. Notwithſtãding, ſhoꝛtly after, this mightie pꝛince with all his power, on the ſea by the ile of Salamine ioygning battayle with the ſmall nauie of the Grecians, was diſcomfited and put to flight, a great part of his armie deſtroyed, and himſelfe foꝛ his ſafegarde with great feare gladde to flée in a fiſher boate vnknowen: and ſo with muche diſhonour retourned home into Perſia. Wheare, afterward, miſtruſting the haſarde of warre, he gaue hymſelfe to delitious & ſenſuall lyfe, pꝛopoſing large rewardes to ſuch as did deuiſe any newe fantaſie of riote to pleaſe his ſenſuall appetite. By whyche occaſion he became in great contempte with his people, and was ſlayne by one Artabanus, when he had reigned eight yeres.

X Y

Xyſine, A citie of Pontus, called commonly Sentina.

Xyphiæ, Certaine blaſinge ſterres, whyche haue beames lyke a ſwoꝛde.

Z A

Zacantha, A citie of Iberia.

Zacanthei, People in the mountaines called Pirenæi, by the ryuer of Iberus.

Zacharias, The name of a pꝛophete. Alſo the father of ſainct Johñ Baptiſte.

Zacynthii, People of the yle Zacynthus.

Zacynthus, An yland in the ſea called Jonium, wherin is a citie of the ſame name.

Zagrus, A mountaine, whyche diuideth Media from Babylonia.

Zaleucus, A pꝛince that ruled the Locrenſes, and by expꝛeſſe lawe did foꝛbidde, vnder pain of death, that not ſo muche as a ſicke man ſhoulde dꝛinke any wyne, but by the counſayle of a phiſicion. He puniſſhed aduoutrie alſo with loſſe of bothe the eyes. Wherein when his owne ſonne had offended, and his people very earneſtly ſhued foꝛ his pardon, he did put out one of his owne eyes, and an other of his ſonnes: by that meanes both leauing to his ſon the vſe of his ſight, and yet, to the terrour of his ſubiectes, not ſufferinge exemption to bee geuen of the bꝛeache of his lawe, without iuſt puniſhement.

Zama, A citie of Afrike, where Hannybal was ouercomme by Scipio.

Zancle, A citie in Grecia: an other in Sicilie.

Zancléus, a, um, Of Zancle.

Zarmizegetuſa, The chiefe citie of Dacia, called Cron.

Zeno,

Zeno, A notable and famous philosopher, chiefe of the Stoike secte.

Zenobia, A quéene of Palmyra, of noble courage & excellent witte, well learned both in the Grécke and Latin tonge, and instructed hir own sonnes in the knowledge of good letters. Of maners she was seuere, and so muche delighted in chastitie, as she vsed not the carnall company of hyr owne husbande. Hir saiyng it was, that the ornament of a woman was silence. When hir husbande Odenatus was dead, she gouerned the Romaine empire in Syria, and is compted one of the .xxx. tyrannes, that inuaded the partes of the empyre, in tyme of Galienus. She was afterward ouercomme of Aurelianus, and, for honour of hir vertue, had a place to liue in, appointed hir about Tybur in Italie. In hir royall estate she was worshipped in the maner of the kynges of Persia, and alwaye came abroade with an helmette on hir heade, and a purple rayle hanged full of precious stones.

Zenodotus, A notable grāmarian in the tyme of the first Ptholomée, whose children he taughte, and had the kéepyng of the famous librarie that was made at Alexandria.

Zephyre, An yle in the middle sea by Crete.

Zephyrium, A promontory in Italy among the people called Locri.

Zephyritis, tidis, patronym. fœ.

Zephyrius, a, um, Of Zephyrus.

Zephyria ouа, Egges conceiued of the wynde.

Zephyrus, ri, ma, ge. The west wynde.

Zerbis, A ryuer of Mesopotamia, renning into Tigris.

Zethus, Jupiters sonne by Antiopa.

Zeugma, A citie of Dacia.

Zeuxis, An excellint peincter, whiche so peincted a boie caryng grapes, that byrdes came to the table or picture and picked on the grapes, wéening that they had ben very grapes: whiche Zeuxis beholding, was with himselfe angry, and saied: if I had made the boye as well as I haue doone the grapes, the yrdes durste not haue come so nére to the graps. By his crafte he had gotten exceading great ryches, and therefore euer after determined not to take any money for that he dyd, but frely to yeue his labour: because he thought his arte an conning so excellent, as no value of money coul be equall to it, or wourthyly recompence it.

