PREFACE.

THOUGH we have ſeveral Collections of judicial Determinations on particular Subjects, as the Law of Arreſts, Awards, Corporations, Covenants, Diſtreſſes, &c. yet there is none concerning Bills of Exchange; which are undoubtedly Objects of ſome Attention, whether we conſider their great Utility, as the principal Medium of foreign and inland Commerce, or the very particular Nature of the Contract created between the Parties concerned in them. For "* the Covenant which paſſes between the Perſon who gives "the Money and him who undertakes to remit it to another "Place, hath in it ſome particular Characters which diſtin-"guiſh it from other Kinds of Covenants that ſeem to have "ſome reſemblance with it."

To explain this Covenant, therefore, and render the Law concerning theſe Inſtruments of Trade better known and more univerſally underſtood, is the Deſign of the following Sheets; which contain not only all the Caſes in the Reporters, the Dictionary of Trade and Commerce, Lex Mercatoria Rediviva, and other Books on this Subject, but alſo ſuch as concern Promiſſory Notes, Bank Notes and Inſurances: And this the Editor has attempted to do, not by obtruding his own thoughts upon the Reader in Relation to any Point of Law, but by connecting together the Caſes that have been determined, in their natural Order.

The Caſes, except ſuch as have been taken from the Abridgments, are here inſerted at large; for though more than one Point of Law be ſometimes determined in the Report of one Caſe; yet the Editor hath choſen rather to inſert the whole Caſe under the principal Point, and afterwards refer to it, as Occaſion requires, than to mangle it by taking only that Part, which more immediately relates to the Matter treated of, and by that Means render it neceſſary for the Gentlemen of the Law and others to conſult the Original Reporters. But though moſt of the Caſes are inſerted at full Length, yet the Editor hath not ſcrupled now and then to take ſome Propoſitions from ſuch Caſes, to throw greater Light upon what hath been ſaid by others; and therefore in the Table of the Names of the Caſes the Reader is referred to the ſeveral Pages where the ſame Caſe is cited.

Beſides the Caſes taken from the Reporters and other Books, the Reader will here find three Caſes that were never before printed. Theſe are the Caſes of Heylins and Adamſon, and Goſs and Withers, in the King's Bench in Michaelmas Term 1758; and the Caſe of Sir Alexander Grant, Bart. and Mr. Innes at Guildhall, the 15th of May 1759. Three Points of great Importance to Trade are determined in theſe Caſes. By the firſt, the Queſtion whether the Indorſee of an Inland Bill of Exchange, muſt, in an Action againſt the Indorſor, prove a Demand of the Money from the Drawer, is ſettled in the Negative. The ſecond aſcertains when the Property of a Ship taken by the Enemy is diveſted out of the Owner: And the laſt ſhows that, according to the Cuſtom of London, a Perſon may inſure the Body and Freight of a Ship and the Premiums paid for them reſpectively. In this the Plaintiff's Charge and the Defendant's Objections and Diſcharge are inſerted at Length; ſince, as there were two Verdicts for the Plaintiff, one againſt Mr. Innes and the other againſt Mr. Roebuck, another of the Underwriters (who, as Mr. Innes was not ſatisfied with the firſt Verdict, permitted the latter to make Uſe of his Name to try the Merits of the Caſe a ſecond Time) the Manner of making up this Charge eſtabliſhes a Precedent for future Caſes of the like Nature.

CONTENTS.

SECT. I. Of the Nature and Freedom of Trade and Traffic, or Exchange.

1. THE Neceſſity of trafficking in order to procure all the Conveniencies of Life, and the Advantage ariſing from foreign Trade, Page 1
2. Trade is free to all by the Common Law, 2
3. The Freedom of Trade is provided for by Magna Charta, ibid.
4. The King, however, may reſtrain it; but ſuch Reſtriction ought to be for the publick Benefit, 3
5. The King may, in ſome Caſes, reſtrain a Subject from going out of the Kingdom; but not if he goes on a lawful Act, as to Trade, 4
6. In what Caſes the King may reſtrain his Subjects from trading with an Infidel Nation; and the Opinion of Grotius and ſeveral eminent Lawyers hereon, ib.
7. The Cuſtoms of Trade and Merchants are ſupported by the Common Law; and the Judges are bound ex Officio to take Notice of them; and if any Doubt ariſes concerning them, they may ſend to the Merchants to know their Cuſtoms, as they may ſend to the Civilians to know their Law, ib.

SECT. II. Of the Antiquity and various Kinds of Exchange.

1, 2. The Antiquity of Exchange by the Jewiſh and Roman Laws, 5
3. Exchange by other Nations in Imitation of thoſe People, 6
5, 6, 7, 8, 9. Several Species of Exchange, as common Exchange, real Exchange, dry Exchange, fictitious Exchange, and juſt and true Exchange, 6, 7

SECT. III. Of foreign Bills.

1. Bill of Exchange defined, Page 8
2. Cuſtom of Merchants as to foreign Bills hath prevailed Time out of Mind, ib.
3. The Nature of this Cuſtom, ib.
4. A Gentleman on his Travels drawing a Bill, makes him a Merchant for the Purpoſe of making him liable to the Repayment of the Value, in Caſe it be not accepted or paid, ib.
5. If Drawee refuſe to accept or pay the Bill, Payee may cauſe it to be proteſted, 10
6. Uſe of a Proteſt, ib.
7. A Proteſt on a foreign Bill is Part of the Cuſtom, ib.
8. A foreign Bill muſt be proteſted on the laſt Day of Payment, and if the laſt of the three Days be a great Holy-day, the Day before is the Day of Payment, ib.
9. Bills of Exchange are not Securities of as high a Nature as Bonds, or Specialties; and are therefore within the Statute of Limitation, and muſt be ſued for within ſix Years, 11
10. Bills of Exchange follow the Perſon of the Debtor and make bona notabilia where he reſides, ib.
11. If an Infant draws a Bill of Exchange, it ſhall not bind him, 12
12. If two or three Bills are drawn for the ſame Sum, they carry a Condition with them that only one ſhall be paid; and in a Declaration on one of them, it is not neceſſary to aver that the other Bills were not paid, ib.

SECT. IV. Of Inland Bills.

1. Inland Bills. What they are.——There was no Cuſtom of proteſting them before 9 & 10 W. 3. 13
2. Stat. 9 & 10 W. 3. reciting the Inconveniencies ariſing from thence to Trade, enacts, that Proteſt ſhall be made in three Days after the Bill becomes due; which Proteſt or Notice thereof ſhall be ſent within fourteen Days to the Drawer, ib.
But this Statute does not take away the Action againſt the Drawer for want of a Proteſt; but only gives a Remedy to recover Damages and Intereſt for Non-payment, 14
3. This Statute could not operate unleſs the Bill was accepted before, 15

4. And

4. And therefore 3 & 4 Anne, C. 9, enacts, that if the Drawee refuſes to accept the Bill; the Payee may cauſe it to be proteſted.—Acceptance muſt be in Writing, 15
If the Bill be not accepted, the Drawer ſhall not be liable to Damages and Intereſt, unleſs Proteſt or Notice of ſuch Non-Acceptance be ſent to the Drawer in fourteen Days, &c. 16
The Value muſt be expreſſed in the Bill to be received; and it muſt be for 20 l. or upwards.—A Perſon accepting ſuch Bill in Satisfaction of a Debt muſt get it proteſted, or loſe ſuch Debt.——This Act ſhall not diſcharge any Remedy againſt the Drawer, Acceptor or Indorſor of ſuch Bill, ib.
5. A. gives B. a Bill of Exchange on C. in Payment of a former Debt. Not allowed as Evidence on Non-aſſumpſit, unleſs paid or agreed to be taken in Satisfaction of ſuch Debt, 17
If A. ſells Goods to B. and B. is to give a Bill in Satisfaction; B. is diſcharged though the Bill be never paid, ib.
6. A Note or Bill is no abſolute Payment, though agreed to as ſuch, if the Giver of it knows the Perſon, upon whom it is drawn, to be in a failing Condition, ib.

SECT. V. What ſhall be deemed a Bill of Exchange within the Cuſtom of Merchants.

1. The Cuſtom preſcribes the Form of the Bill, and raiſes a Contract, 18
2. Not requiſite to obſerve the ſame Nicety in a Bill of Exchange as in Deeds or Wills, ib.
3. Bill payable out of a particular Fund is no Bill of Exchange, ib.
4. Pray pay out of my growing Subſiſtance, no Bill of Exchange, 19
5. Bill payable out of the fifth Payment as it ſhall become due, not good, ib.
6. Pray pay J. S. or Order as my quarterly Half Pay per advance, is a good Bill, 20
7. Bill without the Words Value received is no Bill of Exchange, ib.
8. A like Caſe, 21
9. Bill payable to me or my Order is a good Bill, if accepted, 22

SECT. VI. Of the Acceptance.—What ſhall be deemed a good Acceptance.—Where Acceptance ſhall bind.

1. What is an Acceptance, Page 22
2. A ſmall Matter will amount to an Acceptance, ib.
3. Writing the Day of the Month on the Bill is ſufficient Acceptance, 23
4. Leave your Bill with me and call To-morrow and it ſhall be accepted, is a ſufficient Acceptance, ib.

Leave your Bill with me, I will look over my Book and Accounts between the Drawer and me and call To-morrow and the Bill ſhall be accepted, is not a ſufficient Acceptance, ib.

5. When the Bill was returned for Non-acceptance, and the Drawee ſaid, that if it came back again he would pay it, ruled a good Acceptance, ib.
6. Parol Acceptance is ſufficient; and an Action lies againſt the Acceptor thereon; as to the Principal, but not for Intereſt and Coſts, ib.
7. A like Caſe, 24
8. The Words "the two Bills of Exchange, which you ſent me, I will pay in Caſe the Owners of the Queen Anne do not" are a ſufficient Acceptance, 25
9. Acceptance to pay when the goods are ſold, good, 27
10. Acceptance to pay half in Money, half in Bills, is good, ib.
11. Acceptance to pay half in Money, half in Bills, is good, 28
12. A like Caſe,
13. A Bill may be accepted after the Day of Payment is elapſed; and the Drawer is chargeable, though the Bill was not preſented within the Time, 30
14. Acceptance to pay at a longer Time than is mentioned in the Bill, is good, 31
15. A Bill may be accepted for Part, 32
16. Acceptance to pay leſs than is mentioned in the Bill is good for ſo much againſt the Acceptor, ib.
17. An Acceptance to pay at a Goldſmith's——Bill muſt be tendered in the ſame Time that a Note muſt, 46
18. Acceptance of a Bill upon two Partners by one, binds both, if it concerns the Joint Trade, 47
19. Acceptance of a Servant uſually tranſacting Buſineſs for his Maſter, is good, ib.

SECT.

SECT. VII. Of the Proteſt: The Neceſſity and Validity thereof: When to be made, and of giving Notice to the Drawer of the Drawee's Refuſal.

1. A Proteſt on a foreign Bill is abſolutely neceſſary to charge the Drawer, Page 49
2. Payee muſt demand Acceptance from the Drawee before Proteſt, ib.
3. If Payee dies, there can be no Proteſt before Probate or Adminiſtration, ib.
4. If a Bill, left for Acceptance, be loſt, the Drawee muſt give a Note for the Payment thereof, otherwiſe it may be proteſted, 50

If a Bill be loſt, and no new one can be had, and the Drawee does not inſiſt on having the Original; but refuſes Payment on another Account, a Proteſt made on a Copy is ſufficient, ib.

CHAP. I.

Of Bills of Exchange.

SECT. I.

Of the Nature and Freedom of Trade and Traffic, or Exchange.

1. AS no one Man can turn his own Induſtry to all the ſeveral Varieties that are neceſſary for a convenient Livelihood, but muſt by a careful and laborious Diligence in ſome one Affair, or particular Branch of Buſineſs, acquire more than is neceſſary for his own Subſiſtence; as the Neceſſities and Materials of Life are various, and not all of them to be acquired by the Labour of any one particular Perſon; and as they are likewiſe periſhable, and not long to be preſerved without Alteration and Corruption; hence aroſe the Neceſſity of bartering and exchanging; that one Man ſhould employ his Time in one Art and Means of living; that what was redundant from ſuch his Art ſhould be communicated to others, in Exchange for the other Neceſſaries of Life, which he wanted, and wherewith they abounded; and that periſhable Materials ſhould be exchanged for thoſe more permanent and durable, or to receive of the ſame hereafter, when the Party became old and unfit for Labour. And as this neceſſity of Permutation and Exchange begat at firſt the Notion of Merchandize; ſo when the ſeveral Ornaments of Life were brought to Light, the Ways of Traffic and Exchange grew more extended and enlarged; and civilized States brought from other (a) Countries ſuch Materials as they themſelves wanted, and which were the Produce of thoſe Places; and ſuch as tended to enrich and aggrandize themſelves, and were neceſſary to a polite and adorned Way of Living. 3 New Ab. Law, 583.

2. Hence it is, that in every civilized and well regulated State, and eſpecially in an Iſland, Trade and Merchandize ſhould be protected and encouraged, and that it ſhould be free to all Perſons; as every one who would live is under a kind of natural Neceſſity to labour, in which he has a Property, being the Means of his Livelihood, which to hinder him from, would be as cruel, as to deprive him even of Life: And therefore it ſeems agreed, from the fundamental Principles of our Government, that the King cannot, regularly, prohibit Trade, nor lay a Penny Impoſition on it; but that every Man may uſe the Sea, and trade with other Nations, as freely as he may uſe the Air. Ibid.

3. And this Freedom of Trade is not only allowed by the Common Law, but hath alſo been aſſerted and eſtabliſhed by the Care and Wiſdom of our Princes and Parliaments: And to this Purpoſe it is provided by Magna Charta, cap. 30. "That (b) all Merchants, (if (c) they are not openly prohibited before) ſhall have their ſafe and ſure Conduct to depart, come and carry, buy and ſell, without any Manner of evil Tolls, by the old and rightful Cuſtoms, &c." Id. 584.

(a) It is foreign Trade that renders us rich, honourable, and great; that gives us a Name and Eſteem in the World; that makes us Maſters of the Treaſures of other Nations and Countries, and ſupports and maintains our Ships and Seamen, the Walls and Bulwarks of our Country. See Molloy de Jure maritimo, Lib. 2. Cap. 7 §. 7.

(b) This reſpects Aliens only; which ſtrongly proves, that the Engliſh had this Liberty before: Otherwiſe, they would not have extended it to Aliens, and left the Engliſh without it, 2 Inſt. 57.

(c) This Prohibition muſt be by Act of Parliament, becauſe it concerns the whole Realm, which is implied in the Word openly, and relates to Aliens only, 2 Inſt. 57.

4. But

4. But notwithſtanding this Freedom of Trade, yet it ſeems (d) agreed, that the King may in Time of War, and for the public Service and Safety, lay an Embargo on Ships, and employ the Ships of his Subjects in the public Service: But this, ſays Lord Chief Juſtice Holt, ought to be upon great Emergencies and for the public Benefit, and not for the private Intereſt of any Perſon or Society. Alſo it ſeems agreed, that the King may, by his Writ of (e) Ne exeat Regno, retain a Subject from going out of the Realm; and may, by his (f) Privy Seal, command any of his Subjects to return out of a foreign Nation, on pain of having their Lands ſeized, &c. It hath likewiſe been holden, that the King, by his (g) Prerogative, might reſtrain his Subjects from trading with an (h) Infidel Nation, State or People, without his Licence; and on

(d) Skin. 335. 3 Levin. 352. 4 Mod. 176. Sands, v. Child.

(e) This Writ is properly granted upon ſome Matter of State; and of late extended to confine a Perſon to abide the Juſtice of Courts here; not to reſtrain a Perſon from a lawful Act, ſuch as Merchandize: Nor is it ever univerſal, but always particular, and granted upon Oath made concerning a particular Perſon, Skin. 136. 3 Mod. 127. 4 Mod. 179.

(f) For this See Dyer 128. pl. 61. Lane 42. 3 Mod. 127.

(g) In Sir John Davis's Rep. 9. it is ſaid, that the reaſon of the King's being intitled to Cuſtoms, was his permitting Merchants to go beyond Sea when he could prohibit them.——But in F. N. B. it is ſaid, that by the Common Law every Subject may go out of the Kingdom for Merchandize or Travel, or other Cauſe, as he pleaſes, without Leave.

(h) In Grotius de bello & pace, lib. 2. cap. 15. parag. 11. it is ſaid, that a Government ſhould take care that there be no Infection by Correſpondence with Infidels; and in Calvin's Caſe, 7 Co.. 6. 17. Infidels are called perpetui inimici Regis; and in 2 Brownly 296. it is ſaid by my Lord Coke, that no Subject of the King may trade with any Realm of Infidels without the King's Licence, tha he might not, ſays he, relinquiſh the Catholic Faith, and adhere to Infideliſm; and adds, that he had ſeen ſuch a Licence in the Time of Ed. 3.—— Others ſay, that Turks and Infidels are not perpetui inimici, nor is there any perpetual Enmity between them and us; for tho' there be a Difference between our Religion and theirs, that does not oblige us to be Enemies to their Perſons, Salk. 46.——That they cannot be converted, if Converſation with them is not lawful, Holt, C. I. to which the reſt of the Court on this Foundation principally it was held, in the Caſe of (i) Sands and the Eaſt India Company, that the King's Charter, which gave them an excluſive Right to trade to the Eaſt Indies, was good; but this Doctrine ſeems now exploded, and that nothing can exclude the Subject from Trade, but an act of Parliament. 3 New Ab. Law, 584.

7. And as the Freedom of Trade and Merchandize is ſupported by the Common Law; ſo likewiſe are there certain Cuſtoms and Privileges annexed thereto by the Common Law; (k) of which the Judges will take notice ex Officio. But theſe Privileges are not to be extended to every one who buys or ſells; nor is he from thence, ſays Molloy, to be denominated a (l) Merchant, which Appellation peculiarly belongs to him who traffics in the Way of Commerce by Importation or Exportation; or otherwiſe, in the way of Emption, Vendition, Barter, Permutation or Exchange; and who makes it his Living to buy and ſell, and that by a continued Aſſiduity, or frequent Negotiation in the Myſtery of Merchandizing: But ſeemed to agree, Skin, 336. and that it is a Diſparagement to the Chriſtian Religion to think that they ſhould rather be converted by Infidels, than Infidels by them, 3 Lev. 354.

(k) 2 Rol. Rep. 113. Yelv. 135. 3 Mod. 226. The Cuſtom of Merchants is Part of the Common Law of this Kingdom, of which the Judges ought to take notice; and if any doubt ariſe to them about their Cuſtom, they may ſend to the Merchants to know their Cuſtom, as they may ſend for the Civilians to know their Law, Winch. 24.—may direct an Iſſue for Trial of a Cuſtom amongſt Merchants, Hard. 486.

(l) There are four Sorts of Merchants, viz. Merchants Adventurers, Merchants Dormants, Merchants Travelling, and Merchants Reſidents, 2 Brownl. 99. per Coke.—But it is ſaid that a Merchant includes all Sorts of Traders as well and as properly as Merchants Adventurers, and that a Merchant Taylor is a common Term, 2 Salk. 445. per Holt. He that continually deals in buying and ſelling Commodities, or by way of Permutation of Wares both at Home and Abroad, is a Merchant. Malynes's Lex Mercatoria, p. 5.

thoſe who buy Goods to reduce them by their own Art or Induſtry into other Forms than formerly they were of, are properly called Artificers, not Merchants. 3 New Ab. Law, 584.

SECT. II.

Of the Antiquity, and various Kinds, of Exchange.

1. THE Exchange of Money is of great Antiquity, as appears as well from the Hebrew Cuſtoms as thoſe of the Romans.

Upon the firſt Day of the Month * Adar, Proclamation was made throughout all Iſrael, that the People ſhould provide their half † Shekels, which were yearly paid towards the Service of the Temple, according to the Commandment of God. On the 25th of Adar they brought Tables into the Temple, that is, into the outward Court where the People ſtood, Exod. xxx. 31. On theſe lay the leſſer Coins, which were to furniſh thoſe who wanted half Shekels for their Offerings, or who wanted leſs Pieces of Money in their Payment for Oxen, Sheep, Doves, &c. which ſtood there ready in the ſame Court to be ſold for Sacrifices: But this Supply, and furniſhing the People from theſe Tables was not without an exchange for other Money, or other Things in lieu of Money, and that at an Advantage. Hence alſo thoſe who ſat at the Tables were called Bankers, or Maſters of the Exchange. Molloy, Lib. 2. C. 10. §. 1.

2. By the Romans it is ſuppoſed to have been in Uſe upwards of two thouſand Years. Money being then made out of Gold and Silver, to avoid the Carriage of Merchandizes in Barter from one Country to another. So other Nations, imitating the Jews and Romans, erected Mints, and coined Monies; upon which the Exchange by Bills was deviſed, not only to avoid the

* Adar anſwers to our February.

† Shekels is an Ancient Jewiſh Coin, equal in Value to about 2*s.* 6*d.* Sterling.

Danger of the Adventure of Monies, but its troubleſome Carriage. Molloy, Lib. 2: C. 10. §. 2.

3. Thus States having, by their ſovereign Authorities, coined Monies, cauſed them to appoint a certain Exchange for Permutation of the various Coins of ſeveral Countries, without tranſporting of the Coin, but giving par pro pari, or Value for Value, with a certain Allowance to be made thoſe Exchangers for accommodating the Merchants. Molloy, Lib. 2. C. 10. §. 3.

4. As Commerce branched into various ſhapes, ſo did Exchange; but was generally reducible to four Species, viz. Common Exchange, Real Exchange, Dry Exchange, and Fictitious Exchange. Molloy, Lib. 2. Cap. 10. §. 4.

5. Thoſe who practiſed the Common Exchange were conſtituted by the ſeveral Kings, who, having received Monies in England, would remit by Exchange the like Sum, to be paid in another Kingdom. Edward III. to aſcertain the Exchange, cauſed Tables to be ſet up in moſt of the general Marts or Ports of England, declaring the Values of the foreign Coins of thoſe Countries with which his Subjects carried on Commerce, and what Allowances were to be made for having Monies to be remitted to ſuch Countries. Molloy, Lib. 2. C. 10. §. 4.

6. Real Exchange was no more but upon Payment of Monies here in England, to be repaid the juſt Value in Money in another Country, according to the Price agreed on between the Officer and Deliverer, to allow or pay, for the Exchange of the Money, and the Loſs of Time. Molloy, Lib. 2. Cap. 10. §. 5.

7. Dry Exchange is, when a Merchant hath Occaſion for 500*l.* ſuppoſe for a certain Time, and would willingly pay Intereſt for the ſame: The Banker being deſirous to take more than Legal Intereſt, and yet to avoid the Statute, offers 500*l.* by Exchange for Calais, or any other Place to which the Merchant agrees; but the Merchant having no Correſpondent there, the Banker deſires him to draw his Bill to be paid at double or treble Uſance at Calais, by any feigned feigned Perſon, at the Price of Exchange then current. Accordingly, the Merchant makes the Bill, and the Banker pays the Monies; which Bill the Banker remits to ſome Friend of his to procure a Proteſt from Calais for Non-acceptance, with the Exchange of the Money from Calais to London; all which, with Coſts, the Merchant is to repay to the Banker; and ſometimes they have been ſo conſcientious as not to make above 30*l. per cent.* by theſe Artifices. This Kind of Uſury was firſt introduced into England by the Jews. See Co. 2. Inſt. fo. 506. Molloy, Lib. 2. Cap. 10. §. 6.

8. Fictitious Exchange is when a Merchant hath Occaſion for Goods to freight out his Ship, but cannot well ſpare the Money. The owner of the Goods intimates, that he muſt have ready Money: The Buyer knowing his Drift, it is agreed that the Seller ſhall take up the Monies by Exchange for Venice, or any other Parts; but then the Merchant muſt pay for Exchange and Re-exchange. Molloy, Lib. 2. Cap. 10. §. 7.

Theſe two laſt Ways of oppreſſing the generous Merchant were afterwards prohibited by 3 & 4 Hen. VII.

9. The juſt and true Exchange for Money by Bills is par pro pari, according to Value for Value; which is grounded on the Weight and Fineneſs of Monies, according to their ſeveral Standards, proportionable to their Valuation; which being truly and juſtly made, aſcertains and reduces the Price of Exchange to a Sum certain, for the Exchange of Money to any Nation or Country whatſoever. Molloy, Lib. 2. Cap. 10. §. 8. See Chap. 3. Sect. 9.

SECT. III.

Of foreign Bills.

1. BILL of Exchange is a Piece of Paper commonly long and narrow, on which is wrote a ſhort Order, given by a Banker, Merchant, Trader, or other Perſon, for paying ſuch a Perſon, or to his Order, or alſo, in ſome Countries, to the Bearer in a diſtant Place, a Sum of Money equivalent to that which ſuch a Banker, Merchant, or Trader has received in his Dwelling Place. Dict. Tr. and Com. 253. Savary's Dict. Tit. Lettre de Change.

2. The Cuſtom of Merchants, in Relation to foreign Bills of Exchange *, ſeems to have prevailed Time out of Mind; and was at firſt introduced for the expedition of Trade and its Safety, and to prevent the Exportation of Money out of the Realm; and, therefore, hath been always countenanced and encouraged, as a Matter of great Eaſe and Advantage to Trade, and is now become Part of the Law of the Land; and, as Bills of Exchange are eſtabliſhed merely by the Cuſtom of Merchants and for their Benefit; ſo their Rules and Cuſtoms are allowed to preſcribe their Form and ſeveral Properties, as to their creating Engagements on the Parties that are concerned in them. 3 New Abr. Law, 602.

5. By this Cuſtom, if a Merchant abroad draw a Bill on a Merchant here, or vice verſa, requeſting him to pay a certain Sum of Money, and the Drawer ſets his Name to it; this amounts to a Promiſe to pay, and ſubjects him, though but a Collateral Engagement, to an Action on the Non-payment. 1 Rol. Abr. 6. Cro. Jac. 306. Cro. Car. 301.

4. A Writ of Error was brought in the Exchequer Chamber upon a Judgment in B. R. where the Plaintiff declared, in Caſe, on the Cuſtom of Merchants, That, if any Merchant, or other trading Perſon, make and direct any Bill of Exchange to another,

* See Malynes's Lex Mercatoria, 269.

payable to a Merchant or any other trading Perſon, and the Bill be tendered, and, for Want of Acceptance, proteſted; in ſuch Caſe the Drawer, by the Cuſtom, is chargeable to pay, &c.———That the Defendant at Paris, in France, did draw a Bill on his Father here in London, payable to the Plaintiff, and the ſame was preſented but refuſed; and he, according to Cuſtom, proteſted the Bill, whereby the Defendant became chargeable, and, in Conſideration of the Premiſes, did aſſume, &c. To this the Defendant pleaded, that he was a Gentleman, the Son and Heir of Dr. Thomas Witherley, and, at the Time of Drawing the Bill, was a Traveller, and at Paris; and that he was no Merchant, nor Trader, nor did ever deal as ſuch, and he was then at Paris as a Gentleman and Traveller, as aforeſaid, abſque hoc, and denies that he is, or ever was, a Merchant, &c. The Plaintiff demurs to the Defendant's Plea, and ſhews, for Cauſe, that it amounts to the general Iſſue, is double and uncertain, &c.

Holt, C. I. It is not every Plea that amounts to the general Iſſue that is ill; and the Cuſtom is the Foundation, and the Plea is an Anſwer to that, and therefore enough: But this drawing a Bill muſt ſurely make him a Trader for that Purpoſe: For we all have Bills directed to us and payable to us, which muſt be all voidable, if the negotiating a Bill will not oblige the Drawer of it. The Judgment for the Defendant was reverſed. Holt's Rep. 113. 2 Ven. 292, 295. Sarsfield v. Witherley, 1 W & M. 1 Show, 125. Comb. 45.

Carth. 82. S. C. Says it was agreed by all that the Judgment ſhould be reverſed accordingly; and that this was, upon Conſideration had of the Inconveniencies which might enſue, and the Suſpicion which might encreaſe among foreign Merchants upon Bills of Exchange, if Perſons who took upon themſelves to draw ſuch Bills, ſhould not be liable to the Payment thereof. See 1 Salk. 125. Hodges and Steward; where it is determined, that the Drawing of a Bill makes a Merchant for that Purpoſe.

5. And

5. And if the Drawee, or he on whom the Bill is drawn, refuſe to accept it, or having accepted it, refuſe to pay it, the Payee, or he in whoſe Favour it is drawn, may proteſt it, and ſhall recover againſt the Drawee, not only the principal Sum, but likewiſe all Intereſt, Coſts and Damages, by Reaſon of the Proteſt or Refuſal of Acceptance, or Payment of the Money. Cro. Car. 301.

6. The Uſe of the Proteſt is this, That it ſignifies to the Drawer, that the Party upon whom he drew his Bill was unwilling, not to be found, or inſolvent, and to let him have timely Notice of the ſame, and to enable the Party to recover againſt the Drawer; for, if one draws a Bill from France upon a Perſon in England, who accepts and fails, or becomes inſolvent at the Time of Payment, if there be not a Proteſt and timely Notice ſent to the Drawer there, it will be difficult to recover the Money. Molloy, Book ii. Chap. 10. §. 31.

7. A Proteſt is no more but to ſubject the Drawer to anſwer in Caſe of Non-acceptance or Non-payment; nor does the ſame diſcharge the Party Acceptor if once accepted; for the Payee, or Perſon to whom payable, hath now two Remedies, one againſt the Drawer, and the other againſt the Acceptor. Molloy, Book ii. Chap. 10. §. 17.———A Proteſt on a foreign Bill is Part of the Cuſtom; per Holt, L. Raym. 993. Borough and Perkins, S. C. in Salk. 131, where it is ſaid to be Part of its Conſtitution.

8. In caſe of foreign Bills of Exchange, the Cuſtom is, that three Days are allowed for Payment of them; and if they are not paid upon the laſt of the ſaid three Days, the Party ought immediately to proteſt the Bill and return it, and by this Means the Drawer will be charged; but if he does not proteſt it the laſt of the three Days, which are called the Days of Grace; there, although he upon whom the Bill is drawn fails, the Drawer will not be chargeable; for it ſhall be reckoned his folly that he did not proteſt: But, if it happens that the laſt of the ſaid three Days is a Sunday, or great Holyday, as Chriſtmas-day, &c. upon which which no Money uſed to be paid, there the Party ought to demand the Money upon the ſecond Day; and if it is not paid, he ought to proteſt the Bill the ſaid ſecond Day; otherwiſe it will be at his own Peril, for the Drawer will not be chargeable. Merchants in Evidence at a Trial at Guildhall, Trin. 7. W. 3. before Holt, Chief-Juſtice, ſwore the Cuſtom of Merchants to be ſuch, which was approved by Holt, Chief-Juſtice *. L. Raym. 743. Taſſel v. Lewis.

9. But tho' the Cuſtom of Merchants, in Relation to Bills of Exchange, be eſtabliſhed by the Common Law, and ſuch Bills, being Securities for Money, are of great Credit among them; yet they are not allowed to be Securities of as high a Nature as Bonds or Specialties; and therefore it hath been adjudged, that a Bill of Exchange is within the † Statute of Limitations, and muſt be ſued for within ſix Years after it becomes payable. 3 New Ab. 602. Carth. 3. Renew v. Axton.

10. So, if a Merchant in London draw a Bill of Exchange on his Correſpondent in Newcaſtle, in favour of J. S. and the Bill is refuſed, and J. S. dies inteſtate, his Adminiſtrator, on Letters of Adminiſtration taken out in Durham, cannot bring an Action on the Cuſtom of Merchants, againſt the Drawer, and lay the ſame in London; for that a Bill of Exchange is not equal to a Bond or Specialty (which are the deceaſed's Goods, where they happen to be at his Death)

* Merchants generally allow three Days after a Bill becomes due for the Payment; and for Non-Payment within three Days Proteſt is made, but is not ſent away till the next Poſt after the Time of Payment is expired. If Saturday is the third Day no Proteſt is made till Monday. Molloy, B. 2. C. 10. §. 30. This is a general Rule, namely, that according to the Cuſtom of Merchants in London, Proteſt ought to be made for Non-Payment within three Days after the Bill falls due, and the Proteſt ought to be ſent away by the firſt Poſt next after the Time of Payment is expired, be it for what Part ſoever. Marius, P. 97.

† Nor are Bills of Exchange, for Value received, ſuch Matters of Account, as are intended by the Exception in the Statute concerning Merchants Accounts. Carth. 226.

but is a ſimple Contract, which follows the Perſon of the Debtor, and makes bona Notabilia * where the Debtor reſides; and therefore Adminiſtration ought to have been taken out in London. 3 New Abr. 603. Carth. 373. Yeoman v. Bradſhaw. Comb. 392. S. C.

11. Alſo this Cuſtom ſhall not prevail againſt the Privilege of Infants †, ſo as to bind them; and accordingly it hath been adjudged, that if an Infant draw a Bill of Exchange, Infancy is a good Plea in Bar to an Action brought againſt him. 3 New Abr. 603. Carth. 160. William v. Harriſon.

12. Bills of Exchange are uſually drawn payable on Sight, ſo many Days after Date, or on ſingle, double or treble Uſances §; and it is frequent to draw two or three for the ſame Sum, and of the ſame Date, for fear of Loſs or Miſcarriage, which carry a ‖ Condition with them that only one ſhall be paid. 3 New Abr. 603. Molloy, B. ii. Chap. 10. § 10.

* Bona Notabilia are ſuch Goods as a Perſon dying has in another Dioceſe than that wherein he dies, amounting to the Value of 5*l.* at leaſt; in which Caſe the Will of the Deceaſed muſt be proved, or Adminiſtration granted, in the Court of the Archbiſhop of the Province; unleſs by Compoſition or Cuſtom, any Dioceſes are authorized to do it, when rated at a greater Sum: And in the City of London Bona Notabilia are 10*l.* But if a Perſon happens to die out of the Dioceſe in which he lived, on a Journey, what he has about him ſhall not be accounted bona Notabilia. Can. 92. Perk. 489. 4 Inſt. 335. 5 Rep. 30.

† Infant here ſignifies a Perſon under the Age of 21.

§ An Uſance is ſaid to be regularly a Month. Molloy, B. 2. Chap. 10. §. 11. 1 Show. 317. But it varies according to the Cuſtoms of particular Countries; and therefore where the Plaintiff declared on a Bill of Exchange, drawn at Amſterdam payable at London at two Uſances, and did not ſhow what the two Uſances were, Judgment was given for the Defendant; for the Court could not take Notice of foreign Uſances, which varied; being longer in one Place than in another. 1 Salk. 131. Buckley v. Cambell. See the Index.

‖ Therefore, if there are three Bills for the ſame Sum, and an Action is brought on one of them, and the Plaintiff declare, that the Money in billa prædicta mentionat. is not paid; this is ſufficient after Verdict, without averring, that it was not paid on the other Bills; becauſe the Sum is the ſame in all the Bills. SECT.

SECT. IV.

Of Inland Bills.

I. INLAND Bills of Exchange are thoſe drawn by one Merchant reſiding in one Part of the Kingdom, on another reſiding in ſome City or Town within the ſame Kingdom; and theſe alſo being found uſeful to Trade and Commerce, have been eſtabliſhed on the ſame Foot with foreign Bills; but at Common Law they differed from them in this, that there was no Cuſtom of proteſting them, ſo as to ſubject the Drawer to Intereſt and Damages in Caſe of Non-Payment, as there was on foreign Bills. 3 New Abr. 603. 1 Salk. 131. Borough v. Perkins.

2. To remedy this Inconveniency, by the 9 & 10 W. 3. Cap. 17. reciting, that great Damages and other Inconveniencies do frequently happen in the Courſe of Trade and Commerce, by Reaſon of Delays of Payment and other Neglects on Inland Bills of Exchange, it is enacted, "That all and every "Bill or Bills of Exchange, drawn in, or dated at "and from any trading City or Town, or any other "Place in the Kingdom of England, Dominion of "Wales, or Town of Berwick upon Tweed, of the "Sum of 5*l.* or upwards, upon any Perſon or Per-"ſons of or in London, or any other trading City "or Town, or any other Place (in which ſaid Bill "or Bills of Exchange ſhall be acknowledged and "expreſſed the ſaid Value to be received) and is, "and ſhall be drawn payable at a certain Number of "Days, Weeks or Months after Date thereof; that "from and after Preſentation and Acceptance of the "ſaid Bill or Bills of Exchange (which Acceptance "ſhall be by the Under-writing the ſame under the "Party's Hand ſo accepting) and after the Expira-"tion of three Days after the ſaid Bill or Bills ſhall "become due, the Party to whom the ſaid Bill or

" ſence of two or more credible Witneſſes; Refuſal " or Neglect being firſt made of due Payment of the " under a fair written Copy of the ſaid Bill of Ex" change, in the Words or Form following." Know all Men that I A. B. on the Day of at the uſual Place of Abode of the ſaid have demanded Payment of the Bill, of which the above is the Copy, which the ſaid did not pay; wherefore I the ſaid do hereby Proteſt the ſaid Bill. Dated at this Day of

" Which Proteſt ſo made as aforeſaid, ſhall
" within fourteen Days after making thereof be ſent,
" or otherwiſe due Notice ſhall be given thereof to
" the Party from whom the ſaid Bill or Bills were " received, who is, upon producing ſuch Proteſt, to " repay the ſaid Bill or Bills, together with all In-" tereſt and Charges from the Day ſuch Bill or Bills

" reſt, which do and ſhall accrue thereby.

" Provided,

* In inland as well as foreign Bills of Exchange, the Perſon to whom it is payable muſt give convenient Notice of Non Payment to the Drawer; for if by his Delay the Drawer receive Prejudice, the Plaintiff ſhall recover: A Proteſt on a foreign Bill was Part of its Conſtitution; on inland Bills a Proteſt is neceſſary by this Statute; but was not at Common Law; but the Statutes does not take away the Plaintiff's Action for Want of a Proteſt nor does it make ſuch Want a Bar to the Plaintiff's Action; but this Statute ſeems only in Caſe there be no Proteſt, to deprive the Plaintiff of Damages or Intereſt, and to give the Drawer a Remedy againſt him for

" Provided, nevertheleſs, that in caſe any ſuch in" land Bill or Bills of Exchange ſhall happen to be

" ſaid Bill or Bills is, and ſhall be obliged to give an" other Bill or Bills of the ſame Tenor with thoſe

" againſt all Perſons whatſoever, in caſe the ſaid Bill

" carried, ſhall be found again."

3. But this Statute was defective, becauſe it could not operate, unleſs the Party, on whom the Bill was drawn, accepted it by underwriting the ſame, which few or none cared to do. 3 New Abr. 604.

4. To remedy which Inconveniency, by the 3 & 4 Anne, cap. 9. it is enacted, " That in caſe, upon " preſenting any ſuch Bill or Bills of Exchange, the " Party, or Parties, on whom the ſame ſhall be " drawn, ſhall refuſe to accept the ſame by under" writing the ſame as aforeſaid, the Party to whom

" Coſts, Damages, and Intereſt upon ſuch Inland
" Bill, if any one Proteſt be made for Non-accept" ance or Non-payment thereof, and Notice thereof
" be ſent, given, or left, as aforeſaid.

" quired for Non-acceptance ſhall be made by ſuch
" Perſons as are appointed by the above Statute, 9
" and 10 W. 3.

" And it is further enacted by the ſaid Stat. 3 and
" 4 Anne, that if any Perſon doth accept any ſuch
" Bill of Exchange, for and in Satisfaction of any " former Debt or Sum of Money formerly due to " him, the ſame ſhall be accounted and eſteemed a " full and compleat Payment of ſuch Debt; if ſuch
" Perſon accepting of any ſuch Bill for his Debt
" doth not take his due Courſe to obtain Payment
" thereof, by endeavouring to get the ſame accepted " and paid and make his Proteſt as aforeſaid, either " for Non-Acceptance or for Non-Payment thereof.

" Provided that nothing herein contained ſhall " extend to diſcharge any Remedy that any Perſon " may have againſt the Drawer, Acceptor or Indorſer " of ſuch Bill."

5. A. having a Bill of Exchange payable to him, and he being indebted to B. in a Sum of Money, ſends and indorſes this Bill to B. Afterwards B. brought Aſſumpſit againſt A. for the Money, and on Non-Aſſumpſit, A. gave in Evidence this Bill of Exchange indorſed, and that it had lain ſo long in B's Hands after it was payable, and reckoned it as Money paid and in his Hands, but it was diſallowed; for a Bill ſhall never go in Diſcharge of a precedent Debt, except it be Part of the Contract that it ſhould be ſo. If A. ſells goods to B. and B. is to give a Bill in ſatisfaction, B. is diſcharged though the Bill is never paid; for the Bill is Payment: But otherwiſe a Bill ſhould never diſcharge a precedent Debt or Contract; but if Part be received, it ſhall be only a Diſcharge of the old Debt for ſo much. 1 Salk. 124. Clark v. Mundal.

6. The Defendant took up ſeveral Goods of the Plaintiff, who ſent his ſervant with a Bill to him for the Money. The Defendant orders the Servant to write him a Receipt in full of the Bill, which he did, and thereupon he gave him a Note upon a third Perſon, payable in two Months: The Maſter ſent ſeveral Times to the third Perſon, to preſent him the Note, but could not get Sight of him within the Time; the Party breaks, and all this appearing in Evidence, and that the Defendant went to Sea the next Day after he gave the Note; now this Action was brought againſt the Defendant for the Money.

Holt, Ch. Juſtice. If a Man gives a Note upon a third Perſon in Payment, and the other takes it abſolutely as Payment; yet if the Party giving it knew the third Perſon to be breaking, or to be in a failing Condition, and the Receiver of the Note uſes all reaſonable Diligence to get Payment but cannot, this is a fraud, and therefore no Payment; and here was no Laches in the Plaintiff; for the Party failed before the Money was payable. The Chief Juſtice directed for the Plaintiff. Holt's Rep. 122. Popley v. Aſhley.

SECT. V.

What ſhall be deemed a Bill of Exchange within the Cuſtom of Merchants.

1. AS the Cuſtom of Merchants hath eſtabliſhed theſe Bills and Notes; ſo hath it preſcribed their Form, and required that the ſame ſhould be in Writing, and drawn by the Party, or thoſe having legal Authority from him; and ſuch Drawing raiſes a Contract to pay the ſame without any expreſs Promiſe. 3 New Ab. 606. Carth. 510. Salk. 128. Starky v. Cheeſman.

2. As to the * Form of the Bill, it is ſaid, that the ſame Strictneſs and Nicety are not required in penning of Bills current between Merchant and Merchant, as in Deeds, Wills, &c. On the other Hand it may happen that a Writing may have the Form of a Bill of Exchange, and yet be otherwiſe. 3 New Ab. 606. Lucas 287.

3. As if A. draw a Bill in this Form; Sir, pray pay to H. 1945*l. upon Demand out of the Money belonging to the Proprietors of the* Devonſhire Mines, being Part of the Conſideration-Money for the Purchaſe of the Manor of Weſt-Buckland. This is no ſuch Bill of Exchange as will intitle H. to an Action againſt the Drawer on the Cuſtom of Merchants; for it is only a Direction or Appointment to the Caſhier to pay the Money, and that out of a particular Fund, and doth not anſwer the Neceſſity of Trade, not being a negotiable Note nor indorſible over; and charging the Drawer on ſuch a Note, would be liable to this further Inconveniency, that hereby every one who gives his Steward an Order or Authority to pay Money, might be charged for Non-Payment. Stran. 591. 3 Geo. 1. Jenney v. Herle. L. Raym. 1361. S. C.

* There are no preciſe Words neceſſary to be uſed in a Bill of Exchange or Promiſſory Note. 2 Ld. Raym. Rep. 1397. Trin. 11 Geo. I. cites Raſt. 338. and ſays, that Deliver ſuch a ſum of Money, makes a good Bill of Exchange.

4. So where a Bill drawn by an Officer upon his Agent, requiring him to pay ſo much out of his growing Subſiſtence, was held no Bill of Exchange, nor the Drawee liable, though he accepted ſuch Bill; for it concerns neither Trade nor Credit; but is to be paid out of the growing Subſiſtence of the Drawer; ſo that if the Party die, or the Fund be taken away, the Payment is to ceaſe and determine. And it would be of dangerous Conſequence to make thoſe Orders which a Man gives to his Steward or Bailiff, no way concerning Trade, to be Bills of Exchange. L. Raym. 1361. 1 Geo. 1. Jocelyn v. Laſerre.

5. In Action upon the Caſe upon ſeveral Promiſes, the Plaintiff in his firſt Count declared, that one Thomas Rogers, 8th Auguſt, 1728, &c. according to the Cuſtom of Merchants, his certain Bill of Exchange with his own Hand and in the Name of the ſaid Thomas ſubſcribed, did make, dated the ſame Day and Year, and directed the ſaid Bill of Exchange to the ſaid Rogers, and thereby requeſted the ſaid Rogers to pay the ſaid Henry, or his Order, 14*l.* 3*s.* out of the fifth Payment when it ſhould become due, and it ſhould be allowed by the ſaid Thomas, which was afterwards accepted by the Defendant, ratione quorum præmiſſorum, the Defendant became liable to pay the ſaid 14*l.* 3*s.* to the Plaintiff Henry, and ſo being liable, promiſed to pay, &c. Then there were other Counts in the Declaration, to which Counts the Defendant pleaded non aſſumpſit, &c. and as to this Count the Defendant demurred. And it was inſiſted upon by Mr. Parker for the Defendant, that this Action was not maintainable upon this Bill as a Bill of Exchange, according to the Reſolutions in the Caſe of Jocelyn v. Lacerre and Jenney v. Herle (the two foregoing Caſes) and of that Opinion was the Court, and gave Judgment for the Defendant. L. Raym. 1563. 3 Geo. 2. Haydock v. Lynch.

6. Error of a Judgment in C. B. wherein the Plaintiff declares, that A. B. drew a Bill of Exchange, dated 25th of May, whereby he requeſted the Defendant one Month after Date to pay the Plaintiff or Order 9*l.* 10*s.* "as my quarterly Half-Pay, to be due from 24th June to 27th September next by Advance." And the Action is againſt the Defendant upon his Acceptance. It was objected that this was no Bill of Exchange; becauſe it is not to pay in all Events, but is left to the Pleaſure of the Perſon on whom it is drawn either to advance the Money or not: And it was compared to the Caſe of Jocelyn v. Laſerre (the laſt but one) which was to pay out of his growing Subſiſtence, and to the Caſe of Jenney v. Herle (the laſt but two) which was payable out of a particular Fund, and in both Caſes held to be as no Bill of Exchange. Sed per Curiam, the quarterly Half-Pay is a certain Fund, which the growing Subſiſtence was not: The Mention of the Half-Pay is only by way of Direction how he ſhall reimburſe himſelf, but the Money is ſtill to be advanced on the Credit of the Perſon. The Reaſon it was held no Bill of Exchange in Jenney v. Herle was, becauſe it was no more than a private Order to a Man's Servant. Judgment affirmed. Stran. 762. 13 Geo. 1. Mackleod v. Snee & al. L. Raym. 1481.

7. The Plaintiff declared upon the Cuſtom of Merchants againſt the Defendants as Acceptors of a Bill of Exchange, and the Inſtrument ran in theſe Words:

Meſſrs. Gilly and Co.

Pray pay Mr. Richard Banbury one Month after Date two hundred Pounds on Account of Freight of the Veale Galley, Edward Champion, and this Order ſhall be your ſufficient Diſcharge for the ſame. J. GIBSON.

Accepted for Liſſet and Gilly of Leghorne to pay as remitted from thence at Uſance.

18 March, 1748. H. GILLY.

Ard

And two Objections were made by the Defendants: 1ſt, That this was not a Bill of Exchange; for it is not payable to Order, ſo as to be negotiable: It is not ſaid to be for Value received: And it is only an Order upon a particular Fund, like the Caſe of Jenney v. Herle (Page 18) and ſeveral Merchants proved that they did not look upon it to be a Bill of Exchange; and others were of a contrary Opinion.

The Chief Juſtice ruled it not to be a Bill of Exchange. He ſaid it was not in the Power of the Parties to make what Form they pleaſe paſs for ſuch a Bill; it ought to be agreeable to the Lex Mercatoria: The Privilege ariſes from the Convenience to Trade, which is not conſulted in this Caſe. And he thought it bad upon the Objection of the Fund out of which it was to be paid: However, being a mercantile Tranſaction, he left it to the ſpecial Jury of Merchants; who found it to be no Bill of Exchange on the Objection for want of Value received.

The Second Objection was, that the Plaintiff (ſuppoſing it a Bill of Exchange) had not ſhewn there was any Remittance to the Defendants; and that this was not an abſolute Acceptance, but only conditional: And ſo the Chief Juſtice declared he underſtood it, and left it to the Jury. But they finding for the Defendants upon the firſt Point, gave no Opinion as to this. Stran. 1211. 17 Geo. 2. Banbury v. Liſſet and Gilly.

8. In Caſe for Money had and received to the Plaintiff's Uſe, the Defendant pleaded Non aſſumpſit, and gave Notice to ſet off the following Bill of Exchange, directed to J. S. "Sir, at ſix weeks after "Date pay to Benjamin Wheatley, Eſq; or Order, "eight Guineas, for your humble Servant, John "Pierce. London, Auguſt 23d, 1736." At the Trial it was objected, and agreed to by the Court, firſt, that this was not a Bill of Exchange within the Cuſtom of Merchants, nor could be taken Advantage of as ſuch, either by way of Set off, or by an Action brought upon it; nor would it be any Sort of Evidence of Money lent; there being no Conſideration, either appearing on the Note, or offered to be proved, and it is nothing more than a bare Power or Authority to receive ſo much to the Plaintiff's Uſe. Secondly, that if it had mounted to a Bill of Exchange, yet the Laches of the Defendant, is not demanding the Money, and giving Notice in Caſe of Non-Payment for ſo long a Time, would effectually diſcharge the Plaintiff; and accordingly the Plaintiff had a Verdict, at the Sittings in C. B. at Weſtminſter, before Lord Chief Juſtice Willes, after Trin. Term, 1742. Pierce v. Wheatley. Vin. Ab. Tit. Bills of Exchange. (A) 20.

9. Pay to me or my order ſo much, is a Bill of Exchange if accepted; and this is the Way to make a Bill of Exchange without the Intervention of a third Perſon. 1 Salk. 130. Trin. 2 Ann. B. R. Butler v. Crips.

SECT. VI.

Of the Acceptance.——What ſhall be deemed a good Acceptance.——Whoſe Acceptance ſhall bind.

1. THE Acceptance of a Bill of Exchange is the ſubſcribing, ſigning, and making a Perſon Debtor for the Sum of its Contents; by obliging him in his own Name, to diſcharge it at the Time mentioned therein. The Acceptance is uſually made by the Perſon upon whom the Bill is drawn, when it is preſented to him by the Bearer. Dict. Tr. and Com. 5. Savary's Dict. Tit. Acceptation.

2. A very ſmall Matter will amount to an Acceptance; and any words will be ſufficient for that Purpoſe, which ſhew the Party's Aſſent or Agreement to pay the Bill; as if upon the Tender thereof to him, he ſubſcribes accepted, or accepted by me A. B. or I accept the Bill, and will pay it according to the Contents;

Contents; theſe clearly amount to an Acceptance Malloy, Book 2. Chap. 10. §. 15.

3. If the Party under-writes the Bill, preſented ſuch a Day, or only the Day of the Month; this is ſuch an Acknowledgement of the Bill as amounts to an Acceptance. 3 New Abr. 610. Comb. 401.

4. If the Party ſays, leave your Bill with me and I will accept it, or call for it To-morrow and it ſhall be accepted; theſe Words, according to the Cuſtom of Merchants, as effectually bind, as if he had actually ſigned or ſubſcribed his Name according to the uſual Manner.

But if a Man ſays, leave your Bill with me, I will look over my Accounts and Books between the Drawer and me, and call To-morrow and accordingly the Bill ſhall be accepted; this does not amount to a compleat Acceptance; for the Mention of his Books and Accounts ſhews plainly that he intended only to accept the Bill, in Caſe he had Effects of the Drawer's in his Hands. And ſo it was ruled by the Lord Chief Juſtice Hale at Guildhall. Molloy, Book 2. Chap. 10. §. 20.

5. A Foreign Bill was drawn on the Defendant, and being returned for want of Acceptance, the Defendant ſaid, that if the Bill came back again he would pay it; this was ruled a good Acceptance. 3 New Abr. 610. cites Mich. 6 Geo. 1. B. R. Car v. Coleman.

6. The Defendant was ſued as Acceptor of a Bill of Exchange. And upon the Evidence it appeared to be a parol Acceptance only, which the Chief Juſtice ruled to be ſufficient, that being good at Common Law, and the Stat. 3 & 4 Anne, Cap. 9, which requires it to be in Writing in order to charge the Drawer with Damages and Coſts, having a Proviſoe that it ſhall not extend to diſcharge any Remedy that any Perſon may have againſt the Acceptor. Upon this Direction the Jury found for the Plaintiff. But the Chief Juſtice of the Common Pleas having lately ruled it otherwiſe, the Court was moved for a new Trial.

And, in order finally to ſettle this Point, it was ordered to be argued: And after Argument the Court was of Opinion, that the Direction in the preſent Cauſe was right and agreeable to conſtant Practice. Stran. 1000. 8 Geo. 2. Lumley v. Palmer.

7. The Bill was for Satisfaction of a Bill of Exchange drawn upon the Defendant and accepted by him. Pending the Suit, the original Defendant died, and it was revived againſt his Executors; praying alſo a Diſcovery of Aſſets, and to be ſatisfied thereout. On the Proofs ſome Queſtion was made, whether the Acceptance was ſufficient to charge the Defendant, and whether the Plaintiff by keeping the Note about ten Days after it became due, without coming to the Drawee for the Money, had not diſcharged the Acceptor? But it was inſiſted for the Defendant as a previous Matter, that the Plaintiff had a plain Remedy at Law; that his Caſe depended upon Facts that ought to be tried by a Jury, and not be determined in this Court.

Hardwicke Lord Chancellor. Regularly the Plaintiff ought to purſue his Remedy at Law, and not in this Court: And, if the Caſe ſtood as it did at firſt, I ſhould certainly diſmiſs the Bill; but the Bill of Revivor praying a Satisfaction out of Aſſets, and a Diſcovery of Aſſets, it is made a Caſe of which this Court takes Cognizance, and then the Prayer of Satisfaction is an incident that follows with it. I have therefore, no Doubt but that the Plaintiff is proper in praying a Remedy in this Court. But with regard to the Acceptance, if there were a Doubt of it, as to the Fact, or whether in Law what has been done amounts to an Acceptance, it might be ſtill neceſſary to ſend the Parties to a Trial at Law; but I think there is no Doubt of either. The Teſtator, when the Bill was brought to him, received it, entered it in his Book, according to his courſe of Trade, and the Entry is proved to have been made under a particular Number, and wrote that Number under the Bill and returned it. Now it is ſaid to be the Cuſtom of Merchants, chants, that if a Man under-writes any thing to a Bill, it amounts to an Acceptance. But if there were more than this in the Caſe, I ſhould think it of little Avail to charge the Defendant; but what determines me is the Teſtator's Letters; and I think there can be no Doubt, but that an Acceptance may be by Letter, and it has been ſo determined. There was a Doubt whether a parol Acceptance be good. Lord Chief Juſtice Eyre held it was; Lord Raymond held the Contrary, and there was a like Caſe came once before me at Niſi prius, Lumley and Palmer (the preceding Caſe) and I had a Caſe made of it for the Opinion of the Court, and it was ſeveral Times argued, and at laſt ſolemnly determined, that ſuch Acceptance is good; much more therefore an Acceptance by Letter.

As to the Plaintiff's being intitled to Intereſt, I think it a clear Caſe that he is, though no Proteſt has been made; for that is neceſſary only to intitle the Payee to Damages againſt the Drawer, and all the Damage that can be had in ſuch a Caſe is the Intereſt.——Decree for the Defendant to pay the Note with Intereſt, at the Rate of four per Cent. the Plaintiff to pay the Coſts to the Time of the Bill of Revivor, and after each Party to bear their own Coſts. Dict. Tr. and Com. 10 Geo. 2. In Chan. Powell and Moliere.

8. Caſe upon a Bill of Exchange againſt the Acceptor. And it was objected, that the Plaintiff ſhould not be admitted to prove the Acceptance, until he had proved the Hand of the Drawer. And a Difference was taken between this Caſe, and the Caſe of an Action againſt the Indorſer, who is liable tho' the Bill be not ſigned by the Perſon who is ſuppoſed to draw it: Becauſe an Indorſer is in the Nature of a new Drawer; whereas an Acceptor is not liable, unleſs the Bill was fairly ſigned by the Drawer. But as to this the Chief Juſtice was of Opinion, that the Proof of an Acceptance was a ſufficient Acknowledgement on the Part of the Acceptor, who muſt be ſuppoſed ſuppoſed to know the Hand of his own Correſpondent: but he ſaid it would not be concluſive Evidence; and therefore if the Defendant could ſhew the contrary, the reading the Bill on behalf of the Plaintiff ſhould not preclude him. Whereupon the Bill was read, and the Queſtion came upon the Validity of the Acceptance. As to which the Caſe was this: The Bill was drawn from New-England, for a Sum of Money advanced there to fit out a Ship that had put in there after having been taken by Pirates. The Bill was drawn upon the Defendant, who was the Freighter; and, he living at Whitehaven, the Plaintiff applied to a Merchant in London who was his Correſpondent, to get him to ſend this Bill, and another of 150*l.* drawn by the ſame Perſon, and on the ſame Account. He ſent both Bills incloſed to the Defendant, who by Letter acknowledged the Receipt of them; and writes thus: "The two Bills of Exchange, which you ſent me, I will pay them in caſe the Owners of the Queen Anne do not; and, they living in Dublin, muſt firſt apply to them. I hope to have their Anſwer in a Week or ten Days. I do not expect they will pay them, but I judge it proper to take their Anſwer before I do; which I requeſt you will acquaint Mr. Wilkinſon with, and that he may reſt ſatisfied of the Payment." In another Letter he writes, "I have not had an Opportunity of ſending the Bills you ſent me to the Owners of the Queen Anne to Ireland, but will take the firſt Opportunity, and then ſhall remit to the Gentleman concerned, according to my Promiſe."

The Defendant upon this paid the 150*l.* Bill; but in this Action inſiſted, that it did not amount to an Acceptance, being only conditional, to pay it in caſe the Owners of the Queen Anne did not; and his Promiſe to procure it from them was in Favour of the Plaintiff. But the Chief Juſtice was of Opinion, that it was rather in Favour of himſelf; and he having undertaken to write to them, it was not incumbent on the Plaintiff to ſhew any Application to them; and as to the Acceptance, it was in his Opinion a very ſtrong one: The Bill was preſented to the Defendant: Says he, this is a good Bill, and I will pay it; you need not proteſt it, for it ſhall be paid; I only deſire, that for my Convenience you would ſtay till I can write to the Owners in Ireland, who I do not expect will do any thing in it: This will be of Service to me; and as to you, you ſhall be ſecured, for I promiſe you ſhall have the Money in all Events.——The Bill being payable thirty Days after Sight, the Jury gave Intereſt from thirty Days after the Date of the firſt Letters, which acknowledged the Receipt of the Bill. Strange, 648. Wilkinſon, v. Lutwidge.

9. The Defendant accepted a Bill of Exchange to pay it when the Goods conſigned to him, and for which the Bill was drawn, were ſold. And the Plaintiff declared upon the Cuſtom of Merchants. After a Verdict for the Plaintiff, it was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That this Acceptance depending on the Contingency of the Sale of the Goods, was not within the Cuſtom of Merchants, or negotiable. But the Court upon Conſideration, held it good. For tho' the Plaintiff might have refuſed to take ſuch an Acceptance, and have proteſted the Bill, yet no body can ſay he might not ſubmit to it. And it will affect Trade, if Factors are not allowed to uſe this Caution, when Bills are drawn before they have an Opportunity to diſpoſe of the Goods. A Man who is drawn upon to pay at 10 Days Sight, may accept for 30; though the other might proteſt the Bill. Stran. 1152. Smith, v. Abbot.

10. It is held, that an Acceptance may be qualified, as thus: I accept this Bill, half to be paid in Money and half in Bills. And this is good by the Cuſtom of Merchants; for he who may refuſe the Bill totally may accept it in Part; but he to whom the Bill is due may refuſe ſuch Acceptance, and proteſt it ſo as to charge the Drawer. Alſo it is ſaid, that after ſuch Acceptance, and Refuſal of Payment, he hath the ſame Liberty of charging the Drawer, that he he had in caſe the Bill had been accepted abſolutely, and Payment refuſed. 3 New Abr. 611. Cumb. 452. Petit, v. Benſon.

11. The Plaintiff declared on a Bill of Exchange drawn by J. S. on the Defendant, dated the 25th of March 1696, payable a Month after Sight, and that afterwards, to wit, 27th of April 1697, he ſhewed it to the Defendant, and he promiſed to pay it ſecundum tenorem billæ prædictæ. After Verdict for the Plaintiff, on non aſſumpſit it was moved, in Arreſt of Judgment, that this Manner of declaring was abſurd, it being impoſſible to pay ſecundum tenorem billæ at the Time of the Promiſe. Et per Cur. Where the Time of Payment is paſt at the Acceptance of the Bill, the Acceptance can be only to pay the Money; and if he was ſo abſurd as to promiſe to pay the Money ſecundum tenorem billæ, yet that is no more in Law now, than a Promiſe to pay the Money generally. But it is better to declare, in ſuch a Caſe, on a general Promiſe to pay the Money. 1 Salk. 127. Jackſon, v. Pigot. Cath. 459. S. C. L. Raym. 364. S. C.

12. In Aſſumpſit the Plaintiff declared upon a Bill of Exchange, drawn the 28th of October at double Uſance for 700 Ducats payable at Amſterdam, which the Defendant accepted the 31ſt of December following, per quod devenit onerabilis to pay the Bill, & in conſideratione inde, the ſame Day and Year he aſſumed to pay it ſecundum tenorem & formam billæ prædictæ. Upon non aſſumpſit pleaded Verdict for the Plaintiff. Sir Bartholomew Shower moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That the Time of Payment of the Bill being expired at the Time of the Acceptance, it was impoſſible that the Defendant ſhould aſſume to pay it ſecundum tenorem billæ, for that was out of his Power. And tho' this Acceptance was within the three Days of Grace, viz. the laſt Day, within which Time Payment is good, and no Proteſt for Want of Payment can be made until the ſaid Days are elapſed, yet it is a Breach not to have paid the Money within the Uſance; and the Plaintiff has no need to ſay in his Declaration Declaration upon a Bill of Exchange, that he did not pay it within the Days of Grace; but if the Fact was that it was then paid, it ought to be ſhewn of the other Side. So that here the Time of Payment was elapſed at the Time of Acceptance; and therefore it was impoſſible to accept it then to be paid ſecundum tenorem billæ. And this Objection is the ſtronger in reſpect of the Diſtance of the Place; for, admitting that Payment within any of the three Days of Grace would be according to the Tenor of the Bill, yet when the Acceptance here was upon the laſt of the ſaid Days, it was impoſſible to pay the Money to the Plaintiff the ſame Day at Amſterdam. 2. The Acceptance here is not good, becauſe no Houſe is mentioned, where the Bill ſhould be paid. Mr. Hall for the Plaintiff cited the Caſe of * Jackſon and Pigot, as a Caſe adjudged in Point. And Mr. Northey for the Plaintiff ſaid, that there might be ſome difficulty if the Action had been brought againſt the firſt Drawer; but none where the Defendant is chargeable by his own Acceptance; for a Man may tender a Bill to be accepted after the Time of Payment is expired, to oblige the Acceptor if he will accept it, but not to affect the Drawer.

Holt Chief Juſtice. There muſt be ſuch Acceptance as will bind the Acceptor, and that is ſufficient. As if a Bill of Exchange be payable at London, and the Perſon upon whom it is drawn accepts it, but names no Houſe where he will pay it; the Party that has the Bill is not bound to be ſatisfied with this Acceptance, but nevertheleſs if he will be content with it, it will bind the Acceptor. So if A. draws a Bill upon B. who refuſes to accept it; and C. rather than it ſhall be proteſted, accepts it for the Honour of A. this Acceptance will bind C. So if a Man offer to B. a Bill of Exchange payable in Amſterdam, and B. refuſes to accept it unleſs ſome Merchant in London will ſign it; if the Merchant ſigns, he becomes Acceptor for the Honour of the Drawer. Acceptance after the

* The laſt Caſe.

Day

Day of Payment is common, and there is no Inconvenience in it. And Holt Chief Juſtice ſaid, that he remembered a Caſe where an Action was brought upon a Bill of Exchange, and the Plaintiff declared upon the Bill, where it was negotiated after the Day of Payment; and a Queſtion was made, Whether the Plaintiff could declare upon the Bill, or whether he ought to bring Indebitatus aſſumpſit? And he ſaid, that he had all the eminent Merchants in London with him at his Chamber at Serjeants Inn, in the long Vacation, about two Years ago; and they all held it to be very common, and a very good Practice. And as to the Matter of the Secundum formam, &c. it is the Payment of the Money that is the Subſtance of the Promiſe; and ſo it was held in the Caſe of Jackſon and Pigot. Judgment for the Plaintiff, L. Raym. 574. 1 W. 3. Mutford v. Walcot. 1 Salk. 129 S. C.

13. In caſe on a Bill of Exchange the Plaintiff ſets forth, that there is a Cuſtom, that if any Merchant in London draws his Bill or Bills upon any Merchant in Rotterdam, payable to any Merchant or Order, and if the Merchant there accept any ſuch Bill, and before the Acceptance or after, the Merchant to whoſe Order the Money is directed to be paid, doth indorſe it to any other Merchant, and that other Merchant doth indorſe it to ſome other, and the Merchant, to whom the Bill is directed, accepts it after ſuch Indorſement, and fails in Payment to the Merchant to whom indorſed at the Time limited, whereby the Bill becomes proteſted, and Notice thereof is given to the Drawer; that, in ſuch Caſes, the Drawer becomes liable to pay the ſame with Damage to the Indorſer. That the Defendant drew a Bill of Exchange, 19th November 1688, on Edward Williams, payable in two Months and a half, to the Order of one Hartopp, for 300*l.* Value of himſelf; and Hartopp the ſame Day indorſed it to Marques, and Marques indorſed it to the Plaintiff: That the Plaintiff afterwards, viz. 8th February 1689, gave notice to Williams, and he then accepted accepted the Bill: That Williams failed to pay it, and, by Reaſon thereof, the ſaid 8th February the Bill was proteſted; of which Proteſt the Defendant had notice the 28th of April, and did not pay it.

The Defendant demurred generally to the Declaration, the Bill not being accepted till after the Day of Payment was expired; and it was inſiſted, that the Proteſt ſhould have been for Non-acceptance within the Time, and Failure of Payment at the Time.

By Holt C. J. the Law of Merchants made him liable who was the Drawer of the Bill, tho' the Acceptance were after the Day; for it need not be tendered within the Time. Now by that Law the Drawer is chargeable by the Value received; and tho' the Money were not paid, or the Bill preſented within the Time mentioned, yet it ought ſtill to be paid; and if the Party do not tender and proteſt at the Day, and the Perſon upon whom the Bill is drawn fails in the mean time, he loſes his Money; otherwiſe if there be no particular Damage. Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Holt's Rep. 114. 3 W. & M. Megadara v. Holt.

14. A Bill once accepted cannot be revoked by the Party that accepted it, tho' immediately after, and before the Bill becomes due, he hath Advice that the Drawer is broke.

If a Bill is not accepted to be paid at the exact Time, it muſt be proteſted; but if accepted for a longer Time, the Party to whom the Bill is made payable muſt proteſt the ſame for want of Acceptance according to the Tenor; yet he may take the Acceptance offered notwithſtanding. Nor can the Party, if he once ſubſcribes the Bill for a longer Time, revoke the ſame, or blot out his Name, altho' it is not according to the Tenor of the Bill; for by his Acceptance he hath made himſelf Debtor, and owns the Draught made by his Friend upon him, whoſe Right another Man cannot give away, and therefore cannot refuſe or diſcharge the Acceptance.

Note,

Note, This Caſe will admit of two Proteſts, perhaps three.

1. One Proteſt muſt be made for not accepting according to the Time.

2. For that the Money, being demanded according to the Time mentioned in the Bill, was not paid.

3. If the Money is not paid according to the Time that the Acceptor ſubſcribed or accepted.

A Bill was drawn payable the firſt of January; the Perſon upon whom the Bill was drawn, accepts it to be paid the firſt of March; the ſervant brings back the Bill. The Maſter, perceiving this enlarged Acceptance, ſtrikes out the firſt of March, and puts in the firſt of January, and then ſends the Bill to be paid. The Acceptor then refuſes. Whereupon the Perſon, to whom the Monies were to be paid, ſtrikes out the firſt of January, and puts in the firſt of March again. On an Action brought on this Bill; the Queſtion was, Whether theſe Alterations did not deſtroy the Bill? And ruled they did not. Per L. Ch. Juſtice Pemberton. Price & Shute. Paſch. 33 Car. 2. in B. R. Molloy, B. 2. C. 10. §. 28.

15. A Bill may be accepted for Part; for that the Party upon whom the ſame was drawn, had no more Effects in his Hands; which being uſually done there muſt be a Proteſt, if not for the whole Sum, yet at leaſt for the Reſidue: However, after Payment of ſuch Part, there muſt be a Proteſt for the Remainder.

Before the Time of Payment of the Bill, the Party may notwithſtanding accept it, and pay it at the Time of Payment; or another may accept the Bill for the Honour of the Drawer, and if he pay it in Default of the Party, yet before Payment he is bound to make a Proteſt, with a Declaration that he hath paid the ſame for the Honour of the Drawer, whereby to receive his Money again. Molloy, B 2. C. 10. §. 21.

16. Action upon the Caſe upon the Cuſtom of Merchants brought by the Perſon to whom the foreign Bill of Exchange is made payable, againſt the Acceptor. And the Declaration ſets forth, that one

James

James Collet, being a Merchant reſiding at Chriſtiana in Norway, according to the Cuſtom of Merchants, drew his firſt Bill of Exchange, upon the Defendant, requeſting him to pay the Plaintiff ſuch firſt Bill (his ſecond not being paid) of 127 l. 18 s. 4 d. which Bill was afterwards, viz. 9th December 1717, ſhewed to the Defendant, who accepted to pay 100 l. Part thereof upon the 8th Day of February following; by virtue whereof he became chargeable, et in conſideratione inde eiſdem die et anno ultimo ſupradictis ſuper ſe aſſumpſit, to pay the ſame on the ſaid 8th Day of February tunc prox' ſequentem, which he has not done according to his Undertaking. There is likewiſe a Count for Monies had and received, and an Inſimul computaſſent. The Defendant as to thoſe two Counts pleads Non aſſumpſit, and as to the Count upon the Bills, he pleads, that the ſaid James Collet drew another Bill for 100 l. only, wherein he countermands the Payment of the odd 27 l. 18 s. 4 d. by virtue whereof the Defendant paid the 100 l. in Satisfaction of the firſt Bill, and the Plaintiff accordingly received it in Satisfaction. The Plaintiff proteſtando that the Defendant did not receive it in Satisfaction, for Plea ſaith that he never received it in Satisfaction. And to this Replication Defendant demurs.

Strange for the Defendant. I ſhall not trouble the Court with an Exception which has formerly been taken to theſe Replications; That the Payment in Satisfaction being admitted, the Traverſe of the Acceptance is immaterial: for I am ſenſible it has been adjudged to be well enough in the Caſe of Young, v. Ruddle, Salk. 627. and of Hawkſhaw, v. Rawlins in this Court, Hil. 3d of his preſent Majeſty (Strange 23.) upon this Ground, that there can be no Payment in Satisfaction, without an Acceptance in Satisfaction; and therefore a Traverſe of the Acceptance is an argumentative Denial of the Payment; for if the Plaintiff did not accept it in Satisfaction, the Conſequence of that is, that it was not paid in Satisfaction.

Laying therefore the Plea and Replication aſide, I ſhall take up the Caſe as it ſtands upon the Declaration, and upon that offer ſome Things diſtinctly, both as to the Matter, and as to the Manner of it.

As to the Matter of it, the Caſe is no more than this: The Perſon to whom a foreign Bill of Exchange is made payable, brings his Action againſt the Drawee, upon a partial Acceptance for ſo much of it as he undertook to pay, and counts upon the Cuſtom of Merchants.

The Single Point which will ariſe upon this Caſe is, Whether a partial Acceptance be good, or not, within the Cuſtom of Merchants? And I ſhall endeavour to prove that this Acceptance is a void Acceptance, and conſequently the Plaintiff has no Cauſe of Action.

That I may not be miſunderſtood when I call this a void Acceptance, I ſhould premiſe, that I do not mean it is ſo abſolutely void, as to exclude any Remedy againſt the Acceptor; for I muſt admit, that this Acceptance will create a Contract between the Parties, upon which an Action upon the Caſe would have laid. But what I ſhall inſiſt upon is, that this is a void Acceptance within the Cuſtom of Merchants, upon which the Plaintiff has founded his Caſe; and if it be void within the Cuſtom of Merchants, then, whatever Effect it would have as a private Contract between the Parties, will be a Matter foreign from the preſent Queſtion; inaſmuch that the Plaintiff has not relied on it as ſuch, but has brought his Action upon the Cuſtom.

I have inquired into the Practice of Merchants in this Caſe, but have not been able to get any certain Account of this Matter: The true Reaſon of which I apprehend to be, that it is a Caſe which ſeldom or never happens amongſt Merchants; for they honour one another's Bills, though there are no Effects of the Drawer in their Hands; and they would eſteem it the greateſt Blemiſh that could be caſt upon them, if their Correſpondent ſhould once refuſe to anſwer their Bills any further than they had Effects in his Hands.

What

What Account I have received I ſhall ſubmit to the Court. Some are of Opinion, that an Acceptance for Part is an Acceptance for the Whole, inaſmuch as it deprives the Party of the Benefit of proteſting, and ſo reſorting back to the Drawer. But I apprehend there is no Reaſon at all for this. To ſay, that becauſe commonly a Man does honour another's Bill beyond what Effects he has in his Hands, that therefore he muſt do it, is a ſtrange Concluſion. For ſuppoſe he has but 20*l.* of the Drawer's in his Hands, and is bound to anſwer a Bill for ſo much; it would be highly unreaſonable, that in caſe the other ſhould draw for 10,000*l.* this Man muſt either pay the whole, or ſubject himſelf to an Action for Non-performance of the Condition.

But if this Notion ſhould prevail, that an Acceptance for Part is an Acceptance for the Whole, yet as on the one hand it charges the Acceptor with the entire Sum, ſo, on the other hand, it diſcharges him of this Action. For then there can be no Colour to ſplit the Demand into two Actions; but the Plaintiff, in declaring for Part, ought to ſhew that the reſt is ſatisfied. Salk. 65.

Others are of Opinion, that the Party ought not to have taken this Acceptance, but proteſted the Bill as to the Whole, and ſent for another to the Value of what the Drawer would anſwer. This likewiſe makes for the Acceptor, the Defendant.

I am informed indeed, there is one Gentleman does attend to ſay, that this Matter has happened in his own Experience; but he, by what I find, is alone in that Opinion, and perhaps may not have conſidered the Conſequence of it.

And there is this Diverſity of Opinions upon a Matter which ſeldom or never comes in Practice, I ſhall take it upon the Reaſon of the Thing, with a View likewiſe to the many inconveniencies which will follow as a Conſequence of eſtabliſhing this partial Acceptance.

The better to come at this, it may not be improper to ſtate the Method of tranſacting theſe Affairs. When a Party, to whom a Bill of Exchange is made payable, receives it, he immediately applies to the Drawee to get his Acceptance. If he accepts it, nothing farther is done till the Day of Payment; and then, if it be paid, the Matter is at an End. But if the Drawee will not accept it, then the party is to proteſt the Bill, and ſend back the Proteſt by the next Poſt. When the Time of Payment comes, he tenders the Bill again, and then the Drawee may either pay it, or refuſe it. If he refuſes it, then there is a ſecond Proteſt for Non-payment, and the Bill itſelf is returned. And ſo it is if he accepts it, and afterwards refuſes to pay it. From all this I would infer that there can be no partial Proteſt for Non-acceptance, which, as I am informed, is a Proteſt not in the Memory of any but one of the Notaries Public. The Words of all the Proteſts are, I exhibited the original Bill to the Perſon to whom directed, and demanded his Acceptance thereof. Now an Acceptance of Part is not an Acceptance thereof, no more than Payment of Part is a Payment of the Whole. There is a Book which goes by the Name of * Advice concerning Bills of Exchange, and is eſteemed among thoſe who are moſt converſant in theſe Affairs. And in Fo. 33d of that Book it is ſaid, That nothing but an Acceptance to pay ſecundem tenorem billæ, can deprive the Party of the Benefit of a Proteſt. And in Fo. 16th of the ſame Book he puts the Caſe of a Bill drawn on A. and B. who are not joint Traders, and an Acceptance by one only: This, ſays he, goes for nothing, and the Party muſt proteſt the Bill as in caſe of no Acceptance. Theſe are the Words of the Book; and by putting the Caſe of two, who are not joint Traders, I ſhould apprehend he means, that each being charged with a Moiety, the Acceptance of one is but an Acceptance to pay a Moiety, which is but a partial Acceptance, and therefore void: And this is explained by the Caſe of Pinkney v. Hall, Salk 126. where one joint Trader accepted a Bill, and it was held to be the Acceptance of both, becauſe both were equally liable to pay the Whole. And to this Purpoſe likewiſe is Molloy de Jure Maritimo, in the Chapter concerning Bills of Exchange.

If there can be no Proteſt for Non-acceptance of Part, I would conſider how the Caſe would ſtand in regard to allowing this partial Acceptance: The natural and plain Conſequence of that will be to put it in the Power of the Drawee to defeat the other of the Benefit of proteſting a Bill for 10,000*l.* by his Acceptance to pay one Penny only: For this I would ſubmit, that if the Party may take ſuch an Acceptance, he muſt take it; if it will be good, he cannot refuſe it; for it is not at his Election to charge the Drawer but upon the other's Default. The Drawee is the Perſon he muſt reſort to, and if he refuſes, then, and not till then, is there a proper Remedy againſt the Drawer: And therefore, in the Action againſt the Drawer, the Plaintiff muſt ſhew a Proteſt, which is an Endeavour to receive the Money of the Drawee. Salk. 131.

But even admitting there may be a partial Proteſt for Non-acceptance, yet the Inconveniencies which will follow of courſe are ſo great, that I hope it ſhall never be eſtabliſhed by the Judgment of the Court.

It would be endleſs to put Caſes where it has been held, that Rent-charges, and the like, cannot be apportioned; and therefore I ſhall rely entirely upon the Reaſon of the Thing, That in this Caſe the Contract between the Drawer and the Perſon to whom the Bill is payable, is entire, and not diviſible. By this Contract the Drawer (and conſequently the Indorſer) ſubjects himſelf to an Action if the Money be not paid at the Time: But though he becomes liable to one Action, yet there is no Reaſon that by Tranſactions between the Party to whom the Bill is payable, and the Drawee, to which he is not privy, the Contract ſhould be branched out into ſeveral Actions, which will unavoidably be the Caſe of every partial Acceptance; for I do not apprehend how this Caſe can be reduced to one Action by refuſing this partial Acceptance, and proteſting for the Whole; becauſe (as I obſerved before) if the Party may take it, he muſt take it, and can charge the Drawer no farther than there is a Default in the Drawee.

As therefore two Actions are the feweſt he can be charged with, I would beg leave to inſtance how he may be charged with a great many. The Acceptor will charge him as far as his Undertaking: Then another for the Honour of the Drawer (as is uſual amongſt Merchants) may undertake for another Part, and by the ſame Reaſon a third, and a fourth, and no body can ſay where it ſhall ſtop: So many different Perſons may accept for ſo many different Pence, and every one of theſe has his diſtinct Remedy againſt the Drawer.

This is too great an Inconvenience to be got over; and it is ſuch an Inconvenience (I mean the Multiplicity of Suits) as the Common Law has always endeavoured to meet with. In the Caſe of Hawkins v. Cardel, Salk. 65. it was held that the Indorſee of Part could have no Action, becauſe, ſays my Lord Chief Juſtice Holt, the Drawer having ſubjected himſelf only to one Action, it cannot be divided ſo as to ſubject him to two. If a Grantee of a Rent-charge levies a Fine of Part, the Conuſee cannot compel an Attornment; for that would be to give two Actions againſt the Tenant. So if a Feoffment were made to a Man and his Heirs with Warranty, and he makes a Feoffment to two, the Warranty is gone. If two take Lands jointly with Warranty, and one make a Feoffment, the Warranty is gone as to him, but remains as to his Companion, ſo as he may vouch for a Moiety; and at Common Law if they had made Partition, the Warranty was loſt. Co. Litt. 187. a. And all this goes upon that ground, that it being res inter alias acta, it ſhall not turn to the Prejudice of a third Perſon. But this partial Acceptance is a Matter tranſacted between mere Strangers, and therefore ſhall not hurt hurt the Drawer, who was no Party to it. No Act of theirs, which would be prejudicial to him, ſhall bind him. But the ſubjecting him to ſeveral Actions will be a Prejudice; therefore he ſhall not be ſubject to ſeveral Actions.

The great Benefit ariſing to the Public from theſe Bills is, their being negotiable, and paſſing about as well as Money; for every body is ſenſible that, without the Aſſiſtance of theſe Bills, our Trade could never be carried on for want of ſufficient Specie; not to mention the Trouble and Danger in returning Money, which is avoided by this Expedient. It is this Benefit which the Public receives from the Bills, that has intitled them to all the Favour they have received, of which innumerable Inſtances might be given. For this Reaſon it has been held, that the bare drawing or accepting a Bill makes a Merchant for that Purpoſe. 1 Salk. 125. Show. 125. 2 Ven. 295. Now if what is contended for on the other ſide ſhould prevail, the Public will be deprived of this great Benefit; for no Man will take this Bill as ſo much Money in the way of Trade, when he is to reſort to one Man for one Part, and perhaps ſend out of the Kingdom for the other, to a place where he has no Correſpondent. In the Caſe of Jocelyn v. Laſerre, which was in this Court, Hill, 11 Anne, Rot. 214. where the Bill was to pay out of my growing Subſiſtence, it was held, that in regard his growing Subſiſtence might never amount to the Sum drawn for, therefore this was not a Bill of Exchange within the Cuſtom of Merchants; for no Body would take it upon ſuch a Contingency. And the Caſes of promiſſory Notes ſince the Statute, have gone upon the ſame Reaſon. * Smith v. Boheme, Mich. 1 George in B. R. which was to pay Money, or ſurrender a Man to Priſon. And the Caſe of Appleby v. Biddle in B. R. Hill, 3 Geo. which was to pay ſo much to A. if I. do not pay ſo much to B. and both theſe were held not to be within the Statute, upon that only Reaſon that they were not negotiable.

* L. Raym. 1396.

Another Inconvenience which naturally occurs upon this Occaſion is, that the Drawee will inſiſt to have the whole Bill delivered, when he pays but a Part only. For, according to the Authors who treat of this Subject, he can never charge the Drawer, when they come to make up their Accounts, with more than he has Vouchers for under the Hand of the Drawer. In Lex Mercatoria, 274. it is ſaid, that if the Bill be loſt, the Drawee cannot juſtify the Payment, though he has a Letter of Advice. And this refutes all the Expedients of indorſing Part, or giving a ſpecial Receipt for ſo much; becauſe in neither of theſe Caſes will the Drawee have any Authority to produce under the Hand of the Drawer. If the Drawer then refuſes to allow what the other has paid, his only Remedy will be to bring his Action; and how he will be able to maintain it upon the Cuſtom of Merchants, I muſt confeſs my ſelf at a loſs to find out; for he will want the neceſſary Evidence to maintain ſuch an Action, which is the Bill itſelf that was drawn upon him.

If this then will be the Caſe where he pays the Money without taking up the Bill, I muſt contend that by all the Rules of Prudence and Juſtice, he may inſiſt to have the whole Bill delivered up to him, when he only pays Part of it according to his Acceptance.

Suppoſing him then in Poſſeſſion of the whole Bill, I would conſider in what a Condition we have left the Party to whom it was made payable. He muſt be ſuppoſed to have advanced a Conſideration adequate to the whole Sum, and conſequently is in Juſtice intitled to his whole Money of ſome body or other. It will be ſaid that he may get what he can of the Drawee, and then go back to the Drawer for the Reſidue. It is true he may do ſo, and the Drawer may be a Man of ſo much Honour as to pay him every Farthing. But what muſt he do when he finds he is miſtaken in his Man; when the Drawer (inſtead of ordering him the Money as he expected) ſhall tell him, him, No, you have nothing to produce under my Hand, and if you have been ſo fooliſh as to deliver up the Bill, you muſt take it for your Pains. I know of no Remedy in this Caſe but what would be worſe than the Diſeaſe, and therefore the prudenteſt Thing he can do will be to ſit down by the Loſs.

And this will be ſo far from being a Trick in the Drawer, that it will be no more than what every prudent Man will do: For if he, upon the Report of what has been done, ſhould advance the Reſidue of the Money, yet ſtill there is a Bill ſtanding out againſt him for the Whole, upon which Bill it cannot appear he has paid the Money, which the Drawee had left unpaid. Whether in that Caſe, he would not afterwards be anſwerable for the Whole, may be proper to be conſidered.

I have now done with what I had to offer in Maintenance of the Negative of the Queſtion I propoſed to ſpeak to, and ſhall therefore proceed to take Notice of what was hinted at upon the former Argument in Behalf of the Plaintiff in this Caſe.

It was ſaid, that the Drawee may (and very often does) accept to pay the Money at a different Time from what is appointed in the Bill. I muſt admit he may do ſo, but ſurely that Caſe can bear no Proportion to this Caſe. It is not liable to any of the Inconveniencies I mentioned; it is the ſame as if the Bill had at firſt given him a longer Time, and it is well known that after Acceptance a Month or two will break no Squares, where the Man is good: With this further, that amongſt Merchants ſuch an Acceptance is eſteemed a general Acceptance to pay the Money according to the Tenor of the Bill. Beſides, Molloy ſays, that in ſuch a Caſe the Bill muſt be proteſted, which cannot be done in our Caſe.

It was further urged to be highly reaſonable, that the Drawee ſhould honour the Bill as far as he had Effects. I admit this to be reaſonable, and perhaps it would not have been impoſſible for the Plaintiff to have declared in ſuch a Manner, as to have charged the Defendant to the Amount of his Acceptance: But we are here upon the Cuſtom of Merchants, and whatever might be reaſonable in Caſe of private Property, will ceaſe to be ſo, when it appears to be pregnant of ſo many Inconveniencies to the Publick as I have mentioned. And if the Plaintiff has it in his Power to frame a Caſe wherein he may do himſelf Juſtice, that makes the Argument ſtronger againſt ſuffering him to break in upon the publick Convenience for his private Benefit. The Policy of the Law is, rather to let one Man ſuffer, than to introduce a general Inconvenience: But here we are to be led into the greateſt Inconveniencies, even in a Caſe where there is no Danger of the Party's ſuffering in the leaſt; for he has a Remedy which ſtands clear of all theſe Inconveniencies, and there will be no harm in leaving him to that.

It was ſaid, that if the Drawer (who is ſuppoſed to know what Effects he has in the other's Hands) by drawing for more, ſubjects himſelf to ſeveral Actions, it is his own Fault. The Anſwer to this is, that the very drawing for more, deſtroys the Preſumption that he knew how Accounts ſtood. But amongſt Merchants, as I obſerved before, that is not the Caſe; for they often honour one another's Bills, where there are no Effects at all.

But even admitting the Drawer does not ſtand altogether clear of this Objection, yet ſtill this may be the Caſe of one, who cannot be ſuppoſed to know how the Accounts ſtood between the Drawer and the Drawee: For it may happen this Bill may be indorſed, and then the Indorſer is to be charged in the ſame Manner as the Drawer. The Indorſer will be liable to ſeveral Actions, though he is no way privy to any of the Tranſactions between the Indorſee and the Drawee.

Upon breaking the Caſe upon the former Argument, a Difference was taken between the Caſe of the Acceptor and that of any other Perſon: That he ſhould not come and diſcharge himſelf againſt his own Acceptance, ceptance, whatever the other might have done as to refuſing this partial Acceptance. If this was his Caſe only, it might be reaſonable to extend this Acceptance as far as it will go; but the Hardſhip is, that what is Law in this Caſe, muſt likewiſe be Law in the Caſe of the Drawer and Indorſer, ſo that here are two innocent Perſons who are to be involved in the ſame common Fate; and that is never to be ſuffered, eſpecially when the Drawee may be charged in another Manner, which will not affect the Drawer or the Indorſer.

But if this partial Acceptance ſhould be thought good within the Cuſtom of Merchants; yet the Plaintiff never can recover on this Action, in regard to the Manner in which he had declared.

My firſt Exception is, that the Plaintiff by his own ſhewing has brought his Action too ſoon. This is a Declaration of laſt Michaelmas Term, and the Acceptance is laid to be the 9th of December, 1717, to pay upon the 8th of February following, in Conſideration whereof he did the ſame day and Year laſt mentioned, which was the 8th of February, 1717, promiſe to pay the Money on the 8th Day of February, tunc proxime Sequen. Now there muſt of Neceſſity be the Intervention of a whole Year between the 8th of February, 1717, and the 8th Day of February following: And then the Caſe is no more than that the Plaintiff complains, that the Defendant, on the 23d of October, had not paid him a Sum of Money, which of his own ſhewing was not become due till the 8th of February following. If it were neceſſary to cite Caſes in Maintenance of this Exception, there are 1 Sid. 373. 1 Ven. 135.

Another Exception is, that the Plaintiff has not alledged any Requeſt before bringing the Action, which he ought to have done; for the Merchant who accepts is eaſy to be found, but the Party to whom the Bill is made payable may only be a Traveller, to whom the other cannot reſort for his Money. And this differs from the Caſe of a Bond, for there there it is for the Benefit of the Obligor to ſave the Penalty; ſo there needs no Requeſt to him to do an Act for his own Benefit. It will be ſaid, that the Action is a Requeſt; but if it be, ſtill it recurs to that Queſtion, whether a Requeſt at the Time of bringing the Action is ſufficient. And it is plainly not ſo; for then it is a Requeſt to pay the Money four Months before it became due.

I ſhall trouble your Lordſhips but with one Word more, and it is this; the Bill runs, Pay this my firſt Bill, my ſecond not being paid; and therefore I muſt ſubmit it, whether they ought not to have averred, that the ſecond was unpaid. Indeed in the Caſe of Eaſt v. Effington, Salk. 130, it was held well after a Verdict; becauſe if the ſecond was paid, the Jury could not find Aſſumpſit as to the firſt: He was not to pay firſt unleſs the ſecond was unpaid; ſo the Jury finding him bound to pay the firſt, that is an argumentative finding the ſecond unpaid. But the Court in that Caſe inclined, it would have been ill upon Demurrer.

It will be ſaid, that this ſhould have been ſhewn for Cauſe of Demurrer. But this Exception goes to the Cauſe of Action itſelf, and may as well be taken Advantage of upon a general Demurrer, as the want of ſetting out an Attornment was in the Caſe of Long v. Buckeridge. Strange 106.

The Whole, both with Relation to the Matter and the Manner of this Declaration, may be reduced to this Dilemma: Either this partial Acceptance is good, or it is not. If it is good, yet the Plaintiff has come too ſoon, without alledging what is neceſſary to make out his Caſe, and conſequently can never recover in this Action. If it is not good, that alone will be ſufficient to entitle us to Judgment for the Defendant.

Reeve contra. I am no otherwiſe prepared to argue this Cauſe, than by acquainting the Court, that a Gentleman has often attended to inform you, that it is practicable to proteſt a Bill for Non-Acceptance of Part,

Part, and then reſort back to the Drawer. As to the Inconveniencies which are urged, they are as great of our Side upon Account of Death or Acts of Bankruptcy. The Drawee is not prejudiced; and as to the Drawer, if Part is paid, his Debt is ſo much leſſened, which is a Benefit to him.

As to the firſt Objection to the Declaration, that we have brought our Action too ſoon; it runs, in predict' octavum Diem Febr. tunc proxime ſequentem; ſo to ſupport the Declaration you will reject proxime ſequentem, and then it ſtands as a Promiſe to pay in February 1717, and the Action is in October following.

2. No Requeſt was neceſſary, for upon the Acceptance a Duty ariſes, and this is not a collateral Promiſe.

3. If the Defendant had paid the ſecond Bill, he ſhould have pleaded that Matter in his Diſcharge: And as to the Caſe of Eaſt v. Eſſington, that was againſt the Drawer upon the firſt Contract; but this is againſt the Acceptor upon a new Contract.

Strange replied, as to praedict', it does not make the Sentence inconſiſtent with proxime ſequentem; for it is common to call the ſame Day in a different Year, the ſame Day generally; and here it is no more than that the Party promiſes on 8th February in one Year, to pay upon the ſame Day in another Year: And where a Thing is grammatically right, the Court will never reject it, as was held in the Caſe of Wyatt v. Aland in B. R. Trin. 2 Anne. Salk. 324.

They ſhould have ſhewn the ſecond Bill unpaid; for it is in the Nature of a Condition precedent to their having any Right to this Action. As to the Requeſt, no Debt ariſes upon the Acceptance; for an Indebitatus aſſumpſit will not lie upon a Bill of Exchange. Salk. 125.

Powys, Juſtice. Either Party might have refuſed this partial Acceptance, and they were at the ſame Liberty to take it: Neither could force the other to it; but if both agree, Volenti non fit Injuria. The Drawer Drawer truſts all to the Diſcretion of the Perſon to whom he gives the Bill, and if that Perſon leads him into Inconveniencies, who can help it?

Eyre, Juſtice. I think the Declaration is well enough; we will reject proximæ ſequentem, and then all is right: There is no Difference between the Caſe of the Drawer and the Acceptor; for if he pays either of the Bills, the Drawer is not liable. Acceptance of one is ſo of both, though in Fact it amounts to no more than an Acceptance to pay the Contents of one of them, and Payment of one is a Diſcharge of both: So that the Averment that the Money was not paid upon the firſt, goes to the ſecond alſo. I ſearched, but could not find the Record of * Eaſt v. Eſſington; and by my Notes I find it went off immediately upon the Anſwer, that the Verdict had cured it. The precedents are as this Declaration. Vidian Ent. 31, 67.

Forteſcue, Juſtice. I think there is a Difference between the Caſe of the Drawer and Acceptor; for the Drawer is bound to pay all; the Drawing being an actual Promiſe; but the Acceptor is bound to pay but one, and no Action can be maintained but upon the very Note which he accepts. There is another Anſwer to the Objection, that the Action is brought too ſoon; and that is That the Plaintiff needed not ſet out any Promiſe at all. 10 W. 2. Starky v. Cheeſman, Salk. 128. Lowther v. Conyers, which was upon a Promiſſory Note, and they had left out ſuper ſe aſſumpſit, and yet it was held well enough; for the Law raiſes a Promiſe. And this is likewiſe an Anſwer to the want of a Requeſt. In Molloy and the other Books there is a whole Paragraph about the partial Acceptance of a Bill of Exchange, and they allow it to be good. So Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Strange, 214. Wegerſloffe againſt Keene.

17. Caſe by the Indorſee of a Bill of Exchange againſt the Defendant as Acceptor, who on Tender of the Bill wrote, "Meſſrs. Caſwal and Mount, pay "this Bill when due for Thomas Chitty." The Bill

fell due 2d January, 1741; the Bankers paid till the 19th, at two, and 21ſt of January, the Money was demanded of the Defendant. For the Defendant it was inſiſted, that the Plaintiff had given ſuch a Credit to the Bankers, as to make it his Loſs; and it was compared to the common Caſe of a Note or Draught kept.

For the Plaintiff it was ſaid, that there was no limited Time, but that of the Statute of Limitation, to ſue the Acceptor; and that the Plaintiff cannot come in as a Creditor of the Goldſmiths; becauſe they have done nothing to make themſelves liable.

The Chief Juſtice held, that it was the Loſs of the Plaintiff, who, though he might have refuſed to take ſuch an Acceptance, yet had now agreed to it: And it was to all Purpoſes in the Nature of a Draught, which is always conſidered as actual Payment, when a reaſonable Time to receive it in is elapſed. Stran. 1195. Biſhop v. Chitty.

18. A Bill drawn on two muſt regularly have a joint Acceptance; but by the Cuſtom of England, where there are two joint Traders, and one accepts a Bill drawn on both for him and Partner, it binds both, if it concerns the joint Trade; otherwiſe if it concerns the Acceptor only in a diſtinct Intereſt and Reſpect. Salk. 126. Pinkney v. Hall. L. Raym. 175. S. C. Molloy, B. 2. C. 10. §. 18.

19. If a Book-keeper or Servant or other Perſon, having Authority, or uſually tranſacting Buſineſs of this Nature for the Maſter, accept a Bill of Exchange, this ſhall bind ſuch Maſter. 3 New Abr. Law, 611. Molloy, B. 2. C. 10. §. 27. Marius, 104.

20. The Plaintiff was Indorſee of a Bill of Exchange drawn from Scotland upon the Defendant, in theſe Words. "At thirty Days Sight pay to J. S. "or Order 200*l.* Value received of him, and place "the ſame to Account of the York-Buildings Com-"pany per Advice from Charles Mildmay. To Mr. "Humphry Biſhop, Caſhier of the York-Buildings "Company,

" Company, at their Houſe in Wincheſter-ſtreet, Lon- " don. Accepted 13th June, 1732, per H. Biſhop."
This Bill not being paid, an Action was brought againſt the Defendant upon his Acceptance. And the Defendant proved that the Letter of Advice was addreſſed to the Company; and that the Bill being brought to their Houſe, he was ordered to accept it, which he did in the ſame Manner as he had accepted other Bills. But Mr. Juſtice Page, who tried the Cauſe, directed the Jury to find for the Plaintiff, which they did accordingly.

And now upon Motion for a new Trial, the Court held that the Direction was right. For the Bill, upon the Face of it, imports to be drawn upon the Defendant, and it is accepted by him generally, and not as Servant to the Company, to whoſe Account he had no Right to Charge it, till actual Payment by himſelf. And this being an Action by an Indorſee, it would be of dangerous Conſequence to Trade, to admit of Evidence ariſing from ſuch extrinſic Circumſtances, as the Letter of Advice. And they ſaid, this differed widely from the Caſe of a Bill addreſſed to the Maſter, and Under-wrote by the Servant; where undoubtedly the Servant would not be liable, but his Acceptance would be conſidered as the Act of the Maſter. A Bill of Exchange is a Contract by the Cuſtom of Merchants, and the whole of that Contract muſt appear in Writing. Now here is nothing in Writing to bind the Company, nor can any Action be maintained againſt them upon the Bill; for the Addition of Caſhier to the Defendant's Name is only to denote the Perſon with more certainty, and the York-Buildings Houſe is only to inform the Order, where the Drawee is to be found; and the Direction, whoſe Account to place it to, is for the Uſe of the Drawee only. And they compared it to the Caſe of Carth. 5. 2 Ven. 307, where a Bill was drawn payable to Price, for the Uſe of Calvert, and held that the legal Property was in Price, which is ſtronger than the preſent Caſe. They ſaid it might be otherwiſe, if the Action had been by J. S. who was privy to the Tranſaction, and it had appeared he tendered the Bill as a Bill on the Company. But this Plaintiff being a Stranger, they could not conſider thoſe Circumſtances. The Plaintiff had Judgment. Strange, 955. Thomas v. Biſhop.

SECT. VII.

Of the Proteſt: The Neceſſity and Validity thereof: When to be made; and of giving Notice to the Drawer of the Drawee's Refuſal.

1. A Proteſt does not raiſe any Debt, but only ſerves to give formal Notice that the Bill is not accepted, or accepted and not paid; and this by the common Law, and is ſtill neceſſary on every foreign Bill before the Drawer can be charged; but it was not required on any inland Bill, before the Stat. 9 and 10 W. 3. nor does the want of it ſince that Stat. deſtroy the Remedy, which the Party had before againſt the Drawer, for the Principal. 3 New Abr. Law, 612. Molloy, B. 2. Chap. 10. §. 51. 6 Mod. 80. 1 Salk. 131. See the Note, Page 14.

2. He, to whom the Bill is payable, muſt regularly reſort to the Drawee, and deſire him to accept the Bill before there can be a Proteſt; but if he be dead, or cannot be found, theſe are good Cauſes for proteſting the Bill; alſo, if after Acceptance, the Drawee dies, there is to be a Demand of his Executors or Adminiſtrators, and in Default of Payment a Proteſt; and in Caſe the Money becomes due before an Executor or Adminiſtrator can be appointed, yet this Delay is Sufficient Cauſe to proteſt the Bill. 3 New Ab. Law, 612. Molloy, B. 2. C. 10. §. 34.

3. But if he to whom the Bill is to be paid dies, there can be no Proteſt before a Probate of his Will, or Adminiſtration granted; for none but his Executors or Adminiſtrators can give a legal Diſcharge or Acquittance for the Money, and conſequently no other Perſon can ſue for or demand the ſame; and though ſecurity be offered to indemnify the Drawee againſt the Executors, yet is he not obliged to accept thereof; being a Matter left entirely to his Conſideration, to judge and determine on the Sufficiency of ſuch Security; and in this Caſe it is ſaid that if a Public Notary proteſt the Bill, an Action on the Caſe lies againſt him. 3 New Ab. Law, 612. Molloy, B. 2. C. 10. §. 34.

4. If a Bill be left with a Merchant to accept, which is loſt or miſlaid *, he to whom it is payable, is to requeſt the Merchant to give him a Note for the Payment, according to the Time limited in the Bill; otherwiſe there muſt be two Proteſts, the one for Non-Acceptance and the other for Non-Payment; and though ſuch Note be given, yet if the Merchant happens to fail, there muſt be a Proteſt for Non-Payment in order to charge the Drawer. 3 New Abr. Law, 613. Molloy, B. 2. C. 10. §. 26. Marius, 121.

5. The Proteſt is uſually made by ſome Notary Public; and ſuch Proteſt is, prima facie, good Evidence that the Bill was not accepted, or, if accepted, that it was not paid, and ſufficient to put the Proof on the other Side †. 3 New Abr. Law, 613. Skin. 272.

* Where a Bill is caſually loſt and no new one can be had, and the Party on whom it was drawn does not inſiſt on having the original Bill, but refuſes Payment for another Reaſon, a Proteſt made on a Copy is ſufficient. 1 Show, 164.

† Beyond the Seas the Proteſt (for Non-Payment) under the Notary's Hand is ſufficient to ſhew in Court, without producing the very Bill itſelf. But if a Bill in England be accepted, and a ſpecial Action grounded on the Cuſtom be brought againſt the Acceptor at the Trial, the Party Plaintiff muſt produce the Bill accepted, and not the Proteſt; otherwiſe he will fail in his Action at that Time. Therefore it is ſafe that a Bill once accepted be kept, and only a Proteſt for Non-Payment be remitted; but a Bill for Non-Acceptance muſt be remitted. Molloy, B. 2. C. 10. §. 25.

6. A Pro-

6. A Proteſt on a foreign Bill of Exchange is abſolutely neceſſary to entitle the Party to recover againſt the Drawer, not only Intereſt and Coſts, but likewiſe the principal Sum; and for that purpoſe the Bill muſt be preſented in a reaſonable Time; and in Caſe of Refuſal of Acceptance, or in Caſe the Drawee cannot be found, it muſt be proteſted in a reaſonable Time, and Notice of ſuch Proteſt, as alſo Notice of a Proteſt after Acceptance and Non-Payment given to the Drawer in a * reaſonable Time; for though the Drawer is bound to the Party, to whom the Bill is payable, till payment be actually made, yet it is with this Condition and Proviſoe that Proteſt be made in due Time, and a lawful and ingenuous Diligence uſed for the obtaining Payment of the Money; and the Reaſon hereof is, that the Drawer might have had Effects, or other Means of his, upon whom he drew, to reimburſe himſelf the Bill, which, ſince for want of timely Notice he hath remitted or loſt, it were unreaſonable the Drawer ſhould ſuffer through his Neglect. 3 New Abr. Law, 613. Molloy, B. 2. C. 10. §. 31.

7. As to inland Bills, though a Proteſt was not neceſſary at common Law, in order to ſue the Drawer, and is only now neceſſary by the Stat. 9 and 10 W. 3. (P. 13.) and 3 and 4 Anne (P. 15.) to intitle the Party to Intereſt and Coſts; yet convenient Notice muſt be given by the Party, to whom the Bill is payable, to the Drawer, of the Drawee's Refuſal of Payment, and if any Damages accrue to the Drawer for want of ſuch Notice, it muſt be born by the Perſon to whom the Bill is payable; but this muſt be left to a Jury, who are to determine herein according to the Cuſtom of Merchants. 3 New Abr. Law, 613. 5 Mod. 80, 81. 1 Salk. 131. Borough v. Parkins. Cumb. 384. Carth. 510. 1 Show, 311. L. Raym. 993. See P. 14.

able kept the Bill by him four Years, and then brought aſſumpſit againſt the Drawer: And by Treby, C. J. when one draws a Bill of Exchange, he ſubjects himſelf to the Payment, if the Perſon on whom it was drawn refuſes either to accept or pay: Yet that is with this Limitation, that if the Bill be not paid in convenient Time, the Perſon to whom it is payable ſhall give the Drawer * Notice thereof; for otherwiſe the Law will imply the Bill paid; becauſe there is a Truſt between the Parties, and it may be prejudicial to Commerce, if a Bill may riſe up to charge the Drawer at any Diſtance of Time; when in the mean Time all Reckoning and Accounts are adjuſted between the Drawer and Drawee. 1 Salk. 127. Allen v. Dockwra.

9. The Cuſtom of Merchants is, that if B. upon whom a Bill of Exchange is drawn, abſconds before the Day of Payment, the Man to whom it is payable may proteſt it, to have better ſecurity for the Payment, and to give Notice to the Drawer of the abſconding † of B. and after Time of Payment is incurred, then it ought to be proteſted for Non-Payment, or after it. But no Proteſt for Non-Payment can be before the Day that is payable. Proved by Merchants at Guildhall, Trin. 6 W. and M. before Treby, Chief Juſtice. And the Plaintiff was non-ſuited, becauſe he had declared upon a Cuſtom, to proteſt for Non-Payment before the Day of Payment. L. Raym 742. Anon.

SECT. VIII.

Of the Indorſement of a Bill of Exchange, and who may indorſe it.

1. INdorſement is a Term known in Law, which by the Cuſtom of Merchants transfers the Property of the Bill or Note to the Indorſee; and is uſually made on the Back of the Bill, and muſt be in Writing; but the Law hath not appropriated any ſet Form of Words as neceſſary to this Ceremony, and therefore it hath been held that if a Man write on the Back of a Bill of Exchange, This is to be paid to J. S. or The Contents of this is to be paid to J. S. and ſets his Hand to it, this is a good Indorſement. 3 New Abr. Law, 609. Farreſ. 86, 87.

2. Clark having a Bill of Exchange payable to him or Order, puts his Name upon it, leaving a vacant Space above, and ſends it to J. S. his Friend, who got it accepted; but the Money not being paid, Clark brought an Indebitatus aſſumpſit againſt the Acceptor: And it was objected on Evidence, that the Property was transferred to J. S.

Et per Holt, C. J. J. S. had it in his Power to act either as Servant or Aſſignee: If he had filled up the blank Space, making the Bill payable to him, that would have witneſſed his Election to have received it as Indorſee; but that being omitted, his Intention is preſumed to act only as Servant to Clark, whoſe Name he would uſe only in order to write the Acquittance over it. 1 Salk. 126. Clark v. Pigot. Molloy, B. 2. Chap. 10. §. 27.

3. A Bill of Exchange was indorſed in this Manner: Pay the Contents of this Bill unto the Order of J. S. who brought his Action as Indorſee, averring he had made no Order to any Body to receive the Money; and on demurrer it was objected, that J. S. could not maintain an Action; becauſe the Indorſement was not to him, but to his Order: but the Court held the Action well brought againſt the Indorſor; and that among Tradeſmen, this Form of Indorſement is commonly uſed, although it is intended to be made payable to the Perſon, whoſe Order is mentioned. 3 New Abr. Law, 609. Carth. 403. Fiſher v. Pomfret.

4. It hath been adjudged that a Bill of Exchange cannot be indorſed for Part, ſo as to ſubject the Party to ſeveral Actions; as if A. having a Bill of Exchange upon B. indorſes Part of it to J. S. J. S. cannot bring an Action for his Part; although he alledge a Cuſtom among Merchants for ſuch kind of Indorſement; for the Contract being intire and ſubjecting him only to one Man's Action, no Cuſtom can make him liable to two or more Actions for the ſame Debt. 3 New Abr. Law, 610. Carth. 466. Hawkins v. Cardy. 1 Salk. 65. S. C. where it is ſaid that the Plaintiff ſhould have acknowledged Satisfaction for the reſt. 3 New Abr. Law, 610. L. Raym. 360. Stran. 216. 1 Inſt. 385 a.

5. If a Bill of Exchange is made payable to A. who indorſes it to B. who indorſes it to C. which is proteſted for Non-Payment; B. may bring an Action on this Bill notwithſtanding his Indorſement. 3 New Abr. Law, 608. 1 Show, 163. Dekers v. Harriat.

6. The Money is to be paid to him in whoſe Favour the Bill is drawn, or to the Indorſee, in Caſe it be indorſed over, of which Indorſement the Drawer and Acceptor muſt take Notice at their Peril; alſo if there are ſeveral Indorſers or Indorſees, the laſt Indorſee is intitled to the Money. 3 New Abr. Law, 608. Carth. 130.

SECT.

SECT. IX.

Who ſhall be liable to the Payment of the Money; and of demanding it of the Drawer, and ſuing him, and the Indorſor and Acceptor.

1. EVERY * Drawer of a Bill is liable to the Payment thereof, as is every Acceptor and Indorſor. Alſo if there are ſeveral Indorſors of the ſame Bill, the laſt Indorſee may bring his Action againſt the firſt Indorſor, or any of them; for the Indorſement is, as it were, a new Bill, or at leaſt a Warranty, as ſome Books expreſs it, by the Indorſor that the Bill ſhall be paid. 3 New Abr. Law, 607. Skin. 343. 1 Salk. 125. L. Raym. 181. Stran. 479.

2. If a Bill be drawn upon A. and he accepts it, and afterwards refuſes Payment, upon which the Bill is proteſted, the Perſon to whom it is payable may bring ſeveral Actions againſt the Acceptor and Drawer; for the Proteſt is no Diſcharge of the Acceptor. 3 New Abr. Law, 607.

3. But though the Drawer, Acceptor, and Indorſor, are all liable, yet the Party can have but one Satisfaction; and until ſuch Satisfaction is actually had, he may ſue all, or any of them: And accordingly it was adjudged in the Exchequer Chamber, where the Caſe was, an Indorſee ſued the Drawer, and had Judgment againſt him; and he alſo brought an Action againſt the Indorſor, to which the Indorſor pleaded the Judgment againſt the Drawer: But the Plea was held ill; for that the Judgment was no Satisfaction, without which the Party could not be barred of the Remedy which he had againſt the other. 3 New Abr. Law, 607. 3 Mod. 86. Skin. 255. Claxton v. Swift. Lut. 878, 882, S. C. ſays the Judgment was reverſed, becauſe there was not any Satisfaction; for the Court were of Opinion, that this Caſe differs from the Caſe of two Treſpaſſers, and is rather to be reſembled to two Debtors by a joint and ſeveral Obligation, becauſe by the Cuſtom the firſt Drawer of the Bill, and every Indorſer thereof, is liable to the Payment of a Sum certain to the laſt Indorſee, tho' the Action be to recover by way of Damages.

4. And not only the Drawer, Acceptor, or Indorſor, are liable, but alſo, by the Cuſtom of Merchants, if one Merchant draw a Bill which is proteſted, and another hearing thereof declares, that he, for the Honour of the * Drawer, will pay the Contents, and thereupon ſubſcribes in theſe or the like Words, I the underwritten do bind myſelf as Principal, according to the Cuſtom of Merchants, for the Sum mentioned in the Bill of Exchange whereupon this Proteſt is made, &c. This ſhall as effectually bind him as if he had been the original † Drawer; and by this the Perſon to whom the Bill is payable hath his Remedy both againſt ſuch Perſon as Surety, and alſo againſt the Principal; but the Principal or original Drawer is liable to him who thus ſubſcribes for his Honour. 3 New Abr. Law, 608. Molloy, B. 2. C. 10. §. 24. See Page 29.

5. A. draws a Bill upon B. who had Effects enough in his Hands to anſwer the Bill, which ſome Time after is proteſted; whereupon the Bill is indorſed to A. the Drawer, who brings an Action as Indorſee; per Parker, C. J. at niſi prius, there being Effects, the Acceptance was not upon the Honour of the Drawer, and ſo the Action is well brought; for when a Merchant

† If a Bill be drawn on J. S. and he refuſes to accept it, or if he be out of Town, and has left no Orders or Authority to accept Bills; and that A. B. will accept the Bill for the Honour of the Drawer: In either of theſe Caſes, the Party to whom the ſaid Bill is payable, or his Aſſigns, ought in the firſt Place to cauſe a Proteſt to be made for Non-acceptance by J. S. and then he may take the Acceptance of A. B. for the Honour of the Drawer; for otherwiſe the Drawer may alledge that he did not draw the Bill on A. B. but on J. S. and therefore, according to the Cuſtom of Merchants, Diligence ought to be uſed towards J. S. and by Proteſt to prove his Want of Acceptance. Marius, 88.

draws a Bill on his Correſpondent, who accepts it, this is Payment; for it makes him Debtor to another Perſon, who may bring his Action; ſo this is ſuch a Payment as may be ſet off upon a former Action, and pleaded in bar of ſuch Action: But if there were no Effects, the Action would not lie; for it would have been an Acceptance upon Honour only, and the Money would be recovered only to be recovered again. Vin. Abr. Tit. Bills of Exchange (H.) 12. 10 Mod. Trin. 10 Anne, B. R. Loviere v. Laubray.

6. A Bill was drawn at ſix Days Sight, and preſented and accepted 8th of February, which made it payable the 14th, and the three Days of Grace brought it to the 17th, which was a Saturday, and the Acceptor ſtopt Payment on the Tueſday following, before which the Bill was not tendered. And upon this Evidence it was left to the Jury, who were of Opinion that the Drawer was diſcharged at the end of the three Days of Grace. Stran. 829. Coleman v. Sayer.

7. In an Action upon an inland Bill of Exchange brought by the Indorſee againſt the Drawer, it appeared the Bill was payable 14th May; that upon Promiſe of Payment, the Indorſee gave the Acceptor to the 18th, from thence to the 20th, thence to the 24th, and from thence to the 7th of June, when the Acceptor failed. And there being no Notice to the Drawer, the Chief Juſtice held it to be the Loſs of the Indorſee. Stran. 792. Gee v. Brown. 1 Geo. 2.

8. In Caſe upon a Bill of Exchange, upon the Evidence at the Trial before Holt Ch. J. at Guildhall, Nov. 23. Mich. 12 W. 3. the Caſe was thus: A. drew a Bill of Exchange upon B. payable to C. at Paris; B. accepted the Bill; C. indorſed it payable to D. D. to E. E. to F. F. to G. G. demanded the Bill to be paid by B. and upon Non-payment G. proteſted it within the Time, &c. and then G. brought an Action againſt D. and it was well brought, and he recovered. Afterwards D. brought an Action againſt B. and though D. produced the Bill and the Proteſt, yet becauſe he could not produce a Receipt for the Money Money paid by him to G. upon the Proteſt, as the Cuſtom is among Merchants, as ſeveral Merchants upon their Oaths affirmed, he was non-ſuited. But Holt Ch. J. ſeemed to be of Opinion, that if he had proved Payment by him to G. it had been well enough. L. Raym. 742. Mendez v. Carreroon.

9. An Action on the Caſe was brought on a Bill of Exchange againſt the Indorſor; and it was ruled by Holt C. J. upon Evidence, 1ſt, That there is no Need to prove the Drawer's Hand, becauſe tho' it be a forged Bill, the Indorſor is bound to pay it. 2dly, *The Plaintiff muſt * prove that he demanded it of the Drawer, or him upon whom it is drawn, and that he refuſed to pay it; or elſe that he ſought him, and could not find him: Otherwiſe he cannot reſort to the Indorſor.* 3dly, That this was done in convenient time; for if they ſtand and are reſponſible a convenient Time after the Aſſignment, and no Demand made, the Indorſee ſhall not charge the Indorſor. The Time of foreign Bills is three Days, and no Allowance is to be made for Sundays and Holidays. Serjeant Wright cited a Caſe of one Tracy, who ſtood a Week after the Indorſement, and the Indorſee loſt his Money; which Holt Ch. J. thought was too ſtrict: but ſuch Matters muſt be left to the Jury. 4thly, It is a Queſtion whether Notice muſt be given, or no; but 'tis fair to give Notice. 5thly, That the Demand muſt be proved ſubſequent to the Indorſement; for if it was precedent, he could only act as Servant to the Indorſor: And ſo the Demand was inſufficient to charge the Indorſor. 6thly, If a Man indorſes his Name upon the Back of a Bill Blank, he puts it in the Power of the Indorſee to make what Uſe of it he will; and he may uſe it as an Acquittance to diſcharge the Bill, or as an Aſſignment to charge the Indorſor. 7thly, In Caſes of Bills purchaſed at a Diſcount, this is the Difference: If it be a Bill payable to A. or Bearer, it is an abſolute Purchaſe; but if to A. or Order, and it is indorſed blank, and filled up with an Aſſignment, the Indorſor muſt warrant it as much as if there had been no Diſcount. 1 Salk. 127. Lambert v. Pack.

10. R. drew a Bill payable to O. or Order. O. indorſes it to L. and L. brings an Action for the Money againſt O. and by Holt it was ſaid, That he ought to prove, that he had demanded, or endeavoured to demand his money of R. before he could ſue O. on his Indorſement: So if the Bill was drawn on any other Perſon payable to O. or Order, and the Demand to intitle L. to his Action ought to be after the Indorſement. 2 O. indorſed this Bill blank to L. by writing his Name only; and therefore it was urged, that this was a Sale of the Bill, and the Indorſement could not ſubject the Indorſor to an Action; but, per Holt, the Indorſement, tho' upon Diſcount, will ſubject the Indorſor to an Action; becauſe it was a conditional Warranty of the Bill, and makes a new Contract, in caſe the Perſon, on whom it was drawn, do not pay. 3. per Holt: If a Man indorſes a Bill blank to B. he puts it in the power of B. to ſuperſcribe what B. pleaſes. 4. If the Indorſee does not demand the Money payable by the Bill, on the Perſon on whom it was drawn, in a convenient Time, and he fails afterwards, the Indorſor is not liable. 5. If the Action be brought againſt the Indorſor, it is not neceſſary to prove the Hand of the Drawer; for tho' it be forged, the Indorſor is liable. 12 Mod. 244. 11 W. 3. Lambert v. Oakes.

11. R. ſigned a Note under his Hand payable to Oakes or his Order. Oakes indorſed it to Lambert; upon which Lambert brought an Action for the Money againſt Oakes. Per Holt Chief Juſtice, he ought to prove that he had demanded, or done his Endeavour to demand, this Money of R. before he can ſue Oakes upon the Indorſement. The ſame Law, if the Bill was drawn upon any other Perſon payable to Oakes or Order. And the Demand to intitle Lambert to his Action muſt be after the Indorſement. 2. Oakes had indorſed this Bill back to Lambert, viz. by the writing his Name only upon Diſcount: And therefore it was urged by Mr. Northey, that this was a plain Sale of the Bill, and the Indorſement ſhall not ſubject the Indorſor to an Action; becauſe the Bill cannot be ſold to intitle the Vendee to take the Benefit of it, without Indorſement; and the Practice among Merchants is ſo. But Holt e contra: For their Practice cannot alter the Law. And the Indorſement, tho' upon Diſcount, will ſubject the Indorſor to an Action; becauſe it is a conditional Warranty of the Bill, and makes a new Contract in caſe the Perſon, upon whom it was drawn, does not pay it. 3. Per Holt Chief Juſtice. If A. indorſes a Bill blank to B. he thereby puts it in the Power of B. to overwrite what he pleaſes. 4. If the Indorſee does not demand the Money payable by the Bill of the Perſon upon whom it is drawn, in convenient Time, and afterwards he fails, the Indorſor is not liable. 5. If the Action be brought againſt the Indorſor, it is not neceſſary to prove the Hand of the Drawer; for tho' it be forged, the Indorſor is liable. L. Raym. 443. 11 W. 3. Lambert v. Oakes.

12. Action upon the Caſe for 170*l.* 10*s.* The Plaintiff declared ſeveral ways, viz. 1ſt, Upon two Bills of Exchange againſt the Indorſor. 2dly, Upon a Mutuatus. 3dly, An Indebitatus aſſumpſit for Money laid out for the Uſe of the Defendant. Upon Non aſſumpſit pleaded, the Caſe upon Evidence was: Moor, a Goldſmith, ſubſcribed two Notes payable to the Defendant; the Defendant on the 19th of October indorſes theſe two Notes, and gives them and eight others to one Zouch, to whom he was indebted; Zouch, the 19th of October between the Hours of Eleven and Twelve, brought theſe Notes to the Plaintiffs, being Goldſmiths, and they accepted them, and gave Zouch other Bills, and ſome Money; and afterwards, the ſame Day, the Plaintiffs received Money upon other Bills of the ſaid Moor, and might have had the Money due upon theſe two Bills, if they had been demanded; but in the Night following, about Midnight, Moor broke, and ran away: And, whether the Plaintiffs Plaintiffs or Indorſor ſhould loſe this 170*l.* 10*s.* was the Queſtion.

And the firſt Queſtion was, Whether the Acceptance of theſe Bills in Satisfaction for ſo much Money, be a good Diſcharge of the Indorſor? And Holt Chief Juſtice held, that Goldſmiths Bills were governed by the ſame Laws and Cuſtoms as other Bills of Exchange; and every Indorſement is a new Bill; and ſo long as a Bill is in Agitation, and ſuch Indorſements are made, all the Indorſors, and every of them, are liable as a new Drawer. That by the Law generally every Indorſor is always liable as the firſt Drawer, and cannot be diſcharged without an actual Payment, and is not diſcharged by the Acceptance of the Bill by the Indorſee; but by the Cuſtom this is reſtrained, viz. the Acceptance is intended to be upon this Agreement, viz. That the Indorſee will receive it of the firſt Drawer if he can; and if he cannot, then that the Indorſor will anſwer it; as if the firſt Drawer be inſolvent at the Time of the Indorſement, or upon Demand refuſes to pay it, or cannot be found. And the Indorſor is not diſcharged without actual Payment, until there is ſome Neglect or Default in the Indorſee; as if he does not endeavour to receive it in convenient Time, and then the firſt Drawer becomes inſolvent.

The ſecond Point was, What ſhall be thought convenient Time to endeavour to receive ſuch Bills? Et per Holt Chief Juſtice, in Caſe of foreign Bills, he upon whom it was drawn hath three Days to pay it, and the Indorſee of ſuch foreign Bill, need not demand Payment until the ſaid three Days be expired; and if he, upon whom the Bill is drawn, become inſolvent in the ſaid Time, the Indorſor is chargeable; and after the three Days, the Indorſee may proteſt it; and it ſeems the ſame Time ought to be allowed for inland Bills, tho' it was urged, that for foreign Bills a longer Time was required; in reſpect the Drawee was to receive Advice from the Drawer.

And the Chief Juſtice in his Direction to the Jury, ſaid, That what ſhould be thought convenient Time ought ought to be according to the Uſage among Traders in ſuch Caſes, and upon all the Circumſtances: That the Plaintiffs had ten Bills delivered to them together; and that perhaps they had other Affairs that hindered them from going preſently to receive theſe two Bills; and that they received two other Bills the ſame Day. The Chief Juſtice left it to the Jury to conſider, whether the Time in this Caſe were convenient Time or not; and if the Plaintiff had convenient Time to receive his Money, then to find for the Defendant, otherwiſe for the Plaintiff. And they upon Conſideration found for the Plaintiff; upon which the Plaintiff prayed to take the Verdict upon the Indebitatus aſſumpſit. Et per C. J. You cannot take the Verdict upon any Part of the Declaration, but that to which Evidence was given; and here it will be good, if found upon the Bills of Exchange; but if the Evidence be applicable to any other Part of the Declaration, you may take it upon any ſuch Part, to which the Evidence is applicable. And becauſe Zouch had ſworn that he had received the Benefit of, and had been ſatisfied with, the Bill he took of the Plaintiff, by which the Defendant was diſcharged againſt Zouch, the Verdict was taken upon the Indebitatus aſſumpſit for Money laid out for the Defendant's Uſe; and it ſeems the Indorſement by the Defendant to the Plaintiffs was good Evidence of a Requeſt to pay the ſaid Money to Zouch. Now Exception was taken that one Bill was payable to the Defendant only, without the Words, or to his Order, and therefore not aſſignable by the Indorſement; and the Chief Juſtice did agree that the Indorſement of this Bill did not make him that drew the Bill chargeable to the Indorſee; for the Words, or to his Order, give Authority to the Plaintiff to aſſign it by Indorſement; and 'tis an Agreement by the firſt Drawer that he would anſwer it to the Aſſignee: But the Indorſement of a Bill which has not the Words, or to his Order, is good, or of the ſame Effect betwixt the Indorſor and the Indorſee, to make the Indorſor chargeable to the Indorſee.

B.* cannot ſue A. unleſs he firſt endeavours to find out the firſt Drawer to demand it of him; for the Indorſor is only a Warrantor for the Payment of the Drawer, and therefore liable only on his Default; and ſuch Endeavour muſt be ſet forth in the Declaration. 1 Salk. 126. Anon.

14. Caſe upon a foreign Bill of Exchange by the Indorſee againſt the Indorſor; and on general Demurrer it was objected, that they had not ſhewn a Demand upon the Drawer, in whoſe Default only it is that the Indorſor warrants: And becauſe this was a Point unſettled, and on which there are contradictory Opinions in Salk. * 131 and 133, the Court took Time to conſider of it: And on the ſecond Argument they delivered their Opinions that the Declaration was well enough. The Deſign of the Law of Merchants, ſaid the Court, in diſtinguiſhing theſe from all other Contracts, by making them aſſignable, was for the Convenience of Commerce, that they might paſs from Hand to Hand in the way of Trade, in the ſame Manner as if they were Specie. Now to require a Demand upon the Drawer will be laying ſuch a Clog upon theſe Bills, as will deter every Body from taking them. The Drawer lives abroad perhaps in the Indies, while the Indorſee has no Correſpondent to whom he can ſend the Bill for a Demand, or, if he could, yet the Delay would be ſo great that no Body would meddle with them. Suppoſe it was in caſe of ſeveral Indorſements, muſt the laſt Indorſee travel round the World before he can fix his Action upon the Man from whom he received the Bill? In

* See P. 60. Parag. 12.—The Caſe in Salk. 133. is thus: Action on a promiſſory Note againſt the Second Indorſor; and the Plaintiff declared without an Averment, that the Money was demanded of the Drawer, or the Firſt indorſor. And this was held good upon Motion in Arreſt of Judgment; for the Indorſor charges himſelf in the ſame Manner as if he had originally drawn the Bill. 1 Salk. 133. Trin. 9 *Anne. common common Experience every body knows, that the more Indorſements a Bill has, the greater Credit it bears; whereas if thoſe Demands were all neceſſary to be made, it muſt naturally diminiſh the Value, by how much the more difficult it renders the calling in the Money. As to the Notion that has prevailed, that the Indorſor * warrants only in Default of the Drawer, there is no Colour for it; for every Indorſor is in nature of a new Drawer, and at Niſi prius the Indorſee is never put to prove the Hand of the firſt Drawer, where the Action is againſt the Indorſor. The requiring a Proteſt for Non-acceptance is not becauſe a Proteſt amounts to a Demand; for it is no more than a giving notice to the Drawer to get his Effects out of the Hands of the Drawee, who by the other's drawing is ſuppoſed to have ſufficient wherewith to ſatisfy the Bill. Stran. 441. Trin. 7 Geo. 1. Bromley v. Frazier.

16. An Action was brought againſt the Indorſor of a Bill of Exchange. The Bill was given in Evidence, with an Indorſement only of the Defendant's Name; which, as was urged for the Defendant, was not an Indorſement that would ſubject the Defendant to an Action; to which the Plaintiff's Counſel agreed, but prayed that they might have the Bill back, to write over the Indorſement pay the Contents to J. Thead; which was oppoſed by the Defendant's Counſel, urging that if the Plaintiff had any Right ſo to do, he ought to have done it before the Cauſe came on, and that he ought not to be admitted to do it now.

Lee Chief Juſtice. I believe this hath been often allowed; and I am of Opinion that the Plaintiff ought to be let in now to do it. The Bill was then delivered back to the Plaintiff, and the Words above were wrote over the Defendant's Name.

* It was then objected that the Plaintiff himſelf appeared to be an Indorſor of the Bill, and therefore the Property out of him; ſo that he could not maintain this Action. Upon which it was prayed for the Plaintiff, that they might have the Bill back again, to ſtrike out the Indorſements ſubſequent to the Defendant's; which was oppoſed by Strange, Sollicitor General, averring that he had remembered a like Caſe at Niſi Prius before Lord Hardwicke, where, though he allowed the Bill to be delivered back, to have the Indorſement filled up; yet he refuſed to let it be delivered back, to have the ſubſequent Indorſements ſtruck out.

To which, Marſh for the Plaintiff ſaid, that the ſubſequent Indorſement being in Blank, amounted to nothing; it might be as a Witneſs, &c. and would not ſhew a Transfer of the Property; which appeared from the Neceſſity of having the Purport of the Defendant's Indorſement wrote over it. But Strange ſaid, that he was ready to ſubmit this to the Jury, whether ſuch an Indorſement were an Aſſignment of the Property or not.

Lee, Chief Juſtice, declared his Opinion, that he thought the Plaintiff ought to have this Advantage now; and the Bill was therefore again delivered back to the Plaintiff, that the Indorſements made ſubſequent to that made by the Defendant might be ſtruck out, which being done and the Bill read, the Sollicitor General took this further Objection, that by the Defendant's Indorſement, as it is now made to pay the Contents to J. Thead, and the Record is to Thead or Order; ſo it is not the ſame Bill. But upon looking into the Record, it appeared to agree with the Indorſement.

* This Caſe is reported in Strange thus: When the Note was delivered in, the Plaintiff's Name was upon it: and the Chief Juſtice permitted it to be ſtruck out in Court, it being an Indorſement in Blank. Stran. 1103.

It was then urged for the Defendant, that the Plaintiff muſt prove a Demand upon the Drawer, and his Neglect to do which was ſubmitted to by the Plaintiff's Council without Argument. Upon which it appeared in Evidence, that the Plaintiff had, by his Servant, from time to time applied to the Drawer for ſix Weeks together, and was put off; that at the end of ſix Weeks, the Drawer became a Bankrupt, and the Plaintiff not being able to ſhew that he had given Notice to the Indorſor of the Default in the Drawer, and the Witneſs confeſſing that he knew of no Notice being given to the Indorſor of this Neglect of Payment in the Drawer, it was taken without Argument, to be a Diſcharge of the Indorſor, and the Plaintiff was nonſuited. Dict. Tr. and Com. 262. Mich. 12 Geo. 2. Thead and Lovell.

17. An Action was brought by the Plaintiff againſt the Defendant as Indorſor of an inland Bill of Exchange for 100*l.* drawn at forty Days Sight by one Carrick upon one Dodd, in favour of the Defendant, who indorſed it to the Plaintiff. Dodd accepted the Bill, but did not pay it; upon which it was proteſted by the Plaintiff. All which was proved to the Jury; but it did not appear that the Drawer had Notice of the Non-Payment, before this Action was brought, or that any Application was firſt made to him for Payment: And this Matter being objected by the Defendant's Counſel, and they inſiſting that for want of ſuch Notice or Demand, or due Diligence uſed for that Purpoſe, the Plaintiff muſt be non-ſuited, the Jury gave a Verdict for the Plaintiff ſubject to the Opinion of the Court. And as this was a Point unſettled, and many contradictory Opinions thereon, as appears from the ſeveral preceding * Caſes, the Court took Time to conſider of it; and this Term unanimouſly were of Opinion that in the preſent Caſe, it was not neceſſary to demand the Money from the Drawer, or to uſe any Diligence for that Purpoſe, or to give him Notice of Non-payment by the Drawee.

* From P. 58. Parag. 9. incluſive.

That

That a Bill of Exchange was an Order or Command given by the Drawer on or to the Drawee (who has, or is ſuppoſed to have, Effects of the Drawer in his Hands) to pay a Sum of Money to a third Perſon; that when the Bill is accepted, the Drawee is become the principal Debtor, and the Drawer is liable only in Default of the Drawee: and if due Diligence be not uſed to get the Money from the Acceptor or Drawee, and Notice of his Non-Payment given in convenient Time to the Drawer, the Drawer ſhall not be liable; for if it ſhould be otherwiſe, and the Perſon upon whom the Bill was drawn ſhould become inſolvent, without ſuch due Diligence uſed by the Payee, or Perſon to whom the Bill is payable, to demand Payment from the Drawee, or without his giving the Drawer timely Notice of the Non-Payment, then would the Drawer unreaſonably ſuffer through the Laches of the Payee; having no Intimation to call in his Effects before the Drawee became inſolvent.

That when a Bill of Exchange is indorſed by the Perſon to whom it is made payable, it is become a new Bill, and the Indorſor is in the Place of the Drawer; and therefore if the Indorſee uſes due Diligence to get the Money from the Acceptor, and is refuſed Payment, then the Indorſor, who has put himſelf in the Place of the original Drawer, upon Notice of ſuch Non-Payment, is become liable immediately, but not otherwiſe; in like Manner and for the ſame Reaſon that the original Drawer would have been, in the like Caſe, had there been no Indorſement: And the Indorſee is not obliged to make any Demand upon the Drawer, or to give him any Notice; for he does not truſt the Drawer (who may not perhaps be known to him). The Indorſor is his Debtor, and not barely a * Warrantor or Security for the Payment of the Money.

That there was no Difference between foreign and inland Bills of Exchange, except in the Degree of the Conveniency; and as to foreign Bills, this Matter has been determined before in Strange *, 441. The Reaſon of the Judgment there given was for the Inconveniencies that would enſue to Commerce in general, from the Diſcredit it would bring upon Bills of Exchange to be thus clogged with a Neceſſity of giving ſuch Notice, and making a Demand on the original Drawer. Now every Inconvenience attending a foreign Bill holds to a great Degree, though not equally in reſpect to an inland Bill, if a Perſon ſhould be obliged perhaps in ſeveral remote Parts of the Kingdom to enquire after and find out the Drawer; and therefore in this Caſe it was not neceſſary to prove any Enquiry after, or Demand upon, the original Drawer, or any Notice of the Non-Payment to him.

That what gave Riſe to the ſeeming Contrariety of Opinions upon this Point, is the confuſed Manner in which Caſes upon inland Bills of Exchange and Promiſſory Notes are reported and blended together. There is a ſtrong Reſemblance between a Promiſſory Note indorſed and an inland Bill of Exchange, and the Law ſhould be ſettled on the Analogy between them.——Whilſt a Promiſſory Note remains in its original State without Indorſement, it bears no Reſemblance to an inland Bill of Exchange; but when it is indorſed to a third Perſon the Similitude begins; for then the Maker of the Note is in the ſame Situation with the Drawee or Acceptor of the Bill of Exchange; and the Indorſee of either Bill or Note muſt demand the Money from the Acceptor of the Bill or Maker of the Note before an Action can be brought againſt the Indorſor; that this was determined with reſpect to the Maker of a Note in the Court of Common Pleas, as cited in Strange †, 1087; that where Holt

* See P. 63. Parag. 14.

† The Caſe in Strange is thus: A Note was payable 27th December, 1732; the Drawer ſhut up his Houſe, and went away the November before. And the Queſtion was, whether in general a Demand upon the Drawer is neceſſary before the Indorſor can be charged; and if it was, whether in this Caſe the Plaintiff had ſhewn ſufficient in proving the ſhutting up the Houſe.

As

Holt ſaid in † Oakes's Caſe reported in Ld. Raym. 443, that the Indorſee muſt demand or endeavour to demand the Money from the Maker of the Note before he can ſue the Indorſor; and added further, "The ſame Law if the Bill was drawn upon any other Perſon payable to O. or Order." He does not mean that the Demand muſt be firſt made on the Drawer of the Bill of Exchange, before the Indorſee can ſue the Indorſor, but upon the Perſon who is in the ſame ſituation with the Drawer (or Maker) of the Promiſſory Note, who is the real Debtor, and this is the Acceptor of the Bill of Exchange.

That this Opinion of Holt, which, thus conſtrued, agreed with the preſent Opinion of the Court, was miſunderſtood and confuſed in * Salk. 127 († which is manifeſtly a wrong Collection from Holt's Opinion in Oakes's Caſe) where it is ſaid that the Indorſee of a Bill of Exchange muſt, in an Action againſt the Indorſor, prove that he demanded the Money from the Drawer, or him upon whom it is drawn, and that he refuſed to pay it, or elſe that he ſought him and could not find him; that there was the ſame Miſtake ‖ 12 Mod. 244; and that the confuſed and ſhort Notes taken of theſe and other Caſes, were the true Occaſion of all the Contrariety of Opinions on this point.

And that upon the whole, in an Action by the Indorſee of an inland Bill of Exchange againſt the Indorſor, he muſt prove a Demand, or due Diligence uſed to make it, upon the Acceptor, or Perſon upon whom the Bill was drawn: And in an Action by the Indorſee of a Promiſſory Note againſt the Indorſor,

As to the firſt, the Chief Juſtice ruled, that a Demand on the Drawer was neceſſary, as was determined in C. B. Paſch. 4 Geo. 2. on great Debate. And in this particular Caſe, he held the Plaintiff had not gone far enough, but ought to ſhew, that he had enquired after the Drawer, or attempted to find him out.

† Mr. Viner ſays, that the Caſe of Lambert v. Pack (1 Salk. 127.) ſeems to be the ſame with that of Lambert and Oakes (12 Mod. 244) and Lambert and Oakes. (L. Raym. 442.) which are one and the ſame. ‖ See P. 59. Parag. 10.

he muſt prove a Demand made, or due Diligence uſed to make it, from the Maker of the Note. Michaelmas Term, 1758. Heylins and Adamſon.

18. If the Indorſee of a Bill accepts but Two-Pence from the Acceptor, he can never reſort to the Drawer. L. Raym. 743. Taſſel and Lee v. Lewis.

19. A Bill of Exchange was drawn upon the Plaintiff at Leghorn which he accepted: But by the Law there, if a Bill be accepted and the Drawer fails, and the Acceptor hath not ſufficient Effects of the Drawer in his Hands, at the Time of the Acceptance, the Acceptance becomes void. And this happening to be the Plaintiff's Caſe; in order to diſcharge himſelf of this Acceptance, he inſtituted a Suit at Leghorn, and his Acceptance was thereupon vacated by a Sentence in that Court. Afterwards the Plaintiff returned to England and was ſued here at Law upon this Bill, and thereupon he exhibited his Bill in the Court of Chancery for an Injunction and Relief.

King, Lord Chancellor, was clearly of Opinion, that this Cauſe was to be determined according to the local Laws of the Place where the Bill was negociated: And the Plaintiff's Acceptance of the Bill having been vacated, and declared void by a competent Juriſdiction; he thought that Sentence was concluſive and bound the Court of Chancery here. And in this Caſe a perpetual Injunction was granted to enjoin the Defendant from ſuing upon this Bill. 22d Nov. 1720. 2 Eq. Abr. 524. Stran. 733. Burrow v. Jemino.

20. In an Action by the Indorſee of a Bill of Exchange againſt the Acceptor, it was held not to be neceſſary to prove the Hand of the Drawer: And the Plaintiff reſted on the Proof of the Acceptance. The Defendant offered to prove it a forged Bill, by calling Perſons who were acquainted with the Hand of the Drawer, and would ſwear they did not believe it to be his Hand. But the Chief Juſtice would not admit this, from the Danger to negotiable Notes, and becauſe a Man might with Deſign write contrary to his uſual Method. And he ſtrongly inclined, that even actual actual Proof of Forgery would not excuſe the Defendant againſt his own Acceptance, which had given the Bill a Credit with the Indorſee. Stran. 946. Jenys v. Fawler.

21. Upon a Caſe made at Niſi Prius before Pratt, Chief Juſtice, it appeared that the Plaintiff had declared on an Indorſement made by William Abercrombie, whereby he appointed the Payment to be to Louiſa Acheſon or Order; and upon producing the Bill in Evidence, it appeared to be payable to Abercrombie or Order; but the Indorſement was only in theſe Words, "Pray pay the Contents to Louiſa Acheſon;" and therefore it was objected that Indorſement not being to Order, did not agree with the Plaintiff's Declaration. But upon Conſideration the whole Court were of Opinion it was well enough, that being the legal Import of the Indorſement, and that the Plaintiff might upon this have indorſed it over to another, who would be the proper Order of the firſt Indorſor. Judgment for the Plaintiff. Stran. 557. Acheſon v. Fountain.

22. Huſſey brought aſſumpſit againſt the Defendant Jacob upon his Acceptance of a Bill of Exchange drawn upon him by the Lord Chandos according to the Cuſtom of Merchants. The Defendant Jacob pleaded that the Lord Chandos played at Hazard with the Plaintiff Huſſey, and loſt to him at one and the ſame Time 150*l.* and that for Payment and Security of the ſaid Sum of 150*l.* loſt to the Plaintiff, he drew this Bill of Exchange upon the Defendant payable to the Plaintiff, which the Defendant accepted; and then he pleads the Statute of Gaming of 16 Car. 2. Cap. 7. by which this Bill of Exchange, being given for Security of the ſaid Sum gained at play, became void, &c. The Plaintiff demurs. And Sir Bartholomew Shower for the Plaintiff argued, 1ſt, That this was not within the Statute; for though he well agreed, that an Action could not be maintained againſt the Lord Chandos himſelf for this Money by reaſon of this Statute; yet here a third Perſon had made himſelf chargeable by his own collateral Engagement, viz. by the Acceptance of the Bill, which ſeems to be out of the Intent of the Act; the aſſumpſit of the Acceptor being altogether different from that of the Drawer, for although the Conſideration of the Drawer was the Money won at Play, yet the Conſideration of the Acceptor was the Honour of the Drawer, or his Effects in the Hands of the Acceptor. And the Defendant has not pleaded, that the Acceptance was pro Solutione et Securitate of it. Beſides, that it would be of very ill Conſequence, to ſuffer the Defendant to avoid his own Bill and Acceptance by this Means; for a Bill of Exchange once accepted by a reſponſible Man, is of ſuch Credit among Traders, that it paſſes as current as ready Money, and is negotiated from one to another through all Europe, and exchanged upon valuable Conſideration, till it comes back to London. But if the firſt Acceptor ſhall be admitted to avoid it by the Statute of Gaming, this will diminiſh the Credit of Bills of Exchange, and will be a great Check to Merchandizing. But to this it was anſwered and reſolved by the Court, that if a collateral Engagement of a third Perſon ſhall not be within the Intent of the Act, the Act will be very eaſily evaded, and in Effect rendered uſeleſs. And therefore all the Court was of Opinion, that if a Man has loſt Money at Gaming, viz. more than 100 l. at one Time, and he procures J. S. to be bound for the Payment of it, or as the principal Caſe is, gives a Bill of Exchange for the Payment of it which is accepted, both theſe Securities are void by the ſaid Act. But if he who wins being indebted to the Stranger, procures him who loſes to bind himſelf to the Stranger for the Payment of the Money due by him who wins to the Stranger, in Conſideration of a Diſcharge of the Money which he hath loſt at Gaming, this Bond which he makes to the Stranger is not within the Act, becauſe it is made for a juſt Debt. So in this principal Caſe, if the Bill of Exchange had been afterwards aſſigned for a valuable Conſideration, the Honeſty of this this Aſſignment had purged the original Canker, and rendered it good enough. As where a fraudulent Conveyance is aſſigned upon valuable Conſideration, the Fraud is purged. (But Sir Bartholomew Shower ſaid, that it was ſtrange, that the Party by his Aſſignment could make that good which was void ab initio.) But in this Caſe at Bar, the Money loſt at Play is the Foundation of the whole, which is ill, and therefore the Bill and the Acceptance, which are the Superſtructure, are ill alſo. Note, this is called an Acceptance for the Honour of the Drawer, when a Stranger upon whom the Bill was not drawn, in reſpect of the Drawer, and having no Effects of his in his Hands, accepts it.

2. It was objected for the Plaintiff, that the Defendant has not brought himſelf within the Statute; for he has not alledged that the Lord Chandos and the Plaintiff played upon Tick or Credit according to the Words of the Act, which is a penal Law and ought to be purſued ſtrictly; for ſuch Gaming was not prohibited by the common Law. Sed non allocatur; for per Curiam the giving of the Bill of Exchange makes it evident, that they did not play for ready Money, but for Credit.

3. It was objected, that the Cuſtom which was the ground of the Action, is not anſwered by the Plea. Sed non allocatur. For per Curiam it is confeſſed and avoided. It is admitted to be good generally, but not with this Ingredient. And by Holt Chief Juſtice, though theſe Declarations ſeem to be grounded upon Cuſtom, yet this Cuſtom is properly the common Law. For the Acceptance of the Bill amounts to a Promiſe in Law to pay it, and this Promiſe is grounded upon the Conſideration of Trade.

4. It was objected, that the Defendant ſhould have pleaded the general Iſſue, and given this Matter in Evidence; for the Statute ſays that ſuch Contract ſhall be void; then nothing is due to the Plaintiff, and conſequently the Defendant ſhould have pleaded the general Iſſue; for in effect this Plea does but amount amount to it. Sed non allocatur; for, per Curiam, where the Defendant has ſpecial Matter conſiſting not only of bare Matter of Fact, but intermixed with Matter of Law, which will avoid the Charge or Action of the Plaintiff, he is not obliged to plead the general Iſſue, but may plead it ſpecially. For otherwiſe he ſhould be obliged to commit a Point of Law to a Jury who is ignorant of it, which would be abſurd. Therefore in Debt upon a * Bond made by a Feme Coverte, while ſhe was Coverte de Baron, the Defendant may plead the ſpecial Matter, or non eſt factum, and give it in Evidence. See 3 Cro. 871, 900. 4 Co. 13, 14. Lord Cromwell's Caſe. Hob. 127. Poph. 65. Dyer, 121. So in this Caſe the Defendant might have pleaded the general Iſſue, and have given this Matter in Evidence, or he might do as he has done, viz. plead it ſpecially. And therefore Judgment was given by the whole Court for the Defendant.

Note, In this Caſe, the Caſe of one Roſindale lately adjudged was cited, where the Caſe in effect was thus: A. covenanted with B. that the Horſe of A. ſhould run with the Horſe of B four Heats for 30*l.* each Heat; and in Covenant brought for the 120*l.* having won every Heat; the Defendant pleaded the Statute of Gaming; and upon Demurrer it was objected, that this was not within the Statute; becauſe the Running of each Heat for 30*l.* was a diſtinct and ſingle Wager; and then being but for 30*l.* the Statute did not extend to it, the Sum prohibited by the Statute being 100*l.* or more. But it was adjudged that it was void for the Whole; for it was but one intire and ſingle Contract, though the Horſes were to run four Times; and then the Sum won

* Aſſumpſit againſt a Woman; ſhe pleads that ſhe is, and at the Time of the aſſumpſit was a Feme Coverte. The Plaintiff demurred ſpecially, and ſhewed for Cauſe, that this amounted to the general Iſſue. But adjudged for the Defendant, for this Matter of Fact is intermixed with Matter of Law, which will excuſe the Defendant. Mich. 8 W. 3. B. R. 1696. James v. Fowkes.

If A. draws a Bill of Exchange payable to B. for the Uſe of C; and B. for a valuable Conſideration indorſes it over to D; D. may bring an Action againſt A. the Drawer; and he cannot plead that the Money was extended in his Hands at the Suit of the King, for a Debt due from C. for C. being only Ceſtui que Truſt, had only an equitable Intereſt, and no * legal Remedy for the Money; and B. is only reſponſible in Equity to C. for the Breach of Truſt. 3 *New Abr. 25. In Action brought upon a Bill of Exchange, made payable to the Order of the Plaintiff, the Declaration ſet forth, that the Defendant by his Acceptance, became liable to pay to the Plaintiff, ſecundum conſuetudinem Mercatorum. Upon this Declaration there is a Demurrer.

It was urged for the Defendant, that the Plaintiff had only an Authority to indorſe the Bill, and then the Indorſee might maintain an Action; but that the Plaintiff was not intitled to receive the Money. It was compared to the Caſe of a Deviſe, that Executors ſhall ſell Land, where the Executors have only an Authority to ſell, but no Intereſt; and therefore immediately upon Sale, the Vendee is in, not from the Executors, but under the Will.

On the other Side it was ſaid, that if this was Law, Multitudes of Bills of Exchange would be overthrown: That by the Cuſtom of Merchants, there is no Difference between payable to the Order of ſuch a One, or payable to ſuch a One or Order; and that the Cuſtom is confeſſed by the Demurrer: That the ſame Strictneſs and Nicety are not required in the Penning of Bills current between Merchant and Merchant, as in Deeds, Wills, &c. Court. Even in Caſe of Land, a Grant or Deviſe of the Profits of Land carries the Land: Order implies Property; no Difference between having a Power to diſpoſe of Money, and having the Money itſelf. What is an Order, but an Authority to appoint the Payment of it? which the Plaintiff here does to himſelf. Judgment for the Plaintiff. Lucas, 286. ——— v. Ormſton. B. R. 1 Geo. 1.

26. A. Drew a Bill of Exchange upon B. payable to C. Then B. accepts the Bill. C. indorſes it to D. Now by this Indorſement by C. to D. B. is diſcharged of any Payment as to C. and if D. indorſes it over to E. then B. is diſcharged of any Payment to to D. But if D. pays the Money to E. then D. by this Payment becomes again intitled to receive the Money of B. and at ſuch Time no other, whether E or C. is intitled to bring any Action againſt B. but D. only. So if C. pays the Money to D. then B. is diſcharged as to D. but C. becomes really intitled, and B. is again intitled as to him, but diſcharged againſt D. and E. See Lutw. 885. b. 888. b. 1 Jac. 2. in *Cam. Of the Action and Remedy on a Bill of Exchange; and the Manner of declaring and pleading thereon.

1. IT ſeems agreed, that againſt the Drawer an Action of * Debt, or a general † Indebitatus aſſumpſit, will lie; for he having received the Money, the Law raiſes a Contract, and lays him under an Obligation to pay it; but it hath been adjudged, that neither an Action of Debt, nor an Indebitatus aſſumpſit will lie againſt the Acceptor of a Bill of Exchange, and therefore the Remedy againſt him muſt be by a ſpecial Action on the Caſe founded on the Cuſtom of Merchants; for the Acceptance is only a collateral Engagement to pay the Debt for another, in the ſame Manner as a Promiſe by a Stranger to pay, &c. if the Creditor will forbear his Debt. 3 *New Abr. If the Money be not received, it returns back upon the Drawer, and he remains liable ſtill, and this is only collateral. 2dly, Becauſe Onerabilis does not imply Debt. 3dly, Becauſe the Caſe is primæ Impreſſionis, and there is no Precedent for it. 1 Mod. 286. Trin. 22 Car. 2. *B. It was inſiſted in Arreſt of Judgment, that an Indebitatus Aſſumpſit would not lie, but an Action on the Caſe only; and of that Opinion were Hale and Rainsford, who ſaid it was ſo adjudged in the Exchequer ſince the King's Reſtoration; and ſo Judgment was ſtayed hæſitante Twiſden; for he conceived that the Cuſtom made it a Debt by him that accepted the Bill. Vent. 152. Mich. 25. Car. 2. Brown, v. London.—*Freem. As to the Manner of declaring on a Bill of Exchange, this is ſaid to have varied; the Declaration in ſome Caſes being general; ſometimes ſpecial, and laid with an expreſs Promiſe, and at other Times without it: But it ſeems to be now ſettled, that the Cuſtom of Merchants concerning Bills of Exchange, being Part of the Common Law of which the Judges will take Notice ex Officio, it is unneceſſary to ſet forth the Cuſtom ſpecially in the Declaration, and that it is ſufficient to ſay, that ſuch a Perſon, according to the Uſage and Cuſtom of Merchants, drew the Bill. 3 *New Abr. Debt againſt a Merchant upon a Bill by him payable at the Feaſt of the Purification called Candlemas-Day; and after Judgment for the Plaintiff, it was moved in Arreſt thereof, becauſe Payment at Candlemas is not known in our Law: But Judgment was affirmed; for that amongſt Merchants ſuch Payment is known to be on the 2d of February; and the Judges ought to take notice thereof for the Maintenance of Traffic. *Vin. 10. In an Action upon the Caſe upon a Bill of Exchange, the Plaintiff in his Declaration declared upon a Bill of Exchange, and that he offered it to the Perſon on whom it was drawn, and he refuſed to pay it, per quod the firſt Drawer devenit onerabilis per conſuetudinem, &c. and there was an Indebitatus aſſumpſit, and a Quantum meruit, in the Declaration. Judgment by Default, and a Writ of Inquiry of Damages, and intire Damages given. And now it was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, that as the Matter ſtood upon the firſt Count, this Action was founded upon a Deceit, the Bill not being paid according to the Warranty, every one who draws a Bill warranting the Payment thereof; and therefore being in the Nature of an Action for a Deceit, which is a Tort, it cannot be joined with an Aſſumpſit, which is founded upon a Contract; and therefore, for want of laying an expreſs Promiſe, it was ill, intire Damages being given. Northey ſaid, that the Action was founded upon the Cuſtom, and that the Obligation aroſe by that, and therefore the Action is maintainable without ſhewing a Promiſe. Cro. Car. 302. A Declaration upon a Bill of Exchange without ſhewing any Promiſe; and the Bill is ſo. 2. This ſounds all in Contract; for the Cuſtom raiſes a Promiſe in Law, that the Drawer will pay the Money, if the Perſon upon whom it was drawn refuſes to pay it. And 2 Cro. 307. ſays, that if a Merchant accepts a Bill, it has by the Cuſtom the Force of a Promiſe to compel him to pay the Money. Holt Chief Juſtice at the Beginning ſeemed to agree with the Objection, and ſaid, that he who draws the Bill warrants the Payment of it, and, if he does not, it is a Deceit, and one may have an Action upon it; but then they ought not to join it with an Action upon a Promiſe. That is the Caſe of Sir John Dalſton, and Janſon, Mich. 7. W. 3. B. R. (Raym. 58.) In the Time of 2 Cro. they were not arrived at this Way of declaring upon Bills of Exchange. Gould Juſtice cited 1 Sid. 306. that if a Man brings Aſſumpſit for the Arrears of an Account, where the Action formed is Debt, he ought to lay an expreſs Promiſe to maintain the Action. Holt ſaid, that the Notion of Promiſes in Law was a metaphyſical Notion; for the Law makes no Promiſe but where there is a Promiſe in the Party. Afterwards in this Term Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, becauſe the Drawing of the Bill was an actual Promiſe. L. Raym. 538. Starke v. Cheeſman. S. C. 1 Salk. 128. Carth. 509.

11. Aſſumpſit for 40*l.* The Plaintiff declares upon a Bill of Exchange for 20*l.* payable 10 Days after Sight, and that the Bill was ſeen by the Defendant, and accepted the 5th of May; and then he ſhews another Aſſumpſit for the other 20*l.* &c. The Defendant craves Oyer of the Original, and upon that prays that the Writ may abate quoad primam Promiſſionem, becauſe the Original bears Teſte the 15th of May, and the Bill was not payable until 10 Days after Sight; et quoad alteram Promiſſionem, he pleads in Bar without Defence. The Plaintiff demurs. It was argued by the Defendant's Council, that if the Bill be payable 10 Days after Sight, the Day of Sight ſhall be taken excluſive, as well by reaſon of the Word poſt, as becauſe it is always ſo underſtood among Merchants. But the Court was of Opinion, 1ſt, That in real Actions the Writ may abate in Part, but in perſonal Actions a Writ cannot abate in Part. Therefore, admitting that the Day is excluded here, the Writ muſt abate for the Whole, or not at all. 2dly, That there is no Fraction of a Day in this Caſe; for the Law will never account by Minutes or Hours to make Priorities in a ſingle Day, unleſs it be to prevent a great Misfortune or Inconvenience; as if a Bond be made the firſt Day of January, and this Bond is releaſed the ſame Day, the Bond may be averred to be made before the Releaſe. So if a Feme ſole bind herſelf in a Bond, and the ſame Day marries, one may aver that ſhe married after the Bond delivered. In Aſſize it appears, that the Diſſeizin was done the ſame Day on which the Writ was teſted, yet this ſhall not abate the Writ, becauſe the Aſſize might be purchaſed after the Diſſeizin. 3. That if there is a Cuſtom among Merchants, that the Day of the Sight ſhall be excluded, it ought to have been pleaded ſpecially; for it is a ſpecial Cuſtom of which the Court cannot take notice without pleading. And Powell Juſtice ſaid, that the Court would take notice of the Lex Mercatoria, as that there is no Survivorſhip, or of a general Cuſtom, as Gavel-kind; but that ſuch ſpecial Cuſtom as this here ought to be pleaded. As in Action upon a Bill of Exchange, unleſs the Plaintiff declares upon a Cuſtom to ſupport the Action according to the common Form, the Action will not be maintainable. 4. Powell and Nevill, Juſtices, were of Opinion, that the Day on which the Bill was ſhewn ſhall be reckoned one of the ten: For, according to Clayton's Caſe (5 Co. 1. 2 Inſt. 308, 310.) and all the Books, when the Computation putation is to be made from an Act done, the Day on which the Act was done muſt be included; becauſe ſince there is no Fraction in a Day, that Act relates to the firſt Moment of the Day in which it was done, and was, as it were, then done. But when the Computation is to be from the Day itſelf, and not from an Act done, there the Day on which the Act was done muſt be excluded by the expreſs Words of the Parties. As if a Leaſe be made to commence a die datus, the Day is excluded; but if it be a confectione, which is an Act done, the Day of the making ſhall be included. But Treby Chief Juſtice contra held, that if a Bill be payable 10 Days after Sight, the Day of Sight cannot be accounted one of the 10 Days, but ſhall be excluded. 1ſt, Becauſe it may be ſeen the laſt Minute of the Day, and that may be intended as reaſonably, as that it was ſeen the firſt Minute. 2dly, The Party may have * the whole Day to view the Bill, and that is allowed him by the Law. 3dly, Becauſe the contrary Conſtruction ſeems abſurd; for then if a Bill be payable one Day after Sight, it muſt be paid the ſame Day that it is ſeen, which is not the Day after the Sight, as the Bill requires †. As to Clayton's

* According to the Cuſtom of Merchants, the Party on whom the Bill is drawn, may have 24 Hours to conſider whether he will accept it, or not. Marius 62

† You are to take ſpecial Notice, ſays Marius, that the Day on which the Bill of Exchange doth fall due, is always to be accounted as Part of the Time limited in the Bill of Evchange as included therein; ſo that the Day on which any Bill of Exchange doth fall due, doth belong to the Party which is to make Payment thereof, as being Part of his Time. As for Example, ſuppoſe a Bill is made payable at thirty Days Sight, and it be accepted the 5th Day of February (February having but 28 Days) you muſt reckon from the 5th of February to the 6th for one Day, and from thence to the 7th, two Days, and ſo forward (allowing 24 Hours to a Day) it will fall due, or the 30 Days will expire with the 7th of March incluſive: And in like Manner with Bills payable at Uſance, double or treble Uſance, or Bills payable at a prefixt Day; the full Time of the Uſances or prefixt Day muſt be taken incluſive as Part of the Time appointed for Payment of the Bill: And three Days after the Expiration of that Day are uſually al-

Clayton's Caſe, he admitted that it was good Law, but not contrary to his Opinion; for if a Man make a Leaſe the firſt of January, to have and to hold a confectione for a Year; there the Day of the making muſt be accounted one, becauſe being a Leaſe from the Delivery, and to continue but for one Year unleſs the Day be included, the Leaſe will not determine until the End of the 1ſt of January the next Year, and ſo there will be two firſt Days of January in one Year. But notwithſtanding his Opinion, becauſe his Brothers were of a contrary Opinion, he ordered that the Defendant ſhould anſwer over.

Note, Before this Opinion of the Court was pronounced, the Defendant's Counſel offered to take Exception to the Declaration; but the Court refuſed to admit them; for per Curiam upon a Plea to the Writ, the Defendant cannot take Exceptions to the Count before the Writ be adjudged good; for then the Defendant has Time enough to take Advantage of the Declaration, and before it is needleſs, becauſe if the Writ be abated, that will determine the whole. After this it was objected, That the Defendant had not made Defence; and the Queſtion was if this was Matter of Form, and ſo aided by the general Demurrer. And prima facie the Court was of Opinion this was Matter of Subſtance; becauſe the Defendant is no Party to the Action without Defence: But after having conſulted the Judges of the King's Bench, where it has been a long Time held Matter of Form, they agreed that it was aided by the general Demurrer; though at the ſame Time they ſeemed to comply with that Opinion, rather than to approve it with their own Judgments, to the End that there might be a Conformity between the two Courts. *L. 12. The Plaintiff brought an Action upon the Caſe upon a Bill of Exchange againſt the Defendant, and declared upon the Cuſtom of Merchants, which he ſhewed to be thus: That if any Merchant ſubſcribes a Bill, by which he promiſes to pay a Sum of Money to another Man or his Order, and afterwards the Perſon to whom the Bill was made payable, indorſes the ſaid Bill for the Payment of the whole Sum therein contained, or any Part thereof, to another Man, the firſt Drawer is obliged to pay the Sum ſo indorſed to the Perſon to whom it is indorſed payable; and then the Plaintiff ſhews, that the Defendant Cardy, being a Merchant, ſubſcribed a Bill of 46 l. 19 s. payable to Blackman or his Order; That Blackman indorſed 43 l. 4 s. of it payable to the Plaintiff, &c. The Defendant pleaded an inſufficient Plea. The Plaintiff demurred, and the Defendant joined in Demurrer. And adjudged per totam Curiam that the Declaration is ill: For a Man cannot apportion ſuch perſonal Contract; becauſe he cannot make a Man liable to two Actions, where by the Contract he is liable but to one. As if A. grant a Rent-Charge of 20 l. per annum to B. B. grants 10 l. to C. C. cannot compel the Ter-tenant to attorn. So if Lands are conveyed with Warranty to A. and B. their Heirs and Aſſigns, if Partition be made, the Warranty is extinct. See Hob. 25. But if in the principal Caſe the Plaintiff had acknowledged the Receipt of the 3 l. 15 s. the Declaration had been good. And though it was objected by Mr. Northey for the Plaintiff, that the Plaintiff has made Payment of a Part to be a Part of the Cuſtom, and therefore it was well enough by the Cuſtom. Holt Chief Juſtice anſwered, that this is not a particular local Cuſtom, but the common Cuſtom of Merchants, of which the Law takes notice; and therefore the Court cannot take the Cuſtom to be ſo. And the whole Court were of Opinion, that Judgment ought to be entered for the Defendant. But, upon the Importunity of Mr. Northey, Leave was given to the Plaintiff to diſconti-rue upon Payment of Coſts. L. Raym 360. Hawkins v. Candy.

13. In Aſſumpſit the Plaintiff declared that the Cuſtom of Merchants is, if one for Wares delivered to him or his Factor, makes a Bill of Exchange directed to a Merchant, and he to whom it is directed accepts of it, and after refuſes to pay, and this is proteſted before a Public Notary, then he, who delivered the Bill, is bound to pay it; and alledges that he delivered ſuch Wines in France to J. S. the Factor of B. and he thereupon delivered a Bill of Exchange for the Money to J. N. who accepted it, and had not paid it, and found upon Non aſſumpſit for the Plaintiff. It was aſſigned for Error that this Action is grounded upon the Cuſtom of Merchants, and it is not ſhewed that the Plaintiff was a Merchant at the Time of the Bill of Exchange delivered; but becauſe he is named Merchant in the Declaration, and the Bill is for Merchandizes ſold, it ſhall be intended he was a Merchant at that Time, and ſo Judgment affirmed. *Vin. Exception was taken that the Acceptor is to pay ſecundum acceptationem ſuam, and no Time is mentioned in the Bill itſelf when the Money was to be paid, nor has the Plaintiff ſet forth that the Defendant accepted accepted it to pay it at Sight, or at any certain Time; and ſo it might be that the Time of Payment was not paſt before the Action brought, and this was held a good Exception; but by Conſent the Plaintiff was to amend his Count. *Vin. The Bill was preſented for Acceptance, with the Advance of 20 per cent. R. was ready to accept and pay at the current Value, but not with the Advance, and therefore there was a Proteſt for Non-acceptance, and an Action was brought againſt the Drawer. It was ruled by Holt Chief Juſtice, that here, there not being Notice, the Bill ought to be paid according to the antient Value; for the King of Portugal may not alter the Property of a Subject of England; and therefore this Caſe differs from the Caſe of mixed Monies in Davis's Reports; for there the Alteration was by the King of England, who has ſuch a Prerogative, and this ſhall bind his own Subjects. Vin. The Law of Merchants is, that if he who has ſuch a Bill does lapſe his Time, and does not proteſt or make his Requeſt, if any Accident happens by this Neglect in Prejudice to the Drawer, he hath loſt his Remedy againſt him; but if ſuch a Thing had happened, it ought to have come of the other Side: and not being ſo, we muſt adjudge on the Declaration. R. Williams v. Williams.

25. Action ſur le Caſe by an Indorſee againſt the firſt Drawer of a Bill of Exchange. The Defendant pleaded that the Indorſor, at the Time of the Indorſement, was a Bankrupt. Demurrer. Per cur. this is a good Plea in Bar: for a Bankrupt is diſabled to aſſign a Bill; but then he ought to have pleaded a Commiſſion taken out; wherefore Judgment for the Plaintiff. *Vin. 26. In Caſe on a Bill of Exchange, the Plaintiff ſet forth the Cuſtom of Merchants, &c. and that one J. P. drew a Bill upon the Defendant payable to the Plaintiff; that the Bill was preſented to the Defendant, who accepted it upon Condition to pay it by a Bank bill, to which the Plaintiff agreed; and that the Defendant, in Conſideration thereof, promiſed to pay the Money in a Bank-bill, which ſhould be of good and old Date, and aſſigns the Breach in giving him a Bank-bill payable to one Philips or Bearer, dated 1ſt July 1696, in which the Defendant had no Manner of Property or Intereſt, ſo that the Plaintiff could not, nor can as yet, receive the Money. After Verdict it was moved in Arreſt that the Breach was not well aſſigned; for it ought to be aſſigned in the ſame Manner as the Promiſe was made, viz. that he did not pay the Money in a Bank-bill of good and old Date; and alſo for want of averring that the Bill made by P. &c. was made according to the Cuſtom of Merchants, purſuant to the Cuſtom alledged in the Declaration to this Purpoſe. Sed non allocatur; for it ſhall be ſo intended. Vin. Abr. Tit. Bills of Exchange (O) 21. Lutw. 227. Hill 8 W. 3. Mannin v. Cary.

27. A Bill accepted for Money won at Play. The Acceptor may well plead the Statute in bar; for tho' the Acceptance makes a new Contract, yet it ſtands on the ſame Conſideration; and if this Plea ſhould not be good, the Statute would be eluded. Indeed if the Plaintiff had indorſed the Bill over bona fide to another, who was ignorant of the Iniquity, the Statute could not have been pleaded againſt ſuch an Indorſee; but it may againſt him who is Party to the Wrong. Judgment for the Defendant, 12 Mod. 96, 97. Trin. 8. W. 3. Huſſey, v. Jacob.

28. An Action on the Caſe was brought on a Bill of Exchange; to which the Defendant pleaded, that after the Acceptance of the Bill, he gave a Bond in Diſcharge thereof; and upon Demurrer to this Plea, it was objected that it amounted to the general Iſſue; for the Debt upon the Bill being extinguiſhed by the Bond, Bond, the Defendant ought to have pleaded non aſſumpſit, and to have given the Bond in Evidence; and the Court ſeemed of that Opinion, but by Conſent the Defendant did plead the general Iſſue. Vin. Abr. Tit. Bills of Exchange, O. 23. 5 Mod. 314. Mich. 8 W. 3. Hackſhaw v. Clarke.

29. In Caſe on a Bill of Exchange drawn upon two Partners in Trade, and which was accepted by one only. Exception was taken to the Declaration, becauſe it was per conſuetudinem Angliæ, &c. and therefore ill; becauſe the Cuſtom of England is the Law of England, of which the Judges ought to take Notice without pleading; ſed non allocatur; for though heretofore this has been allowed, yet of late Time it has always been over-ruled; and in an Action againſt a Carrier, it is always laid per conſuetudinem Angliæ, &c.

Another Exception was that though Lex Mercatoria is part of the Law of England, yet it is but a particular Cuſtom among Merchants; and therefore it ought to be ſhewn in London, or ſome other particular Place; ſed non allocatur; for the Cuſtom is not reſtrained to any particular Place. And Hard. 485. it is laid as here.

Another Exception was, that it is not ſaid that the ſaid J. S. promiſed for the Defendant and himſelf upon the Account of Trade, and it may be that this was for Rent or ſome other Thing for which the Partner is not liable. Sed non Allocatur; for the Plaintiff having declared ſo ſpecially upon the Cuſtom, it ſhall be intended this was for merchandizing, eſpecially ſince the Defendant has demurred generally. And if the Caſe had been otherwiſe, the Defendant might have pleaded it.

Another Exception was, that the Declaration is, that Hutchin's indorſavit billam prædictam ſolubilem to the Plaintiff, which is Nonſenſe; for it ought to be, that he indorſed the Bill, that the Defendant ſhould pay, &c. ſed non allocatur; and Judgment given for the Plaintiff. L. Raym. 175. Hill. 8 and 9 W. 3. Pinkney v. Hall.

30. Aſſumpſit

30. Aſſumpſit upon a Bill of Exchange. The Plaintiff declares, that ſecundum conſuetudinem et uſum mercatorum, the Acceptor is bound to pay, &c. without ſhewing the Cuſtom at large, and the Defendant demurred; and it was judged for the Plaintiff; per Cur. it is a better Way than to ſhew the Whole at large. L. Raym. 175. Hill 8 and 9 W. 3. Soper v. Dible.

31. In an Action on a Bill of Exchange, unleſs the Plaintiff declares upon a Cuſtom to ſupport the Aſſumpſit according to the common Form, the Action will not be maintainable; per Powell, J. L. Raym. 281. Mich. 9 W. 3.

32. Action for Part of the Sum in a Bill of Exchange lies not without ſhewing the other Part to be ſatisfied. 1 Salk. 65. pl. 2. Mich. 10 W. 3. B. R. Hawkins v. Cardee. Carth. 466. S. C. this was an Indorſement ordering Part of the Bill to be paid to Plaintiff.—12 Mod. 217. Hawkins v. Gardiner. S. C. —L. Raym. 360. S. C. adjudged per tot. Cur. that the Declaration is ill; for a Man cannot apportion a perſonal Contract, ſo as to make the Defendant liable to two Actions, where by the Contract he is liable only to one.