Zenxo, One of the nymphes, daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.

Z I

Zigari, People, whiche we dooe call Aegiptians, that wander about in euery realme, and be horrible theeues.

Zigarum, The countrey, fron whence the saide people dooe come.

Z O

Zodiacus, ci, m, ge. An ouerthwarte circle deuised to be in heauen by the astronmers, to declare the course of the sunne alway betwéene the tropikes of Cancer and Capricorne. To whiche poinctes when it cómeth either in the diepest of wynter, or in the hyghest of sommer, it declineth by little and little backe agayne towarde the æquinoctiall. This circle hath the name of the figures of beastes, that are imagined to be in it, to expresse the natures of the .xij. signes, whiche are within the compasse of the same.

Zoilus, A malicious poete, that wrate a booke of railing verses against the noble wourkes of Homer, and therfore is called Homeromastix, that is, Homers scourge. When this Zoilus did reade his verses to the wourthy & learned kyng Ptolome, he taking therat great displeasure, at that present sayde not one wourde vnto him. Afterwarde this rayling poete being in great powertie, desired of the kyng some reliefe. Nay (sayeth Ptolomée) Homer fédeth & refreasheth many. Wherefore thou, that arte better then Homere, mayest well finde thy selfe without reliefe of other. At the last he was condemned of heinous murder, and by the kynges commaūdement put to death. Of him, all malicious carpers of other mens wourkes be called Zoili.

Zopyrus, A noble Persiā, seruaūt to Darius, which whan the citie of Babylon rebelled against king Darius, and that he had made long warre, and could not subdue theim, vnwares to any man, did cut of his owne nose, his eares, & his lippes, and fledde to Babylon, saiynge, the kyng had so disfigured him, because he perswaded him to haue peace with the Babylonians: whiche they hearinge, made him their chiefe capitaine, by whiche meanes he afterwarde yelded the citie vp to Darius. Wherfore Darius was wonte to saie, that he had leuer haue one Zopyrus, than twenty Babylons. Hauinge on a tyme a pome granate in his hande, a friende of his asked, of what kynde of thinges he would desire to haue as great a number, as there weare kernelles in the pome granet: he answered of Zopires: estéeming nothing to be of so great value as a multitude of so faithfull friendes, as he had shewed himselfe. An other Zopyrus, was excellently well séene in the science of phisiognomie, that is, by the proportion of ones visage and partes of the same, to coniecture his nature and conditions. This man happening into the compante of Socrates, whom he neuer knew before, was demaunded of thē present, what he thought of him. Upon the viewe of his countenaunce he gaue this sentence, that Socrates was blunt & dull witted, sensuall, and geuen to sundrie fowle vices. Whereat some of theim, that weare présent, wel knowing his wisedome & vertue, derided Zopyre: other were much greeued & displeased with him. Nay (sayeth Socrates) let his iudgement nothing moue you. For certaynely such one had I been, had not the instruction of philosophie amended the corrupt inclination of my nature.

Zoroanda, A ryuer, whiche the great water Tigris maketh on the one syde of the mountayne Taurus.

Zoroastes, A kynge of the Bactrians in the tyme of Ninus, and was before the warre of Troy. 400. yeres. He first, as Plinie writeth, inuented magicall artes, and was in many other thinges excellently well learned, whereof he lefte bookes written behynde him. He was slayne with fyar from heauen, & tolde the Assyrians before hande, that if they kept his ashes, their kingdom should neuer fayle. Only he, of all that euer were redde of, laughed the same daye he was borne: and his brayne did so pant, that it would moue the nourses hande, beynge layed vpon his head: whiche Plinie sayth, was a token of the great learning and knowledge, wherto he afterwarde aspired.

Zoticus, A man in highe fauour with the emperour Heliogabalus: whiche with faire wordes, to wynne money, deceiued the suitours.

Z Y

Zygantes, A people by Carthage among whom is great store of honie, both made by bees, and also wrought with mans hande. They colour their bodies with redde ledde, and fede especially on apes fleash, whereof they haue great plentie.

FINIS.