33. Aſſumpſit upon a Bill of Exchange. The Plaintiff declares, that J. S. drew a Bill of Exchange upon the Defendant, dated the 25th of March 1696, payable within one Month after; that afterwards, viz. ſuch a Day in April 1697, he ſhewed the Bill to the Defendant, and he promiſed to pay it ſecundum tenorem et effectum billae prædict. all which appears upon the Plaintiff's Declaration. To which Mr. Northey for the Plaintiff anſwered, that it will amount to a Promiſe to pay generally. Of which Opinion was the whole Court. And Holt, Chief Juſtice, took the Diſtinction where the Day of Payment is paſt at the Time of the Acceptance, as it was in this Caſe, and where the Day of Payment is to come. In the former Caſe, Acceptance to pay ſecundum tenorem et effectum billæ will amount to a general Acceptance to pay the Money; contra, in the latter Caſe. For in the former mer Caſe it is impoſſible to pay the Money as the Bill appoints. But he ſaid, that it had been better in this Caſe to have declared of a general Promiſe, without having reſtrained it by the tenorem et effectum billæ. And (by him) in ſuch Caſe the Acceptance of a Bill amounts to an expreſs Promiſe to pay it. But (by him) if the Plaintiff declares, that the Acceptance was before the Day appointed for the Payment, and that he accepted to pay it ſecundum tenorem et effectum billæ prædictæ; and it appears upon Evidence, that the Acceptance in Fact was after the Day of Payment, that would be againſt the Plaintiff. Judgment for the Plaintiff. 1 Salk 127. Jackſon v. Pigott. 10 W. 3. L. Raym. 346. S. C. adjudged for the Plaintiff. Carth. 459. S. C. And as for the Words ſecundum tenorem et effectum billæ, the Effect of the Bill is the Payment of the Money, and not the Day of Payment, and at the moſt it is only ſurpluſage in the Declaration; and Judgment was for the Plaintiff.

34. There were three Bills of Exchange drawn for the ſame Sum (the other Bills not being paid.) Plaintiff proteſted the ſecond Bill, and brought his Action and declared on Non-payment of the ſaid ſecond Bill, and had Judgment by Default; and upon a Writ of Inquiry, intire Damages; and now it was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, becauſe it was not averred in the Declaration that the firſt and third was not paid, and that it ought to be averred, becauſe the Bills were conditional, viz. to pay the ſecond if the firſt and third was not paid. But it was anſwered that the Allegation, that the Money in billa prædicta mentionat' was not paid, did ſupply the want of that Averment, becauſe the Sum was the ſame in all the Bills; and Judgment was for the Plaintiff. Carth. 510. Hill. 11 W. 3. B. R. Starke v. Cheeſman.

35. In Caſe upon a Bill of Exchange the Plaintiff had Judgment by Default; it was moved in Arreſt, that to intitle the Plaintiff to a Proteſt, the Declaration only ſaid that the Perſon upon whom the Bill was drawn non fuit inventus in ſo long a Time, without ſhewing ſhewing that they had made Enquiry after him; but it was anſwered that it was according to the Cuſtom among Merchants, and according to the common Form in ſuch Caſes; and the Plaintiff had Judgment. Carth. 509, 510. Hill. 11 W. 3. B. Starke v. Cheeſman. 1 Salk. 128. Pl. 10. S. C. but S. P. does not appear——L. Raym. 538. S. C. but S. P. does not appear.

36. An Indebitatus aſſumpſit upon a Bill of Exchange by Domingo Franca; it appeared upon the Declaration that there were ſeveral Indorſements, and the Action was brought by the firſt Indorſor, who ſtruck off the ſeveral Indorſements, and brought an Action for Non-Payment; the Bill did ſpecify Value received of the Plaintiff. Holt ſaid, if the Action had been upon the Cuſtom, in this Caſe the way had been for the Plaintiff to get the laſt Indorſee to indorſe it to him, for him to bring an Action as Indorſee; but this Action, he ſaid, well lay, for the Bill was given as a Security for Money, and without doubt it was a Debt. Then it was argued that the Declaration ſhews a Proteſt for Want of Payment, when it was in Truth for want of Acceptance, as appeared by the Proteſt, yet it was ruled well; becauſe this was not the Cuſtom, but a plain Debt, and one might bring Debt or Indebitatus aſſumpſit upon a Bill of Exchange, becauſe it is in the Nature of a Security. 12. Mod. 345. Mich. 11 W. 3. Anon.

37. In an Action againſt the Drawer, the Plaintiff declared on the Cuſtom of Merchants, and ſet forth that the Drawee refuſed to pay, per quod onerabilis devenit, &c. but laid no expreſs Promiſe; after Judgment by Default and a Writ of Enquiry, it was moved in Arreſt, that the Declaration had ſet forth the Cuſtom, but not an expreſs Promiſe to pay. But it was anſwered, that it was ſufficient to count upon the Cuſtom; becauſe the Cuſtom makes both the Obligation and Promiſe; and Holt, Ch. J. held that the drawing the Bill is an expreſs Promiſe: and Judgment for the Plaintiff; 1 Salk. 128. pl. 10. Mich. 11. W. 3. B. R.

Starke

Starke v. Cheeſman. Carth. 502, 510. S. C. And objected that it was not laid that the Defendant promiſed to pay the Money to them after the Proteſt made, or that he had any Notice of the Proteſt; but adjudged for the Plaintiff. L. Raym. 538. S. C. adjudged for the Plaintiff; becauſe the drawing the Bill was an actual Promiſe.

38. Though an Acceptance was within the three Days of Grace, viz. the laſt Day, within which Time Payment is good, and no Proteſt for Want of Payment can be made, unleſs the ſaid Days are elapſed, yet it is a Breach not to have paid the Money within the Uſance, and the Plaintiff has no Need to ſay in his Declaration upon a Bill of Exchange, that he did not pay the Money within the Days of Grace; but if the Fact was, that it was then paid, it ought to be ſhewn of the other Side; per Sir Barth. Shower, arg. and Holt, Ch. J. and Northey, agreed the ſame to be ſo. L. Raym. 574, 575. Trin. 12 W. 3. Mutford v. Walcot.

39. If a Bill is accepted, it is not neceſſary to alledge any Promiſe of Payment; for the Acceptance is an actual Aſſumption, and the Declaration need not alledge more; and though where the Bill was drawn payable at Amſterdam, ſome Houſe where the Money ought to be paid at Amſterdam ſhould be named, or otherwiſe the Party may proteſt the Bill; yet if it is accepted, the Acceptor becomes liable thereby. Comyns's Rep. 75. pl. 49. Trin. 12 W. 3. Gregory v. Walcup.

40. A Bill of Exchange was directed to A. or in his Abſence to B. and began thus: Gentlemen, pray pay. The Bill was tendered to A. who promiſed to pay it as ſoon as he ſhould ſell ſuch Goods; and in an Action againſt him for Non-Payment, the Declaration was of a Bill directed to him, without taking any Notice of B. and Holt held it well. 12 Mod. 447. Paſch. 13 W. 3. Anon.

41. A Bill of Exchange was thus: Pray pay this my firſt Bill of Exchange, my ſecond and third not being paid.

paid. In the Declaration the Indorſement was ſet forth thus, viz. that the Drawer [It ſhould be Payee, or the Perſon to whom payable] indorſavit ſuper billam illam Content' billæ illius ſolvend' to the Plaintiff, without ſetting forth that the Bill was ſubſcribed. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, that there was no Averment, that the ſecond and third Bill was not paid, which is a Condition precedent; but per Cur. that muſt be intended, for the Plaintiff could not otherwiſe have had a Verdict; and therefore this Indorſement likewiſe is aided by their finding quod aſſumpſit. 1 Salk. 130. pl. 14. Mich. 1 Ann. B. R. Eaſt v. Eſſington. 7 Mod. 16, 87. S. C. the Court ſaid, that however it might have been on Demurrer, it will be well after Verdict; for if the ſecond or third were paid, there had been no Promiſe at all; for the Promiſe is conditional to pay this, if the ſecond or third be not paid, and therefore if the ſecond or third were paid, they could not find for the Plaintiff. L. Raym. 810. S. C. Adjudged for the Plaintiff.

42. Since the Statute 9 and 10 W. 3. Cap. 17. a Proteſt was never ſet forth in the Declaration; per Holt, Ch. J. and Powell, J. 3 Salk. 69. pl. 6. in Caſe of Borough v. Perkins.

43. An Aſſumpſit was brought by one B. againſt C. on a foreign Bill of Exchange, to pay, according to the Cuſtom of Merchants, ſo much Money at two Uſances, viz. at Amſterdam, but it did not appear what the Time of thoſe Uſances was. Holt, Ch. J. ſaid, he would take Notice of the Cuſtom of Merchants, but not of that at Amſterdam or Venice, &c. In ſuch Caſe, you muſt ſet forth the Cuſtom in your Declaration. 11 Mod. 92. pl. 18. Trin. 5. Ann. B. R. Buckley v. Camden. See Note, Page 12.

44. A Bill of Exchange was drawn payable to A. but has no Day mentioned when it ſhould be paid. A. on Sight of the Bill, promiſed to pay it on the 13th of April It was objected, that the Action muſt be founded on the new Agreement, and not on the Cuſtom of Merchants; but per Powell, J. the Cuſtom of Merchants is by the Acceptance; and a Promiſe to pay at ſuch a Time is good; and if it ſhould not bind on the Cuſtom of Merchants, it would not bind at all: becauſe no Indebitatus aſſumpſit lies on the Acceptance; and Judgment for the Plaintiff, Niſi, by three Judges, abſente Holt. 11 Mod. 190. pl. 5. Mich. 7 Ann. B. R. Walker v. Atwood.

45. A Bill of Exchange need not be expreſsly averred to be within the Cuſtom of Merchants, but if, as ſet out in the Declaration, it appears to be within the Cuſtom it is ſufficient. L. Raym. 1542. Mich. 2 Geo. 2. Ereſkine v. Murray.

46. Plaintiff declared, that M. made his Bill of Exchange in Writing to E. the Defendant directed, and by the ſaid Bill requeſted the ſaid E. on ſuch a Day, to pay to M. the Plaintiff, or Order, 200 l. pro Valore in Manibus ipſius E. de denariis Accommodatis de eodem M. That E. accepted the Bill, and promiſed to pay, &c. Plaintiff had Judgment by Nil dicit, and in Error brought Exception was, that it was not averred that the Bill was ſigned. But as to this it was anſwered, that it is alledged that M. made his Bill of Exchange in Writing, directed to the ſaid E. and by the ſaid Bill requeſted, which neceſſarily implies the Plaintiff's Name wrote in the Bill, elſe he could not Requeſt, and the ſaying he made the Bill in Writing, imports, that he, or ſome Body by his Authority, wrote, which is all one, and imports a Signing, if it be neceſſary in Caſe of inland Bills of Exchange; and ſuch a way of declaring was held ſufficient in Caſe of Promiſſory Notes; where the Statute 3 and 4 Ann. Cap. 9. requires, that the Party that makes the Bill, or ſome Perſon intruſted by him, ſhould ſign it. And another Exception was, for that it was de denariis Accommodatis (de eodem M.) whereas it is Nonſenſe, and ſhould be (per eundem M.) But the Court held, that pro Valore in Manibus ipſius E. had been ſufficient, and that the other Words might be rejected as Surpluſage, and they held, that the Meaning was, lent by the ſaid M. though the Latin might not be ſo correct. And Judgment in C. B. was affirmed in B. R. L. Raym. 1542. Mich. 2 Geo. 2. Ereſkine v. Murray.

Barnard.

Barnard. rep. in B. R. 87. Eveſkin v. Merry, S. C. The Court ſaid, that indeed the Statute 9 and 10 W. 3. Cap. 17. required the Acceptance to be in Writing, where a Perſon would take Benefit of that Act, but it does not require in general, that the Acceptance ſhall be by Underwriting, but ſays that the Court ſeemed to think, that a Signing is neceſſary to be laid in an Action upon a Promiſſory Note, to bring the Plaintiff within the Statute 3 and 4 Anne, Cap. 9. which requires it; but they doubted whether a Bill of Exchange ſhall not be conſidered as a technical Word, and conſequently will include the Circumſtances of ſigning, and affirmed the Judgment.

47. A. requeſted B. to let him have 50 l. in London, and he would draw a Bill on C. in the Country, to repay it to B. as ſoon as B. ſhould return home. B. gave two Bills to A. one for 20 l. and another for 30 l. payable at twenty Days Sight, which the Drawee accepted. On B's Return, Drawee in the Country refuſed to pay A's Bill. B. on this, writes to ſtop Payment of his Bills, but one was paid before, and the Drawee refuſed to pay A. the other. Decreed A. to pay back the 20 l. received, and a perpetual Injunction againſt A. for the other 30 l. Fin. R. 356. Paſch. 30 Car. 2. Hill and Penford v. Baker. *Vin. Abr. 48. Bill for Relief againſt a Bill of Exchange, on Pretence of its being gained by Threats or Menaces, is not proper for Equity, it being a Matter at Law, and Dureſs a good Plea there; but being gained by Fraud, and for a fictitious Conſideration, it was relieved per Commiſſioners. 2 Vern. 123. pl. 123. Hill. 1690. Dyer v. Tymewell.

49. A Bill of Exchange was accepted by the Drawee, by underwriting his Name; but the Perſon to whom it became payable by Indorſement, loſt or miſlaid it; and the Drawee refuſing Payment, the Indorſee exhibited his Bill in Chancery, ſetting forth the Refuſal, and that he offered to give Security to the Defendant to indemnify him, and annexed an Affidavit to the Bill of the loſing or miſlaying it. This being confeſſed by the Anſwer, it was objected that it did not appear by the Plaintiff's Affidavit that he had not aſſigned the Bill to another; but decreed that Defendant ſhould pay the Money, the Plaintiff giving Security to indemnify the Defendant, as the Maſter ſhall think reaſonable, againſt any Perſon that may hereafter demand the ſame. *Fin. 50. By Stat. 2 Geo. 2. C. 25. Sect. 1. if any Perſon ſhall forge, or procure to be forged, or aſſiſt in forging any (inter alia) Bill of Exchange, Promiſſory Note for Payment of Money, Indorſement, or Aſſignment of any Bill of Exchange or Promiſſory Note for Payment of Money, or any Acquittance or Receipt for Money or Goods; or ſhall utter or publiſh as true, any ſuch forged, &c. knowing the ſame to be forged with an Intent to defraud any Perſon; every ſuch Offender ſhall be guilty of Felony without Benefit of Clergy. And,

By Stat. 7 Geo. 2. C. 22. if any Perſon ſhall falſely make, alter or forge, or procure to be falſely made, &c. or aſſiſt in falſely making, &c. any Acceptance of any Bill of Exchange, or the Number, or principal Sum of any accountable Receipt for any Note, Bill, &c. or any Warrant or Order for Payment of Money or Delivery of Goods, or ſhall utter or publiſh any ſuch falſe Acceptance, Bill, &c. with Intent to defraud any Perſon; every ſuch Offender ſhall ſuffer Death as a Felon without Benefit of Clergy.

SECT. XI.

Of the Evidence neceſſary to ſupport the Action on a Bill of Exchange.

1. A. Gives B. a Bill of Exchange on C. in Payment of a former Debt, this will not be allowed as Evidence on non-aſſumpſit unleſs paid, though B. kept it in his Hands long after it was payable; for a Bill

Bill ſhall never go in Payment of a precedent Debt, unleſs it be Part of the Contract that it ſhould be ſo. 1 Salk. 124. pl. 1. coram Holt, Ch. J. at Guildhall, 3 W. and M. Clarke v. Mundal.

2. An Indorſor of a Bill of Exchange, who has paid it, muſt prove the Payment in an Action againſt the Acceptor. L. Raym. 742, 743. Mendez v. Carreroon. See this Caſe at large, P. 57. Parag. 8.

3. Indorſee need not prove the Drawer's Hand; becauſe, though it be a forged Bill, the Indorſor is bound to pay it. 1 Salk. 127. pl. 9. Paſch. 11 W. 3. coram Holt at Guildhall. Lambert v. Pack. See P. 70. Parag. 20.

4. Indorſee need not prove any Demand on Drawer. See P. 66. Parag. 17.

5. Plaintiff to ſhew a Proteſt, produced an Inſtrument atteſted by a Notary Publick; and though it was inſiſted upon that he ſhould prove this Inſtrument, or at leaſt give ſome Account how he came by it, Holt ruled it not to be neceſſary; for that, he ſaid, would deſtroy Commerce and publick Tranſactions of this Nature. 12 Mod. 345. Mich. 11 W. 3. at Niſi Prius, coram Holt. Anon.

6. If a Man has a Bill of Exchange, he may authorize another to indorſe his Name upon it by Parol; and when that is done, it is the ſame as if he had done it himſelf. Per Holt, Ch. J. 12 Mod. 564. Mich. 13 W. 3. at Niſi Prius. Anon.

7. Action on a Bill of Exchange, being by an Executor; and upon a Debt laid to be due to Teſtator, he held it neceſſary to prove the Acceptance was in the Teſtator's Time: Per Holt, Ch. J. 12 Mod. 447. at Niſi Prius, coram Holt, Paſch. 13 W. 3. Anon.

8. Plaintiff had a Bill of Exchange drawn on the Defendant, which he indorſed and delivered to J. S. who went to the Defendant to get it accepted. J. S. left it with him, and it was afterwards loſt; thereupon the Plaintiff brought Trover. The Court were all of Opinion, that the bare Indorſement, without any other Words purporting an Aſſignment, does not make an Alteration of the Property; for it may ſtill be filled up either with a Receipt or Aſſignment, and conſequently J. S. is a good Witneſs. 1 Salk. 130. pl. 15. Paſch. 2 Ann. B. R. Lucas v. Haines.

9. Demand muſt be made on the Acceptor of a Bill of Exchange or Maker of a Promiſſory Note before the Indorſor can be ſued. See Page 66. Par. 17.

10. As to Notice given by the Indorſee to the Acceptor before he commenced his Action, that he muſt provide the Money, it was offered in Evidence, that he gave him Notice by ſending him a Letter to do ſo. But the Chief Juſtice ſaid that he did not think the bare ſending a Letter to the Poſt-houſe would be ſufficient Evidence of Notice, without ſome further Proofs of the Acceptor's receiving it; and beſides he ſaid that generally a perſonal Demand is expected. Barnard. Rep. in B. R. 199, 200. Trin. 2 Geo. 2. Dale v. Lubeck.

11. To prove an Indorſement over a Bill of Exchange, it was offered that the Defendant had himſelf confeſſed that he was come to Town to haſten on the Trial of an Action that was brought againſt him, upon an Indorſement that he had made on a Bill of Exchange. And the Counſel ſaid that the very Cauſe was brought down by Proviſoe; ſo that it is ſtrong Evidence that it is for the ſame Matter; and the Chief Juſtice at the Sittings at Guildhall, allowed this to be good Evidence of the Indorſement. Barnard. Rep. in B. R. 199. Trin. 2 Geo. 2. Dale v. Lubeck.

SECT.

SECT. XII.

Of the Damages recovered for Non-Payment.

1. INtereſt on a Bill of Exchange commences from the Time of the Demand made, and therefore, if there was no Demand made till Action, the Defendant may plead Tender and Refuſal, and * Uncore priſt, and ſo diſcharge himſelf of Intereſt; but if it be the Defendant's Fault that the Demand could not be made, as if he were out of the Kingdom, there want of Demand ought not to prejudice the Plaintiff. Per Cur. 6 Mod. 138. Paſch. 3. Ann. B. R. Anon.

2. Drawee accepts the Bill, and ſome time after it is proteſted for Non-payment, and thereupon the Bill is indorſed to the Drawer, who brought an Action as Indorſee, and held well, and Intereſt was ruled to be paid from the Time of the Proteſt. 10 Mod. 36 Trin. 10 Anne, B. R. Louviere and Laubray. See P. 56. Parag. 5.

3. Since the Statute 3 and 4 Anne (Page 15) it hath been adjudged, that an Indorſee of an inland Bill of Exchange may maintain an Action againſt the Acceptor, on a parol Acceptance, as to the principal Sum, though not as to Intereſt and Coſts; for the Act being made to give a further Remedy for Intereſt, Damages and Coſts againſt the Drawer, cannot be ſuppoſed to take any Advantage from the Payee which he had before; and therefore the true Conſtruction of the Act is, that to charge the Drawer with Intereſt and Coſts, the Drawee muſt refuſe to accept it in

* Uncore priſt, is a Plea of the Defendant that is ſued for a Debt due at a Day paſt, wherein he ſays that he tendered the Debt or Sum of Money due at the Time and Place, and there was none there to receive it; and that he is ſtill ready to pay the ſame. Law Dict.

Writing; nevertheleſs if he accepts the Bill by parol, he is * liable to the principal Sum in the Bill, as he would have been before the Act. 3 New Ab. Law, 611. cites Mich. 8 Geo. 2. B. R. Lumley v. Palmer. See P. 23. Parag. 6. and P. 24. Parag. 7.

* So on the Statute 9 and 10 W 3. which gives Damages and Coſts in Caſe of a Proteſt, it hath been held that that Statute did not take away the Party's Remedy againſt the Drawer, if there was no Proteſt, as to the principal Sum, but only as to the Damages and Coſts. 6. Mod. 80, 81. 1 Salk. 131. Borough v. Perkins.

CHAP. II.

Of PROMISSORY and CASH NOTES.

SECT. I.

Of Promiſſory Notes at common Law, and the Statute 3 and 4 Anne concerning them.

1. AS no Action could be maintained on Promiſſory Notes, nor were they aſſignable at common Law*, the Increaſe of Trade and Neceſſity of Paper-Credit put Bankers and others upon an Expedient of bringing them within the Cuſtom of Merchants, and making them negotiable as inland Bills of Exchange; but this the Judges would

* This appears from the Preamble of the Stat. 3 and 4 Anne (Page 106.) and the following Authorities: A Note was given by the Defendant, whereby he promiſed to pay to the Plaintiff, or Order, ſo much Money. The Plaintiff brought an Action on this Note, and declared on the Cuſtom of Merchants, and likewiſe laid a general Indebitatus aſſumpſit, and on the general Iſſue entire Damages were given. Upon Motion in Arreſt of Judgment, the Court held that this is not within the Cuſtom of Merchants, and being no Specialty, no Action can be grounded on it: Then it was anſwered, that being void, no Damages could be intended to be given for it. Sed non allocatur; for it is not a Matter inſenſible, but in ſufficient in Law. And Judgment was arreſted. 1 Salk. 129. Paſch. 1 Ann. B. R. Clerk and Martin.

Error of a Judgment in the Common Pleas on a like Note; the Plaintiff declared, that there was a Cuſtom within London among Merchants trading there, that if a Merchant ſigned a Note, promiſing to pay J. S. or Order, &c. that he became bound by the Cuſtom to pay, &c. And A. Cherley would have diſtinguiſhed this from the foregoing Caſe; being laid as a ſpecial Cuſtom in London, and that confeſſed by the Judgment by nil dicit. Sed per Holt, Chief Juſtice. This Cuſtom to oblige one to pay by Note without Conſideration is void and againſt Law. Ex nudo pacto non oritur Actio. The Judgment was reverſed. 1 Salk. 129. Poltet v. Pearſon.

not admit of; Promiſſory Notes being only conſidered, by the common Law, as Evidences of a Debt, and not aſſignable or negotiable in their own Nature. 3 New Ab. Law, 605.

2. But it being found neceſſary to make Uſe of this kind of Credit, by the 3 and 4 Anne, Cap. 9. (made perpetual by 7 Anne) reciting, that whereas it hath been held, that Notes in Writing, ſigned by the Party, who makes the ſame, whereby ſuch Party promiſes to pay unto any other Perſon, or his Order, any Sum of Money therein mentioned, are not aſſignable or indorſable over within the Cuſtom of Merchants to any other Perſon; and that ſuch Perſon, to whom the Sum of Money mentioned in ſuch Note is payable, cannot maintain an Action, by the Cuſtom of Merchants, againſt the Perſon who firſt made and ſigned the ſame; and that any Perſon to whom ſuch Note ſhould be aſſigned, indorſed, or made payable, could not, within the ſaid Cuſtom of Merchants, maintain any Action upon ſuch Note againſt the Perſon who firſt drew and ſigned the ſame; therefore to the intent to encourage Trade and Commerce, which will be much advanced, if ſuch Notes ſhall have the ſame Effect as inland Bills of Exchange, and ſhall be negotiated in like Manner, it is enacted, "That all "Notes in Writing, that ſhall be made and ſigned "by any Perſon or Perſons, Body politick or corpo- "rate, or by the Servant or Agent of any Corpora- "tion, Banker, Goldſmith, Merchant, or Trader, "who is uſually intruſted by him, her, or them, to "ſign ſuch Promiſſory Notes for him, her, or them, "whereby ſuch Perſon or Perſons, Body Politick and "Corporate, his, her, or their Servant or Agent as "aforeſaid, doth or ſhall promiſe to pay to any other "Perſon or Perſons, Body Politick and Corporate, "his, her, or their Order, or unto Bearer, any Sum "of Money mentioned in ſuch Note, ſhall be taken "and conſtrued to be, by virtue thereof, due and "payable to any ſuch Perſon or Perſons, Body Po- "litick and Corporate, to whom the ſame is made "payable; and alſo every ſuch Note payable to any

"ſuch

" ſuch Perſon or Perſons, Body Politic and Cor" porate, his, her, or their Order, ſhall be aſ-
" ſignable or indorſable over, in the ſame Man" ner as inland Bills of Exchange are or may be, ac" cording to the Cuſtom of Merchants; and that " the Perſon or Perſons, Body Politick and Corpo" rate, to whom ſuch Sum of Money is or ſhall be
" by ſuch Note made payable, ſhall and may main" tain an Action for the ſame, in ſuch Manner as he,
" ſhe, or they might do, upon an inland Bill of Ex" change, made or drawn according to the Cuſtom
" of Merchants, againſt the Perſon or Perſons, Body
" Politick and Corporate, who, or whoſe Servant or " Agent, as aforeſaid, ſigned the ſame; and that " any Perſon or Perſons, Body Corporate and Poli-
" tick, to whom ſuch Note that is payable to any " Perſon or Perſons, Body Politick and Corporate,
" his, her, or their Order, is indorſed or aſſigned,
" or the Money therein mentioned, ordered to be " paid by Indorſement thereon, ſhall and may main" tain his, her, or their Action for ſuch Sum of Mo" ney, either againſt the Perſon or Perſons, Body
" Politick and Corporate, who or whoſe Servant or
" Agent, as aforeſaid, ſigned ſuch Note, or againſt
" any of the Perſons that indorſed the ſame in like " Manner as in the Caſe of inland Bills of Exchange;
" and in every ſuch Action the Plaintiff or Plaintiffs
" ſhall recover his, her, or their Damages and Coſts
" of Suit; and if ſuch Plaintiff or Plaintiffs ſhall be
" non-ſuited, or a Verdict be given againſt him, her,
" or them, the Defendant or Defendants ſhall recover
" his, her, or their Coſts againſt the Plaintiff or Plain" tiffs; and every ſuch Plaintiff or Plaintiffs, De" fendant or Defendants reſpectively recovering may " ſue out Execution for ſuch Damages and Coſts by
" Capias, Fieri Facias, or Elegit."

And it is further enacted by the ſaid Statute,
" That all and every ſuch Action ſhall be com" menced, ſued, and brought within ſuch Time as
" is appointed for commencing or ſuing ſuch Actions

" upon

" upon the Caſe, by the Statute 21 Jac. 1. of Limi" tations.

" Provided that no Body Politick or Corporate
" ſhall have Power, by Virtue of this Act, to iſſue
" or give out any Notes by themſelves or their Ser" vants, other than ſuch as they might have iſſued,
" if this Act had never been made."

3. It hath been adjudged, that a Note wrote by the Plaintiff and ſubſcribed by the Defendant, is a Note made and ſigned by the Defendant within this Act; for the ſigning or ſubſcribing is the Lien, and the writing or making is the mechanical Part of it. 3 New Abr. Law, 606, cites Trin. 6. Ann. Aſh v. Baron in B. R.

4. It was a Queſtion whether the want of Conſideration of a Promiſſory Note can be given in Evidence. Two Judges were of Opinion that it could not, but the two ſenior Judges and Lord King were of a contrary Opinion, and that this Act only turned the Proof upon the Defendant, to ſhew that no Conſideration was given for ſuch Note, which by the Statute is made Evidence, but not concluſive Evidence of the Conſideration. G. Eq. R. Mich. 8. Geo. 1. Brown v. Marſh.

SECT. II.

What ſhall be deemed a negotiable Note within this Statute.

1. THERE are no preciſe Words neceſſary to be uſed in a Promiſſory Note. L. Raym. 1397. Trin. 11 Geo. 1. cites Raſt. 338. But if the Promiſſory Note is within the Intent of the Act it is ſufficient: though it does not follow the very Words of the Act.

2. A Note was, I promiſe to pay 50*l. or render the Body of* J. S. to Priſon before ſuch a Day; it was adjudged to be no negotiable Note within the Act of Parliament, and that an Action could not be maintained on that Note within that Law; becauſe the Money Money was not abſolutely payable, but depended upon a Contingency, whether he would ſurrender J. S. to Priſon or not; cited per Cur. L. Raym. 1362. Mich. 1 Geo. 1. Smith v. Boheme. S. C. cited L. Raym. 1296. S. C. cited 8 Mod. 362. arg. and admitted by the other Side.

3. It hath been reſolved, that if A. give a Note to B. for the Payment of a Sum of Money, when he the ſaid A. ſhould marry ſuch a one; B. cannot bring an Action on ſuch Note, and declares as on a Bill of Exchange, ſetting forth the Cuſtom of Merchants, &c. for that in Truth there is no ſuch Cuſtom, being only an Agreement founded on a Marriage-brokage, and to pay Money on a collateral Contingency; which Contingency cannot be called Trading, ſo as to come within the Cuſtom of Merchants. 3 New Abr. Law, 606. 4 Mod. 242. Cumb. 227. S. C. Pearſon v. Garret.

4. A Promiſſory Note to pay within ſo many Days after the Defendant ſhould marry, was on Conſideration held not to be a negotiable Note within the Statute. Stran. 1151. Beardeſley v. Baldwin.

5. The Indorſee brought an Action againſt the Drawer of a Note, by which he promiſed to account with T. S. or his Order for 50*l. Value received* by him, &c. Per Cur. the Statute of 3 and 4 Anne, Cap. 9. was made for the Eaſe of Trade, and it is a remedial Law, for which Reaſon it ſhall be extended as far as poſſible; therefore the Words in this Note, by which the Drawer promiſes to be accountable to T. S. for 50*l.* ſhall be conſtrued as a Promiſe to pay the Money, and the rather, becauſe it is to be accountable to T. S. or his Order; but it is impoſſible for him to account with the Indorſee, therefore it muſt be to pay; beſides this muſt be originally either a Debt or a Truſt, and nothing appears in the Note to make it a Truſt, therefore it muſt be a Debt. As to the Objection that the Drawer may be a Factor, and might apply this Money for the Uſe of the Drawee; the Words in this Note will not make him a Factor, viz. I promiſe to be accountable accountable for ſo much Money, &c. For the Money muſt be received to Account, as well as the Promiſe made to Account; therefore the Word accountable in this Caſe ſhall be taken to pay; and the Difference is, when it is to be accountable for ſo much Money Value received, and when it is Value received on Account, or, to Account, or, as by Account, as it is uſual between Merchant and Factor, or Lord and Steward; and it would be dangerous to the Credit of thoſe Notes, if this ſhould not be good: Therefore Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. 8 Mod. 363, 364. Paſch. 11. Geo. 1. Norris v. Lee. L. Raym. 1396. S. C. Powis J. relied much upon the Verdict in this Caſe; but Forteſque J. Reynolds J. and Raym. Ch. J. were of Opinion, that if the Note was not within the Act, the Verdict could not help it; but the Note would be within the Act, or not, upon the Words of the Note: And Judgment for the Plaintiff. S. C. Stran. 629.

6. Caſe upon a Promiſſory Note to pay within two Months after ſuch a Ship is paid off, and declares upon the Statute.

It was inſiſted, that this is not negotiable, it being upon a Contingency which may never happen. Jocelyn v. Laſerre (P. 19.) was a Bill to pay out of the Drawer's growing Subſiſtence; and that was held not to be negotiable as a Bill of Exchange. Sed per Cur. the paying off the Ship is a Thing of a public Nature, and this is negotiable as a Promiſſory Note. Stran. 24. Andrews v. Franklin.

7. Upon Demurrer to a Declaration on the following Note, it was held to be a Note within the Statute: "I acknowledge that Sir Andrew Chadwick had deli- "vered me all the Bonds and Notes, for which 400*l.* "were paid on Account of Colonel Synge, and that "Sir Andrew delivered me Major Graham's Receipt "and Bill on me for 10*l.* which 10*l.* and 15*l.* 5*s.* "Balance due to Sir Andrew, I am ſtill indebted, "and do promiſe to pay." Judgment for the Plaintiff. Stran. 706. Chadwick v. Allen.

8. An

8. An Action was brought upon a Note given by the Plaintiff to the Defendant in the following Form: I promiſe to pay to Mr. James Lewis Eleven Pounds at the Payment of the Ship Devonſhire, for Value received. The Plaintiff declared, as upon the Statute of Queen Anne, taking it to be a Note within the Statute.

Marſh for the Defendant objects, that 'tis not a Note within the Statute: 1ſt, becauſe not payable to Order, or Bearer; and, 2dly, becauſe of the Contingency of the Time of Payment.

Hardwicke Chief Juſtice. It has been long ſettled, that the Statute does not require a particular certain Form, and ſaid he remembered a Caſe in this Court where it was held on Demurrer, that a Note to be within the Statute needed not be payable to Order. And in that Caſe it was urged, that it might as well be ſaid every Note within the Statute ſhould be payable to Order or Bearer; for they are the Words of the Statute. As to the Contingency of the Payment, the ſubſequent Act of the Payment of the Ship makes it certain; and therefore tho' not a Lien ab initio, yet became ſufficiently ſo, and within the Statute by the Fact happening after. It is not like the Caſe of Jocelyn and Laſerre (P. 19.) where it was held that a Bill of Exchange, payable out of a particular Fund for growing Subſiſtence, was not within the Statute. I think therefore the Declaration is proper enough: But you may make your Objection in Arreſt of Judgment; for this will appear on the Record. Dict. Tr. and Com. 261. Lewis v. Orde. 2 Sittings in Middleſex, 8 Geo. 2.

9. On Error from C. B. a Note to pay to A. or Order, ſix Weeks after the Death of the Defendant's Father, for Value received, was held to be a negotiable Note within the Statute 3 Anne C. 9. for there is no Contingency whereby it may never become payable, but it is only uncertain as to the Time, which is the Caſe of all Bills payable at ſo many Days after Sight. In the Common Pleas it held three Arguments, and was held held good upon a ſolemn Reſolution delivered by Chief Juſtice Willes. Stran. 1217. 18 Geo. 2. Cook v. Coleban.

10. The Court held on Error from C. B. that a Note to deliver up Horſes, and a Wharf, and pay Money at a particular Day, could not be counted on as a Note within the Statute, and therefore reverſed the Judgment. Stran. 1271. Martin v. Chauntry.

11. Error of a Judgment in C. B. in Caſe upon a promiſſory Note entered into by A. to pay ſo much to B. for a Debt due from C. to the ſaid B. And it was objected, that this not being for Value received was not within the Statute, and prima facie the Debt of another is no Conſideration to raiſe a Promiſe. But the Court held it to be within the Statute, being an abſolute Promiſe, and every way as negotiable as if it had been generally for Value received. And the Judgment was affirmed. Stran. 264. 6 Geo. 1. Popplewell v. Wilſon.

12. I promiſe to pay to W. 100*l. in three Months after Date, Value received of the Premiſſes in* Roſemary Lane, late in the Poſſeſſion of T. R. Upon a Demurrer, the Court held this clearly a Promiſſory Note within the Statute 3 and 4 Anne, Cap. 9. and Judgment for the Plaintiff. L. Raym. 1545. Mich. 2. Geo. 1. Burchell v. Slocock.

13. I promiſe to pay to T. S. 50*l. if* J. S. doth not pay it within ſix Weeks. Action was brought on this Note, and Verdict was for the Plaintiff; but Judgment was arreſted, becauſe the Drawer was not the original Debtor, but might be a Debtor on Contingency. Arg. 8. Mod. 363. Paſch. 11 Geo. 1. cites it as the Caſe of Appleby v. Biddolph.

SECT. III.

Who may indorſe Promiſſory Notes.

1. ON Error from C. B. it appeared to be an Action by Indorſee of a Promiſſory Note indorſed by a Woman as Adminiſtratrix. A Demurrer to the Declaration and Judgment for the Plaintiff.

It was objected, that an Adminiſtratrix was not within the Cuſtom of Merchants in the Caſe of Bills of Exchange. And the Statute 3 Anne, C. 9. makes Notes aſſignable only in the ſame Manner as Bills of Exchange are. Sed per Curiam, we cannot ſay this upon a Demurrer. It ſhould have been pleaded or found not to be within the Cuſtom; and it is every Day's Practice to have Indorſements made by Executors. It was then objected that there was no Profert of the Letters of Adminiſtration. Sed per Curiam, that is only required, where the Action is by an Adminiſtrator, but not where a third Perſon only derives through one. The Judgment was affirmed. Stran. 1260. Robinſon v. Stone.

2. A Note payable to a Feme Sole, or Order, who afterwards marries, can only be indorſed by the Huſband. 3 New Abr. Law, 610. Caſ. L. and Eq. 246.

3. The Plaintiff declared upon a Promiſſory Note made to a Feme Covert, and indorſed by her to him, and on Argument Judgment was given for the Defendant; the Right being in Point of Law veſted in the Huſband, and the Wife having no Power to diſpoſe of it. Stran. 516. Connor v. Martin.

SECT. IV.

Of demanding the Money from the Maker of a Promiſſory Note, and ſuing him and the Indorſor.

1. INdorſee of a Note muſt demand the Money from the Drawer or Maker. See P. 66, Parag. 17.

2. In an Action againſt the Indorſor of a Promiſſory Note, Eyre Chief Juſtice directed the Jury to find for the Defendant, becauſe the Plaintiff had not proved Diligence to get the Money of the Drawer; being of the old Opinion that the Indorſor only warrants upon the Default of the Drawer. Stran. 649, Syderbottom againſt Smith.

3. In an Action upon a Promiſſory Note by the Indorſee againſt an Indorſor, it was proved that the Defendant had paid Part of the Money. And Chief Juſtice Lee held that ſufficient to diſpenſe with the proving a Demand upon the Maker of the Note. Stran. 1246. Hil. 19. Geo. 2. Vaughan and Fuller.

4. The Defendant was ſued as Indorſor of a Note. And it was proved that a Diſcounter ſent the Note to the Defendant, who looked on it and ſaid it was his Hand, and the Note (which had ſome Months to run) would be paid when due. The Chief Juſtice refuſed to let the Defendant in to ſhew Forgery by the Similitude of Hands; ſince it would tend to deſtroy all Negotiation of Notes and Bills. But he ſeemed inclined to allow Proof of actual Forgery, if the Defendant could have ſhewn it, which he could not. And the Plaintiff obtained a Verdict. Stran. 1051. Cooper v. Le Blanc.

5. In an Action upon the Caſe upon a Promiſſory Note brought by the Perſon to whom it was payable, the Chief Juſtice let the Defendant in to ſhew that it was delivered in the Nature of an Eſcrow, viz. as a Reward in caſe he procured the Defendant to be reſtored to an Office, which it being proved he did not effect, effect, there was a Verdict for the Defendant. Stran. 674. Jefferies v. Auſtin.

6. In an Action by the Indorſee of a Promiſſory Note againſt the Indorſor, it appeared the Plaintiff had after the Indorſement received Part of the Drawer of the Note: And it was held to be a taking upon himſelf to give the whole Credit to the Drawer of the Note, and abſolutely diſcharged the Indorſor: So the Plaintiff was non-ſuited. Stran. 745. Kellock v. Robinſon. See L. Raym. 744.

7. In Aſſumpſit upon a Promiſſory Note, there was Judgment by Default, and on executing a Writ of Inquiry, the Plaintiff did not produce the ſubſcribing Witneſs, but offered other Evidence of its being the Defendant's Hand. And the Court held this was ſufficient; for the Note being ſet out in the Declaration is admitted, and the only Uſe of producing it is to ſee whether any Money is indorſed to be paid upon it. Stran. 1149. Bevis v. Lindſell.

8. Upon a Caſe ſtated at Niſi prius in an Action by the Plaintiff as Indorſee of ſeveral Promiſſory Notes, it appeared that the Notes were given by the Defendant to one John Church, for Money by him knowingly advanced to the Defendant to game with at Dice, and that Church indorſed them to the Plaintiff for a full and valuable Conſideration; and that the Plaintiff was not privy to, or had any Notice that any Part of the Money, for which the Notes were given, had been lent for the Purpoſe of gaming.

Upon this a Queſtion aroſe upon the Statute 9 Anne, C. 4. Sect. 1. which ſays, "That all Notes, "where the whole or any Part of the Conſideration is "Money knowingly lent for gaming, ſhall be void to "all Intents and Purpoſes whatſoever." Whether the Plaintiff could maintain this Action againſt the Defendant: And after two Arguments the Court were of Opinion he could not; for it is making it of ſome Uſe to the Lender, if he can pay his own Debts with it: And it will be a Means to evade the Act, it being ſo very difficult to prove Notice on an Indorſee.

And though it will be ſome Inconvenience to an innocent Man, yet that will not be a Balance to thoſe on the other Side. And the Plaintiff is not without Remedy; for he may ſue Church on his Indorſement: And it is but the common Hazard of taking Notes of Infants or Feme Coverts. As to what Holt ſaid in Huſſey and Jacob (See Page 71. Parag. 22.) Salk. 344. Carth. 356. 5 Mod. 175. it was not the Point adjudged; and the Chief Juſtice ſaid he had ſeen a Report wherein Notice was taken that all the learned Part of the Bar wondered at it. Stran. 1155. Bowyer v. Brampton.

9. Aſſumpſit upon a Promiſſory Note given by Manning to Statham and Order; Statham aſſigns it to Witherhead, and Witherhead to the Plaintiff: And upon a Demurrer to the Declaration an Exception was taken, becauſe the Aſſignment was made to Witherhead, without ſaying to him and Order, and then he cannot aſſign it over; for by this Means Statham, who had aſſigned it to Witherhead without ſubjecting himſelf to his Order, will be made liable to be ſued by any ſubſequent Indorſee. And to this the Chief Juſtice at firſt inclined; but afterwards it was reſolved by the whole Court that it was good; for if the Original was aſſignable (as it will be if it be payable to one and his Order) then, to whomſoever it is aſſigned, he has all the Intereſt in the Bill, and may aſſign it as he pleaſes; for the Aſſignment to Witherhead is an abſolute Aſſignment, which comprehends his Aſſigns; and therefore nothing is done when the Bill is aſſigned, but indorſing the Name of the Indorſor, upon which the Indorſee may write what he will, and at a Trial, when a Bill is given in Evidence, the Party may fill up the Blank as he pleaſes. Comyns Caſ. 160. More v. Manning.

10. Upon Motion for an Injunction the Caſe appeared to be, that the Plaintiff had been drawn in upon ſome falſe or miſtaken Conſideration, to give a Promiſſory Note to J. S; and J. S. having put the Note in Suit, the Plaintiff brought his Bill in this Court

Court to be relieved, and to have an Injunction; and before Anſwer, or any Order made in the Cauſe, J. S. indorſed over the Note to the preſent Defendant Dundaſs; whereupon the Plaintiff amended his Bill, ſetting forth the Indorſement, and charging Notice both of the Fraud and lis pendens concerning it in Dundaſs, and prayed Relief againſt the Note, and an Injunction againſt Dundaſs, from proceeding at Law thereupon. Dundaſs in his Anſwer ſwore to the Payment of the Money ſpecified in the Note to J. S. upon the Note being indorſed over to him; but not clearing himſelf of the Charge upon him of Notice of the Fraud, an Injunction was granted by Mr. Verney Maſter of the Rolls, who declared that there was no Sort of Proceeding more liable to Fraud than the negociating ſuch Notes; and ſaid, that though generally the Conſideration of ſuch Note is not inquirable into in the Hands of an Indorſee (Comyns 43.) yet that where there appears to have been an original Fraud, and any Perſon knowing, or who may be ſuppoſed to have Notice of that Fraud, will pay his Money, and take an Indorſement to himſelf of ſuch Note, it is but Juſtice and Equity, that the Note ſhould ſtill be ſubject to be avoided by that original Fraud, which it cannot but be ſuppoſed the Indorſee had Notice of, and that he would not have advanced the Money without having in view a Deſign to ſupport and maintain the Fraud. It was then prayed that the Injunction ſhould be granted only on Terms, that the Plaintiff ſhould give Judgment at Law with Releaſe of Errors, ſubject to the Order on hearing: But this was denied by his Honour ſaying, that he ſaw no Reaſon for it, and granted the Injunction generally. Dict. Tr. and Com. Rolls Trin. 14 Geo. 2. Reynolds and Dundaſs.

11. One Slaughter, a Clerk in the Exchequer, gave a Promiſſory Note to Gekie; Gekie indorſed it over to Webb, who indorſed it to the Defendant, who indorſed it to the Plaintiff. The Note was not payable till ſix Months after Date, and, about a Week after it became due, the Plaintiff, by his Attorney, demanded the Money of Slaughter, who refuſed Payment, and deſired ſome Time of Forbearance, which the Plaintiff's Attorney refuſed to give; but, afterwards, the Plaintiff himſelf gave him a Month's Time. This was in Auguſt laſt; and, the Month expiring before the Beginning of Michaelmas Term, the Plaintiff, the firſt Day of the Term, filed a Bill in the Exchequer againſt Slaughter (which was as ſoon as he could be ſued by reaſon of his Privilege) and on this Bill obtained Judgment; but, Slaughter proving inſolvent, the Plaintiff brought his Action againſt Gray the Indorſor. The Queſtion was, Whether, if the Indorſee gives Time to the Drawer of the Note, it does not diſcharge the Indorſors. The Chief Juſtice ſaid, the Time for the Indorſee to demand the Money of the Drawer was ſettled to be a reaſonable Time. A Verdict was given for the Plaintiff. Dict. Tr. and Com. 261. 8 Geo. 2. Croſſe and Gray.

12. An Action was brought by the Indorſee of a Promiſſory Note payable to A. or Order; and it was moved before the Trial on Behalf of the Defendant, that the Plaintiff might produce the Note, and leave it with his Attorney, in order to be inſpected by the Defendant, his Attorney, &c. on a Suggeſtion that the Note was forged: And it was inſiſted for the Defendant, That ſince even a Bond upon ſuch Motion might be produced, much more might a Note; but it was anſwered by the Counſel for the Plaintiff, and per Cur. though a Bond might be produced being under Hand and Seal, yet that was upon this Reaſon, that the Plaintiff declares upon it with a Profert in Cur. yet there is no Inſtance, that in this or ſuch a Caſe, a Plaintiff was ever obliged to produce his Evidence of what is the Foundation of his Action. And the Statute 3 and 4 Anne makes no Difference between theſe Notes and inland Bills of Exchange, but in the point of pleading; and there is no Inſtance ſince that Statute (which muſt have often happened) that ever ſuch a Motion was made or granted; nor before before that Statute, that ever a Bill of Exchange was produced upon ſuch Motion. Bunb. Rep. 243. Odams v. the Duke of Grafton.

13. The third Indorſee of a Promiſſory Note kept it from the 1ſt of November to the 7th of January, without receiving it of the Maker of the Note: And in an Action againſt the firſt Indorſee without Notice, the Plaintiff was non-ſuited for his Neglect. Stran. 707. Pepys v. Sir John Lambert.

14. A Judgment was obtained at Law in an Aſſumpſit, upon an abſolute Promiſſory Note for 50 l. againſt the Plaintiff Snowball, who now brings his Bill to be relieved, ſuggeſting the Note was really agreed to be conditional, viz. "That unleſs Ram's "Aſſurance roſe to 100 l. per cent. I (the now De-"fendant) give you my Word I will never trouble "you for the Money."

It was objected for the Defendant, firſt, That the Plaintiff ought not to be permitted to enter into this Evidence now, becauſe he might have done it at Law, either upon the general Iſſue, or by pleading ſpecially.

Secondly, That the Plaintiff ought not to give Parol Evidence to prove the Intent of a Note in Writing under Hand.

But per Curiam (dubitante Eyre Chief Baron) the Plaintiff was permitted to go into this Evidence, and was relieved; and Baron Price ſaid he could not diſtinguiſh this Caſe from that of Lady Clarges v. Williams, in this Court, Feb. 20, 1723. *Bumb. SECT. V.

Of the Action and Remedy on a Promiſſory Note, and the Manner of declaring and pleading thereon.

1. DEBT upon two Promiſſory Notes and a * Mutuatus. And on Demurrer to the Declaration, it was objected that an Action of Debt would not lie: That before the Statute no Action at all lay upon the Note (Salk. 129. See P. 105.) nor did an Indebitatus aſſumpſit lie on a Bill of Exchange. And of this Opinion was the Court, and pronounced Judgment for the Defendant. But then it was obſerved by Serjeant J. Comyns for the Plaintiff, that there was one good Count upon the Mutuatus, and the Demurrer was to the Whole. Whereupon Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Stran. 680. Welſh v. Craig.

2. Parker C. J. delivered the Reſolution of the Court. This is an Indebitatus aſſumpſit, laid 16th January 1726. The Defendant has pleaded Actio non accrevit infra ſex annos. The Plaintiff has replied a Bill filed 23 January, 12 Anne, and that the Cauſe of Action aroſe within ſix Years before. The Defendant has demurred generally, and it has been inſiſted on by his Counſel, that the Replication is a Departure, there being ſeven Years Diſtance between the Day in the Declaration, and the filing the Bill as ſet forth in the Replication. But we are all of Opinion, notwithſtanding, that the Plaintiff muſt have Judgment. This being only a Parol Promiſe, the Time alledged in the Declaration is only Matter of Form, not of Subſtance; and not being a Departure in a material Point, is only a Defect in Form of Pleading, which not being ſhewn for Cauſe of Demurrer, purſuant to the Act for the Amendment of the Law, the Defendant cannot take Advantage of it. If a Verdict had found the Promiſe, or the filing the Bill, to be another Day, that would not have vitiated the Proceedings. 1 Lev. 110. 1 Keb. 566, 578. Hob. 164, 199.

If the Day had been Subſtance, it would have been a Departure; and ſo it was adjudged in this Court, Paſ. 1 Geo. Stafford v. Torcer. That was upon a Promiſſory Note dated in 1704. The Defendant pleaded Actio non accrevit infra ſex annos: The Plaintiff replied, a Bill filed 12 Anne; and after a Verdict the Judgment was arreſted, becauſe in that Caſe the Day was material. If the Day in this Caſe ſhould be looked upon as ſuch, it would be in the Defendant's Power in almoſt all Caſes to fix the Time and Place. As where the Plaintiff brings an Action of Aſſault and Battery in London, the Defendant pleads he made the Aſſault in Middleſex, and that afterwards the Plaintiff releaſed all Batteries except in London. By this he would make the Place material, and the Doctrine of bringing tranſitory Actions where the Plaintiff pleaſed, would fall to the Ground, if the Defendant ſhould be allowed by artificial Pleading to make the Time and Place Matter of Subſtance. Vide Co. Litt. 282. b. Yelv. 114. Strange 21. Cole and Hawkins.

3. Caſe by Original in B. R. and declares againſt the Defendant as Indorſor of a Promiſſory Note, and after ſetting out the Note and Indorſement, he goes on, that virtute inde the Defendant became chargeable with the Payment of the Money ſecundum tenorem of the Indorſement. The Defendant upon Oyer of the Original pleads in Abatement, that the Charge againſt him ought to be according to the Tenor of the Note, and not of the Indorſement. And Strange for the Defendant inſiſted, that it might be, that the Indorſement appointed the Money to be paid at a different Time from what is mentioned in the Note; which are Terms that the Indorſor cannot lay upon the Party who made the Note. Suppoſe the Note be payable payable 1ſt May, ſurely the Party to whom it is given cannot ſay, "I appoint the Contents of this Note "to be paid to J. S. upon 1ſt April;" or if he ſhould, yet the other will not be obliged to pay it till May. And if he is charged according to the Tenor of the Indorſement, his only Remedy muſt be to traverſe the being charged otherwiſe than according to the Tenor of the Note. And as to the Objection, that in Counts upon Promiſſory Notes, there is no Occaſion to lay an expreſs Aſſumpſit, and therefore the Whole may be rejected; he anſwered, that where the Pleader does not rely upon the firſt Part of the Caſe he makes, but goes on further, and alledges other Matter, he by that gives the other Side an Opportunity of traverſing the laſt Matter; as Lutw. 108.

Sed per Curiam. There is no Occaſion to pray in Aid of that Objection here, where the Action is againſt the Indorſor. It is true, he cannot lay a Charge upon the Giver of the Note in a Manner different from the Terms of it; but he may charge himſelf if he pleaſes: For every Indorſement is the ſame as making a new Note; and if the Note be payable 1ſt May, and the Indorſement appoints it to be 1ſt April, as to the Indorſor this is a Promiſſory Note payable 1ſt April. If this was an Action againſt the Giver of the Note, there might be more in the Objection. * Reſpondeat ouſter agard. Strange 478. Smallwood and Vernon.

4. In Caſe upon a Promiſſory Note, the Declaration ran, that the Defendant made a Note, et manu ſua propria ſcripſit. Exception was taken, that ſince the Statute, he ſhould have ſaid that the Defendant ſigned the Note: But the Court held it well enough; becauſe laid to be wrote with his own Hand, and there needs no Subſcription in that Caſe; for it is ſufficient his Name is in any Part of it. I A. B. promiſe to pay, is as good as I promiſe to pay ſubſcribed A. B. Stran. 399. Taylor v. Dobbins. See L. Raym 1377.

5. The Plaintiff declares, that the Defendant fecit quandam notam in ſcriptis per quam promiſit ſolvere. And Exception was taken that here is no Signing by the Defendant, as the Statute requires: And the Caſe of Taylor and Dobbins (the next preceding) had the Words manu ſua ſcripſit, which was the Ground of the Judgment in that Caſe. But, in the principal Caſe, the Court held it well enough; for unleſs it was ſigned or wrote by him, it could not be ſuch a Note whereby the Defendant promiſed to pay. Judgment for the Plaintiff, Stran. 609. Elliot v. Cowper. L. Raym. 1376. S. C. and Forteſcue J. cited the late Caſe of Taylor v. Dobbins, as exactly this Caſe in Point, wherein, notwithſtanding this very Exception, the Plaintiff had Judgment, becauſe it was ſaid, Fecit notam ſuam, per quam promiſit ſolvere, which implied that it was ſigned by the Defendant; which Caſe Pratt Chief Juſtice remembered, and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff.

So where the Declaration was, that the Defendant made the Note for himſelf and Partner, and ſubſcribed it with his own Hand, whereby the Defendant promiſed for himſelf and Partner to pay, the Court held it very good; for this ſhews ſufficiently, that he ſigned it for himſelf and Partner; and Judgment for the Plaintiff. L. Raym. 1484. Trin. 13 Geo. 1. and 1 Geo. 2. Smith v. Jarves.

6. The Plaintiff brought two Actions upon a Promiſſory Note, one againſt the Drawer, and another againſt the Indorſor, and recovered in both. And now Weary moved, That they having tendered the Principal in one, and the Coſts in both, no Execution might be taken out; which the Court ordered accordingly, and ſaid they would have laid the Plaintiff by the Heels, if he had taken out Execution upon both. Stran. 515. Windham againſt Wither, and the ſame againſt Trull.

7. The Plaintiff declared upon a Promiſſory Note, by which the Defendant and one A. B. conjunctim aut ſeparatim promiſed to pay. There was a Verdict and Judgment in C. B. for the Plaintiff. But upon Error the Judgment was reverſed for want of the Plaintiff's ſhewing a Title to bring a ſeparate Action againſt one of the Makers of the Note; for by the preſent Declaration he only ſays he has this, or ſome other Cauſe of Action. Thus far Strange. And 2dly (ſays L. Raym. in his Report of the ſame Caſe) the Note does not import they promiſed ſeverally; for the Note ſet out is, that they promiſed jointly or ſeverally, which is not poſitive, they promiſed ſeverally; for it ought to have been, that they promiſed jointly and ſeverally. Stran. 819. L. Raym. 1544. Ovington againſt Neale, and the ſame againſt Waller.

8. Caſe upon a Promiſſory Note: And the Declaration ſet forth, that the Defendant and another did conjunctim vel diviſim promiſe to pay. Demurrer inde. And for the Defendant it was inſiſted, that the Action ſhould have been brought againſt both. Et per Parker C. J. the Plaintiff might have brought it againſt either or both; for he had his Election. If the Action had been againſt both, he ſhould have declared as he now does; but that is not right in the Action againſt one only. For he ſhould have declared generally, that this Defendant by his Note promiſed to pay, and a ſeveral Note by two would have been good Evidence. As where there are ſeveral Obligors, and one only is ſued, no mention is made in the Declaration of the other Obligors (1 Sid. 189, 238.) Suppoſe the Note had been to pay 50*l.* or 100*l.* the Plaintiff is intitled to either, but uncertain which, till he had made his Election; for he that ſpeaks in the Disjunctive ſays true, if either Member of the Disjunctive be verified; whereas he that ſpeaks in the Affirmative, affirms both Parts to be true.

The Plaintiff prayed Leave to diſcontinue on Payment of Coſts, which was granted; and at another Day moved that he might change his Rule, to one to amend amend on Payment of Coſts, but this laſt Motion was denied. Strange, 76. 4 Geo. 1. Butler againſt Maliſſy.

9. In Caſe upon Aſſumpſit the Plaintiff declared that the Defendant, in Conſideration that the Plaintiff at the ſpecial Requeſt of the Defendant deliberaſſet to the Defendant quandam notam, by which one Hurſt aſſumed to pay to the Plaintiff one hundred Guineas, aſſumed to pay to the Plaintiff, &c. Upon non aſſumpſit pleaded, Verdict for the Plaintiff. And now Mr. Gilbert moved in Arreſt of Judgment, that the Conſideration of this Promiſe was not good, ſince it did not appear, that Hurſt gave this Note to the Plaintiff upon any good Conſideration, and conſequently the ſaid Note would be void, and then the Delivery of the ſaid Note by the Plaintiff to the Defendant would be no Prejudice to the Plaintiff nor Advantage to the Defendant. But it was reſolved per totam Curiam, that this was a good Conſideration; for though no Conſideration was expreſſed in Hurſt's Note, yet the Note being ſubſcribed by Hurſt was good Evidence of a Debt due from Hurſt to the Plaintiff; and therefore the Delivery of the Evidence of his Debt to the Defendant at his Requeſt was a good Conſideration of the Aſſumpſit of the Defendant, upon which this Action was brought. And Judgment was given for the Plaintiff Note, Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that he was of Opinion upon the Trial, that it was not neceſſary for the Plaintiff to prove, upon what Conſideration the Note of Hurſt was given, the Defendant having admitted it to have been given upon good Conſideration by his Promiſe. L. Raym. 759. Meredith v. Shute. S. C. 1 Salk. 25.

10. A Scire facias was brought in the Name of the Attorney General againſt Sir John Elwell, ſetting forth that there had an Extent iſſued againſt Sir Matthew Kirwood, and an Inquiſition was taken thereon, which found Sir John Elwell indebted to Sir Matthew Kirwood by two Promiſſory Notes, one for 150 l. and the other for 100 l. and prays that the Defendant fendant ſhould ſhew Cauſe why the Crown ſhould not have Execution for this Debt.

The Defendant pleads that he was not indebted by theſe Notes, or either of them die inquiſitionis: The Attorney General proved (only) Sir John's Hand to the Notes: The Defendant gave in Evidence that Kirwood, before he failed, brought an Action on theſe Notes, and obtained Judgment by nil dicit, and that a Writ of Inquiry of Damages iſſued, and was executed, and thereupon a final Judgment was had; and therefore that he could not be indebted on thoſe Notes, becauſe they were merged in the Judgment, according to Higgins's Caſe. 6 Co.

But it appeared, that although the interlocutory Judgment was entered before the Inquiſition was taken upon the Extent, yet the Writ of Inquiry and final Judgment were not executed and obtained until a long while afterwards; for the Inquiſition upon the Extent was upon the 28th Nov. 5 Geo. 1. The interlocutory Judgment was before, but the Writ of Inquiry was not executed until the 7th of February. 5 Geo. 1.

And thereupon the Lord Chief Baron Gilbert, who tried the Cauſe, immediately directed the Jury to find, as they did for the Crown.

Nota, Firſt, by this Plea it appears, that Debts are not bound till the Teſte of the Inquiſition: 2dly, That Notes of Hand are not merged by an interlocutory Judgment, the Debt not being aſcertained before the Writ of Inquiry returned, and final Judgment entered thereon. Bunb. Rep. 199. Trin. 1725. Attorney General v. Sir John Elwell.

SECT. VI.

Of Caſh or Goldſmiths Notes. The Indorſement and Action thereon; and the Time of demanding Payment of them.

1. IN an Action on the Caſe on an inland Bill of Exchange brought by the Indorſee againſt the Drawer, theſe following Points were reſolved.

1ſt, A Difference was taken between a Bill payable to J. S. or Bearer, and J. S. or Order; for a Bill payable to J. S. or Bearer, is not aſſignable by the Contract, ſo as to enable the Indorſee to bring an Action, if the Drawer refuſes to pay; becauſe there is no ſuch Authority given to the Party by the firſt Contract, and the Effect of it is only to diſcharge the Drawee, if he pays it to the Bearer, though he comes to it by Trover, Theft or otherwiſe. But when the Bill is payable to J. S. or Order, there an expreſs Promiſe is given to the Party to aſſign, and the Indorſee may maintain an Action. See P. 128.

2dly, Though an Aſſignment of a Bill payable to J. S. or Order, be no good Aſſignment to charge the Drawer with an Action on the Bill; yet it is a good Bill between the Indorſor and Indorſee, and the Indorſor is liable to an Action for the Money; for the Indorſement is in Nature of a New Bill.

3dly, It being objected, that in this Caſe there was no Averment of the Defendant's being a Merchant, it was anſwered by the Court, that the Drawing the Bill was a ſufficient merchandizing and negotiating to this Purpoſe. 1 Salk. 125. Hodges v. Steward.

3. If a Bill payable to A. or Bearer be diſcounted, it is an abſolute Purchaſe; if to A. or Order, Indorſor muſt warrant it. 1 Salk. 127. Lambert and Pack. See P. 58.

3. The

3. The Plaintiff declares, quod inter mercatores et alios negotiantes intra hoc regnum, there is, and time, whereof, &c. hath been a Cuſtom, that if any Trader make a Bill, or Note, by which he aſſumes to pay to another Perſon, or the Bearer of the Bill ſuch a Sum of Money, ſuch Perſon is bound by it to pay ſuch Sum to ſuch Perſon to whom the Note is payable or to the Bearer. The Plaintiff then ſhews that the Defendant Sedgwick being a Goldſmith, made a Note in Writing, whereby he promiſed to pay to Maſon or Bearer 100*l.* that Maſon delivered the Note to the Plaintiff for 100*l.* in Value received; and that for Non-Payment of this 100*l.* the Plaintiff brought this Action againſt the Defendant. Non aſſumpſit pleaded and Verdict for the Plaintiff. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, that this Action could not be brought in the Name of the Bearer, but it ought to be brought in the Name of him to whom it was payable. Quod fuit conceſſum per Curiam; for the Difference is, where the Note is payable to the Party or Bearer, or to the Party or Order: In the latter Caſe the Indorſee has been allowed to bring the Action in his own Name, becauſe the Indorſement of the Party muſt appear upon the Back of the Note; but where it is payable to the Party or Bearer, it may be very inconvenient; for then any one who finds the Note by accident may bring the Action. Though this laſt has been frequently attempted, it has never yet prevailed; and in the Caſe of Horton and Coggs, the Goldſmith (3 Lev. 299.) this Difference was taken and agreed; and the Judgment of the Court (being the ſame Caſe with this) was arreſted. But the Court declared that the Bearer might bring the Action in the Name of him to whom the Note was payable. And Judgment was arreſted, niſi, &c. The ſame Point was reſolved in B. R between Hodges and Steward, Salk. 125. (the laſt Caſe but one.) But there it was reſolved that the Indorſement to the Bearer binds the Party who immediately indorſes it to him. The principal Point was alſo reſolved. Mich. 9 W and

4. The Defendant, at two of the Clock in the Afternoon, gave the Plaintiff Goldſmiths Notes in Payment, which were tendered the next Morning at nine; but the Goldſmiths had a Quarter of an Hour before ſtopped Payment. The Chief Juſtice directed the Jury, that the Loſs ſhould fall on the Defendant, there being no Laches in the Plaintiff, who had demanded their Money as ſoon as was uſual in the Courſe of Dealing, and that the keeping the Notes till the next Morning could not be conſtrued a giving new Credit to the Goldſmiths. And the Jury found accordingly. Stran. 415. 7 Geo. 1. Moore v. Warren.

5. The Defendant paid the Plaintiffs, who were the Sword-Blade Company, two Goldſmiths Notes at three in the Afternoon; the Plaintiff's Servant the next Morning leaves the Notes with the Goldſmith in order to have the Money ready for him as he came a clearing; it being, as they proved, cuſtomary for the Bank and the Sword-blade Company to ſend out their Notes in the Morning, and call for their Money as their Servant returned in the Evening; and the Goldſmith upon receiving the Notes always cancelled them, and got the Money told out againſt the Time it was uſually called for. The Notes in this Caſe were brought early in the Morning and received and cancelled: And between four and five in the Afternoon the Servant that left them called again for the Money, when the Goldſmiths had juſt ſtopt Payment: Upon which the Servant takes new Notes of the ſame Tenor and Date with the cancelled ones he left in the Morning. And becauſe the Plaintiffs had done nothing but what was uſual, in leaving Notes inſtead of taking the Money when he firſt called in the Morning, the Chief Juſtice directed the Jury to find for the Plaintiffs, which they did. Strange, 416. 7 Geo. 1. Turner v. Mead.

6. The Plaintiff, who kept Caſh with the Bank, on Saturday left a Note for 50*l.* on Cox and Cleve: On Monday they gave it to the Runner, who left it at the Shop in the Morning, where they cancelled the Note; but when he called in the Afternoon for the Money, according to his uſual Practice, he found the Banker had ſtopt Payment; whereupon he took a new Note of the ſame Tenor and Date. And King, Chief Juſtice, directed the Jury, that it would be dangerous to ſuffer Perſons to deal with Notes in this Manner, and ſaid the Common Pleas was of that Opinion in the like Caſe. But however he directed they ſhould only find the Value of the Note when cancelled, upon which the Jury found 25 l. the Goldſmiths having paid 10 s. in the Pound. Strange, 550 9 Geo. 1. Hayward and the Bank of England.

7. Upon the 17th of September (being Saturday) about two o'Clock in the Afternoon, Harriſon gave to Manwaring in Payment a Note for 100 l. by Mitford and Mertins, Goldſmiths, dated 5th September, payable to Harriſon or Order. The ſame Afternoon Manwaring pays away the Note to J. S. Mitford and Mertins paid all Saturday and Monday, and on Tueſday Morning as ſoon as the Shop was opened, and before any Money paid, J. S. came and demanded the Money, but Mitford and Mertins ſtopt Payment: Manwaring paid back the Money to J. S. and demanded it again of Harriſon; who refuſing to pay it, an Action was brought. And on non aſſumpſit the Chief Juſtice told the Jury, that giving the Note is not immediately Payment, unleſs the Receiver does ſomething to make it ſo by neglecting to receive it in a reaſonable Time, by which he gives Credit to the Maker of the Note. He left it to them whether there had been any Neglect, and obſerved that the Note was payable to Harriſon, who had kept it eleven Days, and probably would not have demanded it ſooner than Manwaring did, it appearing the Goldſmiths were in full Credit all the while. The Jury deſired they might find it ſpecially, and leave it to the Court whether there was a reaſonable Time; but the Chief Juſtice told them they were judges of that:

Where-

Whereupon they found for the Defendant, and declared it as their Opinion, that a Perſon who did not demand a Goldſmith's Note in two Days took the Credit on himſelf. Strange, 508. Manwaring and Harriſon.

8. Woodward's Note was paid to the Plaintiff at Twelve on the Friday, who put it into the Bank at One, and the next Morning at Ten the Runner of the Bank carried it to the Shop with other Notes to the Value of 2600 l. and left them (as uſual) to call again for the Money: He called at Eleven and they ſaid, their Servant was gone to the Bank. He called again at Two, and they ſaid they were going to ſhut up, and refuſed to pay; but paid ſmall Notes for two Hours and then ſtopt. And the next Morning Notice was given to the Defendant, who had paid the Note to the Plaintiff. And now in an Action for the Money the Queſtion was, whether this was Payment to the Plaintiff. It was inſiſted for the Defendant, that he ſhould not ſuffer by the Plaintiff's Payment into the Bank, who ſent it with other Notes; whereas if the Note had been tendered by itſelf, it would have been paid. On the contrary, it was inſiſted, that if there had been no Demand, there would have been no Laches, being within a Day after the Receipt, that the Goldſmiths ſtopt Payment. The Chief Juſtice ſaid there was no ſtanding Rule, but left it to the Jury, who found for the Plaintiff to the Value of the Note. Strange, 910. 5 Geo. 2. Hart and Da Coſta.

9. At half an Hour after Eleven in the Morning of 18th January, the Defendant being indebted to the Plaintiffs, paid to their Caſhier a Note of Caſwell and Mount, Goldſmiths in Lombard-Street; they continued to pay all Notes till the next Day at Two; and immediately after they had ſtopt Payment, the Company's Servant came with the Note. The Queſtion was, who ſhould bear the Loſs? And upon examining Merchants, it was held that the Company had made it their own, by not ſending it out the Afternoon of the 18th, or at furtheſt the next Morning.

So there was a Verdict for the Defendant. Strange, 1175. Eaſt India Company v. Chitty.

10. A Banker's Note for 500*l.* was paid to the Plaintiff after Dinner, who ſent it the next Morning at Nine, when the Banker had ſtopt Payment: And it was ruled that there was no Laches in the Plaintiff, ſo as to fix the Loſs on him; and that in all theſe Caſes there muſt be a reaſonable Time allowed, conſiſtent with the Nature of circulating Paper Credit. Strange, 1248. Fletcher v. Sandys.

11. The Notes of Goldſmiths (whether they be payable to Order or to Bearer) are always accounted among Merchants as ready Caſh, and not as Bills of Exchange. The Time of receiving Money upon a Goldſmith's Note is immediately, or elſe it will be at the Peril of him who pays the Note. He who delivers over the Note, will not be charged if the Goldſmith fails, as the Drawer of a Bill of Exchange would be; but the Receiver is ſuppoſed to give Credit to the Goldſmith, and the Note is looked upon as ready Money payable immediately; and if he does not like it he ought to refuſe it; but having accepted it, it is at his Peril. But note, if the Party to whom the Note is delivered demands the Money of the Goldſmith in a reaſonable Time, and he will not pay it, it will charge him who gave the Note. A Goldſmith's Note indorſed is as a Bill of Exchange againſt the Indorſor. L. Raym. 743. Taſſel and Lee v. Lewis.

12. An Action upon the Caſe upon an Indebitatus aſſumpſit was brought, wherein the Plaintiff counts on three Promiſes, viz. for 60*l.* received by the Defendant to the Plaintiff's Uſe, for 60*l.* lent by the Plaintiff to the Defendant, and on an Inſimul computaſſet for 60*l.* On non aſſumpſit pleaded, the Cauſe was tried at the Niſi Prius at London, before the Lord Chief Juſtice Holt. And on the Evidence, the Fact appeared to be, one Fellows a Merchant, who kept his Caſh with the Defendant, Sir Stephen Evans, a Goldſmith in Lombard-Street, was indebted to the Plaintiff Plaintiff in 60*l.* 10*s.* the Plaintiff ſent his Servant to receive the Money of Fellows, who ordered his Servant to pay Ward's Man the Money at Sir Stephen Evans's; accordingly the Servants went to Sir Stephen Evans's Shop, and there Fellows's Servant directed the Defendant's Servant to pay Ward's Servant the 60*l.* 10*s.* and to indorſe it on a Note of 100*l.* from the Defendant to Fellows, in Part of Payment of the 100*l.* The Defendant's Servant accordingly indorſes 60*l.* 10*s.* as paid on the ſaid Note of 100*l.* and then paid 10*s.* to Ward's Servant, and gave him a Note ſubſcribed by one Wallis a Goldſmith for 60*l.* payable to one Freeman or Bearer, which the Plaintiff's Servant accepted. This Tranſaction was about Noon, and at that Time Wallis was a ſolvent Perſon, and continued paying his Bills till Night. Next Morning the Plaintiff's Servant coming with the Note to receive the 60*l.* of Wallis, found that Wallis had ſtopt Payment, and was become inſolvent. Whereupon the Plaintiff brings this Action againſt the Defendant for the 60*l.* Note, it did not appear upon the Evidence, that the Plaintiff was conuſant of, or privy to, this Tranſaction of his Servant, or had given him any Authority to receive ſuch a Note inſtead of Money, or approved of it afterwards. This Matter, at the Requeſt of the Defendant's Council, was drawn up by way of Caſe, and was put into the Paper to be argued.

Three Points were made in this Caſe. Firſt, whether this Evidence was ſufficient to maintain the Declaration on any of the three Courts. Secondly, whether the Acceptance of the Note upon Wallis by the Plaintiff's Servant, without his Direction or Approbation, ſhall bind the Plaintiff. Thirdly, whether the Delivery of ſuch a Note be in Law a good and actual Payment of the 60*l.*

Mr. Serjeant Hall was of Counſel for the Defendant, and gave his Opinion for his Client, but did not think it neceſſary to labour the Points.

Mr. Serjeant Darnall for the Plaintiff urged, that the Servants of Merchants might in ſome Caſes bind their Maſters by their Acts, but then it muſt be in the Buſineſs of a Merchant; but a Servant cannot accept a Bill of Exchange drawn upon his Maſter, to bind his Maſter, unleſs there be plain and ſtrong Evidence, that the Maſter gave him Authority ſo to do. And he cited Lex Mercatoria, 265, and a Treatiſe concerning Bills of Exchange by * John Marius, 47. A fortiori the Servant in this Caſe cannot bind the Plaintiff without his Conſent, where there is not the ſame Neceſſity, nor the ſame Advantage to the Publick by encouraging of Trade. 2. This is no actual Payment, for the Law adjudges nothing actual Payment but Money, or other thing given or taken in Satisfaction by Conſent of both Parties. 5 Co. 117. Pynnel's Caſe. This Note is but as a bare Piece of Paper, not valuable in itſelf, nor valuable to the Plaintiff; for he cannot bring any Action to compel the Payment of it, but in the Name of Freeman (Salk. 125. See Parag. 3. of this Section) who may refuſe to give him leave to uſe his Name. He agreed, that if A. ſells Goods to B. for 50*l.* and at the ſame Time B. gives A. ſuch a Note for 50*l.* and A. accepts it; this is an actual Payment although the Note be never received; becauſe it ſhall be taken as Part of the Contract, that A. was to accept ſuch Note in Satisfaction for his Goods. But where there is a preceding Debt or Duty, as in this Caſe, ſuch Note will not amount to Payment till it be paid, unleſs there be any Negligence and Delay in the Party who takes the Note, in going to receive it. For if the Goldſmith continue ſolvent for a long Time after the Note delivered, and the Party keep the Note by him without demanding the Money, and afterwards the Goldſmith become inſolvent, he that took the Note ſhall ſtand to the Loſs of it; becauſe by keeping the Note, he prevented the other from receiving it. But in this Caſe the Fact is otherwiſe, for the Plaintiff's Servant went the next Morning to receive the Money.

* Note, Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid Marius's Book was a very good Book.

Holt,

Holt, Chief Juſtice. When a Servant is ſent to receive Money on a Bill, he cannot accept a Note inſtead of Money, without the particular Direction of his Maſter. Suppoſe the Servant in this Caſe had brought Wallis's Note home to the Plaintiff, and the Plaintiff had ſent him back with it, refuſing to accept it, and inſiſting to have Money, then it would not have been a Payment beyond all Doubt. But indeed if the Maſter does give his Conſent to the taking of the Note, that will amount to an Authority precedent. But then I am of Opinion, and always was, (notwithſtanding the Noiſe and Cry, that it is the Uſe of Lombard-Street, as if the contrary Opinion would blow up Lombard-Street) that the Acceptance of ſuch a Note is not actual Payment. I agree the Difference taken by my Brother Darnall, that taking a Note for Goods ſold is Payment, becauſe it was Part of the original Contract; but Paper is no Payment where there is a precedent Debt. For when ſuch a Note is given in Payment, it is always intended to be taken under this Condition, to be Payment if the Money be paid thereon in convenient Time. This Note was demanded within convenient Time; but if the Party who takes the Note, keeps it by him for ſeveral Days without demanding it, and the Perſon who ought to pay it becomes inſolvent, he that received it muſt bear the Loſs; becauſe he prevented the other Perſon from receiving the Money, by detaining the Note in his Cuſtody. As for the Nature of the Action, I am of Opinion, that an Indebitatus aſſumpſit for Monies received to the Plaintiff's Uſe lies properly in this Caſe, and that this Evidence is ſufficient to maintain the Plaintiff's Declaration; for when the 60 l. was indorſed on Fellows's Bill, as ſo much actually paid by Sir Stephen Evans to Fellows, Fellows directing that Sum to be paid to the Plaintiff, and the Defendant having the Money in his Hands, it amounts to a Receipt of ſo much by the Defendant to the Plaintiff's Uſe. No doubt the Action were maintainable if the Plaintiff had brought the Note back again to the Defendant; and though he did not, ſince it does not amount to actual Payment, the Plaintiff muſt recover.

Powel, Juſtice. This Evidence will maintain the Declaration; for Fellows's Caſh remaining in the Defendant's Hands, when by the Indorſement the Defendant is diſcharged from ſo much of Fellows's Note as againſt him, that Money being to be paid by his Direction to the Plaintiff, it is a Receipt by the Defendant to the Plaintiff's Uſe. The Delivery and Acceptance of Wallis's Note is no Payment; for when a Maſter ſends his Servant to receive Money, he cannot accept a Note in lieu of it. Perhaps if the Maſter had been there himſelf, he would have refuſed the Note, as knowing the Inſufficiency of Wallis; and ſhall the Servant oblige them to take ſuch a Note by his Acceptance, without his Maſter's Directions? Indeed if the Maſter conſents to it afterwards, that amounts to a previous Command. And the taking of ſuch a Note is no Payment; for it is always a conditional Acceptance, and ſo underſtood, not to be a Diſcharge till paid; and if it ſhould be otherwiſe, it would be to let in Fraud, and give Goldſmiths and others an Opportunity of cheating Traders. But ſtill the Money ought to be demanded in convenient Time; for if the Party keep the Note by him without demanding it, he muſt run the Hazard of it, but here it was demanded in due Time. Let the Plaintiff take Judgment per totam curiam. L. Raym. 928. 13 W. 3. B. R. Ward and Evans.

13. The Caſe was this: A Maſter ſends his Servant, that was uſed to tranſact Affairs of that Nature for him, on Saturday Morning, with a Note drawn upon Sir Stephen Evans, with Orders to get from Sir Stephen either Bank Bills or Money, and turn them into Exchequer Notes; but the Servant having other Buſineſs of his Maſter's upon his Hands, to ſave himſelf the Time and Trouble of going to Sir Stephen, goes to B. and prevails with him to give him a Bank Bill for Sir Stephen's Note; and then, in Pur-

Purſuance of his Maſter's Orders, inveſted it in Exchequer Notes, which he brought to his Maſter, not letting him know but that he had gone to Sir Stephen.

Sir Stephen Evans failing upon the Monday following, upon whom this Loſs ſhould light, B. or the Maſter, was the Queſtion.

Chief Juſtice Parker, who tried the Cauſe, was firſt of Opinion, that it ſhould fall upon B. becauſe the Servant acted directly contrary to his Maſter's Orders, and B. by furniſhing the Servant with a Bank Bill, did the Maſter no Service at all; for if he had done it, the Servant muſt in Obedience to his Maſter's Orders, have gone and received himſelf the Money from Sir Stephen; and cited the Caſe of Ward and Evans (the preceding Caſe) where it was reſolved, that if a Servant ſent to receive Money, takes a Bill in lieu of it, the Maſter is not bound by the Act of the Servant, unleſs the Bill is anſwered.

But one of the Jury informing him, that he took the Practice to be otherwiſe (for that whether a Servant, uſed to act upon the Credit of his Maſter, went againſt the Orders of the Maſter, was a Fact that could not be known to a third Perſon) he quitted his Opinion, but directed the Counſel to move the Court of B. R. which was accordingly done.

The Subſtance of what was ſaid, upon the Motion, in favour of the Maſter, was, that the Servant going contrary to his Orders, and there being no ſubſequent Conſent of the Maſter, who knew nothing of the Matter, the Act of the Servant ſhould not bind the Maſter, according to the Caſes of Ward and Evans. Mich. 2 Ann. Hankey and Watts. Thorold and Smith, 2 Cro. 471. Maſter commands his Servant to ſell his Horſe, Servant ſells him as a good one; no Action againſt the Maſter.

But the Court were all of Opinion, that the Verdict was well given, and that the Maſter was chargeable, and he only. For a Servant by tranſacting Affairs for his Maſter, does thereby derive a general Authority thority and Credit from him; and if this general Authority ſhould be liable to be determined for a Time, by any particular Inſtructions or Orders, to which none but the Maſter and Servant are privy, there would be an end of all dealing but with the Maſter.

The Maſter has put himſelf in the Power of the Servant by truſting him with the Bill. * Monk and Clayton, was a Caſe where the Act of a Servant, tho' out of Place, bound his Maſter, by reaſon of the former Credit given him by his Maſter's Service; and the other not knowing that he was diſcharged. And as for the Caſes put, there was this main Difference between them, that nothing came to the Maſter's Uſe; as here the Note did. In ſome of thoſe Caſes there was a prior Debt; but none here.

It was agreed by the Court that the Property of the Notes was not transferred and veſted in B. but was only in Nature of a Depoſitum or Security to him, for there is no Indorſement; nor could he have ſued upon the Bill; and though Practice cannot alter the Law, yet it may explain an Agreement.

They were likewiſe of Opinion, that the Maſter could not recover it of the Servant; the Loſs being occaſioned by a mere Accident, and not either through Folly or Negligence.

If a Maſter frequently ſend a Servant to Market without ready Money, ſo that the Servant is truſted

* A Servant of Sir Robert Clayton, and Mr. Alderman Morris (but at that Time actually gone from them) took up two hundred Guineas of Mr. Monk a Goldſmith, without any Authority of his Maſters; (but Monk did not know that he was gone) the Money not being paid, Monk brought an Action againſt Sir Robert Clayton and Morris, and at Guildhall it was ruled per Keiling, Chief Juſtice, that they ſhould anſwer; and there was a Verdict for the Plaintiff. And though there were great Endeavours to obtain a new Trial, yet it was denied, the Court at Weſtminſter being fully ſatisfied that they ought to anſwer; for this Servant had uſed often to receive and pay Money for them; and thereupon he actually paid the Money. Molloy, B. 2. 14. A Bank Bill payable to A. or Bearer, being given to A. and loſt, was found by a Stranger, who transferred it to C. for a valuable Conſideration; C. got a new Bill in his own Name. And by Holt Chief Juſtice, A. may have * Trover againſt the Stranger, who found the Bill; for he had no Title, though the Payment to him would have indemnified the Bank; but A. cannot maintain Trover againſt C. by reaſon of the Courſe of Trade which creates a Property in the Aſſignee or Bearer. 1 Salk. 126. Anon.

15. In Indebitatus aſſumpſit brought by the Plaintiffs againſt the Defendant for 454*l.* 18*s.* 3*d.* lent to the Defendant by the Plaintiffs, and another Count for 454*l.* 18*s.* 3*d.* laid out at the Requeſt of the Defendant for the Uſe of the Defendant; and on non aſſumpſit pleaded, upon the Evidence at the Trial before Holt Chief Juſtice, at the Sittings at Guildhall, Paſch. 1 Ann. The Caſe was thus: The Defendant, January 31, 1700, brought a Note of Mr. Shepherd the Goldſmith, payable to Robert Stamper for 454*l.* 18*s.* 3*d.* to the Bank of England, and prayed Mr. Maddocks, the Caſhier of the Bank, to give him a Specie Bank Note payable to the ſaid Stamper for the ſaid Note of Shepherd; which Mr. Maddocks refuſed, but told the Defendant, that if he would promiſe to pay the Bank the 454*l.* 18*s.* 3*d.* in caſe Shepherd did not pay the ſaid Note, he would give him a Specie Bank Note payable to himſelf for the ſaid Sum; to which the Defendant agreed. dant Glover a Specie Bank Bill of 454*l.* 18*s.* 3*d.* This was done upon the Friday. The Monday, this Note of Shepherd was ſent to him to be paid, and Shepherd refuſed to pay it. In the mean time Glover gave his Bank Note to J. S. for a Debt owing by him to J. S, and J. S. received the 454*l.* 18*s.* 3*d.* of the Bank. And after Debate by the Counſel of both Sides, Holt, Chief Juſtice, was of Opinion that this Evidence did not maintain the Action. For (by him) this was not Money lent, nor laid out for the Uſe of the Defendant; but it was a buying of the Note of Shepherd with a Warranty of it from the Defendant; and therefore the Plaintiff might well maintain a ſpecial Action, but not a general Indebitatus aſſumpſit. It was urged by the Plaintiffs Counſel that this Note was only a Depoſitum or Pledge. But to that the Chief Juſtice anſwered, that that could not be, becauſe it was not redeemable by the Defendant, and Redemption is incident to the Nature of a Pledge. The Plaintiffs were non-ſuited. L. Raym. 153. 1 Ann. Bank of England v. Glover.

16. One Agris a Goldſmith having 150*l.* of Berkeley's Money in his Hands, gives him a Note whereby he promiſes to pay to him or Order, on Demand, the Sum of 150*l.* Berkeley being indebted in the ſame Sum to the Plaintiff, delivers over that Note to the Plaintiff, but without making any Indorſement; Plaintiff preſently carries this Note, and likewiſe another Bill for 80*l.* which he had upon one Jackſon, to Sir Stephen Evans and Hales, Goldſmiths in Lombard-ſtreet, who were his Bankers or Caſhiers, and they gave him a Note to this Effect, viz. Received of Mr. Trowell (the Plaintiff) 230*l.* upon Account; and on the Margin it was written thus: Berkeley 150, Jackſon 80*l.* And this Note was ſigned by Sir Stephen Evans and Hales. They preſently ſent their Dunner to Agris to demand the Money; but he put them off from Time to Time for about thirteen or fourteen Days, though the Dunner had been ſeveral Times with him for the Money; and afterwards Agris fails;

it was proved in the Cauſe that Agris was ſolvent after the Note given by Sir Stephen Evans, and had paid above 800*l.* to ſeveral People; upon Agris's failing the Plaintiff applies to the Defendants, Sir Stephen Evans and Hales, for the Payment of the 150*l.* Sir Stephen not thinking himſelf obliged to pay it, ſends the Plaintiff to Berkeley, to whom the Note was firſt given, and he likewiſe refuſing Payment, the Plaintiff brought his Bill againſt them for a Satisfaction, and had a Decree at the Rolls to charge Sir Stephen Evans and Hales; from which Decree they appealed to my Lord Keeper, and inſiſted they were not chargeable with this Money; that they took Agris's Note only as Servants to the Plaintiff, and had ſeveral Times ſent their Dunner to demand the Money; that his promiſing them Payment was the Reaſon they did not give Notice nor return the Note to the Plaintiff; that their Manner of giving Notes in Lombard-ſtreet was different from thoſe given by Goldſmiths at Temple-bar, yet in Subſtance they were the ſame, and amounted to no more than a Receipt for the two Notes from ſuch Perſons for ſo much Money, which, when they receive, they promiſe to be accountable for; that this Bill was but in Nature of an Action of Account againſt them as Bailiffs or Receivers of ſo much Money; and at Common Law, if ſuch Action had been brought, and upon the Trial it appeared they had received no Money, the Jury would have found againſt the Plaintiff; that the Reaſon that led Sir Stephen to give a Note in ſuch Form was a Caſe, Mich. 2 Ann. between Ward and him, (P. 136.) where the Caſe was that the Plaintiff Ward being indebted to one Fellows in the Sum of 60*l.* and having a Note from Sir Stephen Evans for 100*l.* when Fellows came for his Money, Ward ſends a Servant with him to Sir Stephen with a Bill of 100*l.* and ordered him to pay Fellows the 60*l.* and indorſe it off the 100*l.* Note; but Sir Stephen having a Note on one Wallis for 60*l.* 10*s.* gives that Note to Fellows who pays him the 10*s.* Overplus, and goes away with the Note; the next

Day

Day Wallis fails, and upon an Action brought by Ward for the 100*l.* the Court of B. R. was of Opinion, that the Delivery of the Note upon Wallis for 60*l.* 10*s.* was no Payment, and therefore Ward recovered the whole 100*l.* and therefore Sir Stephen now only gave the Note for ſo much received on Account; and the Note in the Margin, ſhewing from whom it was due, made it plain, he only acknowledged the Receipt of ſuch Notes, but had no Deſign to charge himſelf with the Money till it was received. But my Lord Keeper was clearly of Opinion, that the Note imported an Acknowledgment of ſo much Money received on the Plaintiff's Account; that the Entry on the Margin could at moſt only ſhew how it was received; and that the Note ſpoke itſelf, whatever the Forms and Meanings of ſuch Notes were, and therefore affirmed the Decree. Mich. 1710. Trowel and Sir Stephen Evans et al. 1 *P. the Lord Keeper ſaid was the Practice at Guildhall, when he practiſed there; but in this Caſe the Plaintiff was offered his Choice at the Goldſmith's Shop, to have either his Money or a Bill, and he choſe a Bill, and the next Day the Goldſmith broke, and therefore the Loſs fell not upon the Party who paid the Money, but upon the Plaintiff; for it was his own Fault that he would not take his Money. Of POLICIES of ASSURANCE.

SECT. I.

Aſſurance or Inſurance defined. The Antiquity, Nature, and various Kinds of it.

1. ASSURANCE or Inſurance ſignifies a Security given, in Conſideration of a Sum of Money paid, in Hand, of ſo much per cent. to an Aſſurer or Inſurer, to indemnify the Inſured from ſuch Loſſes as ſhall be ſpecified in the Policy or Inſtrument of Aſſurance, ſubſcribed by the Inſurer, or Inſurers, for that Purpoſe. Dict. Tr. and Com. 135. Savary's Dict. Tit. Aſſurance, and Police d'Aſſurance.

2. It is conceived by * Suetonius, that Claudius Cæſar was the firſt who brought in this Cuſtom of Aſſurance; by which the Danger and Adventure of Voyages is divided, repaired, and borne by many Perſons, who for a certain Sum, by the Spaniards called Premio, aſſure Ships, or Goods, or both, or a Proportion, according as the Policy is. Molloy, B. 2. C. 7. §. 1. Malynes's Lex Mercatoria, Ed. 1686. p. 104.

3. Mr. Savary, in his Dictionaire de Commerce, Tit. Aſſurance, thinks this Cuſtom was firſt introduced by the † Jews, in the Year 1182: But whoever was the firſt Contriver, or original Inventor of this uſeful Branch of Buſineſs, it has for many Ages been practiſed in this Kingdom, and is ſuppoſed to have been introduced here by ſome Italians from Lombardy, who at the ſame Time came to ſettle at Antwerp, and among us: And this being prior to the building of the Royal Exchange, they uſed to meet in a Place where Lombard Street now is, at a Houſe they had, called the Pawn-houſe or Lombard, for tranſacting Buſineſs; and as they were then the ſole Negotiators in Inſurance, the Policies made by others in After-times had a Clauſe inſerted, that thoſe latter ones ſhould have as much Force and Effect, as thoſe formerly made in Lombard-Street. Lex Mercatoria rediviva, 261.

4. Aſſurances are of various Sorts, ſome being to Places certain, others general. Thoſe that are made to Places certain, are commonly upon Goods laden or to be laden aboard outward, and until the ſame Adventure ſhall be landed at ſuch a Port; or upon Goods laden or to be laden homeward in ſuch a Ship till the Adventure ſhall likewiſe be landed; or elſe upon Goods out and in, with Liberty to touch at all Ports that are mentioned in the Policy.

So likewiſe on Ships that go trading Voyages, as round to Cadiz; and that it ſhall be lawful, after the Ship's Delivery there, to take in at the ſame Port another Cargo, and with that proceed to the Weſt-Indies or other Ports, and back again to Cadiz, and from thence to London; this Policy being general and dangerous, ſeldom procures Subſcriptions, or at leaſt very chargeable ones.

As Goods and Merchandize are commonly inſured, ſo likewiſe are the Ship's Tackle and Furniture; but in regard there ſeldom happens a Voyage but ſomewhat is miſſing or loſt, the Premium commonly runs higher than for Merchandize.

Aſſurances may be made on Goods ſent by Land, ſo likewiſe on Hoys and the like, and may be made on the Heads of Men; as if a Man is going for the Streights, Streights, and perhaps is in ſome Fear that he may be taken by the Moors or Turkiſh Pirates, and ſo made a Slave, for the Redemption of whom a Ranſom muſt be paid, he may advance a Premium accordingly upon a Policy of Aſſurance; and if there be a Caption, the Aſſurer muſt anſwer the Ranſom that is ſecured to be paid on the Policy. Molloy, B. 2. C. 7. §. 4. cites Mich. 29. Car. 2. in B. R. Liſle v. Sedgwick.

5. The Policies now-a-days are ſo large, that almoſt all thoſe curious Queſtions that former Ages, and the Civilians according to the Law Marine, nay and the common Lawyers too, have controverted, are now out of Debate. Scarce any Misfortune that can happen, or Proviſion be made, but the ſame is provided for in the Policies that are now uſed; for they inſure againſt Heaven and Earth, Streſs of Weather, Storms, Enemies, Pirates, Rovers, &c. or whatſoever Detriment ſhall happen * or come to the Thing inſured, &c. R. Came v. Moye.

4. A. and B. were Bail for C. in a Suit againſt him in the Admiralty brought by J. S. for 100*l.* due to him by J. S. for Freight; and C. going to Barbadoes, where he had a Share in a Plantation, and likewiſe a Quarter Part of the Ship he was to go in, his Life was inſured by A. and B. his Bail. A Prohibition was prayed to the Court of Policy, ſurmiſing that they proceeded there in the Trial of the Aſſurance of C's Life, which was inſiſted to be triable at Common Law. Roll Ch. J. thought the Aſſurance of a Man's Life not within the Statute, as upon the buying of an Office; but where he is going to Sea upon Merchants Affairs, his Life may be aſſured, as well as the ſafe Return of the Ship he goes in. But afterwards, upon hearing Counſel, it was objected, that the Party might have Remedy in B. R. as well as in the Court of Policy, and therefore B. R. ought to be preferred, and the Contract has no Relation to Merchandize, and ſo belongs not to that Court. It was replied, that the Words of the Policy ſhewed that the Contract concerned Merchandize; but Roll ſaid, the Words are not material; for they may be falſe, and the Contract may be for Things not touching Merchandize notwithſtanding, and the Intent of the Statute is for Things merchantable; and if they appear not ſo, a Prohibition ought to be granted, and ſaid they could not avoid granting a Prohibition. Sty. 166. Mich. 1649. Bendir v. Oyle.

5. By 13 and 14 Car. 2. C. 23. S. 2. it is enacted that the Commiſſioners for determining Cauſes upon Policies of Inſurance entred within the Office of Aſſurance of London, or three of them, whereof a Doctor of the Civil Law, a Barriſter of Law of five Years ſtanding to be one, may proceed as five might have done; and in Caſe of wilful Delay of Witneſſes upon the firſt Summons and Tender of Charges, and of Parties upon the ſecond Summons, may puniſh the Offenders by Impriſonment or Coſts. Every ſuch Commiſſioner may proceed, having taken an Oath before the Lord Mayor of London to proceed uprightly.

S. 3. Commiſſions ſhall iſſue out of the Admiralty returnable before the ſaid Commiſſioners to examine Witneſſes beyond Sea, or in any remote Parts of the King's Dominions; the Commiſſioners, or three of them, may paſs Sentence and Execution againſt the Body and Goods, and againſt the Executors, &c. of the Party evicted, and aſſeſs Coſts of Suit.

S. 4. Any one Commiſſioner may adminiſter an Oath to a Witneſs, Notice being given to the adverſe Party, and ſet up in the Office, that ſuch Witneſs may be croſs examined.

S. 5. The Commiſſioners ſhall not proceed againſt Body and Goods for the ſame Debt.

6. The Plaintiff's Bill was an Appeal from a Decree of the Court of Policies and Aſſurances in London; whereby the Defendant below not appearing upon the firſt Summons, the Bill was ordered to be taken pro confeſſo againſt him: And for the Plaintiff it was inſiſted, that though by the Statute 43 Eliz. Cap. 12. and the Statute 14 Car. 2. Cap. 23. the Commiſſioners may proceed in a ſummary Courſe, without Formalities of Pleadings, yet it was very extraordinary to take a Bill pro confeſſo upon the firſt Summons; and they ought at leaſt to have the Allegations in the Bill proved, before they proceeded to make ſuch Order: And it was ſaid, though the Courſe in this Court now is not to take a Bill pro confeſſo after the Party has once appeared, and ſtands out in Contempt till the Plaintiff has got to the End of the Line, and has run through all the Proceſs of the Court againſt him; yet formerly this Court did not do it even in that Caſe without putting the Plaintiff to prove the Subſtance of his Bill; whereupon the Lord Keeper reverſed the Decree. And though in this this Caſe the Appeal was not brought within two Months after the Decree, according to the ſaid Act of 43 Eliz. yet in regard the Defendant could not make out that the now Plaintiff had been fairly ſummoned, the Lord Keeper admitted the Appeal; and thereupon the Parties agreed to try the Matter in an Action on the Caſe, the Plaintiff by Order being not to inſiſt upon the Statute of Limitations. Vern. 223, 224. Hill 1683. in Canc. Sir James Johnſon v. Deſmineere.

7. Prohibition: The Defendants had ſubſcribed a Policy of Inſurance to the Plaintiff, and a Loſs happening, the Defendants were ſued at Law, and a Declaration delivered: Thereupon the Defendants ſummon the Plaintiff before the Commiſſioners for determining of Policies, the ſame being made in the Office, pretending that the ſaid Policy was had and procured by Fraud, and endeavoured to have the Policy delivered up by Order of the Commiſſioners there, according to 43 Eliz. Cap. 12. and 14 Car. 2. Cap. 23. Shower moved for a Prohibition on a Suggeſtion of this Matter, for theſe Reaſons, viz. That they have no Juriſdiction in this Caſe: That Fraud, and no Intereſt annulls the Policy at Common Law: That it is good Evidence upon the general Iſſue: That we had our Action on the Policy here, and ſo a Juriſdiction was attached: That this Method would deprive us of our Evidence at Law, viz. the written Policy: That this would erect another Court of Equity, in conſequence, to controul Suits at Law: Beſides, That they had no Authority in this Matter by the Acts of Parliament: That that ſummary Method therein preſcribed without Trial by Jury was never intended further than the Relief of the Inſured againſt the Inſurers; and being ſuch a Law, was not to be extended further than the Words: That the Miſchief recited was Trouble for the inſured to ſue every ſeveral Inſurer diſtinctly: That though the Purview be general, viz. to hear and determine Cauſes ariſing upon Policies of Inſurance; Yet ſeveral other Clauſes ſhew the Intent; as that upon Appeals the Party grieved ſhall firſt ſatisfy the Decree, or at leaſt depoſit the Monies decreed in the Commiſſioners Hands, which plainly means the Aſſurers to be Appellants, and upon Suit ſo brought before them by the Aſſurers upon Appeal, the Chancellor is to award double Coſts; That any other Conſtruction would make a Claſhing of Juriſdictions. And a Rule was obtained for a Prohibition unleſs Cauſe, and to ſtay Proceedings in the mean Time. Show. 396. Paſch. 4 W. and M. Delbie v. Proudfoot & al.

8. But theſe Statutes did not take away that Cognizance which the Courts of Weſtminſter claimed on ſuch Contracts by the Common Law; but only gave this new erected Court a concurrent Juriſdiction with thoſe of the Common Law. For though the Loſs happened out of the Realm, they had Juriſdiction of the Cauſe; and therefore if an Action be brought upon a Policy of Aſſurance, though the Loſs happened at Sea, yet the Jury ſhall inquire; for the Loſs is not the direct Ground of the Action, but the Aſſumpſit. Molloy, B. 2. Cap. 7. §. 18. cites Styl. Rep. 418. Oyles v. Marſhall. 6 Co. 47. Dowdale's Caſe.

9. By making an Office-Policy, according to the Statutes, theſe Advantages followed. 1. If the Policy was loſt, the Entry thereof with the Regiſter of the Office was ſufficient Evidence, both at Common Law, and in the ſame Court; but a private Policy loſt is like a Deed burnt, unleſs there be a Copy thereof, or ſome other very ſtrong Evidence; ſo that then there will remain nothing but an equitable Relief in Chancery for the Satisfaction of the Party.

2. The Commiſſioners may, in Caſe of any Diſpute between the Aſſurers and Aſſured, examine them upon Oath, and determine the Matter according to Law and the Cuſtom of Merchants; but this cannot be done at Common Law, and Relief can be had only in a Court of Equity, where the Party hath not ſufficient Evidence at Law.

3. It

3. It was a Court of Equity as well as a Court of Law; and they could decree againſt 20 Aſſurers at the ſame Time; but at Law they muſt be ſued ſeverally.

4. They could proceed out of Term as well as in Term; and they might finiſh a Cauſe in a Fortnight's Time or leſs.

5. The Judgments there given were generally upon mature Deliberation, and by Perſons well ſkilled in marine Affairs; and if their Sentence was thought unreaſonable, the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper, may on Appeal examine and determine the ſame.

6. The Legiſlature had ſuch Reſpect for the Judgments given in this Court, that no Appeal lay from thence, until the whole Money decreed was depoſited, and full Coſts paid to the Appellee: And though this Court could not compel the Defendant to put in Bail, yet the Sentence there being ſo expeditious was eſteemed very convenient to the Aſſurers as well as the Aſſured. Molloy, B. 2. C. 7. §. 19.

10. But as private Perſons were not excluded by theſe Acts from carrying on this Buſineſs as before, and the Commiſſioners taking no Cognizance of any Policies not made in their Office, and Recovery of Loſſes thereon being made eaſy at Common Law; beſides, there having been ſome Partiality practiſed by the Commiſſioners, and an Appeal being allowed from their Determinations to the Court of Chancery, the Buſineſs of this Court ſoon diminiſhed, and the granting Commiſſions was diſcontinued. Lex Mercatoria rediviva. 262.

11. After this no public Law has been made in England concerning Inſurances except * one, to prohibit inſuring on Marriages, Births, Chriſtenings, and Service; but all was tranſacted by private Office-keepers, till one was paſſed in the Year 1720, by which his Majeſty was enabled to grant two Charters, for erecting two Corporations for inſuring Ships and Merchandize, and lending Money on Bottomry, which are now called the Royal Exchange Aſſurance, and the London Aſſurance; which Corporations are to have perpetual Succeſſion, ſubject to Redemption, or Power of Revocation, as hereafter mentioned. Lex Mercatoria rediviva, 262.

SECT. III.

Of the Royal Exchange Aſſurance and London Aſſurance Companies for Shipping and Merchandize.

1. IN the Year 1720, the two Companies of Aſſurance, that of the Royal Exchange Aſſurance headed by the Lord Onſlow, and that of the London Aſſurance by the Lord Chetwynd, firſt had their Eſtabliſhment.

Thoſe who projected them had been very induſtrious to beſpeak the Countenance of the Houſe of Commons, for which they had cauſed two Letters to be printed, and given to the Members. But theſe and all other Sollicitations having proved ineffectual, the Managers for the two Companies had recourſe to other Expedients; and, underſtanding that the Civil Liſt was conſiderably in Arrears (for which no Proviſion had been, or could conveniently be made by the Parliament, becauſe the Grand Committee of Supply had been inadvertently diſmiſſed) they offered to the Miniſtry 600,000 l. towards the Diſcharge of that Debt, in caſe they might obtain the King's Charter, with the parliamentary Sanction for the Eſtabliſhment of their reſpective Companies.

The Miniſtry being at a Loſs for Means to pay the Civil Liſt Debt, readily embraced the Offer; and Mr. Craggs having the Day before prepared the leading Members of the Houſe of Commons, Mr. Aiſlabie preſented, May the 4th, to the Houſe the following Meſſage:

" His Majeſty having received ſeveral Petitions " from great Numbers of the moſt eminent Mer-

" chants

" chants of the City of London, humbly praying, that " he would be graciouſly pleaſed to grant them Let- " ters Patent for erecting Corporations to aſſure Ships " and Merchandize, and the ſaid Merchants having " offered to advance and pay a conſiderable Sum of " Money for his Majeſty's Uſe, in caſe they may ob- " tain Letters Patents accordingly: His Majeſty be- " ing of Opinion, that erecting two ſuch Corporati- " ons, excluſive only of all other Corporations and " Societies for aſſuring of Ships and Merchandizes, " under proper Reſtrictions and Regulations, may be " of great Advantage and Security to the Trade and " Commerce of the Kingdom, is willing and deſirous " to be ſtrengthened by the Advice and Aſſiſtance of " this Houſe in Matters of this Nature and Impor- " tance. He therefore hopes for their ready Con- " currence, to ſecure and confirm the Privileges his " Majeſty ſhall grant to ſuch Corporations, and to " enable him to diſcharge the Debts of his civil Go- " vernment, without burdening his People with any " new Aid or Supply."

Purſuant to the Meſſage, a Bill was brought in to enable his Majeſty to grant Letters of Incorporation to the two Companies: So that by 6 Geo. 1. C. 18. his Majeſty was impowered to grant two Charters for Aſſurance of Ships and Merchandize, &c. and to incorporate the Adventurers in Conſideration of the before mentioned Sum of Money by them to be advanced. The Statute runs:

Sect. 1. It ſhall be lawful for his Majeſty, by two Charters, to grant ſuch Perſons who ſhall be named therein, and admitted as Members into the ſaid Corporations, ſhall be each a ſeparate Body, Politic and Corporate, for the Aſſurance of Ships and Merchandizes, at Sea, or going to Sea, or for lending Money upon Bottomry. And the ſaid Corporations ſhall have Power to chuſe their Governors, Directors, and other Officers; and the Governors and Directors ſhall continue in their Office for three Years, and, in Caſe of Death or Removal, be ſupplied as ſhall be preſcribed in the Charters; and each of the ſaid Corporations ſhall be capable by Law to purchaſe Lands not exceeding 1000 l. per annum.

Sect. 4. Each of the two Corporations ſhall be obliged to cauſe ſuch Stock of ready Money to be provided, as ſhall be ſufficient to anſwer all juſt Demands for Loſſes, and ſhall ſatisfy all ſuch Demands; and, in Caſe of Refuſal or Neglect, the Parties aſſured may bring Action of Debt, &c. in any of his Majeſty's Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, in which the Plaintiff's may declare, that the ſame Corporation is indebted to them in the Monies demanded, and have not paid the ſame according to this Act.

Sect. 6. The Corporations, in general Courts, may raiſe ſuch capital Stocks, either by taking Subſcriptions of particular Perſons, or by Calls of Money from their Members, or by ſuch other Ways as to ſuch General Courts ſhall ſeem expedient; and all Subſcribers ſhall have a Share in the capital Stock, and ſhall be admitted Members; but no Perſon ſhall be intitled to any greater Share in the Stock, than the Money which they ſhall have paid.

Sect. 7. The Corporations ſhall have Power, in their General Court, to call in from their Members any farther Sums as ſhall be adjudged neceſſary; and in Caſe any Member ſhall refuſe to pay his Share at the Times appointed, by Notice in the Gazette, and upon the Royal Exchange, the Corporation may not only ſtop the Dividend payable to ſuch Member, but alſo ſtop the Transfers of the Shares of ſuch Defaulter, and charge him with Intereſt at 8 per cent. per ann. and if the Principal and Intereſt ſhall be unpaid three Months, the Corporations, or their Courts of Directors, may authorize Perſons to ſell ſo much of the Stock of ſuch Defaulter, as will ſatisfy the ſame; and the Money ſo called in ſhall be deemed capital Stock. Nevertheleſs, the Corporations in a general Court may cauſe any Sums called in to be divided amongſt the then Members, and the Shares in the Capitals ſhall be proportionably abated.

Sect. 8.

Sect. 8. For enabling the Corporation to lend Money on Parliamentary Securities, they ſhall have Power to borrow Money upon Bonds under their common Seal, at ſuch Intereſt, for any Time not leſs than ſix Months, as they ſhall think fit, ſo as the Principal ſhall not exceed the principal Monies then owing to them on ſuch parliamentary Securities, and ſuch Bonds ſhall not be chargeable with Stamp-Duties.

Sect. 9. The Shares in the capital Stock ſhall be transferable and deviſable; and their Bonds ſhall be aſſignable and recoverable, as his Majeſty by the Charter ſhall preſcribe, and the capital Stock ſhall be adjudged a perſonal, and not a real, Eſtate, and ſhall go to the Executors, and not to the Heir.

Sect. 10. The Stock ſhall be exempted from Taxes, and no Governor, Director, or other Officer of the Corporations, ſhall for that Cauſe be diſabled from being a Member of Parliament, nor in reſpect of ſuch a Share be liable to be a Bankrupt; and no Stock in the Corporations ſhall be ſubject to foreign Attachment by the Cuſtom of London, or otherwiſe.

Sect. 11. His Majeſty, by the ſaid Charters, may grant to each of the Corporations Power to make By-Laws, and ſuch farther Powers relating to Aſſurance of Ships, &c. or lending Money upon Bottomry as to him ſhall ſeem meet.

Sect. 12. All other Corporations, and all Partnerſhips for aſſuring Ships or Merchandizes at Sea, or for lending Money upon Bottomry, ſhall be reſtrained from underwriting any Policies, or making any Contracts for Aſſurance of Ships or Merchandizes at Sea, or going to Sea, and from lending Money by way of Bottomry; and if any Corporation, or Perſons acting in ſuch Partnerſhip (other than one of the two Corporations to be eſtabliſhed) ſhall underwrite any ſuch Policy, or make ſuch Contract for Aſſurance of Ships, &c. or agree to take any Premium for ſuch Policies, every ſuch Policy ſhall be void, and every Sum ſo underwritten ſhall be forfeited, and may be recovered; recovered; one Moiety to the Uſe of the Crown, the other to the Perſon who ſhall ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record at Weſtminſter. And if any Corporation or Perſons acting in ſuch Partnerſhip, agree to lend Money by way of Bottomry contrary to this Act, the Security ſhall be void, and ſuch Agreement ſhall be adjudged an uſurious Contract: Nevertheleſs, any particular Perſon ſhall be at Liberty to underwrite Policies, or may lend Money by way of Bottomry, ſo as the ſame be not on the Account or Riſque of a Corporation, or of Perſons acting in Partnerſhip.

Sect. 13. If any Perſon ſhall forge the common Seal of either of the Corporations, or counterfeit or alter any Policy or Obligation under the common Seal, or ſhall offer to diſpoſe of, or pay away, any ſuch counterfeited or altered Policy, &c. knowing the ſame to be ſuch, or ſhall demand the Money therein contained of either of the Corporations, knowing ſuch Policy, &c. to be counterfeited, &c. with Intent to defraud the Corporation, or any other Perſon, ſuch Offender being convicted, ſhall be guilty of Felony without Benefit of Clergy.

Sect. 14. No Perſon ſhall be capable of being elected Governor, Sub-Governor, deputy Governor, or Director of either of the ſaid Corporations during the Time he ſhall be Governor, &c. of the other Corporation; and if any Governor, &c. or Member of either of the ſaid Corporations, having any Share in the capital Stock of that Corporation, ſhall in his own Name, or in the Name of any other, purchaſe any Share in the Stock of the other Corporation, the Share ſo purchaſed ſhall be forfeited; one Moiety to the Uſe of his Majeſty, the other to the Proſecutor, to be recovered as before mentioned.

Sect. 15. Upon three Years Notice to be printed in the Gazette, and affixed upon the Royal Exchange, by Authority of Parliament, at any Time within 31 Years, to be reckoned from the Dates of the two Charters, and upon Payment by Parliament to the Corporations of the Sums of 300,000 l. which the Corpo-

Corporations were to pay to his Majeſty without Intereſt, the Corporations ſhall ceaſe; and any Vote of the Houſe of Commons, ſignified by the Speaker in Writing, to be inſerted in the Gazette, and affixed on the Royal Exchange, ſhall be deemed ſufficient Notice.

Sect. 16. If, after the Expiration of 31 Years, his Majeſty ſhall judge the farther Continuance of the ſaid Corporations to be hurtful to the Publick, it ſhall be lawful, by Letters Patents under the Great Seal, to make void the ſame Corporations; and the ſame ſhall become void accordingly, without any Inquiſition, ſcire facias, &c.

Sect. 17. In Caſe the Corporations ſhall be redeemed within 31 Years, or revoked by Letters Patents after 31 Years, the ſame Corporations, or any Corporation with like Powers, &c. ſhall not be grantable again.

Sect. 26. It ſhall be lawful for the South-Sea Company, and for the Eaſt-India Company, to lend on the Bottom of any Ship, and on the Goods on Board any Ship in the Service of the ſaid Companies reſpectively, to any Captains, or other Perſons employed in the Service of the Companies, any Money by way of Bottomry, this Act notwithſtanding.

Sect. 29. If any Governor, or Member of either of the Corporations, ſhall, on Account of the ſaid Corporations, lend to his Majeſty Money by way of Loan, or Anticipation of any Part of the Revenues, other than ſuch Funds on which a Credit of Loan ſhall be granted by Parliament, the ſaid Governor, &c. or other Members conſenting to ſuch Loan, being convicted thereof, ſhall forfeit treble the Value of the Sums ſo lent; one fifth Part to the Informer, to be recovered in any Court of Record in Weſtminſter, by Action of Debt, &c. and the Reſidue to be diſpoſed of to publick Uſes, as ſhall be directed by Parliament.

2 Stat. 7 Geo. 1 Cap. 27. Sect. 26. The Corporation called the London Aſſurance, having paid into the Exchequer 111,250*l.* in Part of 300,000*l.* and having covenanted to pay 38,750*l.* the farther Part thereof in three Months, and the Corporation, called the Royal Exchange Aſſurance, having done the like, the Reſidue of the ſaid Sums, amounting together to 300,000*l.* ſhall be releaſed.

3. By Stat. 8 Geo. 1. Cap. 15. Sect. 25. Where the Royal Exchange Aſſurance and the London Aſſurance are ſubjected to pay double Damages beſides Coſts, the Plaintiff ſhall recover againſt them only ſingle Damages and Coſts.

4. By Stat. 11. Geo. 1. Cap. 30. Sect. 43. on all Actions of Debt againſt either of the Corporations, called the Royal Exchange Aſſurance and the London Aſſurance, upon any Policies under the common Seal, for the aſſuring of any Ships or Merchandizes at Sea, or going to Sea, it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Corporations to plead generally, that they owe nothing to the Plaintiff; and in all Actions of Covenant againſt either of the ſaid Corporations upon any Policy under the common Seal, for the aſſuring any Ship or Merchandizes at Sea, or going to Sea, it ſhall be lawful for each of the Corporations to plead generally, that they have not broke the Covenant in ſuch Policy contained; and, if thereupon Iſſue be joined, it ſhall be lawful for the Jury to give ſuch Part only of the Sum demanded, if it be an Action of Debt, or ſo much in Damage, if it be an Action of Covenant, as it ſhall appear upon the Evidence, that the Plaintiff ought in Juſtice to have.

Sect. 44. When any Veſſel or Merchandizes ſhall be inſured, a Policy duly ſtamped ſhall be iſſued or made out, within three Days at fartheſt; and the Inſurer neglecting to make out ſuch Policy, ſhall forfeit 100*l.* to be recovered and divided as other Penalties may be, by the Laws relating to the Stamp-Duties; and all Promiſſory Notes for Aſſurances of Ships or Merchandizes at Sea, or going to Sea, are declared void.

SECT. IV.

Stat. 19 Geo. 2. Concerning Wager-Policies.

1. AN Act to regulate the Inſurance on Ships belonging to Great Britain, and on Merchandizes or Effects laden thereon.

The Preamble to which obſerves, that the making Aſſurances Intereſt or no Intereſt, or without further Proof of Intereſt than the Policy, hath been productive of many pernicious Practices, whereby great Numbers of Ships, with their Cargoes, have either been fraudulently loſt and deſtroyed, or taken by the Enemy in Time of War; and ſuch Aſſurances have encouraged the Exportation of Wool, and the carrying on many other prohibited and clandeſtine Trades, which, by Means of ſuch Aſſurances, have been concealed, and the Parties concerned ſecured from Loſs, as well to the Diminution of the publick Revenue as to the great Detriment of fair Traders; and, by introducing a miſchievous Kind of Gaming or Wagering under the Pretence of aſſuring the Riſque on Shipping and fair Trade, the Inſtitution and laudable Deſign of making Aſſurances hath been perverted; and that which was intended for the Encouragement of Trade and Navigation has, in many Inſtances, become hurtful of, and deſtructive to, the ſame: For Remedy whereof it is enacted, That, from and after the firſt Day of Auguſt 1746, no Aſſurance or Aſſurances ſhall be made, by any Perſon or Perſons, Bodies Corporate or Politick, on any Ship or Ships belonging to his Majeſty or any of his Subjects, or on any Goods, Merchandizes or Effects, laden or to be laden, on Board of any ſuch Ship or Ships, Intereſt or no Intereſt, or without further Proof of Intereſt than the Policy, or by Way of Gaming or Wagering, or without Benefit of Salvage to the Aſſurer, and that every ſuch Aſſurance ſhall be null and void to all Intents and Purpoſes.

Aſſurances on private Ships of War, fitted out by any of his Majeſty's Subjects, ſolely to cruize againſt his Majeſty's Enemies, may be made by, or for the Owners thereof, Intereſt or no Intereſt, free of Average, and without Benefit of Salvage to the Aſſurer. Merchandizes or Effects from any Ports or Places in Europe or America, in the Poſſeſſion of the Crown of Spain or Portugal, may be aſſured in ſuch Way and Manner, as if this Act had not been made.

It ſhall not be lawful to make Re-aſſurance, unleſs the Aſſurer ſhall be inſolvent, become a Bankrupt or die; in either of which Caſes ſuch Aſſurer, his Executors, Adminiſtrators or Aſſigns may make Reaſſurance to the Amount of the Sum before aſſured, provided it ſhall be expreſſed in the Policy to be a Reaſſurance.

After the ſaid firſt Day of Auguſt, all and every Sum and Sums of Money to be lent on Bottomry, or at Reſpondentia, upon any Ship or Ships belonging to any of his Majeſty's Subjects, bound to or from the Eaſt Indies, ſhall be lent only on the Ship, or on the Merchandize or Effects laden, or to be laden, on board of ſuch Ship, and ſhall be ſo expreſſed in the Condition of the Bond; and the Benefit of Salvage ſhall be allowed to the Lender, his Agents or Aſſigns, who alone ſhall have a Right to make Aſſurance on the Money ſo lent; and no Borrower of Money on Bottomry, or at Reſpondentia, as aforeſaid, ſhall recover more on any Aſſurance than the Value of his Intereſt on his Ship, or in the Merchandizes or Effects laden on board of ſuch Ship, excluſive of the Money ſo borrowed; and in caſe it ſhall appear that the Value of his Share in the Ship, or in the Merchandizes and Effects laden on Board, doth not amount to the full Sum or Sums he hath borrowed, as aforeſaid, ſuch Borrower ſhall be reſponſible to the Lender for ſo much of the Money borrowed, as he hath not laid out on the Ship or Merchandizes laden thereon, with with lawful Intereſt for the ſame, together with Aſſurance, and all other Charges thereon, to the Proportion the Money laid out ſhall bear to the whole Money lent, notwithſtanding the Ship and Merchandize be totally loſt.

In all Actions or Suits brought or commenced after the ſaid firſt of Auguſt by the Aſſured, upon any Policy of Aſſurance, the Plaintiff in ſuch Action or Suit, or his Attorney, &c. ſhall, within fifteen Days after he or they ſhall be required ſo to do in Writing by the Defendant or his Attorney, &c. declare in Writing the Sum he hath aſſured in the whole, and what Sums he hath borrowed at Reſpondentia, or Bottomry, for the Voyage or any Part of the Voyage in Queſtion, in ſuch Suit or Action.

After the ſaid firſt of Auguſt any Perſon, &c. ſued in any Action of Debt or Covenant, &c. on any Policy of Aſſurance, may bring into Court any Sums of Money; and if the Plaintiff ſhall refuſe ſuch Sum of Money, with Coſts to be taxed, in full Diſcharge of ſuch Action, and ſhall afterwards proceed to Trial, and the Jury ſhall not aſſeſs Damage to ſuch Plaintiff, exceeding the Sum ſo brought into Court, ſuch Plaintiff ſhall pay to ſuch Defendant Coſts to be taxed.

This Act ſhall not extend to, or be in Force againſt any Perſons reſiding in any Parts of Europe out of his Majeſty's Dominions, for whoſe Account Aſſurance ſhall be made before the 29th of September 1746; nor againſt Perſons reſiding in any Parts of Turkey, Aſia, Africa, or America, from whom Aſſurances ſhall be made before the 29th of March 1747.

SECT. V.

What ſhall be deemed Baratry and Deviation; and of charging or diſcharging the Inſurer thereon.

1. BAratry is when the Maſter of a Ship, or the Mariners, cheat the Owners or Inſurers, whether by running away with the Ship, ſinking her, deſerting her, or embezzling the Cargo *. Dict. Tr. and Com. 214.

2. Baratry of the Mariners is a Diſeaſe ſo epidemical on Ship-board, that it is very rare for a Maſter, be his Induſtry never ſo great, to prevent it; a Span of Villainy on Ship-board ſoon ſpreads out to a Cloud, for no other Cauſe but that of the circular Encouragement that one knaviſh Mariner gives another.

However, the Law does in ſuch Caſes impute Offences and Faults committed by them to the Negligences in the Maſter; and were it otherwiſe, the Maſter would be in a very dangerous Condition.

The Reaſons why they ought to be reſponſible are, for that the Mariners are of his own chuſing, and under his Correction and Government, and know no other Superior on Ship-board but himſelf; and if they are faulty, he may correct and puniſh them, and juſtify the ſame by Law: And likewiſe if the Fact is apparently proved againſt them, may reimburſe himſelf out of their Wages. Molloy, B. 1. C. 3. §. 13. cites Roll. Ab. 533. Paſch. 11 Jac. in B. R. Horn v. Smith.

* BARATTERIE DE PATRON, un term de commerce de mer. Veut dire, les larcins, les deguiſemens, et alterations des marchandiſes, que peuvent cauſer le maître, et l'equipage d'un vaiſſeau; et generalement toutes les ſupercheries et malverſations, qu'ils mettent aſſez ſouvent en uſage, pour tromper le marchand chargeur, et autres qui ont interêt au Vaiſſeau. Savary.

3. And

3. And therefore, in all Caſes whereſoever the Merchant loads aboard any Goods or Merchandize, if they be loſt, embezzled, or any other ways damnified, he muſt be reſponſible for them; for the very lading them aboard makes him liable, and that as well by the Common Law as the Law Marine. Molloy, B. 1. C. 3. §. 14. cites 1 Ven. 190, 238. 1 Mod. 85. 2 Lev. 69.

4. Nay, if his Mariners go with the Ship boat to the Quay or Wharf to fetch Goods on Ship-board, if once they have taken Charge of them, the Maſter becomes immediately reſponſible, if they ſteal, loſe, damnify, or embezzle them. Molloy, B. 1. C. 3. §. 15.

5. The moſt ancient Record that is found extant concerning this Matter, is that in Edward the Third's Time, where one brought an Action of Treſpaſs againſt the Maſter for an Embezzlement by his Mariners of twenty two Pieces of Gold, a Bow, a Sheaf of Arrows, a Sword, and other Things; and adjudged he ſhould anſwer. And as this Record may be of ſome Importance as well as Curioſity, here follows a Tranſcript thereof, as the ſame was certified into Chancery, in order to have it ſent into the King's Bench, to enable the Plaintiff to bring an Action upon the ſame Judgment in any Place in England where he could meet with the Defendant.

6. Where a Ship was inſured againſt the Baratry of the Maſter, &c. in an Action brought thereupon, the Jury found that the Ship was loſt by the Fraud and Negligence of the Maſter: the Court held, that if the Maſter run away with the Ship, or embezzle the Goods, the Merchant may have an Action againſt him; for it is reaſonable that Merchants who hazard their Stocks in foreign Traffic, ſhould ſecure themſelves in what Manner they think proper, againſt Baratry of the Maſter and all other Frauds; and this muſt be intended Fraud in the Maſter, not a bare Neglect: And they all agreed that Fraud is Baratry, though not named in the Covenant; but Negligence might not. 1 Mod. C. 230, 231.

7. Cambridge brought a Writ of Error upon a Judgment given againſt him in the Common Pleas, in an Action brought by the Plaintiff upon a Policy of Inſurance of the Ship Riga Merchant, at and from Port Mahon to London. And Serjeant Braithwaite for the Plaintiff in Error inſiſted, that the Judgment was erroneous, becauſe the Breach was ill aſſigned: Becauſe the Policy was, that the Defendant Cambridge ſhould inſure the ſaid Ship, among other Things, againſt the Baratry of the Maſter, and all other Dangers, Damages, and Misfortunes, which ſhould happen to the Prejudice and Damage of the ſaid Ship, and the Breach aſſigned was, that the Ship, in the ſaid Voyage, per fraudem & negligentiam magiſtri navis prædictæ depreſſa & ſubmerſa fuit, & totaliter perdita & amiſſa fuit, & nullius valoris devenit. This, he inſiſted, was not within the Meaning of the Word Baratry; but the Breach ſhould have been expreſs, that the Ship was loſt by the Baratry of the Maſter. Beſides, the Owner of the Goods has a Remedy againſt the Owners of the Ship, for any Prejudice he receives by the Fraud or Neglect of the Maſter; and, therefore, there is the leſs Reaſon the Inſurer ſhould be liable. Beſides, if the Word Baratry ſhould import Fraud, yet it does not import Neglect; and the Fact here alledged is, that the Ship was loſt by the Fraud and Neglect of the Maſter. But the Court was unanimouſly of Opinion, that there was no Occaſion to aver the Fact in the very Words of the Policy; but if the Fact alledged came within the Meaning of the Words in the Policy, it is ſufficient. Now Baratry imports Fraud (Du Freſne Gloſſar. verbo Barataria, fraus, dolus) and he that commits a Fraud may properly be ſaid to be guilty of a Neglect, viz. of his Duty. Baratry of a Maſter is not to be confined to the Maſter's running away with the Ship; and the general Words of the Policy ought to be conſtrued to extend to Loſſes of the like Nature as thoſe mentioned before. Now Loſſes ariſing from the Fraud of the Maſter, are of the ſame Nature as if he had run away with the Ship, ſuppoſing Baratry was to be confined to that which it is not, becauſe it imports any Fraud. And the Judgment was affirmed, April 27, 1724. L. Raym. 1349. Knight againſt Cambridge. S. C. Stran. 581.

* The Judgment in this Caſe is according to Law, and ought not to have been a Capiatur; for it is not ſuch a Treſpaſs as the King is intitled to a Fine. Vide Cro. Jac. 224. Beedle v. Morris. Coke's Entries, Fo. 347.

8. The Ship the Gothic Lyon being advertiſed to be going to Marſeilles, Goods were ſhipped on board her on Behalf of the Plaintiff, and a Bill of Lading ſigned by the Maſter, whereby he undertakes to go à droite route à Marſeilles, and the Defendant underwrote a Policy from Falmouth (where the Goods were taken in) to Marſeilles. Before the Ship departed from the Port of London, another Advertiſement was publiſhed for Goods to Genoa, Leghorn, and Naples; and the Plaintiff's Agent was told, it was intended to go to thoſe Ports firſt, and then come back to Marſeilles: But he inſiſted that his Bargain was to go firſt, or directly to Marſeilles, and he would not conſent to let her paſs by Marſeilles, or alter his Inſurance.

The

The Ship however did paſs by Marſeilles, and after delivering her Cargo at the other Ports, ſet out on her Return for Marſeilles with the Plaintiff's Goods; but in her Voyage thither, was blown up in an Engagement with a Spaniſh Ship. And in an Action upon the Policy, the Breach was aſſigned of a Loſs by the Baratry of the Maſter. And the Plaintiff inſiſted, that any Fraud or Malverſation of the Maſter was within the Meaning of the Word Baratry. Du Freſne terms it dolus qui fit in contractibus; and ſo do all the Dictionaries, as Florio's Italian Dictionary verbo Baratria, Minſheu, Furetier, &c. and that in the Caſes of Knight and Cambridge (the preceding Caſe) and Knight and Dodd, where the Loſs was laid to be per fraudem of the Maſter, the Court held it a good Aſſignment of a Breach, there being the Word Baratry in the Policy.

The Defendant's Counſel inſiſted, this was no more than a Deviation, in which Caſe the Inſurer is diſcharged, and the Plaintiff's Remedy is againſt the Owners or Maſter. That this cannot be called a Crime in the Maſter, when he is acting all the while for the Benefit of his owners.

The Chief Juſtice in his Direction to the Jury told them, that this being againſt the expreſs Agreement to go firſt to Marſeilles, ſeemed to be more than a common Deviation, being a formed Deſign to deceive the Contractor; and compared it to the Caſe of ſailing out of Port without paying Duties, whereby the Ship was ſubjected to Forfeiture, and which has been held to be Baratry.

The Jury ſtaid ſome Time, and, upon their Return, asked the Chief Juſtice, Whether, if the Maſter was to have no Benefit to himſelf by paſſing by Marſeilles, and went only for the Benefit of his Owners, that would be a Baratry? And the Chief Juſtice anſwering, No, they found for the Defendant.

And now a new Trial being moved for, the Caſe was argued; and all the Court was of Opinion that the Verdict was right. For the Maſter has acted conſiſtent conſiſtent with his Duty to his Owners, and the Plaintiff's Agent knew of the intended Alteration before the Goods were put on Board, and might have refuſed to ſhip them, or have altered the Inſurance. To make it Baratry, there muſt be ſomething of a criminal Nature, as well as a Breach of Contract; and that here the Breach being aſſigned only on the Baratry, was not ſupported by the Evidence. So the Defendant had Judgment. Stran. 1173. 16 Geo. 2. Stamma v. Brown.

9. The Inſurance was from Carolina to Lisbon, and at and from thence to Briſtol: It appeared the Captain had taken in Salt, which he was to deliver at Falmouth before he went to Briſtol; but the Ship was taken in the direct Road to both, and before ſhe came to the Point where ſhe would turn off to Falmouth. And it was held the Inſurer was liable; for it is but an Intention to deviate, and that was held ſufficient to diſcharge the Under-writer. In the Caſe of Carter v. the Royal Exchange Aſſurance Company, where Inſurance was from Honduras to London, and a Conſignment to Amſterdam; a Loſs happened before ſhe came to the dividing Point between the two Voyages, which the Inſurers were held to pay for. Stran. 1249. 19 Geo. 2. Foſter v. Wilmor.

10. The Ship Mediterranean went out in the Merchants Service with a Letter of Marque, and being bound from Briſtol to Newfoundland was inſured by the Defendant. In her Voyage ſhe took a Prize and returned with it to Briſtol, and received back a proportional Part of the Premium. Then another Policy was made, and the Ship ſet out with expreſs Orders from the Owners, that if they took another Prize, they ſhould put ſome Hands on board ſuch Prize and ſend her to Briſtol; but the Ship in Queſtion ſhould proceed with the Merchants Goods. Another Prize was taken in the due Courſe of the Voyage, and the Captain gave Orders to ſome of the Crew to carry the Prize to Briſtol, and deſigned to go on to Newfoundland; but the Crew oppoſed him, and inſiſted he he ſhould go back, though he acquainted them with the Orders; upon which he was forced to ſubmit, and in his Return his own Ship was taken, but the Prize got in ſafe.

And now in an Action againſt the Inſurers, it was inſiſted that this was ſuch a Deviation as diſcharged them. But the Court and Jury held, that this was excuſed by the Force upon the Maſter, which he could not reſiſt; and therefore fell within the Excuſe of Neceſſity, which had always been allowed. The Plaintiff's Counſel would have made Baratry of it, but the Chief Juſtice thought it did not amount to that, as the Ship was not run away with in order to defraud the Owners. So the Plaintiff had a Verdict for the Sum inſured. Stran. 1264. 20 Geo. 2. Elton v. Brogden.

11. Caſe upon a Policy which was to inſure the William Galley in a Voyage from Bremen to the Port of London, warranted to depart with Convoy: The Caſe was, the Galley ſet Sail from Bremen under Convoy of a Dutch Man of War to the Elbe, where they were joined with two other Dutch Men of War and ſeveral Dutch and Engliſh Merchant-Ships; whence they ſailed to the Texel, where they found a Squadron of Engliſh Men of War and an Admiral: After a Stay of nine Weeks they ſet out from the Texel, and the Galley was ſeparated in a Storm and taken by a French Privateer, taken again by a Dutch Privateer, and paid 80 l. Salvage. And it was ruled by Holt, Chief Juſtice, that the Voyage ought to be according to Uſage, and that their going to the Elbe, though in Fact out of the Way, was no Deviation; for till the Year 1703, there was no Convoy for Ships directly from Bremen to London: And the Plaintiff had a Verdict. 2 Salk. 445. Feb. 14, 1704. Bond v. Gonſales.

SECT. VI.

Of the Conſtruction of Policies, having the Words warranted to depart with Convoy.

1. THE Plaintiff inſured on Goods in the John and Jane from Gottenburgh to London with a Warranty to depart with Convoy from Fleckery. In July 1744, the Ship ſailed from Gottenburgh to Fleckery, and there ſhe waited for Convoy two Months. On 21ſt September at Nine in the Morning three Men of War, who had an hundred Merchant-Ships in Convoy, ſtood off Fleckery and made a Signal for the Ships there to come out, and likewiſe ſent in a Yaul to order them out. There were fourteen Ships waiting, and the John and Jane got out by twelve o'Clock, and one of the firſt; the Convoy having ſailed gently on, and being two Leagues a-head. It was a hard Gale, and by Six in the Afternoon came up with the Fleet, but could not get to either of the Men of War for ſailing Orders, on account of the Gale of Wind. It was ſtormy all Night, and at Day-break the Ship in Queſtion was in the midſt of the Fleet, but the Weather was ſo bad that no Boat could be ſent for ſailing Orders. A French Privateer had ſailed amongſt them all Night, and the 22d, it being foggy, attacked the John and Jane about Two, who kept a running Fight till dark, which was renewed the next Morning, when ſhe was taken.

For the Defendant it was inſiſted, that this Ship was never under Convoy, nor is ever conſidered ſo till they have received ſailing Orders; and if the Weather would not permit the Captain to get them, he ſhould have gone back. But the Chief Juſtice and Jury were were both of Opinion, that as the Captain had done every thing in his Power, it was a departing with Convoy; and theſe Agreements are never confined to preciſe Words; as in the Caſe of departing with Convoy from London, when the Place of Rendezvous is Spithead; a Loſs in going thither is within the Policy. So that the Plaintiff recovered. Stran. 1250. 19 Geo. 2. Victorin v. Cleeve.

2. On an Inſurance from London to Gibraltar, warranted to depart with Convoy, it appeared there was a Convoy appointed for that Trade at Spithead, and the Ship Ranger having tried for Convoy in the Downs, proceeded for Spithead, and was taken in her Way thither.

The Inſurers inſiſted that this being the Time of a French War, the Ship ſhould not have ventured through the Channel, but have waited in the Downs for an occaſional Convoy. And many Merchants and Office-keepers were examined to that Purpoſe. But the Chief Juſtice held that the Ship was to be conſidered as under the Defendant's Inſurance to a Place of general Rendezvous, according to the Interpretation of the Words warranted to depart with Convoy. * Salk. 443, 445. And if the Parties meant to vary the Inſurance from what is commonly underſtood, they ſhould have particularized her Departure with Convoy from the Downs.

The Juries were compoſed of Merchants, and in both Caſes found for the Plaintiffs upon the Strength of this Direction. Stran. 1265. 20 Geo. 2. Gordon v. Morley, and Cambel v. Bordieu.

3. Action on a Policy of Inſurance; the Defendant pleaded non aſſumpſit, and the Jury found the Policy, by which the Jurors undertook againſt the Perils of the Sea, Pirates, Enemies, &c. from London to Venice, warranted to depart with Convoy. Et per Cur. the Words warranted to depart with Convoy, mean only that he will leave the Port, and ſail with the Convoy without any wilful Default in the Maſter; therefore, if by Default of the Maſter, the Ship is ſeparated and taken, the Inſurers are not liable; but if there be no Default, the Maſter having done all that could be done, and the Ship is taken, they are liable: So if the Ship be loſt by Streſs of Weather; for they inſure againſt theſe by their own Agreement. 2 Salk. 443. Hill. 2 W. and M. in *B. 4. Action on a Policy of Inſurance by the Defendant at London, inſuring a Ship from thence to the Eaſt-Indies, warranted to depart with Convoy; and ſhews, that the Ship went from London to the Downes, and from thence with Convoy and was loſt. After a frivolous Plea and Demurrer, the Caſe ſtood upon the Declaration; to which it was objected, that there was a Departure without Convoy. Et per Cur. the Clauſe warranted to depart with Convoy, muſt be conſtrued according to the Uſage among Merchants, i. e. from ſuch Place, where Convoys are to be had, as the Downs, &c. Holt, Chief Juſtice, contra, We take Notice of the Laws of Merchants that are general, not of thoſe that are particular Uſages. It is no Part of the Law of Merchants to take Convoy in the Downes. 2 Salk. 443. Mich. 4 W. and M. in B. R. Lethulier's Caſe.

5. Warranted to depart with Convoy has been reſolved to import, by the Uſage of Merchants, a Continuance with that Convoy as long as may be. Luc. Rep. 287.

6. The Plaintiff being ſued at Law upon a Policy of Inſurance of a Ship, and againſt the Baratry of the Maſter, which was aſſigned in the Declaration, brought his Bill in Chancery to be relieved; and for an Injunction; charging that one Matthews the Maſter, and alſo Owner of the Ship, had, before the Voyage, entered into a Bottomry Bond to the Defendant for 200 l. and that after, by Bill of Sale, he aſſigned aſſigned over his Intereſt in the Ship to the Defendant, as a Security for this 200 l. and inſiſted that Matthews was, nevertheleſs, in Equity to be conſidered as Owner of the Ship, though in Law the Ownerſhip and Property would be looked upon to be in the Defendant, and inſiſted that the Owner of a Ship could not, either in Law or Equity, be guilty of a Baratry concerning the Ship, and therefore prayed an Injunction, and that the Policy might be delivered up.

The Voyage inſured was from London to Marſeilles; and from thence to ſome Port in Holland. The Caſe was, that the Maſter ſailed with the Ship to Marſeilles, and then, inſtead of purſuing the Voyage, ſailed to the Weſt-Indies, and there ſold the Ship and died inſolvent. Theſe Matters being confeſſed by the Anſwer, an Injunction was moved for on the Principal, that a Mortgagor is to be conſidered in Equity as Owner of the Thing mortgaged, and that Matthews, the Maſter, being Owner, could not be guilty of Baratry. To ſhew which, a Caſe was cited of Hannua and Brown, where it was determined the preceding Term in the King's Bench. Lord Hardwicke, Chancellor. Baratry is an Act of Wrong done by the Maſter againſt the Ship and Goods; and this being in the Caſe of a Ship, the Queſtion will be, who is to be conſidered as the Owner? There are ſeveral Caſes that might be put where Baratry may be aſſigned as the Breach of an Aſſurance, and Baratry or not, is a Queſtion properly determinable at Law; but here it is not ſo, for the Courts of Law will not conſider a Mortgagor as having any Right or Intereſt in the Thing mortgaged; and there are many Caſes where a Man may come into a Court of Equity for Relief, in reſpect of a Part only of his Caſe. It might indeed be conſidered at Law, whether what the Maſter hath done, ſuppoſing Owner or not, was not a Breach of the Contract, the Maſter of the Ship, and ſo a Baratry, and this may be conſidered likewiſe in this Court. But at Law a Defendant cannot read Part of the Plaintiff's Anſwer to a Bill brought againſt him him here; the whole Anſwer muſt be read, which hath been often a Reaſon for this Court interpoſing by Injunction upon a Plaint at Law; and conſidering the mixed Nature of this Caſe, I think an Injunction ought to be granted. Ordered accordingly. Dict. Tr. and Com. 147. 16 Geo. 2. Lewen v. Swaſſo.

7. The Plaintiffs being Merchants reſiding at Gibraltar, and one of them coming to London to purchaſe Goods fit for that Place, bought to near the Value of 3000 l. and in order to forward them to the aforeſaid Place, he took Freight on the Ship Ranger, Capt. Taylor, which he ſaw put up, as uſual, at the Royal Exchange and Portugal Coffee-houſe, with a Declaration inſerted in the ſaid Advertiſement, that the Ship was to ſail with the firſt Convoy; and in Conſequence thereof he ſhipped his Merchandize and made Inſurance thereon to the Amount of 2830 l. inſerting in the Policy the Words warranted to depart with Convoy, in Conformity with the ſaid Declaration.

The Ship when loaded ſailed from Graveſend the 4th of May 1746, on her Voyage, and arrived in the Downs the 7th, where ſhe continued till the 21ſt, in Company with the Otter Sloop of War, ſome Engliſh Merchant Ships, and three Dutch Eaſt India Ships.

Capt. Taylor, whilſt he lay in the Downs, having received Intelligence that the Convoy at Spithead was ready to ſail, went on board the Otter Sloop, in order to ſolicit the Commander's taking him under his Protection to Spithead, but this the ſaid Gentleman informed him was not in his Power to comply with, as he was ordered on a Cruize over to the Coaſt of France, whereupon Capt. Taylor went on board the Commodore of the Dutch Eaſt India Ships, who promiſed to take the Ranger under Convoy to Spithead.

On the 12th of May, the Otter Sloop, the Dutch, and the Ranger weighed Anchor, as did alſo ſome Engliſh Ships for the Benefit of that Convoy, and a few Hours after they were under Sail; the Otter Sloop parted from them on her Cruize, and the Ranger kept Company with the three Dutch Ships, till between four four and five o'Clock the next Afternoon (being the 13th) when (in her direct Courſe to Spithead) ſhe was attacked by a French Privateer, called the Reſource, within three Miles of the Dutch Eaſt-India Men, and eighteen of Spithead, where ſhe was to join the Convoy for Gibraltar, and, after ſome Reſiſtance, ſhe was taken and carried into Havre de Grace, and there regularly condemned.

The Plaintiff, on the aforeſaid Capture, applied to the reſpective Underwriters (and among them to the Defendant) requiring Satisfaction for his Loſs, but they abſolutely refuſed paying any Thing, inſiſting that the Ship had not ſailed according to the Terms of the Policy, viz. at and from London to Gibraltar, warranted to depart with Convoy, but as ſhe departed without Convoy (which ſhe ought not to have done) and was taken in Conſequence thereof, the Inſurers are not bound to ſatisfy a Loſs, which they never obliged themſelves to be anſwerable for; that the Ship ought to have ſtaid till a Convoy offered, and not gone to ſeek at ſuch a Diſtance, as evidently expoſed her to be taken in getting thither.

On the contrary, the Plaintiff pleaded, that they had complied with the Tenor of the Policy, that the Defendant miſconceived the natural Conſtruction of the Words warranted to depart with Convoy, as they did not imply that the Ship ought to have departed with Convoy from the Port of London; as the Rendezvous for Ships, bound to Gibraltar and the Streights, is generally at Spithead, where they join the Convoy; and although poſſibly there may be an Inſtance or two of a Convoy ſailing from the Nore and the Downs to Gibraltar, yet this is an uncommon, accidental Thing, and was not to have been expected on this Occaſion; on the Contrary, it was then known, that the Convoy for thoſe Parts was to be at Spithead, and many Ships went there from London to take the Benefit of it, ſo that the Warranty could only be underſtood from Spithead, as it was from the Convoy there, the Capt. was to make his ſailing Orders; beſides, as it was unſafe to lie in the Downs without a Man of War, the Plaintiff conceives the Ranger would have run a much greater Riſque, in continuing after the Otter's Departure, than ſhe did in ſailing with her and the Dutch Ships, though they were no regular Convoy; and the Plaintiff paid the ſame Premium for his Inſurance as was given on ſeveral Ships at the ſame Time, with a Warranty to depart from any Port of the Channel; and it was the Opinion of ſeveral Merchants that Ships ſailing with Convoy are to make the beſt of their Way to the Convoy, and not ſtay for any intermediate one. The Jury found a Verdict for the Plaintiff. Lex Mercat. Rediviv. 277. Gordon and Murray v. Morley. Sittings after Michaelmas Term at Guildhall, 1746.

SECT. VIII.

Of other Circumſtances to charge or diſcharge the Aſſurers, beſides a certain and known Loſs, or a ſafe Voyage.

1. J. S. having a doubtful Account of his Ship that was at Sea, viz. that a Ship, deſcribed like his, was taken, inſured her without any Information to the Inſurers of what he had heard, either as to the Hazard or Circumſtances, which might induce him to believe that his Ship was in great Danger, if not actually loſt. The Inſurers bring a Bill for an Injunction and to be relieved. And Lord Macclesfield decreed the Policy to be delivered up with Coſts, but the Premium to be paid back and allowed out of the Coſts. Trin. 1723. De Coſta and Scanderet. 2 Will. Rep. 170. And his Lordſhip ſaid, that the Inſured has not dealt fairly with the Inſurers; that he ought to have diſcloſed to them what Intelligence he had of the Ship's being in Danger, and which might induce at leaſt to fear that it was loſt, though he had no certain Account; for if this had been diſcovered, covered, it is impoſſible to think, that the Inſurers would have inſured the Ship at ſo ſmall a Premium as they have done, but either would not have inſured it at all, or would have inſiſted on a larger Premium; ſo that the Concealment of this Intelligence is a Fraud. 2 Eq. Abr. 635.

2. On the 25th Auguſt 1740, the Defendant underwrote a Policy from Carolina to Holland. It appeared the Agent for the Plaintiff had on the 23d Auguſt received a Letter from Cowes dated 21ſt Auguſt, wherein it is ſaid, "The 12th of this Month I was "in Company with the Ship Davy (the Ship in "queſtion) at Twelve in the Night loſt Sight of her "all at once; the Captain ſpoke to me the Day be-"fore that he was leakey, and the next Day we had "a hard Gale." The Ship, however, continued her Voyage till 19th Auguſt, when ſhe was taken by the Spaniards; and there was no Pretence of any Knowledge of the actual Loſs at the Time of the Inſurance, but it was made in conſequence of a Letter received that Day from the Plaintiff abroad, dated 27th June before.

Several Brokers were examined, who proved that the Agent ought to have diſcloſed the Letter; for either the Defendant would not have underwrote, or inſiſted on a higher Premium. And the Ch. J. was of that Opinion, and declared, that as theſe are Contracts upon Chance, each Party ought to know all the Circumſtances. And he thought it not material that the Loſs was not ſuch an one as the Letter imported; for thoſe Things are to be conſidered in the Situation of them at the Time of the Contract, and not to be judged of by ſubſequent Events; he therefore thought it a ſtrong Caſe for the Defendant, and the Jury found accordingly. Stran. 1183. 16 Geo. 2. Seaman v. Fonereau.

3. This was an Action upon the Caſe brought upon a Policy of Inſurance, in which the Plaintiff declared as follows: —— London, Gyles Rooke complains of John Thurmond being in the Cuſtody of the Marſhal of the Marſhalſea of our Lord the King, be fore the King himſelf, for that, whereas the ſaid Gyles Rooke, on the 5th Day of October, in the Year of our Lord 1741, at London aforeſaid, to wit, in the Pariſh of St. Mary le Bow, &c. according to the Cuſtom of Merchants from Time immemorial, uſed and approved of, cauſed to be made a certain Writing or Policy of Aſſurance; purporting thereby, and containing therein, that one Caleb Smith, as well in his own Name as for and in the Name and Names of all and every other Perſon and Perſons, to whom the ſame did, might, or ſhould appertain in Part, or in All, did make Aſſurance, and cauſed himſelf and them, and every of them, to be inſured, loſt or not loſt, at and from South Carolina to Cowes, upon the Body, Tackle, Apparel, Ordinance, Munition, Artillery, Boat, and other Furniture of and in the good Ship or Veſſel called the Polly, whereof was Maſter, under God, for that then preſent Voyage, Captain William Henry, or whoſoever elſe ſhould go for Maſter in the ſaid Ship, or by whatſoever other Name or Names the ſame Ship, or the Maſter thereof, was or ſhould be named or called, beginning the Adventure upon the ſaid Ship, &c. from and immediately following her firſt Arrival there, and ſo ſhould continue and endure until the ſaid Ship, with the ſaid Tackle, Apparel, &c. ſhould be arrived at Cowes, and there had moored at Anchor 24 Hours in good Safety; and it ſhould be lawful for the ſaid Ship in the Voyage to proceed and ſail to, and touch and ſtay at, any Port or Places whatſoever, without Prejudice to that Inſurance.—The ſaid Ship, &c. for ſo much as concerned the Aſſureds, was and ſhould be valued at Intereſt or no Intereſt, free from Average, and without Benefit of Salvage; without farther Account to be given by the Aſſureds for the ſame. Touching the Adventures and Perils, which the Aſſurers were contented to bear, and did take upon them in the Voyage, they were of the Seas, Men of War, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, Rovers, Thieves, Jettezons, Letters of Mart and Counter-

Countermart, Surprizals, Takings at Sea, Arreſts, Reſtraints, and Detainments of all Kings, Princes, and People, of what Nation, Condition, or Quality ſoever, Barratry of the Maſter and Mariners, and of all other Perils, Loſſes and Misfortunes, that had or ſhould come, to the Hurt, Detriment, or Damage of the ſaid Ship, &c. or any Part thereof; and in Caſe of Loſs or Misfortune, it ſhould be lawful to the Aſſureds, their Servants, Factors, and Aſſigns, to ſue, labour and travel for, in and about the Defence, Safeguard and Recovery of the ſaid Ship, &c. or any Part thereof, without Prejudice to that Inſurance, to the Charges whereof they the Aſſurers would contribute each other, according to the Rate and Quantity of his Sum therein aſſured.—And it was agreed by them the Aſſurers, that the ſaid Writing or Policy of Aſſurance ſhould be of as much Force and Effect as the ſureſt Writing or Policy of Aſſurance heretofore made in Lombard-Street, or on the Royal Exchange, or elſewhere in London.—And ſo they the Aſſurers were contented, and did thereby promiſe, and bind themſelves, each for his own Part, their Heirs, Executors, and Goods to the Aſſured, their Executors, Adminiſtrators, and Aſſigns, for the true Performance of the Premiſſes, confeſſing themſelves paid the Conſideration due unto them for that Aſſurance by the Aſſured, at and after the Rate of 5 l. 15 s. per cent. and in caſe of Loſs, which God forbid, the Aſſured to abate 2 l. per cent. And the ſaid Giles avers, that the ſaid Policy of Aſſurance was ſo made as aforeſaid, in the Name of the ſaid Caleb Smith, on the Account and Riſk of the ſaid Giles; and that the ſaid Giles, at the Time of making thereof, was ſolely intereſted therein. Of all which Premiſſes the ſaid John afterwards, to wit, on the Day and Year aforeſaid, at London, &c. had Notice, and thereupon, afterwards, to wit, on the Day and Year aforeſaid, at London aforeſaid, and in the Pariſh and Ward aforeſaid, in Conſideration that the ſaid Giles, at the ſpecial Inſtance and Requeſt of the ſaid John, had, then and there, paid to the ſaid

John the Sum of 5 l. 15 s. as a Premium and Reward for the Inſurance of 100 l. of and upon the Premiſſes in the ſaid Policy mentioned, and had undertaken and faithfully promiſed to perform and fulfil every thing in the ſaid Policy of Aſſurance contained, on the Part and Behalf of the Aſſured, to be performed and fulfilled, he the ſaid John undertook, and then and there faithfully promiſed the ſaid Giles, that he would become an Aſſurer to the ſaid Giles for the ſaid 100 l. of and upon the Premiſſes in the ſaid Policy mentioned; and that he would perform and fulfil every thing in the ſaid Policy contained on his Part and Behalf, as ſuch Aſſurer, as to the ſaid 100 l. to be performed and fulfilled, and then and there ſubſcribed the ſaid Policy, as ſuch Aſſurer for the ſaid 100 l. and the ſaid Giles in Fact ſaith, that before the making of the ſaid Policy, viz. on the firſt Day of May, in the Year of our Lord 1741, the ſaid Ship or Veſſel, with all her Apparel and other Furniture, firſt arrived at South Carolina aforeſaid, and afterwards, to wit, on the 12th Day of July, in the Year of our Lord 1741 aforeſaid, the ſaid Ship or Veſſel, with all her Apparel and other Furniture, departed and ſailed from South Carolina aforeſaid, towards Cowes aforeſaid, and proceeded on her ſaid Voyage to the Port of Cowes aforeſaid, and afterwards, to wit, on the 18th Day of July, in the Year laſt aforeſaid, the ſaid Ship or Veſſel, with all her Tackle, Boat, and other Furniture, ſo proceeding in her ſaid Voyage, towards the Port of Cowes aforeſaid, before her Arrival at the Port of Cowes aforeſaid, on the high Seas, was, with Force and Arms, in an hoſtile Manner, attacked, conquered, and taken as a Prize by certain Enemies of our Lord the King, and his Crown of England, to wit, by certain Spaniards, and Subjects of the King of Spain.—And the ſaid Ship or Veſſel, with all her Tackle, and other her Furniture, were thereby, then, and there, wholly loſt, and never did arrive at the Port of Cowes aforeſaid.—Of all which ſaid Premiſſes, the ſaid John afterwards, to wit, on the firſt firſt Day of December, in the Year of our Lord 1741 aforeſaid, at London aforeſaid, in the Pariſh and Ward aforeſaid, had Notice, and was, then and there, requeſted by the ſaid Giles to pay him 98 l. Parcel of the ſaid 100 l. 2 l. Reſidue of the ſaid 100 l. being to be abated to the ſaid John, on Account of the Loſs aforeſaid; which 98 l. the ſaid John ought to have paid to the ſaid Giles, according to the ſaid Promiſe and Undertaking.—— Yet the ſaid John, not regarding his ſaid Promiſe and Undertaking, but contriving, and fraudulently intending craftily and ſubtily to deceive and defraud the ſaid Giles in this Particular, hath not yet paid the ſaid Sum of Money, or any Part thereof, to the ſaid Giles (although ſo to do the ſaid John by the ſaid Giles was requeſted afterwards, on the Day and Year laſt aforeſaid, at London aforeſaid, in the Pariſh and Ward aforeſaid) but he to pay the ſame to him hath hitherto wholly refuſed, and ſtill refuſes.

There was another Count for 5 l. 15 s. for Money had and received by the Defendant, for the Uſe of the Plaintiff.—Damages laid 100 l.

The Defendant pleaded the general Iſſue, Non aſſumpſit, and Iſſue was thereon joined.

Upon this Caſe, it was clearly taken at the Trial before Lee Chief Juſtice, without any Objection or Queſtion made upon it, that the Plaintiff was well intitled to maintain this Action, upon the Policy of Inſurance made in the Name of Caleb Smith, who was the Policy Broker employed to procure the Inſurance, he having, by Indorſement upon the Policy, acknowledged and declared that the Policy was made in his Name upon the Account, and for the ſole Riſk and Benefit of the Plaintiff; and Smith was allowed, without any Objection, to prove the Underwriting by the Defendant, and his own Indorſement.

In this Caſe, the Defence, inſiſted on for the Defendant underwriting this Policy, was, that the Plaintiff had been informed by a Letter wrote from Carolina, by a Ship called the Collet, to one Mr. Crockatt, that the Pol- ly, the Ship inſured, had ſailed ten Days or a Fortnight from Carolina, before the Ship Collet, and that the Ship Collet had arrived in England about ſeven Days before the Inſurance made, and that the Plaintiff had not informed the Defendant of this, which was inſiſted on to be a Fraud in the Plaintiff ſufficient to diſcharge the Defendant of this Inſurance, it being, as was inſiſted, a ſettled and eſtabliſhed Rule, that, on making an Inſurance, all material Circumſtances, relating to the Adventure, ought to be diſcloſed to the Inſurer, for him to judge upon; and the Chief Juſtice allowed this Rule, and declared his Opinion, that the Concealment inſiſted on was a ſufficient Circumſtance to diſcharge the Defendant from the Policy; for he ſaid, that theſe Contracts are made upon a mutual Faith and Credit; and that to conceal ſuch Circumſtances, which may make any Difference in the Adventure, is fraudulent; for the Inſurer ought to have the Advantage of Judgment upon them; and that where there is ſuch Concealment, the Inſurance ought not to bind.—But the Defendant not being able to make out this Fact to the Satisfaction of the Jury, the Plaintiff had a Verdict.

N. B. In this Caſe the Inſurance was a Re-aſſurance; and it was ſaid by ſeveral Policy-brokers, that where Policies are made, Intereſt or no Intereſt, it is generally in ſuch Caſes of Re-inſurances. Dict. Tr. and Com. 148, 16th December 1743, at Guildhall. Rooke v. Thurmond.

4. If theſe Words, loſt or not loſt, are inſerted in the Policy of Aſſurance, in ſuch Caſe, tho' it happens that at the Time the Subſcription is made, the Ships is caſt away, yet the Inſurers muſt anſwer: But if the Party, who cauſed the Inſurance to be made, actually ſaw the Ship wrecked, or had certain Intelligence of it, ſuch Subſcription will not be obligatory, for the ſame ſhall be accounted a mere Fraud.

So likewiſe if the Aſſured, having a rotten Veſſel, ſhall inſure upon the ſame more than ſhe is worth, and afterwards give Order that, going out of the Port, Port, the Ship ſhould be ſunk or wrecked, this will be adjudged fraudulent, and not oblige the Inſurers to anſwer. Molloy, B. 2. C. 7. §. 5.

5. In the Year 1678, one Newnham Perkins and Stoakes were Owners of a Veſſel called the May-flower Ketch, the Veſſel coming laden with Wines on the Account of Fierbraſſe and Stone, to the Iſle of Wight; Perkins being then in the ſame Place, contrives with one Joy the Maſter to ſell the Freighters Goods privately, and, that being effected, to go out to Sea ſome ſmall Diſtance from the Iſle, and there privately ſink the Veſſel, and pretend ſhe ſtruck, and then foundered by the Extremity of Weather. The Plot being laid, Perkins haſtens up to London, and makes a Policy of Inſurance on the Veſſel; which being done, he remits his Orders to Joy to put the Contrivance in execution; who accordingly (the Goods or the beſt of them being diſpoſed of) ſtood out to Sea, and then with his own Hands, by the Force of an iron Crow, made a Hole in the Hold, and then in his Long-boat conveyed himſelf and Mariners aſhore. Joy ſends Advice of the Loſs; and Perkins (as if he had never known any thing of the Matter) demands the Moneys aſſured with great Confidence, and thereupon brings an Action for the ſame; but before the Cauſe came to a Trial, Fierbraſſe and Stone bring Trover againſt Perkins, and thereupon the whole Fraud was detected, and Judgment given for the Plaintiff; with this further Intimation, that if the Owners proceeded in their Action on the Inſurance, they muſt expect that their Practice and Fraud would totally poiſon it: So they went no farther. Molloy, B. 2. C. 7. §. 5.

6. Per Holt, Ch. Juſtice, if the Goods were aſſured as the Goods of an Hamburgher, who was an Ally, and the Goods were the Goods of a Frenchman who was an Enemy; this is a Fraud, and the Aſſurance is not good. Skin. 327. Mich. 4 W. and M. R. R. Anon.

the King of France, from the King of Poland, and the States of Holland; and the Goods were to be the Goods of ſuch a Poliſh Subject on board the Ship vocat. The City of Warſaw. An Action upon this Policy being brought, it appeared upon the Evidence, that the Paſſes bore Date in April or May, and that the Ship, to which they applied theſe Paſſes then, was called by another Name; and that ſhe was not named the City of Warſaw before the Auguſt following; and therefore theſe were not good and effectual Paſſes for this Ship according to the Guaranty of the Policy, which intended good Paſſes, and not eluſory vain Paſſes; and they being a Fraud upon the Subſcribers, the Policy ſhall not bind them. Skin. 404. Mich. 5 W. and M. B. R. Anon. Another Objection was, that the Paſſes were for Goods which belonged to the Subjects of the King of Poland, and ſo reſtrained only to them; but the Goods on board were not of the Subjects of Poland, but of Holland, and therefore not within the Intent of the Policy. Idem ibid.

10. The Ship Charming Peggy was inſured in 1739 from North Carolina to London, with a Warranty againſt Captures and Seizures. And in an Action the Loſs was laid to be by ſinking at Sea. All the Evidence given was, that ſhe ſailed out of Port on her intended Voyage, and has never ſince been heard of. And ſeveral Witneſſes proved, that in ſuch a Caſe, the Preſumption is, that ſhe foundered at Sea, all other Sorts of Loſſes being generally heard of. The Underwriter inſiſted, that as Captures and Seizures were excepted, it lay upon the Aſſured to prove the Loſs in the particular Manner declared on. But the Chief Juſtice ſaid it would be unreaſonable to expect certain Evidence of ſuch a Loſs, as where every Body on Board is preſumed to be drowned; and all that can be required is the beſt Proof the Nature of the Caſe admits of, which the Plaintiff has given; he therefore left it to the Jury, who found the Loſs according to the Plaintiff's Declaration. Strang. 1199. 17 Geo. 2. Green v. Brown.

11. If a Ship be inſured from the Port of London to Cadiz, and, before the Ship breaks Ground, takes fire and is burnt, the Aſſurers in ſuch Caſe ſhall not anſwer; for the Adventure begun not till the Ship was gone from the Port of London: But if the Words had been, at and from the Port of London, there they would upon ſuch a Misfortune have been made liable.

If ſuch an Aſſurance had been made from London to Cadiz, and the Ship had broke Ground, and afterwards been driven by Storm to the * Port of London, and there had taken fire, the Inſurers muſt have anſwered; for the very breaking of Ground from the Port of London was an Inception of the Voyage.

* The Port of London extends from the North Foreland in the Iſle of Thanet, over in a Line to the Naſe in Eſſex, and from thence to London-Bridge. Rot. Scaccar. 19. Car. 2.

On

On the other hand, if a Man at Cadiz inſures a Ship from thence to London, if a Loſs happens, the Aſſurer, if he comes into England, ſhall anſwer by the Common Law; for though the Place where the Subſcription was made, and the Premium given, was in a foreign Country, yet that is not material; for the Action that is brought is grounded on the Promiſe, which is tranſitory and not local; and ſo it was adjudged where the Defendant in Conſideration of 10 l. had inſured, that if the Plaintiff's Ship and Goods did not come ſafe to London, he would pay 100 l. Afterwards the Ship was robbed on the Sea; and in an Action brought for the 100 l. the Plaintiff had Judgment, notwithſtanding the Robbery or Loſs was on the main Sea, and the Subſcription out of the Realm. Molloy, B. 2. 12. A Merchant inſures his Goods from London to Sallee, and there to be landed. The Factor after Arrival, having Opportunity, ſells the Cargo aboard the ſame Ship without ever unlading her; and the Buyer agrees for the Freight of thoſe Goods for the Port of Venice. Before ſhe breaks Ground, the Ship takes fire. The Aſſured and Buyer are abſolutely without Remedy; for the Property of the Goods becoming * changed, and Freight being contracted de novo, the ſame was as much as if the Goods had been landed.

And ſo it is if the Factor, after her Arrival, had contracted for Freight to another Port, and the Ship had happened to take fire, the Aſſurers are hereby abſolutely diſcharged for ever. Molloy, B. 2. C. 7. §. 13. cites Locin, L. 2. C. 5. §. 9.

So in caſe a Blank be left in the Policy for the Value of the Ship or Lading, if a Loſs happens, and there be not Words to ſupply this Defect, the Aſſured may endanger the Policy. Molloy, B. 2. 14. Where Goods are redeemed from a * Pirate, Contribution muſt be paid by all, becauſe the Redemption is made for the Safety of all; but if the Pirate be once Maſter of the whole, and yet take only ſome particular Goods, whether from the Ship or Merchant, and not as a Satisfaction for ſparing the reſt; in this Caſe, becauſe the Remainder is not aſſured thereby, but freely ſpared, no Contribution is to be made for the Goods taken to charge any Aſſurer with any Part thereof. But Contribution ſhall be made for Goods ſpoiled by Wet, or other Accident. Again, if it be needful to lighten a Ship for her eaſier Entry into Harbour or Channel, two Parts of the Loſs fall upon the Goods, and the third upon the Ship, unleſs the Ship be more valuable than the Lading, and the Charge of the Goods be not the Cauſe of her Inability to enter, but ſome bad Quality proceeding from the Ship itſelf, or that it be provided otherwiſe in the Charter-Party. Molloy, B. 2. 15. If prohibited Goods are laden aboard, and the Merchant inſures upon the general Policy, which always contains theſe Words: Of the Seas, Men of War, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, Rovers, Thieves, † Jetteſons, Letters of Mart and Counter-mart, Arreſts, Reſtraints and Detainments of Kings and Princes, and all other

Perſons,

Perſons, Baratry of the Maſter and Mariners, and of all other Perils, Loſſes and Misfortunes, whatſoever they be, and however they ſhall happen to come, to the Hurt and Detriment of the Goods and Merchandize, or any Part or Parcel thereof; whether if ſuch Goods be lawfully ſeized as prohibited Goods, the Inſurers ought to anſwer? It is conceived they ought not; and the Difference hath been taken, where Goods are lawful at the Time of lading to be imported into that Country, which they are conſigned for; but by Matter ex poſt facto after the lading they become unlawful, and after Arrival are ſeized, there the Aſſurers muſt anſwer, by Virtue of the Clauſe, and all other Perils, &c. But if the Goods were at the Time of lading unlawful, and the Lader knew of the ſame, ſuch Aſſurance will not oblige the Aſſurers to anſwer the Loſs; for the ſame is not ſuch an Aſſurance as the Law ſupports, but is a fraudulent one. Molloy, B. 2. C. 7. §. 15.

16. A Policy was made from Cadiz to Vera Cruz in New Spain upon Monies lent upon Bottomry, and upon any Kind of Goods and Merchandize whatſoever, laden aboard the good Ship called the Neuſtra Seignora del Carmen and Mary Magdalen, the Adventure beginning immediately from the lading before a Day to come, and the Monies from the Time they were to be lent, and ſo to continue from Cadiz to Vera Cruz, and after Delivery; with Proviſo to ſtay at any Port or Place in her Voyage, and likewiſe to touch at Porto Rico, and there to lade and unlade without any Prejudice to the Inſurance, the Cargo being valued at 1700 l. Sterling without Account, &c. againſt Seas, Men of War, Fires, Enemies, Pirates, Rovers, Thieves, Jetteſons, Letters of Mart and Countermart, Surprizals at Sea, Arreſts, Reſtraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes, and People, of what Nation, Condition or Quality ſoever. The Ship being laden at Cadiz, departed towards Vera Cruz, and before Arrival there, touching at Porto Rico, the Goods were there ſeized and arreſted. In an Action brought upon upon the Policy, the Defendant pleaded, that the Ship at her Arrival at the Port of Rico, was laden with prohibited Goods and Merchandize, which, together with the Ship, became forfeited by Default of the Proprietors, and were there ſeized and taken. The Queſtion was, if the Owners ſhould inſure, and then order prohibited Goods to be laden, whether, if theſe Goods are ſeized, they ſhould recover againſt the Inſurers? The ſecond Objection was, if (as the Defendant had pleaded this Plea) the ſame were good? As to the firſt, the Court did all incline, that the Inſurance ought to be * bona fide, i. e. the Reſtraint ought to be of ſuch Goods as by Law were not reſtrainable; but ſurely that cannot be; for the Intention of Policies are to warrant the Perils of all Manner of Goods in all Manner of Caſes. So that if there be a Loading bona fide, be it prohibited or not, the ſame in Caſe of Loſs ought to be anſwered, unleſs it were a fraudulent Contrivance: But to the ſecond, it was reſolved that the Plea was inſufficient; for admitting the ſame ſhould not oblige the Inſurer, yet becauſe the Defendant did not ſhew that the Goods were laden either by the Inſured, or by the Factor or Order (for otherwiſe the ſame ſhould not conclude them; becauſe perhaps the Maſter or his Mariners, or a Stranger might load them on board without Order) the Court gave Judgment for the Plaintiff upon the mere Inſufficiency of the Manner of pleading, and not of the Matter. Molloy, B. 2. C. 7. §. 15.

17. But if a Merchant will freight out † Wool, Leather, and the like, or ſend out Goods in a ‡ foreign Bottom and then inſures, and afterwards the Ship happens to be taken, by reaſon of which the Ship and Lading are forfeited, the Inſurers ſhall not anſwer the Damage; for the very Foundation was illegal and fraudulent, and the Law ſupports only

But if Goods ſhould happen to be lawfully inſured, and afterwards the Veſſel becomes diſabled, by reaſon of which they relade, by Conſent of the Supercargo or Merchant, into another Veſſel, and that Veſſel, after Arrival, proves the Ship of an Enemy, by reaſon of which the Ship becomes ſubject to Seizure; yet in this Caſe the Inſurers ſhall anſwer; for that this is ſuch an Accident as is within the Intention of the Policy. Molloy, B. 2. 19. Several Men lade aboard Salt without Diſtinction, not putting it in Sacks, and the like; the Ship arrives, the Maſter delivers to the Principals according to their Bills of Lading, as they come out one by one; it falls out that ſome of the Salt is waſhed or loſt by reaſon of the Dampneſs of the Ship, and that the two laſt Men cannot receive their Proportion: There are, in this Caſe, theſe Things to be conſidered.

1. Whether the Maſter is bound to deliver the exact Quantity?

2. Whether thoſe who have received this Loſs can charge the Aſſurers?

3. Whether the Aſſurers can bring in the firſt Men for a Contribution, they having their Salt delivered to them completely?

Certainly the Maſter is not bound to deliver the exact Quantity, nor is he obliged to re-deliver the very ſpecific Salt, but only as Men are to receive and pay Money or Corn in a Bag or Sack, and out of them; but if the Fault was in not pumping, keeping dry dry his Deck, or the like, there e contra: Though perhaps there may be a ſpecial Agreement; beſides, this is a Peril of the Sea, which the Maſter could not prevent, and of neceſſity he muſt deliver to one firſt before another.

As to the ſecond, it is no Queſtion but that the Aſſurers ſhall anſwer; but whether they ſhall bring in the firſt Men for Contribution may be ſome Doubt.

It has been conceived by ſome that they ought not; for they delivered their Salt to the Maſter tanquam in creditum, and were not to expect the Redelivery of the ſame ſpecific Salt; beſides the Maſter muſt of Neceſſity deliver to one Man before another.

But by others it has been conceived they ought to contribute pro ratione; for as of goods, ſome muſt neceſſarily be ſtowed in the Hold (and ſuch Goods ſeldom eſcape the Peril of the Sea) ſo the reſt muſt of Neceſſity contribute to that Misfortune, and therefore make no Diſtinction. Molloy, B. 2. 20. The Defendant inſured Goods to London, and until the ſame ſhould be ſafely landed there: The Ship arrived in the Port of London, and the Owner of the Goods ſent his Lighter, and received the Goods out of the Ship: But before they reached Land an Accident happened, whereby the Goods were damaged; for which this Action was brought againſt the Inſurer. For the Defendant it was inſiſted upon, that the Accident happening after the Owner had taken the Goods into his Poſſeſſion, it was a Loſs after the Inſurance was ended. To which it was anſwered that if this had been an Action againſt the Maſter or Owners of the Ship, that would have been a good Anſwer; for they were certainly diſcharged; but in this Action it could be no Anſwer, for during all the Voyage it might as well be ſaid the Goods were in the Poſſeſſion of the Aſſured, who took the Ship to freight, and whoſe Servant the Maſter was, to this Purpoſe as much as the Lighter-Man: And theſe Words are put into Policies, to guard againſt all Sorts of Loſſes, till there is an actual Landing; becauſe in the Caſe of Ships of great Burthen, that are forced to lye off, there may be a Carriage for many Miles in Boats or Lighters, and it was in the Courſe of Trade for the Owner of the Goods to ſend his Lighter. But the Chief Juſtice held the Inſurer was diſcharged. He ſaid it would have been otherwiſe, had the Goods been ſent by the Ship's Boat, which is conſidered as Part of the Ship and Voyage. And the Jury (which was of Merchants) expreſſing, they thought it turned upon that Diſtinction, brought in a Verdict as to this Point againſt the Plaintiff. Strange, 1236. 18 Geo. 2. Sparrow v. Caruthers.

21 The Ship Succeſs was inſured at and from Leghorn to the Port of London, and till there moored 24 Hours in good Safety. She arrived the 8th of July at Freſh-Wharf, and moored, but was the ſame Day ſerved with an Order to go back to the Hope to perform a fourteen Days Quarantine. The Men upon this deſerted her, and on the 12th the Captain applied to be excuſed going back, which Petition was adjourned to the 28th, when the Regency ordered her back; and on the 30th ſhe went back, performed the Quarantine, and then ſent up for Orders to air the Goods. But before ſhe returned the Ship was burnt on the 23d of Auguſt. And now the Queſtion was, whether the Inſurer was liable.

For the Defendant it was inſiſted, that the Ship arriving and being moored on the 8th of July, and remaining ſo till the 30th, here was a Performance of what he had undertaken, and his Riſque ought not to be extended to ſo long a Time as the 8th of July and the burning, the 23d of Auguſt.

But it was ruled that though the Ship was ſo long at her Moorings, yet ſhe could not be ſaid to be there in good Safety, which muſt mean the Opportunity of unloading and diſcharging; whereas here ſhe was arreſted within the 24 Hours, and the Hands having deſerted, and the Regency taken Time to conſider the Petition, there was no Default in the Maſter or Owners.

Owners. And it was proved that till the fourteen Days were expired, there could be no Application to air the Goods. Wherefore the Jury found for the Plaintiff. Strange, 1243. 19 Geo. 2. Waples v. Eames.

22. The Plaintiff insured Interest or no Interest on any Ship he should come in from Virginia to London, beginning the Adventure on his embarking on board such Ship; the Money to be paid, though his Person should escape, or the Ship be retaken. He embarked on board the Speedwell, but she springing a Leak at Sea, he went on board the Friendship, and arrived safe at London: But the Speedwell was taken after he left her. And now in an Action against the Under-writer he was held liable; for the Insurance is on the Ship the Plaintiff set out in; and had that got safe Home, and the other been lost, the Plaintiff could not have recovered upon the Foot of having removed his Person into that Ship in the Middle of the Voyage. Strange, 1248. 19 Geo. 2. Dick v. Barrel.

23. Upon the Execution of a Writ of Enquiry before the Chief Justice, it appeared that the Defendant was an Insurer to 200 l. upon Corn, the Value of which was 217 l. that the Corn was so damaged in the Voyage, that it sold only for 67 l. and the Freight came to 80 l. And upon this the Question was, whether as the Freight, which the Plaintiff was obliged to pay, exceeded the Salvage; this was not to be considered as a total Loss.

And for the Plaintiff it was insisted, that he ought not to be in a worse Condition, than if his Corn had gone to the Bottom of the Sea: For then he would have had no Freight to pay, and now that the Voyage has been performed, whereby the Freight is become due, he has a Right to apply the Salvage to discharge that. It was proved to be the Usage, where the Salvage exceeds the Freight, to deduct the Freight out of the Salvage, and make up the Loss upon the Difference.

For the Defendant it was insisted, that as his Insurance was upon the Corn, and the whole did not periſh, he ought in making up the Loſs to deduct the Salvage: But no Inſtance could be ſhewn on either Side of an Adjuſtment, where the Freight exceeded the Salvage.

The Chief Juſtice was of Opinion that within the Reaſon of deducting the Freight when the Salvage exceeds it, the Plaintiff was in this Caſe (wherein it fell ſhort) intitled to have it conſidered as a total Loſs. And the Jury found for the Plaintiff accordingly. Strange, 1065. 10 Geo. 2. Boyfield v. Brown.

24. The Plaintiff inſured on Ship and Freight at and from Jamaica to Briſtol. A Cargo was ready to put on board; but the Ship being careening, in order for the Voyage, a ſudden Tempeſt aroſe, and ſhe and many others were loſt. The Rigging and Parts of her were recovered and ſold; and the Defendant paid into Court as much as upon an Average he was liable to for the Loſs of the Ship: But the Plaintiff inſiſted to be allowed 600 l. for the Freight the Ship would have earned in the Voyage, if the Accident had not happened. But as the Goods were not actually on board, ſo as to make the Plaintiff's Right to Freight commence, the Chief Juſtice held he could not be allowed it. 19 Geo. 2. Strange, 1251. Tonge v. Watts.

25. Where a Policy of Inſurance is againſt Reſtraint of Princes, that extends not where the Inſured navigate againſt the Laws of Countries, or where there ſhall be a Seizure for not paying the Cuſtom or the like. 2 Vern. 176. Per Hutchins, Lord Commiſſioners.

26. On a Policy of Inſurance on Goods by Agreement valued at 600 l. and the Aſſured not to be obliged to prove any Intereſt; the Lord Chancellor ordered the Defendant to diſcover what Goods he put on board; for although the Defendant offered to renounce all Intereſt to the Inſurers; yet his Lordſhip referred it to a Maſter to examine the Value of the Goods ſaved, and to deduct it out of the Value, or Sum of 600 l. at which the Goods were valued valued by the Agreement. 2 Vern. 715. Mich. 1716. Le Pypre and Farr.

27. A. had inſured for B. and Plaintiff his Aſſignees on the Ship E. with the Cargo, and the Entry in the Company's Book of the Contract was in ſhort Items called a Label, which was thus: "At and from Fort "St. George to London, loſt or not loſt." And the Policy was ſoon after made out and taken in the following Words: "That the Adventure was to Com-"mence from the Ship's departing from Fort St. "George to London." Before the Inſurance was made the Ship was loſt in Bengal River, whither ſhe had been ſent from Fort St. George to refit. The Bill was brought to have the Inſurance-money paid, being 500 l. as a Loſs, &c. and founded the Equity, that the Policy was not made agreeable to the Label, according to which the Riſque is to commence from the Ship's coming firſt to Fort St. George, and the going to Bengal to refit being a Thing of Neceſſity for performing the Voyage was no Deviation, and the Loſs being during that Time, was within the Intent of the Contract for the Inſuring.

Lord Chancellor Hardwicke ſaid this was not proper to determine here. The firſt Queſtion is as to the Agreement: Second, as to the Breach; and doubted as to the Agreement. The Memorandum is not a printed Form as to the material Points, and the Policy muſt be governed by that, if not varied. The Words in the Memorandum or Label (at Fort St. George) include the Stay of the Ship there, and the Policy follows the Words, but adds thus, viz. The Beginning of the Adventure to be from the Ship's departing from Fort St. George for London; which excludes the Riſque whilſt the Ship ſtayed there; and this ſeems an Inconſiſtency in the Policy, firſt to deſcribe the Voyage at and from, &c. and then to exclude the Riſque at, &c. This ſeems a Miſtake in writing the Policy, and is to be rectified as in the Caſe of Articles or a Settlement. And decreed the Words to be added in the Policy, for the Adventure to commence at and from Fort St. George. Vin.

28. One Mary Stroad having an Intereſt in ſome Houſes in London, for the Remainder of a Term of which about five Years was to come, inſured the ſame from Fire, by a Policy of Inſurance entered into by the Hand-in-Hand Company for Inſurances of Houſes from Fire; which Inſurance was made for a Term of ſeven Years, and a Premium paid accordingly. It happened that after the End of the five Years, and before the End of the ſeven Years, the Houſes were burnt down; after which Mary Stroad aſſigned the Policy to the Sadlers Company, who were entitled to the Houſes after the Determination of the Term of Mary Stroad. This Bill was brought by the Plaintiffs againſt the Inſurance Company, to have this Inſurance made good, inſiſting thereon, by reaſon that a Premium was paid to the Company for the whole ſeven Years, within which Space of Time this Accident hath happened. And as this Inſurance is expreſsly to Mary Stroad, her Executors, Adminiſtrators and Aſſigns, that the Plaintiffs, as her Aſſigns, are well entitled to have the Policy made good.

It was urged, that this Inſurance Company, being an amicable Society, who inſure each other with a joint Stock, and the Plaintiffs, being as Aſſignees of Mary Stroad, Members of the Society, was the Reaſon for ſeeking Relief by Bill in Equity, and not purſuing a Remedy at Law, in regard that no Action would lie; for that the Plaintiffs by ſtanding in the Place of Mary Stroad, might be ſaid to be Part of the Society, and therefore could not proſecute an Action againſt themſelves. For the Defendant it was inſiſted, that the Intent of theſe Policies is only to inſure ſome certain Intereſt in the Party inſured from Loſs or Damages, and that, when ſuch Intereſt ceaſes, the Inſurance is at an End. It was alſo inſiſted to be an antient Rule of the Society, that no Perſon ſhould be permitted to inſure for a leſs Term than ſeven Years, and that ſubſequent to the Plaintiffs Inſurance, an Order Order of the Company was made, reciting, that whereas all Inſurances by the Rules of the Company, were to ceaſe with the Intereſt of the Aſſured; yet that the Inſurers might aſſign their Policies: This Order was inſiſted upon as Evidence, to ſhew, that by the Rules of the Company, they are anſwerable for no Loſs or Damage happening by Fire to the Houſes inſured, after the Intereſt of the Aſſured is determined.

In this Company, as in all other Inſurance Companies, there is a Rule that the Policy ſhould be of no effect, if aſſigned, unleſs brought to be allowed by the Company within ſuch a Time; but it was admitted, that the Plaintiffs had tendered the Aſſignment to the Company, within the Time for ſuch Allowance, but they had refuſed it.

In regard to the Order made, that all Aſſurances were to ceaſe with the Intereſt of the Aſſured, Lord Chancellor Hardwicke ſaid, the Aſſured were to be conſidered in a double Capacity, as Members of the Company, and as perſons contracting with them; and that if the Caſe depended upon this Order, he ſhould not think the Company, in their general Capacity, could vary or alter any Contract made by them to their individual Members: But that he was of Opinion, from the Nature of all Inſurances, that the Aſſurance muſt ceaſe with the Intereſt of the Aſſured, for it is only to ſave from Damage in the Thing inſured; and where it is to inſure Damages from Fire, how can the Inſurers enter upon the Premiſſes to rebuild or repair when the Eſtate of the Aſſured is determined? An Inſurance implies an Intereſt in the Thing inſured: If it were otherwiſe many ill conſequences might follow; Men might inſure Houſes of Strangers, and, in Hopes of getting the Money inſured, ſet their Houſes on Fire.

And though in Caſes of Commerce, Policies of Inſurance are allowed to be made, Intereſt or no Intereſt, yet it was long before this could prevail, and was allowed only in reſpect that Goods might be inſured in a Commerce which is prohibited in a foreign Country, and to prevent (in regard to the Advantage of the Trade to this Kingdom) a Diſcovery of the Nature of the Goods, and thereby laying open the Owner in ſuch foreign Country to the Penalty for Trading in ſuch Goods. That although ſuch Policies are now allowed, yet he remembers them much queſtioned and called fraudulent, but no ſuch Reaſon holds in the Caſes of Inſurances of Houſes from Fire; and in which Inſurances all ſuppoſe an Intereſt in the Aſſured.

In the Caſe of Lynch and Dalzel, which was before the Houſe of Lords, in March 1729, one Ireland being intitled to the Remainder of a long Term of Years in a Houſe at Graveſend, cauſed the ſame to be inſured from Fire in the Sun-Fire-Office, and the Inſurance was to him, his Heirs, Executors, Adminiſtrators and Aſſigns. Ireland dying, his Son and Executor agreed with the Appellant to ſell and aſſign to him this Houſe, together with the Benefit of the Policy for the Inſurance of the Houſe. The Leaſe of the Houſe was accordingly aſſigned, but, there being no Aſſignment of the Policy prepared, that was only delivered up, and, in Fact, not aſſigned; but Ireland promiſed to execute an Aſſignment of it to the Appellant at any Time after.

But before the Policy was aſſigned the Houſe was burnt down, and a Bill was brought in this Court by the Appellant to compel the Company to pay the Money inſured by the Policy, and the Bill was diſmiſſed by Lord Chancellor King, and his Order affirmed by the Lords. Lord Chancellor ſaid, that he was Council in the Cauſe, and that the Reaſons upon which Lord Chancellor King diſmiſſed the Bill appear in the Reaſons mentioned in the Reſpondent's Caſe. That theſe Policies are not Inſurances of the Things themſelves mentioned to be inſured, for no Body can warrant againſt Accidents. Nor do ſuch Inſurance attach on the Thing, or in any Manner go with it, as incident thereto, by any Conveyance or Aſſignment of the Thing inſured: But the Inſurances are only ſpecial Agreements with the Perſons inſuring againſt ſuch Loſs and Damage as they ſhall ſuſtain, and the Party inſuring muſt have a Property at the Time of the Loſs, or he can ſuſtain no Loſs, and conſequently be intitled to no Satisfaction. Lord Chancellor obſerved, that this Caſe was rather ſtronger than the preſent, but diſmiſſed the Bill only without Coſts. Dict. Tr. and Com. 147. In Chan. 16 Geo. 2. Sadlers Comp. v. Badcock.

29. A Bill in Chancery was brought for Relief againſt a Verdict and Judgment given in the Court of Common Pleas upon a Policy of Inſurance, and to have an Injunction to ſtay Execution upon the Judgment. The Caſe appeared to be, that the Ship inſured was taken by a Spaniſh Privateer; and that after it had been carried infra hoſtium præſidia, it was retaken by an Engliſh Privateer. It was argued for the now Plaintiff, who was the Defendant at Law, that although by the Law of Nations the firſt Capture of the Ship, and its being infra hoſtium præſidia, had abſolutely diveſted the Right of the original Proprietors, yet that now by the Statute made in the Year 1740. it is otherwiſe, being thereby provided, that if the Ships of our Engliſh Merchants ſhould be taken by an Enemy, and afterwards retaken by any of his Majeſty's Subjects, that the Right of the original Proprietors in ſuch Ships ſhould be reſerved on their paying one Moiety of the Value of ſuch Ships to the Recaptors for Reſalvage. Upon this it was argued, that the Verdict and Judgment are unjuſt, in regard that the whole Inſurance-money is given in Damages when it appears that the Plaintiff at Law, upon Payment of one Half of the Value of the Ship, might recover it back, and therefore that one Half of the Inſurance-money ought only to have been given in Damage; upon which the Injunction prayed by the Bill was moved for.

On the other Side, it was inſiſted that this was a right Verdict, and that the Inſured were not to be put to the Delay, Expence, and Trouble of aſcertaining aining the Value of the Ship, in order to recover t back, upon Payment of one Moiety of the Value to the Captors. That for Recovery thereof, the Inſurers might ſtand in the Place of the Inſured, and make Uſe of their Names, which had been offered. That they did not pretend to oppoſe ſo much of the Bill as ſought this, but inſiſted that this could be no Ground for granting the Injunction prayed. That this Point had been debated before Lord Chief Juſtice Willes, upon Trial of the Iſſue at Niſi Prius, who had declared his Opinion, that this Right of Salvage, ought not to preclude the Inſured from their Recovery upon the Inſurance, till the Salvage ſhould be ſettled. That the Defendants, the Inſurers, would be entitled to ſtand in the Place of the Inſured to make what Advantage they could of the Salvage.

Lord Hardwicke, Chancellor being of the ſame Opinion, refuſed to grant, the Injunction; and ſaid that the Damage, in recovering the Salvage, is as much a Part of the Inſurance as the Ship itſelf. Dict. Tr. and Com. 148. Mich. 18 Geo 2. Prendle v. Hartley.

30. This was an Inſurance on Goods by the Durſly Galley, Intereſt or no Intereſt, at and from Jamaica to Briſtol. In her Paſſage ſhe was taken by a Spaniſh Privateer and carried into Mores, a Port in Spain kept eight Days and then cut out by an Engliſh Ship. And the Plaintiff inſiſting, that this, though on Goods, was to be conſidered as a Wager on the Bottom of the Ship, brought his Action as upon a total Loſs. The Defendant inſiſted that by the Statutes 13 Geo. 2. C. 4. and 17 Geo. 2. C. 34. this Ship is to be reſtored to the Owners, paying Salvage; and conſequently this is only an average Loſs, and the Plaintiff can only recover upon a total one. But the Chief Juſtice held, that in this Caſe the Plaintiff ought to recover; for his is a Wager upon a total Loſs in the Voyage, and here has happened one; for the being carried into Port and detained eight Days makes one. And where the Policy is Intereſt or no Intereſt, Intereſt, the Proviſions of the Acts in the Caſe of valued Policies cannot take Place. The Act does not declare the Property is not gone by ſuch a Capture, but only provides for reſtoring the Ship to whom it did and ſhall be proved to have belonged. He ſaid it might be otherwiſe, where the Recapture was before the Ship was carried intra præſidia, or in the Caſe of Goods actually on board, and upon a valued Policy. Stran. 1250. 19 Geo. 2, Dean v. Dicker.

31. Action on a Policy of Inſurance of Goods on board a Ship called the Three Brothers, at and from Petersburgh in Ruſſia to London, and till the Goods ſhould be ſafely landed. It appeared in Evidence, that the Ship arrived ſafe at London, and came as nigh to the Wharf as ſhe could, and then the Merchant inſured ſent a Lighter for the Goods, and they were ſunk in the Lighter. The Court held the Inſurer not liable. Verdict for the Plaintiff for 40*s*. for Return of the Ship with Convoy, ſuch Deduction being agreed to by the Policy, and the 40*s*. not being returned or brought into Court. 33. In Caſe on a Policy of Inſurance, upon non aſſumpſit pleaded, the Caſe was, Mr. Criſp being at the Weſt Indies, ſent a Letter to Bates to inſure Goods on the Mary-Galley of St. Chriſtophers, Captain A. Hill Commander, at London: Bates carried the Letter to Stubbs, who writ Policies, and he by Miſtake made the Aſſurance on the Mary Captain Haſlewood Commander, &c. This Policy thus made was ſubſcribed by the Defendant: The Mary-Galley was loſt, and then Stubbs applied to the Inſurers to conſent conſent to alter the Policy to which they agreed, and the Miſtake was mended. It was objected at the Trial, that the Mary was a ſtouter Ship than the Mary Galley, and that the Inſurers ought to have an Increaſe of Premium for the Alteration: But it was held by Holt, Chief Juſtice, that the Action well lay, and that the Miſtake might be ſet right, and that Stubbs was a good Witneſs; and he cited this Caſe which happened when Pemberton was Chief Juſtice. An Inſurance was made from Archangel to the Downs, and from the Downs to Leghorn; but there was a parol Agreement at the ſame Time, that the Policy ſhould not commence till the Ship came to ſuch a Place; it was held the parol Agreement ſhould not avoid the Writing. 2. Salk. 444. Dec. 3, 1703. Bates v. Graham et al. at Guildhall.

34. The Snow Tryal, William Jefferys Maſter, was taken up by the Government of Carolina as a Flag of Truce, to go to the Havanna, with Pretence to bring from thence ſome Palatines, lately taken and carried in there on board an Engliſh Ship, the Lydia, Captain Abercromey, and by this Occaſion ſeveral Carolina Merchants loaded Goods aboard her to a very conſiderable Value, and directed their Friend, Mr. James Crokatt of London, to get 10000 l. inſured on them, and at the ſame Time to inform the Underwriters of every Circumſtance of the Voyage, viz. that the Cargo conſiſted of eighty or ninety Negroes, and the reſt Manafactures of Great Britain and Germany, all which was to be regularly cleared out for Providence, where the Veſſel was to have liberty to call, in her Voyage down for a Pilot; the Aſſured alſo mentioned the Probability that one Maſter of the Spaniſh Language might go in the Character of Captain of the Flag, by the aforeſaid Government, and Jefferys only appear as Pilot, though the latter was to ſign all Bills of Loading; and the ſame Inſurance was ordered from the Havanna to Carolina, as was made to the Havanna. Mr Crokatt got the 10000*l.* inſured at four private Offices, at and from South Carolina rolina to the Havanna, and at and from thence back to South Carolina, with liberty to touch at Providence, outward and homeward bound, upon any kind of Goods, laden or to be laden aboard the Ship called the Tryal (a Flag of Truce Ship) William Jefferys Maſter, beginning the Adventure from, and immediately following the loading thereof aboard the ſaid Ship at South Carolina, and ſo to continue until the ſaid Ship, with the Goods whatſoever, ſhall be arrived at the Havanna, and ſo ſhall farther continue till arrived back at South Carolina, and the ſame there ſafely landed; and it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Ship in this Voyage to ſtop and ſtay at any Ports or Places whatſoever, more eſpecially at Providence.

At the Foot of ſome of the Policies are theſe Words, viz. Warranted a Flag of Truce for the Voyage; and in the others (after deſcribing the Voyage) the Ship being a Flag of Truce for the Voyage.

The Tryal ſailed from South Carolina to the Iſland of Providence (after the Captain had received his Credentials from the Governor, as Commander of a Flag of Truce Ship) where ſhe arrived, and diſpoſed of Part of her Cargo, and then ſailed directly towards the Havana; and being arrived near the Entrance of the Harbour was ſeized by a Spaniſh Ship of War, and carried into ſaid Place, where her Loading was condemned and ſold, and the Ship, Officers and Sailors detained near five Months; at the Expiration of which Time, the Governor of the Havanna permitted them to return, with ſome Engliſh, who had been made Priſoners, but without the Palatines they went to re-claim, and the Governor gave the Captain a Protection to ſcreen him in his Return from being moleſted by Men of War or Privateers.

Mr. Crokatt, on receiving Advice of the above mentioned Loſs, demanded the Money of the Inſurers, who thinking they had reaſon to deny the Payment, ſuffered themſelves to be ſued for it; and Mr. Crokatt, to ſupport his Demand, offered to produce the Invoice, Bill of Lading, credential Letters, and an Affidavit under the Seal of the Province of Carolina, atteſting that the Goods contained in the Invoice were ſhipped, and Witneſſes who were ready to prove, viva voce, the Capture and Sale of the Goods at the Havanna, the Detention of the Marines, and that the Ship returned, as a Flag of Truce with 49 Engliſh Priſoners to Carolina.

On the other hand, the Underwriters, to invalidate the Inſurance, pretended that this was an illicit Trade, that the Ship was not a Flag of Truce, or if ſhe was ſo, that the Aſſured, by warranting her to be ſo, did in effect engage that the Goods ſhould be exempt from Seizure: That to intitle the Plaintiffs to a Recovery, it was incumbent on them to ſhew the Condemnation, and the Reaſons of the Confiſcations at the Havanna, and many other Arguments were uſed to ſet aſide the Policy; but the Jury found a Verdict for the Plaintiffs. Lex Mercat. red. 267. 35. The Mary, Cap. Wilſon, was hired at London to carry Goods to Dublin, and an Inſurance was made on Ship and Freight; but in her Paſſage ſhe ran aſhore on the Sands called Arklow Grounds, and was there deſerted by the Captain and Sailors, who went aſhore to ſave their Lives, ſuppoſing the Ship irretrievably loſt; but ſome Fiſhermen, hearing of the Wreck the Night before, went out after her, and early in the Morning ſpied a Sail off Mayenhead, near Arklow in the County of Wicklow, and about 30 Miles from Dublin, lying afloat in about 10 or 11 Fathom of Water, and about a Mile and a half from Shore, which proved to be the aforeſaid Ship Mary; and on coming up with her in the laſt Quarter Ebb, they found the Ship lying to, with her Gib Sail hauled to windward, and her Mizzen Sail ſet, and on boarding her found her intirely deſerted, without one Perſon therein.

After the Fiſhermen had got in, they ſounded the Pumps, and found ſo little Water in her, that two Hands

Hands cleared her in an Hour's Time, after which ſhe leaked but very little; and ſome few hours after, the Fiſhermen meeting with a Pilot, agreed with him for Half a Guinea to carry her into Poolbegg (which is a Place where Ships bound for Dublin, that draw much water, are unloaded and diſcharged) where ſhe was delivered to Captain Wilſon, who took her in charge, and was afterwards moored, and all her Cargo delivered ſafe and undamnified, and the Freight accordingly paid for the ſame.

The Ship was, after her diſcharge, removed from Poolbegg to the Bank-ſide, and there laid on the Ground to ſearch if ſhe had received any Damage, and it was found that nine or ten Feet of her Sheathing was rubbed off, and about the ſame Quantity of her falſe Keel broke, and the Ship ſtrained very much; ſo that they were forced to carry her back to Poolbegg, and there moor again.

The Plaintiff demanded the whole Inſurance, which was 700*l.* on a ſuppoſed Proof of the Ship's being rendered unfit for any future Service by her being run aſhore as aforementioned; and the Defendant tries to invalidate his Claim, by firſt endeavouring to prove that ſhe could not be of near the Value inſured, as ſhe was an old New-England built Ship, and ſold a little before, to be broke up, for 150*l.* but the Purchaſer reſold her to another, who ſold the Moiety thereof to the Plaintiff, as he aſſerts, for 400*l.* the Truth of which Sale the Defendant ſuſpects, as well upon Account of the Lowneſs of the firſt Purchaſe, as an Eraſure upon which the Concern was wrote; and he likewiſe offers ſome Reaſons to ſuppoſe that the Ship was wilfully run aſhore, and not undeſignedly, as the Captain aſſerts: And to ſupport theſe Allegations, he refers to the Manner in which ſhe was found, with little or no Damage as aforeſaid, more than what was occaſioned by her lying aground: That the Captain had a very bad Character, and it was ſuſpected he had made large Inſurances, which induced him wilfully to loſe the Ship, more eſpecially as the Mate had declared, that if the Captain would have left him two Boys, he would not have quitted the Ship, and ſeveral other Things to the Purpoſe aforeſaid; but theſe not appearing ſo plain to the Jury, they found a Verdict for the Plaintiff. Lex Merc. red. 208. 36 The Weſterwyk's Arms Cap. Richard Horner, a Swediſh Ship and Commander, was chartered at Hamburg by Mr. Jacob Boſanquet a Merchant there, to ſail for London, and there to take in ſuch Goods as he or his Correſpondent ſhould put aboard her, and carry them to ſuch Parts of Italy as he ſhould be directed.

A large Quantity of Goods were loaded aboard her, to the Value of 30 or 40,000 l. and among the Shippers the Plaintiff was one who took this Opportunity of ſending his Friends Woollens to the Amount of 1367 l. 12 s. 7 d. conſigned to one Mr. Anthony Damiani a Merchant at Leghorn, for the Uſe of ſeveral Perſons in Italy, by whoſe Orders they were ſhipped, though with the Circumſtance that the Property was not to be veſted in them, neither were they to pay for them, till the Goods were arrived and delivered according to the Bill of Loading, and conſequently the Plaintiff's Property till the aforementioned Particulars were complied with, which induced him to get 1000 l. inſured on them; and it was mentioned in the Policy, that the Goods were warranted to be inſerted in the Bills of Loading, for neutral Account. This was a Cuſtom during the War in order to ſcreen Goods from the Enemy's Seizure; and the Captains of neutral Ships would not ſign Bills of Loading without this Inſertion, which was Mr. Boehm's Motive for filling up his accordingly.

This Ship in her Voyage was taken by a Spaniſh Privateer, and carried into Ceuta, a Spaniſh Port on the Coaſt of Barbary, where the Goods were condemned as lawful Prize, as appears by a Copy and Tranſlation of the Sentence of Condemnation, tho' the the Ship was ſet at Liberty, and the Captain, after fruitleſly ſoliciting the Releaſe of his Cargo at Ceuta, went to Cadiz to reclaim it; where, notwithſtanding he was joined in Sollicitations by the Swediſh Conſul, and both aſſerted the Honour of the Flag, and the neutral Property of the Merchandize, they could prevail nothing towards altering of the Sentence, which ſtood confirmed, though, whilſt this was tranſacting, Mr. Boehm demanded his Inſurance of the Underwriters, who being convinced of the Juſtneſs thereof, came to the Agreement of paying him 5ol per cent. and accordingly indorſed the Policy in the following Manner, viz.

We, whoſe Names are hereunto ſubſcribed, do agree to pay unto the Aſſured 5ol. per cent. on our ſeveral Subſcriptions on this Policy, in a Month from the Date hereof; but in caſe the Goods are reſtored in Safety, and are diſcharged according to the Tenor of the Policy, the ſaid 5ol. per cent. are to be repaid to us by the Aſſured, we engaging to make good any Average or Damages that may enſue by the Detention of the ſaid Goods.

Signed by all the Underwriters.

And afterwards there was likewiſe indorſed the following Words, viz. Whereas the within mentioned Ship, the Weſterwyk's Arms, Cap. Horner, from London to Leghorn, was taken by the Spaniards in July 1746, and forcibly carried into Ceuta, where ſhe has been detained with her cargo ever ſince, and, notwithſtanding all the Application and Endeavours that have been made uſe of by the Aſſured and his Agents for their Releaſe, they having hitherto proved fruitleſs and without Succeſs; therefore we the Underwriters on this Policy, do agree to pay Mr. Thomas Boehm, the Aſſured, the remaining 48 per cent. in one Month from the Date hereof, which the ſaid Mr. Thomas Boehm obliges himſelf to refund and pay back again, in caſe his ſaid Goods ſhould be hereafter releaſed, and arrive ſafe at Leghorn, according to the Tenor of this Policy, we engaging ourſelves to make good any Average or Damage that may enſue in this Adventure; and the Aſſured promiſes and obliges himſelf to continue his utmoſt Endeavours that the ſaid Goods may be reſtored and diſcharged.

The preſent Defendant only ſigned the firſt of theſe Agreements, but never paid the Money purſuant thereto, tho' all the reſt of the Underwriters ſigned both, and have paid their Money long ago.

The Plaintiff proved, that the Defendant was acquainted, when he undertook the Policy, with the Reaſons for inſerting the Words, That the Goods ſhould be warranted to be inſerted in the Bills of Loading for neutral Account. He alſo proved his Intereſt, and that the Goods were his, till delivered: That all the Underwriters on this Ship have paid their Loſſes, to the aforementioned Value of between 30 and 40,000*l.* and that even the Defendant himſelf had paid one on her. He alſo proved by a Perſon viva voce, who had ſeen the Ship at Cadiz, and heard the Captain and Swediſh Conſul diſcourſe about their Sollicitations for freeing the Goods, which joined to the before mentioned Copy of her Condemnation, he thought ſufficient Proof of the Loſs; but the Defendant, being of a contrary Opinion, and not ſatisfied therewith, ſtood a Trial, when the Jury found a Verdict for the Plaintiff. Lex Mercat. red. 269. Mich. 1748. Boehm v. Snow.

37. The Dartmouth Galley, being fitted out as a Privateer, ſailed in Company with the Fortune, in October 1744, on a Cruize, and the Plaintiffs being concerned therein, got inſurance made on their Part for one Calendar Month, of which the Defendant wrote 200*l.* and the ſaid Ships, after being out two Days, fell in with two French Men of War, with whom the Dartmouth engaged; and, after a gallant Defence, was taken by them, tho' not till the Captain and two more were killed, and ſeveral wounded; when the Lieutenant, ſeeing the Inequality of the Combat, ordered the Colours to be ſtruck, and ſurrendered; on which the Conquerors ordered the Dartmouth's People ple to hoiſt out their Barge, and go, as many as could, on board the Men of War. But the Dartmouth's Men, finding an Opportunity, ſailed away and got off. Their Enemies purſuing and overtaking them, they were obliged finally to ſubmit; and the Men of War ſent a Lieutenant, with a ſufficient Power, to take Poſſeſſion of the Dartmouth, in whoſe Cuſtody ſhe continued only about an Hour and a half, or two Hours; for the Lieutenant and his Company, perceiving ſhe was leaky by one of the Men of War running foul of her, and ſtarting a Plank during the Engagement, called to his Commanders to ſend a Boat for them, as they feared ſinking; which they immediately complied with, and the Lieutenant of the Dartmouth, and about 90 of her Men, were carried into France; and the Boatſwain being left on board with about twenty more (including nine wounded) ſearched for, and in a great meaſure ſtopped her Leaks, and taking advantage of the Frenchmens Fears and the Night, in two Days after got ſafe into Dartmouth, and, ſoon after her Arrival there, was refitted by the Owners, and ſailed on another Cruize.

After this the ſaid Ship was kept inſured from Month to Month, and the Defendant underwrote ſeveral ſubſequent Policies on her, being always told by the Office keeper that he was off the firſt Policy, and neither he nor the Plaintiffs ever pretended to demand any thing of him on account thereof.

In about ſix Months after the Expiration of the aforeſaid Policy, the Defendant paid the Plaintiffs a Loſs on her, having continued to inſure her monthly from the Policy in Queſtion; and the Plaintiffs, when they received it, never ſo much as inſinuated or pretended, they had any Right to the firſt Inſurance. However, the Plaintiffs have now claimed it, as the taking of the Ship, and carrying her Men away, intirely overſet the Cruize, and ſhe could not be refitted and ſail on another before the Expiration of the Month for which ſhe was inſured; and conſequently this proved an intire Loſs to the Aſſured.

But in Support of the contrary, it is alledged by the Defendant, and confirmed by the Opinion of ſeveral very conſiderable Merchants, that this could not be counted a total Loſs, more eſpecially as it is not on a Cruize, the Words of the Policy being, to be inſured, loſt or not loſt, to any Ports or Places for one Calendar Month, but no Mention at all made of any Cruize; on which Account the Defendant ſuppoſes there could be no Interruption to a Thing never guarded againſt; and beſides, the Ship was ſo far from being a total Loſs to the Owners on the firſt Risk, that ſhe afterwards met with very great Succeſs by taking a very rich Prize.

And if this Doctrine offered by the Plaintiffs had taken Place with reſpect to Inſurances made for a Time, every Collier might bring this as a Plea, as they are always inſured on theſe Terms, though it was never apprehended, that every little Accident which happened within the Time, and obliged them to refit, was deemed a total Loſs.

The Plaintiffs were nonſuited, becauſe unprepared to ſhew the Impoſſibility of her being fitted out again before the Expiration of the Inſurance. Lex Mercat. rediv. 270. Trin. 1749. At Guildhall, Jalabert and Nevil againſt Collier.

38. The Plaintiff cauſed Inſurance to be made for himſelf or others, loſt or not loſt, on the good Ship L'Heureux, Captain Beatrix, from Bayonne to Martinico and Cape Francois in St. Domingo, with Liberty to touch and ſtay at any Ports or Places whatſoever, without Prejudice to the Inſurers, and without other Proof of Intereſt, in caſe of Loſs, than the preſent Policy, and the French and American Livres, to be valued at Eleven Pence each, without further Account to be given; and for this the Aſſured paid 30 Guineas per cent, to have 12 Guineas per cent. returned, in caſe the Ship ſhould depart with Convoy from Bayonne or L'Iſle d'Aix.

She ſailed two Days after in Proſecution of the aforeſaid Voyage, and was taken, brought to London, and and condemned; on which the Aſſured demanded of the Defendant his Subſcription, which he refuſed to pay for different Reaſons, as hereafter mentioned.

Several Merchants in France, particularly at Bourdeaux and Bayonne, after the Commencement of the late French War, fitted out a great Number of Ships under a Pretence and Appearance of ſending them to the French Settlements in America, &c. and got them inſured to their full Value at Marſeilles, and other Places in that Country; and as the Laws of France prohibit every Perſon from making larger Inſurance than what their Intereſt is, they, without diſcovering what they had done in their own Country, requeſted ſeveral Gentlemen here to get Inſurance made for them, often to three or four Times more than their real Intereſt was: And the ſaid Ships being generally taken or loſt, the Underwriters, without ſuſpecting any fraud, paid their Subſcriptions, by which Means the French concerned in theſe Practices, got more than they could have done by any fair Adventures.

Theſe Sorts of Tranſactions became at laſt ſo notorious in France, that Monſ. the Count de Maurepas, Director of the Marine in that Country, about May 1747. took Notice of it, and ſent a Letter to a Merchant at Nantes, deſiring him to inquire of his Correſpondent in England into the Valuations of the ſeveral Ships and Cargoes mentioned in the Letter (and amongſt them of the Heureux, Captain Beatrix, before mentioned) with the Amount of the Inſurances made thereon, declaring in the ſaid Letter, that there were great Frauds committed by Perſons of Bayonne and Bourdeaux, in fitting out Ships, and making large Inſurances thereon, and then putting theſe Ships in the Way of being taken by the Engliſh. This Gentleman ſent a Copy of the above mentioned Letter to Mr. Henry Loubier, a Merchant of this City, who generouſly communicated the ſame to ſeveral of the principal Underwriters; and they, in Conſequence of this Advice, choſe a few Gentlemen from among themſelves, as a Committee to inquire into theſe

Frauds: And they found that ſeveral Gentlemen in England had procured Inſurances to be made on French Ships from Bourdeaux and Bayonne to the Weſt Indies, either upon the Terms of Intereſt or no Intereſt, or without further Proof of Intereſt than the Policy, to the Amount of 100,000*l.* of which near the half was diſputable Loſſes, by there being great Reaſon to believe that theſe Inſurances were fraudulent, and, among others, the Ship in Queſtion; upon which a Bill in Chancery was filed, and an Injunction obtained; but, on the Plaintiff's ſwearing he knew of no Fraud, the Injunction was diſſolved.

The Committee ſent an anſwer to Mr. Maurepas's Letter, authenticated by a Notary Public; whereby it appeared that the Ship and Cargo in Diſpute were ſold in England for 788*l* 11*s* 3*d*. viz the Cargo for 388*l*. 11*s* 3*d*. and the Ship for 400*l*. And there was inſured on her in England 2790*l*. and at Marſeilles it was found upon Inquiry, that 12,000 Livres had been inſured; which, reckoning a Livre at 11*d*. amounts to 550*l*.

The preceding Circumſtances were offered to the Court, in order to diſcharge the Defendant from paying the Inſurance; but it not being in his Power to prove them, though he ſuppoſed them Matters of Fact, and it appearing plainly that the Plaintiff had not in the leaſt been guilty of any Fraud, and the Policy being expreſly valued, and that in caſe of Loſs, the Aſſured ſhould not be obliged to prove his Intereſt by any other Means whatſoever ſave by the preſent Policy (as is mentioned at the Beginning of this Caſe) and had paid a Premium adequate to the Risk, which to the Underwriters was rather leſs than would have been on an Intereſt to be proved; as in this latter Caſe they are liable to Averages, whereas on Policies like this in queſtion, of Intereſt or no Intereſt, they are ſolely anſwerable for a total Loſs; and the Jury found a Verdict for the Plaintiff.

The ſame was tried on three other Ships under the ſame Circumſtances (on which large Sums had been inſured) inſured) and had the ſame Determinations. Lex Mercat. red. 271. Da Coſta v. Pouchon.

39. The Plaintiff having underwrote the William and Anne, Captain Strachan, at and from Virginia or Maryland to London, had a mind to re-inſure himſelf, and accordingly ordered Mr. Alexander Hoskins, a Broker, to get it done; who having complied with the Commiſſion, certified on the Policy, that the Intereſt was in the Plaintiff.

The Inſurance was made, Intereſt or no Intereſt, free of Average and without Benefit of Salvage, but under the Policy was this Clauſe, In caſe of Retain, the Aſſurers to have Benefit of Salvage, and pay Average, the ſame as if wrote on Intereſt.

The Ship ſailed from Virginia on her Voyage to London, and being about 215 Leagues to the Weſtward of Cape Clear, after a Voyage of three Weeks, ſhe was taken by two French Privateers, and carried into a Place in Newfoundland called by that Nation Cape de Grate, and commonly occupied by them in the fiſhing Seaſon, where ſhe continued in the Enemy's Poſſeſſion and Power 49 Days; during which Time the Enemy took out of her a great part of her Cargo; and, after ſo rifling her, and in their Way condemning her, the Captain agreed to ranſom her with what remained of her Loading; and the Ranſom Bill being ſigned, and his mate left as an Hoſtage, they permitted him to purſue his Voyage to London, where he afterwards arrived.

Soon after the Ship's Arrival, the Merchants who were concerned in the Cargo, and had been inſured, applied to their underwriters for Satisfaction, when moſt of them ſettled the Average for what was pillaged, at 50 per cent. one at 40, and the preſent Plaintiff paid his Quota therein, and afterwards applied to the Defendant, who had re-inſured him, to ſettle his Policy; and it was agreed between them, that it ſhould be on the ſame Footing as the major Part of the aforeſaid Underwriters on Intereſt had done, which the Broker in this Inſurance underſtanding was done at 50 per cent. he indorſed on the Back of the Policy theſe Words, Adjuſted this Loſs at 50*l.* per cent. to pay in one Month, London, 12th December, 1745, and ſigned by the Defendant, Daniel Flexney.

Nevertheleſs at the Time the Defendant ſigned the above mentioned Note, he told the Plaintiff, that ſome of the Underwriters on the original Policies had paid an Average only of 40 per cent. and therefore he would pay no more, and at the ſame Time with his Pen drew a Line through the Word fifty, and above it wrote forty; which occaſioned ſome Diſpute between them, but the Indorſement ſo ſigned by the Defendant remained uncancelled.

The Defendant afterwards refuſed making any Satisfaction, under a Suppoſition of his having no Obligation thereto, for which his principal Reaſons were, viz.

1ſt, That although he had ſigned ſuch an Adjuſtment at forty per cent, yet he is not bound by it, becauſe the Plaintiff objected to it at the Time of ſigning, and inſiſted on fifty.

2dly, That although the Ship was in the Enemy's Poſſeſſion, and carried into Cape de Grate, yet as ſhe afterwards proceeded on the ſame Voyage, and arrived ſafe in London, therefore there could be no Loſs, ſo as to recover under a Policy Intereſt or no Intereſt.

To the firſt of which Objections, the Plaintiff admits that he did find Fault with the Defendant for ſtriking out the Word fifty, and inſerting forty; yet as the Defendant did not then think proper to cancel the ſaid Adjuſtment, but permitted it to remain on the Back of the Policy, the Plaintiff apprehended he had a Right to recover under the ſaid Adjuſtment.

As to the Defendant's ſecond Objection, the Plaintiff ſuppoſes, that as the Ship was carried in by the Enemy to Cape de Grate, and detained till ranſomed, that this will amount to a total Diveſtiture or Alteration of the Property, and be deemed ſuch a Loſs as will intitle him to recover; this Caſe ſeeming to be of a quite different Nature from a Recapture before the Ship Ship is carried into an Enemy's Port.——Verdict for the Plaintiff. Lex Merc. Red. 278. At Guildhall after Eaſt. 1746. Hewitt v. Flexney.

40. The Plaintiff having cauſed himſelf to be inſured 50 l. Intereſt or no Intereſt, free of Average, and without Benefit of Salvage, on the Proſperous Eſther, Captain Miln, from and immediately following her laſt Arrival at Maryland or Virginia, and to continue till her Arrival at London; and not caring to appear in it, he directed his Broker, Mr. Hart, to get the Policy made in his Name, which was accordingly done; and as ſhe was deemed a miſſing Ship, the Premium was after the Rate of 60 Guineas per cent.

The Ship ſailed on her Voyage from Virginia, and in forty Days after was taken by a French Privateer, about a hundred Leagues to the Weſtward of the Land's End, and was detained by the Enemy ſix Days at Sea, and then both Ship and Cargo ranſomed for 3500 l. but Captain Miln, inſtead of coming directly to London, whereto he was bound, on Pretence of bad Weather, put into Ilfracomb in Devonſhire, from whence he wrote to his Owner, Mr. Dick of London; but the ſaid Gentleman's Affairs being then unhappily ſituated, and having, prior to his Misfortunes, aſſigned the Ship and two Policies of Inſurance thereon to Mr. Alexander Black; who apprehending, by what Captain Miln wrote, that the Ship and Cargo were much damaged ſince the Capture, and therefore that the Value might fall ſhort of a Sufficiency to pay the Ranſom Bill, and incident Charges, he rather choſe to come upon the Inſurers for his Money, than to have the Trouble of taking the Ship and Cargo under his Care, and therefore abandoned the whole to Captain Miln, to enable him to pay the Ranſom Bill.

And thereupon Meſſ. Simonds of London Merchants, Agents for the Captors, ordered Captain Miln to carry the Ship and Cargo to Briſtol, there to be diſpoſed of, inſtead of bringing her to London; which was accordingly done, and, after paying the Captain and Sailors their Wages, amounting to upwards of 300*l.* the neat Proceeds fell ſhort of the Ranſom-bill, owing to the Damage ſhe received in her Voyage after the Capture.

The Defendant ſuppoſes this was a Gaming Policy, though the Plaintiff inſiſts upon its being a Reinſurance; and having applied to the Defendant, after underwriting, for his Conſent to have it declared ſo, he abſolutely refuſed to admit it.

The Plaintiff ſeemed to lay a good deal of Streſs on a ſuppoſed Indiſcretion in the Captain, by paying more for the Ship and Cargo than they were worth; but had they eſcaped the Damages ſubſequent to the Ranſom, they would undoubtedly have ſold for more than they coſt freeing, and never have been abandoned by the Owners.

The Plaintiff likewiſe inſiſts, that the Ship ſailed from Virginia, but never arrived at London, according to the Terms of the Policy, and therefore the Inſurance was due; but the Defendant pretends, that the Ships's putting in to Ilfracomb was a Deviation, and conſequently not within the Riſque of the Policy; and beſides, he thinks this is not to be conſidered as a total Loſs, in the Caſe of Intereſt and no Intereſt, as it is a mere Wager, whether the Ship arrives or not; the Ship did arrive in England, and is now in being, and this was a Ranſom at Sea, only for the Benefit of the concerned, but the Defendant could reap no Advantage by it, whether it was prudently done or not; and it might occaſionally have been more for his Intereſt, if the Ship had continued at Sea in the Enemy's Poſſeſſion, as there was a Chance of her being retaken before ſhe had been carried infra præſidia; and if ſhe had, and arrived ſafe, there would have been no Loſs within the Terms of the Policy; as he preſumes there is no Room to claim a Loſs in Caſes of Recapture. Several Merchants, Inſurers and Brokers, being of Opinion that on a Policy Intereſt or no Intereſt, a Capture at Sea is never conſidered as a total Loſs, unleſs the Prize is afterwards carried into the Enemy's Port, and that the abandoning the Ship and Cargo by the Owners, after her Arrival, will not alter the Caſe. The Jury found a Verdict for the Plaintiff. Lex Mercat. Red. 279. Trin. 1747. at Guildhall. Barclay v. Etherington.

41. This action was brought by the Plaintiff againſt the Defendant, on a Policy of Inſurance which the latter underwrote, ſo long ago as in November 1743, on the Ship George and Henry, Captain Bowlar, at and from Jamaica to London, Intereſt or no Intereſt, free of Average, and without the Benefit of Salvage to the Inſurers, with a Warranty annexed to the Policy, viz, Warranted the ſaid Ship to ſail from Jamaica with the Fleet that came out under Convoy of the Ludlow-Caſtle Man of War.

The ſaid Ship did ſail accordingly with the Fleet under the aforeſaid Convoy; but in a great Storm that happened ſome time after their ſailing, wherein many Ships were loſt, the George and Henry received ſo much Damage as obliged her to bear away for Charleſtown in South Carolina, where ſhe put in, and upon Examination was found quite unfit to put to Sea again; whereupon her Cargo was taken out and loaded aboard other Ships for London, and ſhe condemned and broke up.

In Conſequence of which, the Plaintiff demanded his Inſurance, and all the Underwriters being ſatisfied of the Truth of the aforementioned Fact, paid their Loſs, except the Defendant, who went ſo far as to ſettle it, and, according to Cuſtom, underwrote the Policy in the following Words and Figures: Adjuſted the Loſs on this Policy, at ninety-eight Pounds per Cent. which I do agree to pay one Month after Date. London, 5 July, 1745. Henry Gouldney.

When this Note became due, he thought himſelf no way bound by it, but inſiſted on fuller Proof; particularly of the Ship's ſailing under Convoy, as warranted, and of her Condemnation at Carolina; but it having been always the Cuſtom, that after ſuch Adjuſt-Adjuſtments as above, with Promiſe of Payment at a certain Day, are made between the Inſured and Inſurer, no farther Evidence is ever required, but the Loſs conſtantly paid; and it was upon this Account that a Verdict was found for the Plaintiff. And the Chief Juſtice conſidering it as a Note of Hand, declared that the Plaintiff had no Occaſion to enter into the Proof of the Loſs. Lex Mercat. Red. 280. at Guildhall, Trin. Term, 1745. Hog and Gould.

42. The Tyger, Captain Harriſon, being bound from London to Gibraltar, the Plaintiff got an Inſurance made on her, Intereſt or no Intereſt, free of Average and without Benefit of Salvage to the Inſurers; and at the Foot of the Policy there was a Warranty, that the Ship ſhould depart with Convoy from ſome Port in the Channel.

The ſaid Ship proceeded on her Voyage, as far as the Downs, and ſailed from thence under Convoy, as warranted; but ſoon after her Departure ſhe received a very conſiderable Damage, which obliged her to return to Dover Pier to refit; and after the neceſſary Affairs were finiſhed ſhe ſailed again in Proſecution of her Voyage, and for her Security therein, to join the Convoy at Spithead; but having got as far the Iſle of Wight, ſhe proved ſo leaky as obliged her to a ſecond Return, and ſhe once more arrived at Dover to ſearch for Leaks.

Her Owners, on this, thought it adviſeable to have her ſurveyed by Men of Skill and Judgment; and therefore two Ship Carpenters, and two Maſters of Ships, having examined her, declared that they had ſurveyed both Sides from Stern to Stern above the Wales, and the Tranſom, after the Planks were ripped off, and found the Timbers to be very rotten, and in ſo bad a Condition, that, except all her upper Works were pulled down and new built, they did not judge her in a fit Condition to proceed on her intended Voyage; and that if ſhe was ſo repaired, the Charges would come to more than ſhe would be worth, with all belonging to her.

The Plaintiff inſiſts that ſhe was a very good Ship when ſhe ſet out on her Voyage, and ſhe was only rendered otherwiſe by the bad Weather ſhe had met with, which at laſt not only rendered her unfit for her Voyage, but occaſioned her proving a total Loſs to her Owners; that ſhe would have weathered the Storm, in all Probability, unhurt, had not the Swift Privateer drove foul of her; that when her firſt Hurt was repaired, the Builder ſuppoſed her ſtronger than before the Storm; though when ſhe was laid open, her Tranſom (as before mentioned) and moſt of her long Timbers were found rotten, ſo that notwithſtanding it is poſſible ſhe might have performed her Voyage, yet had her Defects been known, no Body would have cared to venture in her.

Mr. Burton, who fitted her out in the Thames, declares ſhe was in a very good Condition, and fit for any Voyage; though he did not examine her Timbers, but only caulked her and mended her Outſide and Floor-Timbers; but it is natural to ſuppoſe that if her Timbers were found in October (when theſe Repairs were done) they could not have been rotten in January, when ſhe received her Damage.

And the Defendant grounds his Reaſons for not paying the ſaid Inſurance, firſt, on that Part of the Policy's Contents which aſſerts the Ship to be tight, ſtaunch, and ſtrong, and (barring future Accidents) able to go through the Voyage; whereas he ſuppoſes this Veſſel not to have been ſo, as he thinks is clear from the preceding Affidavit, and from the verbal Evidence of one of the Surveyors; to which he adds, in order to make the Proof of her Defects the ſtronger, that on her firſt ſetting out ſhe belonged to two Jews, who on her return to Dover Pier the firſt Time, ſold her to Mr. Richard Glover, a conſiderable Merchant of this City, who ordered her to be repaired, and actually laid out upon her 150 l. which, as it appears, was in a Manner thrown away, as on her ſecond return ſhe was condemned, broke up, and ſold in Parcels; and her Incapacity to proceed on her Voyage having having been ſo apparent, from the foregoing Survey, as to induce Mr. Glover to deſire the Shippers to take their Goods out, and though he had got 300 l. inſured on her, he ſeemed ſo ſenſible of the deceitful Bargain with the Jews, in ſelling him an old rotten Ship, that he never demanded one Farthing of the ſaid Inſurance from the Underwriters.

That the Plaintiff had no Intereſt in the Veſſel, and therefore this was only a gaming Policy; and as it is a general Rule in all Caſes of Intereſt or no Intereſt, that there muſt be a total Loſs before the Inſurer can recover, and the Inſurer by this Policy being free from Average, or a partial Loſs, it ſeems to be the principal Queſtion in this Caſe, whether the Ship brought into Dover Pier, there condemned as rotten, divided into Lotts and ſold, will be conſidered in the Agreement or Wager, as a total Loſs? And to enforce the contrary, the Defendant remarks, that there was no Loſs at Sea, no Capture, but a deliberate Act done by the Owner, upon a regular Survey, which occaſioned her being broke up, not by Reaſon of the Damage ſhe had received, but from the Rottenneſs of the principal Parts of her Works. Verdict for the Plaintiff. Lex Mercat. Red. 281. At Guildhall, Trin. 1747. Arnold v. Godin.

43. The Plaintiffs having received Orders from Mr. John Jones of Boſton in New-England, to make ſome Inſurance for him on the Repriſal, Captain Gowan, and alſo on her Goods and Freight at and from Cape Fear, in North Carolina, to Briſtol; underneath the Policy for the Ship only, was inſerted the ſubſequent Words or Declaration, viz. The following Inſurance is on the Ship only, valued at the Sum inſured, on which Part the Defendant underwrote 100 l.

The Ship ſailed from Cape Fear, with a Cargo of Pitch, Tar, &c. in Proſecution of her Voyage for Briſtol, and had got within an hundred and fifty Leagues to the Weſtward of Cape Clear in Ireland, when ſhe was attacked and taken by three French Ships bound for Newfoundland, where they carried her and her her Cargo to a French Port called Carpoon, after having firſt taken out all her Men, and diſperſed them aboard their own Ships.

On their Arrival at the aforeſaid Port, the Captors took out all her Pitch (being two hundred and three Barrels) ſome Tar, what Rice was aboard, &c. and after detaining her about three or four Weeks in the ſaid Port, the Captors offered Captain Gowen his Ship and remaining Cargo for 9500 Livres (about 425*l.* Sterling) which he accepted and became the Purchaſer thereof on thoſe Terms, leaving his Son as an Hoſtage for the Payment of the Ranſom.

The Ship departed from Carpoon for Briſtol, and on her Voyage met with very bad Weather, which broke her Rudder, and was forced to put into Appledore in Devonſhire (the firſt Port they could make with Safety) where the Captain, firſt and ſecond Mates, Boatſwain, and a Foremaſt-Man, made a Proteſt on their Oaths giving ſuch an Account as the preceding.

The Captain having purchaſed the Ship and Cargo, as before mentioned, on his Arrival at Appledore, applied to Mr. Perkins of Briſtol, to whom he was conſigned by Jones the Owner, who refuſed to pay the Ranſom-Money, or have any thing to do with the Ship or Cargo, and then the Captain came to London to the Inſurers; and thoſe who inſured on the Goods impowered and deſired him to ſell the Cargo for what he could, in order that if it produced more than the Ranſom, they might have the Benefit; but the Inſurers on the Ship would not intermeddle, or give any Directions about it.

The Captain returned to the Ship, and ſold that and the Cargo jointly, for above 130*l.* leſs than the Redemption-money, after deducting Charges, and he has been obliged to pay, or give Security for the Remainder to procure his Son's Liberty.

The Ship being thus taken and carried into an Enemy's Port, where ſhe was detained a conſiderable Time, and had great Part of her Cargo taken out by the Captors, and afterwards meeting with other Misfor-Misfortunes, which occaſioned her producing leſs than the Ranſom-money, and conſequently to prove a total Loſs, to be made good by the Inſurer.

The preceding is a State of the Caſe, and of the Plaintiff's Demands, who think themſelves entitled to a total Loſs, as the Policy was valued; but the Defendant on the contrary pretends, that as Part both of the Ship and Goods were ſaved, he is entitled to an Average, and not ſubject to an entire Loſs; but the Jury found a Verdict for the Plaintiff. *Lex Mercat. 44. The Plaintiff made an Inſurance in London on the Tryal Privateer, fitted out at Briſtol for two Calendar Months, wherever the Ship might then be, on a Cruize, or in any Port or Place whatſoever or whereſoever, the ſaid Ship to be valued at Intereſt or no Intereſt, free of Average, and without Benefit of Salvage.

The ſaid Privateer being fitted for a Cruize, ſailed from Briſtol on the 29th of May 1746, and ſome Days after ſhe was met by a French Privateer of a ſuperior Force, who attacked, and, after a brave Defence, took her.

She had been in the Enemy's Hands about eight Hours, without their removing any of her Men or Stores, when Admiral Martin with his whole Fleet appearing, retook the Tryal; and hearing of the gallant Behaviour both of the Captain and his Crew, they unanimouſly agreed to give up their Salvage to them, and accordingly drew up and ſigned an Inſtrument to that Purpoſe; and the Admiral ordered her to be furniſhed with all Neceſſaries, and ſent a Man of War Sloop to ſee her ſafe into Briſtol, where ſhe arrived the latter End of June, being between three and four Weeks before the Inſurance expired.

Theſe Circumſtances, the Plaintiff thinks, entitle him to a total Loſs, as the Voyage was overſet, and the Policy being on Intereſt or not, will admit of no Average.

The

The Defendant agrees to the laſt aſſertion, but for that very Reaſon inſiſts he has no Loſs to pay, as he is free from a partial one, and there can be no total one where the Ship is arrived, and, as he inſiſts, might have been fitted out again, before the limited Term of two Months expired, had the Owners not determined the contrary; and beſides, though the Ship was taken, yet as ſhe was never carried infrà præſidia of the Enemy, or was ſo taken as to be beyond a Poſſibility of a Recapture; and hath returned to Briſtol, ſo long Time before the two months expired, as was ſufficient to refit her in, the Defendant ſuppoſes that the Neglect of the Owners ought not to be imputed to the Underwriters, more eſpecially as ſeveral Ship-Builders attended to prove there was Time enough, as ſeveral Merchants did to give their Opinion in regard to the Loſs. Verdict for the Plaintiff. Lex Mercat. Red. 283. At Guildhall, Mich. Term, 1749. Jenkins v. Mackenzie.

45. The Plaintiff was Owner of the Ship Love and Unity, which he let out to Freight to one Bateman Humphreys, for a Voyage to Lisbon and back again. and the Freighter was by Charter-Party obliged to victual and man her, which he did accordingly, putting in the Maſter and Crew, and embarking himſelf, proceeded on his Voyage, and arrived ſafe at Lisbon; he delivered the outward-bound Cargo, and put the Ship up for London, in hopes of getting a Freight home; on Advice of which the Owner and Plaintiff got her inſured, at and from Lisbon to Graveſend warranted to ſail with Convoy.

The Freighter being at Lisbon, meditated a Fraud, which iniquitous Scheme he perpetrated in the following Manner, viz. he made up Rolls of Lead about the Size of Moidores, Six and Thirties and Three Pound Twelves, packed up and ſealed as ſuch Monies are uſually packed up and ſealed, and made Packages likewiſe in Imitation of thoſe of Diamonds, and ſent them on board, and took Bills of Loading from the Captain as for real Money and Diamonds, ſent thoſe Bills of Loading home to different Merchants, and drew conſiderable Sums upon the Credit of them, as well as large Inſurances, in order, as it is ſuppoſed, to have loſt the Ship in the Voyage home, and make the Inſurers pay as though ſuch Effects had actually been on board; but the Captain, as it is imagined, ſuſpecting ſomething of the Fraud before the Ship ſailed, opened one or more of the Lackages, and diſcovered the Cheat, finding nothing but Lead and Glaſs, inſtead of Gold and Diamonds, of which he giving Information to the Engliſh Conſul there, the Freighter run away, and the Captain and Crew left the Ship, the Captain coming to England.

The Plaintiff on knowing what had occurred, by the Maſter's Arrival, immediately applied to the Inſurers, and deſired them to ſend to Lisbon for the Ship, or furniſh him with Money to go and fetch her; but they were of Opinion, and accordingly told him ſo, that as the Ship was at the Port ſhe was inſured from, and had proceeded on her Voyage, it was the Buſineſs of the Owner, not the Inſurers, to find Maſter and Mariners to navigate her; the Conſequence of which was that the Ship lay there neglected till ſhe was broke to Pieces, whereupon the Plaintiff brought this Action for the Recovery of a total Loſs.

The Defendant thinks himſelf not obliged, as he preſumes the Words in the Policy at and from, can only mean to give the Ship leave to ſtay at the Port a reaſonable Time to procure a Lading and take it in, and not to lie there till ſhe rots without attempting the Voyage, as this would be to make the Inſurer at all Events liable, ſooner or later, whereas he ſuppoſed he undertook a Riſque of two or three Months only. Verdict for the Plaintiff. Lex Mercat. Red. 284. At Guildhall, Hill. 1747. Boutflower v. Wilmer.

46. If Goods be lawfully inſured, and afterwards the Veſſel is diſabled, by reaſon of which, with the Conſent of the Merchant, they are put into another Ship, Ship, which, after Arrival, proves an Enemy's Ship, and by reaſon thereof is ſubject to Seizure; in this Caſe the Inſurers ſhall anſwer, for that is ſuch an Accident as is within the Intention of the Policy of Inſurance, where the Policy mentions againſt Dangers of the Sea, Enemies, &c. as Policies generally do. Vin. Ab. Tit. Policy of Aſſurance, 17. cites Gen. Treat. of Trade, 76.

47. If by Lightning the Goods which are put into the Boat or Lighter periſh, the Ship and remaining Goods in the Ship ſhall anſwer for the ſame. But on the contrary, if the Ship and remaining Goods periſh after the Boat or Lighter is once ſafe, no Contribution ſhall be on the Goods in the Lighter; for the Law is, that the Goods ſhall only be liable to Contributions, when Ship and Goods are ſafely arrived at their intended Port of Diſcharge. According to this Rule the Aſſurer is to anſwer for Contribution pro rata of the Sum by him aſſured. Malynes's Lex Mercat. 117.

48. As to an Aſſurer's being liable to the Adventure of Goods ſhipped from one Ship into another; ſometimes in Policies of Aſſurances it happens, that upon ſome ſpecial Conſideration this Clauſe forbidding the transferring of Goods is inſerted; becauſe in Time of Hoſtility or Wars between Princes, it might fall out to be unladen in the Ships of thoſe contending Princes, whereby the Adventure would be far more hazardous. But according to the uſual Aſſurances, which are made generally without any Exception, the Aſſurer is liable thereunto; for it is underſtood that the Maſter of a Ship without ſome good and accidental Cauſe would not put the Goods from one Ship to another, but would deliver them (according to the Charter-party) at the appointed Place, which is the Cauſe that when Aſſurance is made upon ſome particular Goods laden in ſuch a Ship, under ſuch a Mark, the Policy maketh mention of the Goods laden to be tranſported and delivered to ſuch a Place by the Ship, or by any other Ship or Veſſel, until they be ſafely landed. So that in all theſe and the like the Condition makes the Law. Mal. Lex. Mercat. 118.

49. If Goods are inſured in ſuch a Ship, and afterwards in the Voyage it happens ſhe becomes leaky or receives other Damages, and the Supercargo and Maſter agree to freight another Veſſel for the ſafe Delivery of the Goods; and then after her relading, the ſecond Veſſel is loſt, the Aſſurers are diſcharged: But if there be theſe Words, the Goods laden to be tranſported and delivered at ſuch a Place by the ſaid Ship, or by any other Ship or Veſſel until they be ſafely landed then the Inſurers muſt anſwer the Misfortune. Molloy, B. 2. C. 7. §. 11. cites Leg. ult. ad Rhod. Digeſt. Paulus, Lib. 14. Tit. 2. §. 10.

50. If an Inſurance be made on a Ship generally, and the Name of the Ship is expreſſed, according to the ſaid Policy of Aſſurance made upon the very Keel of the Ship of ſuch a Burthen, this Aſſurance does not extend to the Goods laden in the ſame, when the Ship is only named and no Goods at all. Mal. Lex. Mer. 116.

51. A Ship is inſured for more than ſhe is worth, the Money may be recovered on any Loſs happening, where the Policy of Aſſurance is well made, and it is declared therein that the Owner did value his Ship in ſuch a Sum, And where a Merchant valued one Barrel of Saffron at 1000*l.* having privately put ſo much in Gold in the ſame, the Gold was taken, but the Saffron was delivered; here the Aſſurers were obliged to pay for the Gold. The like is to be done for Pearls or other Things ſo valued. Gen. Treat. of Trade, 74.

52. A Policy of Aſſurance was drawn from Arch-Angel to Leghorn, and aſſumpſit being brought upon it, the Defendant ſaid, that the Agreement before the Subſcription was, that the Adventure ſhould begin but from the Downs; but this Agreement was not put into Writing. This being but a mere parol Agreement, may be altered or diſcharged by Agreement by Parol; but without it be put into Writing, it ſhall be taken that the Policy ſpeaks the Minds of the Parties; for Policies are Things well known, and go as far as Trade goes; and to ſuffer them to be defeated by Agreements not appearing, is to leſſen their Credit, and to make them of no Value, which yet are countenanced by two ſeveral Acts of Parliament. That the Party may as well ſay, he is to have ten Guineas Premium, though the Policy ſays but three, as to ſay he inſured but from ſuch a Place, viz. the Downs, when the Policy ſays it was from Archangel. Pemberton ſaid that Policies were ſacred Things, and that a Merchant ſhould no more be allowed to go from what he had ſubſcribed in them, than he that ſubſcribes a Bill of Exchange payable at ſuch a Day, ſhall be allowed to go from it, and ſay it was agreed to be upon a Condition, &c. when it may be that the Bill had been negotiated; for though neither of them are Specialties, yet they are of great Credit, and very much for the Support, Conveniency and Advantage of Trade. Skin. 54, 55. Trin. 34 Car. 2. *B. 53. If a Ship was laden at Aleppo, and comes to Meſſina, that ſhe may be inſured, the Adventure is to begin from Meſſina; but then it muſt be expreſſed, nay, it need not be expreſſed that ſhe was laden at Aleppo (though the Opinion of ſome Merchant was ſo) as Pemberton, Chief Juſtice, ſaid; but if the Inſurance was of Goods laden at Aleppo, and they were indeed laden at Meſſina, it might make a Difference. Skin. 54. Trin. 34 Car. 2. In Caſe of Kaines v. Sir Robert Knightly, ſays this was allowed.

55. If a Ship be inſured under Captain J. S. the Part-owners may change the Captain without Notice to the Inſurers. Quære tamen; for it might be the Confidence and Knowledge of the Captain might be an Encouragement to the Inſurers. Per Holt. 12 Mod. 325. Anon.

56. In the Caſe of an Inſurance loſt or not loſt, in the Year 1583, there was a rich Ship, called the St. Peter, coming from the Eaſt Indies for Lisbon, miſſing a long Time, and Inſurance was made upon her at Antwerp and other Places at thirty per cent. Within three Years after there arrived at Lisbon a ſmaller Ship very richly laden, which was made out of the other Ship which was caſt aſhore on a certain Iſland abroad; and thereupon divers Controverſies did ariſe between the Owners of the Goods and the Aſſurers, as alſo the Maſter and Mariners. At laſt it was adjudged by the Sea Laws, that the Maſter and Mariners ſhould have one third Part, and the Aſſurers ſhould come in for ſo much pro rata as they had aſſured, all Charges deducted, and the Ship to belong to the Owners of the former Ship; with the like Conſiderations as aforeſaid. Vin. Ab. Tit. Policy of Aſſurance, 42. cites Gen. Treat. of Trade, 72. Mal. Lex Mercat. 106, 108.

57. A London Merchant cauſed a Ship at Calais to be freighted for Lisbon, and to return back again to Calais or London; and the Ship going to Lisbon was there laden with Sugar, Pepper, and other Commodities to come for London; whereupon the Merchant cauſed 6000 French Crowns to be inſured on her at Roan; and it happened that the Ship was caſt away upon the Coaſt of France in coming homewards, and all the Goods were loſt; and Intimation of this was made to the Aſſurers, and all the Proof concerning the lading of the ſaid Ship was ſent to the Commiſſioners of Aſſurances at Roan: But upon examining the Bills of Lading which declared truly the Quality and Quantity of the Goods, the Merchant's Factor at Lisbon (conſidering it was a dangerous Time of War, and the Merchant living in London) left the Place of the Ship's Diſcharge in Blank, and by Letters over Land gave him Notice of it, which which was made apparent. Here, after the Examination of the Sea Laws and Cuſtoms, and conſulting experienced Merchants, it was determined that the Inſurers ſhould be diſcharged, and make only a Reſtitution of the Money received by them for the Premium, out of which they abated 10*s.* for every 100*l.* for their ſubſcribing to the Policy of Inſurance. Gen. Treat. of Trade 72, 73 cites Lex Mercat. 112. The Caſe of Gerard Malynes Merchant.

58. Upon a ſpecial Verdict the Caſe in Subſtance appeared to be this: Aſſievedo had inſured ſo much Money upon a Ship called the Ruth for ſuch a Voyage, in which Ship Aſſievedo is found by the Verdict not to be at all concerned in Point of Intereſt. It happened that this Ship was taken by the Enemy, and kept in their Poſſeſſion for nine Days, and then, before it was carried infra præſidia, viz. a Place of Safety, it was retaken by an Engliſh Man of War: And whether or no this was ſuch a Taking, as ſhould enable the Plaintiff to recover the Sum inſured againſt Cambridge, was the Queſtion.

It was argued by Dr. Floyer for the Plaintiff, and Dr. Henchman for the Defendant.

The Subſtance of the Argument for the Plaintiff was, that this was rather to be eſteemed a Wager than an Inſurance; a Spei emptio & venditio, and not a Verſio periculi, which, in the Books of the Civil Law, is looked upon as a proper Definition of an Inſurance: That therefore whatever Acts of Parliament are made about Inſurances, muſt be underſtood of proper Inſurances, and not Inſurances of the Goods of Strangers; That whether or no this is ſuch a Taking as will diveſt the Property out of the Owners, is a Queſtion properly between them and the Retakers. But the Queſtion beween Aſſievedo and Cambridge, is only whether the Ship be taken.

This Caſe was compared to a Man laying a Wager that he ſhould not be robbed in going to ſuch a Place; he is robbed, but, taking ſome Perſons along with him, purſues the Robber, and recovers what he loſt:

Here, though the Money is recovered, yet the Wager is loſt.

So if the Wager had been, that ſuch Perſons ſhould not be married together; they are married, and afterwards divorced præcontractus cauſa; yet the Wager is loſt.

It was ſaid further, that, without this Expoſition, Cambridge would have two Chances, viz. that it is not taken, or that it is retaken; but Aſſievedo would have but one, viz. the taking.

Grotius, in his Treatiſe de jure belli & pacis, Lib. 3. Cap. 6. Sect. 3. lays this down as a Rule, Placuit gentibus, ut is cepiſſe rem intelligatur, qui ita detinet ut recuperandi ſpem probabilem alter amiſerit. Now, in our Caſe, the Ship was for nine Days in the Poſſeſſion of the Enemy.

By the Laws of Spain and France, a Continuance in the Poſſeſſion of the Enemy for twenty four Hours is an Alteration of the Property; and Albericus Gentilis tells us, that a Pernoctation with the Enemy would, by our old Engliſh Law, alter the Property. And Grotius, immediately after the Place before mentioned, ſays, that recentiori jure gentium inter Europæos populos introductum videmus, ut talia capta cenſeantur, ubi per horas viginti quatuor in poteſtate hoſtium fuerint.

For the Defendant it was argued, that ſurely the Law would not put an Inſurer non bona fide, or a Wagerer, in a better Condition than one that inſured bona fide, and ſay that any thing ſhall enable a Wagerer to recover; but that no Taking, but ſuch as alters the Property, ſhall enable a real bona fide Inſurer to recover.

This Queſtion in the Court of Admiralty would not have borne a diſpute; for the Law is clear, that not Length of Time, but the bringing infra præſidia into a Place of Safety, is that which diveſts the Property. And for that the Caſe of———and Sands in the late War was cited; where the Ship was taken by Dubart in the Year 1691 off of Yarmouth, carried to North-

Northbergen, then ſold to A. afterwards ſold to B. B. ſends her to the Weſt Indies, afterwards to France, and in the Year 1695 to England; where ſhe being retaken, it was reſolved that the Property was not altered. The Words of the Judgment in this, and the like Caſes, are very remarkable: In præſenti pertinere, is Part of the Sentence; ſo that the Sentence does not give a new Right, but confirms an old one.

In the Civil Law Alteration of Property is a Thing of an odious Nature; and therefore the Law even by a Fiction prevents it, as in the Jus Poſtliminium; where, in order to preſerve Property in the Perſon returning Jure Poſtliminii, the Law eſteems him never to have been a Captive, that ſo manente cive maneant ſua bona.

Lud. Molin. de Juſtitia, in diſputatione 118. Prioribus Dominis reſtituenda quæ capta fuerint a militibus, quibus numerantur ſtipendia. Bello res per vim uſurpantur, quando ad locum tutum, &c.

Petrinus Bellus, Pat. 3. No. 11. de Poſtliminii Jure reverſis. Inſuper ſciendum, hoſtibus capta non ſtatim hoſtium fieri. Milites dicunt, that Things ſo long in the Poſſeſſion of the Enemy eorum fieri: Jura hoc non dicunt, cum fieri poteſt that the Property may be altered by the Poſſeſſion of a ſhorter time, & forſan not altered diuturniori poſſeſſione.

Conſulat. del mare, Cap. 287. A Book of great Authority lays down the Security of the Place into which deducuntur capta, as that which cauſes the Alteration of Property: Otherwiſe, after a proper Reward for the Retakers, prioribus, &c.

Albericus Gentilis, in the Place quoted by the Advocate for the Plaintiff, has for his Title theſe Words: Rem non fieri hoſtis ante deductionem infra præſidia: and his Determination is purſuant to his Title, and expreſsly againſt what the Doctor quoted.

Grotius, Lib 3. Cap. 9. Sect. 16. Eæ vero res, quæ infra præſidia perductæ nondum ſunt, quanquam ab hoſtibus occupatæ, ideo poſtliminio non egent, quia dominum nondum mutárunt ex gentium jure.

As

As for the Quotation out of Grotius, Recentiori jure, &c. Grotius builds there upon a miſtaken Foundation; for he quotes Albericus Gentilis, Lib. 3. and there is no third Book. Indeed in Cap. 3. Lib. 1. there is ſomething like it; Grotius quoted there Part of an Argument without conſidering the Concluſion, which is directly againſt his Quotation: Perductionem omnino deſiderant omnia, ſays the Book.

The Court ſeemed to be of Opinion for the Defendant. They thought, that the Plaintiff's being found by the Verdict to have no Intereſt in the Ship which he inſured, ſhould make no Difference.

1ſt, Becauſe they would never be more favourable to an Inſurer non bona fide, or Wagerer, than to one that inſured bona fide.

2dly, Becauſe to make a different Interpretation of this Deed from what is commonly put upon Policies of Inſurance, would be to run counter to the Deſigns of the Parties, who have made uſe of the very ſame Words that are uſed in ſuch Policies; nay, who have expreſly provided for this very Caſe by theſe Words, Intereſt or no Intereſt; which Words ſignify nothing at all, unleſs the ſame Loſs intitles to a Recovery where the Inſurer has no Intereſt, and where he has; and that the Property is not altered by the taking, they held to be very plain.—To be argued next Term by common Lawyers. Luc. 77. Hill. 10 Anne, B. R. Aſſievedo v. Cambridge.

59. Aſſumpſit upon a Policy of Inſurance, where the Defendant inſured the Plaintiff, Intereſt or no Intereſt, againſt all Enemies, Pirates, Takings at Sea, and all other Damages whatſoever. And upon Trial it appeared, that the Ship was taken by a Pirate of Sweden, and was in his Poſſeſſion for nine Days, and, then was retaken by an Engliſh Man of War, and after the Suit commenced, brought into Harwich. And the Queſtion was, whether in ſuch Caſe the Defendant was reſponſible?

And it was reſerved by the Chief Juſtice for the Opinion of the Court; and, after Argument by Serjeant jeant Whitaker for the Plaintiff, and by Dr. Henchman for the Defendant, it was determined for the Plaintiff.

For though it was objected that the Inſurer was only reſponſible where the Plaintiff had a Property, and that the Term of inſuring Intereſt or no Intereſt was introduced ſince the Revolution; yet it was ſaid that ſuch Inſurance was good, and the Import of it is, that the Plaintiff has no Occaſion to prove his Intereſt, and that the Defendant cannot controvert that.

And though the Ship was here retaken, yet the Plaintiff received a Damage, for his Voyage was interrupted; and the Queſtion is not, whether the Plaintiff had his Ship, and did not loſe his Property; but what Damage he ſuſtained. Comyns 360. Mich. 7 Geo. 1. Depaba v. Ludlow.

60. Upon a ſpecial Verdict in an Action brought on a Policy of Inſurance, and the general Iſſue of non aſſumpſit pleaded, it appeared that the Defendant had underwrote the Policy in queſtion, as an Inſurer upon a Ship called the Salamander, being a Privateer Ship for a coaſting Voyage for three Months. It appeared that this Ship was taken by a French Man of War, but was afterwards retaken, and, upon Payment of proper Salvage, was reſtored to the Owners.—The Breach aſſigned in the Declaration was on the Capture within the three Months; and the general Queſtion appeared to be, Whether the Plaintiff could be intitled to Judgment upon ſuch a Caſe? Lee Chief Juſtice ſaid, that though this ſpecial Verdict was found with a View to determine, whether there was any Change or Alteration in the Property of the Ship, yet the Court were all of Opinion, that they ought not to determine the Merits of this Caſe by that Queſtion, but upon the Policy itſelf, as the Contract of the Parties, and upon the Intention of the Parties appearing therein. For though, by the Civil Law, there muſt be a Loſs of Property to intitle a Perſon inſured to recover againſt the Inſurer; yet that is not ſo in our Law, which judges upon the Contract itſelf ſelf, and the Intention of the Parties appearing therein. He cited a Caſe of Depaba and Ludlow, Comyns, 360. (the preceding Caſe) as one in Point, but ſaid he had a Manuſcript Note of the Caſe, and the Judgment of the Court, by which it appears that that Caſe is but imperfectly reported in Comyns:——That the Court were all of Opinion the Plaintiff had aſſigned a Breach, upon which he is entitled to recover. For though the Loſs in this Caſe is ſuch as does not intirely deprive the Inſured of the Ship, yet he has ſuſtained a Loſs by the Capture and Detention of the Ship; which is within that Part of the Policy which inſures againſt all Captures and Detentions.——And to ſhew that it is not neceſſary there ſhould be an intire Loſs to intitle the Plaintiff to recover, he cited the Caſe of Bond and Gonſales (P. 171.) 2 Salk. 445. (See P. 171.) and another Caſe in Salk. 444. (See P. 172.) Judgment for the Plaintiff. N. B. The Inſurance was Intereſt or no Intereſt, but no Weight was laid upon this in giving the Judgment of the Court. Dict. Tr. and Com. Pond. v. King. 21 Geo. 2. This Caſe is more fully reported in the following Paragraph.

61. The Plaintiff, being concerned in the Salamander Privateer, made Inſurance on her, as well in his own Name, as for and in the Name and Names of all and every other Perſon or Perſons, to whom the ſame did, might, or ſhould appertain, in Part or in all, loſt or not loſt, at and from the Downs or elſewhere, to any Ports or Places whatſoever, for and during the Space of three Calendar Months, to commence from the 21ſt December 1744, upon the Body, Tackle, &c. of the ſaid Ship; and to continue until the ſaid Ship, with her Tackle, &c. ſhould be arrived at, as above mentioned, and there had moored at Anchor 24 Hours in good Safety; and it ſhould be lawful for the ſaid Ship in that Voyage to proceed and ſail to, and touch, and ſtay at, any Ports or Places whatſoever, without Prejudice to that Inſurance; the ſaid Ship, &c. for ſo much as concerned the Aſſured, was and ſhould be valued at Intereſt, or no Intereſt;

free of Average, and without Benefit of Salvage to the Aſſurers. Touching the Adventure, &c. which they the Aſſurers were contented to bear, and did take upon them in that Voyage, &c. and in caſe the ſaid Ship ſhould not be heard of in twelve Months after the Expiration of the above-mentioned three months, the Aſſurers agreed to pay the Loſs, and the Aſſured to repay the ſame, if afterwards the ſaid Ship ſhall be heard of in Safety. The Defendant underwrote two different hundred Pounds, at ſeparate Times, on the aforeſaid Policy, and the Ship proceeded on her Voyage on the 24th of December, as above-mentioned, and was taken by the French on the 2d of February following, after an Engagement of more than an Hour with a much ſuperior Force, and after ſeveral of her Men were killed and wounded; and being thus conquered, 117 of her Men (including the Captain and all the Officers) moſt of her ſmall Arms and the Commiſſions were removed into the Enemy's Ship, and carried into France, leaving only 17 Engliſh on board the Salamander (of which five ſoon after died of their Wounds) and two French Officers, with 24 of their Men; and the ſaid Ship was in Poſſeſſion of theſe their Adverſaries, from Four of the Clock in the Afternoon of the ſaid 2d Day of February until Five of the Clock in the Afternoon of the 5th Day of the ſame Month, during all which Time ſhe was abſolutely in the Power of the Enemy, and was at the laſt mentioned Period retaken by the Hunter Privateer, Captain Richard Veale, who put 30 of his Men and two Officers on board her, and kept her cruizing with him for eight Days, when the ſaid Captain Veale engaged and took a French Privateer, with which, together with his own Ship and the Salamander, he endeavoured to gain ſome Port in England or Ireland; but the Wind and Weather not permitting, he carried them all to Liſbon (a neutral Port) where he lay a conſiderable Time; during which Captain Veale took out of the Salamander two Carriage Guns, and thirty hundred Weight of Bread for his Ship's Uſe;

Uſe; and the Captain of the Durſley Privateer (being in Partnerſhip with the Hunter) alſo took out two Carriage Guns for the Uſe of his Ship: Of all which Captain Veale made a Manifeſto, and ſent it to his Owners, that they might be accountable for them where they ought.

Captain Veale inſtituted a Suit in the Vice-Admiralty Court at Gibraltar, againſt the ſaid Ship the Salamander, &c. and on the 29th of April 1745, obtained a Decree from the Judge thereof, that the ſaid Ship, &c. ſhould be reſtored to her rightful Owners, they, paying in lieu of Salvage, one third Part of the full, true and real Value thereof, free and clear from all Charges and Deductions whatſoever; but as her Capture had intirely overſet her Voyage before the Expiration of the three Months, for which ſhe was inſured, the Plaintiff demanded the Inſurance of the Defendant, which being denied, he ſued him for the ſame; and on the Trial at Guildhall, the Jury brought in their Verdict ſpecial; which occaſioned its being argued before the Judges of the King's Bench in Hil. Term, 1746, and the Diſpute in queſtion ſeemed to turn on this Point, viz. Whether a Policy made free of Average can affect the Inſurer, but by a total Loſs? This was ſtrongly urged in Favour of the Defendant, whoſe Counſel ſuppoſed that the Re-capture prevented the total Loſs, which would have happened, had the Enemy carried her into France; and that he was freed by the Policy from Payment of the Average ordered to be paid in lieu of Salvage; ſo that conſequently the Plaintiff's Demand on him was ill founded and unjuſt: But the Arguments on the contrary Side being ſtrong and concluſive, I ſhall tranſcribe the greateſt Part of them. And the Queſtions now upon this ſpecial Verdict are two; one to be conſidered upon the firſt, the other on the ſecond Count in the Declaration.

1ſt, Whether the Property of the Prize was diveſted by the taking: And, 2dly, Whether, as it was found that the Voyage was totally broke, and the Purpoſe thereof defeated by the Capture, and no Reſtitution made to the Owners, there is not a Breach of the Policy, ſufficient to give the Plaintiff a Right of Action, notwithſtanding the Recapture; and though the Property be not changed, and the Inſurance be made free of Average.

2dly,

1ſt, It is found that the Ship was taken by Enemies as a Prize, and that 117 Men (including the Captain and Officers) with the greateſt Part of the ſmall Arms, Commiſſion, &c. were carried into France, and only 17 Men were left on board, all of which, except three, were wounded, and five of them died ſoon after; ſo that they were not able to navigate the Ship: But two French Officers, and 24 Men were put on board, and the ſaid Ship ſo conquered remained in the Poſſeſſion of the Enemy from the 2d to the 5th of February, and, during all that Time, was abſolutely in their Power; and that thereby the Voyage inſured was totally prevented.

Theſe Facts, according to the Laws of France, Spain, Holland, Sweden, and other European Nations, are ſufficient to diveſt the Property of the Prize; but, according to the Opinion of ſome Writers, who draw their Notions from the Rule of the Civil Law, the Property of a Ship taken at Sea, is not diveſted, till the Prize is brought infra fines, or infra præſidia capientium.

If the Queſtion therefore is to be determined by the preſent Law of Nations, it is with the Plaintiff; for thereby the Property of a Prize is changed by a firm Poſſeſſion of 24 Hours. But if by the Opinion of certain Doctors of the Civil Law it is againſt the Plaintiff, the Prize not being brought infra fines hoſtium.

It ſeems to be agreed by all the contending Writers upon this Queſtion, that the legal Principle which veſts the Property of a Prize, is ſuch a Taking as enables the Captor to retain and defend the Poſſeſſion; but but their Diſpute is concerning what Circumſtance is declarative of ſuch Ability; and upon this Head it is that a Variety of Difficulties have aroſe.

Van Bynkerſhock, ſpeaking to this, ſays, Quando autem ita adepti, videamur poſſeſſionem ut retinere vel non retinere poſſimus, cauſarum varietas definire non permittit.

They all agree, that when the ſpes probabilis recuperandi is loſt, or the Parties may be ſaid depoſuiſſe animum recuperandi, the Property becomes the Captor's.

But they cannot ſettle what ſhall be Evidence thereof, though they confeſs it would be beneficial to the Public, and reaſonable in itſelf, to put an End to an Infinity of Litigation by reducing the Queſtion to a Certainty; yet, notwithſtanding ſo neceſſary an End is fully agreed upon, the Means leading to it are not. The Doctors, adhering zealouſly to the Rules of the Civil Law, contend, that the Criterion for determining the Queſtion ſhall be a bringing the Prize infra præſidia; the Law of Nations regarding rather the general Intereſt and Convenience of the Subjects, and to give all poſſible Encouragement in the Time of War for the retaking of Prizes from the Enemy, hath ordained that a Poſſeſſion of 24 Hours ſhall be ſufficient.

And now it is for the Judgment of the Court, to which Side they will pay the Deference; that is, whether to the Opinions of ſuch Doctors as Albericus Gentilis, Petrinus Bellus, and Van Bynkerſhock, or to the Law and conſtant Practice uſed in other Nations.

If they adhere to the Doctors, the Queſtion is not finally ſettled amongſt them; for ſome contend, that there muſt be a bringing intra fines capientium, others only infra claſſem, and ſome into a neutral Port, &c. and ſome go ſo far as to ſay, that after a bringing intra præſidia, there muſt be a ſailing to a new Deſtination.

But by the Law of Nations of modern or later Inſtitution, the Certainty ſought for is definitive, viz. a Poſſeſſion

Poſſeſſion of twenty-four Hours; and the Authorities to prove the Law of Nations on this Queſtion are,

As by the Law of other Nations a Poſſeſſion of 24 Hours undoubtedly diveſts the Property of a Prize, one might conclude, that as this Queſtion has not been judicially determined by this Court, it would be reaſonable to put the Subjects of England upon the ſame Footing with thoſe of France, Spain, Holland, Sweden, &c. eſpecially in mercantile Contracts, which ought to have the ſame Conſtruction in one trading Country as another; and more eſpecially as this Kind of Inſurance, Intereſt or not, is a Branch of Trade peculiar to us: But if this will not do, the Queſtion upon the ſecond Count is to be conſidered, which is,

Whether upon this Count there hath not been a Breach of the Policy or Contract of Inſurance, ſufficient to give the Plaintiff a Right of Action upon Intereſt or not?

It is found, that the Prize was fitted out to cruize againſt the King's Enemies: That all her Men, except ſeventeen as aforeſaid, were taken and carried into France, and thoſe left not able to navigate the Ship; that the Voyage deſcribed in the Policy was thereby totally prevented; and that at the Time of the Verdict the Ship remained at Lisbon, not reſtored to the Owners.

This ſeems to be a Breach, taking the Policy either upon the Foot of a Contract or Wager.

Conſidering

Conſidering it as a Contract, the Agreement is, that the Ship ſhall not be prevented in her Voyage by any of the Perils or Risks in the Policy, amongſt which are all Surpriſals at Sea, Arreſts, Reſtraints, and Detainments of all Kings, Princes, and People whatſoever; and here has been a Surpriſal at Sea, and a Detention, whereby the whole Voyage inſured was totally broke, as is found by the Verdict; and this is a much ſtronger Caſe than Depaba and Ludlow (Parag. 59. of this Section) where the Court for very good Reaſons determined unanimouſly for the Plaintiff, as appears by the Judgment of Lord Chief Juſtice King, delivered as the Opinion of the whole Court; whereby it alſo appears, that a total Loſs is not neceſſary in all Caſes to give the Plaintiff a Right of Action upon a Policy, Intereſt or not.

The Defendant's Counſel inſiſted in his Argument, that as the Policy was made free of Average, nothing could affect the Inſurer but a total Loſs, becauſe all other Loſſes are included within the Import of Average by the Words of the Contract.

This is a Miſtake, and appears to be ſo from the Words of the Policy, which immediately follow, viz. and without Benefit of Salvage to the Inſurer. If nothing but a Loſs of the whole could affect the Inſurer, it is not conſiſtent he ſhould renounce the Benefit of Salvage; for what could he have to do with Salvage, in caſe he was chargeable if any thing was ſaved?

This, therefore, is a Conſtruction not warrantable, being abſolutely inconſiſtent with the expreſs Words of the Policy, which are, free of Average, and without Benefit of Salvage to the Aſſurer.

And as ſuch a Conſtruction is inconſiſtent, another is to be ſought which is not ſo repugnant, and which may permit the Words before-mentioned to ſtand with more propriety; and this may be done by confining the Import of Average to a Limitation: And the Definition of Average in the firſt Article of the Ordinance of Fontainbleau touchant la

Marine, titre Avaries, eſtabliſhes ſuch a Limitation of the Import of this Word, as will give it a conſiſtent place, as it ſtands in a Policy of Inſurance. It is by the ſaid Ordinance defined thus: Toute depenſe extraordinaire qui ſe fera pour les navires & marchandiſes, conjointement ou ſeparement, & tout dammage qui leur arrivera depuis leur charge & depart juſques à leur retour & dechargement, ſeront reputez avaries. Ordon. of 1681. Tit. 7. des Avaries.

And it is certain the true Import of the Word Average, is, ſuch Damages as happen to the Ship or Cargo during the Voyage, as the Loſs of Anchors, Maſts, Cables, &c. but that which breaks up the Voyage, as in this Caſe a Capture by Enemies, whereby the whole End, Purpoſe, and Deſign of the Cruize was abſolutely defeated by the actual taking of all the Men, Arms, Proviſions, Commiſſion, Officers, &c. cannot, from the obvious Nature, Circumſtances, and Reaſon of the Thing, and the Authority of the Caſe of Depaba and Ludlow, be eſteemed barely as an Average to which the Inſurer is not liable, but muſt be conſidered as a total Breach of the Contract of Inſurance to which he is liable.

If the Conſtruction contended for by the Defendant was to prevail, the Inſurer would rather be indemnified from, than ſubjected to the Perils inſured againſt; for if a Taking happens at the Beginning of a Voyage inſured from one Port to another, or for a Time only, and the Voyage be thereby broke up, or the Time elapſed, the Recovery of the Ship will ruin the Inſured, and be a general Releaſe to the Inſurer, who will alſo be thereby indemnified from all the Risks in the Policy; whereby, if no ſuch Capture had happened, the Ship might have been loſt, and a Capture and Detention, breaking up the Voyage inſured, might put the Inſurer in a better Condition than if there had been no Capture at all, which cannot be the meaning of the Parties, being inconſiſtent with the apparent Deſign of an Inſurance.

Beſides,

Beſides, in this Caſe, the Ship inſured is not to this Hour, as appears by the Verdict, reſtored to the Owners, neither is it worth their while to pay Salvage and Charges, and raiſe Men to bring her home; and ſuppoſe they had, and ſhe had been taken again by the Enemy, the Time of Inſurance was expired, and the Inſurer in ſuch Caſe would have ſaid he was not liable. Therefore the Loſs in queſtion muſt be conſidered as a total Breach of the Policy, and not as a bare Average.

1ſt, Here was a Taking and a Detention.

2dly, All the Men, Commiſſion, &c. taken and carried into France, and never retaken.

3dly, Though the Ship was retaken, yet ſhe was not reſtored, and poſſibly never may.

4thly, If reſtored, her Men, Arms, Proviſions, &c. being taken, could not purſue the Purpoſe of the Voyage, and therefore the Inſured may abandon the Benefit of Salvage.

5thly, The Verdict has found the Voyage was thereby totally defeated, and that is ſufficient.

There are many Caſes where the Plaintiff on a Policy, Intereſt or no Intereſt, has recovered, though no total Loſs of the Ship, but becauſe by the Perils in the Policy, ſhe was rendered unable to perform the Voyage, as in the Caſe of the Ludlow-Caſtle, and the Caſe of the Providence, between Carter and Barrel, where the Ship came into St. Ives, bound for London, but being leaky, the Cargo was unloaded, and the Ship ſold at St. Ives; though it was proved ſhe might at a conſiderable Expence have been made fit to perform the Voyage, yet, as without it the Voyage could not be performed, the Plaintiff recovered, though no Loſs at all of the Ship.

So in the preſent Caſe, if the Ship had been retaken in an Hour, ſhe could not have purſued the Voyage; for all the Men, &c. were taken and carried into France, and therefore ſhe could not navigate herſelf, neither could ſhe have performed the Voyage inſured.

But taking it upon the Footing of a Wager, as put by the Defendant's Council, what is the Wager? It is, that ſuch a Ship, for and notwithſtanding any Arreſts, Reſtraints, &c. will ſail from London to Jamaica, or ſail for three Calendar Months upon a Cruize (as the Adventure may be.) If therefore by any Arreſt, Taking, Detention, &c. the Ship is totally prevented from proceeding in the Voyage, is not the Wager loſt? has not a Contingency inſured againſt happened?

Upon this Caſe, for the Reaſons aforeſaid, and many others ariſing from the Nature of the Contract of Aſſurance, and particularly upon the Authority and Reaſon in Depaba and Ludlow, the Plaintiff hoped for the Judgment of the Court in his Favour, which was accordingly given, and the Judges were unanimous in their Opinion. Lex Mercat. Red. 272. Pond and King. 21 Geo. 2.

62. The Broomfield was inſured at and from the Leeward Iſlands to Briſtol, Intereſt or no Intereſt, free of Average Loſs, and without Benefit of Salvage, and, among other Underwriters, the Defendant ſubſcribed. The Ship in her Paſſage home was taken by a Spaniard, who took out four of her Men and the Captain, and put nine of his Men aboard, and ordered them to carry her to Bilboa, for which Place her Courſe was directed; and on her Voyage there, and after having been in Poſſeſſion of the Enemy thirty nine Hours, ſhe was retaken by the Terrible Privateer belonging to Liverpool, and carried into Waterford, from whence ſome Propoſals were made to the Owners of the Terrible, in order to her Releaſe, and Permiſſion to proſecute her intended Voyage to Briſtol; but not being agreed to, ſhe was brought to Liverpool, and after a Commiſſion of Appraiſement had iſſued out of the Admiralty, ſhe and her Cargo were ſold to pay the Salvage due to the Recaptors, as by Act of Parliament.

One of her former Owners now bought the whole, and afterwards parcelled her out amongſt ſeveral Gentlemen

Gentlemen at Briſtol (who became Co-partners with him) to which Place ſhe was ordered, and where ſhe arrived; though, as the Plaintiff ſuppoſes, this could not be an Arrival agreeable to, or within the Intent and Meaning of the Policy in queſtion, under the Circumſtances above ſtated, viz. of her Capture, Recapture, Appraiſement and Sale, and with an entire new Set of Owners, he thinks he is intitled to a total Loſs.

The Defendant, on the contrary, urges that this was no more than a bare Capture and Recapture, which he ſays has never been deemed a total Loſs; in Reply to which the Plaintiff affirms, that this was ſtill more, for the Ship after being retaken, was carried into Waterford by the Privateer, kept ſome conſiderable Time there, afterwards was carried into Liverpool, and there (as before mentioned) with the Cargo, appraiſed and ſold to pay the Salvage, and a new Set of Owners engaged before ſhe ſet out for Briſtol, by which the whole Voyage was altered and loſt.

And to juſtify this Plea, he quoted Lord Chief Juſtice Lee's Sentiments when he gave Judgment in the Caſe of the † Salamander, viz.

" We muſt not judge this Cauſe by the Rules of " the Civil Law, but we muſt judge it by the Rules " of the Common Law, and determine on this Policy " an Agreement and Contract between the Parties, " whoſe Intention and Meaning, when they enter " into it, muſt govern; and although in the Civil " Law, to make a Forfeiture of an Inſurance, there " muſt be a total Loſs of Property, that is not a " Reaſon why it ſhould be required in this Caſe, " becauſe here the Policy, by the Words of it, ex- " tends to Accident, where there may be no Loſs of " Property, as Taking by Pirates, Enemies, Men of " War, &c. And this (his Lordſhip declared) was " taken Notice of by Lord King, in the Caſe of De-

" paba and Ludlow, where there was no Alteration of " the Property by that Capture, as Sweden was not " at War with England, and yet that was deemed a " total Loſs; but in the preſent Caſe, here was a " Capture by an Enemy; and his Lordſhip farther " ſaid, that the Queſtion on the Salamander was not, " whether the Property of the Privateer was loſt by " this Capture, but whether the Capture was ſuch " a Peril, as is inſured againſt? The Judges were " unanimouſly of that Opinion, and Judgment was " given for the Plaintiff." Verdict for the Defendant. Lex Mercat. Red. 280. At Guildhall after Mich. 1750. Daubony v. Read.

63. Peter Joyce, a Mariner, being a Part-Owner of one Moiety of a Ship called the Goodfellow Privateer, together with the other Owners, fitted her out in a warlike Manner, to cruize againſt his Majeſty's Enemies, and in April 1744, obtained a proper Commiſſion for that Purpoſe from the Lords of the Admiralty: Mr. Joyce, being himſelf the Maſter of the Ship, and abroad, employed Meſſrs. George Fitzgerald, Uncle and Nephew, and Partners, to make an Inſurance for his Intereſt and Uſe: They accordingly procured a Policy of Inſurance for 1000*l.* hereafter particularly ſet forth, to be ſigned by ſeveral underwriters, among whom the Defendant Charles Pole underwrote for 100*l.* on the 31ſt Auguſt 1744.

Mr. George Fitzgerald the Elder, died in March 1745; and the Right of Action on this Policy ſurvived to Mr. George Fitzgerald the now Plaintiff.

The Purpoſe for which the Goodfellow Privateer was fitted out and employed during the Time for which the Inſurance was made, being on the 14th Day of June 1744, totally defeated by a Mutiny of the Sailors on board, their Deſertion from her, and carrying off the Fire-arms belonging to the Ship; the Plaintiff, in Hilary Term 1745, on the Behalf, and for the Uſe of Peter Joyce, brought an Action on the Caſe in the Court of King's Bench, againſt the Defendant Charles Pole; in which he declares as follows:

Whereas

Whereas on the 31ſt Day of Auguſt in the Year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and forty-four, the ſaid George the Elder, and George the Younger, whom the ſaid George the Younger hath ſurvived, were Partners together in the way of Trade and Merchandize, to wit, at London aforeſaid, in the Pariſh of St. Mary Le Bow, in the Ward of Cheap; and the ſaid George the Elder, and George the Younger, being ſo Partners together, on the ſame Day and Year, at London aforeſaid, in the Pariſh and Ward aforeſaid, according to the Cuſtom of Merchants, cauſed to be made a certain Writing, or Policy of Inſurance, purporting thereby and containing therein, that the ſaid George the Elder and George the Younger, by the Name of George Fitzgerald and Company, as well in his own Name, as for and in the Name and Names of all and every other Perſon and Perſons to whom the ſame did, might, or ſhould appertain in Part or in all, did make Aſſurance, and cauſeth himſelf and them, and every of them, to be inſured, loſt or not loſt, at and from Jamaica, to any Ports and Places where and whatſoever, at Sea or Shore, a cruiſing from Port to Ports, and from Place to Places, for and during the Term and Space of four Calendar Months, upon the Body, Tackle, Apparel, Ordnance, Munition, Artillery, Boat, and other Furniture, of and in the good Ship and Veſſel called the Goodfellow Privateer, whereof was Maſter, under God, for that preſent Voyage, Peter Joyce, or whoſoever elſe ſhould go for Maſter in the ſaid Ship, or by whatſoever other Name or Names the ſame Ship, or the Maſter thereof, was or ſhould be named or called; beginning the Adventure upon the ſaid Ship, &c. and immediately following the fourteenth Day of June then laſt; and ſo ſhould continue until the ſaid Ship, with all her ſaid Tackle, Apparel, &c. ſhould be arrived at any Ports where and whatſoever, a cruiſing from Port to Ports, and Place to Places, for and during the Term and Space of four Calendar Months, commencing as above written, without Prejudice to that Inſurance; the ſaid Ship,

&c. for ſo much as concerned the Aſſured, was and ſhould be valued (one half Part of the Ship) at one thouſand Pounds Sterling, without further Account to be given by the Aſſured for the ſame. Touching the Adventures and Perils which they the Aſſurers were contented to bear, and did take upon them in that Voyage they were, of the Seas, Men of War, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, Rovers, Thieves, Jettizons, Letters of Mart and Countermart, Surpriſals, Takings at Sea, Arreſts, Reſtraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes and People, of what Nation, Condition, or Quality ſoever, Baratry of the Maſter and Mariners, and of all other Perils, Loſſes, and Misfortunes, that had or ſhould come to the Hurt, Detriment or Damage of the ſaid Ship, &c. or any Part thereof: And in Caſe of any Loſs or Misfortune, it ſhould be lawful to the Aſſured, their Factors, Servants, and Aſſigns, to ſue, labour, and travail, for, in and about the Defence, Safeguard and Recovery of the ſaid Ship, &c. or any Part thereof, without Prejudice to that Inſurance; to the Charges whereof they the Aſſurers would contribute each one, according to the Rate and Quantity of his Sum therein aſſured: And it was agreed by them the Inſurers, that that Writing or Policy of Aſſurance ſhould be of as much Force and Effect as the ſureſt Writing or Policy of Aſſurance, theretofore made in Lombard-Street, or in the Royal Exchange, or elſewhere in London: And ſo they, the Aſſurers, were contented, and did thereby promiſe and bind themſelves, each for his own Part, their Heirs, Executors, and Goods, to the Aſſured, their Executors, Adminiſtrators and Aſſigns for the true Performance of the Premiſes; confeſſing themſelves paid the Conſideration due unto them for that Aſſurance by the Aſſured, at and after the Rate of twenty Guineas per Cent. And in Caſe of Loſs (which God forbid!) the Aſſured to abate but two Pounds per Cent. the Aſſurers being free from all Average; as by the ſaid Writing or Policy of Aſſurance, it doth and may more fully appear: Of which

ſaid Writing or Policy of Aſſurance, ſo made as aforeſaid, he, the ſaid Charles, afterwards, to wit, on the ſaid thirty-firſt Day of Auguſt, in the ſaid Year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and forty-four, at London aforeſaid, in the Pariſh and Ward aforeſaid, had Notice; and thereupon he, the ſaid Charles, afterwards, to wit, upon the ſame Day and Year aforeſaid, at London aforeſaid, in the Pariſh and Ward aforeſaid, in Conſideration that the ſaid George the Elder, and George the Younger, at the ſpecial Inſtance and Requeſt of the ſaid Charles, had undertaken, and then and there faithfully promiſed the ſaid Charles to perform and fulfil every Thing in the ſaid Writing or Policy of Aſſurance mentioned on their Parts and Behalfs to be performed and fulfilled; and had then and there paid to the ſaid Charles twenty Guineas as a Reward for the Inſurance of one hundred Pounds upon the ſaid Premiſſes mentioned and contained in the ſaid Writing or Policy of Aſſurance; he the ſaid Charles undertook, and then and there faithfully promiſed the ſaid George the Elder and George the Younger, that he, the ſaid Charles, would become, and he did then and there become an Aſſurer to the ſaid George the Elder and George the Younger, for the Sum of one hundred Pounds on the Premiſſes mentioned in the ſaid Writing or Policy of Aſſurance; and that he the ſaid Charles would perform and fulfil every Thing in the ſaid Writing, or Policy of Aſſurance, contained to be performed on his the ſaid Charles's Part and Behalf, as ſuch an Aſſurer, as to the ſaid one hundred Pounds by him ſo aſſured; and then and there ſubſcribed the ſaid Writing, or Policy of Aſſurance, for the Aſſurance of the ſaid one hundred Pounds: And the ſaid George, the now Plaintiff, further ſaith, the ſaid Inſurance, ſo made by the ſaid George the Elder and George the Younger, as aforeſaid, was made for, and on Account of, and in Truſt for, and for the Uſe and Benefit of Peter Joyce; and that the Intereſt which the ſaid Peter Joyce, at the Time of making the ſaid Inſurance, as aforeſaid, and during

during the ſaid Cruize and Voyage hereafter mentioned, had in the ſaid Ship, being a Privateer, amounted to a large Sum of Money, to wit, two Thouſand Pounds and upwards; and that the ſaid Ship, on the ſaid 14th Day of June, in the ſaid Writing or Policy of Aſſurance mentioned, in the ſaid Year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and forty-four, being at Jamaica aforeſaid in Parts beyond the Seas in good Safety, ſet ſail and departed from thence in and upon her ſaid intended Voyage a cruiſing, according to the Intention of the ſaid Writing, or Policy of Aſſurance; and from and after the ſaid fourteenth Day of June, was a cruiſing from Port to Ports, until the ſaid Ship afterwards, and within the ſaid four Calendar Months, commencing from the ſaid fourteenth Day of June, to wit, on the twenty-third Day of September, in the ſaid Year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and forty-four, then ſailing upon the High Seas, and at a great Diſtance from Jamaica aforeſaid, and proceeding in her ſaid Voyage, was, in a mutinous Manner by Force and Arms, againſt the Will of the then Maſter and Officers of the ſaid Ship, ſeized, taken, reſtrained, and detained by the greateſt Part of the Mariners then on board her; and the Command, Direction and Government thereof were taken from the ſaid Maſter; and the ſaid Ship was not permitted to ſail and proceed in her ſaid Voyage a cruiſing any longer, but was then and there, contrary to, and againſt the Will of the ſaid Maſter and Officers, by the ſaid Mariners, in a mutinous Manner, carried back again to Jamaica aforeſaid; where the ſaid Mariners afterwards, to wit, on the thirtieth Day of the ſame September, being then and there arrived with the ſaid Ship, againſt the Will of the ſaid Maſter and Officers, ran away from the ſaid Ship, with the Boats belonging to the ſame Ship, and totally quitted and deſerted her; whereby, and by Means whereof, the ſaid Ship did not, nor could not, perform her ſaid Voyage a cruiſing, for and during the ſaid four Calendar Months, according to the Intention of the ſaid Writing or Policy of Aſſurance; ſurance; but, from the Time of taking, ſeiſing, and detaining of the ſaid Ship, as aforeſaid, for and during the Reſidue of the ſaid four Calendar Months then to come and unexpired, was totally diſabled to perform the ſame: whereby the Owners and Proprietors of the ſaid Ship totally loſt all Profit, Benefit, and Advantage that might have accrued to them in and from the ſaid Cruize during the Reſidue of the ſaid four Calendar Months. Of all which Premiſſes the the ſaid Charles Pole afterwards, to wit, on the firſt Day of May, in the Year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and forty-five, at London aforeſaid, in the Pariſh and Ward aforeſaid, had Notice, and was then and there requeſted by the ſaid George the Elder and George the Younger, to pay to them ninety-eight Pounds, Parcel of the ſaid one hundred Pounds; deducting two Pounds Reſidue thereof, in reſpect of the ſaid Loſs, which the ſaid Charles, according to the Form and Effect of the ſaid Writing, or Policy of Aſſurance, and of his ſaid Promiſe and Undertaking, then and there ought to have paid to the ſaid George the Elder, and George the Younger.

There were two other Counts in the Declaration, which being found for the Defendant, are not material.

To this Declaration the Defendant pleaded the general Iſſue.

The Cauſe was tried at the Sittings in London, before Lord Chief Juſtice Lee, by a ſpecial Jury; when, at the Requeſt of the Defendant's Counſel, a ſpecial Verdict was found that the ſaid Charles, on the thirty-firſt Day of Auguſt, in the Year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and forty-four, in the City of London, did ſign and ſubſcribe the Policy of Aſſurance in the Declaration mentioned, in the Words and Figures following; that is to ſay,

In the Name of God, Amen. George Fitzgerald and Company, as well in his own Name, as for and in the Name and Names of all and every other Perſon or Perſons to whom the ſame doth, may, or ſhall ſhall appertain, in Part, or in all, doth make Aſſurance, and cauſeth himſelf and them, and every of them, to be inſured, loſt or not loſt, at and from Jamaica, to any Ports and Places where and whatſoever, at Sea or Shore, a cruiſing from Port to Ports, and Place to Places, for and during the Term and Space of four Calendar Months, upon the Body, Tackle, Apparel, Ordnance, Munition, Artillery, Boat, and other Furniture, of and in the Good Ship or Veſſel called the Goodfellow Privateer, whereof is Maſter, under God, for this preſent Voyage, Peter Joyce, or whoſoever elſe ſhall go for Maſter in the ſaid Ship, or by whatſoever other Name or Names the ſame Ship or the Maſter thereof, is or ſhall be named or called, beginning the Adventure upon the ſaid Ship, &c. from and immediately following the fourteenth Day of June laſt; and ſo ſhall continue and endure until the ſaid Ship, with all her ſaid Tackle, Apparel, &c. ſhall be arrived at any Ports and Places where and whatſoever, a cruiſing from Port to Ports, and Place to Places, for and during the Term and Space of four Calendar Months, commencing as above written, without Prejudice to this Inſurance; the ſaid Ship, &c. for ſo much as concerns the Aſſured, is and ſhall be valued (one Half-part of the Ship) at one thouſand Pounds Sterling, without further Account to be given by the Aſſured for the ſame. Touching the Adventures and Perils which we the Aſſurers are contented to bear, and take upon us in this Voyage, they are of the Seas, Men of War, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, Rovers, Thieves, Jettizons, Letters of Mart and Countermart, Surprizals, Takings at Sea, Arreſts, Reſtraints, and Detainments, of all Kings, Princes and People, of what Condition or Quality ſoever, Baratry of the Maſter and Mariners, and of all other Perils, Loſſes and Misfortunes, that have or ſhall come to the Hurt, Detriment or Damage of the ſaid Ship, &c. or any Part thereof: And in Caſe of any Loſs or Misfortune, it ſhall be lawful to the Aſſureds, their Factors, Servants and Aſſigns, to ſue, Labour and Travail, for, in and about the Defence, Safeguard, and Recovery of the ſaid Ship or any Part thereof, without Prejudice to this Inſurance; to the Charges whereof we the Aſſurers will contribute each one according to the Rate and Quantity of his Sum herein aſſured. And it is agreed by us the Inſurers, that this Writing or Policy of Aſſurance ſhall be of as much Force and Effect, as the ſureſt Writing or Policy of Aſſurance heretofore made in Lombard Street, or in the Royal Exchange, or elſewhere in London; and ſo we the Aſſurers are contented, and do hereby promiſe, and bind ourſelves, each one for his own Part, our Heirs, Executors, and Goods to the Aſſured, their Executors, Adminiſtrators, and Aſſigns for the true Performance of the Premiſſes; confeſſing ourſelves paid the Conſideration due unto us for this Aſſurance, by the Aſſured, at and after the Rate of twenty Guineas per cent. and in caſe of Loſs (which God forbid!) the Aſſured to abate but two Pounds per cent. the Aſſurers being free from all Average. In Witneſs whereof, we the Aſſurers have ſubſcribed our Names and Sums. Aſſured in London, this 30th of Auguſt 1744, 100*l.* Charles Pole, one hundred Pounds Prem. received 31ſt Auguſt, 1744.

" vented and loſt for the Remainder of the ſaid four

" further ſay, that the ſaid Ship arrived at Jamaica
" upon the 29th Day of September, in the ſaid Year
" 1744, and was there in good Safety at and after " the End of the four Months aforeſaid; but was prevented

" prevented by the ſaid Mutiny and Deſertion from " further purſuing her ſaid Cruize: And the ſaid Ju- " rors, upon their ſaid Oath, further ſay, that the In- " ſurance upon the ſaid Ship Goodfellow was made for " the Account of Peter Joyce the Owner, and alſo the " Captain for the former Part of the Cruize; and that " the ſaid Peter Joyce had Intereſt in the ſaid Ship " Good ellow to the Amount of the Sum inſured; " but whether, upon the whole Matter by them the " ſaid Jurors in Form aforeſaid found, the afore ſaid " Charles Pole did undertake and promiſe in Manner " and Form within written, or not, the ſaid Jurors " know not, but pray the Advice of the Court there- " upon: And if, upon the ſaid whole Matter by the " ſaid Jurors in Form aforeſaid found, the ſaid Court " ſhall be of Opinion that the aforeſaid Charles Pole " did undertake and promiſe in the Manner and " Form within written; then the ſaid Jurors, upon " their ſaid Oath, ſay, that the ſaid Charles did un- " dertake and promiſe in the Manner and Form as " the ſaid George Fitzgerald within hath declared, and " aſſeſs the Damages of him the ſaid George Fitzge- " rald, upon the Occaſion, beſides his Coſt and " Charges, about his Suit in this Behalf ſuſtained, to " ninety and eight Pounds; and, for theſe Coſts and " Charges, to forty Shillings: But if upon the ſaid " whole Matter by the ſaid Jurors, in Form afore- " ſaid, found, the ſaid Court ſhall be of Opinion, " that the ſaid Charles Pole did not undertake and " promiſe in Manner and Form as the ſaid Charles " Pole, by his Plea, hath alledged; then the ſaid " Jurors, upon their ſaid Oath, ſay, that the ſaid " Charles Pole did not undertake and promiſe in " Manner and Form as the ſaid Charles Pole, by his " Plea, hath alledged."

Upon this Verdict, the Court of King's Bench, upon argument, gave Judgment for the Plaintiff; upon which a Writ of Error was brought in the Exchequer Chamber; and, after twice arguing the Caſe, the Judgment, by the unanimous Opinion of all the eight Judges of the ſaid Court, was reverſed.

The Plaintiff brought his Writ of Error in Parliament againſt the Judgment pronounced in the Exchequer Chamber. The general Errors are aſſigned; and the Defendant has pleaded there is no Error; and thereupon Iſſue is joined.

Argument for the Plaintiff.

It is found, that by the Mutiny, &c. the Voyage and Cruize was totally prevented and loſt, for the Remainder of the four Months, from the 23d September. —It is averred, that Peter Joyce had Intereſt, during the Cruize, in the Ship, and found, that he had Intereſt in the Ship to the Amount of the Sum inſured.

That the Ship was in Being at and after the End of the four Months.

The general Queſtion is, Whether an Event has happened, upon which the Underwriters, by the Terms of the Policy, are to pay.

Though different Accounts are given of the Invention of Inſurances, yet they certainly were brought into Practice by Merchants for the Sake of Trade, and in order to divide the Risk.

The Nature of the Contract originally was, that a ſpecified Voyage ſhould be performed free from Perils: And, in caſe of Accident, the Inſurer was, for a certain Price, to bear the Trader harmleſs.

Hence it followed, that this Contract originally related to the Safety of a Voyage particularly deſcribed, in reſpect either of a Ship or Cargo; and that the Inſured could not recover beyond the Amount of his real Loſs: Therefore, without abandoning what was ſaved to the Inſurer, he could not recover the whole Value, except in caſe of a total Loſs.

A very inaccurate Form of this Contract was anciently uſed among Merchants, and drawn by themſelves.

It was brought into England by Perſons who came from abroad, and ſettled in Lombard-Street.

The

The Terms of this Contract, tho' very imperfectly penned, having acquired a Senſe from the Uſage of Merchants, the Form is followed to this Day; and every Policy refers to thoſe made in Lombard-Street.

Hence, contrary to the general Rule, Parole Evidence is admitted to explain this Contract, tho' in Writing: And the Words are controuled, or liberally ſupplied, by the Intent of the Agreement, the Uſage of Merchants, and, above all, by judicial Determinations, which are the ſtrongeſt Evidence of the received Law of Merchants.

Upon theſe Policies, the Voyage, and not the bare Safety or Exiſtence of Ship or Cargo, is the Subject matter of the Inſurance.

In Proceſs of Time Variations were made, by expreſs Agreement, from the firſt Kind of Policy: It being troubleſome to the Trader to prove the Value of his Intereſt, and aſcertain the Quantity of the Loſs, he gave the Inſurer a higher Premium to agree to eſtimate his Intereſt at a preciſe Sum, and to give up his Claim to what might be ſaved; and the Inſured, on the other hand, waved any Claims of Contribution, in reſpect of Accidents which might obſtruct, but not defeat the Voyage.

To recover upon this Kind of Policy, the Inſured need only prove, that he had an Intereſt, without ſhewing the Value.

Caſes where it might not be proper for the Trader to diſcloſe the Nature of his Intereſt, introduced a third Kind of Policy; where the Inſurer diſpenſed with the Inſured having any Intereſt either in Ship or Cargo.

In theſe two laſt Kinds of Policies, valued free from Average, and Intereſt or no Intereſt, it is manifeſt that the Performance of the Voyage or Adventure, in a reaſonable Time and Manner, and not the bare Exiſtence of the Ship or Cargo, is the Object of the Inſurance; and ſo it has been often adjudged, as appears by the ſeveral Caſes following.

† Inſurance on a Hoy uſed for a Packet-Boat from Helvoetſluys to Harwich, Intereſt or no Intereſt, without further Account. The Hoy was taken by a Swediſh Ship (tho' no War then between Sweden and Great Britain). After being nine Days in the Cuſtody of the Swediſh Ship, the Hoy was retaken by an Engliſh Man of War, carried to Copenhagen, and from thence to Harwich, where ſhe was at the Time of the Trial.—A Verdict was given for the Plaintiff, ſubject to the Opinion of the Court of C. B. The Caſe was twice argued, firſt by Civilians, and then by common Lawyers; and the Court gave Judgment for the Plaintiff, though the Ship was then in Being at Harwich. The Queſtion was not, Whether the Property of the Ship was loſt by the Capture; but Whether the Capture was a Peril inſured againſt, and had happened in the Voyage?

Inſurance on the Ship called the Ludlow Caſtle Man of War, from Jamaica to England, Intereſt or no Intereſt, free of Average, &c. This Ship was in her Voyage compelled by Storm at Sea to put into Antigua; where Admiral Knowles, being in want of a Hulk for his Majeſty's Service, thought proper to convert the Ludlow-Caſtle to that Uſe.—The Treaſure on board her was brought Home in the Scarborough.—The Inſured brought his Action; and though it appeared in Evidence that the Ship was exiſting, it was determined, and by a ſpecial Jury a Verdict given accordingly, that, the Voyage from Jamaica being loſt, the Plaintiff was intitled to recover, which he did. Barclay and Collier. Mich. 17 Geo. 2. *B. Inſurance on the Sarah Galley, at and from London to Gibraltar, and from thence to London, valued at the Sum inſured. This Ship was chartered from London to Gibraltar, and thence to the Nore, to receive Orders from the Freighter; and the Plaintiff was the ſole Owner of the Ship. The Ship arrived at Gibraltar in June; and was loaded with Wines by the Freighter's Correſpondent for her Return Voyage † Depaba and Ludlow, See P. 235.

At

At Gibraltar the Ship was ſeized by the Salisbury and Solebay Men of War. The Maſter was turned out of Poſſeſſion, and ſeveral of the Sailors impreſſed. The Captors proceeded againſt the Ship and Cargo as forfeited.—The Ship was ordered to be reſtored; and was ſent by the Freighter's Correſpondent with a Cargo for Dunkirk; where ſhe was afterwards overſet and loſt. An Action was brought by the Inſured; and though it was relied on for the Defendant that the Ship was not totally loſt, but had been delivered, after the Capture, to the Agent of the Freighter, and by him ſent another Voyage; yet as the taking at Gibraltar was a Breach of the Policy in the Voyage, whereby the Return Voyage was prevented, a ſpecial Jury gave the Plaintiff a Verdict for a total Loſs; and he had Judgment accordingly. Storey and Brown. Trin. 18 and 19 Geo. 2. 1746. B. R.

Inſurance on the Anna, at and from any Port, or Place, or Degree of Latitude, whereſoever the Ship might be on the 7th May 1741, to any Port, Place and Degree of Latitude, until her Arrival at London, Intereſt or no Intereſt, free of Average, &c. This Ship was a Tender to the Ships ſent to the South Sea under the Command of Lord Anſon, and proceeded to the Iſland of Juan Fernandez, where ſhe was unloaded, and diſcharged the King's Service; but being in Want of Stores to return to England, ſhe was ſold for the Uſe of the Fleet, by the Captain, for 300*l.* for which he received a Bill on the Commiſſioners of the Navy, afterwards paid to the Plaintiff, the ſole Owner, together with the Freight, and all the Sailors Wages, to the Time of the Sale of the Ship. The Plaintiff and Owner alſo received 641*o*l. for the Freight of the outward bound Voyage, and 259*o*l. as ſeven Months Freight, being the Time computed the Ship would have taken to return Home. An Action was brought on the Policy; and altho' it was inſiſted on for the Defendant, that the Ship had not been deſtroyed by any Peril in the Policy, but ſold by the Owner for the Uſe of the Government, who had, for the Conveniency of the Service, diſpoſed of her as was thought fit; and that the Inſured had actually received a Price and Freight for her, as having performed her homeward-bound Voyage; ſo that, if there was any Loſs in Point of Value, it would only be a partial and Average Loſs, which was expreſly not to charge the Inſurers: Yet upon all the above Facts (agreed between the Parties) as the Ship had been rendered incapable of performing the Service for which ſhe was fitted out, viz attending the Fleet in the South Seas, and Home, the Plaintiff recovered a Verdict for a total Loſs, by a ſpecial Jury, agreable to the Directions of the Court, Hanbury and King. Mich. 19 Geo. 2. B. R. 1746.

Inſurance on Goods in the Durſley Galley, Intereſt or no Intereſt, free of Average, &c. at and from Jamaica to Briſtol. The Ship was, in her Voyage, taken by a Spaniſh Privateer, and carried into a Port in Spain; where, after being kept eight Days, ſhe was cut out by an Engliſh Privateer. The Inſured brought an Action on the Policy: The Inſurer inſiſted it was only an Average Loſs, the Ship and Goods exiſting, and, by Statute, were to be reſtored to the Owners on Salvage: But it was determined, and, by a ſpecial Jury, a Verdict given accordingly, that, notwithſtanding the Exiſtence of the Ship and Goods, yet the inſured Voyage being loſt, the Plaintiff was intitled to recover upon that Policy. Dean and Dicker. Hil. 19 Geo. 2. 1746. B. R. See P. 203.

Inſurance on the Diſpatch Galley, Intereſt or no Intereſt, free of Average, &c. from Jamaica to Hull. In her Voyage ſhe was taken by a French Privateer, and carried to Hamburgh; and, after being twelve Days in the Hands of the Enemy, ſhe was retaken by Hurſt, Maſter of an Engliſh Ship, and brought to London; where ſhe was adjudged to be reſtored to the Owner, paying Salvage. The Owner ſold the Ship, and paid the Salvage. An Action being brought on the Policy, notwithſtanding the Ship had not been loſt, but was ſold by the Owner, it was held to have been been a Loſs of the Voyage; and the ſpecial Jury gave a Verdict accordingly. Whitchead and Bance. Mich. 23 Geo. 2. 1749. B. R.

Many other Sorts of Inſurances upon other Sorts of Things in the Nature of Wagers, or Bargains upon Contingencies, have been introduced; concerning which the Agreement of the Parties is the Rule which governs.

That a Man ſhall live ſuch a Time; that one Man ſhall outlive another; that a Voyage ſhall be performed in a given Time; that a Ship ſhall arrive at ſuch a Port before ſuch a Fair; and every other Contingency, may be inſured at a fixed Sum.

Many Merchants, with a View to their own Gain, as well as public Service, deſiring to engage in fitting out Privateers, the greateſt Expence of which conſiſts in the Outſet, the Victualling, the Stores, the advance-money paid the Sailors, &c. they bethought themſelves whether they could divide the Risk by Inſurance.

By the firſt Kind of Inſurance (Open Policies) they could not do it, becauſe there was no Cargo: And the Value of the Ship was not the Meaſure of the Owners Expence and Risk.

They could not do it, according to the ſecond or third Kind, deſcribing any particular Voyage. The Way, therefore taken, was to inſure the Ship from all Perils enumerated, as a Privateer, to cruize during a limited Time: And ſuch Inſurance of Privateers is a modern Practice.

The very End of this Contract ſhews, that the Capacity of the Ship to cruize notwithſtanding the Perils, and not the Exiſtence or the Property of the Ship, at the End of the limited Term, is the ſubject matter of ſuch an Inſurance: And this is not only the obvious Meaning of the Parties to ſuch a Contract; but judicial Determinations have declared this to be the Senſe.

Inſurance for three Months, from the 21ſt December 1744, upon the Salamander Privateer, to any Port or Places whatſoever, Intereſt or no Intereſt, free of Average, &c. The Privateer was taken in the ſecond Month by a French Man of War; who took the Captain, and moſt of the Privateer's Men, with the Commiſſion and Proviſions, on board his own Ship, and was carrying his Prize into France. On the 25th of February the Privateer was retaken by an Engliſh Ship, which took the Salamander with her on a Cruize, and then carried her into Lisbon, where ſhe remained.——An Action was brought on the Policy, and a ſpecial Verdict found; upon Argument of which, the Court of King's Bench unanimouſly gave Judgment for the Plaintiff: And againſt this Judgment no Writ of Error was ever brought. Pond and King. See page 236 and 246.

Inſurance on a Privateer for two Months.-----In the firſt Month ſhe was taken by the Enemy, and retaken by Admiral Martin; who, before the End of the firſt Month, ſent her into Briſtol. The Privateer had received no Damage in the Engagement in which ſhe had been taken, but what might have been repaired without any great Expence, if ſhe could have been put into a Dock: But when ſhe arrived at Briſtol, the Docks were full, and Workmen ſo ſcarce, that ſhe could not be repaired before the Term in the Policy expired. The Plaintiffs brought their Action: The Defendant inſiſted, that the Ship exiſting (he not having inſured againſt the Fulneſs of Docks and Scarcity of Workmen) he could not be liable for a Loſs: Yet, as the two Months Cruize was loſt by a Peril within the Policy, the Plaintiffs had a Verdict. Jenkins and Roberts againſt Mackenzie. Mich. 23 Geo. 2. 1749. See P. 225.

An Action upon the very ſame Policy now in queſtion againſt another Underwriter, in which the Plaintiff declared verbatim, as in this Caſe. A Verdict for the Plaintiff, by a ſpecial Jury, agreeable to the Directions of the Court. Judgment accordingly. The Defendant brought a Writ of Error; but, deſpairing of Succeſs, ſuffered it to be non-proſs'd, and paid the Money and Coſt. Fitzgerald and Wainhouſe, 23 Geo. 1749. K. B.

The Legiſlature has conſidered the Inſurance of Privateers as beneficial, and plainly underſtood that the Exiſtence of the Ship was not the Subject-matter of the Inſurance.

An Act of 19 Geo. 2. which prohibits Inſurances, Intereſt or no Intereſt, provides, that Aſſurance on private Ships of War, fitted out by any of his Majeſty's Subjects (ſolely to cruize) againſt his Majeſty's Enemies, may be made, by or for the Owners thereof, Intereſt or no Intereſt, free of Average, and without Benefit of Salvage to the Aſſurers.

There was no Occaſion to except the Caſe of Privateers, had the Exiſtence of the Ship been looked upon as the only Object; the Value of the Inſurance might have been confined to the Intereſt in the Ship.

Upon ſome of the Reaſons and Authorities above referred to, as well as others, the Court of King's Bench gave Judgment in this Caſe for the Plaintiff.

The Objections to the Judgment of the Court of King's Bench, principally relied upon, ſeem to be theſe:

1ſt Objection. As the Ship exiſted at the End of four Months, nothing was to be paid; the Inſurers only undertaking, that the Ship ſhould not be totally loſt, or deſtroyed within that Time.

Anſwer. This Objection proves, that if, during the whole four Months, the Ship had been by force turned into a Fire Ship or Tranſport; detained in Port by an Embargo; taken and kept by Privateers; arreſted and detained by Princes; ſo diſabled in a Storm the firſt Day, as not to be capable of going to Sea during the Time; provided the Owners had the Ship or her Hull again, the Inſurers were to pay nothing; which beſides contradicting ſo many Principles and Authorities, proves more than will be ſeriouſly contended for, and drives the Reſpondent to another Objection.

2d Ob-

2d Objection. Suppoſe the Meaning was to inſure the Ship's Capacity to cruize (notwithſtanding the Perils mentioned) during four Months: Yet unleſs ſhe was prevented by any of the Means mentioned in the Policy, during the whole Time, nothing is to be paid; for the Inſurance muſt be taken to be only againſt the intire Loſs of the whole Time, but here, in this Caſe, the Ship cruized Part of the Time.

Anſwer. At this Rate of arguing, if the Ship was ſafe at any Time on the 15th June, there never could be a Loſs afterwards. Though the Ship had been burnt, ſunk, or taken, on the 16th, the Inſurers would not be liable; which, beſides contradicting all the Authorities in the Caſe of Privateers (in every one of which the Ship had cruized ſome Time) reduces the four Months to the firſt Inſtant of that Time; and therefore is a flat Contradiction to the Expreſs Terms of the Policy.

3d Objection. If the Ship's Capacity to cruize and not the bare Exiſtence of the Ship, was the Thing inſured, it is not found that Peter Joyce had any Intereſt in the Cruize; only that he was Owner of, and had Intereſt in the Ship during the Cruize.

Anſwer. The Property of the Ship carries an Intereſt in her Capacity to cruize. A public Law, having given Prizes taken by Privateers, to and among the Owner or Owners of ſuch Ship or Veſſel, and the ſeveral Perſons that ſhall be on board the ſame, in ſuch Shares and Proportions as ſhall be agreed on with the Owner or Owners of ſuch Ship or Veſſel: And to ſuppoſe the Owner to have parted with his whole Intereſt in the Uſe of the Ship during the Cruize, and yet to have retained his Intereſt in the Privateer during the Cruize, is to make an Intendment contrary to the Averment in the Declaration, and finding of the Verdict; and to ſuppoſe a Caſe which never exiſted in Fact, that the Owner of a Privateer lets her out, on Freight, to cruize as a Privateer.

The

The Parties on this Contract have agreed, and underſtood, that the Uſe of this Ship was attendant upon the Property: For they have inſured the Ship's Capacity, and valued it on the Ship.

There have been judicial Determinations, and one upon this very Policy, in Favour of what the Plaintiff in Error contends for, unreverſed and unappealed from. People probably have tranſacted Loſſes upon their Authority, and entered into Contracts, according to the Senſe judicially received. In mercantile Contracts, eſpecially for the ſake of Certainty, it is better to adhere to Deciſions, even if they were at firſt eroneous. All new Contracts are made in the Senſe of the judicial Determinations. And, ſuppoſing an Interpretation at firſt wrong, it becomes afterwards unjuſt to vary from it, and highly inconvenient.

Reaſons for the Defendant in Error.

1. The Inſurer being by the Terms of the Policy, free from all Average, the Plaintiff could not be intitled to recover, but in Caſe of a total Loſs; and the Ship being found by the ſpecial Verdict, to be in good Safety, at her proper Port, at and after the End of the four Months for which the Inſurance was made, there could be no ſuch Loſs.

2. The Ship alone is inſured, and not the Cruize; and to contend otherwiſe is not only contrary to the expreſs Words, and plain Meaning and Intention of the Policy, by which the Ship alone is repeatedly expreſſed to be the Thing inſured; but it is alſo contrary to the Nature of an Inſurance; the Safety of the Ship itſelf, or of whatever elſe is the immediate Object of the Inſurance, being the only Thing inſured; and not any uncertain Benefit which may ariſe to the Owner by Means or in Conſequence of it: Nor can any ſuch conſequential Benefit be properly the Subject-matter of Inſurance, as it is not capable of being eſtimated. But,

3. Sup-

3. Suppoſing the Cruize, or the Benefit of the Cruize, or the free Uſe of the Ship for the Cruize, to be the Thing inſured; yet even of any of theſe there is no Loſs; the Ship having actually cruized till within about a Fortnight of the whole Time, and having taken a rich Prize of the Value of 4200*l.* Sterling. And,

4. Suppoſing, as contended for by the Plaintiff, that the Cruize, or Benefit of the Cruize, or the free Uſe of the Ship for the Cruize, was the Thing inſured; and that what is found by the Verdict amounts to a total Loſs of any of theſe; yet it is not found, nor is it averred in the Declaration, that Peter Joyce, for whoſe Benefit the Inſurance was made, had any Intereſt in the Cruize, but only in the Ship itſelf; and to recover in an Action upon a valued Policy, the Plaintiff muſt aver an Intereſt in his Declaration, and prove it at the Trial. Mag. Inſ. Vol. 1. P. 533. Fitzgerald againſt Pole. In Domo Procerum. Here follows the Judgment.

Die Veneris 1*mo Martii* 1754.

Whereas, by Virtue of his Majeſty's Writ of Error, returnable into the Houſe of Lords in Parliament aſſembled, a Record of the Court of Exchequer-Chamber was brought into this Houſe, the 18th Day of December 1753, wherein George Fitzgerald is Plaintiff, and Charles Pole Defendant; and Counſel having been heard, as well on Wedneſday the 20th of February laſt, as on the Thurſday and Friday following, to argue the Errors aſſigned upon the ſaid Writ of Error; and the Judges who were ordered to attend, having been heard Seriatim, as well on Wedneſday laſt as this Day, to deliver their Opinions, with their Reaſons, upon certain Points of Law to them propoſed, and due Conſideration had of what was offered on either Side in this Cauſe: It is ordered and adjudged by the Lords ſpiritual and temporal in Parliament aſſembled, that the Judgment given in the ſaid Court

Remarks on the preceding Caſe.

Firſt, in our humble Opinion, the chief Thing neceſſary to the forming of a right Judgment of the Caſe, was to ſhew wherein the Words of this Policy differed from thoſe of other Policies made at Intereſt or no Intereſt; on which, in Caſes ſomewhat like this, Inſurers had formerly been obliged to pay total Loſſes. For it appears to us, that when this Cauſe was heard, it was not ſufficiently explained to the Judge and the Jury, that although it is ſaid in this Policy that the Aſſurers ſhould be free of Average, it is not ſaid therein that the Inſurance ſhould be without Benefit of Salvage; which Clauſe conſtitutes the main Difference between Policies made on Intereſt or no Intereſt, and thoſe made on real Intereſt; a Renunciation of the Salvage being never made in the latter. Hence on Ships inſured at Intereſt or no Intereſt once taken, although afterwards retaken, the Inſurers have been condemned to pay total Loſſes, becauſe they renounced the Benefit of Salvage. In Inſurances made at Intereſt or no Intereſt, free from Average and without Benefit of Salvage (which, though they are very hazardous, high Premiums will tempt Inſurers to underwrite) the Words of the Policies clearly import, that ſuch Inſurances are to be underſtood merely as Wagers, that the Ships ſhall make the Voyages mentioned in the Policies, and the Inſurers ſhall have nothing to do with Averages or Salvages. If in the preſent Caſe the Policy had been made with this Condition, "not "to have any Benefit of Salvage," probably the Court of Exchequer, conſidering the literal Senſe of the

the Words, and the former Deciſion on ſuch Policies, might have confirmed the Sentence given in the Court of Kings Bench, condemning the Inſurers to pay a total Loſs; ſince the Ship, for the Time the Mutineers were Maſters of her, might be eſteemed as loſt to the Owners, and the Inſurers had renounced the Salvage.

2dly, With regard to the Caſe of Pond and King, cited by the Plaintiff's Counſel, where a Ship being taken, though afterwards retaken, the Inſurers were condemned to pay a total Loſs, we obſerve that in the preſent Caſe of Fitzgerald and Pole, it is only ſaid, that it was an Inſurance loſt or not loſt, free from all Average. In Pond's Policy (See P. 236) after the Words to be free of Average, follow and without Benefit of Salvage, which this Policy has not. We alſo find in ſome of the other Caſes of Intereſt or no Intereſt Policies, alledged here, that a Stop is made after the Words free of Average; and perhaps they might contain the other Condition alſo, without Benefit of Salvage; ſo that all thoſe Policies might differ from the preſent one, and prove nothing in its Favour.

In the Argument for the Plaintiff it is ſaid; "The "general Queſtion is, whether an Event has hap-"pened, upon which the Underwriters by the Terms "of the Policy are to pay?"

Now it muſt, we think, be allowed that ſomething did happen for which the Inſurers had made themſelves anſwerable, and that was the Baratry of the Mariners. For the Mutiny of the Mariners, and their actually taking the Command from the Maſter, was certainly Baratry; and the Ship, during the Time ſhe remained out of the Power of the Captain, might be conſidered as loſt to the Owners; but as the Mutineers carried her back to Jamaica, and there left her, and the Benefit of Salvage was not given up by the Inſurers, it was no total Loſs, and nothing elſe could be demanded, than what was proved to have been loſt by the Mutiny. Now as it appears that the Crew actually ran away, within the Term for which the Ship was inſured, with Part of her Fire-arms and Boats, Things expreſsly mentioned in the Policy, and included in the Valuation of the Ship, how much or how little ſoever this might amount to, it certainly was no Average, but a partial Loſs for which the Inſurers were liable to pay: And though we are ſenſible that the Inſurers had nothing to do with the Succeſs or Miſcarriage of the Cruize, yet, as it is well known to every Inſurer that the Amount of the Proviſions put on board for the Uſe of the Voyage, and the Money advanced to the Sailors, are uſually included and inſured in the Valuation of the Ship, it is a Queſtion with us, whether the Conſumption of the Proviſions by the Mutineers, whilſt they had the Command of the Ship, and neglected the Service of the Owners, ought not to be conſidered as a Loſs to the Owners, which the Inſurers are to make good?

Thus much we have thought proper to alledge for and againſt the Defendant's Caſe.

As to the Defendant's Caſe, it may be obſerved that one of the Reaſons alledged for affirming the Judgment of the Court of Exchequer, is, that the Inſurers being by the Terms of the Policy free from all Average, the Plaintiff could only be entitled to recover in Caſe of a total Loſs. But in our Opinion the Inference is not juſt; for the Stipulation to be free from Average did not make them free from the actual Loſſes ſuſtained by Baratry and Mutiny, which were never comprehended under the Word Average. Though inſerting in a Clauſe in Policies on Privateers, not to be liable to bear any Loſſes reſulting from the Mutiny and Diſobedience of the Crews, may be a very prudent Conſideration for the Inſurers in Time to come, it was not done in this Caſe, where, by the Words to be free of Average, could only be meant that the Inſurers ſhould be free of all Damages reſulting from the Cruize, particularly what the Ship might ſuſtain either in attacking or being attacked, crowding Sail, or chacing, and thereby loſing or breaking any Thing, Damage ſuſtained by boarding, running foul of other Veſſels, receiving Shot in her Hull and Rigging, &c. We make no doubt, but that, if a ſeparate Demand had been made by the Inſured for the Things run away with by the Mariners, the Inſurers would have paid it. (See P. 241.)

Miſinformation perhaps led the Inſured to try whether this valued Policy would not have the ſame Effect as other Policies made on Intereſt or no Intereſt with the Conditions to be free of Average, and without Benefit of Salvage, by Virtue whereof the Inſurers had, in a parallel Caſe, been condemned to pay a total Loſs; and it ſo happened that the Jury miſunderſtanding the Thing, on the firſt hearing of this Cauſe in the Court of Kings Bench, gave a Verdict for a total Loſs. Mag. Inſ. Vol. 1. P. 559.

64. The Plaintiff cauſed himſelf to be inſured, on the Prince Frederick, from Vera Cruz to London, Intereſt or no Intereſt, free of Average and without Benefit of Salvage.

The Ship was afterwards ſeized by Order of the Viceroy of Mexico, and the Spaniards turned her into a Man of War, called her the St. Philip, and ſent her as Commodore, with a Squadron of Spaniſh Men of War to the Havanna, they having firſt taken out the South Sea Company's Arms, and made ſeveral Alterations in her, and there was a War between England and Spain, and Gibraltar was actually beſieged by the Spaniards.

The Defendants proved the ſigning of preliminary Articles of Peace, before the Seizure of the Ship, and therefore inſiſted, that this Seizure did not alter the Property, and conſequently the Defendants were not liable; for if the Property was not altered, this Inſurance made by the Plaintiff, who had no Intereſt, cannot bind, as nothing comes within the Policy but a total Loſs; and though there be theſe general Words in the Policy, Reſtraint or Detainment by Princes, Hardwicke, Chief Juſtice, declared, 1ſt, That a War might begin without an actual Declaration by Procla-

Proclamation, as in this Caſe by laying Siege to Gibraltar, a Garriſon Town; though there might be Depredations at Sea between Princes in Amity, for which Letters of Marque, &c. might be granted. 2dly, As a War may begin by Hoſtilities only, ſo it may end by a Ceſſation of Arms; and theſe preliminary Articles being ſigned before the Seizure of the Ship, and there being a Ceſſation of Arms, he thought the Ship being taken afterwards, not to be a taking by Enemies, unleſs the Jury took the Caption to begin from the Time the Arms were ſeized, which was before the Articles, and that was left to the Jury. 3dly, Suppoſing the Ship not taken by Enemies, Quære, whether this Detention for near the Space of a Year, was in thoſe Sorts of Policies, viz. Intereſt or no Intereſt, a Detention within the Policy, or whether in ſuch Policies, the Inſurers are ever liable, but in Caſe of a total Loſs; and if ſo, this Ship being afterwards reſtored, then he directed the Jury to find for the Defendant; this, he ſaid, depended on the Cuſtom or Uſage among Merchants; and the Jury gave a Verdict for the Defendant, but did not declare upon what Point; but they muſt be of Opinion, ſhe was not ſeized in Time of War, and that therefore the Policy being Intereſt or no Intereſt, the Aſſurers were not liable, becauſe there was no total Loſs.

In this Caſe, the Inſurance was made by one Deflores for the Plaintiff, and Deflores wrote his Name on the Policy, and before the Trial it was filled up with theſe Words, I made this for the Benefit of Spencer, and no Date, and it was admitted the Action was well brought by Ceſtui que Truſt. *Lex Mer. 65. By the Law of Nature, in War thoſe Things are acquired to us, which are either equal to that, which being due unto us, we cannot otherwiſe obtain, or elſe is ſuch a Mark as does infer Damage to the guilty Party by a fit Meaſure of Puniſhment; and by the Law of Nations, not only he that wages War on a juſt Cauſe, but every one in ſolemn War, and without End and Meaſure, is Maſter of all he taketh from the Enemy in that Senſe, that by all Nations, both himſelf and they that have Title from him, are to be maintained in the Poſſeſſion of them; which as to external Effect we may call Dominion. Cyrus, in * Xenophon. And as the Law of Nations is the ſame Reaſon of a Man, ſo likewiſe of a Thing; and therefore Goods and Merchandize are properly ſaid to be the Captor's, when they are carried infra præſidia of that Prince or State, by whoſe Subject the ſame were taken, or ‡ into the Fleet, or into a Haven, or ſome other Place where the Navy of the Enemy rides: For then it is that the Recovery ſeems to be paſt all Hope. It is true, the Civilians do hold, that it is not every Poſſeſſion that qualifies ſuch a Caption, and makes it become the Captor's, but a firm Poſſeſſion, that is, when the Prize doth pernoctare with the Enemy, or remains in his Poſſeſſion by the Space of 24 Hours; but as this is a new Law, ſo it is conceived to be againſt the antient Judgments of the Civil Law, as well as the modern Practice of the Common Law: For the Party in the antient Precedents doth not mention by his Plea, that the Prize did pernoctare with the Enemy, but generally that the ſame was gained by Battle of the Enemy. Molloy, B. 1. After Notice of Loſs, the Inſured, either becauſe he hath inſured the moſt of his Adventure, or in order to have the Aſſiſtance of the Inſurers, when there is Hope of recovering the Adventure, may make a Renunciation of the Lading to the Inſurers, and then he comes in himſelf in the Nature of an Inſurer, for ſo much as ſhall appear he hath born of the Adventure beyond the Value Inſured.

But if the Merchant ſhall not renounce, yet there is a Power given in the Policy for them to travel, purſue, and endeavour a Recovery (if poſſible) of the Adventure, after a Misfortune; to which the Aſſurers are to contribute, the ſame being but a Trouble to Goſs and Withers.

68. This was an Action on two Policies of Inſurance, dated 26th September 1756; one on the Ship David and Rebecca, and the other on the Goods on board the ſaid Ship. She was bound from Newfoundland to the Streights or Lisbon, and inſured until ſhe was twenty four hours arrived at the Port of her Diſcharge; and both the Ship and Cargo were valued at the Sum ſubſcribed: And it was agreed, that, in Caſe of Loſs it ſhould be lawful for the Inſurers to purſue, labour, travel, &c. for the Recovery of any Part, and that the Loſs ſhould be conſidered as an Average Loſs; and if the Ship ſailed with Convoy two Guineas of the Premium to be returned.

On the 30th December 1756, ſhe was taken by the French, and, together with the Maſter, Mate, and all the Sailors, carried into France, and after ſhe had been in the Cuſtody of the French eight Days, ſhe was retaken by an Engliſh Privateer, and on January 18, 1757, brought into Milford Haven.

It was proved that Notice of her Arrival at Milford Haven was given to the Inſurers, and that the Owners intended to abandon her; and that afterwards the Cargo, which conſiſted of periſhable Goods, was ſpoiled.

Two Queſtions were made at the Bar:

1ſt Whether this Capture of the Ship was not ſuch a Loſs of her or the Property ſo altered, as to make the Inſurers liable? And, 2dly, Whether the inſured had not a Right to abandon her?

And after two Arguments the Lord Chief Juſtice delivered the Reſolution of the whole Court, and ſaid that it was not neceſſary to confine the Caſe to theſe two ſpecific Queſtions; but that the general Queſtion was, whether the Owners had on the 18th of January 1757, a Right to recover the Value of the Ship and Cargo from the Inſurers on abandoning them? or that as the Plaintiff hath then offered to abandon, nothing that hath ſince happened can alter his right.

That the firſt Point argued was totally immaterial, that is, whether by this Capture the Property was transferred according to the Law of Nations; for this Queſtion can ariſe but in two Caſes, 1ſt, Between an Owner and a neutral Nation; and 2dly, between an Owner and a Recaptor.

That the general Rule as to changing of Property was that of the Civil Law, ea quæ ex hoſtibus capimus ſtatim noſtra fiunt †:——That nothing is taken till the Fight is over, and the Fight is not over until the Purſuit is over; and that this was the proper Definition of a Capture.

That ſeveral Writers have drawn various Lines by arbitrary Rules; which States from equitable Conſiderations have altered; but the Subject is merely arbitrary, and does not depend upon Reaſon: Some have ſaid, that a Ship is taken, when carried infra hoſtium præſidia, when in Cuſtody within their ſtrong Holds. Others, as Grotius, Law 14, have made twenty-four Hours the Criterion; and others ſay that a Ship is taken when carried into the Enemy's Port.

That he had taken the Trouble to ſpeak to Sir George Lee to inform himſelf of the Practice of the Court of Admiralty on theſe Occaſions, and was informed, that it was there held, that the Property was not diveſted, ſo as to change the Owner, till the Ship was condemned and ſold; and mentioned a Caſe determined there in 1695, where a Ship was taken fourteen Weeks, ſold twice, made ſeveral Voyages, and yet was reſtored to the Owners, becauſe not condemned; but whatever Favour may be ſhewn as between Vendor and Vendee, that cannot affect an Inſurer; for he muſt pay the Value though the Ship be retaken; and whether the Ship be condemned or not, he muſt bear the Loſs actually ſuſtained.

† That is, What we take from the Enemy immediately becomes our Property.

That another Queſtion made was, whether the Inſured had their Election to abandon. This was a Policy on a real Intereſt.——The Ship was diſabled to continue the Voyage; the Freight was loſt, and what could be ſaved not worth the Expence of purſuing it; and that all the Books agreed that the Inſured may, under ſuch Circumſtances, abandon to the Inſurers.

That every Argument applicable to the Ship held good as to the Goods.——The Cargo was periſhable, and the Voyage defeated.——

That the Act of Parliament † did not ſuſpend the total Demand, but put the Inſurers in the Place of the Inſured; and that in the preſent Caſe the Loſs was total at the Time of the Capture, and continued total, and there is no colour to ſay, that the Property was not diveſted;---it might as reaſonably be ſaid that the Property was not altered, if a Ship was ſunk and two Days after weighed up again.——All of Opinion that the Loſs was total by the Capture, and that the Inſured had a Right to abandon.

69. Policy of Aſſurance to warrant a Ship for twelve Months; the Ship did not periſh within the Time of twelve Months, being accounted Calendar Months, as January February, &c. but within twelve Months, reckoning twenty-eight Days to the Month. Reſolved that the Policy was not forfeited. Cited in Sir Woollaſton Dexey's Caſe. 1 Leon. 96. Molloy, B. 2. C. 7. §. 3.

SECT. IX.

Of Bottomry Bonds.

1. BOTTOMRY is the Act of borrowing Money on a Ship's Bottom, by engaging the Veſſel for the Repayment; ſo that in Caſe ſhe miſcarries, the Lender loſes his Money; but if ſhe finiſhes her Voyage, and arrives in Safety, the Borrower is to repay the Loan with a Premium or Intereſt agreed on (which is always adequate to the Risk;) and if this be denied or deferred, the Lender ſhall have the Ship †.

Bottomry is likewiſe called fœnus nauticum, pecunia trajectitia, and ſometimes uſura marina, though improperly; for notwithſtanding the Intereſt in theſe Contracts is always much larger than that the Law preſcribes for Monies lent on landed Securities, yet it is never accounted Uſury, as marine Loans are furniſhed at the Hazard of the Lender, which the others are not; and where the Risk is greateſt on the advanced Monies, the Profit ought in Reaſon to be ſo too.

Money lent on Bottomry is commonly on the Ship only, though ſometimes it is upon the Perſon of the Borrower, and ſometimes on both. The firſt is where a Man takes up Money, and obliges himſelf, that if the Ship agreed on arrives at ſuch a Port, then to repay the Loan, with the Intereſt ſtipulated; but, if the Ship miſcarry, then nothing *. But when Money is lent at Intereſt it is delivered at the Peril of the Borrower, and the Profit of this is merely the Price of the Loan; whereas the Profit of the other is a Reward for the Danger and Adventure of the Sea, which the Lender takes upon himſelf, and makes the Intereſt lawful. Lex Mercat. red. 123.

2. By Stat. 19 Geo. 2. it is enacted, that after the 1ſt of Auguſt 1746, every Sum lent on Bottomry, or at Reſpondentia, upon any Subject's Ships to or from the Eaſt Indies, ſhall be lent only on the Ship, or the Merchandizes laden on board her, and ſo expreſſed in the Condition of the Bond; and the Benefit of Salvage ſhall be allowed to the Lender, his Agents, &c. who alone ſhall have a Right to make Aſſurance on the Money lent: and no Borrower of Money upon

3. The Defendant had lent 300*l.* on a Bottomry Bond, and afterwards inſured 450*l.* on that Ship with the Plaintiff, for ſix Guineas per cent. Premium, as intereſted for Money lent, &c, The Ship outlived the Time at which the Money was payable, and afterwards was loſt in the Eaſt Indies. The Defendant recovered the Money on the Bottomry Bond, and afterwards ſued the Inſurers upon their Policy, who brought their Bill to be relieved, for that the Money inſured by the Policy was the Money lent upon the Bottomry, and that the Defendant was no otherwiſe intereſted in the Ship; and that the Money being paid, no Uſe ought to be made of the Policy. And the Court decreed the Policy to be delivered up. 2 Eq. Ab. 371. Trin. 1692. Goddart and Garret.

4. Where the Defendant lent the Plaintiff 250*l.* on a Bottomry Bond, and afterwards inſured on the ſame Ship; but the Inſurance was larger as to the Voyage, there being Liberty to go to other Ports and Places than what were contained in the Condition of the Bottomry Bond. The Ship being loſt, the Defendant recovered the Money on the Policy of Inſurance, and alſo put the Bottomry Bond in Suit. The Ship, tho' loſt, having deviated from the Voyage mentioned in the the Bond, the Plaintiff brought his Bill, pretending the Defendant ought not to have a double Satisfaction; to recover both on the Inſurance, and alſo on the Bond, he having inſured only in reſpect of the Money he had lent on the Bottomry, and had no other Intereſt in the Ship or Cargo: And therefore the Plaintiff would have had the Benefit of the Inſurance paying the Premium; but the Court held, that the Defendant having paid the Premium was intitled to the Benefit of the Policy, and run the Riſque whether the Ship was loſt, or not; and the Inſurers might as well pretend to have Aid of the Bottomry Bond, and to diſcount the Money recovered thereon, as the Plaintiff to have the Money recovered on the Policy to eaſe the Bottomry Bond. Mich. 1715. Harman and Vanhatton. 2 Vern. 717.

5. The Plaintiff entered into a penal Bond of Bottomry to pay 40*l.* per Month for 50*l.* The Ship was to go from Holland to the Spaniſh Iſlands, and ſo to return for England; but if ſhe periſhed, the Defendant was to loſe his 50*l.* She went accordingly to the Spaniſh Iſlands, took in Moors at Africa, and upon that Occaſion went to Barbadoes, and then periſhed at Sea; the Plaintiff, being ſued on the Bond and Penalty, ſought Relief, pretending that the Deviation was on Neceſſity: But his Bill was diſmiſſed, ſaving as to the Penalty. 2 Chan. Cap. 130. Vid. 2 Salk. 444.

6. But where J. S. entered into a Bottomry Bond, whereby he bound himſelf in Conſideration of 400*l.* as well to perform the Voyage within ſix Months, as at the ſix Months End to pay 400*l.* and 40*l.* Premium, in caſe the Veſſel arrived ſafe, and was not loſt in the Voyage. And it fell out that J. S. never went the Voyage, whereby his Bond became forfeited; and he preferred a Bill to be relieved: And in regard the Ship lay all along in the Port of London, and ſo the Defendant run no Hazard of loſing his Principal, the Lord Keeper thought fit to decree, that the Defendant ſhould loſe the Premium of 40*l.* and be contented with his ordinary Intereſt. Mich. 1684. Deguilder and Depeiſter. 1 Vern. 263.

7. A Part-owner of a Ship borrowed Money of the Plaintiff upon a Bottomry Bond, payable on the Return of the Ship from the Voyage ſhe was then going in the Service of the Eaſt India Company. And the Eaſt India Company broke up the Ship in the Indies; and the Owners brought their Action againſt the Company, and recovered Damages; but they did not amount to a full Satisfaction. And the Obligee brought his Bill, to have his proportionable Satisfaction out of the Money recovered: But his Bill was diſmiſſed, and he left to recover as well as he could at Law; for a Court of Equity will never aſſiſt a Bottomry Bond which carries an unreaſonable Intereſt. Mich. 1701. Dandy and Turner. 1 Equ. Abr. 372.

8. Bill to be relieved againſt a Bottomry Bond, with Condition that if the Ship S. bound to the Eaſt Indies, ſhall return to L. within 36 Months, or if ſhe does not return within 36 Months, not being taken or loſt by inevitable Accidents within that Time, then the Money to be paid, &c. The Ship was detained in the Port of Surat in India, by Embarog by the Great Mogul, ſo that ſhe could not ſail from Surat till after the 36 Months were elapſed, and in her Return Home was taken by the French; but, being after the 36 Months, the Bond was forfeited: But there being no Fault in the Maſter, and the Voyage delayed by inevitable Accident, viz. by the ſaid Embargo, the Bill prayed to be relieved againſt the Penalty of the Bond. Harcourt C. diſmiſſed the Bill, but without Coſts, ſaying, he could not relieve againſt the expreſs Agreement of the Parties; but if the Defendant had inſured this Money upon the Ship, the Plaintiff ſhould have the Benefit of the Inſurance, upon allowing the Defendant the Charges of the Inſurance, if the Plaintiff pays the Money within three Months. *Vin. 9. Debt upon an Obligation with Condition to pay ſo much Money, if a Ship returned within ſix Months, from Oſtend in Flanders to London (which was more than a third Part of the legal Intereſt of the Money), and if ſhe do not return, then the Obligation to be void. The Defendant pleaded, that there was a corrupt Agreement between him and the Plaintiff; and that at the Time of making of the Obligation, it was agreed he ſhould have no more for Intereſt than the Law allowed, in caſe the Ship ſhould ever return, and avers that the Bond was entered into by Covin to avoid the Statute of Uſury. Per Hale, clearly, this Bond is not within the Statute; for this is the common Way of Inſurance, and if this were void by the Statute of Uſury, Trade would be deſtroyed; for it is a Caſualty whether ever ſuch a Ship ſhall return or not: But he agreed the Averment was well taken, becauſe it diſcloſed the Manner of the Agreement. Hardres 418. Joy againſt Kent. Molloy, B. 2. 10. Where A. lends B. 100 l. to freight a Ship abroad, and they agree that if the Ship comes Home ſafe, A. ſhall have 150 l. and that if ſhe do not, that he ſhall loſe the 100 l. this is not Uſury, but good by the Cuſtom of Merchants; becauſe of the great Perils of the Sea, and both Principal and Intereſt run the ſame Hazard of being loſt; but if the Principal be ſecured, and the Intereſt only depend on Hazard, if it be more than is lawful, it is Uſury. 2 Rol. Rep. 48. 5 Co. 70, &c. Cro. Jac. 208, 508. 1 Keb. 539, 711.

11. So where the Condition of a Bottomry Bond was, that if the Obligor, or the Ship, or the Goods return ſafe, then to pay more than the legal Intereſt; this was adjudged good by the Cuſtom of Merchants, tho' it depends on many Contingencies; and tho' the Obligee may be ſaid to run little Hazard; and tho' any of the Contingencies become impoſſible, as if the Obligor die before his Return, &c. yet the Bond remains payable, contrary to the general Rule, of Law in ſuch Caſes; for the Law ſupplies theſe Words, Words, which ſhall firſt happen, and foreclоſes the Election of the Obligor, and gives it to the Obligee to take his on which of the Contingencies ſhall firſt happen. 1 Lev. 54. 1 Sid. 27.

12. A Ship going in the Fiſhing Trade to Newfoundand (which Voyage muſt be performed in eight Months) the Plaintiff gave the Defendant 50*l. to repay* 60*l. upon the Return of the Ship to* Dartmouth; and if by Leakage or Tempeſt ſhe ſhould not return in eight Months, then to pay the principal Money only; and if ſhe never returned, then he ſhould pay nothing. All the Court held, that this is no Uſury within the Statute; for if the Ship had ſtaid at Newfoundland two or three Years, he was to pay but 60*l.* upon the Return of the Ship, and if ſhe never returned, then nothing; ſo that the Plaintiff run a Hazard of having leſs than the Intereſt which the Law allows, and poſſibly neither Principal nor Intereſt. *Cro. Debt upon a Bond of 300*l.* conditioned that if ſuch a Ship ſailed to Surat in the Eaſt Indies, and returned ſafe to London, or if the Owner and his Goods returned ſafe, &c. the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff the principal Sum of 300*l.* and alſo 40*l.* for every 100*l.* But if the Ship ſhould periſh by any unavoidable Caſualty of the Sea, Fire, or Enemies, to be proved by ſufficient Evidence, then the Plaintiff was to have nothing. The Queſtion was, Whether this was an uſurious Contract? Adjudged that it was not, and that it was a good Bottomry Contract. Bridgeman Chief Juſtice diſtinguiſhed between a Bargain gain and a Loan; for if the Bargain is plain, and the Principal isin Hazard, it cannot be ſaid to be within the Statute of Uſury; but it is otherwiſe of a Loan, where it is intended that the Principal is in no Hazard; and adjudged per tot. Cur. for the Plaintiff, that this Contract is not uſurious. Sid. 27. Pl. 8. Hill. 12 Car. 2. C. B. Soome v. Gleen. Vin. Ab. Tit. Bott. Bonds, A. 2.

14. A Maſter of a Ship hath no Power to take up Money by Bottomry in Places where his Owner or Owners dwell, unleſs it were only for ſo much as his Part comes to in the ſaid Ship: Otherwiſe, he and his Eſtate muſt ſtand liable to anſwer the ſame. But when a Maſter is out of the Country, and where he hath no Owners, nor any Goods of theirs, nor of his own, and cannot procure Money by Exchange or otherwiſe, and that for want of Money the Voyage might be retarded or defeated, Money may be taken up upon Bottomry, and all the Owners are liable thereunto: Otherwiſe, he ſhall bear the Loſs, that is, the Owners are liable by their Veſſel; and the Owners have their Remedy againſt the Maſter. But the Perſons of the Owners are no ways liable by the Act of the Maſter for Money taken up. Molloy, B. 2. C. 11. §. 11.

15. It is certain that the greater the Danger is, if there be a real Adventure, the greater may the Profit be of the Money advanced; though ſome ſeem to be of Opinion, that any Profit or Advantage ought not to be made of Money ſo lent, no more than of that which is advanced on a Simple Loan, and on the Peril of the Borrower. However, all or moſt of the trading Nations of Chriſtendom do at this Day allow it as a Matter moſt reaſonable, on account of the Contingency or Hazard that the Lender runs; and therefore ſuch Money may be advanced ſeveral Ways; ſo that the Lender runs a Hazard. Molloy, B. 2. C. 11. §. 14.

16. There is another Way of advancing Money called Uſura Marina, joining the advanced Money and and the Danger of the Sea together; and this is binding ſometimes upon the Borrower's Ship, Goods, and Perſon: The Produce of this will advance ſometimes to 20, 30, and ſometimes 40 per cent. As for Inſtance: A private Gentleman has 1000*l.* ready Money lying by him; and having Notice of an ingenious Merchant who has Credit beyond Seas, and underſtands his Buſineſs well, applies himſelf to him: and offers him 1000*l.* to be laid out in ſuch Commodities as the Merchant ſhall think convenient for that Port or Country the Borrower deſigns them for, and that he will bear the Adventure of that Money during the whole Voyage (which he knows may be accompliſhed within a Year). Hereupon the Contract is agreed upon; 5 per cent. is accounted for the Intereſt, and 12 per cent. for the Adventure outwards, and 12 per cent. for the Goods homeward; ſo that upon the Return the Lender receives 29*l. per cent.* And this cannot be Uſury by the Laws of this Realm, on account of the Risk and Danger which the Lender runs. Molloy, B. 2. C. 11 §. 14.

SECT. X.

Of Inſurances on Lives.

1. MENS Lives with good Reaſon are, and may be, inſured, to ſecure to a Creditor the Reimburſement of a Sum advanced to his Debtor for purchaſing a Poſt or Place; out of the Income of which he may have a Sufficiency beſides his Maintenance, and Expences, and Intereſt, and Premium, to pay off yearly a Part of the Capital. However, the Lender ought not to inſure the Life of the Borrower without his Conſent. In ſome Places Inſurances are not permitted on the Lives of Perſons at the Head of Government *; but in London People take the Liberty

berty to make Inſurances on any one's Life without Exception; and the Inſurers ſeldom inquire much if there are good or bad Reaſons for ſuch an Inſurance, but only what the Perſon's Age is, and whether he be of a good Conſtitution. The Common Premium on a good Life from 20 to 50 Years of Age is 5 per cent. and from 50 or 60 Years old, 6 per cent. per annum: But theſe Premiums are higher than any Computation founded on Obſervations concerning the Probabilities of human Life, will warrant.——— People ought by all Means to be prevented from getting Inſurances done with ſiniſter Views, eſpecially that inhuman one of committing Murder to gain the Sum inſured; an Inſtance of which Villainy happened a few Years ſince in a London Apothecary, who having got his Wife's Life inſured, ſoon after killed her. Underwriters ſhould therefore inform themſelves of the Motives why an Inſurance is required, and not be contented with obſcure, plauſible, or fictitious Reaſons. It is indeed true that the Inſurers are not obliged to pay to a Murderer convict, as happened in the Caſe of the aforementioned Apothecary; yet this does not reſtore the Life ſacrificed. A great Part of the Inſurance done on Lives in London are for People who have certain Expectations in Reverſion after the Death of ſome Friend or Relation, whoſe Poſſeſſions they have a mind in part to anticipate by this Means: But ſuch Inſurances ſeem not eaſily to be juſtified, as they fruſtrate the Intention of the Bequeather, and frequently overſet a good Deſign: And a fine Eſtate may be ſoon anticipated by this irregular Method. All Ordinances of Inſurance allow it to be made upon the Lives of Captives in Slavery; but to ſubſiſt no longer than the Bondage does, or till the Perſon be redeemed. Mag. Inſur. P. 32. Vol. 1.

2. J S. and others came to the Inſurance Office, and brought a Policy for inſuring the Life of A. (upon whoſe Life they had no Concern or Intereſt depending) for a Year, and the Policy ran, whether intereſted or not intereſted; and the Premium was 5 per cent. And they took this Way to draw in Subſcribers: They agreed with M. a known Merchant upon the Exchange, and a leading Man in ſuch Caſes, to ſubſcribe firſt; but in caſe A. died within the Year, M. was to loſe nothing, but, on the contrary, was to ſhare what ſhould be gained from the other Subſcribers. Upon the Credit of M.'s ſubſcribing, ſeveral others (who had inquired of M. about A. who was his Neighbour) ſubſcribed likewiſe. A. died in four Months, and the Bill was to be relieved againſt this Policy; and this Matter being all confeſſed by Anſwer, the Policy was decreed to be delivered up, and the Premium to be paid, the Plaintiff deducting thereout his Coſts. Hil. 1690. Wittingham and *Thornborough. The Court ſaid, this Way of inſuring was firſt ſet up for the Benefit of Trade; that when a Merchant happened to have a Loſs, he might not be undone by it, the Loſs by this Way being borne by many: But if ſuch ill Practices were uſed, it would turn to the Ruin of Trade, inſtead of advancing it. Ibid.

3. A Policy of Inſurance was made to inſure the Life of Sir Robert Howard for one Year, from the Day of the Date thereof. The Policy was dated the 3d Day of September, 1697. Sir Robert died on the third Day of September, 1698, about one o'clock in the Morning. And by Holt Chief Juſtice, in an Action hereupon it was ruled at the Sittings at Guildhall, 1ſt, That from the Day of the Date excludes the Day, but from the Date includes it; ſo that the Day of the Date is excluded. 2dly, That the Law makes no Fraction in a Day; yet in this Caſe he dying after the Commencement, and before the End of the laſt Day, the Inſurer is liable, becauſe the Inſurance is for a Year, and the Year is not compleat till the Day be over; over; yet if A. be born on the third Day of September, and on the 2d Day of September twenty-one Years afterwards he makes his Will; this is a good Will; for the Law will make no Fraction of a Day, and by Conſequence he was of Age. 2 Salk. 625. Trin. 11. W. 3. Terms, Methods and Advantages of inſuring Lives in the Office of the Amicable Society for a Perpetual Aſſurance, kept in Serjeant's-Inn, Fleet-Street. Printed in the Year 1758.

4. On the 25th of July, 1706, the then Lord Biſhop of Oxford, Sir Thomas Aleyn, Bart. and others, obtained from the late Queen ANNE, a Charter for incorporating them and their Succeſſors by the Name of the AMICABLE SOCIETY for a PERPETUAL ASSURANCE-OFFICE, for the Purpoſe of making a Proviſion for their Wives, Children, and other Relations, after an eaſy, certain, and advantageous Manner; with Power to purchaſe Lands, ſue and be ſued, and to have a Common Seal, &c. The Number of Perſons to be incorporated not to exceed 2000, but might be leſs; each Perſon to receive a Policy, under the Seal of the Corporation, intitling his Nominee to a Dividend on his or her Deceaſe, in the Manner mentioned in the Charter. After paying the Charges of the Policy, and 10*s.* Entrance-Money, each Perſon was to pay 6*l.* 4*s. per Annum*, which annual Payments have ſince, by the Increaſe of the Society's Stock, been reduced to 5*l.* a Year, payable Quarterly. From theſe Payments the Dividends to Claimants are to ariſe. For which Reaſon, if they be at any Time a Year and a Quarter in Arrear, ſuch Defaulters are excluded from all Benefit of their Policies. The Affairs of the Corporation are managed by a Court of Directors, according to the Powers granted by the Charter, and the Directions of the By-Laws. The Directors are Twelve, choſen yearly, within Forty Days after every 25th Day of March. The Majority of Members aſſembled at a General-Court, (which is never to conſiſt of leſs than Twenty) are impowered to make By-Laws and Ordinances for the good Government of the Corporation. The Charter directs one of the Members of the Society to be elected their Regiſter, who being alſo their Receiver and Accomptant, is therefore required by the By-Laws to give good Security in the Sum of 2000 l. at leaſt. All Perſons at the Time of their Admiſſion are to be between the Ages of Twelve and Forty-five, and muſt then appear to be in a good State of Health. Perſons living in the Country may be admitted by Certificates and Affidavits, Forms of which may be had at the Office. Every Claimant is impowered to put in a new Life in the Room of the deceaſed, within Twelve Calendar Months next after the End of the Current Year, for which his or her Claim ſhall be allowed as often as the ſame ſhall happen, upon Payment of Ten Shillings Entrance: Any Perſon may have Two or Three Inſurances (or Numbers) on one and the ſame Life, whereby ſuch Perſons will be intitled to a Claim, on each Number ſo inſured. Five Members of the Society are annually elected Auditors, who are by their Office to inſpect every Tranſaction of the Society, to examine all Vouchers for Receipts and Payments, and upon Oath to lay before the quarterly and annual General-Courts, the quarterly and annual Accounts of the Society: And on the Day before the holding each Court of Directors, the Auditors are to ſtate and enter in the Director's Minute-Book a Ballance of the Caſh of the Society.

That the good End intended by the Charter has been purſued, and the Society found to be greatly beneficial to the Publick, will evidently appear from a State of their yearly Dividends from Lady-Day 1710, to Lady-Day 1757, (the preceding Years having been particularly provided for by the Charter) being Forty-ſeven Dividends ſucceſſively, during which Time the Quantum of each Claim amounts upon upon an Average to the Sum of 106*l.* 1*s.* 4*d* and upwards: But taking the Computation only for theſe Twenty-three Years laſt paſt, viz. from the Year 1734, when by an Order of the General Court a Part of their yearly Income was appropriated for augmenting their Claims whenever they ſhould happen to be under 100*l.*) the Quantum of ſuch Claims from the Year 1734 to 1757, have amounted upon an Average to 120*l.* 9*s.* 1*d.* and ſo conſiderable has been the Increaſe of the Dividends for theſe Nine Years laſt paſt; that each Claim during that Period has been advanced upon an Average to 142*l.* 6*s.* $5\frac{1}{2}d$, viz.

	l.	s.	d.

N. B. At a General-Court held the 12th Day of May 1757, an Order was made for further augmenting the Dividends on Claims, ſo as that for the future they will not be leſs than 125*l.* each Claim, but yet may happen to be conſiderably more, which has been the Caſe in ſeveral former Years, as appears by the above Account, in the Inſtances of the ſaid ſeveral Years from 1750 to 1755, incluſive.

The Advantages propoſed from becoming Members of this Society, are principally as follow:

To Clergymen, Phyſicians, Surgeons, Lawyers, Tradeſmen, and particularly Perſons poſſeſſed of Places or Employments for Life: To ſuch Parents, Husbands or Wives, and other Relations, whoſe Income is ſubject to be determined or diminiſhed at their reſpective Deaths, who by inſuring their Lives by Means of this Society, may now in all Events, leave to their Families a Claim, or Right to receive a Sum not leſs than 125 l. for every Five Pounds annually paid in, and very probably a larger Sum as appears by the above Account.

To Married Perſons, more eſpecially where a Jointure, Penſion, or Annuity depends on both or either of their Lives, by inſuring the Life of the Perſons intitled to ſuch Annuity, Penſion or Jointure.

To Dependants upon any other Perſon intitled to a Salary, Benefaction, or other Means of Subſiſtance, during the Life of ſuch Perſon, whoſe Life being inſured in this Society, either by themſelves, or by the Perſon upon whom they are Dependant, will intitle them to receive upon the Death of ſuch Perſon, a Sum not leſs than 125 l. for each Number ſo inſured.

To Perſons wanting to borrow Money, who by inſuring their Lives, are enabled to give a collateral Security for the Money borrowed.

To Creditors intitled to Demands larger than their Debtors are able to diſcharge, ſuch Debtors may by a like Inſurance ſecure to their Creditors their principal Sums at their Deaths.

The above mentioned Advantages are offered chiefly with reſpect to perpetual Inſurances for Life; but temporary Inſurers may find no leſs Advantage from this Society, as may plainly appear from the following Inſtance, viz. A. B. has agreed for the Purchaſe of an Office or Employment, but wants 300 l. or 400 l. to make up the Purchaſe-Money: He is willing to aſſign a Share of the Profits or Income of his Office, as a Security or Pledge for the Repayment of the Principal with Intereſt, but cannot obtain a Loan of that Sum without inſuring his Life till the whole be cleared, which he is enabled to do by the Help of this Society. For Example, He purchaſes three Numbers, on each of which he inſures his Life, and thereby his Aſſigns become intitled to three ſeveral Claims at his Death; which Claims by the above-mentioned Proviſion, Proviſion, will not be leſs than 125 l. each, and may probably amount to more: He aſſigns and depoſits his Policy with the Lender: He pays to the Society for the yearly Contributions on the three Numbers no more than 5 l. each, which is conſiderably leſs than 5 l. per Cent. under which Rate no other Office will inſure, and that for one Year only; at the End of which ſuch Offices are at Liberty to refuſe any further Inſurance: Whereas in this Society the Inſurance continues during the Life of the Inſured, unleſs excluded for Non-payment of the quarterly Contributions. And every Inſurer, or their Repreſentatives, at the End of their Inſurance may in great Meaſure (if not entirely) reimburſe themſelves their Purchaſe-Money (originally paid by them for their Numbers) by diſpoſing of them at a Market-Price, which they may do without any further Trouble than applying to the Society's Office.

SECT. XI.

Of the Action on a Policy of Aſſurance; and the Evidence neceſſary to ſupport it.

1. INdebitat. aſſumpſit pro præmio, upon a Policy of Aſſurance upon ſuch a Ship, the Defendant demurred ſpecially, becauſe he did not ſhew the Conſideration certainly, what the Premium was, or how it became due; ſed non allocat. for it is as good as Indebitat. aſſumpſit pro quodam ſalaroi, which hath been adjudged good. Molloy, B. 2. C. 7. §. 3. cites 2 Lev. Fowlk v. Pinſacho.

2. A general Indebitatus aſſumpſit will lie by an Inſurer of a Ship for the Premium for which he inſured, though the Conſideration of ſuch Inſurance (viz. the Hazard of Loſs) is but a Contingency. Per Cur. Carth. 338. in Caſe of Jackſon v. Colegrave.

3. In Indebitatus aſſumpſit by B. for 5 l. received to the Plaintiff's Uſe, and non aſſumpſit pleaded, the Caſe was, that A. took a Policy of Inſurance upon Account for 51 Premium in the Name of B. and A. paid the ſaid Premium to J. S. and A. had no Goods then on board, and ſo the Policy was void, and ſo the Money to be returned by the Cuſtom of Merchants. It was inſiſted that the Action ought to have been in A's Name; for the Money was his, and if the Policy had been good, it would have been to his Advantage, and it could no ways be ſaid to be received to B's Uſe, it never being his Money. Beſides here may be a great Fraud upon all Inſurers in this, that an Inſurance may be made in another's Name, and if a Loſs happen, then the Inſurers ſhall pay, for that ſome ceſtui que truſt had Goods on board; But if the Ship arrives then the nominal Truſtee ſhall bring an Indebitatus aſſumpſit for the Premium, as having no Goods on board. To all which Holt, Chief Juſtice, anſwered, that the Policy being in B's Name, the Premium was paid in his Name, as his Money, and he muſt bring the Action upon a Loſs, and ſo upon Avoidance of the Policy to recover back the Premium; and as to the Inconveniencies, it would be the ſame, whoſoever was to bring the Action, and therefore the Inſurers ought with Caution to look to that before-hand. Show. 156. Paſch. 2 W. and M. Martin v. Sitwell. Vin. Ab. Tit. Pol. of Aſſurance, (A.) 37.

4. B. having the Command of a Merchant-Ship, and likewiſe a Share in her as being an Owner, in 1730 deſired A. by Letter, to get 200*l* inſured on her. An Inſurance was made in the Name of A. (the Agent) by B's Direction, the Inſurers (J. S. and T. S.) knowing nothing of B. In the Voyage the Ship was loſt, and B. the Captain caſt away. M. the Adminiſtratrix of B. gave J. S. and T. S. Notice of the Loſs and Truſt, and required Payment to her only. But A. under Pretence that B. was indebted to him, procured the Inſurers to give him Credit for the Sum in an Account which they afterwards made up with him, and then the Ballance of that Account was carried into a new Account, and the ſecond Account was afterwards ſettled between them. Upon a Bill by M. to be relieved, it was decreed that the Inſurers pay her the Money, and A. to pay the Coſts of Suit, deducting thereout the Charges he had been at in obtaining the Policy. Barn. Chan. Rep. 319. Mich. 1740. Fell v. Lutwidge.

5. This Caſe came before the Houſe of Lords upon an Appeal from an Order by Lord Chancellor King. The Caſe appeared to be, that the Appellant Ghettoff and others, having fitted out a Ship for a Voyage from Oſtend to China, ſent a Commiſſion to one Deconick, their Agent in London, to procure an Inſurance made by the Reſpondents, the London Aſſurance Company, upon the ſaid Ship, for the Voyage aforeſaid, for 5000 l. which Inſurance was accordingly made and entered into by the Reſpondents in the common Form. The Ship being loſt in her Voyage, the Appellants brought their Bill in the Court of Chancery againſt the Reſpondents, and alſo againſt Deconick, ſetting out the Inſurance, and ſuggeſting that the Ship was loſt; which Loſs amounted in Value to the whole of the ſaid 5000 l. and that the Plaintiffs were, in Shares, entitled to recover the ſame. And having ſet forth, that the ſaid Deconick was only their Truſtee, they further charged, that he refuſed to let them make uſe of his Name at Law, and that they lived abroad in ſeveral diſtant and remote Places, whereby, and by reaſon of the great Difficulty of producing Witneſſes, vivâ voce, they were diſabled from bringing an Action at Law, and therefore prayed a Decree for the 5000 l. according to their ſeveral Proportions.

The Reſpondents put in an Anſwer to ſo much of the Bill as related to a Diſcovery; but as to the Demand of the 5000 l. or any leſs Money, they demurred. For Cauſe of which Demurrer ſhewed, that, if the Policy was forfeited, a proper Action at Law lay to recover the Money ſo loſt, and that the Appellants, if they had any juſt Demand, might have their complete and adequate Remedy, by ſuch action at Law, where Matters of this Nature are properly cognizable, and where the Appellants ought to prove their Intereſt and Loſs, and not in a Court of Equity.

This Demurrer was argued before Lord Chancellor King, upon the 15th of June 1728, and the Appellants Council inſiſting very much on the Allegation in the Bill of Deconick, the Truſtees refuſing to permit his Name to be made uſe of in an Action at Law, his Lordſhip was pleaſed to reſpite the Conſideration of the Demurrer, till the coming in of the Defendant Deconick's Anſwer. But, if the Appellants did not procure his Anſwer within two Months, it was ordered, that the Demurrer ſhould be allowed.

Deconick put in his Anſwer within the two Months, and thereby admitted, that he made the Aſſurance in his own Name, in Truſt, and for the Benefit of the Appellants; but ſaid he did not care to permit the Appellants to bring an Action againſt the Company on the ſaid Policy, in his Name, he being adviſed, that if he did, and they failed therein, he ſhould be perſonally liable to pay the Coſts; upon which, on the 21ſt of November 1729, the Demurrer came on to be further argued, when it was ordered, that it ſhould ſtand and be allowed. From which Order an Appeal was preferred to the Houſe of Lords, upon the two following Reaſons:

Firſt, for that the Appellants cannot maintain an Action at Law upon the ſaid Policy in their own Names, and it is in the Power of their Truſtee, whether he will permit his Name to be made uſe of or not. And that, in Caſe the Appellants were able to bring an Action in their own Names, it would be to no purpoſe, in regard that all their Witneſſes, who can prove the Loſs of the Ship, and the reſpective Intereſt of the Appellants therein, live at diſtant Places beyond the Seas, and are not in the Power of the Appellants; nor can the Appellants compel them to come over here to be examined on any Trial at Law.

Secondly,

Secondly, For that the Appellants can have no Manner of Remedy againſt the Reſpondents upon the ſaid Policy, but in a Court of Equity, where they may have an Opportunity, by Virtue of a Commiſſion, to examine their Witneſſes beyond the Seas, and thereby be enabled to prove the Loſs of the ſaid Ship. And that, in Caſe the Appellants are deprived of this Remedy, they will not only loſe the ſaid 5000*l.* but alſo the Sum of 600*l.* which they paid, as a Premium to the Reſpondents, upon making the Inſurance. And the Reſpondents, though they are Debtors the Appellants in 5000*l.* and Intereſt, will, inſtead of paying ſuch Debt, go away with 600*l.* of the Appellants Money.

On Behalf of the Reſpondents it was inſiſted, that the Order for allowing this Demurrer was agreeable to Equity.

Firſt, For that the Appellants Demand is plainly a Demand at Law, they having nothing to prove but their Intereſt and the Loſs of the Ship, which are Facts proper to be tried by a Jury.

Secondly, that there is no Equity ſuggeſted in the Bill, but a pretended Difficulty to produce Witneſſes, and that their Truſtee refuſed them to bring an Action in his Name. The former of which may with equal Reaſon be ſuggeſted, in almoſt every Caſe of a Policy of Inſurance; and the latter appears manifeſtly to be thrown into the Bill merely to change the Juriſdiction, and is in a great Meaſure ſatisfied by the Truſtee's Anſwer. For he does not ſay he ever refuſed; but that at the Time of ſwearing his Anſwer he did not care to let his Name be made uſe of.

Thirdly, that if Bills of this Kind are encouraged, it will be very eaſy to bring all Kinds of Property to be tried in a Court of Equity. The Lords were pleaſed to affirm the Order. Dict. Tr. and Com. In domo procerum. Feb. 1730. De Ghettoff et al. v. London Aſſurance Company.

6. In an Action upon a Policy of Inſurance, by ſeveral Perſons, as Part-Owners of the Ship inſured, ſured, it was held that the Plaintiffs are obliged to prove their reſpective Intereſts in the Ship, and that a Proof of Intereſt in ſome of the Plaintiffs is not a ſufficient Ground to recover upon, though the Intereſt proved be more in Value than the Amount of the Inſurance: And a Nonſuit was recorded. But it ſeemed agreed in this Caſe, that the Plaintiffs are not to be put upon producing their reſpective Bills of Sale of their reſpective Intereſts in the Ship; for that ſuch Sale may be by Parol; but it was held they muſt produce ſome Evidence of Property, as Acts of Ownerſhip, which the Plaintiffs could not make out; and it was held that the Reputation of being the Owners, without ſhewing their Title, or proving Acts of Ownerſhip, is not ſufficient. Dict. Tr. and Com. Curling v. Brand. At Guildhall, before Lee, Chief Juſtice.

7. It was ruled by Holt, Ch. J. May 31ſt, Paſch. 11 W. 3. at Guildhall, that in an Action on a Policy of Aſſurance of a Ship, if the Plaintiff's Witneſs ſwears that the Ship was condemned by Proceſs of Law, it is good Evidence to prove it; but if the Defendant had offered that Matter in Evidence by his Witneſſes, it would have been ſufficient without producing the Sentence of Condemnation. L. Raym, 724. Anon.

8. Action may be maintained on a Policy of Aſſurance, made in the Name of J. S. if J. S. declares the Truſt in Writing, See the Caſe of Rooke v. Thurmond, P. 184. and Spencer and Franco, P. 273.

9 In an Action brought upon a Policy of Aſſurance of a Ship, it appears upon the Evidence, that the Ship was condemned by proceſs of Law and ſeized: By this Sentence the Property and Ownerſhip are deſtroyed, and there is no Remedy upon the Policy of Inſurance. Ruled by Holt, Ch. J. May 31. at Guildhall. L. Raym. 724.

10 It is not eaſy to deſcribe the Number and Nature of the Proofs, or Documents, required to recover a Loſs, a Loſs. Some we will enumerate. It is common for the Inſurers to ask.

1. What is inſured elſewhere upon the Ship or Goods, for which the Loſs or Damage is demanded?

2. The Inſurers ask for the Proteſt; which is a Declaration upon Oath uſually made by the Maſter, and ſome of his People, before a Juſtice, Notary, or Council, at any Place where they firſt arrive; ſetting forth what bad Weather they met with in the Voyage, or any other Accident that befel them: As alſo what Precaution they took to guard againſt the ill Conſequences to be apprehended from thoſe Accidents, with the Motives they had for going into any other Harbour than that they were bound to: Which Sort of Proteſts are now become almoſt a mere Matter of Form, as a Notion is propagated at ſome Places, that if the Maſters neglect proteſting, immediately after Arrival, againſt the Damages that have reſulted from any bad Weather, they make themſelves anſwerable for thoſe Damages that ſhall be found in any of the Goods aboard; from which they believe a Proteſt frees them. But this cannot be ſufficient to clear them on all Occaſions. It is true the French Ordinance of 1681, Tit. 10. Congés et Reports, Art. 4. enjoins, "That all Maſters ſhall be obliged to make a Re-"port within twenty-four hours after their Arrival, "before the Lieutenant or Judge of the Admiralty, "of all that has happened in their Voyage." But we imagine that the Intent of this Order is only to prevent the making any partial Declarations, by not allowing Time, and Room for it; which might have ſome Weight where the Maſter was no ways concerned, but not when the Queſtion is, whether the Damage did not proceed from his own Careleſſneſs, bad Stowage, or Defect in caulking his Decks; for on any Appearance of ſuch Neglects, the Proprietors of the Goods have a Right, notwithſtanding the Proteſt, to inſiſt that the Ship be viſited, and a particular Examination of the Crew taken, how and where theſe Goods were laid. At Hamburgh it is the Cuſ-tom ſoon after a Ship's Arrival, though not within twenty-four Hours, to ſend a printed Notification to every Perſon, who has Goods on board, importing that the Maſter fears his Cargo may have ſuffered Damage: The Intent of this is, that all who have Goods to receive, may ſend to inſpect the Ship, and the Places where they were ſtowed, before they take them aſhore. This is certainly a very prudent Precaution and tends greatly to the Maſter's Juſtification. At London Maſters ſeldom do any thing more, than to have their Intentions of making a Proteſt noted before a Notary Publick, without giving any Information to the Perſons who are to receive the Goods, &c.

3. For the Bills of Sale, and often for the Cuſtom-houſe Regiſters, to find out the Owners, when Inſurances are made on the Body of a Ship.

4. For Bills of Lading ſigned by the Maſter; which are uſually called for, to prove an Intereſt in Goods: But if there is any apparent Reaſon to diſtruſt their being genuine, all ſuch Clearances, or Regiſters from the Cuſtom-houſes, as are ordinarily given where the Ship has been diſpatched, are called for; and upon Proofs of ſuch Authority a greater Dependance in general may be made than upon mere Bills of Lading; more eſpecially upon Certificates from thoſe Regiſters which the Spaniſh Ships in their Weſt India Trader carry along with them, and which Duplicates remain behind in the Cuſtom-houſe: For the Manner of making ſuch a Regiſter is, that every Perſon who has Goods to ſhip, previous to their Embarkation gives an Account of their Bales and Marks, and pays a Duty for them, either by Weight or Meaſure, which is explained in a Cocket; and when they paſs the Gates, or go to be ſhipped, they are ſearched to ſee whether they correſpond with the Entry delivered in and if they do, each Parcel is marked with a Cuſtom-houſe Stamp, and the Cocket ſigned by the Searchers. When on board another Set of Viſiters re-examine them, and put their Cumplido upon each Cocket, Cocket out of all which the general Regiſter is framed, to go by the Ship, in order to a Re-examination by the King's Officers at the Place of their unloading in America. Mag. Inſur. Vol. 1. P. 87.

SECT. XII.

Calculation of the Sum neceſſary to be inſured ſo as to cover the Outſet of the Adventure.

IN Caſe of a Loſs, it is cuſtomary for the Inſurers to pay but 98 l. for every 100 l. inſured, or to have two per Cent. abated, when he ſettles with the inſured according to agreement in the Policy.

As the Inſurer has a Right to the Premium, when the Agreement is made, that Premium, whatever it is, makes a Part of the Money paid, in Caſe of Loſs: Therefore,

At 10 per Ct. Premium, the Inſured receives but 88 l.

And ſo in Proportion in the Caſe of any Premium.

In order to ſhew the Sum neceſſary to be inſured, if the Adventurer would cover, or make good his Outſet, or firſt Adventure, in Caſe of a Loſs, let 10 per Cent. be the ſuppoſed Premium on an 100 l. Adventure. Then,

As 88 l. is to 100 l. ſo is 100 l. to 113 l. 12 s. 8 d. the Sum neceſſary to be inſured to make good 100 l.

As 88 l. is to 100 l. ſo is 10 l. to 11 l. 7 s. 3 d. the Amount of Inſurance. All which is proved by the following Example, viz.

And so as to the rest of the Articles, or any other Adventure, or Premium, on a single Voyage.

According to this Example, the six Articles of Premium, before mentioned, will be shewn by the following Table*.

* In these Tables there is no Regard had to Commissions, Office-charges, Interest of Money, or Risque of Insurers, as they often vary according to Circumstances: For some People insure themselves, and pay no Commission; others employ their Factors, and pay them ½ per Cent. on the Sum insured, and one or two per Cent. on recovering Losses. The Office receives 4*s.* 6*d.* for the Policy, and ½ per Cent. from the Insured upon settling Losses; Interest is seldom chargeable but in the Case of long Voyages. Whatever these Charges shall happen to be, they may be deducted, upon any Computations, together with the two per Cent. abated by the Insurer. The Office keeper keeps an Account with the Insured and Insurer, and with the Consent of the Insurer, retains in his Hands one Shilling in the Pound, or five per Cent. on such Premiums as he receives from the Insured.

The

The foregoing Computation ſhews the Amount of Inſurance on one ſingle Voyage; in the next Place will be ſhewn how it will ſtand with a Voyage out and home, or a double Voyage, &c. The Voyage out is conſidered as one ſingle Voyage, which is already explained in the Article of 10 per Cent. Premium: And as to the Voyage home, deduct the Premium from 98, as aforeſaid: Then ſay, as the Remainder, is to the Premium, ſo is the Amount of the firſt Inſurance, together with 100*l.* to the Inſurance of the Voyage home. This Inſurance home, added to the Inſurance out, makes up the total Inſurance. As for Inſtance, The Premium of 10 per Cent. on 100*l.* Outſet makes the Inſurance out 111*l.* 7*s.* 3*d.* that added to 100*l.* makes 111*l.* 7*s.* 3d. Then, to find the Inſurance home at 10 per Cent. Premium, ſay,

As 88*l.* is to 10*l.* ſo is 111*l.* 7*s.* 3*d.* to 12*l.* 13*s* 1*d.* Then add the 12*l.* 13*s.* 1*d.* Inſurance home to the 11*l.* 7*s.* 3*d.* Inſurance out, it makes 24*l.* 0*s.* 4*d.* *total Inſurance to make good 100*l.* out and home; and the Sum neceſſary to be inſured home will, according to the foregoing Example, amount to 126*l.* 10*s* . 11*d.*

The Premium of 40 per Cent. which is the higheſt Premium mentioned, makes the Inſurance out 68*l.* 19*s.* 3*d.* on 100*l.* Outſet, and the like Premium of 40 per Cent. home makes the Inſurance 116*l.* 10*s.* 6*d.* as is demonſtrable from the ſame Principles: For as 58*l.* is to 40*l.* ſo is 168*l.* 19*s.* 3*d.* to 116*l.* 10*s* 6*d.* Then add the Inſurance out and home, it will make 185*l.* 9*s.* 9*d.* * total Inſurance, to make good 100*l.* in Caſe of a Loſs, which is proved by the following Example.

* See the following Table.

Here follows the Difference between Convoys and no Convoys, in an Inſtance of a treble Voyage, the Rotation being from England to Africa, from thence to America, and then home.

Inſurance from England to Africa may be done in Time of War, at about ſeven per Cent. with good Convoy, and not under fifteen per Cent. without Convoy; and the Voyage may be performed in forty to fifty Days. Inſurance from Africa to America will be about about ſix per Cent. with ſuch Convoy, and eighteen per Cent. without Convoy; and this Voyage may be performed in forty to fifty Days. The Inſurance from America to Great Britain, with good Convoy, will be at about ten per Cent. and without Convoy, at about 25 l. per Cent. and this Voyage may be performed in forty to ſixty Days.

To ſhew the Amount of Inſurance at the abovementioned Rates, to make good 100 l. Outſet throughout the whole Rotation, deduct the ſeveral Premiums from 98, as aforeſaid; and then add the Premium or Premiums on the firſt and ſecond Voyages to 100 l. Then, 83 l. is to 15 l. ſo is 100 l. to 18 l. 1 s. 5 d.

For the ſecond Voyage,
80 l. is to 18 l. ſo is 118 l. 1 s. 5 d. to 26 l. 11 s. 4 d.

For the third Voyage,
73 l. is to 25 l. ſo is 144 l. 12 s. 9 d. to 49 l. 10 s. 8 d.

The Amount of the whole, and the Difference between good Convoys and no Convoys, will appear from the following Table, viz.

At Guildhall, May 15*th* 1759. Sir Alexander Grant, Bart. againſt William Innes.

The Plaintiff declared that on the 13th February 1758, at London, according to the Cuſtom of Merchants, from Time whereof the Memory of Man is not to the contrary there uſed and approved of, cauſed to be made a certain Writing or Policy of Aſſurance; purporting that the Plaintiff, as well in his own Name, as

as for and in the Name and Names of all and every other Perſon or Perſons, to whom the ſame did, might, or ſhould appertain in Part or in all, did make Aſſurance, and cauſed himſelf and them and every of them to be inſured, loſt or not loſt, at and from Jamaica to London, upon the Body, Tackle, Apparel, Ordnance, Munition, Artillery, Boat and other Furniture of and in the good Ship or Veſſel the Prince of Orange, whereof was Maſter for that Voyage Capt. James Anderſon, or whoſoever elſe ſhould go for Maſter in the ſaid Ship, or by whatſoever other Name or Names the ſaid Ship or the Maſter thereof was or ſhould be named or called, beginning the Adventure upon the ſaid Ship, &c. from and immediately following her firſt Arrival in Jamaica, and ſo ſhould continue and endure until the ſaid Ship, with her ſaid Apparel, &c. ſhould be arrived at London, and there had moored at Anchor twenty-four Hours in good Safety; and that it ſhould be lawful for the ſaid Ship in that Voyage to proceed and ſail, and to touch and ſtay at any Port or Places whatſoever without Prejudice to that Inſurance; the ſaid Ship, &c. for ſo much as concerned the Aſſureds, was and ſhould be valued at———†

Touching the Adventures and Perils, which the Aſſurers were contented to bear, and did take upon them in that Voyage, they were of the Seas, Men of War, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, Rovers, Thieves, Jetteſons, Letters of Mart and Countermart, Surpriſals, Takings at Sea, Arreſts, Reſtraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes and People of what Nation, Condition, or Quality ſoever, Baratry of the Maſter and Mariners, and of all other Perils, Loſſes and Misfortunes that had or ſhould come to the Hurt, Detriment or Damage of the ſaid Ship, &c. or any Part thereof; and in Caſe of any Loſs or Misfortune, it ſhould be lawful to the Aſſureds, their Factors, Servants and Aſſigns to ſue and labour for, in and about the Defence, Safeguard and Recovery of the

ſaid Ship, &c. or any Part thereof, without Prejudice to that Inſurance; to the Charges whereof they the Aſſurers would contribute, each according to the Rate and Quantity of his Sum therein aſſured, &c. And ſo they the Aſſurers were contented, and did thereby promiſe and bind themſelves, each one for his own Part, their Heirs, Executors and Goods, to the Aſſureds their Executors, Adminiſtrators and Aſſigns, for the true Performance of the Premiſſes; confeſſing themſelves paid the Conſideration due unto them for that Aſſurance by the Aſſureds at and after the Rate of thirty Guineas per Cent. in Caſe of Loſs; the Aſſureds to abate two per Cent. and by the ſaid Writing or Policy of Aſſurance the Ship and Freight were warranted free from Average under three Pounds per Cent. unleſs general, or the Ship ſhould be ſtranded; and by the ſaid Writing or Policy of Aſſurance it was declared, that the following Aſſurance was upon Ship and Freight; and that the Underwriter was to return 15 l. if the ſaid Ship departed with Convoy for the Voyage, and 5 l. per Cent. for Convoy through the windward Paſſage or Gulph of Florida, &c. Of which ſaid Writing or Policy of Aſſurance the Defendant afterwards had Notice, and thereupon afterwards on the ſame Day and Year, at London, in Conſideration that the Plaintiff at the ſpecial Inſtance and Requeſt of the Defendant, had then and there cauſed to be paid to the Defendant 30 Guineas as a Premium and Reward for the Aſſurance of 100 l. of and upon the ſaid Ship and Freight mentioned in the ſaid Writing or Policy of Aſſurance, and had undertaken, and then and there faithfully promiſed the Defendant to perform and fulfil all Things contained in the ſaid Writing or Policy of Inſurance on the Part and Behalf of the Aſſured in that Behalf to be performed and fulfilled, he the ſaid Defendant undertook, and then and there faithfully promiſed the Plaintiff, that he would become an Aſſurer to the Plaintiff for the ſaid Sum of 100 l. of and upon the ſaid Ship and Freight mentioned in the ſaid Policy, and that he would perform and fulfil all Things Things contained in the ſaid Policy on his Part and Behalf, as ſuch Aſſurer, as to the ſaid 100 l. to be performed and fulfilled according to the Form and Effect of the ſaid Policy, and ſubſcribed the ſaid Policy as ſuch Aſſurer for the ſaid 100 l.

That the ſaid Ship before the making of the ſaid Writing or Policy of Aſſurance, that is, on the 10th December 1757, was in good Safety at Jamaica; and that afterwards divers Goods and Merchandize, to the Value of 10,000 l. were laden and put on board her to be carried on Freight; and that the Plaintiff, at the Time of loading the ſaid Goods and Merchandizes on board the ſaid Ship, and from thence until the Loſs of the ſaid Ship, Goods and Merchandizes hereafter mentioned, was intereſted in the ſaid Ship, and in the ſaid Freight of the ſaid Goods and Merchandizes in the ſaid Policy mentioned, to the Value of all the Money ever inſured or cauſed to be inſured thereon.

That ſaid Ship, on 12th December 1757, departed and ſet ſail from Jamaica on her Voyage towards the Port of London; and that the ſaid Ship with the ſaid Goods and Merchandizes, ſailing and proceeding on her ſaid Voyage, after her ſaid Departure from Jamaica, and before her Arrival at the Port of London, that is, on the 2d February 1758, was attacked, conquered, and taken a Prize by the French; and, together with the Goods and Merchandizes, was then and there wholly loſt to the Plaintiff: Of all which Premiſſes the Defendant had Notice on the 1ſt May 1758, and was requeſted by the ſaid Plaintiff to pay him 98 l. Parcel of ſaid 100 l. ſo by him aſſured; 2 l. Reſidue of ſaid 100 l. being to be abated to the Defendant in reſpect of the ſaid Loſs.

The Defendant paid 56 l. into Court, and pleaded non aſſumpſit; whereupon Iſſue was joined.

The Plaintiff, after fitting out and victualling the ſaid Ship at Waterford, ſent her to Jamaica to take in her Cargo, as before ſtated, and between the 11th and 13th of February 1758, cauſed to be inſured by different Perſons the Sum of 1600 l. at and from Jamaica to London, upon the ſaid Ship and Freight, beginning the Adventure from and immediately following the Ship's Arrival at Jamaica, and ſo to continue until ſhe ſhould arrive at London.

The Ship took in her Cargo at Jamaica, and on 2d December 1757, ſailed from Montego Bay in the ſaid Iſland without Convoy, and on 2d February 1758, was taken as aforeſaid.

About the 12th February 1758, the Ship was retaken by a Britiſh Privateer called the Britannia, Capt. Dobſon, who became intitled to half the nett Proceeds; and Plaintiff applied to the Recaptor's Agent, and deſired he might have the Direction of ſelling the Ship and Cargo for the Benefit of the concerned, but was refuſed; whereupon two Brokers were mutually agreed to by all the Parties to ſell and diſpoſe of the Ship and her Cargo.

The Ship and Cargo were accordingly ſold by publick Auction, with the mutual Conſent of the Plaintiff, Inſurers and Recaptors; and one half of the nett Proceeds was paid to the Plaintiff, and the other half to the Recaptor; and in the Account delivered by the Broker, the Plaintiff was allowed for the Ship's Freight 1322 l. 8 s. 6 d.; and though the Plaintiff hath declared for a total Loſs, he only claims a partial or Average Loſs.

The Ship and her Cargo being thus ſold by publick Auction, the Plaintiff delivered in all his Vouchers to the Policy-Broker to make up the Account and ſtate the Loſs for the Examination of the Inſurers: The Account was ſtated as follows:

Defendant's Objections.

It is underſtood, that the Practice amongſt Merchants is, to inſure no more on Ship and Freight, than the Sum it will require to bring her on an Equality whether ſhe arrives or not; but when neither are valued, to aſcertain whether a Merchant chooſes to have a Profit in View by her Arrival or Capture, and for which, when valued, he pays a certain Premium, it ſeems natural that the Inſured means only to be ſe-

If 1350 l. loſes 501 l. 6 s. 2 d. 100 l. loſes 37 l. 2 s. which the Defendant offered to pay the Plaintiff.

Some urge it to be the Cuſtom to inſure nett Freight, as well as the Value of a Ship; and it is too general a Cuſtom, alſo, to miſtake what that nett Freight actually is, or rather impoſſible to calculate exactly, what a Ship and Freight will yield in the Middle of a Voyage: Therefore it is incumbent on an Owner to pleaſe himſelf and declare it by a Valuation of both; but if he does not, and leaves all open, it is to be preſumed he means only to ſecure his real Property; and Inſurers can never be liable to pay the Loſs on an accidental or imaginary Profit, in Caſe of a total Loſs, while the Aſſured (in the Event of a ſafe Arrival, and that by heavy Charges, ſuch as thirty Guineas to Sailors for the Run home, his ſuppoſed ſuppoſed nett Freight, or Profit, does not yield to his Expectation) can have Recourſe upon the Inſurers for a Return of Premium, by complaining of his Miſtake after the Ship's Arrival. Wherefore all Inſurances left open, not valued, are intended only to ſecure the real original Property; but as there are Facts in the preſent Caſe, let it be ſuppoſed the Aſſured, or Owner, meant to make Profit (which is granting a Contradiction on an unvalued Policy) by inſuring his Freight at a high Rate, his Claim for Return of Premiums would be founded on the following State, by proving his Intereſt at the higheſt it now turns out to be at the End of the Voyage.

Suppoſe 2670 l. had been inſured, without valuing the Ship and Freight, and arrived ſafe, the Aſſured could have demanded a Return of Premium by ſtating his Account thus:

As certainly every Man means his true Intereſt in all his Operations in Trade, therefore the above State proves proper Calculations; as whether a ſafe Arrival, a total Loſs, or a Capture and Recapture had happened, the Profit or nett Freight turns out equally the ſame. Wherefore in all Inſurances of Ship and Freight, both or either, left general, and not valued, the aſſured can calculate in the above Manner for a Return of Premium; as alſo the Inſurers from paying too much. If the Inſurers were to pay (reſpecting the Caſe in queſtion) on the imaginary Sum of 2670, the Aſſured would not only gain 896 l. 13 s. 4*d.* by the Capture and Recapture, an Accident, but ſaves alſo 115 l. 6 s. 9 d. they would have loſt had the Ship arrived ſafe, without the leaſt Chance of a reciprocal Advantage to the Inſurers by any Accident.

If Cuſtom is pleaded to a contrary Practice reſpecting Freight, it has no Relation to an Inſurance on Ship and Freight; becauſe if a high Valuation is made and inſured on the one, ſo much the leſs ought to be done on the other.

This Cauſe coming on to be heard, and the Plaintiff's Witneſſes proving, that it was cuſtomary in the City of London for an Owner of a Ship to Cover his Intereſt both in Ship and Freight by inſuring Ship and and Freight, and the Premium paid for inſuring the ſame (the Underwriter taking the Premium in caſe the Ship arrives ſafe) the Jury gave a Verdict for the Plaintiff*.

SECT. XIII.

Of Averages and Contributions.——Prize Act of 1756.

1. AVerage, in the Merchant's Law, is uſed or taken for a certain Contribution that Merchants and others, who have their Goods caſt into the Sea, do proportionably make towards their Loſſes for the Safeguard of the Ship, or of the Goods and Lives of thoſe in the Ship in the Time of Tempeſt; and this Contribution ſeems to be ſo called, becauſe it is proportioned after the Rate of every Man's Average or Goods carried. It is derived from the Word Averia, Cattle †. Molloy, B. 2. C. 6. §. 4.

2. Ships being freighted, and at Sea, are often ſubject to Storms and other Accidents, when, by the ancient Laws and Cuſtoms of the Sea in extreme Neceſſity, the Goods, Wares, Guns, or whatſoever elſe ſhall be thought fit, may in ſuch Extremity be flung overboard: But then the Maſter ought to conſult with his Mariners, who, if they conſent not, and yet the Storm and Danger continues, the Maſter may, notwithſtanding, command what he ſhall think proper to

* If the Plaintiff had inſured to the full Amount of his Valuation, that is, 2670 l. the Principle inſiſted upon by the Defendant, would, it ſeems, have been right; for the Deſign of Inſurances is not to cover an imaginary Profit, but to ſecure a real Intereſt.

† Whatever the Maſter of a Ship in Diſtreſs, with the Advice of his Officers and Sailors, deliberately reſolves to do for the Preſervation of the whole, in cutting away Maſts or Cables, or in throwing Goods overboard to lighten his Veſſel, which is what is meant by Jettiſon or Jetſon, is, in all Places, permitted to be brought into a general or groſs Average; in which all concerned in Ship, Freight, and Cargo, are to bear a proportionable Part of what was ſo ſacrificed for the common Good; and it muſt be made good by the Inſurers in ſuch Proportions as they have underwrote. Mag. Inſ. Vol. 1. P. 55.

be caſt overboard for the common Safety of the reſt. So likewiſe Goods coming from infected Towns or Places may be caſt overboard; and if an Action be brought at Common Law, the Defendant may juſtify the ſame by pleading the ſpecial Matter. If there be a Super-cargo, a Requeſt ought to be made to him to begin firſt; but if he refuſes, the Mariners may proceed. Molloy, B. 2. C. 6. §. 6. cites Leg. Rhod. de Jact. Bracton, Lib. 2. Fo. 41. b. n. 3. 49 Ed. 3. Fo. 15. Leg. Oleron, Cap. 18.

3. If the Ship happens to outweather the Storm, and arrives in Safety at her Port of Diſcharge, the Maſter and moſt of the Crew muſt ſwear that the Goods were caſt over for no other Cauſe, but purely For the Safety of the Ship and Lading. Molloy, B. 2. C. 6. §. 2. Leg. Wiſbicenſ. Art. 38, 39.

4. King William the Conqueror, and Henry I. made and ratified this Law concerning Goods caſt overboard by Mariners in a Storm, in Imitation of the antient Rhodian Law, de Jact.

Si ergo jecero res tuas de navi ob metum mortis, de hoc non potes me implacitare; nam licet alteri damnum inferre ob metum mortis, quando periculum evadere non poteſt. Et ſi de hoc me meſces, quod ob metum mortis nil feciſſe de comeſpriorari. Et ea quæ in navi reſtant dividantur in communi ſecundum catalla; & ſi quis jecerit catalla extra navim, quando neceſſitas non exegerit, ea reſtituat. Molloy, B. 2. C. 6. §. 3. cites Leg. Guliel. 1. & H. 1. c. 98. de Pactis ad Legem Rhodiam. Selden ad Eadmerum, & notæ & ſpicilegium, F. 183. Weelock de priſc. Anglorum legibus, Fo. 167.

5. When the Ship arrives ſafe, not only thoſe Goods which pay Freight, but ſuch other Goods as are preſerved by the Jettiſon, muſt come into the Average; even Money, Jewels, and Cloaths, are not exempted *. But thoſe Things which are upon a Man's Body,

* In our Time we do not remember ever to have met with any Regulation of a general Average, where the Apparel and Jewels of Paſſengers were brought into the Contribution. as it is a common Body, Victuals and the like, put on ſhip-board to be ſpent, are totally excluded from the Contribution.

The Maſter ought to be careful, that only thoſe Things of the leaſt Value, and greateſt Weight, be flung over-board. Molloy, B. 2. C. 6. §. 4. cites Leg. 1. and 2. ad Leg. Rhod. & Leg. Oleron. Leg. Wiſbicenſ. Art. 20, 21.

6. In the Rating of Goods by Way of Contribution, this Order is to be obſerved: If they chance to be caſt over-board before half the Voyage be performed, then they are to be eſtimated at the Price they coſt; if after, then at the Price the reſt ſhall be ſold for at the Place of Diſcharge. Molloy, B. 2. C. 6. §. 4. cites Locinius, Lib. 2. C. 7. de Jactu, & 8. de Contributione.

7. The Sea Laws of trading Countries differ greatly in fixing the Prices, at which Goods thrown over-board ſhall be made good, and for what Value thoſe ſaved are to contribute. According to the old Laws in the Conſolato del Mare, Cap. 95; the Statutes of Genoa, Lib. 4. Cap. 17. the Ordinances of Rotterdam, Stockholm and Copenhagen, if the Accident which occaſioned the general Average happened before half the Voyage was performed, the Jettiſon is to be eſtimated at the Price it coſt; but if after, then at the mon Rule that what pays no Freight pays no Average.——It is cuſtomary in London, and moſt other Countries, for the Preſervation of whatever Gold, Silver, or Jewels pay Freight in Merchant-Ships, to contribute to a Jettiſon for their full Value; for the Maſters being obliged by all Sea Laws to throw out, in caſe of Need, what is heavieſt and of leaſt Value, and the Worth of ſuch precious Commodities being known, the Care of them will be increaſed in Proportion to their Worth, to prevent their being thrown overboard, promiſcuouſly with other Things: And hence their Preſervation redounds to the common Benefit. There is a Difference, nevertheleſs, when theſe rich Wares come by King's Ships, or Packet Boats, as ſuch Veſſels never pay or receive any Average. The Reaſon is: In Goods belonging to his Majeſty, all his Subjects in general are concerned; wherefore for any particular Loſs of them no particular Contribution is neceſſary, becauſe it is ſupplied by the general Contribution of the whole Community. Mag. Inſ. Vol. 1. P. 62, 63.

Price which the reſt ſuch like Goods ſhall be ſold for at the Place of Diſcharge, Freights, Duties, and ordinary Charges deducted. But the new Ordinance of Amſterdam, in 1744, ſeems to differ ſomething from this Cuſtom, ſaying, that only in Caſes of Detentions and Ranſoms, the Contributions ſhall be made in thoſe two different Manners of Valuation. The Ordinance of Antwerp in 1563, by Philip 2. the Recopilation de las Leyes de Indias, the old Statutes of Hamburgh of 1603, the Ordinances of Lewis XIV. and of Coningſberg, all agree, that the Goods ſaved and loſt ſhall be rated at the Market-price which thoſe ſaved fell for; and a Contribution be made accordingly, after deducting Freight and Charges. But the new Ordinance of Hamburgh in 1731 deviates from their former Statutes in this Particular, by ordaining that in Caſes of general Average, the Goods ſhall be eſtimated according to their Invoice, with the Addition of all Charges, except Premium of Inſurance. Now this Difference naturally gives riſe to the following Queſtion, viz. Which is the juſteſt Way, to reckon the Goods according to their Value at the Place they came from, or according to their Value at the Place where they are landed? In Anſwer, we think there is no Manner of Doubt, but that if the Ship arrived in Safety at her deſtined Port, both the Goods thrown over board, and thoſe delivered, ought to be valued at the Price they might have yielded, or did yield there, whether the Jettiſon was made before they came half the Way, or after: For if the Goods ſaved by this Jettiſon arrived at the Place they were deſtined for, and there produced double what they coſt, it would be unreaſonable that one half of ſuch Pro duce ſhould contribute nothing to what was caſt away: Nor would it, on the contrary, be reaſonable to make the Goods ſaved (if they came to a loſing Market) pay for more than they produced; or ſuppoſe they were ſuch as had ſuffered by their own periſhable Nature, what Reaſon could there be to make them contribute to the Value of their Coſt? It appears pears by Malynes's Lex Mercatoria, Cap. 26. that this Diſtinction was likewiſe obſerved in England in 1622, (the Time in which he wrote) of rating the Goods at prime Coſt, if the Jettiſon happened before half the Voyage was performed; and if after, at the Price that the reſt, or like Goods, ſold for at the Place of Diſcharge. An Inſtance happened lately, wherein the Concerned agreed, that the Goods ſaved, and thoſe thrown over-board ſhould be rated at firſt Coſt. As there is no Law in England that poſitively directs what Method is to be obſerved in theſe Caſes, the Inſurers, as well as the Inſured, are bound by the Determination of Referees.

Molloy, in his Treatiſe de Jure Maritimo (B. 2. C. 6. §. 16.) remarks that in his Time the general Cuſtom was, that the Goods ſaved and thoſe loſt ſhould be eſtimated at the Rate which thoſe ſaved were ſold for, Freight and other neceſſary Charges deducted. And this, by what we have ſeen tranſacted in ſuch Affairs, ſeems to be now the prevailing Cuſtom in England. Mag. Inſ. Vol. 1. p. 59.

8. If a Lighter, or Skiff, or the Ship's Boat into which Part of the Cargo is unladen for the Lightening, periſh, and the Ship be preſerved, in that Caſe Contribution is to be made; but if the Ship be caſt away, and the Lighter, Boat, or Skiff, be preſerved, there is no Contribution or Average to be had, it being a Rule, No Contribution but where the Ship arrives in Safety. Molloy, B. 2. C. 6. §. 12. See the following Paragraph.

9. If the Ship, after having made Jettiſon, or cut away her Cables, Maſts, &c. at one Place, is ſtranded at another, each concerned muſt bear his own Loſs, or remain poſſeſſed of what is ſaved of his Property. For Inſtance: A Maſter bound for Cadiz is obliged by a Storm in the Downs to cut away two Cables, and get to Sea; by which Means he cleared his Ship from the great Danger he was there expoſed to: But he afterwards had the Misfortune to run his Ship aſhore near Plymouth, where the major Part of his Cargo was ſaved. In this Caſe the Owners of the Ship have no Right to demand that the Proprietors of the Goods ſaved ſhall contribute towards the Cables and Anchors left in the Downs, notwithſtanding the imminent Danger of loſing the Ship on the Goodwin Sands (where there was no Probability that any thing could be ſaved) which could only be guarded againſt by the Method taken of cutting away the two Cables. From hence it follows, that if nothing had been ſaved of the Cargo, and the Cables and Anchors had afterwards been recovered, they would remain the ſole Property of the Owners of the Ship, at leaſt till the Proprietors of the Goods had actually paid for, or contributed towards the Loſs of theſe Cables and Anchors. This is an old Law, and the Cuſtom of many Places †. If a deep loaden Ship be obliged to take out a Part of her Cargo, previous to her paſſing ſome Shoals or Flats, which without ſuch Lightening, hinder her getting to her deſtined Port, and the Lighters or Boats, in which the Goods of ſuch Cargo are put, ſhould periſh, the Owners of the Goods that remain are to bear an equal Proportion of the Loſs; but if the Ship ſhould be loſt, and the Lighters ſaved, the Owners of the Goods ſo preſerved ſhall not only remain poſſeſſed of thoſe Goods, but alſo ſhall contribute nothing towards the Loſs of the Ship, and what was in her. This Difference is founded on this, that lightening of the Ship was in Conſequence of a deliberate and voluntary Determination, and for the Good of the whole; whereas the Lighters being ſaved, and the Ship loſt, was owing to an Accident, no ways proceeding from a Regard to the Whole, but a Caſe ſimilar to the ſaving Goods lying neareſt at hand when a Ship is run aſhore.

Let us go ſtill farther, and ſuppoſe, that a Ship running on a Bank, throws over-board all her heavy

Stores

Stores, and Part of her Cargo, by which Jettiſon ſhe gets clear, and returns to Sea, yet proves ſo leaky that ſhe is obliged to make for, and take Shelter in the next Harbour, where, upon Examination, ſhe is found in ſo bad a Condition as not to be repaired, and therefore is condemned as unfit to proceed on the Voyage. In this Caſe, notwithſtanding her Loſs proceeds from her having been aſhore, yet as ſhe got clear by the aforeſaid Jettiſon, and the Remainder of the Cargo eſcaped, and arrived ſafe in Harbour, that which was ſo ſaved muſt contribute to the Loſs of what was thrown over-board. But yet whatever Damage the Ship ſuſtained by her running a-ground, or the Damage or Loſs any particular Goods ſuffered by this unhappy Accident, muſt be borne by the Ship's Owners, and by the Owners of the Goods, without any Pretence of Indemnification from the Cargo ſaved, their Redreſs being only againſt the Inſurers. Mag. Inſ. Vol. 1. p. 55.

10. In the Collection intitled Conſolato del Mare, which contains ſome old Laws of Barcelona, partly taken, as Verwer ſhews, from thoſe of Wiſby, it is ſaid, Cap. 94. "That in caſe of a Jettiſon, the Ship ſhall "contribute for half of its Value: But (Cap. 96.) if "the Maſter receives Freight for his whole Cargo, "the ſame ſhall be included in the general Contri-"bution."

In the Ordinance of Philip II. made at Antwerp, 1563, it is ſaid, "That the Owners of the Cargo "ſhall have the Option to make the Ship contribute "either for her real Value, or for her whole con-"tracted Freight;" which, as Verwer affirms in his Annotations upon this Ordinance, p. 118, hath been practiſed in the northern Parts of Holland, ever ſince the moſt ancient of their own Sea Laws have been known, which are the Decrees, or Judgments, of the City of Dam or Damme, collected, according to the aforementioned Author's Conjecture, before the Year 1300, and ſtill in Uſe, as appears by the Ordinance of Rotterdam.

By the Recopilacion de Leyes de las Indias in Spain, and the Statutes of Genoa, the Ship contributes both for the Whole of her Value and Freight. At Leghorn the Cuſtom is, that the Ship ſhall contribute for one half of her Value, and one third of her Freight.

By the Ordinance of Lewis XIV. both Ship and Freight are to contribute for one half.

The Ordinances of Coninſberg, Hamburgh and Copenhagen, all agree, that the Ship is to contribute for the Whole of her Value and Freight; which Value is well explained by the ſaid Ordinance of Hamburgh, which directs that the Value of the Ship ſhall be no other than ſhe was really worth in the Condition ſhe arrived; and that from the Freight a Deduction ſhall be made of the Mens Wages, Pilotage, and ſuch other Charges as are diſtinguiſhed there by the Denomination of petty, ordinary, or common Average, of which it is cuſtomary every where for the Cargo to bear two thirds, and the Ship one. The Difference of the Ordinances of ſeveral States in the Manner of ſettling the Ship's Contribution, is eaſily reconciled; for it proceeds from the ſame Grounds, viz. the Impoſſibility of employing a Ship in any Voyage without Wear and Tear, and conſequently loſing of that Value ſhe had when ſhe commenced it; and the Suppoſition that one half, or one third of her Freight would be expended in paying Mens Wages and other Charges. The above mentioned Law of France, that the Ship ſhall contribute for a Moiety of her Freight, as well as her Value, is to be underſtood only of the groſs Freight. The Ordinance of Coninſberg, mentioned above, is defective both in this Point and the Method of valuing the Veſſel; and wants Explanation. The right and juſt Way of calculating is to be found in the laſt named modern Ordinance of Copenhagen, which enacts that the neat Freight, and full Worth of the Ship, (after making proper Allowances for what ſhe diminiſhed in Value by the ordinary Courſe of the Voyage, and the extraordinary Accident that occaſioned the general Average) ſhall contribute tribute their Share or Part in a general Average. Mag. Inſ. Vol. 1. P. 57.

11. If a Ship happens to be taken, and the Maſter, to redeem the Ship and Lading out of the Enemy's or Pirates Hands, promiſes them a certain Sum of Money, for Performance whereof himſelf becomes a Pledge or Captive in the Cuſtody of the Captor: In this Caſe he is to be redeemed at the Coſts and Charges of the Ship and Lading*. Leg. Rhod. de Jactu, L. 2. Si navis, &c.

So where a Pirate takes Part of the Goods to ſpare the reſt, Contribution muſt be paid.

But if a Pirate takes by Violence Part of the Goods, the reſt are not ſubject to Average, unleſs the Maſter hath made an expreſs Agreement to pay it after the Ship is robbed. Moor, Fo. 297. Pl. 443. Hicks v. Palington.

But if Part of the Goods are taken by an Enemy, or by Letters of Mart and Repriſal, è contra. So likewiſe in a Storm, if the ſame is done for Preſervation of the Remainder. Molloy, B. 2. Cap. 6. §. 13.

12. A Ship was taken by a French Privateer, and the Maſter of her ranſomed for 1800 l. (the Maſter having a Share in the Ship). The Mate was carried into France as an Hoſtage for this Money. Lord Chancellor ſaid, the Ranſom Money muſt be raiſed out of the firſt Profits, notwithſtanding any former Mortgage of the Ship; for if there was a precedent Mortgage, what would have become of the Security, if the Ship had not been redeemed? After the Ship was redeemed, ſhe performed her intended Voyage, and the Freight-Money earned after her Redemption was the firſt Profits ariſing, and out of theſe the Ranſom-money is to be ſatisfied. This was upon Motion. The Lord Chancellor ſaid, the Inſurers always paid Part of the Ranſom-money. Molloy, B. 2. C. 6. §. 13. cites Hill. 7. Anne in Chan. Lopes and Winter.

* He may hypothecate the Ship for his own Redemption. L. Raym. 22.

13. Contribution is to be paid for the Pilot's Fee who hath brought a Ship into a Port or Haven for her Safeguard (it being not the Place ſhe was deſigned for.) So to raiſe her off the Ground, when there is no Fault in the Maſter.

If a Maſter of a Ship lets out his Ship to Freight, and then receives his Complement, and afterwards takes in Goods without Leave of the Freighters, and a Storm ariſes at Sea, and Part of the Freighters Goods are caſt overboard, the remaining Goods are not ſubject to the Average, but the Maſter muſt make good the Loſs out of his own Purſe. Molloy, B. 2. C. 6. § 15. cites Grotius Introd. Jur. Holl. 329. Vinnius and Peckeus Commentaries on the Laws of Rhodes.

14. By 29th Geo. 2. (1756.) The Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, or any three or more of the Commiſſioners for executing the ſaid Office, or any Perſon or Perſons by or for them impowered and appointed, are required, at the Requeſt of the Owner or Owners of any Ship or Veſſel giving the uſual Bail and Security in ſuch Caſes (except only for the Payment of the Tenths of the Prizes taken to the Lord High Admiral or Commiſſioners for executing the ſaid Office) to iſſue forth Commiſſions to any Perſon or Perſons whom he or they ſhall nominate to be Commander, or, in caſe of Death, ſucceſſively Commanders thereof, for the attacking and taking, &c. any Place or Fortreſs upon the land, or any Veſſel, Goods, &c. of his Majeſty's Enemies; and all Veſſels taken by ſuch Privateer being adjudged lawful Prize, ſhall wholly belong to, and be divided among the Owners and Captors, in ſuch Shares and Proportions as ſhall be agreed on between them, their Agents and Factors, paying the Duties hereafter mentioned.

The Judge, &c. of ſuch Court of Admiralty, ſhall, if requeſted thereto, finiſh within five Days the uſual preparatory Examination of the Perſons commonly examined in ſuch Caſes, in order to prove whether the

the Capture be lawful Prize or not; and the proper Monition ſhall be iſſued and executed within three Days after Requeſt; and if no Claim of the Veſſel or Goods be duly entered or made, and atteſted upon Oath, giving 20 Days Notice after the Execution of ſuch Monition; or if there be ſuch Claim, and the Claimant ſhall not within five Days give Security, to be approved of by the Court, to pay double Coſts to the Captor in caſe the Sum ſhall be adjudged lawful Prize; then the Judge, upon producing to him the ſaid Examinations, or Copies thereof, and upon producing upon Oath all Papers and Writings which ſhall have been found and taken with ſuch Capture; or upon Oath that no ſuch Papers or Writings were found, is required, without further delay, to proceed to Sentence, either to diſcharge ſuch Capture, or to condemn the ſame as lawful Prize: And if ſuch Claim ſhall be duly entered, and Security given, and there ſhall appear no Occaſion to examine any Witneſſes, other than what ſhall be then near to the Court, then the Judge is forthwith to cauſe ſuch Witneſſes to be examined within ten Days, and to proceed to Sentence as aforeſaid; but if it ſhall appear doubtful to the Court, whether ſuch Capture be lawful Prize or not, and it ſhall be neceſſary to have an Examination, upon Pleadings given in by the Parties, and admitted by the Judge, of Witneſſes that are remote, and ſuch Examination be deſired, and it be inſiſted on, in Behalf of the Captors, that the ſaid Capture is lawful Prize, and the contrary be perſiſted in on the Claimant's Behalf, then the Judge is required forthwith to cauſe ſuch Capture to be appraiſed by Perſons to be named by the Parties, and appointed by the Court, and ſworn to appraiſe the ſame according to the beſt of their Skill and Knowledge; for which Purpoſe the Judge is to cauſe the Goods to be unladen (an Inventory thereof being firſt taken by the Marſhal of the Admiralty, or his Deputy) and put into proper Warehouſes, with ſeparate Locks, of the Collector and Comptroller of the Cuſtoms, and, where there is no

Comptroller, of the naval Officer, and the Agents employed by the Captors and Claimants, at the Charge of the Party deſiring the ſame; and after ſuch Appraiſement, and within 14 Days after the making of ſuch Claim, he is to proceed to take ſufficient Security from the Claimants to pay the Captors the full Value, according to ſuch Appraiſement, in caſe the ſame ſhall be adjudged lawful Prize; and alſo to take Security from the Captors to pay ſuch Coſts as the Court ſhall think proper, in caſe ſuch Ship ſhall not be condemned; and the Judge is thereupon to make an interlocutory Order for delivering the Veſſel, &c. to the Claimant.

But if the Claimant refuſe, the Judge is to cauſe the Captors in like manner to give Security to be approved of by the Claimant, to pay the full Value according to the Appraiſement, in caſe ſuch Capture ſhall be adjudged not to be lawful Prize; and the Judge is thereupon to proceed to make an interlocutory Order for the delivering thereof to the Captors.

The Execution of any Sentence ſhall not be ſuſpended by Reaſon of ſuch Appeal, in caſe the Party appellate give Security to be approved of by the Court, to reſtore the Ship or Effects, or the full Value thereof to the Appellant, in caſe the Sentence ſhall be reverſed.

SECT.

SECT. XV.

Of Inſurances from Fire; and the Propoſals of the Royal Exchange and London Aſſurance Companies for that Purpoſe.

1. INſurances from Fire are introduced into ſeveral Countries, though not every where under that Denomination. At Hamburgh there is a Fire Caſſa of an old ſtanding, wherein the principal Houſes are inſured at the Value of 15000 Marks (which is about 1000 l. Sterling) to be paid in Caſe of their being burnt; the Inſured paying yearly one fourth of a Mark for every thouſand Marks for Expences. Every one concerned in this Office, or Fire Caſſa, contributes to a Loſs in Proportion to what his own Houſe ſtands inſured for; but no Houſe is valued at more than 15000 Marks, though it may have coſt ten times that Sum in building. We can account for this Limitation no otherwiſe, than by ſuppoſing the Intention of the Legiſlature to have been to curb by this Valuation the Pride of the Citizens, and hinder them from being too magnificent in their Buildings: A very wiſe Maxim certainly in a trading City!

In London, Inſurances from Fire are obtainable at ſuch eaſy Rates, that there are few Merchants but chuſe to be inſured for their own Quiet. Beſides, this Precaution adds to their Credit both at home and abroad, when it is known that the great Capitals lying in their Houſes and Warehouſes are thus ſecured from the Flames. Mag. Inf. Vol. 1. P. 31.

Aſſurance

Assurance on Lives.

And whereas it hath been found by Experience to be of Benefit and Advantage, for Persons having Offices, Employments, Estates, or other Incomes, determinable on the Life or Lives of themselves or others, to make Assurances on the Life or Lives, upon which such Offices, Employments, Estates, or Incomes are determinable; his Majesty hath been likewise graciously pleased to grant to this Corporation full Power and Authority to assure on the Life or Lives of any Person or Persons; which they are ready to do on reasonable Terms.

4. It is well known that each of these Companies raised about 450,000*l.* the London being composed of 36,000 Shares at 12½, and the Royal of 4500 Shares at 100 l. each: So that after having paid to the Government each 150,000 l. for their Charter, they remained with a Capital of about 300,000 l. each, under the Care of their Directors, to be disposed of for the Benefit of the Proprietors: Which Sums they have kept employed ever since in Loans to the Government, and upon private Pledges, so as to enable them to make certain yearly Dividends, and to be always ready to satisfy the Demands of any Persons who make Insurances with them, whenever the Premiums which they have gained are insufficient to do it: And as the Act gives them leave to raise in the whole 1,500,000*l.* each, which is 1,050,000 l. more for each Company; all this together makes a good Security for what Insurances are made with them. By the Price which the Shares of each Company bear at Market, we may judge what Opinion the Publick has of the Value of their Stock. The Price of the London Assurance Company has been, ever since the late Peace, at 12½ to 14 l. per Share; and computing it at 12½ it makes about 450,000 l. And indeed it is no Wonder that in the Space of 34 Years they should ſhould have had the Succeſs to lay up again for their Proprietors the 150,000 l. which were paid for their Charter, and now actually repoſſeſs their primary Capital of 450,000 l. or more. And as for many Years they have conſtantly made a Dividend of 10 s. per Share, which is at the Rate of 4 per cent. and more than the Proprietors could clear by Intereſt, it ſhews that the Buſineſs of Inſuring muſt have yielded a reaſonable Profit to the Company.

The Capital of 450,000 l. in Hand, received from the Proprietors, and a Power to call for 1,050,000 l. more, with all the Premiums not run off (which in Courſe muſt be kept back) is a Fund much ſuperior to what any Eſtabliſhment of this Nature in neighbouring States has afforded, or is likely to afford. Nor indeed can it be expected that any Company abroad ſhould meet with the like Succeſs, when Premiums are ſo much lower; or that it would be worth the while for any new one at Home to give more than 150,000 l. for a Charter.

Hence, if no extraordinary Events happen, and the ſame good Management is kept up, theſe may be Companies of long ſtanding, beneficial to their Proprietors, and ſtill more ſo to the Trade of England in general, for which it is certainly much better to have two ſuch capital Offices, than one; beſides the great Number of ſubſtantial private Perſons who underwrite Policies. *Mag. CHAP. IV.

Of FOREIGN EXCHANGES.

SECT. I.

Of the Nature of Gold and Silver, and the Method of aſſaying and refining it.

GOLD, when fully maturated or melted, hath neither a ſulphurous nor terreſtrial Impurity; but whilſt in a State of Concoction, it hath both joined, as appears in the native Ore: But then they do not ſo adhere as not to be ſeparable from it, which may not be done in other Metals without deſtroying both, as the Involution is ſo predominant in the latter, and ſo minutely found in the former.

Gold hath ſo little of theſe corruptible Principles mixed with it, that the inward Sulphur, or metalline Spirit, doth ſometimes overcome them of itſelf, as is to be ſeen in the Gold found pure on the Superficies of the Earth and the Sea Sands, often as pure as any refined Gold, and is waſhed down from the Mountains.

It is therefore the moſt noble and ſolid of all Metals, and, when of the higheſt Degree of Fineneſs, is of a deep yellow Colour, compacted of Principles digeſted to the uttermoſt Height, and therefore fixed.

Silver, in the higheſt Degree of Fineneſs, is a pure white, and in the next Degree of Dignity to Gold; and differs from it chiefly in Digeſtion, as there are ſome ſmall adhering Impurities.

It is, nevertheleſs, a Mineral of that excellent Quality, that, when perfectly fine, it will endure melting a long Time in extreme Heat, with but very little Waſte;

Waſte; with Quality is not in any other Metal except Gold, which, in Perfection, will endure the Fire with leſs Waſte.

For theſe peculiar Excellencies, and their Capacity of being wrought into ſuch a Variety of uſeful and ornamental Things, they are deſervedly eſteemed above other Metals; and being the moſt precious of Minerals, and moſt portable, are very juſtly made the Medium of Trade, and to anſwer all the Purpoſes of Purchaſes or Barter by a ſtated Value and Equivalence.

Our Anceſtors, conſidering that Silver in its fineſt Degree was too ſoft for Uſe and Service, being almoſt as ſoft as Lead, did contrive at once to harden it for Service, and at the ſame Time preſerve its native Whiteneſs: And as too little Alloy left it too ſoft, ſo too much made it brittle, they, in a Courſe of various Proceſſes, found the true Medium to be eighteen Penny-weight of fine Copper to eleven Ounces two Penny-weight of fineſt Silver, making together one Pound Troy. By which Standard is underſtood that Expreſſion in the Statute of Eliz. Cap. 15. Not leſs in Fineneſs than that of eleven Ounces two Penny-weight.

The firſt Contrivers and Fixers of this Alloy were the Eaſterlings, in the Time of Richard I. who came from the Eaſtern Part of Germany, and gave this Standard the Denomination of Sterling; and the Mark of the Leopard's Head is preſcribed by the Statute 28 Ed. I. Cap. 20.

The Standard of Gold is ſettled by the above Statute of Eliz. at twenty two Carracts fine.

Carracts are the 24th Part of either a Pound, or an Ounce Troy, and are thus compounded: Of the Pound Carracts, twenty Penny-weights and twelve Grains Troy make a Carract Grain; four of ſuch Carract Grains make one Carract, or ten Penny-weight Troy; and twenty four of ſuch Carracts one Pound, or twelve Ounces Troy.

Of the Ounce Carracts, five Troy Grains make one Carract Grain; and four of ſuch Carract Grains make one one Carract; and twenty four of ſuch Carracts make an Ounce Troy.

For the Diſcovery of falſe Gold and Silver from that which is good, and to know the true Value thereof, the Manner is; the Aſſay Maſter puts a ſmall Quantity of Silver on a Cople or Teſt on the Fire, and when refined to the higheſt Degree of Fineneſs, taking it out again, he, with Scales that will turn with the hundredth Part of a Grain, by the Waſte of that ſmall Quantity computes how much Impurity or Adulteration is in each Ounce or Pound, from whence the Aſſay is taken.

The Aſſay of Gold is taken in the ſame Manner, and after being refined on the Cople, it is beat thin, and rolled up looſely, and then put into warm ſtrong Aqua fortis, which will purify it from the Silver, and the Gold will remain in the thin Plate, although very brittle.

Another Manner of Aſſay, without Fire.

Make ſeveral Needles of Silver Wire, each of them about four Inches long, and as big as a large Packneedle, of various Degrees of Badneſs of Alloy; as one Needle 3 d. another 6 d. a third 9 d. a fourth 1 s. a fifth 1 s. 3 d. a ſixth 1 s. 6 d. in the Ounce worſe than the Standard.

Thus compoſed.

9—12 of Sterling Silver 0— 6 of Copper 0— 6 of Braſs		Theſe melted together will be 3 d. worſe than Standard.
9— 0 of Sterling Silver 0—12 of Copper 0—12 of Braſs		Theſe will be 6 d. worſe than Standard.
8—12 of Sterling Silver 0—18 Copper 0—18 Braſs		Theſe will be 9*d.* worſe than Standard.

And

And ſo by ſuch Degrees of a Penny-weight of Alloy in the Ounce you may compoſe ſeveral Alloys; for 4, 6, 8, 12, 14, or 16 Needles, differing 3 d. in the Value of each Needle by the Ounce; and the ſureſt Way is, when the Needles are all made, to have a diſtinct Aſſay made of each Needle, and the reported Goodneſs marked on each of them.

Make theſe Needles all with Loops at one End, and hang them on a Ring of Silver Wire, and all with blunt ſmooth Points.

The Silver you would try by theſe Needles rub on a ſmooth clean Touch-ſtone, then by it rub the Needles as you judge neareſt the Teſt; and ſo continue the Experiment, until you find the Touch of the coarſe Silver and the Needle to be alike: Then for the Value, refer to the Mark on your Needle.

A compleat Ring of Needles may be made under the Weight of two Ounces, and if prettily formed, and ingeniouſly managed, will make a Diſcovery, very near, of the Badneſs of any Sort of adulterated Silver.

In the ſame Manner, ſmall Pieces of Gold of ſeveral Alloys may be fixed at the Ends of the Silver Needles, for the judging the Degree of Adulteration in Gold.

As to a general Judgment of the Fineneſs of Silver, you may try it thus: Rub ſome Place leaſt in Sight with a File of indifferent Fineneſs, and if it be worſe than Sterling, it will appear yellowiſh; or after filing it, rub it on the Touch-ſtone, and cloſe by it rub the Edge of a Half Crown, or other Piece of Standard Silver of like Thickneſs, and the Difference, if any, will appear.

The Reaſon of filing is, becauſe the artificial boiling of coarſe Silver-work will ſo eat or diſſolve the Alloy that is on the Surface or Outſide thereof, that unleſs it be filed, it will touch on the Stone Six-pence or Eight-pence in the Ounce better than it is.

There is good Cauſe to ſuſpect the Coarſeneſs of the Silver, when the Work riſes in Bliſters, or peels, or ſcales off in thin Scurf, or Flakes; which Scale, Scurf, or Bliſtering, is cauſed by the heating the Alloy as aforeſaid; and the Silver thus ſeparated from the Alloy will remain of an infirm ſpungy Body, therefore peel as aforeſaid.

Touch-ſtones are uſually purchaſed of the Ironmongers; the beſt Sort are very black, and of a fine Grain, poliſhed very ſmooth, and without any ſpungy or grain Holes, and near the Hardneſs of a Flint, but yet with ſuch a ſharp cutting Grit, that it will cut or wear the Silver or Gold when rubbed thereon.

To make a true Touch, take care that the Stone be very clean; and to make it ſo, if foul or ſoily, firſt wet it, then rub it dry with a clean woollen Cloth. If the Stone be very hard, and is full of Touches of Gold or Silver, you muſt rub them off with a Pumice Stone; if not very hard, rub them firſt with a fine blue Hone, and then with a well burnt Charcoal in Water, and obſerve that the ſmoother you make the Touch-ſtone, the cleaner will be the Touch; therefore, whether you uſe the Pumice, Hone, or Charcoal, prepare them very even, and rub them on the Touch-ſtone very lightly; and if there be any Grain, croſs it lightly, then, your Silver being filed, rub it ſteadily and very hard on the Stone, not extending the Touch above a Quarter of an Inch long, and no broader than the Edge of a five Shilling Piece; and when you have touched with the ſeveral aſſayed Needles, wet all the touched Places with your Tongue, and each will reſpectively ſhew itſelf in its proper Countenance.

The Gold Standard, by Law, is twenty two Carracts of the fineſt Gold, and two Carracts of fine Copper and Silver, equal Parts; and by this may be clearly underſtood that Expreſſion in the Statute 18 Eliz. Cap. 15. Not leſs in Fineneſs than that of twenty two Carracts, to be the Standard for all Gold Wares, worſe than which Alloy no Gold Wares are to be made under the Penalty therein mentioned.

And

And if any Perſons are deſirous of having what they have purchaſed either of Gold or Silver Wares aſſayed, they may apply to the Aſſay-Maſter at Gold-ſmiths Hall, whoſe Fee is Sixpence an Aſſay of Gold; and if refuſed, or the Perſon diſſatisfied with the Operation, they may apply to the Aſſay-Maſter of the Mint in the Tower, whoſe Fee is for a Gold Aſſay is one Shilling, and for Silver Six-pence.

And here note, twelve Grains Troy is ſufficient for an Aſſay of Gold.

And note further, that the Aſſay-Scales muſt turn with the 740th Part of a Grain Troy; and that the Standard Aſſay Weight being in one Pan of the Scale, the Weight of Alloy in 12 Grains of Standard muſt be in the other, with the refined Silver; and if that makes the Ballance even, then the Silver from whence it is extracted is Standard. The ſame Method may be uſed in aſſaying of Gold.

It is not lawful to uſe any other than Troy Weight for the weighing of Gold and Silver; of which

12 Ounces, one Pound.

The compounding theſe Weights for the aſſaying and computing the Standard of Gold as aforeſaid, are called Carracts.

There are other Sorts of Carracts compounded of Troy Grains, thus:

4 Grains make a Carract.

6 of ſuch Carracts make a Penny weight.

120 of ſuch Carracts make an Ounce Troy.

Theſe are only uſed to weigh Diamonds, &c.

As to Silver Coin, it being not above a fifteenth Part equally valuable as Gold, or thereabouts, needs not ſo attentive a Regard, and will ſufficiently prove its Badneſs, if baſe, by the Chink, as not ſounding upon a Table like Silver; eſpecially if it be of other Metal plated over, then the Sound will be dead and flat, by reaſon of its Diſunion from what it is laid upon; and if it be mixed, and of a very groſs Alloy, it may be diſcovered by the Impurity of its Aſpect, and at laſt you have the Remedy of the Goldſmith's Tool, the File, and the Touch, as before directed. However, you muſt obſerve, that even pure Standard Coin will not ſound in the chinking, if it be flawed.

The Value of Gold has put the ingenious upon all experimental Methods of Aſcertainment; and, in Conſequence, its Weight hath been fixed, by proportioning it to the Gravity of other Bodies: which thoroughly underſtood and attended to by thoſe who deal much in foreign Gold and Silver, eſpecially on the Guinea Coaſt and in China, will need no other Aſſay for the knowing of pure Gold. The Proportions are,

Water to Gold as 19,636 to 1000.

Gold	19,636	Iron	7,852
Quick-ſilver	14,019	Tin	7,321
Common Lead	11,345	Diamond	3,400
Standard Silver	10,535	Water	1,000
Copper	8,843	Air	$\frac{3}{17}$ Gr.

When reduced into the Cubical Inches, their Weights are,

Gold	12	2	52
Quick-ſilver	8	6	8
Lead	7	3	30
Silver	6	5	28
Copper	5	6	26
Iron	5	1	24
Tin	4	6	7

Obſerve, that when by the above Proportion you weigh Metals againſt Water, that it be not highly impregnated with any Kind of Mineral or other Impurities, it having been demonſtrated that even River-water weighs more, by 3 Pounds in 53, than Rain-

Rain-water; ſo that where clear Water cannot be had, it may be beſt to throw out the Fraction, and balance only by 19 to 1.

Mr. Vaughan ſuppoſes that Archimedes, by an Experiment of this Kind, diſcovered the Quantity of Alloy put by the Workmen into the Crown of Gold made for Hiero King of Syracuſe. Univerſal Merchant, P. 111, &c.

SECT. II.

Abſtract of the Indenture between his Majeſty, and the Maſter and Worker of the Mint.

THE King, by Indenture under the Great Seal, confirms the Office of Maſter and Worker of the Mint to A. B. during Pleaſure; and he is to receive all the Monies appointed by Acts of Parliament for defraying the Expences of the Mint.

To make five Sorts of Money of Crown Gold.

1. The Quarter Guinea, Value 5*s.* 3*d.* at 178 in the Pound Weight Troy. This is not to be coined but by his Majeſty's, or the Treaſury's ſpecial Direction.

2. Half Guinea, Value 10*s.* 6*d.* at 89 in the Pound Weight.

3. The Guinea, Value 21*s.* at 44, and the Weight of 10*s.* 6*d.* to the Pound Weight.

4. The Double Guinea, Value 42*s.* at 22, and the Weight of 10*s.* 6*d.* in the Pound.

5. The Five Guinea Piece, or 5 l. 5 s. at 9, wanting the Weight of 10*s.* 6*d.* in the Pound.

Every Pound Weight Troy of Gold to be in Value 46*l.* 14*s.* 6 d. in Fineneſs at the Trial, 22 Carracts of fine Gold, and two Carracts of Alloy: This to be the Standard of Gold.

The Maſter to have 6*s.* 6*d.* for the Coinage of every Pound Weight Troy of Gold Monies; out of which he is to pay unto the Moneyers 3 s. for their Labour for every Pound Weight.

If the Gold Money be not continually made according to the right Standard, but in Default of the Maſter, it ſhall be found ſometimes too ſtrong or too feeble, by too much or too little in Weight, in Fineneſs, or both, the ſixth Part of a Carract in a Pound (which ſhall be called Remedy for the Maſter) the Money ſhall be delivered for good.

But if Default be over the 6th Part of a Carract, the Deliverance ſhall ceaſe, and that Money adjudged leſs than good, and be new molten, and re-coined at the Charge of the Maſter, till it be put to Point as Money deliverable.

Excepting only the Quarter Guineas; for theſe Pieces not being able to be ſized with the ſame Exactneſs as the larger Pieces of Gold may be, there ſhall be added to the ſaid Remedy in Weight, half a Grain for every four Quarter Guineas in the Pound Weight of the Monies tried.

Theſe Defaults muſt happen by Caſualty, or elſe no Allowance for them.

The Gold is to be coined in ſuch Pieces as his Majeſty, by his Sign Manual, ſhall direct.

The Maſter to make eight Pieces of Silver Monies, viz.

1. The Crown at 5 s. and 12 of them, and 2 s. in the Pound Weight.
2. Half-Crown at 2 s. 6 d. and 24 and 2 s. in the Pound.
3. The Shilling at 12 d. and 62 to the Pound.
4. Half Shillings at 6 d. and 124 in the Pound.
5. The Groat, or 4 d. and 186 in the Pound.
6. The Half Six-pence, or 3 d. at 248 in the Pound.
7. The Half-Groat, or 2 d. at 372 in the Pound.
8. The Penny, 744 in the Pound.

The

The Pound Weight of Silver to be 3*l.* 2*s.* and ſhall be in Fineneſs at the Trial eleven Ounces two Pennyweight, and eighteen Pennyweight of Alloy, which is the old right Standard of the Monies of England.

The Gold Money is to be made agreeable in Fineneſs to the indented Trial pieces made by Direction of King James 2. Anno quarto reg. ſui, and all Monies of Standard Silver, agreeable in Fineneſs to the reſpective Trial Pieces made 1 Geo. 2. which Trial-pieces remain in ſix ſeveral Places, viz. in the Treaſury, with the Warden of the Mint in the Tower, the Maſter and Worker, the Wardens of the Company of Goldſmiths, in Goldſmiths Hall, in the Exchequer of Scotland, and with the General and other Officers of the Mint in Scotland.

The Maſter to have 1 s. 4 ½*d.* for Charges of coining every Pound Weight Troy of Silver Monies, of which he is to pay 8*d.* for every Pound Weight to the Moneyers.

The Maſter is to pay to the Warden of the Mint 1470*l. per Annum*, for the Fees and Salaries of the reſpective Officers of the Mint.

The Remedy for the Maſter in the Silver Money is, when on Aſſay before Delivery, the Money is found too ſtrong or too feeble, all only in Weight, or all only in Fineneſs, or in both, by two Pennyweight in the Pound Troy, after the old Computation of twenty Pennyweight in the Ounce. And if Default be over the ſaid two Pennyweight, the Money ſhall ceaſe to be delivered, and be re-coined at the Charge of the Maſter.

The Maſter may receive, as well his Majeſty's Bullion of Gold and Silver, as the Bullion of any other Perſons whatſoever, to be coined as aforeſaid, delivering to the Parties, bringing the Bullion, Bills teſtifying the Weight, Fineneſs and Value thereof, with the Day and Order of its Delivery into the Mint.

The Warden and Comptroller of the Mint, and his Majeſty's Chief Clerk, and Clerks of the Papers, for the Time being, ſhall enter in Ledger-Books, all Bullion that ſhall be brought into the Mint; which Entry ſhall comprehend the Weight, Fineneſs and Value of the ſaid Bullion, the Parties Names who brought it, and what Day. And then the Bullion is to be put in a Cheſt or Room, locked with three Keys, one of which is to be kept by the Warden, another by the Maſter, and the third by the Comptroller, and to remain there till delivered for Coinage.

The Warden, Comptroller, and his Majeſty's Clerk, ſhall keep ſeveral Books of melting, declaring in the ſame, the Quantity and Fineneſs of all Gold and Silver, and Alloy put into the Melting, with the Report of every Aſſay, called the Pot-aſſay; and the ſaid Books ſhall remain to charge the Maſter withal, and they ſhall be monthly ſubſcribed, and figured by the Warden, and the Maſter and Comptroller.

The Aſſay-maſter ſhall keep a Book of all Bullion brought into the Mint, whereby the Quantity and Fineneſs may appear, with the Report of the Aſſay of every ſeveral Pot, commonly called the Pot-aſſay, which ſhall be made of ſome Ingot of the ſaid Bullion, to be taken by the Warden, Comptroller, and Aſſay-maſter, or any two of them, after the Pot is caſt out.

If any happen to bring into the Mint, Gold and Silver nigh to the Standard aforeſaid, the Maſter ſhall receive it for the Value accordingly, ſo as the Charges to make it agreeable to the Standards aforeſaid, be borne by his Majeſty.

The Maſter impowered to put ſuch privy Mark on the Edges of Gold and Silver Coin, from Time to Time as he ſhall think convenient.

The Warden and Comptroller, or their Deputies, are to overſee and ſurvey the aſſaying, melting, ſizing, and making of the Gold and Silver Monies, and to ſee the Balances and Weights always amended and put to Point.

to

The Surveyor of the Meltings ſhall keep a Book, containing the Weight of Gold and Silver as ſhall be molten, with the Alloy put into the ſame.

When the Monies be coined and compleat, the Warden, Maſter, and Comptroller, ſhall put them into a Cheſt or Room, locked with three Keys, one of which is to be kept by each of them, until Proof and Trial be had of the ſaid Money, and Payment be made to the Bringers-in of the Bullion.

The Proof to be made before deliverance by the Aſſay-maſter, in Preſence of the Warden, Maſter and Comptroller: And, being made, a Portion of the ſaid Monies ſhall be taken and put into a Box by the Warden or his Deputy, in the Preſence of the Comptroller and Maſter, or their Deputies; whereof the Aſſay ſhall be made before his Majeſty, or ſuch of his Council as ſhall be appointed by him at Weſtminſter, or elſewhere, as he or his Council ſhall think fit, viz.

For every Journey-weight of Gold, not exceeding fifteen Pounds Weight, two Pieces, whereof the one to be for the Pix, and the other for the Aſſay.

Out of every Journey of Silver Monies, containing ſixty Pounds Weight, two Pieces, at leaſt, the one Moiety thereof to be given for the Pix, and the other for the Aſſay.

They ſhall be ſealed with the Seals of the Warden, Maſter, and Comptroller, and the Box ſhall be ſhut with three Keys, which ſhall by them be kept.

And the Pix ſhall remain in a Cheſt or Room, as aforeſaid, to be opened on reaſonable Warning, when his Majeſty or his Council ſhall appoint.

And Aſſays ſhall be made in the Preſence of the Warden, Maſter, and Comptroller, of the Fineneſs and Weight of the Gold and Silver in the Box by Fire, Water, Touch or Weight, or by all; that if they be found good, the Maſter be quit againſt his Majeſty and all his People to that Day; and the Maſter then to have Letters Patent for his Acquittance, without Fee; and this Indenture to be a ſufficient Warrant for putting the Great Seal thereto.

If the Money ſhall not, on the Aſſay, be of the full Standard, yet within the Remedies aforeſaid, the Lack thereof ſhall be entered on Record, by the Warden and Comptroller, or whom they ſhall appoint, and a true Account thereof ſhall be made to his Majeſty, and the ſame be fully anſwered to his Majeſty, without any Profit to grow to any other Perſon for the ſame.

Saving that in Caſe by the ſaid Aſſay, it ſhall be found, that the ſame Monies do paſs at any Time the ſaid Standards, ſo as to be better, but yet within the Remedies, then ſo much ſhall be entered of Record, and hold Place to the Maſter, in the Charge which he ſhall have, when any Lacks ſhall be found by the ſaid Aſſay under the Standard.

If any Default be found in the ſaid Monies, without the ſaid Remedies, the Maſter ſhall make Fine and Ranſom to his Majeſty at his Will.

The Warden, Maſter and Comptroller, may take up as often as they will, as many Gravers to grave Irons at his Majeſty's Price, and as many Smiths, Workmen and Labourers, and Neceſſaries for making the ſaid Irons and Monies, and doing all Buſineſs in the Mint, as they ſhall think fit, and puniſh or remove them as they ſhall think fit, on due Occaſion; and all his Majeſty's Officers are to be aiding to them therein.

The Maſter is bound to receive all Gold and Silver brought to the Tower, after the Value, as it ſhall appear by the Aſſay to be better or worſe than the Standard.

And in Caſe of Diſpute of the true Value between the Maſter and Merchant, his Majeſty's Aſſay-maſter, in the Preſence of the Warden, Maſter and Comptroller, ſhall try the ſame; and the Maſter ſhall receive the ſame, and ſtand charged in Manner as it belongeth.

All

All Officers of the Mint and their Servants, and all Perſons bringing Gold or Silver to the Tower, ſhall have free Ingreſs and Egreſs at all Times, without Arreſt for Debt or other Matter, by the Officers of the Tower, and without any Fee.

The Warden, Maſter, and Comptroller, are bound to give their Attendance at the Mint every Wedneſday, or ſuch other Days as they ſhall appoint, for Receipt of Bullion and Delivery of coined Monies.

The Maſter is to pay 52 l. per Annum towards the Charges of the Diet of 104 l. heretofore allowed to the Officers of the Mint, and his Majeſty is to pay and allow the other 52 l. to be paid by the Warden.

The Warden to account yearly before the Auditor of the Mint, and to be allowed on the ſame, all Payments and Receipts, vouched by the Maſter, Comptroller, and Aſſay-maſter, or any two of them, whereof the Maſter to be one. And on ſtating and anſwering his ſaid Account, the Warden to have Letters Patent of Acquittance, under the Great Seal, without Fee thereof.

Confirmation to all Officers of the Mint, of all Houſes and Grounds, within the Mint, exempt from any Claim of the Officers of the Tower.

All Charters and Franchiſes alſo confirmed to them.

The Moneyers, Workmen, and all other Miniſters of the Mint, to be ready to do their Work at the Warning of the Warden, Maſter, and Comptroller, on pain of Loſs of Franchiſe, and Impriſonment.

The Gold and Silver by the Maſter delivered to the Moneyers to be coined, ſhall be in clean Plates, and delivered by Weight; and the Moneyers to re-deliver the ſame, when coined, in clear Pieces proportionably by the ſame Weight; and if any Thing lack of the ſame Weight, they are to content the ſaid Maſter for the ſame, at every Deliverance at the Balance; and the Maſter then is to pay them their Wages. And to perform his Covenants to the King and his People, the the Maſter has taken his Oath in Chancery, and given Sureties in the Exchequer in 2000 l.

The Maſter covenants from Time to Time to bring into the Mint convenient and ſufficient Supplies of Gold and Silver, and make full Payments and Deliverance of all Manner of Monies, with all convenient Speed; and to bear all Manner of Waſte about coining, according to the Allowances before ſpecified.

The Warden is to pay the Officers of the Mint their Wages appointed.

The Maſter is bound to bring all the Gold and Silver that he ſhall receive by colour of his Office into the Mint, to be made into Monies without Sale, aliening, or putting it to any other Uſe: Excepting all ſuch Healing-pieces, Seals, and Medals of Gold and Silver, as ſhall be made for his Majeſty's Uſe, or by his Majeſty's Command.

The Warden, when he ſhall think fit, is to make two Piles of Engliſh Weights, that may be done with the moſt exactneſs, to be equal to thoſe lawfully uſed in the Mint; which, when made, ſhall be brought to the Tower, and there examined and printed, with a Roſe crowned, and a Thiſtle crowned, in Preſence of the Officers of the Mint; and then the Warden ſhall deliver one of them to the General of the Mint in Scotland, to be carried, and remain there, and the other to remain in the Tower with the ſaid Warden.

The Maſter to account yearly before the Auditor of the Mint, and his Account being ſtated and fully anſwered, he ſhall have Letters Patent for his Acquittance without Fee, and this Indenture to be a ſufficient Warrant to put the Great Seal thereto.

The Maſter is to pay from Time to Time, to the Warden, ſuch Sums as ſhall be requiſite to be paid to Officers for their Fees and for Repairs, and ſuch other Expences of the Mint.

The Maſter is to retain in his Hands out of the Monies to be received on the Act for encouraging the Coinage, Coinage, 1255 l. per Annum, for Fees and Salaries due to himſelf and other Officers.

The Warden, Maſter and Comptroller, and their Deputies, ſhall, before their being admitted into the Knowledge of the Invention of rounding of his Majeſty's Monies, and marking the Edges of them with Letters or Grainings, take an Oath before the Treaſury, not to reveal the ſame to any Perſon whatſoever, directly or indirectly, without Command of his Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors: And the Workmen employed in making the ſaid Inſtruments, ſhall take the like Oath before the Warden of the Mint.

The Provoſt and Moneyers, their Apprentices and Servants, are ſtrictly charged not to vend, pay, or diſtribute any Piece of coined Money, until the ſame be delivered, according to the Courſe of the Mint, on pain of loſing their Franchiſe, and Impriſonment.

That no Perſon inhabit within the Mint, without the Approbation of the Warden, Maſter, and Comptroller.

The Comptroller is to deliver, on Oath, before one of the Barons of the Exchequer, a Roll, called the Comptroller's Roll, containing an Account of all the Gold and Silver Bullion, and Alloy molten, and all Gold and Silver Monies coined monthly in the Mint.

And the Maſter, or his Deputy, ſhall pay to ſuch Workmen, as ſhall be employed in making of ſeveral Gold and Silver Pieces round, before they are ſized, and marking the Edges with Letters or Grainings, and for keeping in Repair all the Rollers and Inſtruments to cut, flatten, make round, and ſize the Pieces, and to mark the Edges of the Monies with Letters or Grainings, and all other Tools, Engines and Inſtruments, ſuch Allowances as ſhall be directed by the Treaſury not exceeding ſix Pence for every Pound Weight Troy of Gold Monies, and 1 ½ d. for every Pound Weight Troy of Silver Monies.

The Maſter is to pay to the Provoſt and Company of Moneyers one Penny by Tale, for every Pound Weight Weight of all Silver Monies to be coined, over and above the ordinary Price of eight Pence allowed them.

Provided that the Moneyers having the Gold and Silver delivered to them in clean Ingots, fit to be wrought, ſhall deliver ſeven twelfths of the ſame in Money, ſo that there be but five Parts in twelve Sciſſel.

The Clerk of the Irons is to keep a true Account of all the blank Dies for coining the Gold and Silver Monies, which ſhall be delivered to the chief Engraver or Engravers of the Mint; and alſo of all the blank Dies, which ſhall be ſunk or ſtamped by the ſaid Graver or Gravers; and of all Dies, which, after ſinking, ſhall be made fit for Uſe and hardened.

And the Graver or Gravers are ſtrictly enjoined to return monthly to the Clerk of the Irons, all Dies that ſhall from Time to Time be faulty and worn, to be defaced in Preſence of the Warden, Maſter, and Comptroller.

And the Clerk of the Irons is enjoined to give an Account to the Warden, Maſter, and Comptroller, of what blank Dies have been delivered to the Gravers, or ſunk by them, or hardened by the Smith, and what faulty ones have been returned by them to be defaced, and what are remaining in their Hands.

The Gravers ſhall not make any Puncheons, Matrices, Dies or Stamps, but in ſuch Places of the Mint as ſhall be appointed by the Maſter, Warden, and Comptroller.

For the more exact ſizing of Gold and Silver Coins to be made by the Mill and Preſs, it is commanded, that the Counterpoiſe of the reſpective Gold and Silver Coins be made lighter than their juſt Weight, according to the Proportions following, viz.

That two Grains be taken from the Counterpoiſe of the Crown;
One Grain from the Half-Crown;
Half a Grain from the Shilling;

One

One fourth of a Grain from the Six-pence;
Two Grains from the Five-Guinea Piece;
One Grain from the Forty-two Shilling Piece;
Half a Grain from the Guinea;
One fourth of a Grain from the Half-Guinea;
One eighth of a Grain from the Quarter-Guinea.

The Provoſt and Moneyers, and their Apprentices, are to attend Morning and Evening, in ſuch Manner as the Maſter ſhall appoint, on pain of being removed, or otherwiſe puniſhed, as the Maſter, Warden, and Comptroller ſhall think proper.

Theſe Agreements to be in Force only during his Majeſty's Pleaſure. Univer. Merchant, P. 95. et ſeq.

Sir Iſaac Newton's Repreſentation to the Lords of the Treaſury in the Year 1717, on reducing the Guinea from 1 l. 1 s. 6 d. to 1 l. 1 s. to prevent the melting down of the Silver Coin.

IN Obedience to your Lordſhips Order of Reference of Auguſt 12, that I ſhould lay before your Lordſhips a State of the Gold and Silver Coins of this Kingdom, in Weight and Fineneſs, and the Value of Gold in Proportion to Silver, with my Obſervations and Opinion, and what Method may be beſt for preventing the melting down of the Silver Coin; I humbly repreſent, that a Pound Weight Troy of Gold eleven Ounces fine, and one Ounce Alloy, is cut into 44½ Guineas; and a Pound Weight of Silver eleven Ounces two Pennyweight fine, and eighteen Pennyweight Alloy, is cut into ſixty-two Shillings; and, according to this Rate, a Pound Weight of fine Gold is worth fifteen Pounds Weight, ſix Ounces ſeventeen ſeventeen Pennyweight and five Grains of fine * Silver, reckoning a Guinea at 1 l. 1 s. 6 d. in Silver † Money. But Silver in Bullion exportable, is uſually worth 2 d. or 3 d. per Ounce more than in Coin. And if at a Medium, ſuch Bullion of Standard Alloy be valued at 5 s. $4\frac{1}{2}$ d. per Ounce, a Pound Weight of fine Gold will be worth fourteen Pounds Weight eleven Ounces twelve Pennyweight nine Grains of fine Silver in Bullion. And at this Rate, a Guinea is worth but ſo much Silver as would make 20 s. 8 d. When Ships are lading for the Eaſt Indies, the Demand of Silver for Exportation raiſes the Price to 5 s. 6 d. or 5 s. 8 d. per Ounce, or above; but I conſider not thoſe extraordinary Caſes.

A Spaniſh Piſtole was coined for thirty-two Reals, or four Pieces of Eight Reals, uſually called Pieces of Eight, and is of equal Alloy, and the 16th Part of the Weight thereof. And a Doppio Moeda of Portugal was coined for ten Cruſadoes of Silver, and is of equal Alloy; and the 16th Part of the Weight thereof: Gold is therefore in Spain and Portugal of ſixteen Times more Value than Silver of equal Weight and Alloy, according to the Standard of thoſe Kingdoms; at which Rate, a Guinea is worth § 22 s. 1 d. But this high Price keeps their Gold at home in good Plenty, and carries away the Spaniſh Silver into all Europe; ſo that at home they make their Payments in Gold, and will not pay in Silver without a Premium. Upon the coming in of a Plate-fleet, the Premium ceaſes or is † January 13, 1717, the Guinea, by the King's Proclamation, was reduced to 21 Shillings.

but

but ſmall; but as their Silver goes away and becomes ſcarce, the Premium increaſes, and is moſt commonly about ſix per Cent. which being abated, a Guinea becomes worth about 20 s. 9 d. in Spain and Portugal.

In France, a Pound Weight of fine Gold is reckoned worth fifteen Pounds Weight of fine Silver: In raiſing or falling their Money, their King's Edicts have ſometimes varied a little from this Proportion, in Exceſs or Defect; but the Variations have been ſo little, that I do not here conſider them *.

By the Edict of May 1709, a new Piſtole was coined for four Lewiſes, and is of equal Alloy, and the 15th Part of the Weight thereof, except the Errors of their Mints. And by the ſame Edict fine Gold is valued at fifteen Times its Weight of fine Silver; and at this Rate a Guinea is worth 20 s. $8\frac{1}{2}$ d. I conſider not here the Confuſion made in the Monies in France by frequent Edicts, to ſend them to the Mint, and give the King a Tax out of them; I conſider the Value only of Gold and Silver in Proportion to one another.

The Ducats of Holland and Hungary, and the Empire, were lately current in Holland among the common People in their Markets and ordinary Affairs, at five Guilders in Specie and five Stivers, and commonly changed for ſo much Silver Monies in Three-Guilder-Pieces, as Guineas are with us for 21 s. 6 d. Sterling; at which Rate a Guinea is worth 20 s. $7\frac{1}{2}$ d.

According to the Rates of Gold to Silver in Italy, Germany, Poland, Denmark and Sweden, a Guinea is worth about 20 s. 7*d.* 6*d.* 5*d.* or 4*d.* for the Proportion varies a little within the ſeveral Governments in thoſe Countries. In Sweden Gold is loweſt in Proportion to Silver, and this has made that Kingdom, which formerly was content with Copper-Money, abound of late with Silver, ſent thither (I ſuſpect) for naval Stores.

* How the Proportion is now, is explained in the following Section.

In

In the End of King William's Reign, and the firſt Year of the late Queen, when foreign Coins abounded in England, I cauſed a great many of them to be aſſayed in the Mint, and found by the Aſſays, that fine Gold was to fine Silver in Spain, Portugal, France, Holland, Italy, Germany, and the Northern Kingdoms, in the Proportions above mentioned, Errors of the Mint excepted.

In China and Japan a Pound Weight of fine Gold is worth but nine or ten Pounds Weight of fine Silver; and in Eaſt India it may be worth twelve. And this low Price of Gold in Proportion to Silver, carries away the Silver from all Europe *.

So then, by the Courſe of Trade and Exchange between Nation and Nation in all Europe, fine Gold is to fine Silver as $14\frac{4}{5}$, or 15 to 1; and a Guinea at the ſame Rate, is worth between 20 s. 5 d. and 20 s. $8\frac{1}{2}$ d. except in extraordinary Caſes, as when a Plate-fleet is juſt arrived in Spain, or Ships are laden here for the Eaſt Indies, which Caſes I do not here conſider. And it appears by Experience, as well as by Reaſon, that Silver flows from thoſe Places, where its Value is loweſt in Proportion to Gold, as from Spain to all Europe, and from all Europe to the Eaſt Indies, China, and Japan; and that Gold is moſt plentiful in thoſe Places in which its Value is higheſt, in Proportion to Silver, as in Spain and England.

It is the Demand for Exportation which hath raiſed the Price of exportable Silver about 2 d. or 3 d. in the Ounce, above that of Silver in Coin, and hath thereby created a Temptation to export or melt down the Silver Coin, rather than give 2 d. or 3 d. more for foreign Silver; and the Demand for Exportation ariſes from the higher Price of Silver in other Places than in England, in Proportion to Gold; that is, from the

* Till about the Year 1732, we know of great Quantities of Silver going from Europe to China, to fetch Goods back, which has cauſed the Price of Gold in China to riſe ſo much, that it is now not worth ſending any Silver thither. Univ. Merch. P. 90.

higher Price of Gold in England than in other Places, in Proportion to Silver, and therefore may be diminiſhed by lowering the Value of Gold in Proportion to Silver. If Gold in England, or Silver in Eaſt India, could be brought down ſo low as to bear the ſame Proportion to one another in both Places, there would be here no greater Demand for Silver than for Gold to be exported for India; and if Gold were lowered only ſo as to have the ſame Proportion to the Silver Money in England which it has to Silver in the reſt of Europe, there would be no Temptation to export Silver rather than Gold to any other Part of Europe. And to compaſs this laſt, there ſeems nothing more requiſite than to take off about 10 d. or 12 d. from the Guinea, ſo that the Gold may bear the ſame Proportion with the Silver Money in England, which it ought to do by the Courſe of Trade and Exchange in Europe: But if only 6 d. were taken off at preſent, it would diminiſh the Temptation to export or melt down the Silver Coin; and by the Effects would ſhow hereafter better than can appear at preſent, what further Reduction would be moſt convenient for the Publick.

In the laſt Year of King William, the Dollars of Scotland, worth about 4 s. 6 d. were put away in the North of England for 5 s. and at this Price began to flow in upon us. I gave Notice thereof to the Lords Commiſſioners of the Treaſury, and they ordered the Collectors of Taxes to forbear taking them, and thereby put a Stop to the Miſchief.

At the ſame Time the Louis d'Ors of France, which were worth but 17 s. $\frac{1}{4}$ d. a-piece, paſſed in England for 17 s. 6 d. I gave Notice thereof to the Lords Commiſſioners of the Treaſury, and his late Majeſty put out a Proclamation, that they ſhould go but at 17 s. and thereupon they came to the Mint, and 1,400,000*l.* were coined out of them; and if the Advantage of $5\frac{1}{2}$ d. ſufficed at that Time to bring into England ſo great a Quantity of French Money, and the Advantage of three Farthings in a Louis d'Or to bring it to the Mint, the Advantage of 9½ d. in a Guinea, or above, may have been ſufficient to bring the great Quantity of Gold which has been coined in theſe laſt fifteen Years, without any foreign Silver *.

Some Years ago, the Portugal Moidores were received in the Weſt of England at 28 s. a-piece; upon Notice from the Mint, that they were worth only about 27 s. 7 d. the Lords Commiſſioners of the Treaſury ordered their Receivers of Taxes to take them at no more than 27 s. 6*d.*

Afterwards many Gentlemen in the Weſt ſent up to the Treaſury a Petition, that the Receivers might take them again at 28 s. and promiſed to get Returns for this Money at that Rate, alledging that when they went at 28 s. their Country was full of Gold, which they wanted very much: But the Commiſſioners of the Treaſury conſidering, that at 28 s. the Nation would loſe 5 d. a-piece, rejected the Petition. And if an Advantage to the Merchant of 5 d. in 28 s. did pour that Money in upon us, much more hath an Advantage to the Merchant of 9½ d. in a Guinea, or above, been able to bring into the Mint great Quantities of Gold without any foreign Silver, and may be able to do ſtill, till the Cauſe be removed.

If Things be let alone till Silver Money be a little ſcarcer, the Gold will fall of itſelf; for People are

* As France always had the Balance of Trade with England on their Side, theſe 1,400,000 Louis d'Ors apparently came for fetching Silver, and cannot be conſidered as to have been of any Advantage to England. It is no Wonder that the Advantage of three Farthings in a Louis d'or ſhould bring them into the Mint in England, ſince he who brought it in was at no Charges; and what he received back thereby became the Coin, which no Body would refuſe to take: But it is a Queſtion with me, if ſuch French Coin, exact in Weight, might not as well have been ſuffered to circulate for its full Value of 17 s. and three Farthings a-piece, than to proclaim them to paſs not above 17 s. which would have ſaved the Government about 9000 l. Charges of minting. Univ. Merch. P. 92.

already backward to give Silver for Gold, and will, in a little Time, refuſe to make Payments in Silver without a Premium, as they do in Spain; and this Premium will be an Abatement in the Value of the Gold: And ſo the Queſtion is, whether Gold ſhall be lowered by the Government, or let alone till it falls of itſelf, by the Want of Silver Money.

It may be ſaid, that there are great Quantities of Silver in Plate, and if the Plate were coined, there would be no Want of Silver Money: But I reckon that Silver is ſafer from Exportation in the Form of Plate, than in the Form of Money, becauſe of the greater Value in Silver and Faſhion together; and therefore I am not for coining the Plate, till the Temptation to export the Silver (which is a Profit of 2 d. or 3 d. an Ounce) be diminiſhed: For as often as Men are neceſſitated to ſend away Money for anſwering Debts abroad, there will be a Temptation to ſend away Silver rather than Gold, becauſe of the Profits which is almoſt four per Cent. And for the ſame Reaſon, Foreigners will chooſe to ſend hither their Gold rather than their Silver.

All which is moſt humbly ſubmitted to your Lordſhips great Wiſdom.

Of the Par of Exchange, and Sir Iſaac Newton's Table of aſcertaining it; with the Method of keeping Accounts in thoſe Places on which Exchange Negotiations are uſually made.

1. BY the Par of Exchange is meant the preciſe Equality between any Sum or Quantity of Engliſh Money, and the Money of a foreign Country, into which which it is exchanged, Regard being had to the Fineneſs as well as to the Weight of each*. Univ. Mer. P. 77.

2. When Sir Iſaac Newton had the Inſpection of the Engliſh Mint, he made, by Order of Council, Aſſays of a great Number of foreign Coins, to know their intrinſic Values, and to calculate thereby the Par of Exchange between England and other Countries; of which a Table is given by Dr. Arbuthnot: And he ſays, you may thereby judge the Balance of Trade, as well as the Diſtemper of a Patient by the Pulſe. And this, it ſeems, induced Monſ. Dutot, in a late Book intitled Reflexions politiques ſur les Finances, to follow the ſame Path in calculating the Par of Exchange, and to ſay, that the Balance of Trade may be thereby as well judged of, as the Weather by a Barometer. *Univ. N. B. The Gold Coin having been valued when Guineas were at 21 s. 6 d. they are here reduced to the preſent Standard of 21 s.

For underſtanding this Table, it is to be obſerved, that the Engliſh Pound Troy contains twelve Ounces; one Ounce, twenty Pennyweights; one Pennyweight, twenty-four Grains; and one Grain, twenty Mites.

The preſent Engliſh Standard for Gold Coin is 22 Carats of fine Gold, and two Carats or $\frac{1}{12}$ of Alloy.

The

The Silver Coin contains eleven Ounces two Pennyweight fine Silver, and eighteen Pennyweight of Alloy in the Pound.

The firſt Column of the Table expreſſeth the Fineneſs of the aſſayed Piece; the Letter B. ſignifying better, and W. worſe than the Engliſh Standard.

The ſecond Column, the abſolute Weight of the Piece.

The third Column, its Standard Weight, or its Quantity of Standard Metal.

The fourth Column, its Value in Engliſh Money.

For Example, in the ſecond Article of Silver Coin, the new Seville Piece of Eight is $1\frac{1}{2}$ Pennyweight in the Pound worſe than the Engliſh Standard Weight; 13 Pennyweight 21 Grains and 15 Mites of Sterling Silver; and is in Value 43 d. 11 Parts of a Penny*.

In the Royal Mint, a Pound of Standard Gold is cut or divided into $44\frac{1}{2}$ Parts, each a Guinea, at which Rate a Guinea will weigh 5 Pennyweight 9 Grains .4382 Parts.

They were firſt coined in King Charles II. Reign, and went for 20 s. and had their Name from the Gold, whereof they were made; being brought from that Part of Africa called Guinea, which the Elephant on them likewiſe denotes. Univ. Merch. P. 76, 77.

4. In Holland, or the Seven United Provinces, Accounts are kept in Guilders, Stivers, and Pennings; one Guilder being equal to twenty Stivers, and one Stiver to ſixteen Pennings, or two Groots, or Groſs: Six of their Guilders they reckon equal to one Pound, or twenty Shillings Flemiſh; on which laſt, the Exchange betwixt London and thoſe Countries is always computed, and not on the Guilder, though they are, by the above Account of the ſeve-

* 11 oz. 2 dwts. is 222 dwts from which deducting $1\frac{1}{2}$, there remains $220\frac{1}{2}$; and therefore if 222 make $220\frac{1}{2}$; then 14 (the Weight of the Seville Piece of Eight in the Table) will make 13 dwts. 21 gr. 15 mi. (the Standard Weight in the table) which at 62 d. for 20 dwts. (an Ounce Sterling) is $43\frac{11}{100}$ (the Value in the Table.)

ral Denominations, eaſily reduced one into the other. The real Species are the Rix Dollar, valued at fifty Stivers; and the Ducatoon, equal to ſixty-three Stivers. But though this be the current Value of that Piece, it is received at the Bank of Amſterdam only at ſixty Stivers, which makes the Difference, called Agio, really of five per Cent. between Bank and current Money.

The Par of Exchange between Engliſh and Dutch Money is eaſily found thus: As by Sir Iſaac Newton's Table (P. 373.) the Ducatoon of Holland is worth intrinſically 65 d..59 Engliſh, which is received at the Bank, as hath been already ſaid, at ſixty Stivers, or three Guilders, and conſequently is equal to ten Schillings Flemiſh; therefore by the Rule of Three, as 65 d. .59 Engliſh is to 10 s. Flemiſh, ſo is 240 d. Engliſh to a fourth Number, which will be found to be 36 s. .49 Flemiſh; and ſo much Bank Money at Amſterdam ſhould be received for one Pound, or 240 Pence Sterling: This is the real Par, and whatever is received more or leſs than this, is Gains or Loſs to England.

In this and the following Calculations of the Par, Regard is had only to the coined Silver of the ſeveral Countries, and not to the accidental Price or Value that Silver in Bullion may be; for this never is long the ſame. Univ. Merch. P. 78.

5. In Flanders, or the ten Provinces, Accounts are kept either as in Holland, or in Pounds, Schillings, and Pence Flemiſh; one Pound Flemiſh being equal to twenty Schillings, and one Schilling equal to twelve Pence; the Rix-Dollar here is only forty-eight Stivers. In reducing the Money of this Country into that of Holland, it muſt be obſerved, that one Pound Flemiſh, as it is called, is equal to ſix Guilders; and of Conſequence, one Schilling Flemiſh is equal to ſix Stivers, or twelve Groſs; one Stiver being equal to two Groſs.

Antwerp having been formerly the Chief City of Trade of the whole ſeventeen Provinces, we exchange even even upon Holland to this Day in Flemiſh Money. In ſome Parts of Flanders they divide the Shilling into Patars inſtead of Pence, ſix whereof go to a Shilling. The Par at Antwerp is the ſame as at Hamburgh, which ſee in the following Paragraph.

6 In Hamburgh Accounts are kept in Marks Lubs, Schillings-lubs and Phennings, Pence, or Deniers; or in Pounds, Shillings and Pence Flemiſh.

12 Phennings		A Schilling-lub.
13 Schillings-lubs		A Mark.
2 Marks		A Dollar.
3 Marks or 48 Schilling-lubs	make	A Rix-dollar.
6 Schilling-lubs		1 Schilling Flemiſh.
6 Phennings		1 Groot Flemiſh.
7½ Marks		1 Pound Flemiſh.
8 Flemiſh Schillings		1 Rix-dollar.

But there is a Difference between Bank-money and Hamburgh Currency; Bank-money being 16 per Cent. better. In Exchange for London, they give ſo many Shillings and Groot Flemiſh for one Pound Sterling.

The old Dollar of Hamburgh Money (the Rix dollar above mentioned) Stands in the Table (P. 275.) valued at * 54*d*. .92; therefore to find the Par of Exchange, ſay, as 54 d. .92 is to 8 Flemiſh Schillings or one Rix-dollar; ſo is 240 d. to a fourth Number, which will be found to be 34 s. 11 d. but in the Book lately publiſhed, called the Britiſh Negotiator, the Par is ſaid to be 35 s. 6⅔ d. and in Caſtain's Paper hereafter mentioned, it is ſaid to be 35. 17 s.

7. In France, Accounts are kept in Livres, Sols, and Deniers; one Livre is equal to twenty Sols, and one Sol is 12 Deniers.

* At Hamburgh the Bank-Dollar muſt weigh exactly two Loot, or an Ounce, which correſponds with eighteen Pennyweight eighteen Grains London Weight: Whence it is evident, that the ſaid Dollar, by which the Par of this Table has been calculated, muſt have been under Weight. Univ. Merch. P. 47.

In

In exchanging with that Country, we pay ſo many Pence Sterling for their Crown, by which Crown is always meant three Livres or ſixty Sols, though they have not always any coined Piece of Silver preciſely of the Value of three Livres; therefore this ideal or nominal Crown is to be diſtinguiſhed from the coined or real Piece of Silver, which paſſes likewiſe under the Name of a Crown or Ecu, but for Diſtinction-ſake is called un Ecu d' Argent, or Ecu blanc, or a Crown of ſo many Livres; for this Crown in Specie may be double that of Account or Exchange, as it really happens to be at this Time; and conſequently the Crown in Exchange is paid in France by the half of that real or ſpecie Crown.

The Exchange between France and other Countries varies more than any other, owing to the frequent Alteration of their Coin, which is done by the King's Arret, wherein he declares and orders, how many Crowns in Specie or Livres, Sols and Deniers are to be coined at his Mints out of the Mark, as they call it, or eight of their Ounces of Silver; but this Mark is only 7 oz. 17 pwt. 12 gr. Engliſh Weight; which at 5*s.* 2*d. per* Ounce is worth only 2 l. 0*s.* $8\frac{1}{4}$ d. Sterling. By the laſt Arret in France, 15 June 1726, the King orders, that there ſhould be coined out of the Mark $8\frac{3}{8}$ Crowns, each Crown to paſs for ſix Livres, that is, the Mark, when coined, to paſs for fifty Livres five Sols; from whence we have this Equation, that fifty Livres five Sols French are intrinſically worth or equal to 2*l.* 0*s.* $8\frac{1}{4}$d. from thence may be had the Par of Exchange on the Crown or three Livres French; for if fifty Livres five Sols be equal to 2*l.* 0*s.* $8\frac{1}{4}$ d. Engliſh, three Livres French muſt be equal to 29. 149*d. Engliſh*, and whatever is paid more or leſs than this is Loſs or Gain; and conſequently, as the Courſe of Exchange then was, by the Account ſubjoined from Caſtain's Paper, France had the Advantage of about ten per Cent. This ſhews their Ignorance who, in Books printed on this ſubject, pretend to note the Par of Exchange with France, as if their Coin remained ed always the ſame; whereas there is no other Way than by an actual Aſſay, and weighing their Species at the Time, or ſeeing the King's Arret; and indeed that Exchange is ſo variable, that I have known it within the Space of but a few Years, from 5*d. Engliſh* to near 60 d. for their Crown of three Livres; the firſt indeed was payable in their Bank Notes, then in great Diſcredit, viz. Ann. 1720. Univ. Merch. 80, 81.

8. In Madrid, Cadiz, Seville, and all Spain, Accounts are kept in Maravedies, 34 of which make a Rial, and 272 are equal to a Piaſter, or Piece of $\frac{8}{8}$ Rials new Plate, or 10 of Vellon. The Piſtole of Gold is equal to four Pieces of $\frac{8}{8}$. A Rial of Plate is worth 34 Maravedies of Plate, as a Rial of Vellon is worth 34 Maravedies of Vellon; ſo that thoſe two Terms of Plate and Vellon in Spain, not only ſignify the different Metals of Silver and Copper, but the Difference in Accounts of Money, for the Piece of $\frac{8}{8}$, which makes only 272 Maravedies of Plate is equal to 510 Maravedies of Vellon; ſo they ſay a Rial of Plate, or a Rial of Vellon; a Maravedies of Plate, or a Maravedies of Vellon; though the laſt is only a ſmall Copper Coin.

The Dollar or Piaſter, which formerly went for eight Rials, is now raiſed to ten; ſo that London exchanging upon the Piece of Eight of eight Rials on that Country ſtill as formerly, the Alteration in the Courſe of Exchange ſhould be in Proportion thus: If ten Rials of Plate, or a Dollar, be worth 54 d. Sterling (the Value of the Piaſter in the Table, P. 273.) what are eight Rials worth? Anſwer, 43. 2*d.*

In the Table ſtands firſt a Piaſter of Seville, weighing 17 Pennyweight 12 Grains; whereupon the Par of Exchange is calculated. Then 1000 Piaſters in London ſhould weigh 875 Ounces: But it is notorious that 1000 Piaſters in Spain go at 117 Marks 2 Ounces, and in London ſeldom turn out above 867 to 869 Ounces. The exact Weight of a Piaſter in Spain, at preſent, is 15 Adarmes, and ſo 1000 weighing 117 Marks

Marks $1\frac{1}{2}$ Ounces, will paſs for full weighty in their Payments; whereby it ſeems to be clear, that the Piaſter which Sir Iſaac Newton made uſe of, and calculated the Par by, has been over-weighty.

Or if it was a Piaſter of an older Date, when out of a Mark of eight Ounces, eleven Pennyweight, four Grains, were coined ſixty-ſeven Rials, and eight made a Piaſter, then 1000 Piaſters, full Weight, correſponded to $119\frac{27}{67}$ Marks at Cadiz: And ſo as $117\frac{1}{4}$ Marks at Cadiz, make $867\frac{1}{2}$ Ounces at London, 1000 Piaſters, or 17,350 Pennyweight, $119\frac{27}{67}$ Marks correſpond to 17 Pennyweight 16 Grains a Piaſter, and then it was too light. Univ. Mer. P. 81, 46.

9. At Leghorn they keep their Accounts in Livres, Sols and Deniers, or in Crowns of Gold, which is divided into 20 Solds, each Sold into 12 Deniers. A Crown of Gold, which they mark thus €, is divided otherwiſe into $7\frac{1}{2}$ Liras.

They exchange upon the Dollar, or Piece of Eight, the Par of which with England is 54 d. A Dollar or Piaſter of Exchange is equal to ſix Liras or Livres; a Ducat makes ſeven Liras.

10. At Genoa they keep their Accounts in Livres, Sols, and Deniers, as at Leghorn. They exchange upon the Piaſter or Dollar of five Livres; the Par of which is 54 d. Sterling.

11. At Venice they keep their Accounts in Liras, Soldi, and Picoli or Livres, Sols and Deniers current, and reckon 12 Deniers to the Sol, and 20 Sols to a Livre. But in the Bank, or the Bankers, keep their Accounts in Livres, Sols, and Groſſes reckoning 12 Groſs to a Sol, and 20 Sols to a Livre; and every Livre they value at 10 Ducats Banco or 12 Ducats current.

So that they have two Sorts of Ducats, one Banque, and the other Courant, the latter 20 per Cent. worſe, or as the Agio rules, than thoſe called Bank Ducats; each of them is divided into 124 Soldi, or 24 Groſs, or ſix Liras 4 Sols.

A Sequin being equal to 17 Liras, and worth, by Sir Iſaac's Table (P. 378.) 9 s. 5.7 d. Sterling: Say, if 17 Liras give 9 s. 5.7 d. what will 7 Liras 8 Soldi (a Ducat of Bank) give? Anſwer, 49.492 d.

12. In Liſbon Accounts are kept in Reas, accounting 1000 Reas to what they call a Millrea, and ſeparating the Millreas from the Reas thus: 976 ℔ 859, which ſignifies 976 Millreas, and 859 Reas.

The Millrea is no real Coin but Money of Account. A Cruſado of Silver is 480 Reas. But as moſt Payments are made in Gold, and few or none in Silver, the Moeda being worth only 26 s. 10.4 d. (ſee the Table, P. 378.) the Rule to find the Par will be as follows: If 4800 Reas (for ſo many are in a Moeda) give 26 s. 10.4 d. what will 1000, or one Millrea give? Anſwer, 5 s. 7.166 d. which is near 2 per Cent. in our favour.

13. The following Table needs no Explanation to Merchants; but others are to be informed, that it is a Copy of a Paper uſually printed twice a Week by an eminent Exchange Broker, or by one who was daily informed by the ſeveral Dealers in Exchange, of the current Pieces of the Monies of the ſeveral Countries we deal with that way and is looked upon to be very exact.

There are different Ways among Merchants of negotiating Bills of Exchange, according to the Cuſtom of the Countries abroad on which they are drawn; for Example, if a Bill be demanded on Amſterdam, Rotterdam, Antwerp, or any other of the ſeventeen Provinces, or on Hamburg, the Negotiation is always meant to be on the Pound Sterling; and then the Queſtion or Bargain to be made is, how many Schillings and Pence Flemiſh are to be received in thoſe Parts for each Pound Sterling; and as this varies according to the Demand, and one receives ſometimes more, ſometimes leſs, it is termed by ſome Writers on this Subject of Exchange, giving the certain for the uncertain, though not ſo properly. On other Countries it is the reverſe of this, for a Piece of certain Value or a Denomination mination is ſtipulated to be delivered abroad, and the Agreement to be made is, how much Engliſh Money is to be paid here for that Piece of foreign Coin. Thus we exchange with France on their Crown or three Livres Tournois; with Spain on their Piece of Eight; with Portugal on their Millrea, &c. as may be ſeen in the Table ſubjoined.

It is to be obſerved, that the Value or Prices of Engliſh Money towards the right and left Hands, are the Rates at which Bills were actually negotiated on the Exchange of London on the Days mentioned at Top; and that the Middle Column is the Par, or intrinſick Value by which may be known at any Time which has the Advantage, this or the Country we exchange with.

SECT. V.

Of the Bank of Amſterdam, and Method of calculating the Dutch Exchanges.

THIS Bank, ſuppoſed the moſt conſiderable and richeſt in Europe, on the 31ſt of January 1609, was eſtabliſhed by the Authority of the States General, under the Direction of the Burgo-maſters of this City, who are Security for the ſame, and conſtituted themſelves perpetual Caſhiers of its Inhabitants, to whom it is of the greateſt Conveniency and Service, as Millions may be paid in a Day by the ſimple Aſſignations of a Draught on it, without the Intervention of any real Caſh.

The Funds of this Bank are related to be ſo great as is hardly credible, many Authors quoting their Value to be at leaſt that of three thouſand Tuns of Gold; and theſe, rated at 100,000 Guilders per Tun, make, at only 35 Shillings per Pound Sterling, the prodigious Sum of 28,571,406 *l. but as this Value is unaſcer-

* The Bank of Amſterdam has the Fame of more Treaſure than any other. The French Author of the Eſſay on Commerce ſays its Capital is 400,000,000 of Guilders; and the Amſterdam Edition of that Book is noted in the Margin 8 or 900,000,000, which amounts to 80,000,000 Sterling. Davenant ſeems aſſured that it is 36,000,000 Sterling effectual Money Gold and Silver in Bank, and that their Tranſactions are not with Money, but by Aſſignments. But as ſuch Aſſignments cannot be made out, but with or by the Intervention of thoſe that keep Accounts with the Bank, if then we can make a ſhrewd Gueſs at their Number, it may be nearly concluded what the Sum amounts to; as it is not to be preſumed that any Money can be in the Bank but what ſome Body muſt ſtand Creditor for. Now it is known, that though Amſterdam has, in Proportion to its Inhabitants, more Merchants than London, yet as London contains four to one more People than Amſterdam, there are more Merchants and Men of Buſineſs who keep Accounts with the Bank. The utmoſt which appear in the London Directory are 2800, and moſt probably at Amſterdam not half ſo many: And though many have Accounts in the Bank who are not reſident at Amſterdam, it is the ſame in reſpect to London; and if it unaſcertained, I ſhall give Sir William Temple's Opinion of it, inſtead of my own, who, ſpeaking of this Bank, in his Remarks on the State of the United Provinces, ſays: "In the City of Amſterdam is the Bank, "ſo celebrated in all the World on Account of the "Greatneſs of its Treaſure, which exceeds that of all "others hitherto known, real or imaginary. The "Place where it is lodged is a great Vault under the "Town-houſe, provided with Doors, Locks, and "every other Security neceſſary for its Safety and "Preſervation: And it is certain, that whenever "any one goes to ſee the Bank, he will find there a "very great Treaſure in Bars and Ingots of Silver, "Plate, and an incredible Quantity of Sacks full of "Metal, ſaid to be Gold and Silver, as, I believe, "in Effect they are; though, as there is none but "the Burgo-maſters who have any Direction in this "Bank, and as there is no one who keeps any Ac-"count of what is brought in or carried out at dif-"ferent Times, it is impoſſible to know, or even "gueſs, with any Exactneſs, the Proportion there is "between the real and imaginary Treaſure of it, as "it does not ſolely conſiſt in the effective Gold and "Silver, but alſo in the Credit of the City, and of "the State, of which the Funds and Revenues are as "great as that of ſome Kingdoms, and it is obliged "to be anſwerable for all the Money brought in. "The greateſt Payments made between the Mer-"chants of this City are in Bank-bills; ſo that it "may be ſaid, that this Bank is properly the general "Cheſt in which every one incloſes his Money, be-"cauſe they deem it there to lie in greater Security, "both for paying and receiving, than if they had it "in their own Coffers; and the Bank is ſo far from "being obliged to pay an Intereſt on the Money de-"poſited in it, that what is there is worth more than it was even admitted that there were in Amſterdam 3000, and each of theſe to have on Advance 10,000 Guilders, the Amount is 30,000,000 of Guilders; and, if 20,000, 60,000,000. Univ. Merch. P. 32.

" the current Money, in which ſmall Payments are " handily made, becauſe it neither admits nor re- " ceives any Caſh, but of the beſt and moſt valuable " Species, and thoſe that are moſt current as well in " Germany as in the Low Countries."

By its Eſtabliſhment it is ordained, that the Payments of Bills of Exchange and wholeſale Goods ſhall be only in Bank, except the Sum be under 300 Guilders, and nothing leſs than this can be wrote into Bank, without paying ſix Stivers (except it be by the Eaſt and Weſt India Companies, who are exempt from this Duty, and may write in what ſmall Sums they pleaſe); ſo that the Debtor is obliged to carry his Money in there, and the Creditor from thence to receive it.

The Payments are made by a ſimple Transfer, or Aſſignation of one to the other; ſo that he that was Creditor on the Bank Books before, becomes Debtor from the Moment he has aſſigned any Sum to another, who is wrote down as Creditor in his Room.

Although the Bank of Amſterdam has no Account of current Caſh open like that of Venice, this does not hinder (notwithſtanding its Regulation) but that it ſometimes makes Payments in ready Money; and there are particular Caſhiers without the Bank who make theſe Payments for an Eighth per Cent. that is to ſay, two Stivers and a half for a hundred Guilders.

This Contravention is tolerated as beneficial to Trade, foraſmuch as ſometimes one is obliged to make a Payment in effective Money, more eſpecially in Retail Affairs; and it is often that ſome Perſons are better pleaſed to have their Caſh ready for Uſe elſewhere than in the public Bank, either for Negotiations, or to pay Bills of Exchange, when their expreſs Tenor is to be paid out of the Bank, that is, in ready or current Money.

It is by this Bank, that the City of Amſterdam is ſupported in ſo much Splendor and Magnificence, and, without interrupting Commerce, poſſeſſes the greateſt Part of the Caſh of its Inhabitants, who are not not leſs rich for having their Fortunes in the Bank, as they may convert them into ready Money whenever they pleaſe, and again bring them into Bank when it ſhall be agreeable.

And to carry on this Sort of Buſineſs or Exchange, an Application need only be made to certain Merchants, or particular Caſhiers, who are commonly to be met with between ten and eleven o'Clock at the Dam, or before the Town-houſe or Bank, with whom the Negotiation may be adjuſted for an Agio or Diſcount, which they endeavour to effect on the higheſt Terms when they are Sellers, and on the loweſt they poſſibly can when they buy.

The Difference between buying and ſelling is ordinarily from a Sixteenth to an Eighth per cent. and the Agio varies from three to ſix per cent. ſometimes more, at other Times leſs, according to the Difference in Exchange, or the Scarceneſs of the Specie.

When a Payment is made in Ducatoons or Rix-Dollars, and not in a ſmall Kind of Money, leſs is given for the Agio, becauſe the large Coins are received at the Bank.

Theſe Sorts of Negotiations are likewiſe made at the Bourſe, or at Home between Merchant and Merchant, with or without the Intervention of Brokers, who have one per Mil. for their Pains, paid equally between the Buyer and Seller.

To have an Account opened for a Perſon in the Bank, he muſt pay 10 Guilders for once only.

The Bank only receives Ducats of Gold, Ducatoons, Rix-Dollars, old Louis d'ors, and other ſuch like Species; and they have reduced the Ducatoon to 60 Stivers inſtead of 63, as they paſſed in ready or current Money, the Rix-Dollar to be 48 from 50, and other Sorts of Coins in Proportion.

The Bank never engages for the Species it receives, but on the Footing of 5 per cent. under their common Value in current Money, viz. the Ducatoon at the Value juſt now mentioned, which is the true Original of the Agio, and which conſequently muſt be 5 per cent.

Ingots of Gold and Bars of Silver are likewiſe depoſited there, of which the Price is regulated according to their Value after the Aſſay which is made by the City Aſſayer; and all Sorts of Species of Gold and Silver are alſo depoſited, and principally Dollars, for which the Bank gives its Receipts called Receipts of Mexican Dollars, and which are commonly negotiated at Change.

Thoſe who have Caſh in Bank may draw it out whenever they pleaſe on paying a ſixteenth per cent. for the Care of it; and if at the Time of taking it out, the Agio ſhould be under 5 per cent. the Treaſurer will pay the Difference, foraſmuch as that when it was received, there was charged on it the five per cent.

The Books of the Bank are kept in Guilders, Stivers, and Pennings; of which 20 Stivers make a Guilder, and ſixteen Pennings or Deniers, a Stiver.

Any one drawing on the Bank more than he has there incurs a Penalty of 3 per cent. on the Sum he overdraws.

The Bank is ſhut up twice a year, viz. in January or February, and in July or Auguſt, and remains ſo eight, ten, or fifteen Days, during which Time the Books are ballancing.

It is ſhut up, beſides, on the Feaſts of Eaſter, the Aſcenſion and Chriſtmas, and on Faſt Days, and about the 22d of September, when the Fair begins.

If the ſix Days of Grace, which are allowed on Bills of Exchange, happen to expire whilſt the Bank is ſhut, the Bearer of them is in Time to proteſt them, in caſe of Non-payment, the ſecond or third Day after its Opening.

Whenever any Difference happens between Merchants and Tradeſmen about the Bank, it ſhall be ſummarily ſettled by the Commiſſioners named for this Purpoſe by the Magiſtracy of Amſterdam.

The

The Bank makes no negotiable Bills, but gives Receipts for Effects depoſited, which may be ſold: For Example, a Perſon having 1000 Louis d'ors of the Sun (which are commonly worth from Guild. 11.8 to 11.14 current Money) and wanting ready Caſh, endeavours to ſell his Gold, for which he is only offered Guild. 11.8; but reſolving not to admit this low Price, in Hopes of a ſpeedy Riſe he carries them to the Bank, which takes them on the Footing of Guild. 10 14 each, making Guild. 10.700 Bank Money, of which he may diſpoſe, deducting half per cent. that he muſt allow for a ſix Months Care of it, as cuſtomary; and if during that Time the Louis are in demand, he withdraws them or ſells his Receipt, as he thinks proper: but if, on the contrary, they ſtill keep low, tho' with an Appearance of ſoon riſing, he carries his Receipt to the Bank, where they debit his Account in the proper Office, Guild. 53.10, for the half per cent. mentioned in the Receipt, and on theſe Terms he may prolong the Depoſit to the Time it ſuits him to withdraw it, paying every ſix Months the aforeſaid Sum; and this is the only Caſe in which the Bank gives Receipts that are negotiable. And if the aforeſaid one is ſold, the Buyer, before he can make uſe of its Value, muſt reſtore to the Bank the 10,700 Guild. advanced, and the half per cent.

If a Man wants to know what has been wrote in on his Account, he muſt go to the Bank between Seven and Eight in the Morning, and if he lets this Time lapſe, he muſt pay two Stivers; and if he delays it till after Nine, he muſt pay ſix Stivers.

The Officers of the Bank are paid by the City; and all that is received for correcting Accompts, Retardation of Hours, and Forfeits, is for the Poor.

The Bank obſerves the following Rules, which it is neceſſary for thoſe who keep Caſh there to be appriſed of.

1. No one can diſpoſe of his Money paid in, till the next Day, except he pays half per cent. upon the Sum he deſigns to draw out the ſame Day; for Example, ample, if I have got wrote in 6000 Guilders, and have a mind to draw out 4000 of them the ſame Day, my Note will not paſs, neither then, the ſubſequent Day, nor afterwards, till I have paid 20 Guilders for the ſaid half per cent.

2dly, There are, however, commonly, three Days in the Year, on which the Money may be diſpoſed of, that is brought in the ſame Day, viz. the ſecond Day after opening the Bank, when it has been ſhut for balancing; and at the Feaſt of Pentecoſt.

3dly, If any more is diſpoſed of than is in Bank, the Penalty of 3 per cent. and the Over-draft muſt be paid before any Note.

4thly, As the Bank ſhuts up twice a Year, all who have Accompts open muſt balance with it in ſix Weeks after opening, on Penalty of 25 Guilders.

5thly, When an Accompt is once opened in Bank, whatever is entered to its Credit coſts nothing; and formerly only a Stiver was charged for every Sum that went out, or was paid to another; but as Buſineſs was conſiderably augmented in the Year 1714, and occaſioned a great Number of Clerks to be added to the Bank, for the Diſpatch of the Notes brought in to be wrote, it was ordained, that inſtead of one Stiver, two ſhould be paid from the 1ſt of February 1715, which has continued ever ſince, and is always charged the firſt Article in a new Accompt.

When it happens that through Miſtake or Forgetfulneſs a Man writes off a Sum to one he is not indebted to, inſtead of his Creditor, although he immediately gives Advice of the Error, and that the Sum is not yet entered in the Bank Books, he cannot withdraw his Note from the Bank by acknowledging he was miſtaken, not even though he carries the Perſon with him in whoſe Favour the Note is wrote, to declare that the Drawer does not owe him any Thing. The Book-keepers will ſay, that if he has made a Miſtake, the Perſon in whoſe Favour the Error was committed, muſt credit the other for the Sum the next Day.

All

All thoſe who have any Thing to write in Bank are obliged to carry their Notes themſelves, in the ſame Manner as thoſe who have Accounts are to go and demand the Balance; or if they will ſave themſelves the Trouble, they muſt impower one of their Compting Houſe to act for them, which will authorize their doing the one and the other. This Procuration coſts 32 Stivers, which is paid for down, and muſt be renewed at the End of a Year and ſix Weeks; and if it ſhould happen that one is obliged to make a pretty long Voyage, and has given an authenticated Procuration to his Wife, or ſome other Perſon to make all Sorts of Payments, without having left a proportional Number of Bank Notes, ſigned in Blank, to the Sums he imagines he may have to pay during his Voyage, if the Perſon to whom he has given the ſaid Power ſigns the Bank Notes without having the Letter of Attorney regiſtered there, none of them will paſs; and in this Caſe, the Perſon ſo authorized muſt carry and leave an authentic Copy of his Power at the Bank, and that he ſigns all the Notes with his Name, adding, by Procuration of ſuch a one; and the noting the ſaid Power coſts 50 Stivers, which is paid out of hand.

The Time of writing in Bank is from Seven or Eight in the Morning to Eleven; but after Eleven to Three, every Note carried in will coſt ſix Stivers, and after Three none are admitted. Lex Mercat. red. 323, &c.

The Bank Money is fixed to be regulated by Ducatoons of 14 Loot 16 Grains fine, at three Guilders, or 60 Stivers Bank Money, which paſs in current for 63 Stivers, and ſo compound an Agio of five per cent. yet as a Quantity of Ducatoons is not always to be met with, the Agio riſes and falls.

But you may bring in ſeveral Kinds of Specie into the Bank, and you will have Credit for it at $\frac{1}{2}$, $\frac{1}{4}$, $\frac{1}{8}$, per cent. Intereſt for ſix Months, and they are kept placed to your Accompt ſo long as you pay the ſaid Rates of Intereſt. Lex Mer. Red. 323.

lion: And altho' the Premium ſo taken by the Bank is ſmall, yet the great Sums ſo lent muſt make the Profits very conſiderable in the Courſe of the Year, and without any Manner of Hazard; becauſe it is not Money, but only Credit, which they lend or aſſign you; which Credit, upon drawing out the Bullion, is reaſſigned. J. P. Ricard in his Negoce de Amſterdam.

In England *I have often heard the Merchants murmur againſt the Directors of the Bank for not doing the ſame as at Amſterdam; for, ſay they, what is it they lend, but their Notes? And if Caſh is neceſſary, can it not always be coined out of Gold and Silver? And truly this ſeems at firſt to ſtrike; but when the Charge of Coinage is conſidered (ſee p. 356) it is hardly to be expected that the Government ſhould be expoſed to the loſing of ſuch Sums without Limit for a Profit to the Bank of only $\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. Beſides that the Coinage is limited by Parliament to 15,000 Pounds a-year.

In the Bank of England, the Gold, Silver, and Credit, run promiſcuouſly; but in Amſterdam they are ſeparate Things. If at Amſterdam you have great Credit, you have no Right to call for Ducatoons at 60 Stivers, as, at London, Guineas at 21 Shillings, but only he who brings Money by way of Depoſit, while he continues to pay for its keeping, has a Right to draw it out in the ſame Specie; upon which, in the mean while, he ſtands credited, and may aſſign againſt that Credit to other People who have Demands upon him for Bank Money, and they may aſſign farther.

It is not very likely, that when People firſt brought their Money into Bank, they diveſted themſelves of a Right to draw it out again at Pleaſure. But perhaps, in Proceſs of Time, ſome Inconveniencies reſulted to the Public by the drawing of too large Sums out at once, which induced the Proprietors, as good Patriots, to conſent to its being kept there altogether; or

* Univ. Merch. P. 35.

perhaps, by the Sums depoſited at fixed Prices, and the Falls of Gold and Silver, it might happen that People left ſome Parcels in their Hands, which is become a fixed Treaſure in the Cuſtody of the Bank; and ſince the Profit of the Bank is applied to the public Service, no Body will blame the Perſons in the Management, for making ſome beneficial Uſe of their Wealth.

Beſides the Profit of lending on Gold and Silver, it is known that they furniſh the Lombards (Pawn-brokers) with Money, &c. and, how much or little they keep in Hand for thoſe who have Credit, and only a Right of aſſigning againſt it, Knowledge of the Remainder centers in very few. Yet every Body knows, that there always lies a great Treaſure; and while the Depoſitors continue to pay Intereſt, they are ſure that their Depoſits are preſerved for them in their own Bags, ſealed up, ready to be delivered at any Time.

By thus giving Credit in their Books, the Bank is not in any Manner expoſed to a Run upon them; but it is for him who maketh the Depoſit to know how far he can make uſe of aſſigning on the Bank, which has its Bounds, and cannot extend itſelf beyond the Circle of Amſterdam Exchange Buſineſs. And altho' Amſterdam has made itſelf the greateſt Place for Exchange to moſt of the trading Cities in Europe; and all Bills above 300 Guilders by Law muſt be paid in Bank Money, which gives a large Field for Aſſignments, yet it will not go beyond the Amount of Caſh, which would elſe ſatisfy the Demands naturally occurring to that Number of People who keep Accompts there, and cannot extend its Credit further.

Whence another Queſtion may ariſe: That as the Poſſeſſors of Accompts of Gold and Silver brought in by way of Depoſit have only a Right to call for Specie, how would it be for all other People, who have Money good upon their Accompts, in caſe of Danger, as of an approaching Enemy, &c.

There then muſt, doubtleſs, be aſſembled the Majority of the People concerned, with Power to call their their Truſtees to Account, and to demand a proportionate Share of what Caſh there is; and, I doubt not, but that they have a good Stock of Specie in Reſerve for that Purpoſe: But, the ſame as in the Credit of the Bank of London, much of it might be out, and otherwiſe inveſted, perhaps lent to the Public, which the Bank of Amſterdam can do with more Security than the Bank at London, as it is not equally expoſed to a ſudden Run upon it.

In 1672, when the French Army were in Utrecht, the People of Amſterdam thought themſelves in great Danger, and were preſſing to draw out Money from the Bank, which accommodated as many as they could, keeping all Hands at Work to pay out Money: But as all could not be diſpatched ſo ſoon as they wiſhed, ſome ſold their Credit at 4 or 5 per cent. Diſcount; whereupon ſeveral rich Men appeared to buy, which the People perceiving, the Run ſoon ceaſed, and the Money was as faſt paid in again. Univ. Mer. P. 35, &c.

Bank of Rotterdam.

This Bank is not ſo conſiderable as that of Amſterdam, though the Difference in its Government is very little. It was eſtabliſhed the 18th of April 1635, and keeps Accompts with thoſe Merchants who chuſe it in Banks and current Money; the firſt, to pay all foreign Bills which are in Bank Money; and the ſecond, for the Diſcharge of Negotiations made at Rotterdam on foreign Parts, which are always in current Money. *Lex. Method of calculating the Dutch Exchange.

For the Method of keeping Accompts in Holland, and the Par of Exchange, ſee p. 380.

Example 1. If London draws on, or remits to Amſterdam 852 l. 12 s. 6*d.* Sterling, at 34 Schill. 4½ Groots Flemiſh per Pound Sterling, how many Guilders, Stivers, and Pennings muſt be paid or received in Bank Money in Amſterdam?

Rule.

Rule. Reduce the Price of Exchange into Half-groots, which being multiplied by the Pounds Sterling, gives the Half-groots therein contained, and for the 12*s.* 6*d.* take 10*s.* as the half of 825, and 2*s.* 6*d.* as the fourth of that Quotient: Add the whole together, and the Sum total is the half Flemiſh Groots contained in the Sterling Money; which being divided by 80 (the Half-groots in a Guilder) produces the Anſwer in Guilders. The 55 Half groots, equal to $27\frac{1}{2}$ whole Groots= 13 Stivers and 12 Pennings; the $\frac{5}{8}$ of the Half-groots=2 Pennings $\frac{1}{2}$ as below; which makes 8792 Guilders 13 Stivers $14\frac{1}{2}$ Pennings Bank Money of Amſterdam.

Rule. Reduce both the Sum of Dutch Money, and the Price of Exchange (which is in Dutch Money alſo) into one Denomination, and divide the Sum by the the Price, and you have the Anſwer in Pounds Sterling; and for the Remainder multiply by the Subdenomination of the Pound Sterling (20 and 12) and you have the Shillings and Pence equivalent to the Fraction.

Here the Guilders are reduced into Groots by multiplying by 40, and for the 13 Stivers, you take in 26 Groots; 8 Pennings making a Groot, you multiply by 8, and take in the 14 Pennings: There being ing alſo an half Penning, makes it neceſſary to reduce the Product into half Pennings, and take in the half.

The Price of Exchange likewiſe being multiplied by 12 and 8, reduces that into half Pennings, and dividing the half Pennings in the whole Sum by thoſe contained in one Pound Sterling, muſt neceſſarily give the Number of Pounds.

Rule: A Schilling Flemiſh being 6 Stivers, and 2 Groots being = 1 Stiver; you multiply the 34 by 6, and for 4 Groots, take in 2 Stivers: And as 1 Stiver is = 16 Pennings, and 2 Groots = 1 Stiver; ſo half a Groot is = 4 Pennings: Therefore multiply the Sum of Pounds Sterling by the Stivers and Pennings in one Pound, and the Product gives the Stivers and Pennings in the whole Sum of Pounds; and for the 12 s. 6 d. take the half of the Stivers and Pennings in one Pound, and for the 2 s. 6 d. take the fourth of that Quotient: Add the whole together, and you have the Anſwer in Stivers, which being divided by 20 (the Stivers in a Guilder) the Anſwer is produced in Guilders, Stivers, and Pennings.

Example

Example II.

To convert the Bank Money of Amſterdam into current Money, the Agio being at $4\frac{3}{8}$ per Cent.

The Agio is the Difference or advanced Price between the Bank and current Money of Holland, that is, in the preſent Caſe, 104 Guilders $\frac{3}{8}$ current Money, is ſuppoſed equal to 100 Guilders Bank Money, Quære, How much current Money will 8792 Guilders, 13 Stivers, $4\frac{1}{2}$ Pennings Bank Money of Amſterdam make, Agio at $4\frac{3}{4}$?

The Queſtion ſtated according to the Rule of Proportion runs thus:

As 100 Guilders Bank Money, is to 104 Guilders $\frac{3}{8}$ current, ſo is 8792 Guilders, 13 Stivers, $4\frac{1}{2}$ Pennings Bank given to the required current Money. But as this Work may be greatly abridged by the common Rule for computing the Rate of Intereſt upon Money, it is needleſs to ſhew the tedious Method by the ordinary Rule of Proportion.

Uſance in dealing in Bills of Exchange at Amſterdam is not reckoned there as in many other Places, either preciſely 30 Days or 31, or 28, or 29; but their Uſance is drawn on a certain Day, and is payable the ſame Day in the paying Month, without regard to the Number of intervening Days. SECT. VI.

Of the Bank of Hamburgh, and Calculation of the Exchange with that City.

ALthough the Funds of this Bank are not near ſo conſiderable as thoſe of the Bank of Amſterdam, the Integrity and Exactneſs with which every Thing is managed has given it a great Reputation over all Europe, and more particularly in the North.

It is the Citizens and Corporation who are the Sureties for this Bank, in which the Senate has no Inſpection, and the Directors (being four in Number) are choſen by a Plurality of Votes from among the principal of the Freemen.

Their Duty is to ſee that the Regulations be punctually obſerved, and to furniſh the Caſhiers with Money, when any Payments are to be made, which however is done without touching the Treaſure, the Directors taking Care to provide it from other Funds.

In regard to the Capital of this Treaſure, it is ſuppoſed to be very conſiderable; but as the Book-keepers take an Oath not to diſcloſe the Entries and Extracts of the Bank, nor what each Particular depoſits, it is very difficult to conclude any Thing with Certainty; and this Obligation to Secrecy hinders a Creditor from knowing what any one has in Bank, ſo that no Seizure can be made there.

The Book-keepers, who, like the Directors, are four in Number, are obliged to give the Comptrollers two Balances weekly; and none but Citizens are permitted to have an Account in Bank, and from ſuch only it will receive any Caſh by way of Depoſit, without any Intereſt; and it is by theſe Notes on the Bank that they have the Conveniency of paying their Bills of Exchange, and for the Purchaſe of many Sorts of Merchandize, by only making a Transfer of their Value.

Nothing leſs than an hundred Mark Lubs can be wrote into Bank, and two Schillings are paid for every Sum not exceeding three hundred Marks, but whatever is above this may be wrote in gratis.

There are certain hours in the Day appointed for writing into Bank, viz. from Seven to Ten in the Morning; but if any one has a mind to write in from Ten to One, and from Three to Five in the Afternoon, he may do it by paying two Schillings for each Sum; and it is alſo in the ſame Morning-hours that a Perſon may inform himſelf, whether the Sums due to him have been entered, which he may alſo do from Ten to One, on paying two Schilling-lubs to the Book-keeper; to avoid which, there are many Merchants who agree with the Bank for a yearly Stipend, to have the Liberty of writing into Bank any Hour they pleaſe, from Seven to One, which is commonly from twenty to forty Mark lubs, according to the Extent of the Merchant's Buſineſs, and the Quantity of Affairs he has to tranſact.

When

When any one has a mind to open an Account with the Bank, he muſt pay fifty Rix-dollars of three Marks, or forty eight Schilling-lubs each.

The Bank is ſhut every Year from the laſt of December to the 15th of January following, and the Species that are commonly received in it are Rix-dollars, with their Parts of Halves, Quarters, and Eighths; which are generally worth an Eighth, often a Quarter, and even ſometimes a Half per Cent. more than the Money which is wrote by Notes into Bank; that is, if there is a Want of Rix-dollars in Specie, an Eighth, Quarter, and as far as a Half, muſt be wrote into Bank more than the Money received; but on the contrary, if one has Caſh in Specie to put in, the Bank only makes good an Eighth, and ſometimes a Quarter per Cent. Benefit.

The Bank-books and Writings are kept in Marks, Schillings and Deniers-lubs; and it is to be obſerved, that the Fractions are never wrote in under one Schilling or ſix Deniers.

Thoſe who have Effects in Jewels, precious Stones, Silver, &c. and want to raiſe Money on them, may carry them to the Bank, where they are exactly inventoried, a Loan is advanced at a very moderate Intereſt, and they remain depoſited as a Security for the Repayment of Principal and Intereſt in ſix Months, which if not complied with, the Things are ſold at the Bar of the Bank to the higheſt Bidder, after having advertiſed the Day of their Sale and Delivery.

London Exchanges on Hamburgh as on Holland and Antwerp for Schillings and Groots Flemiſh per Pound Sterling. For the Manner of keeping Accounts there, See P. 382.

If Hamburgh draws Flemiſh Money on London, the Operation is performed as before in the Example for Antwerp.

But ſuppoſe Hamburgh draws upon London for 4117 Marks, 5 Schilling-lubs, at 33 s. 10 d. Exchange, what muſt be paid for this Draught at London?

Rule: Let the Sum and Price be reduced to the ſame Denomination, and the former divided by the latter, and the Fractions of a Pound reduced as before.

Of Portugal Exchanges.

England exchanges with this Kingdom by the Millrea, and gives Pence and Parts of a Penny for it, according to the Courſe of Exchange, which is generally from 5 s. 3 d. to 5 s. 8 d. For the Par and Manner of keeping Accounts there, ſee P. 386.

Queſtions of this kind may alſo be wrought by the Rule of Practice, as under, obſerving to keep the Millreas ſeparate from the Reas, and that the Quota of the Reas make only decimal Parts of a Pound; but the Method aforeſaid is preferable, being more plain and eaſy, and generally ſhorter, as the laſt three Figures in the Dividend may always be cut off, which, with what remains from the fourth, are but ſo many fractional Parts of a Penny, according to the Diviſor.

Of Exchanges to and from the West Indies and America.

IN the Britiſh Dominions in America and the Weſt Indies, they keep their Accounts in Pounds, Shillings and Pence, as they do in London; and in America they generally call their Money Currency. In moſt of the Britiſh Settlements upon the Continent of America, they have few Coins of any Sort circulating among them: What few they have are generally French and Spaniſh Pieces; ſo that they are obliged to ſubſtitute a Paper Currency for a Medium of their Commerce for want of a Competency of Caſh for Circulation.

The following Table ſhews at what Value the foreign Coins are to paſs in the Engliſh Colonies and Plantations on the Iſlands in America, according to an Act of Parliament made in the ſixth Year of Queen Anne, for aſcertaining their Values.

And the Currency of all the other Pieces above mentioned are not to exceed the ſame Proportion.

And the ſaid Act enjoins, that if any one ſhall receive or pay any of the ſaid Pieces for any more than as above, they ſhall forfeit ten Pounds.

SECT. XIV.

Of Exchanges to and from Ireland.

AT Dublin, and all over Ireland, Books and Accounts are kept in Pounds, Shillings and Pence, as in England, and exchanges to or from thence are always rated at ſo much per Cent. Advance, or diſcount, on the Money of the different Kingdoms reſpectively.

The Par of one Shilling Engliſh, is one Shilling and a Penny Iriſh, and by that Proportion that of 100 l. Sterling will be 108 l. 6 s. 8 d. Iriſh. Therefore the Par between the two Nations will be 108$\frac{1}{3}$ l. per Cent. and whatever is given more or leſs in the Price of Exchange, will be ſo much Gain or Loſs per Cent. The Courſe of Exchange runs from 6 l. to 12 l. per Cent.

Example.

If a Merchant remits to Dublin 1758 l. Sterling, Exchange at 9$\frac{5}{8}$ per Cent. how much will the ſame amount to there.

SECT. XV.

Of the Nature, and great Advantage ariſing from the Knowledge of arbitrating the European Exchanges, with Variety of proper Examples.

ARbitration, in Matters of Foreign Exchange, is the moſt beneficial, as well as the moſt delicate Branch of Exchange to be thoroughly informed of.

Before any one applies himſelf to the Study of this Subject, it is neceſſary that he ſhould be well ſkilled in all the practical Operations, in regard to the reducing of the Sterling Money of England into the foreign Monies of Exchange, and of Account, of all Places throughout Europe, according to the direct Courſes of Exchange eſtabliſhed for theſe Purpoſes, and vice verſâ. Alſo,

2. That he ſhould be acquainted with the Methods of converting Sterling Money into the Moneys of Exchange, and of Account of all other Places of Commerce wherewith England has no direct eſtabliſhed Courſes of Exchange, but is under the Neceſſity of making uſe of the intermediate Exchange of other Places; together with the Nature of the Agios, and the Manner of converting their Bank Moneys into current, and the reverſe.

3. The Manner of calculating all the foreign Monies throughout Europe into thoſe of every other diſtinct Country, either according to the direct or intermediate Exchange; which makes a much greater Variety of Caſes, than thoſe, who are not thoroughly acquainted with this extenſive Subject, can imagine.

4. It is previouſly neceſſary, alſo, to the entering upon a Knowledge of the Arbitration of Exchanges, to know the intrinſic Value of foreign Moneys, according to the moſt accurate Aſſays which have been made for that Purpoſe.

5. Laſtly,

5. Laſtly, it is requiſite to underſtand the general natural Cauſes of the Riſe and Fall of the Courſe of Exchange between Nation and Nation, or between one trading Nation and another in the ſame Nation.

That I may communicate my Meaning with the greater Perſpicuity, it may be proper, for the Satisfaction of others, as well as practical Merchants and Remitters, to premiſe, That as the Advantages to be made by underſtanding how to arbitrate the Exchange at all Times, and in reſpect to all Places, depend on the general Riſe and Fall of the Prices of Exchange between one Nation and another; ſo that Riſe and Fall depend on the Balance of Trade being either in Favour of, or againſt a Nation.

That the Courſe of Exchange is the Criterion of the Balance of Trade, has been allowed, not only by great Stateſmen and ſpeculative Politicians, but by the moſt ſkilful and ſagacious practical Traders.

As this Matter is put in a very rational and familiar Light by thoſe able and diſtinguiſhed Merchants of the City of London, who were inſtrumental, in Conjunction with the late ever memorable Earls of Halifax and Stanhope, in defeating the French Treaty of Commerce in the Year 1712; I ſhall quote their Reaſoning upon this point from the Britiſh Merchant; in Conſequence of which, the practical Application of what we ſhall communicate on the Topic under Conſideration, will appear the more intelligible.

" Suppoſe, ſay they, the Tenant in Wiltſhire is to " pay for Rent 100 l. to his Landlord in London, and " the Woollen Draper in London is to pay the like " Sum to his Clothier in Wiltſhire; both theſe Debts " may be paid, without tranſmitting one Farthing " from one Place to another by Bills of Exchange, or " by exchanging one Debtor for the other, thus; that " is, the Tenant may receive the Landlord's Order to " pay 100 l. to the Clothier in the Country; and the " Woollen Draper may receive his Clothier's Order " to pay the like Sum to the Landlord in Town.

" Theſe two Orders are properly called Bills of " Exchange; the Debts are exchanged by them; that " is, the Woollen Draper in Town, inſtead of the Te- " nant in the Country, is become Debtor to the " Landlord; and the Tenant in the Country, in- " ſtead of the Woollen Draper in Town, is become " Debtor to the Clothier: And when theſe Orders " are complied with, the two Debts between London " and the Country are diſcharged without ſending " one Shilling in Specie from the one to the other. " In like Manner, the Ware-houſe Man in London " is indebted in 100 l. for Stuff to the Weaver in " Norwich, and the Linen Draper in Norwich is in- " debted in the like Sum to the Hamburgh Merchant " in London. Both theſe Debts may be paid by " Bills of Exchange, or by the Exchange of one " Debtor for the other, by placing one Debtor in " the other's ſtead; that is, the Ware-houſe Man " may receive the Order of his Weaver to pay 100*l.* " to the Hamburgh Merchant; and the Linen Dra- " per may receive the Order of the Hamburgh Mer- " chant to pay the like Sum to the Weaver. Theſe " Orders are Bills of Exchange: The Debtor in one " Place is changed for the Debtor in the other; and " thus both Debts may be paid without ſending one " ſingle Shilling in Specie from the one City to the " other. But if the Debts due from both Places are " not equal, then only the ſame Quantity of Debts " on both Sides can be paid by Bills of Exchange: " The Balance muſt be ſent in Money from the City " from whence the greateſt Sums are due. For Ex- " ample:

" If, by the Trade between London and Norwich, " the former owes 10,000*l.* to the latter, and the " latter no more than 9000*l.* to the former; it is " manifeſt that only the Debts of 9000*l.* on each " Side can be diſcharged by Bills of Exchange; the " Balance of 1000*l.* muſt be ſent either from London, " or ſome other Place indebted to London, to even the " Account between both the Cities.

" Let

" Let us ſuppoſe then, that to ſend and inſure " 1000*l.* in Specie to Norwich would coſt 5*l.* or 10*s.* " per cent. which of the Debtors in London would be " willing to be at this Charge? It is natural to be- " lieve, that every one will ſhift it off from himſelf, " that every one will endeavour to pay his Money by " a Bill of Exchange; it is natural to believe, that " every one, rather than ſtand the Coſt and Hazard " of ſending 100*l.* in Specie, would pay 100*l.* 5*s.* in " London for a Debtor in Norwich, upon Condition " that the Norwich Debtor ſhould pay 100*l.* for him " in that City.

" By which Means the Norwich Debtor would pay " his Debt of 100*l.* in London with leſs than that " Sum, while the London Debtor would be obliged to " give more than that Sum for the payment of an 100*l.* " in Norwich. And if ſuch for Years together were " the Courſe of Exchange between London and Nor- " wich, there could be no Queſtion to which of the " two Cities a Sum muſt be ſent in Specie to pay " the Balance; that City undoubtedly pays the Ba- " lance that gives more than the Par; that undoubt- " edly receives the Balance, that gives leſs than the " Par for Bills of Exchange. The Courſe of Ex- " change in this Caſe would ſufficiently decide that the " Balance of Trade is on the Side of that City that " procures Bills of Exchange upon the moſt eaſy " Terms. I have taken Examples from two Engliſh " Cities where the Money is of the ſame Denomina- " tion, and the ſame Quantities are equally at Par in " both: But the Caſe is the very ſame between two " Cities, where the Denominations of the Money are " different, as long as any certain Quantity of Money " in the one can be reduced to a Par or Equality " with any certain Quantity of Money in the other.

" For Example: The old French Crown was juſt " equal or par to 54 * Pence Engliſh; 444$\frac{4}{9}$ of theſe " Crowns were juſt par or equal to an 100*l.* Ster-

* This was in the Year 1713; but what is the Caſe at preſent ſee Page 382.

" ling. Every Farthing given more or leſs than " 54 d. for a Crown, in a Bill of Exchange between " London and Paris, amounts to 9 s. 3 d. upon 444 " Crowns, or upon ſo many Times 54 d.

" Suppoſe then the Courſe of Exchange between " London and Paris ſtood thus heretofore. If a Man " in Paris, indebted to London, paid a Farthing leſs " than the Par for a Bill of Exchange upon London, " to pay 54*d.* there, the Pariſian paid his Debt of " 100 l. to London by a Bill of Exchange that coſt " him in Paris 9*s.* 3*d.* leſs than that Sum; and if a " Merchant in London gave a Farthing more than " the Par for a Bill of Exchange upon Paris to pay a " French Crown, the Londoner gave 9 s. 3 d. more " than 100*l.* for a Bill of Exchange, to pay that Sum " in Paris.

" If ſuch was the Courſe of Exchange between " London and Paris ; if the firſt gave above the Par, " and the ſecond leſs than Par, for Bills of Ex- " change to pay their reſpective Debts, there can be " no Doubt that Bills of Exchange were more eaſily " to be had in Paris than at London; and conſe- " quently that greater Sums were due from the lat- " ter than the former, and that we paid a Balance " upon our Trade to that Kingdom. And as the " Price roſe here to a Penny or two Pence above the " Par, or fell there ſo much below it, it ſhewed ſo " much the greater Scarcity here, and the greater " Plenty there, of Bills of Exchange; and that ſo " much the greater Balance of Bullion was going " hence by Means of our Trade in that Country."

Here let the intelligent practical Merchant and Remitter, &c. make his Obſervations on what we mean by the intrinſic Arbitration of the Exchanges, which need not be further enlarged upon, if he conſiders the due Application of what has been ſaid ; this ſingle Caſe being as good as a Multitude.

The foregoing Reaſoning may be further carried on thus: If the City of Bourdeaux owes 100,000 Ounces of Silver at Paris, and ſends Wines and Brandies Brandies to Holland for 100,000 Ounces; and if Holland ſends Specie to Paris for 100,000 Ounces due to the Bankers at Bourdeaux; and with theſe the Specie Merchants at Paris remit and pay the 100,000 Ounces they owe to Holland: In this Caſe, the Exchange between Bourdeaux and Paris, Bourdeaux and Holland, and Paris and Holland, will be at at a Par; there will be no Variation, but what proceeds from the Commiſſion of the Negotiators concerned in the Returns.

But in regard that the Coin in France is reckoned by Livres, Sols, and Deniers, and in Holland by Florins, Stivers, and Groots; that the Coin in Uſe in Holland differs in the Standard, Bulk, and Mark, from that uſed in France; the Computation of the Exchanges is made by the exchanging ſo many Dutch Groots for a French Exchange Crown. And altho' this at firſt View does not ſeem to denote that the Exchange is ſo much per Cent. over or under Par, yet in reality it is ſo; and the Banker concerned in the Dutch Exchange knows how to calculate this Par in the Tale of French Crowns, and Dutch Groots. So that the Exchange between London and Paris, and Paris and Amſterdam, &c. is in Effect carried on juſt as it is between London and Wiltſhire, or London and Norwich; only with this Difference that the Accompts are kept in other Languages, and that the Charge and Riſk of ſending Money from London to Paris, or from Paris to Amſterdam, is greater than that of ſending it from London to Wiltſhire or Norwich; and when the Balance of Trade with Amſterdam is againſt Paris, the Exchange at Paris will be from 5 to 6 per cent. above the Par by Bills on Amſterdam, whereas it will ſeldom exceed an half above Par between London and Norwich.

Whether France pays Livres, Sols, and Deniers, for Rials of Plate and Maravedies, new or old, for Spain; for Cruſadoes or Milreas in Portugal; for Guilders, Rix Dollars, or Mark lubs, in the North; for Pounds, Shillings, and Pence Sterling; for Marks, Piaſters, and and Ducats, in Italy: the Par of the Exchange is always Ounce for Ounce of Silver, or rather of Gold, that being of eaſier Carriage, and moſt commonly is tranſported in the Balance of Trade; and the Computations and Evaluations of the Exchange will ſquare every where with our firſt Examples.

If France owes a Balance in Trade to Flanders of 100,000 Ounces; Flanders to Holland of 100,000 Ounces; Holland to England of 100,000 Ounces; England to Spain, of 100,000 Ounces; Spain to Italy of 100,000 Ounces; Italy to Germany of 100,000 Ounces; Germany to France of 100,000 Ounces; the Exchange may be carried on at Par between all theſe Countries, without any Tranſportation of Gold or Silver. But as the Balance of Trade grows due gradually from one Country to any another by an Importation of Commodities, the Variation of Exchanges follows in the ſame Proportion.

And it is the Buſineſs of the judicious general Merchant, and the ſagacious Remitter, to ſpeculate where the Balance of Trade lies among the European Nations at all Points of Time; for by that Means he may embrace his Opportunities of Advantage, and theſe almoſt daily, between ſome Nation or other, provided his Credit and Correſpondence are duly eſtabliſhed to admit thereof.

From what has been ſaid, the Reader may obſerve the Utility of knowing the intrinſic Arbitration of Exchange, by comparing the Courſes with the real Value of Money.

Another Method of conſidering the Arbitration of Exchanges is founded upon comparing the various occaſional Prices of Exchange together between Nation and Nation; in order to diſcover at all Times whether certain Courſes continue in an Equality of Proportion, or how far they deviate therefrom: By which Means the Advantage to be made by ſuch a Compariſon of Exchanges may be exactly aſcertained, for the Government of the Merchant or Remitter

Before I enter upon the Illuſtration of this Matter by Examples, it will be proper to obſerve, that in a Compariſon or Combination of the Courſes of Exchange of ſeveral Places together, 'tis rare, very rare indeed, that they happen to ebb and flow in an exact Equality of Proportion; the Reaſon whereof muſt be obvious to every one who conſiders that the Balance of Trade differs between different Nations; and conſequently, from what has been ſaid, the Courſes of Exchange will be in Favour, or otherwiſe, of ſome Nations, when compared with others.

This being the Caſe, the Judgment of the Exchange Negotiator conſiſts in vigilantly obſerving, from a due Compariſon of the Courſes, where the greateſt Inequality of Proportion lies; for there lies the greateſt Profit to be made by drawing and remitting to certain Places, preferably to others.

But the greateſt Profit to be made this Way does not always happen to ariſe, from a Compariſon of thoſe Courſes only, where the general Currency of a Trader's Buſineſs lies. On the contrary, from the Circumſtances and the Nature of the Trade of ſuch Countries, the Riſe and Fall of the Courſes may generally continue in ſuch an Equality of Proportion, as only occaſionally or ſeldom to admit of any Extra-profit by the Exchange. Whence it is, that thoſe who are unacquainted with the Niceties of their Computations think there are little or no Advantages to be made to other Places with which they do not happen to have any Tranſactions. This is an egregious Miſtake; nay, if a Merchant has Dealing with two or three different Nations, 'tis very rare but conſiderable Advantages are to be made by knowing how to arbitrate the Exchanges with Accuracy: And the more general his Correſpondence is with various Nations, the greater Opportunities he has of reaping Benefit by his ſuperior Skill in this Branch of mercantile Science.

Arbi-

Arbitration of Exchanges muſt be conſidered under two diſtinct Heads, viz. Simple and Compound.

In Simple Arbitration, the Prices of Exchange from one Place are generally given to other two, in order to find the Price between the ſaid two, which is called the arbitrated Price of Exchange. Or, if a Factor has Orders from his Employer to remit a certain Sum of Money to a Place, provided he can do it at a certain Price of Exchange mentioned, and at the ſame Time is ordered to draw for it upon ſome other Place, at a certain Price, for the Value of the Sum he has remitted. Now, as the Courſe of Exchange is always upon the Fluctuation, being ſeldom two Days alike, he has to conſider whether the Advantage in performing the one Part of his Commiſſion will be ſufficient to compenſate for the Loſs that may happen or ariſe from the other. In order to diſcover which Method will be of moſt Advantage to his Employer, he muſt very often make uſe of ſeveral Operations; yet by Simple Arbitration he will eaſily diſcover whether he can fulfil his Orders upon the Place deſired, in drawing for the Value he has remitted to the other, without Loſs at the current Price. And in caſe he finds the Negociation would be attended with Loſs, he then writes to his Correſpondent, who, on the Receipt thereof, probably orders him to draw upon ſome other Place, or to wait till the Courſe falls.

Factors or Agents have generally an Allowance which is called Commiſſion, of ſo much per cent. for their Trouble; and if any Advantage attends the Negotiation from the current Price of Exchange to either or both Places, that is properly due to the Employer.

The Method of finding the Par of Exchange at three different Places, the Par of one with two of them being given, to find the Par between the other two is as follows: And in order that this may be clearly underſtood, let it be ſuppoſed that each Corner of an equilateral Triangle repreſents one of the ſaid Places, and and that two of the Sides be given to find the third. The ſingle Rule of Three will ſolve all Queſtions in Simple Arbitration, provided due Care be taken in the ſtating thereof. From the two following Triangles of Equality, 'tis evident the Exchange at each Place is on a Par with thoſe of the other two, as they reciprocally prove each other; and if any Sum of Money ſhould be remitted from one to the other two, and from the latter home, it would be returned intire, without Loſs.

Note, in this Caſe, as four Places are concerned to find the Equality amongſt them, that could not be found at one Operation, if the Equality from one to two of them, and alſo that of the third, with two of the ſaid Places, had not been given. Of Compound Arbitration.

Compound Arbitration joins together ſeveral Rules of three into one, or at one Operation performs a Series or Chain of the ſingle Rule of Proportion; and by the Relation that ſeveral Antecedents have to their Conſequents, the Proportion between the firſt Antecedent and the laſt Conſequent is diſcovered, as well well as the Proportion between the others in their ſeveral Stations.

It is by this Rule that Merchants generally make their Calculations both in equating (or finding the Par at the current Prices) the Exchanges of Money, and alſo thoſe of Weights and Meaſures, in all Caſes where more than three Places are concerned.

Inſtructions.

1. Place the Antecedents in one Column and the Conſequents in another to the right Hand of them.

2. The firſt Antecedent and the laſt Conſequent, to which an Antecedent is required, muſt always be of the ſame Denomination or Species.

3. The firſt Conſequent muſt be of the ſame Denomination with the ſecond Antecedent; and likewiſe the ſecond Conſequent to the third Antecedent, &c. throughout.

4. If there be a Fraction in any of the Numbers, both the Antecedent and Conſequent muſt be multiplied into the Denomination of the ſaid Fraction, as they ſtand, and the Proportion holds the ſame as if no Fraction occurred.

General Rule.

Multiply all the Antecedents into one another, and alſo the Conſequents into each other; and divide the Product of all the Conſequents by the Product of all the Antecedents, and the Quotient will be the Anſwer, or the Value of the Antecedent required.

Example.

1. London being to remit 500 l. to Spain, how many Piaſters of 272 Maravedies will it amount to there, excluſive of Charges, ſuppoſing the ſaid Sum to be remitted to Holland at 35 s. per Pound, from thence to France at 58 d. Flemiſh per Crown, from France to Venice

Proof of the Queſtion aforeſaid.

This Rule, like all the Rules of Three, is proved by the Doctrine of Contraries; therefore if the Poſition be begun with the laſt Conſequent (ſave that to which an Antecedent was required) and end with the laſt Antecedent, and all the other Conſequents be made Antecedents, and the Antecedents Conſequents throughout, if they be multiplied and divided as before, the Quotient will give the laſt Conſequent in the former Caſe to which an Antecedent is required.

The Method of abridging the Terms of this Rule.

This Rule is rendered much more eaſy and practicable, by abridging or contracting the Terms by the Rule of Equalities, which is founded upon the third Axiom of the firſt Book of Euclid, viz. If from equal Numbers equal Numbers be deducted, the Remainders will be equal; and if equal Numbers be divided by equal Numbers, their Quotients will be equal.

It is plain the Antecedents and Conſequents are all equal (as they ſtand oppoſed to one another) therefore if any Antecedent and any Conſequent, in any Part of the Equation, be divided by any Number or Numbers that will divide both without a Remainder, their Quotients Quotients will be equal; or if any of the Antecedents has a like number with any of the Conſequents, ſuch Numbers may be cancelled in both.

To abridge the Terms begin with the greateſt firſt; now ſeeing 100 is contained 5 times in 500, therefore the Quotient 5 is removed to another Column oppoſite to the 500, and a Daſh placed at the 100, to ſhew that it is cancelled; then divide 272 and 360 by 8, and place the Quotients 34 and 45 in the next Column oppoſite to each other; next, halve 58 and 420, and remove the Quotients 29 and 210 as before; laſtly, halve the 34 (in the ſecond Column) and the 60, and remove the Quotas as before. Now, ſeeing you can reduce the Antecedents no lower, multiply all thoſe left into one Sum, and the Conſequents into another, divide the Product of the latter by the former, and the Quotient will be the Anſwer as before.

Example II.

In which the Terms are abridged.

A Merchant of Amſterdam, owing 800 l. Flemiſh to London, remits the ſame firſt to France at 56 d. Flemiſh per Crown, from thence he orders it to be remitted to Venice at 100 Crowns per 60 Ducats, from thence to Hamburgh at 100 Pence Flemiſh per Ducat, from thence to Liſbon at 50 d. per Cruſade of 400 Reas, and laſtly, from Liſbon to England at 5 s. 4 d. per 1000 Reas, or Millrea. Now the Queſtion is, how much the ſame will amount to in Sterling Money? and how much will be ſaved, ſuppoſing the Exchange from Holland directly to England at 36 s. 10 d. at the Time?

Example III.

To find the arbitrated Price when ſeveral Places are concerned. If the arbitrated Price between Holland and England ſhould be demanded, ſuppoſing the Remittance ſhould go through all the Places aforeſaid; that may readily be found thus: Make the 64 d. Sterling (the Price of the Millrea) the firſt Antecedent, and then all the former Conſequents will become Antecedents, and all the Antecedents Conſequents; then as this Rule muſt always end with the ſame Species or Denomination it is begun with, place 240, the Pence in a Pound Sterling, for the laſt Conſequent. The Terms being thus diſpoſed, abbreviate, multiply and divide them as before, and the Quotient will be the arbitrated Price demanded; which being compared with the direct Courſe, it may be eaſily diſcovered which Method will be more advantageous, and how much ſo, to the Place where the Negociation was begun.
